Third Annual Skating Meet on Bay A Success

Last Saturday's third annual skating meet saw a good field of participants from the eastern half of Michigan on hand to compete for trophies furnished by the Tawas Chamber of Commerce.

Terry McDermott, United States Olympic team member from the Bay City Speed Skating Club, stole most of the thunder in the senior men's class A competition.

A student at Soo Tech, McDermott flashed to first place in all four races to sweep the field from such veteran campaigners as Detroiters Terry Browne and Mike Carey, and Midland's Don Blazy.

One of the big surprises of the meet was Mary Wright of Petoskey edging out Cheboygan's star skater, Kathy Sullivan, in junior girls. Miss Sullivan drew a disqualification for three false starts in the 220-sprint and Miss Wright had 11 points to Miss Sullivan's 10 in the final total.

Other division winners included: Kay Gapezynski of Alpena in senior women; Joyce Thompson of Detroit in intermediate girls; Linda Hernesko of Wolverine Skating Club in juvenile girls; Debbie Sipes of Detroit in midget girls; Pam Sipes of Detroit in pony girls; Joanne Budzynski of Petoskey in toddler girls; Bill Schade of Wol-

City Applies for Master Plan Grant

Preliminary application for urban planning assistance under the federal housing act of 1954 was made Monday night through passage of a resolution by the Tawas City Council.

This action followed last week's special meeting between the council and city planning commission. The council authorized hiring Vilcan-Leman and Associates, Incorporated, Southfield, to assist in development of a long-range master plan for the community.

Under this program, Tawas City would receive federal assistance in developing a master plan. This community's share of the $16,745 total cost of the plan would be $5,581.

Hale Scouts Win Klondike Derby

Timberland District Klondike Derby trophy was won last Saturday by Hale Troop No. 90, sponsored by the 60 Lakes Tourist Association of Hale. The Flaming Arrow Patrol of Troop No. 90 won top honors and the blue first place ribbon by scoring 700 points out of a possible 800. The Eagle Patrol of Troop No. 90 won the red and second place ribbon with 685 points.

In third place was the Don Eagle Patrol of Troop No. 101 sponsored by Wurtsmith Air Force Base Chapel of Oscoda with 656 points.

Other patrols participating in the derby were the Panther and Buffalo Patrols of Hale Troop No. 90; the Flying Tigers, Screaming Eagles and Hawk Patrols of Troop No. 74 sponsored by the Tawas City American Legion and the Headquarters and Eagle Patrols of Troop No. 59 sponsored by Hope Evangelical Lutheran Church of Oscoda.

The Klondike Derby was held at the United States Ranger Station in the Silver Valley area, northwest of the Tawas.

There were four scout troops and one new explorer post with 10 patrols taking part in the derby. The explorer post from the Tawas City Methodist Church assisted judges and helped in the headquarters area. A total of 65 boys took part with 20 adult leaders supervising.

Judge Allan C. Miller, Timberland district chairman, was in charge. He was assisted by Richard Powers of East Tawas, district commissioner. The district camping and activities chairman, Major George Stokes of Oscoda, was in charge of the judges. The judges were Robert Marx and John Austin, both of East Tawas; Richard Parkinson of Hale; Robert Korte Sr. and Herbert Early Sr., both of Oscoda.

Wesley Quandt of West Branch, district executive, stated that a formal public presentation of the Timberland District Klondike Derby trophy will be made to the Hale troop at the annual district court of honor to be held Thursday, February 8, 6:30 p. m., at Tawas Area High School. The court of honor will be in the form of a potluck dinner. The public is invited.

The Klondike Derby trophy was designed and built by William Gerber of Houghton Lake.

Tawas Eye Mutual Fire Protection Pact

Discussion on a proposed mutual assistance fire protection pact between Tawas City and East Tawas was held at meetings of the two city councils Monday night.

The proposed agreement developed out of recent talks between Mayor George Tuttle of Tawas City and Mayor C. V. Miller and Fire Chief Donald Hogaboam of East Tawas.

Although no written agreement exists at present between the two cities, fire departments of both communities have cooperated agreement would probably outline these four points:

1. Establish the person who has authority to call the other fire department when it is needed. This responsibility would rest with the acting chief at the fire or mayor.
2. In case of fire in any commercial or industrial building, a call would be made immediately for assistance. If no help is needed, equipment would return to the fire barn. (Mayor Tuttle said that this responsibility would again be assumed by the fire department.) (See FIRE PACT, page 8.)

Baldwin Signs

An agreement to furnish fire protection to Baldwin Township by the East Tawas Fire Department was signed at Monday night's council meeting.

Under this two-year agreement, Baldwin Township's fixed cost would be $1,200 per year. After the third call, there would be an additional charge of $100 per fire plus firemen's wages at all calls.

Baldwin Township had been receiving fire protection from the Oscoda-AuSable Fire Department.

Three of the outlying townships around the Tawas now have fire protection. Alabaster and Tawas Townships are under contract with Tawas City.

when called upon. Action on the pact is expected at the next council meeting.

Mayor Tuttle said that the Three Airmen Bound Over on Charge of Pay Phone Break-In Three airmen from Wurtsmith, charged with breaking and entering telephone booths, waived examination when arraigned before Justice of the Peace Emmitt Collins Tuesday and were bound over to Circuit Court.

Released under $300 bond were Frank G. Sisson, Malcolm Hawhurst and John Brooner.

The three men were arrested at the airbase Monday by Iosco Sheriff's Department and Michigan State Police officers.

Police here were tipped off that the trio might be involved in the pay phone break-ins when word was received from the sheriff's department at Omaha, Nebraska. Two airmen on leave, Gary Lawson and Clyde Hendershott were arrested there on similar charges.

Police said that the three airmen arrested Monday admitted their part in the break-ins. The two men now held at Omaha will face similar charges when they return here.

$7,500 Suit Filed Against Silver Valley

A $7,500 damage suit was commenced Tuesday against the Tawas Chamber of Commerce and the Silver Valley Winter Sports Committee, a division of the chamber of commerce.

A praecipe for a writ of summons was filed with County Clerk George Prescott by Harold J. Stevens of Saginaw.

When a suit is commenced in this manner, no bill of particulars is filed with the clerk. To receive a copy, defendants must enter an appearance to see what is set forth.

John Purcell, attorney for the plaintiff, stated in his letter accompanying the summons that the statute of limitations would take effect on this case soon.

An official of the non-profit winter sports committee said the action came as a complete surprise and he had no knowledge of the impending damage suit.

Rochester Woman Drowns in VanEtan

A 68-year-old Rochester woman became Iosco County's first drowning victim of the year last Wednesday.

Mrs. Lottie Gayfield apparently was overcome by carbon monoxide fumes in a fishing shanty and fell into about seven feet of water in VanEtan Lake near Oscoda.

Floyd Gayfield, husband of the victim, told investigating sheriff's department officers that his wife had gone fishing about 9:00 a. m. He had accompanied her to the fishing shanty and then returned to their cottage.

Gayfield checked the shanty at noon and then returned again about 4:50 p. m. He found the door locked from the inside and forced it open.

The victim had fallen through a 22 by 24 inch hole in the ice and was at the bottom of the lake.

Body of the victim was recovered from the water by Oscoda-AuSable Fire Department and sheriff's officers. Also investigating was Coroner E. John Moffatt of East Tawas.

Besides her husband, Mrs. Gayfield is survived by a son, Marvin, and two daughters, Josephine and Velma.

New Features at Silver Valley Park

Visitors to Silver Valley will find that a considerable amount of "face-lifting" has taken place during the past year. New steps have been constructed on the east side of the twin steel toboggan slides in order to reduce cross-over traffic. A new bridge has been constructed over Silver Creek and a fence installed to protect children.

Improvements at the ski area chalet include a new check room and an expanded concession stand operated by Audie Johnson Post, American Legion.

New directional and safety signs have been constructed by the manual arts department at Tawas Area High School, under the direction of Mark Defibaugh, instructor.

Among improvements on ski slopes is a new beginners' area, complete with tow. There is no charge to skiers for using this particular slope and tow.

L. G. (Ladd) McKay, who has been active in the promotion of winter sports here for the past 17 years, said this week that it is necessary for the committee to continue its program of improving facilities at Silver Valley.

"More youngsters are becoming interested in skiing each year and we must continue to expand and improve our slopes," he said. "As the young skier improves his skill, we must provide some 'new twist' each year on the slopes in order to retain this interest."

McKay said that facilities at Silver Valley were never in better condition than they are this year.

A NOVEL WAY to keep railroad tracks clear of ice was used by the Detroit and Mackinac Railway Company last week. This week-killing unit, normally used during warmer weather, was operated along the rails and flames spouting from the two booms on the front did the trick. Announce Search For '1962 Mother Of Michigan'

Mrs. Charles Kuhn of Pontiac has announced the launching of the search for the 1962 Mother of Michigan. Nomination blanks are now being distributed state-wide to national women's organizations, church groups, individuals and to all who request them. Blanks are now available upon request to Mrs. Kuhn.

The following persons are members of the Michigan Mothers Committee for this year: Mrs. Kuhn, chairman, Pontiac; Mrs. Henry Axford, Rochester; Mrs. Aloysius S. Church, Detroit; Mrs. J. Frank Crile, Detroit; Mrs. Stanley Kresge, Detroit; Mrs. Marvin Levy, Detroit; Mrs. Ben Pritchard, Detroit; Mrs. Zaio Woodford Schroeder, Grosse Pointe; Mrs. Andrew L. Tondee, Detroit; Mrs. David Zuhlke, Detroit; Mrs. Stewart Schweizer, Grosse Pointe.

Nomination blanks are available by writing to the Michigan Mothers Committee, Post Office Box 444, Pontiac, Michigan.

Completed nomination blanks, filled out exactly as required, must be submitted to the above address, not later than March 1, in order to be eligible for consideration in the judging.

The standards that must be met by nominees for state mother have been set up by the American Mothers Committee as follows: First, that she be a successful mother, as evidenced by the character and achievements of her individual children; second, that she be an active member of a religious body; third, that she embody those traits highly regarded in mothers: Courage, cheerfulness, patience, affection, kindness, understanding and homemaking ability; fourth, that she exemplify in her life and conduct the precepts of the Golden Rule; fifth, that she have a sense of responsibility in civic affairs and that she be active in service for public benefit; sixth, that she be qualified to represent the mothers of America in all responsibilities attached to her role at the national mother.

Other qualifying conditions require that the youngest child should not be less than 15 years of age since achievement, conforming with qualification number one, cannot be judged at an earlier age; also, no divorced mother may qualify.

The mother who will be chosen will be especially honored at a luncheon sponsored by Northland Center Chamber of Commerce. Later, she will be considered with the Mother of the Year selected by all the other states, District of Columbia and Puerto Rico for the honor of being the National Mother of the Year. The choice of the national mother is made on the opening day of the annual Mothers' Conference in New York at the Waldorf-Astoria during the entire week immediately preceding National Mother's Day in May.

The primary objective of the American Mothers Committee, Incorporated, is to develop and strengthen the moral and spiritual foundations of the American home. The basic program is counselor motherhood services to young mothers with preschoolage children and young girls contemplating marriage.

Motorists Expect Highways Free of Snow and Ice

Motorists long ago learned to expect that Michigan highways would be kept free of snow and ice during the winter.

But that state highway department reports that when the first snow plowing efforts were made back in 1918, there was a good deal of opposition to the idea.

The old system was to run rollers over the snowy roads, packing them solidly for horse-drawn sleighs. But, by 1918, a considerable number of Michigan people owned automobiles which cut deep ruts in the snow-packed roads.

The year 1918 was the climax of World War I. Michigan's defense plant workers were playing a vital role in winning the war. Getting them back and forth to work was a matter of prime importance.

A few counties banded together and put up $6,500 and the Liberty Loan Board put up an equal amount.

The money was used to clear snow from 590 miles of the state's most important highways.

The idea was conceived as strictly a wartime measure, but car owners liked it and the state highway department was assigned the job and the cost.

By 1925, the snow plowing expense had risen to 15 times the amount it cost that first year. And, it has been increasing nearly every year since until now it costs an average of 5 1/2 million dollars a year, depending on the weather.

A big storm means lots of money will be spent to clear highways.

But, when a big storm does come, there is no longer any debate about whether the highways should be cleared.

A Gratifying Assurance . . .

See Film on Atomic Bomb at P-TA Meeting

Alfred Hewitt, in the absence of Mrs. George Prescott, program chairman, presented the film which described in detail the structure of the atomic bomb.

The film also explained various experiments carried out to subject the bomb to all types of extreme shocks which determined that an atomic explosion may only be created by mechanism, itself.

Braves Down Pinny, 63-41, For 2nd in Row

Tawas Area Braves won their second straight game by downing the Pinconning Spartans, 63-41, last Friday night. Tawas Area Junior Braves made it a double win as they defeated the Pinny JV, 49-22.

The two varsity teams battled on fairly even terms during the first half, although Tawas held a 32-20 lead at intermission.

The Braves broke the game wide open in the third period with a 20-point scoring effort while the Spartans were held to five points.

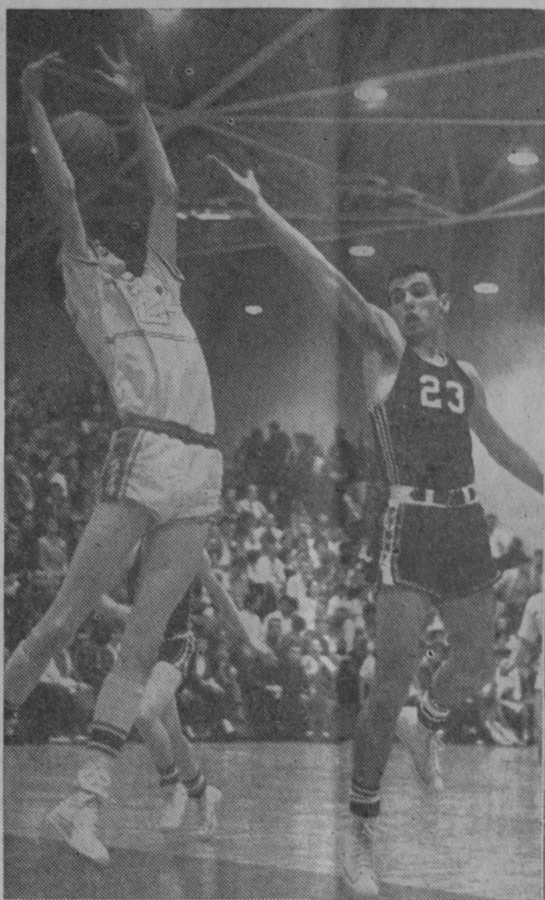

Pinconning bounced back to outscore Tawas, 16-11, in the final quarter as Coach Bill McIntosh emptied his bench. Except for the third quarter, as far as Tawas was concerned, the game was a "yawner." The Braves controlled the ball for most of the quarter but did not score until after three minutes were gone.

Leading scorer for the winners was Guard Herm Rollin with 17 points. Don Humphrey, a substitute forward, rang up 16 points, mainly on five field goals in the wild third stanza. The visitors did not have a player in double figures.

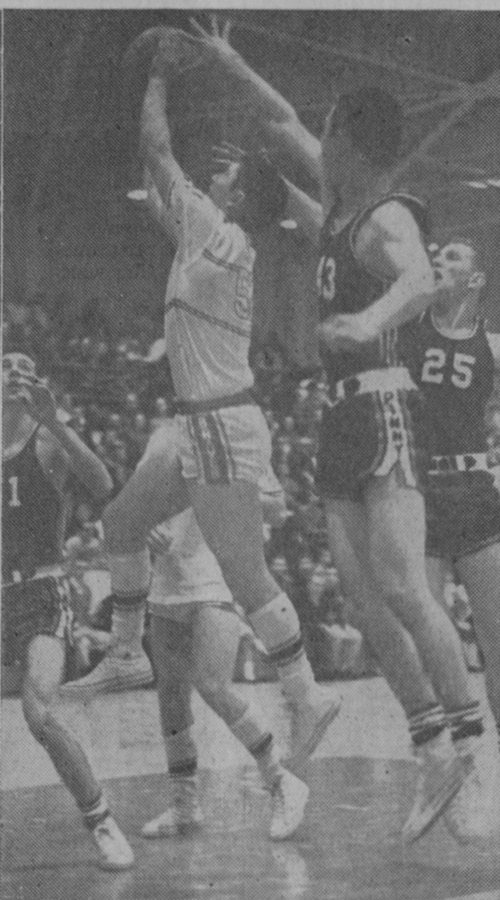

A change in the starting line-up saw Randy DeWyse coming off the bench to play the center slot. The Junior Braves of Coach Ron Wiltse had an easy time taking the measure of the visitors for their fifth straight victory. Tawas jumped to a 13-6 lead in the first quarter and won going away.

Leading the scoring attack for the winners was Dennis Blata with 15 points. He was followed by Anschuetz, nine; Herb Humphrey, eight; Jim Sass, six; Roti, five; Wilson, three; Welch, two, and Lear, one. Salgot was high for the losers with seven.

W-P Makes Clean Sweep During Week

Whittemore - Prescott Area Cardinals made it a clean sweep of four games against two opposing high school basketball squads during the past week. The Cardinals won the first game against Beaverton Friday night, 64-33, and downed Alcona Tuesday night, 59-42.

The Junior Cards defeated the Little Beavers Friday night, 44-27, while dropping the Alcona JV, 52-34.

In Friday night's contest, the Beavers made a contest of it only in the first quarter with W-P leading all the way. The Cards lead was almost 2-1 at intermission as they continued to dominate play, leading 31-16.

The Beavers found it almost impossible to get their shots over Roy and Ray Pagel, as the tall boys controlled the boards.

Ron Armstead was the scoring star of the game with 20 points on 10 field goals out of 17 attempts. Two other Cards scored in double figures, Ray Pagel with 17 on eight and one, and Paul Cherry, a sophomore recently moved up from the junior varsity, with 10 points on five field goals.

Jim Newman was the only Beaver to reach double figures with 10 points on five field goals. The Card-Alcona tilt was a slow affair with neither team playing sharp ball. Alcona held the lead at the end of the first quarter with Ray Pagel putting the Cards ahead, 7-6, on his bucket late in the quarter and they were never headed after that.

Armstead scored 22 points to lead both teams. Gary Somers of Alcona was next with 20 points.

SOME OF THE THINGS you don't see when you look at your telephone are the facilities behind it which make your service the finest there is. Ten years ago, for example, Michigan Bell's investment in buildings, poles, cables and so on to link your phone with others amounted to $247 per telephone. Now it's more than $330. Last year alone we spent more than $85 million to install new telephones, replace worn-out equipment and improve service. This money was spent in every city, town and village where we do business—to make your telephone serve you better.

PROPRIETORS OF SMALL BUSINESSES, including farms, are discovering the value and convenience of Michigan Bell's new complete interphone system. With it, telephones used for regular calls can also be used for intercommunication between house or office and yard and outbuildings. It also provides for calls between locations within a building. A special speaker-microphone is available which lets a person who is called answer "hands free" without touching a telephone. For more information on how new interphone service can help you, just call us here at the business office.

HERE'S A GOOD example of how an apparently small change in your Telephone Company's way of doing things results in better service. Overhead phone cables used to be supported by a strong wire strung above them. Not any more. Now, in many cases a cable-wrapping machine winds the wire around the phone cable. It saves time, and cables last longer. Just one of the many ways Michigan Bell is furnishing better telephone service—and keeping down costs.

Many employed people and their dependents have insurance protection they are not aware of, according to Paul M. Ellifritz, district manager of the Bay City office of the Social Security Administration. A recent survey by the Bureau of Old-Age, survivors and disability insurance found that only about a fourth of the men and women interviewed were aware that their social security contributions were buying them protection against loss of income because of severe and long-lasting disability. Although the employment requirements are different from those set by law for retirement or death benefits, most workers with as much as five years of covered work (including military service in many instances) during the 10-year period ending with the onset of disability are protected. The feature of the disability protection least understood is the eligibility of dependents for benefit payments when the worker is found disabled. These are, of course, in addition to the benefits paid to the disabled worker. Dependents benefits may be paid to minor children, and when at least one child is eligible, the wife is also eligible regardless of her age. A representative of the Social Security Administration will be in Tawas City at the Iosco County Building Thursday, January 25, 10:30 a. m.

THOMAS SCORES HEAVILY Union Victory At Mill Springs

Zollicoffer Dies in Battle; Rebels Lose 425

GEN. THOMAS

LEXINGTON, Ky.—Jan. 19—A decisive Union victory has been scored at Mill Springs, a crossroads hamlet on the Cumberland River some 40 miles to the south. First reports to reach here were that Union troops under Brig. Gen. George H. Thomas routed an entrenched Confederate force under Maj. Gen. George B. Crittenden, with Southern forces estimated at 125 dead and 300 wounded. Zollicoffer reportedly was shot from his horse after getting too close to Union troops he believed were his own men.

members of the 10th Indiana. Other Union outfits included the 4th and 12th Kentucky, 2d Minnesota and 9th Ohio. While fleeing, the Confederates abandoned most of their small arms and, to the delight of their opponents, hundreds of haversacks filled with corn pone and bacon.

These rations were consumed on the spot by the Union soldiers. Those fugitives who eluded Union gunfire escaped across the Cumberland by boat. The victors captured more than 150 wagons and about 1,000 horses and mules, along with 11 pieces of heavy artillery, a variety of garrison equipment and five stands of Confederate colors.

GEN. THOMAS, the victor, is an 1840 graduate of the U.S. Military Academy at West Point. Although a Virginian by birth, he remained loyal to the North after Fort Sumter. He served as a colonel of volunteers in the Shenandoah Valley before making brigadier and taking command of the Union's Kentucky force. Crittenden is the son of Sen. John J. Crittenden of Crittenden Compromise fame, who remained loyal to the Union at the outbreak of war. Gen. Crittenden's brother Thomas also stayed with the North and is now in the Union army. Like Thomas, Gen. Crittenden is a West Pointer, graduating in 1832 and later winning honors in the Mexican war.

When Zollicoffer fell dead from his horse, his breast torn open by at least 10 bullets, his two regiments took off in confusion. Further Union charges routed the rest of the force. Southern units engaged included two Cavalry companies, a Mississippi regiment, three Tennessee regiments and an Alabama regiment, intended as reserves. FIRE AND SMOKE pour from the David Sims Jr. residence on Meadow Road shortly after the arrival of the first fire truck. Assistant Chief James Lansky stands at the side of the truck while readying the unit for pumping water on the blaze.—Tawas Herald Photo.

Sunday Fire Destroys David Sims Jr. Home

Fire gutted the home of Mr. and Mrs. David S. Sims Jr. at 741 Meadow Road, Tawas City, shortly after noon Sunday.

Mrs. Sims and the children were visiting relatives out-of-town and Mr. Sims was working in a field behind the two-story frame home. Sims told firemen that he noticed smoke near the house, but at first thought it came from a rubbish fire in a neighbor's field across the road. On investigation, however, he found smoke pouring from the front portion of the building.

When the first unit dispatched by the Tawas City Fire Department reached the scene, flames were pouring out of the front windows. All three units and the entire volunteer fire department crew were on hand before the blaze was brought under control.

The blaze completely gutted the front portion of the building and one-story additions on the back were smoke damaged.

Most of the furniture was lost in the fire, but some clothing was salvaged.

Mr. Sims said that he believed his insurance on the building and contents amounted to about $8,500. Firemen said the structure was a total loss.

The fire was believed to have started either near an oil space heater in the living room or in the basement.

Tawas City's tank truck made two trips to the scene to keep pumpers well supplied with water.

Skate Meet

(Continued from page 1.) of racing, two special events were held. Browne, the Detroit fireman, repeated as state barrel jumping champion after clearing 13 hoops, and Bertrand, the 15-year-old Detroit, won the five-mile, cross-country race over all men eligible, including the senior group.

Grebe immediately set in motion plans to organize speed skating here and was responsible for starting the Tawas meet off the Waterways Commission Dock.

Assisting him were Edward Seifert Jr., William Brown, Alton Long and John Skinner, along with representatives of the chamber of commerce, who assisted with staging the annual awards banquet for the Michigan Skating Association Saturday night at the Barnes Hotel. Trophies and honors won in 1961 skating around the state were presented at that time.

State officials were high in their praise for the well-organized Tawas meet. To ward off chilling winds of Tawas Bay, scorekeepers took advantage of the Civil Defense unit trailer furnished by the Iosco County Sheriff's Department.

A public address system to announce results of races was furnished by Joseph Nagy of Tawas Bay TV Sales and Service.

Fire Pact

(Continued from page 1.) rest with the acting fire chief at the scene. He said there was no need to delay calling for assistance as the first few minutes were the most important in this type of fire.

3. When there is a fire alarm in outlying townships, the department not making the run would be immediately notified of the fire and its location. That department would then answer fire calls in both communities until such time as the other department returns.

4. A fixed charge would be established to cover cost of payroll in case of assistance. This would be between $50 and $75 for each call and would be balanced out at the end of the year.

Dr. Reed is a nationally known writer and lecturer in the field of Christian healing. A graduate of the University of Michigan Medical School, he is on the senior surgical staff of Bay City's Samaritan, General and Mercy Hospitals.

In addition to his work as a physician, the 40-year-old Dr. Reed is also a licensed lay reader in the Episcopal Church.

The Rev. Ralph Edwards is in charge of arrangements. Anyone in the community is welcome to hear Dr. Reed speak.

Gene Ballinger Buys Collection Dept. of Bureau

Sale of collection departments of the Credit Bureau of West Branch and the Credit Bureau of Iosco County was announced last week by Mr. and Mrs. Ray Peck.

Gene Ballinger, who has been affiliated with these two offices for the past two years as collection manager, is the new owner. The sale was effective immediately.

Mr. and Mrs. Peck will continue to operate the Credit Bureau of West Branch and the Credit Bureau of Iosco County under the credit reporting division, with Mr. Ballinger operating under the collection service division.

"Purpose of this division is to allow for more time and effort of the individuals concerned to effect a more efficient and progressive business in both lines," said Peck.

"A point has been reached where we must expand our businesses and by mutual agreement we felt that this would be our best solution," he stated.

Ballinger is well known here as a former deputy sheriff of Iosco County.

TC Fire Department Had 28 Calls in 1961

Tawas City Fire Department answered a total of 28 fire calls during 1961, according to a report filed last week with the state fire marshal by Chief Fred Musolf.

Of this number, 11 fires were located in the city, six were in Alabaster Township and 11 in Tawas Township.

Total fire loss was $17,500. Of this amount, there was a $10,000 loss on dwellings, $4,000 loss on buildings other than dwellings, $3,000 for loss on contents and $500 for other fires.

There was one fatal fire during the year. This occurred January 19 in Alabaster Township when four children of the Hubert Benson family perished in a home blaze.

Causes of the various fires were listed as follows: One caused by careless use of matches, 10 by other careless acts, one fire caused by gas explosion, four fires attributed to defective electrical wiring, three over-heated stoves, two caused by sparks from chimney and six were listed as unknown.

Of the total number of fires, three were listed as auto, 10 grass and two dwelling. The remainder were listed as miscellaneous.

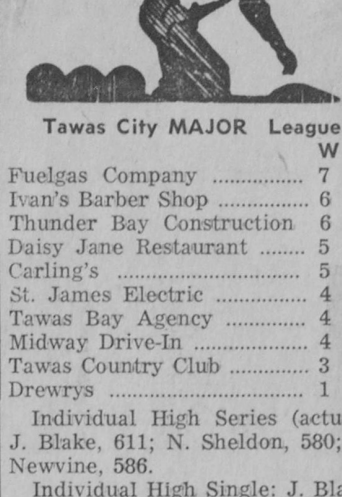

This report is filed each year by the fire chief in compliance with Act 207 of Michigan Public Laws of 1941, as amended.

SCHOOL LISTS 155 FEDERAL PUPILS AT 1st Count; Lower Now

A report filed this week by Supt. Reynold A. Mick revealed that Tawas Area School had a total of 155 federally-connected pupils during the September count.

This was somewhat lower than the previous year when 192 pupils were listed, although this decrease had been anticipated.

Of the total number, 143 pupils have parents who work at but live off Wurtsmith Air Force Base and one pupil whose father is a military recruiter. Fathers of 11 of the children are United States Coast Guard personnel.

Last year, the school received $92.86 per pupil for those living off base and $185 per pupil for those of coast guard personnel at Tawas Point.

A second count of pupils is to be made this spring. At the present time, there has been a drop in the number of federally-connected pupils since the September count.

Tawas City Used 70 Million Gallons of Water Last Year

According to a year-end report of the Tawas City Department of Public Works, city customers used 70 million gallons of water during the past year. This amounted to 191,555 gallons per day.

Tawas City purchased its water through an agreement with the City of East Tawas.

This city has slightly more than 20 miles of streets, including 3,438 miles of state trunklines, 13,077 miles of local streets and 3.68 miles of major streets.

It cost $245.80 per day to operate the city during 1961, exclusive of the water and sewer department.

Financially, 39 1/2 percent of the city's operating expenses comes from taxes and 54 percent is returned from the state. The remaining 6 1/2 percent is derived from other sources.

THE BIG SWITCH TO

SHELLED CORN

An interview with Mr. Velmar M. Davis, U.S.D.A. economist and grain handling authority, Washington, D.C.

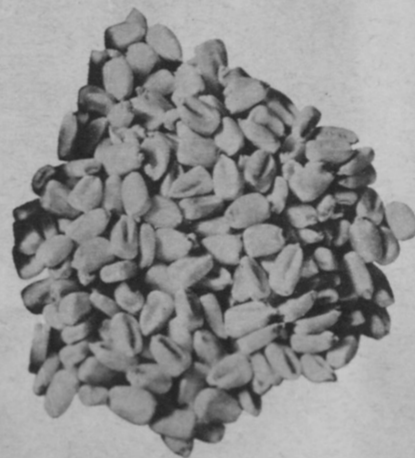

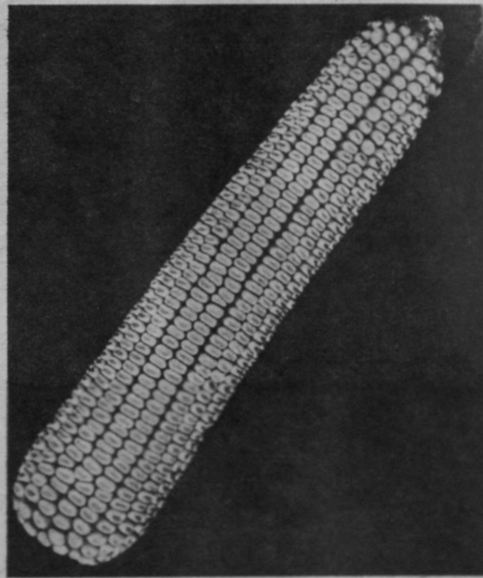

Field-shelling is growing in popularity throughout the Corn Belt. If field-shelling or improved storage and drying is for you, now is the time to lay your plans. Problems and inefficiencies of even a few years ago have now been ironed out . . . paving the way for much greater efficiency and profit in corn handling.

Combined with a well-planned system of cost — and labor-saving equipment all the way from field through storage to market or livestock and poultry, it has now become economical in some cases for even the 3,000 bu. corn producer to make the complete switch to shelled corn.

"Five years ago, only 2% of the corn harvested in the Corn Belt was field shelled," says Velmar M. Davis, U.S.D.A. agricultural economist who has conducted extensive on-farm studies on the economics of various grain handling systems the past seven years. "By 1960, the percentage had climbed to five or six times that great. This past season field shelling probably zoomed to more than 15% of the Corn Belt total. It has already topped the halfway mark in some high-producing counties."

It wouldn't make sense, of course, to shift to shelled corn handling just because other successful farmers have already done so. Work it out for your own farm . . . looking closely at all phases of it in terms of hard dollar-and-cents economics.

That's where Davis' research becomes especially important. His detailed analysis of cost-and-return studies on hundreds of farms by crews of USDA, state and industry researchers can help you take the most profitable steps. The two big advantages of field-shelling over picking are lower field losses through earlier harvesting and 30% to 60% lower storage costs than with bulkier ear corn. And whether you store the corn as wet or dry grain, shelled corn ties in directly with the big swing toward labor-saving mechanical feeding.

Corn in the ear requires twice the storage space of shelled corn. Shelled corn is also easier to handle, load and transport. These are only a few of the reasons why every year more farmers in the Cornbelt are switching to field shelling.

Early Picking Prevents Field Losses

From the standpoint of field losses, best harvesting time is much earlier than most farmers ever imagine. Corn Belt surveys show 2%-5% losses in October often jump to 10% during November, as high as 25% by mid-December. That could be more than $1500 loss per year on 100 acres under extreme conditions.

In one three-year study, field losses on corn picked when it had dried to 18%-22% moisture averaged 40% greater than on corn picked at 22%-28% moisture. Other results confirm these conclusions that much more grain is lost when corn dries out to less than 22% moisture. After extensive experiments in a number of states, researchers say machine losses are lowest at 25%-28%.

With a corn picker and ordinary crib drying, moisture at picking time must be limited to 20% or risk costly storage damage, especially in humid areas where corn is not used up in a short time. Shelled corn, easier to dry and store, offers more opportunity to harvest earlier and avoid expensive field losses.

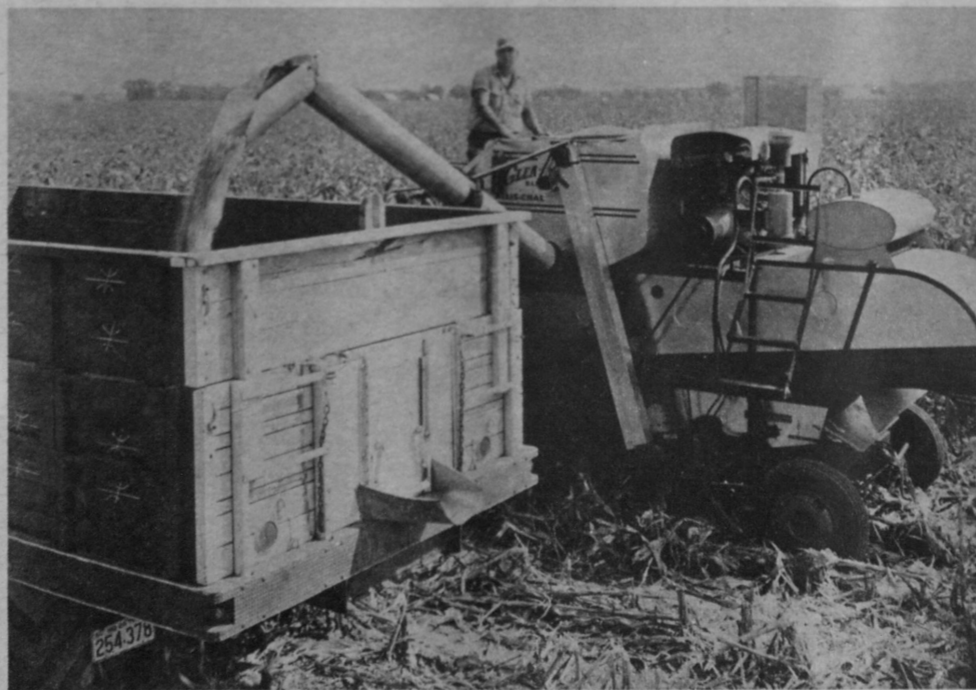

Harvesting wet corn, of course, means drying or storing in air-tight bins or silos . . . additional investment in special facilities if not already on your farm. But, as USDA and state studies show, some of these costs can be offset by savings in preventing field losses due to delayed harvest.

Since shelled corn takes up only half the space of ear corn, annual storage costs are lower — about 3¢-4¢ per bushel on grain bins compared to about 7¢-8¢ on corn cribs. This saving was mentioned as a deciding factor in shifting to field-shelling by 79% of Illinois farmers surveyed.

Unless kept in relatively air-tight storage, corn must be dried to about 13% in the Corn Belt for extended storage, 15%-16% if fed before warm spring weather. Drying costs usually range from 7¢ to 15¢ per bushel, depending on the kind of system used, the moisture removed and the number of bushels dried.

Size Operation Determines Drying System

"A field-shelling system involving natural-air drying costs about the same as conventional ear corn harvesting with about 3,000 bu. of corn if you are starting with a clean slate," estimates economist Davis. "But a farmer with a good crib must have about this volume to justify the shift from ear corn, and, unless the climate is rather dry, the slower effects of unheated air may allow mold to get ahead of drying."

Corn combines, such as this Gleaner, allow versatility of use. Detachable header converts it from corn to grain or bean harvesting in short order. On the other hand some farmers prefer picker-shellers which can be easily converted for ear corn, or shelled use. Studies show about 1600 bushels of shelling per year will return the original investment in the sheller attachment.

For the farmer with a lot of corn to be dried in a hurry, heated-air drying is usually the answer. It's available in batch-drying or continuous-flow systems, in combination with metal bins or perforated-floor wagons. You'd need to harvest about 12,000 bu. a year to make the investment pay off. But many top farmers spread their costs through custom work with a portable drying system.

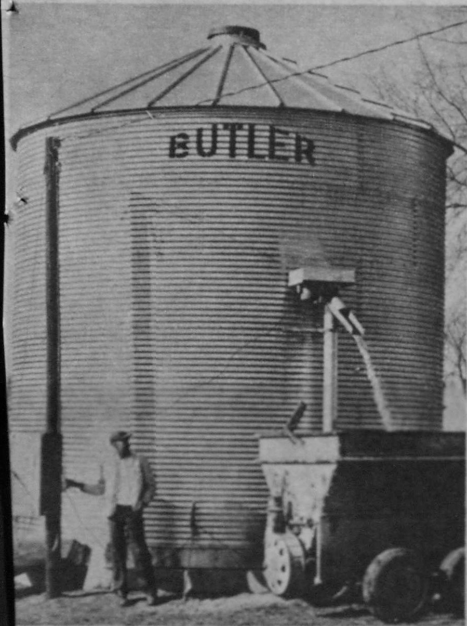

In between natural-air and heated-air systems is supplemental-heat drying . . . perhaps the most practical in the transition from ear corn to shelled corn. Davis estimates the break-even point between the two to be about 5,500 bu. a year. Even in humid weather, the small amount of heat that's added to a large volume of air can bring down the moisture.

Consider your entire farm operation when deciding whether to shift to shelled corn handling. Figure out especially how you can spread your new investment costs over more crops; for example, attaching a corn head to a grain combine, using the dryer for other grains or forage, utilizing storage for other crops, and custom work for neighbors.

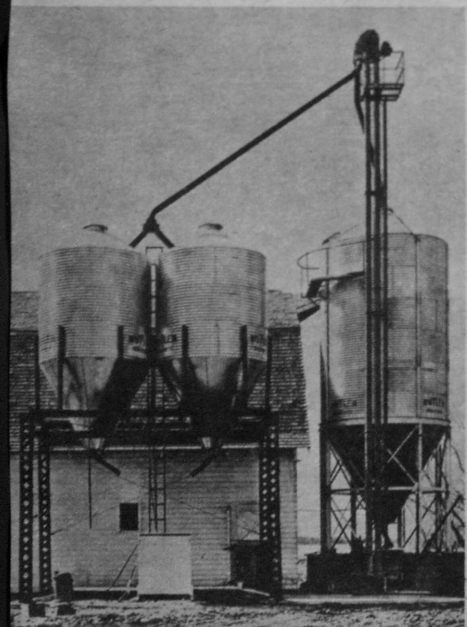

Also keep in mind how a change-over would help ease your work and build livestock to higher-profit volume. An hour's pencil-pushing with a good county extension director or reliable equipment dealer can pay off in big dividends for years to come.

Storage and drying systems are becoming more popular. Such systems save labor, time and costs and permit earlier harvest. They are suited to larger corn operations.

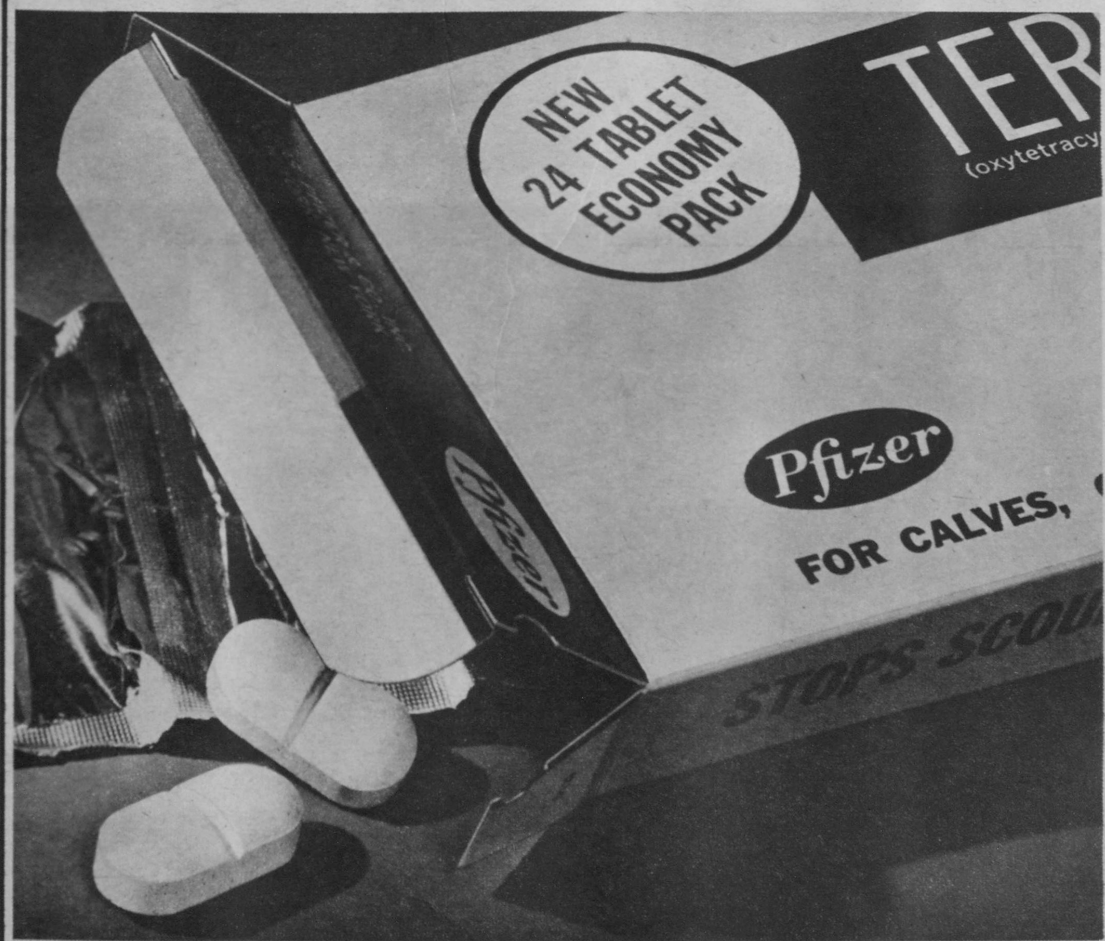

Modern corn storage bins make push button handling a reality on many farms. The bin shown above holds 3,276 bushels of shelled corn and is equipped with a dryer and automatic unloader.

Many feeders are using a system of overhead bins for grain, finished feed and feed ingredients. On this farm the larger tank holds shelled corn over a grinder.

ORANGE BUTTERHORN ROLLS

$\frac{3}{4}$ cup warm water (not hot—110 to 115°)
 1 pkg. active dry yeast
 $\frac{1}{2}$ cup sugar
 1 tsp. salt
 2 eggs
 $\frac{1}{4}$ cup soft shortening
 $3\frac{1}{2}$ cups enriched flour
 Orange Glaze

In mixer bowl, dissolve yeast in warm water. Add sugar, salt, eggs, shortening and half of flour. Beat 2 min., med. speed on mixer or 300 vigorous strokes by hand. Scrape sides and bottom of bowl frequently. Add remaining flour and blend in with spoon until smooth. Cover with cloth and let rise in warm place (85°) until double in bulk, about 45 min. (If kitchen is cool, place dough on a rack over a bowl of hot water and cover completely with a towel.)

Stir down batter by beating 25 strokes. Turn onto floured board. Cut dough into 3 equal parts. Shape into crescent rolls by rolling each part into a 12" circle. Spread very thin with Orange Glaze. Cut each circle into 16 pie-shaped pieces and roll up starting from wide side. Place on greased baking sheet about 2" apart with point underneath.

Again let rise in warm place (85°) until double in bulk, about 45 min. Heat oven to 400° (mod. hot). Bake 10 to 15 min., until nicely browned. Spread remaining glaze on hot rolls. Makes 48 rolls.

2 tablespoons brown sugar
maraschino cherries
sliced peaches
¾ cup milk
¾ cup sugar
1½ teaspoons salt
½ cup shortening
½ cup warm (not hot) water
2 packages or cakes yeast, active dry or compressed
2 eggs, beaten
1 teaspoon vanilla
4 cups flour

Melt butter in a deep 9-inch mold or cake pan. Sprinkle brown sugar in the bottom of the pan, then arrange the fruit attractively. Scald milk. Stir in sugar, salt and shortening. Cool to lukewarm. Measure water into a large mixing bowl (warm, not hot, water for active dry yeast, lukewarm for compressed yeast). Sprinkle or crumble in yeast. Add lukewarm milk mixture. Add beaten eggs, vanilla extract and flour. Stir until well blended, about 1 minute. Carefully turn batter into the prepared cake pan. Cover; let rise in a warm place free from draft 1 hour and 15 minutes until doubled in bulk. Bake at 375°F. (moderate oven) about 45 minutes.

BUTTERSCOTCH PECAN ROLLS

2 teaspoons sugar
½ cup lukewarm water
2 packages dry yeast
1 cup milk
½ teaspoon salt
½ cup sugar
¾ cups flour
¼ cup shortening, melted and cooled to lukewarm
2 eggs

FILLING AND GLAZE

1½ cups light brown sugar
¼ cup softened butter
1½ cups pecans
Dissolve 2 teaspoons sugar in ½ cup lukewarm water. Add 2 packages dry yeast. Let stand 10 minutes. Scald milk. Add salt and ½ cup sugar. Stir well and cool to lukewarm. Stir yeast solution thoroughly and add to lukewarm milk mixture. Add half the flour gradually and beat until smooth. Add shortening and eggs, beating well after each addition. Gradually add remaining flour and mix thoroughly. Turn out on lightly floured board and knead quickly for 3 minutes. Place in greased bowl, cover and let rise in warm place (85°F.) until double in bulk (about 1 hour). Meanwhile, into each greased muffin well put ½ teaspoon butter and 1 teaspoon brown sugar. Arrange 3 or 4 pecan halves in each. When dough is light turn out onto lightly floured board. Cut in half and roll each piece into a rectangle (about 15" x 7" x 1/3"). Brush each with remaining butter, sprinkle with remaining brown sugar. Roll each rectangle jelly roll fashion, sealing edges. Cut into 1-inch slices. Place slices cut side down in prepared muffin wells. Cover and let rise in warm place until double in bulk (about 1 hour). Bake in moderate oven (375°F.) 20 minutes. Let rolls stand in pans 1 minute before turning out. Makes 4 dozen rolls.

When the Egyptians started making bread about the year 2,000 B.C. they used much the same method that we use today. They discovered that when the dough was put out in the sun it would puff to more than double its original size. Today yeast is added to the dough. And as the action of the yeast goes to work on the natural sugar in the wheat fermentation begins.

Of all the contributions the Egyptians gave to civilization, one of the most important was their invention of light, good-tasting bread—a definite improvement over unleavened wheat meal cooked on a hot rock, as had been the custom in many lands.

Baking began as a profession as early as 200 B.C. in Greece. Later, when Greece was conquered by the Romans, public ovens were made available in Rome, and, like our own general stores, became community meeting centers.

In their baking today women are constantly searching for new ways to cut the work involved. Recently a flour manufacturer came up with the idea that sifting can be eliminated, and many housewives have agreed enthusiastically. To measure flour under this system you just dip dry measuring cup into flour, level off with straight-edged spatula. Where you used to sift ingredients together just mix them thoroughly.

We will be glad to hear how you like the recipes on these pages using the no-sift method and will send some nice prizes for the most interesting letters. Just write Susan Lowe, care of this newspaper.

BRIOCHE LOAF (French-type Bread)

- 1/4 cup warm water (not hot—110 to 115°)
- 1 pkg. active dry yeast
- 1/4 cup lukewarm milk (scalded, then cooled)
- 1/4 cup sugar
- 1 tsp. salt
- 1/4 cup soft shortening (part butter for flavor)
- 1 egg
- 1 egg yolk
- 2 3/4 cups enriched flour

In mixing bowl, dissolve yeast in warm water. Stir in milk, sugar, salt and shortening. Add egg and egg yolk. Mix in flour. Turn dough onto lightly floured board, cover and let stand 10 min. to tighten up; knead until smooth and elastic. Divide dough into three equal pieces. With hands roll each piece into a rope 12" long. Make a braid of the 3 ropes, pressing the ends together to seal them. Place in lightly greased loaf pan, 9" x 5" x 3". Cover with a cloth. Let rise in warm place (85°) until double in bulk, about 2 hr. (Top of loaf will just about be level with top of pan.) (If kitchen is cool, place dough on a rack over a bowl of hot water and cover completely with a towel.) Brush with melted shortening. Heat oven to 375° (quick mod.) Bake about 30 min. Brush with melted butter after taking from oven, if desired. Cool thoroughly before slicing. Makes 1 loaf.

Note: Because this is a rich dough, it is not as elastic as ordinary bread doughs and is very slow rising.

- 2 packages yeast, compressed or dry
- 1/4 cup water (lukewarm for compressed yeast, warm for dry)
- 1 cup milk

- 5 cups enriched flour (about)
- 2 eggs, beaten
- 2 cups raisins or currants
- 1/4 cup finely chopped crystallized ginger
- Confectioners' sugar icing
- Chopped nuts

Soften yeast in water. Scald milk. Add shortening, sugar, salt and cinnamon. Cool to lukewarm. Add 1 cup flour. Mix thoroughly. Add eggs and softened yeast. Beat well. Add raisins or currants and ginger. Add enough more flour to make a soft dough. Turn out on lightly floured board or pastry cloth and knead until smooth and satiny. Place in greased bowl. Cover and let rise until doubled (about 1 1/2 hours). Punch down. Let rest 10 minutes. Shape into small rolls of any desired shape. Place on greased baking sheets or in greased pans. Let rise until doubled (about 45 minutes). Bake in moderately hot oven (400°F.) 12 to 15 minutes. When cool, brush with confectioners' sugar icing and sprinkle with nuts. Makes about 4 1/2 dozen rolls.

 - 1/2 cup rolled oats
 - 3 tbsp. shortening
 - 1/4 cup light molasses
 - 2 tsp. salt
 - 1/4 cup warm water (not hot—110 to 115°)
 - 1 pkg. active dry yeast
 - 1 egg
 - 2 3/4 cups flour
- Stir together in large mixer bowl, boiling water, rolled oats, shortening, molasses and salt. Cool to lukewarm. Dissolve yeast in warm water. Add yeast, egg and half the flour to lukewarm mixture. Spread batter evenly in greased loaf pan, 8 1/2 x 4 1/2 x 2 1/2" or 9 x 5 x 3". Batter will be sticky. Smooth out top of loaf by flouring hand and patting into shape.

Let rise in warm place (85°) until batter reaches top of 8 1/2" pan or 1" from top of 9" pan, about 1 1/2 hr. (If kitchen is cool, place dough on a rack over a bowl of hot water and cover completely with a towel.)

Place on cooling rack or across edges of bread pans. Brush top with melted butter or shortening. Do not place in direct draft. Cool before cutting.

Bake in two 1-lb. coffee cans. Divide batter equally and spread evenly in two greased 1-lb. coffee cans. Let rise until batter reaches 3/4" from top of cans. Bake about 45 min.
