All exhibits shall be (a) purebred (b) cross bred from purebred parents.

All birds showing any general disqualifications according to the Standard of Perfection shall receive no award.

Provided the birds are typical of the breeds which they represent, the placing of awards shall depend upon the fol-

A. Pullets: 1. Rapidity of growth. 2. Depth of pigment.

3. Uniformity of shape and size. 4. Promise of egg production.

5. Absence of defects and disqualifications.

B. Mature Birds (Hens):

of the type which will lower his egg production.

5. Body weight, conformation and fitness. 6. Absence of defects and disqualifications.

It is suggested, especially for fairs held late in September and October, that all birds exhibited go directly from the Fair to market for slaughter so that none of them will be taken back to the farm. The reason for this precaution is that the birds may take back some disease to the farmer and injure his egg production of his farm flock, if such disease is infectious and

A pen entry shall consist of two females and one male. (Classifications: Cock, Cockerel, Hen, Pullet.)
