WINTER IS USUALLY rough on deer but a broken leg and deep snow was just about enough to finish off this doe found west of Sand Lake Road in Grant Township. Apparently the victim of a gunshot wound last November, the doe was spotted by William Wickert, Hugo Keiser and Cecil Cabble while the three men were putting out feed at the latter's camp. The nearly starved animal, which could hardly move in the deep snow, was wrapped in a tarpaulin and taken back to Cabble's camp where it was bedded in some bales of bean pods. Cabble is shown with the doe in the bottom photo. He reported it in fair condition Sunday, but the animal was given little chance for survival.-Herald Photos.

Rabbit hunting, trout fishing on special designated waters and the spearing of legal game fish in inland waters all ended for the season on February 29.

George Ruth, chief of police for Tawas City, got a nice two-pound plus whitefish while fishing at Higgins Lake the other day and another ardent fisherman, Fallu of East Tawas, got a 21/2pound walleyed pike in Tawas Bay last week while fishing for perch with a Russian hook.

Ice fishing on Tawas Bay for perch was real spotty Saturday with not too many perch being caught. Lots of new snow causing a few drifts made it rather rough to maneuver a car on the ice and while heading out to visit with Chet Parker, the operator of "Perchville" for the chamber of commerce, we got stuck in the snow about halfway out from the shore.

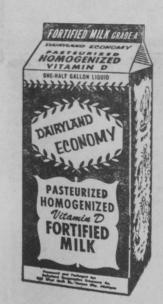

Luckily another car with five fishermen, including Coaches Bill McIntosh and Howard Adams of the Tawas Area School faculty, came along and pushed my car out of the snow drift. After the wind picked up and the snow began drifting, everyone decided this was about enough of battling mother nature's elements and left for

The fishing was much better Sunday afternoon and the perch were running a little larger. We noticed Bill Baker, Dick Bertsch, the Rev. Leonard Newman and "Slim" Woizeschke, all of Tawas City, had fairly nice catches of yellow perch.

Read it again, Grandpa. And Grandpa does . . . again and again. The same funny-sounding words and the same fascinating pictures. Yet each time, a little girl's feeling of confidence and an old man's sense of importance come alive. What would you say this confidence is worth? How much would you pay for the feeling of importance? Oddly enough, some people never care . . . until it's too late. Others, like a small child with her favorite book and her faithful Grandpa, know. Confidence in Blue Cross and Blue Shield and the importance of being a subscriber have been the valued possessions of millions, from birth through retirement. Barren Chapter in Forest Story

This stump vista stands as a solemn reminder of the timber harvests during the late 1800s and the devastating forest fires that followed. This scene recaptures northern Michigan as it looked, by and large, at the turn of the century after logging operations had virtually stripped its lands of virgin pine and hardwood timber. It recounts the ravages of fires which, in some years, razed more than a million acres. Effects of this era are still felt today and many of the Conservation Department's programs center around repairing the damage they caused or using the benefits they provided.
