

TAKING SAMPLES for laboratory tests at Tawas City's disposal plant are H. O. Larkin, state health department, and Reginald Bublitz, city superintendent. The study was made last summer.

Bublitz Explains Disposal Problems

In order that persons not acquainted with the intricate operations of large sewage plants which incorporate the use of laboratories and various apparatus for the better treatment of sewage, Reginald Bublitz, superintendent of sewage treatment in Tawas City, will attempt to inform the public on just what some of these phases mean.

The new Tawas City sewage disposal plant, to be considered by voters at the November election, will have a laboratory and measuring devices so as to have a much closer watch over what is going on in the treatment and elimination of domestic and industrial sewage.

In the last article printed in this paper, referring to the recent survey which was conducted by the Michigan State Health Department, there were some words used which probably meant little to anyone not directly connected with this type of work.

A few of the terms used were BODs, suspended solids, volatile suspended solids, bacteriological samples and composite sample, terms used every day in this field of public health and welfare.

To begin with, there are a great many different types of treatment plants in use in Michigan today, such as, trickling filter, activated sludge, sand filter, and Emhoff tanks. The latter is the type which is used in this community.

Different communities have to have plants designed to meet the "loads" or the type of sewage which they must receive and the type of plant used also depends on what kind of stream or body of water to which the final sewage is discharged.

"We are rather fortunate because of the fact that we have a fast moving stream, even though it is low, and a large bay not too far distant from the plant discharge," said Bublitz. "These conditions make it possible for us to incorporate the most economical type of treatment for our sewage; namely, Emhoff tanks."

The Emhoff tank is made up of three different sections; namely, the sedimentation tank, sludge digestion, storage chamber and the gas chamber. To briefly describe the process which takes place, the sewage is pumped into the sedimentation tank which disperses the sewage so that the solids will settle into the sludge digestion and storage chamber. There are also "weirs" in the sedimentation channel which tend to help the solids to settle and they also act as a scum barrier to prevent greases, soaps and other materials from passing from the channel to the chlorine contact tank which is the final treatment phase before emptying into the stream.

Here in the chlorine contact tank is where the proper amount of chlorine is added to the sewage to disinfect the water.

BODs are run (tested) both in the incoming and outgoing sewage to determine what percentage of treatment the plant is giving this sewage. The BODs (Biochemical Oxygen Demand) is a measurement of the sewage strength or the oxygen required for the biochemical oxidation of the organic matter at a given temperature and time. This refers to the quantity of dissolved oxygen required during decomposition of organic matter in polluted water, sewage or industrial wastes.

Bacteriological tests are used in the sewage plant to determine the most probable numbers of bacteria in the effluent (outgoing) or receiving waters. The suspended solids and volatile suspended solids tests tells the plant operator just how much and what part of the incoming sewage is solids and what part is removed during the course of treatment before being discharged into the stream.

This is a very important test as the more solids that are removed, the less time it will take for the stream to overcome and throw off the effects of the sewage it is receiving. Too many solids being dumped into a river or stream will cause it to be putrid smelling and unsightly. There are, of course, many other elements besides sewage which will cause these actions in a stream and more often than not the sewage treatment plant will receive blame, even though it is not justified.

"Our new plant addition will have many features which we have lacked in the past and will, in the future, make our receiving waters and public safer because of the ability of these additional tools to do a better job," said Mr. Bublitz. "And with gauges, we will also know what our load is during the different periods of the year. With the bacteriological tests we will know how good our treatment is and if something is wrong we will know where the trouble lies and be able to correct it."

(This is a second in a series of articles on sewage treatment which will be printed from time to time prior to the November 4 election, at which Tawas City voters are being asked to approve a general obligation bond issue which will finance the construction of new additions at the disposal plant.)

MAKE PLANS FOR DRIVE—

An organization meeting for the 1958 Boy Scout fund drive was held last Wednesday night, September 24, at the East Tawas Club. Carl S. Thunberg and William O. LaCourse were named as co-chairmen for the drive.

This annual fund-raising campaign to support the Paul Bunyan Council is to be held Tuesday, October 14. A meeting will be held Tuesday night, October 7, at 8 o'clock at the East Tawas Club for final instructions and dispersment of project cards to the team captains.

Body of Ex-Convict Found in Swamp

After combing Northeastern Michigan in a fantastic "needle-in-a-haystack" search, Michigan State Police and a Texas Ranger found the body of Texan George Kean Sunday, buried in a shallow grave in Alcona County. He was killed by a .45 caliber bullet which shattered his skull, an autopsy revealed Monday.

Kean, ex-convict and reputed vice king of the Fort Worth area, had been the subject of an intensive three-day search by state police. It was learned from confidential underworld sources that he had been murdered last December in Pontiac and his body transported nearly 200 miles north and buried.

On Monday, less than 36 hours after the discovery of the body, state police announced the arrest of Dimitros Tsermegas, 39, a native of Galveston, Texas, but in recent years of Ecosore. The man verbally admitted killing Kean in a quarrel last December 15 or 16.

Police said that Tsermegas admitted taking the body north with two companions from Texas, who had accompanied him and Kean to Michigan intending to stage holdups.

Acting on undisclosed tips from Texas, Michigan State Police found the body Sunday partly buried under piled-up earth in a swampy area 200 yards from US-23 near M-171 in Alcona County.

By piecing together information from ranger headquarters in Dallas, state police and Capt. Jay Banks, a Texas Ranger from Dallas, learned that the three men had stopped overnight at the Welcome Hotel in Osceola on their way north to bury Kean's body.

'African Adventure' Movie to be Shown Here October 21

A color movie, "African Adventure," will be shown at Tawas Area School Auditorium Tuesday, October 21, under the sponsorship of the Tawas Chamber of Commerce. This film was photographed and narrated by Ebb Warren, well-known Michigan nature photographer.

This announcement came last Wednesday night at a meeting of the chamber board of directors. It was reported that plans for showing the film at an afternoon assembly had been canceled, due to the fact that there is no way to darken the school auditorium during daylight hours.

This movie will start at 8:00 p. m. and ticket sales will be in charge of Isoco Quota Club.

In other business, a letter from San Antonio, Texas, was read thanking the chamber for arranging entertainment during the National Editorial Association's stop-over here during July.

A membership report indicated that 115 members have paid $3,543.50 to date with a balance in the chamber treasury at the present time of $377.83. The board is to make personal contacts which were missed during the drive in the area in order to gain membership funds to maintain operating expenses for the remainder of the year. The amount to date spent on area promotions is $1,505.93.

Next meeting of the US-23 Boosters will be held at Tawas on October 15. Plans for promoting US-23 for next year will be made and principal discussion will be centered on the possibility of having a sign erected at Cheboygan, similar to the one at Standish, to direct south-bound traffic.

One point of interest in the area, the Jameson Wild Life Sanctuary, was discussed after receiving a letter which pointed out that it is now closed to the public. The board stated that the road was open to visitors at the present time and everyone is welcome at the sanctuary.

Police Cracking Down on Game Law Violators

Eight arrests were made by Michigan State Police this week on charges of violation of Michigan conservation laws, mainly on deer in possession or firearms in possession in a deer area after sunset.

Police said that an anonymous phone call tip to the post early Sunday morning resulted in the apprehension of two "poachers" on Tawas Beach Road.

State police made recent arrests in the Hale area when officers in a patrol car heard several shots fired and nabbed two men with firearms in their possession.

The offenders were turned over to local conservation department officers for prosecution.

The two youths who were nabbed by police early Sunday morning were unable to pay fines and court costs meted in justice court and are serving 30-day jail sentences at the Isoco County Detention.

Police reported that numerous complaints had been received recently in this area pertaining to poaching, but, until the arrests were made last week-end, the offenders had avoided apprehension.

WIOS to Broadcast School Grid Games

Ron Gamble, station manager at WIOS Radio, Tawas City-East Tawas, announced Tuesday that beginning Saturday morning of this week the radio station would start regularly scheduled broadcasts of high school football games of the week, played in this area.

The first game to be heard in this series will be the Whittemore-Prescott vs. Osceola game to be played under the lights on the latter's home field Friday night.

Making a play-by-play tape recording of the game to be aired Saturday morning at 11 o'clock, will be Dwight "Luck" Gadd, the station's sports announcer.

Other games in the series will be: October 11, Houghton Lake at Tawas Area; October 18, Tawas Area at Osceola; October 25, Tawas Area at Arenac Central; November 1, Mio at Whittemore-Prescott; November 8, Alcona at Osceola.

Glennie Farmer's Dander is Up Over Marauding Bear

Ernest Lilly of Glennie is a peace-lovin' man—but a marauding black bear has got his dander up. There probably won't be any peace around his farm until the skin of that critter adorns the hearth in front of a fireplace—anybody's.

The entire story of the villainous act of the bear came to light last week when a friend of Lilly's, F. H. VanGuntent, asked Alcona Deputy Sheriff Arly Robinson if he knew the whereabouts of a large bear trap.

Now, trapping bear at this time of year in Alcona County is what some people call "poaching." Naturally, Deputy Robinson was more than a little suspicious about the matter and promptly decided to do a little investigating, after VanGuntent told him that Lilly had blood in his eye for some old black bear.

The deputy was enlightened by the outraged farmer who told him that this bear had killed six of his sheep, devouring all of the carcasses except for the rib cages, back bones and wool.

Robinson decided he needed some assistance in handling the case so he called in Conservation Officer Jack LaFear of Osceola. Lilly accompanied Robinson and LaFear out into his wheat field and pointed out the spoor (tracks), to you non big-game hunters) which were left by the bear.

The left hind foot of the critter measured eight inches long and five inches wide which, by the reckoning of the two law men, meant that this bear was no puny fellow.

A call was made to district headquarters of the Michigan Conservation Department and a professional trapper was sent to the Lilly farm to see what could be done. The conservation department man set a trap for the animal but, as yet, it has avoided it.

Now, if old Bruin wants to save his skin he had better stay clear of the Lilly farm. The conservation department would not issue a permit to kill it out of season, but the regular season on bear opened October 1. Old Bruin may have fled the country by this time.

Anderson Strike is Settled

Anderson Coach Company employees went back to work Monday morning after a vote was taken last Thursday afternoon. The company's two plants had been shut down for one week after contract negotiations between the union and the company had failed and union picket lines were thrown up around the plants.

A disagreement over increases for non-production employees was ironed out between the union and the company last Thursday when the back-to-work agreement was reached.

Some 97 men walked out September 19 after the union, Millman Local 2539 of the Carpenters and joiners of America, and Anderson Coach Company were deadlocked in negotiating sessions.

The company had offered an hourly pay hike of five cents to production and maintenance workers and had agreed to make the raise retroactive to last July 1, when the existing contract expired.

The union had asked for a 10-cent-an-hour raise for production and maintenance workers and for four watchmen.

The company's five-cent-an-hour raise offered last week was accepted by the men. Negotiations started immediately on other provisions of the contract.

When the working force returned Monday morning, the company resumed production of its 1959 model mobile homes which were introduced at shows in early September.

WEDNESDAY MORNING'S bow and arrow season opener on deer lasted for only a few minutes for Robert Penman of Tawas City. He is pictured above with a doe which he shot "just as the sun was coming up," south of Tawas City. The doe weighed more than 100 pounds, dressed out. Penman, an Isoco County deputy sheriff, said that he shot the deer from about a distance of 20 yards. The arrow penetrated the deer's abdomen and Penman waited four or five minutes before following it. This was the earliest opening day kill ever reported to the Herald.—Tawas Herald Photo.

Promotion of Krumm and New Controller Announced by Guest

Promotion of one employee and the hiring of a new controller for Anderson Coach Company was announced Wednesday morning by President James Guest.

James W. Keltner, who has been engaged in public accounting work for over 25 years, has been hired in the capacity of controller of the coach company, and William H. Krumm, an employee since 1947, was promoted to assistant purchasing agent.

Keltner has been associated with Anderson Coach Company and Huron Sales Company during the past eight years as an independent accountant and auditor.

He plans to make his home in the Tawas area.

Krumm entered the employ of the coach company shortly after his discharge from the army. Working in production, for the past few years he has had charge of final finish operations. He will now work under D. Keith Papis.

The new assistant purchasing agent lives in Tawas City with his wife, Mischa, and two sons.

Notices of meetings of the organization will be made by post cards mailed to members and also given to mailing students notices to take home.

Raise Uniform Funds

The Cardinal Athletic Club, which promotes sports activities at Whittemore-Prescott Area High School, announced this week that a profit of $233.22 had been realized from a recent fund-raising campaign. The money will be used to help finance the cost of football uniforms.

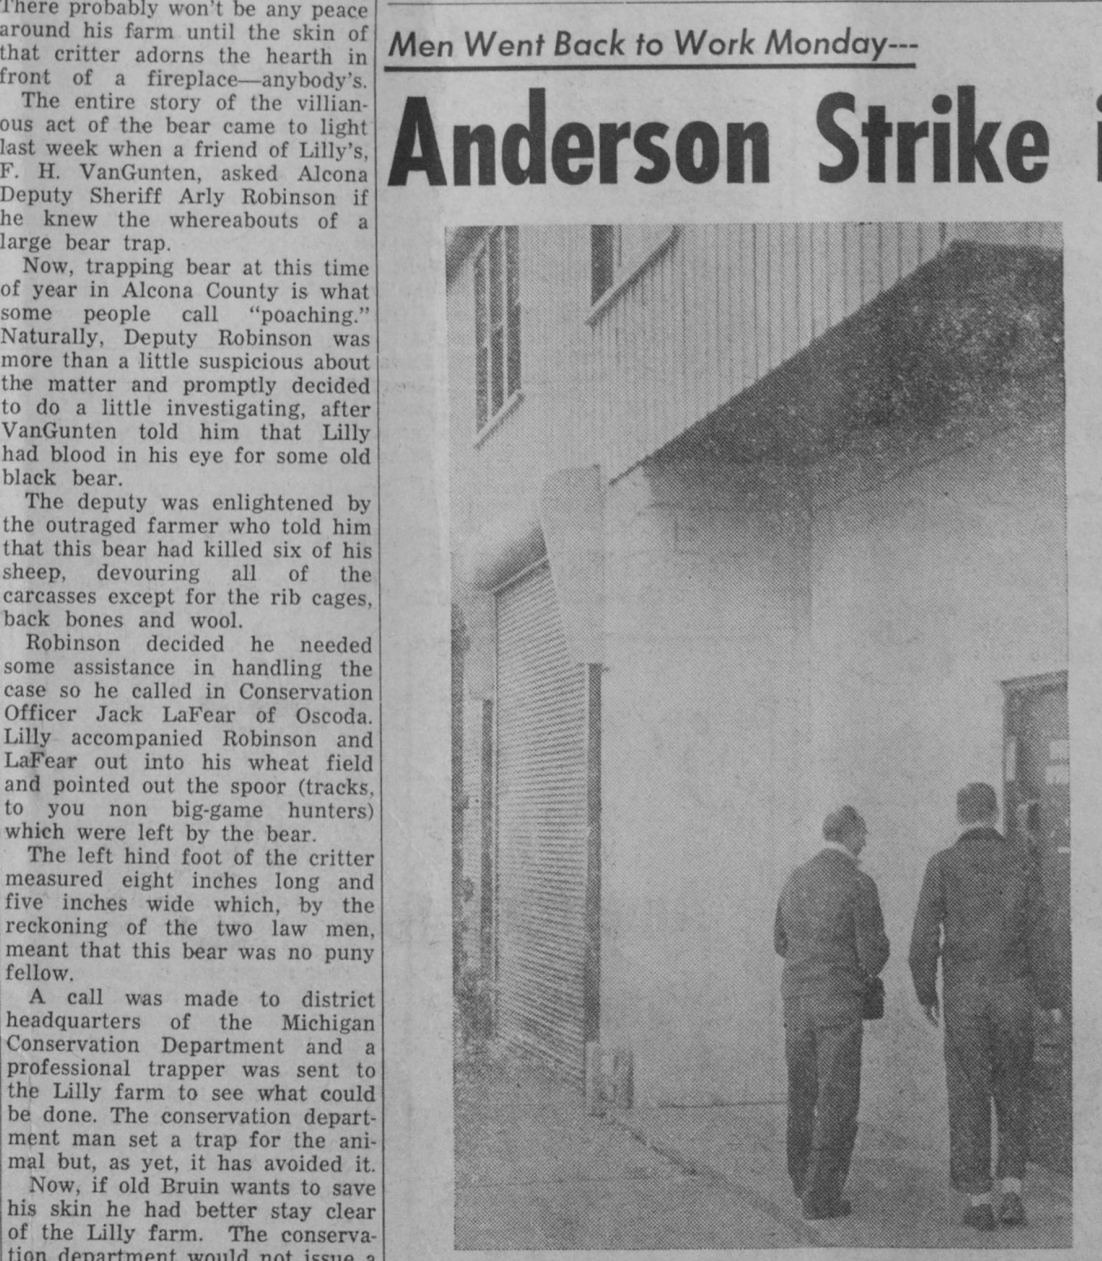

"All fathers of boys or girls who are interested in sports in the Whittemore-Prescott Area are urged to attend Cardinal Athletic Club meetings," stated President William Fuerst. "Men who do not have children participating in sports, but who are interested in community or school activities, are urged to attend."

BULLETIN

Alfred W. Mason, 33, newly appointed assistant prosecuting attorney for Isoco County, was killed instantly about 3:15 o'clock this morning (Thursday) when his car left US-23 south of Tawas City and smashed into a tree.

On impact, the wreckage caught fire and burned, apparently the result of leaking gasoline. A passing motorist notified Michigan State Police and the Tawas City Fire Department was called.

Mason, who was single, was headed north, the car leaving the road one mile south of the city limits. Tire marks indicated that it skidded along the shoulder for some distance. The car, on its side, was wrapped around a tree.

WHEN THE KROGER COMPANY opened the doors of its new Tawas City store Monday morning to interview applicants for jobs as clerks and cashiers, a crowd of more than 100 persons was on hand. The parking lot adjacent to the store was jammed with cars as both sides of US-23. As each applicant progressed along the line, he filled out a questionnaire and was personally interviewed by a Kroger official. The long line, pictured at top, was not processed until late afternoon. The picture below shows the interior of the store with store manager, William Collins, interviewing an applicant in the center, and Richard "Dick" O'Brien, Kroger zone manager, second from right, talking with an applicant.—Tawas Herald Photos.

Newspaper is Eyes, Ears, Conscience of Community

National Newspaper Week is a concentrated effort to explain the functions of a newspaper. To inform, to interpret, to entertain—this is the role of the American press. Its foundation is the First Amendment's guarantee of freedom of the press.

The American people possess many other freedoms, as set out in our Constitution, and a priceless one springing from them is the right to know and to be informed. Here the newspaper performs its greatest service. It is the eyes, ears and conscience of a community. It jealously guards the many rights of people while giving them the facts and information necessary to be good citizens. For only when we know the truth can we support what is good or condemn what is bad.

Wars have been fought to gain and preserve our independence. So, too, is battle waged by the newspapers of our country to defend and guard the freedoms and rights of a free people. This is a never-ending fight, quiet at times, at other times loud—but always on behalf of the American people.

A newspaper is a service organization whose prime responsibility is always to the reader. It performs a service when corruption in government is exposed. It performs just as important a job when the reader is informed of an outstanding accomplishment of a public official. It gives its subscribers an opportunity to voice their thoughts in its letter columns and provides accurate information upon which to form opinions.

Public opinion is reflected in the people's choice of elected leaders. To keep this country strong and free our leaders must be honest and wise. Therefore, sound thinking and a good foundation of knowledge are vital necessities to good government.

Newspapers are a vital part of the American economy, purchasing many millions of dollars of materials each year and offering, through advertising, opportunities for businessmen to increase their revenue and for buyers to use their money to the best advantage.

The free world has been shrinking. Evidence of real trouble comes in a nation when despotism finds an implacable foe in a free press, and muzzles it. We free Americans must be on guard constantly against any encroachment on the people's right to be informed correctly. For that is the real meaning of freedom of the press.—By Buford Boone, Tuscaloosa (Ala.) News, winner of 1957 Pulitzer Award for editorial writing.

The Golden Text is from Romans (13:12): "The night is far spent, the day is at hand; let us therefore cast off the works of darkness, and let us put on the armour of light."

EXISTING LOCAL INDUSTRY SHOULD BE APPRECIATED AND ENCOURAGED

Expansion of existing local industry affords every community its best opportunity for improvement of the area's economy.

This is emphasized in the third of a series of advertisements on industrial development being carried by this newspaper and 300 other daily and weekly newspapers in Michigan as a public service.

This week's advertisement features the drawing of a hand holding a modern industrial plant with the caption, "A Bird in the Hand is Worth Two in the Bush!" It stresses the importance of existing industry to every community.

The entire advertisement is directed toward the appreciation of present industry and efforts to assist it to expand. It stresses the fact that industry located in any town is more important than in the community might like to attract.

"It's a hundred to one that the best opportunity your town has for more industrial payroll lies in expansion of its present industry," the advertisement states.

The local industrial payroll is referred to as a "priceless possession" that other towns would like to get.

"Do not take the industry in your town for granted. Show your pride in it. Help it expand. There

FRIDAY FOOTBALL FLASHES

Hosts to East Tawas Legion Post

Officers of Audie Johnson Post, American Legion, of East Tawas were formally installed Tuesday evening, September 23, at a joint meeting with Jesse C. Hodder Post at the Tawas City American Legion Hall. About 50 were present.

Officers of the East Tawas post installed were: Fred Look, commander; Charles Anson, vice commander; Joseph Barkman, adjutant; finance officer and service officer; Deloise Durant, chaplain; Gerald Spencer, sergeant-at-arms.

The installing officers were: Fred Marx of Prudenville, fourth district commander; Delbert Pevitt of Midland, 10th district committeeman; Edward D. Smith of St. Helen, alternate 10th district committeeman.

In addition to installation of officers, the joint meeting of the two Legion posts opened a membership drive for the new year and talks on membership were given by the three district officers.

Spartans Threaten With 4 Minutesto Go; Game Ends 6-6

An ankle-hold tackle was all that saved the day for Tawas Area School Friday night as the Braves and Pinconning Spartans battled to a 6-6 tie.

With but four minutes to play in the game, Pinny Quarterback Gary Kinsey broke free on his own 30 and raced towards the goal line and a sure tie-breaking TD in sight. A great defensive play by Halfback Ray Moore saved the game as he finally nailed Kinsey on the eight-yard line with a diving, one-handed tackle.

This play was only one of several which highlighted the game for a large crowd of spectators on hand to see the varsity's inauguration of Tawas Area's new lighted football field.

Tawas kicked off to Pinconning to start the game and the Spartans could not get their offense moving. Several major penalties hurt Pinny in the early stages of the game and play was mostly in Pinconning territory throughout the first quarter.

Early in the second quarter, Tawas Area broke into the scoring column on a 15-yard run around right end by Harry Woolhiser. The try for the extra point failed and Tawas led 6-0 at the half.

Following impressive half-time festivities by the Tawas Area Band, the Spartans kicked off to the Braves who finally had to punt on fourth down after being unable to get any resemblance of an offense rolling.

Pinconning then started a drive which was climaxed by a touchdown by Kinsey on a quarterback sneak from the six-inch line. The try for extra point was not good and the score remained at a 6-6 tie.

This set the stage for Moore's heroics in the last few minutes of play when he tripped the Spartan quarterback on the eight. This play was set up by Kinsey with a neat bit of deception in the backfield, and the Spartan signal caller rumbled through a big hole in the Tawas line without a hand touching him.

However, this drive bogged down when Pinconning was penalized 15 yards for a personal foul and Tawas' line held on downs. The Braves then moved the ball out of the danger zone as the game ended.

Leading ground-gainers for the Adams-men were Harry Woolhiser and Den Ledsworth. The defensive team worked well as a unit, although tackles were still high and there was much to be desired in the blocking of the offensive unit.

This Friday night the Braves will journey to Roscommon to tangle with the Bucks of Coach Earl Haight.

The upraised arms of the official in the picture at bottom left indicates that Pinconning scored on the play as Quarterback Gary Kinsey knifed through the right side of the Tawas line. Tawas players in the picture are Tom LeClair, No. 25; Dick Wandoff, No. 38; Jim Zaleski, No. 40, and Bud St. James, No. 26, who stopped the runner, but only after he crossed the goal line.

Halfback Ed Lapan of Pinny is shown being stopped by three Tawas defenders late in the final quarter in the next picture as the Pinconning team was moving toward the goal line. Tawas players are LeClair, No. 25; Lee Lorenz, No. 31, and VanOrnum, No. 34. Halfback Harry Woolhiser, No. 15, who scored the Braves lone touchdown of the game, is pictured above being nailed by a Pinny defender later in the game. The speedy back scored early in the second quarter and the Braves were held the rest of the way by the Pinny defense. No. 21 is Bolen. —Tawas Herald Photos.

Junior Varsity Wins 19-7 Victory Over Pinconning

Tawas Area's junior varsity battled out a 19-7 win over the Pinconning JV last Thursday night on the loser's home field. This game was the toughest test of the strength of the Tawas JV team in the past two seasons and the win sent its streak to 10 consecutive games.

From the opening whistle, spectators saw excellent line play on the part of both teams. To counter the toughest defensive line play seen by the Tawas team in two years, Coach Bill McIntosh's charges came up with a big equalizer—good blocking, both on the line and downfield.

When the Tawas JV squad meets Roscommon here tonight (Thursday), the team will be playing with an entirely new starting backfield. Four of the boys, Herman Rollin, "Butch" Loy, Bill Martin and Terry Miller, will move up to the varsity squad for Friday night's encounter at Roscommon.

Tawas Area took an early 6-0 lead in the first quarter when Terry Miller went from his left half position on an end sweep and ran 30 yards to pay dirt.

When Tawas took over the ball later in the same quarter, LH Herman Rollin scored a second six-pointer on a dive play from the two-yard line after he had moved the ball deep into Pinny territory on similar plays. Pinconning rebounded in the second quarter to score a touchdown and convert the PAT to make the score 12-7 in favor of Tawas Area at halftime.

After a scoreless third period, Miller again clicked on the same play which netted a touchdown in the first quarter, a sweep around end for 35 yards, and Tawas had an 18-7 lead. Quarterback "Butch" Loy kicked the extra point to end the scoring for both teams.

Although the entire line played well on both offense and defense, the coaching staff was particularly impressed with the work of Jim Brooks, Neil Mochty and Bob Frank. Stalwarts in the defensive alignment were John Sass, Martin, Terry Johnson, Miller and Rollin.

Other committee appointments included Rean Mooney, Gaylord; Dr. Carl Rauch, Cheboygan; Francis Kinne, Harrison; John Pinter, East Tawas; Hughfer Giesel, Bay City, and Sanford Silsby of Roscommon.

 Newport, site of the navy's school of justice, is the President and Mrs. Eisenhower's summer home location.
 Stewart L. Covey, airman apprentice, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Covey of Oscoda and husband of the former Miss Barbara G. Gibbons of Tonawanda, New York, is serving aboard the attack aircraft carrier USS Randolph, operating as a unit of the United States Sixth Fleet in the Mediterranean Sea.
 The carrier left Norfolk, Virginia, September 2, the same day she received the Atlantic Fleet Carrier Class Battle Efficiency Award for fiscal year 1958. The award was the second successive win for the Randolph.
 Each year ships of the Atlantic Fleet are required to complete a given list of competitive exercises for the top class awards. In addition, the judging is based on departmental winners among the many carriers and seaplane tenders for excellence in engineering, operations, gunnery and air department.
 The Randolph made a clean sweep of all awards even though the first eight months of the year were spent in the Mediterranean area with the Sixth Fleet.
 Army Pvt. Gary A. Zink, son of Mrs. Ruth E. Zink, Tawas City, recently was assigned to the United States Army Transportation Training Command at Fort Eustis, Virginia.

We expect a lot from our soils. We grow lawns and gardens literally "burning up" organic matter that holds soil "food nutrients" in solution without replacing this organic matter. More of us should always have a compost pile for a source of organic matter. Some folks do not like the "smelly" stuff. If we do not like the smelly stuff we should not expect to have a garden or lawn to be proud of either. If a compost pile is impossible, better plan on spending some money for top soil from a reputable dealer. We have many around our county.

In case that you feel that you can have a compost pile here are the simple directions. It is like a recipe from the cook book.
 First build the pile in layers, with a few handfuls of fertilizer scattered over each new supply of organic matter that is added. The best fertilizer to use is 12-6-6, 10-6-4, 10-10-10, 12-12-12 or 8-8-8. Use 100 pounds in a compost pile of 125 cubic feet. Also add about 25 pounds of finely ground lime, either mixed with the fertilizer or applied separately.

Next sprinkle a little garden soil in each layer to inoculate the pile with decay organisms. Keep the pile moist, but do not apply enough water to cause drainage. The top of the pile should be saucer-shaped to catch rain or water from sprinkler. Woven wire or picket fencing fashioned into a circle will aid in building and confining the compost pile.

Crops thrive best on loose soil. Twelve years of test with sand soils, loams and clay loams at Michigan State University have shown this to be true.
 Many methods of tillage were tried in these tests. But none were better than those using the moldboard plow. Discing and harrowing after plowing were harmful rather than helpful.
 Furthermore, these tests showed that smoothing the furrow with a trailing implement helped make planting and cultivating easier and resulted in a better stand. However this soil preparation did not increase yields where stands were not a factor.
 This type of tillage can save money—$3 to $6 per acre; water—the loose soil allows water to penetrate easily and then holds it; soil—losses may be reduced as much as 40 percent.

Complete information on minimum tillage is now available in a new Michigan State University bulletin, E352. Ask for copy at our office in the Federal Building, East Tawas.

Iosco County has received modified certification regarding brucellosis. Certain privileges are granted us under the law of the State of Michigan. Your cattle may be sold from herds not under quarantine without being blood tested by obtaining certificates of record from the office of the state veterinarian in Lansing, such certificates being based upon county certification and herd status.

 foreign orchestras, opera companies and choirs round out the collection.

Professor H. R. Behrens, director of the conservatory, expressed his appreciation of the gift which, he pointed out, cannot be assessed in money value, since so many of the recordings are not available at any price. "It will," he said, "greatly augment our present record library and will be widely used by our music students."
 Dr. Ferris E. Ohl, professor of voice and chorus, remarked, "This is a tremendous gift by Mr. Youngs which will add greatly to the instruction of everyone at the conservatory. We are quite certain there is no better collection existing anywhere than this one which will undoubtedly be in constant use."
