

$6,035 Damage Suit Against City Held Open

No action was taken Thursday by Judge Herman Dehnke in Iosco County Circuit Court on a motion to quash a $6,035 damage suit against the City of Tawas City. The city received notice two weeks ago that legal action had been commenced by Wesley J. Parrott, his wife, Palara, and Amos Rebarge of East Tawas for damages which they sustained in a forest fire last May.

Judge Dehnke told counsel for both the plaintiff and the city that the matter would be held open 15 days in order that briefs on the case might be submitted. The court would then proceed on the motion from that point.

The damage suit results over a forest fire which the plaintiffs claim originated at the Tawas City dump in Baldwin Township. In their petition, the plaintiffs charge that the city was negligent in allowing the fire to escape the confines of the dump.

The forest fire May 12 burned over about 40 acres of land owned by the Parrotts and Mr. Rebarge, destroying standing timber, small trees, cut lumber and a saw mill.

In presenting his motion to quash the case, City Attorney Allan C. Miller said that the case comes under common law which provides governmental immunity to fourth class cities in such litigation. He also cited provisions of the constitution which provides that a municipality may maintain a dump outside the corporate limits of that government.

Mr. Miller cited several instances where the court had taken governmental immunity into consideration in similar damage suits. He emphasized that garbage collection within the city and maintenance of the dump was carried out in a public, municipal manner by governmental tax revenue.

Attorney F. Duane Ross, representing the plaintiffs, pointed out that the city picks up garbage within its corporate limits and then disposes of it in another governmental unit. He said that such a system "creates an obvious, factual hazard to the public at large and private owners." He maintained that the city should have had knowledge of the hazard to adjacent land-owners and told the court that testimony would prove that there have been numerous fires at the city dump in recent years.

Stating that he was aware of the theory of governmental immunity, Ross raised the question of a distinction in this case in that the plaintiffs do not receive any benefit from the City of Tawas City. He said that the dump was strictly for the use of the city and its "invites" into the dump.

In his brief comments about the case, Judge Dehnke said that innocent people sometimes suffer damage because of governmental functions. But, he pointed out, "It is not enough for a trial court judge to say that the laws should be changed. The rule of governmental immunity has been in effect for generations. The legislature has expressed its will by not passing laws regarding it."

Judge Dehnke said that should the time come that the legislature should pass such laws with respect to governmental immunity, the city could make arrangements to protect itself. "If the judge changed existing laws and applied them to the current case, the defendant would not have protection if advance notice had not been given."

In holding the case open 15 days in order to allow time for filing of briefs, Judge Dehnke said, "It would not be advisable to arrive at a decision with the information now before the court."

Minors Who Drink May Have Cars Impounded—

Lawmen to Use New Statute on Liquor Law Violations

Alarmed over an increase in the number of liquor law violations involving minors, area law enforcement agencies warned this week of a "get tough" policy regarding such cases.

Effective immediately, when minors are convicted of transporting alcoholic beverages in automobiles, the owner of the car will have to show cause in justice court why his car should not be impounded.

Prosecuting Attorney Paul Harvey said last Friday that under a relatively new statute, the law provides that where minors are convicted of possessing or transporting such alcoholic beverages, their car may be impounded for a period of up to 30 days.

Mr. Harvey said that two cars involved in such cases have been impounded during recent weeks.

"We are not crying crime wave," said Mr. Harvey, "but this kind of business is getting aggravating. There are far too many liquor law offenses involving minors. Such cases often turn out to be a driver hazard to the extreme and many times petty thievery is the result."

Warning parents that automobiles will be "tied up" when minors are convicted of liquor law violations, Mr. Harvey said in his statement of policy that the prosecutor's office would proceed automatically to impound cars on all such cases.

Sgt. Frank Roti, commander of the East Tawas post, Michigan State Police, said that the state police blotter showed 111 arrests for minors in possession since January 1. Records also show that 41 persons have been arrested for furnishing beer to minors. These figures represent arrests in Iosco County and parts of Arenac and Alcona Counties policed by the East Tawas post.

Iosco County Sheriff Ivan O'Farrell said that the prisoner population in the county jail thus far this year is running ahead of the record breaking year of 1958. "A good share of this increase can be attributed to liquor law violations by minors," he said.

"We appreciate the close cooperation between the state police, sheriff's department and city police in coping with this problem," said Mr. Harvey. "We are going to get this minors in possession business under control and we are going to keep it under control."

Mackie Tells of Revolution in Mich. Roads

"Michigan today is experiencing a revolution in roads," State Highway Commissioner John Mackie told members of the Northern Michigan Road Commissioners Association who held their annual convention in the Tawas last Thursday and Friday.

Speaking at the annual banquet held at the Holland Hotel, Mr. Mackie said that the current program would provide more four-lane divided highways in the short span of a few years than have been built since the Michigan Highway Department was founded in 1905. "It will remake Michigan's motoring map, he said.

"Today we are at work building a modern highway system for Michigan which will be second to none in America," he asserted. "It is designed to keep Michigan on the move and to speedily achieve the economic growth and the better future ahead."

"Michigan has over 300 construction projects under contract at various locations throughout the state, by far the biggest construction program in its history. These projects include over 230 miles of expressways under contract, as of now, and most of this mileage will be open within the coming 12 months.

"In 1957, we announced a five-year, one-and-a-quarter billion dollar program of new construction through June of 1962, designed to let the public know what they could expect in the way of highway improvements. The announcement established a national precedent. A number of state highway departments are now considering similar long-range announcements.

"We still have three years left in the five-year program to accomplish our objectives. I am confident we will succeed, provided we receive anticipated federal highway aid and there is no cutback by the Michigan legislature in our anticipated share of constitutionally earmarked Michigan funds," he declared.

More than 400 persons attended the annual convocation of road commissioners, held for the second time in the Tawas. The visitors were guests at the Barnes Hotel preceding the banquet and the business meeting was held Friday morning at the East Tawas Community Building. W. D. Nunn, Iosco County road commissioner, had charge of local arrangements.

Science to Get Emphasis With New Books

Science education will be given additional emphasis during the current year at Tawas Area High School. Principal Ernest Jordan's application for participation in the traveling high school science library program has been accepted by the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

A set of 200 outstanding, evaluated, up-to-date books in the sciences and mathematics will circulate to the school library from Washington, D. C. All branches of science will be covered and the reading level will range from books the brilliant junior high student will find interesting to some that will give the outstanding high school senior a taste of advanced work. The collection is valued at more than $1,000.

The idea for this experimental program, aimed at interesting more students in scientific and technical careers, originated with the National Science Foundation, an agency of the federal government established in 1950 "to promote the progress of science."

The AAAS was organized in 1848 and is the oldest national scientific society. It is a federation of 279 scientific and professional societies and has over 56,000 individual members. It accepted the NSF grant and in 1955 selected and administered the first library of 150 books which circulated to 66 schools. From this modest beginning, the program has expanded until during 1959-60 the library will go to about 1,700 schools in every state in the union, the American Community School of Paris (France) and to United States Army, Navy and Air Force dependent schools throughout the world.

The 200 books are circulated 50 at a time to four high schools in geographic proximity, the cases rotating every two months. In this way, new titles with a fresh appeal appear periodically. The books in their traveling cases are on display in the school library and representatives of P-T-A, civic groups, service organizations and interested individuals are invited to examine them.

Michigan's Traveling Couple Visited Tawas Last Week

Mr. and Mrs. Michigan Travel visited the Tawas last Friday, September 11, on the third day of a 10-day tour of Michigan, sponsored by Automobile Club of Michigan. The couple, Dr. and Mrs. Richard Pew of Ann Arbor, toured area highlights during their stay.

A railroad tour of United States Gypsum plant was the feature of the visit. Cold weather canceled plans for a boat tour of the region. The couple then left for Oscoda where they were scheduled to take a short tour of the air base.

The Pews won their title and the trip in a contest conducted by Auto Club's Motor News magazine. They won over more than 1,000 contestants in letter-writing competition. Dr. Pew is a dentist who recently set up his practice in Ann Arbor. His wife, Lorraine, a former airline hostess, is now a student at University of Michigan where she is majoring in education.

In all, the couple will travel 1,300 miles and stop at 31 cities, resort areas and other tourist attractions. They are driving all the way in a car furnished by Buick Division of General Motors.

This is the fourth Mr. and Mrs. Michigan Travel tour. It is being taken after Labor Day to dramatize the benefits of touring Michigan "off-season."

Herald's Open House Was Well Attended

Several hundred persons visited The Tawas Herald office Sunday during this newspaper's open house observing the 75th anniversary of its founding in 1884. Visitors were shown the operation of the newspaper plant and job printing department.

The Herald recently constructed a new concrete block addition to house its mechanical department and remodeled the office section of the building.

Those attending were able to watch the actual production of a newspaper, starting with setting of news and advertisements on Linotype machines, through page make up and final printing on the newspaper press. As a side light, visitors viewed the Herald's photographic facilities and saw a demonstration on how zinc photoengravings were made from news pictures.

Visitors during the open house consumed more than 200 cups of coffee and enjoyed cake and cookies served in the office.

Winners of door prizes were Mrs. Victor Bouchard, 10-inch decorated cake created by James Hamilton of Tawas Bakery; Mrs. Ila Laidlaw, planter; Miss Edna Otis, patio light.

Publishers of the Herald wish to take this opportunity to thank those who attended the open house observance and extend a special appreciation to those who sent flowers.

Eight Tawas City stores announced this week last starting September 19, the participating business places would be open Saturday evenings until 9 o'clock instead of Friday evenings.

Participating in the fall kick-off of new store hours are Dillon's 5c to $1 Store, Raymond's Department Store, Cabbie Hardware, Brugger's IGA Market, Whitfield's Department Store, G and M Market, Dobbie's Toy and Hobby Shop and Keiser's Drug Store. Two of the stores, Keiser's Drug and Brugger's IGA Market, are open every night.

Police Firearms Expert to Give Demonstration

L. Lester Coykendall, Michigan State Police firearms expert, will give a firearms safety demonstration at the Tawas City American Legion Hall Tuesday, September 22.

The demonstration will be the feature of Jesse C. Hodder Post's monthly program night. Irwin P. Ruppert, post adjutant, in inviting all members to attend, said this week that a lunch will follow the program and meeting.

WEATHER CONDITIONS last week Wednesday were perfect for tornadoes in Northern Michigan, according to United States Weather Bureau. A cold front collided with a warm front and the result was a massive storm disturbance. This barn on M-55, seven miles west of Tawas City, owned by Hubert Klenow, was ripped apart by a heavy wind, but it is believed that the storm was not a "twister." Heading in a northeast direction, it destroyed a number of apple trees at the Charles Simons home. Accompanied by a driving rain, the blow lasted but a few minutes.—Herald Photo.

Whittemore-Prescott Area Newest Member of NEM— Prep Football Opens Friday

One of Michigan's largest high school leagues, the Northeastern Michigan Conference, now embraces 10 teams, with the addition for the 1959 season of Whittemore-Prescott.

Defending football champion is Houghton Lake and the Bobcats are considered a good title defender, although most coaches in the league figure Arenac Central, combined Standish-Sterling, is the team to beat on the strength of returning veterans.

Other members of the league include Tawas Area, Pinconning, Roscommon, Gladwin, Beaverton, West Branch and Arenac Eastern. Because each league team plays only eight games, the NEM follows a rotating schedule.

Opening games this Friday night will find West Branch at Tawas Area, Beaverton at Gladwin, Pinconning at Houghton Lake, Arenac Eastern at Arenac Central, Roscommon at Grayling and Whittemore-Prescott at Mio. The last two games are non-league tilts.

Schedule for the remainder of the season is as follows: September 25—Houghton Lake at Roscommon, Gladwin at Arenac Eastern, Tawas Area at Pinconning, Arenac Central at West Branch, Whittemore-Prescott at Beaverton.

October 2—Arenac Eastern at Beaverton, Roscommon at Tawas Area, West Branch at Gladwin, Pinconning at Arenac Central, Whittemore-Prescott at Houghton Lake.

October 9—Tawas Area at Houghton Lake, Beaverton at West Branch, Arenac Central at Roscommon, Gladwin at Pinconning, Whittemore-Prescott at Arenac Eastern.

October 16—West Branch at Arenac Eastern, Houghton Lake at Arenac Central, Pinconning at Beaverton, Roscommon at Gladwin, Alcona at Whittemore-Prescott, Oscoda at Tawas Area.

October 23—Arenac Central at Tawas Area, Arenac Eastern at Pinconning, Gladwin at Houghton Lake.

P. N. THORNTON and SONS, PUBLISHERS

Dear Mother and Dad,
You're the parents of a fine boy, Henry, who just this month enrolled in Room 19. He seems to be so much like other little boys—impulsive, eager and naughty, now and then. I guess that kids will always be like that—not because their hearts are bad, just because they are little shavers, razor-sharp with observations, both impertinent and apt.

When you send him off to school each day, you probably think your obligation ends there, for we at school are all here to take over. Of course we are, and most of us are very fond of boys and girls, or we would have chosen long ago some other line of work.

But the taking over process can be so much easier if parents realize how they can help their boys and girls in school—not only how, but how much, too. Perhaps I can be clearer, mother and dad, if I make use of questions in the way that teachers have.

First, when Henry leaves for school each day, do you forget about him—dismiss him from your mind, that is—assuming that he is really there?

Oh, Henry probably will be, because we both are finding him reliable. But even children whom we term responsible sometimes will meet a friend who coaxes them to go downtown for just that day—and then when school is out, they will come on home—just as if they had been there all day long, and parents never know.

Or sometimes there will be just one class they skip—perhaps a test is promised or the assignment was not done.

Of course, as much as possible, the school will try to check—will telephone the home, but sometimes folks are not there just then or teachers get too busy.

But if there is ever reason to doubt, just call the office and make sure, and mother and dad, your son will never know that you inquired.

Another thing—when Henry leaves—I wonder, does he always have an adequate breakfast?

Oh, I'm sure Henry does, but sometimes it is wise to check. We find when hunger for food outweighs hunger for knowledge, the learning process suffers.

So often we give in to rush and flurry. Perhaps you call your son in time and have him answer but 15 minutes more in bed means more to him right then than food, for he may still be sleepy from the movie that he saw on television late last night.

Thus, he takes another catnap—or one of kitten size. Then he does a Dagwood, dashing here and there and calling out like Old King Cole on tax day for his socks and other clothes.

No, he is not late to school that day; just nourishment is late—and so are his reactions. That cracker that he grabbed on his way to school, that glass of milk he gulped will not help him solve his math.

A breakfast should provide your boy with one third of his whole day's energy—and reasoning will be clearer if there is no grogginess of body making grogginess of thought. So see that Henry has a chance for pleasant breakfast—orange juice, milk, egg or cereal and toast. And remember, mother, your smile warms him more than steaming oatmeal. He will be on his happy way to school, then, at his emotional and physical best.

Oh, there are so many ways that you can help your child and I have given but two.
But that is because I only had black coffee. I slept too late to eat!

Sincerely yours — and Henry's Teacher

WILL OBSERVE MISSION FESTIVAL SUNDAY

In observance of this festival, there will be two morning services, at 8:30 and 10 o'clock, conducted by the Rev. L. W. Newman and a special evening service at 7:30 o'clock in which the Rev. Edgar Hoenecke, chairman of the board for world missions of the Wisconsin Synod, will preach the sermon. ADVENTISTS REACH MISSION FUND GOAL

Spirits were high Saturday, September 5, at the local Seventh-Day Adventist Church, when it was announced that the church had reached its minute-man goal for the annual harvest ingathering campaign this year.

Harvest ingathering, an activity in the church in which all who will join, consists of soliciting the public for funds to be used in the building and maintenance of mission stations and welfare agencies, which distribute clothing, food and medical aid to victims of natural disasters, political strife and savage ignorance.

The minute-man goal for the East Tawas church was $315 or $25 for each church member. There is no thought of letting up on this work just because the goal is reached, however. This is a very needy field, so if a Seventh-Day Adventist rings your doorbell during this harvest season and the Lord has blessed you with a plentiful harvest, then remember the plea for this worthy cause.

LORD'S SUPPER WILL BE OBSERVED SATURDAY

An atmosphere of solemnity will be the keynote of the worship hour at the East Tawas Seventh-Day Adventist Church Saturday, September 19. At this time, the ordinances of the Lord's Supper will be conducted, with Pastor Herbert Alexander leading the services. While the occasion is to be solemn, it is by no means a time of sadness or melancholy, for Adventists believe that in the communion services they "Shew forth the Lord's death till He come" with the accent on "till He come," an event to which all believers look forward with hope and rejoicing.

Adventists do not hold a closed communion. Those who confess the name of Christ may partake and all who desire spiritual uplifting are invited to attend the service. Visitors are always welcome.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

The vital importance of trust in spiritual power and substance will be emphasized at Christian Science services Sunday. Bible readings will include this verse from Psalms (56:4) "In God I will praise his word; in God I have put my trust; I will not fear what flesh can do unto me." Selections from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy in the lesson-sermon entitled "Matter" will include the following (278:29-32): "We define matter as error, because it is the opposite of life, substance, and intelligence. Matter, with its mortality, cannot be substantial if Spirit is substantial and eternal."

Michigan dairymen are making rapid progress against brucellosis. But leptospirosis, a disease with somewhat similar symptoms, is still causing heavy losses, says Dr. Glen W. Reed, veterinary pathologist at Michigan State University.

"Lepto" is the third most costly livestock disease in the United States. The malady costs cattle and swine farmers about 112 million dollars each year.

"Early professional diagnosis is a big step toward control," according to Dr. Reed. He advises a laboratory test for lepto where symptoms show up and brucellosis tests are negative. An accurate test requires at least two blood samples taken at different times.

Varied symptoms make diagnosis tricky. Leptospira organisms come in over 40 species. They infest most livestock and several wild animals.

Lepto, like brucellosis, causes abortions and cuts milk production. Infected adult cattle may lose their appetite and they sometimes breathe with difficulty. Calves often get scours.

Cattle develop immunity after even light cases, according to Dr. Clifford C. Beck, a Michigan State University veterinarian. Almost all herds have at least a few lepto reactors. Getting rid of these animals is not the answer with lepto as it is with brucellosis.

One vaccination protects a cow for at least six months against ordinary exposure. The vaccine takes effect after about one week. Dr. Beck recommends vaccinating when several abortions occur, where lots of cattle are bought and sold, where neighboring farms have infections, before showing at fairs and auctions, where new animals are added to a herd that has had the disease and where there is a serious rat problem. Rodents carry lepto.

The disease spreads rapidly. Lepto organisms settle in the kidneys and leave the body in urine. Livestock commonly carry the germs for at least three or four months after symptoms disappear. Some animals are carriers for at least a year.

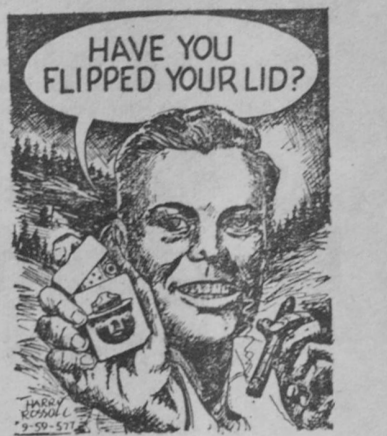

Dr. Beck lists several ways to stop spreading: "Isolate sick animals and carriers. Fence out wildlife, as they may be carriers. Get rid of cows that do not recover promptly. Burn or bury infected carcasses, fetuses and afterbirths. Test your new replacement stock. Do not add new animals for at least three months after the last case on your farm."

Lepto often causes abortions in breeding swine. Dr. Beck points out. Antibiotics and blood transfusions help control. But prevention is always easier than curing.

The disease sometimes shows up in dogs, reports Dr. Robert G. Schirmer, director of the Michigan State University small animal clinic. And several species of leptospira can make humans ill.

Traffic although heavy was somewhat lighter than expected. There were 11 fatal accidents, six on rural trunk lines and five on county roads, in which 12 persons died, and all in the lower peninsula. Two urban fatal accidents, in which one person each was killed, occurred in Hamtramck and Pontiac.
Since January 1 to September 6, there have been 878 deaths in Michigan compared with 846 during the same period last year, an increase of 32.

LABOR DAY FATALITIES INCREASED IN 1959

One person died on an average of every five and six-tenths hours during the 78-hour Labor Day holiday period, the Michigan State Police reported today.

There were 14 persons killed in 13 accidents, an increase of two fatal accidents and two persons dead over the same period in 1958. Fatalities, however, were sharply reduced from the average of 22 killed during the eight-year period of 1951 to 1958 and the 32 killed each year in 1952 and 1953.

WITH EMERY

Michigan's pheasant population is being predicted down from last year according to the game men in the state. The estimated bird population is based on several types of surveys with the final estimate being based on the rural mail carriers count per square mile during their daily mail routes.

Throughout my various travels this past summer, I encountered only one hen pheasant with her four young chicks. These pheasants were casually walking across the blacktop road between the Tawas Beach Club and Tawas Point.

Looking over the pheasant hunting country in the Bay City-Linwood area several weeks ago, there were not too many pheasants to be seen. The farmers in that area started talking about heavy snows and cold weather that were very effective on the decrease of the adult birds last winter and many landowners commented on how frequently the pheasants were wandering around the main farm buildings in search of spilled grain to eat.

Took an afternoon trip and went to the Cooke Dam backwaters recently to see how the fishing activity was during a perfect Labor Day week-end. Our estimate was that about 20 or 30 boats were fishing above the dam in their various methods of trolling, casting or still fishing. We talked to a number of fishermen (women, too) during the trip and the catches were not very numerous, although there were a few bass, walleyes and northern on several of the strings.

Witnessed several water skiers churning up the waters as they skied by our boat in the Au-Sable. For safety's sake, we are hoping they can see the snags, stumps and deadheads laying in the water before it is too late to stop.

Reading a conservation department booklet last week on the Michigan deer hunting and its problems, I came across this item of interest that may someday help a deer hunter in a big argument out at the camp. The setting of the first deer season was in the year 1859 (100 years ago last month) and the season was from August 1 to December 31 (before 1859 there was year around hunting).

Another point of interest in this booklet was the fact "that during the year 1956, there were more deer killed by automobiles (3,800) than by the bow-hunters (2,430).
All our hunters should be thinking seriously about gun-safety as Michigan's Gun-Safety Week is September 20 through 26.

Do not hesitate to inform a hunter if he is carelessly misusing a fire-arm, possibly he may not realize what he is doing and it could save a serious accident or your life.

Consumers Power Company to

WITH IOSCO 4-H Clubs

By DOROTHY SCOTT
County Agent

A visit with Patricia Davenport and Mrs. John Dodson since their return from State 4-H Club Show at Michigan State University found them pleased and enthused about their trip. With them were James Dodson and Norman Sibley.

State 4-H show is a busy place and activities are spread over a large area. No one lacks for exercise or appetite. James especially liked the rabbits and the poultry.

Exhibits from Iosco County placed very well among those selected as tops from all over the state. Photography shown by George Maas and Charlotte Webb both were awarded red ribbons. Marlene Wilson's entomology display received a blue ribbon. A blue ribbon was placed on the third project in entomology exhibited by Charlotte Webb. Cookies made by Michael Scofield appeared in the white ribbon group. Red ribbons were given for cake squares made by Diane Britt, quickbread by Miss Davenport and cherry pie by Kenneth Davenport. James Dodson's handicraft exhibit was awarded a red ribbon.

In the vegetable garden judging contest, Miss Webb placed 10th among the 39 contestants, a real good showing in a right rugged kind of contest in which she identified vegetable varieties, insects and diseases.

State 4-H Club Show always seems like a finale for the year's project work in 4-H clubs. And as soon as one year ends is time for another to begin. This is just as true of 4-H Club projects as it is that January follows December on a new calendar.

It is time, now, for 4-H club members to begin plans for their projects and 4-H club meetings to come all through the months until another year rolls around.

May we help you?

MR. AND MRS. RICHARD BOLEN

In a double ring ceremony at St. Joseph Catholic Church, East Tawas, Saturday, September 12, Miss Tamara Ellen Bell and Richard Bolen were united in marriage.

The Rev. Fr. Henry Eickholt performed the 11 o'clock service before an altar decorated with bouquets of yellow gladioli and bronze chrysanthemums. Miss Clara Bolen of East Tawas, vocalist, was accompanied by Mrs. C. W. Michaels of East Tawas, organist.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bell of Tawas City and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Martha Bolen and Mervin Bolen of East Tawas.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a waltz-length gown of imported Chantilly lace styled with a scoop neckline, long sleeves and tiered skirt. Her fingertip veil was secured by a pearl tiara. The bridal bouquet was a lavender orchid surrounded with white roses.

Miss Patricia Bennett of East Tawas, maid of honor, wore a princess style dress of green satin and carried a bouquet of yellow roses and bronze chrysanthemums. The bridesmaids, Mrs. Alfred Buckner of Lansing, sister of the bride, and Mrs. Donald Leitz of East Tawas, sister of the bridegroom, were attired in pumpkin color dresses fashioned like that of the maid of honor. Their bouquets were of yellow roses and yellow chrysanthemums.

Best man was the bridegroom's cousin, Donald Bolen of East Tawas. Ushers were Patrick Bolen, brother of the bridegroom, and Gary Wood, both of East Tawas.

A dinner for the wedding party and immediate families was held at Lixey's Restaurant, East Tawas, and an evening reception was held at Knights of Columbus Hall.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Bell chose a blue dress of lace over taffeta with blue accessories. Mrs. Bolen's royal blue wool sheath dress was complemented by beige accessories. Their corsages were of white roses.

Following a short wedding trip in Northern Michigan, the couple will travel to Maryland where the bridegroom is stationed with the United States Army at Fort Meade.

Out-of-town guests attended the wedding from Alpena, Detroit, Jackson, Grand Rapids, Lansing and Wayne.

The bride was honored at pre-nuptial showers given by Miss Barbara LaBerge and Mrs. Leitz, Miss Marilyn Holmes and Miss Bennett.

They were married Saturday, September 12, at First Methodist Church Chapel, Midland, in a double ring ceremony performed by the Rev. Benjamin Whaley of Midland, a former minister of the Methodist Churches of the Tawas. Bouquets of yellow and white gladioli decorated the altar for the 7 o'clock, candlelight service.

Miss Sally Brosman of Dow Music Department, organist, accompanied Mrs. Gerald Hath, soloist, who sang "I Love thee" and "O Perfect Love."

The bride, the former Miss Katherine Shradar of Midland, is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. S. A. Shradar of 101 Varner Court, Midland. Mr. Burt is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph L. Burt of East Tawas.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride was gowned in a dress of embroidered nylon organza over taffeta fashioned with a fitted bodice, scalloped Sabrina neckline and brief sleeves with matching gauntlets. The full gathered skirt featured a scalloped intermission helmine that fell into a chapel length train. Her veil of silk illusion was held by a shell hat edged with pearls and she carried a cascade shaped bouquet of English ivy and stephanotis, centered with a white orchid.

Miss Carole Shradar of Midland, sister of the bride, and Mrs. William Bergman of Mt. Clemens, sister of the bridegroom, attended the bride. The maid of honor wore a powder blue dress of iridescent taffeta with a tulip-effect bodice and gathered ballerina length skirt. The bridesmaid wore a dress of maize iridescent taffeta styled like that of the maid of honor. Matching accessories and bouquets of white camellias and English ivy completed their outfits.

James E. Minard of Saginaw, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, was best man and Lt. William Bergman of Mt. Clemens, also the bridegroom's brother-in-law, served as groomsmen. Usher was Paul Rimer of Plymouth, a former roommate of the bridegroom.

Braves Open Here Against West Branch Friday Night

After going against Alpena Catholic Central's varsity in a practice session last Saturday, Tawas Area Braves coaches said the scrimmage pointed up a need for strengthening the team's blocking and tackling. "We need a lot of work yet," was the comment of Head Coach Howard Adams.

Tawas Area School will open its 1959 football season in the Northeastern Michigan Conference this Friday night, September 18, with the home opener to be played at Tawas Area Athletic Field.

In spite of the absence of their two first string halfbacks, the work of Frank Brigham, hard running fullback, a converted lineman from last year's squad. Although most starting positions are still in contention, Friday night's opening offensive lineup will probably be as follows:

John Sass will start at left end, backed up by Al Moore and Jim Wilkusi; VanOrnum will start at left tackle, with Pat Bolen in the second string; Lowell Long will start at center, backed up by Duane Sanders. Jim White, who filled that position in Saturday's scrimmage, will also see action.

At left guard, the starting assignment will probably go to Bob Curry, although Gene Roiter is making a strong bid for the position and will probably back up the two guard positions and left tackle. At right guard will be Lorenz. Boynton St. James will start at right tackle, backed by Bob Frank. At right end, Arnie Stump will draw the starting assignment. Others who will see service there will be Bill Martin and Herb Galliker.

With both Evans and Brooks unlikely to start because of injuries, the backfield Friday night will look something like this:

Quarterbacking the team will be Pete Bolen, who has shown great improvement this year. Second string quarterback is Butch Loy.

Dwayne Ulman will start at left half, backed up by Rudy Bielby. Brigham will be the starter in the fullback slot with Ken Herriman also scheduled to see work there. The right half position will be filled either by Larry Jordan or Rick Huck.

MICHIGAN

Bear hunters will need this special $2.00 stamp on small game licenses before stalking the burly animals in Michigan this fall. Conservation Department game men feel the new stamp requirement will improve management of these big game animals and curtail a waste of bears which has increased in recent years because of indiscriminate killing. A metal seal will be issued with each stamp, similar to the one used for deer. Bears may still be hunted during deer seasons on a deer license. No stamp or seal will be required. Bear stamps and seals are available through mail or personal application at the Department's Lansing office. They may also be obtained at all Department district headquarters and the Highway Department's information office at Mackinaw City.

WILLIAM SHAFFER
William Shaffer of National City died Monday, September 7, at Tawas Hospital following a lingering illness.

Mr. Shaffer was born July 10, 1919, at Freeland and had been a resident of California for the past 10 years. Returning to Michigan in January, he moved to National City in June of this year.

He is survived by his wife, Lilly; four children at home, Susan, William, Carla and Donald; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Shaffer of Freeland; five brothers, Larry, Bruce and Gary of Freeland, Raymond of Los Angeles, California, and Paul of Saginaw; two sisters, Mrs. Byron Ostrander of Saginaw and Mrs. Adam Birkenbach of National City; 23 nieces and nephews, and one great niece.

Funeral services were held Thursday, September 10, at Bradley's Funeral Home, Midland. Interment was at Pine Grove Cemetery, Freeland.

Enrollment

than the total last year; fourth grade enrollment of 90 was four more than last year; the fifth grade, with 89 students, showed a drop of three from last year; the sixth grade's enrollment of 92 was six less than in 1958.

In junior high, the seventh grade had an increase from 105 students in 1958 to 108 this year; the eighth grade increased from 99 last year to 109 this year.

High school enrollment is seven students less than in 1958. The freshmen class has an enrollment of 121 as compared to 117 last year; 110 students are enrolled in the sophomore class, a drop of eight; the junior class numbers 116, as compared to 129 last year. Starting enrollment in the senior class is 10 more than last year's 115 total.

PRESENTS LAST ARTICLE ON MILITARY RESPONSIBILITIES

The draft has been extended for four years, until July 1, 1963. This means that the young men of the country must continue to expect to serve in the military forces. This is the last article in a series which outlines the basic responsibilities and rights of young men under the draft law.

At age 17, a young man (with his parents' consent) may choose among a wide variety of ways to begin the discharge of his total active duty and reserve obligation of at least six years. He may enlist in the regular forces for three to six years. He may enter a number of reserve or National Guard programs. He may even volunteer, with parental consent, for induction for two years.

Even after he registers for the draft at age 18, he has ahead of him about five years in which to choose his own time and method of discharging the military obligation. As he gains more education, these opportunities widen to include various military programs leading toward a commission.

But if he does not make his own choice, at around age 23 he may expect induction if he is acceptable and not deferred or exempt. And even though he may be unacceptable, deferred or exempt, he may still be put in class 1-A if at any time up to his 35th birthday he loses the deferment, exemption or the cause of his disqualification is removed.

If he should be reclassified into class 1-A before age 26 and is not a father, he would probably be the oldest man available and acceptable in his local board and, therefore, the first to be called.

Because of the need for manpower in the armed forces, seven out of 10 men under present conditions have entered service voluntarily or by induction before age 26. The other three out of 10 are almost all disqualified men. Of the qualified men, more than nine out of 10 have entered service before age 26. The few remaining are those who went over age 26 in a deferred or exempt status.

By 1963, government manpower experts estimate that of all men, 5.5 out of 10, and eight out of 10 qualified men, will have entered service by age 26. Higher standards now in effect disqualify more men.

Virtually no nonfathers, qualified and available, are now "escaping" service or will do so through 1963.

BE SURE EARNINGS ARE CORRECTLY REPORTED

Domestic employees should make sure their earnings are reported correctly. Housewives who employ domestics have done a good job, as a rule, in filing the required quarterly reports, according to Paul M. Ellifritz, district social security manager. However, the ratio of incorrect and unreported items is still high and could lead to unfortunate results for the domestic employee. Mr. Ellifritz stressed that unreported or incorrectly reported items; such as, name, social security account number or amount of earnings, might bar the individual from the full protection that social security could give him.

All employees, especially domestics, should keep a record of their wages. At least once every three years, they should check their social security records to assure that all cash wages have been correctly reported. They can do this by contacting their local social security office and asking for the postcard designed for this purpose.

Mr. Ellifritz also advised the employers to check with their domestics periodically and make sure the items named above are being reported correctly.

It was also suggested by the district manager that any household employers who have any questions should contact the local social security office. He cautioned housewives that they should report the earnings of any of their employees who earn $50 or more cash wages in a calendar quarter. As an example, employment for July, August and September, should be reported no later than October 31.

A representative of the Social Security Administration will be at the Federal Building, East Tawas, Thursday, September 24, at 10:30 a. m.
