Construction in '61 Holds Same Level

Construction in Tawas City during 1961 remained at about the same level as the two previous years, according to a report this week by Reginald Bublitz, superintendent of public works.

A total of 59 building applications, representing a value of $290,415, were approved during the past 12 months by the department of public works.

This compared favorably with the two preceding years. During 1960, there were 60 building applications approved in Tawas City which represented a total value of $241,464. There were 11 new dwellings that year.

The previous year, 1959, Tawas

City had 72 applications approved with a total value of $300,735. This included nine dwellings.

Construction during the past year included eight new dwellings, $72,500; nine private garages, $6,580; 24 permits for home additions and remodeling, $29,115; five for commercial buildings, $63,200; 10 permits for commercial additions and remodeling, $14,050.

Total value of the construction was boosted considerably with the $100,000 application for construction of a new Zion Lutheran Christian Day School on Second Street.

Among new commercial buildings were Michigan Bell Telephone Company's new office and storage building on Oak Street, $50,000; Dr. John D. LeClair, a new building located adjacent to the Kroger Store which houses the retail sales outlet of the Michigan Liquor Control Commission, $12,000.

Included among commercial additions and remodeling was Consumers Power Company for its office and sales department at the corner of Wheeler Street and US-23, $30,000, and The Tawas Herald, new front and remodeling of interior, $3,000.

Although completed this year, the total figure did not include the Tawas City office of the Peoples State Bank. This application had been approved the previous year.

Police Investigate New Rash of Cabin Break-ins

Police are investigating a new series of cabin break-ins along the north shore of Sand Lake, Grant Township.

The break-in of nine cabins was discovered Sunday after an investigation by state police. Original complaint came from Harold Long of Millington, who had checked a cottage of a friend and found it had been entered.

Owners of the cottages are Paul Johnson, Gerald Clark, Pauline Lillich, Barney Duby, Robert Lyon, William Ward, Theron Partlo, George Dickerson and John Bacon Jr.

Police said that it does not appear that much property if any was stolen as many valuable items were left in the cottages. However, the loss will not be known until owners check their property.

Last winter, the county had a series of about 60 cabin break-ins.

East Tawas Centennial A Major Event in 1962

One of the area's major attractions next summer will be the observance of East Tawas' centennial, June 24-30.

Preliminary planning for the week-long program, as announced recently by Miss Edna Otis, general chairman, calls for a parade, fireworks display, street dances, banquets, sailboat races and a pageant depicting early history.

Other major attractions during the summer will be several sailing regattas on Tawas Bay.

City Fuel Demolished by Blaze Last Friday

Loss to City Fuel and Mason Supply at East Tawas last Friday morning amounted to more than $50,000 when fire swept through its one-story concrete block building at 119 Pine Street.

The blaze started shortly before 11 o'clock when the gasoline tank of a front-loader tractor caught fire, sending flames into the ceiling of the structure.

Rex Kochenderfer, owner of the firm, told investigating police officers that flames burst from the tank when he started the machine. He attempted to extinguish the blaze, but was soon forced out of the building by heat.

East Tawas volunteer firemen battled flames and smoke in below freezing weather for more than an hour before bringing the blaze under control in the warehouse part of the building.

The fire then reached a paint storage area in the sales department and the Tawas City Fire Department was called for assistance.

Black smoke from the burning paint and supplies billowed out of the building for nearly three-quarters of an hour before the fire was finally brought under control. Five fire trucks were at the scene, including two new units recently purchased by East Tawas and Tawas City.

One fireman, Edward Lixey, escaped serious injury when he was struck by a wrecker which had been dispatched to the scene. Lixey was struck down when the wrecker pulled out of the dense smoke with an oil tank truck in tow. He was taken to Tawas Hospital for treatment of bruises to the leg and head.

In addition to damaging the tank truck and complete loss of the front-loading tractor, a red-mix concrete truck which was parked in the building was also destroyed.

SMOKE POURS from City Fuel and Mason Supply, East Tawas, Friday after an exploding gas tank set the building on fire. Volunteer firemen battled the blaze in below freezing temperature for nearly two hours before the fire was finally brought under control. (More pictures on page 3.)

National Files Answer; New Development in Suit

National Gypsum Company, in filing its answer December 29 to current litigation in Iosco County Circuit Court, has asked Judge Allan C. Miller to make a judicial determination concerning construction of its "Port Gypsum" installation south of Tawas City.

John Watkins of East Tawas, attorney for the gypsum firm, claimed in his answer that National had acted lawfully in carrying out construction of the multi-million-dollar installation.

He declared that Act 94 of Michigan Public Acts of 1958 was unconstitutional on certain grounds which were not considered or ruled upon by the Michigan Supreme Court.

The gypsum firm, which carries ore inland and then transports it over Saginaw Bay to lake carriers, is being sued for about $400,000 in damages by property owners in the vicinity of the installation.

Among allegations, plaintiffs claim that lake freighters cause water to become muddy, roily and contaminated and that they have been deprived of the use of their property.

Litigation over the installation goes back as far as 1957 when National Gypsum obtained permission from the United States Corps of Engineers to construct a wharf out to navigable waters.

Property owners headed by Dr. Malvern F. Obrecht, Arthur L. Johnson and the Rev. Fr. Robert Newman petitioned circuit court here to enjoin the company from proceeding with the project.

Following long months of litigation, former circuit judge, Herman Dehnke, ruled in April 1958 allowing the company to complete the construction under certain limitations and left the door open to lawsuits by adjacent property owners should damages result from the installation.

Act 94 was adopted by the Michigan Legislature and became effective July 1, 1958, which purports to render illegal any alteration or modification of the submerged lands of the Great Lakes bordering Michigan unless approved by the department of conservation.

"By the effective date of the law, alterations or modifications necessary for erection of the supporting piers for the loading installation and a substantial part of the necessary dredging had been completed," it was stated in National's answer.

"After July 1, construction of the dock and dredging were continued and completed with the approval of the Michigan Department of Conservation and without violation of Act 94."

On September 16, 1960, the Michigan Supreme Court remanded the case to Iosco Circuit Court and subjected the gypsum company to payment of such claims as plaintiffs may be able to prove.

National Gypsum claims that Act 94 is unconstitutional as it contravenes certain articles of the United States and Michigan Constitution on the following grounds:

That it operates ex post facto to render illegal acts that are performed in accordance with the established laws of the state; that it impairs the obligation of those contracts for the construction and operation of the installation which were entered into prior to the passage and effective date of the act.

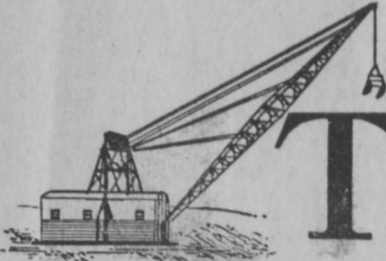

That it attempts to deprive the defendant, without due process of law, of important valuable property rights; that provisions of the act are vague, indefinite and uncertain as to what would constitute a criminal offense under the act.

It is also alleged that the act permits the department of conservation to make arbitrary discrimination in the granting or refusal of permit to littoral owners and to deprive the defendant of equal protection under the law; that it constitutes an unconstitutional delegation of legislative authority to an administrative agency.

As to the question of damages asked by plaintiffs in the present case before the court, the gypsum firm admitted that lake carriers "occasionally admit a slight condition of rolled water in the vicinity of ships," but denied other allegations.

Trial on the damage claims has been set for February 20.

Good Start—

Iosco County escaped the New Year's holiday without a serious traffic mishap, according to local law enforcement agencies. Only three minor property damage collisions were handled.

The sheriff's department reports a "very quiet holiday" with only one person lodged in jail over the week-end on drunk and disorderly charges.

D&M Engineer Retired Friday After 48 Years

When John Swartz stepped down from the switching engine at Detroit and Mackinac Railway's Bay City yards Friday, he was saying good-bye to a career as fireman and engineer which had lasted for 48 years.

He recalled the day it all began. A native of Tawas City, he had gone down to the D&M depot here to pick up his father, John L. Swartz, who was to serve the D&M as an engineer for 40 years.

Before he realized what had happened, he was offered a job as fireman. He held that job for 25 years, later becoming engineer. He was engineer on the line's Alpena to Bay City run for 20 years.

Swartz looks back on his career with nostalgia. "If I had it to do all over again, I'd still choose to be an engineer," he said. He is even more nostalgic about the days before diesels held sway.

"These diesels never do anything but slip and slide," he complained. "You pull the throttle and they slip—you apply the brakes and they slide. One good old steam engine is worth all the diesels you can build."

Swartz resides at Bay City with his wife, Lorene. They have a son, John D., who owns a motel in Florida; a daughter, Mrs. Richard Gaspe, in Alpena, and four grandchildren.

The closest Swartz came to a serious accident was in 1920 when a train derailed after a Saginaw River bridge failed to lineup correctly with the tracks. "I thought I was going to have to jump into the river," he said.

Swartz plans to go to Florida (See RETIRES, page 8.)

ASSISTANT CD DIRECTOR SPEAKS AT LUNCHEON

Francis Block, assistant director of Civil Defense in Iosco County, spoke at the Tuesday noon luncheon of Tawas Kiwanis Club. Block's topic was "Fallout Shelters and First Aid." Carl Thunberg was in charge of the program.

County Accepts Keys for New Airport Terminal

Formal acceptance of a recently constructed building which will serve as the terminal for Iosco County's new airport was made Saturday by the board of supervisors' aeronautics committee.

Turning over keys to the building was Floyd Schaaf Jr. of Huron Development Company, East Tawas, building contractor.

Members of the aeronautics committee making the inspection were Henry Oates, Clarence Everett and Edward Seifert Jr.

The new $6,840 building is of "Waylite" block construction and measures 24 by 32 feet. The one-story structure has an overhanging roof.

It includes a 15 by 18-foot water room connected by a counter with the manager's office. The building is heated by an oil furnace, has a hot water heater and two restrooms. Yet to be completed is an asphalt tile floor in the waiting room.

This building completes another phase in the county's construction of a new airport, which is expected to be ready for private plane traffic sometime next summer. It is located northeast of East Tawas and is about one mile north of US-23 on the Baldwin Township dump road.

When it is completed, the present county airport located near Tawas Lake will be closed. Part of this property will revert back to the City of East Tawas while the remainder has been sold to private interests.

Work on seeding the 3,500-foot runway was finished last summer. In addition, the northeast-southwest runway has cleared approach-ways. Some field markers have been set in place and the remainder will be set in the spring.

The airport is equipped with two 4,000-gallon fuel tanks and the county is now in the process of obtaining a right-of-way for a new road which would connect the airport with an entrance on US-23 near the Tawas Drive-In Theatre.

Total cost of the new airport and its facilities will be $30,000. Half of this amount is to be furnished by the federal government and the remainder through matching funds from the state and county.

"There is no question in my mind that the runway will be blacktopped in about five years," states Mr. Everett. He also indicated that one of the next steps would be construction of a plane hangar. The county is also to investigate the possibility of private

Aged Woman is Hospitalized After Exposure

An 81-year-old Tawas City woman is in serious condition at Tawas Hospital suffering from exposure.

Police said that Mrs. Ida Hass of 106 First Avenue apparently got out of bed early Tuesday morning and wandered outside her home.

Dressed only in her night clothing, she was found lying in the snow about 400 feet from her home.

Miss Leonora Hass, daughter of the victim, told officers that upon awakening, she checked her mother's room and found that she was not in bed.

An immediate search was begun by the sheriff's department, city and state police. Mrs. Hass was found about 10 minutes later and was rushed by ambulance to the hospital.

Officers said they were unable to determine how long the aged woman had lain in the snow.

Busy Year—

Tawas Hospital Had 718 Births During Past Year

Tawas Hospital was birthplace for 718 Iosco County babies during 1961, according to year-end statistics compiled Tuesday.

This total reflects an increase of 148 more births than were recorded at the hospital during the 12 previous months, reports Sister M. Olivia, SSI, hospital administrator.

Patients admitted to the hospital also saw a substantial increase during the past year. There were 3,096 admissions in 1961, as compared to 2,152 in 1960.

Patient days in the hospital amounted to 13,559, as compared to 12,389 during 1960.

Sister Olivia said that the hospital had a 100.2 percentage of occupancy, as compared to 91.3 during the previous year.

NEW YEAR'S BABY at Tawas Hospital was born to Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Potts of Tawas City at 8:55 a. m. Monday. The Potts named the seven-pound, 13-ounce boy, Kirk Douglas. He has three brothers, all born at Tawas Hospital. Mrs. Potts is the former Dorothy Heenan of East Tawas.—Tawas Herald Photo.

Mrs. Bessie Ruckle left Detroit the past week for Essex, England, where she will visit her brother, whom she had not seen in 42 years. She flew by jet to London.

100 Years Ago This Week...in THE CIVIL WAR

TOUGH TARS

One hundred years ago this week—on Jan. 3, 1861—Confederate Navy vessels inflicted moderate damage when they bombarded Federal Forts Mc Rae and Barrancas in Florida. As land forces grew in strength early in the Civil War, so did the Navies, with their offers of high bounties and pay. Above: A typical Union crew.

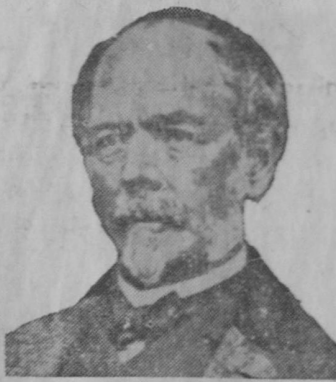

JOE JOHNSTON ASKS: Furlough, Bounty Act—Menace To Army Strength?

RICHMOND, Va.—Jan. 6—Gen. Joseph E. Johnston has asked Confederate War Secretary Judah P. Benjamin for help in administering the controversial "Furlough and Bounty Act," which went into effect last week.

Aides of Benjamin indicated the secretary tossed the problem right into the lap of Gen. Johnston, who commands all Confederate forces in Northern Virginia.

Under terms of the legislation—originally intended to spur re-enlistments and increase Confederate Army strength—bounties of $50 would be awarded to soldiers extending their tours of duty for three years or the duration of the war.

More enticing yet, the Confederate Congress authorized 60-day furloughs for these men and said they would be permitted to switch their outfits, or even their branches of service, if they wished.

JOHNSTON

JOHNSTON is said to have pointed out in strong language that the majority of the 60,000 men in his command were nearing the end of their original 12-month hitch.

If he granted furloughs under terms of the new act, his ranks would be stripped and his already shaky position made critically weaker, Johnston advised.

But Benjamin, who until last Sept. 17 was the Confederate attorney general, declined to issue formal instructions, telling Johnston only to use "extreme prudence" in granting furloughs.

Urges Adoption of Following New Year's Resolution

Michigan Heart Association, a Michigan United Fund Agency, today urged adoption of the following New Year's resolution:

"Resolved that in 1962, I will avoid the 'do-it-yourself' practice of medicine, and will accept advice only from my physician—especially if worried about real or imaginary symptoms of heart and circulatory diseases."

John D. Littig, M. D., Kalamazoo, president of the association, pointed out that only a physician is qualified to diagnose and treat illness in any form. As a precautionary measure, Dr. Littig added, people who are of middle-age and beyond should undergo an annual health and heart examination, "which is simple, easy and painless, and which consumes very little time."

The examining physician may say you appear to be in excellent health. In this case, start the year without major health worries. In other circumstances, remember that today—more than ever before—the physician is in a position not only to treat any heart condition which might be disclosed by an examination, but also to recommend positive steps which may guard the heart and prolong life. This is extremely important since heart and blood vessel diseases are responsible for about 54 percent of all deaths in the United States each year.

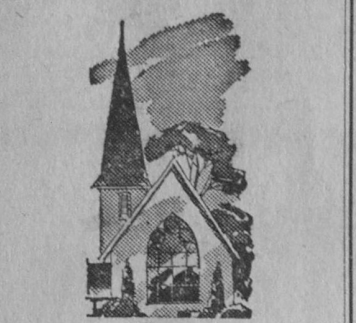

Properly prescribed drugs may control an existing condition, weight reduction under medical supervision or a program of prescribed exercise may be all that is needed.

For information about heart and its diseases, ask the Michigan Heart Association. But for medical advice, see your doctor.

WHAT A STUNNING ADDITION to any woman's wardrobe this belted tunic is! Versatile as it is practical, it can be worn over both casual and dressy outfits and is a perfect topping for both. It's certain to dramatize the best features of your older clothes and to score a stunning success on its own. This one's simple to make too. Get free instructions with a stamped, self addressed envelope. Ask for Leaflet PK-185Z.

THIS PANDA's big black eyes and alert posture show that he doesn't miss a trick. Youngsters'll love to have this perky little fellow for a playmate and don't be too surprised if the teenager in your household thinks he's "OK" too. He'll be a star addition to her stuffed animal collection. Free directions are yours with a stamped, self addressed envelope and a request for Leaflet PC-5420.

KNEE HIGH SOCKS are the rage among the younger set and they'll soon cause the same reaction among every one who wants to keep themselves fashionably protected from the cold of winter. They're perfect for any friend or member of the family. Easy to make too since the problem of turning the heel—previously a thorny one for beginners—has been eliminated with our new easy-to-make design. Ask for Leaflet B-147.

THIS PERKY LITTLE PINAFORE is just the thing for young ladies who moan when mother insists that they cover up their pretty dresses to keep them from getting soiled. The pinafore makes a new outfit that's as much fun to wear as a brand new dress. Mirror the smile on your youngsters face in the "face pocket" which beams out from a contrasting solid background or achieve a similar happy effect with your favorite gay plaid or print. Ask for Leaflet PPE-601.

MICHIGAN IS INDUSTRY DIVERSIFICATION

Michigan is a good place for any industry. Here we have the ability to produce almost everything—and we prove it daily.

It was Michigan which put the world on wheels when it developed the automobile and changed global economics. It was a Michigan-made Redstone missile which boosted the first American astronaut into space. In between these great achievements is the romance of industrial development by which Michigan advanced the living standards of nearly all peoples and served as the Arsenal of Democracy in the protection of freedom. The nation starts each day with a cereal—generally from Michigan. It travels over highways built with Michigan materials; protects its health with a Michigan-made pharmaceutical; enjoys the benefits of our research.

The skills, the knowledge, the brainpower which makes this possible is constantly available to industry—a new one or one which expands here. It makes Michigan a good place for industry—any industry.

Help carry Michigan's message to the nation. Clip this ad and mail it to someone in another state with your comment. Let's talk up Michigan and its advantages for industry. Together we can assure a greater future for all of us.

MICHIGAN IS EVERYTHING FOR INDUSTRY

"Diversification Would Stimulate Growth"

"Diversification would stimulate growth because of its influence on the stability of the community." That statement was made by J. C. Donnell II, president of the Ohio Oil Company, which this year is making capital investments of 14 million dollars in Michigan. Michigan industry is diversified, the Michigan Economic Development Department points out, but it is encouraging even greater diversification. Michigan industry lists more than 80 percent of the skills recognized by the United States Department of the Census. That means skilled workers are available for virtually any industry. It means that present industry can expand into new operations or that a new industry can locate in Michigan and be assured of trained workers. Even greater diversification is desirable, the department points out, to offer greater stability to Michigan's economy. With Michigan's research facilities, new industries have available great technical assistance. Present industries have this same opportunity for assistance in developing new products. Community leaders, local and state government are in accord that our present base of diversification should be strengthened and broadened. Diversification is good for community economy and a state where diversification is encouraged is a good place for industry.

I See... by the 'Herald'

... the Browns have a new baby . . . Betty Smith is engaged . . . Jane Warren's husband has been promoted. Your newspaper sparks so many conversations . . . keeps you "in the know" about what's going on around town and the county. Your newspaper is always right at hand, to read and enjoy—over and over again if you wish—and, by all the family!

No other medium is so constant and consistent in presenting every type of news—opinions, information and entertainment—public service, too. You listen to, and look at other media—but just leave the room—and you've "missed the score." Your newspaper is an ever-present reminder of what's "going on." Make THE TAWAS HERALD—YOUR newspaper.

YOU should be a Herald Subscriber!

- 1. BECAUSE The Herald carries pictures and reports of what's going on in your community, county and other vital state and national news that affects the readers locally.
2. BECAUSE it is a legal medium through which your city, township and county notices, regarding things which affect your pocketbook, are published.
3. BECAUSE it keeps you posted on all official actions by your board of education, school administration; it reports plans of official bodies which have the authority to levy taxes against your home, business or industry.
4. BECAUSE The Herald is your Shopping Guide, carrying the merchandising messages of bargains offered by your local stores, which saves you time and money by providing you an opportunity to prepare your shopping list in advance.
5. BECAUSE it provides a common meeting place for every reader in your shopping area where community affairs can be discussed and ideas exchanged to benefit all.
6. BECAUSE it sponsors, supports and boosts every worthwhile community project, including those of charitable nature giving to community leaders the aid and support which they must have in order to keep the community abreast of the times in carrying out the responsibilities of a collective or social nature.
ANY MEMBER OF A COMMUNITY who does not read the local newspaper is sadly uninformed on: CHURCH AFFAIRS, SOCIAL EVENTS, SCHOOLS, TAXES, GOVERNMENT, POLITICS and ALL Co-operative Community Projects.

Last - - But Not Least

The Tawas Herald carries THE NEWS about your neighbors and friends, their social activities, their happiness and sorrow, their successes, their marriages, births and deaths, their history in the making and their dreams of happiness and success to come.
