

City Council OKs Change in Zoning

Following a hearing Monday night, Tawas City Council adopted a resolution calling for rezoning of industrial property south of First Street to residential A.

Property affected by the change includes Lots 14-20, Block 2 of the Map of Tawas City and Block 5 of the Map of Wheeler's Addition.

Objections voiced by two property owners involved, Frank Wilkuski and William Borech, were withdrawn after city officials and planning consultant explained that present industrial use would continue to be allowed under legal nonconforming use.

Charles Leman of Vilcan-Leman and Associates, the city's planning consultant, said: "Through zoning, you cannot take a man's use of property away from him."

In his opening statement, Wilkuski said that such an ordinance change would discriminate against him, inasmuch as he had been a taxpayer for years and that Tawas Trailers, Incorporated, was now renting a concrete block building on his property. He indicated that either the city or private property owners should buy his land if such a zoning change was to be made.

Mayor George Tuttle pointed out that even though the property was rezoned residential, it would remain industrial as long as it was retained under present ownership.

Hugo Keiser, chairman of the planning commission, said that most people thought the property had reverted to residential after Wilkuski's Huron Rustic Furniture plant was discontinued. It was learned, however, that the property had never been rezoned.

"We are trying to look forward to 1985 when you and I may be gone," said Keiser. "The present industrial operation will not be hampered."

Leman said this was the only property north of the railroad tracks which is zoned industrial and was of the opinion that everyone would agree that all property in that area should be residential.

Wilkuski commented that his building had a replacement value of approximately $15,000. In answer to his question whether the building could be expanded in the future, it was explained that the city council, acting as an appeal board, would make such a decision.

Wilbert Treichel, whose home is located east of the old sawmill building, said he had no objections to the manufacturing operation of Tawas Trailers, Incorporated. He asked Wilkuski to remove the old (See ZONING, page 8.)

Dances Close Early on Council Order

Teen dances at the East Tawas Community Building held Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday nights are to be held no later than 11:00 p. m., according to action taken Monday night by the East Tawas Council.

Park Manager William Kusey said that many complaints had been received concerning dancing until midnight and requested that the council take action.

Police Chief Donald Docking said that the dances were chaperoned on the inside of the building but not on the outside.

General OK Given Master Plan Start

At a joint meeting Monday night of the East Tawas Planning Commission, city council, Baldwin Township Planning Committee and township board, general approval was given to the start of a master plan program.

At the same time, revision was made to a final application to the federal government for urban planning assistance funds.

Raymond W. Mills and Associates, Midland, planning consultants, are to start work on the program in the near future.

Mills explained that the master plan program would include four major projects: 1. basic mapping; 2. basic studies; 3. final plan and report; 4. implementation measures (zoning and subdivision ordinances).

"First step in the program will be preparation of base maps for the entire planning area comprising the City of East Tawas and Baldwin Township, a matter of 14 square miles," said Mills.

Following the mapping, there will be a land use study.

Mills advised that the township board establish a legal planning commission in accordance with the state enabling legislation, rather than the present planning committee.

The Midland planning consultant urged that the program be approved and carried on with continued joint efforts of the two planning commissions and that monthly meetings be held jointly to integrate the program.

Two Boats Destroyed—

Fire Sweeps Dock

Make Repairs on Deck Today; Remains in Use

Flames fanned by an off-shore breeze caused more than $50,000 damage to the Michigan Waterways Commission Dock early Tuesday morning, but harbor officials report that the facility will resume full operation again by Friday.

Carl Babcock, chairman of the Harbor of Tawas Committee, said that emergency repairs were to start Wednesday in order to keep this facility operating during its busy season. The deck is to be covered with plywood as a temporary measure.

A catwalk was installed over the burned section in order that boats could dock there last night. Electrical service and gasoline pumps are to be installed by Thursday.

Charles Latimer of Detroit, administrator of harbors and docks for the waterways commission, arrived here early Tuesday morning to assume direction of the repairs.

Discovered at 1:55 a. m. by Troopers Robert Huddy and George Woodward of the Michigan State Police Post, fire fighters battled for an hour before bringing the blaze under control.

In addition to destroying about 200 feet of the wooden pier, the blaze also completely destroyed the 58-foot fishing cruise boat, Miss East Tawas, owned by William DeGrow and Arthur Murphy, along with a 27-foot cruiser owned by Dean Nelson of Millington. A third cruiser was also damaged.

There were no injuries reported, although Nelson and two teenage companions made a narrow escape from his cruiser.

East Tawas Fire Department under Chief Wilfred (Skip) Rapp responded quickly to the alarm and drove one of its pumps out on the dock. With the flames spreading fast through the creosote-covered dock timbers, firemen were unable to prevent spread of the flames to the Miss East Tawas.

The Tawas Point Lifeboat Station sent its new 44-foot utility boat to the scene which is equipped for fire-fighting purposes. Coast guardsmen aboard the craft using two water nozzles, along with city firemen on the dock, knocked down the flames and prevented further spread of flames to 13 other cruisers.

The fire started a few feet north of the harbor master's office, which is located about mid-way in the center of a 200-foot long extending lake ward from Newman Street. A gasoline pump is located near the office.

Harbor master Arthur Frost reports that all records in his office were destroyed as the building was completely razed.

The Tawas Bay shoreline along both sides of the dock was packed with spectators, many of whom had left their tents in the state park. Flames and smoke shot up several hundred feet and muffled explosions aboard the Miss East Tawas added to the dramatic fire.

Efforts of Robert Langlois, East Tawas night patrolman, and a visitor, William Ledingham of Southgate, saved two boats which were in line of the fire. The two men used a rowboat to tow the threatened cruisers out of danger.

Exact cause of the fire has not been determined. State Police Fire Marshal Willis Meyers conducted an investigation Tuesday morning.

According to estimates, replacement value of the Miss East Tawas is $45,000. Only the wooden hull of the craft was floating after the blaze.

Nelson's 27-foot cruiser was valued at $7,000, while damage to a third boat amounted to $5,000. The $400,000 dock was due for major repairs within the next two years, reported Babcock. Timbers in the section which burned Tuesday were deteriorating.

The highway department's statement that plans had been completed and any objection by the city may cause a delay until 1967 has drawn the ire of city officials.

Only last week, the city, in a letter to Highway Commissioner John Mackie and Gov. George Romney, charged that it had no opportunity to view plans for US-23 until June 17. Contracts are to be let August 14.

Engineers Study Road Alignment on T. Point

Survey work on proposed road realignment at Tawas Point is being made this week by representatives of the parks and recreation division, Michigan Department of Conservation.

Announcement has been made that a preliminary master plan has been completed for presentation to the Michigan Conservation Commission.

Under the preliminary plan, it is proposed to relocate the road closer to Lake Huron in order to make maximum use of the entire point property.

Sam Milstein, landscape architect working out of the Lansing office, explained Monday afternoon that preliminary plans call for constructing a maintenance headquarters and staff building at the north edge of the property near the present road leading to the coast guard boathouse.

Property on Tawas Point owned by the State of Michigan consists of 140 acres, excluding the coast guard fog signal, lighthouse and reservation. The property is 7,000 feet in length from the coast guard boathouse to the tip of the point and ranges from 1,000 feet in width at the middle to a narrow strip at the point.

According to the preliminary master plan, the park has a potential of 385 camp sites on the Tawas Bay side. A day use swimming and (See POINT PARK, page 8.)

Advise Boatmen to Stay in Port During Stormy Weather

The best thing for boatmen to do in bad weather is to stay in port, advised the marine enforcement division of the Iosco Sheriff's Department.

However, here is what to do if you are caught on the water in bad weather:

1. Head for the nearest sheltered shore. If the water is very choppy, seat your passengers on the lowest part of the vessel, keeping them as close to the centerline as possible and head into the waves at reduced speed.

2. Should your motor fail, or if the sea is so strong that you cannot make headway, attach a sea anchor from the bow to keep the boat headed into the wind. A bucket or a shirt with the sleeves knotted together attached to a line will do the job in an emergency.

Keep calm. Panic spreads easily. A small boat is capable of surviving in bad weather if handled calmly and correctly.

Michigan Shoreline Tour

Lake Erie Marshes

Ever consider Michigan's shoreline for a touring summer vacation? Here are 2,254 miles of scenic frontier along which the vacationer may find as many different moods as suit his fancy. Perhaps a small portion of this long coastline will be enough; there is too much to see in a single summertime. Choose Lake Huron for the sea-sort of sunrises that come to our east; or Lake Superior for moody unpredictability and violently wild nature. Where people populate, there are roads to carry the traveler to the towns, hamlets, and cities of this coastal empire. Where wilderness is needed, we are still lucky to have un-highwayed expanses along our Superior shore. To find solitude there, the traveler must leave his car and use Shank's Mare or Aluminum Canoe. Michigan's many islands also offer coastal opportunities. Take your pick and find a beach to poke along. The sun is sunnier, the air is airier, and the memory of such a trip will linger longer.—Mich. IT'S NEVER TOO EARLY to learn . . . and that's true where the telephone is concerned, too. That's why it's such a good idea to teach young children how to use the telephone correctly—especially for emergencies. A child can easily learn how to dial the Operator—and, if need be, ask the Operator to call the police or fire department. When children understand what a phone is for and how to use it, they're less apt to regard it as a toy, or "play games" that could interfere with calls from people trying to reach you.

CAREFREE TRIPS are at your fingertips this summer . . . when you remember to phone ahead. It's really amazing how many summer-fun problems the phone can solve for you. And how many ways the phone can add to your fun! Like making sure of your reservations, on a two-week trip. Or inviting a friend to join you for a swim on a warm Saturday afternoon. And when you're on the move, Michigan Bell has 45,000 public phones to serve you. You'll find them alongside highways, near the beach, in stores and office buildings.

COST CONSCIOUS? Costs are on everybody's mind these days. And that goes for your telephone company, too. For example, Western Electric, the manufacturing and supply unit of the Bell System, recently developed a new method of making the familiar "plungers" for the handset cradle on telephones. The new method cuts nearly two cents from the cost of manufacturing each phone—an aggregate saving of over $100,000 a year. Cost reduction is an everyday part of our job, helping us provide you with telephone service that is high in value, low in cost.

Second Hole-In-One Shot at Tawas Golf Course Wednesday

Carlton Haglund of East Tawas, an employee of Iosco Road Commission, shot a hole-in-one during Wednesday night league play last week at Tawas Golf Club.

It was the second ace of the week fired at the local golf course. Hitting last on the par three seven hole, Haglund used a two iron to ace the 172-yarder.

Haglund and his partner, Robert Huddy, were playing LeRoy McCluer and William McCoy, league leaders.

Only the night before, McCluer aced the 150-yard par three third hole.

"Because of a rather stiff wind, I intended to use a four wood," said Haglund. "When Mac used an iron and put the ball next to the pin, I decided to follow suit."

The ball went straight to the green, rolled a few feet, hit the pin and dropped in. Golfers watching from the clubhouse also witnessed the shot.

Haglund shot a one over par 37 for the round and he and his partner took 16 of a possible 21 points from their opponents. McCluer, who had a birdie two on the seventh, fired a 38.

Disability Pensions Paid at Any Age Through SS Law

Has disability robbed you of your earning capacity? If so, you should check with your social security office, according to Paul M. Ellifritz, district manager of Bay City.

Monthly benefits can be paid at any age to working people who have become unable to work by reason of a severe disability that is expected to last for a long time. Benefits begin with the seventh month of disability, but an application may be made before that time. To be eligible, the disabled worker must have social security credit for at least five years' work in the 10-year period before he became disabled.

When one makes an application, necessary medical evidence must be submitted. When this evidence has been obtained, along with other facts, a decision will be made as to whether your condition is severe enough to be qualified as "disabled" under the term of the law.

A representative of the Social Security Administration will be in Tawas City at the Iosco County Building Thursday, July 25, at 10:30 a. m.

ET Rural Patrons Now Served by Two Carriers and Routes

Rural patrons of the East Tawas post office are now served by two carriers and two separate routes. Effective Saturday, July 6, the rural route which had been established there seven years ago, was split into two different routes with numbered designations of routes one and two.

Lloyd Bowman, who had been the rural carrier since establishment of the route on May 17, 1956, will continue to carry mail on route one. Mrs. Doris Anschutz, who has been casing mail for the old route on a part-time basis, has been named temporary carrier for route two.

Postmaster Richard Price said that the route had been split because of the very large increase in patrons and number of miles traveled by one carrier.

Route one had reached a point where it served 828 families and was 74 miles in length.

Bowman's new route is 43 miles in length and serves patrons in Wilber Township, Tawas Lake, along East Washington Street and the Bennington Subdivision.

Route two, comprising 32 miles, serves patrons on Tawas Beach Road and along US-23 as far as Au-Sable Point Road.

For many years, rural patrons at East Tawas were served by contract carriers under a star route system. After changing to rural route, about five miles was taken off and added to the Oscoda post office.

With the opening of several new subdivisions between East Tawas and Oscoda, along with other year around residents moving into the Tawas Point area, the postal department took this latest step in an effort to speed mail service to its rural patrons.

Whittemore Woman Found Guilty on Homicide Charge

A circuit court jury deliberated 3 1/2 hours Thursday before finding Mrs. Katherine Gay of Whittemore guilty of negligent homicide.

Mrs. Gay was driver of a car in which a Whittemore woman, Mrs. Marion Dumas, was fatally injured September 22.

The car driven by Mrs. Gay rrammed into a Grabow Distributing Company semi-trailer parked on M-65 in Whittemore.

Among those testifying in the trial, held before Judge Allan C. Miller, was Richard Dumas, 12-year-old son of the victim. Young Dumas was a passenger in the car with the two women and another brother.

Negligent homicide is a circuit court misdemeanor and carries a maximum sentence of two years imprisonment and $2,000 fine, according to Prosecuting Attorney William McCready.

A stay of proceedings has been asked by George Timmonson of Saginaw, attorney for Mrs. Gay, who contemplates a motion for a new trial.

Acting on the jury were Geraldine Leslie, Mary Maniaci, Larry Davis, Marvon Morgan, Evelyn Wendt, Eda Bolen, Viola Werner, Floyd Peters, Delbert Dunham, Walter Laidlaw, Horace Hilbert and Charles Katterman.

Files Counter Claim In F&M State Bank Slander Suit

Deuell D. Pearsall and Farmers and Merchants State Bank of Hale filed a counter claim June 28 against J. Morley Stevenson and cross-defendant, Fireman's Fund Insurance Company, a California corporation.

In its claim, the bank alleges that Stevenson, former executive vice president and cashier of the bank, "wrongfully and willfully appropriated to his own use $10,124 which was payable to the bank."

The bank asks Isosco Circuit Court to render a judgment for that amount in its favor, saying that the money is covered by a bond held by Fireman's Fund Insurance Company.

A jury trial will be held Tuesday, September 10, on a slander suit brought by Stevenson against Pearsall and the bank. Stevenson claims judgment and damages of $250,000.

Board of directors of Farmers and Merchants State Bank demanded Stevenson's resignation on July 18, 1962. Stevenson claims that a statement made by Pearsall to a third person in the banking industry was slanderous to him.

The property was acquired from the federal government after it was declared surplus by the coast guard. Its purchase for park use came through a special legislative appropriation.

Roughly one-third of the point extending from the lighthouse to the tip will be preserved as a nature study area.

It has been emphasized by department officials that all plans are preliminary and are subject to approval by the conservation commission. It has been reported that approximately $95,000 is now

Swim Classes Under Way

Swimming instruction classes being conducted by Douglas Evans, water safety instructor, are now in their second week at beaches in Tawas City and East Tawas.

Evans reported earlier this week that 129 youngsters were participating at East Tawas and 57 were enrolled at Tawas City. The program includes instruction at Tawas City on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, while classes are held at East Tawas on Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

The swimming program is extended through the financial cooperation of local city governments and local chapter of the American Red Cross.

The six-week instruction includes classes for beginners, advanced beginners, intermediate, swimmer, junior and senior life savers.

At the conclusion of this program, a water carnival will be held at which time certificates will be awarded to successful participants.

Assisting Evans in the program are Michael Putnam, Wayne Frank, Richard and Sue Schlecte, water safety aides.

Roseville Skier is Injured in County's First Water Accident

A 35-year-old Roseville man received serious injuries Saturday afternoon in a water skiing accident at VanEtan Lake. It was Isosco's first boating accident of the summer.

James E. Priemer was treated at Wurtsmith Air Force Base Hospital for lacerations to the left side, five fractured ribs and internal injuries.

Priemer had been water skiing and fell off his skis. His brother-in-law, Ernest G. Hawkinson, 39, also of Roseville, was operating the motor boat.

Hawkinson told investigating officers that as he turned the boat around and headed back to pick up Priemer, the motor stalled.

The operator apparently lost sight of Priemer and did not realize the man had been struck by the propeller until he heard his call for assistance.

Investigation was conducted by Wurtsmith Air Force Base police, Oscoda Township Police Department and Francis J. Block, marine enforcement officer for Isosco County Sheriff's Department.

GRASSROOTS GLEANINGS

by Bill Stokes

The Reinbeck Courier, Reinbeck, Iowa, tells the story of the family with bees in the walls of the house. They've been there for years, the story goes, and have caused very little trouble.

The lady of the house is quoted as saying that about ten years ago a hired man crawled into the attic for some honey. What I'd like to know is, did the hired man crawl back out, or is he still in the attic, stuck fast to the honey?

The lady also said that occasionally a bee will fly into her shoe during the early morning hours, and "you can guess what happens then."

No I can't. I'd rather someone told me. Or better yet, I'd like somebody to capture the proceeding on a home movie outfit.

The Winner rock hounds had a meeting, the Winner Advocate of Winner, S.D., reported, and part of the discussion was on which rock—the Fairburn agate or the Rose quartz—should be recommended as the official state rock.

I don't think I could be much help to discussing the situation for Montana I'd like to recommend that the official rock be the dinosaur gizzard stone.

We have a light-weight rock hound at our house, and on a recent trip through Montana a rancher gave him what is alleged to be a dinosaur gizzard stone. Prior to this, I didn't even know a dinosaur had a gizzard.

But we got the gizzard stone and told a few people what it was and they looked at us and edged away saying, "Sure it is."

This is the time of year for class reunions, according to an item in the Le Mars Globe-Post of Le Mars, Iowa.

Just because of an uncontrollable urge to add to the world's store of knowledge, I'd like to know if a gal going to a class reunion had her choice, would she rather have a new dress or a new girdle?

They had a stork shower for a lady in Oakwood, Ohio, the Oakwood News relates, and the account of the event said that "Regrets were sent by . . ." and there followed a list of ladies.

While we're in a questioning frame of mind, what were those ladies regretting? Were they simply regretting that they could not attend the shower? Were they regretting that their friend was going to have a baby? Were they regretting that they were not having babies? Or were they regretting that they would miss the cake and coffee?

They let a man out of the Johnson county jail long enough to get married, the Johnson County News of Greenwood, Ind., reports, which goes to prove that a man isn't even safe in jail.

There was mention in a recent issue of the Burlington Standard Press, Burlington, Wis., on the changes automatic machines have wrought in traditional washdays. There is no longer the Monday morning race to get clothes on the line before any one else, the Standard Press reports.

With all due respect to my mother, she was never in the race. The reason was not because she wasn't interested in cleanliness, because Lord knows she was. It was because she didn't have the mechanical ability to get the gasoline engine on the washing machine started.

She began cranking—with one foot—just after the sun was up, and she kept it up for an hour or so, throwing her weight onto the foot pedal that was supposed to inject life into the cantankerous old engine.

Rarely did the engine give so much as a cough to indicate it would ever come alive, but this did not daunt dear mother. She cranked harder, and soon perspiration began streaming down her face and periodically she would collapse and hang across the washing machine like a wet stocking.

Sometimes she would kneel down and stare at the engine, and once I saw her caress the sparkplug, but this was as far as her mechanical attempts went.

After several hours of cranking, she would sometimes cry briefly, and on occasion she would emit a short, hysterical burst of laughter. Generally, though, she just cranked until the engine gave up and started.

This is the kind of adventure that is denied the ladies of today.

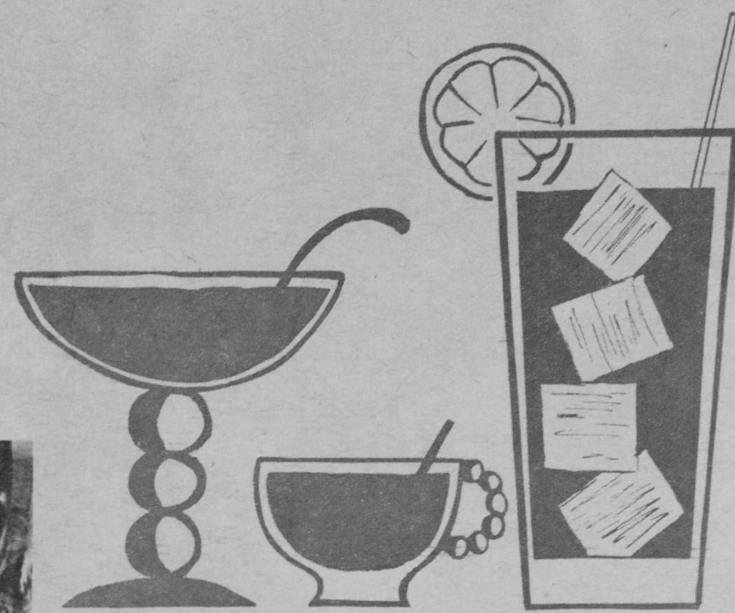

This is a busy time of year for 4-H kids, we are reminded by an item in the Mason County Democrat, Havana, Illinois.

The thing I seem to remember best about 4-H is trying to wash the grass-stains from the knees of a Holstein calf the week before county fair time.

The meetings taught you how to run in a circle, from playing drop-the-handkerchief. I think I was the treasurer one year, and this was the year we almost became the very first 4-H club in the country to file bankruptcy.

NO-COOK BLACKBERRY JAM

3 cups prepared fruit (about 1½ quarts fully ripe blackberries) 5¼ cups sugar
1 box powdered fruit pectin
¾ cup water

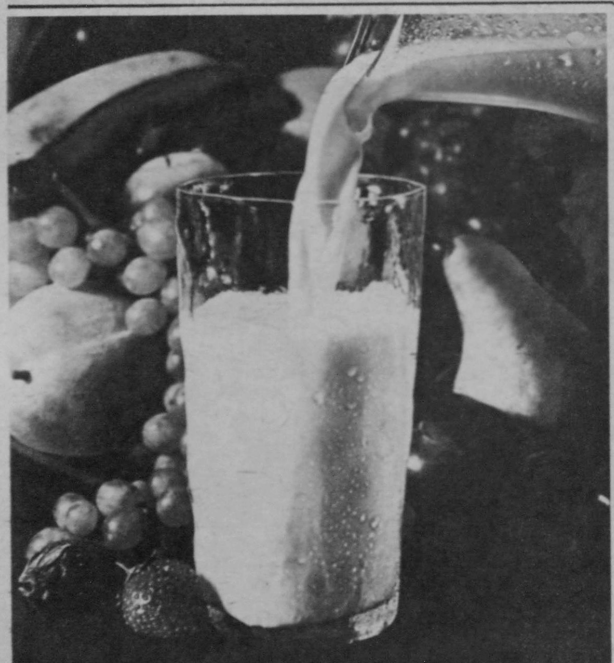

First prepare the fruit. Completely crush, one layer at a time, fully ripe berries. If desired, sieve half of pulp to remove some of seeds. Measure into a large bowl.

Then make jam. Measure sugar; stir into fruit and mix well. Combine ¾ cup water and powdered pectin in small pan. Bring to boil and boil 1 minute, stirring constantly. Stir into fruit mixture. Continue stirring 2 minutes. A few sugar crystals will remain. Quickly ladle into glasses. Cover at once with tight lids. When set (may take up to 24 hours) store in freezer. May be kept in refrigerator if used within 3 weeks.

"No-Cook" . . . JELLY

The days of jelly-making are rolling 'round once more but we no longer have to stand over a hot stove for hours upon hours. There's exciting news in the jelly-making field for now there's a "No-Cook" method!

It's a simple procedure, particularly adapted for jelly or jam. Called "No-Cook", it means just that. Ripe, seasonal fruit is merely crushed or chopped, never cooked, thus preserving the natural freshest flavor for the jelly glasses. As easy as 1-2-3, all that is necessary is to pour powdered fruit pectin and boiling water or lemon juice over the prepared fruit which has been mixed with sugar. Or liquid fruit pectin may be used. A three-minute stir and then into the jelly glasses for a shimmering, soft jelly. Either jelly or jam can be made with the "No-Cook" method and may be stored indefinitely in the freezer. Good use can be made of seasonal fruits to produce many compatible combinations, or for just plain delicious, delicately flavored jelly for immediate and future enjoyment.

4 cups sugar ½ bottle liquid fruit pectin

To make no-cook jelly. To measured juice in bowl or pan, add measured sugar; mix well. Mix water and liquid fruit pectin well in small bowl; stir into juice. Continue stirring 3 minutes. (A few sugar crystals may remain.) Pour quickly into glasses or freezer containers. Cover at once with tight lids. Let stand until set — takes up to 24 hours. Store in freezer or, for use within 3 weeks, in refrigerator.

PEACH WALNUT JAM
(Standard Method)

Yield: about 11 medium glasses (5-½ lbs. jam)

4 cups prepared fruit (about 3 lbs. ripe peaches)
½ cup chopped California walnuts

7 cups sugar
½ bottle liquid fruit pectin
¼ cup lemon juice (about 2 lemons)

First, prepare the fruit. Peel and pit about 3 pounds fully ripe peaches. Grind or chop very fine. Measure 4 cups into a very large saucepan. Chop the walnuts and measure ½ cup into the saucepan with the peaches. Squeeze the juice from 2 medium size lemons. Measure ¼ cup juice into saucepan with peaches.

Then, make the jam. Add sugar to fruit in saucepan and mix well. Place over high heat, bring to a full rolling boil, and boil hard 1 minute, stirring constantly. Remove from heat and at once stir in fruit pectin. Skim off foam with metal spoon. Then stir and skim by turns for 5 minutes to cool slightly, to prevent floating fruit. Ladle quickly into glasses. Cover jam at once with ½-inch hot paraffin.

Note: This jam may set slowly — allow about 2 weeks.

HIGH MOISTURE

FEEDS ECONOMICALLY—A ration of alfalfa haylage and high-moisture corn provides enough protein so that Harold Gardner of near Monmouth feeds no protein supplement after his cattle are on full feed. He force feeds minerals.

TOP FARMER—Harold Gardner has built his feeding operation around four big silos, two located on each of the farm's two units. A third is to be built soon on the "home place," home of Harold Gardner.

CORN . . .

LOW MOISTURE HAYLAGE

Harold Gardner of Warren County, Ill., has all of the confidence in the world in the future of farming and in a feedlot operation in particular.

You can sense it the first moment you step foot on this modern, efficient livestock farm from which several hundred head of steers roll to market each year. Four big silos—two on each unit of the Gardner Brothers' Stock Farm—are the dominant features of the panorama surrounding feedlots filled to capacity with cattle at various stages of readiness for market. Full use is made of each of the tall silos that have become the central point of the Gardner operation.

"I specialize in grass-fed cattle and actually I receive a premium for them in spite of the fact that packers once looked down their noses at anything except corn-fed steers," states the 41-year-old operator of one of Western Illinois' finest stock farms. He feeds his cattle a ration of dry haylage and high-moisture corn.

Two of his silos are filled with alfalfa haylage and the other two with high-moisture corn grown on 700 of Gardner's 890 acres this year.

Gardner is just as efficient at growing corn as he is at fattening a lot of premium beef. This year his corn averaged almost 130 bushels per acre—a bumper yield even for the rich, black loam he farms.

"You may think it sounds strange, but I actually get a premium for my grass-fed cattle," remarked Gardner as he fingers a mixture of haylage and wet corn in the feed bunks where 300 white faces eat.

"But that is just what happened," he continued, explaining that a few weeks ago a Dubuque, Iowa, packer bought a consignment of steers on his farm.

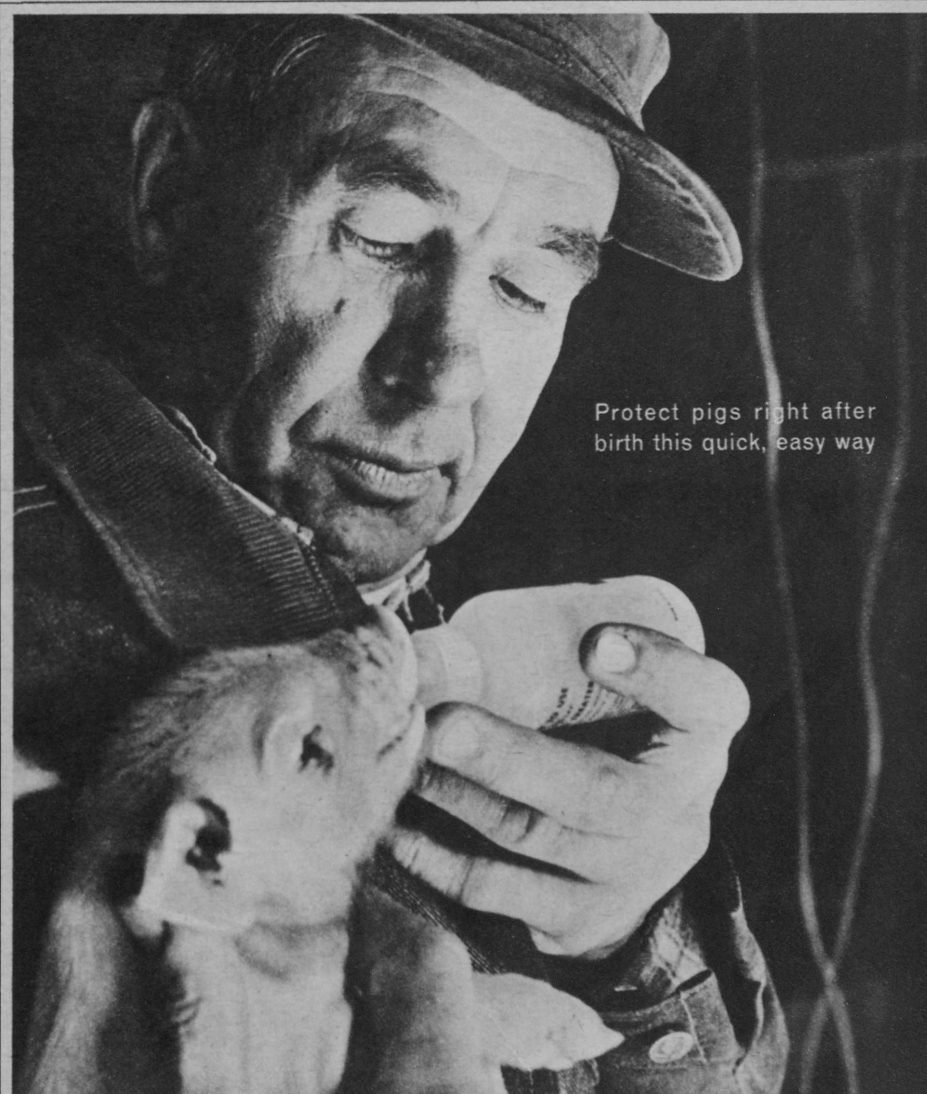

"The packer wanted me to accept a price based on his estimate that the steers would cut out 62 percent," recalled the likeable stockman.

"I held out for 10 cents extra for every quarter-percent above 62 percent that they graded and the buyer finally agreed," he went on.

The happy result for Gardner was that the grass-fed steers dressed out 63.8 percent and his check from the packer included a fat 73 cents extra for every 100 pounds of live weight. Because of the nature of Gardner's feeding operation, he figures his cattle get plenty of protein from the haylage and high-moisture corn so he cuts a corner by not feeding protein with this ration after the steers go on full feed.

Hogs fattened at the Gardner Stock Farm have a strong liking for wet-corn, and the Warren County farmer jokes that "they are the softest eating hogs in the world".

Gardner knows how to make every motion pay whether it is in blowing 12,000 bushels of corn into one of the big silos or figuring out a way to make his land produce bigger yields with more efficiency.

Science for the world's well-being®

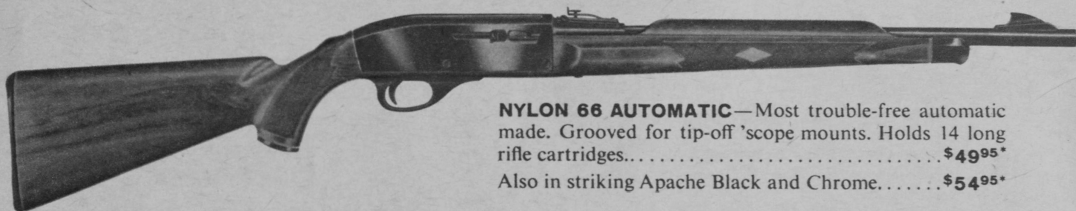

We can tell you in one word why more people buy Remington 22's than any other make...NYLON!

Du Pont "Zytel" nylon is what makes Remington 22's better than other 22's. Nylon means more accuracy—because a nylon stock never swells, shrinks or warps from changes in temperature or humidity. So once you sight in a Nylon 22, it stays sighted in—until you change the sights. And nylon permits three-point bedding for greater accuracy—the same type of bedding that gives expensive target rifles their accuracy.

Nylon stocks are better-looking, too. That's because only nylon gives you such graceful lines, handsome checkering and inletting—things you don't find on comparably priced 22's.

Dependability? Nylon wins, hands down! For example, the Nylon 66 Automatic is the most trouble-free automatic ever made. The action rides on "greaseless bearings" of self-lubricating, long-wearing nylon. And all Remington nylon stocks are guaranteed not to warp, crack, chip, fade or peel for the life of the rifle, or we will replace it free.

So why buy a 22 that really isn't new . . . hasn't changed in years. Not when you can have a brand-new, modern, guaranteed Remington Nylon 22. And you can pick your model and price from six models in three great actions:

NYLON 66 AUTOMATIC—Most trouble-free automatic made. Grooved for tip-off scope mounts. Holds 14 long rifle cartridges. $49⁹⁵
Also in striking Apache Black and Chrome. $54⁹⁵

NYLON 76 LEVER-ACTION—Fastest, most accurate lever-action made. Grooved for tip-off scope mounts. Holds 14 long rifle cartridges. In Mohawk Brown. $59⁹⁵

NYLON 11 BOLT ACTION—Has chrome-plated Mannlicher-type bolt handle, many other top features. Clip magazine holds 6 short, long or long rifle cartridges. . . . $36⁹⁵

NYLON 12—Same with tubular magazine. Holds 21 short, 16 long or 14 long rifle cartridges. $39⁹⁵

NYLON 10—Single shot. Takes all sizes of 22's. . . . $25⁷⁵

*Prices subject to change without notice.
