Triple Birth Sunday at Tawas Hospital

Tawas Hospital had its share of excitement Sunday morning. The hospital observed its fifth anniversary of service to the community with the birth of triplets to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Day Jr. of Tawas City.

This was the first triple birth recorded at the hospital. Nurses there said that chances of a triple birth are approximately one in 7,100 cases.

It was just five years ago to the day since the stormy night in 1953 when the hospital threw open its doors to administer aid to victims of the tornado.

The arrival of the triplets came about three weeks prematurely and one of the hospital's three incubators was already in use. Sister Rita Louise, hospital administrator, made a hurried call to West Branch and an incubator was rushed here from Tolfree Hospital. Another phone call to the state health department at Lansing brought two more incubators by way of a state police patrol car relay.

First to arrive was a boy at 6:56 o'clock, weighing three pounds, 15 ounces. Next was a four-pound, one-ounce girl at 7:05 o'clock and another girl, weighing three pounds, 11 ounces, at 7:07 o'clock.

The hospital reported Monday that Mrs. Day and the three infants were all coming along fine.

Names of the triplets are Keith Leroy, Karen Lynn and Carol Lee.

"Dr. Payea had a grin from ear to ear when he announced to a flabbergasted Mr. Day that he was the father of triplets," remarked Sister Rita Louise. Day is an employee of Barkman Outfitting

WHO WOULDN'T BE?

Father of Triplets is Speechless When Told the Good News

A beaming father of triplets, "Bob" Day of Tawas City, made the rounds of his friends in town Monday passing out cigars in honor of his new son and two girls born to his wife, Lillian, Sunday morning.

Day had a different expression on his face when he learned about the addition to his family, say nurses at Tawas Hospital. He had told them earlier that he thought he had better take his other two children home, because it looked as if nothing was going to happen for a while. "They told me I had better stick around a little while longer," he said.

"Dr. Payea had a grin from ear to ear when he came out and told me 'it's a boy,'" explains Bob. "I wasn't too surprised when he said 'you are also the father of a girl,' for we had learned from the doctor beforehand that there may be twins. But it almost floored me when he added 'and another girl'—couldn't speak for about 10 minutes."

"The family is getting along fine," said Bob Monday. Judging from his grin, he has recovered, too.

Portraits of Iosco Judges to be Dedicated Next Monday

Framed portraits of nine circuit court judges of Iosco County will be unveiled at special ceremonies next Monday, June 16, in the courtroom at the Iosco County Building.

The program, scheduled to start at 10:00 a. m., is under the sponsorship of the Iosco County Centennial Committee, the Iosco County Board of Supervisors and the Iosco Bar Association.

Included in the program will be the showing of films taken during the Iosco County centennial celebration last year.

Portraits of the following judges will be publicly displayed for the first time: J. Birney, 1860-1865; J. G. Sutherland, 1866-1870; T. C. Grier, 1871; S. M. Green, 1872-1876; J. B. Tuttle, 1877-1887; William H. Simpson, 1888-1889; Main J. Connine, 1900-1914; Albert Widdis, 1914-1927; Herman Dehnke, present judge.

The idea for this project was that of Harris Barkman, secretary of the centennial committee. After last year's celebration the committee's treasury had some money remaining and it was decided to carry out this worthwhile project.

Portraits of some of the judges had been displayed in the old county building, but were never re-hung when the move was made to the new building. Many of the pictures had deteriorated through the years and the old frames did not fit in with the new decor of the building.

Harvey Watson of East Tawas was commissioned to copy these pictures and others which were obtained from a historical book and one from an old newspaper clipping. The latter was of Judge Widdis.

The project was started shortly after the first of the year and completed last month.

All pictures are in matching natural wood frames with a brass plate at the bottom giving the name of the judge and the years in which he served the circuit. Extra frames have been furnished the county for future pictures.

The centennial committee, board of supervisors and bar association extend an invitation to everyone in Iosco County to attend this dedication program next Monday.

A five-foot round table with chairs for the lobby, to match the present furnishings of the county building, are to be presented at the program by the centennial committee.

Gasoline Price Drop is Passed on to Customers

Gasoline prices in the Tawas and Oscoda area dropped 2.5 cents per gallon last Friday, it was reported by gasoline dealers at a meeting in East Tawas Monday night. The tank wagon price to dealers dropped that amount and was immediately passed on to customers by the dealers. It was reported that tank wagon prices in the Detroit area went up four cents Tuesday.

At Monday night's association meeting, Thomas Nicholson of Saginaw, field man for Gasoline Dealers Association of Michigan, Incorporated, reported on the recent trip to Washington, D. C., by Cash B. Hawley, general manager, and John W. Nerlinger, executive secretary.

The two men contacted Senator Patrick McNamara and Senator Charles Potter, members of the fair trade commission, to ask for anti-trust action against suppliers who allegedly have been engaged in discrimination among association members.

Repeating the words of Thomas Spouse of Royal Oak at the last meeting, Nicholson said, "We are not opposed to the oil companies dropping prices. What we do object to are the price cutting schemes that cut dealers' margin, without the drop being equal to all members."

The local gasoline dealers agreed not to put out signs, believing they are the start of a price war, "something which no one in the north, or anywhere, could stand."

It was voted at a previous meeting to give free employment service to the Tawas and Oscoda area by means of employment application blanks to be filled out at association stations. Anyone seeking labor for hire can stop in and look over these applications at no charge for the service.

Board members voted to accept the previously tendered resignation of Richard Killmaster and appointed Russell Johnson of Oscoda as chairman of the board.

Iosco 'Over Top' in Cancer Crusade

Word was received here Tuesday that Iosco County was the 31st Michigan division unit over the top in the 1958 Cancer Crusade.

In a telegram to Mrs. Herbert Hertzler of East Tawas, John M. Maynard, division crusade chairman, said, "Heartiest congratulations to you on your success. Please extend our gratitude to all of your volunteers."

Local People Had 'Preview' Last Night

Gala grand opening for one of Michigan's newest and most modern hostilities, the Holland Hotel at East Tawas, will be held Saturday. Open house will be held Saturday morning from 9 to 12 o'clock and the grand opening observance will be held that night.

Hundreds of out-staters and local area residents are expected to be there to help the co-owners of the Holland, Ard Richardson and John Pinter, observe their re-opening. The hotel has been closed since January 20 when the major construction work got underway.

Residents of this area had a sneak preview of the new Holland last night (Wednesday) when it first opened its doors for business.

"We extend a cordial welcome to all residents of the Tawas and surrounding area to be with us Saturday night to observe the Holland's grand opening," the owners said this week.

Music for the grand opening will be furnished by a trio which comes directly from a winter engagement at Miami, Florida. The band will remain here for the summer months.

The Holland, one of the Tawas area's best known landmarks, originally built during the lumbering days, has undergone a complete renovation and modernization from top to bottom. Everything in the building is new. Even the name is new...it will be known henceforth as the New Holland Hotel of East Tawas.

Work on modernizing the building started right down in the basement where 140 cubic yards of concrete were poured for thick reinforcement walls. These walls support the 27 tons of steel beams used to carry the weight of the upper three floors.

Walls and partitions were removed on the first floor where a new lobby, office, men's and ladies' rest rooms, elevator well, cocktail lounge, kitchen, dining room and storerooms were constructed.

On the second and third floors there are 44 strictly modern outside rooms, all of which have separate baths. By means of connecting doors, there are available three three-room suites and 14 two-room suites. All are equipped with telephones and 14 rooms have television.

In addition to sound-proof ceiling tile in the rooms, there is an additional three inches of acoustical material added to insure non-conductivity of sound between rooms. Ceilings have been lowered to eight feet.

The interior of the building has been completed in 20 weeks. Work on the basement started November 7 and construction on the top three floors started January 20. General contractor was Frish Better Builders of East Tawas.

Main entrance to the building is on the Newman street side of the building. The new lobby has pre-finished cherry paneled walls and the main registration desk is of cherry wood. A self-operated elevator is located in the lobby. The lobby floor is of vinyl tile. Ceilings were lowered to eight feet, six inches, and there is indirect ceiling lighting on the entire first floor.

The entire building has been furnished with all-new Simmons line furniture. To the right of the lobby is the cocktail lounge with a 30-foot-long three-service bar. Top of the bar is in white gold-flecked formica. This modernistic lounge has a carpeted terrace with planter and leather-covered booths.

Located to the south of the cocktail lounge is a large dining room area which can be divided into three separate dining areas for banquets through the use of accordion-type folding walls.

About half the dining room area is carpeted and at one end the floor is of asphalt tile to form the dance floor. This area is separated from the cocktail lounge by an accordion-type folding wall. The entire first floor area, with the exception of the kitchen, has a complete air-conditioning and air changing system. The building is equipped with a 15-ton refrigerated air-conditioning unit.

The building comes as close to being completely fireproof as any which could be constructed. Located throughout the building is a 790-head sprinkler system, spaced on approximately 12-foot centers both below and between ceiling areas. This system is under high-pressure water at all times. In case a fire started, the sprinkler heads would be started in a localized area and would not stop until turned off manually. Twin fire hydrants are located on the south side of the building in the event more water pressure is needed.

Milt Frish of Frish Better Builders said that the majority of the employees who have worked on the building were hired from the local area. Three acting foremen on the job were Leon Schwartz, Cecil Weston and Richard Gage.

57 Supervisors Here for District Meeting

Fifty-seven persons attended a meeting of the Fourth District County Supervisors Association held in Tawas City last Thursday at the Iosco County Building.

The fourth district is composed of the Counties of Bay, Arenac, Iosco, Ogemaw, Rosecommon, Midland, Gladwin and Isabella.

During the full-day session, the supervisors discussed current tax problems in the various counties. Clyde Morrison of Ogemaw County had charge of the business session.

Clarence Everett and Elmer Werth were the Iosco County Board of Supervisors' committee in charge of the program. Mr. Everett gave the welcome address.

After the meeting the supervisors visited the Indian Ceremonial at Chapel Lake.

The noon luncheon was held at the Barnes Hotel.

Impressive Naturalization Ceremony Held Tuesday

Tuesday was a banner day for four Iosco County residents. On June 10 they became naturalized citizens of the United States.

In an impressive naturalization hearing before Judge Herman Dehnke in Iosco County Circuit Court, Phoebe Lonsbury, Dagmar LaRue, Hildegarde Lepard, and Susan Pappas were sworn in as full-fledged citizens.

This day was preceded by much preparation to answer questions about the United States Constitution, the form of government in this country and other questions asked by George E. Fick of the Detroit Naturalization Office and Judge Dehnke.

The last named of the new citizens, Susan Pappas, is the first child ever to be naturalized in circuit court here. Born in Germany in 1952, the little six-year-old girl is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Pappas of Oscoda. She, naturally, was not asked any questions.

During the hearing, little Susan stood beside the other three ladies, her right hand raised with the others during the solemn proceedings, as Judge Dehnke read the oath of allegiance to the United States.

Mrs. Lonsbury, wife of Harold Lonsbury of Oscoda, was born in Canada. Mrs. LaRue is the wife of Dr. J. J. LaRue of East Tawas. She was born in Norway.

Mrs. Lepard, who was born in Holland, is the wife of Fred Lepard of Tawas City. They were married in Germany while Mr. Lepard served in the United States Army.

After the naturalization hearing, Judge Dehnke told the new citizens, "Being a citizen is a job that is never completed; being educated to be a citizen is a job that is never completed."

During the program following the naturalization hearing, the Iosco County Quota Club presented small American flags to each of the new citizens. Members of the American Legion Auxiliary presented each with a booklet containing the "Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag" and the proper display of the American flag.

Commented Judge Dehnke following the hearing, "I think that it is to be commended that groups such as these take an interest in our new citizens."

His father was killed during the Korean War and he was abandoned by his mother. Mrs. Bigelow hopes to be able to put him through college as well as high school. She has made arrangements with her daughter, Mrs. Janice Mallon of Algonac, and son, Owen Bigelow of Ann Arbor, to send this aid.

Mrs. Bigelow retired from teaching in 1950. She had taught for 20 years, serving in Ogemaw County and at Whittemore, Hale and East Tawas. She has four grandchildren. She will now be foster mother of Suh Dai Sil.

Mrs. Bigelow wrote to President Syngman Rhee asking what she could do to help the children of Korea. President Rhee suggested that she contact the Christian Children's Fund, Incorporated, at Richmond, Virginia. This led to her adoption of a Korean orphan.

The lad was nearly starved when he came to the orphanage.

Funds from foster parents are used to feed, clothe and educate the children in this home. About 200 youngsters of all ages are in the orphanage.

The Apostle Paul's healing of Eutychus, the young man who "fell down from the third loft, and was taken up dead" (Acts 20), will be included in the Scriptural readings.

Selections from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will include the following (424:5): "Accidents are unknown to God, or immortal Mind, and we must leave the mortal basis of belief and unite with the one Mind, in order to change the notion of chance to the proper sense of God's unerring direction and thus bring out harmony."

The Golden Text is from Psalms (121:7,8), "The Lord shall preserve thee from all evil...The Lord shall preserve thy going out and thy coming in from this time forth, and even for evermore."

WORDS OF COMFORT AND HELP

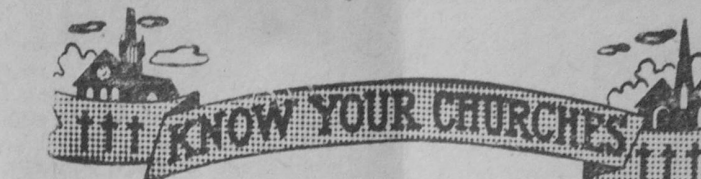

Tension has been called the mass killer. At times I have felt its effect across hundreds of miles of telephone wire. It is admittedly the cause of many ills, aches, pains, ulcers, rashes and worse things. Doctors are much in agreement about it. They find so many illnesses to be functional. The remedy is a new attitude to life. Out of the worry with its melancholy procession of anger, restlessness, apprehension and fear, comes the illness and maladies that ruin health and happiness.....

Ancient Antlers

Evidence of Michigan's native elk herd of long ago is studied by Otto Failing (left), Conservation Department district game supervisor at Gaylord, and Dr. S. C. Whitlock, assistant chief of the Department's game division. Tests show the antlers, recovered a few years ago in Ogemaw county, are 6,000-8,000 years old. Native elk disappeared from the state about 1870, but releases have re-established the species in several northern counties.

It looks like the cattle feeders' "honeymoon" with high slaughter prices is just about over, according to a Michigan State University livestock economist.

The economist, Harold M. Riley, recalls that during the past two or three months prices for choice and prime slaughter steers have averaged $7 to $10 above a year ago. Choice slaughter steers at Chicago have been up around $29 a hundredweight this past month.

Prices for choice slaughter steers will probably drop to around $25 to $26 during the summer, Riley predicts. An increase in the total supply of all meat could carry prices slightly below this level during the early fall.

Here is why the economist thinks we have passed the peak in cattle prices for this year.

The number of cattle of feed January 1 was three percent less than a year earlier. And fed cattle marketings the first quarter of this year have been eight percent below the same period a year ago.

During this quarter, however, more cattle were placed on feed lots and the total on April 1 was 12 percent above a year ago. This means more fat cattle coming to market over the next few months, and total meat production will increase.

Several factors have contributed to the expansion in cattle feeding and the reduced rate of marketing.

Total feed supplies have been extremely large and feed prices relatively low.

Drought-breaking rains in the western corn belt and Great Plains last year increased demand for stock to rebuild herds. Also, some cattle were held longer to use up wet grains after harvest.

Profits on cattle sold recently have been large. This has helped bolster cattlemen's confidence in the future slaughter market. By expanding herds, they hope to have more livestock to sell at the higher prices.

Most of the price rise of past months can be explained by a reduced supply of all meats. Consumer demand for meat has held up very well in the face of rising unemployment.

Are you thinking of raising blueberries commercially?

If you are, then you will find that a recently published Michigan State University extension folder can help you in getting established.

The folder, called "Hints on Blueberry Growing," points out that blueberries are a highly specialized crop. The crop has exacting soil and climatic needs and its requirements for fertilizing, pruning and tillage differ somewhat from other fruit crops.

The initial costs of establishing a planting are high. Clear blueberry land costs $100 or more an acre. Necessary equipment costs at least $5,000 while costs of plants may range from $200 to $350 per acre.

The folder lists information on locating and planting, choosing the right varieties, preparing the soil, selecting proper planting stock, soil culture, management and harvesting.

Copies of the folder, F-119, are available from our office in the Federal Building, East Tawas.

Merion bluegrass, Kentucky bluegrass, red fescues and bentgrass are still the best lawn grasses for Michigan.

Zoysia grass, a hot weather resistant type, is not recommended for Michigan lawns, according to James Tyson, extension turfgrass specialist at Michigan State University.

This recommendation may be a disappointment to home owners who are looking for a grass that will stay green all through the hot summer weather that Michigan often has. Tyson says the grass will stay green in hot weather—that is why it was developed by the United States Department of Agriculture and United States Gold Association green section.

But, Zoysia does not grow in the cool damp weather that is often common in Michigan's spring and fall seasons. The recommended grasses, on the other hand, make their most vigorous growth during those periods.

Zoysia does not begin to green up in Michigan until the soil temperature reaches about 65 degrees Fahrenheit, which is usually about May 15 to June 1. With the first frosts, which may be around September 15 to October 15, the Zoysia goes off color, a distinct whitish brown.

The Zoysia grasses will do everything claimed of them if they are grown in the proper climatic region. Michigan is not included in that region which is south of a line from Baltimore through Southern Pennsylvania, Central Ohio, Indiana and Illinois to St. Louis.

DON'T FORGET TO PACK CANDY FOR PICNICKERS

Take along a box or two of freshly-packed candy when fixing up your picnic basket! Make your selections from the many assortments available at your neighborhood retail candy store . . . a box of special summer candies, hard candies, salted nuts or chocolates! If a box of assorted chocolates is your choice, pack it in a vacuum bag to insure its keeping while traveling.

Candy plays an important part at any picnic. A piece or two will keep each picnicker happy while unloading and setting up at the picnic site. Fine-quality candy makes an easy-to-serve, nutritious dessert at the end of the picnic meal. A piece of good candy will do nicely as a quick pick-me-up after strenuous games.

Plan to provide enough candy for the trip home, too. In case of a traffic tie-up, you can keep your picnickers smiling, and stave off hunger, too, by passing around the box of candy. It is energy-giving and fun to eat!

McCormick and Riley shared pitching duties for the Jets and the combination struck out 13 Tiger batters.

The Braves added their second victory of the week when Cholger allowed but two hits against the Eagles. Leading sticker for the winners was Sieloff with a double and a triple. J. Dates hit two home runs for the Eagles in a losing cause, the only two hits of the game for his team.

Tuesday night's game was an up-hill struggle for the Eagles, finally losing to the Little Trailers, 15-9. The Trailers scored five runs in the first inning and the Eagles, four, but the latter was never able to catch up. The Trailers pushed across six runs in the third inning and four runs in the fourth. The Eagles scored five times in the fifth. Sass and Herman shared the pitching mound for the winners.

MICHIGAN...

Was a Prize Sought by Mighty Powers of Europe

When Michigan was young, as the white man measures time, it was a prize sought by the mighty powers of Europe. The paths followed today by the nine million-plus travelers who each year vacation in Michigan once were fought over, up and down the state, and each expedition left behind it a string of stockades, tiny citadels of a civilization in a then untamed wilderness.

Many of these ancient redoubts have vanished, according to the Michigan Tourist Council, returning to the earth from which they sprang, leaving behind only tattered evidence they ever existed in a day when trapper was king, the pelts his crown jewels.

Such a stockade was Fort St. Joseph. The City of Niles stands today where this tiny garrison once ruled over the forest, a gateway city to a state which, steeped in the romance of the past, blessed with 3,000 miles of Great Lakes shoreline, 11,000 inland lakes and 17 million acres of quiet forestland, still is a prize. Its visitors today come not to conquer, but to enjoy themselves.

Fort St. Joseph, once considered the Gibraltar of the New World, the gateway between the St. Lawrence and Mississippi Rivers, today is marked only by a huge boulder and a historic marker on Bond Street near the Fort St. Joseph Historical Museum, where the tools and utensils of more than a century of everyday living are on display. Nearby also is a great stone cross overlooking the St. Joseph River which marks the grave of Father Allouez, founder of the mission in 1669 of St. Joseph where the fort later was built and from which it took its name.

But for the historically-minded traveler this is sufficient evidence for many a fanciful flight into the past, and thousands of tourists stop here annually to add a bit of substance to the froth of vacation sightseeing.

Fort St. Joseph is an important bit of Michigan today. Once it was the focal point for a seventeenth century international tug of war. And during its embattled 90-year existence, the flags of four nations flew over its ramparts.

The nation that held Fort St. Joseph controlled the West, but more important was the Great Lakes country, itself, with its fur trade riches and Indian allies. It was this that the governor of Canada wanted to secure for France when he sent Augustin le Cardeur, Sier de Courtemanche, in 1691 to establish this outpost.

Then as now, the tourist council says, Southwestern Michigan was a pleasant and fruitful country. The land produced wild fruit in abundance, game was plentiful and the natives reaped a rich harvest of corn, beans and squash.

Only a torn and faded sketch remains of the fort, showing it as it was in 1721. The drawing, unearthed by historians a few years ago, shows several buildings of rude construction outside the fort. They were made of moss-chinked poles stuck in the ground and covered with bark on the sides and tops. But it was defensible. In 1694 Courtemanche held off an attack by the Iroquois.

In 1761 St. Joseph fell to the British at the close of the French and Indian War. Manned by a small detachment of English troops, it was classed as a dependency of Fort Michilimackinac. Then, on May 25, 1763, Fort St. Joseph fell before the onslaught of the Pontiac Massacre, along with many other English strongholds. It never again was permanently occupied.

But history was not done with Fort St. Joseph. Although indifferently manned by "habitants" who were more settlers and traders than soldiers, it retained its importance in the New World for a short time longer. In 1781 an expedition of French and Spanish troops from St. Louis, Missouri, made an 800-mile overland trek to St. Joseph in the dead of winter. They burned, looted, hoisted the Spanish flag for a few hours and a day later retreated. The fort thus became the only outpost in the Northwest to fly four national flags. And while historians differ on the reason for this expedition, it seems probable that it was an attempt by Spain to claim a section of the Mississippi Valley east of that river.

Time claimed the fort and it fell into decay, as all things must. But the French habitants remained to greet the first American settlers to come in the 1830s and to be absorbed by these hardy pioneers who came to till the land.

Spring may be the time you are inspired to do something new and different about draperies in one or more rooms of your home.

If you are like other homemakers in the United States, living room draperies are more likely to be made of cotton than any other fabric. Four out of 10 homemakers have reported this to be so, and say they choose cotton because it is durable, easy to wash, can be laundered at home, is inexpensive and economical.

Cotton and rayon mixtures and rayon rated second with plastic taking third position.

Only two percent of the women now own fiberglass draperies, but 10 percent would prefer to have this no-iron fabric. About 10 percent were interested in other new drip-dry synthetics.

One such new drapery fabric is a sound-absorbing, non-woven blend of Dacron and rayon in a soft dense mixture. It is available in a wide range of designs in lightfast colors as well as an all-white with cut-out designs. No lining is necessary. It is washable and requires no ironing.

There is a new sheer fabric of 100 percent Dacron, a screen-printed or delicately embroidered. Heavy linen-like blends of Dacron and flax in prints or solid colors are suitable for draperies and slip covers. They are washable, and because of Dacron need little or no ironing.

Torino is the new rayon fabric used in casement type fabric.

June and Dairy Month have arrived once again. If a quart of whole milk per person were purchased each day, much of the daily food requirement would be obtained. Half of the protein, all of the calcium and nearly all the riboflavin needed by most adults are in a quart of milk. In addition, there would be included significant amounts of vitamin A and thiamine.

But, according to the National Dairy Council, the average American spends about $410 a year for food or about $1.12 each day. Of this amount $43.60 is the milk bill. In other words, 10.6 cents of every food dollar is spent for milk. If the milk purchase for the day were one quart, about 20 percent of every food dollar would be spent for milk.

In other words, we are using an average of a pint of milk per person per day instead of the recommended quart.

Pour hot milk over poached eggs on toast or use milk instead of water for cooking cereals, or add dry milk to step up milk value to many foods containing fluid milk. Try this when preparing soups, mashed potatoes, cereals, etc.

These are ways to add nutritive dividends and flavor in food preparation. Four tablespoons of dry milk added to each cup of fluid milk makes that food about twice as rich in milk value as when the fluid milk alone is used.

Puddings and pie fillings made from evaporated milk will offer more milk value if used as it comes from the can instead of diluting to the usual proportion.

Colors for spring and summer show a wide variety in new and interesting effects.

Sports clothes have a nautical look—red, white and blue.

The small checks, stripes and plaids in blue, gray and brown similar to combinations usually seen in men's clothing have been translated to feminine versions. See them in light, sheer summer fabrics.

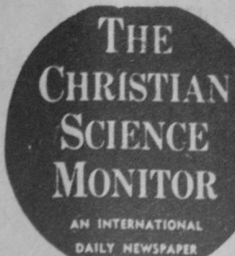

Mist colors are flattering. Look for delicately muted beiges and silvery grays, some tinged with a hint of green, pink or blue.

Red goes all the way from delicate pink like the wild rose to deep peony red. Some shades with traces of blue or orange take on the bright, bold colors of the zinnia. Sunny colors include coral, tangerine, melon, marigold and vivid yellow.

Nautical blues and blue-greens remind us of the sea, while some have a touch of mauve like grape hyacinth, French lilac and delphinium blue.

Muted and grayed greens are popular in colors like sage, olive or almond.

are you waiting for what I was?

Let me tell you what I saved when I drove a new Plymouth...then bought one!

Just like a lot of other people, I was putting off buying a new car... even though we sure needed one. Then I found out what my Plymouth dealer was offering in the way of low prices and really big trades.

Mister, when I saw what I saved I knew there was no use putting off any longer! Got more for my old car than I believed possible. (Plymouth dealers need used cars and can sell all they get!) Got a terrifically low price on the new Plymouth... and choice of models besides... hard-tops, sedans, convertibles, wagons.

And I saved a cool $140 on the ride alone! Plymouth's top-luxury ride, Torsion-Aire Ride, is standard at no extra cost, while you have to pay up to $140 for the top ride of competing "low-price 3" cars.

What's more, I got the car that proved it can save me gasoline, by winning the 1958 Mobilgas Economy Run. A car with Silver Dart Styling that is so far ahead right now it will still be worth more when I trade. With the kind of easy handling that makes every minute of driving a downright thrill! The stamina to stand up without nagging adjustments and big repairs... a car as much better built as it is better looking!

Any wonder I quit waiting? Take my tip... get your Plymouth bargain right now.

Today's best buy...tomorrow's best trade... Plymouth

Mr. Oates drew a map of the new site. He stated that he would later introduce a resolution.

Mr. Oates introduced Albert C. Parkhurst stating that Mr. Parkhurst was interested in managing the county airport for the county.

The road commission appeared before the board to discuss costs of chloride to lay dust on county roads.

Committees were ordered to duties, balance of the board to be at ease, subject to the call of the chair.

Upon call to order at 4:00 p. m., Mr. O'Farrell read the following report of the welfare committee.

Honorable Board of Supervisors Gentlemen:

WITH THE IOSCO—4-H Clubs

By DOROTHY SCOTT
Home Demonstration Agent

Girls in the Peaceful Valley 4-H Club sewing project met on Tuesday of last week to finish up odds and ends of their projects. This information was sent to us by Reporter Verna Kay Wehrman.

She says, too, that the girls who attended the modeling school at Fairview did some practicing on their modeling.

Other 4-H clothing project members will be wanting to practice modeling in the near future. These girls from Peaceful Valley have said they will help girls in other clubs.

May I suggest that we make plans for a practice meeting during June? This will permit everyone time for individual practice on her own after she learns the special tricks that make modeling easy.

YOU have a BIG STAKE

because it'll come out of YOUR pocket!

Most people have become aware, by now, of the serious financial condition of the nation's railroads. This has been brought about by unfair and discriminatory regulation that does not permit the railroads to compete on an equal basis with other forms of transportation. We are FORCED, by federal regulation, to hold our rates up to levels that "protect" less efficient modes. The result? We lose business.

WHAT DOES THIS MEAN TO YOU? Just this: The railroads are the only form of transportation that pays its own way (no free roads, no free airports, no free waterways, no subsidies of any kind) . . . AND, in addition, WE PAY HEAVY TAXES FOR THE SUPPORT OF YOUR SCHOOLS. Last year Michigan railroads paid OVER EIGHT MILLION DOLLARS for this purpose. No other carrier pays a dime to this fund!

DO YOU WANT TO ASSUME THIS BURDEN? Of course not. The schools desperately need this money, and everyone wants them to have it. BUT—if the railroads are forced into bankruptcy by unfair regulation, YOU will have to make up the lost taxes.

WHAT CAN YOU DO? It's very simple. Just write a letter to your Congressman in Washington. For a mere three cents you can tell him you would like him to support Senate Bill 3778 (the Smathers bill) or the Harris Bill in the House to help the railroads get fair play. And while you're at it, write also to your two Senators, Hon. Chas. E. Potter and Hon. Pat McNamara, United States Senate, Washington, DO IT TODAY!

Remember, we are asking for no favors, no subsidies — JUST FAIR PLAY

Services for Mrs. Arthur Jackson to be Held This Afternoon

Mrs. Arthur Jackson, widow of a former Detroit and Mackinac Railway Company executive, died Monday at Fenton. She was well known in this community having been a resident of East Tawas for many years.

Funeral services will be held at 1 o'clock this afternoon (Thursday) at the Moffatt Funeral Home. The Rev. Joseph Dibley will officiate. Interment will be in the Greenwood Cemetery. An earlier service was held Wednesday at the Craft Chapel in Fenton.

Born in Corunna, she was the daughter of the late Rev. and Mrs. George Sloan. Mr. Sloan was a Methodist minister in East Tawas and resided there for a number of years after his retirement.

She married Mr. Jackson at Corunna in 1902 and the couple resided at East Tawas until September 1955 when they moved to Fenton where he died a few days later. For many years Mrs. Jackson had been a piano teacher at East Tawas.

Survivors are: A daughter, Mrs. Ethel Post of Fenton; a son, Kenneth Jackson of Cleveland; five grandchildren, and four great grandchildren.

SERVICES WILL BE HELD FRIDAY FOR MRS. DOWNER

the Snapshot Guild

At a time like this, the more cameras in action the better. There can't be too many pictures of a moment like this.

To be sure of having the most complete album of wedding pictures her budget will allow, almost every girl who gets married today hires a professional photographer.

Such pictures generally supplement the traditional posed studio portrait of the bride. They consist primarily of informal photos of the bride and groom with their families and guests, both in the church and at the reception.

Many of these albums are hand-somely assembled collections, ranging in dimension from those suitable for wallet-size pictures to 11" x 14" or even larger. Small "accordion-type" albums, which unfold to display all the pictures at one time, are becoming quite popular.

One of the current favorites in albums is white leatherette with a gold-colored border. Usually, the pictures are mounted on heavy white paper, with a few inches of white space all around to give a framed effect. In other albums we've seen, transparent acetate envelopes hold the pictures flush to the edge, without mounting.

You'll find that today many wedding photographers offer a special "package deal", too. For example, one 8" by 10" white leatherette album of 24 pictures, plus one duplicate 5" x 7" brown leatherette album, may cost about $125. But for only $25 more, the same photographer will include these additional items: six identical 8" x 10" group pictures of the newlyweds, and 50 thank-you notes bearing their picture.

Stereo color slides have also become popular for wedding coverage. And with these as well, the price quoted is for a minimum number—usually 20 or 24. But remember, all you picture-taking relatives and friends of this season's bride-to-be, there's no reason to leave your own cameras at home just because a professional photographer's on the scene. Your pictures of the little incidents and happenings—of beat and full of human interest—can make a wonderful wedding album all their own.

TAWAS POINT LIGHT OPEN TO VISITORS

The United States Coast Guard station here has announced that visitors day would be held every Saturday from 1:00 to 3:00 p. m. at the Tawas Point light house. This schedule was effective June 7.

GOOD THOUGHT BEHIND TUESDAY'S PROGRAM

There was a lot of good thought behind the Quota Club and American Legion Auxiliary's program held Tuesday morning at the Iosco County Building following the naturalization hearing. The two groups are to be commended for their interest in the four new citizens of the United States.

This is the first time that such a program has been held in Iosco County. It would be a worthwhile project to be continued in the future.

NO CHARGE FOR POLIO SHOTS FROM COUNTY

This newspaper erred in its reportage of polio vaccine shots recently. The Iosco County Board of Supervisors will purchase a polio vaccine to be given free by the health department for children from three months to 19 years of age. There will be no charge to those receiving shots. The county has purchased 1,000 doses of polio vaccine at the rate of 45 cents per shot at a cost of $450 to the county. They will be administered by the Iosco County Health Department.

PLANT LEGAL-SIZE TROUT IN AUSABLE

Conservation Officer Arthur Leitz reports this week that the department of conservation planted some 2,000 rainbow and 800 brown trout of legal length in the Ausable River Tuesday. The trout were planted below Bamfield Dam.

"The stretch of water between Bamfield and Loud Dams," says Mr. Leitz, "is a very acceptable place to plant fish. It is a high food productive area."

FARM PRICES

Seven important farm products supported by the government brought producers average prices for 1957 production higher than the support rates. Seven others were lower.

Prices above support levels were major types of tobacco, rice, oats, cottonseed, flaxseed, dry beans and cotton. Those that brought prices below the support levels were wheat, rye, corn, barley, grain, sorghum and peanuts. Soybean—netted prices the same as the support level.
