A 26-year-old Owosso city policeman died of gunshot wounds suffered Monday afternoon while hunting west of Sand Lake Road and south of State Road in Grant. Township

Dead is Bruce Rodney Bates. 608 Oakwood, father of two children, who was found with two wounds in the back of his head.

Det. Charles Frank of the Michigan State Police Post, East Tawas, reported Tuesday morning that the shooter had not been identified as yet and that investigation was continuing.

Bates was hunting with his 14year-old foster son, George Banagis, and three others, Jerry Bendall, 31, Corunna; James Whalen, 31, a fellow Owosso policeman and William Whalen, 19, also of Owósso

The five had come to Iosco County early Sunday morning and stayed at a cabin west of Sand Lake Road.

While walking through the brush around 3:15 p.m., Bendall found Bates lying on the ground against a stump. The victim was still breathing at the time. Bendall was unable to carry the Owosso policeman and two hunters who came along, Edward White, 16, Clarkston, and Terry Broome, 18, Oxford, went for assistance.

Bates succumbed to his injuries before help arrived. Exact location of the shooting was eighttenths of a mile west of Sand Lake Road and three-tenths of a mile south of State Road in the vicinity of Pioneer Cemetery.

The body was taken to Saginaw where an autopsy was to be performed. It was thought here that the two wounds in Bates' head may have been caused by 00 buck-

THE MOST DIFFICULT TIME in a young girl's life are the L subteen years. The years when she's not a child anymore, and not quite as grownup as a teenager. A subteen, as you probably know, is anywhere from eleven to fourteen. These are the girls who are too big for little girl's sizes and too young for the more sophisticated teen styles.

WHO CARES To me, it seems like all the difficulties of these years is compounded in the dowdy clothes the girls have to live with. They feel as if they'll never grow up and never, ever look good. And that's why the smart woman who cares will help ease a girl through this difficult period by making her clothes. For all the obvious, good reasons women have for sewing and knitting - the practicality of making your own things, the fun you have doing them — with a subteen in the house you almost have to make her things. There just aren't wide enough selections for this age group in the stores.

COLLEGE CAMPUS FEELING

You can knit the sweater illustrated today, easily and quickly. The stitch is simpler than it looks (it's mainly a garter stitch) and it has a ribbed turtle neck collar. This the kind of style subteeners love, it gives them that grown-up "college campus" feeling. And they like bright colors, so we've done our sweater in a zingy canary yellow. For free directions for knitting this sweater, just send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for Leaflet No. PK 3177 to the Needlework Editor of this newspaper.

ike most women you're probably just recuperating from the festivities of the holiday season. Although the gladness that filled everyone's hearts and households made it more than worth it, the truth is that Christmas is a hectic time involving lots of preparations. And as a homemaker, most of these preparations were probably directed toward others. Readying your home to entertain in, preparing a sumptuous holiday dinner, racking your brains to think of the perfect holiday gift for everyone-all of these things are involved in making the holiday as festive, meaningful, and beautiful as it was meant to be. I'm sure that all of you with talents for needlecraft exploited them to the fullest during the Christmas season. And successfully too - for everyone knows that the gifts that count the most are those that are made by hand-with a little of the givers sentiments knitted into every row.

EXCLUSIVELY FOR YOU This month, however, we'd like to place our emphasis on someone different. After a holiday season of giving to others, we think you deserve time out to indulge yourself-to experience first hand the joys of receiving something that is made by hand. So. especially for you we're suggesting this elegant crocheted bedjacket. It's exclusively yours, to make for yourself, to give yourself the pleasure of glorying in an item of pure luxury.

LOW COST LUXURY

All this luxury costs only a few pennies and works up so quickly that you'll be enjoying it in no time. This elegant item bespeaks femininity from its lacy texture to its rich velvet trim. Its most sumptuous feature is the large lacy shell pattern created by pulling the crochet loops very high. For free instructions just send a stamped self-addressed envelope to the needlework department of this newspaper. Ask for leaflet No. PC8238.
