

County Adopts Operating Budget of $312,353

A budget of $312,353 for operation of Iosco County during 1964 was adopted Tuesday afternoon by the board of supervisors. This was $4,676 higher than last year.

The budget as finally adopted was $1,399 higher than the preliminary figure brought in last April.

With anticipated fees of $25,000, the amount to be raised by taxation would be $287,353.

Members of the board's finance and apportionment committee began work on figuring out percentages to be paid by each taxing unit of the county, based on a combined state equalized valuation of $55,787,500. The county has been allocated 5.15 mills for operation.

Work of the committee was complicated by a $160,501 increase tacked on the state equalized valuation since last April.

Slight increases were noted Tuesday in budgets of the prosecuting attorney, county treasurer, county clerk, cooperative extension and circuit court.

Budget of the sheriff's department was increased $2,923 over last year to pay one-half the salary of an additional deputy in Oscoda Township. Iosco-Arenac Regional Library's budget was increased $1,751. Per capita allocation of 55 cents paid to the library in 1963, based on a population of 16,505, is increased 10 cents per capita this year.

In addition, the county airport budget was increased $2,800 in order to build up a reserve for financing construction of hard-surfaced runways. State and federal governments are to participate.

The board of supervisors budget is up $2,000 over last year; social welfare is up $3,000; direct relief is up $4,000 and soldiers burial was increased $1,600.

A slightly lower budget was set for the register of deeds, down $319.

Allocation of $1,000 was made to Iosco Intermediate School District, but this money is to be repaid by the new district as soon as taxes are collected. The county board of education had been allocated $6,645. Operation of the new intermediate district, under Supt. William F. Tracy, will be financed starting next year by a direct tax levy.

Breakdown of the budget was as follows:

Prosecuting attorney: Wages, $7,400; assistant clerical help, $200; department expense, $1,280. Total, $8,880.

Dec. 4 Trial Date Set on Suit Against N. Gypsum

Eleven different attorneys have received notification of the December 4 trial date in Iosco Circuit Court on continuation of a $400,000 damage suit against National Gypsum Company.

Receiving notice of the trial were attorneys for the 10 original plaintiffs, the State of Michigan and 16 plaintiffs who were permitted to intervene, plus attorneys for the defendant. All are not expected to take part in the trial.

In setting the date, Judge Allan C. Miller assigned three trial days and the case is to proceed with original plaintiffs presenting proofs first.

Original bill of complaint in this case was filed December 23, 1957. Since then, some 114 different proceedings have been filed.

The gypsum firm is being sued by property owners in the vicinity of the Charles T. Prescott Dock south of Tawas City, who claim damages allegedly caused by the installation.

Plaintiffs base their claims on a September 1960 supreme court appeal on an Iosco Circuit Court decision.

National Gypsum quarries gypsum rock inland and transports it to a site south of Tawas City and over the water of Saginaw Bay to lake freighters. It was allowed to complete construction of the multi-million dollar installation after a 1957 decree was issued by Judge Herman Dehnke, who retired in 1959. Signing of that decree had followed long months of litigation.

The supreme court appeal stated that construction of the loading facility subjected the company to payment of such damages as plaintiffs may be able to prove in court.

Plaintiffs claim that lake freighters cause water of Lake Huron to become muddy, that the water and shoreline becomes contaminated and owners are deprived of the use of property. Also, that property values are lowered.

The suit had been scheduled to go before Judge Miller in February 1962. However, since intervention of new plaintiffs, nearly 18 months have been required for preliminary proceedings. Much time has been consumed in preparing answers to written interrogatories submitted to the plaintiffs by the gypsum firm.

Original plaintiffs are Malvern F. Obrecht, Arthur L. Johnson, the Rev. Fr. Robert Neuman, Earle B. Clark, Elmer Slaven, Walter J. Heltenberg, J. B. Shively, Howard C. Davis, Albert F. Piggott, Maurice E. Brown.

MORE THAN 100 PERSONS attended Sunday's unveiling ceremony for an official Michigan Historical Commission marker at Pioneer Cemetery, west of Sand Lake. The marker was unveiled by Mrs. Aurelia Buch, 93, second from left, who was born along the Iosco-Ogemaw Road farming community in 1870. At left, is her son, Albert H. Buch, county register of deeds, who was one of the speakers. Standing second from right is Miss Edna Otis, who related early history of the area. At right is Grant Township Supervisor L. S. Little, who was instrumental in return of the property to the township several years ago and purchase last summer of the new marker.—Tawas Herald Photo.

Committee chairmen named last week for the campaign included: Richard Powers, industrial; Donald Watson, motels; Dr. John D. LeClair, physicians and dentists; Jerry Cotter, attorneys; Miss Dorothy Scott, federal employees; Albert H. Buch, county employees; John Brugger, who was named earlier as the labor chairman, met Monday night with representatives of the various labor unions in the area.

Yet to be named are campaign chairmen for business districts of the Tawasess, schools and city employees.

Judge Miller said that the campaign is to be conducted so as to collect donations at the source of employment.

A meeting is to be held Thursday night at which time the campaign goal is to be announced.

RICHARD WHITE, a 1963 graduate of Tawas Area High School, is a member of the 184-member University of Michigan Marching Band which has one of its busiest seasons this year as it is playing at seven home games and also at the Minnesota game in Minneapolis October 26. White won Tawas Area Band's top award as a senior.

James Campbell Named Chairman of Silver Valley

Plans for possible expansion of the winter sports program here were discussed.

Several area teachers will participate in panel discussions, including Miss Clara Bolen, elementary principal, and Ernest W. Jordan Jr., high school principal, both of Tawas Area Schools, and Supt. Samuel Gravitt and William Morris of Hale Area School.

Alabaster Brush Fire Blamed on Hunters

A brush fire in Alabaster Township, said to have been started by careless hunters, was blamed for causing an interruption in Michigan Bell Telephone Company long distance service Sunday.

The blaze burned through a four-foot piece of telephone cable in Section Seven, located on the south portion of Rood Ranch and on state land.

Evidence of three campfires was found in the vicinity and authorities believed that a party of hunters had spent the week-end there.

Conservation department equipment was used to plow a furrow around the burning area in order to stop the spread of flames.

NEW CHURCH

The new Trinity Lutheran Church was dedicated last Sunday in special services at Oscoda. Open house was held Tuesday afternoon.

Fourth Friday Count Had 2,012 Pupils in Local Schools

Total enrollment in Tawas Area School District as of the fourth Friday count numbered 2,012 pupils, according to a report at Monday night's board of education meeting.

Supt. Reynold Mick said this figure included 1,619 youngsters in grades kindergarten through 12 at Tawas Area School and 393 pupils in Tawas parochial schools.

Comparing enrollment totals, Mick noted an increase of 49 pupils in the public school over last year's fourth Friday enrollment. Parochial schools have two pupils less than last year's figure.

Enrollment in the public schools this year is as follows:

Kindergarten, 183; first grade, 118; second grade, 106; third grade, 115; fourth grade, 115; fifth grade, 119; sixth grade, 106; seventh grade, 114; eighth grade, 113; ninth grade, 143; 10th grade, 147; 11th grade, 131; 12th grade, 109.

Emanuel Lutheran—First grade, 10; second grade, nine; third grade, five; fourth grade, 10; fifth grade, eight; sixth grade, 10; seventh grade, five; eighth grade, seven.

According to the report, 1,359 students are being transported by bus during 1963-1964 as compared to 1,294 last year. Total miles traveled by buses this year is 912, as compared to 891.7 last year. Fourteen bus drivers will receive a total salary of $19,950 for the school term. This compares to $17,860 paid last year.

In other business, the board is to check costs on possible purchase of a milk cooler for the East Tawas unit.

St. James Electric is to prepare information and bid price on providing mercury vapor lamps to light the high school building and grounds at night.

Forest Fire Peril Spirals; Be Careful With Campfires

Fire danger in forest areas moved into the explosive stage yesterday with a report from the United States Forest Service at East Tawas stating that the burning index had reached 57.

The weather outlook through Thursday is expected to see continued mild and sunny days. The fire danger can only get worse, say authorities.

Issuance of burning permits has been discontinued by the forest service.

Reports were received Tuesday of three small brush fires in this area.

Hunters and others entering wooded areas are urged to use extreme caution with campfires.

False Alarm Here in Botulism Scare

Tawas had a false alarm botulism poisoning scare last Tuesday and Wednesday but, fortunately, the three residents involved developed no symptoms of the malady and were released from the hospital.

The story began Monday evening when Larry Frank, 24; his son, Gregory, three, and his mother-in-law, Mrs. Orville Strauer, visited relatives at Owosso and ate some smoked fish.

After they had left to go home, the relatives noticed the fish had been packed by a Grand Haven firm, whose product had been withdrawn from sale as a suspected cause of botulism.

Alarmed, they called Owosso police, who in turn notified Police Chief George Ruth of Tawas City. The Franks and Mrs. Strauer were taken to Tawas Hospital.

Besides being perhaps the most lethal poison known, botulism is one of the fastest acting. In an acute case, death follows the onset of symptoms within a few hours. Botulism of any type is so rare that it is considered a one-in-several million chance occurrence.

The three local residents were released from the hospital Wednesday noon.

31 TA Boys Complete Hunter Safety Course

Presenting the awards was Conservation Officer Arthur G. Leitz.

Instructed by Robert Reasner, the boys participated in the course which is offered through the Michigan Department of Conservation hunter safety program.

Mielock Says—

Tax Reform May Help Economy if Legislature Irons Out a Few Problems

By GERALD J. KEIR

LANSING — Gov. George Romney's tax reform program can do much to help the economy of the Iosco County area and the State of Michigan if the legislature can iron out a few difficulties, Rep. James P. Mielock said here.

Mielock, Republican representative from the Alpena District, said he feels the major drawbacks to the program lie in the income tax and school rebate provisions.

"There has been resentment against an 'unlimited' income tax," Mielock said. "A constitutional amendment would be needed to effectively limit it, and it will be next fall before the people can vote on it."

He asserted that the income tax, in itself, is not undesirable, but some limitation is essential.

Mielock also expressed disapproval over the proposal to give an across-the-board 20 percent rebate on school property taxes, with the state making up the difference.

"This is inequitable, since it helps the wealthy school districts more than the poor ones," Mielock said. "If we can correct this feature so that the program will help to equalize state education standards, the program will go."

House Speaker Allison Green, Republican-Kingston, has also attacked the 20 percent rebate proposal.

Mielock also said he dislikes the proposal to remove the sales tax from food.

"Basically the sales tax is a very stable tax. This would cause it to lose stability, and fluctuate with the economy," Mielock said.

Romney's suggestion to repeal the business activities tax will be a boon to business in his district and across the state, Mielock said.

"The BAT is an unjust tax. Its repeal would help industry, especially small businesses, and encourage new business to get started," Mielock said.

The property tax deferral idea for older citizens, as set up by Romney, is a good idea, he said.

"It would be impractical to give an outright exemption, as some Democrats have suggested," Mielock said. "The idea of a revolving fund, with the state being repaid after the owner's death, is a good one."

Some of the older people are against this, Mielock pointed out, because they "want to pay their way and look upon it as charity."

"If it's properly publicized as an aid available to low-income senior citizens, it will go through," the Whittemore legislator commented.

Mielock looks upon the option of local units to levy an one percent personal income tax as a valuable proposal.

"There is little need of it in my district," he said. "But in areas where they have problems, this is an opportunity to raise money through local sources."

The proposition of paying one-half of the local tax "where you work" and the other half "where you live" is unwise, however, Mielock said. The taxpayer get almost all of the services where he lives, he added.

"These bills will have to pass on their merits alone," Mielock said. "If we can limit the income tax and use the 20 percent school rebate to equalize state education, this program will go," he concluded.

THE IOSCO AREA south of the AuSable River has recorded 100 deer killed on highways since January 1, according to Conservation Officer Arthur Leitz, who is shown here with a dead deer as a car speeds along US-23. The highway kill is not only a waste, said Leitz, but also dangerous to occupants of automobiles.—Tawas Herald Photo.

HEALTH COUNCIL REVIEWS ACTIVITY-FILLED YEAR

At the Tuesday afternoon meeting of the Hale Health Council, 20 members were in attendance for election of officers. The group heard a report of the year's activity. A committee was appointed to audit the organization's books.

Last year's officers were returned to their offices by unanimous vote with exception of the secretary, who declined. Serving are Mrs. Florence Dooley, chairman; Mrs. Florence Mann, vice chairman; Mrs. Hilda Parkinson, secretary; Mrs. Grace Adams, treasurer; Mrs. Doris Thayer, historian; Mrs. Lloyd Springsteen, publicity.

Proceeds from an October rummage sale went to the fire department's resuscitator fund. Records show many things were loaned out from the council's loan closet. When these items are out for 30 days, individuals having them in their possession must renew the loan.

A list of items and the number of times released to individuals from loan closet showed the following usage of equipment: Wheel chairs, nine; crutches, 23; walker, five; bedside tables, seven; bed pads, 291; bed mattresses, 14; stools, two; bed rails, three; bed pans, four; vaporizers, four, and portable lift, two.

NEWS for truck owners who need a new one now

Things Chevrolet has developed since the last time you bought to give you more for your money:

Double-wall construction. This feature of Chevrolet cabs and the Fleetside pickup body has two advantages. Insulation and sound-deadening material is sandwiched between the two layers of steel in the cab to give you more comfort; in the body, the lower inner wall acts as a buffer against load damage, preserving the outer appearance of the truck.

Suspension to fit the truck. Conventional half- and three-quarter-ton models have independent front suspension with variable rate coils in the rear. Variable rate coils do not "bottom out" as readily.

Mediums and heavies have I-beam suspension with variable-rate leaf springs. It automatically stiffens as the load increases—and vice versa. It means a smoother, flatter ride regardless of load, a better handling truck.

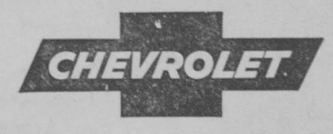

The right engine. Chevrolet never has been in better position to give you the type and size you need for maximum efficiency. Today there are many different capacities of gasoline and diesel Chevrolet truck engines—fours, sixes, V8's.

Stronger frames. Every conventional 1964 Chevrolet truck has a ladder-type frame. This type is more resilient, better able to give with the load and terrain. Its simple design also makes it easier to mount special bodies on the truck. Its riveted side rails are stronger.

Greater model selection. This time you're going to find it a simple matter to pick the exact type of Chevrolet truck for the kind of work you do. In delivery trucks, for instance, in addition to regular panels and pickups, we have eleven different sizes of ready-made walk-in vans, some with full-width rear doors.

Quality and value. Chevrolets today are a lot more truck than your money bought the last time, and yet the price tag is just about the same as 5 or 6 years ago. Call your Chevrolet dealer for information or for a demonstration.

Quality trucks always cost less!

telephone lines

By CHET MAHER, Manager

ALL OF US at Bell Telephone are constantly seeking ways to keep our costs down. For example, Western Electric, our manufacturing and supply unit, has found a way of using a new, less costly plastic to produce six sets of telephone parts for the former cost of five. Such reductions in costs help us offset the rise in other costs. This never-ending search for savings is an important reason your telephone remains one of the biggest bargains in your home today.

IT'S TIME TO PHONE GRANDMA!

MANY FOLKS who don't see their out-of-town relatives or close friends very often have developed the pleasant habit of visiting them every week at the same time—by telephone. Knowing that the person they want to talk with will be there at that time, they call station-to-station instead of person-to-person. "Station" calls cost less than "person" calls. And they go through faster, because in most cases you can dial them yourself. Why not phone tonight?

INFORMED CITIZENS give added strength to this nation of ours. During National Newspaper Week, October 13-19, we pay tribute to the part played by our newspapers in keeping us well informed. And it's a week when we at Michigan Bell are especially proud of the part telephone facilities play in helping the newspapers gather the news and get it to you—fast and accurately.

W-P Cards Win in Homecoming Tilt, 33-13

Whittemore-Prescott Cardinals defeated the Alcona Tigers, 33-13, last Friday night. It was homecoming night for the winners.

The visitors scored first, but a pass from Larry Pickett to Chip Drengberg knotted the score. Rasbury ran the point after touchdown and the Cards held a 6-0 lead.

In the second quarter, Rasbury, Pickett and Wojcicki alternated carrying the ball to the one-yard line where Pickett scored. Rasbury added the PAT on a plunge. The Cards scored again in the quarter on a pass play covering 50 yards from Pickett to End Earl Bronson.

Second half scoring saw Drengberg pick off a pass and race 96 yards for a touchdown. The PAT came on a pass from Wojcicki to Bronson.

Alcona scored one touchdown in the final quarter, but the Cards came right back when Rasbury scored from one yard out.

Tawas Area JVs Win 'Racehorse' Thriller From Pinny, 33-26

Tawas Area Junior Braves won a "racehorse" football game from the Pinconning Junior Varsity last Thursday night, 33-26.

The Junior Braves scored three touchdowns in the first half and two in the second half, while Pinconning scored once in the first half and three times in the second.

First touchdown of the night was set up when Halfback Ed Cain picked off a pass from Quarterback Dick Grebe and rolled 21 yards. Grebe went the final six yards around end and Grebe cracked over for the TD from one yard out. The PAT was no good.

Pinconning came back to score on the next series of downs to open the second quarter. The try for PAT failed and the score was tied at 6-6.

Tawas then scored two touchdowns to take the lead. Cain caught a pass from Grebe and ran 33 yards to set up the first score. Grebe went the final six yards to hit paydirt, but the PAT attempt again failed. The Junior Braves held on defense and, after taking possession of the ball just before the half, Roach caught a pass from Grebe and went 55 yards to score.

Pinconning scored immediately after the half to narrow the margin, but Tawas bounced back when Cain went around end 32 yards to score. Grebe ran the point after touchdown.

Scoring its second touchdown of the third quarter, Pinconning closed the gap to 26-20, but Maki recovered a Spartan JV fumble to open the fourth quarter and Grebe scored on a 22-yard roll out. Cain ran the PAT.

This proved to be the difference, as Pinconning scored one final touchdown in the fourth quarter.

People Who Work in Private Homes Covered by Social Security

"Many people do not know that people who work in private homes have the same protection under the social security system as workers in commerce and industry," Paul M. Ellifritz, district manager of social security in Bay City, said today. "Everyone should know about this aspect of social security, because people who have covered workers in their homes are legally responsible for reporting their wages and paying the social security tax."

"Any household worker who has a question about whether he or she is covered by social security should get in touch with the Social Security Administration office. Employers who need information about reporting their employees can secure information from the Social Security Administration or the Internal Revenue Service," Mr. Ellifritz added. "The thing to remember is that these reports must be made, or you may be called on later to pay the back taxes."

A representative of the Social Security Administration will be in Tawas City at the Iosco County Building Thursday, October 24, 10:30 a. m.

Cap Homecoming Week-End With Victory Over Spartans

Tawas Area Braves capped annual homecoming week-end here with a 21-0 victory Friday night over the Pinconning Spartans and clinched at least a tie for their second consecutive Northern B Conference championship.

Only other team with a possibility of sharing the NBC crown with Tawas is the surprising West Branch Orioles, who fell before the Braves early in the season and now have won three straight games.

The Braves will be gunning for their fifth straight victory at Gladwin this Friday night and will be out to eliminate the lone challenge from the Branchers.

Tawas rolled to victory Friday night on the strength of completely dominating play in the first quarter and a strong defense throughout most of the game. The Braves held the visitors to only four first downs and, except for brilliant runs by Pinconning's quarterback, stopped the Spartans in their tracks.

The Braves took the opening kickoff and then used the entire first quarter and 23 plays to score a touchdown. Moving from T-25, Quarterback Dale Harten used his entire backfield in a steady downfield drive. After reaching the Pinconning six, the Braves were penalized twice and apparently ran out of drive when they were within striking distance. Pinconning's defense held and End Herb Humphrey tried a field goal on fourth down. Humphrey, who was later to kick three successive PATS, was wide of the posts with his kick and Pinny took over possession.

On the first play from scrimmage, Guard Tim Larpin recovered a fumble on the eight-yard line. Two plays later, Don Lear cracked over from two yards out for the first touchdown. Humphrey's boot was good and Tawas held a 7-0 lead.

This ended the scoring in the first half, but not the excitement, as just before intermission Quarterback Ron Blank of Pinconning picked his way through the Tawas defense and then scampered 65 yards before finally being nailed from behind by End Joe LaBlance. The Spartans were unable to move after the brilliant run and Lear intercepted a pass to end the threat.

Center Ken Sheldon's boot to open the second half looked as though it would go out of bounds but a couple of crazy bounces along the sidelines put the pigskin in play. Tawas took possession during a mental lapse on the part of the visitors, who were apparently treating the play as a punt and were letting the ball "roll dead."

This unusual situation play set the stage for Tawas Area's second touchdown of the evening as the Braves recovered the ball. Halfback Jim Herriman picked up 13 yards in two carries. Don Harten picked up one yard up the middle and Herriman punched through for a six-pointer from two yards out. Humphrey's placement kick was good and Tawas led, 14-0.

Pinconning's offense, which showed much before the half, was stopped by the Tawas defense in the third quarter. On fourth down after taking the kickoff, Blank punted beautifully to the Tawas 17 but the play was nullified by a penalty. His second kick was taken by Herriman, who moved to the 49.

From that point, the Braves moved to their final score of the night. Most of the ball carrying was by Don Harten, who picked up 15 yards in five carries and then punched over for the final six yards.

Also sharing the drive were Herriman with five yards on the ground and a 20-yard pass play. Lear six yards and Halfback Jim Herriman's five yards to pick up an important first down.

Hale Area to Observe Annual Homecoming

Hale Area High School will observe its annual homecoming this week-end with crowning of the 1963 queen, parade and football game between the Eagles and Mio Thunderbolts.

The homecoming queen will be crowned during halftime at Saturday afternoon's football game. Candidates are Diane Beader, Nikki Pipp and Linda Wyatt, all seniors; Ginger Stephenson and Margaret Webb, juniors.

Morse Winslow and his dance band will serenade the queen and her court and furnish music for alumni dancing and pleasure from 9:00 to 1:00 Saturday night at the high school gymnasium.

The homecoming week event opens with a huge bonfire pep meeting behind the school at 8 o'clock Friday night. Members of the football team will be introduced, as well as the candidates for homecoming queen.

The homecoming parade with floats and both the Hale Area and Mio marching bands will be held Saturday afternoon starting at 12:30 o'clock. There will be a trophy for the best float.

Hale plays Mio in its final league encounter for the year. It promises to be a battle between two league powers. Hale Eagles are led by Co-Captains Cal Bell and Dave Bernard.

¾ cup milk
1 8-ounce can tomato sauce
¾ cup crumbled American blue cheese (about 4 ounces)
½ teaspoon oregano
1 teaspoon minced onion
¼ teaspoon freshly ground pepper
4 slices Mozzarella cheese

Combine biscuit mix and milk; mix well. Turn out on lightly floured surface and knead gently ½ minute. Divide dough in four portions. Top each with a slice of Mozzarella cheese. Sprinkle rest of blue cheese on top. Serves 4.

Use October as a time to introduce your family to a new cheese. This month is Cheese Festival Time! Delightful taste sensations are awaiting you and your family when you experiment with new recipes using cheese. The flavors of cheese are as varied as spices and herbs.

Cheese is one of the most versatile food items. Probably most familiar as "cooking" cheese is Cheddar or American cheese. However, Swiss, brick, blue, Camembert, cream, cottage and Parmesan can also be used. It is well for home-makers to shake hands with many types of cheese because cheese, like people, has individual personality which needs only the good cook's ingenuity to bring out.

Served alone, cheese makes a tempting snack; use Gouda cheese plus a few extra ingredients and you have an appetizer tray. Eggs Benedict a la Blue give hearty appeal to the brunch menu. From a cheese soup to cheese for dessert, there's truly a cheese for every occasion and taste!

QUICHE LORRAINE

Pastry:
 2 cups flour
 1 teaspoon onion salt
 1/4 teaspoon basil
 1/4 cup (1/2 stick) butter
 1/4 cup lard
 4-5 tablespoons cold water

Filling:
 2 cups (1/2 lb.) shredded Swiss cheese
 6 slices bacon, cooked and crumbled
 4 eggs, slightly beaten
 1 tablespoon cornstarch
 1/2 teaspoon salt
 1/4 teaspoon freshly ground nutmeg
 Dash of cayenne pepper

2 cups half and half (half milk and half cream)
 2 tablespoons butter, melted
 2 tablespoons grated Parmesan cheese

Use a 9-inch pie pan; preheat oven to 375°.

Prepare pastry by sifting together flour and onion salt; mix in basil. Cut in butter and lard until mixture is crumbly. Gradually add enough water to hold dough together, mixing it in lightly with a fork. Roll out on a lightly floured board about 1/8 inch thick; line pan. Prepare filling by tossing together Swiss cheese and bacon; place in prepared pan. Combine eggs, cornstarch, salt, nutmeg, cayenne pepper and half and half until well blended; pour over cheese-bacon mixture. Cover edge of pastry with aluminum foil to prevent overbrowning. Drizzle on butter, sprinkle with Parmesan cheese and bake 40 minutes. Remove foil 10 minutes before end of baking time to achieve a golden color. Let Quiche stand 10 minutes before serving. Serves 6.

LITTLE BOY BLUEBURGER

 18 French fried onion rings
 12 sprigs watercress
 1/4 cup prepared mustard
 2 tablespoons prepared horseradish
 Small lettuce cups

Combine ground beef, butter or margarine, blue cheese, salt, Worcestershire sauce and pepper. Shape into 6 equal-sized patties. Place in broiler pan and broil about 2 1/2 to 3 minutes on each side. Meanwhile, heat buns. Place burgers on bottom halves of heated buns and place on serving plates. Place top half of bun alongside burger, seeded side up. Garnish top of each burger with 2 sprigs watercress and 3 French fried onion rings. Combine mustard and horseradish and place in small lettuce cup alongside each burger on serving plate.

 1 cup shredded Gouda cheese
 2 tablespoons grated onion

 1 8-ounce Baby Gouda, softened
 1/2 cup finely chopped corned beef
 1/4 cup dairy sour cream
 2 tablespoons sweet pickle relish
 2 teaspoons prepared horseradish
 Rye and/or pumpernickel bread rounds

Slice off top of Gouda cheese and hollow out, leaving about a 1/4-inch rim; set aside. Shred the cheese and blend with corned beef, sour cream, pickle relish and horseradish. Fill Gouda shell and surround on appetizer platter with bread rounds.

FARMHAND DIVISION OF  DUFFIN CORPORATION

a good one!

A good father and sons farm partnership thrives on trust and a fair deal for everyone.

So believes Richard P. Flynn, the titular head of Flynn operated by R. P. Flynn and Sons, at Blair, Nebraska.

His sons: Tom, 43, Adrian, 41, and Gene, 36, agree with their active and keen-minded 79-year-old dad. Together they handle an intensive operation on their 383-acre farm, turning out some 600 head of fat hogs a year, and 1½ million pounds of grade A whole milk for the Nebraska-Iowa Milk Association which serves Omaha.

The Flynns have been working under a written partnership contract since 1947, sharing income four ways. All four families live in modern homes grouped together at the farmstead; two of the houses are now within the city limits as Blair's city streets "moved in" on the farm. Eight adults and 14 children, shared among the three sons, are supported by the partnership.

"With the high fixed unit costs of farming today, I wouldn't be operating this farm alone," Richard Flynn observed. "There's unity in strength and by working together and being individually interested in the success of the farm, we accomplish a lot more." He pointed out that each son in the partnership is a key fellow, responsible for some phase of the business.

Tom is the number one man on handling of the big crop of registered Holstein calves in the 300-head herd. He keeps an eye on calvings and calf feeding and assists in the evening milking.

Adrian is key man in fieldwork and crop handling, looks after the machinery and looks after the hog chores.

Gene handles the books with his wife, does much of the buying and selling, takes care of the multitude of details in keeping up herd registrations, and is primarily responsible for the morning milking.

All are "swing" men, however, and fit into the overall job pattern as needed. Richard Flynn, affectionately called "Pappy" keeps an eye on things, works "when he pleases" and is enjoying his late years in travel and trips with his wife.

Milking over 100 head of cows a day (500-pound butterfat average for the last five years and 14,000 pounds of milk), producing and putting up high quality corn and alfalfa silage, making hay on rented acres, fattening hogs and home-raised Holstein steers, taking part in district and state Black and White shows, keeps the partners busy.

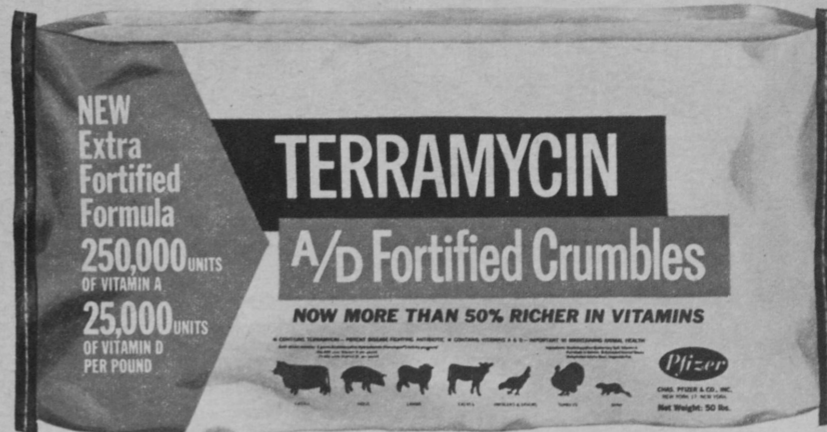

"But we are lenient and fair about time off," Gene remarked. "Any of us can swing into another man's chores if he wants to take a few days off or go on a vacation. To prevent the milking from becoming a chore for any one person, we alternate and each take our turn. No one person gets the brunt of the work then."

Books are kept under the name of R. P. Flynn and Sons and each of the four partners takes a monthly draw on his own volition. "Two of us take checks at the first of the month, the other two the middle of the month," Gene said. "We settle accounts at the end of the year."

More often than not you'll find dad and the three sons talking over things in the milking parlor during the morning milking. These informal "director" meetings take care of the jobs of the day, plans for the future, reports on the livestock and crops.

The four partners are well satisfied with their family farm setup and see it as a means of holding together a large farm.

Cottontail Safari

by Clay Schoenfeld

We were coming down out of the hills in the winter twilight—12-year-old Billy and I. It was still, so still our feet made a great crunching in the frozen snow. Billy's steps were shorter than mine, but he managed to keep up.

When we slowed down, cutting through the bogs of a pasture, Billy looked back at the wooded bulk of the ridge, darkening against the pale sky.

"Uncle Clay," he asked wistfully, "you can't get back behind it, can you?"

"Behind what, Billy?"

"Why," he explained earnestly, "behind your good times. Behind what's happened. Get right back behind it and do it all over again, just exactly the same. You can't do that, can you?"

I chewed on my cigar a minute before I answered:

"Well, no, Billy, we have to admit we can't get back. Not exactly. But say, Billy, there's one way you can come so mighty close to it you can hardly tell the difference, and that's rabbit hunting, like today. Peter Cottontail doesn't change. He keeps going strong. You'll always be able to get back—with him!"

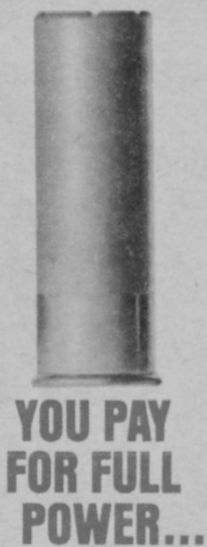

I think I was dead right. I can prove it, to my satisfaction, at least, any fall or winter weekend by stopping the car at the foot of the ridge that runs up from the old Mineral Point and Northern right-of-way. I can stroll up into the hazelbrush and—skat! There's Peter Cottontail scooting for a hole, a blur of gray against the snow, just as he did when I was a boy.

The railroad is gone, and most of my boyhood partners. But a couple of them I can expect to meet on the ridge, with guns in the crooks of their arms, getting back behind the years—with Brer Rabbit.

There are a lot of us rabbit hunters in the United States. Scratch a pheasant fancier or a deer man and ten to one you'll find a rabbit hunter underneath. More hunters probably have cut their eye teeth on bunnies than on any other game, and more shotgun shells are still expended on rabbits today than on any other species.

As a matter of fact, in many regions we're shooting more rabbits now than we ever did, because sound agricultural land use practices are creating better rabbit range. Contour farming tends to increase the amount of "edge" between cover types and to create small, irregularly shaped, ungrazed woodlots—just the thing for Peter Cottontail.

Because many of these spots are close to cities, Peter is the ideal quarry of the Sunday hunter. Wherever you go across the face of America, you can see these sportsmen on a cottontail safari, getting back behind the years—with Brer Rabbit.

Ordinary paper shells start losing power from the day they're made. Moisture, humidity and temperature steal power...up to 28% in just twelve months. And the longer you keep 'em, the more they lose. Plastic shells made by Remington keep 100% of their power. They start out as the most powerful shells made...and stay that way. And the tough weatherproof plastic case means they'll never scuff, swell or split. Now made in a wide range of "Express" high-base loads and new "Shur Shot" low-base field loads. Remember, Remington plastic shells keep your power dry! Ask for them by name. Remington

The beagle has been famous as an ideal rabbit dog since long before his recent rise as a household pet. Once kicked out and pursued, a rabbit will typically run in a big circle. The beagle "brings him around" by yipping at his heels.

GRASSROOTS GLEANINGS

by Bill Stokes

"Times Have Changed For Hogs," was the headline in the Devils Lake (N.D.) Journal over a story that described the new sanitary conditions under which a hog should be raised.

Old-time hog wallows are out, the story said, because they can't be kept clean. Wallows of concrete or metal are recommended.

How could a hog have any fun in a clean wallow? And isn't a hog's fun important? It is to the hog.

I helped a hog have fun in a wallow one time, a muddy, watery wallow. I was jumping across the wallow on rocks that protruded out of the muck, when I leaped onto what I thought was an extra large boulder. Of course, it wasn't a boulder. It was a hog. The hog came rearing out of the mire like a fat tornado. I executed what must have been a type of groundloop, and landed with a rather magnificent, sloshing splash.

Are we ready to deny this kind of adventure to today's rural youth?

One hog adventure that will never change is trying to drive hogs through a gate or a door that they don't want to go through. It is a little like trying to herd a hornet through a small knothole.

We were trying to drive hogs up a cattle truck chute one morning when one of them bolted and ran between the truck driver's legs, carrying him up the side of a manure pile and dumping him rather abruptly. That truck driver made some of the most unkind remarks about hogs that have ever been made.

While we're on the subject of hogs, the Gratiot Herald of Ithaca, Mich. recorded details of the hog and husband calling contest at the Michigan state fair.

Living in an age of depth investigation, it is appropriate that we explore the difference in the reasons that husbands and hogs respond to calls.

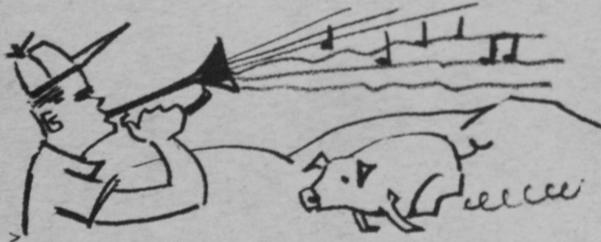

About the only time a hog gets called is when it is going to get something to eat. No wonder they answer with instant enthusiasm.

Sometimes a husband gets called to eat, but more often he hears the call to dish out money for the peddler, fix the spring on the screen door, or help pick a paint color for the kitchen ceiling.

It's easy to see why hogs run faster than husbands when the calls go out.

The champion hog caller in our neighborhood was a man named Clarence Squeen. Clarence called his hogs by tooting on an old army bugle which he hung from the gatepost with a piece of twine.

Usually he played the "call" to charge, blowing up a virtual storm as his hogs thundered down over the hill like a company of cavalry. It was a glorious sight.

The Daily Post of Belle Fourche, S.D., reports that a huge stockpile of obsolete signs was the result of a changeover to new signs on state roads. The signs may be made available to civic organizations, a highway official said.

I'm not a civic organization, but I'd like to get my hands on some of those signs. In the traffic lane from Patty's room to the telephone, there would be a 35 m.p.h. speed limit posted.

We'd put a "STOP" sign on the door of the refrigerator.

The mailman would find a "Do Not Litter" sign on the mailbox when the first of the month rolled around.

And we could use a "Slippery When Wet" sign by the bathtub to remind us that you need an extra strong grip to keep a small boy in soapy water.

In the advice column that ran in the Daily Sentinel of Fairmont, Minn., there was the girl who wrote for instructions on how to have a lovely wedding, and then panicked because she thought her name might be published. It seems that the man she was planning to marry had not proposed to her yet.

He will, the poor chap. A girl with that kind of determination is not to be denied. And he'll go through life thinking how he "won" her. Ah, the injustice of it all.
