Everett Nominated for Citizen Award

Clarence S. Everett, a member of the Iosco County Board of Supervisors since 1951, has been nominated by the Tawas City Businessmen's Association for a citizen leadership award to be made during Michigan Week.

In its nomination form sent to the Greater Michigan Foundation, the businessmen's association said that Everett had been an outstanding statesman as a member and former chairman of the board of supervisors and has been instrumental in the promotion of many projects in this area.

Making this report during last Thursday's meeting of the association were Herbert Hertzler, Kenneth Conn and Judge Allan C. Miller, committee members.

Also discussed by the businessmen last week was the possibility of the group making an excursion trip aboard the AuSable River Queen in June. Suggested by Cecil Cable, local hardware merchant, it was felt that the trip would give an opportunity for businessmen to give first hand information to tourists on one of the top attractions in this area. East Tawas businessmen are to be invited as guests.

Gene Ballinger reported on the judo tournament which will be held May 25 as part of the Michigan Week observance. This event will be sanctioned by the National Amateur Athletic Union and some 80 persons are expected to participate.

Miss Emma Whipple—

Veteran Teacher to Retire in June

Miss Emma Whipple, third grade teacher at the East Tawas unit of Tawas Area Schools, retires at the end of this term after serving 37 years in the teaching profession.

A native of Arenac County, Miss Whipple came to East Tawas in 1935 after teaching in schools at Sterling, Maple Ridge, Mason Township and Alabaster.

She was born at Pine River but calls Twining her home. She attended high school at Standish and studied at Western Michigan University, Kalamazoo, where she received a bachelor of science degree.

Miss Whipple followed in the footsteps of an older sister in the teaching profession, as did her two younger sisters.

Among her interests is the growing of geraniums and many of her plants grace windows of her room overlooking Newman Street.

The retiree was honored last Wednesday evening at a banquet held at Lixey's Restaurant. Members of the faculty of Tawas Area School were in attendance and presented her with a wristwatch engraved with the words: "Miss Emma Whipple—1935-1963." She has not made definite plans as yet during retirement but hopes to make either a tour of Europe or visit Hawaii.

New-Con Vote—

Dems Ask Recount in 11 Iosco Co. Precincts

According to information received late last week, Democrats have asked for recounts in 11 Iosco County precincts of votes cast in last month's biennial spring election on the state constitution question.

County electors approved the new constitution by only 282 votes.

County Clerk George A. Prescott attended a training meeting Tuesday at Lansing called by Edward McLogan of the coordinating committee for the new constitution.

Precincts named in Democratic petitions to be recounted include the Townships of Baldwin, Reno, Tawas and Wilber; three wards each in Tawas City and East Tawas, plus the voting machine precinct at Oscoda.

According to the April 2 election results, the New-Con proposition won in all of the precincts named: Baldwin, 189-125; Reno, 95-51; Tawas, 132-100; Tawas City, 331-190; East Tawas, 434-370; Oscoda, 345-256.

Local Republicans have countered with a petition asking for a recount in Precinct Two at East Tawas. The vote was tied there, 143-143.

State Democrats have filed petitions requesting a recount of the constitutional vote in 77 counties and 1,891 precincts. The CCNG has filed counter petitions for recounts in 78 new precincts and in 25 of the same precincts covered in the opposition's petition.

Council Seeks Attorney for Zoning Change

On recommendation of the city's planning consultant, Tawas City has authorized hiring an attorney to set legal machinery in motion toward rezoning industrial property in the Second Ward to residential.

A letter from Vilcan-Leman and Associates, Incorporated, was read at Monday night's council meeting recommending such action.

Property in question involves a tier of lots on the east and west side of First Avenue south of First Street. A public hearing would be required for the proposed rezoning.

Stating that in its opinion the long range use of the land was not industrial, the planning firm pointed out that the site was small and room for expansion was very limited.

During discussion on the recommendation, Mayor George Tuttle said he understood that even though the property was rezoned to residential, it would remain industrial as long as it was held under the present ownership.

In other business, the council directed Supt. Reginald Bublitz to contact the state highway department to determine when a report is to be made to the city concerning proposed widening and improving of US-23.

A four to two roll call saw the council retain Wagar, Lunt and Oehring of Saginaw as the city's auditor for the coming year. Voting in favor of this firm were Alderman Earl Davis, Clyde Evril, William Murray and Daniel Ulrich. In favor of hiring the accounting firm of Yeo and Yeo, which operates an office at East Tawas, were Aldermen Cecil Cable and Howard Hatton.

The council authorized participation with the Tawas Chamber of Commerce and City of East Tawas for purchase of fireworks for the July 4 observance.

City Treasurer Ruth Albertson presented the monthly financial report, her first since election to that office in April.

Attending the Regional Nine meeting of the Michigan Municipal League May 16 at Grayling will be Mayor Tuttle, Bublitz, Chief of Police George Ruth and Alderman Davis.

The council authorized purchase of dust control material for use on streets as soon as possible.

Premium List

Included with this issue of the Herald is the premium list and program for the annual Iosco County Fair to be held July 23, 24, 25, 26 and 27 at Hale. Prospective exhibitors are urged to make plans early.

Donald Docking is New Police Chief

Donald Docking, city patrolman at East Tawas for the past 11 months, has been appointed chief of police to succeed Harry Pelton, who retired effective May 1.

The appointment was made Monday night by Mayor Clarence McKenzie following an advisory ballot by city councilmen.

Appointed as city patrolman was Robert Langlois, a deputy sheriff of Iosco County for a number of years.

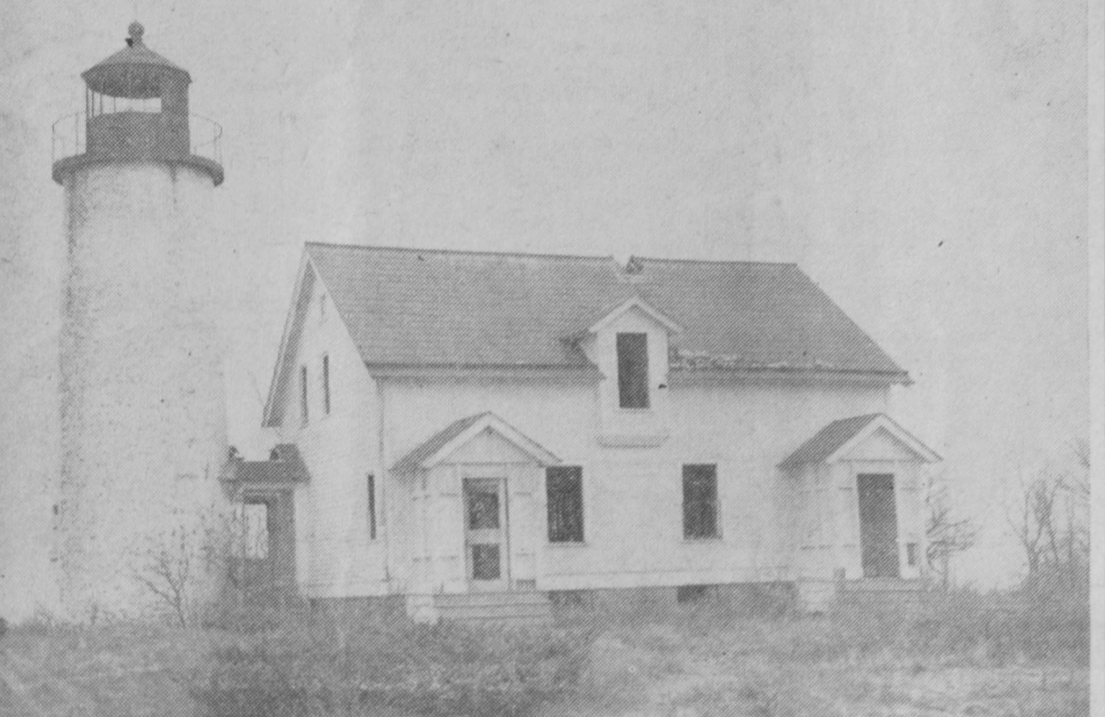

Pelton is to remain on the city payroll until December 31. He will be in charge of parking meters.

In other business, Edward Lixey was elected mayor pro tem by a vote of the council.

The council approved participation with Tawas City and the Tawas Chamber of Commerce in the purchase of fireworks for July 4.

Approval was given to loaning the Michigan Tourist Festival Days Committee $500 as a working capital for staging this event.

Building applications approved by the department of public works were as follows: Russell Meyers, remodel; John Moffatt, replace fence; Fred W. Teeple, replace fence; Matilda Jarvela, install aluminum siding; Jacob Montgomery, construct addition; Fred Look, repairs; Gordon Dunham, construct addition; Harry Whitney, construct new residence.

WEATHERED SENTINEL—Standing on the northern tip of Charity Island for more than 60 years have been this light tower and house owned by the federal government. White wash is flaking off the tower and vandals have destroyed the old house's interior. The station was abandoned in 1939 by the United States Coast Guard.—Tawas Herald Photo.

Coast Guard to Lease Tip of Charity Island

Looking for a secluded spot to spend your vacations or just a quiet place to sit and meditate? The United States Coast Guard may have just the ticket for you.

According to a bulletin displayed in post offices, bids will be received by the Ninth Coast Guard District office until May 28 for rental of coast guard property on Charity Island in Saginaw Bay.

FEDERAL property to be leased there for five years consists of approximately one acre of land and an abandoned light tower located on the island's north tip.

An inspection of the property was made Saturday by CBM John Kelly, coast guard commander at Tawas Point, and a three-man crew from the Tawas Lifeboat Station. Included with Kelly were EN1 John Marsh, BM3 Terry Thompson and BM1 George Machulis. Also accompanying the group were Kelly's son, John Jr., and Marsh's twin sons, Patrick and Michael.

Charity Island, situated about 6 1/2 miles offshore from Point Lookout in the emerald waters of Saginaw Bay, has long been surrounded by mystery and the subject of many local legends.

Located about 14 miles south of the Tawas and visible from here only under perfect atmospheric conditions, Big and Little Charity Islands seem to be some geological afterthought of the same forces that created Michigan's mainland.

The main geological difference is that the island is of solid limestone and shale with a covering of trees and plant life. Lilies of the valley bloomed on the island Saturday.

THE MAIN island, Big Charity, was actually inhabited several years before the mainland was settled in the mid-1850s. Fishermen from Bay City and the Thumb area of Michigan used the two islands as headquarters for their Saginaw Bay operations. Some of these same fishing families later settled in the Tawas area.

Except for the island's north tip owned by the federal government, the remaining property is privately owned by a Bay Port fish company. Since the decline of the commercial fishing industry, it is used only on occasion. A fishing shanty equipped with bunks and cooking utensils lies hidden from view on the island's west side. A small lake is located in the center of the island.

While the two islands seem to be very inviting from the mainland, surrounding waters are treacherous and many a pleasure cruiser has broken a prop or smashed a hull on the limestone reef jutting from the lake bottom.

The only way to reach shore is by using a rowboat or shallow draft runabout, scraping rock for 100 feet or more. Huge boulders strewn about in the shallow shoal waters have accounted for many broken shear pins on outboard motors.

WHILE it is difficult to reach Charity Island, especially during present low water conditions in the Great Lakes, it is not completely inaccessible. Far from it, judging from the havoc waged by vandals who have completely gutted the house once occupied by the light keeper and his family.

The federal government constructed the light tower and house before the turn of the century and then abandoned it in 1939 when the Gravelly Shoals light went into operation. The solid brick tower, except for missing patches of whitewash, has withstood the rigors of natural elements and vandals. Climbing its iron circular staircase, one has a clear view of surrounding waters.

According to Chief Kelly, the house is not included in the property to be leased as it was apparently sold to the Bay Port fishing firm many years ago.

Although Charity Island is visited several times a year by the coast guard, mainly to pick up "shipwrecked" fishermen, or pleasure boat operators, it was the first visit for Chief Kelly, who has been assigned here for the past 11 months.

After anchoring the 40-foot utility boat about 300 feet off shore and rowing in with an aluminum dory, the coast guard party inspected the light tower, house and land, about four miles in circumference. (One reason for the hike was to check for the bodies of two fishermen who disappeared in Saginaw Bay earlier this year.)

ACCORDING to local legend, the island was once inhabited by a large colony of rattlesnakes. The only snake spotted during the tour was one of a harmless variety. (It was once rumored here that the island was swarming with pigs, introduced there to get rid of the rattlesnakes. Fact or fantasy, that legend was also discounted.)

RACCOON tracks were noted along the shore and the only other inhabitants appeared to be a vast horde of sea gulls, which swarmed about Little Charity, along with a multitude of ducks and other water birds.

The shoreline was strewn with beer cans, fire pits and other debris. Evidence of numerous beach parties of seasonal human inhabitants.

Waters surrounding Charity Island are well known as an excellent bass producing area. A trip there can be dangerous, however. (See ISLAND, page 10)

TAX SALE

Annual tax sale was conducted Tuesday by Mrs. Grace Miller, Iosco County treasurer. Some 140 parcels on which taxes were owed for the year 1962 were placed on the block. This was one less parcel than offered last year.

Suggest Site for Public Boat Ramp

Tawas City Council has recommended that the city park board negotiate a lease with the Detroit and Mackinac Railway for use of property in the West Tawas Yards as a site for a public boat launching ramp.

According to a report read at Monday night's council meeting, the park board had investigated the use of several other proposed sites but were either unsuitable or unavailable.

The proposed ramp would be located near the Fuelgas Company's storage tank on the north side of Tawas River.

It was also reported that the park board had accepted an offer from the D&M for placing an old-time way car or "caboose" in the park for use as a museum. The board is now obtaining costs on moving the car.

Application Delay Can Cost Worker His Disability Rights

Delay in applying to his social security office can cost a disabled worker his right to social security disability benefits, Paul M. Ellifritz, district manager of Social Security in Bay City pointed out today.

He urged any person who is unable to work because of a severe disability to get in touch with his nearest social security office for information as to his rights under the social security disability program. Under the disability provisions of the Social Security Act, cash monthly benefits are payable to disabled workers under 65 and to certain of their dependents. To qualify for payments, the worker must have social security credit for at least five years work under social security out of the past 10 years and his disability must be so severe that it will keep him from doing any substantial gainful work for a long and indefinite period.

A representative of the Social Security Administration will be in Tawas City at the Iosco County Building Thursday, May 9, at 10:30 a. m.

Orioles Tops Braves in 2-1 Thriller Friday

West Branch Orioles topped Tawas Area Braves, 2-1, in a North Branch Conference baseball game under the lights here last Friday night.

This game will go down on record as one of the best pitching duels of the season as both Wayne Keith of the Branchers and Dick Doak of Tawas turned in three-hit performances. Facing only 26 batters over the seven innings, Keith struck out 11 and walked two.

Except for a shaky start by his mates in the field, Doak had the game in his hip pocket all evening. He struck out three opposing batters and allowed only one free ticket to first base.

The big trouble for Doak and company came in the first inning. After Reminder was a routine infield out, Winters banged out the first of his two hits during the game. Doak fanned Mezzano for the second out of the inning but Keith reached first base safely when Shortstop Don Lear bobbled his grounder.

This set the stage for McPherson, who promptly belted a single into right field to score Winters. Chuck Anschuetz made an error on the drive and Keith took third. Delbridge hit a ground ball to Erickson and Keith scored on Tawas' third error of the inning. Kelly grounded out second to first ending the inning.

Tawas scored its lone run in the bottom of the first when Lear tripled. He scored later on Jim Herriman's ground ball but the threat was ended when Anschuetz struck out and Erickson was out at first.

Both pitchers were unbeatable during the remaining six innings. Tawas had runners on base in every inning except the seventh, but Keith pitched himself out of any trouble.

Doak retired the side in order during two innings and his mates gave him good fielding support. Darrell Welch, Tawas second baseman, injured his ankle in the sixth inning and was replaced by Tyler Cholger.

Island

As many a fisherman has been unable to return to the mainland during sudden storms and then left stranded on the island. In fact, when the coast guard receives a distress call in this area, Charity Island is the first spot to be checked.

Tranquility of the mist-shrouded island could be a tonic or welcome respite for some city dweller. If there are any takers to the federal government's proposition, Charity Island may have some new inhabitants during the summer months. It may be that some responsible person could help to discourage further vandalism to private and public property.

The tiny rock finger situated on the island's north shore—6½ miles from the mainland with no harbor—is subject to a number of restrictions, as outlined in the post office bulletin.

Consumers Power Announces Increase in Local Employees

Louis A. Vaupre, Bay City division manager, announced today that there has been some recent additions to the Consumers Power Company's "family" serving the Tawas area.

He said five meter readers have been permanently transferred to the Tawas area to help handle the growing number of new customers in the region.

In addition to the five permanently-assigned men, an additional three local men will be assigned to the Tawas area in the tourist and vacation seasons to help handle seasonal accounts, Mr. Vaupre said.

Employees who have been assigned permanently to the area are Perry Warren, formerly of Midland; Robert Bishop, formerly of Midland; Robert Crisenbery, formerly of Bay City; Robert Rogers, formerly of Bay City, and Byron Cameron, formerly of Bay City.

Larry Clute and Marvin Curry of Tawas City and Robert Gizowski of East Tawas are the local men that will help handle the seasonal accounts.

Kid Registration for Baseball May 14-15

Registration of boys who wish to play in either the pony or knothole baseball leagues for the first time this year will be held at the East Tawas athletic field Tuesday and Wednesday, May 14-15, 6:00 p. m.

Boys who participated in last summer's junior baseball program need not register for the coming season. Registration of nine-year-olds will be made at a later date.

The player draft is scheduled for May 17 and the league is to get under way the first week in June. Some 300 youngsters participated in last year's program.

NEW LOOK—Consumers Power Company is dressing its small army of meter readers throughout Michigan in new blue uniforms and it is expected that most readers will be uniformly dressed within a couple of weeks. "Everyone will be in blue by June 1," states L. A. Vaupre of the company's Bay City Division. The company decided to dress its meter readers to make them readily identifiable to homemakers and to help them gain entrance to buildings which are ordinarily closed to salesmen, deliverymen and the like.—Picard Studio Photo.

Department of Agriculture Regulation No. 133
Regulation Relating to the Public Exhibition of Poultry

By virtue of the authority provided by Act 181, Public Acts of 1919, as amended, the following rules and regulations are hereby established:

1. Feed and water containers provided for exhibition coops shall be new or properly cleaned.
2. Feed or water containers from which birds have eaten or drunk must be refilled so as not to contaminate the common supply of feed and water. Feed or water containers may not be removed from exhibition coops except for the purpose of cleaning.
3. Exhibition coops must be constructed and placed as to provide adequate light for proper inspection of poultry for evidence of transmissible diseases.
5. Litter for exhibition coops must be of clean material and renewed daily or oftener as needed.
6. Shipping crates used in shipment of birds by common carrier may not be used as exhibition coop. Shipping crates shall be cleaned and disinfected after birds have been removed for exhibition and before being used again.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and affixed the official seal of the Department of Agriculture this 3rd day of May, 1949.
MICHIGAN DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE
by: G. S. McINTYRE, Director

—Rules—

Exhibitors are requested to read carefully rules and regulations covering exhibition of poultry.

All exhibits shall be (a) purebred (b) cross bred from purebred parents.

All birds showing any general disqualifications according to the Standard of Perfection shall receive no award.

Provided the birds are typical of the breeds which they represent, the placing of awards shall depend upon the following:

- A. Pullets:
1. Rapidity of growth.
  2. Depth of pigment.
  3. Uniformity of shape and size.
  4. Promise of egg production.
  5. Absence of defects and disqualifications.

B. Mature Birds (Hens):

1. Degree of bleaching.
2. Condition of abdomen (spread and pliability).
3. Absence of new primary wing feathers.
4. Alertness of head and eyes.
5. Body weight, conformation and fitness.
6. Absence of defects and disqualifications.

It is suggested, especially for fairs held late in September and October, that all birds exhibited go directly from the Fair to market for slaughter so that none of them will be taken back to the farm. The reason for this precaution is that the birds may take back some disease to the farmer and injure his egg production of his farm flock, if such disease is infectious and of the type which will lower his egg production.

A pen entry shall consist of two females and one male. (Classifications: Cock, Cockerel, Hen, Pullet.)

TO THE OFFICIALS AND PATRONS OF COUNTY FAIRS:

During July, August and September of each year, our county fairs — and the granddaddy of them all, the Michigan State Fair, this year in its 114th year — serve as a showplace for the state's important human and natural resources. And we have an abundance of both.

Fairs, however, should mean more than exhibiting our agricultural and industrial products and skills or carnival rides for our children. Fairs serve more importantly as excellent opportunities to demonstrate dramatically to the rest of the nation that Michigan is unsurpassed as a place to work, live and play.

Our fairs promote Michigan at a time when we welcome visitors from outside Michigan. This essential promotion in turn encourages growth in the Michigan economy with its three fundamental elements — industry, agriculture and tourism. Each must be strengthened, and each must grow if Michigan is to regain its competitive position among the states.

Let's all work together to build Michigan.

Sincerely,
George Romney
George Romney

To Fair Management and Patrons:

With arrival of the 1963 season for the fairs we have an opportunity to evaluate our achievements in agriculture, mechanical development, and in better living in general. Among the exhibits on display are improvements and refinements in products and methods that were not even thought of several years ago.

This is especially true of agriculture, which provides our food and fiber. Research in agriculture has provided advancements in food production, processing and marketing that are as revolutionary as the advancements of modern industry.

The trend in agriculture has been toward better foods, produced on less acreage by fewer people. This has cut food costs for all of America and left more dollars for the purchase of other articles after the grocery bill is paid. In relation to the man-hours worked, food in America is cheaper today than at any time in the world's history. The tape in the grocery bag might not seem to indicate this if we judge only by the total. But relate this to our current earnings per hour and the fact becomes clear. Also, the variety of foods from which we may select has never been duplicated by any people anywhere at any time.

Great credit should go to the people who have given generously of their time and abilities to make the 1963 fairs possible. What we see of the progress made along many lines should make us grateful we are residents of Michigan and America.

Sincerely,
G. S. McIntyre
