Work on New W-P School Going OK

Construction work on the new Whittemore-Prescott Area School is going on schedule, it was reported Monday by Clifford Morgan, who has charge of the project for Vollmer Construction Company, general contractor.

Steel work on the building was started August 20 and the laying of brick September 2 on the classroom "B" wing.

Morgan said that it is hoped to have the "B" wing enclosed by December 1. The $550,000 building is scheduled for completion in July 1959.

Pouring of concrete for floors is about 50 percent completed, reports Morgan.

At present some 39 men are working on the project, including 16 employed by the general contractor, seven plumbers and six steel workers.

OPENS LAW OFFICE AT EAST TAWAS

Former Detroit and Belleville attorney, F. Duane Ross, has opened law offices in the Holland Hotel Building in East Tawas.

A native of Belleville, Mr. Ross, 38, graduated from high school there in 1937. After attending Eastern Michigan College at Ypsilanti, he enlisted in the Marine Corps and served at Great Lakes. He was married to the former Miss Ruth Foster of Ypsilanti in 1939. They have one son.

Commissioned in the United States Navy in 1943, he served as maintenance officer in the naval air force and as executive officer in the navy school of justice previous to separation in 1947. He still retains his commission as lieutenant commander in the naval reserve.

Mr. Ross graduated from Detroit College of Law in 1950 and passed the bar examination in 1951. He has been associated with his father, Daniel W. Ross, in the practice of law in Detroit and Belleville.

Early Enrollment Increase Figure Was Slightly High

Increased enrollment at Tawas Area Schools was not quite as high as thought last week, it was reported Monday by Supt. Reynold Mick. He stated that the overall increase in the four high school grades was 49 students.

As of Monday the total number of students in the upper four grades was 466, as compared to 417 in the fourth week of school last year. Total gain in the entire school was 115.

"Enrollment has seemed to level out now and we do not anticipate any major change during the remainder of the school year," said the superintendent.

Student enrollment in high school on Monday was as follows: Ninth grade, 118; 10th grade, 117; 11th grade, 125; 12th grade, 106. Much of the increase was shown in the totals for the ninth and 12th grades. Last year's senior class numbered 74 students. However, last year's junior class, now 12th graders, numbered 104, showing an increase of only two students as the class moved up.

A considerable jump was seen in the freshman class. Last year's eighth grade numbered some 87 students. Last year's freshman class numbered 117 and the 10th grade this year remained at the same number.

Superintendent Mick said that with an increase of 34 students in junior high school, a third section of eighth graders has been organized. Enrollment in the seventh grade is 105 and there are 97 students in the eighth grade.

Elementary grade enrollment figures were as follows: Kindergarten, 154; first grade, 91; second grade, 101; third grade, 97; fourth grade, 96; fifth grade, 91; sixth grade, 96.

The board of education hired another elementary teacher at its meeting Monday night to take care of an increased student load. Mrs. Florence Mielock was hired to teach the fourth grade at the East Tawas unit and Mrs. Elizabeth Bielby will take part of the first grade.

The superintendent stated that the school has had an enrollment increase of five percent per year for the past five years. The increase is about seven percent this year.

The increase in number of students has resulted in the overcrowding of four school buses. "As soon as an accurate count can be made on all the routes, the bus schedules will be adjusted so that buses will carry only the normal loads," he said.

New Pamphlet Describes Area Advantages—

C of C Promotes Industrial Expansion

As a means of promoting the location of industry in the Tawas area, copies of a new pamphlet describing the advantages of this area were presented this week to the Tawas Chamber of Commerce.

A public service folder, printed as a pamphlet, is being distributed by the Tawas Herald, includes information pertinent to the location of industry here.

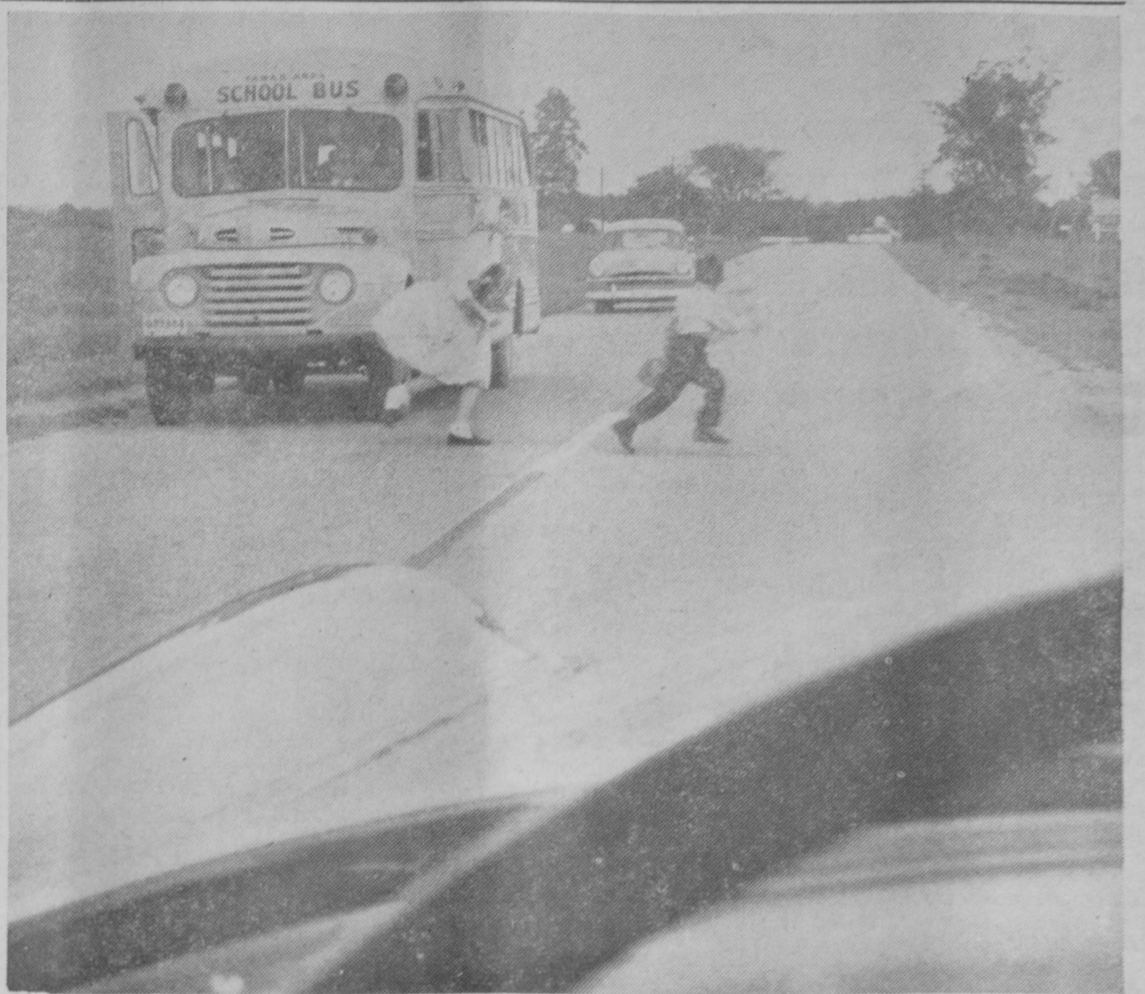

It stresses the recreational advantages to be found here, with particular emphasis on fishing, swimming, boating, hunting and winter sports.

Information for the pamphlet was compiled by Mrs. Bertha Montgomery, office manager of the chamber of commerce; C. V. Miller, East Tawas businessman, and the Herald's job printing department.

It includes aerial views of both Tawas City and East Tawas, facts about the Tawas area, a list of representative industries here and recent improvements in the area.

This pamphlet will be supplemented by an additional fact sheet which is now in preparation, information for which is being gathered by A. Don Anderson, chamber president. This will also be printed by the Herald.

President Anderson said that selling Tawas as a location for industry was a job for everyone. "We have many advantages in our area for the location of industry, but we must get out and sell them," he said.

Observe the New Bus Law

Effective Saturday, September 13, Michigan law requires that a motorist who is overtaking or meeting a school bus bring his vehicle to a full stop at least 10 feet from a bus which is unloading passengers and not proceed until the bus resumes motion.

Isco County motorists were asked by local law enforcement agencies to comply with this law at the start of the school year, instead of waiting for the effective date.

The above is an unposed picture taken by the Herald photographer through the windshield of his car Monday afternoon. It is a graphic illustration of why a motorist should be alert when school buses approach. . . . the children must watch both ways when crossing in front of the bus.

Supt. Reynold Mick of Tawas Area School reported Monday that most motorists have conformed to the request for early compliance with the law. In several instances, however, motorists have not stopped for school buses, thus endangering the lives of children.

The objects we pursue and the spirit we manifest reveal our standpoint, and show what we are winning."

Learn to Say 'No' Over the Telephone

(This is the fourth in a series of articles prepared by the Michigan Retailers Association in an effort to better educate the buying public of Michigan in improving their buying habits. This newspaper is cooperating with MRA by bringing this series to its readers.)

The ring of a telephone most always brings a feeling of anticipation "who can this be?" or "what will they want?" and one usually never knows until it has been answered. Ever try not answering a ringing telephone? Most individuals cannot resist long before picking up the receiver. Because of this natural urge to answer the phone, one becomes vulnerable to "telephone gimmicks" solicitors like to use the phone for appeals for donations, to sell merchandise, to sell tickets to shows, dances, banquets, sporting events and a miscellaneous assortment of events. Many of these solicitors are calling for very worthwhile events, organization or firms. The rest of them usually represent border-line groups or temporary organizations and are under the direction of professional promoters working on a high pressure basis. For this last reason one must "learn to say 'no' over the telephone."

Under certain circumstances it is easier to accede to a telephone request than it is to listen to or combat the personal sales talk. By merely listening to a solicitor's story, a vicious and annoying practice is encouraged. One has absolutely no means of knowing from a telephone conversation who is on the other end of the line, whether it be a bona fide appeal or sale, or whether you are being trapped by an out and out racket. Regardless of a smooth voice, flattering words or high pressure sales methods used by solicitors, one cannot possibly make an accurate appraisal of the person talking or the project that he is representing by telephone.

For the purpose of saving your time and to prevent the possibility of your being victimized by unworthy or fraudulent activities, the following procedure is suggested to be used in dealing with all telephone solicitations.

1. Adopt a fixed and unalterable policy of never making a contribution to charity, of never purchasing tickets or charity advertising, and of never buying merchandise in response to a telephone appeal.

2. Cut a solicitor's conversation short with an emphatic statement to "put it in writing," or if the subject is of particular interest, suggest a personal interview for the purpose of presenting printed or written matter which may be retained for reference purposes.

3. Give consideration only to those appeals which are fully and frankly presented in writing. Legitimate and worthwhile organizations and firms are usually willing and anxious to make a full and complete disclosure in writing of their aims, objectives, direction, merchandise and management. If a solicitor cannot give anything in writing then one can safely assume that his campaign or merchandise is not worth contributing to or buying.

New Act Increases Social Security Benefits

On August 28 President Eisenhower signed the 1958 amendments to the Social Security Act. These amendments provide for an increase averaging about seven percent for all the people now receiving payments and no application need be made. It will be automatically added to the January checks, which will be received early in February 1959.

Benefits will become payable to a number of people not previously eligible. Among those affected are wives and children of disabled workers over 50 who are now receiving disability payments. Wives of these workers of any age should apply for payments if there are children under 18 or disabled. Applications should also be made on behalf of these children. Birth certificates should be brought in and other needed proofs can be discussed at that time. Wives 62 or over and dependent husbands 65 or over can also receive payments. Proof of age will also be needed for them.

Disabled people will now find it easier to qualify for the disability freeze or payments. The requirement that one-half of the time be spent in covered work in the three-year period before the onset of disability has been dropped. Only requirement now is a total of at least five years of covered work under the law. This applies both on new applications and to those who were denied because they did not have six-quarters of coverage in the three-year period before they became disabled.

Leaflets regarding these and other changes in the law are available and a letter or post card requesting OASI-1958-1 will bring one by return mail. Send your requests to the Social Security Administration, 1009 North Madison Avenue, Bay City, Michigan.

100 Expected to Apply for VA Schooling

During September and October, 100 young men and women in Michigan are expected to apply for schooling this fall under the two-year-old war orphans' education program. Mr. Jameson, Veterans Administration Regional Office manager at Detroit, announced today.

The education program for sons and daughters of deceased war veterans became effective in October 1956.

War orphan students generally must be between 18 and 23 years of age, Mr. Jameson said. They either must have completed or have been a pupil in a regular high school. They may receive up to 36 months of education, with the veterans administration paying an allowance of up to $110 a month for each month they are in school.

Before they start school, they will be given vocational counseling to help them select a goal and the proper course leading to the goal.

To be eligible, their veteran-parent must have died from a wartime-incurred disability.

Most knitters and crocheters have been calming frayed nerves with needlework for years. But did you know more and more doctors and psychologists are recommending needlework today as the best tranquilizer on the market for many of the women who come to see them? The new movement began with professional Occupational Therapists in the country's leading medical institutions. "We've proved that the repetitive nature of knitting soothes agitated patients in our mental wards, says the O. T. at one of New York's largest hospitals. "But you know, physical illness often creates emotional problems, too. Lately we've been trying needlework as a calming agent throughout the hospital, and results have been excellent."

One of the best examples of needlework's beneficial effects comes from the National Multiple Sclerosis Society, MS, as it is called, is a partially crippling disease without known cause or cure. It usually strikes in young adulthood. "Our greatest concern is fighting the depression, the feelings of frustration that besiege our patients," states an MS social worker in New York. "And needlework definitely ranks highest among our weapons. It gives the home-ridden constructive work to do. It furnishes an outlet for that important need to create. And above all, it's relaxing. A chronic disease brings many new problems and tensions into a household, and it's often needlework that helps bring relief." An avid knitter herself, she loves practicing what she teaches.

NEEDLEWORK: A WOMAN'S BEST TRANQUILLIZER

I thought you'd be particularly interested in these medical findings, because every woman encounters many of the same problems and tensions in her own daily life. And, to combat them, prominent psychologists agree that needlework can be one of the most effective tranquilizers. "Knitting really makes my day!" says Adelia De Angelis, attractive MS patient who keeps calm and busy with needlework every afternoon, making garments for her family while they're out at work. The item I'm offering today is a crochet pattern Adelia has chosen for a little nephew: a vertically striped cardigan in lavender and white. For your free instructions, just send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to the Needlework Department of this newspaper and request STRIPED BLAZER, Leaflet No. C-535.

DEEP WITHIN a mountain in southwestern Missouri, freight cars await unloading of civil defense equipment to be stockpiled there for use in case of enemy attack. The siding, extending 600 feet into the mountain, can accommodate 16 railroad cars simultaneously. Calendar: Monday, September 15—Leader training meeting, "Broiler Meals."

"Something different" using the same, everyday foods—is that what you would like to serve for dinner? How about some menus with that delightful "grilled" flavor?

Menus like these will be suggested and demonstrated at the training meeting for leaders of home economics groups to be held on September 15.

Roberta Hershey, Michigan State University nutrition specialist, will teach the class beginning at 7:30 p. m. in the Consumers Power Company kitchen in Tawas City.

September is an ideal time for women to join an extension group. It is now that the new program for the year gets underway. This year we are to have lessons in flower arrangement, broiler meals, Swedish embroidery, glass etching and seasonal salads. The Christmas meeting is to be county-wide and feature holiday foods. Special workshops are planned for refinishing furniture, upholstering, cotton dress construction, picture frame and valence board construction.

Both the chicken and the egg are extra good buys right now. Why not try some old-fashioned fried chicken with biscuits and gravy for a cool fall evening supper? For this you can buy the older hens which are stewed to the just tender point, then fried. However, fryers and broilers continue on the plentiful and inexpensive list.

You, too, can take part in these interesting and varied projects. For more information get in touch with me at the Federal Building, East Tawas, phone FOrrest 2-3751.

Chili sauce is one of those end of the season food preservation chores, yet tastes—oh, so good, next winter.

Here is a way to take a little of the "chore" out of making chili sauce. It is a recipe that requires no cooking, yes, I said, no cooking.

You will need to assemble: One peck of tomatoes, two bunches of celery, 12 medium sized onions, three red sweet peppers, three green peppers.

Wash and skin the tomatoes; then put all the above ingredients through a food chopper.

Cover with one cup of salt and mix it up well. Let the mixture stand over night. Next morning it is drained until just mushy.

Boil together one quart of vinegar, one package (1 1/2 ounce can) of Lee and Cady catsup spice and five cups of white sugar. Pour it over the tomato mixture and heat until hot. Fill canning jars, leaving one-half inch headspace, and seal. This recipe will make 14 to 15 pints of chili sauce.

This recipe is a favorite with Ruth Hebert and all the women with whom she has shared it. We think you will want to try it.

Marriage Vows Solemnized in Double Ring Ceremony

MRS. HERBERT M. KOHN

St. Mary's Church, Muncie, Indiana, was the scene Saturday, September 6, of the marriage of Miss Regina Cyr and Herbert M. Kohn. The 11:30, double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Fr. E. J. Cyr, cousin of the bride. Miss Vivian Cyr was organist.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Fred J. Cyr of Fowler, Indiana, and Mr. and Mrs. George Kohn of National City.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose a princess style gown of peau de soie which featured a V-shaped neckline, accented by Alencon lace and seed pearls. The skirt fell into a chapel length train. Her fingertip veil of French illusion was secured by a band of Alencon lace. She carried a cascade arrangement of white grapes and Stephanotis.

Matron of honor, Mrs. James Herman of Chicago, Illinois, sister of the bride, wore an aqua gown of peau de soie with a scoop neckline, cap sleeves and an apron front skirt which was caught into a bow in back. Bridesmaids, Miss Bernadette Cyr, sister of the bride, Miss Eileen Grudy and Miss Carol France, both of Toledo, Ohio, were gowned in champagne dresses of peau de soie styled like the matron of honor's. The attendants carried baskets of gold grapes, natural wheat and bronze chrysanthemums.

Allen Kohn of Edmore, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. James Herman of Chicago, Illinois; Edward Cyr of Cranford, New Jersey; and Darrell Salun of Toledo, Ohio, served as ushers.

Breakfast was served at the Top Hat for 100 guests immediately following the ceremony. A reception was held at Noll Hall in the afternoon.

Following a two-week wedding trip through the Eastern States, the couple will reside at 2733 Ken-ale, Toledo, Ohio.

'MAC' CHUBB SEEN OVER WNEM-TV MONDAY

Malcolm "Mac" Chubb, former athletic director of Tawas City public schools, appeared on a news telecast over WNEM-TV Monday. Chubb is superintendent of the Hoover School District in Genesee County which was recently forced to curtail much of its educational and athletic programs due to the lack of funds.

Mr. Chubb was here during the 1941-42 school year and resided at the BayVue Apartments. He was instrumental in organizing an independent basketball team here at that time.

'FALL COLOR TOURS AWE-INSPIRING'

Mrs. Bertha Montgomery, office manager of the Tawas Chamber of Commerce, in her news release to state news media this week said, "One of the most beautiful trips in the fall is a planned color tour. When Jack Frost gets busy at this season, the color harmony against the green background of the forest or the sweeping view from the high banks of the AuSable River is an awe-inspiring sight."

"The trip from the Tawas to the Lumbermen's Monument on the bank of the AuSable, then following the river either to the left or to the right, will bring many scenic views for the camera enthusiast. The backwaters of the four power dams located on this river offers a panorama of color unsurpassed in Michigan."

The Herald reprints Mrs. Montgomery's message in order to remind local residents to take advantage of scenic beauties to be found in this area. It is quite often the case that the "natives" take such things for granted, while the down-staters travel great distances to enjoy the scenic beauty of the north country.

Two Injured When Car Overtakes on M-65

Two men were injured early Sunday morning when the car in which they were riding rolled over on M-65 near the River Road intersection.

Injured were Nathan L. Nunn, 24, Hale, who suffered bruises, lacerations and possible rib fractures, and Francis Pangel, 21, Whittemore, multiple bruises, burns and abrasions. Both were treated at Tawas Hospital.

Nunn, who was driver of the car, told investigating state police officers that he swerved his car to avoid hitting a deer which was standing in the road. He said he was traveling about 50 miles an hour at the time and lost control when the car hit the shoulder.

The vehicle skidded off the road for 275 feet sideways, hit an earth mound about three feet high and then struck a highway sign. The vehicle traveled about 344 feet after leaving the road before coming to a rest on its top.

If you need some help on "how to take accurate soil samples," drop us a post card. Your samples are tested at a soils laboratory at a cost of 50 cents. Often one sample is all that is needed for each field.

It is lime applying time. Michigan State University specialist, James Porter, recommends fall applications of lime because the material has time over the winter to do its job of sweetening the soil for good production of legumes which are coming in the rotation.

There is another good reason for putting lime on in the fall. The soil is usually dry enough so that spreading trucks and equipment will not damage the soil structure.

Lime put on in the spring not only does not help the legumes, it may cause reduced oil yields. Planting may have to be delayed until the soil dries enough to support heavy spreading equipment.

Have the soil tested for lime needs. It is the only way to find out how much lime is needed to get the PH to the proper level.

Water is an important need of that new lawn you just seeded. Soils specialists at Michigan State University say the most important step in caring for a newly seeded lawn is to make certain that the surface layer of the soil, in which the seed is embedded, always contains enough moisture to keep the little seedlings alive after the seeds germinate.

Water the lawn as often as is necessary to keep the surface moist, using a fine spray to avoid washing the soil. You may have to sprinkle the new seeding two or three times daily.

After the grass is about one inch tall, you can water the lawn by soaking the soil to a depth of four to five inches and then allowing it to dry until the grass shows signs of wilting. Begin mowing the lawn as soon as the grass is three inches tall. A sharp mower is essential for cutting new seedlings. Set the cutter bar to cut a height of two inches and maintain the grass at this height.

Here is a reminder to county dairymen on ear tags for calves that have been vaccinated for brucellosis. It comes from George Parsons, extension dairy specialist, at Michigan State University.

Record numbers of original vaccination ear tags and keep a record of new tags that are put in the calf's ear to replace the lost or tornout tags. The record will help you avoid trouble later on when the herd is blood tested.

Also be sure to tell the veterinarian when he blood tests the herd about the original numbers so he can make proper changes in official records. A vaccinated animal carrying a non-recorded ear tag number may be called a suspect if there is an increase in the blood titer.

This problem of replaced ear tags will be with us until all vaccinated animals carry a tattoo in the right ear.

4-H Clubs

BY DOROTHY SCOTT
Home Demonstration Agent

Firsts—first day of school, first formal party dress, first shave—yes, boys and girls have lots of firsts to remember and to look forward to the time when they will happen.

Roger Britt, age 12, earned a new "first" for Iosco County 4-H Club members by placing first in the first junior dairy demonstration contest at the State 4-H Club Show in East Lansing held August 26-29.

Junior demonstration contests are for 4-H Club members 10 to 14 years old. In addition to dairy demonstrations there were contests in handicraft, poultry, livestock, electrical, conservation, 4-H Boy and Girl projects—all firsts for the junior division.

Roger is a member of the Sherman Sharpies 4-H Club and lives on a farm located not far from Turner in Sherman Township. His father and mother are Warren and Ella Britt.

Which will be the "first" 4-H Club to meet and plan its projects, leaders, meetings and activities for the coming year?

Discussion and planning by leaders at the 4-H Leaders Council meeting last month will bring some changes to our county program this next year. Members, leaders and parents, alike, will want to know about them. The community 4-H Club meeting is the perfect opportunity to learn.

The Michigan State Police are reminding motorists that a new Michigan school bus law, effective September 13, requires stopping when overtaking as well as meeting a school bus stopped to receive or discharge school children. The old law required stopping only from the rear. Cars may not proceed until the school bus resumes motion or the school bus driver signals other drivers to proceed or the flashing red lights on the bus are no longer actuated. State Police are urging motorists to be exceptionally cautious to avoid rear end collisions during the changeover in the law.

Braves in Final Week of Practice Before Opener

With only one more week remaining before the start of the fall football season, Coach Howard Adams has been "pouring it on" his Tawas Braves since the start of practice sessions a week ago Tuesday. On September 19, the Braves will open the North-eastern Michigan Conference season at West Branch.

When the Braves take on the Orioles in the opener, Tawas will have nine returning lettermen on the squad. These include Jim Zaleski, Frank Brigham, Dwayne Ulman, Ken Blust, John Cybula and Don Heenan, all line-men, and Dennis Ledsworth, Tom LeClair and Gary Brackenbury, backs.

Reserved seats for home football games at Tawas Area School's new lighted football field are still available. By purchasing a $5 membership to the Tawas Area Athletic Booster Club, the ticket entitles the bearer to a seat. New collapsible bleachers have been purchased and are to be paid for through reserve seat ticket sales.

Players coming up from the ranks of the undefeated junior varsity last year include Lowell Long, Jim Birkenbach, Leo Lorenz, Gary VanOrnum, Bud St. James, Duane Sanders, Ken Pitts, Doug Evans, Dan Roper, Gene Roiter, Rick Huck, Charles Noel, Harry Woolhiser, Arnie Stump, Pete Bolen and Rudy Bielby.

Adams is banking heavily on these "rookies" to fill the gaps in the lineup which were caused by last spring's graduation.

Added to these players, the Braves are hopefully watching two new prospects who transferred here this year from Detroit. They are Dick and Pete Wandoff, the former a husky lineman who will probably get a starting nod in the opener.

Alternating as signal callers at the quarterback slot during the first week of practice have been Bolen and Stump. Bolen was the regular quarterback on last year's JV squad while Stump was an end.

Others running in the backfield, along with Ledsworth and LeClair, have been Woolhiser, a speedster of last year's JV backfield, and Ray Moore, one of the school's top basketball players who is going out for football this year.

The opening game has all prospects of being a real scrap between the Braves and Orioles. Bob Boston, West Branch coach, will try to have his charges "fired up" to avenge the 14-13 loss which they suffered last year at the hands of Tawas, while Adams would like to see his team make it two in a row over the Orioles.
