This new museum, located in the former Red Chief Restaurant south of Tawas City, is expected to open within the next two weeks. The gallery features some 32 oil paintings of historic Indian chiefs and other characters of the Old West. The building has been completely remodeled. Busts, like the one pictured above, are displayed in shadow boxes on the exterior. William Schetzen, curator, said last week that he plans to erect a monument in front of the building in memory of the American Indian. It will be a concrete statue.—Tawas Herald Photo.

Seek More Boy Scout Troops In Iosco County

Need for the addition of several Boy Scout troops and Cub Scout packs in Iosco County and the enlistment of youngsters and leaders in the Scouting movement was stressed at a meeting of community leaders Tuesday night at the Barnes Hotel.

It was pointed out that in Iosco County there are approximately 1,452 boys between the ages of eight and 17. Of this number some 207 boys are registered in Scouting, or about 14 percent.

A census of troops taken in the county revealed that seven more units were needed, including two troops and one pack in Tawas City; one troop and pack at Whittemore-Hale. East Tawas now has one troop and a pack, but there are enough boys there to form another troop and a pack. Oscoda has a troop and a pack and at least one more troop and a pack should be organized there.

In the Tawas area, there are 202 boys of Cub Scout age and only 17 in the pack. There are 196 boys in the 12-13 age group but only 40 are members of the East Tawas troop.

Ways and means of making the programs of the Boy Scouts a vital part of many community organizations will be discussed Wednesday, April 23, when a committee meeting on a future relationships conference is to be held at the Tawas Area Auditorium at 8:00 p. m.

Volunteers are needed to help in this important program for the youth of Iosco County and all community-minded people interested in this type of work are urged to attend the April 23 meeting.

According to a recent school census, about one-third more boys are reaching the Boy Scout age this year in the county and troops must be organized to handle the increase.

Tawas Area Making New School Policies

Tawas Area High School is presently in the process of developing school policies in academic areas. Principal Ernest Jordan said Monday that a program for those proposed new policies would be presented soon to the board of education.

As an example, Mr. Jordan said that in the advanced stenographic and commercial area, the school is talking of requiring students to be tested beforehand to determine their aptitude for such subjects.

"An illustration might be that first year typing may very well be beneficial for a certain student, but that advanced study in this field might be just a waste of time for him. In the final analysis, he would be better off studying some other subject," said Mr. Jordan.

Schuhmacher, Williams and Fortune Lose

Iosco County Republicans unseated three Democrat incumbents in Monday's elections, two at Whittemore and one in Tawas City. There were no contests at East Tawas.

Tawas City Republicans elected their entire slate of candidates in Monday's spring election, including the "upset" of Democrat Walter Schuhmacher, veteran First Ward alderman, by Arthur Wegner, a newcomer to city politics.

Two Democratic incumbents were unseated in the election at Whittemore. Mayor Russell J. Williams Jr. was defeated by Republican John O'Farrell by one vote, 75-74. Second Ward Constable Lawrence Fortune was defeated by Republican Robert Dorsey, 55-50.

Monday's election was featured, if it can be justly described in that manner, by the absence of voters. Tawas City electors avoided the polls in droves during this important election.

Out of a possible 1,022 registered voters, only 354 persons cast their ballots at the city hall. This was in contrast with 567 votes cast in last year's spring election. There was one spoiled ballot Monday.

Tawas City's straight Republican vote was the deciding factor in the election. In the First Ward there were 56 straight Republican votes cast, compared to 10 straight Democratic; Second Ward, 77 straight Republican, 29 straight Democratic; Third Ward, 68 straight Republican, 22 straight Democratic.

Mayor George Tuttle, Republican incumbent, handily defeated his opponent on the Democratic ticket, George Whitfield, by a 256 to 97 margin.

Clerk Walter Nelson and Treasurer Ruth Albertson received similar margins over their Democratic opponents, Clarence A. Schneider and Ella R. Schneider, the first named winning 264-86 and the second 271-76.

Alderman Schuhmacher, who has successfully defended his seat on the city council two years ago, was defeated by Wegner by a 64-45 margin. Clement Stephan, First Ward supervisor, was unopposed and received 89 votes.

Alderman Clyde Evril successfully defended his Second Ward council chair by defeating Clarence Oates, 75-38. Supervisor Fred Brabant won over Joseph Nagy, Democrat, by about the same margin, 77-36.

In the Third Ward, Alderman Howard Hatton, who was appointed to fill the vacancy last year of Hugo J. Keiser, defeated his opponent on the Democratic ticket, Kenneth Frank, 90-42. Supervisor Clarence Everett was returned to office by defeating Harold Peterson, Democratic candidate, 87-45.

Others elected at Whittemore were Clerk Henry Hasty and Justice of the Peace L. M. Dahne, who were unopposed; Treasurer J. C. Munroe, Democrat, defeated his opponent, Leila Barrington, 91 to 58, and Assessor Edward Graham won over Republican Ida Dorsey, 87 to 62.

First Ward Alderman Archie Graham edged Republican Dan Miller, 23 to 22; David Mills was reelected constable in the First Ward with 23 votes to his opponent Kenneth Bronson's 21. George Blust, Second Ward constable, won over Republican Horace Dillon, 62 to 42.

There were no contests at East Tawas and all Republican incumbents were elected to office with only 172 votes cast at the polls.

Returned to office were: Mayor Elmer Werth, Clerk Fred Lomas, Treasurer Georgina Bergeron, Alderman Frank Wilkusi, First Ward; Alderman Blaine Christensen, Second Ward; Alderman Edward Seifert Jr., Third Ward.

'State Not Entitled to Injunction'-Dehnke

DOCK CONSTRUCTION IS ALLOWED

Republicans Unseat Three County Democrats

Judge Denies Injunction of Shore Owners

UNITED STATES GYPSUM COMPANY'S shipping season on Saginaw Bay was to have started last week, but no lake carriers docked at the big ore crib off-shore from Alabaster because of changing weather conditions. USG's quarry went into full operation in expectation of shipping rock out Friday or Saturday but ice flows in Lake Huron forced the ships into dockage at Port Huron. Edward Lucke, new plant engineer superintendent, left, and Charles Lemon, quarry superintendent, are pictured above discussing the present situation. The idled tramway, its buckets painted in a brilliant orange color, are shown in the background. A company spokesman said Monday that shipping was expected to start later this week.—Tawas Herald Photo.

In a 27-page decree handed down Tuesday, Circuit Judge Herman Dehnke denied an injunction asked by the Lake Huron Shore Property Owners Protective Association and ruled that National Gypsum Company may proceed, under certain obligations, with construction of its lake loading facilities south of Tawas City.

In the same decree, Judge Dehnke ruled that the state, as an intervening plaintiff, is not entitled to an injunction in which the conservation department asked that National be stopped from proceeding with construction.

Thus, the many long hearings and circuit court proceedings have come to a close here. The decision, however, may well become a test case in the state supreme court. Plaintiffs and the intervenor now have 20 days in which to appeal.

Plaintiffs, Dr. Malvern Obrecht, Arthur Johnson, the Rev. Fr. Robert Neuman and directors of the Lake Huron Shore Property Owners Protective Association, have waged a months-long legal battle against National Gypsum Company over construction of the port. During the early stages, the conservation department entered the suit.

After numerous hearings, including one before Governor Williams and another before the United States Army Corps of Engineers, a hearing to show cause why a permanent injunction should not be issued was held for three days last March in Iosco County Circuit Court.

Judge Dehnke's final decision was separated into two portions: First, dealing with the private owners' interest; secondly, concerning the state's interest.

"My conclusion on this portion of the case (private owners) therefore is that an injunction at this time would not be justified," said Judge Dehnke. "And that defendant should be permitted to proceed with the carrying out of its plans at its own risk, but under an interlocutory order or decree which will set forth in specific language the obligations which it has assumed upon this record; and subject further:

1. To the court's retention of jurisdiction for the purpose of granting an injunction, if after a reasonable period of operation, it should appear that the same constitutes a nuisance in fact which cannot be adequately compensated by an allowance of damages.

2. To assumption of liability by defendant for payment of damages to property owners for depreciation in value by reason of the construction or operation in question, to be determined by such legal procedure as each owner may elect, after a reasonable period of experimental operation.

3. To the condition that until otherwise ordered on the basis of experience, there shall be no loading of ships between the hours of 11:00 p. m. and 7:00 a. m., except with the written consent of all owners of property within a distance of 600 feet of defendant's north or south boundary line.

4. To the condition that every possible precaution shall be taken to prevent improper, annoying, or embarrassing behavior on the part of ship personnel or defendant's employees while in the vicinity.

5. To payment by defendant to the individual plaintiffs of such reasonable portion of the expense incurred by them in connection with the institution and prosecution of this suit as the court shall determine at the conclusion of the litigation; plaintiffs having been under the necessity of instituting the same under pain of estoppel and loss of right to assert their objections and claims for possible loss sustained.

In regard to the state's stand, Judge Dehnke ruled:

1. That as littoral owner, defendant has the right to construct the wharf as proposed, and to dredge, under the conditions prescribed by the federal authority.

2. That inasmuch as the state has chosen not to adopt any statutory requirement for approval or authorization, the same is not necessary.

3. That in any event, by pass—(See JUDGE DENIES, page 8.)

Tawas Students in U of M Decision-Making Survey

A survey study on decision-making of Tawas Area High School students in grades 10 through 12 was made Wednesday of this week. Tawas Area was one of several Michigan schools selected at random for the study.

A guide preference inventory and interview was given to some 18 students in school. It was conducted by the Research Center for Group Dynamics of the University of Michigan. The program is sponsored by the Human Resources Research Fund established by the Michigan State Legislature.

The study is concerned with the influences on the decisions of adolescents and individual differences in the importance of particular influences or "guides." Those include forces from parents, from close friends, and from the individual's own values and from the individual's own impulses or needs.

"We feel that knowledge of how young people face and make decisions and of the extent to which their decisions guide their behavior can be an important aid in understanding the success and failures of our educational system," stated Dr. John R. P. French Jr. of the U of M. "We also think that the students may derive some valuable insights about their own decision processes through participating in the study."

The principal investigator for the study was Dr. French. Mrs. Sheila Zipf, Theodore Curtis and Daniel Solomon were the research assistants connected with the study.

As an example, one of the questions asked was: "Generally, what my father and mother tell me to do is," and then listed 23 points which described the individual's feelings.

Another was what the student felt like doing or what his personal desires tell him; what his friends tell him to do; what his conscience tells him to do.

As an example of the preferences inventory, the first question listed was: "How important is it for you to feel that you can run your life without depending upon people who are older and more experienced than you?" It then listed five answers from which the student was to check one of the following: "Not at all, slightly, somewhat, very, extremely."

Each student was interviewed and asked 12 questions. One example was: "Have you decided what to do when you finish high school (between college and working, for example)?" Ernest Jordan, principal at the high school, said this week that a (See SURVEY, page 8.)

What About College?

Schools will soon be closing, and a number of young people will go into the business of making money. Too many will stop their scholastic training at the end of high school days without realizing the tremendous advantages that will come to them by pursuing their way through college.

The Tawas Herald does not recommend a college course for every boy and girl. There was a time when people thought this was a good idea, but undoubtedly, there are some boys and girls who will not take advantage of the educational opportunities that can be obtained. These might as well go to work, whether they are the sons and daughters of rich or poor parents.

At the same time, let us urge all students who will complete their high school courses this summer to give serious thought to the possibility of attending college. The right institution and the right personal application will make a difference in life.

Gardening Offers Rewards

About this time of the year it is well to urge all readers of The Tawas Herald to consider the possible pleasure to be obtained from flowers, fruits and vegetables. It is also worth noting that, sometimes, such activity can develop a monetary profit.

We are not much concerned, in this article, with the economic gains of gardening. There are other values that come to the individual who seeks to develop something of beauty and perfection in accordance with the laws of nature.

There are countless homes in Iosco County on lots that need the charm that come only from well appointed surroundings. It may take some years to develop an attractive lawn or garden, but the task will bring satisfaction, however long delayed. Besides, what you do with your lot will add to the natural beauty of your community.

When it comes to vegetable gardening, one must admit that the process involves work. At the same time, many business men would be physically benefited by some exercise. We know, from hearing them boast, that the amateur gardeners take as much delight in their prize specimens as fishermen who talk so much about the "one that got away."

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE—

How spiritual understanding of God's law of harmony brings healing and redemption will be set forth at Christian Science services Sunday.
Keynoting the lesson-sermon entitled "Are Sin, Disease, and Death Real?" is the Golden Text from Jeremiah (17:14): "Heal me, O Lord, and I shall be healed; save me, and I shall be saved: for thou art my praise."
From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will be read the following (472:9-10): "Sickness, sin, and death, being harmonious, do not originate in God nor belong to His government."
Scriptural readings will include the following (Psalms 33: 4, 6): "For the word of the Lord is right; and all his works are done in truth. He loveth righteousness and judgment: the earth is full of the goodness of the Lord."

A hard task is eased by the application of immediate energy.

Why is it that the truth is so painful sometimes?

Exhibits, demonstrations and guests were highlights for the Hale Happy Hustlers 4-H Club open house event on Tuesday, April 1.

Arranged on display were first aid kits completed by eight members, one child care display, one photography album, 12 displays of food preparation and baking projects. These included brownies, cookies, cup cakes and coffee cake.

Participating were Cheryl Lyke, Gloria Reilly, Sandra Ronger, David Bernard, Linda Sheltenberger, Terry Koehler, Ree Herzog, Bethany Jacobs, Darlene Scofield, Marlene Wilson, Kathy Loveless, Margaret Pilot, Jackie Loveless and Darlene Brinkman.

"How to bathe a baby" was subject for a child care demonstration given by Darlene Brinkman and Jackie Kessler. Mrs. Ernest Herzog is their leader.

Charlotte Webb and Marlene Wilson presented an entomology demonstration.

Unplanned and unheeded was a demonstration to bandage an injured finger belonging to Ray Herzog. Demonstrators were Cheryl Lyke and Gloria Reilly.

Food preparation members will have demonstration meal meetings soon after Easter to complete these projects. The first two project groups with leaders, Mrs. Elwood McClimurry and Mrs. Harold Adams, will cooperate in serving a meal. The second project is to have a meal under the direction of Mrs. Ira Scofield, leader. The first aid project is finished. Mrs. Orville Lyke has been the project leader.

The young people who gave demonstrations at the open house meeting have a fine start for demonstrations contest competition. We hope they will keep practicing and improving them.

Oil Heating Consumers Will Save $8 Million

Michigan heating oil consumers will save $8,000,000 a year under price reductions placed in effect through the state in the current season it was estimated today by Joseph D. Hadley, executive secretary of the Michigan Petroleum Association.

Since the last heating season, Hadley said, oil companies and local area fuel oil dealers have reduced their prices an average of 0.8 cents per gallon. The reductions have ranged from 0.4 cents to 1.2 cents, depending on the levels in effect in various sections of the state.

Hadley said, "This means a savings of $8,000,000 a year to Michigan householders and businesses which burn fuel oil. On the average, it probably means a saving of $10 to $12 a year to the average householder."

Hadley reported that fuel oil price cuts started in Michigan last summer on a "temporary" basis and varying in different sections of the state. Within the past week, he said, the "temporary" cuts have been made permanent and extended to all sections of the state. In some cases, the "temporary" reductions were increased slightly when they were made permanent.

You can bet more than your money's worth some times, but it is a hard process to continue.

When you do a favor for a person, you might think that you are entitled to one in return.

Religion and tolerance go hand in hand, but some of us evidently miss the connection.

People who talk about religion all the time often fail to understand its true meaning.

Calendar:
Monday, April 28—Achievement event, featuring frozen food preparation.

A remodeled lamp base is in the making by Mrs. Henry Siegrist. A few days ago we got together to check the parts and see if the ones ordered fit. They do, and Mrs. Siegrist will go ahead with painting the base. She will use a white or ivory semi-gloss paint. After it dries the "antique" finish will be applied, using a special recipe and procedure.

Next week Mrs. Siegrist and several other women in the Whittemore area will meet for a lamp shade making workshop. The results of these workshops will be on display at the county achievement event on April 28. You are invited to come and see them.

Frozen food preservation, with emphasis on fruits and vegetables because they will soon be in season, is to be featured at this year's home demonstration county event.

Presenting the demonstration program will be Miss Ruth Crapper, home service advisor, Consumers Power Company.

Consumers Power Company in Tawas City will host the event. You are invited to attend, whether or not you belong to an organized home demonstration group.

There will be more information about the program in another week. In the meantime, please mark your calendar and save the evening of Monday, April 28.

Are you redecorating this spring? Remember, how well you see with comfort depends upon the proper brightness as well as the color. For best results make the ceiling white or off-white (reflection about 80 percent). Side-walls painted in pastel colors have reflective values of 50 to 60 percent. Floor colors of medium tone reflect about 30 percent. Another 30 percent reflective value comes from equipment, fixtures and furnishings.

Remember, too, that certain types of lighting distort colors. For most purposes "warm" lights are better. Choose the 3500 and 4500 degree fluorescent tubes or the incandescent bulbs.

It is estimated that around 20 percent of the population is overweight—a good way to shorten our lives. For example, a man 50 years old and 25 pounds overweight may die five years sooner than he would if he were not overweight.

If women would drink or eat in foods enough milk to meet their calcium requirements, an additional 40,000 gallons of milk would be used every day.

Christmas seems a long way off today, but this is a good time for the maple syrup makers to begin their gifts. Put aside a half-dozen or so attractive pints of maple syrup. When the time comes, gift wrap them for the persons on your list who "have everything" (except maple syrup).

or meat loaf, make a casserole dish of vegetables with a cheese sauce this easy way.

Start with frozen peas or lima beans. Open the package and put the frozen vegetables into a greased casserole dish. Now make a thin white sauce, add one-half teaspoon of dry mustard along with the salt and pepper. When the white sauce is thickened, add one-half cup grated cheese, a sharp Cheddar is a good choice. Place the cheese sauce over the vegetables in the casserole. Cover and place in the moderate temperature oven. Peas will cook in 40 minutes, lima beans in 50. Before the vegetables are completely done, stir them to mix the sauce.

If the "cleaning bug" gets you started on storage closets, some re-arranging will be in order. Sort and store things according to their use. Put those used often within easy reach and near the place of first use. Things used occasionally or seasonally may be stored in the less convenient places. You may even decide some things are used so little they had better be thrown away or given to the rummage sale.

Cancer Fund Kick-off Thursday, April 17

June 30 Important Date for Disabled

June 30 is an important date for disabled people, Paul M. Ellifritz, manager of the Bay City District Office of the Social Security Administration, reminded today. Mr. Ellifritz stated that the June 30 date this year has particular significance for an estimated 700,000 disabled workers in this country. These are disabled people who have worked long enough under social security to be eligible to have their rights to future benefits for themselves and their families protected—of this 700,000 about 400,000 people—those between 50 and 65 years of age were eligible for monthly disability insurance benefits beginning with last July. Many of those eligible have not yet applied.

Anyone who is now disabled for work and not worked since September 1955 will lose his disability rights under the social security law if he does not apply by June 30. If a disabled worker does not make his application until July 1958 or later, his future benefits may be substantially reduced or lost and he may not be eligible for the monthly disability insurance benefits payable to disabled workers 50 to 65 years of age.

Disabled workers who believe they are eligible should get in touch with their social security district offices now to protect their rights.

March Shows Reduction in Traffic Deaths

Provisional figures compiled by the Michigan State Police show a 20 percent reduction in traffic deaths in Michigan during March as compared with the same month a year ago.

There were 94 reported fatalities, or 23 fewer than the 117 in March of 1957.

It was the 21st of the last 24 months in which deaths have gone down.

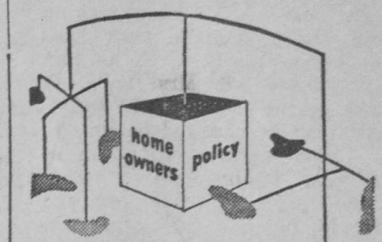

For the first three months of this year there has been an accumulated reduction of 54 deaths, or 16 percent under the same period last year. There were 25 lives saved in January and six in February.

In connection with the March death figures, the state police also released the final provisional summary for February. The report shows 92 persons killed and 3,886 injured in 15,402 accidents. Compared with the same month a year ago, deaths were down six percent, injuries decreased four percent, or 151, and accidents dropped three percent, or 538.

The state police added a note of caution in pointing out that the March reduction in deaths was actually accomplished in the first 15 days, when 26 lives were saved. In the remaining 16 days the death toll was three more than in the comparable period last year.

This was taken as a warning that with the arrival of warm weather and increased traffic, drivers will have to do even much better if the state is to achieve its goal of a 10 percent reduction in deaths in 1958 under the toll in 1957.

BIG YAWN for a small boy—Little Steven Dennis Potts, month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Potts of 1693 U.S. 23, Tawas City, is pictured here in his incubator at the Tawas Hospital. Born prematurely at the hospital March 18, Little Steven Dennis weighed but a pound. The picture was snapped when he was about 10 days old. As he weighed two pounds, 11½ ounces and will remain in the hospital approximately five pounds. Doctors believe that he will be ready to go home in about a month or six weeks. "It seems like such a long time, but we will be happy to wait until the time comes to take him home," said Mrs. Potts this week.—Tawas Herald Photo.

Wilton Finley Will Visit Iosco Farms Friday Afternoon

By MARVIN DAVENPORT
Iosco Agricultural Agent

Friday, April 11, from 10:00 a. m. until 3:00 p. m., Wilton Finley, Michigan State University beef specialist, will be in Iosco County. He will spend the day with us visiting beef herds. All beef raisers on our "request list" have received letters and have returned cards asking for the visit.
Finley is interested in discussing things that will help beef raisers get the high dollar for their calves this fall. We will have dehorning and castrating equipment as well as models and plans for beef herd equipment.

Iosco County dairymen have shown great interest lately in the newer pasture systems—strip-grazing, green-chopping and storage feeding. A lot of folks have been wondering whether any one system is actually the most profitable for Michigan farms. Carter Harrison of the Michigan State University farm crops department and Michigan State Agricultural Economist Ray Hoglund say there is no simple pasture recipe for every Michigan farm.

If you have been thinking about changing your pasture system, Harrison and Hoglund suggest you consider these factors: How about land—can you afford to use more crop acres? Do you have the necessary and specialized forage equipment available? Also, the location of your forage for summer pasture, the quality of stands and your type of forage program during barn feeding will help decide the best system for your farm.

Strip-grazing, for instance, needs less acreage. The Michigan State specialists say it works better with smaller herds, and your pasture benefits, too. A well-managed strip-grazing system can increase the carrying capacity of your pasture by 15 to 20 percent. The other systems of green-chopping and storage feeding will add from 20 to as much as 35 percent more grazing from pasture land.

The big problem with daily green-chopping, though, is chopping the correct amounts. There always seems to be too little or too much. And unless you chop once or twice a day, there is always the trouble of spoilage. Also, as any forage matures, its feeding quality goes down. Don't forget the extra work, too. A lot of Michigan dairymen have found that the extra time and labor involved in daily green-chopping and hauling forage is too much to be worthwhile. You can spend from 30 to 90 minutes a day chopping and hauling forage; labor and machinery are often tied up with chopping when needed elsewhere.

Storage feeding, on the other hand, has the advantage of putting up all the forage when the crop is good. You have no worry with fencing which is so important in strip-grazing, and you have all the feed in one place. In spite of these newer methods, a large number of farmers will decide to keep grazing their pastures continuously. Of course,

Tawas Bay Aerie, FOE, Elects Officers

At a regular meeting last Thursday evening, April 3, the Tawas Bay Aerie No. 2588, FOE, and Auxiliary held its annual election of officers at the Eagles Hall in East Tawas. The following FOE officers were elected: Worthy past president, John Applin; worthy president, Don Watson; worthy vice president, Lionel Butler; chaplain, Joseph Fernet; secretary, William Colburn; treasurer, Harlin Thompson; conductor, John Klenow; inside guard, Bert Yann; outside guard, Edward Hebert; trustees, Charles Vandette, James Greig, Lewis Bailey.

Officers of the auxiliary elected were: Madam past president, Mary Lixey; madam president, Betty Jones; madam vice president, Ruth Hebert; chaplain, Grace Miller; secretary, Feryl Grossmeyer; treasurer, Marie Platte; conductor, Lola Bailey; inside guard, Madeline Ruehle; outside guard, Helen Applin; trustees, Lucy Greig, Elmina Applin, Prueella Butler; auxiliary mother, Helen Applin.

Lunch was served after the meetings. At the auxiliary meeting Helmi Kemppi was initiated into the order.

Mrs. Butler gave a report of the district meeting held in Bay City. Tawas Bay Auxiliary won the plaque for the largest attendance.

no method can make up for poor producing forage cropland. The first big step in any pasture system is to establish a good, productive stand.

When you mention reforestation, many people think only of Christmas trees. Lester Bell, extension forester at Michigan State University, says that actually the range and needs for reforestation in Michigan is much greater. This need for more wood can make tree growing profitable, along with building up our natural resources.

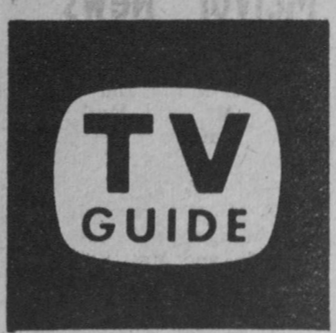

Although the demand for lumber has not increased, the need for cellulose, pulp and paper products, has. It is now double the amount needed in 1939. It is expected to double again by the year 2000.

There are a great many acres in Iosco County which are open land, growing no particular crop and producing nothing of value. Here, reforestation is not only a help to conservation, by guarding against leaching and erosion, but it can show up on the profit side of the book. The value of the land itself goes up right from the start. And this value increases accordingly on a year by year basis.

The Iosco County ASC office in the Federal Building offers help toward a reforestation program. The government will pay up to 75 percent of the establishment cost, plus the annual rental fee.

"Play Ball!"

The clean sharp whack as wood meets leather—is there any other sound that's a surer sign of spring? It's baseball time around the country and no picture-taker has to wait for the big stadium game to get exciting action shots. There's plenty of picture material awaiting you on the Little League circuit at any neighborhood park, playground or empty lot.

If your household boasts a young man in a visored cap wearing a baseball mitt, just follow him almost any Saturday morning. Otherwise, amble over to the nearest park or school playground and follow the sound of high-pitched voices until you're right in the midst of a game in action. There it is—every bit as good for snapshotting as what you see on a large stadium diamond—the pitcher winding up and exploding into a pitch, the stance of the batter, the swipe at the ball, the quick movement of the players, the roar of the spectators, the grim-faced referee, the bench filled with eager young "replacements."

A word about camera equipment first: it isn't even necessary to have a camera with a fast shutter unless you're planning to concentrate on the running action of the game. Your trusty box camera can actually do wonders with the material at hand, for a speed of 1/25th of a second is all you need to catch the dramatic highlights of the play.

Judge Denies

age of Act 176, PA 1957, state approval was given.
4. That the intervening plaintiff is not entitled to an injunction, and that a decree may be entered accordingly.
In the private nuisance portion of the case, Judge Dehnke said: "The circumstances here are such as to create sympathy with both Blatz Beer. They present no simple choice between black and white, between good and evil. Valid and persuasive arguments are available to both sides, and it is not surprising that interested parties do not see the same values in the circumstances, or in the same order of importance."
Answering one of four points which he raised, Judge Dehnke said: "The defendant insists that it can and will carry on its operations in such a way that plaintiffs' fears and apprehensions will be found substantially unjustified, even as to the installation. Whether there will be any substantial depreciation of plaintiffs' interests cannot be determined with any degree of definiteness unless and until there has been an opportunity to observe the completed installation and the proposed operations thereon over some period of time."
"Defendant is willing to stake a huge expenditure, at this site and in manufacturing plants around the Great Lakes, on its ability to prove the soundness of its position; and on the record as made, the court finds that there is a reasonable probability that it will be able to do so, at least to the extent of avoiding annoyance or depreciation so substantial that an allowance of damages will not constitute adequate compensation."
(In December 1957 firm contracts were let by National Gypsum Company to various contractors for a total approximate cost of six to eight million dollars for construction of the port facilities and quarry here. The overall cost of the Great Lakes projects to be supplied with gypsum rock from the quarry in Iosco county will exceed 23 million dollars.)
The attorney general's position in his intervention petition was that the defendant had no legal right to construct or build any structures of whatsoever kind in or over the submerged lands of Lake Huron without first securing the permission of the State of Michigan duly authorizing and given according to law.
Said Judge Dehnke in his opinion: "So far as this case is concerned, the defendant does not question that the state has the right to pass laws to regulate and control the construction and operation of navigational facilities by owners of uplands bordering on navigable waters, and to require submission of plans therefor for state approval, at least within these limitations—that established and recognized riparian rights are not thereby invaded, and the authority of the federal government in the field of interstate and foreign commerce is respected."
"Defendant is proceeding on the theory that it has complied with the only regulatory laws and requirements in existence—those of the federal government—and obtained that government's authorization and approval; that it would have been equally willing to comply with state regulations on the subject."
"Assuming then that the state possesses the authority to limit, control and regulate by appropriate enactment the construction and operation of wharves and other navigational facilities, and dredging in connection therewith, we confront what I consider to be the controlling fact element of this issue—THAT IT HAS NOT DONE SO."
"If defendant's structure constitutes a nuisance or is illegal, and therefore a purpresture, the same is true of every one of thousands of other similar facilities now or heretofore existing on Great Lakes waters in this state, from small boat piers to the great iron-ore and limestone wharves with dredged channels to make them accessible to huge vessels. It is incredible that for more than a hundred years so many allegedly glaring trespasses against the state's authority and responsibility could have been permitted to occur without some state official or department having been sufficiently well informed as to the law, and sufficiently conscientious in the performance of his duties, to recognize them as such, and to institute appropriate legal action against them."
"The question is asked: What if every upland owner were to do what the defendant is doing here? If and when the prospect of confusion therefrom becomes serious enough to warrant it, or a convincing case can be made that in order to protect hunting, fishing, bathing or other matters of public concern, such regulation is called for, the legislature must be depended on to provide it. Intervener is in effect asking the courts to assume a non-judicial, administrative function, and that without even a set of standards set up by the legislature upon which to base a decision."

Bucholz Urges More Support for EMTA

The East Michigan Tourist Association Membership Committee met recently at Houghton Lake and decided on a carefully organized plan to increase the number of EMTA members in the 29-county area represented by the association.
Emil Bucholz of Harrison, chairman of the committee, said, "While EMTA's revenues are running about the same as last year, many trade associations are finding it difficult to keep up because of general economic conditions."
He said, "This was all the more reason for the association to seek additional support because now more than ever we need to advertise and promote."
Plans include a special campaign at Houghton Lake which will be under the direction of Ted Benton, assisted by W. E. Fillinger, both of Houghton Lake. It was pointed out that Houghton Lake has 10 percent of the total number of resorts in the entire state.
Special city campaigns are being planned in Bay City, under the direction of Patrick Trahan; in Saginaw, chairmaned by William Tarrant, and in Alpena, headed by Thomas Spens.
EMTA President Fred Kunding of Saginaw said, "Although the association's income was the highest in its history last year, amounting to some $106,000, we are going to try to increase this support substantially."

NO MORE 'FISH TALES'

Mrs. Bertha Montgomery, Tawas Chamber of Commerce office manager, writes: "We are not eating humble pie but one local resident should. We quoted him recently: ice to leave right of Tawas Bay, April 18; smelt run to start on the 23rd. We saw our prediction in print (Detroit Free Press, March 30) after the ice had left the bay on Saturday, March 29."

"We have known for a long time that fishermen tell some pretty tall stories... Tawas fishermen are not an exception. But, in this instance, we thought the information was pretty reliable. Henceforth, no more tales from the mouths of fishermen will be released by this office," said Mrs. Montgomery.

WORK BEE

Silver Valley Winter Sports Committee will hold its final meeting of the year Sunday, April 13, at the winter sports park in Huron National Forest. A work bee (clean-up) will be held starting at 2:00 p. m. Committee members and their wives will have a pot-luck dinner starting at 5 o'clock. "It is important that all members be present for this final meeting," states Russell Meyers, secretary.

TAX COLLECTIONS

According to Tawas Area School's annual report, tax collections in the district are running about the same as in previous years. Supt. Reynold E. Mick said Monday that 87.594 percent of the operation tax had been collected before the deadline.
Annual reports of previous years revealed the following percentages of taxes collected before the report was submitted: 1957, 88.809 percent; 1956, 88.023 percent; 1955, 86.822 percent; 1954, 86.2095 percent; 1953, 90.83008 percent.

ONE SPOILED BALLOT

Election board workers in Tawas City said Monday night that there was one spoiled ballot in the spring election. One voter put a check mark on his ballot instead of an "X."
Complete instructions are posted at the polls for those who can read. The mechanics of voting is a rather simple procedure, but there are always one or two people who lose their vote by marking the ballot improperly.
SHIP 'FOR SALE'
In Sunday's Detroit News, the former D and C Western States, presently docked at Tawas City, was offered for sale. "Full price $75,000," stated the advertisement.
MUSEUM OPENS
The new Tawas Gallery of Historic Indians is holding special pre-opening visits for any civic, church or educational groups in this area. There is no charge to such groups and Curator William Schetzen urges that those attending be at least junior high school age. Each group must be accompanied by its leader. Appointments may be made by telephoning FO 2-5246.
EMBARRASSING MOMENT
"One of life's embarrassing moments" could well describe a fire truck demonstration which was to have taken place at the city park Monday night.
With volunteer firemen from Tawas City and East Tawas looking on and newsmen focusing their cameras, the demonstration was called off when a belt slipped on the pump primer... the equipment would not pump water from the bay.
Minor adjustments will be made on the equipment and the demonstration is to be given later this week.
BACK IN TAWAS
Leonard Schreiber, who with his family, has spent the past year in California, Oregon and Alaska, returned Monday to take over as service manager of McKay Sales Company, Tawas City.
Prior to his year-long absence, Schreiber had been an employee at McKay's for more than five years.
Next month he will conduct the annual Chevrolet and Cadillac mechanics examination at the local dealership. He is a graduate of GM motor tune-up and transmission schools and attended special GM school while in California.
The main purpose of education is to teach people to think.

similar study will be conducted here the week of April 21.
Rabindra Ghosh, a graduate student from India at the University of Michigan, will spend a day at Tawas Area to give a questionnaire to a few classes and to interview Mr. Jordan and another teacher as part of his doctoral study of the American comprehensive high school.
Mr. Ghosh has taught in his country, studied in England and now has studied 18 months at the University of Michigan.
Stanley E. Dimond, professor of education at the U of M, said "As with most foreign students, he has spent his major time with books and has little direct experience with our schools. So his doctoral project is something of an experiment for us. We hope by giving him experience in American schools that he will gain a better understanding and be more effective when he returns to his country—where he is likely to become a leader."

At a state meeting held during the conference with Governor G. Mennen Williams presiding, interesting talks on safety were heard from the state level.
It was disclosed that Michigan is in a tie with Indiana for leading in reduction of traffic accidents in the nation. More than 750 Michigan people are living in 1957 because of the reduction of accidents since the campaign was inaugurated.
