Does Paper Work for NASA—

Former Tawas Man Helps Astronauts

When two of America's astronauts made their suborbital flights, a former Tawas man helped in preparations to get them off the ground.

Elmer Horton, who lived on a farm in Tawas Township as a youngster and still has close ties with relatives here, is an employee of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA).

Horton, his wife and three children recently visited relatives at Grand Blanc. His sister, Mrs. Herbert Schroeder, lives at National City.

Two of his seven brothers, Arthur and Clifford Anschuetz, adopted sons of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Anschuetz, are both former Tawas City residents. Arthur and his family live at Flint and attended a picnic at Elmer's honor.

Horton's Cape Canaveral assignment is to document all preflight operations with Project Mercury. He handles a vast amount of paper work that has to be completed before a rocket can be fired.

Horton was formerly stationed at Langley Field, Virginia, and was with the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics, the predecessor of the NASA. He has been in government service work since 1940.

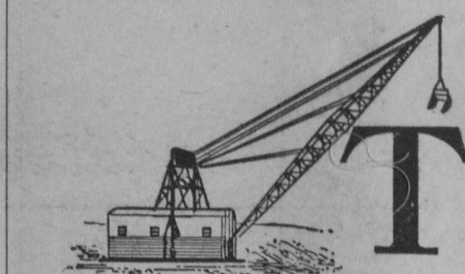

Residents of this area may remember Horton when he lived at the Ferdinand Anschuetz farm in 1929. He completed the seventh and eighth grade at the Laidlawville School and, in writing the county's annual examination, was Iosco's top eighth grade student.

He returned to Flint where he graduated from Northern High School and Flint Junior College.

In 1939, he returned to Tawas for the summer and stayed with Mr. and Mrs. Walter Anschuetz. He rented motor scooters to tourists at a service station in East Tawas to help finance his college education. He graduated from the University of Michigan as an aeronautical engineer in 1940.

After the first test rocket in the man-in-space project was fired in 1959, Horton and other Project Mercury workers were transferred to Cape Canaveral. He now lives in Rockledge, Florida, 20 miles from the Cape.

After completing the paper work for the second space shot, Horton left for his vacation. He was not at the Cape for Capt. Virgil Grissom's ride. In his work, Horton is in close contact with all of America's astronauts.

Top International Teams To Compete in Marathon

With only 10 days before the annual running of the AuSable River canoe marathon, Sy Goebel, general chairman, said that the 1961 event has prospects of matching the world's top canoe teams.

Billed as the world's championship race for the past several years, the race from Mio to Oscoda August 19 will have canoe teams entered from several provinces of Canada, top racers from Minnesota and other mid-western states, along with the cream of the crop from Michigan.

Much of the credit for this increased interest in the AuSable races goes to Ralph Sawyer of Oscoda and Edward Wojahn of East Tawas. Both former champions of the race, the two men have teamed this year and have entered several races in Canada and the United States.

While participating in these races, Sawyer and Wojahn have encouraged other racers to enter the marathon in Michigan.

According to latest reports, there have been 13 teams entered in the race and the field is expected to expand to between 40 and 45 teams by race time.

Another reason for the added interest in this year's race is credited with the decision to shorten the race course. Instead of paddling 240 non-stop miles from Grayling to Oscoda, the race will have Mio as its starting point.

This change will enable the race to be completed during daylight hours. In previous races, paddlers had to be familiar with backwaters of several of the dams because the race was started at night.

Other changes this year will find a mass start of canoes at Mio. The finish line will be at the Oscoda Township Park on Lake Huron. In between these two points, paddlers will have five hydroelectric dams to portage. Instead of stopping at the old US-23 bridge,

Prescott is State Clerk's Assn. Prexy

Iosco County Clerk George A. Prescott of Tawas City has been named president of the Michigan State Association of County Clerks. His election came during last week's convention at Mackinac Island.

Prescott had served as secretary of the state organization for two years and was vice president in 1960. About 40 county clerks from throughout the state attended the annual convention.

Prescott has served as Iosco County clerk since 1951 when he was appointed to fill the unexpired term of Russell H. McKenzie, who resigned to accept a new position. Since then, Prescott has been re-elected five times.

A farmer for 16 years, the native of Tawas City had served four years as supervisor of Tawas Township. A graduate of Michigan State University, he and his wife are the parents of six children.

Kiddies Rides in Operation Here

This is "Kiddies Week in Tawas City," August 8 through August 13. Exciting rides are located next to Bubblitz Pure Oil Company office on US-23. Coupons are available from retail members of the businessmen's association which are worth 10 cents off the regular charge of 25 cents per ride.

2nd School Vote Looms Aug. 24

Last day of registration for Tawas Area School's special election is Friday, August 11. Voters may register with city or township clerks of the district. Anyone registering after that date is not eligible to vote August 24.

In this election, the board of education has decided to resubmit the millage proposal which was defeated by a slim margin at the annual school election in July.

The board proposed to raise three mills for a period of five years to finance construction of new elementary rooms and additions to the junior and senior high school building.

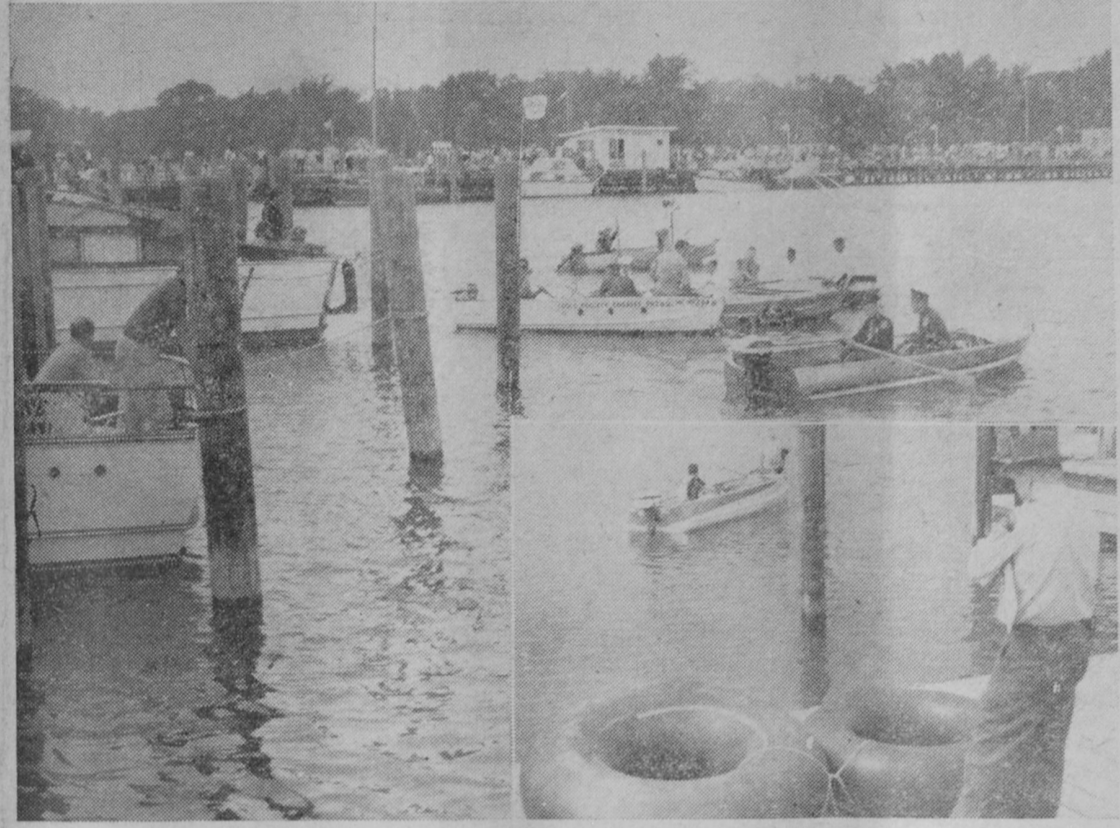

GEORGE W. MYLES, Tawas City, who made a strong although unsuccessful bid for the Republican candidacy as 28th Senatorial District delegate to the state constitutional convention, has announced that he will be a candidate next year for state senator. His opponent in the recent election was Lewis T. Hubbs of Gladwin, who was a senatorial candidate last year, running against Charles T. Prescott. Hubbs has indicated that he will again seek the Republican nomination as state senator of this district next year.—Tawas Herald Photo.

Chamber Hopes to Give Committee 'Pep'

Plans for "revitalizing" the Tawas Chamber of Commerce's industrial committee will be discussed at a meeting tonight of the Tawas Chamber of Commerce.

The industrial committee is to hold a special meeting prior to the regular meeting of the board of directors to formulate recommendations for presentation during the regular session.

Also to be discussed will be completion of the organization's current membership drive.

SCENE OF TRAGEDY — These pictures show dragging operation Sunday afternoon in the search for the body of a 10-year-old boy who was drowned near the Michigan Waterways Commission Dock at East Tawas. The inset shows Park Manager William Kusey looking at the innertubes used by two youngsters while floating in the water. Ironically, Kusey had warned campers that morning about the danger of allowing children to use innertubes.—Tawas Herald Photos.

Boy Drowns Near Dock; Used Innertube as Float

A 10-year-old Bridgeport boy, who slipped from the innertube on which he was floating, drowned in about 10 feet of water Sunday afternoon near the Michigan Waterways Commission Dock at East Tawas.

The body of Ronald Alan Foss, who was camping at the state park with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Foss, was recovered by state police at 5:50 p. m. after more than four hours of dragging operations.

Ronald and Edna Lou Smith, 12, of West Portsmouth, Ohio, who was also camping at the park with her parents, were floating on their innertubes inside the "L" formed by the dock.

Ronald decided to check the water depth about 75 feet off shore. He lost his grip on the innertube and went under the surface.

Miss Smith went to his rescue, but was unable to assist him. The boy could not swim. She then paddled to shore for help.

By this time, the boy had come to the surface and his cry for help was heard by swimmers, boat owners and a large crowd of summer vacationers on the dock.

Although several small boats set out to rescue him, he again went under the surface and did not reappear.

Volunteer skin divers from Tawas and Oscoda aided in the search for the boy's body, but the operation was hampered by a thick weed bed which covers the lake bottom at this point and numerous submerged logs and pilings.

Aiding state police in the dragging operations were the Iosco County Sheriff's Department, the United States Coast Guard from Tawas Point, a life guard boat from the state park and the Oscoda-AuSable Volunteer Fire Department.

Ironically, State Park Manager William Kusey had warned campers that morning about the danger of children using innertubes in the water. The area where Ronald drowned normally is not used for swimming. The state has a life guard on the opposite side of the dock.

Amendment to Plug Present Loophole in Law

Renting of a house on a week-to-week basis in a class A residential zone again came up for discussion at Monday night's meeting of the Tawas City Council. As a result, the council authorized City Attorney Jerry Cotter to prepare an amendment to the city's zoning ordinance.

This question was brought up at the last council meeting when Paul Chevis, who lives on Bay Drive, complained that a house adjacent to his property was being rented on a week-to-week basis.

He felt that this was a commercial venture in a class A residential zone. Chevis stated that he had been bothered at night by loud, boisterous parties.

At the last meeting, Mayor George Tuttle and Attorney Cotter said that under the present zoning ordinance, boarding and rooming houses were permissible in a class A residential zone. It was their opinion at the time that nothing could be done except to cite offending renters under the city's nuisance ordinance.

Cotter said that he had communicated with the Michigan Municipal League concerning the question and learned that the problem here was unique. League attorneys stated, however, that the ordinance could be amended to define a boarding or rooming house. This could prohibit week-to-week rental of one or two-family dwellings in a class A zone.

Hugo Keiser Sr., also a Bay Drive resident, stated that restrictions in the Elms Gardens Subdivision prohibited such week-to-week rental and questioned Cotter as to a method of enforcement.

The city attorney said that as far as this particular aspect was concerned, restrictions in a subdivision were for the benefit of property owners and not the city. He said that a possible solution might be to take the problem to the circuit court to determine if the subdivision's restrictions were being violated.

He pointed out that an amendment to the city's ordinance might (See CLASS A ZONE, page 10.)

Howard Brubaker Completes Work on Largo Springs

Through efforts of Howard Brubaker, owner of the AuSable River Queen excursion boat, work on rebuilding the stairway leading to Largo Springs and a dam at the base of the hill has been completed.

Durwood Brussel and his crew, employed by Brubaker, completed work on the two water falls, installed railings on both sides of the steps and completed work on the seven rest stops.

This project was undertaken earlier this summer by the Oscoda Township Park Commission. Much of the work was completed by volunteers.

Brubaker said that much credit for completing this attraction also goes to John Gerhardt, owner of the Whispering Pines. His crew cleaned and cut away brush along the stairway and at the top landing.

Two rest rooms are to be completed this summer by Brubaker. Maintenance will be taken care of by Brubaker at no cost to taxpayers.

Largo Springs is one of Iosco County's historic attractions.

City Library Set for New Quarters

Tawas City Library will soon move from its present quarters in the city hall to its new location in the Buch building.

The city council approved the move on recommendation of Mayor George Tuttle Monday night. The city has obtained a one year lease on the building at $650 per year.

The new quarters are much larger than the present location. Tuttle said the move had approval of the Iosco-Arenac Regional Library.

Electrical Code Tabled; Council Split on Change

After considerable discussion on a proposed new electrical ordinance for Tawas City, the city council tabled further discussion until its next regular meeting August 21.

An electrical code here, designed along the lines of the one in force at East Tawas, has been under consideration for the past year.

East Tawas' code came under consideration at the last meeting of the council. The only change discussed was to require a permit for all electrical work, eliminating a clause which allowed minor repair work without a permit not in excess of a $25 valuation.

Mayor George Tuttle said his only objection was from the standpoint of enforcement of the ordinance. It was his opinion that if the $25 clause was eliminated, 75 percent of the residents would be violating the ordinance.

He said that no tickets had been issued to violators of the East Tawas ordinance.

John St. James, local electrical contractor, stated that it was his understanding that the proposed ordinance was not designed to hurt anyone. "A lot of good can come from the ordinance, particularly through the inspection provision," stated St. James.

Although no roll call was taken, according to discussion the council was apparently evenly divided on the question.

Principal objection voiced by Councilmen Earl Davis and William Murray was this: Why should the city adopt an ordinance which cannot be enforced. It was their thinking that elimination of the $25 nonpermit clause could not be enforced. They felt that the city already had too many ordinances which were not being enforced.

Howard Hatton and Cecil Cable sided with Arthur Wegner. (See CODE, page 10.)

Committee Studies State Constitution

Recommended changes in Michigan's constitution were discussed last Thursday by a district study committee of the Michigan Association of County Board of Supervisors.

Meeting at the Iosco County Building in Tawas City, the study committee was composed of delegates from the largest metropolitan areas of the state to the smallest townships.

The study committee was composed also of representatives of county officers and the state judiciary.

This was the second meeting in a state-wide tour which seeks to learn the thinking of all local areas concerning the rewriting of Michigan's constitution.

Recommendations obtained during these meetings are to be reported to the organization's board of directors, which will formulate the final policy of this organization.

These recommendations are then to be presented before the constitutional convention which is scheduled to convene in October.

In charge of the meeting here was William Dennison, Corunna, secretary of the state association. Host of the group was Clarence Everett, Tawas City supervisor.

IOSCO COUNTY'S small grain harvest is just getting under way and farmers hope to see a few days of dry weather this week. County Agent Marvin Davenport said Monday that frequent rains of the past week may have caused damage to the area's wheat crop. Although he has had no reports of wheat sprouting, he said that this probably would be the case if the harvest is delayed further by wet weather. Farmers will probably receive a lower price for their grain because of the high moisture content. Wheat is dead ripe at present and some combining started Monday. The pictures were snapped last week. A crew is shown threshing wheat at the Leonard Bouchard farm on M-55 under the direction of Theodore Anschuetz. The other picture shows a tractor and binder in operation on the Russell Nelkie farm where a 34-acre field of oats was being harvested. The grain was to be shocked and cured in the field. The area has had excellent growing weather throughout the summer.—Tawas Herald Photos.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

Mankind's need for a spiritual, meaningful set of values will be brought out at Christian Science services this Sunday.

Keynoting the lesson-sermon on "Soul" is the Golden Text from Psalm 62: "My soul, wait thou only upon God; for my expectation is from him. He only is my rock and my salvation."

From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy this passage will be read: "Mortals must gravitate Godward, their affections and aims grow spiritual, they must near the broader interpretations of being, and gain some proper sense of the infinite, in order that sin and mortality may be put off" (p. 265).

A citation to be read from the Bible (Matt. 16) states: "For what is a man profited, if he shall gain the whole world, and lose his own soul? or what shall a man give in exchange for his soul?"

100 Years Ago This Week...in THE CIVIL WAR

(Events exactly 100 years ago this week in the Civil War—told in the language and style of today.)

Gen. Nathaniel Lyon Dies in Fierce Battle

Clash at Wilson's Creek, Mo., Produces Alarming Casualties

SPRINGFIELD, Mo.—Aug. 10—Brig. Gen. Nathaniel Lyon was killed and his Union force of almost 6,000 men was defeated early today in bloody fighting in the woods near Wilson's Creek, 10 miles from here.

First casualty reports from the field were staggering. Observers estimated that of the 6,000 Northern soldiers involved, 220 were killed, more than 700 wounded and about 300 listed as missing.

Estimates of the strength of Southern forces, commanded by Brig. Gen. Ben McCulloch, ranged upwards to 12,000—roughly twice that of the Union units. Of these, at least 260 were reported killed, 800 wounded and about 30 missing.

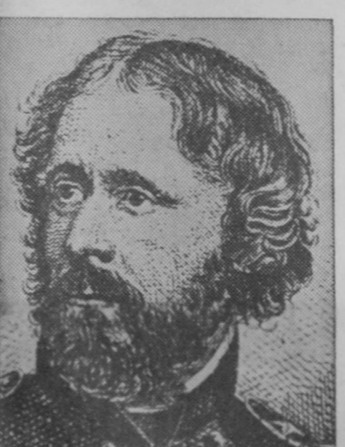

If these figures hold up, casualties would include one out of every six men on the Union side and about one out of every ten Confederates—a proportion historically high in modern warfare.

LYON, a terrier-like officer whose impact on Missouri has been great, died a hero's death at 10:30 a.m. while leading two companies of the 1st Iowa over a hill near the tree-lined creek.

He was at the head of his troops, yelling encouragement and waving his hat wildly, when a musket ball ripped into his breast.

Lyon dismounted, fell into the arms of his aide, and gasped: "Lehmann, I am killed."

A staff officer, William M. Wherry, reported that Lyon had been wounded earlier in the day in the head and leg and had his horse shot out from under him, but had continued in combat.

GEN. NATHANIEL LYON
A Hero's Death

a step-up of Confederate troop movements in the area.

As the Southern units converged on the scene of today's battle, Lyon sent Col. Franz Sigel with 1,100 men and a six-gun battery into a wide encircling movement to a position from which he could attack from the South.

Then Lyon led the remaining force into the drive from the north—the drive that led him to his death.

Kanawha Valley Action Heats Up

FAYETTE, Va. — Aug. 13 — A marked upturn in Northern troop activity in the Kanawha River Valley is under way, with the 7th Ohio, commanded by Col. E. B. Tyler, pouring into nearby Cross Lanes today.

Reports indicated Maj. Gen. W. S. Rosecrans, ranking Union officer in Western Virginia, had ordered Tyler into the area to protect Carnifex Ferry, on the Gauley River.

Strength of Confederate troops in the area, meanwhile, has been estimated by intelligence sources at some 2,000. They are in command of Brig. Gen. August Wise, former governor of Virginia.

Win Protest; Lose Game to Melita Sunday

East Tawas Indies won their protest over the call of an interference play by a base umpire in a recent game, but when NEM League officials ordered the game to be replayed Saturday, they lost to Melita, 7-4.

The East Tawas team had protested a July 9 loss to Melita after an argument in the eighth-inning. League officials ruled that Melita's umpire should have ruled interference on the call of a play at first base, which gave East Tawas the winning run.

The ruling was of little help to East Tawas, however, as Melita made good use of 11 hits in Saturday's rematch. Although the losers collected 13 hits off the slants of Basil Shepard, they scored only two runs in the sixth and two in the ninth.

Melita rocked Pete Bolen for three runs in the first, single runs in the third and fourth and two in the seventh.

In the regularly scheduled game Sunday, East Tawas lost to Comins, 3-2. The losers collected eight hits to the winners four.

In other NEM games, Tawas City lost to Melita Sunday, 6-4, and Hale defeated Skidway Lake, 2-1.

Melita scored five runs in the seventh inning to erase a 4-1 lead held by the locals. Home runs were hit by Raymond and Pat Marx of Melita.

Herm Rollin was the losing pitcher and Templin, the winner. John LeClair had three hits and scored three of Tawas City's runs. Good pitching featured the game between Hale and Skidway Lake. Mousseau limited the losers to two hits while Fegan was nicked for eight by Hale batters. Mousseau won his own game in the ninth inning with a home run.

7 Tawas Area Girls Make Good Use of Summer Vacation

Seven young girls are making good use of the summer vacation by spending one afternoon each week learning to sew. Thus far in their instruction, each girl has completed a blouse and they are now working on skirts.

Instructing the girls in the art of sewing is Mrs. Irvin A. Erickson, a member of the elementary faculty at Tawas Area Schools.

"These girls are highly interested in learning to sew," says Mrs. Erickson. "They are at a good age to learn and have much fun by sewing in a group."

All of the girls are former pupils of Mrs. Erickson in school. The girls have learned about structure and characteristics of cloth, learned how to "read" sewing patterns and instructions.

They have laid out, cut and sewn simple blouses, each making whatever pattern adjustment was necessary.

The present group is as large as can be handled, says Mrs. Erickson. "It is a very informal group. The whole purpose is learning to sew and having fun at the same time."

Two more classes are planned before summer vacation ends.

not solve the problem immediately. He said that nonconforming use probably would be allowed for a period of two to five years, although he was not sure of the specific time allowance.

Cotter said that subdivision restrictions are easier to enforce than a city ordinance. He said, however, that the council should seriously consider adopting a definition of boarding and rooming houses in its ordinance to take care of the problem.

In other business, no objections were heard to vacate Hale Street in John W. King's Second Addition to Tawas City. The council had set August 7 for such a hearing and the street was vacated at the request of Gordon and Violet Clute.

Building permits approved during the past week were as follows: Dominac Dulisse, 515 River Street, construct garage and family room addition, $2,000; Mrs. Hattie Rapp, 122 Fifth Avenue, 14 by 20 addition, $1,000; Wilbert Treichel, 106 First Avenue, install new roof, remodel interior and landscape, $2,000; Ivan Castagnier, 519 Lake, add two partitions to lower floor of building and install three doors, $100.

ET Council

In other business, the council adopted its new health ordinance. The ordinance, similar to one in force at Tawas City, provides for inspection of places where food is handled.

The council warned owners of the trampoline lot located on Newman Street that the business would be closed Wednesday morning (today) unless a $150 city license was paid by that time.

Building permits approved were as follows: Eunice Lixey, addition and remodel; Victor L. Johnson, concrete drive; Grace Lutheran Church, fence; Mrs. Ralph Johnson, addition; Edward Moeller, repairs; Miss Kate Dease, new roof; Grace Quattlebaum, remove building; Paul Klenow, fence; John Krumm, repairs; Edith Davey, repairs; William Standhardt, repairs and fence.

who said, "I don't think the idea of the ordinance is to catch someone replacing a plug or an outlet without a permit, but rather to check on a contractor when building a new house or making basic changes in wiring." He said that inspection would "catch" improper wiring and could be corrected. Councilman Clyde Evril moved that discussion be tabled until the next meeting.

Meantime, City Attorney Jerry Cotter is to rewrite the clause on minor repair work, not spelling out a specific price limit on such construction. This is to be presented at the next meeting for possible incorporation in the proposed ordinance.

TURKEY

Part Three of a Four-Part Series
By T-Sgt. JOHN ROLLINS
Former NCOIC of Public Information Section, Wurtsmith Air Force Base, Oscoda

Seven thousand years of human history, of changing cultures and civilizations have left their mark on Turkey. The ruins of Troy and Pergamum along the Aegean coast suggest the depth and beauty of Greek life. The temple of Augustus in Ankara recalls the tread of conquering Roman legions.

At Tarsus in Southern Turkey, the birthplace of Saint Paul, one feels in touch with the beginning of the Christian tradition. In Saint Sophia in Istanbul, you catch a glimpse of the glamour of Byzantine life before the conquest of Constantinople by the Ottoman Turks, who gave the city its present name of Istanbul.

As you walk through the palace by Saint Sophia, the historic residence of the Turkish Ottoman Sultans, the audience chamber, the harem quarters and the summer terrace overlooking the Golden Horn, you are able to visualize the might and splendor of those Turkish Sultans who ruled over huge areas of Europe, Asia and Africa for five centuries.

Recent estimates place the population of Turkey over 25,000,000. Roughly four-fifths of this number live in rural areas and most are engaged in agricultural work.

There are few cities which could be considered metropolitan. Istanbul, the former capital is the largest, with a population of more than one million. Istanbul is followed in size by Ankara (the present capital), Izmir and Adana.

Density of population is heaviest in northwest Turkey, around the Istanbul-Bursa-Izmir complex (49 people for square kilometer). There is a gradual thinning of population as one moves eastward. In extreme eastern Turkey, the population is approximately 18 persons to the square kilometer.

Aside from some 20 cities with a population of 50,000 or more, the Turkish population lies largely in small villages along mountain streams and clustered near the sea shore.

Istanbul, the only city in the world astride two continents, is said to occupy the finest location of any location of any metropolis on earth.

Situated between the Mediterranean and Black Seas at the entrance to the busy waterway separating Europe and Asia, Istanbul, "the Queen of the Bosphorus," is the largest city in Turkey and serves as the modern republic's key cultural, commercial and touristic center.

One of the world's truly great cities, ranking in historical importance with Athens and Rome, Istanbul for some 1,600 years was the capital of the successive Eastern Roman, Byzantine and Ottoman empires.

Istanbul seems three cities rather than one as it is trisected by the Bosphorus which separates its European and Asiatic sections and by the Golden Horn, a five mile natural channel which divides the city's old and new sections on the European shore.

East meets West in Istanbul, a city located in a region that has been a crossroads of the world for thousands of years. At virtually every step, the visitor meets with history and the old stands side by side with the new in harmonious contrast.

Founded in the sixth century, B. C., by Greek settlers, the city was called Byzantium after the Greek leader, Byzas. In 330, A. D., it became capital of the Roman Empire in the East and was renamed Constantinople after the emperor Constantine.

There are more than 500 mosques in Istanbul, plus 100 Orthodox churches and some 30 synagogues. The most famous of these buildings is the Basilica of Saint Sophia, or Divine Wisdom, now a museum.

Built by the Emperor Justinian in 537, A. D., the great church became a mosque with the Ottoman conquest and four minarets were added. Christian mosaics were covered up by the Turks, since their religion forbids the representation of the human form in the house of worship. They are being brought to light today through the efforts of American scholars.

Other monuments of particular interest in Istanbul include the Mosque of Sultan Ahmet, the famed Blue Mosque, with its interior of priceless colored tile. Built in 1616, the mosque is the only one in the world having six minarets.

One of the greatest tourist delights of Istanbul is the famed Kapali Carsi, or Covered Bazaar, a bargain hunters paradise, and a favorite haunt of Americans in Turkey.

Actually a city in itself, the great mart extends over an area of 20 acres. Its 12 entrances lead into narrow lanes harboring more than 4,000 souvenir and antique shops.

Many of the works of art in the museums of Europe were found at one time or another in the shelves of the bazaar.

Hymn Singers Have Played a Vital Part in Building Country

(Editor's Note: This is the third in a series of stories on hymn singing in America, published by The Tawas Herald as part of the national newspaper hymn poll. Every reader of the Herald is urged to write the name of his favorite hymn on the official ballot printed with this story. By BILL McVEY
The Christian Herald Singer

From the days of Martin Luther, through the Methodist revivals of Charles and John Wesley, the evangelical meetings of Moody and Sankey, hymns have played a vital part in our history, as well as an essential role in religion.

"Hymn singing," according to the Rev. Dr. Daniel A. Poling, editor of Christian Herald magazine, "serves as an expression of faith and an uplifting force to unite man, God and family." A study of hymn singing also reveals how closely hymns are tied to history.

The Pilgrims, in their first voyage across the Atlantic, were strengthened spiritually by singing psalms from the Bible.

The first book printed in America was a hymnal, "The Bay Psalm Book."

Luther added strength and popularity to the Protestant Reformation by writing hymns to the tunes of popular German songs. He thus restored religious singing to the people and composed dozens of hymns himself.

Charles Wesley (who, with his brother, John, founded Methodism) wrote more than 6,000 hymns. Among these was the hymn that even today is sung wherever people worship together the eternal "Jesus, Lover of My Soul."

America's evangelistic movements at the turn of the century, dominated by Philip Phillips, Ira Sankey and Dwight L. Moody, contributed the gospel song. Jewish people traditionally chant their religious service in a minor, somewhat somber key.

Muslims call the faithful to daily prayer by a sing-song chant. Roman Catholics have sung Mass in Latin for centuries.

Hymns have been written by monks, ministers, teachers, housewives, noblemen, invalids, offi-

EXCEPTIONS:

These cars could deliver top performance with only 8 of Super Shell's 9 ingredients. But they'll soon need the ninth. Do you know why?

If car engines could stay clean as new, they'd get along fine without Shell's TCP additive. But harmful deposits start building up the moment your car leaves the showroom—and can soon cut power and mileage. TCP works to keep that from happening. Here's how.

THE ENGINE of every car on the road has combustion chamber deposits. Nothing can stop them from forming. They're the inevitable result of combustion.

If your car has only a couple of thousand miles on it you probably won't know the deposits are there. But once they've built up, they can be rough on performance. Fortunately, something can be done about that. Shell's TCP additive does it.

How deposits cause trouble
Here's what can happen inside your engine. When certain types of deposits get hot enough, they can beat spark plugs to the punch and ignite the fuel themselves.

These premature explosions are forms of pre-ignition. They give your pistons a terrific hammering. Your power falls off. And so does your mileage.

Instead of purring smoothly, your engine falters—and costs you money.

How TCP prevents trouble
New, improved TCP in today's Super Shell gasoline literally alters these combustion chamber deposits. It "fireproofs" them so they no longer glow red-hot.

Result: top performance.
And as a little extra, new improved TCP can help spark plugs last up to twice as long.

NOTE: TCP can improve the performance of many older cars. Tests have shown that it helps restore power lost to harmful combustion deposits—and can add up to 17 miles per tankful.

9-ingredient formula

TCP is just one of Super Shell's nine ingredients. To get an idea of how all nine contribute to top performance, run your eye over the list at the right.

And try a couple of tankfuls yourself. If you do it soon, you'll get Super Shell's Hot Weather Blend.

It's specially formulated to give your car top performance in summer. And that's a reassuring thing to know when you're out driving on a sizzling day.

Super Shell's 9 ingredients for top performance

- #1 is TCP—for power, mileage, and longer plug life.
- #2 is Pentane mix—for fast warm-ups.
- #3 is anti-knock mix—for knock resistance.
- #4 is Alkylate to control "high-speed knock."
- #5 is Butane—for quick starts.
- #6 is "cat-cracked" gasoline—for power.
- #7 is an "anti-icer." Added when cold weather sets in.
- #8 is gum preventive—for clean carburetors.
- #9 is Platformate for extra mileage.

*Trademark for Shell's unique gasoline additive. Gasoline containing TCP is covered by U.S. Patent 2,889,212.

At Shell, 1997 scientists are working to make your car go better and better

Increases in Draft Calls Bring Many Local Inquiries

Township Officials to Meet at Clare Friday, August 11

Carl W. Mowry, supervisor of Warren Township, Midland County, and a member of the board of directors of Michigan Townships Association announced today that final plans have been completed for the annual meeting of all township officials from the 14 counties of the 10th Congressional District of Michigan, to be held at the Doherty Hotel, Clare, Friday, August 11, starting at 10:00 a. m.

The meeting, designed to bring together those who make the laws and those who must carry them out, will feature a "Face to Face" discussion with the congressman, state senators, state representatives, state officers, county officers and township officials. An added feature this year will be the presence of the candidates for delegate to the constitutional convention.

In making the announcement, Mowry said, "although the meeting is called primarily for township officials of member townships of the association, all township officials and anyone interested in local government are invited to attend."

The increase in draft calls over the country has resulted in many inquiries and reports of changes in status of registrants. Chairman Edward I. Dickey of Iosco County Local Board No. 36 states that the preinduction physical examination call for August is for four men and for September, five. These calls will be filled by men whose previous examinations are over one year old, volunteers and others born in 1938.

Mr. Dickey also said the board office is sending classification questionnaires to those born in 1939, so that their classification can be completed during the next two months. After that, those born in 1940 will be classified as they become 21.

Registrants are required to report changes in occupation, physical condition, dependency, marriage, divorce, addresses, education, etc., to their local board offices. The reports may be made in a personal visit at the Selective Service local board office in the Federal Building, East Tawas, but it will save most registrants time and effort if these changes are reported by letter or post card.

In reporting marriage or birth of children, dates and names should be included. All reports should be personally signed by the registrant.

This is also a reminder that all young men are required to register with their draft board within five days after their 18th birthdays. If they are away from home at that time, they should visit the local board nearest them and accomplish the registration. The home address given when registering determines which local board has jurisdiction.

State Parks Development Plan Under New Permit-Bonding Program

PROJECT LOCATION

- LAND ACQUISITION ———
- NEW CONSTRUCTION ———
- PARK PERMIT REQUIRED ———
- PARK PERMIT NOT REQUIRED ○

Here, Michigan state parks users, is where your new permit fees will go to work under a $5,000,000 bonding program recently approved by the Legislature. The program calls for $1,000,000 in new parks lands and $4,000,000 in improvements to campgrounds, picnic areas, toilets and bathhouses, and other facilities. All receipts from permit sales are earmarked to retire bonds which will finance the program. No part of your permit fees will be used to cover maintenance costs. Included under the land buying phase of the program are two new parks, where some 380 acres have already been approved for purchase, and additions to 15 established parks. Construction work scheduled for September will add some 1,300 new campsites, 35 miles of road improvements, and facilities for an additional 3,100 daily visitors and 1,750 bathers at one time. Over a season, improvements will take care of 50,000 camping groups now being turned away for lack of space and provide for approximately 200,000 additional day visitors annually.—Mich. YOU AND SOCIAL SECURITY

Is your social security record correct? If you don't know, Paul M. Ellifritz, manager of the Bay City Social Security Office, has some advice on how to find out and why it is important to do so.

It is really very easy to verify your social security record. Mr. Ellifritz points out. In fact, it is so easy he suggests that everyone examine his record every three years. All you need to do is call, write or visit your nearest social security office and ask for a postcard form on which to request a statement of the earnings reported to your social security account. Fill out the postcard form, stamp and mail it.

You will receive a statement in a few weeks telling you what earnings have been posted to your account. If the statement does not agree with your records, take it and your own records to your social security office, so that steps can be taken to get your social security account corrected.

It is important that your record be correct for two reasons: It is used to determine whether you have worked long enough for you or your survivors to be eligible for social security payments upon your retirement, disability or death. If you have worked long enough to be insured, your earnings are then averaged to determine the amount of the social security check payable to you and your family. So don't be caught short; check your record today!
