'Sal' Retires After Long D&M Service

A career which has spanned a period of slightly more than 49 years with the Detroit and Mackinac Railway Company was completed Monday, June 16, with the retirement of Norman W. Salsbery of East Tawas.

"Sal," as he is known to his co-workers at the railroad company's general offices in Tawas City and to his many friends throughout Michigan, entered the employ of the D and M in the capacity of office boy on April 5, 1909.

Prior to starting with this road, Mr. Salsbery had begun his railroad career with the Michigan Central Railroad in the summer and fall of 1908 as a section hand.

Retiring as secretary-treasurer of the company this week, a position which he has held since 1932, Mr. Salsbery was honored on his 70th birthday April 16 of this year with a surprise banquet by more than 100 of his friends at the Tawas Masonic Temple.

Mr. Salsbery was born April 16, 1888, at Owosso. His sister, Mrs. George Livie, resides at Pleasant Ridge.

Mr. Salsbery said Monday that his plans for the future were still indefinite. "I don't play golf or I don't have any hobbies," he said, "but there are a couple of things I have in mind to keep myself busy."

Always active in Masonic affairs, Mr. Salsbery is a past master and life member of Dearborn Lodge No. 172, F and AM; life member of Royal Arch Masons of Dearborn and Tawas City Chapters; life member of Dearborn Chapter, Order of Eastern Star; life member of Michigan Sovereign Consistory of Detroit; Moslem Temple (Shriners), Detroit; member of Alpina Commandery (Knight Templars).

Returning to Tawas Sunday after attending the Bay City Chamber of Commerce's annual cruise on the Great Lakes, Mr. Salsbery made his regular morning stop at the Tawas City post office to pick up the mail for the D and M.

Mr. Salsbery has enjoyed this daily morning visit with postal employees here for years. "Picking up the first mail also gives everyone back at the office an early start," he said. He returned to his desk later to take care of a few last details, thus ending nearly a half-century of railroad-ing by one man.

C. R. McMullen, who was superintendent of transportation, has been named assistant to the president and general manager, treasurer and assistant secretary, succeeding Mr. Salsbery.

'SAC Bombers Good News for Community' - Col. Patton

"The arrival of SAC bombers at Wurtsmith will mean nothing but good news for the community... only sad news for fighter pilots," said Col. John M. Patton Tuesday in the second of a series of annual reports to the surrounding communities by the air force installation here.

Speaking to Tawas Kiwanians at the group's first luncheon at the New Holland Hotel, Colonel Patton said that the base's mission has expanded this year and will expand further during the next year with the arrival of SAC bombers. "Wurtsmith is presently the last real fighter base in the country," he said, explaining the "sad news for the pilots."

Guests of Kiwanians at this program were county officials, city officials from both Tawas City and East Tawas, businessmen from both communities and Oscoda. Among the honored guests was Congressman Elford A. Cederberg of Bay City.

"Last year was an eventful one for the base," he said. "Although there has only been an eight percent increase in personnel, or a total now of about 1,600, there has been a tremendous increase in the number of dependents."

Colonel Patton said that to date there are about 150 civilians working on base and about 275 people working for contractors. He said that the combined military and civilian payroll on base is now about $700,000 a month, in contrast with $500,000 a month last year.

"Last year Wurtsmith's annual budget was 12 1/2 million dollars. This figure has been increased to 16 million dollars this year," stated Colonel Patton. Next year's budget is 19 million.

He said that the total net investment of the air base installation was 93 million dollars, with a breakdown as follows: 21 million for real estate, 5 1/2 million for inventory, seven million for support equipment and 59 1/2 million dollars for aircraft.

"As during past years, the community and the air base has enjoyed a mutual understanding," said Colonel Patton. "We are glad to be here... we feel we are fortunate to meet so many fine groups and have so many friends. I don't think there is any base in the country as lucky as ours."

Colonel Patton listed some of the things which the community has done to assist the base, which included the cooperation of law enforcement agencies, donations from merchants to the base's NCO of the month program, cooperation of the American Red Cross and other organizations and schools, and ministers of the area who conducted services at the base.

He said that the impact of the base on the community would increase in the near future with the arrival of SAC bombers. He said that the money being spent here on facilities indicated that the entire area would benefit. He said that personnel would double before 1959 and that about 25 million dollars would be expended, mostly on new runways. There will be some 725 on-base quarters constructed there during the next year.

"Our mission at the present has not changed. We still have two fighter-interceptor squadrons of F-102 and F-89 jet aircraft." (See PATTON, page 5.)

Ceremony June 24 for New Commander

On Tuesday, June 24, in a formal ceremony on the Wurtsmith Air Force Base flight line, Lieutenant Colonel Marion C. Morphew, 37, of Waterloo, Iowa, will become the new commander of the 445th Fighter-Interceptor Squadron.

In this special change of command ceremonies, which will feature a parade and fly-bys of 12 F-89 "Scorpions," Brigadier General C. T. Edwinston, 30th Air Division commander from Willow Run, will officiate as Colonel Morphew replaces Lieutenant Colonel Weston M. Lennox, who has commanded the 445th FIS since October 1955.

Colonel T. N. Wilson, base commander, has invited the local public to the base for this occasion. The main gate to this Air Defense Command installation, located at Oscoda, will open to visitors at 1:00 p. m. and the change of command ceremonies will begin promptly at 3:00 p. m.

During his tenure as commander of the 445th Colonel Lennox and his aircrews shared the honor of winning the second "A" award ever presented to a fighter unit in the Eastern Air Defense Force.

Colonel Lennox will depart this station for his new assignment at Headquarters Eastern Air Defense Force at Stewart Air Force Base, New York, a few days after the formal change of command.

Brugger's Market Observes 'Birthday'

Brugger's IGA Market in Tawas City observes its 31st anniversary of business here this week. Owned and operated by John N. Brugger, a new front on the store building was completed this week.

Construction of the new stone front was started several weeks ago by Eckstein and Staebler, general contractors of Tawas City. It has an aluminum marquee extending out over the plate glass windows with a long planter box at the west side of the building.

Main entrance to the building, consisting of two large aluminum and glass "in" and "out" doors, is located at the First Street side. A lighted structural steel pylon supports a large IGA emblem on the front of the store.

Architect for the store front was the IGA engineering department, Chicago. This design is now being used by IGA stores throughout the nation.

Two years ago the store was remodeled and enlarged, as the first step in Brugger's modernization program. All new equipment and fixtures were installed at that time.

The store has a complete pre-packaged meat department and large frozen food and dairy food departments.

"We expect to start work very soon on a new parking lot at the rear of the store," stated Mr. Brugger Tuesday. It will have a black-top surface and will be capable of handling about 35 cars. There is room for parking 10 cars at the First Street side of the building.

Tawas River Race Set for Sunday

On Sunday afternoon, June 22, the fifth annual Tawas River Canoe Race will be held in this resort community in Northeastern Michigan, under the sponsorship of the Tawas Chamber of Commerce and the Tawas City Businessmen's Association.

The race, which will attract Michigan's top canoe racing teams, will start at 2 o'clock at Cliff's Landing on Tawas Lake, 1 1/2 miles northeast of the East Tawas State Park, and finish at the mouth of the Tawas River on Tawas Bay.

The race is open to both men and women and will offer a total of $100 in prizes with $60 going to the winning canoe team.

Only stock model canoes may be entered in the competition. Entries should be addressed to the Tawas Chamber of Commerce, Tawas, accompanied with a $2 entry fee.

Pictures of Judges are Tribute to Courts, Law, Government

"When we present these pictures we do more than honor these men. We pay tribute to our courts as a whole. We pay tribute to the law and to the government which gives us our democracy."

These were the words of Attorney Herbert Hertzler in his address at Monday's program at the Iosco County Building dedicating the pictures of nine circuit court judges.

About 50 persons gathered in the courtroom at 10 o'clock Monday morning for the program. First speaker was E. H. (Bert) Stickney, publicity director for last year's centennial celebration, who explained that his committee had a surplus of money after last year's observance.

This money was used to copy pictures of the nine circuit judges of Iosco County, plus the purchase of additional frames for future judges, table and chairs for the lobby of the county building and a new American flag for the courtroom.

"The motive for putting these portraits on our walls and the commemoration of our judges does not just happen," said Mr. Hertzler. "It results from some moving force. You know about the centennial and its having a surplus of money; and most of us are aware that it was Harris Barkman who took the leadership in this presentation."

"I have just an idea that the reason we like to do this and that we take this occasion to pay our respects to the court and to these judges, is because of the actual profound respect that we have for our present circuit judge, Herman Dehnke, who has been our judge since 1927."

"We have here on our walls the portraits of eight men who represent the judiciary of the circuit court for Iosco County for the most part of the past 100 years."

In speaking of courts, Mr. Hertzler said, "We take our law pretty much for granted. I presume that it is as it should be. There is no use fret about the air we breathe, because we have plenty of things to worry about." (See DEDICATION, page 5.)

Bid for 1959 Meet--

Chamber Invites MUCC Convention

Tawas Chamber of Commerce will submit an invitation to the Michigan United Conservation Clubs to hold its 1959 convention in the Tawas. This action was taken at last week's meeting of the chamber's board of directors.

President A. Don Anderson said that the main question would be the handling of a banquet of this size. Some 475 delegates were fed at the last convention. There are between 500 and 600 delegates to provide lodging for during the four-day stay.

The chamber is to send a letter to the Michigan legislature protesting the discontinuance of state highway maps. Opinion of the members was that the map contains much information and is valuable to the traveling public. The highway sign at Standish, maintained by US-23 Boosters, has been repaired. It was suggested that the Tawas area place a sign south of Standish with a complete list of motel, hotel and cottage units which are available here. It was thought that the number would outrank any area or any other route through Michigan.

Final details for the National Editorial Association's stop-over here were made. Each director was asked to have his car available as a courtesy to those wanting to make a tour of the area. Tawas Bay Yacht Club is lining up boats for use while the association members are here.

It was suggested to write Ebb Warren to see about open dates for showing his African film the third week in August.

Residents Pitch in to Brush School Site

A work-bee was held at the new Whittemore-Prescott High School site June 10 and 11 by residents of the Whittemore-Prescott area.

On the 40-acre site where construction of the new school has started, there was about 15 acres of woods which needed trimming and brush removal. The brush was removed during the two days and Architect Paul Hazelton remarked that it was the most attractive school site he has seen.

The work-bee was sponsored jointly by the Whittemore Chamber of Commerce and the Prescott Businessmen's Association. Approximately 50 men with 11 tractors worked the first day and the second day the work crews were only slightly smaller.

Had More than 43 Years of Service--

'Red' McDonald Retires from D&M

After 43 1/2 years with the Detroit and Mackinac Railway Company, Orville "Red" McDonald of Tawas City has retired at the age of 66 years. "But the smoke goes up the chimney just the same," he says.

McDonald, who was a boiler-maker, blacksmith and welder in the days of the steam locomotives and later with the diesels, said last week that he was going to devote all of his time now to work in his garden and in his home blacksmith shop.

Recalling some of his interesting experiences with the railroad, McDonald said he cut off a good many angle bar bolts when the old Rose City and Prescott divisions were abandoned a number of years ago.

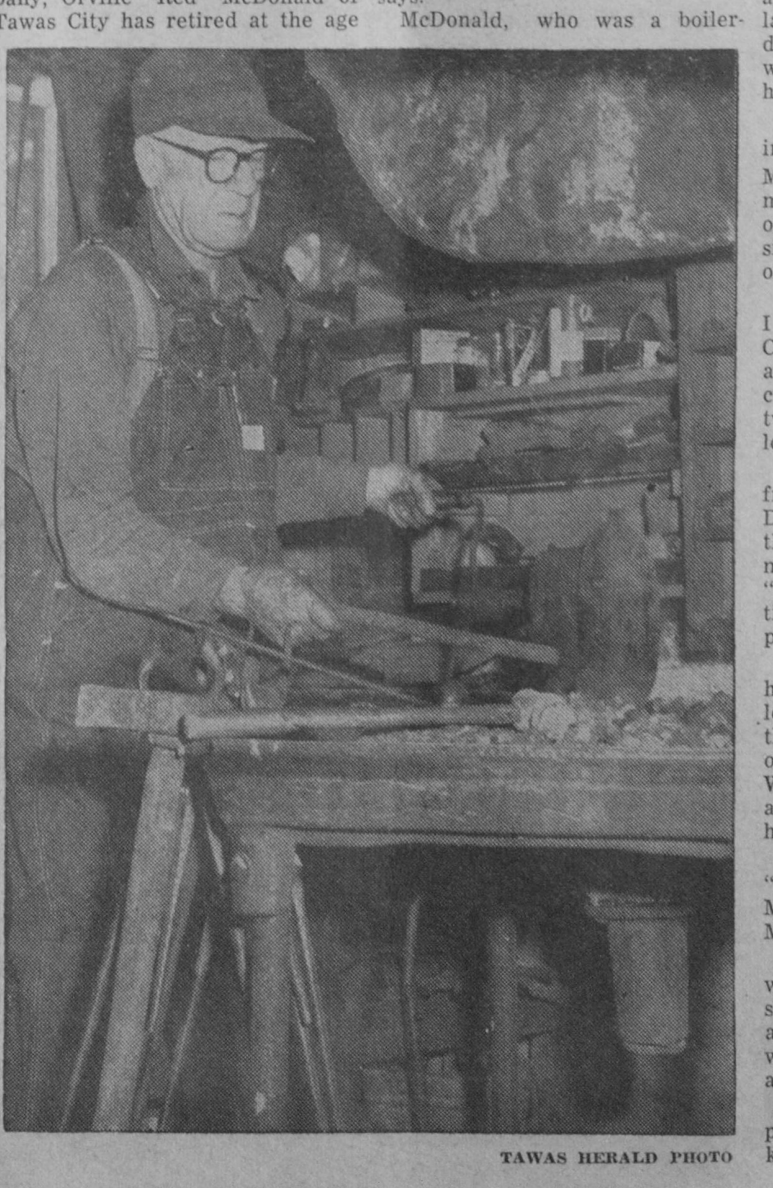

Of the former he said, "I guess I walked all the way from Rose City to National City with my acetylene tanks on a lorry. Of course that was over a period of two months, but that sure was a lot of walking."

Living only a "stone's throw" from the railroad shops here, McDonald was on call at all hours of the day when maintenance was needed on the steam locomotives. "I got the hot-foot a good many times when calking flues or repairing a fire box," he said.

"Many times repairs would have to be made on a waiting locomotive and we would just throw a few planks on the grate of the fire box and go to work. With steam pressure still up to about 120 pounds that sure was a hot job."

Born in Tawas City in 1892, "Red's" father, the late Henry McDonald, worked for the D and M for 36 years as a blacksmith. "I'm going to miss working with all my old buddies at the shops," he said, "but by tinkering around here with my forge I won't be away from my old work altogether."

McDonald turns out snow pushers, ice spuds, chisels and knives in his blacksmith shop.

One Vacancy to Fill On W-P Area Board

The annual election of the Whittemore-Prescott Area Schools will be held on July 14 in the high school study hall in Whittemore.

There will be one vacancy on the board of education to fill. This position is for trustee for three years. The incumbent, Mrs. Celia Ferrin, has indicated she will seek office again.

In addition, the board of education will be asking the people to approve disposal of five one-room school buildings which are no longer needed by the district. These are the former Town Hall, Maple Ridge, Palmer and Reno schools and the bus garage at Bush Lake.

Nominating petitions are available in the office of the superintendent of schools. Petitions must be filed by 4:00 p. m. on June 24.

Calendar: July 22-25—Homemakers' Conference, Michigan State University.

August 12-13—District Homemakers' Camp, Hardwood Lake.

October 3—District Rally at Mio. Calling all calendar markers—here are dates to be circled in red right now so you will not make the mistake of planning something else at that time.

Tawas Homemakers are making stools these days. They purchased the wooden stool frame which must be sanded, finished and "seated." A woven seat completes the project. This is made from "wool twine" and, believe me, the store clerk was astonished when I asked to have three balls of wool twine of the same color. Maybe you never noticed the color does vary!

Comfortable seats for watching television and convenient pieces of furniture for the children are what the women like about these do-it-yourself stools.

"I would like very much to receive newsletters. They are very interesting..." Mrs. Henry Wilson writes us about the experimental newsletter, "Dear Parents of preschool children." Another comment comes from Mrs. Lucille Brindley, "I am interested in receiving other newsletters about preschool children. I enjoyed the one I received."

You, too, can receive this newest extension service publication by asking to be on the mailing list. Another one will be ready for mailing before long and you will want the one mentioned by Mrs. Wilson and Mrs. Brindley, too.

You will be interested in the information only if you have preschool age children. Write or call me today, do not put it off.

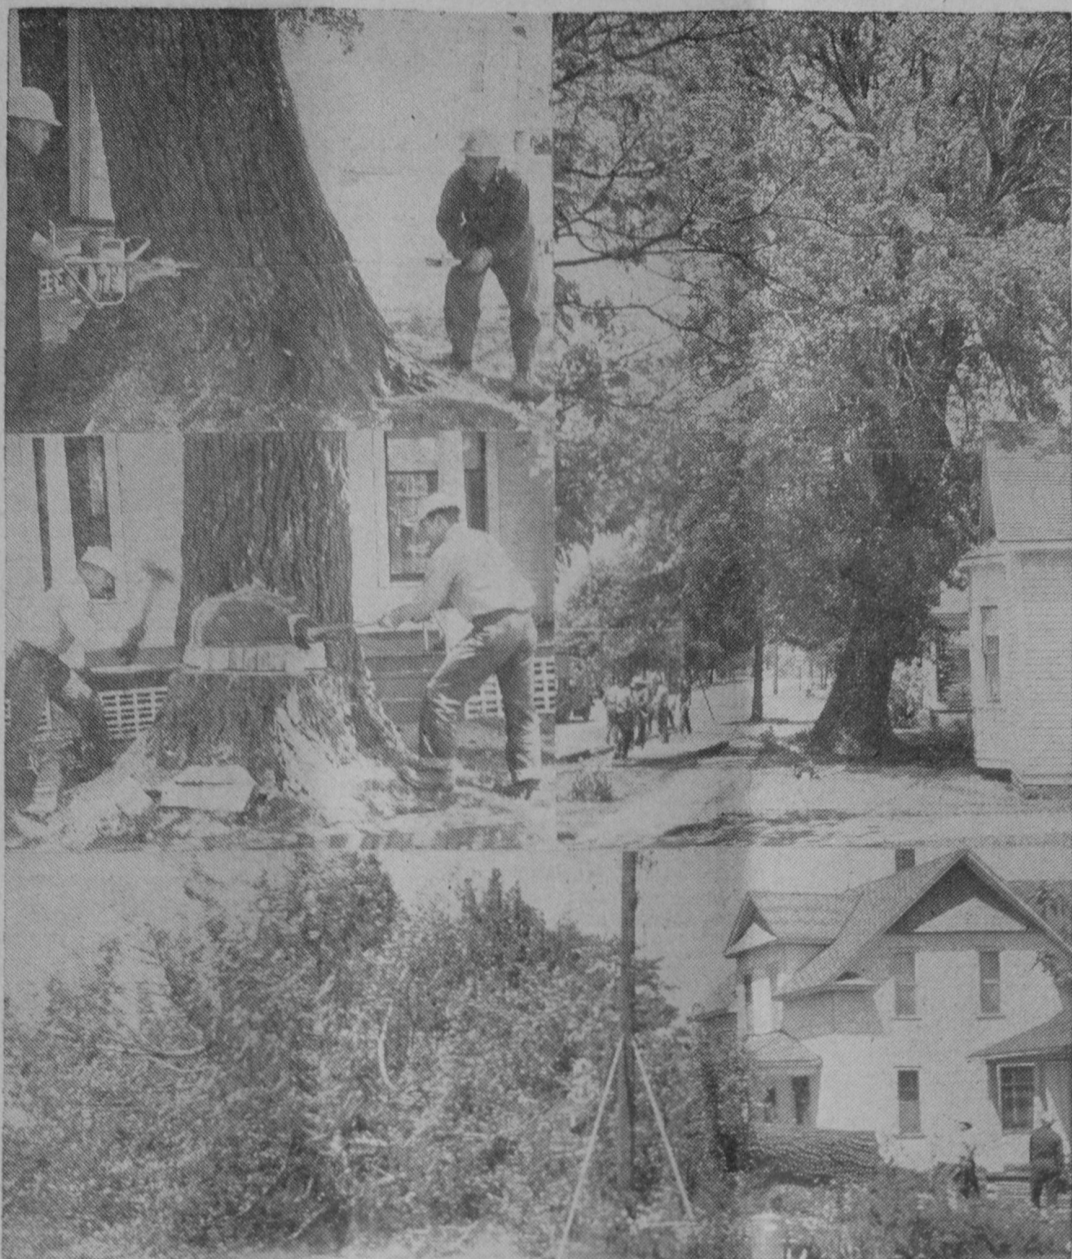

Mosquitoes are singing again. You will be wishing for an effective repellent and happy to learn there are several on the market as pleasant to use as hand lotion.

When you shop for a repellent, look at the label. If it contains diethyltoluamide it works well against mosquitoes and a wide variety of biting insects, ticks and mites. Non-greasy, it has a fresh, delicate fragrance and provides protection for several hours.

Four other repellents—ethyl hexanediol, dimethyl phthalate, dimethyl carbate and indalone, will be names on the label—are very effective and safe for use on skin and clothing.

These repellents are most effective as liquids or pressurized sprays. Before going outdoors, shake a few drops from the bottle or spray a few drops into the palm of one hand. Rub your hands together and then apply the repellent to exposed skin.

Read the directions given by the manufacturer, follow them and the bugs will keep their distance.

A 100-FOOT HIGH cottonwood tree was cut down last Wednesday at the Eugene LaChapelle home in Tawas City. The top right photo shows the tree as it leaned dangerously toward the house. Consumers Power Company crews fell the huge tree with a chain saw, axes and a quick yank with a truck. It measured 76 inches across the base. It was more than 80 years old.—Herald Photos

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a ballerina length gown with a full skirt of scalloped lace over net. The fitted bodice was accented with pleated nylon net. A tiara of pearls and sequins secured a fingertip length veil and she carried a bouquet of white baby chrysanthemums and yellow rosebuds.

Dedication

"When we speak of law, we think of all kinds of regulations, all kinds of taxes, if you please, and all kinds of limitations on what we can and cannot do. These are laws. What I am referring to now is the law of our land, the law which gives us our democracy, which permits us to be self-governed, and guarantees to us equality under the law."

Following Mr. Hertzler's address, films of last year's centennial parades at Tawas and Whittemore were shown by Neil Lucidke of East Tawas. One film was presented to the county by WNEM-TV and the other loaned by William Fuerst of Whittemore.

LETTERS to the EDITOR

Editor,
The Tawas Herald,
Tawas City, Michigan.

Dear Editor:

After attending the special meeting on June 9, called for the purpose of a hearing to close a portion of road in Wilber Township by the Iosco County Road Commission, when it appeared very evident the first meeting of May 28 may have been postponed to allow the township supervisor, Wilber Township, enough time to call his own township board to a meeting, first three days before this second special meeting, which meeting was called to act on the closing of a road trail across another piece of property formally sold by said township supervisor.

This act and the action taken by the Iosco County Road Commission against the closing of said trail, backing up the action taken Friday night, June 6, by Wilber Township Board and its chairman, Lewis Rodman. This decision verifies one point. The taxpayers should take immediate steps to restore by election and popular vote the selection of Iosco County Road Commission members. Because this petition to close this trail was signed by 17 signers, and there was no reason to deny this petition except to cater to action of supervisor's own township board, of which he is chairman.

Chapel Lake Indian Ceremonials Opens Monday, June 30

Opening of the Chapel Lake Indian Ceremonials is scheduled for June 30, it was announced Monday by the Rev. O. James Crews, director. Rehearsals are being held this month, but these are not open to the public.

Mr. Crews said that some 75 Indians were at Chapel Lake Sunday rehearsing for programs which are to be given this summer. "The ceremonial program is coming along very well and we have an abundance of talent at this time," he stated.

A new Lowrey electronic organ was installed last week and was played at the first church services Sunday morning. It will be known as "The Voice of the Forest."

Indian church services are now being conducted each Sunday. On July 6 interdenominational services will be open to the public.

There will be free refreshments and gifts for the children at the June 30 opening of the Indian ceremonial.

Patton

The organization has changed somewhat. Previously the fighter squadrons had about 400 persons in each. This number has been reduced to about 50 persons each, with the others now in consolidated maintenance squadron.

In naming some of the contributions to the well being of the community in the past year, besides the benefit received from the base payroll, Colonel Patton said that about 400 airmen assisted local and state authorities in putting out one of the worst fires in the area's history. He said that the base fire department has conducted classes for about 500 firemen on base; maintained a close liaison with all law enforcement authorities; used its helicopter to aid in the search for lost children; maintained a welcome center at the main gate with facilities for real estate listings, and its chaplains have assisted in the moral and religious undertakings in nearby communities.

Following Colonel Patton as speaker was Congressman Cederberg, who quipped, "I hope you realize, from what Colonel Patton has said, that you can't do much about your taxes this year. 'I think the improvements at Wurtsmith will be tremendous," he stated. He warned that the country must do everything it can to keep pace with the rest of the world, saying that the military expenditure was somewhat like fire insurance. "It's useless to buy insurance after the fire," he said.

The government reported recently that a new construction activity last month totaled 4.1 billion dollars, a 10 percent increase over April.

1958 Wheat Quota Referendum June 20

County wheat farmers will help make an important decision when they vote June 20 in the national wheat marketing quota referendum. Earl M. Partlo, Iosco County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee chairman, states the polling place in Iosco County will be at the ASC county office in the Federal Building, East Tawas. Polls will be open from 8:00 a. m. until 7:00 p. m.

If at least two-thirds of the growers who vote in the referendum approve quotas for the 1959 crop, the 1959 wheat program will include acreage allotments, marketing quotas (with penalties on "excess" wheat) and price supports at a minimum national average of $1.81 per bushel or 75 percent of parity.

If the quotas are not approved by at least two-thirds of those voting, there will be no marketing quotas or penalties, but allotments will remain in effect as a means of determining eligibility for price support. The price-support rate would be about $1.20 per bushel or 50 percent of parity as provided by law.

Growers eligible to vote in the referendum are those who will harvest more than 15 acres of wheat in 1959, and, therefore, will be affected by the wheat quotas if they become effective. Thus, farmers who will have 15 acres or less of wheat for harvest as grain in 1959 and those who are taking part in the 1958 feed wheat program are not eligible to cast ballots in the 1958 wheat quota referendum on June 20.

Insects can be very annoying on a vacation trip and alert tourist and resort operators will do everything possible to keep their premises free of these pests.

A new bulletin just published by Michigan State University can give operators a hand in thoroughly controlling insects.

Iosco County motel and resort owners know insect control efforts will pay off in repeat business.

Control of each insect is discussed separately in the bulletin because different insects may require special treatment. The bulletin is divided into three sections. The first describes insects, spiders and mites and lists control methods. The second gives dosage rates and warnings about the insecticides you will be using while the third section describes the equipment needed.

Copies of the bulletin are available from my office in the Federal Building, East Tawas. Ask for circular R-203, "Insect Control for Motels, Resorts and Cottages."

Moles and ground squirrels (gophers) are interesting little animals but they are a real nuisance when they build their runways in lawn areas.

Unfortunately, there is no simple method for controlling moles or ground squirrels, according to Charles Shick, extension wildlife specialist at Michigan State University.

Trapping, which requires time and patience, has been most effective on small lawn areas. Moles, which spend most of their life beneath the ground surface feeding on insects and earthworms, must be trapped in their runway. Several kinds of mole traps for use in runways can be purchased at hardware dealers and garden supply houses.

To be successful in mole trapping you must locate the active runways. Moles use some runways more than others and you can usually find the active tunnels by stepping on some of the ridges over the runways. Ridges over the active runways are pushed up again generally within 24 hours.

Put the traps over one or two of the used runways. If a trap fails to catch a mole in 24 hours, re-set it over another active tunnel.

Ground squirrels, who are very industrious eaters, can be trapped just outside the entrances to their tunnels. They spend a lot of time running in and out as they feed on many kinds of tender plants, weed seeds, fruits, nuts, insects and earthworms.

Snap traps, the kind used for trapping house rats, have been ef-

"SLAYER IS GIVEN LIFE SENTENCE" read the headline in the July 6, 1934, issue of The Tawas Herald, pictured above. John A. Wood, 77, who shot and killed four persons 24 years ago in East Tawas died at Southern Michigan Prison June 12

John A. Wood Died Thursday at Jackson Prison

Quadruple murderer John A. Wood, who shot four persons to death and wounded one other person with a saved-off shotgun at East Tawas on July 1, 1934, died Thursday at Southern Michigan Prison, Jackson. Wood, 77, had been ill with pneumonia.

Wood started the murder spree in the home of his son-in-law, Arthur Janson, while Janson and his wife were giving a party. Ten young couples had had a ham-burg fry earlier that night on the beach and they broke up after it started to rain. Several of the couples returned to the Janson home to play the radio and dance.

The noise awakened Wood, who lived with his daughter and son-in-law, and he stalked out of his bedroom with a shotgun in his hand, ordering the guests to leave.

Wood encountered Dr. Stanley E. Somers, 31, on the porch and shot him through the abdomen. Somers walked a few steps and fell into the living room. The terrified guests tried to flee. Wood returned to the living room and rapidly fired two shots at Lloyd Hayes, 35, which mangled both arms at the wrist. Roy Hickey ran into the bathroom and closed the door. Wood turned the gun on the door. Hickey escaped through the bathroom window. He was wounded in the arm and side with the shot which penetrated the door.

Hearing the screams of her husband, who had gone outside the house and fallen on the lawn, Mrs. Hayes, 31, went through the window from her place of safety with the Janson children in a bedroom where she had fled. She ran back into the house and through the kitchen in search of her husband but was met by gunfire from Wood.

The shooting brought Sheriff Charles Miller, 38, to the scene. Getting out of his car he went around to the rear of the house where he was met with gunfire from Wood. Sheriff Miller backed into the garage while firing his service revolver. Wood rushed in and fired at close range. Sheriff

Miller fell mortally wounded where he was found after nearly an hour of search.

Wood went back into the house and finished dressing. He then walked to the county jail in Tawas City and gave himself up.

Dr. Somers died immediately. Mr. and Mrs. Hayes died later that day at the Omer hospital from shock and loss of blood. Sheriff Miller died on the way to the hospital.

On July 5—four days after the shootings—Circuit Judge Herman Dehnke sentenced Wood to two prison terms, one for life imprisonment for the slaying of Mr. Hayes and the other for 40 to 50 years for the slaying of Mrs. Hayes.

Judge Dehnke, in sentencing Wood, said that life imprisonment meant on an average of 12 years under parole regulations. In giving the extra 40 to 50 years sentence, he wished to make sure that Wood remained in prison for the remainder of his natural life.

The charges against Wood in the murder of Dr. Somers and Sheriff Miller were not pressed by Prosecuting Attorney John A. Stewart and were held in abeyance.

IOSCO COUNTY—4-H Clubs

By DOROTHY SCOTT
Home Demonstration Agent

Calendar:
June 23-28—State 4-H Conservation Camp in Upper Peninsula.
July 14-17—Hardwood Lake District 4-H Club Camp.

First visitors to Hardwood Lake 4-H Club Camp this year from Iosco County were Verna Kay Wehrman, Sheila Dodson and Kathleen Kolonick, who were real camp boosters. They joined with me and other 4-H boosters in opening camp for the season. That really means just plain housecleaning.

Camp time will be around the corner before we know it. We would like to hear from 4-H Club members who think they may be able to attend this year's camp.

What we do at camp depends in part upon the number of campers. Five counties are cooperating for our camping period so we think there should be a "full house" of about 100. Let us hear from you.

Hale Happy Hustlers enjoyed a picnic at the Rollways on Wednesday, June 18. They had Peaceful Valley 4-H Club members as their guests. A recreation program was the entertainment.

Dress revue practices for clothing project members are getting started this week. I plan to visit the clothing project in each club to help the girls begin to practice modeling.

On Tuesday, June 24, girls from all the clothing projects in the county are invited to meet together at the Spafford home at Sand Lake. They will practice together and plan their dress revue presentation for the fair in July. On the side there will be a picnic and swimming.

GUERNSEY HERD CLASSIFIED FOR TYPE

Henry and Karl Luitje, Plainfield Guernsey Farm, Hale, have recently had their Guernsey herd classified for type by L. O. Colebank, Knoxville, Tennessee, official classifier for the American Guernsey Cattle Club, Peterborough, New Hampshire.

A complete analysis of the herd for type was prepared for the Luitjes. This shows that of their 15 cows classified, seven were rated very good and eight desirable.

Results of this work tell the breeder the strong and weak points in the conformation of their herd. By selecting the better cows and breeding them to sires that transmit good conformation, herd type can be improved.

Four daughters of Plainfield D. Earl were classified; four rated desirable.

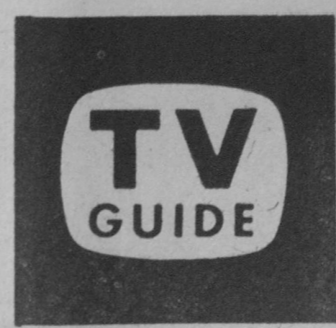

Four daughters of Plainfield D. Gary were classified; two rated very good and two desirable.

RAINBOW GROUP MET AT HINKLEY HOME

The Rainbow Farm Bureau Group met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clark Hinkley June 12 and spent an interesting evening discussing the topic, "Shall the Michigan Constitution be Rewritten?" For recreation the members answered an interesting quiz on the flag.

A delicious lunch was served by Mrs. Joseph White and Mrs. Hinkley.

Feed and care for the dairy heifer calf was subject of the dairy project meeting at the home of Roger Britt on June 4. Mr. Davenport was guest speaker. Project Leader Warren Britt showed how to lead a calf. Present were: Roger Britt, Diane Britt, Janice Britt and Peter Bassi Jr., who is the reporter.

Indonesian Visits Tawas in Tourist Study

A public relations man, intent on learning techniques of tourist promotions used here as might be applied in his own country, spent one day in the Tawas area last week. He visited the Tawas Chamber of Commerce and met with businessmen and resort owners.

"Our promotional efforts," said R. Aboebakar of Central Java, Indonesia, "will be aimed right at our own people in order to create interest for our own tourist attractions."

"Central Java is a land of a thousand temples," said Aboebakar, "and one of the most beautiful is the Borobudur Temple constructed many centuries ago. We hope to use some of the ideas learned here to promote the temple as a tourist attraction."

The Javanese public relations director has spent seven months of study at Wayne University and was on a 10-day tour of Northern Michigan "to see the tourist business with my own eyes," as he put it.

He came to this country to study at Wayne with 14 other persons from the ministry of interior of Central Java. During the last days of their "internship" they separated because of their interest in different fields.

After returning to Detroit this week, he will go to New York City and other sections of the country for further study.

A guest at the noon luncheon Thursday of the Tawas City Businessmen's Association, Aboebakar said that after touring the United States he had found that his people had a vast misconception of life here in the United States.

"After seeing all those American-made movies, I thought I would find life here just as it was portrayed in the movies," he said. "I haven't seen a single cowboy or Indian fight."

He said that the United States information services should devote more of its time and money toward telling the people of other countries about the average American citizen...not about the movie star or the glorified aspect of life in this country.
