Hale Varsity Opens Season Against TA JV

Hale Area High School, fielding its first football team in many years, will meet the Tawas Area Junior Varsity Saturday night, September 17. The game will be played under the lights at the Tawas field.

Coach Bill Morris of Hale reports that 29 boys have turned out for varsity football practices. He and his assistant, Don Dowling, have been well pleased with the size and speed of the team. Morris said that the team is composed of freshmen and sopho-

Tawas Area has had its share of minor injuries during the first two weeks. Curry has been out with a pulled thigh muscle, Coller was out due to a knee infection, while both Zaharias and Wegner have missed several days because of ankle injuries. A special program is being planned by Tawas Area Band for the halftime show. Director Edward Rima said that the marching band has been enlarged to 70 this year, seven more members than last year.

The junior varsity opens its season here Saturday night when it plays host to the Hale varsity. Tawas Area School reor-ganized its football program this week. Ron Wiltse, who has been working with junior high gridders, has taken over a newlyorganized freshman team. The junior varsity team, under Coaches Bill McIntosh and Lyle Berry, will be composed of sophomores, juniors and only two or three freshmen. Several players have been sent down from the varsity for seasoning.

Goulet Sets Sept. 27 for Examination of Two Flint Men

Justice court examination for two Flint men, who attempted a "citizens arrest" on Genesee County Prosecuting Attorney Jerome F. O'Rourke, has been set for September 27.

Released on $1,000 bond last Friday were Matthew Buder, Flint attorney, and John N. Bogart, a salesman. Buder entered a plea of "not guilty" before Justice of the Peace A. J. Goulet and demanded examination. Bogart stood mute and a "not guilty" plea was entered for him. The two men were ordered to 'appear or else" last Friday, after failing to make an appearance at a scheduled arraignment Tuesday of last week.

They are charged with kidnapping as the result of a warrant being issued by Iosco County Prosecutor Paul Harvey.

Possibility of establishing a city planning-zoning commission will be considered at the September 19 meeting of the Tawas City

At last week's council meeting, need for such a commission was emphasized by a group of several businessmen. Mayor George Tuttle said that a commission would be very valuable in making longrange plans for city improvements.

Also to be considered next, week was a proposal from a group of six businessmen which that the city consider the purchase of a 38-foot easement to a parking lot on the lake side of US-23 in the downtown business district.

In other business, the council authorized advertising for bids on a badly-needed truck for the department of public works. Specifications for sealed bids may be obtained at the city hall. Bids will be opened September
