

Seek Volunteers for River Clean-up; 'Operation Tin Can'

"Operation Tin Can," a Tawas City Businessmen's Association-sponsored campaign for the clean-up of the Tawas River, in cooperation with the city council and department of conservation, will be held Thursday, July 31, starting at 2:00 p. m.

"I don't know if the name of this campaign is adequate or not, but it gives some indication as to the condition of the Tawas River at the present time," states James Dillon, chairman of the businessmen's committee for the project.

Dillon said that he hopes to get enough volunteer help from interested citizens to clean out the river from the First Street Bridge to the bay. "This is a pretty big order, but with the complete cooperation of everyone we can beautify the river and, at the same time, improve it for boating and fishing," he said.

With water in the river at its lowest point in years, suggestion of the clean-up campaign was brought up at a recent meeting of the association. A number of businessmen have already indicated that they would participate in the campaign. "Additional help from anyone else who shows up will be greatly appreciated," said the chairman.

The volunteer workers will start at the First Street Bridge and work downstream, picking up old cans, bottles, cement blocks, tree branches, tires and other debris which has collected in the river over the years. This refuse will be piled up on the banks at strategic points where city trucks and crews will remove it to the dump.

"This is our first effort in such a campaign and we know it will be an exploratory one," said Dillon. "There will be many obstacles which we will not be able to remove, but these can be pinpointed for removal at a later date."

Principal of the major obstructions include "dead-heads" or spilling under the bridges. Conservation Officer Arthur Letz has stated that he would assist in their removal.

Reginald Bublitz, superintendent of public works, again warned this week that anyone who throws trash or refuse in the river is liable to prosecution under one of the city ordinances.

The council authorized the purchase of 4,000 gallons of dust-master chloride control for city streets.

The council approved the request to transfer the taxi license in this city from Keith Smith to Fred A. Brest.

Slightly Injured in Bike-Auto Collision

Two East Tawas youngsters received slight injuries Tuesday afternoon in a bicycle-automobile accident at the corner of Locke and Washington Streets. Both were taken to Tawas Hospital for treatment.

Injured were Luce N. Smith, 11, multiple contusions and abrasions, and Janet Grimes, eight years old, cuts and bruises. The latter was a passenger on the bicycle.

Police said the girls drove their bike through the intersection and into the side of an auto driven by William R. Barber. Mr. Barber was traveling east on Washington and the girls were traveling north on Locke. He swerved to the left to avoid the collision but the bicycle struck the right front fender.

Plainfield Township Hall Levelled—

Fair in Progress in Spite of Fire

Fire destroyed the Plainfield Township Hall at Hale Tuesday afternoon, just as preparations were being made for the start of the Iosco County Fair Wednesday. Some displays which had been set up in the building prior to the opening were lost.

E. W. Lackie, fair secretary-manager, said that the fair would go on as scheduled, with the site of the exhibition hall being changed to the nearby county road commission building.

Delbert Hewitt, a member of the fair board, said Wednesday morning that the building was flattened by the fire in less than an hour. He said that cause of the fire had not yet been determined.

Many people were around the building setting up the midway, but apparently no one noticed any smoke until it was too late to save the building.

Assisting Plainfield Township Fire Department in its effort to put out the blaze were fire departments from Whittemore and Lupton.

The large frame building was constructed by the township during the Works Progress Administration in the 1930s. It had been used as a school auditorium for many years, serving in that capacity until the new auditorium was constructed at Hale Area School.

It was presently being used as a roller skating rink, under the sponsorship of the Hale Chamber of Commerce. Many skates were lost in the blaze. Most of the equipment of the Boy Scout troop at Hale was also lost.

The Iosco County Fair got underway as scheduled Wednesday with the setting up of exhibits. Starting Thursday (today) the principal activity will be three days of harness racing, along with the midway, farm exhibits, 4-H Club and Future Farmers of America judging contests. On Saturday there will be the annual parade.

Plan to Combat Unemployment— 40-Hour Week Asked for Road Commission

A recommendation that the work week for laborers of the Iosco County Road Commission be set at 40 hours a week and that additional men be hired as needed on a 40-hour-a-week basis was approved by the Iosco County Board of Supervisors at its regular monthly meeting last Wednesday.

A financial report from Old Orchard Park, which is being operated by the county, revealed that the park is in excellent financial condition. Revenue from January 1 to July 15 at the park was $3,121.65. With a balance of $1,399.09 on January 1, disbursements during the period of January 1 through July 15 were $2,391.67, leaving a balance of $2,069.07.

The county treasurer was authorized to transfer back into the general fund from the Old Orchard Park fund an amount of $400 which represents the advance made by the county to get the project underway.

Interlocutory Decree Entered on April 8 Opinion—

Judge Dehnke Denies State's Petition

State to Appeal Decision to Supreme Court

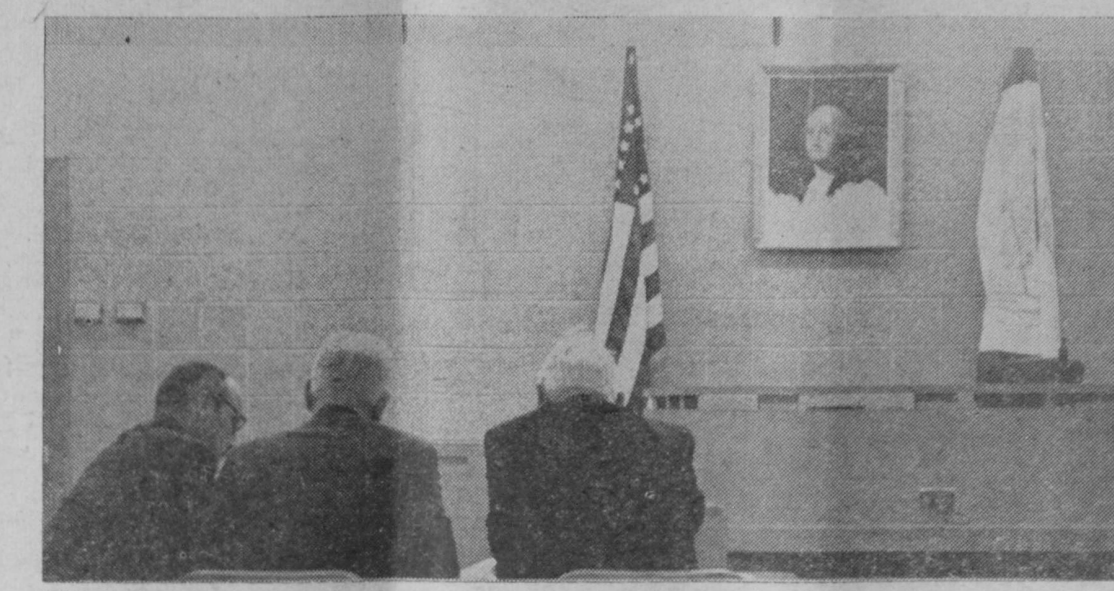

Michigan Department of Conservation's petition asking for a temporary restraining injunction against the Port Gypsum development of National Gypsum Company was denied here Monday by Circuit Court Judge Herman Dehnke. Judge Dehnke's decision allows National Gypsum Company to proceed with the construction of its lake loading facilities, approximately 1 1/4 miles south of Tawas City.

Judge Dehnke also dismissed the original suit brought by members of the lake shore property owners against Gerald Eddy, in which the Michigan Department of Conservation had been under order not to sell the submerged lands to National Gypsum.

The state announced Wednesday that it will appeal Judge Dehnke's decision. Said Attorney General Paul Adams: "We have no choice but to appeal the decision so that the supreme court may pass upon and determine just what are the rights of the state and of the riparian owner on the Great Lakes."

Other developments Monday in this two-year legal battle against the project was the dismissal of a "John Doe" warrant brought by Dr. Malvern Obrecht and Miles Ericsson. Last week Sheriff Ivan L. O'Farrell had refused to serve the warrant.

Also at Monday's hearing, Judge Dehnke entered an interlocutory decree based on his opinion handed down April 8 on a suit brought by lake-shore property owners and the department of conservation as intervenors. That decree allowed National to proceed with the construction in accordance with the plans and specifications approved by the United States Army Corps of Engineers.

The next apparent hurdle for National Gypsum Company will be a public hearing to be held July 30 at Lansing, called by Gerald E. Eddy, state conservation director. According to an announcement from Eddy's office last week, "The hearing will give interested persons an opportunity to express opinions for and against a dredging operation which would create a shipping channel and turning basin." The hearing will be held in the house chambers of the state capitol at 2 o'clock.

Monday's hearing was the first test of a new law passed by the legislature during the past session which went into effect July 1. Under the law, Act 94, a permit must be obtained before alteration may be made to submerged lands, along with other requirements.

31 Boats Here for Regatta; Lightning Meet this Week

Thirty-one sailing craft participated in the Tawas Bay Yacht Club's annual regatta held last week-end on Tawas Bay. Included were three Nationals, six 110s and 20 Lightnings.

Mack Goodwin took first place in the Lightning class with a first, fourth and third in the three heats run off over the two days of racing.

Tawas Bay Yacht Club will be host to the Michigan District Lightning Championship meet which will be held on Tawas Bay Friday, Saturday and Sunday of this week. Some 50 boats are expected to compete with the top five qualifying for the international championship later in the summer.

Two races will be run the first two days with the last of the five heats run Sunday morning. Many of the Lightning skippers who participated in last week's regatta have remained here in preparation for this event.

Meals will be available at the clubhouse all three days for the sailors. Saturday night there will be a dinner followed by dancing to the Michigan Barefoot Philharmonic, an orchestra composed of Lightning skippers and crews.

Charles Pinkerton's Trio, sailed by Herbert Cox, Richard Moss and Marvin Mallon, took second place. Herm Nichols of Lake Fenton, sailing in the Joker, won third place. He was tied in points with James Ault, but had beaten him in two of the three heats to gain third place honors.

Alfred Pelouquin took first place honors in the 110 class, all boats being from the Bay City Yacht Club. With a third and two firsts, he narrowly edged his brother, Albert, who had a first, second and third.

Dick Haglund of East Tawas took first place in the National Class with two firsts. In second place was Arthur Dillon, followed by Bill Dillon in third. All Nationals were from the Tawas Bay Yacht Club.

Ard Richardson won the Raven class with three firsts over Dick Cross, who had two seconds and a disqualification.

Plan Fund Drive—

A three-day fund drive is being planned by the Audie Johnson Post, American Legion, at East Tawas to finish work begun for cemetery water system improvement. Thus far, the water main and pump have been installed and the well has been drilled.

Plans are to install the tank and finish the work and there will be no water until this is done. The post has set its goal for $1,200. Pipes are all ready for both Greenwood and St. Joseph Cemeteries.

Dates for the fund drive have been set for August 5, 6 and 7. The plan is to start off with a breakfast for workers on the first morning of the drive.

3. "The defendants have not as yet had a reasonable opportunity to apply for authorization under the act;

4. "The court does not know at this time what action the commission may take upon such application; and

5. "The additional injury to the public interest which might result from permitting the defendant to continue its operations, I think is very small in comparison to the damage that would be suffered by the defendant if it were now required to hold up its operations pending determination of the legal issue.

"It is possible, as far as we can tell now, that the commission may grant the requested authorization," said the judge. "It is possible that it may grant one on conditions which will not justify any claim of material interference with established and recognized rights, or with the authority of the Interstate Commerce Commission. It is possible that it may refuse to grant authority, or impose more restrictive terms than those that I have mentioned, and in that case we may have an additional question before the court as to whether or not the order is proper and entitled to recognition."

Much of Monday's hearing was taken up with the re-writing of the language of several paragraphs in the final decree.

During the hearing, Judge Dehnke expressed disappointment of the fact that his opinion of April 8 had not been taken to the supreme court as was expected at the time of the hearing and of the delay in settling the final decree.

Additional merchandise prizes were donated to the contest by some 20 Tawas merchants.

Iosco Schools Show Slight Enrollment Increase Over 1957

A breakdown of school census figures for 1958 revealed that there is an increase of 246 youngsters in the five through 19-year age group and an increase of 247 in the pre-school age group in Iosco County schools.

Tabulations by County School Superintendent Russell A. Rollin indicated that the largest increase in both school age and pre-school age youngsters would be seen in the Oscoda district.

More than half of the five through 19-year age group increase in the county will be at Oscoda. Last year this group totaled 1,169 while this year the total is 1,359. An increase of 111 youngsters was noted in pre-school age, with 884 last year and 995 this year.

Largest increase in the Tawas Area School District was in the pre-school age group. Last year there were 785 youngsters in this group, as compared to 888 this year. In the school age group there was an increase of 42, with totals of 1,832 last year and 1,874 this year.

Other totals indicated slight changes in the other two districts, Whittemore-Prescott and Hale Area. Both had increases of approximately 25 in each group.

Total number of youngsters in the five through 19-year group in the county was 4,726. Total for pre-school age was 2,354. Last year these totals were 4,480 and 2,107.

"OPERATION TIN CAN"

Here is a project which should be well worth the attention of all citizens interested in improving and beautifying this community—it is "Operation Tin Can."

On Thursday, July 31, the Tawas City Businessmen's Association, in cooperation with the Tawas City Council and Conservation Officer Arthur Leitz, will conduct a clean-up campaign for Tawas River.

Starting at 2:00 p. m., volunteer workers will start at the First Street Bridge and will continue toward the mouth of the river in Tawas Bay in a clean-up of the river and its banks. Flat bottom boats will be used to transport debris from the river to strategic points along its banks where it will be picked up by crews and trucks from the department of public works.

Spokesmen for the businessmen's association stated that this was a very opportune time to conduct such a campaign, inasmuch as the river is at its lowest point in years and the operation can be carried on with much greater efficiency.

Volunteer workers are urgently needed and anyone interested in improving fishing and boating conditions, and beautifying the Tawas River in general, is asked to be at the First Street Bridge July 31 at 2 o'clock.

At present, the river is in a sorry condition. The bottom is covered with all types of litter and debris, including bottles, trash, cement blocks, old tires, branches of trees, etc. In this condition it is a detriment, rather than a benefit, to the entire area.

For the sake of the community, all residents are urged to cooperate with the sponsors of "Operation Tin Can"—and, in the future, everyone should cooperate by keeping the river free of debris.

IOSCO COUNTY—

4-H Clubs

Calendar: July 23-26—Iosco County Fair and 4-H exhibits. July 25-4-H program in the evening. July 31—District 4-H Club Round-Up, Harrisville.

The fair will be in full swing the rest of this week. Be sure you visit the 4-H Club exhibits in the main building and in the dairy barn. Projects on display include food preparation, baking, clothing, first aid, electrical, dairy, forestry, photography, junior leadership, handicraft, flower garden, vegetable garden and entomology.

When you see what other 4-H Club members have been doing, you may get an idea for a new kind of project you would like to do next year.

Do remember there will be a 4-H Club program on Friday evening, July 25, in the main building. Costumes on the wall during the week will be worn by the girls who made them. This is the first time the fair program has included a dress revue.

Demonstrations will be given by both boys and girls planning to compete at the district contest in Harrisville on July 31.

There are rumors about a sheep shearing demonstration, too.

"Our meetings began in January. In our project we had four girls. Our first lesson was on safety in the kitchen. We were all happy for having this lesson. Later on when one of the girls had a bad accident in the kitchen of her home, it reminded us of the things we have to remember always while we are in the kitchen.

"My demonstration was on making baked potatoes. This is how I did it. First I washed the potatoes, then I greased them. I put the potatoes in the oven for one hour at 375 degrees Fahrenheit." Sandra Ranger, Hale.

"We had our first meeting at our leader's home, the first week in February. Two boys and two girls enrolled. After three meetings the two boys dropped out.

"At our first meeting, we discussed the safety rules and our leader showed us how to safely light a gas oven.

"I had only one accident while cooking. I burned by arm in several places when I took a pan in which I had melted shortening out of the oven. This reminded me to put into practice the safety rules we learned.

"I like to cook and bake. One day I baked three cakes for my mother when she was hostess to her Farm Bureau group. I always help my mother prepare the meals." Marlene Wilson, Hale.

Metropolitan Life Mortgage Loans Made Available

Clarence Oates and Richard Rankin, local Metropolitan Life Insurance Company representatives, attended a dinner meeting in Saginaw Thursday night as guests of Cook and Anderson Mortgage Corporation of Flint.

The local men were informed that Metropolitan, through the firm of Cook and Anderson, will start making conventional and FHA mortgage loans in all of Northeastern Michigan.

George L. Cook, manager of the Midland office of the firm, which will serve the Tawas area, stated that he will inspect and consider loans within 24 hours after being notified by the local agents of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company that such loans are possible.

Since this is the first time in the 90 years of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company that such loans have been available in Northern Michigan, it is believed that many more families will be on their way to home ownership. The assets of the Metropolitan firm are at an all time high of over 16 billion dollars.

IS THE INSURANCE on your house

as dated as the dodo?

Chances are you need more complete "coverage" on your home and furnishings than your present insurance provides.

Reason? Replacement costs are way up on homes and their contents.

Care? Let us look over your policies and bring them in line with current values.

We'll gladly do it any time at all—but from your standpoint, the best time is NOW.

Farm Events

BY MARVIN DAVENPORT
Isosco Agricultural Agent

Calendar:

Wednesday, July 23, through Saturday, July 26—Isosco County Fair, Hale.

Monday, August 4—Isosco County Tree Growers board of directors meeting 1:00 p. m. until 2:30 p. m., Extension Service Conference Room, Federal Building, East Tawas.

Thursday, August 7—ABA board of directors meeting, Federal Building, East Tawas.

Thursday, August 14—Farm policy report to Sherman Farm Bureau Group, Sherman School, 8:30 p. m.

Many Isosco County farmers are hopefully looking at their hay fields this summer. Growth has been slow and farmers are beginning to wonder if they will be able to make a short hay crop stretch over the coming months of winter feeding.

Hay production in Michigan this year will be the smallest since the drought of 1934. Dry weather during late April and May held back growth and the total crop will be about one-fourth smaller than last year.

An indicated 2,629,000 tons of hay are to be harvested in the state this year. This is more than 900,000 tons below last year's production.

Milton Erdmann, extension farm crops specialist at Michigan State University, reports that many farmers are devising schemes to stretch their limited hay supplies.

One way they are planning to do it is put up more corn or Sudan grass silage. They will feed their livestock more silage in relation to the amount of hay that will be fed.

Many can profitably handle the corn crop this way. The favorable grain price situation this year makes it more profitable to buy grain than to buy additional hay!

Many farmers cut their first crop of medium red clover for hay and let the second crop go to seed. But if hay supplies continue short, some will cut the second crop for hay.

Farmers who do not have extra silo space make temporary stack silos and cover them with plastic or other materials. Some also make temporary horizontal silos bulldozing out a trench in the earth.

Everybody can tell other people how to save money.

By DOROTHY SCOTT
Home Demonstration Agent

Calendar:

August 12-13—Homemakers' Camp, Hardwood Lake.

Representing Isosco County at the Homemakers' Conference at Michigan State University this week are Lois Sayles, county home demonstration council chairman; Sophie MacDonald and Edna MacDonald of Laidlawville community.

Have you got a match—for the flavor of barbecued meat? Probably not, because better flavor is hard to find. Most everyone barbecues hot dogs, steaks and hamburgers, but have you ever barbecued cold cuts? If the slices are thin, keep them six or eight inches from the heat. Brush slices with barbecue sauce, barbecue relish or mustard and cook them until sizzling hot. If you are a pickle and cold cuts fan, wrap a meat slice around a pickle and barbecue it that way. Try it, you will say it is real good.

When I hear of something new, it is always my hope to share it with you before the product reaches the market. This week "news" is about a washwear finish for cotton clothes that can be applied by the local dry cleaner.

This finish has been developed to improve qualities of crease resistance and wrinkle resistance in cottons with resin finishes. They will be inexpensive and may be applied by standard dry cleaning equipment. It is not a do-it-yourself job because just the right amount of resin solution must be used. Pressing equipment must hold a uniform temperature and the garment must be held on the press just the right length of time.

Although the finish will not last the length of the garment, cost studies indicate it should be inexpensive enough to justify renewal.

Name Commemorates Chief 'Little Ottawa'

Tawas City, East Tawas and Tawas Point, all three popular summer resort areas, are named in commemoration of "Little Ottawa," an Ottawa Indian chief who once lived there, says a University of Michigan professor.
Ivan H. Walton, professor of English in the college of engineering, is a noted authority on places in Michigan named after the original settlers—Indians.
Many fishermen are familiar with Big and Little Bay de Noc in Green Bay, Lake Michigan. Professor Walton theorizes the name is a contraction of "Baie de Noquet" or "Non-o-quet," which is "probably derived from that of a sub-tribe of the Menominee who lived there anciently."

Upper Peninsula residents know well the beauty of Potagannising Bay near Detour and Drummond Island. Professor Walton admits, "The meaning of Potagannising is now quite uncertain," but that it may refer to "gaps" in the old portage route between Georgian Bay and Lake Superior or to the "mortar-shaped" bay on the northeast side of Drummond Island.
It seems in the War of 1812, British forces built a fort on the island and, assuming it would remain British, renamed it after Sir Gordon Drummond, a ranking British commander in the war. Thus, "The once Chippewa-named Michigan Island now has the name of a former enemy general," says Walton.

East Tawas and Sterling Continue First Place Tie

East Tawas capitalized on the wildness of D. Winters, Edwards pitcher, to take a 12-4 decision Sunday afternoon. It was the fourth victory in a row for the winners and enabled them to remain in a tie for first place with Sterling, both teams having a six-win, two-loss record.

Although Winters struck out 12 batters, he allowed nine walks and hit four batters. East Tawas rapped out eight hits and scored in all but three innings.

Edwards jumped off to a head start in the first inning by scoring three runs, but East Tawas came back in its half of the second inning to tie the game and then went ahead by one run in the third inning.

The losers scored their final run in the fifth inning to knot the score at 4-4, but East Tawas bounced back in its half of the fifth to score three times and then added four more in the sixth. The winners scored one more run in the seventh inning.

The East Tawas pitching staff allowed Edwards but three hits during the game. Binder started on the mound, but was lifted in favor of Gerald Potts with one out in the first inning. Potts, the winning pitcher, finished out five and two-thirds innings. He was replaced by Herman Rollin, southpaw, who pitched the seventh, eighth and ninth innings.

Ken Rollin collected three hits to lead the East Tawas team, followed by John McMurray with two. McMurray had the only extra base hit for the winners, a double.
