

Tawas City Makes Plans for Christmas

E. D. "Ted" Jacques, president of the Tawas City Businessmen's Association, said today that Santa Claus had been contacted at the North Pole and he would include Tawas City in his busy pre-Christmas schedule. "I know that there are lots of good boys and girls who are awaiting my visit," said Santa.

The November 27 deadline is drawing near for Christmas street decorations in Tawas City. The city, along with the businessmen's association, will help to give Lake Street a brighter Christmas atmosphere. Music will be provided over the American Legion and businessmen's association public address system.

"Gift Bonanza Days" will begin November 27 and some real surprises are in store for youngsters and adults alike, during the Christmas season.

A businessmen's fund-raising committee, headed by Hugo Keiser Jr. and Cecil Cable, has been canvassing the business district for the past week seeking money for street decorations and Christmas funds. Anyone who has not been contacted is urged to call either of these two men.

Other committee chairmen are Bruce Myles, who heads the "Bonanza Gift Days" committee, and Walter Champion, who has charge of the "Santa Claus Welcoming Committee." Nelson Thornton is general chairman.

Tawas Hospital Received High National Honor

Sister M. Olivia, administrator of Tawas St. Joseph Hospital, announced today that Tawas Hospital has been accredited by the Joint Commission Accreditation of Hospitals, a national committee which examines medical institutions for high standards.

Dr. Carl L. Dumbauld, representative for the commission, was sent here to inspect the hospital building, medical records, working procedures and conditions, and the hospital in general. His report was reviewed by members of the joint commission, who found this hospital meets the standards required to be accredited. This is the first year Tawas Hospital has applied for accreditation.

Sister M. Olivia stated, "The administration wishes to thank the hospital staff and the doctors for their cooperation in making this possible."

Mt. Clemens Girl is Victim of Father's 30-06 Rifle Blast

Two hunting accidents Sunday afternoon, only minutes and a few miles apart, claimed the life of a Mt. Clemens girl and resulted in a leg wound to a Lincoln Park man. Losco's hunting death toll reached two the same afternoon when a Bay City hunter died of a heart attack.

Her shocked and dazed father, Michael Balkas, age 50, told investigating sheriff's department officers that he had just loaded his rifle while standing near the open door of his panel truck. He bent over to pick up some cartridges on the front seat and the gun discharged.

The victim was standing at the opposite side of the truck with other members of the party, Albert Mitchell; his son, Harry, and Billy Leslie, all of Mt. Clemens. The slug went through the side of the truck and struck the girl.

The party of hunters had been camping about three miles west of Foote Site. Conducting the investigation was Sheriff Ivan L. O'Farrell, Township Officers Tim Dillon, Charles Howell and Robert Foster and Coroner E. John Moffat.

The body was removed to the Gilbert Funeral Home, Oscoda, and then to the D. N. Colley Funeral Home at Mt. Clemens.

A similar hunting accident resulted in a leg wound to Paul Polander, 34, of Lincoln Park at 2:30 p. m. The shooting took place in Section six, Oscoda Township.

Polander was wounded when a rifle being unloaded by his brother-in-law, Clayborn Cornell, 32-

Richard J. Leszczynski of Detroit became Losco County's fifth accidental shooting victim of the 1958 deer season Monday morning when he shot himself in the foot with a charge of double-0 buckshot. Hunting in Section 21, Oscoda Township, the Detroit hunter was loading his 12-gauge shotgun and when he closed the weapon, the right barrel discharged. He was treated at Tawas Hospital.

year-old Lincoln Park man, accidentally discharged. Cornell told officers that he dropped some shells on the ground and, as he bent over to pick them up, the rifle discharged. The bullet ripped through a car seat and then went through the door striking the victim in the lower right leg.

The victim was taken to Tawas Hospital for treatment. Investigation was conducted by Michigan State Police officers.

Roy Davis, 67, of Bay City suffered a heart attack while hunting in Section three, Grant Township. The victim was removed to Tawas Hospital by Jacques Funeral Home ambulance, but was dead on arrival. Members of his party told state police officers that he had just fired at a deer when he suffered the attack.

Losco's first hunting victim was Perry Strain of Lincoln Park, who

Wet Weather Does Not Discourage the Hunters

In spite of rainy weather for the opening of the 1958 deer season, it was estimated that the pre-season prediction of 20,000 hunters was reached in the Losco County area over the first week-end of hunting. Conservation department authorities in this area said that the buck kill was higher than in recent years.

Although there was a steady stream of cars headed north on US-23 Friday night, Michigan State Police report only a few minor traffic accidents in this area. Drivers moved along at an orderly speed through Tawas, even though a "bottleneck" at the Standish intersection had slowed traffic to nearly a standstill for hours.

This was the same situation on M-65 where thousands of automobiles flowed through Whittemore and Hale on their way to the deer hunting territory.

Businessmen in this area, particularly gasoline service stations, taverns and restaurants, reported a brisk business from deer hunters Friday night, Saturday and Sunday.

W. D. "Mike" Nunn, East Tawas hardware owner, said Friday night that every deer hunting license in the Tawas area had been sold by 6 o'clock. A hurry-up call was made to conservation department headquarters at Mio and additional licenses were made available to hardware and service stations in Tawas. Nunn said that between 9 o'clock and midnight Friday, he had sold an additional 80 licenses.

Many businessmen said that the "tune" played on cash registers during the first three days of hunting sounded like the old days, meaning the period from 1946 through 1950.

When Saturday dawned, thousands of hunters were seated along pre-selected runways or likely looking spots frequented by the white tail. The special

WIRES GO DOWN

An unknown automobile driver hit a pole behind the city hall in Tawas City Tuesday night and disrupted power service to the city fire siren. A Michigan Bell Telephone crew had the lines in order Wednesday morning and the siren was tested during the noon hour.

"any deer" season in Michigan ran concurrently with the opening day of buck season and most of the hunters did not hesitate in leaving the deer country after making a kill. The steady rain on Saturday saw many of the other hunters who were not successful heading for "drier" spots in town. Michigan State Police report that emergency messages, "attempts to locate" and deer hunter registrations were down, as compared to last year. Reports of hunters "lost" in the woods were about the same as in previous years.

May be 'Stepping Stone' to Brigadier General—

It's War College for Wilson

Colonel Thomas N. Wilson, 42, commander of Wurtsmith Air Force Base, Oscoda, has been selected to attend the National War College at Fort Leslie J. McNair, Washington, D. C., according to information received last week from air force headquarters.

The colonel is one of 29 air force colonels selected for the honor of attending the 10-month course which will get underway in late summer of 1959.

Selection of air force officers to attend the National War College is made at headquarters USAF by the Senior Service Schools Selection Board. The college is often considered as a stepping stone to the rank of brigadier general.

The precise mission of the National War College is to prepare selected personnel of the armed forces and certain other governmental agencies for the exercise of joint high level policy, command and staff functions, and for the performance of strategic planning duties in their respective departments.

In addition, it promotes the development of understanding of those factors of power potential which are an essential part of a national war effort. The air force has stated the training offered by the National War College is especially important and significant in view of the anticipated expansion of the joint chiefs of staff operation, and the increased requirement for the services to develop officers possessing inter-service experience.

Two boards checked eligible officer records before the 29

COLONEL WILSON colonels who would attend the college were officially named. Selection was based on each nominee's past experience, standard of performance, growth potential and future utilization in command and key staff positions.

Colonel Wilson, who is well known throughout this section of the state, has commanded this air defense base since August 1956.

Lt. Col. John M. Patton, 18th Fighter Interceptor Squadron commander, also received notification last week that he had been selected to attend the Naval War College.

Colonel Patton will leave Wurtsmith late next summer for Newport, Rhode Island, and 10 months of intensive studies in naval warfare.

His selection was made in the same manner as that of Colonel Wilson. The course that Colonel Patton will be studying is designed to develop a further understanding of warfare with emphasis upon the strategic employment of sea and naval power in the furtherance of national objectives in order to prepare officers for higher commands.

The academic objectives of the course are to provide the broad education and working knowledge essential to the discharge of command responsibilities.

Since arriving at Wurtsmith in 1956, Colonel Patton has served as group operations staff officer, commander of the 31st Fighter Interceptor Squadron (now in Alaska) and commander of the 18th FIS.

SANTA TO BE GUEST—

Santa Claus will be guest at the Tawas City American Legion Christmas party Sunday, December 14, at the Legion Hall. A planned pot-luck dinner will be served at 5:00 p. m. and gifts will be exchanged. All members of the post, auxiliary and their families are invited to attend.

Newman is Candidate for Judgeship

J. Richard Newman, East Tawas attorney, today announced that he would seek nomination for the circuit judgeship in the 23rd judicial circuit in the February primary election.

The district includes Losco, Alcona and Oscoda Counties and has been served for the past 30 years by Herman Dehnke of Harrisville, who must retire at the end of his present term.

A native of Indiana, Mr. Newman received his AB degree from Albion College. He attended University of Michigan Law School and received his LLB degree from Detroit College of Law.

After practicing law in Detroit for 32 years, during which time he served for a time as assistant Wayne County prosecuting attorney, Mr. Newman came to East Tawas to practice in 1951. He is presently attorney for the City of East Tawas, for the Losco County Road Commission, the Farmers and Merchants State Bank at Hale, the Oscoda State Savings Bank at Oscoda and for the Northern Telephone Company of Hale and Whittemore.

He is a member of the American Bar Association, the state and judicial district associations, and the Detroit Bar Association. Mr. Newman is a member of the board of directors of the Tawas

J. RICHARD NEWMAN Chamber of Commerce and the Tawas Bay Yacht Club. He is a member of Tawas Kiwanis Club, Tawas City Chapter, Order of Eastern Star, and the East Tawas

TC Boy Scout Troop, No. 74, is Organized

Action was started last Thursday night toward organizing a boy scout troop in Tawas City. Some 10 boys were enrolled during the past week and additional eight or more are expected to sign up this week.

The new troop, No. 74, is sponsored by Jesse Hodder Post, American Legion. Frank Mark is scoutmaster.

The regular weekly meeting will be held tonight (Thursday) at the Legion Hall starting at 7 o'clock. All eligible youths interested in joining the scout movement are urged to attend.

East Tawas Turns Down Nursing Home Request

A request to construct a nursing home on Bridge Street was turned down by the East Tawas Council at its regular meeting Monday night. To have been constructed on city-owned property, a hearing was held November 11 to give consideration to residents of the immediate area before final approval was given.

Mrs. Jane Vedmore, operator of the Huron Convalescent Home, had presented plans to the council several weeks ago for a new $50,000 convalescent home. The building, to house about 23 patients, was to have been built along the lines of a small hospital. City Clerk Fred Lomas reports that a petition signed by 19 persons had objected to such construction in that area. Three persons were in favor of the project.

In other business, four building applications were approved by the council. These included: T. M. O'Loughlin, new home; Thomas Quattlebaum, remodel home; Joseph Reinke, remodel home; Northern Construction Company, repair roof on Evans building.

No protests were heard at a hearing to vacate alleys in the Alice Dimmick Addition. The council authorized vacating 14-foot-wide alleys in that area, giving property owners on each side an additional seven feet in depth to lots.

Formal Petition Received from East Tawas—

City Attorney Says People Must Decide on Annexation

A petition from the City of East Tawas asking the Tawas City Council to join with that body in requesting the county board of supervisors to annex a parcel of land in Tawas City, at the old fairgrounds location, to East Tawas was turned over to City Attorney Allan Miller.

At Monday night's regular council meeting, Miller told councilmen that because of Tawas City's fourth class city charter, such action would require a vote of the people.

Miller said that the only annexation provision in Tawas City's charter states that any part of an incorporated city is one—all electors are interested in all or any part of the city. Because of that fact, even though the land is uninhabited, it would require a vote of the people.

The property in question is lo-ated behind Detroit and Mackinac Railway property at the site of the old fairgrounds. The land, consisting of six acres, was obtained by East Tawas three years ago in a land exchange with the United States Forest Service.

"This is the only situation in State of Michigan that I know of where two fourth class cities adjoin," stated Miller. "East Tawas proceeded on the theory that the land was uninhabited and no vote was necessary."

East Tawas' formal petition to Tawas City was turned over to the city attorney to resolve the legal procedure for annexing the property. The council stated that should East Tawas wish to proceed further, it would be necessary for that city to pay all expenses incurred through an election.

In other business, Carlton Merschel made application for construction of a drive-in restaurant on his property located east of the Kroger store on US-23. Located on Lots three and four of Wheeler's Second Addition, the building would be 24 by 48 and of concrete construction. No action was taken in the absence of Reginald Bublitz, superintendent of public works, who is authorized by the council to act on all building applications.

The Tawas City Fire Department, through Councilman Clyde Evril, presented a request to the council in which Michigan Bell Telephone Company would be asked to make a fire phone survey in Tawas City.

The fire department asked that special phones be installed in homes of the volunteer firemen and at key places in order to eliminate the fire siren. It was suggested that the council contact Tawas and Alabaster Township officials to determine if they would be interested in sharing the cost of such improved service. Tawas City has an agreement with these two townships for fire protection.

Police Chief George Ruth gave his departmental report for the past three months.

Tawas City's Federal Aid Request is Buried

In spite of the fact that recent hopes for a federal sewage construction grant have disappeared under a pile of other applications, the Tawas City Council authorized the start of legal action to hold a $130,000 bonding election in February. The election would ask voters to approve financing construction of additions and improvements to the city's sewage disposal plant through the sale of general obligation bonds.

At Monday night's council meeting, Mayor George Tuttle reported that Tawas City was 30th in line among Michigan cities which have applied for federal money earmarked for this purpose.

Only nine cities received federal grants and all were classed as "top priority projects." A point system method was used to determine the successful applicants. Most of the money was allotted to the Detroit area.

Modernization of the city's sewage treatment plant has been under consideration for the past several years. A survey, made by the state health department last August, indicated that the plant was operating far above its capacity and that immediate steps should be taken to correct the situation.

Tawas City has maintained close supervision over its plant in an effort to minimize any contamination.

Action was necessary Monday night in order to comply with Michigan election laws. The final word whether or not to continue with the proposed election is to be taken up at next week's meeting of the water board.

Students Learn About Radioactive Materials

Training in the use of radiological measuring instruments was one of 237 schools in the state to start at Tawas Area School Monday under the instruction of Ronald Butterfield, who recently attended an institute on radioactivity at Central Michigan College, Mt. Pleasant.

Two weeks ago the school received shipment of a radiological instrument kit from the Michigan Office of Civil Defense for use in the instruction.

Valued at $450 each, the kits contain such devices as Geiger counters, survey meters and dosimeters and are "on loan" for an indefinite period. Tawas Area is the only school in the state to receive the equipment.

The highly specialized course will feature such background material as nuclear weapons effects, the principles of radioactive decay, the formula for dose calculations and the medical effects of nuclear radiation.

First students to use the equipment was the ninth grade general science class. Commenting that this type of instruction in high schools was unheard of in the past, Mr. Butterfield told the students not to expect to understand all of the technical points of the equipment. "It is quite a complicated business and it is new, but a great deal can be learned about radiological measuring—an ability which could be of critical importance in this nuclear age."

Instruction in the use of the equipment will be integrated into other science classes in the school.

The program is the beginning of a nation-wide plan to train one million students in the use of the radiological measuring instruments.

ONE INSTANT JOY; THE NEXT, SORROW

A heart-broken father; three remorseful hunters, two of whom told police they were through with the sport for good; an unknown hunter, who, perhaps, does not realize he came close to killing a man—all were involved in hunting mishaps in Iosco County over the week-end.

Perhaps this newspaper will be condemned for reviewing morbid facts such as these, inasmuch as a hunting tragedy took the life of a child Sunday. But, we feel that a few words must be said.

Right here in Iosco County, one person was killed and two were wounded by gunfire during the first two days of deer hunting season; three persons were wounded in a mishap three days before the season began.

THE ACCIDENTS WERE CAUSED THROUGH THE CARELESS USE OF FIREARMS. Basic rules of safety were forgotten but for an instant... then it was too late.

It is not the intention of this newspaper to heap abuse on those involved. It is intended for those who were not involved; those who could find themselves in the same situation under similar circumstances.

Perhaps these accidents could have been prevented. If basic rules of firearms safety had been observed and if firearms were treated with the respect which they deserve, these words of warning would be unnecessary.

We conclude by saying that only one safety rule need be forgotten to turn a joyous day into a heart-breaking one. If you do not know these rules of safety, do not handle such a deadly weapon until you learn them. And then, BE ALERT AT ALL TIMES.

Payrolls Motivate Community's Economic Life

Payrolls provide the motivating force which expands a community's business and economic development.

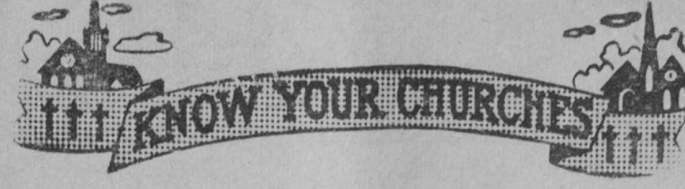

The United States Chamber of Commerce has studied the effects of new manufacturing employment on a community. Here are some of the findings: For every 100 new jobs, 296 more persons are brought into the area; 112 new households are created; annual personal income is increased by about $590,000; retail sales increase by about $300,000 a year; bank deposits can be expected to increase by $270,000; there were 107 more passenger cars registered; total employment rose by 174; there were four additional retail establishments. As a result of the 100 new manufacturing jobs, retail trade, construction, professional services, communications and public utilities, wholesale, public administration all showed increased employment.

These new jobs benefit not only the men and women who fill them. The added workers mean more business for the merchant, the doctor, the lawyer, all businesses and services in town. The payroll dollar passes through many hands and each time it does, it aids everyone.

When people work, everyone benefits. It is stressed in another of the cooperative industrial promotion advertisements, sponsored by Michigan Press Association and the Michigan Economic Development Department, which appears in The Tawas Herald today.

The statistics cited by the United States Chamber of Commerce illustrate how important it is for everyone to join in the local industrial development program. A new industry may mean a job for you or your neighbor. It could mean the expansion of present industry with more jobs for local people.

By doing what each of us can, the community will benefit and grow through the addition of jobs through attracting a new industry here.

We Need 'em Fast!

THE SCENE IS the traffic department of any of the hundreds of manufacturing plants in Michigan. The time is 4:00 P.M. on any day of the week. The traffic manager is talking long distance to a supplier in another state about some parts needed for production.

"Send 'em by truck," he says, as he prepares to hang up. "We need 'em fast!"

He knows from experience that motor transport is the fastest link between shipping and receiving. He knows he can depend on it. In fact, he and thousands of his fellow traffic managers have been the men most responsible for the rapid growth of motor transport. Once they experienced the efficiency and speed of trucks, there was no satisfying them with anything less—and today their companies could not operate successfully without truck transport!

That's something for every wage earner in Michigan to think about.

WHEN PEOPLE WORK—

When people work, everyone benefits. Workers are able to buy the things their families need. The merchant sells more goods. There is more work in the trades, the services, professions and elsewhere. These are things of which prosperity is made.

The factory payroll dollar rolls all around the town. As it rolls, it grows and there is some of it for everybody.

The economic research department of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States made a study and found that 100 more factory jobs in a town mean that . . . 296 more people are brought into the community . . . 112 households are created . . . annual personal income in the community increases by $590,000 . . . bank deposits increase by $270,000. It's up to all of us to help build payrolls.

Join hands with your local industrial development organization and the Michigan Economic Development Department to help your community prosper.

AGRICULTURAL CLASSES VISIT RAILROAD STOCKYARDS

Agricultural I and II classes of Tawas Area High School visited the railroad stockyards in West Branch Tuesday, November 11, to see the lamb pool in operation.

The lamb pool is a cooperative marketing venture of the sheep raisers in Isoco, Ogemaw, Alcona and Oscoda Counties. Lambs are brought to the yard by members on special marketing days scheduled between the last of August and the first of January. Here they are graded into prime, choice, good, utility and feeder classes. The farmer is then paid according to the grade of lambs marketed.

This system of marketing makes it possible for the farmer to receive full value for a quality product and enables the packing company to buy a graded product.

DISCUSS INTERESTING TOPICS AT RAINBOW FB GROUP

Varied topics of interest were discussed at the regular meeting of Rainbow Farm Bureau Group Thursday, November 13. The importance of each person knowing his blood type was mentioned.

Mrs. June Hinkley, member of Farm Bureau Women's committee of Isoco County, reported that Blue Cross Insurance now has a policy providing benefits for mental care. She also invited all Farm Bureau women to the Christmas party Thursday, December 4, at the new Tawas Township Hall. A pot-luck luncheon will be served at noon, followed by exchange of gifts. Everyone planning to attend is asked to bring a 50 cent exchange gift and a gift of tobacco for the convalescent home.

A humorous and inspirational poem, written by Donald Kinsey, was read by Mrs. Elmer Britt.

A delicious luncheon was served by Mrs. Claud Harder and Mrs. Hinkley.

The group holds its regular meeting the second Thursday of each month.

What happens when a woman changes from a daytime outfit to something special for an evening out? There's a lot more to it than just a different dress. Many choose more formal hair styles, or use a whole new approach to make-up after dark. Accessories are transformed, too, as lovely little evening bags, elegant shoes, and more extreme jewelry come into play.

HANDLE A FORMAL AFFAIR WITH WHITE GLOVES

Gloves are a well-known mark of a carefully well-dressed woman, and this holds just as true in the evening hours of the day. But, as with all your other accessories, you'll want a special pair for special occasions — such as the finely knit, delicately designed suggestion we're offering today.

A FESTIVE TOUCH FOR THE HOLIDAYS

Make these gloves for yourself in time for Christmas, when you'll want to look your very best, then work up another pair or two to give as gifts. It won't take long, and your friends will appreciate your thoughtfulness. Front and back are knit separately from crochet cotton on two needles in that easiest of stitches, the stockinette. The yarn-over pattern on the top and around the cuffs adds a dressy, decorative accent. If you'd like to receive free instructions, just send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to the Needlework Department of this newspaper and ask for KNITTED GLOVES, Leaflet No. 9098.

By DOROTHY SCOTT
County Extension Agent

There is nothing more enticing than the fragrant and enveloping warmth of a busy kitchen on Thanksgiving Day.

But a busy kitchen is often a hazardous one, warn extension specialists in home economics at Michigan State University.

They point out that haste makes waste, and hurried mothers in the kitchen are headed down the road of careless and costly accidents.

Here are some things to watch for on the big day.

Falls are one of the major hazards for adults. Specialists say to protect yourself and others by cleaning up slippery substances at once—spilled water, grease or foods. Have a safe step stool handy; do not climb chairs, boxes and other makeshifts when reaching for high shelves.

Take care with sharp knives. Store them separately, wash them individually and never leave knives in the dishwasher. Put them away immediately after washing. However, home economists point out that when properly used, sharp knives are actually safer than dull ones.

Burns are another cause of serious injuries. Keep potholders near the range and insist on their use. Tongs are handy and safe for handling hot foods.

Especially important—watch small children in the kitchen. Warn them of the dangers of the stove and explain why they must not touch hot things. Take time to be careful beforehand.

Then—try to keep traffic in the kitchen to a minimum. Plan your schedule early, and you will enjoy the turkey to the fullest.

Few families shop for most of their meat from the same store or chain of stores every week, judging from a research report issued by Michigan State University.

James Shaffer, agricultural economist researcher, found in a recent study on buying habits that only four percent of 225 families reported buying all of their meat from a single source during one year. About one-third of the families reported buying meat from two or more sources during more than half of the weeks of the year. Over half of the families bought meat regularly from five or more sources during the year.

"This study indicates that most families do not have strong store loyalties for buying meat," Shaffer believes. Each week enough families buy from two sources or change the source of major purchase from the previous week that it would appear difficult or unprofitable for any one store or group of stores to maintain a meat merchandising policy which was not competitive with other stores."

The study also indicates, the researcher believes, that no store or source is doing such an outstanding job of meat merchandising that it has gained complete loyalty of any substantial number of families in the area studied.

Helpful information for preparation of turkey for Thanksgiving dinner appears this week in the 4-H Club Column.

3-Year Campaign Waged Reduces Traffic Deaths

The war on highway accidents, which has been waged during the last three years by state departments and the Michigan Safety Council with the result the traffic fatality toll in the state has been cut almost in half, has brought five national awards to these agencies. Winning recognition for their efforts and success are the state police, state highway department, department of public instruction and the state safety council.

During the three-year campaign by the Michigan Safety Council and the member state departments, the rate of traffic fatalities has been reduced from 7.1 per million miles to 3.9. It is estimated this decrease in the traffic death rate has saved approximately 1,000 lives. Credit for this achievement is shared by citizens and officials on state, county and community levels.

The state police received two awards, one from the National Safety Council for excellence in keeping accident records, the use and analysis of data obtained from these records and the processing of accident reports. The second award to the state police, from the International Association of Police Chiefs, recognized outstanding supervision of traffic.

The highway department received an award from the National Institute of Traffic Engineers for outstanding safety engineering in its design of state trunkline highways and control of traffic.

The department of public instruction received another award from the National Safety Council in recognition of its fine work in driver education programs.

The fifth award went to the state safety commission, which is made up of various representatives of state departments, for its programs to protect pedestrians.

EATS 6 POUNDS OF TURKEY

According to The World Book Encyclopedia's research department, the average American eats about six pounds of turkey a year. Sixty percent is eaten at Thanksgiving and Christmas. You are proving the statistics if you eat one and four-fifths pounds of meat at Thanksgiving and the same amount at Christmas.

Pilgrims 'Dead-Set' Against Annual Holidays

The Pilgrims would have been shocked to their shoe buckles on December 13, 1621, if they had known that their day of thanks was to become a yearly national holiday celebrated by millions of people in the United States and Canada.

For the Pilgrims were dead-set against "annual" holidays and refused to celebrate even Christmas and Easter.

According to research experts with The World Book Encyclopedia, the Pilgrims did not have a religious holiday of the Church of England as "Roman corruptions." They believed in celebrating only when Providence granted them a particular blessing.

As if to prove their disdain for yearly calendar-fixed celebrations, the Pilgrims did not have a thanksgiving celebration the next year. However, other New England colonists picked up the idea and held "thanks days," usually around the end of November.

The Pilgrim-inspired holiday is today a joyous family day celebrated with big dinners and happy reunions, but the history of the holiday in the United States has been fraught with argument.

In 1789 a resolution was presented by a member of the new congress proposing that a day be set aside to give thanks for the constitution. The resolution was finally adopted, but there was much opposition by those who believed the federal government was meddling in a matter that should be the concern of individual states. Thomas Jefferson called such government-proclaimed holidays a "monarchical practice" and ignored Thanksgiving during his eight years in office.

Mrs. Sarah Hale, editor of Godey's Lady's Book, worked for 30 years to promote the idea of a national Thanksgiving Day. Mrs. Hale had a double-barreled attack—she printed editorials promoting the idea and also included tempting recipes for Thanksgiving delicacies.

In 1863 Lincoln proclaimed that the last Thursday in November would be Thanksgiving Day. Each year afterward, the president of the United States formally proclaimed that Thanksgiving should be celebrated on the last Thursday of November.

However, some descendants of the original New England Puritans refused to observe the holiday, claiming that Thanksgiving should be inspired by the Deity, not by politicians.

The most recent Thanksgiving controversy arose when Franklin D. Roosevelt switched the date of the holiday from the fourth to the third Thursday in November. He hoped to help business by making the shopping period longer between Christmas and Thanksgiving.

Newspapers and magazines carried editorials advising readers to ignore the president and some governors flatly advised their states to celebrate Thanksgiving on the traditional day. Three years after the change was made, congress officially restored Thanksgiving to the fourth Thursday.

In view of this stormy history, it might be well to have a thanksgiving to give thanks for Thanksgiving.

All official Dairy Herd Improvement Association records on the 50,000 cows in nearly 2,000 Michigan herds are handled by electronic computation in a central office on the Michigan State University campus.

Huge supplies of soybean meal Thanksgiving Day in Canada is expected to hold down protein not strictly a legal holiday. feed prices and keep them from skyrocketing as they did last spring, say Michigan State University farm economists.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

Recognition of man's true nature as God's spiritual image and likeness is a central theme of the lesson-sermon entitled "Soul and Body" which will be heard in Christian Science services Sunday.

From the King James Version of the Bible will be read the following (II Corinthians 5:1): "For we know that if our earthly house of this tabernacle were dissolved, we have a building of God, an house not made with hands, eternal in the heavens."

Also bringing out man's spiritual nature is this passage to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy:

"Rightly understood, instead of possessing a sentient material form, man has a sensationless body; and God, the Soul of man and of all existence, being perpetual in His own individuality, harmony, and immortality, imparts and perpetuates these qualities in man, through Mind, not matter." (280:25-30).

Memories in Motion

Some time ago an item in a newspaper caught our attention. It was datelined Hollywood and the headline in bold print proclaimed, "Now It's 'Do-It-Yourself' Movies." The article went on to explain that famous names in the Hollywood movie industry had suddenly discovered how much fun it was to make their own home movies—with their own talents, their homes, their children, their neighbors and neighborhood activities given star billing.

Well, if anybody had asked us, we'd have told them just what we've been telling all of you now for a long time—that home movie-making's more fun than winning an "Oscar"!

With a movie camera in hand—and you can now own one for as little as $29.95—every family activity is a potential scenario. The children at play with a new pet... the family on a vacation... visitors at the house... Junior at a Scout jamboree... a sports event or a civic parade—the possibilities are practically endless. And, in every case, a few reels of film can capture these happy times so vividly that they can be relived by the family and shared by your friends every time you show movies on your home screen.

For home movies that are every bit as smooth as the professional product, there are a few simple points to remember. First of all, plan your story theme in advance—whether it's Father on the fairway or Sister's seventh birthday party. To avoid getting little more than a collection of "animated snapshots," don't take isolated shots. Instead, your camera should shoot in sequences. Take the complete action of any one incident before going on to the next sequence, building continuity by a succession of sequences that tell the entire story just as it happened.

To create interest and variety, some of your shots should be taken at a distance; others will be more effective as close-ups. One shot may require 10 or 12 seconds to make its point, while another may need only 3 or 4 for the full effect to register.

Other points to remember are: check to be sure the action is not lost against a cluttered background before you take the shot; try "framing" your picture by using foreground objects to set off what's in the background; don't let the sun shine into your lens; take your close-ups of people in open shade to cut down on strong shadows; use several angles on one subject for a real movie sequence; end on a high note—something impressive to match the mood or atmosphere of your story.

Someone once said, "Home movies are memories in motion, stored in film cans for the future." That they are—and more. They're also fun to make and fun to show.

FRESHMAN BAGS DOE OPENING MORNING

James White of East Tawas, a freshman at Tawas Area High School, was the first hunter to report success at the Herald office on the opening morning of deer season. He shot a 125-pound doe near the Victor Johnson residence, south of Tawas City. Hunting with his mother, it was the first time he had bagged a deer.

Sidney H. Woolner has resumed his duties as chief deputy state highway commissioner according to a recent report.

Prescott Says Good-by to Ranch

In a feature article in Sunday's edition, Ken McCormick, Detroit Free Press staff writer, told of State Senator Charles T. Prescott's recent decision to say good-by to his 6,400-acre cattle ranch near the town of Prescott in Ogemaw County.

"You associate cattle ranches measured in thousands of acres with the vast West, not with compact Michigan," stated McCormick.

"But Charlie Prescott, his shoulders squared and his wide-brimmed cattleman's hat at a jaunty angle, is in the process of saying good-by to his 6,400-acre cattle spread near this town named for his ancestors.

"State Senator Charles T. Prescott . . . as he is known away from home . . . decided to move to Lansing after the death last winter of his wife of a half-century.

"Charlie loved the ranch he has disposed of . . . except for a home and an acre or two . . . but he misses 'Mom' too much to be happy there without her.

"When the Great Depression came, Charlie's Cleveland business was a quick victim. He had toyed with the idea of making the cut-over acres he inherited from his father into a cattle ranch. Suddenly the "hobby" idea looked like a good way to earn a living.

"But he had only the idea and the land, which wasn't even fenced, and he didn't have even a spare dime to start the herd which eventually numbered 1,500 head. He did, however, have a reputation for paying his bills.

"Local banks advanced enough for purchase of a few cows and a bull. In a surprisingly short period the ranch began to pay.

"Charlie says his land now is the finest in Michigan. He improved pastures, built barns, cleared acres for hay and built three beautiful homes on the property.

"The Prescotts had four sons and a daughter. Two of the sons remained on the ranch with their parents and helped build the herd to where it was when Charlie sold out.

"This was a real ranch . . . a big spread in every respect. The staff included contract veterinarians, expert beef appraisers and herd dieticians as well as cowboys.

"Charlie always said he'd never leave the place. And now he argues that he really hasn't changed his mind.

"In a sense," he says, "I haven't really left. This ranch will always be my home. I just disposed of the hard work and all the responsibility."

"There was mist in Charlie's eyes and a huskiness in his voice when he made his last dicker with a man who came to buy his favorite saddle horse.

"Charlie asked for $600. The man said he'd give him $500. For a second the gleam of a trader appeared in his eyes, and then it dimmed as he shrugged.

"You've made yourself a deal," he said, patting his old friend's neck affectionately, and then turning quickly away before anyone noticed the tear in the corner of his eye."

Highlight of the afternoon session was a puppet show. "Phineas rides again," presented by Mrs. D. A. Evans of East Tawas. Mrs. Evans' explanation of puppets and marionettes and their construction made her program doubly interesting to the boys and girls.

Billionth Dollar Comes into Treasury in Forest Receipts

The billionth dollar in national forest receipts will come into the United States Treasury on or about November 21, Louis A. Pommerening, supervisor of the Lower Michigan National Forest, states that Michigan fits into this national picture. In 1958, the national forests in Michigan contributed a sizeable sum to the treasury. Six hundred eighty-four thousand, fifty-one dollars and seventy-four cents ($684,051.74) was received for the sale of timber alone. One hundred seventy-five thousand, five hundred ten dollars and sixty-nine cents ($175,510.69) came from the Lower Michigan forest. In addition, other fees were received from mineral leases and land use permits.

Moneys taken in by the forest service go directly to the treasury and must be appropriated by congress before they can be spent. Of increasing importance to local counties is the 25 percent fund. One-fourth of the receipts are returned to the county in which the forest land lies. This 25 percent must be used for roads and schools. Geared directly to the productivity of the land, this arrangement takes some of the local government hardship off the "non-taxable public land." In the western United States many counties get their principal income from this source.

"Even more important than direct receipts and payments of money," said Pommerening, "are the indirect benefits of the national forests. Who can put a value on a picnic ground, fishing stream, a steady supply of clear water, a mallard nest, deer hunter's camp or on a million unfenced acres? Yes, every square

Hale Health Council Makes Plans for Winter Activities

Hale Chapter of the Michigan Health Council met Tuesday, November 11, at the home of Mrs. Edwin Sharp at Long Lake.

Plans were made for the forthcoming months, which covers the Easter Seal drive; a revised blood donor list set-up, which will be kept up to date and recorded by Mrs. Ruth Guest of Hale.

All donors who are eligible to give blood and whose names are on the present list who gave blood recently are recorded. All persons who would like to become donors are requested to contact Mrs. Guest. This a vital part of community safety.

The council is also in the process of raising funds for a building to house the loan closet equipment. This is being done by contributions from various organizations and the circulation of gypsy baskets.

This loan closet equipment is available to everyone in the Iosco-Oscoda-Ogemaw and surrounding areas. Information can be had by calling Mrs. Guest in Hale.

The council invites anyone interested in the details of this project to attend any or all meetings. There are several hundred program covers for Easter services available free of charge to churches in the area. Requests may be mailed to Mrs. John Dooley, Hale.

The next meeting of the health council will be held at the home of Mrs. Guest in Hale on December 9 at 1:30 p. m.

Tawas Area P-TA will Make Tour of School

Tawas Area Parent-Teacher Association will meet in the high school cafeteria Monday evening, November 24. Beginning at 7 o'clock, a tour of the school will be conducted by Superintendent Reynold Mick. At 8 o'clock, the business meeting will start, during which time "opinionnaires" will be distributed among the persons present to get their opinions on certain school problems. This questionnaire is a state project of "Studying Michigan Schools."

In explaining the importance of this project, Mrs. Charles Neldrett of Pontiac, president of Michigan Congress of Parents and Teachers, points out, "Our public schools belong to all of us and need constantly to seek out ways to understand and improve our schools."

Refreshments for the evening will be served by the mothers of the kindergarten group.

Program chairman for the evening will be Harold Clark.

Anyone interested in bettering the school system is urged to attend this meeting.

A 75,000-watt electric light bulb recently added to the Henry Ford Museum collections in Dearborn, Mich., is shown to Greenfield Village school children by Dr. Donald A. Shelley, executive director. The giant bulb, largest in the world, can produce enough light to supply 190 of today's average homes but has no practical application at present. Made by General Electric, the bulb is 42 inches high, 20 inches in diameter and weighs 50 pounds. Its light output equals 2,874 of today's widely-used 60-watt household bulbs. By contrast, Thomas A. Edison's original bulb was the equivalent of about 20 watts. In the left background is a Sprengel pump and other apparatus of the type used by the great inventor in his first successful incandescent lamp experiment in 1879. The Henry Ford Museum's story of lighting covers three centuries and includes all types, beginning with the earliest grease lamps.

Basketball Will Take Over Limelight

Basketball will take over the limelight in area high school athletics for the next three months as football equipment was packed away until next season. During the next two weeks, while fans have a brief respite on Friday nights, coaches will be working with prospective cagers in anticipation of another season of hard-court play.

At Tawas Area, Coach Bill McIntosh's Braves will open the Northeastern Michigan Conference season December 5 at West Branch. In regularly scheduled play last year, the Braves won their lone encounter with the Orioles and added a second victory in tournament play.

Returning to the Braves line-up this year will be three two-year lettermen, Bill Mick, Ray Moore and Bob Watts.

Mick, a six-footer who played guard last year, has been moved to a forward position. A "dead-eye" jump shot specialist last year, he has been moved up forward in order to shoot more often and to take advantage of his height under the basket.

At the other forward slot will be Ray Moore, six-foot, one-inch tall, who also played guard last year. A slow starter in early 1957-58, Moore went on to become one of the Braves' top scorers, reaching a peak performance in the tournament game against West Branch.

Holding down the center position will be six-foot, two-inch Bob Watts. Although not a "regular" last season, he was in enough games to earn a varsity letter. Watts showed great prospects in his sophomore year and has all indications of being a steady performer this year.

The above three named players are all seniors. A sure bet as a starter on one side of the court at the guard slot is Dwayne Ulman, a junior, who moves up from last year's junior varsity. Standing five feet, 11 inches tall, Ulman will be a three-letter winner at Tawas, participating in football track and basketball.

Starter at the other guard position is still undecided but, at the moment, Bob Foco, a senior, has the nod over Pete Bolen, a junior. Foco, standing six feet, two inches, was a football casualty last year and did not participate in athletics. Bolen, moving up from last year's JV, was the quarterback on the varsity football squad and has participated in track and baseball.

Rounding out the squad will be Chuck Fairfield, Arnie Stump, "Doc" Anschuetz and Al Moore. With the exception of Fairfield, who is a senior, and Moore, who is a sophomore, the remaining players are juniors.

"The way things shape up right now," said Coach McIntosh Monday, "the big question mark as to how this team will fare in conference play seems to depend primarily on the undecided guard slot. Inexperience may be a factor, but with both Foco and Bolen vying for this position, and with additional help from Fairfield, who showed much potential on the JV last year, this season should

A rapid shift is taking place from wild balsam fir and spruce to plantation trees, predominately Scotch pine, according to foresters at Michigan State University.

Farmers' Week is February 2-6, 1959, at Michigan State University.

WITH THE IOSCO 4-H Clubs

By DOROTHY SCOTT County Extension Agent Calendar: Friday, November 21—Ottawa 4-H Club organizational meeting. Saturday, November 29—Peaceful Valley 4-H Club square dance. Young people in the East Tawas area will meet to plan their 4-H Club activities for the coming winter and spring. Date announced for this meeting is Friday, November 21. Meeting place will be the Extension Service office in the Federal Building. Interested boys and girls are invited to be here at 7:30 p. m. Mrs. Marvin Davenport will be in charge of the meeting. "Our Peaceful Valley 4-H Club met for its community club meeting at Peter Brown's home, Sand Lake. We discussed new and old business. We talked about our square dance which is to be held at the Union Hall in McIvor on November 29. "Philip Ahearne is going to make tickets to be sold by each 4-H Club member. He is planning to make 300 or more tickets. It is going to be advertised thoroughly by posters, notices in the papers and over the radio. "Committees for refreshments and entertainment were elected as follows: Refreshments, Mrs. Dodson, Mrs. Miller and Mrs. Wright; entertainment, John Wehrman and Peter Brown. "Following adjournment of the meeting, refreshments were served." Sheila Dodson is reporter for this group. 4-H Council officers, newly elected, met with county extension agents recently. They planned committees of leaders for council activities during the coming year. These committee chairmen appointments were announced at the 4-H Club leader's recognition banquet: Ways and means committee, Mrs. Donald Schuster; constitution and by-laws committee, Mrs. Warren Britt; program committee, Mrs. Marvin Davenport; awards committee, Mrs. George Waters; 4-H Club Achievement Day committee, Mrs. John Cobb and Mrs. Harold Adams. Handbook committee is to include Miss Dorothy Scott, Marvin Davenport and John Wehrman. We are attempting to make a change in the day for writing news column material in our office. 4-H Club reporters can help us and have more up-to-date news in the column each week if they will be sure we receive their news reports by no later than Thursday morning of each week. The surest way to know we have it by Thursday morning is to get it here on Wednesday, unless you can make a personal delivery on your way to school Thursday. Our new schedule for writing news is to do it on Thursday morning and we need to have all our "notes" together by then. Thank you for your help. Foods project members may be helping with the family Thanksgiving dinner next week. Here are some tips for fixing the turkey you and mother may like to review. How big a turkey? For four people, buy a four-pound turkey. For 10 servings, get an eight-pound turkey; for 20 servings, a 12-pound turkey. A 20-pound turkey will serve about 40 persons. Is your turkey frozen? Then you will want to thaw it before cooking. The refrigerator is the best place for thawing. Leave the bird wrapped in its water-tight wrapper. A tiny turkey should thaw in about one day; a big 20-pounder may take four days; a family-size eight to 12-pounder, about two days. If thawing must be done in less time, put it under cold running water; not under the hot water faucet. This will take one to three hours. Allow about one cup of dressing for each pound of turkey ready to cook weight, advise home economics specialists at Michigan State University. Save time by preparing the dry ingredients the day before, then add liquid just before roasting. How long to roast the turkey? Set temperature control at 325 degrees. Allow three hours for a four-pound Beltsville turkey, four hours for an eight-pounder, five hours for a 12-pounder, six hours for a 16-pounder and 7 1/2 for a 20-pound turkey. Plan ahead for the dinner hour. Start your Thanksgiving turkey 20 to 30 minutes ahead of the set hour to avoid delay. This allows time to make gravy, remove trussing cords and arrange the bird attractively on the platter. Then, too, the bird has a chance to reabsorb some of the cooking juices and will taste better than ever. Happy Thanksgiving to you!

THE TAWASES telephone lines by CHET MAHER, Manager LONG AGO IN MICHIGAN there lived an Indian who had quite a reputation as a weather prophet. One fall, he predicted a long, cold winter. When somebody asked him how he knew this, he pointed down the road to his neighbor's house. "Paleface put in two extra tons of coal," he said.

UNLESS YOU HAVE AN INDIAN handy you'll just have to wait and see how hard a winter this one will be. But you can be sure of one thing. You won't be able to visit friends and relatives as much as you'd like. And there'll be many days when getting to the store will be difficult, if not impossible. But cheer up, there is one thing that laughs at rain and cold—your telephone. Use it often to keep in touch, to order supplies. Since the invention of the telephone, winters are never as bad as they were. When snow piles up, just go by phone.

YOU NEVER CAN TELL where the benefits of telephone research will turn up next. Bell Telephone Laboratories have just been awarded a Navy Certificate of Merit for their work on guided missile control systems. And from Nebraska U comes word that a cow is giving cattle researchers valuable information on rumen pressure by means of a small radio in its stomach. What made the tiny radio possible is the transistor—a Bell Laboratories invention first used in Long Distance circuits. The cattle people say the information they get from the radio will help them improve the quality of beef and dairy cattle.

The only real way to celebrate Thanksgiving is to seat the whole family around the dining table and fill them with turkey. But if some of the family can't get home, remember the next best thing: have your family party by Long Distance. Call your loved ones on The Day. They'll enjoy it. So'll you! To the Residents of Sherman Township:

As of November 5, 1958, no fire calls from Sherman Township will be answered by the Whittemore Fire Department.

We regret that this action is necessary because of the large area already being served by a single engine, and since the Sherman Township proposal to purchase fire equipment was defeated in the November 4 election, our limited equipment forces us to service only the fire engine owners; namely, Burleigh and Reno Townships, plus the City of Whittemore.

Three Persons Injured When Shotgun Was Accidentally Discharged Last Wednesday

Three persons were injured when a shotgun discharged accidentally last Wednesday in East Tawas. Although all three men escaped serious injury, two required treatment at Tawas Hospital.

The accident occurred Wednesday afternoon when Raymond Langlois entered the B and H Service Station with a shotgun in hand. Intending to give the gun to his son, Robert, to clean and store away, the gun discharged and sprayed fine shot pellets around the room.

Injured from the flying pellets were William Ferguson, a state police trooper, who was struck in the face and right arm; Robert Langlois, a pellet wound above the right eye, and Donald Bolen, a pellet wound on the back of the left hand.

According to investigating officers, the senior Mr. Langlois thought he had completely unloaded the gun after his last hunting trip. He had apparently only unloaded the magazine and left one shell in the chamber. He pulled the trigger and the gun discharged as it was pointed toward the floor, the shot glancing up into the west and north side of the building.

Trooper Ferguson, who was off duty at the time, was sitting in a chair at the northeast corner of the building about seven feet from the blast. Most of the shot went in his direction, the majority going over his head. Robert Langlois was standing about 6½ feet to the right of his father and Bolen was standing in the doorway behind the shooter.

Ferguson and Langlois were rushed to Tawas Hospital. The police trooper had one pellet removed from his upper lip, one from the right side of his face, one from his forehead above the right eye and one from the right forearm. Doctors were unable to remove the pellet which entered above Langlois' eye and lodged in his skull. Both were released from the hospital the same day.

SEVEN HUNTERS DIE DURING FIRST FIVE DAYS

During the first five days of deer season, seven hunters have been killed by gunfire in Northern Michigan, according to a state report Wednesday night. This is the same number of gunshot victims for the entire 16-day season last year.

KILLER KISS. Animal tamer Jeanette MacDonald draws gasps when she kisses her tigers.

TIP FOR RABBIT HUNTERS

Before you dispose of that deer carcass, here is a tip for rabbit hunters who have trouble with their dogs chasing deer. Conservation Officer Arthur Leitz passes along this information:

On the hind leg of a deer, just above the knee joint, is located a "scent carrier." It is a heavy growth of hair. Remove this "puff" and attach it to the dog's collar when out in the woods. Leitz said that he has used this method several times and it really works. "It could save a good dog and it is just as effective as the commercial deer scent," he states.

suffered a flesh wound at 9:15 a. m. Saturday. Hunting in Section 33, Wilber Township, Strain was struck in the upper right arm by a bullet fired by an unknown hunter. The bullet did not strike any bones. He was treated at Tawas Hospital.

Strain and his hunting companion, Isadore Poma, told state police officers that they were standing in a clearing when the bullet struck the victim in the arm. Both of the men heard the report of a rifle but did not see the shooter.

men's associations and chairman of the Silver Valley Winter Sports Committee. Election of officers will take place at a combined meeting of the board December 10. Anderson is currently president and Champion is treasurer.

It was suggested at last week's meeting that each businessmen's association collect membership dues on a per capita basis with a percentage to be returned to each. A treasurer's report indicated that 136 members have paid $1,115.50 to date. Four new members have been added and four members increased the amount of their dues.

Investigation of 'Suspicious Persons' Leads to Solving Hank's Bait Shop Break-In Breaking and entering of Hank's Bait Shop at East Tawas November 8 was solved last Friday with the apprehension of two juvenile boys, age 12 and 14 years. The youths were both released to the custody of their parents.

Last Friday night state police received a report of the larceny of a bicycle from the Leonard service station in East Tawas. A suspicious persons report was later received.

On investigation of the latter complaint, the two youths were apprehended in the act of stripping parts from the stolen bicycle at an empty lot near Franklin and Smith Streets.

Taken to the police post for questioning, the youths admitted to officers that they had broken into the bait shop a week previous. They said that each had told his parents that they were going to spend the night at the home of the other. Instead, they wandered the streets and broke into the bait shop about 1:00 or 2:00 a. m. on November 8.

The boys removed the stolen property to an unoccupied house at 409 Smith Street, later removing part of the loot to the home of one of the boys.

The house, owned by O. W. Rowley of Vanderbilt, was gutted by a fire the next day. The boys admitted that they had been in the building in the morning. They stated that the stolen property which was not removed from the house was lost in the fire later in the afternoon.

Hunting is Good for Tawas Family Group

Three members of the William DeLosh family, Tawas City, bagged their bucks the first week-end of the season. Hunting at the DeLosh Camp near Turner, Claude DeLosh shot his eight-pointer the first day, as did Kenneth DeLage, who got a four-point buck. William DeLosh Jr. downed a 12-point buck the second day. This is the first time the family has hunted at the camp which they purchased this summer.
