Farmers Should Evaluate Finances Once A Year

Every farmer should evaluate his financial position at least once every year. The most common and accurate way of doing this is making up a financial statement which always lists three things, assets, liabilities and difference.
 In the Telfarm program, an annual financial statement is one of the by-products of the annual income and expense records that are kept. Once an initial start of assets on the farm is made, records are kept up to date through the daily purchases and sales reported. In the same way, farmers debts position is kept up to date through the reporting of debt payments and additional borrowings. The year-end business analysis summary then provides an excellent back-

United States Navy Needs Men; Quota of 11 for Grosse Ile

The United States Navy needs 1,000 additional men per month for immediate active duty and Grosse Ile Naval Air Station's share of the quota is 11, it was announced today. Spokesmen at the navy base said the announcement of a boost in strength through the "Two by Six" program will allow young men nearing draft age to fulfill their military obligation in two years with four in the selected reserve.
 "Those who qualify for active duty now will spend two years in the fleet then return to their hometowns for the duration of their obligated time to drill with local units or at NAS, Grosse Ile," Commander Robert B. Wightman, procurement and recruiting officer for the station, said.
 "After they are released, they can either drill one week-end a month at Grosse Ile as a member of any of 22 aviation squadrons or they may affiliate with local training centers nearer their homes," he added. Arrangements for screening tests and counseling interviews were set into motion immediately following the announcement.
 "The Two by Six program is aimed specifically at high school and college students who want to get their diplomas or degrees before embarking on active duty," the commander explained, "but those who do not plan to continue in school are welcome if they can meet the physical and mental tests required."

Name Three to NEM Electrical Assn. Board of Control

Northeastern Michigan Electrical Association held its annual meeting Thursday, January 28, at the Barnes Hotel. After dinner, a movie titled "Hounds and Bear" was shown by Arthur Leitz, Michigan Conservation Department officer.
 Herman Maas of Haie, John St. James of Tawas City and Thomas King of Oscoda were elected to the board of control replacing George Spalding of Rose City, Fred Bond of Fairview and Ted St. James of Tawas City. A movie on the valuable use of time was supplied by Virgil Oldham, chairman.
 Because of an increasing awareness of area leaders of need for guidelines in the electrical field, requests have been received by the association for assistance and suggestions. A special board meeting to formulate policy and appoint a committee to answer these requests was called for Tuesday, February 9.

Broiled Foods are Tasty - Healthful

By DOROTHY SCOTT
 County Extension Agent
 Have you ever tried broiling vegetables and fruits? "They are excellent," say the extension group members. Precooked or leftover root vegetables are fine, as are tomatoes, onion slices, lettuce, frozen vegetables and canned vegetables. Among the fruits to try are bananas, grapefruit, raw apple slices and canned fruit.
 Yes—steaks are the most popular broiled meat and they are expensive; less expensive meats also broil. Some homemakers have not tried lean hamburger, lamb chops, cured ham or smoked pork chops, bacon, wieners, chicken and turkey, cured sausage, calves liver and many forms of fish. Unsuccessful are lower-grade cuts of beef and meat sliced too thin. Veal chops lack enough fat. Fresh pork should not be broiled to guard against trichinosis (a health safety tip).
 With practice, homemakers can do a whole meal in the broiler—meat, potatoes, vegetables and fruit. Add a tossed salad or relish tray, breadstuffs and milk—your meal is ready in a hurry.
 Some people say, "I do not like milk!" This is mighty common when they mean milk to drink, especially among the ladies. I'm sorry to admit this because I like milk to drink and in lots of other ways.
 How about cream soup, pudding, cream pie or cottage cheese in salad? These are excellent ways to eat milk if you prefer not to drink it. The important thing is that everybody has some everyday.
 Mrs. Glen Peters echoed the comment of many homemakers when she said she does not like to clean the mess after using the broiler. There will be little or no mess if these tips are observed. Be sure the food is far enough away from the heat. Trim away most of the fat on meat—it only drips, spatters and smokes. Broiling food has to be watched rather closely. Exact timing is not possible because of size and thickness variations. Then, too, broiler unit speeds vary. In the long run, you will be happier if you clean the broiler after each use instead of allowing the "spatter" to bake on.
 "The food is dry," remarked another group member. The answer for this is to brush the top surface with butter, oil, salad dressing, honey, syrup or jelly before broiling.
 Mrs. White says she has never tried broiling because she really did not understand how to do it. This reason is given by lots of homemakers.
 "I'd use my broiler more if I didn't have to get on my knees to see into it," says Mrs. Ernest Provoast. When this happens, it follows that there is not enough space between the rack and flame.
 Mrs. Harold Siegrist and Mrs. Earl Stone voted for broiler and oven as completely separate units. Mrs. Siegrist has this kind of broiler and likes it. Mrs. Stone says her family likes beef seared quickly, heated thoroughly but served really rare—it is more juicy, tender and flavorful.

Perchville Shanties Back on Ice After High Wind Damage

High winds last Wednesday damaged 15 aluminum shanties at Perchville. All have been repaired and are back on the ice. According to Percy Scott, who has charge of the ice fishing village for the Tawas Chamber of Commerce, the shanties were blown across the ice and then smashed along the shore.

Scott also reported last week that a section of ice about 100 feet across buckled under the weight of six feet of water. Perchville was flooded by thawing conditions early last week.

In business conducted during last Wednesday night's regular meeting of the board of directors, County Extension Director Marvin Davenport reported on the possibility that the area might obtain the services of a district tourist industry agent. Davenport is now working with groups at Hale and Oscoda to secure the services of such a person to develop local resources and the Tawas Chamber of Commerce is to lend its support.

The board sent a letter to the Michigan Highway Commission asking that a second traffic sign be placed at the I-75 intersection with US-10 reading "Scenic Route to Mackinac Bridge straight ahead," to encourage traffic over US-23. At present, a sign located at this intersection directs traffic to the Mackinac Bridge only over US-10.

OFFICIALS of the Tawas Chamber of Commerce would like to see perch cooperate for the week-end festival, as they seem to be doing in the above photo. School Board

(Continued from page 1.) would cost the district an additional $18,750 and the second plan named would amount to an additional $18,000.

Superintendent Mick said that salaries paid to beginning teachers here compared favorably to other areas, but that present salary to teachers at the top of Tawas Area's pay scale was among the lowest in the state.

In other business, a review of expenses compared to the budget revealed that costs of operation were about as anticipated for the 1964-1965 school year. Expenditures for textbooks, teaching supplies and machine replacement were slightly higher than expected.

The board is to advertise for bids on a new 36-passenger school bus. This is to replace the green station wagon which is used to transport kindergarten pupils. Unanimous action of the board offered 1965-1966 contracts to Superintendent Mick, High School Principal Ernest W. Jordan and Elementary Principal Clara Bolen. It was announced that Mrs. Nina May had retired from teaching effective February 1 for health reasons. Mrs. Esther Musgrave is to fill out the semester for her.

Mrs. Barbara Miller has been hired to complete the school year for eighth grade English.

The committee reported that additional cost of the lights would be $277. Also recommended was installation of two 20,000-lumen

City Police Chief Donald Docking reports that all local news stand owners are cooperating in the drive to eliminate "smut" magazines from the local market.

Salary of city labor foreman, Edward Lixey, was raised $25 a month effective February 16.

Building applications were approved by the department of public works for Emmett R. Cecil, Twin Service Laundry and Dry Cleaning, 14.8 by 36-foot concrete block addition, $3,000; Harry Coy, Christian Addition, frame garage, $971.

City Supt. Attended Laboratory Training Course at Gull Lake

Supt. of Public Works Reginald Bublitz attended a five-day laboratory training course for wastewater treatment plant operators last week at the W. K. Kellogg Biological Station, Gull Lake, near Battle Creek.

The course was sponsored and conducted by the Michigan Department of Health, in cooperation with Michigan State University and the United States Public Health Service.

Bublitz was one of a group of 20 sewage treatment plant operators enrolled in the course for the purpose of increasing skill in laboratory methods necessary in the operation and control of sewage plants. It also was to help operators maintain accurate records from which future treatment needs can be predicted and necessary steps taken to prevent water pollution.

A total of 80 operators will take part in the series of courses.
