At the present time the superintendent and the school board are searching titles on the property and buildings to be sold.

Three-Day Winter Sports Carnival Starts on Friday

TED MALONE

Ted Malone Has Colorful Background in Radio-TV

A man who has done nearly everything in the radio and television field, from interviewing champion hog callers to covering the coronation of Queen Elizabeth for the ABC network, will crown the new Silver Valley queen during ceremonies at the winter sports park Sunday afternoon.

This man is Ted Malone, whose pre-eminence as a performer and producer is based on 25 exciting years in radio and television. He will appear here through the courtesy of his sponsor, the Peet Packing Company, and Parker Advertising Agency of Saginaw.

Malone will be here in Tawas for two of the three winter sports carnival days, including the annual banquet Saturday night, at which time he will be the principal speaker.

"This will indeed be a rare opportunity for the people of Tawas to become acquainted with a nationally known figure of such outstanding caliber," stated Chairman Donald Watson of the Silver Valley Winter Sports Committee. "We of the committee look forward to his visit in the Tawas and we know that his part in the program will prove to be entertaining for everyone."

As a roving reporter, Malone has made 27 trips to Europe and has traveled around the world, broadcasting everywhere from Iceland to Shanghai. During World War II he served as war correspondent for ABC, returning to do his own show for six years.

He has followed a story down into the Wilkes-Barre coal mines; interviewed the man who sells

Ideal Snow Conditions for 21st Annual Event

All is in readiness for the 1958 Silver Valley winter sports carnival which will start Friday, January 31, in the Tawas. Final program plans for the three-day snow festival were made Monday night by the winter sports committee.

With ideal weather conditions in the offing, this year's carnival has prospects of being one of the best in recent years. A heavy snow fall during the past two weeks has turned the sports center in Huron National Forest into a winter wonderland of silver-clad pines and hills.

"Facilities at Silver Valley are now in tip-top operating condition," stated Chairman Donald Watson this week. "The ski slopes have plenty of snow and toboggan slides are in top condition."

High point of this year's carnival will be the selection of a new winter sports queen to succeed Miss Linda Hudson, the 1957 queen.

The new "Miss Silver Valley" will be crowned in ceremonies Sunday afternoon on an ice tzone at the winter sports park. The coronation ceremony, scheduled to start at 3 o'clock, should attract considerable attention.

On hand to crown the new queen will be Ted Malone, nationally-known radio and television commentator.

As a change from previous years, the new queen will be selected from a group of eight girls chosen by the four high schools of Isosco County. The 1955, 1956 and 1957 queens were chosen by the number of ticket "votes" sold by each contestant.

Queen candidates are: Brenda Olsen and Marti Westcott, Tawas Area; Sherrill Scofield and Linda Holzheuer, Hale Area; Arlene Partlo and Jean Runyan, Whittemore-Prescott Area; and Gloria Welton and Janice Schroeder, Oscoda Area.

Acting as judges for this contest will be the presidents of the four chambers of commerce of Isosco County: A. Don Anderson of Tawas; Arden Charters of Whittemore; Delbert Hewitt of Hale, and Bud Draper of Oscoda-AuSable.

Winner of this contest will be eligible to compete in the "Miss Michigan Winter Sports" selection at Grayling later in February as Silver Valley's representative.

Queen candidates for Silver Valley will be seen today (Thursday) over WJEM-TV, Bay City. Arrangements were made two weeks ago by the winter sports committee and Virgil O'Dell, the station's sports director, to have the girls appear on "State Report" at 1:05 p. m.

All around the world, Malone has hit the top and the bottom. He was a guest at a birthday party given by the Queen of Holland; (See MALONE, page 8.)

MARCH OF DIMES DRIVE NOW IN FULL SWING

Isosco County's March of Dimes campaign is now in full swing. The county committee asks for the continued liberal contributions as in previous years to help others walk again.

Contributions may be mailed to the committee in cards with return postage guaranteed which were distributed to all sections of the county Tuesday. Contributions from organizations may be included with these special cards.

As in past years the carnival week-end will start with a stag fish fry and get-acquainted party Friday night. This year this event is being held at the Barnes Hotel in Tawas City. It had been scheduled for the Holland Hotel in East Tawas but was changed last week when plans were announced for remodeling the hotel.

On Saturday the winter sports area, located nine miles west of the Tawas, on Monument Road, will be open to the public with skiing, tobogganing and ice skating facilities in operation. There are many hills for saddle skis, sleds and saucers in the park. The valley also offers cutter rides behind spirited horses.

Saturday's highlight will be the annual queen's banquet at the Barnes Hotel at 7 o'clock sharp. Speaker for this evening will be Mr. Malone and all queen contestants will be introduced.

The queen's ball will be held at the new Tawas Area School auditorium at 9:00 p. m. Saturday. Once again the contestants will be introduced and the judges will be present to interview the girls.

The committee has placed particular emphasis on this year's dance for entertainment of the young people of the county. Dance music will be provided by "Collegiate," a six-piece band composed of college students which was warmly received here last December by students of Tawas Area High School.

Among the guests at the week-end festivities will be Bob Reynolds of WJR Radio, Detroit; Virgil O'Dell of WJEM-TV, Bay City; Jack Parker of Parker Advertising Agency of Saginaw, agency for the Peet Packing Company, sponsor of the Tawas carnival, and a large contingent of United States Army officers and enlisted men from Detroit.

355 Scouts Were Guests at Wurtsmith Last Week-End

Over the past week-end the Wurtsmith Air Force Base, Oscoda, played host to 355 Explorer Scouts from the Paul Bunyan, Tall Pines and Summer Trails Councils.

The Scouts, who appropriately enough called their encampment "Operation Snowbound," (it snowed throughout most of the week-end) arrived here in three main groups' late Friday evening.

One hundred eighty Scouts made up the Paul Bunyan contingent from Midland; 125 came from the Tall Pines Council of Flint, and 50 boys of the Summer Trails Council made the trip from Bay City.

District executives of the three groups, Henry Stewart, Warren Mead and Bruce Christy of Midland, Bay City and Flint, respectively, arrived at Wurtsmith Friday afternoon to set up a registration center for the incoming Scouts.

The boys started off the encampment activities by registering in and attending a movie at the base theater.

On Saturday morning the Scouts were officially welcomed to Wurtsmith by Major Clinton Kirkpatrick, 412th Fighter Group executive officer.

Highlight of the two-day encampment were special films, lectures and demonstrations, on the fine arts of winter camping and cold weather survival techniques.

This part of the program was conducted by officers and airmen of the 18th Fighter Interceptor Squadron who recently arrived at Wurtsmith from duty with the Alaskan Air Command.

The Explorers spent Saturday afternoon inspecting static displays of aircraft and equipment, and in the evening they attended a dinner in their honor at the Oscoda Community Center.

Lieutenant Paul Vazquez, base personnel services officer, made all arrangements for Wurtsmith's participation in the encampment and he was assisted by Captain Roland Nichols, Staff Explorer Scout advisor for Headquarters 10th Air Force, Selfridge Air Force Base, Michigan.

Area Reservists Achieve Goal of Infantry Unit

United States Army Reservists of the Tawas area will achieve a goal of two year's standing this week when Company K of the 333rd Infantry Regiment, 70th Infantry Division, will be relocated here from its former headquarters at Bay City.

Effective date for the move is Friday, January 31. Authorized strength of the unit is six officers and 25 enlisted men.

"At the present time we have 17 EM and three officers in the unit and we expect that it will reach full strength within a short time," stated First Lt. William Mooney, company commander.

Company K's new headquarters will be located in the Federal Building, East Tawas.

During the past two years interested reservists in this area have attempted to form a unit here. Army reservists from the Tawas area had been attached "on paper" to a reserve unit elsewhere, while weekly meetings were held at the American Legion Post in Tawas City.

Active in the early attempts to form a unit here were Lieutenant Mooney, Cpl. Russell Meyers, SFC John Smith, army recruiter for this area, and S-Sgt. Jack Bronson, who recently returned to active duty and is now serving in Germany.

"Should more men become interested in joining the new unit than is presently authorized, there is a possibility of organizing a second unit," stated Lieutenant Mooney.

PORTRAITS OF OLD-TIME JURISTS TO HANG AGAIN

Circuit court jurists of years past will soon survey present day proceedings in the Isosco County Building—that is, the portraits of these men will again be hung in the court chambers.

Four years ago, when Isosco County offices were moved into new and modern quarters, a number of these portraits which had hung in the old court house for years were set aside. The dusty, old frames just didn't seem to fit in with the modern decor of the new building.

In spite of the beautiful fixtures the new court room was not the same—missing were the judges of long ago.

Work toward regaining this missing link with the past was started recently by the Isosco County Centennial Committee. Harris Barkman, secretary, and Bert Stieckney were appointed to find the old pictures and either restore the frames or replace them with new ones.

The latter step was adopted and Harvey Watson, commercial photographer of East Tawas, was commissioned to copy the portraits and to make frames.

This project will be in the form of a memorial to the county from the centennial committee. Cost of the project will be financed through funds remaining in its treasury after the centennial celebration last summer.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE—

Divine Love's inexhaustible power and abundance will be brought out Sunday at Christian Science services.

Matthew's account (ch.8) of the healing by Christ Jesus of the centurion's servant will be included in the Bible passages to be read in the lesson-sermon on "Love."

From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will be read the following (494:10): "Divine Love always has met and always will meet every human need. It is not well to imagine that Jesus demonstrated the divine power to heal only for a select number or for a limited period of time, since to all mankind and in every hour, divine Love supplies all good."

The Golden Text is from I John (4:7): "Beloved, let us love one another: for love is of God; and every one that loveth is born of God, and knoweth God."

WITH THE IOSCO—4-H Clubs

By DOROTHY SCOTT Home Demonstration Agent

Selecting the 4-H clothing project seems to be uppermost among 4-H Club activities just now. Reno Topnotchers and Peaceful Valley members are asking questions about the kind of project they will do and examining the fashion magazines and news.

Last week we mentioned having fashion releases for each 4-H Club leader. Several have been picked up. This week we have received a regular counter-type fashion book from one of the major companies. It can be loaned to a project group when they are choosing patterns.

Food preparation projects members are reminded of a quick, easy and good dessert—baked apples. How about some tomorrow?

The food preparation projects with Mrs. Marvin Davenport as leader are beginning their series of meetings each Friday afternoon as soon as school closes for the day. Maybe next week we can tell you more about them—who and how many members, what they will be doing and possibly a definite name for the club.

Camp Fire Sponsors Elect Officers

Hale Happy Hustlers have invited us for their Monday, February 3, meeting. At that time special award pins will be presented some of their 4-H Club members.

Packing a first aid kit was presented as a demonstration at Hale Happy Hustlers Community Club meeting in January by Cheryl Lyke and Bethany Jacobs.

secretary, Mrs. Joseph Fernetto; treasurer, Mrs. Wallace D. Nunn; registrar, Mrs. W. L. Peters.

Other members of executive committee are: Mrs. Clarence B. Cox, Mrs. Ralph A. Edwards, Mrs. Truman F. Barbier Jr. Ladies Literary Club representative is Mrs. John C. Elliott, American Legion Auxiliary representative will be appointed later.

The leaders discussed completed projects and activities planned for the next month. Mrs. Cox showed some program materials in which the group was very interested. These concerned good grooming ideas and lessons for the girls, and stories and pictures of food eaten in foreign lands. This latter would carry out their annual project which is called "Meet the People." First, girls will begin by learning about people in their own communities, and then about people in faraway places. Ultimately, they can present the United States to people in distant parts of the world. This will be done by means of photographic stories of Camp Fire girls live, and the stories will be told quite literally by the girls, themselves.

Police Investigate Cabin Break-In

Police are investigating the breaking and entering of a cabin owned by Hilton Stuhts in Huron Acres, Baldwin Township. Officers learned of the cabin break-in when Stuhts came up from Pontiac to open it for the week-end. A $50 bow was reported missing.

the Snapshot Guild

Snow can often turn the most ordinary subject matter into dramatic picture material as it did in this contest prize winner. Taken by Robert DeJohn, it won a grand prize in last year's Kodak High School Contest.

Picture Wintery Wonderlands

Wintery scenes—whether you find them on vacation trips or right in your own backyard—make wonderful picture subjects you shouldn't overlook. Have you ever noticed how often prize-winning entries in snapshot contests are snow pictures—either winter landscapes snapped purely for their artistic effect or action shots of people on skis or sleds?

Snow comes to life under the rays of a shiny bright sun. Though it may not seem photogenic on dull overcast days, you'll find it a perfect subject for your camera when the sunlight gives it a diamond sparkle. At such times, the snowy landscape is filled with contrasts—a picture-taking condition that's equally good for black-and-white or color shots.

This happy interplay of sunlight and shadow brings out the texture of the snow and adds interest to your pictures. As with any type of scenic shot, a snow scene is worth a bit of study. Don't just snap it—and let it go at that. Examine the landscape in your viewfinder—try it from different angles—see what elements form the best composition. Should you try to shoot too fast, you may miss the effect you want to capture. Remember the camera can't see everything as your eyes do—all at once. Your eyes move from side to side—sweep the scene—catch the total view in one broad glance. Not so with your camera. It can see only the amount you can see in the viewfinder at any one time. That's why you'll probably need several pictures to record all the natural beauty of the scene before your eyes.

If you want to put some action into your winter scenes, look around for a few sportsmen enjoying the challenge of snowdrifts and skidgides.

You won't need a high-speed camera for pictures like these, either. Action shots are well within the scope of even the simplest camera—given some fast film and a bit of study. The trick is to catch the action at its peak point—the precise instant when all movement seems "frozen" and the person in action actually appears to be motionless. This momentary stillness when all action seems suspended—this is the moment you should snap your picture.

—John Van Guilder

To keep on serving you well Reddy Kilowatt needs a raise AND HE WANTS YOU TO KNOW WHY

CONSUMERS POWER COMPANY is asking the Michigan Public Service Commission for an increase in electric rates. If approved, it means the electric bill will go up only 3 to 4 cents a day for the average home. For families with electric living standards higher than average, the increase will depend upon how much electricity they use.

The drawing tells the story. Year after year while the cost of materials and the cost of living went up and up, the average price of electricity went down and down. The reason it went down was because everyone used more of it and the more electricity a customer uses, the less he pays per kilowatt-hour. There has been only one rate increase of a general nature in 36 years. That was in 1950 and it interrupted the downward trend in the average price of electricity only briefly.

We built bigger, more modern power plants that got more electricity out of a pound of coal. We put radio dispatching on our trucks to save time and lost motion. We centralized certain state-wide operations to reduce costs. We invented and developed prefabricated substations with interchangeable parts to reduce the investment. We stretched our dollars every way we could. But costs continued to go up.

Earnings Are Down
Everyone wants more electricity. We are selling more electricity than ever before. In spite of that, the rate of return on our property has been going down. That is because the cost of service has gone up while the average price we receive for service has gone down.

We have had to invest more than three hundred million dollars ($300,000,000) of additional money in the past 10 years to take care of the increasing needs of our customers for more electricity.

In the next five years we will have to raise hundreds of millions more of new money to invest in plants and equipment to take care of the expected needs of our electric customers. We can not hope to attract that much new money for investment unless we can show the investors that they will receive a fair return on their money. Our present earnings are not high enough to attract this new money which is needed to build facilities to serve the growing electric needs of our customers.

Electricity Still A Bargain

Electricity will still be a big bargain even after the proposed raise. The average dollar spent for electricity will still buy more than twice as much electricity as a dollar bought 30 years ago—when hamburger steak was 12c a pound.

And there will be plenty of electricity for all your future needs. We will continue to expand our plants, increase the capacity of our lines and substations, to guarantee all our customers an ample supply of electricity for all the wonderful and exciting new developments that lie ahead.

Only 3¢ to 4¢ a day more for the average home

Fire Damaged Davidson Residence Last Friday

Fire extensively damaged a house owned by Mrs. J. D. Davidson of Baldwin Township, north of East Tawas, last Friday morning. Walls, floors and ceilings were damaged as well as much of the furniture.

The fire was discovered about 9:45 o'clock by Trooper Carroll W. Harger of the East Tawas Post, Michigan State Police, while on patrol. The Oscoda-Ausable Township Fire Department brought the blaze under control at about 11:00 o'clock.

Fire Chief Howard Hofacer stated that apparently the fire started around the furnace in the basement. No one was home at the time. Mrs. Davidson and her two daughters had gone to Flint the previous day.

Mrs. Davidson was entertained with a replacement shower last Monday night given by the Grace Lutheran Ladies Aid. The ladies enjoyed an hour of games after which Mrs. Davidson and her daughter, Marilyn, opened many packages containing useful articles to replenish their home.

High scorer for the night with a new record for the year was Dennis O'Keefe, high scoring Standish forward, who dropped 17 from the field and nine of nine charity tosses to tally 43 points. O'Keefe's total placed him ahead of Dave Lee of Houghton Lake, 194-187, in the league individual scoring race. A distant second was Pat Marts, Houghton Lake guard, with 12 and one for 25. Dick Stone of Gladwin with eight and six, and Jim Papefus of Roscommon with nine and two for 22 and 20 respectively, also moved into the 20 point circle.

A double round of games is on tap for this week. On Tuesday night, Sterling was at Beaverton, Gladwin at Roscommon, Pinconning at Tawas, West Branch at Eastern and Standish at Houghton Lake. On Friday Beaverton plays at Standish, Roscommon travels to Sterling, Tawas is at Gladwin, Eastern at Pinconning and Houghton Lake at West Branch.

Houghton Lake had little trouble with Arenac, jumping to a 14-6 first quarter lead and a half-time bulge of 30-17 following a 16-11 second quarter count. Eastern took the scoring edge in the third period, 8-6, but the Lakers turned on the speed in the last quarter to cop the nod in that stanza, 26-17.

Marts led both quintets at 25 with Dave Robinson, Eagle forward, in second place with 16 on seven and two. Jim Biddle, loser's center, dropped in 11 while Dick Rochon, Laker forward, had 10. Dave Lee was held to eight points and dropped to second place in the league scoring race with a total of 187.

Roscommon ran into an upset-minded Pinny five and for the first half were well on their way to defeat as the Spartans opened with a 19-8 first period tally and led at the intermission, 29-18. The Bucks cut off some of the lead in the third quarter with a 15-8 count which put them four points down at the beginning of the last quarter. A 16-5 score in the final eight minutes took the win out of Pinconning's grasp and left the winners tied with Houghton Lake in the second slot.

Papefus was top scorer with Kent Guske next with six and six for 18. Jerry Hulce, Buck guard, had five and one for 11. Roscommon also took the opening contest, 43-31.

Standish opened with a 20-7 first quarter score against winless Sterling and held a 28-14 intermission bulge. A 22-5 third canto tally padded the edge which the Golden Arrows followed up with a 16-10 last period score for their easy win.

O'Keefe was a one-man team with his 43 points but Forward Dean Converse and Guard Jerome Yantz were lending a helping hand with 12 and 10 respectively. Guard Leon DeLong was high man for the Hawks with 12 on three and six. Standish won the JV contest with explosive power in the first quarter, 57-38, as Koelsch had 11 for the winners and Hertzberg, 15, for the losers.

Gladwin held the edge in the first quarter at 16-14 in their hard fought game with Beaverton with the losers taking the margin in the second period to hold a half-time lead of 31-27. The Flying Gs reversed the count in the third period to hold a two point edge at the end of the third stanza. Beaverton knotted the score with a 12-10 last quarter spurge which sent the game into overtime. Each five scored a basket in the extra period with Dick Stone, the hero, with his winning free throw.

Whittemore-Prescott Cardinals Take 2 Games from AuGres

Whittemore-Prescott Area Cards took two games from the AuGres Wolverines at Prescott Friday night. The Card varsity took an early lead to win, 53-46, while the reserves took a lop-sided game, 45-23.

Charters put the Cards ahead 4-0 in the first 30 seconds with AuGres coming up to only a one point deficit, 10-9, midway in the first quarter but were unable to keep pace with the Cards falling far behind by the half.

The Wolverines outscored the Cards, 28-19, the last half but were unable to overcome the Card lead built up in the first half.

Three Cards scored in double figures, Goupil with 17, St. John with 15 and Charters with 10. The Wolverines also showed a balanced attack with Woods leading the way with 18 points, followed by Christie and Manor with 11 each.

The Card Reserves led 13-15 at the half with AuGres fading badly in the last half scoring only eight points to the Cards' 27. Fuerst and Priebe each scored 11 points followed by Gibson with 10 for the Cards. Dick Wahr led the Wolverines with eight points.

The Cards victory kept them in a tie for first place with Oscoda in the Huron Shore League. Oscoda dumped Hale, 47-30, Friday night setting the stage for the Oscoda-Whittemore scrap at Oscoda this Friday night with the first place in the league at stake. Alcona won a non-league contest over Rogers City, 55-50, Saturday night.

Articles will be displayed on tables and racks and a check out stand will be located at the exit. Buyers can come in, browse around, and take their merchandise to the check out much in the manner they do at modern supermarkets.

The finance committee of the P-TA includes William Fuerst, Arden Charters, Lois L. Fuerst, John Dickey and Mrs. Raymond Gay. Officers of the P-TA this year are Robert Bero, president; Esther Schneider, vice president; Ida Dorcey, secretary, and Wilma Ruckie, treasurer.

Overcome West Branch's Stiff Defense 43 to 41

Pulling out all stops to overcome one of the stiffest defenses it has run up against this season, the Tawas Area Braves retained top rung in the Northeastern Michigan Conference last Friday night by defeating West Branch in overtime, 43-41.

As is the usual case when these two teams meet, fans were treated to a "whing-ding" of a ball game. With a matter of only a few seconds to go in regulation time, Tawas held a two point lead but West Branch stole the ball and in the process an Oriole player was fouled while attempting a field goal.

This set the stage for Guard Walsh of West Branch to make good on both free throws to send the game into overtime.

In the three minute overtime affair, Tawas Area came out on the long end with four points to Tawas Area Braves had considerable trouble with a red-hot Pinconning High School quintet in the first half Tuesday night, but finally came out on the long end of a 64-52 count. The Junior Braves won by a comfortable 43-26 margin.

The Oriole's two, the winning margin coming on a hook shot by Bublitz from the right corner.

The other two scores by Tawas came on free throws by Guyette while Joe Reiger kept West Branch in the running during the last few seconds with a field goal.

While Tawas was having difficulty penetrating the well-knit Orioles defense, the Braves came up with a near air tight defense on their own part. Tawas out-bustled the taller West Branch team as is shown by the fact that the Braves took 15 more shots than their opponents, indicating better control of the backboard.

Tawas shot 65 times at the hoops and meshed 20 for a 30 percent shooting average. The Braves scoring was evenly balanced with Bublitz leading on six field goals good for 12 points. Reiger topped his West Branch mates with 15 points.

The Braves moved ahead of West Branch in the first period with a 12-6 count but fell behind at half time, 19-16, as West Branch improved its defense and came up with a 13-4 second quarter score.

The Braves regained the lead in the third stanza with a 13-9 tally but the game was all knotted at 39-39 in regulation time when the Branchers came up with a 11-10 last quarter count.

Tawas Area took the preliminary game from the West Branch JV team, 40-27. The Junior Braves scored 20 points in both halves to win going away.

Brackenbury led the Tawas team in scoring with 15 points, followed by LeClair with 11. Lail meshed 11 points to lead the West Branch team.

Remember Filing Dates for Your Income Tax Returns

IMPORTANT: Remember the due dates for filing your income tax returns and avoid penalties. If you have filed an estimate and paid the estimated tax by January 15, you can wait until April 15 to file your income tax return.

But if you did not file an estimate, you must get that tax return in the hands of the Director of Internal Revenue, Detroit, Michigan, before midnight February 15.

Farmers must use the tax return called the Form 1040 and also the farm schedule called Schedule F. Farmers cannot use the short form, the 1040-A.

Michigan State University scientists have developed an all-in-one emulsion for washing and preserving eggs. The new material is now ready for large-scale commercial trials.

Egg producers have been washing and sanitizing eggs for some time. A few producers have gone one step further and have been using preservatives to help maintain egg quality. The new material will allow them to combine the two operations to cut costs while at the same time help them provide cleaner, higher quality eggs to homemakers.

Researchers Tawfik Y. Sabet, Dr. W. Leroy Mallman and Dr. Lawrence E. Dawson tested their new material by comparing the bacterial count and quality of eggs treated with the emulsion with other methods.

Of four groups of eggs, one group was washed in a hot detergent solution and immediately dipped into a sanitizing solution. A second group of eggs was treated like the first but was covered with an egg preserving oil. The third group was treated with the new emulsion. Group four was untreated.

Samples of eggs from each treatment were checked for bacterial growth and quality immediately after treatment and after storage periods of 30 and 60 days. The group treated with the new emulsion had the fewest number of eggs with growing bacteria of all methods tested. The number of contaminated eggs in each lot increased during storage, although the increase in the lot treated with the new emulsion was not enough to be important.

Scientists emphasize that the new emulsion can only destroy bacteria on the outside and prevent any from getting inside the shell. It will not kill bacteria that are already inside the shell. This suggests that the material should be applied to eggs soon after they are laid on the farm. Any delay will increase the chance for bacteria to get inside the egg shell.

The new combination product will not be available to producers until commercial trials are complete. Trials are expected to get under way this year.

Beef raisers who have not sprayed their cattle for lice yet can still do the job. Lice are not particularly destructive, but they irritate animals and slow up gains.

Wilton Finley, extension beef cattle specialist at Michigan State University, recommends spraying for control of external parasites. He feels spraying is the most effective but says self-treatment or dusting can be used in areas where winter weather is more severe.

Plan to do the job on a sunny day when the temperature is above freezing. Spray cattle during the forenoon so they can dry off by late afternoon when temperature starts to fall.

After spraying, keep windows and doors open so animals can come and go and so air can circulate to dry out the barn.

United States Department of Agriculture entomologists recommend one pound of a 25 percent wettable lindane powder in 100 gallons of slightly warmed water for the job. With powder equipment, about two gallons are needed to thoroughly soak one animal.

The materials that can be used include methoxychlor or DDT. Use eight pounds of a 50 percent wettable powder in 100 gallons of water, slightly warmed.

If a dust is used, USDA officials recommend farmers cover the body with a 50 percent-wettable powder and rub it into the hide. Dust again in 14 to 21 days.

Even though bulk milk tanks are on the increase in Michigan, a lot of milkhouse floors still have to withstand the wear and tear of milk cans. Michigan State University agricultural engineer, Al Rippen, says that good concrete in the floor is one of the most important parts of any new milkhouse.

Milkhouse floors are often affected by some of the new cleaning detergents which are both alkaline and acid in nature. In fact, milk itself forms lactic acid when it sours and this will cause deterioration of the concrete. So strength and durability are the factors to consider when pouring the new floor.

The mixture of aggregate, its finishing and curing all go toward a strong and more durable floor. The best ratio of aggregate is one part cement to equal parts of sand and gravel. And less water used per sack of cement will make stronger and more durable concrete, too. Never use more than four and one-half to five gallons with each sack of cement. The sand and gravel used in the aggregate must also be clean and hard for strength. For the wearing surface, use sand particles ranging in size from very fine up to one-quarter inch in diameter; gravel should be "pea" gravel or crushed stone one-quarter to one-half inch in size.

Now for the finishing. Troweling should be done after the concrete has stiffened sufficiently to prevent fine particles from moving to the surface. Free water, or wet spots should not be dusted with a sponge. Finally, a good curing is essential for strength, so keep the concrete moist for quite some time.

Several varieties of alfalfa seed that were not common five or 10 years ago are now being offered for sale in large amounts in Michigan. Steven Dexter of the Michigan State University farm crops department says that some of the new varieties are well adapted to Michigan conditions while others are not nearly as good. But, one variety in particular that has shown up well in tests is a wilt-resistant variety named Vernal.

Vernal alfalfa has been in Michigan State University test plots only four or five years and, therefore, is not as well known as Ranger, another wilt-resistant variety. But in those five years, and in several sets of plots both in the northern and southern part of the state, Vernal has always beaten Ranger decisively in yield. It gives a finer stemmed hay than Ranger, is much greener, has less diseases and appears to be more winter hardy. From the test plots Vernal has been giving about a half ton of dry hay more per acre than Ranger, every year.

All things considered, Vernal seems to be our best variety, with both good yield and wilt resistance. However, since it yields a lighter seed crop, growers are going to demand a greater price for their seed. But if you are going to leave a field down for several years, Dexter says that Vernal is still the best buy, even at a higher price. Contact your elevator operator and order it now. Do not wait until you are ready to drill. Give the elevator manager a chance to order your Vernal or you may go without.

Quite a number of families have called for their 1958 account keeping book—be it for home accounts, farm accounts or tourist and resort business. Do not put off getting yours, it will only put you behind and that is what makes keeping books a real bother.

Most farm people plan to complete their income tax return by February 15 unless they have made other, special arrangement. Others of us will have the return made before April 15.

Copies of income tax report forms and the farmers tax guide are available at your Cooperative Extension Service office. If you have questions about account keeping, income or social security taxes, we will do our best to provide answers.

Be an early bird, get yours done before February 1 and avoid the last minute rush.

We know a man who believes in the complete economic emancipation of women; he thinks that his wife has as much right to support the family as he has.

With snow on the ground, it may be a little difficult for us to think seriously about flowers and gardens. However, time to be at it will arrive soon enough and with a good beginning now, all of us should be ready to have the nicest flower garden ever.

The training school for leaders will be taught by Fred B. Widmeyer, Michigan State University extension specialist in horticulture.

Although requested by home demonstration groups, the subject is not limited to them alone. It occurs to me that garden clubs, too, might like to use the lesson material for one of their meetings this spring. We will be glad to have them send one, two or three members to the training school. It will be held in the conference room, Federal Building, East Tawas, beginning at 7:30 p. m. on February 4.

Good care "right from the beginning" helps keep white nylon really white. Because white nylon tends to pick up color easily, be sure to wash the white nylon articles separately. Try to make possible one load of just white synthetic fabrics for your washing machine.

There is less danger of soil building up when white nylon is washed after each wearing.

If you have some already gray or yellowed white nylon, it can be brightened. One method is to use a chlorine type bleach in softened water, following instructions on the label. Another way is to use a commercial color remover, instructions are on the package. Special nylon whiteners are effective and easily used, too. Strong bleach used frequently may harm fabric. For this reason, use the milder perborate bleaches for regular washing to help keep them white all the time.

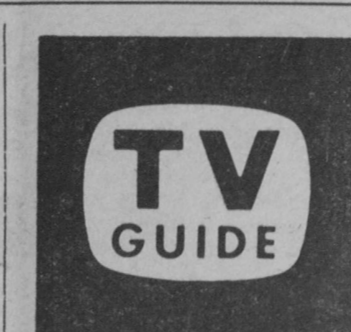

Put the softener in the water, then add the detergent (syndet or soap). Be sure the rinsing is thorough. For bright, white nylons all loosened soil must be rinsed away.

A mother recently asked about ways to get more milk in breakfasts for the children, especially. One way is to pour hot milk over poached eggs on toast. Another is to use milk instead of water when cooking cereals, or replace part of the water with milk if the texture seems too different than the family has learned to like. Directions for this are usually on the package.

Do not overlook the addition of milk by way of the dry milk powder. It can be added to liquid milk, four tablespoons to a cup makes it twice as rich in nutrition value. Use it, too, in soup, mashed potatoes and other cooked foods.

Puddings and pie fillings made with evaporated milk are extra rich in flavor and value when two or more parts of milk are added to one part water instead of the usual one-to-one proportion. Here, too, dry milk can be mixed with liquid milk to increase its food value.

The evening was a very enjoyable affair to all present.

Little people, given a little authority, became big problems.

Consumers Power Seeks Rate Hike

Citing sharp rises in wage rates of employees, taxes and the cost of materials during the last eight years, Consumers Power Company asked the Michigan Public Service Commission today for permission to increase its electric rates. The company's present electric rate schedule became effective in 1950.

The proposed increase would total $12,750,000. After the payment of federal, state and local taxes, less than half of the amount would be available for company purposes.

For a typical household customer the increase would amount to three or four cents a day, according to Dan E. Karn, president of Consumers.

"This is a step we do not like to take," said Mr. Karn, "but rising costs of doing business leave us no choice. The price of practically everything we buy has been going up. We have increased the wage rates paid to our employees several times since 1950. Taxes have been rising. Interest rates are higher on money borrowed by the company to finance the expansion and improvement of our facilities for meeting the growing electric needs of our customers."

Mr. Karn said the company has been able to offset part of its higher operating costs through various economies and through improved operating efficiency.

"The last general increase of Consumers electric rates occurred in 1950, and it was the only general increase of Consumers electric rates in 36 years. In 1957 we received an average price of 2.25 cents per kilowatt-hour for electricity sold to residential customers. This is the lowest average price for home electricity in the company's history, and one well below the national average."

Mr. Karn said the company has been able to offset part of its higher operating costs through various economies and through improved operating efficiency.
