D. and M. Re-ballasts Track Here Using New Methods

That railroads are keeping pace with other industries by using more highly mechanized equipment and methods was illustrated Tuesday when the Detroit and Mackinac Railway started work on re-ballasting tracks in Tawas City.

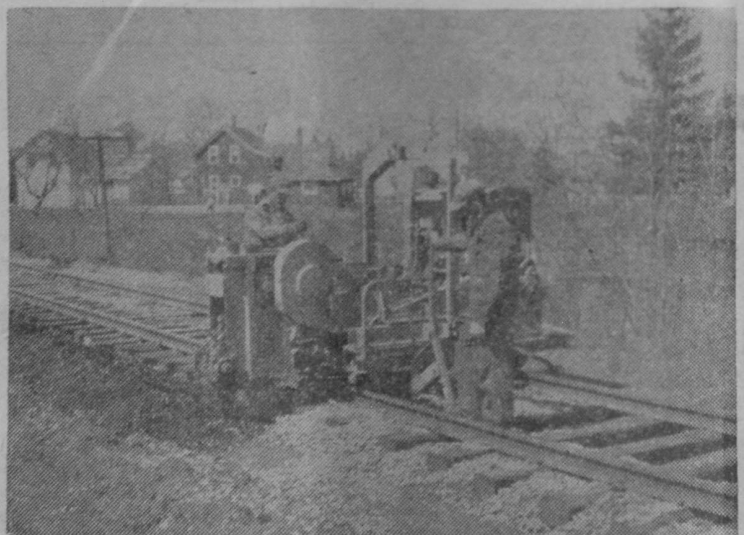

To facilitate this major operation, the railroad utilized its huge dragline to pull a special-built under-track plow, which lifted tracks and ties in one operation and removed the accumulation of dirt and old ballast.

The company's road train crew and district crew from Omer numbering about 23 men, performed the job. In charge of the work was James Campbell, superintendent of maintenance of ways and structures.

As the plow was pulled underneath the tracks, workers on the section crew knocked off old ties and replaced them with Osmose-treated hardwood ties. A second crew followed behind and spiked the rails to the ties, followed by a crew which replaced tie plates.

This section of track was the first to receive this new type of re-ballasting. It starts from the river bridge behind the county building and will continue through the rail yards and through East Tawas.

Campbell said that this new operation has greatly speeded up replacing ties and re-ballasting. He expects that work will be completed in three weeks.

Prior to using this method, the track had to be lifted with jacks and the ties pulled out. This required a larger crew and much back-breaking work.

First step in the new method is to dig a ditch along the tracks and remove excess dirt from underneath, again using the dragline. This ditch provides a place to push the accumulated dirt from under the tracks as the special plow moves along.

After the track-laying operation is completed, a cribbing machine, which is a chain operated bucket plow, digs out between the ties. This space will later be replaced with ballast rock.

Ballast for the roadbed will be washed gravel. This will provide better drainage and stabilize the bed. The under-track plow was constructed by Mr. Campbell and maintenance workers at the D and M shops.

A spokesman for the company said Wednesday morning that the men were not seriously injured. Both Mr. Jensen and Mr. Christeson have been released from a hospital after treatment.

According to reports received here, the plane was caught in the slipstream of a jet plane as they were preparing to land at the airport.

Give Tentative OK to Water Purchase Plan From East Tawas

Tentative approval was given a contract to purchase water from East Tawas at a joint meeting of the Tawas City Council and water board Monday night.

The contract has been under study for the past several months by Attorneys Richard Newman and H. Read Smith and Clifford Spicer, engineer for both cities.

Final approval of the contract has not been reached as yet and councils and water boards of both cities are to go over the plan. Spicer attended the special Monday night meeting, which was called on short notice at the Tawas City Hall.

Work has already started on East Tawas' new water filtration plant, which is proposed to serve both communities.

IOSCO FARM BUILDINGS TAKE BRUNT OF STORM

A freak wind storm Thursday afternoon swept through a three-mile stretch of Iosco County west of Tawas City leaving in its path three demolished barns, numerous small farm buildings damaged, signboards blown over, trees uprooted and chimneys damaged.

Although police officers reported that the storm was not a twister, residents of that area said that the wind, accompanied by hail and rain, reached a very high velocity. Several persons sought refuge in basements before the storm hit. No one was injured.

Damage was first reported at the Carl Look farm on the Meadow Road. The roof was blown off his silo and the wind blew down a hay barn and tore off part of the roof and sliding doors of his cattle barn.

The wind blew down a garage and cattle barn at the Otto Berg farm west of the Lorenz Road. The cattle were in the barn at the time but were not injured.

The north wall of a machine shed was blown down at the Carl Krumm farm.

Next in the storm's path was a barn owned by Edward Krumm. The wind flattened this structure, which contained a quantity of hay owned by Mr. Krumm and some owned by Thomas Nelkie.

Proceeding northeast, the storm blew down the chimney at the Tawas Township Hall.

Continuing on in the path of the storm a barn owned by William Katterman, who lives on the northeast side of M-55, was completely demolished and the wind scattered metal roofing over fields for about a half a mile. The structure collapsed on 11 head of cattle. None were injured although a few lost some hair.

Mr. Katterman said he had just returned from town. He let his horses out of another barn before the storm hit. "I was sitting in the living room when the wind hit. When I looked out the window the barn was gone," he stated. The wind blew out two panes on the second floor of the house, one in front and one in the back.

The storm apparently lost much of its power after hitting Katterman's, although it knocked down billboards and uprooted trees.

Strong gusts also hit Tawas City and East Tawas but no damage was reported. High winds also did some damage in Sherman and Wilber Townships, the extent of which was not reported to law enforcement agencies.

Former Tawas City Man Killed in Jump From Moving Auto

A 23-year-old former Tawas City man, Kenneth Koepke, was fatally injured Monday night in Bay City when he fell from the bumpers of two cars and landed on his head. He died of a skull fracture about an hour and half later at Mercy Hospital.

Koepke was standing with one foot on the rear bumper of one car and one foot on the front bumper of the other car as one was pushing the other. After the motor started in the pushed car, Koepke lost his balance while jumping clear and fell to the pavement.

Funeral services will be held Thursday afternoon (today) at 2 o'clock from Jacques Funeral Home.

He was born January 8, 1934, in Tawas City, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Koepke. He lived here until going to Bay City five years ago. He was employed as a used car salesman.

Surviving are his parents; his widow, Virginia; one son, Ronald; one daughter, Cindy; one sister, Miss Marilyn Curry; three brothers, Melvin and Walter Koepke, both of Bay City, and Thorald Curry.

CAUGHT JUST BEFORE CRASHING to the ground is the belfry of the old Tawas City high school building. After sawing off timbers which supported the structure, a chain was attached and a truck yanked it to the ground. The tower buried its "nose" in the ground to a depth of about three feet. Workmen found under the galvanized steel roof the handiwork of carpenters of the 1890s. The curved portion of the structure was a lamination of one-inch boards, all planed and fitted by hand.—Tawas Herald Photo.

High School Building in Tawas City Being Razed

The end of an era came during the past week with the razing of the old Tawas City high school building, a landmark here since the early lumbering days.

Last Thursday afternoon the belfry of the old building crashed to the ground, which came after supporting timbers were sawed off. A chain attached to a truck yanked the structure free of the main part of the building.

Workmen on the project said that the job of removing the building from the grounds would be completed in about two more weeks.

Of frame construction, the old two story school building was built in the 1890s. An addition was added to the rear of the building after 1900.

The old building had served as high school class rooms in the Tawas Area School system since reorganization of the district.

Prior to that time it had housed the Tawas City high school and elementary grades. After World War II a cement block annex was constructed adjacent to the building for elementary grades.

LEGISLATIVE

News Letter

From the Desk of JAMES P. MIELOCK
State House of Representatives

If the senate goes along with the house on a package of bills already passed by the house, amending the election code, there will be several minor changes in our election laws. Because elections are of such state-wide interest, a few of the changes should probably be mentioned. The changes are as follows:

Prohibit acceptance by anyone of a fee for taking the acknowledgment on the affidavit when registering an elector.

Permit microfilming of canceled registration records.

Allow the use of bag type containers for the wrapping of ballots after they have been counted by election boards. It is hoped that the use of the paper bag will facilitate disposition of ballots and reduce errors.

Permit the secretary of state to distribute single copies of the election laws and manuals to persons or organizations interested in elections.

Prohibit an inspector of elections from acting as a party challenger as has happened in certain cases.

Permit the use of colored ballots in lieu of white ballots upon resolution of the election commission. This would facilitate keeping of ballots separate at polling places.

Limit circulating of non-partisan petitions to a single city or township.

Provide (1) the method by which new political parties can qualify for a position on township ballot, and (2) provide the method by which a township political party maintains its status as a township political party.

Authorize the township board to appoint a deputy clerk to handle registration or election functions in the absence of the clerk or duly appointed deputy.

Provide that canvassed precinct returns be filed with the probate judge instead of the county clerk and sent within 24 hours to the secretary of state.

Permit the state board of canvassers to meet as often as necessary instead of once a month.

At present, the law provides a penalty for tampering with ballot boxes prior to determination of results. House Bill 448 would extend the time such acts are to be considered felonious until after the final determination of the results, that is, in case of a recount, and also makes it an offense to tamper with voting machines, which, prior to this time, were not covered. Permit a legislator seeking reelection to use incumbent designation on the ballot, and permit filing with the secretary of state a $100 fee in lieu of petitions when district involves more than one county.

The house approved three joint resolutions proposing amendments to the constitution. One resolution paves the way for giving a higher compensation to the presiding officers of the legislature than the members receive. At the present time the speaker of the house of representatives draws the same compensation as any other member. The lieutenant governor draws the same legislative pay, but, by virtue of being a member of the state administrative board receives extra compensation.

Passage of this resolution and its subsequent approval by the electorate would correct an injustice which has long been recognized, particularly with respect to the speaker, considering the importance of his office, the exacting nature of his duties, and the year-around demands upon his time.

A second resolution would permit legislation to be elected as members of a constitutional convention. At present, they are barred.

The third resolution permits bills to be held over from the odd numbered year session to the even numbered year session. This does not mean that all bills which were introduced in the odd year session and which did not receive action during the session would carry over.

It would provide that the legislature would adopt a new rule by which certain measures could carry over. This would save time and money in printing. As you know, bills carry over from the odd numbered year session to the even numbered year session in the national congress.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

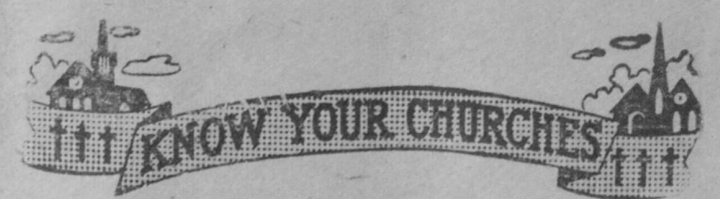

How sin and suffering are destroyed through spiritual understanding of Christ, Truth, will be explained at Christian Science services Sunday.

Scriptural readings in the lesson-sermon entitled "Everlasting Punishment" will include the following from Lamentations (3:39-41): "Wherefore doth a living man complain, a man for the punishment of his sins? Let us search and try our ways, and turn again to the Lord. Let us lift up our heart with our hands unto God in the heavens."

Correlative selections to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include the following (391:13): "It is error to suffer for aught but your own sins. Christ, or Truth, will destroy all other supposed suffering, and real suffering for your own sins will cease in proportion as the sin ceases."

WIND EROSION—
An estimated 9,045,000 acres in the Great Plains has been damaged by wind erosion up to April, according to the agriculture department. This was about 12 1/2 percent more than had been damaged to the same date last season and more than twice the 3,900,000 acres that had been damaged to March 1.

Besser Calls on Citizens to Observe Michigan Week

Jesse H. Besser, president of the Besser Company of Alpena and Michigan Week regional chairman for Northeastern Michigan, today called upon all citizens of the nine county area to join in the celebration during the week of May 19-25—proclaiming Michigan as a great state in which to live, work and play.

In a message to all county and community chairmen as well as scores of volunteer workers on various committees, Mr. Besser said everyone should take the opportunity to learn more about the many advantages of his state, to study its history, pay tribute to its heritage and spiritual foundations and to plan for a better livelihood for all citizens in the years that lie ahead.

Mr. Besser said that all 83 counties of the state are participating in the Michigan Week celebration and that most of the state's 500 cities and villages have active committees working on special programs. He said all indications point to a highly successful week in the northeastern region.

Counties in this region are: Alpena, Alpena, Arenac, Cheboygan, Iosco, Ogemaw, Oscoda, Montmorency, Presque Isle.

Special committees everywhere are working on plans for each of the seven designated days, starting with Spiritual Foundations Day on Sunday, May 19, when there will be religious observances, and concluding on Saturday, May 25, with New Frontiers Day, when emphasis will be placed on all new horizons in the state from local community developments to the gigantic St. Lawrence Seaway and the Mackinac Bridge, which will open great new frontiers for the entire state.

Most communities in the region will take part in the Exchange of Mayors Day on Monday when the mayors and village presidents will change places with some other community determined at the annual drawing. In many cases the exchanges will include a number of officials and civic leaders as well as the chief executive, the regional chairman pointed out.

Other special events are being planned for Hospitality Day on Tuesday, Our Livelihood Day on Wednesday, Education Day on Thursday and Our Heritage Day on Friday.

On a regional basis the week's program will include practically everything. There will be parades, pageants, open house by business, industry and institutions, wide display of the state flag and promotional materials, cultural activities, music, sports events, educational programs and contests in the schools, sermons in the churches and tributes by judges, tours, cavalcades, songfests, forums, opening and dedication of new projects, the placing and unveiling of historic markers, band concerts, special sales, luncheons and banquets with speakers on Michigan subjects and menus featuring all Michigan foods.

Veterans organizations in many communities are joining in their state-wide project, "Operation Facelift," in which civic improvements are made by removing eyesores or cleaning up unsightly dumps.

Many communities are planning to hold forums on Our Livelihood Day on the general subject of "What Michigan and their own regions need in order to assure a better livelihood for the people of the state 10 years hence."

The regional chairman said the sale of state flags is brisk in many counties and that a number of them will be presented to schools by service clubs and civic groups. The flag with the state coat-of-arms on a field of blue, is being sold by junior chamber of commerce chapters throughout the state.

"This will be the greatest Michigan Week ever held," the regional chairman declared. "I hope that all committees and all citizens will put forth every effort to make the week bigger and better in every section of this great area, for we are as proud of our communities and the region as we are of being part of the great state," he added.

250 Served Daily at School Cafeteria

To serve a well-balanced meal in Tawas Area High School's hot-lunch program requires a lot of planning by school administrators and those who perform the actual work of preparing the food. The job could be compared to serving a company of military personnel at the noon meal, which is a good indication that it is no mean feat. At the new school cafeteria, three full-time cooks prepare enough food to fill the appetites of 250 energetic high school students. At the same time the cooks' fixings must equal "mother's standards."

Taking a glance at this week's menu, it would be safe to say that the students (and teachers, too) are probably getting a better balanced meal than if they went home for lunch... at a cost of only 25 cents.

- Following is the school cafeteria's menu starting Wednesday (yesterday):
- Wednesday—Hamburger on bun, luncheon meat or cheese sandwich, chocolate-cocoa nut pudding, bread, butter and milk.
 - Thursday—Baked beans with bacon, molded cabbage salad, cookies, bread, butter, milk.
 - Friday—Hard boiled eggs, mashed potatoes and butter, creamed kernel corn, pineapple upside down cake, bread, butter and milk.
 - Monday—Meat loaf, mashed potatoes, mixed garden vegetables, garden salad, bread, butter and milk.
 - Tuesday—Creamed potatoes, frankfurters, cabbage salad, apple sauce, bread, butter and milk.

Surrounded by gleaming stainless steel and the latest in kitchen equipment, the cafeteria staff includes Mrs. Bertha Korthals, head cook; Mrs. Alma Gottlieb and Mrs. Mildred Frank. The cooks are assisted by 10 students who are paid to work one hour daily at "KFs." About 500 half-pint containers of milk are dispensed daily at the school. Some of the students bring their own lunches from home. Hot lunches are also served in the school's program at the Alabaster unit.

Miller-McLean

A pretty church wedding was solemnized Saturday evening at the Zion Lutheran Church when Miss Robena McLean of Tawas City became the bride of Harvey Miller of Wilber Township. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Matilda McLean and the late Herbert McLean. The parents of the groom were the late Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Miller.

The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. E. E. Bickel before an altar decorated with yellow chrysanthemums.

The bride, given in marriage by her uncle, August Engal of Kinde, wore a white lace over taffeta dress with scoop neckline, long sleeves and bouffant skirt. Her fingertip veil was secured by a crown of pearls. She carried a shower bouquet of white carnations and roses.

Her only attendant was her cousin, Mrs. John Engal of Kinde, whose dress was similar to the bride's but in orchid lace. Mrs. Engal carried a bouquet of yellow daffodils and yellow roses.

The bridegroom was assisted by John Engal. Ushers were Arnold Hosbach and Clarence Krueger.

A reception for 300 guests at the Wilber Township Hall followed the ceremony. A four-tiered square wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom centered the refreshment table.

The couple left on a 10-day wedding trip to Washington, D. C. They will reside on the groom's farm in Wilber.

Out of town relatives were present from Kinde, Detroit, Zilwaukee, VanDyke and Mt. Clemens.

Iosco County Centennial---1857-1957

Shouts of the rivermen are only memories today of the great AuSable River. No other river along the shore of Lake Huron, except the Saginaw, ever bore such a vast wealth of forest products as the long, slim thread of flowing logs, cut during the winter months, were floated down the stream and either made up into huge rafts for shipment to such lumber towns as Tonawanda, New York, or floated into mill ponds at AuSable and Oscoda for cutting during the summer months.

The river was not only essential as a waterway for moving the logs out of the forest, the water acted as a deterrent to log-destroying boring insects.

This picture was copied from a book, "Art Work of Lake Huron Shore," published in 1894. By the time the book was published, lumbering operations on AuSable matters were rapidly becoming matters of history.

Former Tawas Man Writes of Early Iosco County History

Some interesting bits of local history are contained in a letter to the centennial chairman, Miss Edna Otis, from Ernest Chase of Owosso, and they are shared herein with the readers of this paper:

Mr. Chase writes: "I was born in Livingston County, October 2, 1868. came to Iosco County that same year, and was raised there until 1920, when I came to Owosso, and have been here since. I went to school to Susie Autterson and Lucius Abbott on the plains at Gordon Creek until 1875. Then we moved to the county farm, and I went to school in Laidlawville to Ret Osborn. Later, Susie Autterson came to Laidlawville, and I went to school to her again. I went to school with Edward Graham there, also.

"I have the class book with the early members of the United Brethren Church that was organized there. We had church in the school house at Gordon Creek. That part of the county was called Plainfield at that time, but later it was added to Wilber Township. Perhaps you know more about this than I do.

"There is an old-timer from Wilber Township who just died here at Henderson. Charles Westervelt's funeral will be here in Owosso, and he will be buried in Flushing.

"I will try and be up to Tawas for the centennial in June."

Gibberellic acid, the plant growth stimulator that makes plants grow to five times faster than normal, is not recommended for use on edible crops.

But home gardeners who want to do some experimenting with the growth promoter can use it on many house plants and flowers, according to horticulture specialists at Michigan State University.

The chemical will hasten flowering and increase the size of these plants and flowers.

Available commercially under several different trade names, gibberellic acid or gibberellin also speed up the growth of young trees and slow-growing ornamentals.

The material is usually applied as a spray and the commercial products give directions for use.

Apply the material in conservative amounts. Over-application can cause effects opposite of increased size and earlier flowering. Gibberellic acid is not a plant food. If you use it on plants, you will also need to supply extra plant food and water to take care of the increased growth and flowering.

You will enjoy your home landscaping efforts more if you plan them for minimum care requirements.

Joseph T. Cox, extension specialist in landscape architecture at Michigan State University, advises home owners to curb their desires for a great variety of plants in their landscape design.

Too many types of plants complicate the care of the shrubbery and do not contribute to the overall effect of the landscape.

Other tips Cox offers in landscape planning are: Study your family's way of living and plan your landscape to fit in with this pattern. Cox advises changing your landscape to fit this pattern—not change the living pattern to fit the landscaping. Types of materials used, for instance, will depend on the amount of use the area gets.

Select plant materials for their mature effect. Avoid substitutions for temporary effects. Use ground cover plants where they can be controlled and where they will cover bare ground. Original planning with the use of ground covers will save time and effort in later care.

Select slow-growing plant materials; maintenance requirements are lower.

Use mulch such as compost, leaf mold, rotted saw dust, rotted barnyard fertilizer, ground corn cobs, lawn clippings and peat moss as a covering for the soil between plants in shrub beds. Mulches help hold moisture, reduce cultivating and provide a background color to help unify the shrub planting.

Michigan dairy cattle owners are responding in unprecedented fashion to the state's campaign to eradicate brucellosis.

A remarkably high proportion, 86 percent, of infected cattle are being sold within 15 days after they are declared infected, according to George Parsons, extension dairy specialist at Michigan State University. Before the current eradication campaign, only about 50 percent of the infected cattle moved to market in the same 15-day period.

Parsons credits this farmer response for the rapid progress Michigan is making toward becoming a brucellosis certified state.

By June of this year, 59 counties will have become brucellosis certified. This means that less than one percent of the cattle and less than five percent of the herds in the county are infected.

The 59 counties include all of the Upper Peninsula and the northern half of the Lower Peninsula.

As a result of this progress, Michigan expects to become brucellosis certified by June 30, 1958, and completely rid of the disease by 1960.

Spearheaded and developed by dairy cattle owners themselves, the eradication in this state is known as one of the most outstanding in the nation. Close cooperation and good working relationships between cattle owners, Michigan Department of Agriculture and the United States Department of Agriculture as the regulatory arm and Michigan State University as the educational arm of the program have contributed to the eradication campaign's success, declares Parsons.

If you use your camera and film properly, appealing pictures like this can be yours for the taking this very spring.

Be Sure You Have "Beginner's Luck"

Today we were thinking about all the new camera owners who've just joined our "happy breed." Excitement, challenge, adventure, discovery—these and a myriad of other pleasurable sensations await anyone using a camera. And never is this truer than in those first days when the proud new picture taker realizes it's a shutter-string that holds the world by a finger.

Of course, to be sure of getting the best possible pictures, you new camera owners would do well to arm yourselves with certain very basic information. Contrary to the proverb, here's a case where "a little learning" is not "a dangerous thing" at all.

The tips we have in mind are very simple ones—and you'll see that the advice they offer is the kind even veteran photographers often need to be reminded about.

First of all, read through the instruction booklet that was tucked into the box along with your new camera, to give you all the information you need about how the camera works. A quick reading—and you'll spare yourself wasted time and needless disappointment later on. For only when you know what your particular camera is designed to do and what its own individual limitations are can you expect the best kind of results from its use.

If any of this information isn't absolutely clear to you, or if you're still not sure about how any part of your camera works, don't hesitate to ask your photo dealer. He'll be happy to help you—and you'll be far happier than if your own "experimental technique" caused damage to the mechanism.

Second on the list of "must reading" is the information printed right on the package of every roll of film you buy. Read it carefully before you load your camera for action. That way, you'll be able to determine exactly what you have to do under the prevailing conditions of light and atmosphere.

Though most cameras are constructed to take a lot of abuse, they are precision instruments and deserve as much consideration as you'd give a good watch. Plan to keep your camera away from neat and dust as much as possible when not in use. Avoid a "hot spot" such as the glove compartment of your car, or a "dust-catcher" like the back-window ledge. Instead, just keep it on the seat beside you while in transit.

Regional Library Distributes New Titles to Branches

Iosco-Arenac Regional Library has recently distributed many fine new titles among its seven branches and patrons. They are assured that each of them is an outstanding publication.

Miss Leonora Hass, director of the regional library, said, "Readers observations will agree with those of book reviewers that adult non-fiction and fiction are assuming a new importance because of improvement in subject and readability over the past two years."

Among the new non-fiction is "Citadel," the story of the United States Senate, by William S. White, author of "The Taft Story." This book can be read on three levels, as a dramatic history of remarkable and colorful men (with an occasional scoundrel among the many heroes), as an exploration of all that is best in our way of life or a major adventure into political philosophy. Mr. White's story shows that integrity is the chief characteristic of the senate and tells his story with action, drama and humor.

"The Wild Place" by Kathryn Hulme, author of "The Nun's Story," is the winner of the Atlantic non-fiction award. It tells the experiences of an American woman who worked for six years to rescue, rehabilitate and settle the more than two million homeless in Germany at the end of World War II. This is an engrossing story and the people of "The Wild Place" are too vivid to be forgotten.

"It's a Big Country" by Ben Burman is a story of the strangeness and picturesqueness of Americans in oddly diverse regions of the highways. It tells of the towboatmen of the Missouri who run their boats over channels so dry a catfish must stand on his head to keep his gills covered. The reader journeys to the Ozark country, the Louisiana marshlands, the Everglades and Cape Hatteras in this panorama of unknown peoples.

New titles in fiction are "The Last Angry Man" by Gerald Green. This is a story of Samuel Abelman, M. D. of Brooklyn and the doctor's impact upon Woodrow Thrasher, vice president in charge of television in an important advertising agency, a man from a wholly different world. As a subject for his new television show, "Americans, U.S.A." he stumbles upon the doctor. The profound effect that Dr. Abelman has upon Mr. Thrasher is the theme of this powerful novel, a moving theme with a startling climax.

"Son of Dust" by H. F. M. Prescott is one of the great historical novels of our age. It is very simply, a love story set in eleventh century Normandy. Miss Prescott is a first-rate historian and a first-rate novelist and "Son of Dust" will be among the books that will live on as fresh as the day they were written.

Other titles to look for are "Tower in the West," Frank Norris' 1957 Harper prize novel; Margery Sharp's "The Eye of Love," "Captain Little Ax" by James Street, "Blue Camellia" by Francis Parkinson Keyes, "Bon Voyage" by Marijane and Joseph Hayes and "The Philadelphia" by Richard Powell.

Calendar—
Thursday, May 9—Lamp making lesson for home demonstration leaders.

Heart of the home classes were completed with the meeting at Hale Area School on April 23. Mrs. Ruth C. Kettunen, Michigan State University home management specialist, has provided the instruction for this series of four meetings on work simplification.

Although planned to be most helpful to women with heart and circulatory difficulties, work simplification methods can be adopted by all homemakers to provide ways to do their work more easily, and save time and have energy left for other activities.

Four-time attenders were: Mrs. Nelson Provoast, Mrs. Clarence Provoast, Mrs. Gerald Ruckle, Mrs. Robert Dahne, Mrs. Lillie Ross, Mrs. Harold Hammond and Mrs. Gale Mudge.

Three-time attenders were: Mrs. Hugh Slosser, Mrs. George Bissonette, Mrs. Barbara Reimer.

Present for one or two meetings were: Mrs. A. W. Miller, Mrs. Merrill Burnside, Mrs. Delbert Hewitt, Mrs. George Burt, Mrs. Luella Derr, Mrs. Mary Weiss, Mrs. Rosa Hicks, Mrs. William Uptegrove, Mrs. Cecil Ruckle, Mrs. Gladys Condit, Carol Mumby and Mrs. Margaret Tarr.

These women will be glad to share with you tips from the meetings, if you let them know of your interest.

Lamp making activities are to be initiated this month with a training meeting for leaders. This first lesson is to learn more about what a lamp is and how it is made than just where the switch is located and how to turn the light on and off.

Later on there will be opportunities for home demonstration members to plan and make a new lamp, to remodel one they now have, or to convert a kerosene lamp.

Lamps and shades are rather like salt and pepper, they go together. So, when the lamp is finished, shade making will follow.

Hamburg with more than 25 percent fat will be greasy and have a lot of fat loss during cooking. Michigan law limits the fat content to 30 percent.

Home demonstration group members are in the midst of their national observance week, April 28-May 4. Iosco groups are having a county achievement program at Grant Township Hall on the evening of May 1.

It features two excellent numbers: A slide illustrated talk about Argentina by a Michigan IFYE student and a food demonstration. Groups will arrange exhibits of work done as a result of lessons in this year's program.

Women play a vital role in maintaining the home; they need up-to-date information to help them solve the problems of family and community. Home demonstration work is designed to meet that need.

This is accomplished by offering homemakers the newest reliable information on foods and nutrition, clothing, housing, home furnishings, household equipment, home management, health and safety, child care and development, family relationships, family economics, good business practices, marketing, consumer buying and public affairs.

Iosco County's program this year has included lessons in getting your calorie's worth, hard surface floor coverings, Christmas gifts, health, property rights, making draperies and curtains, the art of gracious living, aluminum craft and lamp making. Along with these group lessons there have been sewing machine care and adjustment workshops and the work simplification series of meetings.

What the 6½ million home demonstration group members do varies greatly over the country. The program varies with the needs and desires of the members and the area where they live.

The United States has informed 14 allied nations that it is preparing to discuss certain relaxation in the present embargoes on trade with Red China. It was emphasized, however, that there would be no change in this country's unilateral embargo on our trade with China.

C of C Hears Report on Jaycee Group Being Organized

A report on a recent Jaycee organizational meeting was heard at the meeting of the Tawas Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors last Wednesday night.

Bruce Myles and Jerald Bronson, who have been interested in promoting this organization here, told directors that the purpose of Jaycees is to promote local activities and youth projects. Membership would include the age group from 21 to 35 years.

Fred Mathewson, a chamber director, stated he thought it would be very beneficial to the younger group of men, and would be good training in organizational work of this type.

Other business transacted by the chamber included issuing honorary certificates to local military personnel for exceptional service they rendered the Silver Valley Committee this past season. They are Col. Thomas N. Wilson, Wurtsmith Air Force Base commander; Captain Buko, Wurtsmith; Sgt. John Smith, army recruiter, and Petty Officer First-Class Donald Hadd, navy recruiter.

Gordon Huck, Joseph O'Connor and C. I. Morris were put in charge of ticket sales for the annual banquet and general meeting to be held May 8. Cards were mailed April 29 to remind members and non-members to make reservations. Frank Catto is to be guest speaker.

A letter from Bert Stoll of East Tawas told of plans of the National Geographic Magazine to make a series of color pictures of Perchville to be used in that magazine next year. Idea for the story came through a story written by Stoll which appeared in the Washington Post and Times Herald last January.

A survey is to be made of shanties at Perchville for repainting if color pictures are to be taken. O'Connor and James Martin are to make the survey and prepare a program for the ice fishing village next year. Chester Parker is to manage Perchville again next season.

A membership report indicated that 87 members had paid $2,555 in dues. This number included 20 new members of the organization. The board approved making arrangements to send Mrs. Bertha Montgomery, office manager, to the National Institute in Office Management to be held in June at Michigan State University.

Bowling League Holds Banquet at Ardo Bar

The members of the Inter-City Friday night bowling league held their banquet April 27 at the Ardo Bar.

The ladies' husbands, escorts and sponsors were guests of the league.

A fried chicken dinner, which included mashed potatoes, buttered peas, gelatin salad, hot rolls and ice cream with ice box cookies, was served to perfection.

Following the dinner, Lou Rainsberger, master of ceremonies, introduced present and past present officers of the league.

The WIBC award was presented to the winning team, G and M Market. The members of the team are: Captain, Mabel Liske, Pat Taylor, Mary Bergeron, June Ditenber, Frances Beaubien and My Bigelow.

The chairman of the prize committee was introduced and she in turn presented the awards for the 10 teams and other events. High team single game went to Fueugas; high series to Darling's Cabins, and individual high single and high series to Mary Bergeron. Shirley Rapp won the award for the highest raise in average.

Peggi Busha, queen's committee chairman, was then introduced. She, with the aid of her committee, presented last year's queen, Geraldine Williams, who crowned the new queen, Shirley Rapp. The crown was made of pink and white carnations and pink sweet peas.

The new queen, dressed in a gold and floral ballerina length dress, received a planter as a gift from the league.

May 4, Queen Shirley will vie with the queen's of the other leagues in a roll off to determine the association queen.

Following the presentation of the queen, there was dancing for everyone's enjoyment.

The officers and league members wish to take this opportunity to thank Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Green for the wonderful banquet.

TAWAS AREA BAND RECEIVES II RATING

The Tawas Area High School Band received a II rating at the State Band Festival in Ann Arbor. The festival was held in the new Ann Arbor High School building.

Band members left Tawas Friday afternoon and were guests of the Chelsea High School Band in Chelsea. They were housed in private homes as guests of the Chelsea band members. Both bands had dinner together on Friday evening and then attended a dance held in the Chelsea High School. Breakfast was supplied at the homes.

It is hoped that the Chelsea Band can be invited to Tawas for the Isoco County Centennial. Similar arrangements can be worked out here. The Chelsea band would put on a concert in East Tawas and also take part in the centennial parade.

The entire trip was a wonderful experience for the band members. All indications show that the band members were pleased with the overnight stay and accommodations.

This was the first time that a Tawas Band had attended a state festival. The competition was very keen and the band was pleased at the outcome for its first attempt.

NO SMELT, BUT AREA GETS GOOD PUBLICITY

This year's smelt dipping season may have been a dud as far as this area is concerned, but a five-minute radio broadcast over a nation-wide network giving a description of normal fishing activities here was heard as far away as Okinawa.

A taped report was made by George W. Myles of Tawas City and heard on Mel Allen's sport broadcast (ABC Radio Network) on April 17. A representative of WJCM-Bay City interviewed Myles.

Richard Allen, former Tawas Chamber of Commerce secretary-manager, received word from his son, who is with the United States Navy and stationed on Okinawa, stating that he heard the broadcast which "originated from New York and Tawas City."

TAWAS AREA NETTERS DROP TWO TO OPPONENTS

Tawas Area School's tennis squad fell before two North-eastern Michigan Conference foes during the past week.

Last Thursday they came out on the short end of a 1 1/2 to 1 score against Standish, while on Friday they bowed to Gladwin, 19 1/2 to 3.

Against Standish, both Hill and Cabbie won over their opponents in singles, but the winners counted heavily in doubles events.

Tawas Area Nine Wins Two Games from NEM Foes

Tawas Area High School won its second baseball game of the season to remain atop the Eastern Division of the Northeastern Michigan Conference last Friday by winning over Arenac Eastern, 15-5. The Braves won the season opener against Pinconning, 7-0, on Larry Frank's no-hit, no-run pitching performance.

The win by Tawas Area Friday was highlighted by a grand slam home run by Ray Guyette over the left field fence. Guyette along with Bill Laidlaw were hitting stars of the game, the former adding a double and the latter five consecutive singles.

The victory was Frank's second of the year, allowing Arenac Eastern eight hits. The losers scored their runs in the last three innings.

Against Pinconning, Frank struck out 12 men, walked three and allowed only one man to reach second base.

Tawas scored four runs in the first inning when Laidlaw singled to lead off. After Laidlaw stole second, Ledsworth was out attempting a bunt. Jordan walked. DeLosh singled to right, scoring both Laidlaw and Jordan. Herriman singled and stole second. Guyette then singled to left scoring both DeLosh and Herriman.

Tawas scored one run in the second inning when Laidlaw walked, stole second and came home on Jordan's single to center. Jordan started things off in the fifth inning with a single to left and a theft of second base. He scored on DeLosh's hit, the latter scoring later on an error and a wild pitch.

Jordan and DeLosh were the batting stars of this game with two hits each.

Judge Impounds Car Under New Michigan Law

Justice of the Peace Lester Weis of Oscoda issued an order which impounded a Hale man's car for 20 days, effective April 15, under the state's new car impoundment law when minors are convicted of possessing alcoholic beverages in a vehicle. The case may be appealed to circuit court.

The case originated when Deputy Sheriff Leon Putnam and Harris Funk, a Plainfield Township officer, stopped a car on the highway which had only one light. An investigation of the car revealed that it contained a case of beer.

The 19-year-old driver and his companion were arrested and appeared in justice court, the former paying a fine for minor in possession of beer and the latter for furnishing. The car was owned by the 19-year-old's brother.

Impoundment of the car came under Act 187 of Public Acts of 1956. It will be stored at a commercial garage at a cost of 50 cents per day to the owner.

Department of Agriculture Regulation No. 133
Regulation Relating to the Public Exhibition of Poultry

By virtue of the authority provided by Act 181, Public Acts of 1919, as amended, the following rules and regulations are hereby established:

1. Feed and water containers provided for exhibition coops shall be new or properly cleaned.
2. Feed or water containers from which birds have eaten or drunk must be refilled so as not to contaminate the common supply of feed or water. Feed or water containers may not be removed from exhibition coops except for the purpose of cleaning.

3. Exhibition coops must be constructed and placed as to provide adequate light for proper and inspection of poultry for evidence of transmissible diseases.

5. Litter for exhibition coops must be of clean material and renewed daily or oftener as needed.

6. Shipping crates used in shipment of birds by common carrier may not be used as exhibition coop. Shipping crates shall be cleaned and disinfected after birds have been removed for exhibition and before being used again.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and affixed the official seal of the Department of Agriculture this 3rd day of May, 1949.

MICHIGAN DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

by:
G. S. MCINTYRE, DIRECTOR

—RULES—

Exhibitors are requested to read carefully rules and regulations covering exhibition of poultry.

All exhibits shall be (a) purebred; (b) cross bred from purebred parents.

All birds showing any general disqualifications according to the Standard of Perfection shall receive no award.

Provided the birds are typical of the breeds which they represent, the placing of awards shall depend upon the following:

- A. Pullets:
1. Rapidity of growth.
 2. Depth of pigment.
 3. Uniformity of shape and size.
 4. Promise of egg production.
 5. Absence of defects and disqualifications.

- B. Mature Birds (Hens):
1. Degree of bleaching.
 2. Condition of abdomen (spread and pliability).
 3. Absence of new primary wing feathers.
 4. Alertness of head and eyes.
 5. Body weight, conformation and fitness.
 6. Absence of defects and disqualifications.

It is suggested, especially for fairs held late in September and October that all birds exhibited go directly from the Fair to market for slaughter so that none of them will be taken back to the farm. The reason for this precaution is that the birds may take back some disease to the farmer and injure his egg production of his farm flock, if such disease is infectious and is of the type which will lower his egg production.

A pen entry shall consist of two females and one male.
(Classifications: Cock, Cockerel, Hen, Pullet.)

COUNTY FAIRS:

Agricultural fairs are a part of America's most fundamental tradition. Not only are they colorful, entertaining and educational, but the competition which they produce among our farm citizens in exhibiting their best at these fairs is one of the main factors in raising the quality of our already excellent farm produce.

God has favored our state with a soil that is capable of producing a variety of produce unequalled in flavor, color and goodness. Michigan's ever-growing cities provide a ready market for our farmers, and one which we should jealously guard by offering uniformly graded products superior to those of our competitors.

To all fair visitors, officials and exhibitors, let me extend personal good wishes. The year 1957 should represent the best year ever for Michigan county fairs.

Sincerely,

G. MENNEN WILLIAMS

Governor

Lansing

March 22, 1957

Dear Fair Patron:

May your 1957 fair be the best one yet held, giving us in the Michigan Department of Agriculture, as it does, a sense of pride in being a part of it.

The exhibits of animals and fine farm products indicate the continual progress in our agriculture. In the homemaking section are to be found displays that disclose how women are in tune with 1957 in making our surroundings and our meals more appealing.

Youth exhibits reveal how an unregimented generation of young people can utilize their ingenuity for betterment and useful citizenship. In youth we have the promise of an even brighter tomorrow for America.

Congratulations on your fair.

Very truly yours,
