Sawyer-Wagner Win AuSable Race

Ralph Sawyer, 22, and Jerry Wagner, 29, of Oscoda were again crowned world's champion canoeists Sunday night after capturing the title in the 13th annual AuSable River Marathon which started Saturday night. This was a repeat performance for them, having won the title in 1957.

The Oscoda duo, appearing comparatively fresh after finishing the grueling 240-mile run down the AuSable from Grayling, dethroned Steve Kolonich, 33, and Larry Kindell, 25, of East Tawas and National City, 1956 winners. Wagner and Sawyer completed this rugged test of endurance in 16 hours and 58 minutes, some 17 minutes longer than the record of 16 hours and 41 minutes set by Kolonich and Kindell in 1958.

Capturing second place with a time of 17 hours and eight minutes was the team of Gary Kolonich, 17, East Tawas, and Edward T. Wojahn, 20, Tawas City, a pair of youngsters who showed their mettle by edging out many veteran canoe teams. Other winners were the McGuire Brothers, Irvin and Sanford, Mikado, in third place with a time of 17 hours, 14 minutes and 15 seconds. Fourth place was won by the Widig Brothers, Al and LeRoy of Holly, 17 hours, 20 minutes and 15 seconds.

The real drama of this race, one of the most interesting in the history of the marathon, unfolded during the first half of the 240-mile run. Sawyer and Wagner were the pace-setters right from the start, working up from ninth position at Grayling to lead the field at the first check point, Stephan's Bridge.

Defending Champions Kolonich and Kindell, who started in 23rd place, had passed all the canoes except the front runners shortly after crossing Mio Dam, the first of six portage points. There, they still looked to be fresh to the hundreds of spectators who were lining the banks.

The necessity of passing so many canoes with such a tremendous burst of speed, however, began to tell on Kolonich and Kindell by the time they reached Cummins, only a short distance below Mio.

Disappointment showed on the faces of the two AuSable veterans when they announced at Cummins that the race was over for them at that point. With Sawyer and Wagner holding a five-minute edge, the pair said that their only chance of winning the race had been to overtake the leaders between Grayling and Mio.

After that point, the race turned into a run-away for first place and it looked as though Sawyer and Wagner would shatter the old time record. A quick of fate intervened in this possibility, however, when the Oscoda team reached Loud Dam at a period of low water. They were forced to drag their canoe a considerable distance after portaging the dam because of the low water and lost much valuable time. Shortly after they pushed off, the water again rose in the river, nearly trapping two men below the dam who were waiting with hot drinks and food for one of the teams.

With Wagner and Sawyer virtually assured of winning first place with their steady pace, a marvel of precision paddling, spectators turned their attention to watching the interesting developments among the next four

Scouts to Hold Fund Raising Drive Tuesday, October 6

Paul Bunyan Council of the Boy Scouts of America announced that Tuesday, October 6, has been selected as the date for its annual fund raising drive. The council comprises Arenac, Crawford, Gladwin, Iosco, Midland, Ogemaw and Roscommon Counties. Successful drives were completed in the Higgins Lake and St. Helen areas in mid-summer. Scouting is supported in Midland and Oscoda by contributions from the United Fund.

According to Harold L. Treat, Roscommon, council campaign manager, the following local appointments have been made to direct the drive: Au Gres, Herbert Proulx; Beaverton, Theodore Reader; Frederic, Fred Dunkley; Gladwin, Charles Zettle; Grayling, George Griffith; Hale, Serge Thomson; Houghton Lake, Patrick Marra; Roscommon, Ford Silsby; Rose City, Robert VanCamp; Standish, Hugh Hanson; Sterling, Otis Mutch; Tawas area, Charles A. Pinkerton; West Branch, Chester Surling; Whittemore, John Dickey.

Mr. Bunyan Council is now serving more than 29 percent of eligible boys resident to the seven-county area. Recent surveys reveal that some 65 percent of the eligible boys desire to participate in scouting. An effort will be made in the forthcoming drive to raise funds necessary to expand the program and allow these young people to participate.

Mr. Treat stated, "Records substantiate that boys exposed to boy scout training are infrequent delinquents. We must recognize an investment in scouting as an investment in the future."

No Change in 36-Day-Old Anderson Coach Co. Strike

Negotiations between management and union of Anderson Coach Company remained at a standstill this week. Both sides in the 36-day-old strike presented their cases in letters made public last week. Some 92 union men walked off the production line August 4.

Answering a letter written by Anderson President James Guest to union workers, William Scott, union local president, said, "No matter what frightening possibilities he (Mr. Guest) may suggest, we feel that the company will soon be negotiating with us and Anderson Coaches will again be rolling down the production line."

In his letter to the men, Mr. Guest said that from the beginning, the company has contended that an acceptable plan must be one that will afford the company a reasonable opportunity of getting back to profitable operations while, at the same time, improving the earnings of its production employees.

Mr. Guest pointed out several offers made by the company during negotiations. These included: Paying the same bonus rates for the smaller "707" series coaches that have been paid in the past for "808" models, or an increase of $40 per coach over the company's original proposal; increase bonus rate on all "808" models by $10 each; guarantee weekly bonus payments, regardless of the actual bonus earned.

"The company is seeking to increase sales and production by offering the '707' series at a considerable reduction in price," stated Mr. Guest. "A substantial portion of this price reduction is being absorbed by the company on the theory that the increased production will bring better operating results than the company has been experiencing in the past several months. The success of the '707' series is bound to benefit the men by providing steadier employment and contributing generously to the bonus fund."

been incurred during the past several months due to reduced sales and low production. "If the company should meet the union's demands and continue to operate at the same production level, our loss during the next six months will increase by more than $25,000 over the past six months. On the other hand, with production increased to three units per day through cooperation between the men and the management, the men will receive the increase they are asking and the company will realize a profit, while not impressive, will be reasonably satisfactory."

In his letter to the company, Scott said that the bonus system "died with the advent of the 10-foot-wide coaches. 'A fair wage for the men will induce the company to promote efficiency in order to increase its earnings."

"The company still won't admit that proper supervision is lacking," Scott said. "We take the stand that a company executive in charge of production should make some effort to promote efficient production."

The company urged the men to consider these facts: 1. The good earning enjoyed by the men in the past years were produced by the bonus system; 2. The base rates have been increased by 95 cents per hour ($1.10 to $1.95) since early 1954, having the effect of guaranteeing this much bonus for each hour of work; 3. While presently handicapped with a reduction in earnings, the men are still higher paid than most factory employees in the Tawas area, even while the incentive bonus is not contributing to their pay checks; 4. Employee benefits, based on a working year of 1,800 hours (45 weeks) amounted to 23.6 cents for life insurance, two weeks paid vacation and six paid holidays.

The company said that union demands that force the company deeper into unprofitable operations, while seeming to benefit the employees currently, may ultimately produce extremely damaging results.

Mr. and Mrs. Michigan Travel to Visit Tawas

Mr. and Mrs. Michigan Travel will visit The Tawas September 11 as part of a 10-day, 1,300-mile state tour sponsored by Automobile Club of Michigan.

The couple, Dr. and Mrs. Richard Pew of Ann Arbor, will tour area highlights during their stay. The Pews won their title and the trip in a contest conducted by Auto Club's Motor News magazine. Their entry was judged best over more than 1,000 entries.

Dr. Pew, a graduate of University of Michigan dental school, recently set up practice in Ann Arbor. His wife, Lorraine, recently enrolled in U of M's college of education where she is majoring in elementary school teaching. She is a former airline stewardess.

Among the reasons they wanted to win the trip was that their struggle for an education had forced them to forgo vacations since they were married four years ago.

The tour will include 31 cities in Southern Michigan, along the Lake Huron and Michigan coasts and the Upper Peninsula. The couple will drive all the way in a car furnished by Buick Division of General Motors.

Flint Man Hurt in Shallow Water Dive

A 24-year-old Flint man was rushed to Tawas Hospital Monday after being injured in a dive from a tree into the AuSable River at Oscoda.

Injured was Bruce O. Crane, who was celebrating his birthday. Investigating township officers, Charles Howell and Robert Foster, say that Crane possibly suffered fractured vertebrae or a fractured neck.

Officer Howell said that Crane and a companion, who had stopped at Oscoda on their way from Houghton Lake, saw a group of youngsters swimming in the river above the old US-23 bridge. Deciding to join in the swimming, Crane climbed a dead tree and dove from a height of about 35 or 40 feet into the river. The water was 3½ feet deep at that point.

When the two officers arrived, Crane was unconscious and had been removed to the river bank. He was rushed to the hospital by ambulance.

Judge Sets Legal Level of Tawas Lake at 582.5

The way was cleared last Thursday in Iosco County Circuit Court to raise the water level of Tawas Lake. In a decision handed down by Judge Herman Dehnke, the court set the legal level at 582.5.

Seeking the establishment of a legal lake level were property owners on the east side of the lake. They had petitioned the court in July to establish a level of 582.8 feet above sea level. West side property owners objected, however, stating that while they favored construction of a dam, they felt that the 582.8 level would flood some of their property.

Judge Dehnke left the way open for a possible appeal to the supreme court by the west side owners. Attorneys for both sides are to again submit briefs within 15 days on the final order.

Before giving his decision, Judge Dehnke said that there were many laws on the books concerning establishment of the legal level of inland lakes. He indicated, however, that many of the laws were conflicting and expressed his personal hope that action in his court would be appealed to the higher court in order to clarify the law.

Under the present law, Judge Dehnke said that construction of a dam to maintain the legal level would require action by the board of supervisors. He indicated that the dam could be financed through a special assessment district in the Tawas Lake area. After construction, maintenance of the dam would be the obligation of the county at large, he said.

Old-Time Players Show Their Stuff

More than 40 old-time ball players registered their names during the annual baseball reunion held last week-end in Tawas City. Festivities included a get-together at the American Legion Hall Saturday night and a three-inning ball game and batting contest at the Tawas City athletic field Sunday afternoon.

The event was sponsored by the Jesse C. Hodder Post, American Legion, and the Tawas City baseball club. The program was planned by William Murray and Edward Libka, representing the Legion, and Russell Anschuetz, manager of the independent baseball team.

Winner of the batting contest was Paul Beyers. Rollie Gackstetter was runner-up.

Those attending included James Mark, Edward Libka, Edwin Peterson, Carl W. Libka, Joseph St. Aubin, P. J. Beyer Jr., Fred Erickson, Fred Lepard, Clifford Anschuetz, Earl B.

Davis, Joseph Roberts, Rollie Gackstetter, John Forsten, Neil Thornton, J. N. Bruggar, Walter Laidlaw, William Murray, Arthur Anschuetz.

Jack Mark, Detroit; Walter V. Zollweg, Detroit; Orlin Cunningham, Charlevoix; Earl Slosser, Hale; J. Atlee Mark, Saginaw; W. Byron Mark, Detroit; Lawrence Koepke, St. Clair Shores; Elmer Frank, Adrian; Jack Johnson, Hale.

Following the old-timer activities, a seven-inning game was played between Tawas City and Hale independent baseball teams. The game was won by the latter, 4-3.

P. N. THORNTON and SONS, PUBLISHERS

I guess someone really pressed the button labeled "school," for just like that the whole wide world has leaped into activity that is academic once again. In dizzy, busy fashion all the wheels are whizzing round. Somehow it makes me just a bit nostalgic, as I think of Grandpa's watch. I always loved it when he took the back off his big pocket timepiece. I viewed in greatest wonder all the synchronized activity.

And now we have come to recognize that it is a timely world, like school. Gone is the time to sleep late in the morning. The hour of charm is now one of alarm as children are routed from their beds in an effort to make their early classes. Breakfasts now are regular and the air of relaxation is replaced by one of obligation to the clock.

As and if all that were not quite enough, all the related activities have started, too—the social clubs, hobby groups, private lessons, band practice scouts and all.

Sometimes it seems there is just too much to do and parents and teachers are concerned. In fact, many of them are extra-particular about the extra-curricular. It is not just a matter of the PTA right now. It is the whole academic alphabet that suddenly goes acrobatic and beckons in a hundred ways. Yes, sir, we are off! The season for breathlessness is on.

I think it is so strange sometimes that we do not ration our activities more than we do. But no, they seem to halt completely in the summer, stop-light fashion—and then, as if the light turned green, they all begin at once, like traffic at a highway intersection. And many of us are casualties.

I always think of a remark I once heard Dr. Rasey make: "If in one minute we do what our grandmothers did in one hour, what do we do with the other 59 minutes?" Goodness knows, we never seem to have any time left over.

Often like the chocolate cookies children quietly help themselves to, there is not enough to go around. Yet magically we can find it for what we really want to do. Thus an obligation of a teacher is to stimulate desire for worthwhile interests that boys and girls will learn and yearn to follow.

Well, the groups I have now I believe will stay for a semester. One or two of the youngsters may even do a double-stretch. At least they know they are welcome and I have chalked my name for them.

I knew how many variations of that there would be. Some, facetiously, I hope, have dubbed me Mrs. Moron. Others, meanwhile, have prefaced it with Miss, utterly indifferent to the fact that there are two at home who call me mom. Some, too, conclude it with final s. Oh, I may be a singular person, but I wince when they make my name plural, like pneumonia at its worst. No wonder, then, that in our schools today, we seek to point the way to accuracy of thought and word.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

The unlimited availability of divine supply will be brought out at Christian Science services Sunday.

Scriptural readings in the lesson-sermon entitled "Substance" include the account in II Kings (4) of Elisha's feeding of a hundred men with twenty loaves. Correlative selections to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include (494-10): "Divine Love always has met and always will meet every human need. It is not well to imagine that Jesus demonstrated the divine power to heal only for a select number or for a limited period of time, since to all mankind and in every hour, divine Love supplies all good."

The Golden Text is from James (1:17): "Every good gift and every perfect gift is from above, and cometh down from the Father of lights, with whom is no variableness, neither shadow of turning."

by CHET MAHER, Manager
A SAGINAW SERVICE REPRESENTATIVE tells us of a rather novel order she received recently. A customer called and said: "I have a brunette telephone and I'd like to exchange it for a blonde." Now it may be true that gentlemen do prefer blondes, but when it comes to telephones, you don't have to limit yourself to that color. There are nine different shades to choose from.

EVER WONDER HOW some of our Michigan colleges win so many football games? One reason is their ability to employ new strategy during a game that will capitalize on an enemy's weaknesses. Flaws in the opponent's attack are spotted by an assistant in the press box. How does he relay them to the head coach on the field? By telephone, of course. The telephone enables him to feed the coach a steady stream of information that quite often spells victory for your team.

DID YOU KNOW THAT IT takes a lot more effort and money to write a business letter than to use the telephone? According to a business magazine, the average business letter costs $1.70 by the time you figure stenographic costs, mailing, filing and materials. That cost is duplicated at the other end when a reply is sent. If you look at the long distance rates listed in your telephone book, you'll see how many distant places you can call for less than that. Furthermore, a long distance call is easier, faster and more personal.

PROPER SPACING IN LANDSCAPE PLANTING

Whether or not your new landscape plants grow into value over a long period of years depends upon the spacing of your plants.
Too often full consideration of the mature growth of the plants has been overlooked and in a few years they become crowded and are detrimental to the landscape. Sooner or later the plants have to be drastically pruned or removed.
How often do we see a spruce, a cedar, a weeping willow and several other species that are now filling the whole front lawn? A little pine or spruce may look right for a few years but then it becomes so big that it shuts out light and ventilation and even hides the house. A small Pfitzer Juniper which when mature will be six to eight feet wide should not be planted in a two foot planter or within three feet of a building.
We realize the inexperienced gardener does not know the mature heights or widths of plants. Our planting guide for the pre-planned landscape groups show the mature height and proper spacing of all plants listed. To make your landscape investment one that increases in value, you should consult us before you plant.

Slayer of State Trooper was Captured Near Here

Search for State Police Trooper Albert Souden, missing from the Brighton post since last Thursday, ended Monday afternoon when Alvin W. Knight, ex-convict and one-time mental patient, pointed out his grave in Livingston County.

Knight, who had been questioned at length since being captured in his mother's cabin north of Oscoda, apparently broke down after being confronted by the wife of Trooper Souden.

Search for the missing officer turned to the Alcona County cabin in when a 1933 blue Cadillac known to have been driven by Knight was found on the northeast side of the lake.

State police knew of Knight's cabin in the area. Sgt. Frank Roti, Detective LeRoy McCluer, Troopers Stanley Flis and Charles Clark and Conservation Officer Jack LaFear raided the cabin and captured Knight.

Knight had the trooper's pistol in his possession, but claimed he purchased it from a hitchhiker.

When he disappeared, Trooper Souden had been investigating Knight on a breaking and entering case. Knight had admitted only being in the back seat of the car when he and the trooper drove to the plant of Pneumatic Products Company near Milford.

When state police surrounded the cabin and broke in, Knight was found lying on the bed in the cabin. He gave up without a struggle.

State police, Isosco County Sheriff's Department deputies and conservation officers searched a wide area around Cedar Lake and in the lake for some trace of Souden.

Marathon

Al and LeRoy Widing, who looked to be on the verge of collapse when they portaged Alcona Dam, were being pushed hard for their second place position by Gary Kolonich, son of the defending champion, and his partner, Edward Wojahn.

The Tawas youngsters passed the Widings in the backwaters of Loud Dam and held that position the rest of the way. The McGuire Brothers, who were first year "rookies" among the 33 teams who started at Grayling, passed the Widings after the time adjustment period at Foote Dam. Time adjustments of 15 seconds per place were made there. The Widings drew number 13 starting position and the McGuire six.

For their efforts, Sawyer and Wagner won top prize money of $1,200. Other prize money was awarded as follows: Second place, $600; third place, $300; fourth place, $200.

Fifth place prize money of $175 went to Chuck Crellin of Mt. Clemens and Harold Alcock of Lambertville; Jose Creque of Lambertville and Jack Kent of Lewiston won sixth place prize money of $150; Robert Jones of Portland and Kenneth Wheeler of Eagle won seventh place prize
