Suggest New Site for Boat Ramp

Possibility of leasing or renting property at the Tawas River mouth for use as a public boat ramp site was discussed at Monday night's meeting of the city council. At the suggestion of Aldermen Howard Hatton and William Murray, the council is to recommend to the park board that it investigate this possibility. At the last council meeting, Murray suggested installation of a boat ramp in the city park as a possible attraction for tourists.

50 Children Escape Injury in Crash

A loaded Tawas Area School bus rammed into the rear of an automobile Monday morning on M-55 east of Plank Road intersection. Fifty children on the bus escaped injury. The bus crashed into the rear of an auto driven by Walter A. Kasichke of 621 M-55, who had left his driveway and proceeded approximately 200 yards east on M-55 when the collision occurred. Kasichke was treated for a neck injury by his family doctor. Bus driver, Roy J. Wright of Tawas City, told investigating state police officers that he was unable to stop in time to avoid the collision. The bus had apparently been making stops along M-55 to pick up passengers without trouble. In the area of the collision, trees fringe the highway on both sides and the pavement was covered with ice. Both vehicles were thrown into the ditch by the impact. Driver of the bus received a traffic summons for failure to have his vehicle under control.

Next Two Weeks are Critical for Water Users

Reginald Bublitz, Tawas City superintendent of public works, warned city water users Tuesday that the next two weeks would be the most critical period of the winter for water line freeze-up. "Have a water tap running at all times," urged Bublitz. "Whether you have had no trouble before makes no difference, as frost has now reached a depth of four feet or more and 75 percent of residential lines are above five feet," he stated. The city superintendent said that mild temperature and sunshine have little effect on "drawing out the frost" during later winter. "In fact," he said, "early rains have a tendency to drive the frost deeper into the ground."

Cable TV Service to Tawas Seems Certain

Cable television service to the Tawas area appeared a certainty this week with approval of contract Monday night by the East Tawas Council and discussion by the Tawas City Council. Such service was first considered here about a year ago. East Tawas granted a non-exclusive franchise to General Television of Michigan, Incorporated, for installing a coaxial cable system in that city. The contract granted easements to cross city streets, where necessary, installation of poles and other regulations.

Students-Teachers Bitten by Flu 'Bug'

Tawas Area High School's daily absent list more than doubled last Thursday and Friday as the current epidemic of flu raging through Michigan finally reached the local area. Principal Ernest Jordan Jr. reported that 106 students were out of school Friday. This total compared to only 35 students who missed school earlier in the week. Jordan said that the faculty was particularly hard hit by illness, having some 24 teacher-days lost from February 25 through 28. Total number of teachers ill Thursday was six in the high school and two in elementary. Friday saw five high school teachers ill and three were out in the elementary grades. The principal said that a number of students had to return home during the week because of illness.

Preliminary Report on Tawas City Planning

According to preliminary findings of a land use and housing conditions survey conducted recently by Vilcan-Leman and Associates, Incorporated, 17 percent of Tawas City's residential structures are considered stable. Residential areas under this classification are predominantly new with substantial structures in good condition. This information was reported at last Tuesday night's meeting of the Tawas City Planning Commission. Robert Shattuck and Charles Leman explained land use and the housing condition survey. To facilitate a clearer and more meaningful picture of the way in which land is presently being used, land uses were categorized into six basic groups: Residential, commercial, institutional, industrial, transportation, vacant and water. MAJOR portion of the city's residential structures, 55 percent according to the report, are located in areas requiring minor conservation. These are scattered with poorly maintained or obsolete structures. Such areas, it was stated, could be improved through strict enforcement of housing and other codes; also through the provision of necessary facilities; such as, paved streets and sidewalks. Twenty-eight percent of the residential structures are listed in major conservation areas. These contain some very poor structures and also indicate an intermixing of non-residential land uses. Some major activity is needed to improve these areas, stated the city planners. Some could probably qualify for federal conservation programing. In conducting the housing conditions survey, a field inspection was made during which all residential structures were evaluated as to their exterior condition and general surrounding environment. The residential areas of the city were then rated according to the three categories as explained above. It was noted that the rating given a particular area does not necessarily mean that all residences within the area are of the same condition. The rating applies to the predominant conditions and character within the area as a whole. ACCORDING to the land use report, residential areas of the city total 99 acres and represent 21.1 percent of the total development. Commercial areas include 43.4 acres and represent 9.3 percent of the development; institutional (schools, parks, public buildings, churches, etc.), 61.8 acres and 13.2 percent of the total developed area of the city; industrial, 60.7 acres and 13 percent of the total development; transportation (local streets and highways) 203.5 acres and 43.4 percent of the development. Vacant and water areas in the city total 413 acres, of which 230 acres are platted residential, 167 acres of unplatted or agricultural, 15 acres of shoreline. This information will be presented in final form in the first report of the planning program which will be completed in March, reports Hugo Keiser, chairman of the planning commission.

REMODELING of this building into a storage warehouse caused some concern of adjacent property owners, until it was discovered Monday that it was perfectly legal by ordinance. It was once a downtown business building and moved to its present site around 10 years ago. In the background is the former Huron Rustic mill, also a subject of controversy Monday.—Herald Photo.

City's 1948 Ordinance Marks Industrial Zone

Remodeling of an old two-story frame building into a net storage warehouse, located near Tawas River in the city's Second Ward, is permissible according to provisions of Tawas City's 1948 zoning ordinance. Property on which the building is located, recently purchased by Joseph Brooks for his commercial fishing operation, is included in a zone listed as industrial under the 1948 ordinance. In discussion at Monday night's meeting of the Tawas City Council, it was disclosed that a tier of lots bordering Tawas River east of First Avenue and south of First Street was still zoned industrial. This industrial zone also includes property to the west which was once occupied by Huron Rustic Furniture Company. MAYOR George Tuttle said that he had been under the impression that the property was originally zoned residential and that the industrial operation, then in existence, had been allowed under a non-conforming use. Had this been the case, the property would have reverted to residential once the industrial operation was discontinued. A zoning map found in the city's vault late Monday afternoon, showing this property to be industrial, has apparently settled a question raised by some adjacent property owners, who believed that the property had reverted to residential and that the net storage warehouse should not be allowed. MONDAY NIGHT'S discussion was opened by Frank Wilkuski, owner of the mill property, who requested information as to the zoning status in that area. He, along with Realtor William Borosch, said that they had two prospects for using the property as an industrial site. Borosch said he had been working five months to bring a boat manufacturing plant into the concrete block building once occupied by Huron Rustic. He said that if negotiations were successful, the plant may employ 20 men or more. When discussion turned to the property east of First Avenue, Fred Landon and Daniel Ulrich, whose homes are located nearby, felt that a net storage house in the area would tend to lower property values. Brooks said that he could not see where the storehouse would be an eyesore. He said that the building would be used strictly for inside storage and no nets would be tarred there. He said the nets were valued at $3,500 each and required dry storage space. Brooks was instructed by the city superintendent to apply for a building application for remodeling of the structure, under regulations of the ordinance. Work had been started on minor repairs without city approval. Landon and Ulrich were also of the opinion that the frame building which once housed part of the old mill was an eyesore and a fire hazard. They said that the property had been allowed to grow up with weeds and felt that the city's weed ordinance should be enforced. WILKUSKI assured the council that the old frame mill building would be removed this year and that the property would be improved. Borosch pointed out that lots bordering Tawas River had been improved greatly with bulldozing and that a considerable amount of brush was to be burned this winter. Although stating that property owners would apparently have to go along with present zoning regulations, Landon said he felt that there were other areas in the city more suitable for industry. He said, however, that he had no further objection to use of the concrete block structure for industrial purposes, inasmuch as assurance had been received that the old frame mill building would be removed. Both Landon and Ulrich served notice to the council that they

Three Plead Guilty to B&E in Circuit Court

A Hazel Park couple and a National City man entered guilty pleas to separate charges of breaking and entering in the nighttime when arraigned before Judge Allan C. Miller Monday morning. Held at the Isosco County Jail under $500 bond is Charles D. Winchell, 21. His wife, Wilma, 20, was released under personal cognizance and both await presentence report of Probation Officer Richard K. Nelson. David Winchell of Sherman Township, a cousin of Charles, also awaits presentence report. The Hazel Park couple was charged with the December 14 breaking and entering of a cottage owned by James Bieszk. David Winchell was charged with breaking and entering at Michigan Gypsum Company quarry in Sherman Township. Arrested February 22 by Sheriff Ivan O'Farrell and Deputy Robert Langlois, Charles admitted breaking into five cabins in this county, including the one owned by Bieszk. He also admitted larceny of tools from a truck and theft of four tires and wheels from an auto owned by Langlois. When questioned by Judge Miller Monday, Mrs. Winchell admitted that she had accompanied her husband during the break-in at Bieszk's cabin. She remained in the car and apparently acted as a look-out. Following investigation by Michigan State Police and the sheriff's department, David Winchell was arrested by Detective LeRoy McCluer. Part of the loot from the thefts was recovered by officers. Sentenced to serve 30 days in the county jail for probation violation was Jack H. Lindahl. He was ordered to pay additional costs of $50 and probation was extended one additional year. Jury trial for Raymond Utterback, 17, Oscoda, is to be held next Tuesday before Judge Miller. Charged with negligent homicide, he was driver of a car which struck and killed an Oscoda bicyclist last September.

Oscoda Bridge Bid to be Opened March 13

Bids will be opened March 13 by the state highway department for an Isosco County Road Commission bridge to carry Adams Avenue over the AnSable River at Oscoda. This bridge is to replace an old steel structure which was removed in early January. To cost an estimated $140,000, the new bridge will be 301 feet long with two traffic lanes and a sidewalk. The old bridge was only one lane wide. This bid was among eight construction projects added to the highway department's March bid opening. Officers also hold a warrant for the arrest of a second suspect in the case.

Florida Bound-Escape Injury in Collision

Mr. and Mrs. John Lansky of Tawas City escaped injury Friday afternoon in a two-car collision 25 miles south of Fort Wayne, Indiana. Leaving here that morning to spend a vacation in Florida, the Lansky car was struck broadside by an auto which ran a stop light. The Tawas City car spun around and crashed into several parked cars. Because of the damage to their vehicle, the Lansky's returned home Saturday.

Chamber's Industrial Committee Holds 2nd Meeting to Organize

Second organizational meeting of the Tawas Chamber of Commerce's industrial committee was held last Thursday night. Chairman John Hosbach reports that names of 11 sub-committee members are to be announced soon. These additional members are to aid in gathering information for an industrial portfolio concerning the area. Sub-committee members are to include representatives of city government, forestry, agriculture and labor. The portfolio is to include information on transportation, industrial sites, availability of utilities, industrial buildings, raw materials, labor market, to name only a few of the categories. "We are seeking representation from areas of the community to gather pertinent facts concerning industry," said Ralph Western, chamber president. Besides Hosbach and Western, regular members of the committee are Gordon Huck, Richard Harwood and Kenneth Conn.

TASTE OF SPRING—Although there is still plenty of cold weather ahead, area residents welcomed last week-end's mild temperature which soared to nearly 40 degrees Sunday afternoon. Cars splashed through water puddles (above) as many storm sewers were still filled with snow and ice and roads began to show signs of the spring break-up. Snow flurries returned Monday with a reminder that winter is still here.—Tawas Herald Photo.

Faces B&E Charge of Oscoda Tavern

A 19-year-old Wurtsmith airman, Robert W. Getter, was turned over to Isosco County Sheriff's Department officers Monday to face a charge of breaking and entering in the nighttime. Getter is charged with the February 26 breaking and entering of an Oscoda tavern. He was apprehended Friday night by Alpena City Police officers. In his car at the time were several bottles of wine of the same brand which were stolen at Oscoda. Oscoda Township Officer Robert Foster and Sheriff Ivan O'Farrell conducted the investigation and, after questioning by air police, Getter was turned over to local authorities. Officers also hold a warrant for the arrest of a second suspect in the case.

Chamber to Plan Membership Drive

Discussion of the 1963 membership drive will take place at the March 13 meeting of the Tawas Chamber of Commerce. Plans for the organization's yearly campaign will be formulated at that time. "We hope to interest more businessmen in supporting activities of the chamber of commerce," states Ralph Western, chamber president. "In this way, the chamber's budget can be increased and operated in a more business-like manner." At last Wednesday night's meeting, the treasurer's report revealed that the chamber of commerce was in financially sound condition. Outstanding bills have been paid and the chamber has a bank balance. The chamber is now seeking funds to purchase an additional 25 shanties for Perchville. Rebuilding the ice fishing village into a major attraction has been one of the principal projects of the organization this year and 25 new aluminum shanties were placed on the ice. In other business last week, a report on Michigan Week was discussed. The chamber hopes to interest other organizations in expanding the observance here this year, which will be held during the week of May 19-25. O. E. Ostrander of East Tawas is county chairman for the Michigan week observance. Named to head up Whittemore's committee is William Fuerst. Tawas City and East Tawas are to name local chairmen in the near future.

Guard Air Defense Units Maintain a 24 Hour Vigil

Round-the-clock missions for the part time citizen-soldiers of the Army and Air National Guard was a surprising concept just a few years ago. But surprise has long ago turned to trust and respect as Guardsmen have demonstrated their ability to take an active part in the Air Defense of this nation.

For more than eight years the Army National Guard has been participating in the air defense of the U. S., first with anti-aircraft gun units and now with NIKE AJAX and HERCULES missile units.

The Guard began with four NIKE AJAX sites run by the California Army National Guard as a test to determine if the Army Guard could be used to relieve active forces for other military requirements. The test was so successful that the Army Guard has assumed an increasingly active role in the Army Air Defense program. By the summer of 1962 the Army Guard operated 31 NIKE AJAX battalions consisting of 69 on-site batteries providing air defense in and around 16 key industrial and population centers in the continental U. S.

In Hawaii two of the more modern NIKE HERCULES battalions, consisting of six on-site batteries, along with the Air Defense units of the Air National Guard, provide the sole first line air defense for the new state. Many other units of the Army Guard are now slated to phase out of the older NIKE AJAX and into the newer NIKE HERCULES missiles in the next three years.

In the Air National Guard 26 squadrons of the fighter-interceptor type, modern jet aircraft, stand 24-hour-alerts all over the U. S., making up an important element of this nation's air defense system. In addition five Aircraft Control and Warning Squadrons of the Air Guard participate around-the-clock in the active air defense network.

Proof of the high level performance of the Air National Guard's fighter-interceptor units is the way these units performed in their Operational Readiness Inspections. ADC inspectors test every aspect of a unit applying the same standards as prescribed for active Air Force Air Defense Command units. Air Guard units have shown up very well in these tests.

Another sign of the confidence the active establishment feels in the Air National Guard is the fact that three F-89J jet-fighter units are now standing runway alert, armed with the MB-1 missile, which has a nuclear capability.

Air Guard fighter-interceptor units in the United States element of North American Air Defense Command, which is responsible for all air defense measures on this continent, make up 32 per cent of the entire fighter-interceptor force. The Air National Guard furnishes 37 per cent of the pilots for these planes and 21 per cent of the personnel assigned to the United States element of the command are Air National Guardsmen.

Air National Guard NIKE AJAX and the recently-added NIKE HERCULES units make up 30 per cent of all NORAD NIKE air defense missile units and National Guardsmen represent 28 per cent of NORAD's Army personnel.

Included in these Army Guard units are some of the best men in NORAD. In Fiscal Year 1961, in competition with all the missile batteries of the Army Air Defense Command, Army Guard units won all three of the major missile firing trophies and 10 of the 11 plaques awarded by the Commander of the ARADCOM to outstanding Air Defense units. The National Guard has placed 22 NIKE AJAX batteries on the Commander's Honor Roll for achieving perfect "Mission Accomplished" records in missile firing and point scores of 91.6 per cent or higher.

Treat Meats To Fresh Apple Tang

Fresh apple flavor is simply great with the simplest of meats. Time-honored meat loaf or patties are transformed from plain to fancy fare when the fresh, snow-bripped flavor of Washington Winesap apples is cleverly added. Nibble fresh Winesap rings crown homey meat patties with glamour. Fresh Winesap chunks lace apple flavor into hearty Ham Loaf. Try Washington Winesaps as natural-flavor partners with any meat.

Fresh Apple'd Ham Loaf

- 2 Washington apples
- 2 cups tomato juice
- 3/4 cup brown sugar, firmly packed
- 1 lb. ground cured ham
- 1 lb. ground fresh veal or pork
- 1 cup rolled oats
- 1 egg
- 3/4 tsp. pepper

Peel and core apples; cut each apple into 12ths. Simmer apple wedges in 1-cup tomato juice and brown sugar combined; basting until tender. Add remaining tomato juice to meats, oats, egg and pepper. Mix with fork until blended. Arrange a portion of the apple wedges in a fluted mold. Spoon in meat mixture and pack ever-so-lightly. Bake in a 350° oven 1 1/2 hours. Serve with remaining apple wedges and tomato syrup. Serves 8 to 10.

Broiled Winesap Crowns

- 2 lbs. catsup
- 2 tps. brown sugar
- 2 tps. salad oil
- 1 tsp. prepared mustard
- 3 Washington apples, cut in 5/8-inch rings, unpeeled

Stir ingredients together until sugar is dissolved. Brush apple slices with mixture; broil slowly. Turn, brush second side with sauce; broil until lightly browned. Place on meat patties, surround with cooked, buttered peas. Garnish with extra apple slices.

Needlecraft News
by Nancy Baxter

Do you know that a woman's hands are her second voice? They express what she wants to say countless times a day . . . in countless different ways. When she wants to show her newborn baby how glad she is that he's now a member of the family, she picks him up in her arms. When she wants to tell her young daughter that she's thrilled with the "A" she got on her homework, she gives her a proud pat on the head.

A woman's hands cook dinner, darn socks, wash dishes — unglamorous tasks, to be sure — but all, in their own way, expressions of how much her family means to her.

NEEDLECRAFT—A SECOND VOICE

There's another way, too, in which a woman's hands can convey this human type of message. This is through needlecraft — the handcraft art that, almost by definition, gives each item you make a personal stamp — one that tells the recipient just how much he means to you. Whether you've undertaken a small item, to be quickly done, or a more ambitious project; whether you've knitted, crocheted, embroidered, or sewn it, the message remains the same. The fact that you've made something yourself somehow expresses more than words ever can.

RUGGED CARDIGAN

It's with this in mind that I know you'll be interested in today's design — it's the perfect way to show the man in your life, whether he's your son, husband, father, or friend, just how much he really means to you. This handsome cardigan features an intricate looking textured patterned that's the result of a stitch in which the yarn is brought forward. Armhole shaping is almost eliminated, since the sleeves are of the drop-shoulder variety. To top off the whole creation, we've trimmed it with garter stitch bands all around and on the pockets.

Directions for knitting this sweater are available, free of charge. For your copy of the leaflet, just mail a stamped, self-addressed envelope and your request for No. PK 1120 to the Needlework Editor of this newspaper.

WHAT LITTLE COWBOY OR COWGIRL wouldn't love these colorful Indian Dolls which Mommy can make for them so easily? These are crocheted in heavy wool knitting worsted in many bright colors. Metallic rick rack in gold or silver trims the Indian girl's braid and dress. These are sure to make a hit with the youngsters! For your free instruction leaflet, simply mail a stamped, self-addressed envelope and your request for Leaflet No. PG 2431 to the Needlework Editor of this newspaper.

Cats Drop W-P Cards Into NEM League's Third Place

By DORNACE BELLVILLE

Whittemore - Prescott Cards dropped their last regular game by a whisker to the Houghton Lake Bobcats, 51-50, Friday night on the winners' home floor.

The loss dropped the Cards into third place in the NEM with a seven and three record and 11 and five over-all mark.

Paul Cherry and Ray Pagel were the only first stringers to start the contest. The rest of the quintet was made up of Tom Wojcicki and Chip Drenberg, who had some experience on the varsity squad, and Earl Bronson, sparkplug of the JV squad all year.

It was a nip and tuck affair all the way. The lead changed hands or was tied 26 times. The Cards held a four-point edge at the end of the first quarter, but the Bobcats tied it up by halftime, 29-29.

The lead changed hands with almost every basket until about four minutes to go in the game when the Bobcats held a three-point edge. Ron Armstead and Roger Partlo entered the game for the first time to replace Norman Charters and Roger Britt.

Wootton's flier gave the Cards a two-point edge again, but Partlo erased that with two charity tosses to make the score 50-50 with seconds to go.

The Cats brought the ball down court slowly and were apparently content to settle for a tie in regular time. With one second to go, a foul was called on Partlo for holding Hess and he sank his first charity toss to give the Cats a one-point edge. The second toss missed the basket and the Cards took the ball off the boards. Time ran out before the ball could be moved down court.

The Little Cards took a beating in the preliminary, 63-39. With three regular players on the varsity, Coach Woodcock's boys played a good first quarter with 16 points for each team. The W-P squad fell apart late in the second quarter when Jim Redmond left the game on fouls and it was Houghton Lake the rest of the way.

Finish Season With 49-31 Win Tuesday

Tawas Area Braves, finishing the season with a 49-31 win over Alpena Catholic Central last Tuesday night, had an over-all record of 10 wins and six losses during the regular season.

The Braves had a five and five record in NBC competition. This week's action finds the Braves playing in the district tournament Thursday night at Pinconning. They will meet the winner of the Gladwin-Pinconning game, which was scheduled Tuesday night.

Standish-Sterling is slated to meet West Branch Wednesday night and the winner of this game is to go against Thursday night's winner in the final game Saturday night.

All games start at 8:00 p. m.

Grayling Wednesday night (tonight), 7:30 o'clock, against Roscommon. Winner of this game plays winner of the Grayling, Houghton Lake, Alcona bracket winner at 7:30 p. m. Saturday for the district championship.

Cardinal performance in tournament play is a big question mark. Blessed with more height than any team in the area and with speed capable of breaking a game wide open in seconds, Coach Ed Dudo has had his troubles in getting the boys to work as a team.

The West Branch - Cardinal game January 25 was an example of what the Cards are capable of doing, as they trounced the NBC champions, 68-61. The Cards slipped in the latter part of the season, losing to Tawas, Alcona, West Branch and Houghton Lake after beating them earlier in the season.

Dudo usually comes up with a strong tournament team and, if the Cards start to click as a team, they could go a long way.

SS Beneficiary That Earns Over $1,200 Must Give Estimate

Are you a social security beneficiary working and earning over $1,200? If so, and you were under age 72 for any part of this year, you must give an estimate of your earnings for the year to the Social Security Administration, Paul M. Ellifritz, social security district manager, said.

The estimate is used as a guide to determine the amount of benefits which may be paid even though you work and earn over $1,200 in a year. If you earn more than $1,200 in a year, $1 of your benefit may be withheld for each $2 you earn over $1,200 and not over $1,700. For every $1 you earn over $1,700, $1 in benefits will be withheld, Mr. Ellifritz explained.

It is to your advantage to make your estimate as accurate as possible and to send it in as soon as you can. After the end of the year, you must file an annual report with the Social Security Administration showing exactly how much you earned during the year. Any necessary adjustment for either an over payment or underpayment will be made at that time.

Mr. Ellifritz emphasized that disabled workers' benefits are not subject to the above rules. They must report any time they work or when their condition substantially improves.

A representative of the Social Security Administration will be in Tawas City at the Iosco County Building Thursday, March 14, 10:30 a. m.

Spring Chorus Concert Set for Saturday, May 4

Saturday, May 4, has been scheduled for the spring concert of the Tawas Community Chorus. The theme of the presentation is "Showtime."

At a recent board meeting held at the home of Mrs. Arvilla Fairfield, president, it was revealed that after five years of activity the treasury showed a balance of over $200. This is due in a large measure to the public's support in attending the last two concerts and the patronage of many citizens of the community.

Members felt that plans could now be made to establish a music scholarship fund for a local student. Such a fund has been the ultimate goal of the group since its inception. Irving Johnson was appointed to look into summer programs offered by Michigan colleges.

Paul Youngs, director, resigned his position and Mr. Johnson agreed to take over his duties. Mr. Youngs will now be singing in the base section of the chorus. Mr. Johnson is instrumental and vocal instructor at Whittemore-Preseott High School.

SPECIAL WASHINGTON REPORT

OLDSTERS FLEEDED IN BILLION DOLLAR RACKET

By U.S. Sen. Pat. McNamara (D-Mich.)
Chairman, Senate Special Committee on Aging

Those of us who have long been concerned with the problems of America's senior citizens have felt that they were particularly vulnerable to the glib appeal of the pitchman, the real estate racketeer and the peddler of quack nostrums.

When you are ailing and in pain, for example, you will listen to the fast-talking "salesman" with the "sure cure" for arthritis. Because your retirement income is low, the "quick-money" scheme has strong appeal. And the snow-bound older is attracted by the warm retirement haven described in the mail-order real estate advertisement.

Countless thousands of senior citizens are being fleeced of their life savings to purchase heartless "cures" for cancer and arthritis; to make down payments on worthless land in over-promoted real estate tracts, or to buy "life-time" contracts from certain dance studios.

We have only scratched the surface in uncovering these fraudulent practices against the aging.

One conservative estimate of the annual "take" from these frauds is upwards of $1 billion a year.

This is a matter of deep concern to those of us in the Congress who believe that the Government has a duty to help the people protect themselves against fraud and deception.

The need for such assistance in this "Age of the Hard Sell" was never greater. Television and radio bring the glib, persuasive "pitchman" with his often exorbitant, misleading claims into every living room.

At recent hearings of the Senate Special Committee on Aging, one Government witness, for example, told us of the operations of a high-priced food supplement chain with a clever TV promotional campaign, backed up by a door-to-door sales force of 75,000 people.

Testimony documented the claim that millions of dollars are being spent on misbranded products aimed at our older people.

One of the cruellest deceptions practiced upon our senior citizens is the "mail-order" promotional campaign misrepresenting the retirement haven in a warm climate.

Numerous state officials appeal to the Congress to crack down on "glaring examples of misrepresentation."

The real estate commissioner of one western state described the advertising and direct-mail promotion of a subdivision promoter in Arizona.

Billed as a lush retirement haven, the subdivision advertised "complete utility service . . . with roads, electricity, water and phones available," he said, while the truth is exactly the opposite.

Investigation disclosed that there are no utilities at the site; that the fancy-named roads are bulldozed scars across the desert, and that the nearest water is six miles from the subdivision's center.

At this point, however, it is quite clear that the Federal Government has a greater responsibility for protecting our senior citizens from consumer frauds.

Retired Judge Gives Views on—

Michigan's Proposed Constitution

By Herman Dehnke
Alpena District Delegate to the Michigan Constitutional Convention

Closely connected with matters of finance and taxation discussed in my second article are budgets and budget procedures. Much complaint has been heard in the past about appropriations being recommended by governors and members of the legislature without supporting revenue measures for producing the funds necessary to cover the proposed expenditures. This practice always results in "loose budgeting," followed by the necessity of adopting "supplemental appropriations" to cover the shortages. It is principally by this process that states and other governmental units find themselves year by year deeper in debt represented by budget deficits.

The proposed new constitution continues the directions contained in the present one that "no money shall be paid out of the state treasury except in pursuance of appropriations made by law," and "the legislature shall impose taxes sufficient with other resources to pay the expenses of state government." To these, the proposed new constitution adds specific requirements covering the executive budget, the legislative appropriation process, and a system of budget administration and control. Again, time and space do not permit presentation of all of these in detail, but they include the following:

1. Upon the governor is placed the responsibility for preparing and submitting to the legislature a budget setting forth in detail for all operating funds the proposed expenditures and estimated revenues for the fiscal period. Proposed expenditures must not exceed estimated revenues, and the governor is required to submit at the same time appropriation bills sufficient to provide the revenues to cover the proposed expenditures, proper consideration being given to surpluses or deficits from the previous period. Supplemental budgets and revenue proposals may be submitted as occasion may require.

2. In enacting budget and appropriation measures, the legislature is likewise required to set out an itemized statement of estimated revenues by major sources in each fund, "the total of which shall not be less than the total of the appropriations made from each fund." This is a requirement for a balanced budget, and will enable the governor, who has the item veto power, as well as the public, to judge whether the estimates are sound and reasonable. Any items vetoed by the governor are void, unless repassed by a two-thirds vote of each house, as heretofore.

3. The proposed constitution declares that "no appropriation shall be deemed a mandate to spend." To enable the legislature and the public to determine whether the money appropriated is being spent in the manner and for the purposes specified by law, the legislature is provided with the assistance of an auditor-general chosen by it, who must be a certified public accountant, whose principal function it is, with the aid of a civil-service staff, to conduct the necessary audits and report thereon.

4. If it should happen that actual revenues fall below the estimates upon which the appropriations were based, to an extent threatening to throw the budget out of balance, the governor may, but only with the approval of the house and senate appropriations committees, order a proportionate reduction in expenditures. This power does not apply to the funds provided for the legislative and judicial branches, which are co-equal with the executive branch, nor to funds constitutionally dedicated for specific purposes.

5. The proposed constitution gives the state short-term borrowing power to meet revenue deficiencies during a fiscal year, including the payments due school districts and other governmental units from the state. In substance, this authorizes borrowing in anticipation of taxes in the process of levy and collection. The amount of such borrowing is limited to 15 percent of the undedicated revenues received by the state during the previous fiscal year, and the debts so incurred must be paid out of the tax receipts so pledged, not later than the end of the fiscal year during which the loan is made.

6. The proposed constitution continues with minor changes in the present school bond loan fund provision. By the short-term borrowing power mentioned in the last preceding paragraph, the state treasury will be made to make these payments promptly upon their becoming due.

Regardless of the personal feelings of individuals involved, action during Monday night's meeting of the Tawas City Council should point out some of the future problems facing the city planning commission and the need for participation in this program by all residents of the community.

The problem at hand was solved, to be sure, by the fact that the city council could look at the 1948 zoning map and the answer to industrial zoning in that specific area was spelled out in black and white. Most councilmen, the mayor, and others, including this reporter, were of the opinion that this property originally had been zoned residential and industry was allowed under a non-conforming use.

Notwithstanding this apparent oversight on the part of many, one of the real problems in zoning remains and will probably return at some future date.

The problem is this: The community wants and needs industrial and commercial locations—it must have them to survive and their rights must be protected. It also needs adequate residential areas, established on certain standards and free from any "blight" which may tend to devalue property.

In this particular case, the problem was not a simple one, although there can be no doubt that the result was justifiable since the zoning map plainly marked out the area as industrial.

What remains to be solved in this case, and many others around

American Flag Presented by VFW Women's Auxiliary

Prior to the business meeting of St. Joseph Home and School Association Monday evening, an American flag was presented to Sister Julianna, school principal, by Mrs. Opal Kyser on behalf of the Iosco County VFW Auxiliary No. 5678, for which thanks is extended.

Results of the recent carnival were reported by Adrian Hamel, general chairman. Prize winners were Mrs. Lloyd Cooper, lady's watch; George Clig, man's watch. The door prize, which was a basket of groceries, was won by Clarence Michalski. The Rev. Fr. Henry Eickholt thanked Mr. Hamel and his committee for their fine cooperation.

Room award was won by fifth and sixth grades. Thomas Pinkowski was jackpot winner. Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Adrian Hamel and Mrs. James Sheehan. Next meeting date is April 1.

the community, is the conflict of interest in the location of residential, commercial and industrial areas. The problems facing the community will not be solved easily, because one cannot re-zone and then change areas immediately like moving pawns on a chessboard. This would be too costly and an almost impossible task for a small town.

What can be done, however, is to establish specific residential, commercial and industrial areas through complete re-zoning of the city, allowing non-conforming use until such time as that use is discontinued.

Re-zoning will not be a panacea for all, or perhaps any of today's problems, but it may help to solve some of the future needs of the community. As was stated earlier, this should be of interest to everyone calling the community his home today.
