Board Changes Plan on Classroom Construction

Following discussion at Monday night's meeting of the board of education, it appeared certain that tentative plans for constructing three or four classrooms at the East Tawas elementary unit would be dropped.

Instead, the board authorized its architect, Brysselbout, Starke and Hacker of Bay City, to go ahead with plans for constructing a 50 by 70-foot multi-purpose room, kitchen, administrative office and restrooms at East Tawas and also develop plans for constructing a junior high wing at the high school on M-55.

This final action was the plan as originally presented to voters during the successful bonding election of 1961, which called for a pay-as-you-go program of school construction over a period of five years.

During recent board meetings, it had been the thinking of members that junior high school students should be segregated completely from the upper grades. It was thought that by adding three or four classrooms at East Tawas, the fifth grade presently at Tawas City could be moved there. This would have enabled moving the eighth grade into the Tawas City unit.

The school architect reported Monday night that cost of constructing the multi-purpose room, kitchen, office and restrooms at East Tawas would be approximately $11 a square foot or a total of $80,000. Adding another 5,300 feet in classroom space, the total cost would be $149,000.

It was pointed out by the architect, however, that the new heating plant at the East Tawas unit was not designed to handle additional classrooms and any further construction, other than the multi-purpose room addition, would entail further expansion of the heating system.

It was the opinion of Supt. Reynold Miek that the board should not commit itself to build a complete elementary unit on only one-half block of space when it owns the 10-acre East Tawas athletic field. He said that in 10 or 15 years from now, the athletic field could be utilized for a new school.

Board President William Look said he did not like to see expansion of the old school into the present playground, which he pointed out was needed by the children.

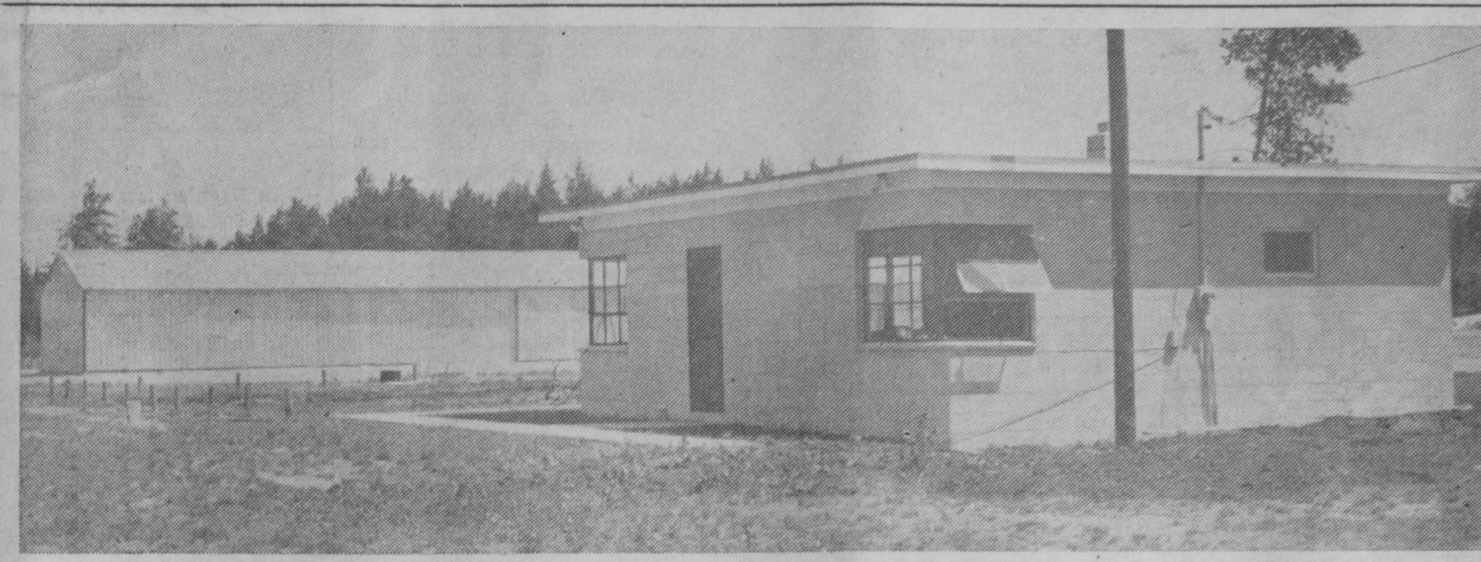

It was also pointed out that moving the junior high school would mean purchase of additional equipment for band instruction and additional cost of transferring students between buildings for other instruction.

Possible solutions suggested by the board included hiring of a junior high principal who would have complete charge of that wing, separation of the two wings by means of a gate across the corridor, changing the lunch hours of junior high.

It was reported that the school's peak enrollment is now in the sixth grade, which includes students in local parochial schools.

With cost of the proposed addition at East Tawas estimated at $80,000, approximately $120,000 would remain in non-committed funds from the five-year bond program to building a junior high wing.

The architect is to report back next month with a preliminary study for constructing the junior high wing plus final plans for the East Tawas unit. The latter is to be let for bids not later than January or February for construction during 1964.

Iosco County to Dedicate Airport in Special Program September 1

Iosco County will dedicate its new airport with appropriate ceremonies on September 1.

Program plans were finalized at a committee meeting Monday night according to Ralph Meyers, chairman of the Iosco County Board of Supervisors' aeronautics committee.

The new airport is located five miles north of East Tawas and one mile west of US-23. Iosco County Road Commission is presently completing a new road leading to the airport from US-23. The road is located near the Tawas Drive-In Theatre.

The days program will include a dawn patrol for visiting pilots starting at 6:00 a. m. sponsored by the Iosco Flying Club. Richard Egli is chairman. Breakfast will be served at the airport hangar until 11:00 a. m. Marvin Davenport will have charge of arrangements.

Dedication of the airport is scheduled for 10:00 a. m. Attending will be officials from the Michigan Department of Aeronautics, Federal Aviation Administration and officers from Wurtsmith Air Force Base.

Registration of incoming pilots and guests will be handled by Donald Watson at the airport office. Prizes will be awarded to the youngest and oldest pilots, owner of the oldest airplane in attendance, pilot with the least amount of flying time on license and the pilot traveling the greatest distance to attend the affair.

There will also be special entertainment and displays of experimental, vintage and new aircraft. Meyers said Monday that it would be difficult to estimate the number of persons who will attend the event. "The committee could be swamped with a large number of visiting pilots for the dawn patrol," said Meyers. He emphasized that attendance would depend a great deal upon favorable weather conditions.

The new airport is equipped with a 24 by 32-foot terminal building with waiting room and manager's office. The $6,840 structure was completed in January 1962.

The new $30,000 airport, financed by federal, state and local funds, has a 3,500-foot runway. Facilities include fuel tanks and plane hangar.

Alpena-Detroit Flying Service owned by Robert C. Welch of Alpena makes stops there on a telephone reservation basis.

Wibur C. Roach is airport manager. Members of the aeronautics committee besides Meyers are C. S. Everett, James Campbell and Edward Lixey.

Why . . .

East Tawas, Tawas City and Oscoda should choose Consumers Power Company as their gas utility company:

Two gas utility companies are asking for the privilege of supplying gas service in East Tawas, Tawas City and Oscoda.

Both are strong, dependable companies. One, serving Detroit and other communities, distributes more gas than the other, but both rank among the larger gas utility companies of the United States, not including the large electric operations of one of them. There is no question that either company could serve East Tawas, Tawas City and Oscoda well.

Why, then, should people of the three communities choose Consumers Power Company rather than Michigan Consolidated Gas Company?

HERE ARE SOME REASONS--

CONSUMERS IS A CITIZEN

The people of East Tawas, Tawas City and Oscoda know Consumers. They have been doing business with us for many years. And Consumers knows the three communities. It has been a civic-minded member of all of them for a long time.

Consumers Power Company, besides being a citizen, is a taxpayer—one of the largest in Iosco County.

It is also one of the largest employers in Iosco County, with 68 employees in the county. Of these, 15 are in the Bulk Power Department, the department that operates Foote, Cooke, Five Channels and Loud hydro-electric plants, along with many other electric generating plants in other areas.

As citizen, taxpayer and employer, it is interested in the advancement of Iosco County and its communities.

The stock of Consumers Power Company is owned by 85,000 stockholders, the majority residents of Michigan. Some of the stockholders are Iosco County people.

CONSUMERS RATES ARE FAIR

Consumers Power Company gas rates are fair and low. These rates, like electric rates, are regulated by the Michigan Public Service Commission.

The fairness of Consumers rates is indicated by the fact that 75% of all Consumers gas customers (there are 600,000 of them in 160 Michigan communities, including Bay City, Saginaw, Flint, Pontiac and Lansing) now heat their homes with gas.

The other company has claimed that its rates are lower than Consumers rates. This is true as to some space heating customers. On the other hand, the average customer using gas for cooking and water heating but not for home-heating, would pay a smaller bill to Consumers than to the other company. And the bill of an average commercial customer, such as a typical restaurant, would be substantially smaller with Consumers supplying gas service.

GAS SUPPLIES ARE AMPLE

Consumers Power has ample and growing supplies of natural gas under contract. This gas comes to Michigan by way of two strong pipe-line systems, not one. The two systems are those of Panhandle Eastern Pipe Line Company and Trunkline Gas Company. Deliveries in 1963 are higher by 25 million cubic feet a day than in 1962, and 1964 deliveries will be higher by 25 million cubic feet a day than in 1963.

Consumers Power Company and its subsidiary, Michigan Gas Storage Company, have more than enough storage field capacity to meet every need. In fact, Consumers can deliver substantially more gas from storage in a winter period of high demand than the other company. Establishment of two additional storage fields within the next two years is planned.

In the five years 1957-1962, the gas business of Consumers Power Company has grown considerably, faster than that of the other company, both as to volume sales and as to number of customers.

Consumers never has had an "interruptible" customer. It serves every gas customer it has 24 hours a day, no matter how low the thermometer falls.

HEATING QUALITY IS HIGH

Both Consumers Power and Michigan Consolidated receive large percentages of their gas from the Panhandle Eastern Pipe Line Company. It all has the same quality and heating value. Other sources available to the two companies supply gas of slightly different thermal value. The mixture reaching the customer is approximately the same in heating quality whether it comes from Consumers or Michigan Consolidated. Variations in Btu content of either company's gas are within limits established by the Michigan Public Service Commission.

It is on the basis of these facts that we ask the privilege of supplying gas service to the people of East Tawas, Tawas and Oscoda.

Comins Halts TC Winning Streak, 6-3

Tawas City's four-game winning streak came to a halt Sunday as Comins pushed four runs across home plate in the seventh inning to win, 6-3. Tawas City meets East Tawas this Sunday on the latter's home field.

Undefeated since splitting a July 7 double header with Comins, the locals outhit Comins, 10-8, but could not come through with hits when runners were on the bases. Comins took an 1-0 lead in the first inning but Tawas City bounced back in the fifth when Chum Lorenz hit a home run with two mates on base. Scoring ahead of the Tawas City shortstop were Don Lear, who had doubled, and Winters.

Comins closed the gap with one run in the fifth inning and then scored four times on only two hits in the seventh.

Starting and losing pitcher for Tawas City was Winters, who struck out three and walked three. He was relieved by Potts in the seventh inning.

B. Green started on the mound and shut out Tawas City until Lorenz's big blow in the fifth inning. L. Smith took over on the mound after that and allowed the locals only two hits.

Lorenz with a single and a home run and Olen Herriman with two singles were Tawas City's batting leaders. L. Smith, winning pitcher for Comins, led his team with three singles.

Hale Downed by Mikado, 10-3, In NEM Action Sunday

Hale lost to Mikado, 10-3, in a Northeastern Michigan League game Sunday. Mikado jumped on the home team for two runs in the first inning and was never headed during the remainder of the game.

Thompson was the winning pitcher for Mikado. He struck out 13, walked three and allowed five hits. Ryland was the loser for Hale. He was relieved by Ellsworth in the sixth inning.

Action this Sunday will find Hale playing at Skidway Lake.

Hale Little Leaguers Won 14-12 Tuesday At Rose City

Hale Little League defeated Rose City Little League last Tuesday by a score of 14-12. Scott Wercley hit a bases loaded double to drive in three runs in the second inning.

Greg Weishuhn pitched excellent baseball, allowing three hits and one walk. Greg was then replaced by Flynn Shellenbarger, who ran into trouble in the last two innings, due to some lusty Rose City hitting coupled with several walks and costly errors.

With one out and the bases loaded, Weishuhn was called back to the mound and quickly disposed of the next two batters.

League Leader Pushed to Win 5-4 Sunday

East Tawas rolled to its 12th straight win Sunday without a defeat in Northeastern Michigan League play by defeating Whittemore, 5-4, in a hotly contested game.

Larry Frank went the route for East Tawas and scattered seven hits to opposing batters. Roger Hall turned in an equally impressive game for Whittemore, limiting the league leaders to only six hits.

Whittemore drew first blood when Rempert walked and scored on Peterson's single in the first inning. East Tawas tied the game in the top of the fifth when Leclair walked, took second on Sventko's single and scored on an infield out.

Whittemore regained the lead in the fifth inning when Rempert was safe on an error, O'Dell walked and Bagent singled.

The league-leaders waited until the sixth inning before making their big move. Jordan and Pat Erickson opened the inning with back-to-back singles. Hall then forced in a run by walking Frank and Bolen. J. Bethard hit into a double play, but John Erickson doubled to score Frank. Bob Erickson singled to score Bolen and John Erickson.

Whittemore scored single runs in the seventh and ninth innings to come within one run of tying the game. The first came on an error and a double by Bagent and the game's final run came on a bases empty blast by Bagent, who had a perfect day with a homer, a double and two singles.

Frank struck out eight and walked five during the afternoon while Hall struck out three and walked five.

Receives Praise for Creation of New Tourist Travel Word

A commendation by the Michigan Tourist Council was released recently to Suzanne Humphrey of East Tawas for the creation of her word, "touristry," in describing Michigan's tourist travel industry.

In a letter to Suzanne, the Rev. Fr. Louis Cappo, chairman of the Michigan Tourist Council, stated, "It is a pleasure to write this letter commending you for your interest in one of Michigan's major industries. Touristry is a descriptive word which I am sure we will be seeing and hearing with increasing frequency in the years to come. It fills a long-standing gap in our technical language."

Suzanne's word was discovered by her teacher, Mrs. Austin McGuire, in a sixth grade social science letter written on "Know your area of Michigan" during the 1963 Michigan Week. Mrs. McGuire forwarded the letter to the East Michigan Tourist Association. The EMTA, in turn, recommended this be brought to the attention of the Michigan Tourist Council.

"It is an honor indeed that the word, touristry, which could be used throughout the United States of America and the world in the future, was originated in Tawas, one of Eastern Michigan's popular resort centers," stated James H. Hall, secretary-manager of EMTA.

Suzanne is the 11-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Humphrey.

Sea-Going Rifles Used in Fishing Operations in Alaska

There is a mist-shrouded fishing spot off Alaska where a very important piece of equipment is a sure-fire 22 rifle.

Keeping what you have caught is a tough problem for commercial fishermen off southeastern Alaska's rain-drenched shores. Before a net full of fish can be boated, you have to drive off anywhere from two to a dozen hunger-crazed sea lions and other marauders who find the netted fish ideal prey.

News of the unusual hazard to Alaska fishing operations came recently to Dr. Joseph Linduska, wildlife management administrator for Remington Arms Company, Incorporated. The company makes neither the boats nor the nets used by Alaska's hardy fishermen, but it does manufacture a line of unusually rugged 22 caliber rim fire sea-going rifles, which are made of tough, durable "gun-maker's nylon," guaranteed never to warp, crack, chip, fade or peel, and the same guns used by land-based sportsmen, shooters, hunters and plinkers... all of whom would be puzzled to hear their rifles being called "boat guns."

An Alaskan trading post where fishermen buy these remarkable Remington 22 rifles describes their use as follows:

Commercial fishing crews operating off Southeastern Alaska are constantly bothered by sea lions and other predators getting into their nets. Striking at the school of fish as the seines are worked, they feed voraciously on the fish, thrash about wildly, tearing the nets and causing much of the valuable catch to be lost.

They cannot be driven off by any means but shooting... and when the crew first spots a sea lion near the net, that is when the rifles come into play. Grabbing their guns, the fishermen shoot rapidly hoping to save both the net and the catch.

Then, with the catch still to be boated, there is real work ahead. Empty rifles are tossed into the bottom of the boat while all hands heave to the job of hauling the net and getting the fish safely boated.

Rifles that "go down to the sea in ships" get rough treatment. Salt water, fish slime, "bilgewater, cold and mud" are normal conditions on a fishing vessel. It is not uncommon for ordinary rifles to become broken up and completely inoperative in one to two weeks of this abusive use. But not nylon rifles—they are completely unaffected by the torturous treatment.

Linduska, speaking for the manufacturer of the unusually rugged rifles, says, "We are happy to learn that Remington nylon rifles are helping so many Alaskan fishermen bring home the salmon." To our knowledge, it is the first time 22 rifles have ever been used to catch fish.

"The one-piece nylon stock on the fishing firearms was devel-

This man-made material is so tough and strong that Remington guarantees it will never warp, crack, chip, fade or peel from the life of the rifle, or they will re-using their "boat guns" to make sure they haul in every fish in the net, now that they are "seal proofed" by guns that do not mind getting wet.

Outdoor eating can be a gala affair if you turn it into a family project and keep meals simple. As for the main course, kabobs are one of man's best friends. Only imagination and appetite limit the innumerable combinations that can be teamed up on skewers. And nothing can surpass a thick juicy steak, done to perfection as only a man can do it over the glowing embers of an outdoor grill.

On days when you're feeling a bit adventurous, you might try your hand at California Teriyaki with round steak cut into inch-wide strips that are marinated and broiled along with cantaloupe balls on skewers.

Along with your main attraction, salads rate in importance for your cook-out meal. Ham Julienne and mixed vegetable salad proves timely and attractive for an outdoor meal. Or a salad of sliced tomatoes and cottage cheese fits into the summertime theme while a rainbow salad is a colorful picture in itself.

But above all, keep your cook-outs simple and make them a family project.

THE "STORE BOUGHT" FEEDLOT IS THE FAST WAY TO SYSTEMIZE

HALF SAVED IS DEAD WRONG

Fight scours from both sides of the infection with Terramycin Animal Formula

How do you know where the trouble is when germs first hit? In the gut where scours start... or the blood where pneumonia and other diseases spread... or both? You don't!

That's why you should use Terramycin Animal Formula to save your baby pigs. It works both ways—in the gut and in the blood.

Most other antibiotics and nitrofurans sold in farm stores today work only in the gut; of the few that do get into the blood, none matches the long-lasting, broad-spectrum power of Terramycin. They break down more rapidly or are inactivated (tied up) more by proteins or calcium in the blood. That's why Terramycin gives you high, long-lasting blood levels without injection to fight diseases throughout the body... not just the gut.

See why Terramycin Animal Formula is the largest-selling soluble powder for pigs? Because you don't have to bet your pigs' life with half-right treatments... Terramycin works both ways—in the gut and in the blood.

VEITH creators of chemicals for modern agriculture

GEIGY AGRICULTURAL CHEMICALS
Division of Geigy Chemical Corporation • Saw Mill River Road, Ardsley, N. Y.

There's the fast way of systemizing a feeding operation. You call in a professional to do the entire job. In just a few short weeks you see an ultra modern pushbutton feeding setup take shape. A few more weeks your silo is full, your cattle arrive and you're in business . . . going first class all the way.

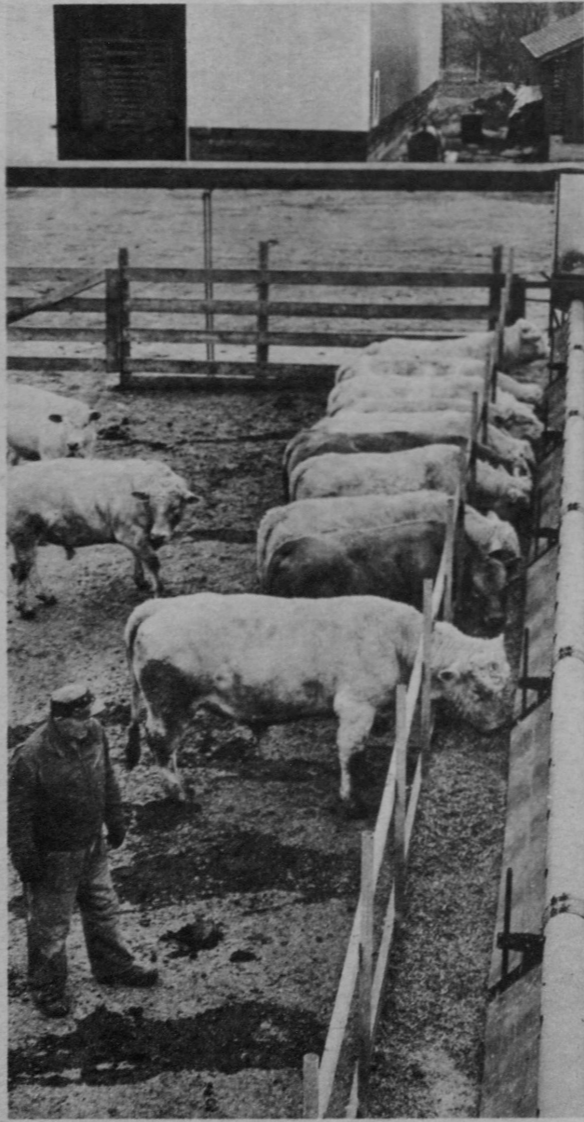

This is the course selected by Mr. Kay Wood, Kenosha, Wisconsin, when he bought a farm in southern Wisconsin.

Wood bought the Kenosha County farm in March, 1961. It consisted of 226 acres and some old buildings. He took one look and made up his mind to call in a professional to tackle the job of mechanizing the entire operation. He contacted Mr. Ollie Kirsch of Burlington . . . not a graduate agricultural engineer, but a thoroughly trained feedlot design engineer.

Wood told Kirsch to design a mechanized feedlot that would permit one or two men to produce and handle a maximum number of Charolais cattle. Right now, the farm manager, Julius Wegner, and one other man are caring for 220 head. It is strictly a breeding-feeding operation. The design will allow expansion to the east for fattening cattle some time in the future. A similar automatic feed transport system can be installed extending in the other direction.

A pushbutton panel is located on the feedlot side of the silo which permits the operator to see what's happening as the feed components are blended together and moved toward the six different holding pens. The feed from the smaller storage units, usually protein or grain, can be blended into the silage. It is then transported through the main auger-tube to any of three tubes that fill the bunks. A large pole-type shed, measuring 60 by 160 feet and open to the south, supplies shelter for cattle in any of the six feed areas.

Designer-builder Kirsch went into this line of work after he learned of many feeders who went so "wrong" building their own setup that they actually abandoned them after a period of unsatisfactory operation. He feels that systemation is the only way of achieving efficiency assuring good return.

"Superpicker"—the bold New Idea pickers with the world's biggest appetite for corn

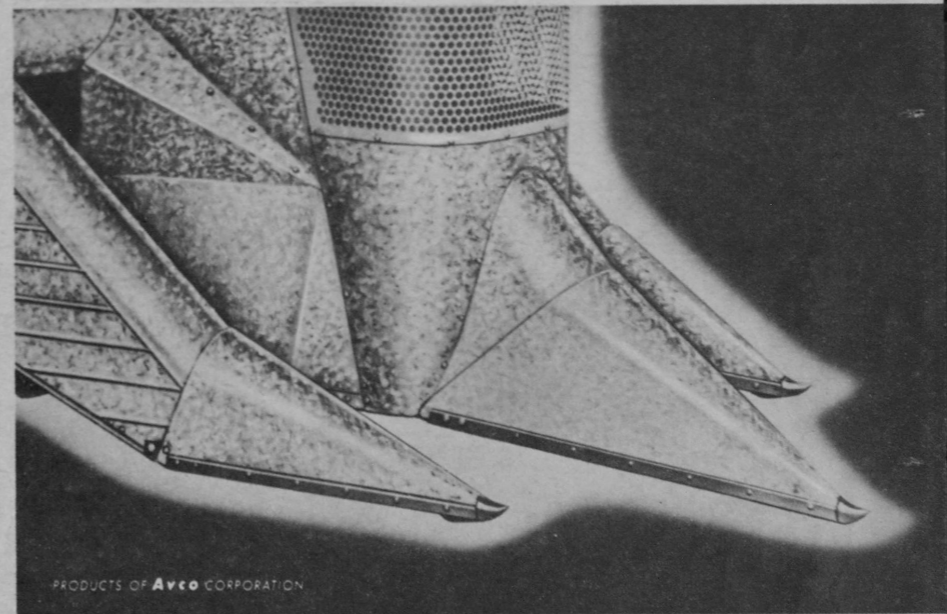

Big Capacity! Non-Stop Picking! Everything about a Superpicker is engineered to pick a field clean, keep the ears moving fast, do an exceptional husking job (or shelling, or grinding), and deliver corn the way you want it to your wagon—with less field loss. Sounds like a big order—but Superpicker does it! Here are a few of the ways:

Floating points are hinged above the greedy gathering chains to grab the down and tangled corn. Snapping rolls set at high angularity to move ears fast—and there are patented snap bars on each roll. Beaters to give heavy corn an extra boost through the snapping rolls. Wide elevators.

See a Superpicker soon. And take a good look at the new piggy-back field units that make this picker even more helpful. One more thing: The New Idea mounted Superpicker now fits over 100 different makes and models of tractors—so chances are it'll fit the tractor you now have, and your next tractor as well. New Idea, Coldwater, Ohio . . .

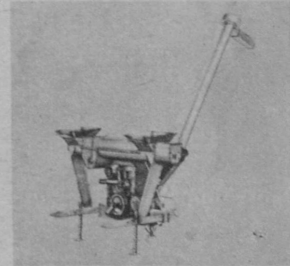

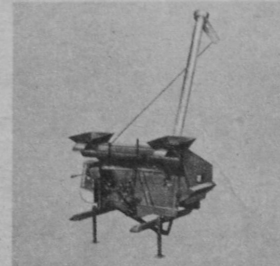

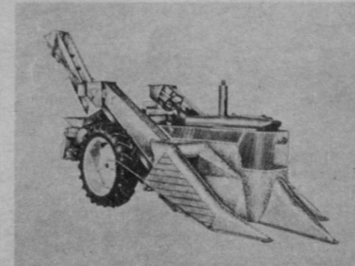

where bold new ideas pay off for profit-minded farmers

PICK 'N HUSK—In addition to the standard 8-roll, New Idea also offers a new 12-roll husking bed for heaviest yields and high moisture corn. Both mount or unmount in 30 minutes or less—without special tools. Fans are shielded. Shelled corn savers and agitator drums are standard equipment.

PICK 'N SHELL—New Idea now offers a big capacity cage-type field sheller that mounts and unmounts just like the husking bed. Positive auger feed; rugged, one-piece cylinder. One simple adjustment controls rate of flow. Corn thrower distributes corn evenly.

PICK 'N GRIND—Brand new field grinder mounts just like the sheller. Cuts up cobs and husks . . . sizes the cob particles . . . cracks the kernels . . . then augers the unseparated mixture to your wagon. Converts to stationary grinder using PTO drive.
