Air Force Objects to Location---

CAA Denies Approval of County Airport Site

Notification was received here this week that the Civil Aeronautics Administration had denied Iosco County its application for an airport at its latest proposed location.

Last year, the county board of supervisors voted to change the location of the county airport from its present site in East Tawas to a new location several miles west of Tawas on Monument Road.

Congressman Elford Cederberg wrote Elmer Werth, mayor of East Tawas, that the United States Air Force vigorously objected to this location based on present and future operations out of Wurtsmith Air Force Base near Oscoda.

Cederberg stated that the CAA had advised him on March 12 from its regional office at Kansas City of the denial.

During 1957, the present county airport near Tawas Lake was under constant fire from a large group of East Tawas residents who objected to its location. Their reason for objection was that landing and take-off patterns at the airport were of a constant danger to nearby homes.

Early last spring the county planned to enlarge and lengthen runways of the present airport, but ran into a legal snag in condemning property. This proposed expansion was later dropped as impracticable because of the high cost.

In its place the county aeronautics committee selected a site in Huron National Forest to build the proposed new airport.

No Date Set Yet When Judge is to Hand Down Decision

Lengthy briefs have been filed in Iosco County Circuit Court in the Port Gypsum dock suit. No date has been set as yet by Judge Herman Dehnke for handing down his decision.

The suit, brought by property owners and the Michigan Department of Conservation, seeks to stop National Gypsum Company from constructing its lake shore loading facilities south of Tawas City.

Judge Dehnke set March 10 as the date for filing briefs after a hearing was held here two weeks ago.

Work has been underway since late fall on construction of the installation. The dock and overhead tramway would load lake carriers with gypsum rock quarried from National's new deposit here.

This rock would be transported to the gypsum company's new plants in the Great Lakes area, as well as to its present plant at National City.

Air Force Released $22 Million for Wurtsmith

Release of $22,349,000 for the military construction program at Wurtsmith Air Force Base, Oscoda, was announced last Thursday by Headquarters, United States Air Force.

The construction program includes runways and aprons, aircraft and maintenance docks, jet fuel storage, hydrant system, airman dormitory, officers quarters and utilities.

Expansion of the base was necessary to provide facilities for the Strategic Air Command (SAC) jet bombers and tankers which have been assigned to Wurtsmith. Further details will be released later by the air force installation representative of the Ohio River region.

APPLICATION APPROVED

One building permit was approved by the Tawas City Council at its meeting Monday night. This application was by A. E. Giddings for a new 24 by 58 foot home on Whittemore Street. Cost was estimated at $15,000.

READY THIS SUMMER---

One Tower in Place for New Station

R. S. Underhill of Lansing, owner of radio station WIOS, announced this week that the second tower for the Tawas new station would be erected within three or four weeks. The first tower was erected March 13.

"Work will progress steadily with the hope that we will be in full operation for commercial broadcasting early this summer," stated Underhill.

This station will operate on 1,000 watts, 1,480 kilocycles with dawn to dusk programming to reach a radius of 50 miles.

The towers and office building are to be located on the Meadow Road across from the Davison and Son Builders, Incorporated.

Not So Fishy---

Bay Fish Conditions Discussed by C of C

Discussion of fishing conditions in Tawas Bay was the principal order of business at the Tawas Chamber of Commerce board of directors meeting last Wednesday night.

Dr. E. B. Cavell reported being in Lansing with chamber president, A. Don Anderson, to check on fishing conditions in the bay with the conservation department.

F. A. Westerman, chief of the fish division, was definitely in sympathy with the local problem and will look into it. He said he would take whatever action the department deems necessary after a more thorough check-up.

At the last board of directors meeting, that group went on record as opposing the commercial practice of seining for minnows in the bay. The reason for this, the group stated, was that too many game fish minnows were being taken.

Peter Tack, chief of fish and wild life at Michigan State University, was introduced. He has spent a great deal of time on the study of fishing conditions and making surveys around the state. He explained several methods of getting fish into the bay and keeping them there, which is the main problem.

He explained several different types of food required. Several types of feeding programs could be carried out and he stressed

Three Tawas Men Attend National Farm Policy Meet

Forty young Michigan farmers who have been studying agricultural policy are going to Washington, D. C., to see for themselves how public policy is developed into law and administered.

On March 16, these young farmers left Willow Run airport for a four-day visit to the nation's capital where they will visit a congressional hearing, see and hear both the house and senate in session, talk with their local congressmen and discuss farm policy and administration with United States Department of Agriculture officials.

Attending from Iosco County are Charles Timreck, representing the Iosco Farm Bureau; Harold Hammond, sponsored by Consumers Power Company, and Marvin Davenport, county agricultural agent.

For the past several months, these farmers have been studying public policy and related topics in weekly off-campus workshops and on-campus short courses conducted by Michigan State University extension specialists. The idea for the trip developed from discussion in these classes, according to Arthur Mauch, Michigan State University extension specialist in public policy who directed the workshops.

Mauch arranged details for the visit to congress through Representative Charles Chamberlain of Lansing. In Washington, Representative Chamberlain has worked with other Michigan congressmen on tour arrangements.

This is the tentative tour itinerary:

Monday, March 17—Visit the department of agriculture and talk with Secretary of Agriculture Benson and other officials; tour USDA's Beltsville Experiment Station.

Tuesday, March 18—Discuss overseas surplus disposal programs with representatives of the International Cooperation Administration, Foreign Agricultural Service and department of state; visit congressional hearing and house and senate sessions.

Wednesday, March 19—Visit officials in the department of labor and talk with USDA officials about farm credit.

Thursday, March 20—Discuss market and commodity reports, cooperatives and the Commodity Credit Corporation operations with USDA personnel.

Some time has been set aside for sightseeing and tours. Two farmers took their wives along to make the trip serve as a vacation for them.

New Holland to be North's Showplace

"When the new Holland opens about June 1, it will be one of the show places of Northern Michigan."

These were the words Tuesday of John Pinter, who is manager and co-owner of the East Tawas hotel along with Ard Richardson of Lansing and Tawas.

This famous old landmark of the Tawas area, originally constructed in the lumbering era, is now undergoing a complete renovation and modernization. Gone is the once glittering ballroom on the third floor, the paneled lobby, the huge staircase and familiar archways through old partitions, reminders of past remodeling jobs.

Work on modernizing the building has started right down in the basement where 140 cubic yards of concrete were poured for thick re-enforcement walls. These walls support the 27 tons of steel beams used to carry the weight of the upper three floors.

Walls and partitions have been removed on the first floor where a new lobby, office, men's and ladies' rest rooms, elevator well, cocktail lounge, kitchen, dining room and storerooms are being constructed.

On the second and third floors, workers are now busy constructing 44 rooms, all of which will have separate baths. All rooms have aluminum awning-type windows and each will be equipped with television and telephone service.

Mr. Pinter stated that the entire first floor would be air-conditioned. The building, being made as fireproof as possible through the use of structural steel, will have a sprinkler system.

Pinter stated that the huge dining room is being constructed in such a way that it can be divided into three smaller ones through the use of "accordion-type" wall separators.

On the West Bay Street side of the hotel, there will be two smaller dining rooms.

A crew of about 52 persons, the majority being from the Tawas area, is now at work on the $250,000 reconstruction project. Contractor is Frosh Better Builders of East Tawas and the architect is Design, Incorporated, of St. Louis, Missouri.

Whittemore C of C Names Officers

Stanley Drzewiecki was elected president of the Whittemore Chamber of Commerce at its annual meeting and election of officers Tuesday night, March 11. There were 11 members present.

Other officers elected to serve with Mr. Drzewiecki are: Stanley Osinski, vice president; John A. Dickey, secretary; Theron R. Partlo, treasurer.

The executive committee consists of William Wereley and James Belson.

A meeting of the officers was scheduled for Wednesday, March 19. Appointment of committees and the plans for the programs to be carried out during the coming year were the order of business.

TROOPER JACK BARKER TO GO TO FLINT POST

Trooper Jack Barker, who has been stationed at the Michigan State Police Post, East Tawas, since April 1956, is among 16 state troopers who will be transferred effective April 1.

Barker will be transferred to the Flint post. He is a former Flint resident.

Since being assigned to East Tawas, Barker attended a special school at East Lansing where he became a qualified state police skin diver.

A Spring Kiss

Combat 'Gloom Peddlers,' Urges Chairman Baker

A prominent industrialist today urged his fellow businessmen to "combat the gloom peddlers" by showing their faith in the nation's economy.

Chairman Melvin H. Baker of National Gypsum Company announced that his company will shortly start construction of a multi-million-dollar plant at Waukegan, Illinois.

"We could delay the new plant until the economic picture looks better," Mr. Baker said, "but our confidence in the future dictates that we act now to provide new production for the larger market ahead."

Baker said his company's plan to erect a quarter-mile long building products plant at Waukegan was "an indication of our confidence in the soundness of the country's present economy and the future potential."

"Today the consumer often hesitates to buy because he has heard too much talk about recession and depression from the gloom peddlers," Mr. Baker stated.

"Many companies, in turn, hesitate to build or buy materials because the consumer is holding back. Industry can combat the gloom peddlers and help break this stalemate by spending money now, as proof of its faith in the economy."

National Gypsum's Waukegan plant will be in production by summer 1959. It will be supplied with raw material from the company's mammoth new deposit at Tawas City, where production will begin this year. The Waukegan plant and Tawas City deposit are portions of National Gypsum's 23-million dollar Great Lakes expansion program which includes a second gypsum products plant scheduled to be started at Lorain, Ohio, in 1959.

Chairman Baker said "although the building materials business—like most industries—is running below maximum capacity today, we feel certain our country is approaching a growth era for which present production facilities will be inadequate."

National Gypsum's chief executive pointed out that "unless industry prepares for this coming upsurge of demand by expanding production, consumer goods will be in shortage supply." (See BAKER, page 10.)

Work Bee Set for Valley April 13

There will be a work bee at Silver Valley Sunday, April 13, to clean up the winter sports area of various odds and ends. The men will meet at the ski chalet at 2:00 p. m. A pot-luck dinner will be served at 5 o'clock.

A financial report given Monday night at a meeting of the Silver Valley Winter Sports Committee indicated that receipts at the valley this year amounted to about $8,000.

X-Ray Unit to Come to Iosco County in May

The X-Ray unit of the Michigan Health Department will arrive some time in May to complete chest X-rays on all positive reactors at the recent school tuberculosis testing program. The exact date of this X-ray program will be published later, according to Mrs. Earl Wight, county nurse.

Arrested on Charges of Breaking and Entering

Laurence F. DeRosia of Hamtramck was arrested March 15 by Michigan State Police on a breaking and entering charge at the Leo Bates residence in Whitnash Township. Three guns were stolen from there November 5 of last year. All have been recovered.

Huck Named Chairman of Joint Water Board

Gordon Huck of East Tawas was named chairman recently of the newly-formed East Tawas-Tawas City joint water board.

Howard Hatton of Tawas City was named secretary. Other members, besides the president and secretary, are Joseph Hennigar and Paul C. Ropert of East Tawas; William Mallon and Carl Schaaf of Tawas City.

This board is to meet semi-annually to audit and approve the board's annual budget and to hear and adjust possible complaints or differences arising out of matters pertaining to the water supply.

During a tour of the new water filtration plant Tuesday, Mayor Elmer Werth of East Tawas told a Herald reporter that the new Howard Hatton of Tawas City plant would be ready for operation sometime next month.

This modern new plant is being built by East Tawas at a cost of more than $200,000. When completed, it will furnish the water supply for both cities.

Tawas City will soon start work on extension of its water main to hook up with East Tawas. Tawas City will purchase water from East Tawas through a meter station which is to be located on US-23 near the Feather-Lite plant.

LOOKING OVER PLANS for the new Holland Hotel at East Tawas are John Pinter, right, manager, and Milt Frosh, building contractor. It is to be finished by June 1.—Tawas Herald Photo.

Edward S. Davison Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward S. Davison Sr. of 514 West Bay Street, East Tawas, was promoted to first lieutenant on February 21 at ceremonies held at The School Brigade, Fort Benning, Georgia, where he is presently assigned as supply officer for the headquarters.

Lieutenant Davison enlisted in the army in March 1954 at Detroit and underwent basic combat training and attended the Engineer Foreman School at Fort Leonard Wood, Missouri. Prior to his acceptance as an officer candidate, Lieutenant Davison attended Leadership School and the III Corps Noncommissioned Officer Academy at Fort Hood, Texas, and took part in Operation Sage Brush in Louisiana in 1955.

Upon his selection as an officer candidate at Fort Benning, Davison was promoted to sergeant and upon graduation, August 20, 1956, received his commission as an infantry second lieutenant.

Since his commission, Lieutenant Davison has attended the airborne course and was awarded the wings of a qualified paratrooper. Prior to entering Airborne School, Davison completed the grueling ranger course and wears the coveted yellow and black tab of the army ranger.

In 1957 he attended one of the atomic tests in Nevada, in which he gained much knowledge and understanding of atomic warfare.

Davison is also leaving behind him a very colorful and eventful athletic record. Having played in three major sports, basketball, football and baseball, and becoming very skilled in each sport, he has become a well known athlete in the Fort Benning area.

Lieutenant Davison, who married the former Miss Mary Virginia McFarlin of Columbus, Georgia, last January, plans on leaving the army in May of this year. He will join his father in the construction business, the Davison and Son Builders, Incorporated, of Tawas.

Davison comments on his army career, "I've enjoyed my tour of duty in the army. I've attended many schools and met many people. It has truly been a great experience."

WITH THE IOSCO—

4-H Clubs

By DOROTHY SCOTT
Home Demonstration Agent

Many 4-H Club girls are presently busy with clothing projects. In a beginning project there are struggles with an even, narrow hem for a tea towel or a head scarf. Very likely this will be followed by the making of an apron, the kind that is gathered to a waist band.

Later projects may include skirts and blouses, dresses, sportswear and even the dressy formal. In every case the girl completes her project by preparing it for exhibit. This means it must be well pressed or washed and ironed if necessary.

The dress revue is an important clothing activity. Each girl wears and shows the garments she has made. This year a special effort is being made to help the girls learn more about how to "style" clothes in a dress revue.

Hale Happy Hustlers tell us their last meeting on March 4 was made more interesting by a showing of the film, "Miracle in Paradise Valley." This safety film was arranged to supplement their first aid project work.

Project reporters told us about the activities being done in food preparation, first aid and soil conservation projects.

The next meeting will be at the community building on April 1 at 7:00 p. m. And that is no April Fool joke!

Project leader, Mrs. Donald Schuster, in Sherman community tells us seven girls are off to a flying start with their new clothing project. Don't fly too high and too fast, girls. It is most important that we do the best possible work, not that we get through first. That is important in every kind of thing we do, in or out of 4-H Clubs.

Vikings too Tall for Tawas Braves

Tournament Trail Ends Abruptly at Cadillac

The tournament trail ended abruptly for the Tawas Area Braves Thursday night when they fell before a slick Cadillac Viking quintet, 72-54, in the regional tournament.

This game wrote "finis" to the 1957-58 cage season, as far as the Braves are concerned. Season-end record for Coach Bill McIntosh's quint stands at an impressive 15 wins and three losses.

With the Cadillac gymnasium packed to the rafters with a roaring crowd, the Vikings took the opening tip-off and promptly netted the first basket of the game.

This lead was short lived, however, as the Braves displayed the type of ball control that they showed against West Branch to win the district finals and at the end of the first quarter led Cadillac by a slim 19-16 margin.

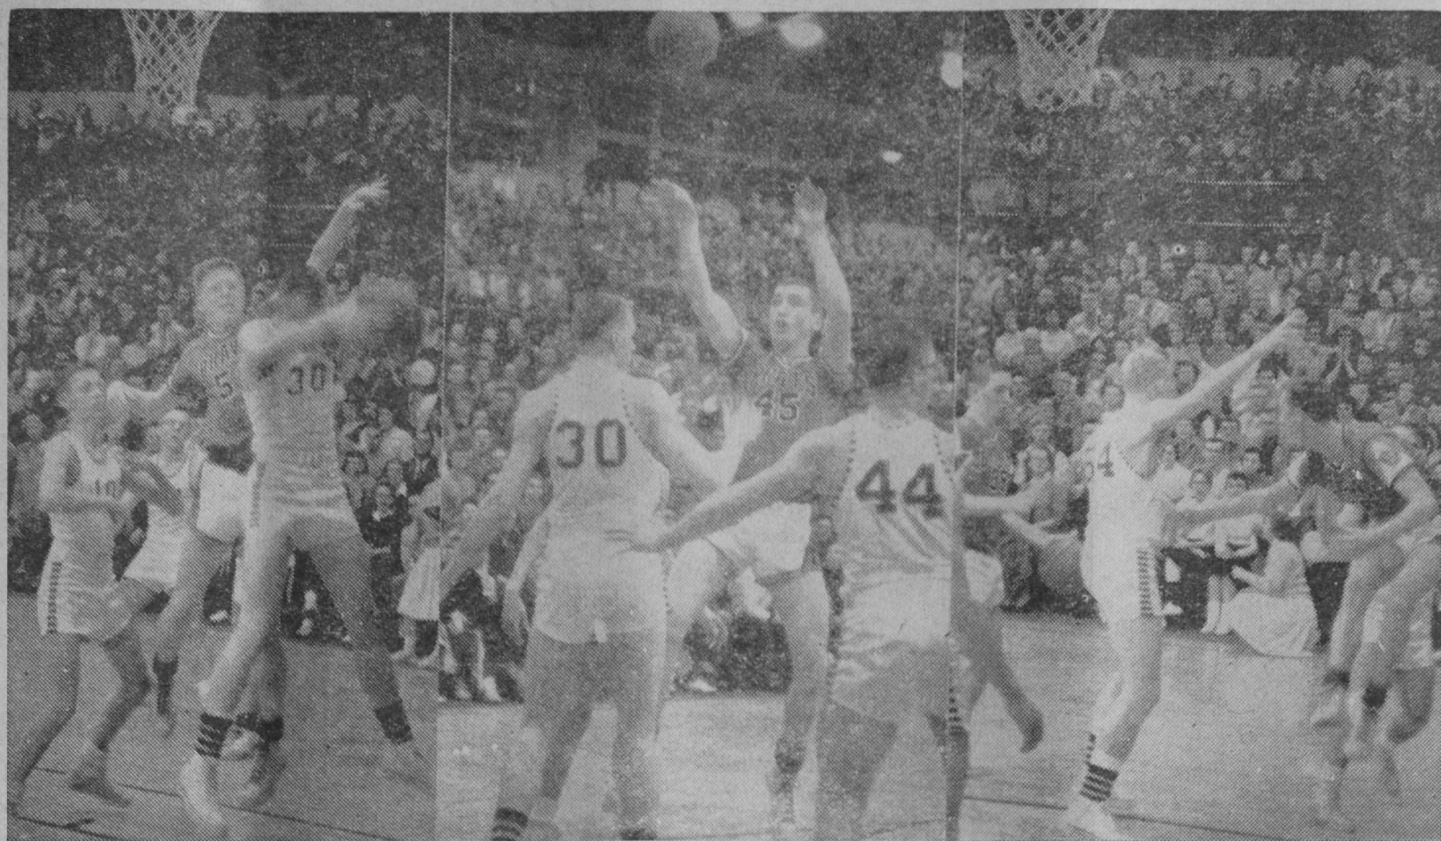

That was it, however, as far as the Tawas cause was concerned. The second quarter took on a new light as the Vikings began to click and quickly took over the scoring lead. On the other hand, the Braves had but one foul shot to their credit with four minutes to go and began to falter before the half.

Before the half ended the Braves racked up 10 more points to be on the short end of a 32-27 halftime score.

With but five points separating the scores of the two teams, the Braves were not yet whipped. The height advantage held by the Vikings began to tell, however, as big Doug Nelson and Jack English of Cadillac took over complete mastery of the backboards and effectively bottled many of the Tawas plays under the bucket.

The third quarter found the Vikings extending their lead to eight points, outscoring the Braves 16-15. With a little less than three minutes left in the quarter, the Braves used a full court press but this did not seem to bother the Viking scorers.

The roof caved in on the Braves in the fourth quarter. They lost their poise when English and Nelson scored at will and fell far behind as Cadillac scored 22 points to the Tawas team's 12. With four players in double figures, the winners were led in scoring by English who garnered 22 points. He was followed by Nelson with 18 and Campbell with 13.

High point man for Tawas was Forward Dick Lanki, who had 19 points to his credit. Center Ken Bublit hit 15.

Tawas had an impressive following of local fans at the game. Some 400 Tawas spectators purchased reserved seats for the game and there were about 150 general admissions from this area.

Alpena Catholic Central defeated Cadillac, 69-61, to win the regional honors. Saturday night and earned a shot at the Upper Peninsula B champion, Marquette, which upended Ishpeming, 54-52.

Whittemore-Prescott Defeated in Regionals

Whittemore-Prescott Area Cards was one of two teams defeated by class D regional champion, Manton, at Mt. Pleasant last week. The Cards lost to the Wexford County team Wednesday night, 63-54. Manton defeated Hale Thursday night.

The winners racked up a 16-6 lead in the first quarter and that just about wound it up, although Coach Ed Dudo's boys tried to make a game of it in the second frame when they piled up a 12-10 bulge.

Manton hit a 21-13 pace in the third stanza and coasted the rest of the way, with Larry Crowder and Art Moffitt each topping the scorers with 14 points.

Whittemore's top scorers were Ray St. John and Dave Goupil, each with 11 points on 3-5 and 5-1, respectively, and Keith Charters, 10 points on 3-4.

Prof. Albrecht Will Direct College Choir Here April 3

Prof. Martin Albrecht will direct the Dr. Martin Luther College Choir of New Ulm, Minnesota, April 3. The sacred concert will be given at the Tawas Area High School Auditorium at 8:00 p. m.

The choir numbers 67 voices, all specialists in music. All scholars of Dr. Martin Luther College, a training institution for future teachers in the synod's parochial schools, are required to take choir work but the concert choir is a select group. No student is advanced to the concert choir unless he has had at least two years of preliminary work. Because of that requirement, the choir is able to present highly accomplished performances.

Professor Albrecht directs the choir on this year's tour in place of the late Prof. Emil D. Backer, who had been conductor for 33 years and also was head of the school's music department. Professor Backer died several days prior to the opening of the present school year.

Professor Albrecht is a graduate of Dr. Martin Luther College and also of the Theological Seminary at Thiensville, Wisconsin. He served as director of the choir of the Winnebago Lutheran Academy at Fond du Lac, Wisconsin, and of the male chorus of the Lutheran Seminary at Thiensville.

MICHIGAN TRAFFIC DEATHS LOWEST SINCE 1949

Michigan's traffic death toll of 1,537 in 1957 was the lowest since 1949, when 1,441 persons were killed, according to the final summary for the year compiled by the state police.

The death rate of 5.3 per 100 million miles of travel was the lowest ever recorded in the state and well below the national rate of 5.9. Michigan ranked third among the large states.

The revised figures show a saving of 209 lives, or 12 percent, as compared with 1956, a year in which there also was a substantial reduction.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE—

How spiritual perception of God's power brings freedom from bondage to materialism will be a topic dealt with at Christian Science services Sunday.

Keynoting the lesson-sermon on "Matter" is the Golden Text from 1 John (2:16) "All that is in the world, the lust of the flesh, and the lust of the eyes, and the pride of life, is not of the Father, but is of the world."

From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will be read the following (277:29): "Nothing we can say or believe regarding matter is immortal, for matter is temporal and is therefore a mortal phenomenon, a human concept, sometimes beautiful, always erroneous."

Selections from the Bible will include the following (Isaiah 40:8): "The grass withereth, the flower fadeth; but the word of our God shall stand forever."

The United States, having completed arrangements for nuclear missile bases in the British Isles, is now negotiating for similar launching sites in France.

Chances for success in growing blueberries depend on three conditions, soil acidity, variety and age of plants when transplanted.

Blueberries will not grow and produce just anywhere. Anyone considering buying blueberry plants should make a careful study of his situation before investing large amounts of money in plants.

Blueberries need a very acid soil. The PH level should be about four or five. It is best to get a soil test made so you will know the exact soil acidity.

A high water table is also desirable. Eighteen to 24 inches from the ground surface is a good standard to follow.

Sandy soil with a lot of organic matter is best suited although acid peat soils can be used to some advantage. A "rule of thumb" in judging appropriateness of the soil is to look for the presence of wild high bush blueberries or wild spirea.

Plants ought to be two years old for the best results when transplanting them from a nursery that carries the up-to-date recommended varieties.

Earlblue, Bluegray, Bluecrop and Jersey are the varieties recommended for Michigan growing conditions. Earlblue is first to mature, followed by the other varieties in the order listed. Earlblue fruit begins to ripen about July 10-15 and the other varieties follow in weekly intervals.

Blueberries reach maturity in seven or eight years. Usually they will produce enough the fourth year to just about break even on expenses.

Pick off any berries the first year after planting for best plant development.

Growers may plant one variety or several varieties as they wish. But one variety will produce satisfactorily and does not need another nearby for cross pollination purposes.

Farmers who did not get their alfalfa fields sprayed for yellow rocket last fall can still do the job. But the spraying must be done before the alfalfa "greens up" this spring.

Control of yellow rocket with chemicals is usually better in the fall but farmers can get fairly good kill with early spring spraying.

It is easy to spot yellow rocket plants in fields. Leaves stay green year-around and plants are usually taller than the alfalfa.

Boyd Churchill, farm crops researcher at Michigan State University, recommends farmers use a spray made of one-half pound of MCP amine to control the yellow rocket weed.

Spray only established alfalfa or red clover fields with this chemical weed killer MCP will damage new alfalfa seedlings.

Dollard, a new medium red of June clover which has been the outstanding variety in tests at the Lake City Experiment Station, is now available at a reasonable price to Isosco County farmers.

During five years of testing, this variety, which was developed in Canada, yielded 2.8 tons per acre as compared to 2.4 tons for Michigan grown clover. This 17 percent or two-fifths ton increase of hay is worth $8 and can be obtained at an increase in seed cost of about $1 per acre.

In addition to yielding more hay, Dollard has been clearly the best variety in the northern part of the Lower Peninsula because of its resistance to northern anthracnose disease, according to Milo B. Tesar, farm crops researcher at Michigan State University.

The supply is adequate for 1958 planting. Seed stores have it at a slight increase in price over Michigan-grown clover.

Mark Twain Poked Fun at Plank Roads

Humorist Mark Twain poked fun at Michigan's plank roads back in the 1840s—and apparently with some justification, according to material in The University of Michigan Historical Collections.

It seems he made a stage trip over one of these roads to give a lecture in Grand Rapids. When asked how he liked the trip, he replied, "The road wouldn't have been so bad if some scoundrel had not now and then dropped a plank across it."

The anecdote and an account of the condition of the plank roads are contained in a transportation article by the late Roger L. Morrison, formerly a member of the U-M faculty.

According to Morrison, "Some of these plank roads were well maintained but others became very bad when the plank rotted away, leaving many holes."

After Michigan became a state in 1837, there was no more road building by the federal government. Roads already built soon became very bad from the lack of proper maintenance.

Many private toll road companies came into being. These were known as plank road companies. The predecessor of the plank road was the corduroy road, many miles of which were built in the swampy areas of the state.

Some of the plank roads were in good condition in 1900, but in the condition of many, the end of the plank road was already plainly forecast.

For instance, the description of the East Saginaw, Vassar and Sanilac road was as follows: "This road is worse, if possible, than the Saginaw and Genesee Road. A fearsome road to travel over. A few loads of broken stone have been dumped here and there on the rotten planks. The ditches are dammed up and used for duck ponds. The toll houses are mere shacks."

The remaining toll roads seem to have been abandoned not long after the turn of the century.

Two pilots, racing their planes to an aerial intersection, had a tie—too bad and two dead.

Americans Biggest Pill Takers in Whole World

It is said that Americans are the biggest pill takers in the world. And more than anything else, we take sleeping pills. Tons of them are swallowed yearly.

There are hundreds of books and theories which explain how to fall asleep faster, deeper, just when you want to and only when you should.

The odd thing about all this is that surveys show that though we go to all kinds of trouble trying to get to sleep, America still has over 26,000,000 obsolete mattresses and springs in use.

Is there any wonder we need pills, gadgets and theories! Perhaps we should look under the sheets at the bumps, lumps, dips, rips, deflated sacks and torture racks on which we try to sleep, then replace them with top-quality bedding, and we could get to sleep without all these sleep-inducers.

After many of us get a comfortable bed, it would seem we do not know what to do with it. Do not expect to fall into your comfortable new bed and go right off to sleep. If you do this and find that you are still awake a half hour later, many of us start to fret and here we defeat our own cause. Most of us follow a fairly common pattern. After about 20 to 30 minutes we begin to catch little periods of sleep lasting no longer than a minute or so. They increase in duration and we progress into a more intense condition of lethargy.

You must be relaxed and feel confident that you will some time or other reach a state of lethargy or semi-sleeplessness. This is followed by deep, restful sleep.

Doctors who have made a study of sleep tell us that we obtain a better quality of sleep if there is some fresh air coming into the room. The cover should be warm enough for the climate but never heavy in weight. The clothes chosen for sleep should be loose fitting and should have sleeves.

More Hay Grown Than Any Other Crop

Michigan grows 300,000 acres more hay than it does corn. Hay acreage in the state is greater than that of any other crop.

Fred Elliott, plant breeder with the farm crops department at Michigan State University, says there is a definite need for improvement of Michigan forage crops.

The major problem, Elliott says, is to get the right species of a forage crop in the right place. This is complicated further because there are so many combinations grown in Michigan.

the Snapshot Guild

This is truly a picture of spring—the first blossoms, the baby lamb, and a little girl pleased to be playing outside without a coat.

"The Picture of Spring"

Spring's definitely on the way—and if you're like us, you can't wait until you get out into the country again. There's something truly wonderful about the world as the landscape comes to life in the fresh new garb of spring.

One of the real pleasures of picture-taking at this time of year is the rich variety of scenic views the season provides. The landscape need not be majestic or awe-inspiring. Look for a pleasant glade, a small pond, a tree beside a curving lane. You'll find such material is easier to organize into a pleasing arrangement—and it produces intimate pictures, full of quiet charm.

Next to subject matter, arrangement and lighting are most important. You can "rearrange" a landscape simply by changing your camera position. Try it a bit to the left or right, to bring foreground objects into better relation with the distant parts of the scene; aim higher up or lower down, to get a more favorable viewpoint.

When you picture scenic views, be sure that you include objects in the foreground—a figure, shadow, or frame of foliage will do nicely. If you're snapping a valley from high on a hilltop, don't stand at the very edge of the hill. Back up a few paces, and include a tree or maybe a person admiring the vista beyond. If there are several trees, "frame" the view between their overhanging branches. Such foreground material will lend perspective to a scenic view, making it more interesting and attractive.

Don't worry about mist or haze—it actually helps give atmospheric quality to the landscape. If you want to cut down bluish haze, use a haze filter and the distant vista will show up more clearly. A cloud filter will also be helpful when you want to record a dramatic cloud effect seen against a brilliant blue sky.

Shadows are important in scenic views, too—and regular behind-the-camera lighting rarely brings the best results. Instead look for scenic material that is side-light or back-light—so that shadows cross the scene or fall toward the camera. If the sun shines directly on the camera lens, shield it with a lens hood or find a slightly different angle from which to shoot.
