SPRING IS HERE?-Birth of farm animals is usually a good sign that spring is near (or here), although Michigan residents are beginning to have their doubts after snow showers and cold weather continued this week. This colt surprised everyone two weeks ago when it was foaled by a 20-year-old Shetland pony mare owned by Mr. and Mrs. Russell Binder of Route 1, Tawas City. Shown with the frisky colt, only 24 inches high, is Norton Upson, six-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Upson, who are friends of the Binders. WINNERS IN THE recent city tournament are shown in the two pictures above. At top is the Drewrys squad, winners of the team event. Last year's major league champion in Tawas City, Drewrys shot a 3100 three-game total in the tournament. This score included handicap. Seated are Duane (Bud) Streeter, Richard Prescott and Rollie Gackstetter. Standing are Ace Elliott, Edward Sieloff and John Dodson. Doubles winners were Clarence Voll of Oscoda and Harold Moeller, pictured below. The two men rolled 1315 with handicap. Moeller also won the singles event with a 752 score (698 actual) and the all events with 2023. There were 36 teams entered in the tournament .-- Tawas Herald Photos.

Michigan students may now aply for the annual selective servcollege qualification test which has been scheduled for April 28, it has been announced by Col. Arthur A. Holmes, state lirector of selective service. The test will be conducted at 22 schools and colleges in Michigan. Test scores are used by local poards in considering students for deferment from induction for study as graduate or undergraduhere to help with the many te students. problems inherent in time of In urging eligible students to take the test, Colonel Holmes declared, "The test is for the student's benefit as well as for the nation's good. A local board should have full information about a student in order to classify him, including his class standing and a score on this test. A high test score may compensate for occasional low class stand-

The purpose of student deferments is to give promising students an opportunity to prepare themselves for careers in the national interest. For those students who hesitate to take the test because a deferment extends liability, the director declared, "No registrant can remain out of service beyond the current age for induction at about 23 years with an exemption or a deferment which extends liability."

Scientific and professional enineering organizations are also urging students preparing for careers in these fields to take the est. Test scores are considered particularly important when local boards are considering whether students should be deferred for graduate study.

Application forms for the 1960 qualification test are now available at the nearest draft board office. The local draft board office is located in the Federal Building, East Tawas. Applications must be postmarked not later than midnight, April 7. Instructional materials are issued by local boards with the application forms.

Needlecraft News by Nancy Baxter

The very best way to get a job done, as we've all discovered, is to ask a busy person to do it. That's why the talented lady who knits and crochets customarily finds herself deluged with requests for handmade articles for every church, school and civic club bazaar in town. If you're one of these community-minded women, so glad to lend a hand with any worthwhile project, I'm sure you'll like today's design. For this is a cute and inexpensive item, easy to make and sure to catch the eye of shoppers of any age. THE CAT'S MEOW

Just purr-fect for perk-ing up a kitchen, this adorable kitten can be crocheted quickly and slipped over a two-ring napkin holder. Two crocheted circles form the body and the head is worked easily in one piece. Add sequins and beads to form the eyes and nose and you'll have a real conversation piece sure to be a favorite with kiddies and grown-ups alike. This is one of those pleasant projects which every needleworker can complete in no time and which can afford her great joy and relaxation. And just imagine how delighted the chairman of your next bazaar will be when she sees your contribution.

GIFT SUGGESTION

Chances are there'll be more than one bazaar browser who'll be smitten with this kitten. So why not multiply your good deed and crochet several. Your club will cash in on them in a hurry. For easy-to-follow free directions, just send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to the Needlwork Department of this newspaper. Ask for KITTEN NAPKIN HOLDER, Leaflet No. S-927.

CAPTIVATING COPY of an authentic Early American quilt pattern called the "Henry Clay Wheel" is this crocheted afghan. Made in motifs, which are then sewn together to form the pin-wheel design, this afghan will lend warmth and beauty to your home. For free instructions, address a stamped, self-addressed to the Needlework Department of this newspaper and Michigan's beaver and otter trapping seasons will open March 20 in six lower peninsula areas and April 1 in four areas above the Straits. Regulations will be essentially the same as last year when trappers harvested 15.646 beavers and 836 otters. Season lengths and bag limits will again be regulated on an area basis to allow for differences in beaver and otter numbers throughout the state. This flexible system has been instrumental in raising fur bearer harvests without hurting breeding stock in recent years. It also is designed to protect forestry, agricultural and fish values where necessary.

Harry Krueger Calls Attention to National Wildlife Week

A true conservationist who owns or operates land will not overlook his responsibility to provide some of the food, shelter and water needed by useful forms of wildlife that live in his area, Harry Krueger, district chairman, said yesterday.

Mr. Krueger called attention to the fact that the nation this week is observing National Wildlife Week and that conservationists, schools and other groups are focusing public attention on the problem of keeping wildlife numbers up as natural wildlife habitat goes down. Since most wildlife is a farm "crop," farmers are very much "on the spot" in any public observance of this kind.

Persons who own or operate land and are interested in doing more to provide for needs of wildlife are urged to seek advice and help from the Iosco Soil Conservation District.
