'Native' Timber Resources Utilized by a Local Industry

Huron Wood Preserving of Tawas City, owned and operated by the Detroit and Mackinac Railway Company, is another local industry making an important contribution to the economy of Northeastern Michigan.

While providing employment for eight men at the treatment plant, located on railroad company property in Tawas City, Huron Wood Preserving operates a portable saw mill employing seven persons near West Branch. In addition, the company purchases timber from 20 different mills in Michigan and a vast amount of posts and poles from woodlot farmers and timber operators.

The rapidly expanding treatment plant, established here in 1955 and later purchased by the D and M, is the first and only one of its kind in Lower Michigan and one of the most modern pressure treating plants in the United States. Originally established as a "dip and stack" plant, low pressure retort equipment was later installed and high pressure retort equipment was put into service during 1959.

"Last year, we treated about 50,000 railroad ties for the D and M and other large industrial users, in addition to approximately 15,000 guard posts for the state highway department and an assortment of other materials which range from telephone posts to building lumber," explains William Groff Jr., general manager. "This amounts to about 2 1/2 million board feet a year."

"Although most any type of timber can be treated, only the heartwood of white oak is used for cross-ties and guard posts. The side lumber cut from the log is sold to furniture manufacturing companies," explains Aubrey Gardner, who operates Huron Wood Preserving's mill near West Branch. "We operate the mill the year around and cut anywhere from 500,000 to 1,000,000 board feet a year."

"Good wood preservatives, thoroughly applied with standard retentions and with the wood satisfactorily penetrated, substantially increases the life of wood structures, often as much as five times. On this basis, the annual cost of treated wood in service is greatly reduced below that of similar wood without treatment."

"For example, the railroad industry early recognized these direct financial savings and started treating wood cross-ties in great quantities in the early 1900s. As a result, the life of cross-ties in service has been increased from a few years to an average of over 25 years," explains Groff.

Aside from industrial use, there is also a growing need for pressure treated lumber in residential construction. The swing to ranch style homes built close to the ground and the use of second growth of lumber rich in non-durable sapwood, has resulted in increasing incidence of decay damage in private homes.

Huron Wood Preserving utilizes a water borne preservative, Osmosalts consists of 34 percent sodium fluoride, 34 percent potassium dichromate, 25 percent disodium arsenate and seven percent dinitrophenol. Each chemical in this formulation is highly toxic to decay fungi and, in addition, joins chemically with the others to form relatively insoluble cryolite-like compounds which resist leaching. Basic plant equipment consists of cylindrical high pressure retorts.—(See HURON WOOD, page 10.)

A CYLINDRICAL RETORT is being loaded in preparation for treating guardrail posts. Richard Sykes, inspector for the state highway department, stands at the rear as James Rapp and Irwin Shover load posts on a narrow gauge rail car. Tracks lead into the retort and one load can be seen at the entrance. About 15,000 guardrail posts are treated annually.—Tawas Herald Photo.

BUCK TALE—

'Look, Pa--No Cavities! (No Upper Teeth, Either)

E. D. (Ted) Jacques of Tawas City tells this story: The two sons of a West Branch friend bagged a beautiful buck with an exceptionally fine rack of horns last week. On close inspection of the animal, the boys decided that the buck was an old critter—probably too tough to eat—so they gave it away. They noted that the buck had no "front" teeth in its upper jaw. Needless to say, they were in for some good natured kidding when they learned the awful truth.

MAYOR BLUST WOUNDED

Mayor George Blust of Whittemore is using a pair of crutches due to a gunshot wound in the top of his foot. The injury resulted from an unknown hunter's stray bullet. He was carried out of the woods by his companions and taken to West Branch for medical treatment.

18th FIS to Leave WAFB; End of Fighter Plane Era

The 18th Fighter Interceptor Squadron will move to Grand Forks Air Force Base, North Dakota, in May 1960, according to an official release from United States Air Force headquarters on Wednesday, November 18.

The air force announcement stated that the 445th Fighter Interceptor Squadron will remain at Wurtsmith and would be equipped with the supersonic F-101 "Voodoo" in the very near future.

This will be the second move for the 18th "Blue Fox" Squadron in three years. Its first move was from Alaska to Wurtsmith back in September 1957.

At the present time, it is not known just how many men will be affected by the move, but those slated to transfer with the unit will receive sufficient notification.

Transfer of the 18th will temporarily decrease Wurtsmith's strength, but the base population will be rebuilt toward a goal almost twice its present number when Strategic Air Command units arrive during 1960.

In a way this is the passing of an era, as Wurtsmith was the last "pure" fighter interceptor base in the air force.

WOULD ORGANIZE CHURCH CAGE LEAGUE

All churches interested in organizing Church League Basketball should be represented at the organizational meeting, to be held at First Baptist Church of Tawas City Monday, November 30, 7:00 p. m. It is very important that each church group wishing to enter the league should have someone attend this meeting. If, for any reason, a representative cannot attend, call the Rev. Charles Mercer, Forest 2-3175.

Possible Joint Use of Sherman School

Possible joint use of the Sherman Township unit school by Whittemore-Prescott Area and Tawas Area Schools is to be discussed soon at a meeting of the two boards of education.

This action came as a result of Monday night's meeting of the Tawas Area Board of Education. A recent communication from the Whittemore-Prescott board suggested holding a meeting for such a discussion.

The Sherman Township unit became part of the Whittemore-Prescott School District at the time of its reorganization. Since that time, only two of the four classrooms have been utilized. The modern building was constructed only a few years before the district reorganization.

"Such a plan is entirely exploratory at this time," stated Supt. Reynold Mick of Tawas Area. He indicated, however, that the Tawas Area board is very much interested in the proposal.

At the present time, some 20 Tawas Area elementary pupils, from kindergarten through grade six, attend the Sherman Township unit.

The Tawas Area superintendent said that such a plan would make greater utilization of existing facilities. With Tawas Area sharing the cost of operating the building, it would also amount to a substantial savings to Whittemore-Prescott Area in maintenance expenditures.

"Tawas Area's elementary enrollment is showing gains every day with new personnel moving into Wurtsmith Air Force Base," said Mr. Mick. "Children of servicemen presently account for about 10 percent of our enrollment and, by 1960, this figure will be much higher due to Wurtsmith's present expansion program."

To Meet Payroll— State's Cash Crisis Forces TA to Borrow

Tawas Area Schools, like most other school districts in the state which have felt a financial pinch in past months, authorized borrowing $10,000 in order to meet the December 15 payroll. This action was taken at Monday night's meeting of the board of education.

Supt. Reynold Mick said Tuesday morning that the reason for borrowing additional funds was due to the fact that only 50 percent of the October state aid payment had been received. Only 75 percent of the August payment was received.

No indication has been given by the state when the balance of the payments will be made due to the present financial crisis at Lansing.

In other business, the board adopted a policy for regulation of school athletic facilities. The new policy covers use of the Tawas City Unit gymnasium, Tawas Area Auditorium and lighted athletic field by activities other than school functions.

Regulations provide that an adult, acceptable to the school, must supervise a group using facilities, or a charge of $2 per hour is to be paid for someone chosen by the school; individuals using school facilities would be responsible for cleaning up building or area after use; all groups must have school approval at least one week in advance to use any athletic area.

Other regulations included: All breakage beyond normal wear to be paid by groups using facilities; upon leaving, group or individuals would be responsible for turning out all lights and locking all doors; athletic areas are not to be used during school hours or past 12 o'clock midnight by outside groups.

A responsible person representing the group desiring to use the facilities would be required to sign an agreement with the school.

Isosco Receives $30,968 Allocation for Secondary Roads

The United States Bureau of Public Roads has allocated $7,538,744 for use by Michigan on its secondary roads during the 1960-61 fiscal year, Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie has announced.

This amount represents a decrease of about two percent compared to the amount of federal aid apportioned for Michigan during the fiscal year ending next June 30, Mackie said.

Isosco's share in the allocation to counties, on the basis of land area, population and road mileage, is $30,968.

Of the money allocated for Michigan in 1960-61, the state highway department will keep $2,981,553 for work on the state's secondary road system while the remaining $4,441,110 will be divided among the state's 83 counties.

These funds must be matched by the state and county road commissions on a 50-50 basis and may be used for construction purposes only. Mackie said 1960-61 allocations for Michigan and other states were reduced because the new State of Alaska requires 14 million dollars to finance its secondary system.

Injuries Received in US-23 Crash are Fatal to 13-Year-Old Standish Youth

An afternoon of fun ended in tragedy for a group of Standish youngsters Sunday when a 13-year-old boy was fatally injured in an auto accident about 1 1/4 miles south of Tawas City on US-23. Four other youngsters, all members of the Methodist Youth Fellowship, and the driver miraculously escaped serious injury.

Fatally injured when the car in which he was a passenger crashed into a guard rail at National Gypsum Company's conveyor overpass was Lyle W. Crouterfield, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Crouterfield.

Investigating state police officers said that a north-bound car driven by Mrs. Betty A. McCreedy, 34, of Standish was forced to the shoulder of the road to avoid a head-on collision when an unidentified south-bound vehicle attempted to pass a string of cars.

The Standish woman, wife of Standish auto dealer, Ralph McCreedy, apparently lost control on the icy shoulder and the car skidded a distance of 150 feet before hitting the heavy steel guardrail. The vehicle skidded an additional 77 feet before coming to a stop sideways in the north-bound lane.

Young Crouterfield, who was seated on the right hand side of the back seat, was rushed by ambulance to Tawas Hospital where he died from injuries. Mrs. McCreedy was taken to the hospital by private car, where she remained overnight for treatment of a cut mouth and severe shock.

Two youngsters were seated in the front seat. Nancy McCreedy, eight-year-old daughter of the driver, was treated for a scraped right leg. James Carlton, 13, who sat in the right front seat, received a bump on the forehead over the right eye.

Two youngsters who were in the back seat, Robert Swaffield, 12, of Sterling, seated behind the driver, and Gary Neuman, 13, of Standish, seated in the center, both escaped injury.

The entire right side of the car was demolished in the crash, although the point where young Crouterfield was seated received the brunt of the impact. The rear portion of the vehicle was ripped away at the axle.

According to witnesses at the scene, the car which caused the accident stopped and the driver looked back. The witness stopped another south-bound vehicle and told the driver to stop the car ahead or get its license number. All police units south of Tawas

City were given a description of the two cars but neither could be found.

The McCreedy vehicle was one of eight cars taking a group of youngsters to East Tawas for an afternoon of roller skating, according to Walter Lanahan of Standish, who had a group of youngsters in his car several lengths behind the McCreedy vehicle.

C. B. Cox, an employee of National Gypsum Company, said that he and his wife heard the crash in front of their home. They were among the first to give assistance to the injured victims. Robert Dakin, security officer at the Port Gypsum installation, heard the crash and rushed to the scene to give police assistance in directing traffic around the smashed vehicle.

The body of the accident victim is at the Savage Funeral Home, Standish.

Hawaii—the 50th state is the theme for this recognition banquet. Miss Lorraine Sprague, Gratiot County extension agent, is to be the program speaker. She will tell the story of her experience in Hawaii.

James G. Campbell, representing the Detroit and Mackinac Railway, will act as toastmaster.

Imlay City Hunter Lost Overnight in Swamp

A 50-year-old Imlay City hunter, Donald Ross, who was the subject of an all-night search in the dense underbrush of an AuSable River swamp last Friday night, was found Saturday morning. He had been lost 18 hours.

Ross and a hunting companion, Gordon Rockefeller of Sandusky, had set up their camp on the north side of the river at the end of Bissonette Road. Entering the swamp in Section 18, Oscoda Township, at 2:30 p. m. Friday, they were to have returned to camp by 5 o'clock. Ross did not have a compass.

When Ross failed to return, the other hunter went to Glennie to enlist help. There, he asked for assistance from State Troopers Warner Palmer and William Brown of East Tawas, who were investigating an auto accident.

Troopers Jack Barker and Robert Huddy were immediately dispatched to the Five Channel Dam area in a patrol car. The four troopers were joined by Deputy Sheriff Arlie Roberson of Alcona County and the search was begun.

The three police cars patrolled trails in the area but Ross could not be found. One patrol car remained for the night at the location where Ross entered the swamp. At day break the search was continued. Joining the search party were Cpl. Edsel Duvall and Trooper Charles Clark of the East Tawas post. Conservation Officer Jack LaFear of Oscoda, members of the Oscoda Township Fire Department and other volunteers.

Ross was found at 8:30 o'clock, only a short distance from where he entered the swamp. He told officers that he had heard rifle shots fired as a signal and patrol car sirens, but could not find his way out in the dense underbrush. He was returned to the tent hunting camp, apparently none the worse for his experience.

Farmers & Merchants Bank Has Shown Steady Growth

A report on the growth of Farmers and Merchants State Bank of Hale and Rose City showed that footings have passed the $2,000,000 mark for the first time in the institution's history.

The actual figure for the close of business Friday afternoon was $2,019,340.34, said J. Morley Stevenson, executive vice president and cashier.

Farmers and Merchants State Bank of Hale has shown a steady growth since opening its doors in February 1952, when it opened with a capital of $500,000. That area had been without banking services for about 30 years. Footings passed the $500,000 mark by 1954, the $1,000,000 mark was reached in 1956 and the bank passed the $1,250,000 mark in 1958.

Capital of the bank was increased to $750,000 in May of this year and the Rose City branch was opened.

Mr. Stevenson said that the Hale branch showed a gain of some $200,000 in footings this year to a total of $2,500,000. The new Rose City branch already has footings of $580,000, in less than six months of operation.

Rose City had been without a bank for about 30 years. Officers of the institution are: D. D. Pearsall, president; Mr. Stevenson, executive vice president and cashier; Carl Adams, vice president; Richard E. Parkinson, assistant cashier, and Arnold H. Beyerlein, assistant cashier and manager of the Rose City branch.

Directors in addition to Pearsall, Stevenson and Adams, include E. S. Herzog, John A. Mortenson, Earl Bielby, E. H. Taubert and Fred Holzhauer.

Mr. Stevenson joined the bank in May 1958. At that time the bank's footings were $1,100,000. He has been instrumental in the continued steady growth of the financial institution and in the expansion at Rose City.

P. N. THORNTON and SONS, PUBLISHERS

Thanksgiving is a time of blessing counting. concentrate on those related to school.

I am grateful that I love my job for I am part of every child I teach and he is part of me. I am glad that understanding grows between the school and the community for movements like the P-TA, Future Teachers Clubs, education conferences and open houses bring parents and teachers together to give their best to every child.

A spirit of Thanksgiving fills me that learning, like the skills involved in reading, is never utterly attained, but represents a constant challenge in a space-suspended world.

Gratefully, I recognize that education is attractive now that it is tailored to the child and his needs, that it is dedicated to develop him in his entirety so as to ready him for life.

I say thanks as well for special services to boys and girls—for buses that transport them when they are distant from the school, for the special education that is given to the handicapped and to the gifted children, for the practicality of drivers' training courses, for opportunities of fostering special skills, for chances to participate in worthwhile projects, for widening lives by opening new interests.

I am appreciative also of a physical education program that strengthens bodies even as it exercises minds.

I give thanks that boys and girls who do not look, think or act alike may meet together, share ideals and gain an understanding of other ways of life for only then may tolerance root prejudice effectively.

I say thank you that this educational system is the finest on the earth, shaping attitudes and interests to the ultimate welfare of the human race; rather than to its destruction; that teachers openly provide for individual differences, instead of hiding them.

I am glad that the opportunity that teachers have for furthering their training and at the growing number of those who gladly take advantage of this.

I think it is wonderful that

Today's MEDITATION from The World's Most Widely Used Devotional Guide

Read Ephesians 5:9-20

Giving thanks always for all things unto God and the Father in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, (Ephesians 5:20).

How good to count our blessings! We need to thank God for our beautiful country and for our homes and loved ones. We need to say thanks for our churches with their doors open, where we can go and worship.

An old, deaf lady told me once that she could not hear a word of the sermons, but she was so grateful to God that she could walk and see. So she found her place in church every Sunday.

We need to say thanks for friends, for they know much about us, but love us just the same.

For food, the beauty of the earth, skies, lakes, trees and flowers, we need to give God thanks.

We need to say thanks for chastening, for it can strengthen our faith.

Sometimes sickness is a blessing in disguise. We can thank God for His presence with us in times of illness.

Most of all, we need to thank God for Jesus Christ, for His life here on earth. His sacrificial death and glorious resurrection and for His daily guidance of our lives.

PRAYER

"Heavenly Father, forgive us for our ungratefulness for all Thy goodness to us. Instill in us the spirit of Thanksgiving so that we may be mindful always of Thy daily, loving care, as was Jesus. In His name we pray." Amen.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

How spiritual enlightenment brings protection from evil will be brought out at Christian Science services Sunday.

"Ancient and Modern Necromancy, Alias Mesmerism and Hypnotism, Denounced" will be subject of the lesson-sermon. Included in the Bible passages to be read is Paul's counsel to the Romans (13:12): "The night is far spent, the day is at hand; let us therefore cast off the works of darkness, and let us put on the armour of light."

Correlative citations from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will include (571:15): "At all times and under all circumstances, overcome evil with good. Know thyself, and God will supply the wisdom and the occasion for a victory over evil. Clad in the panoply of Love, human hatred cannot reach you. The cement of a higher humanity will unite all interests in the one divinity."

INVITATION EXTENDED TO RENO BAPTIST HYMNING

The next hymn singing at Reno Baptist Church is scheduled for Sunday, November 29, 2:30 p. m. A special invitation is given to all churches, friends and neighbors.

New Cars Ride In Style

The shiny new '60 cars you've seen appearing in show rooms all over Michigan—know how they got there? 85% of the new automobiles the country over travel by motor carrier from factory to dealer—and this applies pretty well to Michigan. . . That's only part of the story of how much the automobile industry depends on trucks. The basic materials, the parts and accessories—everything that goes into the manufacture of automobiles—travels most if not all the way from source to destination by truck. . . So, you see, cars just couldn't be turned out in today's volume—or get to their destination as quickly—if it weren't for the direct, dock-to-door service truck transport provides.

Postmaster Announces 'Mail Early' Campaign

Postmaster Martin Kasischek of Tawas City announced his annual "Mail Early for Christmas" campaign today and outlined his plans for insuring delivery of all Christmas gifts and cards by Christmas Eve.

"We've found from past experience," the postmaster said, "that the two biggest factors in successfully handling the Christmas mail rush are first, to get the post office facilities into high gear from every standpoint; second, and most important, to have the full cooperation of the mailing public."

He then offered some helpful suggestions by stating, "It's not too soon to start checking your Christmas gift and card lists very carefully—making sure that each address includes full name, street and number, city, zone and state." He also said, "Early Christmas shoppers should stock up now on heavy wrapping paper, sturdy corrugated cartons, strong cord and paper adhesive tape, to insure secure packing and wrapping of their Christmas gifts. Buy stamps for your Christmas cards now, before the rush and thus avoid those last minute Christmas mailing headaches."

Predicting that this year's Christmas mail will set a new, all-time record, exceeding even the 97,864 pieces that were handled here in the pre-holiday season of 1958, the postmaster especially directed his appeal to "the lady of the house" for cooperation on his "Mail Early for Christmas" campaign. She is the one who usually selects the Christmas cards, buys most of the gifts and sees to it that the Christmas mailing lists are up-to-date.

For guidance on your Christmas gift mailings, he suggested that you secure pamphlet No. 2 at the post office, which gives helpful, detailed information.

The post office also provides free labels which read, "all for local delivery" and "all for out-of-town delivery," so that you can sort your Christmas cards into two groups—before you mail them, with the addresses all facing one way, thus hastening their handling and delivery.

Use only first class four-cent or seven-cent air mail postage on Christmas cards. This enables you to include handwritten messages on the cards and, also, cards sent by first class mail are subject to forwarding or return service, if necessary, whereas cards that are mailed at the three-cent, third class rate, may include only your signature and will not be forwarded or returned.

It is not only socially correct, but extremely helpful to both the post office and those on your mailing lists, to include your return name and address on every Christmas card envelope.

The postmaster emphasized the importance of planning your Christmas mailings so that those Christmas cards and gifts for most distant points are mailed first. Special effort should be made to get all of your out-of-town packages and cards into the post office before December 10. Those for nearby points will arrive before Christmas Eve if they are mailed by December 15.

A magnifying glass is a fine gift for a child who is full of questions and curiosity, say home economists at Michigan State University.

Mr. Harvey presented the following letter to the board.

Iosco County Board of Supervisors
Tawas City, Michigan
Subject: Election of road commission

Gentlemen:

I have been requested to give my opinion with respect to the authority of the board of supervisors to appoint the members of the county road commission.

The subject is covered by Section 224.6 of the Compiled Laws of Michigan of 1948 (M. S. A. Section 9.106). This law provides in substance that the county road commissioners may be elected in any county at a general election and that the board of supervisors may, if they wish, appoint the county road commissioners in any county which contains "12 surveyed townships or more, either entire or fractional as determined by the government survey."

From this language, it is evident that the statute is referring to the surveyed township rather than the politically organized township. We know, of course,

Seifert, Smith, Upton, Webb, Werth, White, Wilkusi. Nays: None.

Upon motion by Smith supported by Brabant, the board adjourned until December 16, 1959.

Glenn Long, chairman
George Prescott, clerk 48-1b

Seifert, Smith, Upton, Webb, Werth, White, Wilkusi. Nays: None.

Upon motion by Smith supported by Brabant, the board adjourned until December 16, 1959.

Needlecraft News

by Nancy Baxter

The entire matter of fashion is one of looking ahead. When we buy or make a dress or suit, we immediately plan what we can wear with it—what we already have in the wardrobe and what is needed new. Color is all-important and the wise woman is the one who maintains a long-range plan for the colors and accessories she chooses. Fashion and pattern magazines are the main harbingers of style news to the consumer, and their source of information is the multitude of garment manufacturers, designers and textile manufacturing companies. The latter group, for instance, is now busily working on plans for next fall and winter.

SILHOUETTES OF FASHION

For those of us at home, however, the problem is not nearly as involved. Fashions have a way of starting in Europe, are presented in following seasons on the American market, and are much more conservatively styled by the time they appear in moderately priced ranges.

The chemise and tunic styles are good examples. The simple sheath dresses have been popular for some time now, and are still in great demand. The simple, basic dress (remember when it was "the little black dress?") is marvelous because we can dress it up or down with jewelry and various accessories. A knowledge of knitting and crocheting comes in handy here, as you can make small items such as collars, belts, and jackets.

THE CAVALIER JACKET

The short, dashing bat-wing jacket shown here will be a smart complement to the simply-styled dress. Knit it in the bulky, wonderful high-speed yarn that practically flies through your fingers. The jacket is simple to make and takes very little knitting time. The interesting pattern stitch gives a bulky, raised texture to this jacket. Directions are given in sizes 12-14-16. If you would like the instructions for THE CAVALIER JACKET, simply send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to the Needlework Department of this paper, requesting Leaflet No. C-356.

There's a lot of footwork involved in last minute Christmas shopping—remember?? But the smart gal can skip the holiday mileage involved in the search for that "just right" gift and, from the comfortable depth of her living room chair, accomplish some pretty fancy footwork of her own.

GAY SLIPPERS

What better way to do just that than by crocheting these festive "harem slippers?" Metallic yarn and extra-added pearls lend an appropriately exotic air to this holiday gift, but it's a safe bet the ladies of the house—from Sis to Grandmom—will really go for the welcome comfort. Don't forget, they've been pounding the pavements doing their Christmas shopping. Each slipper is made in two pieces, then seamed together in front and at the heel. Tiny pearls are sewn along the edges, with an extra generous portion reserved for the turned-up toes. Add heel tabs and, presto, another name can be crossed off the holiday gift list.

IN A HURRY

In selecting the design, I've kept in mind the beginner with lots of gifts to give. The stitch is single crochet, so, between now and then, there's no telling how many of these happy holiday items you'll be able to turn out. Get your free copy of instructions by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope to the Needlework Department of this newspaper. Request HAREM SLIPPERS, Leaflet PC-9000.

UNITED STATES GYPSUM COMPANY will close its 1959 ore shipping season from Port Alabaster on November 30. Last ship to be loaded at the off-shore crib will be the ore carrier, United States Gypsum, outbound for Detroit. Maynard VanOrnum, works manager at Alabaster, said Friday that ore shipments during 1959, which started April 11, were slightly below the previous normal year. This aerial photo by Albert Ballard of Osceola shows USG's Alabaster installation in the foreground with an ore carrier being loaded at the lake bin in the background.

While we have our attention on turkey and Thanksgiving, what about the turkey after the dinner is over?

Wrap the leftover turkey or place it in a covered dish and refrigerate it promptly. If the bird has been stuffed, the stuffing should be removed and refrigerated in a covered dish. The gravy should be refrigerated promptly, too.

Proper care and handling of leftover turkey will assure a good supply for many additional meals. If you have a freezer, the pieces can be wrapped and frozen for future use.

Perhaps these suggestions may help to vary the use of the leftover turkey, so the family will not tire of it. Try turkey chowder, turkey pie, barbecued, a la king, turkey salad, hash and turkey dumplings. Take your choice and enjoy your turkey this Thanksgiving.

US-23 Extension Group members, nine of them, visited the folks at Huron Convalescent Home one afternoon recently. It was a happy occasion for everyone, for they visited, sang together and enjoyed refreshments which the women had provided.

Most of the men and women staying at the home are unable to go out very often and they do appreciate company, someone different with whom to visit. More similar group visitations would be welcomed by them throughout the year.

Granted Patent on Improved Grain Threshing Machine

A Michigan State University agricultural engineer has been granted a patent on a revolutionary type of threshing machine for separating grain from straw.

The inventor is Dr. Wesley F. Buchele, associate professor of agricultural engineering.

A completely new threshing principle is used in the design. Heads of grain go into a conical separating cylinder. A rubbing action plus a whirling movement separates grain from the heads.

Centrifugal force developed by the whirling action drives the grain to the screened cylinder wall. Grain passes through the screen. A wind blast cleans the grain off chaff that gets through the screen.

Conventional threshing machines use a beating action to remove the grain from the heads. Two sets of shaker racks separate the grain and chaff from the straw and the grain from the chaff.

It is believed that the invention has good possibilities for improving threshing equipment.

The patent was issued on work Dr. Buchele completed while at Iowa State University.

BAGS TWO BUCKS WITH ONE RIFLE SHOT

Miss Lois Vane, 17-year-old Tawas Area High School senior, showed the menfolk Saturday that bagging a buck was not too difficult. The fact is, she bagged two small bucks with one shot while hunting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Vane.

Hunting at the Short Horn Club in Alabaster Township, Lois' father told her that all she needed was one cartridge. Having a special doe permit, she fired once and bagged two yearling bucks.

The deer were standing in a direct line with each other and the slug went through both. Because of its lack of horns, one buck had to be turned over to conservation department authorities. She was the only member of her family who held a special permit.

Plan Festive Home Exterior

The real spirit of Christmas is in giving—so share part of the home's holiday mood with passers-by and neighbors. Give your entrance way a true yule look!

Your doorway will sparkle a gay Christmas greeting if you capture the traditional mood with an ornament bedecked spray of evergreen, gaily tied up with a bright red bow.

Fresh or plastic wreaths with berries, nuts and pine cones add that special holiday happy note to doorways, too.

Colorful variations are an oversize "candy-type" cane, tied with a big, big bow; a huge stocking—possibly filled with pretend gifts—or a miniature Christmas tree that can be made by mounting flat branches in a tree shape and decking them with baubles.

Santa Claus cutouts can be made or purchased; easy to handle "snow" sprays lend interest to glass panels. . . . cutout snowflakes can be mounted on the door.

An outline of your door made with tree lights extends your greeting into the late hours. Evergreen trees on the lawn, low placed shrubs and planter boxes at the front of the house—all lend themselves well to colorful night lighting!

And, friends and neighbors will enjoy the "warm hello" of your outdoor decor!

- 1 cup figs
- 1 cup walnuts
- Rind from 1 orange
- 1½ cups sugar
- ½ cup water

Cut fruit in large pieces with scissors that are dipped in hot water frequently. Chop nuts. Mix together. Cut orange rind into thin slivers.

Cook orange rind, sugar and water until syrup forms a two inch thread when tested from tip of fork (230 degrees Fahrenheit on thermometer). Pour over fruit mixture.

Pack the well mixed, fruit-syrup combination into a nine inch square baking pan very firmly with your hand or back of spoon. Let cool until firm.

When firm, cut off little bars with a sharp knife and wrap individually in waxed paper. Keeps well and makes grand little gifts.

TRICKS TO TREAT

For a spectacular Christmas dinner climax, bring your dessert to the table aflame.

There are two ways of accomplishing this: Pour one-half cup of brandy over your dessert and light with match or surround the delicacy with sugar cubes each of which has been dipped in lemon extract, then light.

Sweet welcome . . . cookies on the door! Wrap Christmas goodies in cellophane and hang them from your evergreen wreath. Tie scissors to the wreath for snipping off a cookie.

Save your Christmas cards and give them to an orphanage or church group for children's scrapbooks.

Christmas Seals are Available at Tawas Herald Office

The Tawas Herald office has volunteered to be the official Christmas Seal spot in Tawas City. Thousands of seals have been mailed to homes in this area and should have been delivered to your home by this time.

If, for some reason, you have not received your Christmas Seal, The Tawas Herald would like to give you this chance to fight the disease that attacks one American every six minutes. Just drop in the office to fill your need of seals.

The citizens of Isoco County are reminded that not too many years ago tuberculosis was a death sentence. Christmas Seals have helped save 8 1/2 million lives since they first went on sale, but TB is still the leading killer of all infectious diseases.

If discovered in time, TB can be cured today in a relatively short time—left undetected, it kills as efficiently as it always has. TB infects anyone. The young as well as the old are discovered everyday to have developed the terrible shadow in the lungs which was not there last year. So far in 1959, a little over 100 new cases are reported every week.

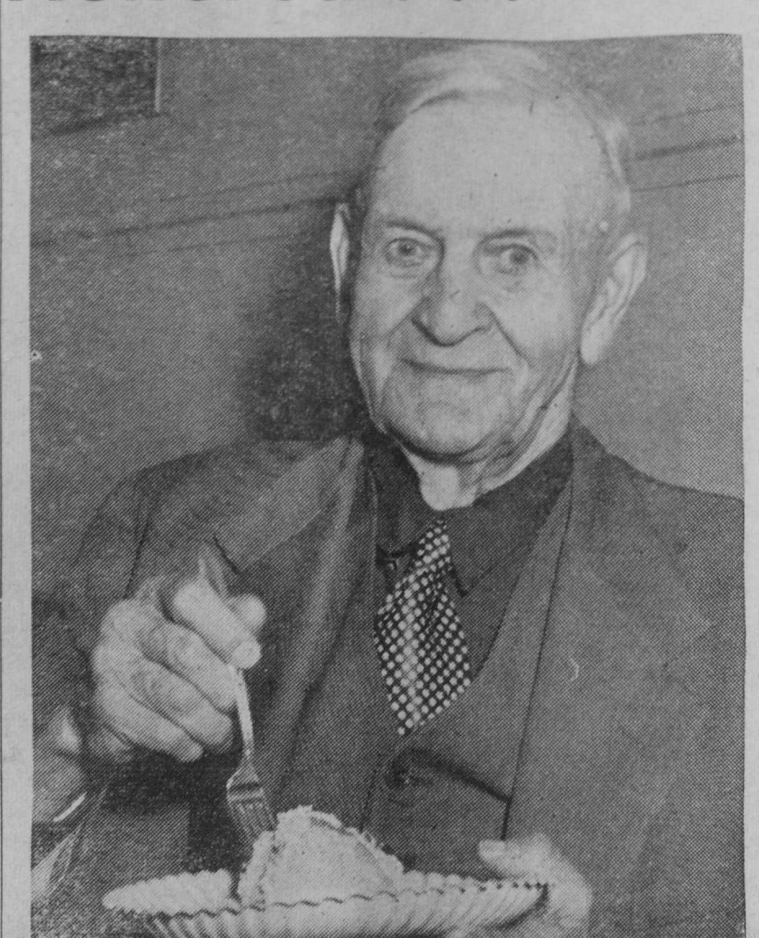

The tuberculosis associations use your money for research, case finding, health education and many other activities which are making Isoco County a better and safer place to live.

The TB "bug" is characterized by a nature which has so far resisted all vaccines developed by scientists. Research has, however, resulted in better drug treatment and faster recovery. An effective vaccine is still the ultimate goal.

Case finding and health education are the TB control measures that have helped keep this disease in check. These are essential parts of a program that needs to be on its guard at all times.

Christmas Seals are the only source of income which enables your TB associations to carry on their work. Great progress has been made. The not impossible dream of eliminating TB from your life and the lives of your family needs your support.

Helping John Burt of Grant Township to celebrate his 84th birthday Sunday were four of his children and about 100 friends during an open house observance at the Hemlock Road Baptist Church.

Actually a spry 83, the observance of his next birthday came about four months early as Mr. Burt will soon leave for Detroit to spend the winter with his children.

Born in Canada, Mr. Burt came to Isoco County in 1898, where he cleared land and started farming on Sand Lake Road.

Four of his five children attended the affair. They are Ralph of East Tawas, Bruce of Detroit, John of Saginaw and Mrs. Willard (Hazel) Mullreed of Ann Arbor. One son, Henry, lives in California and was unable to be present. Mr. Burt has 12 grandchildren and two great grandchildren.

Hostesses for the party were Mrs. William Herriman, Mrs. Fred Pfahl, Mrs. Jay Snider and Mrs. Jerry Whitney.

HOW FALLOUT shelters would protect occupants after nuclear attack is shown in this drawing of a modern American home. Fallout—mostly tiny particles of matter charged with radioactivity—is carried downwind from a nuclear blast, and settles on the roof and grounds. From these fallout particles, radiation rays (arrow-like figures) shoot out which can penetrate most substances. Enough rays can cause radiation sickness to people without their defense offices, or from Box Shelter, OCDM, Battle Creek, Michigan.

Ken Musser, Dan Fenton, Mike Lewis, Al Charbonneau, Harry Ramseyer, Cliff Jones, Jim and Rick Averill, Charles Campeau and Dow Card for their opener December 1 with Gladwin.

Moving up from JV mentor to top position at Houghton Lake, Bob Amble finds seven lettermen and one of the best outlooks for the NEM flag awaiting him. Five lettermen are gone, including workhorse Keith Howe and speedy "Whitey" Anderson who transferred this fall. Three guards, three forwards and a center are found on the monogram roll, including Jim Anderson, Ed Barnes, Allen Bell, Lyle Carrick, Darwin Frantz, Terry Wareham and Virgil Kemp. Two non-lettermen intending to make the varsity grade are Alan Hadley and Dean Carrick. The Lakers open their season by hosting West Branch.

Coach John Janisch, in his seventh year at West Branch, has a wealth of guards and centers greeting him for the season's opener, with the big job of finding forwards to go with his veteran back line. Coming back to fill out the pivot post are Tony Ehinger and Gregg Cook while Oscar Partlo, Don Burns, George Pappus and Chuck Johnson will handle the guard spots. Coming up from the JV squad for their first battle at Houghton Lake are Ron Keith, Elwyn Steurnol, Dick Walsh, Jim Alley and Arnold Dunbar.

Beaverton, under the leadership of Mel Skillman, has only three lettermen coming back, but will have more height than other fives in the league. With Jerry McKimmy at 6-4, a letterman, and Don Lehman, also at 6-4, a non-letterman, the Beavers will present a height problem to the rest of the league. Nine monogram winners, headed by All-Conference Pat Kalahar, must be replaced with Wayne Methner and Jim Bannon, both veteran guards, leading the bunch. Reserves will be a problem with Beaverton in the conference race.

Howard Geertlings, in his first year at Arenac Central, will not find the height he had last year at Alcona, but has eight lettermen returning for the nucleus of his squad. Coming back are Forwards Robert Budz and Roger Bessinger, Center Tom Dowler and Guards Doug Dudley, Ken Hribek, Jeff Reed, Steve Schaffer and Don Logan. Some height can be looked for in the players moving up from the junior varsity in Jim Leonard, Ron Keolsch and Tom LaClair. Because the new gymnasium will not be completed in time, Central will open at Roscommon.

In preparation for the first game December 1 at Beaverton, Coach John Kurtz of Arenac Eastern has a core of four lettermen, three six feet or over, for the Eagles 59-60 representation in league play. The Suminski brothers, Dave and Dale, plus Roger Brown and Jack Masson make up the nucleus for Eastern. Center Dave Robinson is lost by graduation and Jerry Humerickhouse and Bill Reid are moving up from the JV five to the varsity but the Eagles will hurt from lack of reserve strength.

After gaining a share of the football trophy, Gladwin under Coach Gene Gilbert will be gunning to better its record of last year and a look-in at the basketball championship for this year. Seven men are returning to bolster the Flying Gs chances with height again the big factor as with the other teams of the conference. Seniors Don Joslin and Ron Cuddie lead the list of returnees. Junior lettermen coming back include Mike Breaull, Mike Redman, Don Ridley, Howard Smith and Bill Jungman, who will not be eligible until the second semester. Sophomore Doug Redman has shown up strong and will make a strong fight for the starting five when Gladwin opens at Pinconning December 1.

Michigan State University forest products researchers will soon build an unusual new home in the interests of science. Researcher Byron Radcliffe explains that the home will test plastic floors among other materials.

Thy love that gathers us in sweet accord
To pray and praise. For tables richly spread
And blessed peace that sweetens daily bread.
For joys of life that gild the passing days—
Home, work, love, friends. For freedom's shining rays
That spotlight cherished rights to think,
to speak,
To worship as we please. Lord, help us seek For ways to share these gifts with all mankind!
And hasten on the golden years that find
From sea to sea the battle flags all furled—
Thanksgiving Day observed throughout the world!

Outdoors WITH EMERY

Near zero weather and plenty of snow during the first week of the regular deer season halted much of the hunter activity. The majority of hunters who braved the cold to sit on a runway opening day were really chilled after a few hours of hunting.

In the area we were hunting near Hale, few bucks were taken the first several days. Out of our five-hunter party, only one connected. He shot a healthy buck the second day and it had only one antler. (We call this deer a bootjack buck when they have only one antler and at least two points.)

Heavy snow and cold herded the deer into swamps and there they remained to keep sheltered from the weather. Hunter concentration was about average for the first day but when the cold weather remained many hunters began breaking camp, a little discouraged.

Many inland lakes are beginning to close in with the freezing weather and ice fishing should get off to an early start this year. A total of 205 lakes and streams will be open to the hook and line fishing for rainbow trout during January and February. There is no natural reproduction of rainbows in most of these designated waters and the trout population is maintained solely by hatchery plantings of the conservation department. Pick up a list of these legal fishing waters at conservation district field headquarters.

At the closing of deer season,

Tighter Race Seen in 59-60 NEM Conference Play

By EARL HAIGHT

Roscommon and Tawas Area, co-champions last year of the Northeastern Michigan conference, will find a much tougher row this year in their search for the title. Loss of key men in the 58-59 flag drive, plus more power in other teams of the league, throws the 59-60 quest into a scramble.

Eight lettermen, headed by veteran guard combination of Jerry Hulce and Barry Vibber, return to the Roscommon Bucks. Roscommon will have to find replacements for Jim Papenfus, all-state, and Rick Fradl, all-conference, in the lettermen returning. Besides Hulce and Vibber, Forwards Jack McNeil, John Ogren and Bill Welch along with Center Bob Hilborn and Guards Tom McCutcheon and Gunnard Johnson round out the returning monogram winners. The Bucks open the season playing host to Arenac Central on November 25, while the rest of the league opens December 1.

Tawas Area Braves lost four of their starting five including Ray Moore, all-conference and all-state. Guard Dwayne Ulman heads the four returning lettermen which also include Forwards Pete Bolen and Arnie Stump along with Center Larry Anschutz, all over six feet, giving Coach Bill McIntosh a stalwart line. Some height will be found in players moving up from the JV squad in Terry Priebe, Ken Pitts and Al Moore with good floormen in Herman Rollin and Duane Sanders.

Coach Don Kemp has five lettermen returning for the nucleus of the Pinconning Spartans' aggregation. Difficult to replace will be Lee King and All-Stater Tom Cluff, at forward and center. Coming back are Forwards John Cluff and Fred Blank; Guards Pete Wheeler, Dick Marter and Mike Flynn. The Spartans are looking for suitable replacements among Non-Lettermen Darryl Arnold, Leonard Lawislak, Taking part in Exercise "To-tem Pole," being conducted on Kodiak Island, Alaska, is Marine Pfc. Robert C. Rogers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Smutek of Oscoda, serving with the First Marine Division from Camp Pendleton, California.

The division arrived at Kodiak November 15 aboard navy ships, making the 3,000-mile journey from California in 12 days.

The large scale operation will be highlighted by simultaneous raids on Kalsin, Isthums and Pasagshak Bays at Kodiak.

Returning date to Camp Pendleton for the marines is scheduled for December 10.

Plant Shows Expansion . . .

OVER-ALL VIEW of the treating plant of Huron Wood Preserving in Tawas City is shown above. Plans for next year call for a 400 by 400 foot building to enclose this portion of the operation. Not shown is the office, drying sheds, woodworking shop and storage yard. It is located at the Detroit and Mackinac Railway yards in Tawas City.—Tawas Herald Photo.

fort, four feet by 44 feet; a low pressure retort, seven feet by 36 feet; solution storage tanks, a mixing tank, a high pressure boiler, transfer and pressure pumps and automatic recording devices.

The high pressure retort has a capacity of between 3,500 and 5,000 board feet per charge and the low pressure retort has a capacity of between 8,000 and 10,000 board feet per charge. The treating cycles normally are completed in an eight-hour shift. Lumber that is to be treated is loaded onto cars which are rolled into the retort on rails.

If the lumber is to be treated is not thoroughly seasoned, live steam at temperatures up to 259 degrees is first let into the retort. This heats the wood and the moisture in the wood cells. After this initial steaming (duration and intensity dictated by species, moisture content, etc.) a vacuum is drawn in the retort to a minimum of 22 inches of mercury. This vacuum substantially lowers the boiling point of water contained in the wood, resulting in the mechanical expulsion of this water as steam. The moisture thus removed from the lumber is continually drained from the retort during the vacuum period.

On completion of the vacuum conditioning and without breaking the vacuum, Osmosal solution is pumped into the retort until complete flooding is accomplished. A high pressure pump then develops 125 pounds per square inch pressure on the solution, in the small retort for example, and forces the Osmosal chemicals deep into the wood. After treating is completed, the unabsorbed balance of the chemical is pumped back into the solution storage tanks, the retort door is opened and the charge is unloaded.

Osmosal pressure treated lumber has a light green color, is clean to handle, paintable, odorless, somewhat fire retardant, non-corrosive to metal and, of course, highly toxic to decay fungi and wood destroying insects. Osmosal pressure treated lumber is used in all locations where proximity to ground or the presence of moisture creates conditions favorable for termites or decay fungi.

In addition to railroad crossings and guard posts, Huron Wood Preserving treats timbers and lumber for the conservation department for use in dams and bridge decking. A considerable amount of lumber used at Wurtsmith Air Force Base, mostly graded lumber of white pine, Douglas fir and cypress, is treated in Tawas City before being used in construction.

"As an example of our products, we recently constructed an experimental hatch cover for the Bradley Steamship Lines," said Groff. Normal service for untreated hatch covers used on ore carriers is about one year and it is expected that the one which has been treated here will serve about four years.

Manufacturing lumber and wood products brings in a new phase of Huron Wood Preserving's operation. During the past year, a new building was constructed near its post and pole peeling plant to house wood working equipment. Lumber is now cut there for special orders, plus the manufacture of sills, door and window bucks and other products.

Groff, who started with the company in July 1955 and has been general manager for the past two years, said that plans for next year include putting the entire retort plant under one roof. The building would cover an area of about 400 by 400 feet.

ARRESTED ON DRUNK AND DISORDERLY CHARGE

Two Detroit hunters were arrested for drunk and disorderly last Saturday night by Sheriff Ivan O'Farrell. During a routine patrol and inspection, the sheriff found the doorway of the Hilltop Tavern, Oscoda, blocked by one man. He had been asked to leave by the management but failed to do so.

When he did not leave and used abusive language, the sheriff placed him under arrest. His friend attempted to interfere with the arrest and he, too, used abusive language. Both spent Sunday in jail and appeared in justice court Monday morning.

East Tawas Voters Reject City Hall

Voters of East Tawas turned thumbs down on a proposed new $85,000 city hall by a two to one margin in a special election last Wednesday. Some 383 persons went to the polls.

Two proposals on the city hall were both defeated. The first, which asked that the city charter be amended to raise the debt limit from two to five percent of the assessed valuation, was defeated 226 to 149. All registered voters were eligible to cast a ballot on this proposition.

The second proposal asked for authorization to issue $85,000 worth of general obligation bonds in the name of the city to construct and equip the proposed city hall. Only taxpayers could vote on this proposition.

Although a bond issue of this type would have some opposition from a minority of taxpayers, it was apparent that organized resistance from a group which disapproved of the new site had much to do with the failure of the proposition.

About three years ago, the city purchased property at the corner of West State and Sawyer Streets to be used as a proposed site for a new city hall. Before submitting this question to the people, the city converted the property into a public parking lot with only a few improvements.

The group opposing the city hall felt that the property should remain as a parking lot. The group also opposed an auditorium which was included in the proposed structure, saying that the parking would not be adequate. The new structure would have replaced the old city hall of frame construction which was built about 80 years ago. The old building lacks adequate fireproof storage space and most of the municipal records are kept in the homes of city officials.

According to statute, the charter amendment proposition may not be submitted again to the voters for a period of two years.

Carbon Monoxide Deaths Traced to Thurm Gas Heaters

Death of eight persons within the last two months from carbon monoxide gas traced to Thurm bottled gas heaters in house trailers brought a Michigan State Police emergency warning to the public and orders to dealers to discontinue their sale or rental.

Three of the victims were women who suffocated while attending a religious camp in September. Five hunters, all men, died following the opening of the deer season.

In addition, two couples camped in a trailer in a deer area were overcome but recovered later.

Det. Capt. Glenroy Walker, chief of the fire marsh division of the state police, said dealers were notified that the Thurm bottled gas heater for house trailers is illegal and prohibited in Michigan under state liquefied gas regulations. Their sale is a misdemeanor.

The heater is manufactured by Thurm Engineering, Incorporated, Elkhart, Indiana. The state health department cautioned against use of the heater following the death of the first two hunters and state police repeated the warning at that time. Additional action followed.

All newspapers, radio and television stations were requested to publish the warning. State police were stationed at the Mackinac Bridge to stop trailer occupants and trailer drivers enroute elsewhere where halted and inquiry made as to whether they were using the heaters. Emergency warning leaflets were distributed in the deer areas and state police, conservation officers and other officers visited trailers to check.

A number of units were discovered. The company was reported to have informed trailer manufacturers and dealers last month that the heaters were defective and to make certain simple modifications which would make them safe. Other models manufactured by the company were said to have passed complete combustion tests.

'RETURN OR ELSE'

Four Wayne County hunters were warned to return voluntarily to face a justice court hearing Saturday or the Iosco County Sheriff's Department would send the warrants to Wayne County for action.

Sheriff's department officers said the four men shot and killed two doe on the Glendon Deer Farm, where several hundred deer roam freely on posted land.
