Conservation Dept. Has New Field Headquarters

Michigan Department of Conservation has a new field office and a new fire officer as another spring fire season rolls around.

Gary Dutcher, 37, was named recently as the new fire officer here replacing Bert MacGregor, who retired effective December 31.

Through an arrangement with the United States Forest Service, the new state conservation department field office is located in a garage on Ogemaw Street, East Tawas.

Dutcher and Fire Officer Roy Milnes will make their headquarters in the building. A 50-watt base station operating on the department's radio frequency was installed there Monday.

The local office issues approximately 200 burning permits a month during the spring season and last year answered six forest fire calls in which a total of 126 acres of land were burned.

The conservation department works in close cooperation with the United States Forest Service and local fire departments in combating grass and forest fires which annually cost thousands of dollars in damage to property and endangers life.

According to state law, a permit is required for all open fires. Any person who willfully, negligently, or carelessly sets a fire which injures or endangers the property or life of another may, upon conviction be liable to fine or imprisonment.

Burning permits may be obtained by calling the conservation department field office, 362-2541; Fire Officer Milnes, 362-5409; Conservation Officer Arthur Leit or Conservation Officer Jack LaFear; United States Forest Service, 362-3941; Fuerst and Charters Hardware, Whittemore, SK 6-2191; Pearsall's Store, Hale, RA 8-2611; Hale Fire Tower, RA 8-3206; Seven Mile Hill Fire Tower, SE 9-9955; Oscoda Fire Department, SE 9-3941.

A 16-year veteran of the conservation department, Dutcher comes to the Tawas area after serving the past 7½ years at Jackson as a conservation officer.

He started his career at a fire lookout station in Missaukee County, moved to the Keweenaw Peninsula as a fire officer and then to Allegan and Berry Counties.

His wife and three children are to join him here after school is out for summer vacation.

TV Bible Program Shows Progress

The Rev. N. W. Zellmer of Tawas City spent last week-end at St. Paul, Minnesota, for board meetings in connection with the television program, "Bible Story Time," for which he is art counselor.

He reports that the program is growing steadily, adding more stations, increasing management staff to keep up with growth and demanding all the talents of a business corporation.

He expressed gratitude to people in the area who have been aiding the program with donations.

The Rev. Leonard Newman of Hemlock has offered his services as promotion manager for Michigan. He has one of the television tapes and a sample program as an aid in seeking cooperative effort in having the program shown in this area.

Fire Danger High in NEM

Things are drying up again and conditions led to one grass fire Tuesday west of Tawas City and immediate prospects are that the fire situation will worsen.

A dangerous condition existed Monday and Tuesday when the entire Northeastern Michigan area was buffeted by high winds. No serious blazes were reported, but local fire departments, Michigan Department of Conservation and United States Forestry Department fire crews could only hope for the best.

A brush fire north of M-55 shortly before noon Tuesday could have proven most serious, according to James Lansky, Tawas City fire chief.

The blaze, believed to have been started by a cigarette thrown by a passing motorist, started along the fence line of property owned by Harold Goedecke on the east side of Rempert Road. Fanned by high wind, the fire raced east about 30 feet until it hit a water hole and burned out.

"I am sure we could have never stopped the fire until it reached the next road a mile east, had it not been for that 100-foot-long water hole," said Lansky.

Residents are warned to refrain from all outdoor burning during this extremely dry weather and period of high wind. Incinerators should be watched, especially, warns Lansky. All burning permits have been canceled until conditions improve.

TA Board Accepts Teacher Contracts; Await State Ruling

Contracts for six teachers were approved and 41 more contracts were accepted Monday night by the Tawas Area Board of Education. This gives Tawas a total of 47 out of 54 teachers signed for next year.

The last named contracts, involving teachers with more than three years experience, were approved in principle only as the board waits to see if the new teacher tenure act will become law this year.

This action was recommended by Secretary Walter Niles and Trustee Walter Champion, who acted as a committee to study contracts. Should the legislature close its session before June 15 and the law takes effect, new contracts would have to be negotiated with the teachers.

Indications are that the legislature will probably remain in session until after the June deadline and the law would not become effective until next year. A committee of teachers is now studying the problem and is to make recommendations to the board of education.

"We do not want anyone to get the idea that we are not going to honor these contracts," stated Supt. Reynold Mick. "If the attorney general rules that contracts must be rewritten, the school would have to follow his ruling."

The six teachers actually signed would not come under provisions of the new tenure act. Included are Susan G. Freel, Judith Gidley, Arlene Brown, Grace Asplund, Mary Ann Klenow and Richard Fairless.

Teachers returning unsigned contracts were Edward Rima, Betty Rima and Doris Weible. Known needs to present include two fifth grade teachers, a band director, language instructor, English teacher and a home economics teacher to replace Mrs. Dorothy Clark, who has resigned.

Rima, who has been here nearly 13 years, has compiled an outstanding record as band director. Although he has not signed with another school as yet, he has had numerous contract offers to enter larger school systems. His wife is French instructor here.

The school administration has interviewed a prospective new band director from Atlanta High School and a contract has been forwarded to him.

MEET TONIGHT

Regular meeting of Iosco Sportsmen's Club will be held tonight (Wednesday) at the club house. The meeting had been scheduled last week.

Lipreading Class for Deaf and Hard of Hearing Set April 21-22 in Iosco

Mrs. M. Bethel Clifford of the Michigan Association for Better Hearing, Lansing, was in Iosco County April 9 working with District Health Department No. 2 to establish a lipreading class for deaf and hard of hearing individuals.

Before Mrs. Clifford left town, she announced that the first meeting of the class would be held April 21, 1:00-3:00 p. m., at Hale Community Building; April 22, 7:00-8:00 p. m., Iosco County Building, Tawas City; April 23, 1:00-3:00 p. m., Oscoda Community Building. All people with hearing handicaps are invited to come.

Mrs. Clifford is a good example of the results of rehabilitation services for the deaf and the hard of hearing that are available in this class. In fact, the lack of such instruction threatened to bring tragedy to her entire life.

As a child, Mrs. Clifford had great difficulty keeping up with her twin sister. No one knew the cause of the difficulty, but one twin got along well in school and

Oates Named Chairman of Board for 2nd Term

In its annual reorganization Tuesday, Iosco Board of Supervisors named Henry Oates of Alabaster Township to his second term as chairman.

Oates had succeeded former Tawas Township supervisor, Glenn Long, to that office last year after having served five years as chairman pro tem.

A race developed between George Blust of Whittemore and Robert LaVoy of Baldwin Township for chairman pro tem. Blust, who served in this position last year, won by a 9-8 secret ballot.

The two officers of the board spent most of the day in preparing a list of committee appointments for the next year. This was presented before adjournment Tuesday afternoon.

The April session is the busiest of any during the year for the board of supervisors, although most of the work is taken up by individual committees.

A preliminary budget for fiscal 1965 will be prepared, in addition to footing assessment rolls and equalizing the county tax base.

Last year, Iosco had an operating budget of $310,954.12, with $285,954.12 being raised by taxation and $25,000 through fees received by county offices. The new budget is to be prepared for presentation to the allocation board next Monday.

Members of the board are as follows:

L. S. Little, Grant Township; Edward Lixey, East Tawas; Clarence McKenzie, East Tawas; Edward Nelkie, Tawas Township; Oates, Alabaster; Harvey O'Dell,

Except where two appointments were made to fill vacancies, township supervisors remain the same as last year. Under the new state constitution, township elections were not held in April.

The two appointees were Nelkie, who replaced Long, and Savage, who replaced Burge Ashton.

Four Plead Guilty to Cabin B&E Charge

Three Tawas teen-agers and a 20-year-old entered guilty pleas when arraigned Monday in Iosco Circuit Court on charges of breaking and entering in the nighttime.

Released under personal bond were Fred Burgis and Dennis Warren. Posting $500 bonds were Dennis Sullivan and Harold Kendall, 20.

The four admitted breaking into a cabin owned by Russell Cocksles in Baldwin Township and stealing a quantity of liquor.

Harold Rollin, manager of Tawas City Independents, has called a practice session for Sunday, April 19, 1:00 p. m., at the local diamond. Anyone wishing to play ball is invited to attend.

Tawas Area School Asks Allocation Board for Nine Mills to Save State Aid

A budget calling for a tax levy of nine mills was approved Monday night by the Tawas Area Board of Education. This budget is to be submitted to the Iosco County Allocation Board on April 20.

Last year, the board asked for 8.4 mills from the allocation board and received 8.1. However, House Bill 530 provides that if nine mills is not levied by a school district, state aid is to be cut proportionately. The general assumption is that the bill will become law.

Prior to adoption of the new budget, Supt. Reynold Mick told board members that the school district would stand to lose $30,000 in state aid under the millage rate approved for last year.

Total estimated income for 1964-1965 under the new budget is $563,019. Of this amount, $266,202 would be received from state aid and $245,617 from the nine mill tax levy based on a state equalized valuation of $27,000,000.

The budget would include an expenditure of $179,419 for elementary instruction, of which $154,169 would be for teacher salaries. Total secondary expenditures would be $196,800, of which $168,000 is listed for salaries of regular high school teachers.

Cost of administration is $22,625, transportation costs are listed at $49,975, operation of plant at $62,250, maintenance of $14,500 for a grand total of $529,719. Capital outlay of $33,000 and community service (recreation) of $300 would bring the grand total of expenditures to $563,019.

Cost of current operation as budgeted during the present school year is $513,517.50, of which $211,757.80 was raised by the 8.1 tax levy and $261,343.50 in state aid.

In other business, the superintendent reported that the state fire marshal had inspected plans for the new addition to the East Tawas Elementary Unit and had made several minor alterations.

Principal Ernest Jordan reported on a meeting Monday of Northern B Conference administrators concerning including cross country in the league's athletic program. Other schools have adopted the cross country program as a fall sport and is to be considered here. Members of the board of education expressed the opinion that they were not interested in seeing

Entrance was made into the building by breaking out a window. A door in the main office was pried open. AN INTERNATIONAL CELEBRITY ARRIVES AT THE FAIR

The occasion is the New York World's Fair... the scene is the spectacular General Motors Futurama—and the car, of course, is Cadillac.

And the Cadillac car is a standout attraction even in this distinguished international company. Drive any of eleven 1964 models and you'll discover why.

There's Cadillac's magnificent and silent power. A 340-horsepower V-8 engine—most powerful in Cadillac history—generates performance so swiftly that we caution even long-time Cadillac owners to mind their speedometers. There is, in addition, the remarkable smoothness of our transmissions—an improved Hydramatic or new Turbo Hydramatic.

There is the luxury of elegantly appointed interiors, together with the great convenience of power brakes and steering (plus power windows on most models) that have turned the 600-mile day into a restful reality.

And there is also investment. Find a fine car, if you can, that returns more than your Cadillac when you choose to sell or trade it.

Spring Concert is a Tribute to Late President

The sixth annual spring concert of Tawas Community Chorus will serve as a tribute to the late Pres. John F. Kennedy. The group will attempt to show in song the peoples and institutions which make our nation strong in its presentation Saturday evening, April 18, at Tawas Area High School auditorium. The program begins at 8:00 p. m.

Each song will depict some facet of culture. "Halls of Ivy" will represent learning; "Deep River," Negro culture; the Waring arrangement of "Onward Christian Soldiers," religion.

Old favorites, "Bless This House," "Battle Hymn of the Republic" and "Your Land and My Land," will be repeated. Some of the less familiar numbers included are "Michigan Morn," "The Nation's Creed" and "Testament of Nations."

It is hoped that many members of the community will take this opportunity to renew their feelings of patriotism and confidence in a great country.

Final Tawas Area P-TA Meeting April 20

The final meeting of the 1963-64 P-TA season will be held Monday, April 20, 8:00 p. m., in the Tawas Area High School auditorium. The business session will open with election of officers for two-year terms. A film on child cancer will be shown while votes are being counted.

The program, beamed at parents of preschool children, will discuss the role of parents in preparing their children physically, intellectually and emotionally for the big change in their lives from a protected home life to the perpetual competitive life that starts with the first day of school.

Parents and teachers are increasingly aware that the early years in life are decisive in what kind of an adult each child will become. Whether the child approaches school with enthusiasm and a desire to learn or assumes a defensive half-scared attitude has a lot to do with his having an useful, happy life.

All parents, and especially those with preschool children, are urged to attend and hear this specially-planned program.

Jr. Class to Present 'Plenty of Money' Thursday and Friday

A riot of fun, "Plenty of Money" will be presented Thursday and Friday, 8:00 p. m., at Tawas Area High School auditorium by members of the junior class. With book and lyrics by Mel Weiser and music and arrangements by Al Davis and Al Polhamus, this happy musical is two hours of sure-fire entertainment.

"Plenty of Money" is plenty of song: Rousing choral numbers like "Testimonial Dinner" and "J. Edgar Hoover;" sweet ballads like "When You Fall in Love" and "She's Like an Angel" and comical complaints like "Everybody Should Have a Hobby" and "Blame Our Parents" underscore a hilarious story of crime and intrigue.

The two-act musical comedy is staged with the cooperation of Hollywood Hits and the entire production is directed by Lawrence DeBeau. Student director is Terry Ross.

Tawas Area High School dance band will play from 2:00-3:00 p. m.

Hale Eagles Win In Track Meet at Saginaw Arthur Hill

Paul Kaiser led the Hale Eagles to a 81-27 victory over a weak Saginaw Arthur Hill sophomore track team last Wednesday. While the cold wind and blowing now hindered the times, Coach Bill Morris stated that he was pleased with the over-all showing of his squad.

Kaiser's triple win came in the high jump, the shot-put and the 880-yard run and accounted for three of Hale's 10 first places. Other first place winners were Mike Crenshaw in the 440-yard run, Jerry Caton in the mile run, Dana Drengher in the pole vault and the 880-relay team of Jim Jennings, Steve Dorsey, Dave Wood and Duane Gruber.

Gruber led Hale's hurdlers by winning both the high and low hurdles. Gruber was followed by Dan Ellsworth and Wood in the high hurdles, with Wood and Ellsworth trading places at the finish of the low hurdles. They gave Hale a one-two-three finish in both hurdle races.

Terry Ernst and Dave Bernard finished two and three in the 440 behind Crenshaw.

John Oehus and Ron Clemens scored a second and third behind Kaiser in the shot to sweep that event, also.

The 100-220-yard dash saw Hale freshman sprinter, Jennings, finish second and Dorsey, third.

AN OLD WATER LINE which once pumped water from Tawas Bay for use in steam boilers and locomotives of the Detroit and Mackinac Railway was removed from the lake bottom last week. Low water in the bay has exposed numerous old water lines and breakwalls and this was the first to be removed. Waves once splashed against rocks protecting US-23 in the background. —Tawas Herald Photo.

'Touched Sharply' By Taxes Every Day Of Our Lives

The Latin verb, taxare, means, among other things, to touch sharply. "We are touched sharply nearly every day of our lives," said Paul M. Ellifritz, district manager of the Bay City Social Security Office. "We are touched by the sales tax, the income tax, the social security tax, etc."

But words in common use today often have strange or inappropriate roots. The assessment we usually call a tax, he explained, might better be called an investment. Most of the time, the return on our investment seems intangible or remote—like pure drinking water, paved streets, schools, police protection and other services paid for by tax dollars—services which enhance the value of our property and of our lives.

Far more intangible is the value of out investment in social security," said Mr. Ellifritz. "Nearly 12 percent of the people in the 11-county area serviced by the Bay City office are receiving social security benefits," he said. These people range from the infant to the grey-beard and all ages in between, demonstrating that social security protection is lifetime protection.

To learn more about what you are investing in when you pay your social security tax, write for the free booklet OASI-35, or see the social security representative who will be in Tawas City at the Iosco County Building Thursday, April 23.

TAWAS telephone lines

By CHET MAHER, Manager
TO HELP THE BLIND HELP THEMSELVES Bell System scientists have introduced a new kind of telephone switchboard which can be operated by a blind attendant. This opens up new job opportunities for the blind. The new device converts the light signals of the conventional switchboard to sound signals. Other recent Bell System devices to aid the handicapped include a volume-control handset for the hard of hearing, and an electronic larynx for those who have lost the power of speech.

WELCOME A PRINCESS into your life! A Princess® telephone, of course... the littlest and loveliest of them all. Any room is the room for your Princess phone. Where it's dark, the dial lights up. Where space is scarce, its compact size fits beautifully. And there's a color to catch or complement any decor. To welcome a Princess phone into your life, just call our Business Office—or ask your Telephone Man.

ASLEEP ON THE JOB! Ordinarily there's no more tireless friend or servant than your family telephone. It works around the clock, year in and year out. One of the few exceptions is when you make it "go to sleep on the job"—by failing to hang up the receiver properly. When that happens, friends can't reach you on the phone. So whenever you hear a buzzing sound coming from your phone, check it at once. Someone must have forgotten to put the receiver back on the "cradle," where it belongs.

CONSUMERS POWER COMPANY ELECTRICITY—BIGGEST BARGAIN IN THE FAMILY BUDGET

How to get a bigger allowance when you trade your car

When they tell you it's not the first cost that counts, but the upkeep too—that's not the whole story either. Read on . . .

When you visit our showroom and chat with one of our salesmen you're really just talking with another car owner. There's not a man on our staff who isn't a car buyer himself, with the same interest in getting the most for his money as you. He knows your side of the story! And here it is . . .

First you want the best deal you can get when you buy.

He'll explain to you our Spring sale of '64 Comets and how it can save you lots of money right off the bat. It's merely a matter of sales volume. Comet sales are up—94% over a year ago,* and still climbing. So we're keeping prices down at rock-bottom to keep our sales sky-high.

Next you want economy every mile you drive.

And don't think because a car saves you money by the mile that it's a "dog." Matter of fact, the '64 Comet is the World's 100,000-Mile Durability Champion (each member of a team went that distance recently at Daytona, averaging over 105 mph for the course!). The point is Comets have a host of built-in service-saving features to give economy new meaning!

And finally—you want the most in trade when the time comes.

Well—now we come to the happy ending of our story. For high resale is Comet's language! This one has the tradition of record high resale—one of the hottest items in demand on anybody's used car lot. Yes, if you want to know how to get more in trade—start with a Comet in the first place! And the first place to come for that is here!

Lesson on Furniture Value Given at Meeting

Getting your money's worth out of furniture was the lesson presented by Miss Dorothy Scott, Iosco County Cooperative Extension agent, at the March meeting of Wilber Co-op Homeworkers. Certain types of wood and coverings are an important factor when purchasing furniture. A tour of a local upholstery shop was planned for the near future.

Mrs. Robert Pyne informed the group of arrangements to attend the Holland Tulip Festival. A May date is being contemplated.

Mrs. Harry Krueger, hostess for the evening, entertained nine members and one guest, Mrs. Albert Kern of Reese. Mrs. Charles Bjork's home will be the scene of the April meeting.

To Attend Youth Leaders Convention

Randall DeWise, son of Mr. and Mrs. James DeWise of Tawas City, has been notified that he is among those selected by the George Williams College, Chicago, Illinois, to attend the seventh college week-end for youth leaders April 17-18.

He will meet at least 200 young people from the United States and Canada. They will assemble in Chicago and travel by bus to the College Camp, Lake Geneva, Wisconsin.

Upon their return to Chicago, the group will attend a Saturday evening banquet. After this event, DeWise will return to Grand Rapids where he attends college.

Special Report

the high cost of weeds in your bean field...

Loss of income from weeds in soybean fields cost American farmers $250 million annually. This figure may not mean much to you personally, but think of it this way: Weeds reduce the average soybean crop by 15 percent. This is based on the loss due not only to lower yields, but also on dockage brought about by reduced quality.

Weeds compete with your beans for water, plant food and light. They increase your cost of seedbed production, cultivation, harvesting, cleaning and marketing. Dockage due to the presence of weed seeds in soybeans often runs as high as 7 percent.

Because cultural methods just plain don't get the job done, the use of chemicals in the control of weeds in beans is growing by leaps and bounds. In 1962 pre-emergence chemicals were applied on more than 2.38 million acres of soybeans . . . post emergence chemicals on 425,000 acres. This was a four-fold increase in the use of pre-emergence chemicals and a forty-fold increase in post emergence chemicals in just three years.

The average cost of treating an acre of beans in 1962 was $4.21 per acre as a pre-emergence and $1.98 per acre as a post application. The cost of pre-emergence treatment this year is down somewhat from this, at least by one or two firms. This is a result of being able to do the job as well with fewer pounds (or pints) than recommended previously. A banded application is recommended.

Typical of the many soybean growers who are convinced that chemical weed control is necessary and practical is Ed Uphoff, Garden Prairie, Illinois.

Last year Ed used Amiben on 30 acres of his soybeans. Although this represented only one-tenth of his bean crop, it was enough to convince him that it was a good thing. He hand applied the chemical, using 3 gallons on 10 acres. This figured $3.00 per acre.

"Results were quite good," Ed told us, "the rows were clean as a whistle (see photo). But the thing that appeals to me most is that for the $3.00 per acre I have pretty cheap insurance against the threat of a season that's too wet to do any, or very little, cultivating. At least I'll be able to get a pretty good yield weather or no."

This year Ed plans to treat all 300 acres with Amiben. This will mean that the entire 1,300 acres of his corn and beans will be chemically treated for weeds.

Ideally, a chemical should control all weeds . . . broad-leaf as well as grasses. Further it should not damage the beans (nor germination) when applied as recommended. There are chemicals on the market which do these things effectively. One such chemical is Amiben. Check with your dealer for the chemical and rates which seem to be doing the best job in your area.

But don't plan to get by this year without some sort of control even though your fields have not seemed overly crowded with weeds. Charts A and B show what can happen to both corn and soybean yields at various stands of foxtail and pig weed. These results are based on a three-year study at the University of Illinois.

Save more chicks ...and give 'em a faster start

Terramycin Poultry Formula in chick waterers gives you a double attack against disease that takes 2 or more of most ordinary drugs to match.

1. It goes to work instantly fighting germs in the digestive tract. Ordinary drugs may stop there. But not Terramycin.
2. It's absorbed into the blood to fight disease in the respiratory tract and throughout the body without need for injection.

But that's not all. Terramycin fights more kinds of germs than most ordinary drugs. And it has greater stability in water—stays active longer than the other broad-range treatment.

Use Terramycin with birds of all ages to treat or prevent: blue comb, infectious synovitis, hexamitiasis, CRD (air sac, colds), mixed infections, and stress problems . . . and to stimulate faster, thriftier gains.

It works in the gut and the blood

Terramycin fights disease in the digestive tract. No other drug has a spectrum broader than Terramycin. It's absorbed into the blood without need for injection. Stops germs throughout the body, not just the gut.

$3.00 worth of chemical weed control is proving mighty good crop insurance for Ed Uphoff of Garden Prairie, Illinois. His fields were over-run with pigweeds and smartweeds as can be evidenced by the row centers.

Ed Uphoff, with his brand new home in the background, is planning on treating 300 acres of soybeans with Amiben in 1964.

There are lots of weeds in the north central states that are particularly bad. They are Foxtail, Johnsongrass, Smartweed, Pigweed, Lambsquarter, Barnyard grass, Canada Thistle, Ragweed, Crabgrass and Cocklebur. You probably know the ones that are most troublesome in your fields. Now is the time to put a stop to them.

New reduced application rates now approved. For most soils you now use 1/2 less Amiben per acre—cut costs by the same amount.

Put on Amiben—full season pre-emergence control of most annual broadleaf weeds and grasses—safe to soybeans—no volatility hazard—no harmful residues to affect rotational crops.

Amiben is easy to use, requires no protective clothing. One basic rate for most soil and rainfall conditions. Available as liquid concentrate or granules.

Call your dealer for Amiben—the herbicide that has revolutionized soybean production. Order early. Be sure of your supply.

For heavy clay or high organic soils see label directions.

2 good ways to raise PORK

Sac County, Iowa Makes Economy-Work Pay Off

There's no doubt about it — midwest hog raising is changing fast with the stress on volume production and efficiency. Farmers who have studied the latest findings on feeding, management and use of labor are changing their setups, either by investing in new automated systems or by modernizing and utilizing fully the buildings and facilities they now have.

Both methods can pay off. A young Sac county, Iowa farmer, for example, was recently named a master swine producer in his state. He has achieved that honor with a minimum of investment. Keith Kent, who farms 210 acres near Auburn, got interested in hogs when he was a 4-H'er. He raised purebreds then. Now he is strictly concerned with doing the best job possible in commercial production, turning out between 350 and 400 top grade animals per year.

Kent is using barns and buildings that he himself built during his ten years of farming. Some of them have been converted and modernized. One old barn has been made into a finishing house. Gilts are inexpensively housed in small sheds and they're encouraged to run in yards and pastures the year around. "Water and feed is placed far enough away to make them exercise," Kent states.

His newest building is a small, but efficient farrowing house, holding just eight farrowing crates. But by farrowing five times a year and doing a good job of management at the time the pigs are born, Kent turns out a sizable volume.

"I'd rather stay with the sows at farrowing and lose some sleep than lose those baby pigs," Kent points out. "After keeping a sow around all year you want to do the best job possible at farrowing time." And Kent's records prove he does. He has averaged 11.6 pigs per litter with an average of 10.4 pigs still going strong at weaning time.

Like most progressive hog producers, Kent is conscious of the need to turn out meaty number 1 hogs with a minimum of wasteful fat. He follows a cross-breeding program and has been using tested boars bought at the nearby swine testing station at Ida Grove, Iowa.

Kent spends a lot of time at farrowing, gets large litters and good survival. He feels that this combination gets his entire feeding cycle off to a good start. Dead pigs can't make you money.

Keith Kent, looking over hogs in his finishing pens. They're in inexpensive shed type building, open on side. The master swine producer seems to have the winning formula with hogs.

Gilts are handled in the open and in small sheds on the Keith Kent farm, Auburn, Iowa.

"You'd be amazed at how quickly you can reduce the backfat in your pigs," he said. "And, surprisingly enough, it takes less feed to produce meat than it does to make fat."

Kent sells his hogs at an average weight of 200 to 210 pounds to a packer on a grade and yield basis. Facts and figures are available so he knows what his hogs are doing. Of 177 hogs sold last year, the backfat averaged 1.58 inches, the hams and loins added up to 35.8 percent, and 42 percent graded as number ones.

Nebraskan Says Volume and Efficiency Are Keys

Volume and efficiency are the new keynotes, too, to the hog production program of Marion Rasmussen and Son of Pierce county, Nebraska. Seventeen-year-old Wayne, an active Future Farmer of America member who graduated from high school last spring, likes farming and he likes hogs. In partnership with his dad, they recently put up an all steel automated and confinement type hog plant and are now geared to turn out 750 hogs per year.

"True, it's quite an investment," Marion commented upon the one-unit farrowing to finishing building, "but we feel it will pay itself off in three to five years due to the savings in labor, feed and pigs saved and raised."

In the 24 by 40-foot farrowing section there are 14 pens and crates. Farrowings occur every 60 days. The house is furnace heated and added warmth is provided pigs with hanging heat bulbs. Slat floor sections at the front and rear of the sow take care of the manure cleaning chore.

"We clip teeth, give iron and erysipelas shots at 3 days, castrate at 2 weeks, wean at 4 weeks, and move the pigs out at 6 weeks," Marion said.

This shows the arrangement of pens in the finishing section. Everything is neat, clean and orderly.

At the other end of the hog plant is a 32 by 40 foot finishing section which can handle 224 hogs at one time. Along each side are eight pens, each accommodating 14 hogs. "We usually keep litters together as much as possible, from farrowing to marketing." Five-foot slatted floor sections at the ends of the pen solve the cleaning problem. Manure drops into 30-inch deep gutters and the liquified manure runs into a cistern which has a 60-day capacity. The Rasmussens, in cooperation with a neighbor, own a liquid manure spreader which is used to haul the waste to fields.

"We move the hogs from one side of the alley to larger pens directly across at 60 days," Marion explained. "That means we are marketing a bunch every 60 days."

Limited feeding is the basic idea in the Rasmussen production scheme. Home-grown oats, corn and barley are used in growing rations, along with supplements. The feed, all finely ground, is stored in bulk tanks outside the building, then augered down pipelines above the pens. Units above each pen, which can be adjusted to accommodate different kinds of feed and varied weights per feeding, accumulate the ration. A time clock dumps this feed directly on the pen floor every three hours.

"We full feed to 100 to 125 pounds," Wayne said, "then feed the hogs at a rate of five pounds per hog per day. They eat night and day and there isn't any waste—every bit is cleaned up."

"We're learning more about handling hogs this way all the time," Marion commented. "It sure makes winter chores easier. In here we keep the temperature around 55 degrees and the hogs don't waste feed in fighting cold temperatures."

There you are, two contrasting ways of operating successful hog operation. Take your choice . . . they both look good to us.

Farrowing stalls in the Rasmussen modern set-up offer everything . . . cleanliness, warm comfort and as much baby pig safety as possible.

Each finishing pen holds 14 hogs. Animals do nothing but eat and sleep. There is a five-foot slat floor at far end for dunging. An old auto tire is used to keep them busy and prevent tail biting.

Tom Sawyer PICNIC-ING-UP DAYS

by Jan Nelson

A breath of spring — blood stirring feelings caused by the freshness of new green grass — yard work — the gaiety of joining friends and neighbors — yard work — the remembrance of the tastiness of foods cooked outdoors — yard work.

We are alive with the exciting feeling of enjoying both our friends and the exhilaration of spring, but the dark spectre of yard cleanup keeps clouding the picture. Let's combine the light and the heavy to thoroughly enjoy our Picnic-ing-up Day. Take some ingredients such as: Happy friends, a sunny day, several rakes, hot spiced tea, cooking foods, and the aroma of an outdoor fire. Mix them well and you have a picnic-ing-up day.

Now is the time to hand out rakes and extoll the virtues of hot spiced tea as an energy giver. Describing the succulence of a special style baked potato, coupled with Kabobs over beans which are coming up, you'll truly feel like Tom Sawyer as the yard is being cleaned. Collect the pile of burnable material, and after enjoying the food, sit around in a songfest or pleasant conversation.

BEEF STEW OUTDOORS

Hearty stews appeal to ravenous outdoor appetites. Partially cook a stew in the kitchen and then carry it to the scene of the outdoor meal for final cooking with the vegetables. Here is the recipe:

- | | |
|---------------------------------|---------------------|
| 2 pounds beef stew meat | 1/4 teaspoon pepper |
| 2 tablespoons flour | Water |
| 3 tablespoons lard or drippings | 6 small potatoes |
| 2 teaspoons salt | 6 small carrots |

In the kitchen, roll the meat in flour and brown in the hot lard. Season with salt and pepper and add water to cover. Simmer over low heat about 1 hour. At the outdoor grill, add the potatoes, carrots and onions and continue cooking until the meat and vegetables are tender, about 30 minutes. 6 servings.

SPICED TEA

- | | |
|-----------------------------|------------------------|
| 1 teaspoon whole cloves | 3 cups orange juice |
| 1 cinnamon stick | 1 1/2 cups lemon juice |
| 2 1/2 tablespoons black tea | 1 1/2 cups sugar |
| 3 quarts cold water | |

Use a clean piece of linen toweling or a double thickness of cheesecloth to make two spice bags. Tie the whole cloves and cinnamon stick in one bag; tie the tea in the second bag. Pour the cold water in a large kettle; add the tied spices and heat water to boiling. Remove pan from heat. Take out the tied spices and add the tea bag. Cover pan and let steep 5 minutes; remove tea.

In a separate pan, heat orange juice, lemon juice, and sugar until sugar is dissolved. Pour hot fruit mixture into spiced tea. Keep hot until ready to serve, but do not boil. Makes 25 servings.

KABOBS

A kabob is a meal-on-a-stick. Select meat and vegetables that cook in the same time. Do not overcrowd. Heat should reach all sides of the chunks of meat.

Use long metal skewers or hardwood sticks.

Special Tricks: Soak kabobs in sauce or brush with zesty sauce during cooking.

FAVORITE BARBECUE SAUCE

1 cup catsup	2 tsp. Worcestershire sauce
¼ cup chili sauce	2 tsp. dry mustard
¼ cup brown sugar (packed)	1 tsp. soy sauce
¼ cup wine vinegar	1 tsp. freshly ground black pepper
¼ cup vegetable oil	2 cloves garlic, minced
½ cup lemon juice
3 tbsp. steak sauce

KABOB COMBINATIONS

Lamb steak, 1 to 2-inch thick cubes, mushrooms, cooked onions.

Lamb steak, 1 to 2-inch thick cubes, sliced bacon, mushrooms, tomato wedges.

Beef steak, 1 to 2-inch thick cubes, mushrooms, sliced onions.

Chicken livers, sliced bacon, mushrooms.

Franks cut into 1-inch pieces, pineapple chunks, sliced bacon.

Ham—fully cooked, cut into 1-inch cubes, pineapple chunks.

HAMBURGER KABOBS WITH ONION GRAVY MAKE A DIFFERENT DISH

Shish kabobs make an intriguing dish. You can make them up in all sorts of complementary combinations: Chunks of lamb alternated with small white onions and squares of eggplant; a fish kabob of shrimp, scallops and quartered fish sticks; even hamburger adapts itself beautifully to being a "kabob." Roll hamburger into small round patties about 1½ inches in diameter and then alternate with small mushrooms and square chunks of tomato on long skewers. Then broil them for about five minutes.

When it comes to serving Hamburger Kabobs, pass a gravy boat filled with a delicious onion gravy made with a handy package of onion soup mix. It fits right in with an "easy-do" menu because this gravy is so quick and simple to make.

QUICK ONION GRAVY

2½ cups water	2 tablespoons flour
1 package onion soup mix	½ cup water

Bring 2½ cups water to a boil. Stir in the onion soup mix. Cover and cook for 10 minutes. Gradually add flour mixed with ½ cup water. Cook and stir constantly until thickened. Makes about 2½ cups gravy.

PANCAKEBURGERS

Pancake Batter

2 eggs	2½ cups biscuit mix
1 cup milk	2 tsp. cooking (salad) oil or other melted shortening

Beat eggs with rotary beater until soft peaks form. Blend in milk. Mix in biscuit mix just until thoroughly dampened. Fold in shortening.

Meat Mixture

1 lb. ground beef	¼ tsp. pepper
1 small onion, chopped	¼ cup Pancake Batter
1½ tsp. salt	¼ cup milk

Mix all ingredients well. Spoon generous tablespoonfuls 1½-inch apart, onto very lightly greased skillet or griddle. Flatten patties. Fry on medium heat until well browned on one side. Turn and spoon a generous tablespoonful of Pancake Batter over top and sides of each patty. Brown. Before batter on top is dry, turn again and brown the pancake side. Serve hot with sauce (see suggestions below). Makes 20 to 22.

Sauces

1. Heat one can condensed cream of mushroom soup (about 11-oz. can), ¼ cup water, and 1 bouillon cube.
 2. Meat Gravy.
 3. Chili Sauce.
- Success Tip: If pancakes must stand, they may be kept warm in a paper bag sprinkled with water and placed in a warm oven.

You can get the same effect, the Chronicle adds, by tuning in one of those radio stations which features rock 'n roll music all day.

The Stone age, claims the Johnson County (Ind.) News, was when a woman who wrote down her age was chiseling legally.

It was also that time when men hit women over the head with stout clubs. Maybe there's a connection.

The Hartford (Mich.) Day Spring made the following observation when the government's report on the ill effects of smoking was released. "Years ago, the biggest cause of death among women was childbirth, but people didn't stop having babies. Now they say the biggest cause of death among men is lung cancer and they want them to stop smoking."

We can do it, men. Just because the girls couldn't quit having babies, doesn't mean that we can't quit smoking. Some of us have quit many times.

The editor of the Semo News, Lilbourn, Mo., wrote that he knows of a psychologist who claims people use cigarets as a substitute for the baby blanket they held to their cheeks in infancy.

"The talk is," the editor says, "that blanket manufacturers are behind the smoking report of last January, hoping that people will start carrying blankets instead of cigarets."

Classes were held at the hospital for prospective parents, reports the Janesville (Minn.) Argus. One of the purposes was to acquaint patients with the hospital so they will know where to go and how to check in if the baby comes after office hours.

This is good thinking. Storks do not bring babies. Owls do.

The Tazewell County News of Morton, Ill., reminds us that among the 45 foods we inherited from the Indians are corn and potatoes.

That was nice of the Indians, but why didn't they also teach us how to make our squaws do all the corn and potato hoeing while we go fishing?

The Minor County (S.D.) Pioneer writes, "The prim lady had finished her shopping. Now she stood at the supermarket check-out counter and unloaded a quart of milk, a dozen eggs, a TV dinner, six cartons of cigarets, two bottles of hand lotion, suntan lotion, face cream, work gloves, knitting needles, flashlight batteries, two magazines, a home permanent and the latest hit record.

She paid her bill and went out the door grumbling. Food costs so much these days, no wonder the farmers are getting rich'."

Come on Over for Dessert

CHOCOLATE MINT ANGEL PIE

9" pie plate	2 tablespoons crushed pepper- mint stick candy
3 egg whites	1 quart chocolate ice cream
¼ teaspoon salt
½ cup sugar
¼ cup crushed peppermint stick candy

Beat egg whites and salt until stiff. Add sugar 2 tablespoons at a time, beating well after each addition. Fold in the ¼ cup crushed peppermint candy. Spread in a well buttered 9-inch pie plate, building the sides up well. Sprinkle the 2 tablespoons of candy over the top and bake in a preheated 275° oven for 1 hour. Remove from oven and cool. When ready to serve, fill with scoops of chocolate ice cream and cut in wedges. 6-8 servings.

ORANGE SPICE CAKE

½ cup butter or margarine	3 teaspoons baking powder
1½ cups sugar	½ teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon grated orange rind	1½ teaspoons cinnamon
2 eggs	1 teaspoon allspice
2 cups sifted cake flour	½ cup milk
	¼ cup orange juice

Cream butter or margarine, add sugar gradually and cream together, until light and fluffy. Add orange rind, then eggs one at a time and beat well after each addition. Add dry ingredients, which have been sifted together, alternately with combined milk and orange juice, beginning and ending with dry ingredients. Beat until smooth after each addition. Pour batter into two 8-inch square layer pans which have been greased and floured. Bake at 350°F. for 20 to 25 minutes, until cake begins to draw away from sides of pan.

When cake is cool, frost with whipped cream to which 1 tablespoon grated orange rind has been added. Refrigerate until serving time.* Garnish with fresh orange sections and lemon leaves.

* If entire cake is not used, refrigerate remaining portion.

In these busy, busy days entertaining often gets put off until tomorrow or next week because it's much too complicated to do often. There is a simple answer when you wish to entertain new neighbors or old friends — an invitation to "Come on over for dessert!"

You, as hostess, have little to prepare and can sit down with your friends to an informal evening of conversation over a cup of coffee and something good to eat.

A dessert that's really quite simple, but looks almost too pretty to eat, is Chocolate Mint Angel Pie. The pink meringue pie crust can be baked early in the day and filled with the ice cream when it's time to serve. Chocolate and mint are a specially good combination.

Another suggestion is Orange Spice Cake, a rich butter cake, flavored with oranges and spices and frosted when cool with whipped cream and orange rind. It should be refrigerated until serving time. Fresh orange sections and lemon leaves add a colorful garnish.

"Come on over for dessert!" may turn into one of your favorite kinds of informal and easy entertaining.
