CIRCUIT JUDGE ALLAN C. MILLER

Judge Miller Candidate for District Appeals Court

Circuit Judge Allan C. Miller, 43, who presides over court in Alcona, Iosco and Oscoda Counties, announced today that he would be a candidate for the new Third District Appeals Court.

Stating that he had been encouraged to make the race by persons feeling that prior judicial experience should be represented on the new court, "My experience in a large number of counties should aid me, if elected," said Miller.

His judicial experience extends to 16 of the 83 counties, having presided in the other counties on assignment of the supreme court administrator to help reduce the case backlogs. Last year, Miller held court in other circuits 43 days. With 35 days the previous years, Miller's total is highest of any circuit judge.

The new district encompasses 66 of the 83 counties. It is the entire state except Wayne and the 16 counties surrounding it in the southeastern corner of the state. Three judges are to be named in each district.

Before taking the bench, Judge Miller was city attorney at Tawas City and prior to that was a partner in the law firm of Lucking, VanAuken and Miller of Detroit. He is a graduate of East Tawas High School and the University of Michigan. At the university, he earned the degrees of BA with distinction and juris doctor, the latter

Former Resident Witnessed Robbery

Carl Johnson, 49, a native of Baldwin Township, witnessed a bank robbery last Wednesday at the Northville office of Detroit Federal Savings and Loan.

Johnson was the only customer present when a man about 30 years of age walked into the office, brandished a revolver and demanded that the teller "hand over all the money from your cash drawer."

The bandit instructed the two bank employees and Johnson to sit in chairs facing a window. He said he was desperate and warned them not to turn in an alarm.

The trio thought the bandit was going to shoot when he said "you have a pretty good description of me, don't you?" No one answered.

The hold-up man said he wanted three minutes to get away. Pointing his gun at Johnson and the two employees, he said, "You know, I can boom-boom-boom!"

He walked out of the bank with a bagful of $6,565 in cash. He is being sought by the FBI.

Johnson, a graduate of East Tawas High School, is an insurance and real estate agent at Northville. He is the son of Carl A. Johnson of Tawas City.

Shin Guards Save Crew Member in Bout with Snake

A member of a timber stand improvement crew working in the Tawas Ranger District can be thankful he was wearing shin guards recently—after a bout with a massasauga rattle snake.

On June 10, Howard Belcher was working with a crew girdling oak in a red pine plantation when he was struck on the front of the leg several times by the snake. The shin guards had the snake's fang marks clearly visible on them.

The snake, 30 inches in length, is the largest seen in this area for many years, reports Ranger Joseph Blake. He said the shin guards may have saved the man's life.

Council Approves Permit; Planning Chief Objects

Acting as a zoning appeal board Monday night, Tawas City Council voted four to two to allow Joseph Brooks to make an addition to his frame building in the Second Ward.

Following an unsuccessful attempt by Alderman Howard Hatton and Daniel Ulrich to reject the application, a motion by Alderman Earl Davis to approve the application passed by a four to two roll call.

Voting in favor of approval were Aldermen Cecil Cabbie, Davis, Clyde Evril and Clark Tanner. Opposed to approving the permit were Hatton and Ulrich.

This action drew immediate fire Tuesday morning from Tawas City Planning Commission Chairman Hugo Keiser, who said he could see no reason to have a planning commission if the council would not listen to its recommendations.

Brooks' application was for a 16 by 36-foot addition to a structure presently being used to store fish nets at 211 South First Avenue. Once a store building owned by the Brabant family, it was moved about 10 years ago from its original location in the business district to property once occupied as the mill yard of Stark Lumber Company and later the Huron Rustic Furniture Company.

Controversy over the building boiled over a year ago when neighbors objected to a fishery operation in what they thought was a residential zone. It was learned, however, that the property was still zoned industrial and such use was permissible. On recommendation of the planning commission, the property was rezoned to residential A, allowing nonconforming use of the structure.

The building application had been submitted to the city planning commission for review following determination of the department of public works. The planning commission and its consultant recommended that the application be denied because "the addition would increase or extend a non-conforming use in a residential section."

"The general character and use of this property is residential," stated Keiser Tuesday morning. "We have a perfect demarcation line with the Tawas River separating commercial from residential and if we do not follow recommendations from our planning consultant, it is just a waste of $15,000 in federal and local funds in trying to develop a master plan."

During discussion preceding the two votes Monday night, Hatton said it was his understanding that the purpose behind rezoning the property a year ago was to someday eliminate the nonconforming use. "If we give a permit to an addition to the existing building, we are defeating our purpose," he stated.

Mayor George Tuttle said that the planning commission had made the same statement, but added every case coming before an appeal board must be decided on its own merits.

"What you said is the planning commission's long range viewpoint. It is up to the council to make a decision if such an addition would worsen or improve the present situation. Each case is different," said Tuttle.

Hatton said that when Brooks applied for a building permit last

Scoreboard Drive Nearly Completed

A drive for funds to purchase a new electric scoreboard for Tawas Area High School Athletic Field is nearing a successful conclusion this week.

According to Mrs. William Inglis of the athletic booster club, $1,300 had been donated as of Monday.

"It may be an easy matter to collect the final $200, or it may prove to be a difficult task," said Mrs. Inglis. "It is often difficult to raise money toward the end of a campaign, but it is hoped that the goal of $1,500 will be reached before the end of the week."

A football autographed by the Detroit Lions will be sold to the highest bidder with proceeds going to the scoreboard fund. Any one wishing to enter a bid of $5 or more may telephone the high school.

The class of 1967 added $111.75 to the fund with its recent white elephant sale.

16-Year-Old Girl Rescued by Boys

A 16-year-old Saginaw girl, Rosa Morales, was rescued by two teenagers Saturday after nearly drowning in Sand Lake.

Miss Morales was swimming out to a raft and suddenly found that she could not swim back to shore. Ronald Lear, 16, Sand Lake, and William Am, 16, Flint, spotted the girl floating face down and went to her rescue.

Using a canoe, the two boys took the girl to shore and applied artificial respiration. She spent the night at Tawas Hospital.

Buch Expects 150 to Register for Convention

Some 150 persons are expected to attend the 50th anniversary convention July 20, 21 and 22 of the Michigan Association of Registers of Deeds. Headquarters for the convention will be the Barnes Hotel.

Association President Albert H. Buch, Iosco register of deeds, said that a panel discussion would feature one session. Participating will be State Sen. Harold B. Hughes, State Rep. James P. Mielock and Henry Oates, chairman of the Iosco Board of Supervisors.

New officers are to be elected during the convention.

PIPE OF PEACE OR COUNCIL OF WAR?—When this picture was snapped Saturday, the above men were hopeful that Chapel Lake Indian Ceremonials was going to receive financial aid from the state, thus assuring its reopening July 4. Closed since the 1962 season, it was believed that the once-popular tourist attraction west of the Tawas was able to receive state money under a program to aid employment of American Indians. The Rev. O. James Crews, seated center, director of the ceremonials, notified this newspaper Monday that the reopening had been canceled—funds were not forthcoming. Shown with Crews are Chief Peda-Wadom (Ike Pelcher), left, and Medicine Man Net-amup (Lenny Stevens), both of the Mt. Pleasant Indian Reservation. Standing in back are Redbird (Frank Cortez) of Saginaw and Chief White Bird (George Cook) of Houghton Lake, who was master of ceremonies at Chapel Lake from 1958 until the end of the 1961 season.—Herald Photo.

County Nurse Irene Wight Retires July 1

Mrs. Irene Wight, public health nurse who has worked in Iosco County since March 17, 1958, plans to retire July 1, according to an announcement from Dr. E. A. Hasty, director of public health of District Health Department No. 2.

According to the announcement, Mrs. Wight tendered her resignation to the district board of health at its quarterly meeting April 24 at Mio.

"The health department regrets having Mrs. Wight leave its service," said Dr. Hasty. "She has been very successful and very well liked by the people of her area. Mrs. Wight advises that her plans for the future would conflict with the working schedule of the health department and, for this reason, she asks to be released."

Mrs. Wight's successor will be Mrs. Lucille Drenberg, RN, of Whittemore. Mrs. Drenberg has been working for the health department for the past 16 months in the capacity of visiting nurse and is well acquainted in Iosco County.

She has spent most of her life in Iosco, is a graduate of Whittemore High School and of the Mercy Hospital School of Nursing, Bay City.

"Mrs. Drenberg comes to the district health department well recommended by the nursing division of the Michigan Department of Health," said Dr. Hasty.

Mrs. Drenberg's present position as visiting nurse will be filled by Mrs. Sandra Lange, RN, of Whittemore.

Tawas City Couple Injured in Fire Sunday Morning

A Tawas City couple was treated for second degree burns early Sunday morning when fire routed them from their home at 130 West Sunset Drive.

Treated and released from Tawas Hospital was Mrs. Ben Wilson, who suffered burns to the feet. Her husband was held at the hospital for further treatment of burns to the arms and hands.

Mrs. Wilson awoke about 1:00 a. m. to find the house filled with smoke. She searched the bottoms of her feet as she made her escape across a burning carpet in the living room.

Fire Chief James Lansky said the fire, apparently starting in a chair, was confined to the living room. Considerable damage was caused to the house by smoke and heat.

Two years ago, fire caused extensive damage to the Wilson residence.

TC Council Denies SDM Application

Application for an SDM beer and wine take-out license submitted by Compo's Fruit Market on M-55 has been denied by Tawas City Council.

A report Monday night by Police Chief Frank Roti stated that the property was "unsightly" with a collection of debris, old crates and autos; that a sign was located on the highway right-of-way; that the market contained no substantial stock of groceries and was not open the year around.

Roti was of the opinion that several questions should be clarified before the application was approved. He also felt that the market should have at least a $1,000 stock of groceries before qualifying for such a license.

The council voted unanimously to withhold approval of such license until proof of alleviation of the above stated condition.

The owner appeared before the council and was told by Mayor George Tuttle that the council's action did not stop him from reapplying for application at a later date.

Compo told the council he would make the necessary corrections.

In other business, the council signed a maintenance contract with the Michigan State Highway Department covering the period of July 1, 1964, to July 1, 1965.

Kenneth Conn appeared before the council and asked that his agency be considered when the city renews its insurance policies. The council said it would receive any proposal on fire, auto, general building and workmen's compensation insurance. The fleet insurance policy is to be renewed before June 23.

The lineup includes the folder "Michigan's Shore-to-Shore Riding-Hiking Trail," featuring a map of a new route for recreationists. Also new is the directory "Michigan Water Access Sites" which pinpoints about 575 public entry points on lakes and streams. Another folder full of help is the "1964 Campground Directory" which lists places to stay at state parks and forests, national forests, county and local parks. All of these folders are free from the Department's Publications Room in Lansing or any of its field offices. Serving as handy companions to each folder are the Department's new, improved maps which are available in single sheets and books from the Publications Room for all counties in the Upper Peninsula and southern Lower Peninsula. Discuss Notion that SS Program is 'Going Broke'

Last week, this column discussed the mistaken notion that the social security trust funds are in the red. Allied to this misconception is the belief that the social security program always pays out more than it takes in. Here again, it is implied that the program is slowly going broke and will not be able to meet future commitments.

This is simply not true. It is true that for short periods of time the expenditures exceed the receipts. But this is a temporary condition due primarily to expanding the program. The point critics miss is that the social security law provides for an expanding tax scale at specified times to assure its solvency.

Next week, we will discuss the third misconception, that the payment of full benefits to people who have worked under social security only a short time is financially dangerous.

A representative of social security will be at the Isoco County Building, Tawas City, Thursday, June 25, from 10:30 a. m. until 2:30 p. m.

IF YOUR PHONE could talk, it might have a bit of a Southern accent! For one important part of most phones today is a small fluffy ball of cotton. The cotton is tucked into the hollow part of the handset, to prevent vibrations and echoes from the mouthpiece reaching the earpiece. This tiny addition contributes greatly to the amazing clarity with which today's phones transmit voices across town or over thousands of miles with equal ease.

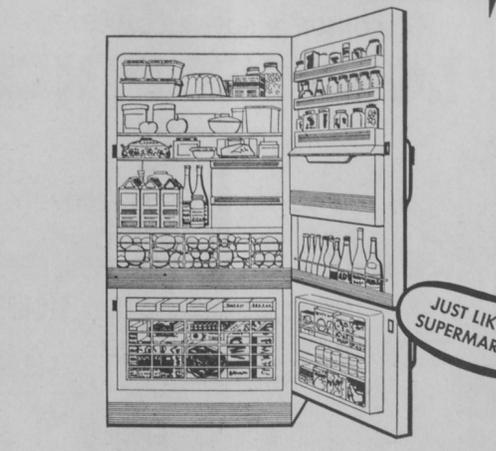

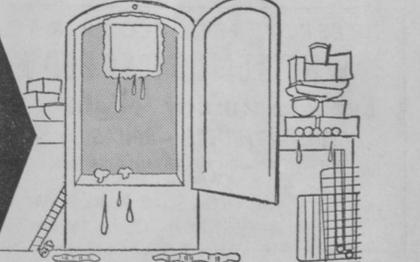

"WE'RE ON OUR WAY!"

Planning a trip? Before you pack up, pick up the phone and let folks know when to expect you. You'll avoid the disappointment of finding them away from home when you arrive. And of course it's equally important to phone ahead when a hotel or motel is your destination. And when you arrive, why not phone the folks at home? They'll be glad to hear you arrived safely. It doesn't cost much to keep in touch by Long Distance—use it often.

BE OUT-OF-DOORS

without being out-of-luck when the phone rings. Ever miss out on an important call because you were out in the yard and couldn't hear the phone ring? It won't happen again if you'll just ask your Telephone Man to install a Bell Chime ringer. This device can be set to ring extra loud when you're outside. Then when you're indoors the Bell Chime can be set to announce calls with soft, melodious notes that will soothe your ear—or set for your regular telephone "ring." Order yours today. Just call our Business Office.

If you're still getting along with a too-small out-dated refrigerator that needs MESSY DEFROSTING...

You'll love a BIG, NEW, WORK- SAVING, MONEY- SAVING REFRIGERATOR-FREEZER that never needs defrosting

Today's modern refrigerator-freezers end all defrosting in both refrigerator and freezer sections. This means no frost ever... on food packages, ice cube trays or walls... no defrosting drudgery ever... no scraping, no chipping, no prying, no messy pans of water to empty (or spill).

In addition, the new refrigerator-freezers will:

- Store enough fresh and frozen foods to last for weeks.
- Save extra trips to the market.
- Keep leftovers fresh and tasty until needed.
- Save money because the large freezer compartment allows you to buy meats, vegetables and baked goods when prices are low.

Winding its way across the northern Lower Peninsula from Empire and Elberta on the west to Tawas City on the east is a new pathway to outdoor fun. Known as the shore-to-shore riding-hiking trail, it spans about 190 miles of state, federal, and private forest lands, taking in scenic areas and other points of interest along the way. Most of the trail has been marked and work is underway to develop overnight camping sites, hitching areas, and other public facilities for horseback riders and hikers. Plans are also afoot to provide privately-owned accommodations—lodges and cabins—close to the main route. Horses can be rented locally. The trail is a cooperative project of the Conservation Department, U.S. Forest Service, local communities and riding clubs, and private stables and landowners. It will have its grand opening June 20-28 when the Michigan Trail Riders Association stages a cross-country trip from coast to coast.—Mich. Dept. of Conservation opinion that Brooks was trying to run a legitimate business and "should not be run out." He thought that the property was cleaner that a year ago.

He was a carpenter and member of the Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints. Surviving are four sisters, Mrs. Clara Walker of Essexville, Mrs. Florence Ulman of Tawas City, Mrs. Grace Vuillemot of Flint and Mrs. Myra Timreck of Gladwin; one brother, George of Massena, New York.

He emphasized that even though Brooks had assured the council he would do everything in his power to have the operation under one roof, "it is still a fishing enterprise with trucks, anchors, nets. If you want a business of this type, you must have a place for it." Alderman Davis said that the permit could be given subject to certain conditions, although he pointed out that the city had seldom followed up on "enforcing conditions." His motion passed by the council included Brooks' letter, which assured the council that the property would be maintained in a neat manner.

"I do not like it any more than anyone else, but I do not think you are going to gain anything by denying the application," said Davis. "I do not feel we are here to put someone out of business. He purchased the property when zoned industrial and now it has been changed to residential."

Hatton and Ulrich objected to use of the city street for drying nets and storage of anchors. Cable said that First Avenue south of the Wilbert Treichel residence was unimproved and only served as an entrance and exit for Brooks' property.

"If he can use it to his advantage, we should let him use it," said Cable.

City Attorney Alf C. Watson said that the motion allowing the addition could be written so as to make any violation contrary to the zoning ordinance.

GRASSROOTS GLEANINGS

The Minor County Pioneer, Howard, S. D., suggests that farm people copy salesmanship from their city friends. For example:

FOR SALE

1 Holstein cow—$100
4 udder sections ($25 each)—$100
two-tone color—$50
4 split hoofs ($10 each)—$40
1 fly swatter—$5

dual horns (optional)—$30
Total price—$360

You can place a sound-deadening pad around your hi-fi set if the neighbors complain, says the Roanoke (Ind.) Review.

The recommended pad is an inch-thick latex foam rubber mat that sounds like a great cushion for sprawling teenagers.

Why can't teenagers hear rock-and-roll music unless it is loud enough to crack the plaster? The rock-and-roll music doesn't have any quality, but it certainly has quantity.

I think I'll get a foam rubber pad to put out in the dog's house so I can join him during the "music" hours.

The Free Press-Progress, Nokomis, Ill., says that every time a person is about to make both ends meet, something breaks in the middle.

Sales of all grocery stores in a recent year amounted to $56 billion, reports the Morrow County (Ohio) Independent.

This big grocery bill must be because the stores are so big. I always thought it was fun when you went into a store with a list and stood in one place while the grocer scrambled to get what you wanted. You got to know each other that way.

We've been buying groceries in the same store for four years and I don't even know the manager's name. The only reason he knows mine is because one of our checks once bounced.

A man wants a woman who can still surprise him, but only when he's in the mood for it, quotes the Tell City (Ind.) News.

A man doesn't have to live with a woman very long before he realizes that he'd better be in the mood for a surprise 24 hours a day.

The Dell Rapids (S. D.) Tribune reports that the average person eats 17 pounds of candy a year, and intake is highest among boys from 10 to 17 years of age. Was there ever any doubt?

The secret to good health, according to the Salem (S. D.) Special is to leave the table hungry, bed sleepy and the tavern thirsty.

I'll never have good health. I leave the bed thirsty, the tavern hungry and the table sleepy.

The ad to the right ran Thurs., Fri and Sat. in a farm country daily; costing its author $6.40. It cost each of 12 farmers many times that amount. It could have cost you. ● The only tools this toolmaker ever made were devices for decashing his fellowman. His cash on the barrelhead turned out to be fraudulent checks. ● No junk was right! Everything he "bought" was worth anywhere from $150 to $200. ● And how was the hoodwinking accomplished—? ● Well, as the noon till 9 calls materialized, this personable and accomplished crook either rejected or promised to purchase each item offered for sale. Then, from carefully kept notes, he plotted his Monday itinerary. ● Arriving punctually for each appointment, he emerged from a truck cab with his hand extended in greeting. Then he introduced himself via a sealed-in-plastic employee's pass from an internationally known corporation, and quickly got down to the business at hand. ● "It's just as you described it over the phone," he'd say, with never a quibble over the asking price. "But," he'd add, "I've just about bought myself cashless today, so I'm afraid I can do nothing but offer a small deposit, and return for this heifer tomorrow. Unless—" He'd leave it dangling, but only long enough to pat the heifer on a flank and, as if suddenly remembering, he'd then produce an imprinted corporation envelope and from it remove a letter, which he'd ask the unsuspecting farmer to read. ● Under a corporation letterhead, the typewritten message read: "Dear Mr. Bakke: I am pleased to inform you that, due to your outstanding employment record, we have decided to gesture in gratitude. Enclosed is our check in the amount of $238.63—a bonus of $10 per year (minus payroll deductions) for 30 years of faithful service . . . "The plant's "Director" rambled on and on, "Trusting that this parting consideration will launch you happily into an equally rewarding orbit of retirement," and other fattened up hogwash of that nature. ● Pay to the Order of Claude Bakke, each "parting consideration" said. A dozen farmers paid. ● Not all phases of this want ad operation went off as planned, however. One farmer alertly wrote the truck's license number under "Claude Bakke's" signature on the check, then more or less jokingly said, "Trust nobody! That's my policy." But the license number really didn't matter, mainly because the crook had rented the truck under a phony name in the first place. ● "Mr. Bakke's" next stop was in another section of the county. Here, he got a bulldozer of a setback. After he snapped up twin purebred Holstein calves for $175, the crook's victim-to-be excused himself on the sneaky pretext of going into the house to get the check's balance in cash. He came out clutching a shotgun; walking as a man who meant business. ● Stopping eight or ten feet away, the farmer aimed the barrel dead center at the crook's chest. "Guess what, Mr. Bakke?" he said. "I just called the place where you used to work. A girl in the personnel department there told me she never heard of you; that nobody named Claude Bakke ever worked there! Naturally now, since you're so good with words, I'd like to hear what you have to say about that . . . while I consider whether or not I ought to call the sheriff." ● "All I can say is," the crook began shakily, staring at the one-eyed menace in the farmer's hands, "maybe you'd better take another look at my check. Then perhaps you'll recall that I worked in the Experimental Division, which not only is an entirely separate unit but has its own personnel and payroll departments, and supervisory staff as well." ● The farmer didn't seem to know what to make of that. He just stood there, obviously sizing "Mr. Bakke" up and down. But then he looked at the check again. "Okay," he said at last, "so it does say Experimental Division." ● "Sure it does," the crook shot at him quickly, "because that's where I worked. And here's my special Experimental Division employee's pass. It's got my photo, thumbprint, signature, clock number, and complete physical description." Then, in an all-out desperation bluff, he added: "Call Experimental, at my expense, if you like. The number is—"

New Fashioned Dairy Dishes with old-fashioned flavor

Dairy foods are so much a part of our every day lives that we often lose sight of the many interesting and exciting ways in which they can be used to provide variety in our meals.

There is nothing unusual about Apricot-Date or Apricot-Banana breads, but when cottage cheese replaces the liquid it's news: a high protein bread that makes a nutritious snack. Creamy cottage cheese, beaten into the butter and sugar just after they are creamed, is treated without any undue care. The recipe we're using makes one loaf, but while you're mixing, why not make two loaves? One for today's snack, the other to store in the freezer for the next sunshiny day.

Salad dressings made with buttermilk are a boon to the weight-watcher. Tomato Tang Dressing uses tomato paste, lemon juice, green pepper and onion—all low calorie foods. Creamy Low-Cal Dressing adds the protein of creamy cottage cheese to red wine vinegar and chopped parsley. Stock these dressings in the refrigerator, then next time you're tempted to snack, enjoy a crisp cool salad and a tall glass of skim milk.

Deluxe Scalloped Potatoes make a zesty vegetable dish to accompany the cheese, baked ham and luncheon meat trays frequently assembled for warm weather entertaining. The casserole offers uniqueness and individuality and is easy to make. Simmer potato slices with garden fresh onion, carrot and mushroom slices in milk to which canned condensed cream of mushroom soup is added. French cooks are lavish in their use of mushrooms. This, perhaps, is one of the reasons their cookery is so enjoyable.

For mealtime or snacktime, Broiled Cheese Salad Sandwiches are ready in a hurry. To build your sandwich, start with buttered toast. Top each slice with slices of tomato and dill pickle. Then spread on the Cheese Salad. It's a nippy combination of shredded Cheddar, cucumber, onion, sour cream and chili powder. Finally the sandwiches go under the broiler—just long enough for the cheese to melt.

Milk and cookies must be as old a childhood snack as Mother Goose. Eaten between meals and at bedtime, they appease the appetite as they provide valuable proteins, minerals and vitamins. Easy Date Filled Drop Cookies are not only nourishing but plum good too. They are cookies such as Mother Goose would have been proud to store in her cookie jar.

COTTAGE FRUIT LOAF

APRICOT-DATE

½ cup butter or margarine	3 cups flour
½ cup firmly packed light brown sugar	1 tablespoon baking powder
¼ teaspoon grated orange rind	1 teaspoon baking soda
¼ teaspoon grated lemon rind	1 teaspoon salt
2 eggs	1 cup diced dried apricots
1½ cups cottage cheese	1 cup diced dates

Pre-heat oven to 350 degrees and use a greased loaf pan (9 x 5 x 3-inch). Cream together butter, sugar and rinds until light and fluffy. Beat in eggs and cottage cheese thoroughly. Sift together flour, baking powder, baking soda and salt; mix in fruits, coating pieces to prevent sticking together. Add dry ingredients to cottage cheese mixture; blend well. Pack into pan and bake 50-55 minutes. Remove from pan and cool on wire rack. Delicious spread with sweetened cream cheese (blend confectioners sugar into softened cream cheese to taste).

APRICOT-BANANA: Substitute 2 large, ripe bananas, mashed (¾-1 cup) for the dates and add ¼ teaspoon cinnamon and ¼ teaspoon rum extract. Bake as directed above.

Corn Stuffed Green Peppers

3 med. green peppers	Salt and pepper
¼ cup chopped green pepper	1 (10-oz.) pkg. frozen corn, partially thawed
2 tbsp. chopped pimento	Mazola® Margarine
Karo All-Purpose Syrup	Reynolds Wrap (Heavy Duty)

Cut green peppers in half crosswise; remove seeds and membrane. Place each half on square of Heavy Duty Reynolds Wrap large enough to wrap around it. Fill with corn, chopped green pepper and pimento. Salt, pepper, dot with margarine. Pour 1 to 2 tbsp. Karo All-Purpose Syrup over each. Wrap, sealing foil with double fold. Grill or broil 4 to 5 inches from heat about 45 minutes. Serves 6. Grill tomato halves with onion slices same way about 30 minutes.

Spicy Barbecue Sauce for 'Burgers

½ cup Mazola® corn oil	½ cup vinegar
1 med. onion, chopped	2 tbsp. prepared mustard
½ cup Karo All-Purpose Syrup	2 tbsp. Worcestershire sauce
½ cup ketchup, ½ cup water	2 tsp. salt, ½ tsp. pepper

Heat corn oil in skillet. Add onion, cook over low heat, stir frequently, until tender. Add other ingredients. Simmer 15 minutes, stir occasionally. Makes 2½ cups. Spread on burgers and grill outdoors (or in kitchen).

The new way to cook is with Karo!

Karo Syrup adds a wholesome kind of sweetness that's easy to digest because it supplies DEX-TROSE, a quick energy sugar. Karo adds delicious new flavor, texture, and makes everyday dishes more appealing. When your recipe calls for corn syrup, it means Karo . . . for cooking, baking and table use. Karo is available in pint and quart bottles; also in 5 and 10 lb. cans.

Better cook-outs with Reynolds Wrap

Heavy Duty Reynolds Wrap under the fire reflects and spreads heat to cook faster over the whole grid. Vegetables in foil packets cook at grid edge. In addition, clean-up's a cinch. Just bundle ashes and drippings in the Reynolds Wrap . . . oven-tempered for flexible strength.

Located in the South-eastern part of Wisconsin is a bit of Switzerland. It is the village of New Glarus.

This village was founded in 1845 by Swiss colonists escaping the famine in Canton Glarus, Switzerland. Today, the traveler interested in Europe need not go overseas, he need only journey to New Glarus in Green County, Wisconsin.

There, the traveler visits the Alpine Cafe to try authentic European food; which he may later duplicate in his own kitchens.

The Cafe is owned by the Hofmann family. Karl Hofmann worked in Switzerland for 12 years as a cheese maker, then he became a Swiss federal officer, always keeping up with his hobby of cooking.

Later Hofmann was the manager of 8 cooks in a large eating establishment in Switzerland. He wanted to open his own place in that country but prices were prohibitive. His parents visited the United States—came to New Glarus and told Karl about the Alpine Cafe. Through correspondence with the former owner, Karl was able to work out a buying arrangement.

Hofmann, with his wife and three children came to Wisconsin 3 years ago to settle in New Glarus. In taking over the Alpine Cafe, Hofmann put out a complete Swiss menu. As word of the excellent food spread, so did his trade; it's the next best thing to returning to Switzerland! What's better, after eating at the Alpine and talking with Hofmann many of the dishes you enjoyed can be duplicated in your home kitchen. The Cafe menu offers Geschnetzeltes, Raclette, Gordon Bleu, Matterhorn Cheese Bread and Fondue-Bourguignon to mention a few dishes.

Potatoes are another dish Hofmann has put his special touch to. He cooks the potatoes, adds seasonings and a lot of cheese. The result is a delectable mashed potato which is shaped and chilled for frying later on to tempt the palate of many a customer.

Also the serving counter in front of the kitchen and at the head of the first eating room is typically Swiss.

Hofmann explains that in Switzerland the waitress never goes into the kitchen. In her typical Swiss dress, she orders the food from the customer side of the counter and when it is ready the chef will give the plate to her.

The table cloths in the dining room have two embroidered emblems. One is the emblem of Green County, where New Glarus is located, the other is the Wilhelm Tell emblem.

As you're seated, possibly the first thing you order is the Fondue Bourguignon.

This is small pieces of beef tenderloin which Hofmann has selected with care. He then supplies the customers with a copper pot filled with hot vegetable oil. With a fondue fork, the customer may then put on a piece of the meat, some of the finely cut onions and cook the meat to his taste.

Another dish is Gordon Bleu. This is pounded veal with ham and swiss cheese inside. Matterhorn cheese bread is named for the part of Switzerland where it originated. The cheese bread makes a wonderful appetizer when cut into very tiny pieces or with the addition of cooked ham and a fried egg on top, it makes a filling, open-face sandwich.

FONDUE BOURGUIGNONNE

Ask the butcher for prime quality beef or pork fillet. Cut into one inch cubes. (5-7 ounces) per person.

The meat is lightly seasoned with salt and pepper and placed on the table with an assortment of sauces, relishes and condiments.

Fill the metal fondue pot with ½ pint of vegetable oil and heat it. (The fondue pot with a capacity of 1½ pints of oil will be sufficient for 2-6 people.)

Each person then puts a cube of meat on a fondue fork or a wooden skewer and dips it into the boiling liquid until it is cooked to his taste. Since the fondue forks become very hot, it is important to change the cooked meat to another fork before dipping it into one of the sauces:

Tomato ketchup	Mixed pickles
Tartar sauce	Piccabilli
Mayonnaise	Worcestershire sauce
Curry sauce	Hamburger sauce

CHEESE FONDUE

1 pound grated, aged Swiss cheese	2-3 tsp. Kirschwasser or non-sweet brandy
1½ cup dry white wine	1 clove garlic, cut
2-3 tsp. cornstarch	2 loaves crusty bread, cut into bite-size each with some crust

Rub heavy earthenware fondue dish with garlic. Heat wine in this dish on regular stove. When almost boiling, add the grated Swiss cheese slowly. Stir constantly with a wooden spoon in a figure eight. When the cheese begins to rise add the cornstarch and Kirschwasser which have been mixed. Stir well.

Remove from the stove and place on a prepared alcohol burner. Keep the fondue bubbling lightly. Spear a piece of bread, dip into the fondue, running fork around bottom of dish to coat the bread. Each guest takes his turn and the stirring motion helps maintain proper fondue consistency.
