Tawas City's 1958 Assessed Tax Base Set at $2,064,300

Tawas City's assessed tax base for 1958-59 was adopted this week at $2,064,300 in real and personal property values.

This total represents an increase of $63,200 over last year's assessed valuation.

Ward supervisors, Mayor George Tuttle and Clerk Walter Nelson met as a board of review March 11, 12, 18 and 19 where final tabulations were made.

As the city's assessed valuation continues to increase year after year, millage has been decreasing. In 1950, 25 mills were levied while this year's millage is 17.

Plan Harrisville Ranger District---

Announce Reorganization of Area Forest Ranger Districts

Plans are underway to establish a new United States Forest Service Ranger District headquarters at Harrisville by July 1, it was announced Tuesday by L. A. Pommerening, supervisor of the Lower Michigan National Forest at Cadillac.

Heavy work loads on the Tawas and Mio districts made it necessary to change the boundaries and create a third district, said Mr. Pommerening.

The new district will include all forest service lands in Alcona County and the three adjacent townships in Oscoda County. Total net government ownership will be in excess of 150,000 acres.

It is expected that District Ranger Conrad W. "Doc" Carlson will move to the Region Nine office at Milwaukee, Wisconsin, about the middle of May. This regional office is United States Forest Service headquarters for nine Mid-Western States.

Mr. Carlson has been the Tawas district ranger, with offices in the Federal Building, East Tawas, since November 1953. His new position will be in the Region Nine division of operations. Also expected to move soon is Assistant Ranger James R. List. List, who has been at Tawas for the past year, will go to Three Lakes, Wisconsin, as assistant ranger.

No successors have been named as yet for Mr. Carlson or Mr. List.

Personnel who will be assigned to the new ranger district headquarters at Harrisville have not been named. However, it is expected that the new ranger and his assistant will arrive on the job before July 1 to get the office established and take care of the many details which are encountered in the operation of a new ranger district.

More details on the new district will be announced later.

The last major reorganization of national forests in this area came in the spring of 1945 when the Huron and Manistee Forests were combined, with its new headquarters located at Cadillac.

The Huron was the older of the two national forests in the Lower Peninsula, having been created from land of the public domain February 11, 1909.

The two combined forests were designated administratively as the Lower Michigan National Forest, although the Huron and Manistee retained their identities.

City Looks for Plumbers to Install Water Meters

In a move to speed up preparations for the hook-up with East Tawas water mains, the Tawas City Water Department Monday night authorized the hiring of additional plumbers to install residential water meters.

The board gave Supt. of Public Works Reginald Bublitz complete authorization to hire additional plumbers needed to complete the job.

East Tawas' new water filtration plant is expected to be in operation by late April or early May. At that time Tawas City will purchase its municipal water supply from these new facilities.

The job of installing the water meters is a little more than half completed. Some 275 have been installed and about the same number remain.

Plumbers presently installing meters are Frank Ahonen and Richard Lanski. A number were installed by Rudolf Witke.

OSCODA MAN'S ANSWER

Anyone in the Oscoda area who seeks treatment for a gunshot wound this week had better be ready to answer a few questions. The sheriff's department is investigating several "peeping Tom" reports in that area.

One unidentified "peeper" was hit by a load of fire shot fired by an Oscoda resident. Sheriff O'Farrell did not say specifically where "Tom" was struck by the blast, "but neighbors say he yelped."

BURNING PERMIT A MUST BEFORE STARTING FIRE

"It's that time of year when the fire department usually is called out on numerous grass fires," it was stated this week by Fire Chief Fred Musolf of Tawas City. He warned that a burning permit must be obtained before a fire is started.

"Cost of suppressing grass fires in Tawas City which are started without a permit will be paid by the offender," said Chief Musolf.

Engineers Ask for Bids on Wurtsmith Runway

Advance notice to bidders on construction of airfield pavements and related facilities at various air force bases in Michigan was sent out this week by the United States Army Engineer District, Detroit.

Included was work at Wurtsmith Air Force Base, Oscoda. Bids are being sought by the corps of engineers on runway construction at Wurtsmith, Kinross, Sawyer and Selfridge Air Force Bases.

Wurtsmith's share of this expansion program amounts to more than $22,000,000. It is to provide facilities for units of the Strategic Air Command, expected to base B52 bombers and jet tankers here late in 1959.

Work details announced recently generally consists of construction of a new runway 11,800 feet by 300 feet, new aprons, new taxiways and related facilities.

The new runway will be from nine to 23 inches in thickness, requiring about 630,000 barrels of cement.

More than 1,000,000 yards of earth will be moved in readying the area for the runway taxi strip and apron concrete. The new runway will be built parallel to the present main runway.

The construction will also include construction of aircraft maintenance docks, jet fuel storage, airman's dormitories and officers quarters.

Mr. Nash made a presentation of a gift of money from the church.

A response was given by Mr. Nelson in which he reminisced on events during his first years as pastor of Grace Lutheran Church.

The Nelson family will be moving the first part of the week after Easter Sunday.

THREE MEMBERS of the Iosco County Sheriff's Department received "diplomas" after attending a two-day conference in law enforcement at Michigan State University. Officiating at the closing ceremonies were, left to right, Harold Haun of the MSU School of Police Administration and Public Safety; Ferris Lucas, secretary-treasurer of the sheriff's association, and Robert Russell, president of the Michigan Sheriff's Association. The conference features MSU police administration professors in lectures and investigation, presenting evidence and other elements of modern law enforcement.—Michigan State University Information Service.

East Tawas Fire Reporting System Ready by April 1

Installation of a new fire reporting system is now being completed in East Tawas by the Michigan Bell Telephone Company. The new system will go into operation April 1.

Jack Chatel, sales engineer for Michigan Bell at East Tawas, said Tuesday morning that the new system will be tested at 12 o'clock noon, April 1.

"The East Tawas siren will sound seven or eight times during the test," stated Mr. Chatel. Authorization to set up this new system, popularly known as the "St. Charles Plan," was adopted about a month ago by the East Tawas Council.

Michigan Bell Telephone Company has installed seven special telephones in East Tawas, five in homes of volunteer fireman, one at the city hall and one at the fire barn.

When a person in East Tawas wishes to report a fire he will dial the regular number for the fire department, FO 2-3537. The seven special phones will ring simultaneously.

The first person to answer any of these phones will take the location of the fire and press a button which will start the fire siren at the East Tawas city hall. Generally, this will take a matter of less than 30 seconds, or the length of time which is necessary to get information.

If case the call is taken at the home of a volunteer, the person who answers will remain on the phone until the fire barn phone is answered. Information will then be relayed to firemen there.

All seven of these special fire reporting phones, finished in a red color, are designed to take incoming calls only. They are not equipped with dial equipment.

Five cities in Michigan have adopted this system since it was first tried out at St. Charles. The plan is used in more than 40 communities in the United States.

Chatel said that more phones may be added at any time. "In fact, the fire siren could be eliminated all together by having special alarm bells installed in homes or business places of each of the volunteer firemen," he stated.

Rev. and Mrs. Robert Nelson Honored at Banquet Monday

About 125 people attended a farewell dinner for the Rev. and Mrs. Robert E. Nelson at Grace Lutheran Church last Monday evening. Families of all the congregation were represented.

After the meal, Charles Nash, chairman of the church board, gave a talk commending Pastor Nelson for his fine work during the past seven years and wished him success in his new field of service in Flint.

Mr. Nash made a presentation of a gift of money from the church.

A response was given by Mr. Nelson in which he reminisced on events during his first years as pastor of Grace Lutheran Church.

The Nelson family will be moving the first part of the week after Easter Sunday.

A congregational meeting followed the Wednesday evening Lenten service this week for the purpose of calling William C. Lindholm as pastor of Grace Lutheran Church. Mr. Lindholm has been assigned to Grace Lutheran Church, East Tawas, and Hope Lutheran Church, Oscoda, by the ministerial board of the Augustana Church.

He is a senior at the Augustana Theological Seminary and will be ordained in June. He has served as minister at Worcester, Massachusetts, during his internship. His family resides at Ogden, Iowa. After his ordination, Mr. and Mrs. Lindholm and their two children will be moving to East Tawas.

PICTURESQUE RODMAN WATER POWER MILL SOLD

One of Northern Michigan's last water-powered sawmills is closing down after 75 years of operation.

The Rodman sawmill on Silver Creek was sold March 6 to Russ Jameson, Saginaw industrialist and wildlife movie photographer. Jameson plans to turn the 320 acres purchased with the sawmill into a waterfowl and wildlife sanctuary. He plans to preserve the old mill.

Built in 1884 by the late Asa J. Rodman, it has been operated for many years by his son, Lewis Rodman. Mr. Rodman and his wife, Lillian, will continue to live in the old homestead there.

Rodman, a veteran member of the Iosco County Board of Supervisors, has carried on a one-man sawmill operation there since the death of his father.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

God's supremacy and all-power will be explained in the lesson-sermon entitled "Reality" at Christian Science services Sunday.

From the Bible will be read the following (1 Chronicles 29:11): "Thine, O Lord, is the greatness, and the power, and the glory, and the victory, and the majesty: for all that is in the heaven and in the earth is thine; thine is the kingdom, O Lord, and thou art exalted as head above all."

Correlative passages to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include the following (47:24-25): "All reality is in God and his creation, harmonious and eternal."

The Golden Text is from Psalms (33:11): "The counsel of the Lord standeth for ever, the thoughts of his heart to all generations."

Mrs. Jordan Hostess to McIvor Farm Bureau

Mrs. Merlin Jordan was hostess to the McIvor Farm Bureau Group at the Sherman Township Hall on Tuesday, March 18.

"Do you want an increased appropriation for an expanded agricultural research program?" was the discussion topic. The group responded by addressing cards to various members of the house ways and means committee and the senate appropriation committee.

Each member resolved to send a card to Congressman Elford Cederberg, to express his opinion on the subject of pay television.

Green Thumbs Will Meet Next Monday

The cool weather and lack of the normal spring rains has apparently postponed the development of the usual number of green thumbs for this time of year. Therefore, there will be a joint meeting of the landscaping and gardening classes on Monday, March 31, in the vocational agriculture room at the Tawas Area High School, at 8:00 p. m.

Due to the fact that there is very little interest in a course on vegetable gardening, the course offered will deal entirely with flower gardening and landscaping.

New members wishing to enroll may do so at the March 31 meeting for a fee of $2.

Have Until April 15 to Sign Under Reserve Program

Farmers may sign contracts under the Conservation Reserve Program until April 15. Those interested in this program may call at the county ASC office in the Federal Building, East Tawas, to learn how payments can be earned.

Under the Conservation Reserve Program, farmers may sign contracts to divert their general cropland from crops to soil and water conservation uses, tree planting and wildlife protection for periods of three, five and 10 years.

On the five and 10-year contracts, farmers get government cost-share payments of up to 80 percent. Annual rental payments of $8 and from $2.40-$4 are paid for Iosco County.

Conservation Reserve contracts can be made for five or 10 years for planting trees or shrubs for wildlife protection. The government pays up to 80 percent in cost-shares for establishing this practice. Beginning in 1958, a higher annual payment may be earned for some Conservation Reserve acreage than was possible last year. For example, heretofore a non-diversion payment of 30 percent of the full payment rate has been made when additional eligible land on the farm such as hayland was put in the Conservation Reserve. Now, the county committee may raise the non-diversion rate to 50 percent of the regular rate when all eligible land on a farm is placed in the Conservation Reserve or when land put in the program is planted to forest trees.

When all eligible cropland on the farm is placed in the Conservation Reserve and all such land is planted to forest trees, the county committee may raise the annual payment to 100 percent of the regular rate, which is $8 for Iosco County. When these higher rates are granted, however, the county committee must determine that the land or rental value or the productivity of the farm justifies such action.

Farmers are advised by the Iosco County ASC county committee to call at the ASC office in the Federal Building to talk over plans for taking part in the 1958 Conservation Reserve Program. They may file contracts until April 15.

Trappers are required to present pelts for checking by conservation officers or headquarters personnel. Trapping seasons are varied in length, by area, to accomplish a maximum harvest of beaver without damaging breeding stock.

Calendar:

Thursday, April 3—Iosco-Tawas ABA meeting, Federal Building, East Tawas, at 8:00 p. m.

Tuesday, April 8—Northeastern Michigan Lamb Marketing Association board of directors, Reno Township Hall, 8:00 p. m.

Monday, April 14—"Landscape Planning," Joseph Cox, landscape architect, Michigan State University.

Over-eating disease (enterotoxemia) has caused wide spread losses among feeder lambs. It has now been found in feeder cattle, too. Dr. Glen Reed, Michigan State University veterinarian, tells us that cattle and sheep alike, must be on the alert.

Over-eating disease causes sudden death. There are other quick-killing cattle diseases, such as, anthrax, blackleg and others. This means that when sudden death occurs, call your veterinarian to determine the exact cause!

Dr. Reed says that this over-eating disease (enterotoxemia) was first thought to be shipping fever since the symptoms are similar. The disease can be found in animals ranging from one-week-old, on up to mature animals. Although commonly found in feeder lambs, it has also shown up in beef and dairy calves, and seems to affect the better fed animals.

Good feeding management is necessary for prevention. Starting the young animals off easily on grain feeding seems to help. Vaccination has been used with some success as a preventative in measure, too, but Dr. Reed says that more research needs to be, and is, being done to combat enterotoxemia.

Better alfalfa stands can be made on wheat ground by planting the alfalfa after the wheat is harvested instead of in the spring, according to Milo Tesar, farm crops scientist at Michigan State University.

The top wheat producers in Michigan are using 40 pounds or more of nitrogen per acre and getting 40 to 60 bushels per acre yield. But it is hard to get a good alfalfa seeding with the heavy straw and growth of the wheat stands. The alfalfa cannot take the shade and competition of the earlier starting wheat.

Plow immediately after harvesting and seed the alfalfa in August. Band seeded alfalfa planted before August 31 will usually be better than a seeding made in the spring.

The heavy wheat stands do not hold back red clover as much and you can get good stands with red clover under conditions which make alfalfa a failure or nearly so.

Red clover seedings can be improved by drilling the seed early in April. Set the disks to cut about an inch deep (this will not hurt the wheat) and put on 100 pounds of 0-20-0 or 0-20-10 right down the spout with the clover seed into the disk furrow.

A once-a-week application of an "all purpose" spray can help home fruit growers produce good quality fruit that is free from insect and disease damage.

Alfred C. Dowdy, Michigan State University entomologist, reported that three years of testing by home gardeners has demonstrated the effectiveness of an "all purpose" spray containing malathion, methoxychlor and captan. He made this report at the annual meeting of the Entomological Society of America being held in Memphis, Tennessee.

The all purpose spray was developed in the search for a simple insect and disease control measure for home gardeners to use on their backyard orchards. Commercial growers follow a complicated schedule for applying sprays and must maintain much equipment but home gardeners do not want to follow such a detailed program.

Dowdy said that there are several commercial mixtures available that contain the three recommended materials. He said that the mixtures to be used for the all purpose spray should contain the materials in about these percentages—10 to 12 percent captan, 10 to 15 percent malathion and 12 to 15 percent methoxychlor.

A once-a-week recommendation makes spraying a week-end job. Applications should begin soon after the emergence of the first foliage and should stop seven days before the fruit is picked. However, applications should be halted during bloom or a fungicide (captan) alone should be applied.

Thorough coverage is extremely important to the success of this all purpose spray program.

and growers should have adequate equipment to do this job. A fresh mixture of spray should be prepared every time an application is made.

Results obtained with all purpose dusts have not been as successful as sprays against sucking insects, such as, aphids and mites. However, the most serious problem of the backyard garden, that of worms in the fruit, has been entirely eliminated by both dusts and sprays when thorough coverage is obtained.

Dowdy also reported that tests are underway to find materials that have a longer residual effect and that are easier to handle in making up the spray mixture. These materials may make it necessary to spray only once every two weeks and also may cut down on excessive wear on equipment.

An experimental fungicide, cyprax, and an experimental insecticide, sevin, has shown up well in research to date, Dowdy said. Both have longer residual effects than materials now recommended for the all purpose spray.

To prove the durability of Chevrolet's radical new Turbo-Thrust V8,* the tremendous flexibility of the new Turboglide transmission,* the incredible smoothness of Full Coil suspension, we tackled the most challenging transcontinental road in the world—the 1,000-mile General San Martin Highway. Commemorative Stamps Purchased by Garden Club

For the first time in the history of any country, a postage stamp honoring gardening and horticulture has been issued.

It was released March 15 at Ithaca, New York, as part of the 100th anniversary celebration at Cornell University of the great American horticulturist, Liberty Hyde Bailey.

Officers of the Tawas City Garden Club are shown purchasing the first supply of these commemorative stamps which went on sale last Thursday at the Tawas City post office.

The State of Michigan proudly claims Mr. Bailey as a native son. He was born on a farm near South Haven, graduated from the then Michigan Agricultural College in 1882 and later was the first man to fill the newly established chair of horticulture and landscape gardening at East Lansing.

After only three years at Michigan State, his fame had spread and he was invited to establish a chair of practical and experimental horticulture at Cornell University, which institution he was associated with until his death in 1954.

Hale Grange Has Large Attendance

A large number of Grangers were in attendance at a meeting held Tuesday evening at the Grange Hall at Hale.

A report was given by John Dooley, master, on the meeting for instructions held March 4.

Following a report by Mrs. Florence Dooley on the activities of the Health Council, the Grange voted to help the council in any way needed on the Red Cross and Easter Seal campaigns.

Andrew Matthews gave a report on the conference held at Alpena.

A cakewalk is being held at each meeting of the Grange to obtain funds for the purchase of a punch bowl set for the school. This will be presented by Elizabeth Lackie.

Merriment for the evening was provided in contests. George Webb had the longest peeling in the men's apple peeling contest and Mary Matthews refused to smile when the ladies were requested to smile in a frame. She won the prize.

A pancake supper is being planned to be held in the near future.

WITH THE IOSCO—
4-H Clubs

By DOROTHY SCOTT
Home Demonstration Agent

We have just received information about 4-H judging contests for the summer. So it seems like a good time to mention contests.

Each year various kinds of contests are offered for young people in 4-H Clubs all around Michigan, all around the country for that matter.

Among them are the judging contests in food preparation, clothing, food preservation, home improvement, vegetable gardening and livestock projects.

Winners in county contests meet together at the District Round-Up for further eliminations. These district winners compete again at the State 4-H Club Show. Awards for "top" demonstrations at district and state contests are arranged.

"How do I take part in a judging contest?" you ask. First there should be a judging practice in your project. For example, suppose you want to be in the foods judging contest. After the lessons outlined in your bulletin are completed, why not have another meeting—or two—or three—to learn about judging? These meetings could be added to your project at the time you are working on the lessons, or they might be planned for May or June so you would be sure to remember what you learn for the county and district contests.

Everyone can learn how to choose the best product, the second best one, and so on. You just need to learn the rules of the game, like playing baseball.

What you learn in judging will help make your next project easier and better.

I will be glad to help your project group with judging. Just tell me when you will be ready for help. If your project is vegetable gardening or livestock, Mr. Davenport will be glad to help you, too.

Surviving are his wife, Leah L.; a son, Jack C.; two grandchildren; a brother, John VanNatter of Port Huron, and a sister, Mrs. Jennie Young of Grosse Pointe.

After leaving Iosco County, he purchased a drug store at Deckerville which he continued to operate until his illness and death. On February 12 of this year the Michigan Pharmaceutical Association honored Mr. VanNatter for his 50 years of service as druggist to his community and the people of Michigan. Fewer than 45 men have this distinction.

Remember what you learn for the county and district contests.

In the humorous division, Arlene Partlo was awarded first place with "To Be or Not to Be." Others taking part in the contest were Betty Hupeik, Dian Heierman, Gloria Siegrist and Paul Edie.

FFA News—

On Monday and Tuesday of this week FFA members, Jerry Koehn and David Smith, attended a state FFA convention in East Lansing.

as delegates from the Whittemore-Prescott Area chapter.

This annual state convention is held to elect the state association officers and to award the star farmers of the state. This association, besides numerous things, purchases the awards for the deserving members and provides training for FFA officers.

An important event will also take place at the state convention. This is the state FFA contest. The regional winners for the four divisions will compete for state championship in their particular division.

On April 10, 11 and 12 newly-elected officers of the Whittemore-Prescott chapter will go to Higgins Lake for officer training. This will be sponsored by the state association.

Book Fair—

A book fair was held at the Sherman Elementary School on March 19 and in the Whittemore Elementary Building on March 20 and 21. On Thursday the high school viewed the book exhibition and on Friday the elementary grades attended it. Reno school students, accompanied by Mrs. St. John, were guests of the school Friday afternoon at the book fair.

Book reviews were given by Mrs. Helen Curtis, Whittemore branch librarian; Mrs. Lois Fuerst, school librarian, and Muriel Moulton, assistant school librarian.

Included in the reviews and exhibitions were the latest books on space travel and many books for both recreational and informational reading. These books were from the regional library.

The setting up of the exhibition was very capably handled by Robert Miracle, assistant school librarian.

All the students received the exhibition well and with interest as to what books have to offer them.

Next week the exhibition will move to the Prescott Elementary School and this display will include books from the state library.

Juvenile Grangers Busy With Entertainment Plans

The Whittemore Juvenile Grangers are making plans to entertain the members of the subordinate Grange home economics committee at their April meeting, "Happiness Via Service" will keep the children busy this year. They are making sock dolls, happiness balls and other small gifts to be given to the sick or needy. They also plan to make a scrap book which will be mailed to Greece where it will be used to help educate the people of that nation.

A seed picture contest and a calico corn contest are also creating much interest among the children.

WE HEAR?

A wish of six years has finally come true for Mrs. Bertha Montgomery, office manager for the Tawas Chamber of Commerce. A new asphalt tile floor has been installed at the chamber office on US-23.

A wide break in the concrete floor which ran the full length of the building was filled last week and tan colored tile laid. New hearth tile finished off the fireplace.

Said Mrs. Montgomery: "This new tile makes a big difference in the appearance of the building. Everyone who has visited the chamber office this week agrees."

Dr. J. J. Austin of Tawas City had a "sporty look" Tuesday afternoon. He drove over to Tawas Hospital in son, Jutty's Corvette sports car. After returning home, only a block away, he changed back to his own car. He may have thought it too sporty.

The Michigan State Police Post at East Tawas is now equipped with a new poison antidote kit to be used in case of accidental poisoning. Trooper Charles Gaff, who attended a special first aid school at East Lansing last week, will instruct officers here in the use of this emergency kit.

Try-outs for starring roles in the three-act comedy, "Rest Assured," are being made by members of the junior class at Tawas Area High School this week. Director Harry Crawford said that the play is to be presented April 24-25.

Participate in East Lansing Music Festival

Four Tawas Area High School musicians participated in the state solo-ensemble festival at East Lansing March 22.

Lynda Wight was awarded an "I" division rating for her piano solo; Joellen Fernet, an "I" rating for her bass clarinet solo; Paul Simons, "II" rating for his piano solo, and Joseph Czika, "II" division rating for his French horn solo.

Division "I" rating is the highest which can be achieved by a high school soloist.

This year, for the first time, a proficiency examination was started. This is over and above the solo work. In order to enter this, a student must have received an "I" rating at the state level.

Two Tawas clarinetists entered this examination and both passed. Nancy Allen, first chair performer with the Tawas Area Band, received a 92 score out of a possible 100. Carolyn Evans received an 87 score.

Eighty-five percent was necessary for passing. The examination covered three areas of performance, major and minor scales, sight-reading and a prepared solo.

Let's go "fishin" for salmon, tuna, sardines, anchovies, crab, shrimp, lobster, oysters—all specialties for the Lenten season. Today is the item for buyman's information. There are five distinct species with differences in color, texture, flavor and price. Deeper red varieties with a higher oil content are more expensive. Here is how to select the variety best for different salmon dishes.

Chinook or King Salmon, rich with oil and soft in texture, is fine for salad. Sockeye Salmon is firmer in texture and has a high oil content. Use it where chunks of fish are wanted. Medium red (Silver, Coho) salmon is fine for combination dishes, sandwiches and even salads. Pink salmon is the most abundant. Light in color, it is a good all purpose variety. Chum or Keta Salmon is the economy selection for salmon loaf or cooked dishes. It has least color.

Here is a menu suggestion featuring scalloped salmon made with the pink variety: Baked potatoes, stewed tomatoes, crisp cabbage wedges and gingerbread with lemon sauce.

"Oh joy, that's for me," you exclaim when the buyman's tag says the fabric is wrinkle resistant.

This desirable characteristic is applied to cotton, linen, rayon and nylon fabrics. It not only helps prevent wrinkles, it helps fabrics recover rapidly from wrinkles.

Some such finishes are more resistant than others and some fabrics respond to the treatment better than others. Treated fabrics are often easier to iron and soil less rapidly.

If all this seems too good, well, once in awhile it does have a poor feature. If the fabric is so resistant to wrinkles it does not take a good press, then seams, hemlines and collar edges look puffy instead of smooth and flat.

A test for crease resistance is to crush the material in your hand to see whether it wrinkles and whether the folds disappear. Be sure the finish label says "permanent."

Is your family often on the move? If so and you have to move furniture frequently, be sure to keep "movability" in mind when furniture purchases are made.

Do you know modern furniture designers and manufacturers are meeting the need for mobile furnishings? They are making "knock-down" tables and chairs which are easy to ship. You take them apart, screw by screw. Disassembled, they are less likely to be damaged enroute.

Bench seating is available—every kind from simple flat cushions to sofas with bench foundations. Remove and pack the cushions flat. Backs and seats of some sofas just fold up.

Push-in, slide under, or fold-up convertible sofas and beds can be found that collapse for shipping.

This is for the folk who have found some of that meanie weed, yellow rocket, in their fields. Chances are you are not happy about it. If you did not get any spraying done last fall, it can still be done this spring.

Spraying must be done, though, before the alfalfa "greens up." Because the leaves of yellow rocket plants stay green year-around, the plants are easy to spot.

What spray? MCP amine is recommended by farm crops researchers at Michigan State University. Use one-half pound of this acid (MCP) per acre. Follow the manufacturers directions on the label.

They add this warning, spray only established alfalfa or red clover fields. MCP will damage new seedlings.

Gerald, small son of the Victor Johnsons in East Tawas, is pleased with his new stool. His mother asked us if a stool like the one many home demonstration members made last year could be arranged for him.

Over a period of about a week Mrs. Johnson came by for a little more help on her project. First the legs and rungs had to be sanded. Next the finish and wax were applied. It was easy to do while all the pieces were separate.

The last step in assembling the wood parts was to glue them in position and apply pressure for the drying period. And, finally, a seat was woven from wool twine. When Gerald has used it for awhile and the seat finds its "level," Mrs. Johnson may decide to apply shellac so cleaning will be easy.

These stools measure approximately 13 by 13 by 13 inches. A good size for many uses. Usually we try to help a group of five to 10 women at a time with projects of this kind. However, it is sometimes possible to arrange ways of helping women with many kinds of things individually.

So, do not hesitate to ask if you have a project in mind for which you could use some assistance.

Mrs. Anna Lorko

Funeral services were held Wednesday morning for Mrs. Anna Lorko of Allen Park, formerly residing near Turner. Mrs. Lorko died Sunday at the Wayne General Hospital.

Born July 25, 1882, she married Emil Lorko in 1904. Mr. Lorko died three years ago. They had resided near Turner for many years.

Surviving are five daughters, eight grandchildren and five great grandchildren.
