

East Tawas Goes Ahead With New City Hall Plan

The City of East Tawas will definitely go ahead with plans for construction of its new city hall on property purchased for that purpose at the corner of Sawyer and West State Streets. A special election is to be held November 18 to ask voters to approve raising the debt limit in the city and authorize construction and equipping of a city hall.

At Monday night's meeting of the city council, a delegation of East Tawas businessmen voiced their objection to the proposed location of the city hall. They felt that the site could be better used as a parking lot.

Spokesmen for the council stated, however, that they felt that the proper location had been selected. They pointed out that on completion of the new city hall, the old building would be razed providing additional parking adjacent to the present lot.

The council stressed that the proposed location was centrally located near the business district, pointing out that the city, itself, was "big business," with expenditures and disbursements of more than $100,000 annually.

Eleven building applications were approved by the council. Ten were for making additions or repairs to homes. They were as follows: Tillie Jarvela, John Schreiber, A. Don Anderson, D. M. Small, R. W. Hickey, O. E. Rose, Robert LaVoy, Theodore Meske, W. Fuller and George Judd. One application approved was for construction of a new residence in the Dimmock Addition by Charles F. Charboneau.

Three Building Applications OK'd This Week

Three building applications approved by the department of public works were read at the Monday night meeting of the Tawas City Council. They were as follows:

Clarence J. King, 1157 Lake Street, construct 30 by 37 foot storage addition on present store building, making the present structure 96 feet wide across the front. Estimated cost was $5,000.

Henry Oates, building contractor, for Paul Barton, 1119 Bay Drive, remodel interior of residence, replace old siding. Estimated cost $1,000.

George E. Green Jr., 534 Lake Street, repair roof on G and M Market. Estimated cost $250.

In other business, Victor Zaharias, owner of Huron Gardens Subdivision, addressed the board. He was assured by the council that roads in Huron Gardens would be brought back to the same grade and condition as before installation of new sewer mains there.

As per a request from Emanuel Lutheran School, the city will participate in construction of 480 lineal feet of sidewalk in front of the school on North Street. In a letter to the council, Arnold Hosbach, trustee, had asked that the city construct sidewalk along property fronting the ball park, but no action was taken on this.

Bruce Myles of Myles Insurance Agency reported that because of low accident inclusions by city employees, the city was receiving a check for $265 as a premium on its workmen's compensation policy.

Pointing out that the city librarian had not received a wage increase in four years, wages of Miss Arlene Leslie were raised to $125 a month. She had been receiving $110 a month.

Opening Round Sees Arenac Central and Bobcats Favored

By EARL HAIGHT
In the opening round of play in the Northeastern Michigan Conference last Friday night, Arenac Central trounced Arenac Eastern, 45-0; Gladwin dropped Beaverton, 32-0; Houghton Lake dumped Pinconning, 20-6; West Branch edged Tawas Area, 20-13, and Roscommon topped Grayling in a non-conference tilt, 37-6.

Games on tap for this week include Houghton Lake at Roscommon, Gladwin at Arenac Eastern, Tawas Area at Pinconning, Arenac Central at West Branch and Whittemore-Prescott at Beaverton in a non-league affair.

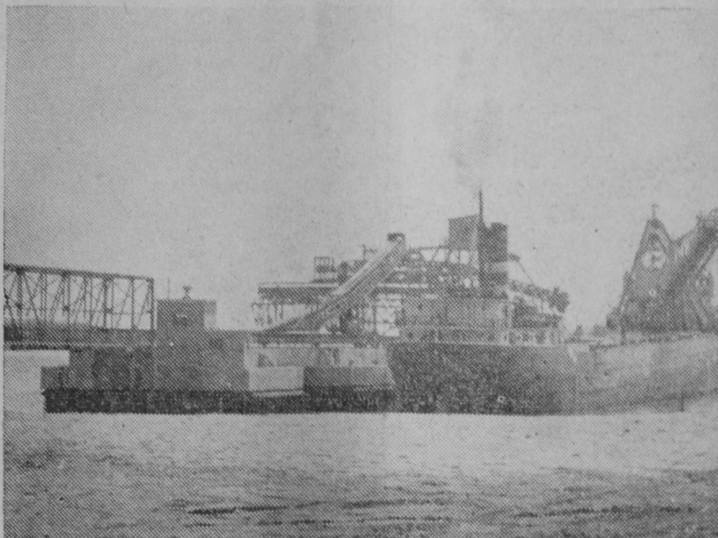

Arenac Central's veteran backfield made an auspicious start in the Panthers' quest for the NEM title with a production of seven TDs in trimming Arenac Eastern for their first win of the 1959 season. All-conference back Doug Dudley, counted the first three touchdowns on runs of 40, 55 and 60 yards and Fullback Tom Dowler added a 55-yard dash through the middle to give the winners a 27-0 half-time lead. Dudley also added three extra points on kicks. End Tom LaClair picked up the fifth counter in the third period on a 15-yard dash after scooping up a fumble. In the final quarter, LaVon Crowl and Dan Klement, both half-backs, scored on runs of 30 yards and 15 yards, the former off tackle and the latter on an end run.

Meanwhile, the undermanned Eagles were unable to get their attack moving against the defensive work of Tackles Jeff Reed and Mike Bukowski and End LaClair.

National's Board Chairman Calls Tawas Area Gypsum Mining Center

The Tawas area is emerging as one of the nation's major gypsum mining centers. This fact was highlighted today as Board Chairman Melvin H. Baker of National Gypsum Company traced the recent and rapid development of National's mining operations here.

The Tawas area has been an important gypsum mining and manufacturing center since National Gypsum, in 1927, acquired gypsum deposits in what then was known as Emory Junction (now National City) and built its second plant there.

But since the discovery five years ago of the vast White Rock deposit, the company's mining operations have grown steadily. White Rock now is the source of gypsum for a whole network of gypsum and cement plants in the Great Lakes area in addition to the National City plant.

And Chairman Baker forecast continued growth for the company's big pit mining operation. "Every evidence points to the development of this area as one of the nation's major gypsum mining centers," he declared.

Mr. Baker recalled that several years ago National Gypsum "found its National City plant's ore reserves running low and started prospecting in the area for additional reserves. This led to the discovery of the massive White Rock deposit."

"Laying dormant," Mr. Baker said, "and of little value in its unused state, the deposit opened up limitless possibilities since it was located only six miles from Tawas Bay. Gypsum could be transported to Tawas Bay for movement to practically any place on the Great Lakes."

The company immediately began planning its huge Great Lakes area expansion program. In 1956, the company announced the 25-million dollar program for development of the new quarry and the construction of gypsum manufacturing plants at Waukegan, Illinois, and Lorain, Ohio.

Hundreds of thousands of tons of overburden were moved to uncover the rich gypsum ore below the surface. Mammoth crushers were built at the quarry. Six miles of connecting railroad spurs were laid to the Tawas Bay ship loading site. A completely automatic unloading station was erected 2,000 feet from the Tawas Bay shoreline. From there, a half-mile conveyor system was built to carry the gypsum to the dock.

A 1,100-foot dock was built of steel and concrete. And a deep-water channel was dredged to accommodate gypsum carrying ships.

The plant at Waukegan, Illinois, officially dedicated last week, already has been supplied with numerous cargos of gypsum since it went into operation during June of this year. The plant currently is turning out enough gypsum products for 3,500 homes a month in the Greater Chicago and Milwaukee building areas.

The Lorain, Ohio, plant will be completed early next spring. Cargoes of gypsum already are being shipped from Tawas to Lorain so the plant will have a stockpile before the shipping season closes. "Thus, the plant will be able to begin production as soon as construction is completed," Mr. Baker noted.

"In addition to the hundreds of thousands of tons of gypsum which have been moved by rail to the National City plant and by ship to Waukegan and Lorain," Mr. Baker added, "many thousands of tons of gypsum have been shipped to the Huron Portland Cement Company plant at Alpena.

National recently acquired the giant Huron Cement Company as a wholly-owned subsidiary. The National Gypsum directors

Norman O. Sibley Writes About Monarchs

An interesting article, "The Wandering Plexippus," by Norman O. Sibley of Taft appears in the September-October issue of Michigan Conservation Magazine. Sibley has been with the conservation department as Hale Fire Tower lookout since 1938.

The article deals with the annual migration of the monarch butterfly (Danaus plexippus), sometimes referred to as the "wanderer." Much of the material used in the article was gained by Mr. Sibley while he assisted Dr. Fredrick A. Urquhart, head of the Royal Ontario Museum of Zoology and Paleontology, in the winter of 1956-57.

That winter, the two men collected information on the monarch in Florida.

Cause of Death Not Known— Construction Worker Found Dead at Air Base

As of Tuesday afternoon, no determination had been made as to the definite cause of death of a 28-year-old construction worker who was found Monday in an underground sewer lift station at Wurtsmith Air Force Base.

Dead is Robert L. Williams of Lincoln, an employee of Sargent and Gilliland Construction Company.

Investigating officers said that Williams had been waterproofing the newly constructed lift station. He entered the structure at 2:30 p. m. and was working alone. At 9:30 p. m., his body was found by Fred White, superintendent of construction.

Township Officer Charles Howell said that it is believed that the victim died of asphyxiation or drowning. Strong fumes of an undetermined nature were detected in the pit.

Investigating the death were Officer Howell, State Police Trooper Stanley Flis, Wurtsmith authorities and Coroner E. D. Jacques of Tawas City. An autopsy is to be performed to determine cause of death.

The body is at the Gillies Funeral Home in Lincoln.

State Trooper is Straight Shooter

State Police Trooper Robert Steinhurst, East Lansing, continues to make his mark as one of the nation's top pistol marksmen. Steinhurst, with a score of 2,584, was second only in high individual aggregate score to Insp. Harry Reeves of Detroit in the recent Indiana State Police invitational matches at Putnamville.

The aggregates were the combination of the points fired in .22, .38 and .45 caliber competition. The Michigan State Police No. 1 team was second with 3,425, only seven points behind Detroit's score of 3,432 out of a possible 3,600.

Steinhurst, a graduate of Tawas City High School, has been a state trooper since 1952. This is his fifth year as a member of the department's No. 1 pistol team. Shortly after joining the team, Steinhurst gained state-wide recognition for his prowess with a pistol and gained national recognition by winning trophies at the mid-winter matches of the National Rifle Association at Tampa, Florida, in 1957.

At the Indiana State Police invitational meet in 1958, the state police marksman was admitted as a member of the famed nationwide "2,600 Club" as the result of shooting an aggregate score of 2,613 out of a possible 2,700. There are only 50 marksmen in the nation holding memberships, including one woman.

The goal of pistol shooters is to equal or exceed a score of 2,600. The national pistol championship has had only eight such scores fired in it.

Girls and boys are really ingenious. Why, many times they even make holidays that are not upon the calendar at all, like going off on hunting trips when it is legally right but academically wrong. In many schools, though, arrangements for this depend upon the student's promise to make up work and on adult consent.

Actually there is no work that ever can be made up completely, for a period of class is more than writing 15 sentences that others wrote the day before. The questions and answers, the spontaneous discussions, the eager remarks not too related yet worthwhile, the little factors leading to attitude shaping, can never be reproduced unless one tapes it all and even then the situation's not the same.

Yet I believe in many instances—but no one take my head off, please, for unlike Ichabod, I like to wear it when I ride a horse—that going off with dad in hunting season, when the going is a matter of serious planning for which approval has been previously gained by those whose work is not in jeopardy, holds values of another kind, perhaps of such sufficient worth as to replace the ones he would have if he had been to school, instead. Like living close to nature and learning stirring stories silence tells and finding new parental closeness when others of one's age group no longer are around.

Yet, let there be no wholesale exodus to Michigan's woods or teachers, too, must go a-gunning to bring back quivering quarry more in need of studying verbs than acting them. And if too many children take to timber, the teachers think in terms of woodsheds. We only wish boys and girls at trigger time were big shots academically. Yes, we do, by gum!

And that is exactly what the young folks do. Buy gum—package after package and they chew it where and when they can. Somehow, this habit works inversely. It tends to relieve tensions in the young and it creates them in adults.

Here again, the individuality of teachers is rampant. Some allow no movement of the jaws whatsoever; others think it is not worth the struggle and look upon it all with eyes that do not see; some few unobtrusively chew it themselves; others permit it if there is no violent cracking for who wants an old-fashioned Fourth on other days of the year?

Daily pink little bullets of bubble gum—trouble gum is more exact—are tossed into the basket to lodge on sleeping prepositional phrases or on participles that dangled when they shouldn't have. Yes, when boys and girls gum up the works consistently, the quality of mercy is not strained, but our relations are.

FAMILY FALLOUT SHELTER — WHERE BASEMENTS ARE NOT AVAILABLE

For Family Protection in Nuclear War

PRE-SHAPED corrugated metal sections or pre-cast concrete can be used for shelters either above or below ground. They form effective fallout shelters when mounded over with earth as shown here. Materials would cost about $700. A contractor probably would be required to help build it. "The Family Fallout Shelter," published by the Office of Civil and Defense Mobilization, contains building plans for five basic fallout shelters. Copies may be obtained by writing: Box Home Shelter, Battle Creek, Mich.

This week we bring you the better breakfast story via newspaper, a personal visit at your food store on Friday, take-home folders and a radio interview.

"We" includes members of home economics extension groups and me. All of us will be happy to meet you and visit, however briefly, about better breakfasts — truly the important meal of our day.

We also want to tell you about home economics extension, for we believe it, too, is worthy of your attention.

Should our visit not be long enough, please call or come see us soon.

Do you know... more breakfasts than any other meal are served in American homes... two-thirds of them are prepared in less than one-half hour, 15 percent in less than 15 minutes... people who eat breakfast turn out more work in the late morning hours, have quicker reactions, tire less easily... teenage girls are not the only breakfast skippers (only 50 percent of mothers eat a good one). Yes, Mrs. Homemaker, your own example is an influence on eating habits of the rest of your family, especially the children. It is not enough just to encourage others to eat well; you must prove it by example.

Today's quickly prepared breakfasts can be completely adequate and taste appealing, thanks to ever increasing numbers of convenience foods.

Are you aware of a trend toward eating for breakfast foods prepared in ways usually reserved for lunch or dinner? If the family likes them better in a new-to-breakfast form, let's be agreeable. The important thing is for us to eat enough of the essentials—fruits for vitamin C and to keep us regular; cereals and breads for protein, iron and other minerals, vitamins and food energy; milk for hard to get calcium, riboflavin and for top grade protein; eggs, meat and fish provide more high grade protein plus mineral and other values.

The many studies done on breakfast foods and habits have proved beyond shadow of doubt that the breakfast meal including high quality protein satisfies us most.

So what matter the cut of meat or method of cooking? Break the routine "breakfast" habit and enjoy new morning taste treats. Here are a few starter ideas from extension group members:

Needlecraft News

by Nancy Baxter

Gratification is what we all seek in every task we undertake. The needlecrafter's life is filled with an abundance of this reward, for her talent finds many avenues for its expression. When she fashions items for herself, she enjoys the pleasure of enhancing her wardrobe and personal appearance. Her home, vitalized with her own creations, is quiet testimony to her talent and domestic interest. And when she fashions a gift, the warmth of sincere appreciation is her gift in return.

SUCCESSFUL SACQUE A very special kind of satisfaction is to be derived from creating a baby gift, I believe. The little time involved is far outweighed by the admiration it generates. If you're looking for a sure success with a baby present, you will want to make today's featured sacque set. It's really quite easy to do. Construction begins at the neck, with the yoke being worked in alternating single and double crochet. Stitches are left open at arms for sleeves. Then the skirt is made, in snells, after which the sleeves are completed. Shells are for the cap, too, while mittens and booties are fashioned in single and double crochet.

HUES TO CHOOSE The artistic eye will recognize this pattern as one which makes the most of those special shades available in pompadour yarn. Our model was done in soft lavender, while white was used to outline the shells. Edging and ribbons are white, too. Complete instructions are available, free, if you will send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to the Needlework Department of this newspaper and ask for BABY'S SACQUE AND ACCESSORIES, Leaflet No. B-110.

lates, "My husband likes meat or peanut butter for breakfast. Why not—they make a satisfying meal, provide protein and food energy. The children often have peanut butter and jelly on toast and occasionally like fruit and softened ice cream on cereal. We like ready-to-eat cereals for snacks, any time of day."

And from home economist homemaker, Lois Wiedbrauk, "We wouldn't expect our car to start in the morning without fuel. After many hours (all night) without food our body's fuel supply is low; we need a satisfying breakfast, including high quality protein to prevent mid-morning headaches, keep us alert, give us energy."

"My children like to cook for themselves... enjoying the magic of popovers, making their own cinnamon rolls from bread slices. I make French toast with egg and no milk, thus we get more egg. All of us like enriched rice served with milk, cinnamon and sugar. In summer, we top toasted bread with sliced tomatoes, bacon and cheese sauce."

These tips for "keeping regular" work for me; I think they can help you. Drink two extra glasses of water daily, one first thing in the morning (preferred hot, with lemon juice), the other just before retiring. Prunes or prune juice and figs several times a week are useful and a change. Try combining prune and orange juice. More bulk food is important and bran may be your answer—all-bran or bran flakes. I like to mix bran with other ready-to-eat cereal.

Somehow September is a time when we think about the children going back to school... maybe starting kindergarten... maybe beginning their final year in high school. And always there are clothes to be readied, made or purchased.

Have you noticed, the "old fashioned" look is the modern look for little girls this fall. The fitted bodice, bouffant skirt, full skirt, full sleeves, large collars—all are a part of this silhouette.

Among favorite "old-fashioned" trims are tucks, rickrack, lace, small bows, embroidery, rows of tiny buttons. This adds up to a very feminine look.

If the trims, interfacing and dress fabrics have wash-n-wear qualities, the dress will be easy to care for, even though "fancy". Labels are your indicator about the qualities of fabric, interfacing and trim. Study them.

What to do with cooked vegetables left from a meal? Too many for a casserole, not enough to serve a second time? Chill them well, dredge in French dressing and make a salad... just mold them in lettuce cups, garnish with radishes, tomatoes and cucumbers.

This year's tour will visit the hunting lodge of Dr. E. B. (Ted) Cavell Jr. in Wilber Township and Cecil Cabbie's hunting area in Grant Township.

Michigan State University Wildlife Specialist Charles Shick, Forester Lester Bell, Forage Specialist Leyton Nelson and Dr. Fred Elliott will be on hand.

Included on the tour will be research findings in new strains of Scotch pine, weed and brush control demonstration plots and a deer feeding check plot.

The tour will start at 1:00 p. m. at Cavell's and move to Cabbie's at 2:30 p. m.

At the Cavell hunting lodge, managing the wood harvest will be discussed by Mr. Bell.

Michigan's beef cattle industry is growing. And it is not surprising. The state has just about everything in its favor.

There are large areas of land in Northern Michigan where cow herds can roam while producing feeder calves. And there is enough grain produced within, but sold outside, the state to feed three times the 523,000 cattle presently fed.

"Both the feeder calf producer and the beef feeder have plenty of good market advantages," believes R. H. Nelson, head of the animal husbandry department at Michigan State University. "Established feeder calf sales can take all the calves the northern beefman can produce and there are large population centers within a few hundred miles hungry for the beef steaks from cattle that are finished out in the Southern Michigan feed lots."

We used to think of the beef operation as a total income project for a farmer," Nelson says. "Now many farmers who work off the farm find raising feeder calves a good way to supplement their income."

In Northern Michigan, particularly, lands that have largely been abandoned while the owner worked elsewhere are going into beef cattle production. Michigan beefmen are bumping into some tough problems in their fight to expand operations. One is that Michigan originally developed as a dairy state. Land was cut up in small units and it is expensive to bring them together into units large enough to make beef a paying proposition.

Compared with the western range country, labor costs are higher in Michigan because of closeness to industry. But Michigan cattlemen are overcoming these handicaps by utilizing results of research to keep feed costs down and other short cuts. Cattlemen are putting more emphasis on quality of breeding. And this is helping them to compete with the western rancher for sales of feeder calves to Southern Michigan feed lot operators.

One indication of the trend is the growth of Northern Michigan cooperative feeder cattle auction sales have jumped from 540 head valued at $41,760 sold at one sale in 1945 to 5,225 head valued at $751,466 sold at five sales last year. Most of the cattle have gone into Michigan feed lots.

Clarence Carpenter, DHIA tester, sends his report for the month of August.

Mrs. Drengberg, program chairman, announced that at the October meeting of the P-TA a state police trooper will present a talk on narcotics and what to do about this problem. She urged that parents and teachers of high school students attend the meeting.

Refreshments were served at the close of the evening.

W-P Cards Take Measure of Mio Thunderbolts, 34-6

With Dave Goupil, Mike Soper and Russ Redmond delivering the knockout blows, the Whittemore-Prescott Area Cardinals defeated Mio, 34-6, in a non-league tilt Friday afternoon on the losers' home field.

The Cards jumped off to a quick 13-0 lead in the first quarter, added a touchdown and a placement in the second and score 14 points in the third quarter. The losers pushed over one TD in the second period.

First score came on a run by Goupil around right end for 15 yards. Redmond ran the extra point and Whittemore-Prescott held a 7-0 lead. Goupil hit paydirt again when he gathered in a pass thrown by Quarterback Mike Soper, the play covering 50 yards.

Final scoring by the Cards in the first half came when Soper scored on a quarterback keep around end.

Shortly after the start of the second half, Goupil caught a pass from Soper and raced 30 yards for a touchdown. Redmond ran the extra point. The final touchdown came when Redmond ran through right tackle for 10 yards and then converted the PAT on a run.

This Friday night, the Cardinals will meet NEM Conference foe, Beaverton, on the latter's home field. The Whittemore-Prescott JV, inactive last week, is scheduled to meet the "Little Beavers" Saturday.

Junior Braves Win Opening Game, 12-0

In a well-played defensive battle, the Junior Braves of Tawas Area High School downed the junior varsity of West Branch Saturday night, 12-0. The game was played on the losers' home field.

The Junior Braves, although not possessing the speed of last year's squad, made up for this deficiency with very effective offensive blocking, both in the line and downfield. Tawas coaches were particularly impressed with the play of the Tawas defensive line.

The two teams played to a scoreless tie during the first half although Tawas had a 70-yard touchdown punt return by Quarterback Don Humphrey nullified by a penalty in the first quarter.

Dick Zaharias scored the first touchdown of the game in the third quarter for Tawas and Roger Lucas scored the final TD in the closing minutes of the game. Zaharias also had one long touchdown run nullified because of an off-sides penalty.

The Junior Braves will meet Pinconning's JV squad Thursday night at the Tawas Area Athletic Field. Game time is 7:30 o'clock.

Braves Lose Opener to West Branch Orioles

Tawas Area Braves zoomed off like a moon-bound missile in the first minutes of the season football opener here last Friday night, but then failed to "orbit" as they lost to the West Branch Orioles, 20-13. The winners controlled the ball for nearly four quarters and therein lies the scoring difference.

The Braves took an early lead in the game when they marched 80 yards on a sustained drive to hit paydirt but, during the remainder of the game, the Braves were able to get off only 30 offensive plays as their defensive line was riddled by West Branch backs.

After West Branch won the toss

Oscoda Owls Eke Out 13-12 Victory

Oscoda Area High School's football team eke out a 13-12 victory over Mancelona in a non-league tilt Friday night, although Coach Tom Stalker's eleven was outdistanced considerably on the ground.

At the final gun, Mancelona was a half-yard from the Oscoda goal, the Owls having held on three plays inside the three-yard line.

Mancelona scored first in the opening period, but Oscoda tied when Fullback Louis Alverson went over on a 67-yard scamper. Mancelona took the lead in the third period, 12-6, but Halfback Dick Schorffaar won the game with a 23-yard run, then booted the placement.

and moved the opening kick-off to their own 32, a fumble was recovered by Pete Wandoff of Tawas Area. The victory-hungry Braves, with Fullback Frank Brigham punching holes through the center of the Oriole line, scored on a nine-yard gallop around left end by Halfback Jim Brooks. Duane Sanders kicked the extra point and Tawas held a 7-0 lead.

This margin soon disappeared, mainly through the deceptive faking by Quarterback George Pappas of the Orioles. Time and again, the little senior befuddled Tawas linemen with his fakery and, after West Branch picked up four first downs, Pappas sprinted four yards for a touchdown. Leo Lorenz blocked the try for extra point and Tawas' lead was cut to 7-6.

Tawas took the kick-off and their offense sputtered and finally fizzled out as they had to punt to the Orioles. The Branchers controlled the ball through the rest of the first quarter. Early in the second period, Pappas raced around right end for 16 yards to hit paydirt after the Orioles rang up three first downs. The PAT attempt by Pappas was good and West Branch took a 13-7 lead.

Throughout the second period, West Branch continued to control the ball and as the half ended, the Orioles had the ball on the Tawas 10-yard line.

Neither team scored in the third quarter, although West Branch collected six first downs and controlled the ball all the way.

Early in the fourth quarter, the Orioles punched over for another touchdown. In this series, Dunbar carried the ball five times and piled up 32 yards. The score came on a pass from Pappas to Dunbar, good for nine yards. Pappas kicked the extra point.

The Braves' offense showed another spurt in the fourth quarter when Quarterback Bolen connected on a pass to End John Sass which was good for 30 yards. The Braves moved down to the West Branch 14 and then on fourth down, a pass from Halfback Brooks sailed incomplete over the head of Sass.

Sass, who played an outstanding game both on offense and defense, intercepted a Pappas-throw pass with only four minutes to go in the game. Taking advantage of one of the few "rocks" by Pappas during the game, Tawas quickly picked up 17 yards on a pass from Bolen to End Arnie Stump. Bolen then dropped back to pass and found his receivers covered by West Branch defenders. He then raced 12 yards to score around right end. The PAT was missed.

The Orioles ran out the clock and had the ball on their own 47-yard line when the final whistle sounded. This was the second win in succession by West Branch over the Braves, having won the season opener last year.

Tawas Area High School Band entertained the large season opener crowd with pre-game and half-time programs. The band was under the direction of James Ruckle, an 11th grader, who substituted for ailing director, Edward Rima, who is recuperating from a recent surgical operation.

MR. AND MRS. CHARLES L. WELLNA

Miss Edisa Gay of Twining, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Neil Gay Sr., and Charles L. Wellna of Tawas City exchanged wedding vows in a 11 o'clock service at St. Joseph Catholic Church Saturday, September 19. Bouquets of yellow and white chrysanthemums decorated the church for the single ring ceremony, performed by the Rev. Fr. Henry Eickholt.

The bridegroom is the son of Leo Wellna of Tawas City and the late Mrs. Wellna.

Escorted to the altar by her brother, Neil Gay Jr. of Au Gres, the bride was gown in a ballerina length dress of imported Rochelle lace fashioned with a smoothly molded bodice that fell into a bouffant skirt. A modified scoop neckline and long tapered sleeves complemented the skirt which was accented by a ruffled tulle petticoat. A rhinestone studded braided crown secured her veil of imported bridal illusion. The bridal bouquet was of white chrysanthemums and roses.

Attending the bride were Miss Dorothy Wellna of Tawas City, maid of honor, and Miss Mary Ellen Wellna of Tawas City, bridesmaid, both sisters of the bridegroom. Their dresses were of pink and yellow nylon over taffeta and they carried bouquets of chrysanthemums and roses.

Kenneth Anschuetz of Tawas City served as best man for the bridegroom. Ushers were Donald Gay of Twining, brother of the bride, and Paul Salters of East Tawas, the bridegroom's brother-in-law.

A breakfast for the immediate families was served at the home of the bridegroom's father following the ceremony.

SCHOOL OFFICIALS and law enforcement officers warn motorists this week that many persons are not observing the new school bus law which went into effect last year. Motorists must come to a complete stop when overtaking or passing a school bus which is loading or unloading passengers. The picture above is a graphic example of the new law being broken. The bus is stopped on the highway waiting to pick up a school youngster at the far right (out of the picture). The car at left failed to observe the warning lights on the bus. Police warn that the new law was passed for the protection of youngsters and will be enforced.—Tawas Herald Photo.

Why we built two cars for 1960 ... as different as night and day

On October 2—for the first time in Chevrolet's 49-year history—you will be able to walk into your dealer's showroom and see two totally different kinds of cars. One is the conventional 1960 Chevrolet, brand new in appearance and more beautifully refined and luxurious than you can imagine. The other is unlike any car we or anybody else ever built—the revolutionary Corvair, with the engine in the rear where it belongs in a compact car. We'd like to tell you why we built two such different cars, how we built them—and for whom we built them.

Why two kinds of cars? Because America itself has been going through some big changes in the past few years. Our cities have been straining at their seams. Traffic is jam-packed. Parking space is at a premium. And our suburbs have spread like wildfire. People are living farther from their work, driving more miles on crowded streets. There is new leisure time—but more things to do. There's a new standard of living—and more need for two cars in the family garage.

In short, America's automobile needs have become so complex that no one kind of car can satisfy them completely. That is why we at Chevrolet, keeping tab on these trends, have had a revolutionary compact car in the planning stages for more than nine years.

Thus, when we decided three years ago to prepare for production of such a car we were ready to build it the way it should be built. There was no need for a hasty "crash" program that would create only a saved-off version of a conventional car.

That is why the two cars you will see in your dealer's showroom October 2 will be two entirely different kinds of cars. One is the conventional '60 Chevrolet—brand new in beauty, with new space inside, new spirit under the hood, a new feeling of sumptuousness and luxury never before attained by any car in its field. There is great V8 power linked with new thrift, plus Chevrolet's superb 6-cylinder engine. It is a traditional car that comes even closer to perfection—in silence, in room, in ease of control, in velvety ride—than any other car we have ever made.

The other is the Corvair, a compact car that is astonishingly different from anything ever built in this country. It has to be—because this is a six-passenger compact car, with a really remarkable performance... a car designed specifically to American standards of comfort, to American traffic needs.

The engine is in the rear. Among the basic advantages resulting from this engine location are better traction on a compact 108-inch wheelbase and a practically flat floor. But to be placed in the rear, the engine had to be ultra light and ultra short. So Corvair's engine is totally new—mostly aluminum and air cooled; it weighs about 40 per cent less than conventional engines. It is a "flat" horizontally opposed six—so it is only three cylinders long... and that leaves a lot more room for passengers.

Another weight saving: like modern airplanes, the Corvair has no frame; the body-shell supplies it great structural strength... it's a welded unit that is virtually rattle-free.

The ride is fantastic. But to get it we had to design independent suspension at every wheel; conventional springing would give a compact car a choppy ride. Right now we'll make one prediction: no other U.S. compact car will ride so comfortably, hold the road so firmly and handle so beautifully.

Now there are two kinds of cars from Chevrolet—because it takes two kinds of cars to serve America's needs today. If you love luxury—the utmost in luxury—and if you want generous interior space, breath-taking performance, automatic drives and power assists—then the conventional '60 Chevrolet may be your choice.

If easy parking, traffic agility and utmost economy are high on your list—then you should seriously consider the Corvair. But the best thing to do is to look these two new cars over at your Chevrolet dealer's... take them out for a drive. It may be that the only logical choice for your family between two cars like this is—both. They make a perfect pair.

Extension Groups Participate in Breakfast Program

Taking part in this month's nationwide better breakfast observance are Isco home economic extension groups, the "professional organization" of homemakers. Cooperating with the groups are 15 food stores throughout the county.

A "kick-off" breakfast at the Masonic Temple, furnished by the cooperating stores and served by Laidlawville women, will be Thursday, September 24. Guests include the women who will be greeting customers at the stores Friday and representatives of the food stores: Whittemore, Denny's Food Town, Char-ers' IGA, Stan's Market; Hale, Koche's Market, Pearsall's IGA, Wyatt's Market; Tawas City, G and M Market, Brugger's IGA Market, King's Palace Market, Kroger; East Tawas; Klenow's Grocery, Quality Market, Lixey's Market, A&P Store; Oscoda; A&P Store.

Plan to visit with the women wearing "extension group member" name tags when shopping this Friday; they have better breakfast messages for everyone.

groups promote better family living by keeping their members up to date on the newest information and skills available to their profession—homemaking.

All Isco County homemakers are eligible for membership in a group or may choose to participate in other program activities for women arranged by Miss Dorothy Scott, county extension agent.

Miss Scott is one of Michigan State University's Cooperative Extension Service staff located in Isco County to assist families in helping themselves for better living.

Right now is the ideal time of the year to begin taking part in extension projects and groups. Women are invited to contact Miss Scott in the Federal Building, East Tawas, Forest 2-3751, or Mrs. Paul Sayles, Forest 2-2097.

ter-city battle with Beaverton, scoring in each period while holding the Beavers to no score.

Halfback Don Hale opened the scoring with an eight-yard dash off tackle and Quarterback Howard Smith tossed to Back Doug Redmond for the PAT to give the winners a 7-0 first period lead. Hale added to the total in the second period on a beautiful 82-yard punt return and a five-yard burst off tackle for a 19-0 intermission bulge.

Beaverton failed to penetrate the Flying G's defense with Rex Easlick at tackle, Byron VanEst at guard and Ken Greer at end doing yeoman work for the winners. Gladwin added another counter in the third quarter on a 10-yard end run by sophomore back, Redmond, with Guard Larry Hall booting the extra point. Redmond repeated in the final period, going 31 yards after breaking through the line.

The champions, Houghton Lake, made it a known fact that they will be fighting for their flag with their win over Pinconning. Halfback Allen Bell gave a preview of what to expect when he took a hand off on the first play from scrimmage and rambled 85 yards to score. Bell passed to Back Ed Hayward for the extra point.

Pinconning came back with a six-pointer as a result of a fumbled punt, recovered by the Spartans on the Lakers' 11. Quarterback Mike Flynn scored on a sneak after five plays carried to the two. The try for extra point failed and the champs held a 7-6 first period lead.

The Bobcats came back in the second quarter, culminating a downfield drive when Ron Hine, halfback, went nine yards on an end run. At half-time, Houghton Lake held a 13-6 bulge.

Bell finished the scoring after the intermission with a 25-yard jaunt around end. His pass to Quarterback Ed Barnes rounded out the point gettings.

Paul Chevis of Tawas City and Ivan Hoffer of Pontiac finished out the regular trout season in Ogemaw County and returned home with six brown trout averaging 16 to 18 inches in length.

Frank and Len Wilkusi of East Tawas returned from a fishing trip for great northern pike in the Batchawana Bay area in Ontario, Canada. They brought home several nice pike with the largest going around 14 pounds.

Deadline date for applications on special doe permits for the coming deer season is October 10. The drawings for these permits will be about October 22 and will allow the lucky permit holder to shoot an antlerless deer in a designated area during the regular season. The chances for hunters to get a "special permit" will be a little under 50-50. All deer hunters who are going to apply for a special permit are cautioned to fill out the necessary forms with accuracy and watch the areas in which they hunt as all area boundaries have been changed this year.

Out of every 100 antlerless deer taken last year by permit holders, four were bucks with spikes less than three inches, 57 were doe and 39 were fawns.

WITH EMERY

The Isco County Sportsmen's Club is progressing with its clubhouse site just north of East Tawas on US-23 near the city limits. About 15 members turned out for the work-bee over the week-end to remove trees, build a driveway into the property and bulldoze a clearing for the clubhouse.

Ken Conn and Howard "Pappy" Hutton returned from a fishing trip in the Burt Lake area last Wednesday with three real nice rainbow trout. The largest weighed a little over 4 1/2 pounds. These rainbows were caught while casting from a boat using spoons near the surface of the water.

Paul Chevis of Tawas City and Ivan Hoffer of Pontiac finished out the regular trout season in Ogemaw County and returned home with six brown trout averaging 16 to 18 inches in length.
