EDWARD BURGESON

Burgeson is Named as Iosco Welfare Director

Edward Burgeson of Baldwin Township has been named Iosco welfare director to succeed Mrs. Nyda Bronson, who resigned that office in order to accept another position.

Burgeson was appointed as the department's new director by the Iosco Welfare Board. A member of the Iosco County Board of Supervisors since 1934, Burgeson resigned from his seat as the Baldwin Township member last week.

Only last Monday, he was re-elected to that office by voters of the township. His successor on the board of supervisors is Robert LaVoy, who was appointed to fill the vacancy by the township board.

"The decision to retire from the board after serving my township for 27 years was a tough one to reach," said Mr. Burgeson. "However, I am familiar with the problems of the county and its finances and I intend to work very closely with the board in my new capacity."

Mr. Burgeson had high praise for his predecessor. "As the director of the department of social welfare, Mrs. Bronson was very efficient and had many years of experience in this capacity. It will be a big job to fill her position," he declared.

Born and raised in Baldwin Township and a farmer all of his life, Mr. Burgeson comes to his new job with a familiarization with county finances. He served many years on the board of supervisors' finance and apportionment committee and served three terms as board chairman.

"This job is going to be something new for me and I will have a lot to learn," commented Mr. Burgeson. "I am confident that I will be able to continue the same efficient management as it has received in the past."

This department has an operational budget of $42,200 during fiscal 1961, $16,200 for direct relief and $26,000 for social welfare. The total represents the highest expenditure of any department.

Parks on Tracks; Arrested by Police

A 51-year-old Twinning man, who picked a rather dangerous place to "park" his car Friday night, entered a plea of guilty to a charge of drunk and disorderly when arraigned in justice court.

Kenneth R. Conners was arrested by state police of East Tawas after a complaint was received from a Detroit and Mackinac Railway Company employee.

Engineer Ernest Spring of Alpena told officers that a car had stopped on the tracks at the Twining Road crossing and, also, the same car stopped on the M-65 crossing in the Village of Twining.

"I had to apply the brakes of the locomotive both times," the exasperated engineer declared. "On both occasions, it was a narrow miss—the car pulled off the crossing just before the train rolled by."

The locomotive was pulling a string of fully loaded cars. Spring noted the vehicle's license number and relayed the information to the railway's Tawas office.

Troopers, who were patrolling in the Twining area, found Conners' car parked along M-65. On questioning the driver, police said he was intoxicated.

Conners, at first, maintained that his car stalled on the tracks. He was reproached by officers, who could not believe this story. "How could a car stall twice in a matter of minutes—and both times at a railroad crossing?" they asked.

Conners was "parked" for the week-end in Sheriff Edward Besinger's Arenac County Jail. In addition to the jail sentence, he was ordered to pay a fine of $50 and $4.90 court costs.

Urge Hunting Law Change by State

A petition asking the Michigan Legislature to enact a law providing for the opening of hunting seasons on Saturday is to be submitted by the Michigan Congress of Parents and Teachers.

"Regular attendance of all students is essential to satisfactory progress in school work at all grade levels and the opening of hunting seasons during the school week is causing increased absenteeism on the part of students," states the petition.

This resolution of the legislature was originally initiated by the Tawas Area Parent-Teacher Association.

School enrollment figures during last November's deer hunting season indicated its usual sharp rise in absenteeism here, even though school was closed on opening day, November 15.

On Wednesday, November 16, there were 131 absent from high school and 25 absent in junior high. The Thursday, November 17, enrollment saw 99 absent in senior high and 17 absent in junior high. On Friday, November 18, there were 58 absent from

Clean-Up Days Set for Plainfield

Plainfield Township will observe spring clean-up week from April 17-23. Sponsored by the fire department, all residents are urged to clean out attics and basements.

"Probably the most important spots to clean up this spring are the yard and grounds around residences and out buildings," states a fire department representative.

"Because of the condition of the dead grass, a real fire hazard exists."

Residents are warned against burning trash on a windy day or leaving an outdoor fire unattended. The best time for trash fires is in the morning while the dew is heavy and while there is no wind.

Last Saturday, Plainfield Township Fire Department answered five grass fire calls, including one where burning grass reached a building and leveled it.

Final Argument on City Hall Controversy to be Heard

May a municipality use "surplus" funds in its treasury to construct a new city hall (or make other improvements) without first including such expenditure in its annual appropriation ordinance?

This question will be one of several legal issues to be argued Thursday at a show-cause hearing scheduled before Iosco Circuit Judge Allan C. Miller.

A suit has been brought against the City of East Tawas in which a taxpayer-resident, Claude Nash, asks the court to restrain the city from proceeding further with a new city hall because of an alleged misuse of city funds. A temporary order was issued by the judge two weeks ago halting construction and the city is to appear in circuit court to show cause why an injunction should not be issued.

A controversial project of several months' standing, a $40,000 bond issue was placed before the electorate last November, but failed to receive the necessary two-thirds majority. Three days after the election, the city council decided to raze the old city hall and build a new one, using $30,000 in surplus nontax-appropriated money in its general fund.

At a preliminary hearing last Wednesday, pre-trial was waived and the judge stipulated that all records concerning city funds be made available to the court.

Named as co-defendant in Mr. Nash's original bill of complaint was Gregory Construction Company of Bay City, building contractor. This was amended to include the name of William D. Gregory, who, although associated with the Bay City firm, had entered into the contract separately with the city.

In asking for an injunction to be issued, T. George Sternberg, attorney for the plaintiff, charges that the appropriation ordinance adopted by the city at its annual meeting last May did not provide for construction of a city hall.

Also, that it did not establish any specific fund for that purpose, nor did it appropriate or include in any existing funds any sum for such use.

Sternberg held to the premise that regardless of whether the surplus funds are tax-appropriated or are obtained from other sources, they eventually effect the city's tax levy.

He argued that city operation was financed not only by the levy of taxes, but by money from other sources. He said that taxes should be lowered accordingly if such other funds meet the budget.

Sternberg did not question the right of the city to apply such surplus money to a sinking fund at the end of the fiscal year. He emphasized, however, that such use must be provided for in its annual appropriation budget.

City Attorney J. Richard Newman, in his preliminary argument last week, took the position that present statutes allow the city to use surplus money in its general fund, other than tax-appropriated money, for making city improvements.

In its answer to the original bill of complaint, the city maintained that Nash could not bring suit as an aggrieved taxpayer because of an alleged liability to his land for reason of a tax lien.

"Since no money realized from collection of taxes will be used and that no further taxes of any kind will be assessed against plaintiff's real or personal property in the future to pay for the cost of construction of the city hall, the plaintiff has no such special interest nor will he suffer any damage by taxes on his lands or otherwise," stated the city's answer.

Newman argued that provisions of the Fourth Class City Act, specifying the annual tax appropriation ordinance, pre-dated such money as coming from the state or other sources.

He pointed out that at the time of the passage of the act, the only income for operating a city was derived from assessing taxes on real and personal property. Since then, a city receives money from other sources, including sales tax diversion, intangible taxes, and in East Tawas' case, money from parking meters.

Newman said that such money was not earmarked by the state for any specific purpose, nor was the parking meter money designated for any special use.

Judge Miller asked the city to provide its records showing when the funds in question became surplus. He also asked the city to search its record to determine if a special election was held in 1958 on the question of the Fourth Class City Act. If no election was held, the city would have automatically come under the provisions of that act.

For Con-Con Seat—

Former Circuit Judge Dehnke is Candidate

Herman Dehnke of Harrisville, retired circuit judge of the 23rd judicial circuit, has announced his candidacy for Republican nomination as delegate to the constitutional convention this fall.

Urged by many friends in Northeastern Michigan to place his name in nomination, Mr. Dehnke consented Monday to become a candidate.

His announcement here did not indicate whether he would be a candidate in the 28th Senatorial District or the Alpena Representative District.

For years one of Michigan's most distinguished out-state jurists, Dehnke served as circuit judge from 1927 until his retirement December 31, 1959.

He is well known throughout the state for his interest in the Michigan Tuberculosis Association, having served as a member of its board of trustees since 1941. He was national chairman for the 1959 National TB Association's Christmas seal campaign.

A primary election will be held July 25 to choose partisan candidates for the 144 seats at the convention, with a general election September 12.

Delegates will be selected to represent the geographical areas which choose the 34 senators and 110 representatives in the state legislature.

As far as it is known here, Mr. Dehnke is the first person to announce his candidacy in either the Alpena District, comprising the Counties of Iosco, Alcona and Alpena, and the 28th Senatorial District.

Born at Napoleon, Ohio, November 26, 1887, he moved to Alpena County with his parents as a lad in his teens.

He began his career of public service as a school teacher in rural schools of Alpena. He attended Ferris Institute and later graduated from the law school of Valparaiso University.

Elected prosecuting attorney in 1914, in July 1927 he was appointed circuit judge of the 23rd judicial circuit to fill an unexpired term. He was elected to that office in 1932 and served on the bench of his circuit for 32 years.

White Cane Week

to be Observed Here

Saturday, April 15, will mark the local observance of Michigan White Cane Week. Sponsored by Lions International, members of the local club will sell white cane tags on the streets of the Tawas.

Receipts from this campaign go to assist blind persons. There are about 14,000 blind people in Michigan and any blind person can secure a white cane from any Lions Club.

In charge of the campaign here is William McCready.

Technicality Delays Start of Session; Long Elected

One of the first orders of business Tuesday by the Iosco Board of Supervisors was to endorse Herman Dehnke, former circuit judge, in his bid for a seat as a delegate to the constitutional convention.

Glenn Long was named to his fourth term as chairman of the Iosco Board of Supervisors Tuesday afternoon. Henry Oates was named chairman pro-tem.

Opening of the April session of the Iosco County Board of Supervisors had to be delayed about two hours Tuesday morning in order that several of the members obtain copies of their certificates of election.

In order to be eligible for a seat on the board, each supervisor needed a certificate from his township or city clerk. The meeting was not opened until all certificates were obtained.

Clerk George Presscott reported that he had asked for a ruling from the state on such procedure. He was informed that several counties in the state had run into the same difficulty and had sent officers out to obtain the necessary signatures from clerks.

Actually, the clerks have 10 days after the spring election in which to file these certifications with the county clerk. The technicality arose, however, because the Tuesday opening of the board is governed by statute.

Principal business during the April session will be to equalize assessment rolls of the various townships and cities.

Cabin Break-Ins Now Total More Than 50

Three cabin break-ins discovered over the week-end brought the total to more than 50 cabin burglaries now under investigation by area law enforcement agencies.

Latest break-ins were reported by the Iosco County Sheriff's Department. Two of the cabins entered were owned by Archie Ruckle, Tawas City, and Michael Calahan, Mt. Morris. Both cabins are located in the "tornado area" along Monument Road.

Another cabin on Binder Road, 1 1/2 miles north of M-55 in Grant Township, was entered.

New Silver Valley Pact Under Study

Discussion was held Monday night on a proposed new permit between the Silver Valley Winter Sports Committee and the federal government for operation of the winter sports park.

The new permit would "spell out" maintenance responsibilities of both the committee and the forest service. It would also provide for an annual fee for use of the land and facilities.

Under the proposed new permit, the winter sports committee would retain ownership of any new improvements made at the park under a long-term contract.

Further details are to be presented at a future meeting between the two groups.

Representing the forest service were Ranger Joseph Blake of East Tawas and Wayne Worthington, recreation specialist for the Lower Michigan National Forest headquarters at Cadillac.

The committee's year-end report indicated that expenses of $4,554 had been paid during the year. Payroll at the park amounted to $2,101. Outstanding bills amount to $900.

A work bee has been scheduled for Sunday, April 23, at Silver Valley. Chairman L. G. McKay Jr. urges all members and other persons interested to attend. The winter sports area will be cleaned in order to have it ready for the summer season.

(Ladd) McKay Jr., bank director; George Tuttle, mayor of Tawas City; O. S. Rose, building contractor, (standing to the left behind Hoshack), and Nelson E. Thornton, president of the Tawas City Businessmen's Association. The two men standing in the rear represented the some 34 banking institutions of Michigan which were present for the opening. "We were pleased with the public's response and acceptance of this new facility," said Mr. Shattuck. "The many floral pieces were greatly appreciated." The bank officially opened for business Friday morning.—Herald Photo.

Four Vacancies Yet to be Filled on TA Faculty

Four vacancies still exist on the Tawas Area School faculty for the 1961-62 year, according to a report at Monday night's meeting of the board of education.

Supt. Reynold Mick reported that 24 elementary teachers and 23 high school teachers had returned signed contracts for next year.

This leaves one teacher to be hired for the elementary grades and three for high school.

The board heard a progress report on a survey of existing school facilities, location of pupils and transportation now being conducted by Bryslebut, Starke and Hacker, Bay City architectural firm.

Members of the firm outlined information gathered to date and asked for advice from the board. A complete report on recommendations for construction is to be made at a later date.

In other business, the board authorized advertising for electrical bids at the Alabaster unit.

Jr. High Needs Topic of P-TA

The problems and needs of junior high students will be the program for the April 24 meeting of Tawas Area Parent-Teacher Association at Tawas Area High School, 8:00 p. m. Mrs. Ruth Lee will moderate a panel for this discussion.

A variety of children's problems will be discussed by Mrs. Charles Fairfield, the problem of social swirl; Dr. James Thomas, the problem of physical fitness against the background of White House recommendations; Thomas Pinkowski, books, television and movies in relation to character, and Donald Wallace will explain the school's attitude and policy on smoking and suggestions to parents of junior and senior high students who are interested in experimenting at this age.

A question and answer period will follow the discussions.

New Series Tells Twin City History

An interesting history of the Oscoda-Ausable area, climaxed by an account of the disastrous fire of July 1911, starts with this issue of The Tawas Herald.

The author is James Colby, former East Tawas resident. Colby, a graduate of Wayne State University, prepared this paper as part of his work toward obtaining a master degree.

"The two most useful sources of information for this paper were Peter MacPhail and Charlie Hennigar, both of Oscoda," writes Colby in his preface.

"They were young men at the time of the fire and both were mentioned in the newspaper account of the fire.

"While in his teens, MacPhail was a telegraph boy. There were no phones, so boys were used to deliver messages between the various mills. Through this job, Peter came to know all the 'big men' in town; such as the Greens, the Packs, the Lounds and the Penoyers.

"Later, he was a lumber inspector and scaler for the Loud Company. Peter was one of the Niko survivors. He has an amazing memory for detail and accuracy.

"Mr. Hennigar, who lost his blacksmith shop in the fire, was one of the 'Piety Hill' fire fighters. Charlie and Peter saw the fire from different angles.

"According to Hennigar, everyone on the Niko was 'scared to death.'" He further states that if they had stayed to fight the fire, they might have saved a lot more.

"MacPhail says of the 'Piety Hill' fighters that it was a combination of wind, the rise in terrain and protection from the river that saved 'Piety Hill'; he further says that the men there never were in peril and that the fire

 The World's Most Widely Used Devotional Guide

The Upper Room
 10 THE UPPER ROOM, NASHVILLE, TENNESSEE

Read Acts 1:1-8

That which we have seen and heard declare we unto you. (1 John 1:3.)

Recently I read the story of Sarlon Masih, a sweeper in one of the hotels of a hill city among the mountains of Kashmir. Every afternoon he gathers around him the servants and cooks of that hotel and holds a sort of Bible class with them. He tells them about Jesus, the Saviour of mankind.

We, too, are called to witness to the love of God and this is our great commission. When we have the divine light shining in our lives, we radiate it to others. We want to tell the story of what we have seen and known and experienced. We can tell what Christ has done for us. We experience overflowing joy when we witness about the redeeming love of the Son of God.

PRAYER
 Our heavenly Father, give us strength and insight to use our wisdom and experience not for ourselves, but for others. Help us that they may become stronger through our witness. Use us as witnesses to Thy Holy Word and to the redemptive power of Thy love. May Thy divine light shine on all who are still in darkness, that all men may accept Christ as their Redeemer and pray as He taught us, "Our Father who art in heaven . . . Amen."

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY
 When we have the divine light shining in our hearts, our lives radiate it to others. Wadad Matar, Lebanon.

4 Counties to Take Part in Health Screening Program

Residents of Ogemaw, Iosco, Alcona and Oscoda Counties will soon have the opportunity to participate in a combined screening program which offers health protection. This program will provide chest X-rays (useful in detecting unsuspected tuberculosis, lung cancer, heart disease and other chest abnormalities) along with blood tests for diabetes and venereal disease.

Last year, about 1,700 persons died in Michigan from diabetes alone. One-third of these people were under 65 years of age. Statistics show that 15 out of every 1,000 persons in America have diabetes and one-half of these are undiagnosed cases.

Each year, about 4,500 persons in Michigan are admitted to tuberculosis sanatoria; 2,500 of these are newly diagnosed cases. The treatment of tuberculosis costs the residents of Michigan between 13 and 20 million dollars each year.

Both of the above mentioned conditions, diabetes and tuberculosis, can be treated successfully if diagnosed early. Much of the suffering and incapacity caused by these diseases is due to late diagnosis.

The screening services will be offered during the period from June 20 through June 30, according to an announcement made today by Earl Hasty, M. D., director of District Health Department No. 2. All persons in these four counties who are 21 years of age and over are urged to take advantage of the tests which will be given free of charge. The schedule of locations at which the tests will be given will be announced at a later date.

Pro Wrestling Returns to Tawas for Second Year

All-star professional wrestling returns to this area Friday night, April 21, at Tawas Area High School. The stellar main program, sponsored by the East Tawas Lions Club, promises to be even better than the card which last year thrilled a capacity crowd here.

Leaping Larry Chene, all-time favorite of Michigan wrestling fans, will take on Jim "Brute" Bernard in the main event.

In his 10 years of wrestling, Chene has become a living legend. Fans all over the country recall his brilliance in the ring and his warmth outside the ring. During his six years in Texas, Larry was many times urged by prominent political leaders to run for the state legislature. He declined only because his one burning ambition was to return to his home state, Michigan, and make "ood. He has done just that.

Few wrestlers of this century have captured the imagination of the country's sporting public as has Leaping Larry. In addition to being a magnificent ring scientist, he is a superb showman who is genuinely concerned about the fans getting their money's worth. Highly articulate as a speaker, he is in constant demand as a banquet guest.

While there are many athletes with loyal followings, Larry is perhaps the only one of major stature who is strongly loyal to his fans. He is never too busy to stop and chat with a youngster and yearly he signs over 50,000 autographs.

By 1911, 'King White Pine' Had Moved West

BY JAMES COLBY

In 1911, the twin towns, Oscoda and AuSable, were in what we might call a period of healthy economic decline. The lumber industry supported the towns as it had for some 45 years. But, "King White Pine" had moved north and west and was followed by most of the towns' mills and labor force.

EARLIER, IT HAD BEEN estimated that the lands contiguous to the AuSable River held four billion feet of pine. By 1896, the estimation was proven accurate, for by that time, the AuSable River boom companies had handled 3,902,119,856 feet of timber.

When the estimation was made, it was also predicted the supply would never run out. The same year, 1896, proved the prediction false. The rape of the woods was nearing completion. There were still stands of hardwood, hemlock and cedar, but white pine now only supported scavenger industries.

The river housed submerged logs (deadheads), which, over the years, had lodged themselves along the banks during spring drives. Rescuing these (deadheading) provided some employment. Employment was also provided by the huge pine stumps that remained; they were now being used in the manufacture of turpentine.

IN THE EARLY 1900s, the towns were already looking backward rather than forward for their glory. Oscoda and AuSable were never reputed to be as prosperous as Saginaw or Muskegon, or as tough as Seney, or as bawdy as any of the three, but they had their day.

In 1882, the boom companies sorted logs for 31 different lumber companies and some of these companies operated more than one camp. The population spiraled. French-Canadians came from lower Canada; Scotsmen from Glengary, Ontario; Swedes, Norwegians and Finns from their homelands.

The August 22, 1891, edition of "The Saturday Night," an AuSable newspaper, ran advertisements for 11 drygoods stores, three passenger boat lines and four railroad companies.

THE PACKS, THE LOUDS and the larger mill owners operated general stores. They all had large basements and huge storage bins. A team and wagon could be driven right into the store's basement, loaded with a winter's supply of potatoes and goods and driven out the other side. Pack-Woods presaged the modern-day discount houses by advertising, "we will not be undersold."

Salt brine was piped in all the way from East Tawas in wooden pipes. Salt block operations ran by the lumber mills steamed and packed up 200 barrels of salt a day. This provided work for coopers and salt for packing fish.

The fish industry utilized 50 red-sailed fishing boats which, on a good day, brought in two or three tons of whitefish and trout.

During their heyday, the townspeople took politics seriously. The year, 1888, saw the Democrats put on a mile-long torch parade. Cleveland's victory in 1892 occasioned a flagpole raising with the party faithful throwing coins and bills in the flagpole base mortice box for good luck. William Jennings Bryan's appearance at Bay City caused the townsfolk to charter a train.

IF THE PARADES and celebrations were big, there were trees to match them. A giant white pine cut in 1875 yielded 5,835 board feet, or better than one mile of lumber. These larger logs were usually towed to the bight of Tawas Bay (some 15 miles distant) where they were rafted.

In rafting, logs were tied together in cribs 16 feet wide; some cribs contained logs up to 80 feet in length. Thirty cribs would be lined end-to-end forming a string. Each string was fitted with a nose piece (formed like a ship's prow), then 10 strings would be fastened side by side forming a raft.

Some rafts approached a half mile in length and contained one million feet of timber. They were pulled by tugs all the way to the mills at Buffalo and Tonawanda, New York. Only the very long logs were shipped out this way. Others were handled in the mills of AuSable and Oscoda.

Salt and cut lumber from these mills were hauled to the steamship docks by teams. It is said the Loud Company alone had between five and six miles of tramways and the AuSable River held nine miles of booms.

When the lumber industry was at its height, Oscoda and AuSable prospered and grew rapidly, and, like most boom towns, they were also tough towns.

(NEXT WEEK—Lumber days were tough.)

Anderson's Force Surrenders After 33-Hour Hammering

CHARLESTON, S.C.—April 14—Ft. Sumter fell today. The handful of men commanded by Maj. Robert Anderson left their island fortress proudly, a Yankee Doodle roll on their drums and 50 guns booming as their tattered flag was lowered.

They had endured a relentless 33-hour bombardment. Some 3,000 rounds of Confederate shot and shell had reduced Sumter to smoking rubble. With them, the defenders carried the effects of the only soldier on either side killed in the intense exchange of fire.

Pvt. Daniel Hough died when one of his own guns exploded. Five gunnates were wounded in the blast.

The Sumter soldiers—65 men and a brass band of seven, forming two skeleton companies of the First Artillery regiment—were taken by launch to the U. S. transport Baltic anchored beyond the sandbars guarding Charleston harbor.

GEN. BEAUREGARD

The Baltic Anderson sailed at once for New York. Surrender of Sumter was ordered by Anderson yesterday as a relief naval expedition from New York wallowed helplessly at sea beyond the range of busy Southern guns.

Food supplies were gone. The soldiers had existed on fat, rotting pork for days. Ammunition was nearly expended.

The fort was a smoke-filled mass of wreckage. The few powder kegs left were wrapped in dampened blankets.

CONFEDERATE gunners under Gen. P.G.T. Beauregard had lobbed almost 100 rounds an hour—day and night—at Sumter, which sits three miles out in the bay.

But Anderson's guns answered throughout the attack, even while his men were choking on the smoke of the burning fort.

Several times Sumter's flag was shot down. Each time, it was raised.

Capt. Abner Doubleday, executive officer at Sumter, said a shortage of cartridge bags hampered operations of the guns. New bags were being made out of the shirts of the soldiers dur-

Hale Lions Club to Participate in White Cane Week

When White Cane Week is observed from April 16 through April 22 this year, the Hale Lions Club will be working along with over 300 other Michigan Lions Service Clubs in this educational state project. The clubs will be helping to bring information before the public concerning state laws set up for the protection of the blind.

A statute every driver should be aware of states—any driver of a vehicle shall stop at least 10 feet away from a person wholly or partially blind who is carrying a white cane or is being led by a guide dog wearing a harness. After coming to a full stop, the driver shall take such precautions before proceeding as may be necessary to avoid accident to the person.

The grade schools of this area are cooperating in the program, during White Cane Week, by distributing educational leaflets furnished by the Lions Club to their students.

Lions have long been known for their work of furnishing thousands of white canes free of charge to the blind. It is their program to provide every blind person with a white cane, the symbol of blindness, as a measure of protection.

The primary purpose of White Cane Week is educating our citizens to know and recognize the white cane as the symbol of blindness and give understanding and courteous acts to the bearers of the white cane whenever possible.

When asked by a Lions Club member to contribute to this worthy project, you will be helping some one less fortunate obtain a fuller life.

The Hale group had 13 members attending the Arenac Eastern and AuGres group in Twining Wednesday, March 29.

Members also report having collected 150 pairs of used eye glasses to be sent to India. This is part of a universal sight conservation program.

Dale Bielby has been chosen as delegate to Wolverine Boys State, with Daryl Salisbury as alternate.

The new officers for the coming year who have been selected by the nominating committee and presented at the April 3 meeting for approval were: Earl Bielby, president; William Werelev, first vice president; Lyle Bielby, second vice president; Ernest Herzog, third vice president; Gerald Wyatt, secretary; Richard Parkinson, treasurer; Ira Scofield, tall twister; Berkley Bernard, Lion tamer; Daniel Pearsall and Robert Hunt, directors for one year; Merritt Schlaack and Donald Dowling, directors for two years.

Hot piston test reveals the ash-free secret of Shell X-100 Premium. A simulated piston is heated and a few drops of conventional multi-grade motor oil dropped on it. As the picture on left shows, this oil leaves a deposit of additive ash. When the test is repeated, as at right, with Shell X-100 Premium, all the oil vaporizes. It leaves no additive ash.

BREAKTHROUGH:

Suddenly Shell makes every other motor oil obsolete —with a revolutionary new formula which fights five internal troubles that can shorten engine life

Shell's research reveals five common internal troubles that can shorten the life of your car. All five work silently and unseen.

These troubles are additive ash, crankcase dirt, temperature changes, engine acid and cooling system leaks.

Read how new Shell X-100[®] Premium fights all five internal troubles.

New Shell X-100 Premium.

Oddly enough, nobody yet knows exactly how Alkaldine works. But the proof of the pudding is in the testing. After 1,200,000 miles of city driving, engines of test cars lubricated with Shell X-100 Premium showed so little sludge that it could hardly be measured.

Trouble #3 —temperature changes

Many motor oils tend to become too thick when cold and too thin when hot.

New Shell X-100 Premium is an all-year oil. Here's how it works. Alkaldine has a molecular structure that resembles a basket of eels.

When the oil is cold, Alkaldine's eel-like molecules curl up as if for comfort. In effect, they take up less space in the oil—and the oil flows freely through the tightest bearing, even on cold nights.

Conversely, when the Alkaldine in new Shell X-100 Premium is hot, its molecules uncurl. They take up more room. And the oil resists thinning. Thus, new Shell X-100 Premium eliminates trouble from sudden temperature changes. It lubricates just as efficiently in June as it does in January.

Trouble #4—engine acid

All automobile engines manufacture acid. This acid can do far more damage than friction. It can eat away at engine parts in much the way stomach acid can cause ulcers. Then you're really in trouble.

One way to combat engine acid is to make the oil alkaline. Many oils use this method. But here's what happens.

The neutralizing effect of alkaline oil inevitably gets weaker and weaker as engine acid eats up the alkalinity—till it eventually stops working completely. Then your oil no longer gives you anti-acid protection.

Shell tackles this troublesome acid problem in a new way.

Shell X-100 Premium actually plates all engine surfaces with a thin chemical film. The metal literally adsorbs some of Shell X-100 Premium's protective qualities. Chemists call this phenomenon "chemisorption."

"Chemisorption" offers a longer-lasting protection against acid attack than any other method yet invented.

Trouble #5 —cooling system leaks

Tiny leaks of permanent antifreeze can play nasty tricks with many motor oils.

These oils can react chemically with permanent anti-freeze and form a horrible sludge which can actually bring an otherwise healthy engine to a standstill.

Then you're on the way to a major repair bill.

New Shell X-100 Premium sets all such fears at rest. It resists reaction with any sort of anti-freeze. It shrugs it off.

The additives in Shell X-100 Premium resist washing out with water, too. In some oils, additives can be lost to water leaks. In Shell X-100 Premium, they stay.

How much does Shell X-100 Premium cost?

If you drive the national average of 10,000 miles per year, the switch to Shell X-100 Premium (with regular oil changes) will cost you only $3.60 more than ordinary oil—give or take a nickel. And probably nothing extra if you already use a premium grade.

Drive to your Shell service station and ask the dealer to change your oil while the engine is still hot. Be sure to ask for Shell X-100 Premium in the white can. It protects your engine from all five internal troubles listed above.

On March 22, Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman announced the following advance national average support prices for feed grains: Corn, $1.20 per bushel average for all grades; barley, 93 cents per bushel for grade two or better; grain sorghum, $1.93 per hundredweight for grade two or better; oats, 62 cents per bushel for grade three; rye, $1.02 per bushel for grade two or better or grading three on test weight only.

It is also a chance for the new operator to become acquainted with the food industry's many ramifications.

Operators and managers of all local commercial, institutional and industrial food service operations, together with their kitchen staffs, are cordially invited to attend this program. There will be refreshments and door prizes with no charge for admission.

LOST BOY FOUND AFTER THREE-HOUR SEARCH

A 10-year-old Oscoda boy, who became lost in a heavily wooded area 10 miles north of Oscoda Sunday afternoon, was found just as a search party of state police, sheriff's department officers, firemen and volunteers started to comb the area.

The boy's father, who is stationed at Wurtsmith Air Force Base, told officers that he and his family were visiting at the home of friends.

An immediate search was started when the family noted the boy's absence. He was found about three hours later.

William Stewart, fire chief of the Wurtsmith Air Force Base, showed a film and gave a short talk on the fire fighting methods used on plane crashes.

Because of the rising welfare load of this county, about 234 cases will be handled this year. Two weeks ago, persons receiving unemployment compensation were declared eligible to receive government surplus, which has added to the total case-load. Surplus commodities distributed include butter, dry beans, corn meal, pork and gravy. The county pays handling and transportation charges of these items, which have doubled during the past year.

Mrs. Betty Shedenhelm, office secretary, said that such cost to local government may be three times as high this year.
