

97 Union Workers Stay Out at Anderson Coach

Peaceful Picketing Shuts Down Production Lines

A dispute over wages which caused the shut-down of Anderson Coach Company at East Tawas last Friday night continued this week as the striking men refused to enter either the main production plant near the Michigan State Police Post or the final finish plant north of East Tawas.

The men, all members of Millman Local Union 2539, Carpenters and Joiners of America, set up picket lines around the two plants last Friday night and continued to picket this week. Only a skeleton picket line appeared at the plant Monday.

Negotiations between the union and the company came to an apparent showdown late Monday night when Anderson officials served notice on employees to report to work Tuesday morning at the regular starting time.

At about 6:30 o'clock Tuesday morning the men showed up at the plant, but refused to enter when the 7 o'clock time signal sounded. Picket lines were again set up at both plants and most of the men returned home. There was no violence.

Anderson Coach employed some 97 union men. Prior to lay-offs due to reduced orders last winter, the company employed 114 men.

In a statement to the men Monday night, the company said: "The union has violated its contract with the company by calling a strike without giving notice of termination of the contract. In view of this fact, the company has today served notice on the union that the contract is now null and void."

"Business conditions at the Anderson Coach Company today make it impossible for the company to meet the demands of the union."

"The plants of the company will open at 7:00 a. m. on Tuesday morning, September 23. If you punch in on time you are hereby assured of the protection of your seniority rating."

"If you do not return to work the company will be obliged to replace you."

"Beginning September 23, the company will increase the base rates of production and maintenance employees by five cents an hour. Vacation pay, holiday pay, overtime pay and insurance benefits will remain the same."

"Health, accident and life insurance benefits will terminate on September 30 for employees who are not then on the payroll."

James A. Guest, president of Anderson Coach Company, and Herbert Hertzler, secretary-treasurer, appeared at the main entrance of the production building Tuesday morning where they talked with employees for about a half an hour before returning to offices on the second floor.

Principal bone of contention offered by the men at this meeting was the fact that many minor changes were made in plans for constructing the trailers as they went through the production line. This, the men said, slowed down production and nearly made it impossible to construct the necessary amount of trailers a day in order for the men to come under benefits from the company's bonus system.

Under the old contract, Anderson Coach employees were paid a base rate of $1.90 an hour. During negotiations the company offered a five cent an hour increase. Employees also receive an additional 22 cents an hour, which did not show up on weekly pay checks. This money was approximately eight cents an hour per man for paid vacations, about nine cents an hour for group insurance paid by the company and five cents an hour paid by the company for six holidays during the year.

Meetings between the union negotiators, headed by William Scott, president of the local; Chairman Elmer Squires, Paul Grimes and Richard Prescott, were held with Anderson Coach officials on Thursday night and for seven hours Saturday afternoon.

WHILE ONE local industry was having labor difficulties, Tawas Industries, Incorporated, signed a new two-year contract with its employees, members of the Tawas Independent Workers Association. Seated are Elmer Werth, right, vice president and general manager, and Charles Landon, union president. Looking on are Leo Wellna, Marie Wemert, Ruth McClean, Blanche Timreck, Angie Roper, Helen Wendt and Harry Lixey, all signers for the union. The contract included new fringe benefits and a general wage increase of five cents and hour effective January 1.—Herald Photo.

Union Men Give Their Views on AC Strike

Spokesmen for the local said Tuesday night, "We don't feel our demands are unjust, inasmuch as there have been price increases in 21 of the past 23 months, according to bureau of labor statistics."

"We hope the strike can be terminated without too much delay. We realize that a strike creates a hardship on everyone concerned."

"Negotiations on a new contract have been underway since June with state and federal mediators assisting. After the first round we were dead-locked. A strike vote was taken 60 days prior to the termination of the contract, which expired June 30."

"We have notified the company that we are available 24 hours a day whenever and wherever they wish to continue talks," the union local representatives stated.

Company Officials Explain Their Stand

Wednesday morning, company officials stated:

"The company has been negotiating with the union on the new contract since June 17. The original demands of the union would have cost the company 76 cents an hour without taking into account ridiculously elaborate demands of retirement pay, double-time premium and vacations to laid off employees for three years after they leave the company."

"The company's stand from the beginning has been that it is in no position to incur any increased costs in view of the depressed business conditions and the fact that 20 percent of its production employees are laid off."

"The bonus system under which the men have enjoyed generous earnings is still in effect. The low volume of sales and the necessity to manufacture coaches of special design in order to keep the plant operating have made it difficult for the men to earn the high bonuses they have received in the past."

"The company's contention is that this situation will be corrected as soon as business conditions become more favorable."

"Limitations of the present contract and the uncooperative attitude of a few of the employees have contributed importantly to inefficient production and low bonuses."

"The company met with the

Supervisors Act on Establishing Legal Tawas Lake Level

Action to establish legal levels on Tawas Lake was started last week when the Iosco County Board of Supervisors instructed the prosecuting attorney to proceed with formalities of calling a hearing and placing the matter in the hands of Judge Herman Dehnke.

Petitions, signed by the necessary 51 percent of adjoining property owners, had been presented to the board by Paul R. Harvey, attorney for the Tawas Lake Association, in August.

During last Wednesday's session the board's conservation committee reported favorably on the petitions.

The Frank Rak property, acquired by the county two years ago for airport expansion, was sold to Emil Loffman, who owns property adjacent to the 10 acres on which the county board of supervisors asked for bids.

Money from the sale of the property will be placed in the county's general fund.

Approval was given for preparation of 5,000 county maps through the joint effort of the Iosco County Road Commission and the board of supervisors.

Transfer of $1,000 to each of the direct relief and welfare funds from the emergency fund was approved by the board.

Congressman Elford Cederberg addressed the board, stating that Tawas Point had not been declared surplus by the federal government as yet. He said that he would do everything possible to see to it that the property was kept for public use.

An appropriation of $200 for Silver Valley, requested by A. Don Anderson, president of the Tawas Chamber of Commerce, was tabled until the October session.

Salary to be paid Alfred W. Mason as assistant prosecuting attorney was set at $200 per month by the board. Mr. Mason will assist Prosecuting Attorney William R. Barber, who has been in poor health the past several weeks.

Give Instructions

Instruction in the use of fire extinguishers was given to two shifts of nurses and other employees at Tawas Hospital Saturday afternoon. Conducting the program was Chief Bill Stewart of Wurtsmith Air Force Base and Tawas City Fire Chief Fred Musolf.

Killed at Wurtsmith-- Worker Dies Under Wheels of Truck

Harold B. Brady, 53, a foreman for Joslyn Heating and Plumbing, Mt. Pleasant, was killed instantly Monday afternoon at Wurtsmith Air Force Base when he walked into the path of a moving truck and was crushed by its dual wheels.

Witnesses at the scene told investigating police officers that Brady had just walked out of the enlisted men's mess hall and was opening up a pack of cigarettes. He walked into the path of a loaded gravel truck, operated by Theodore Anschuetz, 20, of Tawas City.

Anschuetz was backing up the truck carrying seven yards of sand. Two nearby workers called out to warn the victim and the truck driver but their cries were not heard because of the noise of other construction equipment operating in the vicinity.

The loaded truck, owned by Tawas Sand and Gravel Company, a sub-contractor for the A. J. Ekin Construction Company, ran over Brady's legs, crushed his hips and abdomen. Coroner E. D. Jacques said that death was instantaneous.

The driver of the truck was questioned and released.

Attorneys attend court rule session.

Circuit Judge Herman Dehnke held a court rule session with attorneys of the 23rd judicial circuit in the court room of the Iosco County Building Tuesday.

The meeting covered new pre-trial rules in accordance with recent determinations of the state supreme court.

This is a new procedure in use in most of the larger circuits in Michigan at the time when contested cases are presented to circuit judges for the purpose of speeding the trial of cases.

Ten attorneys were present at the meeting from Mio, Harrisville and Iosco County.

Wells F. Anderson Died in New York

Wells F. Anderson, 56, a director and senior vice president of operations of the National Gypsum Company, died Sunday in Buffalo General Hospital. He lived at 11 Brantwood Road, Snyder, New York.

Mr. Anderson had been ill since last May. He returned to the hospital August 21.

A recognized authority on geology, Mr. Anderson joined National Gypsum's Buffalo office in 1951 as production manager. Promoted to vice president of manufacturing in 1954, he was made a director and senior vice president of operations in May 1956. He was production manager for Reynolds Metals Company of Richmond, Virginia, from 1945 to 1951.

Previously he was associated with the United States Gypsum Company of Chicago in various capacities for 18 years. He managed the company's Winston, Nova Scotia, plant before being assigned to the home office.

Born in Tomah, Wisconsin, Mr. Anderson received his education in the public schools there. He earned his master of arts and bachelor of arts degrees and a doctorate in geology at the University of Wisconsin.

He was well known in this area through his associations with National Gypsum Company's plant at National City.

Judge Denies Motion to Open Port Gypsum Suit

A motion to vacate and set aside a decree handed down on the Port Gypsum suit in Iosco County Circuit Court last July was denied Friday by Judge Herman Dehnke. Included was the denial for a motion to grant a trial on the merits or grant a re-hearing.

The decree entered in July by Judge Dehnke dismissed a petition brought by Dr. Malvern Obrecht and the Rev. Fr. Robert Neuman, as plaintiffs, against Gerald Eddy, director of conservation.

The petition, which was the original suit in the Port Gypsum dispute, asked that the conservation department be permanently enjoined from leasing or deeding submerged lake bottom lands south of Tawas City to National Gypsum Company for constructing its lake loading facilities.

This suit against the conservation department was dismissed by Judge Dehnke on July 21 at the time he dismissed a Michigan Department of Conservation petition which asked for a temporary restraining order against the port development.

This latter petition by the department and property owners was based on a new law passed by the state legislature, effective July 1 of this year, which required that a permit be obtained before alteration be made to submerged lands, along with other requirements.

Among other things, Nicholas V. Olds, assistant attorney general, and Attorney James Brooker, counsel for the plaintiffs, argued that the trial of the original cause was taken up by the court on its own motion without any advance notice to the plaintiffs or defendants.

Olds argued that the statute under which National Gypsum Company had attempted to obtain the lake bottom lands from the state was unconstitutional. His reason was that certain wording in the bill passed by the legislature was omitted which allowed for the determination of whether or not the submerged land was suitable for recreational purposes before being sold or leased.

In previous court cases, Judge Dehnke has held that the intent of the legislature was clearly shown in passage of the bill allowing the state to lease or deed submerged lands to National Gypsum Company and that it was his opinion that the law was not unconstitutional because of the omission of certain wording.

In his denial, Judge Dehnke stated that the court record indicated that the matter of dismissing the original petition had been discussed at the hearing in July with counsel for both the defendants and plaintiffs.

Judge Dehnke cited Michigan statutes and opinions of the supreme court which allowed for the consolidation of similar cases by the court. "To keep this cause alive would have no other effect than to keep the water rolled a little bit longer," he said.

Judge Dehnke's opinion of July 21 in which he denied the temporary injunction asked by the conservation department against National Gypsum Company is to be appealed to the Michigan Supreme Court. The Michigan Department of Conservation was given time to perfect its appeal to the higher court.

The spiritual, harmonious nature of God's creation including man will be brought out at Christian Science services this Sunday. Among the Bible passages to be read in the lesson-sermon entitled "Reality" is this one: "The prophet that hath a dream, let him tell a dream; and he that hath my word, let him speak my word faithfully. What is the chaff of the wheat? saith the Lord" (Jeremiah 23:28).

Correlative passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will include this: "Jesus' demonstrations sift the chaff from the wheat, and unfold the unity and the reality of good, the unreality, the nothingness, of evil" (269:5).

The Golden Text is from Psalms (45:6): "Thy throne, O God, is for ever and ever: the sceptre of thy kingdom is a right sceptre."

during October. There will be pointers in selecting foods suitable for broiling, individually or arranged as a broiler meal.

Completing menus for the broiler prepared meal is discussed, too, lest we forget to be sure all our essential food needs are met.

Present at the training school were: Mrs. Earl Daugharty, Mrs. James Mielock, Mrs. Harold Hammond, Mrs. Donald MacDonald, Mrs. Herman Fahselt, Mrs. Harold Siegrist, Mrs. Nelson Provoast, Mrs. Robert Botsford, Mrs. Thomas Quattlebaum and Mrs. Richard Bertsch.

Nice days like we have been having make us sure we want to plan on going to the district rally in Mio on October 3. It will be a beautiful ride, plus the program of fun, fellowship, food and facts about an interesting project (the development of the St. Lawrence Seaway). You will not even have to bring food, providing I know by September 26 that you will be going. Call me right away.

Landscape day is October 1. Joseph Cox, landscape specialist from Michigan State University, is coming to help us continue with the special projects begun by a dozen or more families last spring.

These folks are working out ways and means to beautify their home grounds. We also plan to begin a community beautification project at Reno Township Hall, which has recently been moved and improved.

A couple of other "fix-up" projects are scheduled for this fall. They, too, will help families to improve appearance and comfort when it comes to furniture.

Refinishing and reupholstery are the topics. We shall learn to do by doing. At the workshop articles of furniture will be refinished and reupholstered. Sure, it is work, a lot of work, but the satisfaction is great, too.

Come along and join the class, if you want to learn. We would appreciate your telling us soon, though, if you want to come. A preliminary meeting to decide what to do with each person's article of furniture and what is needed with which to do it, will soon be held.

The shoes most flattering to you depend upon your height and body build as well as the shape of your foot. Correct lines for shoes can add or subtract from your height, minimize the width of your ankles and give your figure an appearance of slenderness.

Straps across the ankle make the legs seem larger. Shoes in one color and texture make the feet and legs seem more slender.

If your foot is long, look for shoes that have a buckle or decoration on the top. Such shoes will make your feet appear shorter.

However, if your foot is short, a plain-line shoe or one with a V or U throat or low cut will be flattering.

WITH THE IOSCO 4-H Clubs

BY DOROTHY SCOTT Home Demonstration Agent

Calendar: Monday, October 6—4-H Club Leaders' Council meets.

First with their fall organizational meeting was Peaceful Valley Community 4-H Club. September 12 is a record early for starting the new 4-H Club year of activities. Our congratulations to these young people, leaders and parents.

Let us hear about the meeting from Sheila Dodson, reporter.

"The 4-H Club of Peaceful Valley opened the first meeting of this year on Friday, September 12, at John Wehrman's home.

"We have six new members: Mary Jane Miller, Mike Miller, Richard Miller, Kathy Miller, James Dodson and Larry Forsythe. Added to our present membership we have 14 in all.

"Projects we selected are: Gun safety, first aid, handicraft, forestry, clothing.

"New officers are: Mary Jane Miller, president; Kathy Dodson, vice president; Mike Miller, secretary; Verna Kay Wehrman, treasurer; Sheila Dodson, reporter.

Next to the first will be Sherman Sharples Community 4-H Club. They had a meeting on September 19. The reporter will tell us about it next week.

As the new year's 4-H program begins, let me remind you that this is your 4-H Club news column, the news in it will be of, for, by and about you and your club IF (and this is a big if) you tell us what goes on. An alert and prompt 4-H Club reporter in your club will keep you "in the news."

If you should not see any news from your club in the column for awhile, check up and be sure your reporter gets "on the ball."

John Wehrman and Clarice Davenport are bursting with news and information to share with other 4-H Club leaders when they get together again on October 6. That is because they attended the district leaders council meeting in Standish last week. Be sure to come and hear what they have to say.

Candidates were recommended for various county award pins, medals and special recognitions at the meeting held for that purpose during the last week. These candidates are girls and boys whose accomplishment for the year in at least one project has been especially good. The awards will be presented at a community 4-H Club meeting later this fall.

CAMP FIRE GROUP ELECTS OFFICERS

Election of officers was the purpose of the first fall meeting, Monday, September 15, of the O-ta-ku-ye Camp Fire Group. Those elected for the first semester were: Tunney Fletcher, president; Patricia Rhode, vice president; Mickey Bennington, secretary; Cheryl Look, treasurer.

New Camp Fire books were received by the group after the business meeting. A discussion was held on group honors. Each member was asked to bring rules to the next meeting which are to be obeyed on hikes or campouts. The meeting was closed with the "Trail Seekers Desire."

Braves Lose to West Branch

West Branch took the role of a darkhorse in the Northeastern Michigan Conference Friday night by taking the measure of the Tawas Area Braves, 12-6. The Braves could not find the spark to fire up a good offense or defense in the first half, generated enough to score in the third period and failed to get going again in the final quarter.

This Friday night the Braves will take on Pinconning in the varsity season opener at the new Tawas Area School lighted athletic field. A dedication program had been planned for the new field this week but this has been postponed until a later date.

The Orioles scored in the first period after taking over on downs in their own territory. Halfback Gene Hutchins went off tackle for 40 yards and the initial score of the game. The conversion attempt failed but the winners had a 6-0 first quarter lead.

In the second period, after an exchange of punts, Quarterback George Pappas dropped back and hit Hutchins with a short toss which the back took for 50 yards for the Oriole's second counter. That ended the scoring as far as the Branchers were concerned.

Tawas Area found the right spark in the third period, playing their best brand of ball. The Braves scored after a fourth down pass was intercepted and returned to the West Branch 10, from where Den Ledsworth drove in to score.

The Braves were not without other scoring opportunities, but a 40-yard pass play from Quarterback Pete Bolen to End Arnie Stump was nullified because of an off-sides penalty and a fumble cost them the ball deep in West Branch territory.

JV Win Record Kept Intact

The Tawas Area Junior Varsity took up right where last year's JV left off by trouncing the West Branch JV under the lights at Tawas Area's new football field Saturday night, 58-7.

Coach Bill McIntosh's charges combined an excellent passing attack with good running to take an early lead and were never in trouble the rest of the way.

This game featured some good downfield blocking on the part of the JVs, which sprang the backfield loose on several occasions, and some excellent tackling. McIntosh was a little disappointed with the blocking of his offensive line but had high praise for his defensive unit.

Scoring touchdowns for the Tawas JV squad were: Sass, left end, who caught two touchdowns passes; Bill Martin, right end, who led in scoring with three touchdowns, one on a pass, one on an

Our recent beef tour conducted with Wilton Finley turned up some important items. First, he indicated that all calves expected to be sold at West Branch Hereford Calf Sale on Thursday, October 16, must be dehorned and castrated. This ruling was passed last spring by the Hereford Calf Association board of directors.

Secondly, and very encouraging to the calf raiser, is the expected price of calves this fall—they will be higher. Finley expects prices to range from 32 cents to 36 cents at the West Branch sale.

A third point we saw on the tour and discussed at length was pasture. At Earl Daugharty's farm we saw Birdsfoot trefoil plots (about four acres of it) and Mr. Daugharty told us how his beef cows and calves had grubbed it into the ground and how it came right back even with our dry weathers.

Birdsfoot is a legume that might fit in those acres where alfalfa cannot make the grade. It is a semi permanent kind of pasture.

Those attending the tour included Donald Schuster, Mr. Daugharty, Marshall Smith, George Mott, Orville Strauer, George Strauer, Dale Strauer, Martin Eckstein, John Dooley, Vern Erb and Martin Siegrist.

Two dates are important for farmers who intend to take part in the 1959 Conservation Reserve program of the Soil Bank. These are October 10 and October 24. October 10 is the final date for requesting the establishment of a "maximum farm payment rate" on the individual farm. A farmer uses this rate in deciding whether he wishes to participate in the reserve and also as a basis for making application for participation. Farmers may either offer their land at the maximum rate or at a lower rate. County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committees have been instructed to consider farms offered at a lower rate before those offered at the maximum rate.

The second date, October 24, is the deadline for making application for conservation reserve contracts. At this time, the individual sets the rate at which he offers his farm for the conservation reserve.

Michigan State University farm economist, Charles Beer, suggests that farmers ask themselves questions like the following in considering participation in the conservation reserve. If answers are "yes" to a number of them, then the reserve will likely be to the farmer's advantage.

Are your crop yields usually lower than those of your neighbors?

Are crops failures common in your area or your system of farming?

Do the prices of products you sell vary greatly from year to year?

Is the low proportion of your investment in buildings and equipment and high proportion of land?

Are you considering off-farm employment or more of it?

FUELGAS CO. of the TAWASES
620 W. Bay St.—Tawas City Phone F0rest 2-3091

As in the past, the truck will be loaded with registered yearling and two-year-old rams of the Corriedale, Hampshire, Oxford, Shropshire and Suffolk breeds. Rams of other breeds and other ages will be available on special order only. Prices will range from $50 to $75, depending on the quality of the rams.

I know that you appreciate the value of a good ram. The use of a good ram is still the quickest and least expensive way to improve next year's lamb crop and the ewes you will save for your breeding flock. A poor ram costs money to own, but a good ram makes money.

We will be of the most help in selecting a ram for you if you will let us know real soon the breed and age of ram you want and the price you wish to pay. A ram will be selected for you by the animal husbandry specialists at the time the rams are brought together for loading. This gives you the same chance of selecting a good ram as though you attended ram day yourself. This ram will be saved for you until the truck stops in West Branch. If it does not suit you in every way, you need not buy it. If you will let us know right away, we will be able to get a more carefully selected ram. Extra rams will be carried in case you do not like the one selected for you. All rams will have been dipped with lindane since September 1, the truck will be thoroughly sprayed before loading and the rams penned only in areas where sheep have not been kept recently.

It will not be possible to accept older rams in trade, but it is permissible to bring your present ram to the ram truck stop, providing he is registered and sound, and offer him for sale to other breeders.

Airman Held for Felonious Assault

A warrant charging an airman from Wurtsmith Air Force Base with felonious assault was signed Monday by Assistant Prosecuting Attorney Alfred W. Mason. The airman is being held at the Iosco County Jail. Batiste D. Younge, 23, is charged with knifing another airman, Tony Baca, 24, late Saturday night. The knifing which took place north of Hale some time after 10:00 p. m., started after an argument over some change in a Hale tavern. After leaving the tavern with four other airmen, the pair began to fight in the car. A knife was produced by Younge and someone else broke a beer bottle and used it as a weapon in the fight. Driver of the car, Cornelius L. O'Keefe, 26, stopped the car and ordered the two men out. When they began to draw blood with their weapons, the fight was stopped and the pair was loaded back into the car and headed for Oscoda. Baca and Younge were dropped off at the Oscoda Cab Company to call a cab for their return to the base. Operator of the cab company notified Deputy Robert Foster, who called Sheriff Ivan O'Farrell and Michigan State Police. Baca was treated for cuts on his face, chest, stomach and a stab wound in the stomach at the base infirmary. None of the wounds were deep and he was released.
