State's Mobile Lab Checks Efficiency of Sewage Plants

A nine-day scientific evaluation of the operation efficiency of sewage treatment plants in Tawas City and East Tawas was started Monday by the Michigan Department of Health.

A mobile laboratory, operated by Herbert Larkin and Gordon E. Oliver, both of the department of health's division of engineering, is here to take samples and make other observations at the plants July 14 through July 18. These samples will be used in bacteriological and BOD (biochemical-oxygen demand) tests which will be performed from July 18 through 23.

A report of the findings will be made to Tawas City and East Tawas municipal officials early in August.

The trailer is operated by the state health department in cooperation with the Michigan Water Resources Commission. Cities already visited this year include Durand, Howell, Zeeland, Rochester, Richmond, Grayling, Cadillac, Paw Paw and Holt.

During the first four days of the study, hourly samples are taken throughout the 24-hour period. Working in close cooperation with the two state health department men are Reginald Bublitz, Tawas City superintendent of public works, and Paul Roper, East Tawas superintendent.

The $15,000, fully-equipped mobile laboratory was assigned here to determine just how well the sewage treatment plants are protecting the water of Tawas Bay, particularly in the areas used extensively for swimming.

De-Railment Causes Extensive Damage to Cars and Track

Extensive damage was done last Thursday afternoon when 18 cars of a Detroit and Mackinac Railway freight train were derailed in a swampy area 3 1/2 miles south of Oshtemo. Cause of the accident was blamed to a section of track giving way.

Freight cars were strewn on both sides of the line and extensive repairs were needed to put the track back into operation. No injuries were reported.

Repair crews were rushed to the area, working through the night to repair the damaged rail line so traffic could be resumed.

William Tremaine of Alpena was engineer of the train. Other members of the train crew included the fireman, Harvey Rouchelau of Cheboygan; conductor, William Berry of Alpena, and brakemen, Frank Ludwig and Ben Macks of Alpena.

First Court Test of Act 94 Next Monday---

Sheriff O'Farrell Refuses to Serve 'John Doe' Warrant Against National

Complainants were Obrecht and Ericsson

EDITOR'S VIEWPOINT—

Sheriff O'Farrell Finds Himself in the 'Muddle'

Through a legal hocu-pocus, Sheriff Ivan O'Farrell, an innocent bystander as far as we are concerned in the attempt being made to stop National Gypsum Company from constructing Port Gypsum, is placed in a very precarious position.

Should the sheriff serve the "John Doe and Richard Roe" warrant on anyone working at the lake loading site, he could find himself in the position of facing legal action.

For weeks now, certain residents have been hammering at Prosecuting Attorney William R. Barber for a warrant. After conferring with the attorney general's office he was instructed to issue the warrant. And so he did. The warrant was drawn up, naming names and requiring the signature of the complainant. The complainant, in that instance, would not affix his name to the legal papers.

In its place the "John Doe" warrant was substituted, at the insistence of the complainants.

Who will the sheriff serve? National Gypsum Company officials, contractors, crane operators? In our opinion, a "John Doe" warrant in this instance is not quite the thing—if a man thinks he has a justifiable complaint, let him sign the necessary papers naming the violator. Don't put a police officer on the hook.

Newest development in the legal battle waged by the Michigan Department of Conservation and lake shore property owners against the Port Gypsum development of National Gypsum Company came Tuesday afternoon. Iosco County Sheriff Ivan L. O'Farrell refused to serve a "John Doe" criminal warrant which had been issued at the request of Dr. Malvern Obrecht and Miles Ericsson.

The warrant, which did not charge any specific person or persons, was issued late Monday by Prosecuting Attorney William R. Barber on the request of the two signers, who represent the Lake Huron Shore Property Owners Protective Association.

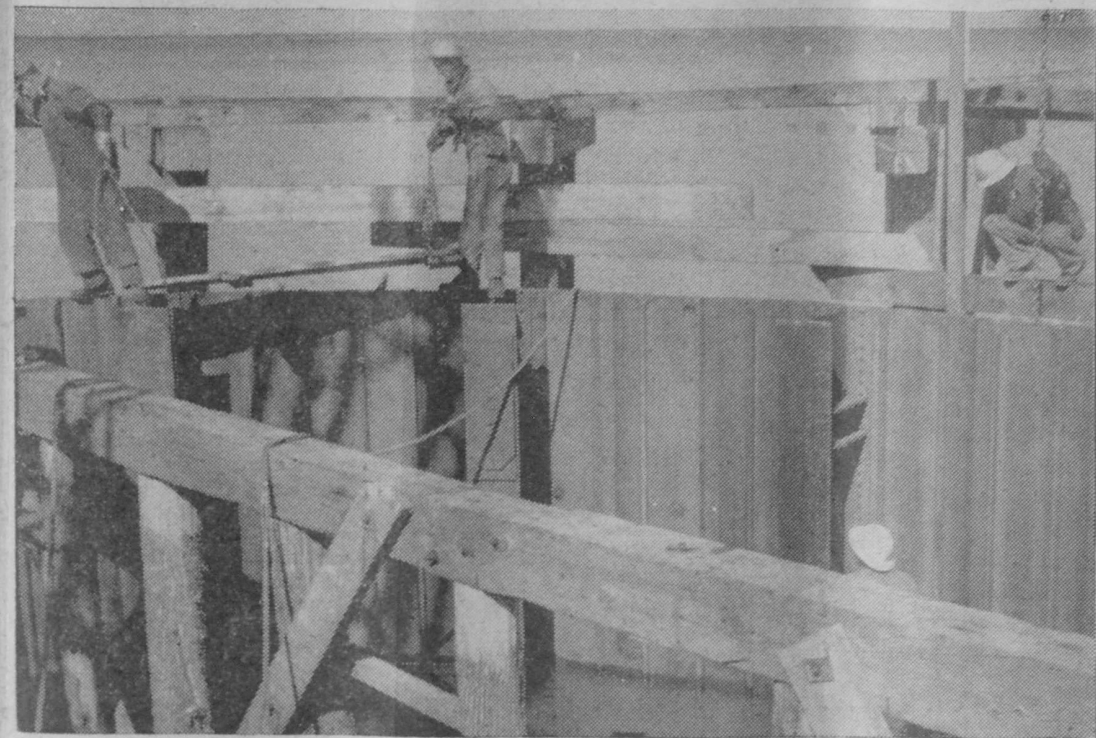

After considerable investigation, Sheriff O'Farrell said that he would not throw himself open to civil retaliation for false arrest, which he said could be the case should he serve such a warrant.

The criminal warrant charged that "John Doe, Richard Roe and others" were violating Act 94, PA 1958, which gives control of submerged lands to the state conservation department. The violation took place in Alabaster Township, according to the warrant.

"The Iosco County Jail is not large enough to hold everyone who works on the National Gypsum project, but it is apparent that the complainants wanted me to make wholesale arrests when a warrant of this type is issued," said the sheriff. "I would have served a warrant naming names without question."

Sheriff O'Farrell telephoned the attorney general's office Tuesday morning in an effort to make a check before attempting to serve the warrant. The attorney general's office did not offer any advice.

Later he said, "Suppose I went down there and arrested someone and he resisted, and later the courts found that it was a false arrest. I would be in real trouble and the complainants would have no responsibility because no one violator was specified on the warrant."

"I am not going to serve the warrant for the time being," said Sheriff O'Farrell, "at least not until after July 21."

Sheriff O'Farrell stated that Dr. Obrecht telephoned the jail Tuesday afternoon and threatened legal action because of non-performance of duty.

Last week, Arthur L. Johnson requested the prosecuting attorney to issue a warrant to stop the project. After being advised by the attorney general's office, the prosecutor issued a warrant which named the National Gypsum Company and its three contractors working on the project as violating the new submerged land act. On Monday of this week Mr. Johnson refused to sign the complaint.

First test of the new law governing submerged lands in the Great Lakes will be made in Iosco County Circuit Court next Monday before Judge Herman Dehnke.

This case, brought by the Michigan Department of Conservation, is a hearing on an order to show cause why an injunction should not be issued against National Gypsum Company for construction of its lake loading installation and excavation of a channel at Port Gypsum, some 1 1/4 miles south of Tawas City.

The new law, Act 94 of PA 1958, was signed by the governor on April 14 and went into effect July

1. Assistant Attorney General Nicholas V. Olds appeared before Judge Herman Dehnke two weeks ago asking for the order and, at the same time, requested a temporary work stoppage injunction. The latter paragraph was struck off the order by the judge.

Next Monday's hearing is the outgrowth of a two-year legal battle waged by the conservation department and shore owners against National Gypsum Company. Numerous hearings have been held in Iosco County Circuit Court, one hearing before Governor Williams at Lansing and another before the United States Army Corps of Engineers.

National Gypsum Company was allowed to go ahead with its lake loading project on April 8 when Judge Dehnke handed down his decision after a four-day hearing in Iosco County Circuit Court.

New Supply of Postage Stamps--

Postal Rates Go Up Aug. 1

Postmaster Martin Kasischke of Tawas City said today he expects plenty of stamps and postal cards to be on hand for sale August 1, to meet new postage rates which become effective then.

Mr. Kasischke explained the post office department has been issuing new stamps, stamped envelopes and postal cards in anticipation of the new rate changes.

Large additional supplies of the regular four-cent stamp, bearing the likeness of Abraham Lincoln, are being received here to meet the new first-class letter rate of four cents an ounce.

In addition, issues of special stamps and commemorative stamps will be available at the local post office in four-cent denominations. A new "Champion of Liberty" stamp, honoring Simon Bolivar, the late great South American liberator, will be on sale at the local post office on July 25, in four-cent and eight-cent denominations. (The eight-cent stamp is used in international mail.)

Adequate supplies also are expected in other stamps, cards and envelopes, including new seven-cent air mail stamps, replacing the six-cent air mail stamps; three-cent postal cards replacing the two-cent cards; five-cent air mail postal cards replacing the four-cent air mail postal cards; and four-cent and seven-cent stamped envelopes to be used in place of three-cent and six-cent stamped envelopes.

"Picture" post cards will require three-cent stamps for surface transportation and five-cent stamps for air transportation. Ample supplies of three-cent and five-cent stamps are expected to meet anticipated demand for these stamps.

Old supplies of three and six-cent stamps, two and four-cent postal cards and three and six-cent envelopes may be used after August 1 by adding an ordinary penny stamp to these.

STATEHOOD STORIES BREAK

Bert Stoll, Detroit Free Press staffer of East Tawas, writes from Vancouver, British Columbia, that a lot of stories are breaking there on how Alaskan statehood will affect Northern British Columbia. "Fine trip out through Canadian Rockies on the Canadian Pacific," writes Stoll. He left Vancouver Monday, July 7, to head some 400 miles north to Prince George, then to Fort St. John and Dawson Creek on the Alaskan Highway.

Knot Hole League All-Star Game Set for July 27

First annual all-star game of the Tawas Knot Hole League will be held at the East Tawas athletic field Sunday, July 27, starting at 3:00 p. m.

Two teams of 15 players each have been selected from the six teams participating in the league. Each team will contribute five of its best players and the first, third and fifth place teams in league standings will play the second, fourth and sixth place teams.

Deloise "Dewey" Durant said that names of the all-stars would be announced next week.

Admission to the game will be 50 cents and the proceeds will go toward the uniform fund. Durant said that league managers hope that enough money can be raised to put every player in uniform next year.

The league title was clinched last week by the Braves with an eight win, two loss record. The Indians took second place with a 7-3 record; Little Trainers, third, 5-4; Jets, fourth, 4-5; Eagles, fifth, 4-6, and Tigers, last, 1-9.

WORLD'S CHAMPION TAKES SAIL MEET

In second place with 29 points was the family team of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Steel and son, Biff, of Leeland; third place went to Stan Martin of the Illanau Yacht Club of Chicago with 30 points; Ben Konsinski, also of Illanau, took fourth with 34 points; Chuck Strassman of South Shore Yacht Club followed with 36 points.

Three races were held Friday and three Saturday with the last heat being run Sunday.

Dick Haglund paced members of the local entries in 10th place. Art Dillon took 11th, Willard Dillon placed 13th and William Wickert was last.

NEA Publishers to Make Over-Night Stop Here

Part of a group of 150 publishers and their wives who are making post-convention tours of Michigan following the National Editorial Association's annual meeting in Detroit last week will make an over-night stop in Tawas Friday on the last leg of their tour.

Three buses filled with the editors and their wives left Detroit early Sunday morning and had lunch in Midland as guests of the Dow Chemical Company. From Midland one group headed up the Huron shore and spent the night in Alpena, while a second group went on to the National Music Camp at Interlochen to spend the night.

Those taking a one-week tour will go from Interlochen to Mackinac Island, Sault Ste. Marie, take a Tahquamenon River trip, come back to Tawas for the last night out and return to Detroit Saturday noon.

Directors of the Tawas Chamber of Commerce will have cars available for tours of the area for the editors and their wives.

No Opposition to TA School Trustees; Hale Area Has Tie

Incumbent members of the Tawas Area Board of Education, Waldo J. Curry and Stuart White, were re-elected to office without opposition in Monday's annual election. There was one vote apiece for three write-in candidates.

A proposition giving the board permission to sell a portion of the East Tawas unit site also passed by a wide margin, 127-24.

A total of 154 ballots were cast in the election. There were three spoiled ballots. Results were as follows:

Precinct No. 1 (East Tawas City Hall): Curry, 52; White, 24; Joseph Dimmick, one. There were 64 ballots cast with two spoiled. Proposition: Yes, 56; no, six.

Precinct No. 2 (Tawas City City Hall): Curry, 52; White, 24; Cecil Cabbie, one; Bruce Myles, one. There were 54 ballots cast with one spoiled. Proposition: Yes, 37; no, 16.

Precinct No. 3 (Tawas Township Hall): Curry, 24; White, 24; There were 24 ballots cast with none spoiled. Proposition: Yes, 22; no, 2.

Precinct No. 4 (Alabaster Township Hall): Curry, 12; White, 12. There were 12 ballots cast with none spoiled. Proposition: Yes, 12; no, none.

About the only excitement over the school elections in the county was in Hale Area School District where Clarence Brindley was successful in his trustee bid and Ben Clayton and Ernest Herzog received the same number of votes. Brindley totaled 99 ballots while Clayton and Herzog each had 67.

A special meeting will be held Friday night at 8 o'clock to recount the ballots and to draw lots, if necessary, to break the tie. A reorganization meeting will follow.

ESCAPE INJURY WHEN TRUCK CATCHES FIRE

Two Saginaw men escaped serious injury last Thursday when the truck in which they were riding rolled over and caught fire on US-23 south of Tawas City. The truck, owned by the Milne Furniture Company of Saginaw, was a complete loss.

Driver of the truck, James A. Milne, 16, told investigating officers that he was on his way to deliver a load of furniture to Wurtsmith Air Force Base. The truck ran off the road and when the driver pulled back on the pavement, the truck skidded across the highway and traveled about 110 feet.

When the truck stopped, it turned over and caught fire immediately. The Tawas City Fire Department was called to the scene. The driver received minor bruises and a passenger, Jerry D. Clark, 25, received bruises and a sprained back.

The Editor's Opinion---

State's Big Stick

Here is a new twist to an old axiom: "If you can't lick 'em one way, get a bigger stick." This is apparently the Michigan Department of Conservation's attitude toward National Gypsum Company.

After being thwarted on numerous occasions in its many-times-attempted maneuver to stop National Gypsum from constructing its lake loading facilities near Tawas City, the conservation department has whittled its "bigger stick" in the form of a new law, passed by the state legislature during the recent session, signed by the governor on April 14 and effective July 1.

In the opinion of the publishers of this newspaper this law is directed principally at National Gypsum . . . the ink was hardly dry on it when Nicholas V. Olds of the attorney general's office petitioned the court for a temporary injunction to stop work on Port Gypsum.

Last April 8, six days before Governor Williams signed the new act, Circuit Court Judge Herman Dehnke handed down his opinion on an earlier petition by the state which asked for a work stoppage injunction against National. In it he ruled that, under the existing laws, National had the right to construct its lake-loading facilities; that inasmuch as the state had chosen not to adopt any statutory requirements for approval or authorization, it was not necessary; that in any event, by passage of Act 176, state approval was given.

At the same time he ruled that National Gypsum Company may proceed, under certain obligations (and at its own risk), with construction of its lake loading facilities. These obligations were for the protection of adjacent property owners who were also entered in the suit. The decree gave them protection against damage.

Now, then, by passage of this new law the state legislature has given dictatorial powers to the department of conservation in the matter of control of lake bottom lands. In fact, the law was made retroactive . . . "including those lands which have heretofore been artificially filled in" . . . which we presume to include docks, wharves, breakwaters, etc., as well.

Although the law authorizes the department of conservation to grant and convey to applicants a deed or lease to such lands if it deems it in the public interest, here is where the law pinches . . . the application must be accompanied by the written consent of all persons having adjacent or contiguous riparian interest in the lands applied for in the application.

This "consent" point is enough to cause any industry thinking about locating or expanding in Michigan to throw up its hands . . . it would be just about impossible for a large corporation, or small, to construct a dock in Michigan waters under this section. Adjacent owners, in most instances, would not give consent, whether they live here or in some other part of the state.

Now, we raise this question. If we read the law correctly, it applies to those docks which have already been constructed—even those which have been in Michigan waters for years! What about the adjacent owners' consent in these cases?

In a telephone conversation last week with the state representative from this district, he told a Herald reporter that at the time of the bill's passage it was his opinion, and he thought other legislators had the same opinion, that the new law would not affect National Gypsum Company's project . . . "that's water over the dam," that the new act was only a means for the state to sell or convey submerged land now under court litigation to applicants.

Our only conclusion to the entire affair, then, is this—the state legislature and the governor holds the conservation department in a very high regard—so high that it gives a blanket endorsement to any conservation department-drafted and sponsored bill which comes along.

Michigan's "water wonderland" is for the use of all—not only for recreation purposes, but for industrial navigation and dockage purposes as well—the courts have so decided in the past.

This newspaper does not deny the fact that some control should be exercised over the Great Lakes bottom lands—but for the benefit of all. This state had better take a realistic viewpoint toward navigation . . . its life depends upon it. The St. Lawrence Seaway is not being constructed for recreational purposes—it is being constructed for industrial navigation and commerce.

In this area, the principal industry 12 MONTHS A YEAR is gypsum quarrying and the manufacture of gypsum products. It has been so for nearly 50 years. We are in the rather fortunate position of being able to successfully combine industry with a good resort business, the latter being "cream," so to speak, for about two months a year.

We can only say then that the state, the conservation department in particular, is attempting to push aside industry in Iosco County.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

How spiritual understanding of God as eternal life brings health and healing will be explained in Christian Science services Sunday.

Bible selections in the lesson-sermon on "Life" include the account in John of Christ Jesus' healing of the nobleman's son.

A correlative passage from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy declares: "Jesus never asked if disease were acute or chronic, and he never recommended attention to laws of health, never gave drugs, never prayed to know if God were willing that a man should live. He understood man, whose life is God, to be immortal, and knew that man has not two lives, one to be destroyed and the other to be made indestructible" (369-16).

The Golden Text is from John (17:3): "This is life eternal, that they might know thee the only true God, and Jesus Christ, whom thou hast sent."

Telephone Lines of the Tawas

CHET MAHER
Michigan Bell Manager

IN LONDON, Mr. V. K. Zzzu has just won last place in the phone directory from one Lewis Zymbla who had held it for years. Seems to us that as long as he keeps his phone and no Mr. Zzzz move into town, Mr. V. K. Zzzu should be sure of his last place.

SPEAKING OF DIRECTORIES reminds us to remind you that the Yellow Pages is the world's best shopping list. Imagine, for instance, that you're traveling through a strange town, vacation-bound. Perhaps you need a dentist quickly or your car is acting up. Perhaps you want to replace that fishing reel you accidentally left home. Whatever you need, the quickest, easiest way of finding it is to reach for the nearest Yellow Pages. You'll be on target right away. It's so much better than driving haphazardly all over town.

AND SAY, BEFORE YOU LEAVE on your vacation trip, use Long Distance to plan it out. Call ahead to let folks know when you'll arrive and to make sure the motel or resort is expecting you.

IN THE OFFICE, they're talking about the new telephone assistant who reported to her supervisor that a man on the phone wanted help with a dead lion. Nothing in her training had prepared her for this particular emergency. The supervisor soon cleared up the matter satisfactorily. The gentleman calling was a Southerner. He was reporting a dead line.

PARTING SHOT. Beware of a half truth. You may have gotten hold of the wrong half.

KNOW MORE ABOUT SOCIAL SECURITY BENEFITS

When asked why social security taxes were taken out of their pay envelopes, many workers recently queried could not come up with the three main reasons.

Most of them knew about old-age benefits, but fewer were aware of survivors' benefits—payments to a worker's dependents in case of his death. Some did not know about disability insurance protection for the worker and for disabled children.

Every working person and his family should know that, through his social security tax payments, he is building three-way protection. He should realize that the modest deductions from his pay envelope can provide a monthly income if his earnings are cut off either by old-age, disability or death.

Social security insurance payments are only a partial replacement of lost earnings. Because most working people are compelled by law to pay social security taxes the measure of protection afforded is greater than it would be if the system was on a voluntary basis—that is, a system in which the worker could "join up" and pay the tax, or stay out and pass up protection.

By joining with other workers in the social security insurance program and paying social security taxes, all workers share the risk and receive a greater

Revolutionary Motor Fuel Sales Method Introduced Here

A revolutionary method of selling motor fuel which has been drawing crowds at automobile shows all over the country has been introduced here and in surrounding areas. Featuring a recently invented blending pump, the new method for the first time enables each car owner to select the motor fuel which closely matches the octane needs of his particular automobile.

The local debut of the unique system, called custom blending, was announced July 14 by Gordon H. Wilson, manager of Galen E. Wilson Petroleum Company, wholesale distributor of Sun Oil Company.

It offers a choice of six progressively higher octane grades of motor fuel, all dispensed from a single automatic blending pump. Each blend of fuel bears an identifying number, ranging from 200 to 260, and each is priced competitively according to octane quality.

Mr. Wilson asserted that the top blend—Blue Sunoco 260—is the highest octane motor fuel ever introduced at service stations in the United States.

The need for such a wide selection of fuel quality, he said, is shown in studies by automotive engineers of his company that two out of every five motorists waste money buying higher octane gasoline than their cars require. He said that the total time spent on excess octanes runs to $550 million a year.

Largest Exhibit of Educational Material at CMC

Michigan's largest exhibit of educational materials will be open to the public July 23 and 24 at Central Michigan College, Mt. Pleasant.

Interested parents, teachers, administrators and school board members will be offered the opportunity to view the latest in educational materials; such as, books, workbooks and supplemental resources. The most modern audio-visual equipment ranging from tape recorders and projectors to entire school communication systems will be available for public examination. Maps, charts, globes, laboratory fixtures and copying devices will also be on display.

Central Michigan College extends an invitation to all those interested in schools to visit the exhibits.

Over 65 distributors will be represented. Last year the 65 exhibitors saw well over 1,000 people view their products. According to Woodward C. Smith, vice president of public services, "Many parents and lay people accompanied the teachers and administrators to last year's conference. This interest in today's education and the methods and materials used is conducive to a more adequate educational system."

RAINBOW GROUP MET AT CLAUD HARDER HOME

The Rainbow Farm Bureau Group met at the Claud Harder home the evening of July 10 and discussed the increasing water problem in Michigan. The group also selected its choice of discussion topics for the coming months, which should prove both educational and interesting.

August 14, the McIvor group and the Rainbow group will hold a combined meeting at the Sherman school. County Agent Marvin Davenport will show slides of the educational tour to Washington, D. C.

4-H Clubs

BY DOROTHY SCOTT Home Demonstration Agent

Calendar:

July 23-26—Isoco County Fair, Hale.

July 31—District 4-H Round-Up, Harrisville.

When your paper reaches you this week a number of Isoco 4-H Club members will be in the midst of much activity at the Hardwood Lake 4-H Camp.

About 80 are expected to register on Monday, July 14, coming from five counties, Clare, Gladwin, Ogemaw, Alcona and Isoco. These 4-H friends of yours will be there: Sheila Dodson, Kathy Dodson, Faye Rice, Patricia Davenport, Verna Kay Wehrman, Cheryl Lyke, Kathryn Schuster, Linda Wice, Candace Thornton, Kathleen Kolonich, Roger Britt, David Bernard and Kenneth Davenport. They will have much to tell you upon their return.

Isoco County's delegation to Michigan 4-H Club Week activities at Michigan State University returned home Friday.

Four members, Verna Kay Wehrman, Kenneth Davenport, Debora Nichols and John Sugden, attended from Isoco County.

Many 4-H Club members were honored for their achievements during the week. The Women's National Farm and Garden Association and the Danforth scholarships were awarded. The winners of the achievement booths and the dress revue were announced and the Prairie Farmer award was presented.

Delegates to the week spent several sessions learning more about the many careers that await them upon completion of their schooling. A total of 25 different fields were represented at the career exploration classes. To our four delegates this was a highlight of the program.

In other parts of the program, delegates took part in recreational and social activities.

Make new friends, renew old acquaintances—it happens all the time when this many women live, meet and play together.

Classes, speakers, tours, 4-H talent numbers, unusual and entertaining mysticism make up the varied and interesting program.

Variations on a theme are common in music—and they are common in cooking, too. You start with a basic recipe, then add a new twist. Ground beef, beaten eggs, bread crumbs, milk and seasonings are the basic theme of a meat loaf. But your favorite recipe takes on a new interest when you vary it a little.

For instance, it can be served as a meat loaf ring. Pour one-half cup ketchup in the bottom of a ring mold. Then press meat loaf mixture into the mold and bake it. Pour off excess juices, unmold meat on a platter and fill the center with creamed onions. Or have a layered meat loaf. Put half the mixture in a loaf pan, then add a layer of bread dressing, then the final layer of meat.

Meat loaf roll is another variation made by patting the meat mixture to one-half inch thickness on a piece of waxed paper. Cooked green beans are spread over the top. Meat is rolled jelly roll fashion, using the waxed paper to help. Take a cue from music makers . . . let a variation on a basic recipe add interest to your cooking.

It is nice to have an attractive bouquet, but you also have to consider the health of that rosebush before you go to it with shears. You need to think about what you cut, how much you cut and when you cut it!

For one thing, avoid injuring the bush. Always use a sharp knife or a sharp pair of scissors to cut roses. Breaking or twisting them off the bush damages the wood and leaves it open to disease.

Too much cutting can starve the plant and affect its future growth and bloom. Since long-stemmed roses have become popular, many home gardeners have weakened their bushes by cutting off too many leaves. As a rule-of-thumb, leave at least two leaves between the cut and the main stem.

You can get your plants off to a good start by not cutting them during the first early bloom. Then they can develop into large bushes by fall and you can cut some flowers. Remove the flowers you do not cut after the petals fall. Clip off the flowering heads just above the topmost leaf.

Hybrid tea roses call for some special treatment. They usually have three leaflets at the top of the rose stem and below that a spray of five leaflets. When cutting these blooms, make the cut just above the topmost spray of five leaflets if the stem is weak; if it is pencil-thick, the cut may be made lower.

Are roses your hobby? If so, you will want to request a copy of our "Roses for the Home."

A special sale of hand-made retail merchandise will be held at the Tawas Beach Club Tuesday, July 22, by the Detroit League for the Handicapped. Mrs. Richard Cross is chairman.

The beautifully-made, well-designed and reasonably-priced wares of the league are well known, not only in Detroit, but throughout all of Michigan and the east.

Each year thousands turn to this organization for help in solving their own special problems—problems few can overcome alone, for they bear the weight of permanent physical disability in sight, hearing, mobility, heart or lungs.

The services provided by the league are case work, recreation, vocational adjustment, sheltered workshop, services to the house-bound, speech correction, audiology, public health education in the prevention of blindness.

For many years this organization has given employment to people who cannot yet work in regular industry, but who are learning to master their handicaps with a view of returning to normal work.

At present 130 such people are employed in the league's "Sheltered Workshop." Products of their labors are so good that many of Michigan's largest industries have contracts with the league.

Assisting Mrs. Cross are Mrs. Truman T. Barbier Jr., Mrs. L. G. McKay Jr., Mrs. Charles A. Pinkerton Jr., Mrs. Bud McKay, Mrs. Hayden Withers, Mrs. Ard Richardson, Mrs. Thomas C. Stirling Jr., Caroline and Virginia Cross.

CELEBRATE UNCLE SAM'S BIRTHDAY AT MEETING

Uncle Sam's birthday was celebrated by the members of the Whittemore Juvenile Grange at their regular meeting Friday evening. Each juvenile member, as he presented his beautifully wrapped gift to Uncle Sam, read a poem, an article or something to show his appreciation for and service to the United States of America. The song, "Hail to the Flag," was sung and a game, hunt the eagle, was played.

Uncle Sam (Grange Master Terry Bellville) concluded the program by thanking members and saying "Now I know that 'this government of the people, by the people and for the people' will not perish from the earth."

Three boys, James Currie, James Bellville and David Provoast, were elected to Juvenile Grange membership at the meeting. Plans were made for initiation at the August meeting.

Pot-luck lunch was served.

8 Hits, 8 Walks Gives East Tawas Easy Victory

East Tawas combined eight hits with eight walks issued by opposing pitchers to win easily over Crump Sunday, 11-3. The victory was East Tawas' third in a row since losing to Sterling back on June 8.

The winners again made use of one big inning to wrap up the ball game. As was the case against Wooden Shoe two weeks ago, a five-run rally in the fifth inning gave East Tawas a five-run lead as the teams were knotted at two all in the bottom of the fourth.

Four more runs were scored by East Tawas in the remaining four innings while the losers were able to put only one more run across, that coming on a solo home run by Wittebol in the bottom of the sixth inning.

The winners used three pitchers to carve out this victory. Bob Binder started on the mound, but lasted only one-third of an inning as he was nicked for two hits and issued three walks. He was followed by Gerald Potts, who allowed three hits, four walks, two runs and struck out six batters in five and two-thirds innings. Herman Rollin pitched the last three innings, allowing one hit, one walk, struck out two batters and allowed no runs.

Each of Crump's two pitchers, Wittebol and Zawadil, allowed four hits. They did not strike out an East Tawas batter.

East Tawas aided its cause by clicking off three double plays.

Top batters in the East Tawas line-up were Claude DeLosh and John McMurray, each with a double and a single. Only one extra base hit by the winners was a double by Erickson.

THE OLD STEVENS SCHOOL in Wilber Township is pictured here, as it was many years ago, and described below.

BY MISS EDNA OTIS

Harry Krueger of Wilber Township has sold the old Stevens school building to Leroy Gould of Wurtsmith Air Force Base and Mio, and the new owner is remodeling it into a dwelling house.

The change in the scenery along the town line between Baldwin and Wilber Townships, recalls to mind many fond memories of the old school. To recite some of them is to relate some interesting bits of Isoco County history, hardly believable to residents of today.

The school district was organized in 1881, and when school opened the following summer, it was learned that there were only four English-speaking families in the district who had children of school age.

Among the pupils enrolled in 1882 (school was held only three months that year—in the summer) were Susie and Clara Otis, Willard and Jessie Robinson, Retta and Jessie Howey and a boy named Amos Dexter, who lived with the Nelson Stevens family. Other children attending were from the Lietzau, Schreiber, Cholger, Grabow and Grinkey families, and one Josie Wice—all from German-speaking homes.

The site for the school house was leased to the district by Frederick Lietzau, and the land was not used for school purposes. Mr. Krueger purchased the Lietzau farm several years ago, and a few months ago bought the school house from the Tawas Area School District of which it formed a part.

When Cora Staats (later Mrs. A. L. Jones of East Tawas) opened school that summer of 1882, the building was enclosed, had a roof on it, windows and a door, and at least a sub-floor. But the siding had not been put on, nor was it lathed and plastered. There were wide cracks in the sheathing. School furniture was nil. Benches on the east and west sides of the building provided seating arrangement. The carpenter's bench was still in the building, in the center of the room, and the class in penmanship stood at this bench to write when their class was called. Frequent thunderstorms out of the west visited the area that summer, and the children were obliged to huddle on the east side of the building whenever they came up, to avoid getting wet.

Doubtless it was because of its close proximity to East Tawas that the district attracted many East Tawas young women as teachers in early years. Among them we note Luella Holloway, Jennie Gertrude Wood, Lizzie Marr and Daisy Reeves—all graduates of old East Tawas High. Transportation was not a problem in those early days. All of the pupils walked to school, and carried lunch (it was always called dinner) in a tin pail—an empty pail in which lard had been purchased usually served the purpose. The teacher walked, too, and she was fortunate if she was able to be driven either to or from her boarding place on week-days. She usually walked home Fridays after school, and returned the same way on Sunday afternoon, or early Monday morning.

A three-month summer term of school was the usual routine for three of four years, and later the term was increased to conform to school law.

The picture accompanying this story was loaned by Mrs. Adda Sullivan Deckett, also an early pupil. We do not know the date it was taken, but doubtless it will open the floodgates of memory to many who see it.

The NEWEST, SAFEST, MOST ECONOMICAL WATERCRAFT ON TAWAS BAY!

THE LEPEL Motor Water Scooter

This unique Motor Water Scooter introduces a thrilling new water sport and provides a safe and speedy form of transportation. It is constructed of strong fiber-glass and powered by a robust two-stroke engine of which there are three models giving various speeds. These range from 5 to 26 M. P. H. and the rider may either sit astride as on a motorcycle or stand up in the same way as on water skis, steering by means of reins attached to handlebar. This has a slight bias so that if the rider should fall off, the Water Scooter will turn in circles while the engine will automatically throttle back to idle—an important safety factor which makes it easy to climb aboard again.

The craft is so light that it can be easily lifted by two persons and can be towed on a light trailer or carried on roof of a car.

- Rental craft for parks and resorts
- Just the thing for water polo
- Use as a lifeboat on cruisers
- Great as a base for skin divers
- Inexpensive power craft for lifeguards
- A self-propelled surf board
- Ride it, just for the fun of it

A dense, healthy, vigorously growing turf is the most effective weed control measure for lawns.

But in many lawns broadleaved weed grasses become established. In such lawns, you must first destroy the weed plants, then provide seed, fertilizer, water and the care needed to produce a good turf.

Weed plants in your turf can often be destroyed with one of the chemical weed killers now available.

Complete information on lawn weed control is now available in the new Michigan Extension Service folder just received in my office. A copy is free for the asking. Ask for folder F-261, "Lawn Weed Control."

Cleaning up around grain bins and corn cribs will help keep the grain that is put in them clean. Weeds, boards and other rubbish around and under grain storage units provide excellent hiding places for rodents and other pests that contaminate and eat grain.

Rodents cannot move about so easily when they have nothing to hide behind.

Several new herbicides are available which can be used to spray the area around the bins and cribs. The chemicals will keep all vegetation down for a year or more.

A clean area around the grain storage units not only makes working easier but a fire hazard is eliminated because no weeds are present.

If grain is dirty, chances are that it got that way while in storage after harvest but before it left the farm.

In nine out of every 10 cases where dirty grain has been found in Michigan, the contamination took place on the farm.

Iosco farmers should be commended for their generally good record of marketing clean grain. But with the huge wheat crop in prospect this year, farmers will need to be doubly cautious.

Rodents, insects and chemical residues on grain that was treated for seed, make up the most common causes of contamination.

Here are some suggestions on keeping wheat that is clean when it is harvested, clean until sold. Thoroughly clean all grain storage bins and rodent proof them. It is best to do these jobs when bins are empty.

Also, do not put new grain with old grain. If any insects are in the old grain, they will move into the new grain. And if the new grain is a little wet, the insects will multiply rapidly.

Borderline moisture in grain is dangerous! There is a lot of risk involved in storing wheat with more than 14 percent moisture.

Farmers have little trouble with grain that is obviously too wet for storage. It is the slightly too wet grain that leads some to take chances.

Grain that contains more than 14 percent moisture is likely to go out of condition and become "sick." Also, insects are more active in wet than in dry grain.

"Sick" wheat may appear normal on the outside. However, the wheat is generally not suitable for flour milling because the germ is dead or partly dead.

The normal color of a healthy wheat germ is white or creamy white; "sick" wheat has a germ which is tan to black in color.

Have grain tested for moisture before combining. Thresh by hand a pint of grain, take it in an airtight container to the elevator for a moisture test.

If the moisture content is above 14 percent, do not combine the wheat unless you have drying facilities.

After the grain is dry enough, get the combined grain out of the sun as soon as possible. Grain left in the sun becomes warm and may absorb moisture from damp soil.

It will probably pay some Michigan wheat growers to plan to store their wheat for about six months, believes a Michigan State University economist. Economist John Ferris reports that the state's wheat crop will be about 10 to 12 percent larger than last year. Twelve percent more acres were planted to wheat in the state. Nationally the soft wheat crop is expected to be 30 to 40 percent larger than a year ago.

Ferris says that if wheat prices drop more than 15 cents below support rates at harvest, storing should be profitable on many farms.

On the average, it will cost about 12 cents per bushel to store wheat for six months. This charge includes extra handling, interest, damage and insurance. Costs for providing bin space would be additional. However, if bins are already available and would not be used, bin costs can be disregarded.

Wheat prices will probably advance, too, but not much above support levels later this year, Ferris thinks. One reason is that many farmers who have loans pay them off when market prices move up to about 10 cents above support levels.

Government loans and purchase agreements will again be available from harvest time through January 31, 1959. Loans will mature on March 31, 1959. Support prices on the 1959 crop will be about $1.81 per bushel.

BABY SITTERS NOT WANTED! FINDING WILDLIFE BABIES ALONE DOES NOT MEAN THEY HAVE BEEN ABANDONED. MANY ANIMALS LEAVE THEIR YOUNG FOR LONG PERIODS WHILE FEEDING OR HIDING. COOPERATE BY LEAVING THEIR YOUNGSTERS ALONE. HAERUMPF!—AND IT'S AGAINST REGULATIONS FOR PEOPLE TO HAVE GAME ANIMALS (YOUNG OR OLD) IN POSSESSION DURING CLOSED SEASON. YOUNG OFTEN WANDER AWAY FROM HOME BASE, JUST FOR A COGE AROUND.

During spring and summer months, young rabbits, deer and other game animals present a temptation for well-meaning persons who wish to "adopt" wildlife youngsters as pets. However, that "helpless" wildlife baby will grow up rapidly and, if kept in captivity, can be troublesome and dangerous. Best advice is: Obey the law; leave wild animals alone.

U. S. Forestry Opens District Office at Harrisville

Louis A. Pommerening, supervisor of the Lower Michigan National Forest, announces the opening of a new district ranger's headquarters at Harrisville. Formerly, the Huron unit has had two ranger districts, one with headquarters at Mio and one at East Tawas.

Kenneth Adams is in charge of the Harrisville district as district ranger. Mr. Adams formerly worked in the forest service in Wisconsin and Minnesota. He holds a B. S. degree in forestry and a master's degree in forestry from the University of Michigan.

He is married, has two sons and will make his home in Harrisville. Since 1948, Adams has been out of the forest service and operating a sawmill and lumber business in Bay City.

Helping Ranger Adams is Assistant Ranger Robert E. Miller. He has a B. S. degree in forestry from Purdue University. Coming to the forest service in 1956, Miller was assigned to timber surveys in Michigan and then in Missouri. Last year he was assigned to preparation of new management plans for the Lower Michigan National Forest in Cadillac.

The formation of the new ranger district permits more intensive management of the timber resource. It will mean better service for the timber operators and other users of the Lower Michigan National Forest, said Pommerening.

Telephone Company Secures Boost in Service Rates

The basic rate for residential telephone service here goes up 10 cents a month under the recent Public Service Commission order granting Michigan Bell Telephone Company an increase in revenue, the company announced today.

The 10-cent increase applies to one-party, two-party and four-party residential service. Rural rates generally are not affected. The new rate schedule boosts the cost of one-party and two-party business service 20 cents a month.

Additional directory listings for business service are increased 25 cents a month, while additional residence listings go up 10 cents a month.

The $1 charge for spring cords is eliminated in cases where a charge applies to other telephone work being done on the premises.

ROY SHEDENHELM GETS FOREST SERVICE AWARD

Roy Shedenhelm has received an incentive cash award from the United States Forest Service. The award was presented by Forest Ranger Joseph Blake.

The nomination for distinguished service was made by Forest Ranger Conrad Carlson, while he was in charge at East Tawas. This is the first award of its kind given in this area and Mr. Shedenhelm is to be commended for this honor received.

11-Year-Old East Tawas Girl Drowned Yesterday

An 11-year-old East Tawas girl drowned late Wednesday afternoon while swimming near a raft in Tawas Bay, off-shore from Eagles Hall. She was Isosco County's third drowning victim of the summer.

Drowned was Patricia Busha, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Busha of 206 West Washington.

Police said that the little girl was swimming with a group of children near the raft. She apparently went out into deeper water and could not get back. She cried for help and the other youngsters attempted to take a rubber inner tube out in the deeper water to lend assistance. They could not reach her.

Robert Langlois, who operates a service station nearby, was called and he immediately notified state police.

The little girl's body was found by one of three rescue boats, state police, coast guard and sheriff's department, which were dispatched to the scene.
