Fishing Regulations May be Liberalized by State

Conservation department fisheries officials are considering a change to liberalize commercial perch fishing in Saginaw and Tawas Bays as a move to prevent a potentially heavy fish waste.

The department's leaders would like to loosen regulations so that commercial operators in these waters could be allowed to keep and sell all yellow perch they catch in gill nets of 2½-inch mesh size.

Presently, the perch size limit for these nets is 8½ inches. Experience is showing that this regulation is too restrictive, since about 50 percent of the perch taken are too small.

These sublegals—most of which measure just under the minimum size limit—must be brought to port by commercial operators. However, because these fish cannot be sold, large numbers of them never reach the market.

The department is authorized to dispose of undersized perch to charitable institutions, but its supply of these fish appears likely to exceed demands for them if current trends continue. This, of course, points to the possibility of a large waste.

The problem of too many sublegal fish is tied to the fact that the perch population of the two bays is stagnated. According to Department Fish Chief Howard A. Tanner, these fish grow rather rapidly to about eight inches but it takes them six years to reach legal size.

Department fisheries men say the best way to correct the problem for sport fishermen as well as commercial operators is by removing the present size restriction for taking perch with commercial gear.

The liberal change, they explain, would encourage more commercial fishermen to profitably harvest perch and, with fishing pressure increased, there would be a more rapid turnover in the perch populations of Saginaw and Tawas Bays.

This, in turn, would provide conditions for healthier, faster-

'Tell Our Side of the Story on Fish Regulations,' Asks AuGres Trap Netter

"I wish the newspapers would say something on behalf of the small trap net fishermen in the Point AuGres area . . . the only commercial fishermen considered so far have been the gill netters and we are definitely not in favor of lifting present restrictions on the size of perch."

Speaking was Leo Manor, 61, who has resided in the AuGres area since 1912 and has been a commercial fisherman most of his life.

Despite reports to the contrary, Manor told the Herald Saturday that he had never seen a better year for the growth of perch.

"Because of the cool weather last summer, the perch did not move out into deeper water. There was plenty of food for them right in Saginaw Bay, as evidenced by the fact that the tons of seven and eight-inch perch that I caught and then released from my traps last spring have now grown to legal size," said Manor.

Stating that he hated to admit it, because more commercial fishermen might flock to the area, "we had another excellent month for fishing during September," commented Manor. "The perch were running in size from 8½ inches and up and, out of every 100 pounds of fish in the round, the perch dressed out to 50 pounds in the fillet—that really is unusual."

Manor said it was a well-known fact that the larger fish are found close to shore in about 25 feet of water, which probably ac-

City is Off-Limits to Hunting, Warns Police Chief Roti

Hunting or discharging of firearms within the city limits is illegal, according to a warning issued Tuesday by Police Chief Frank Roti. "Tawas City Ordinance No. 135, which provides a fine and jail sentence for violators, will be strictly enforced," said Roti.

This action follows numerous complaints during the past week. A First Ward home owner reported Monday night that a 22 caliber rifle slug broke out a window and was found imbedded in the living room wall.

"Weapons of minors apprehended while shooting within the city limits will be confiscated and parents will be taken to court," declared Roti.

State Park Manager A. Ray Prosch also reports that hunting is prohibited at Tawas Point State Park.

TA School Joins Area Vocational Ed. Study

Appropriation of $482.32 as Tawas Area School's share in an area vocational education study was approved Monday night by the board of education, following a discussion on federal aid programs available to schools.

Appearing before the board were William Tracy, Iosco Intermediate School superintendent, and Jack Carpenter, who directed Oscoda Area School's share in "Operation Headstart" last summer and is coordinator of that school's participation in several federal programs.

Both men appeared at the board's request, following action two weeks ago which indicated that members wished additional information on the proposed survey before any formal action was taken.

Tracy said that Iosco Intermediate School District, in cooperation with Bay-Arenac district and all public schools comprising the four-county area, with exception of Tawas Area, had already indicated willingness to participate in the vocational needs study. Cost of the study would be $15,000, to be prorated according to student enrollment.

The county superintendent said that vocational training in public schools was finally "coming to the front in educational fields." He pointed out the need for further training of those students who do not go on to schools of higher education, or drop out after a year in college; training of high school drop outs in vocational fields and even offering vocational instruction to persons long out of school or those who have no formal education beyond the eighth grade.

Tracy said that quite a bit of work had already been completed in studying various areas of special education and vocational training. "We do not know in what direction we are going, as yet, but this survey should show us," said the county superintendent.

Unanimous approval was given to Tawas Area's participation in the technical needs study.

Carpenter stressed the need for vocational training, stating that he believed that 50 percent or more of Iosco's residents were not high school graduates.

The Oscoda Area coordinator reported that 502 adults were now enrolled in night classes being conducted at that school with some 29 faculty members serving as teachers. Programs include basic adult education for persons without an eighth grade education, a self-improvement program and credit courses.

Stating that Oscoda's adult program was a separate school within itself, "Our buildings are being used night and day," said Carpenter. "We must think of total education—how can we help these people . . . what can we do to help 70 percent of the people who do not receive a degree . . . what can we do to prepare people for life, not just the youngsters in school, but the older people who need to get something from school."

Carpenter said that more than $100,000 in federal funds were available for special educational fields in Iosco County—"What are you doing about it?" he asked.

Excitement Erupted When Police Engulfed Whittemore

With the screeching of tires of a blue state police car Wednesday afternoon, Whittemore fairly exploded with excitement. Its second bank robbery in 43 years had taken place 25 minutes earlier and only two persons in town—Mrs. Lillian Smith and State Trooper George Woodward—knew that a stickup had taken place.

Time of the robbery was 2:50 p. m. Relaying of messages to Hale and then to police at Tawas consumed approximately 15 minutes. Trooper Woodward was in Whittemore within 10 minutes of the call to East Tawas.

Seconds later, the robbery was the main topic of conversation among groups of residents along the street. . . . it was to continue to be that way throughout the day and probably still is being discussed.

"I was standing near the window inside the store talking to a customer," commented Arden Charters, whose grocery is located nearly directly across the street from the bank. "I didn't notice anything out of the ordinary, but my view of the bank was blocked by a large truck."

Whittemore Man Hurt in Crash

Ralph Bronson, 19, Whittemore, sustained serious injuries late Friday afternoon when his car struck a parked truck near Brighton.

Confined to intensive care at Hurley Hospital, Bronson sustained a punctured lung, fractured leg and facial cuts in the crash.

Police said he apparently fell asleep at the wheel after working a 13-hour shift. He was on his way home to attend Friday night's football game.

65 Persons Attended Week-End VHF Hamfest

Some 65 persons attended the VHF Hamfest held here last Friday through Sunday. Headquarters for the visiting ham radio operators was the Holland Hotel.

Major activities included registration and displays at the community building, a banquet at the Holland Hotel Saturday night and breakfast Sunday morning at Tawas Masonic Temple.

Clues Sought in Bank Robbery

Area police are still beating the bushes this week in their efforts to get a lead on a lone gunman, who held up the Whittemore Branch of Farmers and Merchants State Bank just before closing time last Wednesday and made off with $7,747.

Sgt. George Briggs, commander of the state police post at East Tawas, who with Sheriff Ivan O'Farrell have directed the investigation, said Tuesday that an artist's sketch of the robber had been completed and that the likeness was being given state-wide distribution.

Working with State Trooper George Woodward and using an "Identikit" loaned by the Flint Police Department, Mrs. Lillian Smith, bank teller at the Whittemore branch office at the time of the hold-up, has prepared a likeness of the robber and a sketch has been drawn.

Mrs. Smith told police the gunman was in the bank for only a short time. The man coolly waited for another customer to leave and then approached the window asking for a $100 bank draft. She told him the bank usually issues money orders and he replied that was "just fine."

Mrs. Smith turned to make out the money order and, when she turned to face the man again, she found his hand lying on the counter and clutching a gun.

The bandit ordered Mrs. Smith to empty the cash drawer of its contents into a brown paper bag he had produced and then forced her to take $6,000 from the vault.

Following the experiment, the company asks that it be allowed to operate during those hours on a permanent basis.

Glendon Deer Farm Studied as 'New' Attraction in Area

Possible development of the Glendon Deer Farm as an area tourist attraction is under serious consideration, according to County Extension Agent Marvin Davenport.

A meeting was held last Thursday night with the conservation committee of the Iosco Board of Supervisors and a representative of the Iosco County Road Commission to discuss the possibility.

Following the discussion, Conservation Committee Chairman Charles Smith of Oscoda commented, "It is hoped that, with proper parking facilities, this area can be developed into a real attraction."

Located on Wilber Road, motorists often may see 60 to 75 deer peacefully grazing the fields next to the woods.

"Have you ever thought about the other side of the coin?" commented Davenport. "Suppose you owned the property and had planted 45 acres of oats, only to have half of it eaten by a deer herd. And, after you provided the food that fattened them with a minimum of gamey flavor, suppose you could not legally have even one to provide means for your table?"

That is the situation Ronald and George Green, along with Harry Krueger, are facing. They own the half-mile stretch along Wilber Road which, in recent years, has come to be so popular as a place to see deer in Iosco County.

The county extension agent pointed out that cars parked along the highway proved to be a driving hazard. The county road commission has tried to control the situation by posting "no parking" signs along the west side of the highway.

"Recently, Ronald Green visited with me about their problem," said Davenport. "They like to see deer, too, but cannot afford to continue feeding them half a field crop every year, gratis."

Developing tourist attractions in the county is a Cooperative Extension Service objective and a meeting was arranged. Supervisors attending were Robert Bolen, Edward Nelkie, Richter Lixey and Smith. Also joining in the discussion with Ronald and George Green was Otis Love, road commission engineer.

THE BIBLE
SPEAKS
TO YOU

What was the meaning of Jesus' suffering and sacrifice? How does it apply to us today? These are the questions to be taken up at Christian Science church services this Sunday. The subject is "Doctrine of Atonement."

A chapter in the Christian Science textbook on "Atonement and Eucharist" will supply several passages for the lesson-sermon readings, including this one: "Every pang of repentance and suffering, every effort for reform, every good thought and deed, will help us to understand Jesus' atonement for sin and aid its efficacy; but if the sinner continues to pray and repent, sin and be sorry, he has little part in the atonement.—In the at-onement with God—for he lacks the practical repentance, which reforms the heart and enables man to do the will of wisdom" (Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy, p. 19).

This passage from Philippians (2:12) will be among the many Bible readings: "Wherefore, my beloved, as ye have always obeyed, not as in my presence only, but now much more in my absence, work out your own salvation with fear and trembling."

Introducing the tuned car. 1966 Buick.

What makes a car a car is styling, performance, ride and handling. Only when they're all tuned together is the car a Buick. Like this 1966 Riviera Gran Sport.

You know how well your car's engine runs after a tuneup? Buick tuning has the same effect on the whole car. Not just the engine. The whole Buick. Everything blends with everything else. Styling. Performance. Ride. Handling. All tuned to work together in harmony. That's what the tuned car is. A Buick. Only Buick is the tuned car. (And every Buick is the tuned car.) What the tuned car is a masterful blending of all the things that make a great car greater. The Riviera for 1966 is the tuned car. It features six-passenger seating, disappearing headlights, a silently efficient new ventilating system and the kind of roadworthiness you'd expect in a car that costs twice as much. (You can get a Riviera for your desk as well as your garage. Send $1 in check or money order to Riviera, P.O. Box 68, Troy, Mich., for an accurate 1/25 scale model '66 Riviera.) But Riviera's not the only tuned car. LeSabre is, too. And Wildcat. Electra 225. Special. Skylark. Sportwagon. See them all at your Buick dealer's. The tuned car may not mean much to you now. But then you haven't had a chance to drive one yet.

Wouldn't you really rather have a Buick?

There's an authorized Buick dealer near you. See his Double-Checked used cars, too.

TA Braves and Pinny Tie In 19-19 Duel

Two teams never could come closer in registering a win Friday night, but the Tawas Area Braves and Pinning Spartans closed the fourth quarter in a 19-19 tie.

With about three minutes to go in the game and after overcoming a two-touchdown deficit, it looked as though the Braves had their first win of the season tucked away.

Pinny had its back to the wall and, on third down, elected to kick. Tawas defenders put on the rush and caught the punter in his own endzone. A two-point safety in favor of Tawas was wiped away when the Spartans managed to reach the goal line. On fourth down, he kicked out of trouble.

It was a come-from-behind game all the way for Tawas. Halfback Charles Foco of Pinny cracked over from two yards out to cap an 80-yard Spartan drive in the second quarter. Foco also ran the PAT.

Tawas bounced right back when Quarterback Dick Grebe took Pinny's kick and returned it 80 yards for a touchdown. Harten ran the PAT.

Pinny again took the lead in the second when Foco went 26 yards off tackle to score, climaxing a 64-yard drive in six plays. The PAT was missed.

The half opened with Tawas kicking to the visitors and, in six plays, Ed Foco scored on a 28-yard off tackle play. The try for PAT was no good.

Tawas' offense came to life in the third quarter. After the Braves recovered a Pinny fumble on the visitors' 20, Halfback Ed Cain scored on a seven-yarder, going through a hole in Pinning's line opened by Tackle Ken Makinen. The PAT was no good.

After exchanging the ball several times, Tawas again gained possession after a punt on the Pinning 48. Six plays later, Cain again scored, this one a 21-yarder and through a hole opened by Makinen. Cain was hit by three Pinny defenders but he bounced off and spurred through to score. The all important point after touchdown was missed.

Except for the second quarter, Tawas' defense led by Defensive Captain Hugh Freel was able to stop the Spartans. Other defensive standouts were Kim Simons and Bob Bobosta, along with Makinen.

Cain, who had played steady throughout the first three games, again turned in another good game in the backfield. Fullback Denny Harten showed that his leg is fit for action again with several hard runs and Grebe, the offensive workhorse, turned in another good performance.

A Saturday night game is on tap this week. The Braves travel to Gladwin to take on the undefeated Flying Gs as part of Gladwin's homecoming festivities.

W-P Area Blanked by Beaveron, 19-0 In 2nd NEM Loss

Whittemore - Prescott Cardinals suffered their second NEM Conference loss Friday night, being blanked by Beaveron, 19-0.

After an outstanding performance the previous week, the Cards just did not have it Friday night. Beaveron scored a lone touchdown in the opening period with Ron Munger going over from the two and Dave Allan passed to Pete Siner for the PAT.

With four minutes to go before the half, Whittemore-Prospect drove down to Beaveron's one-yard line, but time ran out and it killed the Cards' best threat of the night.

In the final quarter, Allan scored from the five and Guard Jim Mates returned an intercepted pass 40 yards for the other score.

Action this Friday night finds the Cards playing host to the Alcona Tigers.

Hale Eagles ran into a "buzzsaw" Friday afternoon at Atlanta, coming out in the short end of a 53-14 score.

The Atlanta team was just too powerful on defense and the Eagles moved to the air. Quarterback Dan Maas passed 30 times and completed 13, two of them going for Hale's TD's.

Maas hit Ed Wright with a pass in the first quarter and the end raced 43 yards for a touchdown. Mark Brindley booted the PAT and Hale held a 7-6 margin at the end of the quarter.

Atlanta scored 13 points in the second quarter and 24 in the third to wrap up the game. Maas passed to Duane Gruber for the final Eagle TD. Brindley converted the PAT.

Hale takes on another tough customer this Friday afternoon when it meets Hillman.

Gladwin Took Over First in NBC with Win Over Oscoda

Gladwin's Flying Gs snapped the 13-game victory skein of Oscoda Friday night with a 7-0 upset to take over first place in the Northern B Conference.

Tim Sheehan took an 18-yard pass from Gladwin quarterback, Dick Garber, in the second period and scampered untouched into the end zone for the lone score of the game. Greg Juneac booted the extra point.

Garber was the big gun in the Gladwin offensive attack with 103 yards in 13 carries. The Flying Gs are now the only undefeated team in conference action with a 2-0 mark.

Oscoda, 1-1 for league play, lost the ball five times via fumbles enroute to losing its first game in its last 14 outings. Dowan handled the running chores for the losers on a wet and muddy field.

LETTERS to the EDITOR

October 9, 1965

Dear Editor:

Last week, the last of four billings for the year for membership dues were sent to each business place in the area by the chamber of commerce.

I would like to impress on those businesses who have not yet become members, that one does not buy an awning, but shade; not glasses, but vision; not membership, but area promotion. To promote this area takes money—not to forget the time and effort of those doing the work—for free! This year has been one of the chamber's busiest years, to mention a few projects: Canoe race; Michigan Tourist Festival; Perchville; bicycle races, which is a growing recreation and gaining national popularity, and the art show. There were no special assessments for any of these promotions. The meetings and conventions that have been promoted and assisted are many.

The 15 minutes on TV Channel 4 for the bicycle races alone was worth $650 per minute. WNEM Channel 5, WWUP Channel 10 and WWTV Cadillac Channel 9 also gave free time. Undoubtedly, there were other radio and TV programs promoting our area, too numerous to mention. Our own local WIOS is to be highly complemented on its assistance along with the two newspapers, The Iosco News and The Tawas Herald—all free!

To be a chamber-promotional-member gives one a pride in their civic responsibility, also a financial assistance to the chamber to use in promotion.

No where, can a business, for the amount of their dues, get the advertising they receive.

We have suffered somewhat due to the lack of fishing for the tourist. It will take considerable publicity to rebuild the rumors and reports which have spread, not only state-wide but farther reaching than that.

If you love your community, we should not have to ask you to help promote it.

Sincerely,
James V. DeWyse
President
Tawas Chamber of Commerce

Whittemore Scouts Entertain Parents at Open House

Members of Whittemore Boy Scout Troop 96 entertained their parents at an open house Tuesday evening at the Whittemore Elementary School. The meeting was called to order with the Pledge of Allegiance. Scouts gave a personal salute to Mrs. William Armstrong to show their appreciation for getting their scout equipment in shape.

A first aid demonstration was given by William Schultz, Bruce Hoffman and James Bellville; flag signaling, Richard Dumas, and breakdown of a 300 Savage rifle, James O'Farrell.

Troop 96 accepted two new scouts, Robert Dumas and Howard Bronson. Any boys who would like to join the local troop are welcome.

William Armstrong, scoutmaster, told how well the boys did at the recent Silver Valley campout. They brought home a blue ribbon for compass reading, map work, insect life, trail work, menus and cooking in competition with about 200 other boys. Advanced buttons, stripes and merit badges were presented by the scoutmaster.

Scouts will conduct a light bulb sale Friday and Saturday, October 15-16, in the Whittemore area. Proceeds will be used toward the purchase of camping equipment.

Refreshments were served at the close of the evening.

CHECKING FOR FINGERPRINTS—Ernest Nash, Michigan State Police, East Lansing, checks for latent fingerprints at the teller's window of the Whittemore Branch, Farmers and Merchants State Bank, which was robbed of more than $7,700 late last Wednesday by a lone gunman. Looking on are Richard Parkinson, left, cashier at the main office at Hale, and Arnold Beyerlein, Rose City, vice president. Nash, a native of Whitney Township and a graduate of Tawas Area High School, was at Bay City investigating another robbery and rushed to Whittemore to aid area police and FBI agents in the investigation.—Tawas Herald Photos.

Area People Benefit From FHA Loans

The number of area people benefiting from Farmers Home Administration loan services during fiscal 1965 totaled 120, Lowell F. Schaeffer, the agency's county supervisor, recently announced. Loans made or insured by Farmers Home Administration during the fiscal year ended June 30 totaled $202,810 in the Arenac, Bay, Gladwin and Iosco County area.

Mr. Schaeffer said that the Farmers Home Administration during fiscal 1965 preserved its long-standing record for keeping its various lending programs in a sound position. "This good credit record signifies the initiative and integrity displayed by the people of rural Michigan in their vast self-help effort which these loans represent," he said.

1966 Cadillac Features New Styling

New 1966 Cadillac Models on Display Locally October 14

Cadillac for 1966 goes on display October 14 at McKay Sales Company, Tawas City.

Engineered for ease of driving with more riding comfort and convenience, the 1966 Cadillac includes a freshly styled, but traditional Cadillac look in front and rear.

"In the 12 1966 models, a significant improvement in driving ease is accomplished with the introduction of Cadillac's exclusive variable ratio steering," according to Harold G. Warner, general manager of Cadillac Motor Car Division.

This new feature gives the same good road feel in straight ahead steering while fewer turns of the steering wheel are required for parking.

The Fleetwood Seventy-Five sedan and limousine are completely restyled from bumper to bumper and include all of the 1966 mechanical and engineering features. This is the first major body change in these limited production models since 1959.

A newly-styled "going away" look has been accomplished in the 1966 models with a redesigned deck lid and new lighting in the tall, rear bumper outriggers which are split vertically by a heavy chrome bar. The tailored appearance is further enhanced by body color paint in the lower half of the bumper.

There are many new features in the Cadillac for 1966 and L. G. McKay Jr., local dealer, sends a special invitation to customers interested in luxurious comfort and convenience features to visit the Tawas City showroom.

Army Expanding Officer Candidate Program in 1966

The Continental Army Command is expanding its officer candidate training program from an annual input of 3,400 to an input of 11,700 beginning this month. The United States Army Infantry School, Fort Benning, Georgia, will receive a total of 3,600 candidates in 1966. At Fort Sill, Oklahoma, the United States Army Artillery School will receive 2,700 candidates as compared to 1,200 trained in 1965.

Officer candidate schools are to be established at Fort Belvoir, Virginia, where 1,900 engineer candidates will be trained during 1966; Fort Gordon, Georgia, where 900 candidates will receive signal training; Fort Knox, Kentucky, an United States Armor School, 2,600 candidates will be trained for quartermaster, transportation, ordnance and armor branches.

Expanded OCS classes will be continued as long as necessary to meet the additional requirements of the army for junior officers.

NIGHT-TIME CONFERENCE—Police officers and FBI agents confer in roadblocks in the northern state area outside the Whittemore Branch, Farmers and Merchants State Bank, in their efforts to close in on the armed bandit. The roadblocks were lifted shortly after as the bandit had made his escape.

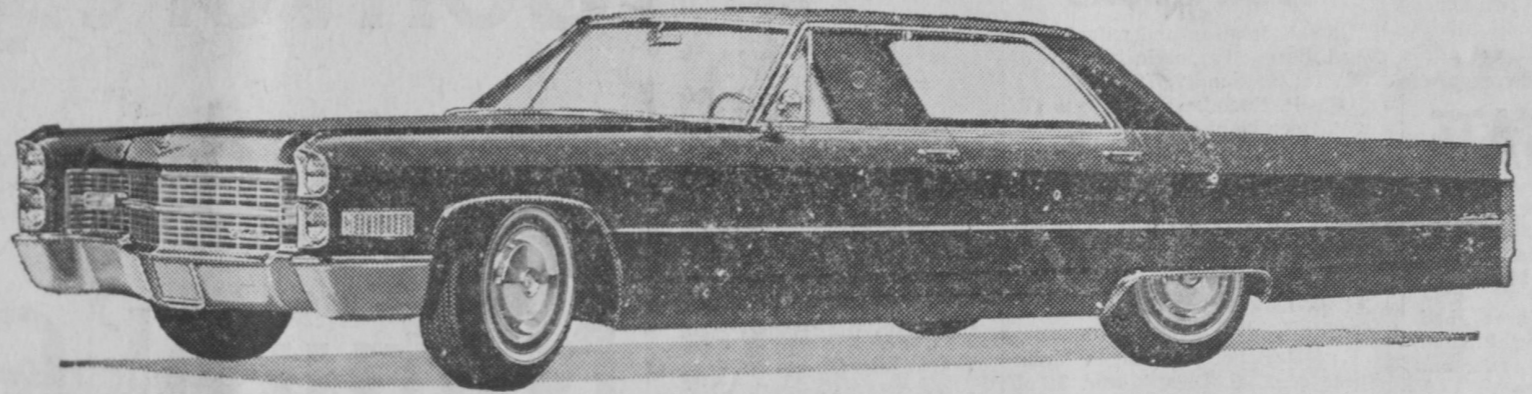

Farmers May Graze Diverted Acreage With No Benefit Loss

Frank Light, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation State Committee chairman, has announced that farmers who diverted acreage under the 1965 feed grain and voluntary wheat certificate programs now may graze this acreage without losing program benefits. The starting date for such grazing was October 1, marking the end of the six-month period during which the "no grazing" provision was in effect under the diversion programs.

Mr. Light stressed, however, that this program relaxation regarding use of this acreage applies only to grazing the feed grain and wheat diverted acres. Hay on such acreages still may not be harvested.

Mr. Light said that land under the conservation reserve program may not be grazed or harvested through the whole year.

Michigan farms participating in the 1965 feed grain and wheat certificate programs number about 55,000 to 60,000.

Ben Wright to Speak at EMTA Convention

BEN WRIGHT

Worldwide tourism will be the theme of the 55th annual convention of the East Michigan Tourist Association October 21 to be held at Bay City. Featured speakers include Ben Wright of New York, president of "This Week Magazine;" Dr. Paul Bernecker, Vienna, Austria, director of the Austrian Tourist Bureau; Dr. Charles Anspach, president emeritus of Central Michigan University, and tourist and resort specialists from Michigan State University.

Wright, who will address the tourist group at the noon luncheon, will speak on tourism from worldwide experience in the communications and publications field. He started his career at the EMTA's log office in the 1930s where he became the association's first fulltime director of publicity. He also served a stint as manager of the Alpena Chamber of Commerce where he fell in love with the hunting and fishing of Michigan's fabled north country.

Wright was named the first director of the Michigan Tourist Council at its inception in 1945. American Airlines lured him away after a year to work in the public relations field. He went from there to New York where he became president and publisher of "Field and Stream" magazine.

He returns to Bay City as president and chairman of the board of one of the nation's leading weekly magazines.

Conservation Commission Acts

According to a report Saturday by Jerry Chappetta, outdoor writer of The Detroit Free Press, conservation commissioners have ordered removal of the size limit on commercially caught perch in the Great Lakes.

"They started the legal ball rolling to make it easier for netters to take yellow perch in all Great Lakes waters," wrote Chappetta. "Before their action becomes official, however, at least a dozen or more steps have to be taken in the complicated process of changing commercial regulations."

Commissioners agreed, he said, with Dr. Howard A. Tanner, chief of the fish division, that to provide better perch fishing for everyone, netters should be allowed to remove perch of any size. Tanner said it would mean a faster turnover of fish, a better harvest and wiser use of this natural resource.

At present, 8½-inch perch are the smallest fish which can be sold legally. Gill net commercial fishermen have complained that perch—especially in Saginaw and Tawas Bays—have become stunted just short of the present legal size.

Only two months ago, department of conservation officials decried the fact that perch had just about disappeared throughout Lakes Michigan, Huron and Erie—that Saginaw Bay was the only place on the Great Lakes where commercial fishermen were able to make a decent living. It was also stated at the hearing that perch in Saginaw Bay also had a very rapid growth rate because of the abundance of food available.

The Herald finds it difficult to believe that the fish division could base its new theory on the fact that, in August, it conducted a one-week survey on Saginaw Bay using gill nets and equipment of local fishermen. Trap netters in the Point AuGres area, we understand, were not even contacted.

Many sport fishermen, businessmen and civic officials in the Tawas area, along with several small trap net commercial fishermen in the Point AuGres area, are "up in arms" concerning the proposed removal of size limits on perch. This newspaper urges the conservation commission to avoid any hasty action in changing present regulations—not only because the Tawas area, long famous for its perch, experienced one of its worst sport fishing seasons last summer, but the area is definitely interested in future fishing—both sport and commercial.

This newspaper believes that the entire section of the law dealing with commercial fishing and sport fishing, too, should be studied and rewritten by the state legislature.

In any event, the only way that sport fishermen and those interested in Michigan's multi-million-dollar tourist industry can get their viewpoint through to the conservation commission is to take pen in hand and ask for a complete investigation.

FLOWERS SEEM TO BE GROWING all over the place on this cheerful toaster cover and potholder set. Toasters are so constantly in service these days, especially when there are youngsters around, that they deserve to be "dressed up" and put on display when they're not in use. Just think of how nice they would be to look at, first in the morning!

ADD A DECORATOR'S TOUCH

This set is crocheted in a simple stitch that goes very quickly. The flowers are fun to make, and they add a definite "decorator's touch" to the ensemble. There are so many shades of mercerized "SPEED-CRO-SHEEN" cotton to choose from, that you can coordinate this set with any part of your kitchen or dinette decor. Have you noticed the hook on the potholder? It's crocheted over a bone ring which is a very clever idea - this way it's not hard to find and will last and last, and never look sloppy.

HOLIDAY SEASON IS COMING

Not only is this a perfect "outfit" for your own home, but what a wonderful house present for someone that you know who is moving soon. It's not too early to think about the holiday season either - there really isn't anyone who has a toaster who wouldn't welcome this as a gift, especially when you've made it yourself with their kitchen colors in mind. Free instructions for both the toaster cover and the potholder may be obtained by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to the Needlework Editor of this newspaper along with your request for Leaflet S 954.

HAPPY HOLIDAYS AND PRETTY KITCHENS will surely be yours after you make a brilliant collection of cheerful potholder mitts. We're showing you the delightful smiling pumpkin of the Halloween mitt but the leaflet also gives you directions and diagrams for two more festive holiday designs.

AND... USE YOUR IMAGINATION!

Once you have the basic mitt cut and sewn you can do any number of designs by doing a little artistic drawing of your own or tracing designs from books or magazines. A lovely leafy green mitt strewn with pastel flowers would keep a bit of Spring in your kitchen all year round... a black mitt with gold and silver metallic "BOIL-TEX" rick rack might be a charming touch for serving those very special candlelit dinners... and a mitt to match the kitchen of a friend could be a much appreciated hostess gift. Or, if you don't feel up to being original, use the other designs which we've already done for you: the red, white and blue Fourth of July mitt and the heart strewn Valentine potholder.

EASY TO FOLLOW INSTRUCTIONS

We've worked everything out for you in the way of cutting and sewing directions and the trim is so easy - simply iron on "BONDEX" after doing the motifs with an extra touch of rick rack. Free leaflets are available by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope to the Needlework Editor of this newspaper along with your request for Leaflet PPE 821.

THEY MAY LOOK LIKE AN INNOCENT COUPLE, this kittenish kitten and perky puppy, but don't you believe it! Lurking beneath their perfect posture is a nursing bottle, keeping safe and warm, until it's needed.

KNIT OR CROCHET

There's versatility in these two animals - you can take your choice of knitting needles or a crochet hook, because there's one of each (the kitten is crocheted, while the puppy is knitted). Done in pink and blue, they'll blend in with any child's room decor. However, other pastel shades such as lime green or soft yellow might be fun for a change and would make this pair stand out in any crowd. Not only are they attractive, but, my, are they practical! You may even use the scraps from your workbasket for trimmings, and after baby has taken to a cup for drinking, a little more stuffing in each animal, and you have a cuddly toy that will last and last. Made with orlon yarn, which is easily washable, these two will make delightful gifts for those on your "new arrival" list.

PLAN AHEAD

Since these animals are so easy to make, why not plan ahead and put aside a few for the holiday season, or for your church bazaar? They make a wonderful last minute gift for any baby-type occasion. Free instructions are available from the Needlework Editor of this newspaper. Simply send a self-addressed, stamped envelope and your request for a Leaflet PC 2856.

State Liability Policy Effects Mich. Drivers

The "$64 question" in Michigan these days centers about the payment of $1... the sum which all persons with liability insurance will have to pay into the state's new Motor Vehicle Accident Claims Fund when they begin registering cars and other motor vehicles November 1.

The question is usually about the same... "Why me? Why do I have to pay when I already carry liability insurance?"

The answer is simple, according to James M. Hare, secretary of state. "The dollar actually buys insurance protection."

Hare said the $1 fee along with the $25 from each uninsured vehicle owner will be used to finance the fund from which innocent victims of accidents with uninsured drivers will be able to draw upon when the claims are filed starting January 1, 1966.

"The dollar paid into the fund actually protects the insured motorist against accidents with negligent uninsured drivers."

"It protects against contingencies such as personal injury in accidents with hit-and-runners and persons driving stolen vehicles, and out-of-state uninsured drivers who are involved in Michigan accidents."

Hare cautioned against dropping the private uninsured protection rider, however.

"The fund and the rider offered by private insurance companies complement one another," Hare said. "One covers any contingencies in Michigan, while the rider offers complete protection outside the state."

"With most persons traveling outside Michigan these days," Hare said, "my advice is to continue to buy the private option. There is legislation which would make such coverage mandatory,

F&H HAWAII holiday

Photos by Pan American

What're you doing next winter? Why not combine a vacation in the USA with the feeling of being in a foreign place, like the President suggests? Farm and Home is going to have a Hawaiian Holiday and Farm and Home is going on Pan American Airlines from the California coast to the Hawaiian Islands and back.

We're going to go in January and early February. And the best thing about it all is that you can go for $698—that includes 6 days in Hawaii at the Hawaiian Village Hotel and 7 days around the Hawaiian Islands chain of islands staying at such places as the Kauai Surf on Kauai Island. This $698 includes all transportation, food, meals and everything from Chicago and back. You fly from Chicago to the West Coast where you pick up a Pan American Jet Clipper and continue on your flying voyage.

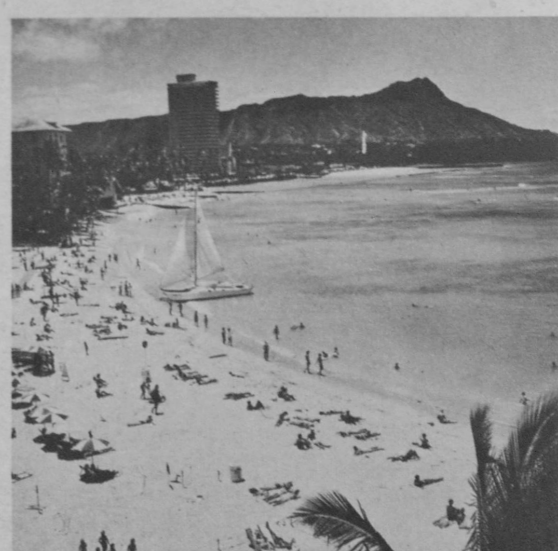

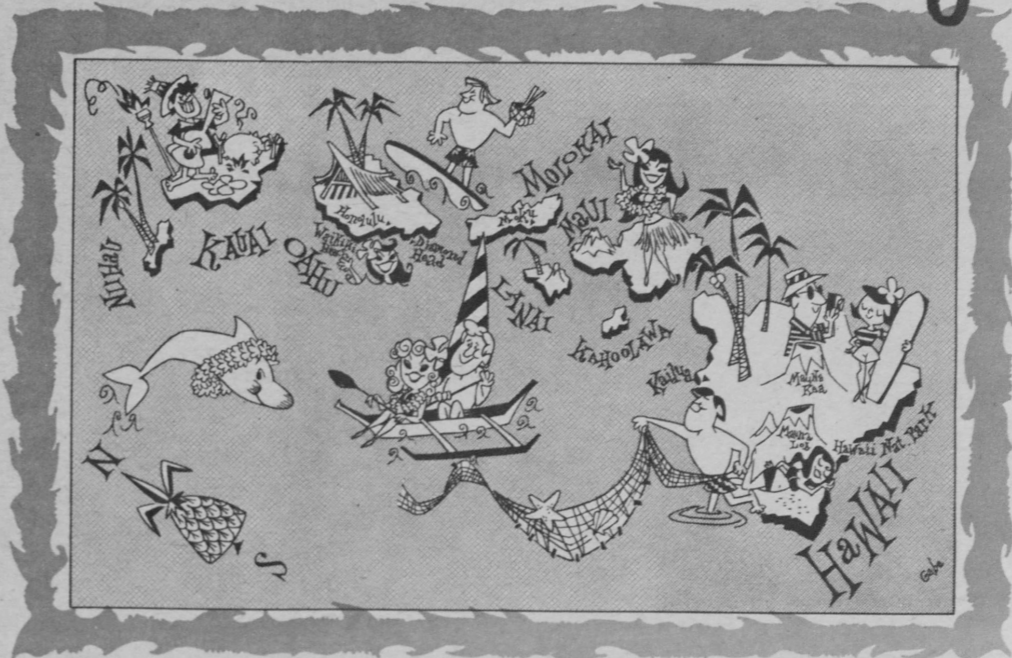

You tell me where you can find a more elegant, a more fun-filled, and a more economical winter vacation than this Farm and Home Hawaiian Holiday for $698.

Plus, you have a choice of the days you want to leave. If you want to leave on the 16th of January or the 23rd of January or the 30th of January or the 6th of February—you can pick any one of those days and join our group—and away we'll go.

Remember, Hawaii is really as American as Kansas in August. Yet, Hawaii is, nonetheless, a hodge-podge of Chinese, Filipinos, Hawaiians, Japanese, Mainlanders and others, all of whom have clung to their racial heritage. Everyone, for example, knows it's spring when kimono-clad Japanese pay homage to the budding blossoms of the cherry tree, and it's summer when the Buddhists begin their "bon" dances at the shrines, and it's winter when the Chinese observe their New Year with parades and mandarin banquets.

Getting around the Islands, incidentally, is a simple affair, reports Pan American Airways which links Hawaii with the west coast by Jet Clipper in five hours. Then Hawaiian Airlines, using jet-propped Convairs, offers varieties of flights to our tour-goers to the other islands.

Can't you see yourself this January standing knee deep in orchids and confetti? Can't you see yourself this January forgetting about the snows of the Dakotas and the cold weather of Michigan while you bask on the beach at Waikiki?

No commitment, just ask for the folder. We'll be very happy to send it.

Every day's a holiday in Hawaii. And we'll take you there any day you say.

It couldn't be easier.

You see, we have the widest choice of flights to Hawaii from the West Coast. You can leave with us from Los Angeles, San Francisco, Seattle/Tacoma, or Portland. We have non-stop flights to Hawaii from all of them. A total of 59 a week.

How's that for a flexible schedule? To make things even easier, call a Pan Am Travel Agent. He'll handle all the details. All you'll have to do is whoosh off with us.

If you leave from California, we can give you a movie plus nine shows for private listening. We call it Theatre-in-the-Air. No matter what flight you're on, we'll wine you and dine you in the international manner of Maxim's of Paris.

And when you touch down in Honolulu, you'll be in the land of outriggers, beautiful beaches, beautiful wahinis and unforgettable vacations. You can learn the hula, buy a muumu, or go dancing in the moonlight.

Or you can discover the "other" Hawaii, the charming Out Islands, a land of orchids and waterfalls and secret coves for two.

Mark Twain called Hawaii "the loveliest fleet of islands that lies anchored in any ocean." These lovely islands are waiting for you. We're waiting to take you to them.

And when you fly with us, you'll have the good feeling that comes from flying the very best there is.

A happy thought, to be sure.

Wild Game...

Before long the men at your house (and maybe the gals too) will be checking their hunting gear in preparation for the '85 season. The results of these hunting trips can mean real dining pleasure when the sportsmen return. Your hunter's prize bag becomes the best in good eating. In this issue of Farm and Home we are bringing you recipes for pheasant, quail, partridge and wild duck. All are gourmet foods—foods with a flair. And they're easy to prepare. The compliment you receive from your hunter will be reward enough for the little extra thought and effort.

BARBECUED PHEASANT

2 pheasants (preferably older birds)	2 tablespoons vinegar
Salt and pepper	2 tablespoons Worcestershire sauce
Flour	1/2 teaspoon salt
1 medium sized onion, diced	1/4 teaspoon pepper
1 tablespoon margarine, melted	1/4 teaspoon dry mustard
1 tablespoon brown sugar	1/2 teaspoon monosodium glutamate
1 tablespoon cornstarch	2 cups cooked tomatoes
1/4 cup tomato catsup

Cut pheasants in serving size pieces, coat with seasoned flour and brown in hot fat. Meanwhile, melt margarine and sauté onion until tender but not brown. Combine brown sugar and cornstarch; blend into sautéed onions. Add remaining ingredients gradually, stirring constantly. Cook slowly until slightly thickened (about 20 to 25 minutes)—stir frequently. Pour sauce over browned pheasant; cover. Bake in 300° F. oven for approximately 1 hour to 1 1/4 hours basting with barbecue sauce every 20 minutes.

GAME BIRDS FOR ANGE

6 partridges or pheasants	1/4 teaspoons dried tarragon leaves
Salt pork	6 tablespoons currant jelly
6 to 8 oranges	1/4 teaspoon dry mustard
3 tablespoons margarine	1/4 teaspoon salt
3 green onions, minced

With string, tie legs and wings close to body of each bird. Season with salt and pepper. Completely cover breast with slices of salt pork or bacon; tie in place with string. Roast in hot oven (425° F.) 30 minutes.

While birds are roasting prepare sauce. Wash oranges; with potato peeler remove very thin orange-colored top of the rind from one orange, shred into fine pieces with scissors to make 3 tablespoons. Section 3 to 4 oranges to make about 1 1/2 cups drained sections. (To section, cut off peel in circular motion, cutting deep enough to remove white membrane. Go over fruit again to remove any remaining white membrane. Cut along side of each dividing membrane from outside to middle of core. Remove section by section, over bowl, to retain juice from fruit.) Drain sections and measure juice; ream remaining oranges to make 1 1/2 cups of juice. Reserve. In large skillet melt margarine, add onion and tarragon; cook 2 or 3 minutes. Add orange juice, shredded peel, currant jelly, dry mustard and salt. Stir and bring to a boil. Remove birds from oven and place in skillet. Cover and simmer gently 15-20 minutes. Remove birds to platter. Add orange sections to sauce. Heat quickly and serve with partridges or pheasants. Yield: 6 servings.

RAISIN STUFFED WILD GOOSE

1 (3 to 5-pound) dressed wild goose	1/4 cup hot water
Salt	1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 pound bulk sausage	1/4 teaspoon pepper
1 minced onion	1/4 teaspoon sage
1 cup soft bread crumbs	1 tablespoon minced parsley
1 egg, beaten	4 bacon strips
1/2 cup dark or golden raisins	Raisin-walnut stuffed apples

Wash goose thoroughly; dry well. Salt inside and out. Brown sausage; push to one side and add onion. Cook until soft and yellow. Combine with bread crumbs, egg and raisins. Moisten with hot water; season with 1/2 teaspoon salt, pepper, sage and parsley. Stuff goose. Close opening using skewers and cord. Lay bacon strips over ends of drumsticks and breast. Roast in moderately slow oven (325° F.) about 2 to 2 1/2 hours. About 1 1/2 hours before goose is done, place Raisin Stuffed Apples in oven. Remove when tender; place alongside goose on serving platter. Serve with white or brown rice and mushrooms. Serve 4 to 6.

RAISIN-WALNUT STUFFED APPLES: Peel strip from top of 8 red apples. Core and stuff with 1/2 cup dark or golden raisins and 1/2 cup chopped California walnuts.

ROAST WILD DUCK

2 one-pound wild ducks	1/4 cup diced onions (optional)
1 package herb salad dressing mix	1/2 teaspoon coarse black pepper
6 celery stalks	1/4 cup diced orange
2 tablespoons melted margarine	1 cup Burgundy wine

Clean and wash ducks thoroughly; singe and wash again. Dry with paper towels. Rub inside and out with salad dressing mix. Break celery stalks, without removing leaves, into pieces same length as ducks; stuff into body cavities. Place ducks in roasting pan; brush with margarine. Roast in 400° F. oven about 10 minutes, or until lightly browned, turning once. Pour off excess fat. Turn ducks breast side up and cover with onion, pepper, orange and wine. Return to oven and roast 20 minutes longer for very rare, 40 minutes for medium, and 1 hour and 5 minutes for well-done duck. Remove celery stalks. Makes 4 servings.

PHEASANT A LA KIEV

2 pheasants	2 tablespoons milk
1/2 pound margarine	1 1/2 cups cracker crumbs
1 egg, slightly beaten

Using a very sharp knife, cut along ridge of breast bone completely through meat, working from the tip to divide breast meat into halves. Remove in one piece (half of breast) and flatten as flat as possible. Divide margarine into four portions; shape each portion into a roll about 1/2 to 1-inch thick. Place roll lengthwise on each breast half. Wrap the meat around it (can use toothpicks to hold together). Meanwhile, combine egg and milk in a bowl. To coat pheasant evenly, roll each breast in some of the cracker crumbs. Dip each in to the egg-milk mixture and then roll again in crackers. (Pheasant breasts must be well sealed to keep the margarine in breast.) Let stand 5 to 10 minutes. Deep-fat fry pheasant breasts two at one time. Fry 5 to 6 minutes, or until golden brown, turning once during frying time. Drain thoroughly. Place in baking dish and continue cooking in 350° F. oven for 10 to 12 minutes, or until pheasant is tender.

CHARTREUSE OF QUAIL

4 quails	1/2 pound bacon slab, preboiled
1 large head of cabbage	1/4 pound polish sausage
2 carrots, partly precooked

Season quails with salt and pepper and roast till underdone and lay aside. Cut cabbage head in quarters and cook till half done, then cool and remove main vein of leaves. Line a casserole side with square sides of bacon alternating with polish sausage and carrots. Cover bottom of casserole with cabbage leaves. Then cover the casserole sides with cabbage leaves. Cut quails in halves and lay in casserole. Cover with cabbage and bacon and bake in 325° F. oven for 1 1/2 hours. Serves 4.

ROAST WATER FOWL

2 wild ducks (1 1/4 pounds each), oven ready	2 tablespoons margarine
1 onion, chopped	1 teaspoon paprika
1 garlic clove, minced	1/4 teaspoon Tabasco
	1 pound sliced bacon

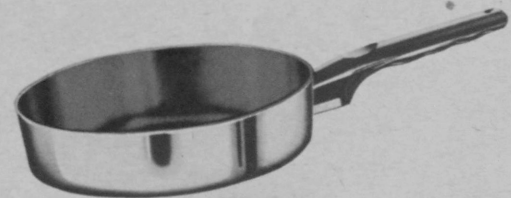

Rub cavities of birds with onion and garlic. Combine margarine, paprika, and Tabasco; rub into duck skin. Wrap duck in cheese cloth; place bird breast down on rack in greased shallow pan. Roast uncovered in 325° F. (slow) over 1 1/2 to 2 hours, basting occasionally. Turn when half done. Remove cheese cloth, cover each bird with strips of bacon. Continue roasting until done. Serve with 4 cups cooked wild rice. Yield: 4 servings.

Fall Treat Doughnuts

Doughnuts and hot apple cider — one of the most popular snacks for autumn gatherings!
Making doughnuts is easy, so next time surprise your friends with homemade ones still warm from deep-fat frying. Mix the dough in advance and chill it in the refrigerator for easier handling. Use hot fat (375° F.) for frying. Avoid putting too many doughnuts in at one time. It will lower the fat temperature giving the doughnuts a greasy taste. When the doughnuts are golden brown take them out and drain them on absorbent paper.

FLORIDA ORANGE DOUGHNUTS

1 package or cake yeast, active dry or compressed
1 tablespoon sugar
1 1/4 cups orange juice, lukewarm
2 tablespoons grated orange rind
4 1/2 cups flour (approximately)

1 egg
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt
3 tablespoons margarine, melted and cooled

Add yeast and the 1 tablespoon sugar to lukewarm orange juice, let stand 5 minutes, stir until yeast is thoroughly dissolved. Add grated orange rind and 1 1/2 cups flour; beat well. Cover and let rise in a warm place (80° to 85° F.) about 1 hour. Beat egg, add sugar gradually and beat until light; stir in salt and melted margarine. Add to yeast mixture; beat until smooth. Add enough of the remaining flour to make a soft dough. Turn dough on lightly floured board and knead until smooth and elastic. Place in oiled bowl; turn once to bring greased side up. Cover and let rise in warm place until double in bulk (about 1 1/2 hours). Roll on lightly floured board to 1/4-inch thickness. Cut with floured doughnut cutter. Let rise until double in bulk (about 1 hour). Fry in deep fat (375° F.) until golden brown on both sides, turning once. Drain on absorbent paper. Roll in granulated sugar. Makes 3 dozen doughnuts.

RAISED POTATO DOUGHNUTS

3 medium potatoes
3/4 cup sugar
1 teaspoon salt
6 cups flour (approximately)
1 package or cake yeast, active dry or compressed

1/4 cup warm, not hot water
1/2 cup soft margarine
2 eggs
1/2 teaspoon nutmeg (optional)

Peel potatoes and cook in 2 cups boiling salted water until tender. Drain off water, reserving 1 cup. Pour water into a large mixing bowl. Stir in sugar, salt and 1 cup flour. Beat until smooth. Sprinkle or crumble yeast into 1/4 cup warm water. Stir until dissolved, then beat into batter. Cover with a cloth and let rise in a warm place, free from draft, until bubbly. Meanwhile, mash hot potatoes in pan in which they were cooked; measure 1 cup. Place in mixing bowl. Beat in margarine, eggs and nutmeg. When batter is full of bubbles, stir in potato mixture and remaining flour or enough to make a stiff dough. Turn dough out on a floured board and knead 8 to 10 minutes or until dough is smooth and elastic. Place in a greased bowl, and brush top of dough with soft or melted shortening. Let rise in warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk. Punch down dough, cover bowl and store in refrigerator. About 2 hours before serving time, remove dough from refrigerator. Cut in half. Roll each half 1/4-inch thick on floured board. Cut with a doughnut cutter or into 2-inch squares with a sharp knife. Place doughnuts on a floured board, cover with a cloth and let rise in a warm place until light and doubled in bulk. Slip doughnuts into deep fat heated to 375° F. As soon as they rise to the top, turn with a long-handled fork to brown other side. Drain on absorbent paper toweling. Coat doughnuts with granulated sugar by shaking a few at a time in a paper bag containing about 1/2 cup sugar. Makes 4 dozen doughnuts.

You Can Have Your Fancy Gunning —I'll Take Cottontail Hunting

by Joe Farr

Come along. Bring the boy and the dog. Put a sandwich in your pocket, better make it two.

We'll skirt the cornfield down to the ravine, and then we'll hunt the pasture by the brushpiles and the old pine stumps.

There's bound to be rabbits, and excitement to spill from the eyes of the boy and the dog and wash over the rest of us.

We'll be part of the greatest collection of hunters a sport has ever known.

He's a fantastic creature, this rabbit that we pursue. He lives a gentle life in a world that lashes violently at him from all directions. His survival kit includes keen hearing and eyesight and the ability to make fifteen foot leaps, but its most important item is the rabbit's tremendous birthrate.

The cottontail doe begins breeding at the age of six months. She rears several litters of from one to eight each year until she dies.

The newborn rabbit is naked and pink. It is born blind, deaf and helpless, and is about the size of a young hunter's big toe. The young are born in nests which the doe digs in the earth to a depth of about five inches. The nest is lined first with dried grass and then with fur which the doe plucks from her breast. It is covered then with grass and leaves to make it all but invisible.

The doe does not come near her family during the day, spending her time nearby feeding and resting. When night comes, she moves to the nest, removes the cover and crouches over her young so that they can reach up to feed. To all appearances she is simply resting. Once the feeding is over, the nest cover is replaced and the doe moves away.

The young cottontails' eyes open when they are one week old. At two weeks of age they are old enough to venture out of the nest. They live a precarious existence, these tiny bunnies. Thousands of them are killed by cats and dogs and a host of wild predators, among them the fox, owl, crow and others. They are also vulnerable to prolonged cold, wet weather. Well meaning humans also take a toll, assuming that the youngster has been abandoned and will fare better in a cardboard box in the house. He won't, and should be left alone.

But the supply of young is great, and even with all of these factors against him, the rabbit will prevail if habitat conditions are favorable.

The rabbit demands very little in the way of a home area, but it must have cover to protect it from predators. The ideal cover, as any rabbit hunter knows, is a brushpile — a big one — in an area where there is food available. And the rabbit will eat almost anything, preferring tender grasses and shrubs.

The trend to "clean" farming with its sterile fencing and maximum land use has been the greatest factor in the decline of rabbits where it has occurred.

"Find a lazy farmer," someone once said, "and you will find good cottontail hunting." This, of course, is not the universal truth, for there are many ambitious farmers who have a shotgun in the corner of the closet, and they know that they can provide themselves with top sport by leaving a shaggy fencerow here and there and a few brushpiles in the pasture.

This all brings us back to our rabbit hunt. For the best hunting we should pick a day that isn't too cold. Sub zero weather will drive the bunnies into cover — woodchuck holes and stumps — where they'll sit tight until it warms up.

Let's pick a day when the sun is shining and when you can stand on a log for half an hour without freezing solid.

If that ravine doesn't produce for us — and surely it will — we had better check along the grassy roadsides, briar patches, railroad right-of-ways, log piles and the neighbor's woodlot. We'll also be wise to stomp the willow thickets and the alder creek bottoms.

What's that yapping? It's the dog, of course. There isn't a dog alive that can't hunt rabbits in one form or another. Beagles and bassets are the classic breeds for bunny chasing, but a short-haired city mutt or a shaggy cow-dog can lend a lot to a hunt. They may not trail as faithfully as the genuine rabbit dogs, but they'll roust a rabbit out of a brushpile with business like dispatch, and they'll bark like crazy if there's one "frozen" in the roots of an oak stump.

Weapon choice is no problem for the rabbit hunter. He simply takes along whatever gun he happens to have. The .22 caliber rifle is popular, but not as effective as the shotgun. Number six shot is ideal for cottontails, large enough for clean kills, but not so large that the meat is pulverized.

Every cottontail chaser knows that a flushed bunny will circle back to its home territory, so let's just wait here while the boy and the dog bring that one around. Let's put a match to our pipes, and agree that a rabbit should be field dressed immediately for best eating, and then let's get into an argument about how best to cook our game.

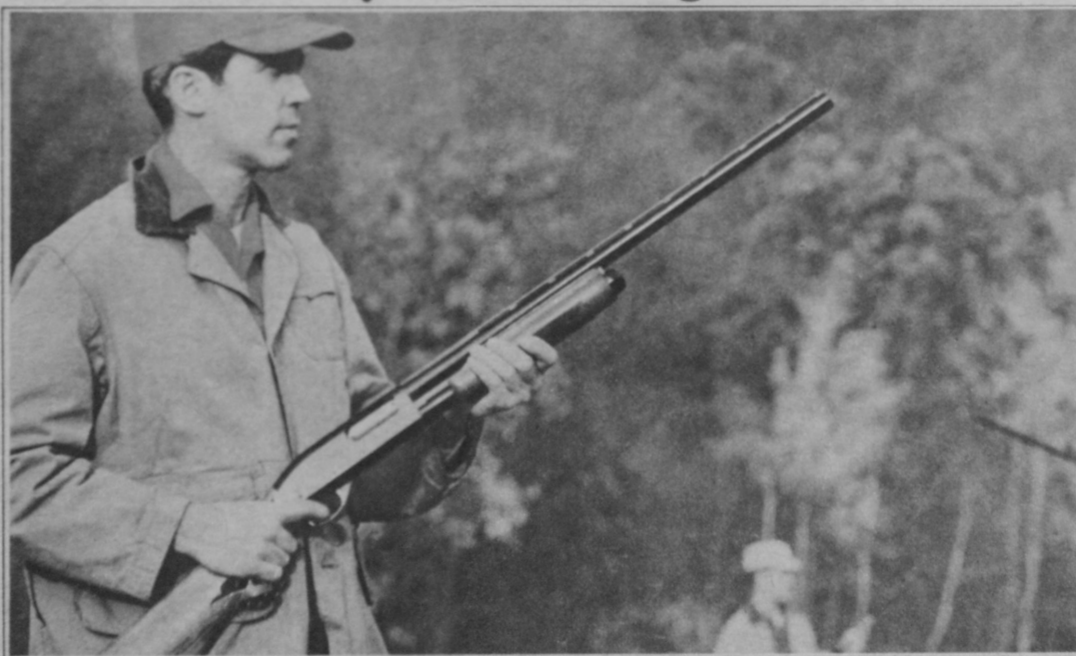

There's no way to settle such a dispute because the rabbit is top table fare by a dozen different treatments. You take your rabbits and cook them your way and I'll do the same, and we'll both be ready and rearing to go out after more rabbit chasing tomorrow.

You won't have to bring the boy tomorrow, chances are he'll bring you.

"I've been doing all right with my old pump gun for over 20 years. Show me why I should get a new one!"

O.K. We'll show you the Remington Model 870.

Sure your old pump is still knocking 'em down. (And probably will for a lot more years.) It's just that with a modern Remington Model 870 you could be doing even better. And for very good reasons:

□ An 870 is faster. Chances are your gun doesn't have the 870's double action bars. (Very few do.) Double action bars give you a lightning-fast shucking action ordinary pumps can't match. Makes your second shot almost as fast as your first.

□ An 870 is stronger. It has a receiver that's machined from a solid block of proof steel. And a breech block that locks solidly into the barrel. (Perhaps that's why one Remington 870 has fired 226,000 rounds without repair.) And it handles, points, feels right . . . as only a modern gun can.

□ Looks? Stock is rich American walnut. Checkering is Remington's new custom type with fleur-de-lis design. The Du Pont-developed RKW stock finish is the toughest ever put on a gun. And with over fifty barrel, choke and gauge combinations to choose from, there's sure to be a Model 870 that's just right for you.

□ Prices start at a very reasonable $99.95*. But your Remington dealer will be glad to give you a look-see absolutely free.

FOR THE PLANNER

Every once in a while you run across a farmer who will tell you there is a great future in agriculture . . . and it belongs to the man who plans for it.

Loyal "Hap" Lowman, Kelley, Iowa, is such a farmer. He does such an outstanding job with his grain operation that his ideas are worth sharing with others.

In a day and age when many farmers complain about profit margins being so narrow they can't make a decent living, Hap Lowman comes up with this optimistic statement: "The future of farming looks good to me. I bought another farm down the road a couple of years ago. This year's corn crop will be the third I took off the place, and should just about finish paying for the farm."

How does he do it? Well, let's take a look at his farming practices in 1964.

He farms 925 acres and has one full time hired man. A couple of sons, still in school, give him some help, but he doesn't push them. He admits he's busy, but enjoys work. And he works hard. When he plays, he forgets his work and really enjoys himself.

The day before we talked to him, he spent the afternoon at a football game in neighboring Ames. Says Hap, "We didn't come home 'til morning either."

This is quite typical. He doesn't worry too much about time. The most important thing is to get whatever he's doing done right.

He planted about 500 acres of corn in both 1964 and 1965. Most of this got a pre-plant application of 4-10-8 liquid fertilizer in the fall at plow down. Some of the acreage received 60 pounds of potash and 45 pounds of phosphate, too.

Then, in April, at planting time it was given 125 pounds of nitrogen in the form of ammonia. This year, because of the weather he had to rely on his fall application of a complete liquid fertilizer to carry him through. Last year he applied 100 pounds of a liquid 6-24-24 in May in addition to the fall application. But Hap is a firm believer in fall fertilizer applications and because of the wet season this year, he is more sold than ever on its value.

Hap's weed control program for 1964 was all post-emerge. He went over his corn with a rotary hoe twice, in May and June. Then once over with a flame cultivator, taking about a week to complete the operation. In July he sprayed once with 2, 4-D.

This year he shifted to pre-emerge and is very happy with it. Almost no cultivation, considerable saving in cost, plus the comfortable knowledge that if wet weather made cultivation impossible during the first critical weeks, he was protected.

For soil insects, he applies .8 pound actual of Aldrin per acre at planting time. Because resistant rootworms are moving closer into his farm, he used Aldrex this year, too, on some ground.

Says Hap, "Fertilizer can make you at least $2.00 for each dollar spent on it. Pay $5,000 for plant food, make $10,000 more income. It's practically that cut and dried. I figure it takes a yield of 70 bushels to the acre before you start making any money. Over that, it's profit. I'm out for big profits."

Fast-aid Kit

Only Terramycin for Mastitis goes to work instantly after you infuse it. Because it's the only broad-spectrum treatment that's all-liquid

That's important. One study points out that udder damage from mastitis can cost you an average 15% loss of milk production from every cow attacked.

And you know what happens when you delay treating your cows. The longer you wait, the more damage germs do to the udder. Permanent damage. Permanent loss of milk flow.

You can't afford delay before treatment—and, most assuredly, not after treatment.

That can happen, too. Other treatments can't act as fast as Terramycin. Germ damage isn't stopped as fast.

Why is Terramycin so much faster? Because it's the only all-liquid mastitis treatment you can buy.

Other treatments work slower because they're made with gooey oils, pastes and even plastic bases.

But a cow's udder is wet and spongy.

Have you ever tried to soak heavy oil into a wet sponge? Or tried to mix oil and water?

All-liquid Terramycin, on the other hand, doesn't get caught up in slow-dissolving gobs.

More of it reaches farther, faster . . . for complete coverage in the udder.

Then, too, Terramycin is a broad-spectrum antibiotic. No drug or antibiotic is more effective against more different kinds of mastitis organisms than Terramycin.

No wonder more dairymen use all-liquid Terramycin for Mastitis than any other treatment.

TERRAMYCIN® FOR MASTITIS

WARNING: Do not use milk for food within 72 hours after treatment for mastitis.

Here's a man that someone should nominate for some sort of grain farming award. He not only has many well-advanced ideas for maximum corn production and maximum profits, but he actually puts them into operation on his own place. He's Loyal "Hap" Lowman of Kelley, Iowa.

The central Iowa farmer had his early corn picked by October 21. The 175 acres yielded right at 120 bushels per acre. Some varieties went over 130 bushels . . . out of 400 acres measured, he got a total of 44,920 bushels or 112.3 bushels per acre. This was in a dry year.

Hap has a lot of good ideas. Each is carefully thought out and contributes to his excellent approach to all out corn production.

- (1) Soil needs a balanced diet just like animals. Get in the habit of making soil tests. It's the formula to big yields.
- (2) Many people get their corn in too late. He says we need a long day of sunlight when the corn is tassling. At that time, the days are not as hot and that contributes well to more filled out ears. Get corn tassling by the 15th of July.

FARMING FUTURE IS GREAT

Loyal Lowman stands in the cab of his combine while the golden results of "programmed corn growing" flows into the grain wagon.

- (3) Be ready to switch to narrower rows, the sooner the better. Implement companies are way behind meeting the demand for narrow row equipment but convert as soon as you can get it. 30 inch rows are the best bet.
- (4) If you go to narrower rows and thicker plantings, switch to shorter hybrids to better the light factor . . . increase standing ability.
- (5) If you are planting in 40 inch rows, follow the "inside" of your marker line and gain several acres of corn in every field.
- (6) Start harvesting corn with a combine. When corn is tough, the rollers shell too much corn and leave it in the field. Says Hap, "I've advised neighbors that they would be better off to let their corn pickers sit and hire the corn picked and shelled. It would pay them to pay someone else to do it while they sat and watched television."

There are several commercial programs of corn growing. Hap is on an all liquid approach to corn fertilization.

Hap explained that it takes more than nitrogen to do the job. It sort of feeds the plant. Phosphate puts on the ears and potash matures them.

This is why he feels a program, preceded by soil tests, is vital.

A couple of years ago, when he was using some dry fertilizer at planting time, his applicator attachment plugged up on several rows. The area lacked potash and phosphate. At harvest time he noticed the difference and measured it. That difference was 40 bushels per acre. Everything else had been the same.

Loyal Lowman plants nearly all single cross seed corn. With rare exceptions, everything he plants is either single cross or a three way modified cross.

He has storage space on his farm for 61-thousand bushels of shelled corn. He admits the dollars and cents returns for this is sizable, too.

He tries things to find out, first hand, how well they might work in his operation. This year (1965) he has gone to 30 inch rows and is using all new equipment. He is expecting to increase his yield by 5 to 10 bushels per acre through this practice.

Hap Lowman is living proof that this business of farming can be a profitable business. You must plan carefully and invest wisely. What you take from the land depends entirely upon what you put into it.

"There simply can't be much money in farming today for the farmer who doesn't set his production goal and then invest in the things that will make it possible. The future is certainly golden for those who plan ahead and try hard. There's a winning formula for every farmer," says Hap Lowman.

The Big NEW
"BUY-WORD"
in Seed Corn

BREAKTHRU to Higher Yields-Thicker Planting-
Shorter Stalks-Tougher Shanks-Greater Disease Tolerance

Three years ago, DeKalb introduced its now famous family of XL Breakthru hybrids. This new generation of single cross and 3-way hybrids came from a remarkable Breakthru in research and breeding, and produced a corresponding Breakthru in performance and yield under the stresses of thicker planting, additional fertilizer and continuous corn. The most demanding research methods selected inbreds capable of transmitting the ability to fight disease and insects and add bushels at higher populations. Out of this program came the DeKalb XL Hybrids—the elite, tough hybrids that are today the "Buy-word" in seed corn and performance on Corn Belt farms.
