

LUMBERING ON THE HURON SHORE

Lumbermen swarmed into this area during the latter half of the 1800's, attracted by some of the finest pine forests in North America. From Tawas City, where the first sawmill was built in 1854, north to Alpena, about twelve billion board feet of timber were cut between 1866 and 1896. Each spring the Au Sable, the Thunder Bay, and the other rivers of the region were filled with logs being driven to the sawmills. To the lake ports lumber boats came in the summer to carry the lumber away to help build the nation.

THE THOUSANDS of tourists and vacationers who will be using popular East Tawas State Park this year will find something new has been added. The addition is one of the Michigan Historical Commission's official state markers relating to a few highlights from the colorful history of the lumbering days along the Lake Huron Shore from Tawas City north to Alpena. The marker will be unveiled today.—Tawas Herald Photo.

Historical Marker Unveiling Today

Formal dedication and unveiling of a Michigan Historical Commission marker at the state park in East Tawas will take place today (Thursday) at 1:30 p. m. Principal speaker at the ceremony will be George S. May, the commission's historic sites specialist.

Representatives of the Michigan Historical Commission, the state department of conservation and officials and business leaders of East Tawas, Tawas City and Oscoda will meet to dedicate the marker.

This is the first such marker to be erected in this area. It is of cast metal with raised letters on each side. It will be located east of the parking lot, directly across from the bait shop.

The event will be part of Isoco County's celebration of Michigan Week, an ideal time for Michiganders to recall their varied heritage.

Here, along the Huron Shore, was one of the world's finest stands of pine forests. The first sawmill was built at Tawas City in 1854. During the remainder of the nineteenth century lumberjacks and timber barons flocked to the area.

In a 30-year period following 1866, a staggering total of 12,000,000,000 board feet of timber was cut in the area, plus uncounted quantities of cedar and other forest products.

"Each spring," the marker text points out, "the AuSable, the Thunder Bay, and other rivers of the region were filled with logs being driven to the sawmills."

Reading the marker, and looking out over Tawas Bay, tourists may be able to visualize the time, decades ago, when lumber boats came here each summer to carry the cut timber away to help build the nation.

Armed Forces Day Plans Set for WAFB

Special fly-overs, a full dress military parade and a public display of air force equipment are only a few of the attractions being planned for Wurtsmith Air Force Base's observance of Armed Forces Day Saturday, May 17.

Lt. Col. Edward Dudeck, group executive officer, is heading a committee of officers preparing the program for the annual observance.

Last year more than 10,000 Michigan residents visited the base near Oscoda to get a first hand look at the nation's first line of defense. An even larger crowd is expected this year.

Visitors will see everything from needle-nosed supersonic jet fighter planes to German Shepherd sentry dogs.

The day-long program of activities will open with a military parade on the flight line. One of the highlights of the review will be the presentation of the Distinguished Flying Cross to Captain Burford Culpepper of the 445th Fighter Interceptor Squadron for his role in the first firing of an air-to-air atomic missile last summer.

RECEIVING KEYS TO THE CITY—Visiting Mayors John Darbee, left, of Clawson and John Halmond, right, of North Muskegon received the "keys" to the twin cities at the Mayors Exchange Day luncheon held Monday at the Barnes Hotel. 'Red Carpet' Rolled Out by Tawas for Visiting Mayors

Tawas rolled out its best "red carpet" Monday to welcome visiting dignitaries from other sections of the state who were here for Mayors Exchange Day, as part of this community's observance of Michigan Week.

Exchanging official duties with the two Tawas mayors for the day were Mayor John Darbee of Clawson and Mayor John Halmond of North Muskegon. Mayor George Tuttle of Tawas City went to Clawson and Mayor Elmer Werth of East Tawas went to North Muskegon.

The visiting mayors, their wives and friends who accompanied them here were taken on a whirlwind tour of each community by the special Mayors Day Committee, which included representatives of the two businessmen's organizations and city officials.

Later, the two groups met at the Tawas Area High School on M-55 where they were entertained with a band concert. After visiting with school officials, the entire group left en masse for the Isoco County Building and Isoco County Jail where they were conducted on a special tour by county officials.

A. Don Anderson, president of the Tawas Chamber of Commerce, extended a welcome to the guests on behalf of both Tawas City and East Tawas at a luncheon held at the Barnes Hotel. The affair was attended by about 50 businessmen and civic leaders.

Guests introduced, besides the two mayors, were: Judge Herman Dehne, Harrisville; Alderman Frank Wilkusi, East Tawas; City Clerk Walter Nelson, Tawas City; Alderman Earl Davis, Tawas City; Alderman Clyde Eiril, Tawas City; Alderman John Brugger, Tawas City; Supervisor Clarence Everett, Tawas City. Rex Kochenderfer, mayor pro tem of East Tawas, extended a welcome to Mayor Halmond and his wife and presented a plaque to him from the city council and mayor of East Tawas.

Cecil Cabbie, acting mayor pro tem of Tawas City, welcomed Mayor Darbee and his wife and presented him with a metal planter from Clute Sheet Metal.

Mayor Halmond, in response to the welcome, drew a similarity between his home community and the Tawasites. He said that North Muskegon had a population of about 4,000, although explained that it was a "bedroom city." By that, he meant that people who live in North Muskegon do not work there. "Most of our citizens find employment in the metropolitan area of Muskegon," he stated.

This was the fifth time that Mayor Darbee had participated in the Mayors Exchange Day. He said that Clawson had a population of about 14,500 persons, although only 5,000 were listed in the 1950 census. This difference has resulted in quite a tax problem for Clawson, said Mayor Darbee. "Our population has tripled since 1950, but the city valuation is only about double that at the

Flint Man is Iosco's First Drowning Victim in 1958

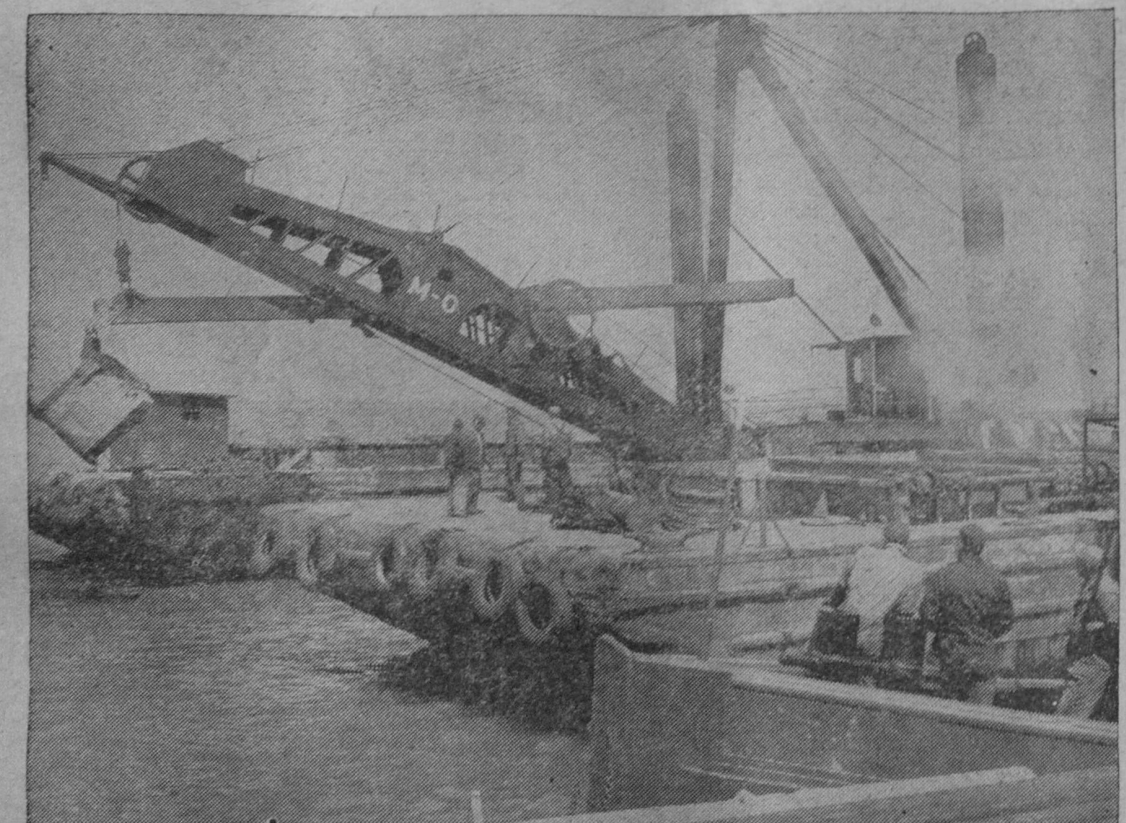

Wilber M. Richardson, 44, of Flint was Iosco County's first accidental drowning victim in 1958.

He lost his life late last Saturday afternoon when his boat overturned on Round Lake, near Hale, Richardson, his wife, Ann, and two children had been staying at their cabin for the week-end. Witnesses told investigating officers that Richardson had gone out fishing on the lake by himself.

Apparently when he moved from the middle of the boat to the stern, the boat slipped sideways and turned over while he was standing up.

His body was found about 30 minutes after the accident in about 5½ feet of water by Donald Johns of Flint and Deputy Sheriff John Ballinger.

Dragging operations were conducted by the Isoco County Sheriff's Department and the Michigan State Police Post at East Tawas.

American Soil Stewardship Week Starts May 11

Starting May 11 through May 18 the United States will observe Soil Stewardship Week. "During this week each year is a good time to stop and look around to see what is happening to the land," stated Richard Rose of the United States Soil Conservation Service. Not only the people who own land, but all people that use the land should remember that people are just tenants on the land. Regardless if use of the land is for recreation or agriculture, it should be treated so that the nation's children will have it in better condition than their parents found it. When one thinks about the 100 years that it takes mother nature to build an inch of topsoil on the land, and how quickly man can destroy this work, it is then one realizes that it is necessary to be stewards of the soil every day of the year. It is for this reason, that 2,700 soil conservation districts of America appeal to churches on a national scale to help in reminding all citizens of man's responsibility to God in Soil Stewardship. On the fifth Sunday following Easter, during Rogation season, thousands of churches of all faiths will begin observance of Soil Stewardship Week. It is important to everyone that this effort on the part of the forces of good for this community may grow in extent and effectiveness.

Christ illustrates that blending with God, his divine Principle, which gives man dominion over all the earth.

WITH THE IOSCO— 4-H Clubs

By DOROTHY SCOTT
Home Demonstration Agent

Calendar:
Friday, May 9—Reno Topnotchers 4-H Club open house.
Tuesday, May 13—4-H Club Leaders Council.

Reno Topnotchers 4-H Club members will display projects being completed now at their meeting on May 9 in Reno Township Hall, beginning at 8:00 p. m. Open house meeting is one of the year's highlights for a 4-H Club. It means some of the goals set have been reached. It means a time when parents and friends in the community can join with the young people to learn more about what they are doing as members of the 4-H Club. It means a time for evaluating the work being done, usually with the help of county extension agents. It means a time to observe the excellent meeting procedures the young people have learned.

So, come one, come all interested in activities of young people in Reno Township. They will be pleased to have you as their guests, inspired by your interest in them.

It is that time of year, once more, when we think about who among our 4-H Club members can best represent Iosco County as candidates for state conservation camp, 4-H Club Week and in various state award contests.

It is time, too, to think about a dress revue event, 4-H Club tours, other open house events, the dis-

Two Iosco Men Left for Physicals Last Tuesday

Two men from Iosco County were ordered to report for physical examination on May 6. They are: Fredrick D. St. James, Whittemore, and Rolland N. Hughes, who has transferred to a Lansing board.

Eugene L. Killingsbeck, volunteer, of Turner will leave for induction on May 14. He will be accompanied by James E. Daniels of Osceola, a transfer from a Washington, D. C. board.

Michigan Local Board No. 36 has received advance notice of calls for June, six for physical examination and one for induction.

Announcement is also made of the resignation of Howard R. Eymmer as a member of this local board, and the appointment of Donald H. Jordan to succeed him. Both men are from Osceola.

district 4-H Club Camp, demonstrations and judging contests and county fair.

4-H Club leaders and junior leaders will direct their attention to these contests and events at a meeting in the Federal Building, East Tawas, at 8 o'clock on Tuesday, May 13.

Sewing project members in Peaceful Valley 4-H Club are nearing the finishing point, says Reporter Verna Wehrman. The girls have their meetings with the leader, Mrs. Ethel Spafford, each week.

Wonder how they are getting along with their dress revue modeling practice? Soon the girls in other 4-H Clubs will be ready for help from them. That is because they attended a training class a few months ago, and agreed to teach girls in other clubs.

Movies on conservation were enjoyed by members of the Sherman Sharpshooters 4-H Club in March. Some members are beginning a dairy project. If anyone else would like to join this project, he should plan to do so right now.

There will be a dairy project on May 2, says the secretary, James Wrathell.

the Snapshot Guild

Maytime is truly picture time in a setting such as this. Who could resist snapping a picture?

Maytime Is Picture Time

Maytime is picture time—so let's see what picture-takers have been up to this past year . . .

Now that all the statistics are in and tallied, it seems as though the nation's camera-users piled up quite a record for themselves. Whether they traveled to far-off places or stayed right in their own backyards, one activity was shared by all—they took pictures—more pictures than ever. In fact, the total figure for the pictures taken this year is a whopping 2,000,000,000 (two billion)!

Interesting to note is that 55 percent of the two billion pictures shot were taken by women, though the male members of the population scored higher in making home movies and color slides than did the distaff side. Another trend seemed to stem from the variety of lower-priced, easier-to-operate equipment now available; more young people than ever before own and use cameras.

This year, too, saw the introduction of a line of cameras selling for less than $10 that take black-and-white snapshots, color slides or prints. Since their first showing at the International Photographic Exposition in Washington, more than a million of these cameras have been sold. Prices were also substantially lower on miniature and home-movie cameras, and color film—always a favorite—became even more popular.

What's more, the past year was a record one not only for the cameras of family picture-takers. The start of the International Geophysical Year found cameras roving above, below, and to the four corners of the earth in the service of science. The Smithsonian Observatory, for example, set up fourteen one-ton cameras to pinpoint satellites in the sky.

As the record comes into focus, it's safe to say that this has been a great picture-taking year—a year in which cameras provided more fun for the family and more facts for science than ever before.

Dearborn Church is Scene of Double Ring Ceremony

MRS. ROBERT SCHUMACHER

St. Alphonsus Church, Dearborn, was the setting Saturday, April 19, for the double ring ceremony uniting Judith Anne Wellna and Robert C. Schumacher in marriage.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Steve Wellna of Detroit. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Schumacher of Farmington are the parents of the bridegroom.

Carrying an arrangement of white carnations centered with a white orchid, the bride was escorted to the altar on the arm of her father. She wore a floor length dress of white tulle and lace over satin. The bodice, designed with a mandarin neckline and long sleeves, was trimmed with pearls, sequins and appliqued flowers. The detailing was repeated in the skirt. A crown of pearls held a fingertip veil of tulle.

Mrs. Madeline McIntosh, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. The bridesmaids were Mrs. Catherine Lung and Miss Carole Welna, sisters of the bride, and Miss Darlene Schumacher and Miss JoAnn Schumacher, sisters of the bridegroom.

The attendants wore identically styled ballerina length gowns of pastel colored Georgette. Matching back bows, streamers and tiaras gave accent to their frocks. They carried arrangements of white carnations with the edges dyed to match their gowns.

Little Deborah McIntosh, niece of the bride, was flower girl. Charles Schumacher was the ring bearer.

The bridegroom asked his oldest brother, Frank Schumacher Jr., to be his best man. Guests were seated by Walter and Larry Mills and Charles and William Schumacher.

A wedding breakfast and reception was held at the Mark Twain Hall on Joy Road. In the receiving line was the bride's mother in a rose beige lace over pale blue satin. Her flowers were orchids. The bridegroom's mother chose a printed silk dress with a pink camellia corsage.

Following the reception, the newlyweds left for New York State, where they spent their honeymoon. Upon their return, they will make their home on Vinger Avenue in Dearborn.

Gold Star Mothers Honored at Banquet

A beautiful Gold Star banquet was held at the Surf Room of Harbor Lights on Monday evening in honor of the Gold Star members of Audie Johnson Unit of the American Legion Auxiliary. The tables were decorated with a centerpiece of yellow cut flowers and yellow candles. Favors were tiny parasols in marshmallows and nut cups in yellow on gold doilies trimmed with yellow ribbons and stars.

Miss Helen Applin gave the invocation. Auxiliary President Ada Freeland gave the welcome and introduced Gold Star members. She introduced the chairman of the banquet, Mrs. Naomi Bennett, and her assistant, Mrs. Nettie Hester.

The Gold Star members present were: Mrs. Anna Siglin, Mrs. Martha Klingler, Mrs. Ann Porter, Mrs. Ada Freeland and Mrs. Ruth Stump. They were presented with gifts and carnation corsages with gold ribbon bows.

A business session followed at the Legion Hall. At the business session, Mrs. Hester announced that Miss Louise Anderson was chosen to attend Girls State in Ann Arbor in June. Poppy Chairman Phyllis Ballinger announced Poppy Days, May 22, 23, 24. About 20 poppy posters had been made by Tawas Area School children.

Winners were first prize, Carol Cecil; second prize, Sandra McCarpin, and third prize, Colleen McCormack. Carol Cecil won first prize in Class I at the Sanford district meeting and her poster will go to the state to be judged for state prize.

Mrs. Dorothy Harmon reported 150 pounds of clothing had been sent for "Save the Children Federation Clothing Drive."

A donation was made to United Nations Pilgrimage for Youth.

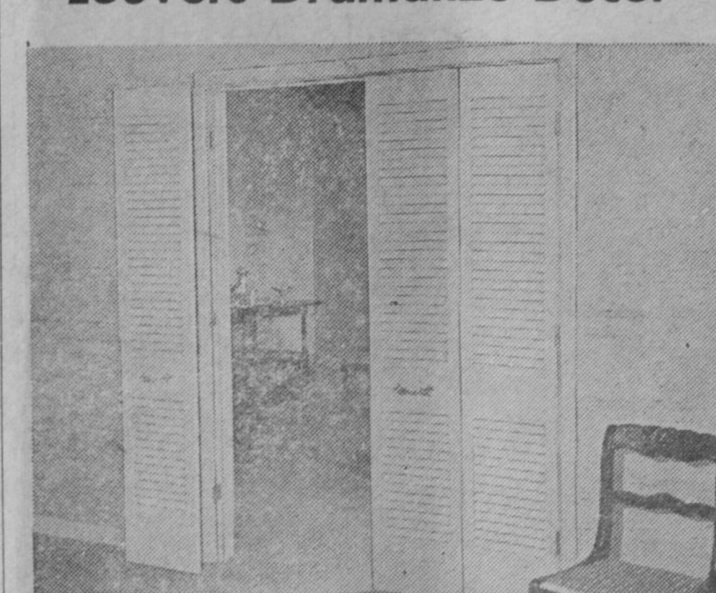

The 10th district birthday party for the children of the billet at Otter Lake will be Tuesday, May 13.

Birthday gifts were presented to members having March, April and May birthdays. Reports of the district meeting held at Sanford were given by Mrs. Harmon and Miss Applin.

Louvers Dramatize Decor

Louver doors are being used more and more by interior decorators to bring dramatic texture into homes with both contemporary and traditional decor. Here is a particularly effective use of louver doors of ponderosa pine in a double doorway between dining and living rooms. The doors are hinged to fold in half when open, providing an interesting "frame" for the doorway. Closed, they add interest to both rooms. These are stock doors of ponderosa pine, available from building material dealers. Other stock louver doors are available in a wide range of styles and sizes.

Rules Listed for Windows

How much window space should be planned for each room in building or remodeling a home? Windows can affect the comfort of a family both physically and psychologically, says the University of Illinois Small Homes Council. Most homes need at least twice as much glass area as they have.

Here is a set of new rules worked out by the council for ideal windows in the home.

1. Each room needs glass areas in excess of 20 percent of the floor area in each room. Much more desirable on cloudy days.

2. In cool climates, the principal window areas should be placed toward the south, since this direction has the brightest sky. In warmer climates, a north-east orientation will limit heat from the sun.

3. Windows in more than one wall give more effective day-lighting than windows in just one wall. One large window, however, gives a better distribution of light than the same amount of glass space distributed around the room.

4. Windows placed as close to the ceiling as possible lengthen the depth of light penetration into a room.

5. At least 10 percent of the floor area in a room should be matched with windows that open. Popular windows of ponderosa pine are available in many styles that open, including the familiar double-hung style that gives effective ventilation by opening at top and bottom. A further advantage of wood windows is that they can be painted or stained to match color schemes inside and out.

6. Draperies that cover a portion of the window when open can reduce daylight by as much as 75 percent.

FARM EVENTS

By MARVIN DAVENPORT Iosco Agricultural Agent

Calendar: Thursday, May 8—Gladwin Bull Sale at fair grounds. Thursday, May 8—Iosco Soil Conservation District board of directors, 8:30 p. m., Federal Building, East Tawas. Wednesday, May 14—Iosco DHA organizational meeting, Reno Township Hall, 8:30 p. m. Iosco County dairymen organized the Owner-Sampler Dairy Testing Association last week. This program is designed to help farmers determine the poor producing cows in their herd. Robert Knisely, Michigan State University dairy specialist, outlined the program for the 25 farmers attending the meeting. Ross Williams of Reno Township was named tester for the group. Other farmers attending included: Harold Siegrist, Dorance Bellville, Brian Bellville, Martin Siegrist, Ralph Harris, John Cobb, Harvey O'Dell, Arthur Zemek, James Sturtivant, Howard McKenzie, John Hendrickson, Henry Siegrist, Warren Britt, Thomas Nelkie, Walter Miller, Oran Ulman, Charles Timreck, Robert Rucke, Leonard Robinson, Herman Drenberg. In any other dairymen interested in joining this dairy testing association are asked to contact my office or attend the Wednesday, May 14, meeting at Reno Township Hall. Mr. Williams, the tester, will be glad to talk to you about it. His phone is RAndolph 8-2121.

economists at Michigan State University. This expenditure amounts to nearly 75 percent of annual farm receipts.

The Michigan farmer's good standard of living accounts for a portion of these expenditures. In 1954, the date of the latest agricultural census, 98 percent of the state's farms had electricity, 67 percent had telephones, 45 percent had trucks, 88 percent had farm tractors.

Some idea of the cash outlays that farmers make for items produced off the farm is illustrated by average figures for 1954-55. They spent $34,500,000 for fertilizer; $101,000,000 on the repair and operation of buildings, motor vehicles and other farm machinery; $48,000,000 for such items as pesticides, electricity, telephones, marketing charges, containers, binding materials, hardware, veterinary services, insurance premiums and other miscellaneous items.

Top these figures off with the fact that farmers are good customers for such durable goods as electrical appliances, television; and nondurables as clothing and food, and you have a sizeable market in the state's farm population.

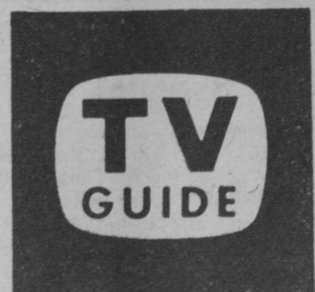

In its development through increased technical know-how, agriculture also has made a significant contribution to Michigan's industrial development. Farm workers have been released from the production of food to work in industry. This in turn has helped boost industrial production. From 1950 to 1954, an estimated 65,000 farm people were added to the labor force without any loss in agricultural production. During those four years, farm numbers dropped from 156,000 to 139,000 in Michigan.

COLOR TRICKS BRING OUT BEST FEATURES

Tricks with color can help you minimize the worst exterior features of your house and make its best features stand out, says Nancy Rubey, San Francisco color consultant.

- Here are a few of the most effective tricks: 1. To camouflage a bad feature, such as a chimney that is too prominent or too small, paint it the same color as the sidewalls. 2. To emphasize a good feature, such as a fine panel front door or a handsome entrance-way, paint it in a color that contrasts with its background, but does not clash. 3. If a house is too close to the street, paint it in a light, or cool, color. Light colors reflect more light and make objects seem farther away. If the roof is old and needs replacing, a new roof of asphalt shingles in one of many light pastel colors available will add to the "far away" effect and make the entire house look better. 4. If the house is set too far back from the street, painting it in a warm color will make it seem to "advance." If it is tall and awkward, a new roof of asphalt shingles in a deep shade will make it look lower.

Some additional rules about color are: The brighter an area is, the larger it seems. The "largest" color is yellow, followed by red, green, blue and black. Areas of contrasting color that are approximately equal in size are not pleasing.

Tawas Area School Band Attends Lansing Meet The Tawas Area High School Band attended the Michigan School Band and Orchestra State Festival at East Lansing on Saturday, April 26. In order to participate in this festival a band must first receive a I rating at a district festival. The Tawas band received a II rating in Class B. The class is determined by the enrollment of the high school. Division II rating is an unusual performance in many respects, but not worthy of the highest rating due to minor defects in performance or ineffective interpretation. It is "a performance of distinctive quality." On Monday, May 5, the Tawas Area Band traveled to Bay City to participate in a sales promotion parade in connection with the "You Auto Buy Now" campaign. The expenses of the trip were paid for by the committee from Bay City.

Calendar:
May 4-10—National Home Demonstration Week.

Filled to capacity was the Consumer's Power Company showroom when 93 women came for the frozen food preservation program featured by home demonstration groups as a part of their annual achievement program on April 28.

Ruth Crasper, home service advisor, conducted the frozen food portion of the program. She provided a display of freezing materials, presented a slide illustrated discussion showing ways to "Freeze Yourself Some Spare Time," demonstrated the preparation of a fruit and a vegetable for freezing and answered questions from the audience. Bulletins were available.

Home demonstration members brought the lamps and lamp shades they have recently completed, making an attractive display. Harold Hammond, farm service advisor, offered tips for getting the maximum comfortable, attractive and efficient home lighting with lamps and bulbs. Bulletins with recipes for improving home light methods were available.

The new national home demonstration song, "Ever Onward," was introduced by Mrs. Norman Howarth and Annice Howarth.

Ben Brewer, sales manager, whose facilities made possible having the program at the Power Company, conducted a drawing for prizes. A number of Saran-wrap gifts were provided by Dow Chemical Company. Mrs. John Cobb's name was drawn for the baking set while the Mixette went to Mrs. William Bush. These were gifts of Consumer's Power Company.

Refreshments were served by home demonstration groups.

What is National Home Demonstration Week?

It is a time set aside for the 6½ million women in this country who support it to tell others what they are doing and why.

What is home demonstration work?

It is an educational program planned by homemakers and conducted cooperatively by the Extension Service of the United States Department of Agriculture, the land-grant colleges (such as Michigan State University) and county government (such as, Isosco County Board of Supervisors).

Why have a county home demonstration program?

Through it families learn to apply the latest approved methods developed by home economics research. The goal is to strengthen home and family life by helping women become more efficient homemakers and more effective citizens in their communities, state and nation.

A word from the Michigan home economics extension director, Mrs. Leona MacLeod:

She points out that Michigan homemakers continue to be interested in acquiring basic knowledge and skills relating to their jobs. In response to their requests, programs provide help in improving family nutrition; in managing family resources of time, money and energy; in home building and remodeling; in selection of equipment; in making decisions on home furnishings; in providing suitable and attractive clothing; in developing good family relationships.

As an example of learning and accomplishment—high prices, accompanied by lower incomes in some areas, have led to many requests for do-it-yourself projects in home sewing, refinishing furniture, upholstering and the like. During 1957, homemakers reported a saving of $88,640 on the articles made as a result of clothing and home furnishings workshops.

What are the jobs of a homemaker?

This spring members of Isosco home demonstration groups gave thought to the different "roles"

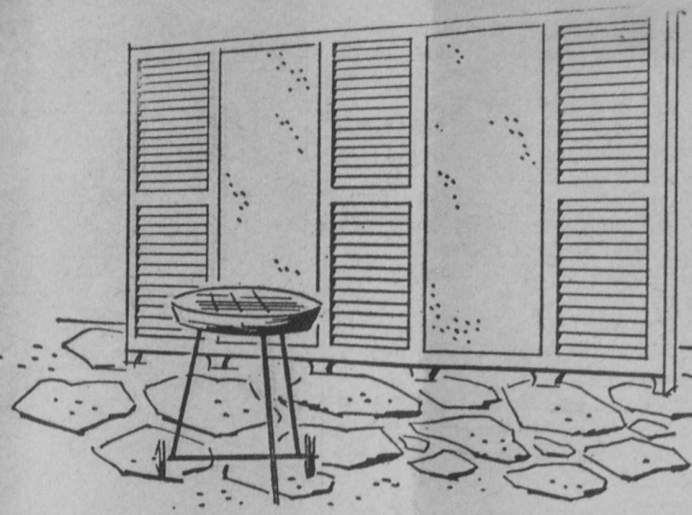

Today's tip on how to GUARD YOUR HEART

See your doctor

Don't worry needlessly about "symptoms." If in doubt, see your doctor.

Shuts Out Peepers

Lovers of outdoor living will appreciate this privacy screen. It is made of louver shutters of ponderosa pine to let air in and translucent plastic panels for light.

One of the problems of outdoor living is privacy. Too many backyard barbecues and siestas on the patio have been spoiled by gawking neighbors or curious children.

The best answer is to build a fence that will let in both light and air, yet keep out unwanted stares. The drawing shows an example—a fence built of stock louver shutters of ponderosa pine combined with translucent plastic panels.

The shutters let air in and act as a windbreak. The plastic panels admit light, but keep curious gazes out.

Shutters of ponderosa pine are available from building material dealers in many widths and required of them as homemakers. This helped them to decide on lesson and workshop activities for the coming year.

Among the "roles" we listed are these: Manager, buyer, book-keeper, dispatcher, mother, wife, hostess, cook, dietitian, maid, laundress, dressmaker, interior decorator, chauffeur, gardener, mechanic, nurse, governess, teacher, community citizen and politician, mediator, sociologist, psychologist and, last but not least, an individual.

How can you take part in this adult education program designed to give professional dignity to the job of homemaker?

Visit with your home demonstration agent at her office or by telephone. The office is in the Federal Building, East Tawas, and the phone number is Forest 2-3751. That is one way. There are others. Talk with one of the County Home Demonstration Council officers. They are Mrs. Paul Sayles, East Tawas; Mrs. Eugene Wood, Whittemore; Mrs. Henry Siegrist, Whittemore. Or, talk with one of your friends who belongs to a home demonstration group.

Take a look at one of the workshop projects completed by Isosco home demonstration members—15 of them have participated in making lamp shades and remodeling or converting lamps.

A display is planned for the week of May 4-10, National Home Demonstration Week. It will be in Evans Furniture Store, East Tawas.

Watch out for other drivers

They may not be as experienced or as careful as you are. And if you're a really careful driver, you'll want to be sure that you have the right kind of protection against driving risks... and enough of it. Call on us for a car insurance check-up.

FOREST FIRE DANGER IS INCREASING HERE

Two forest fires were reported in Iosco County Wednesday afternoon of last week. Damage was held to a minimum in spite of the extremely dangerous burning index of 65 in the area.

One blaze near Loon Lake was pinched out when it ran into a water-filled ditch in a cut over area of oak and aspen. It had been driven by a 22-mile wind and was traveling rapidly through the tinder-dry woods until it reached the ditch.

Another fire was believed to have started from a burning dump at Wurtsmith Air Force Base. The blaze burned over 10 acres on the base and two acres across M-171 and Bissonette Road before it was extinguished by air base and Oscoda fire departments.

There is no indication of lessening of the present fire danger in the area unless there is a heavy, soaking rainfall.

We must admit that the younger generation learns fast, but we are not so sure what.

THANKS FOR A JOB WELL DONE!

It may have passed unnoticed to many local residents two weeks ago, but the resignation of Ralph Meyers as manager of the Iosco County Airport was accepted by the board of supervisors. Mr. Meyers explained that he did not have the time to handle the job any more because of his own work.

Meyers has been manager of the airport for a number of years. His home and business are only a short distance from the airport and he was on call at all times to render service to pilots who landed their private planes here. The job entailed a lot of work... not only pumping gas and servicing planes... but maintaining the hangars, moving the airstrip and all the other time-consuming work which went with the job.

The position was not well-rewarding from a monetary standpoint, but Meyers was always ready and willing to help out the visitors to this area and the local pilots. He deserves a vote of thanks from citizens of the area for a job well done.

ONE COST CUT THAT MICHIGAN CAN AFFORD

Michigan's legislature will be faced with a dead-lock between the house and senate on a proposed $516,000 cut in the state police budget when it reconvenes May 15. Governor Williams is deeply concerned with this proposed appropriation slash and the rest of Michigan's citizens ought to be.

Some members of the senate who propose this budget cut call it an economy move necessitated by the state's pinched financial condition. But, in this writer's opinion, it is not economy when the lives of Michigan residents are at stake.

Commissioner Joseph Childs has stated that such a budget cut would mean that the state police would have to patrol the highways with 100 fewer troopers. All this would come at a time when Michigan is reducing its highway death toll, due largely to the increased patrolling.

Michigan's legislature should certainly be able to come up with some other means of reducing state expenditures without endangering the lives of its citizens!

NO BASEBALL TEAM AT TAWAS CITY IN 1958

This will come as a surprise to many old-time baseball fans... this is the first time in more than 40 years that Tawas City has not fielded an independent baseball team. The team folded after last year's season, although a new team organized last year at East Tawas will participate in the Northeastern Michigan League.

The NEM is the oldest amateur baseball circuit of its kind in Michigan, having been organized in 1916 by representatives from Tawas City, Standish and other communities in the area. With the exception of the war years, Tawas City had fielded a team in the NEM League continuously until two years ago.

The team has new uniforms, equipment and money in the bank—but no organization.

There's a certain person you'll want to smother With loving gifts, and that's your Mother. A personalized cake on her day. Should be ordered now for the 11th of May.
