Vince Muzzin to Defend Monument Tour Crown

Vince Muzzin, Detroit cyclist, will be here this week-end as defending champion of the Tour of Lumbermen's Monument Road Race. He and Olaf Moetus, Indiana, who will also be here, finished one-two in last year's race.

The twin cities will play host to the biggest week-end of bike races in perhaps the entire nation as at least 50 top ranking Olympic caliber bike racers invade the area.

Representing several states and countries, these riders will vie for important points over three days of what is becoming one of the most exciting events to be hosted in the Tawas area in many a year.

All are invited by the sponsoring Tawas Chamber of Commerce to attend this year's third annual races and watch riders sprint at speeds up to 35 miles per hour.

The week-end begins with Olympic sprint races Friday evening, the feature point race being a 20-mile mass start. This race, as well as all other sprint races, circles a one-half mile course which has its start and finish at the intersection of Newman Street and West State Streets.

Saturday's four-man team time trials will begin at the same intersection, but leave town at the Tawas River bridge, turn left at the fork to M-55, right to Fifth Avenue, right to Miner's Grove, right to the river and continue the circle as a team until 3 1/2 miles are ridden.

Novice racers will have all the excitement they want as a clinic and sprint bike races are planned Saturday evening. Many prizes will be awarded to novice riders and age groups from tricycle and bicycle ages are set up. These races were a big hit of the crowd last year.

Later that evening, the feature point race will be a "miss and out" sprint race where the last rider over the starting line in each lap is eliminated until five riders are left. The last five then sprint two miles to the finish.

A race new to the area this year is a tourist bike race scheduled to begin at 10:00 a. m. Sunday. This race will begin at the same point as others, but riders will cycle to Lumbermen's Monument and back. This race is for father, mother, brother and sister; anyone who has a safe bicycle and wishes to ride is eligible. The race is judged on skill and not speed. A $1 entry fee per bike is required, with winners to receive prizes.

At 1:00 p. m. Sunday, the final phase of racing will begin as riders start the 62 1/2-mile Tour of Lumbermen's Monument Road Race. Riders sprint 12 miles in town before leaving East Tawas by way of West State Street and on to Lumbermen's Monument. Riders will then turn right at the monument and head for Osceola returning to East Tawas by way of old US-23.

Riders are to return to town approximately 1 1/2 hours after they leave. While they are gone, special sprint races for top caliber women and junior racers will be held.

These bike races are sanctioned by the Amateur Bicycle League of America, promoted by the Wolverine Sports Club and sponsored by the Tawas Chamber of Commerce.

Richard L. Miller Named Isosco's New Drain Commissioner

A 27-year-old Osceola man was appointed Friday as Isosco County's new drain commissioner, succeeding the late E. H. (Bert) Stickney.

Named was Richard L. Miller, who studied architecture at the University of Michigan and has been an employee of the Miller Land Surveying Company for the past seven years.

Miller and his wife, the former Beth McNichol, are the parents of two children.

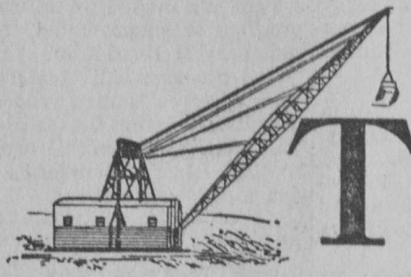

His appointment was made by a three-member committee established by law to appoint a successor in case of the death of a county drain commissioner. Serving were George A. Prescott, county clerk; J. Richard Ernst, prosecuting attorney, and William H. McCready, probate judge.

"The committee was very impressed with Miller's qualifications," said Clerk Prescott. "He will become a registered surveyor next year and this is very important in the work of a drain commissioner."

His father, John Miller, presently serves as drain commissioner of Livingston County at Howell.

There were seven persons seeking the $1,200 a year position. Included were Joseph Reinke Jr., Elwood Bronson, Jack Larsen, Richard E. McKnight, Peter Lichtfusz, Clarence Krueger and Olen Herriman.

With considerable support from the county board of supervisors and county road commission, Reinke appeared to have the "inside track" for the appointment earlier last week.

Board Acts Swiftly to Add Classrooms

Acting swiftly to meet the double challenge of overcrowded classrooms and an unexpected influx of from 60 to 100 students from parochial schools, Tawas Area Board of Education met last Wednesday with the architectural firm of Brysselbout, Starke, Hacker and Simon, Incorporated. A study of possible future construction to meet anticipated needs at the high school on M-55 was made.

The board was represented by Trustees Waldo J. Curry, Clare Herriman, Walter Niles, Clyde Soper, Board Pres. Leonard Sarki and School Supt. Reynold Mick.

Tentative plans which would hopefully see construction started next spring include five classrooms, to be located in a wing to the south from the present art room, and an enclosed storage area for inflammable material to be attached to the building just outside the furnace room.

Plans for the future will include more classrooms and a shop building to be placed south of the west wing. This may also include rest rooms in its southern portion, which would be convenient to the athletic fields. The building would also provide storage for athletic equipment and supplies.

The classrooms planned for next spring are five instead of the original plan for three and the building program has been advanced one year ahead of schedule.

Funds available for this project, under the tax schedule approved by district voters several years ago, will amount to about $130,000. The cost of the five classrooms in this time of spiraling costs and heavy demands upon available contractors in the Saginaw, Flint, Bay City areas make it likely that local contractors will be the ones that will bid on contracts for the school. Costs cannot be accurately assessed until bids are returned.

Along with actual building construction, plans for the future will attempt to compact play fields roughly within the present area and a study is to be made to possibly circle the football field with the track in order that bleachers may be used for both football and track events.

1667 Pupils Enrolled in Tawas A. Schools Opening Morning

Tawas Area Schools opened the fall term Tuesday morning with a half-day session. While enrollment figures were still incomplete, indications were that the high school enrollment would be approximately 530 students, about the same as last year. 150 students were enrolled in the eighth grade, as compared to 118 last year. Figures for the two elementary units were still incomplete, but substantial increases are expected at Tawas City and East Tawas.

A general assembly was held at the high school conducted by Supt. Reynold Mick and Thomas Pintkowski, guidance counselor. Mr. Mick announced that in a policy meeting last Monday night, the full board decided, among other things, to require a passing grade in all subjects as one of the requirements for students obtaining permits to drive to school.

Conducting the eighth grade assembly was Miss Burnetta Miller. Principal Ernest Jordan met with all high school teachers during an hour session.

Following the meetings, students attended brief sessions to learn locations of the various classes and to meet new teachers. The regular school schedule starts today (Wednesday).

Community Chest Directors to Meet
All directors of Tawas-Whitmore Area Community Chest are urged to attend an important meeting Thursday, September 9, 7:30 p. m., at Tawas Chamber of Commerce office.

Summer Season Comes to an End

Only a handful of camper trailers and tents remained in the East Tawas City Park Tuesday morning as the summer vacation season officially came to a close. Most campers had departed on Labor Day and most of those remaining prepared to leave Tuesday afternoon.

The Isosco area escaped the heavy traffic period over the Labor Day week-end with only a few minor property damage accidents reported by the Michigan State Police and Isosco Sheriff's Department.

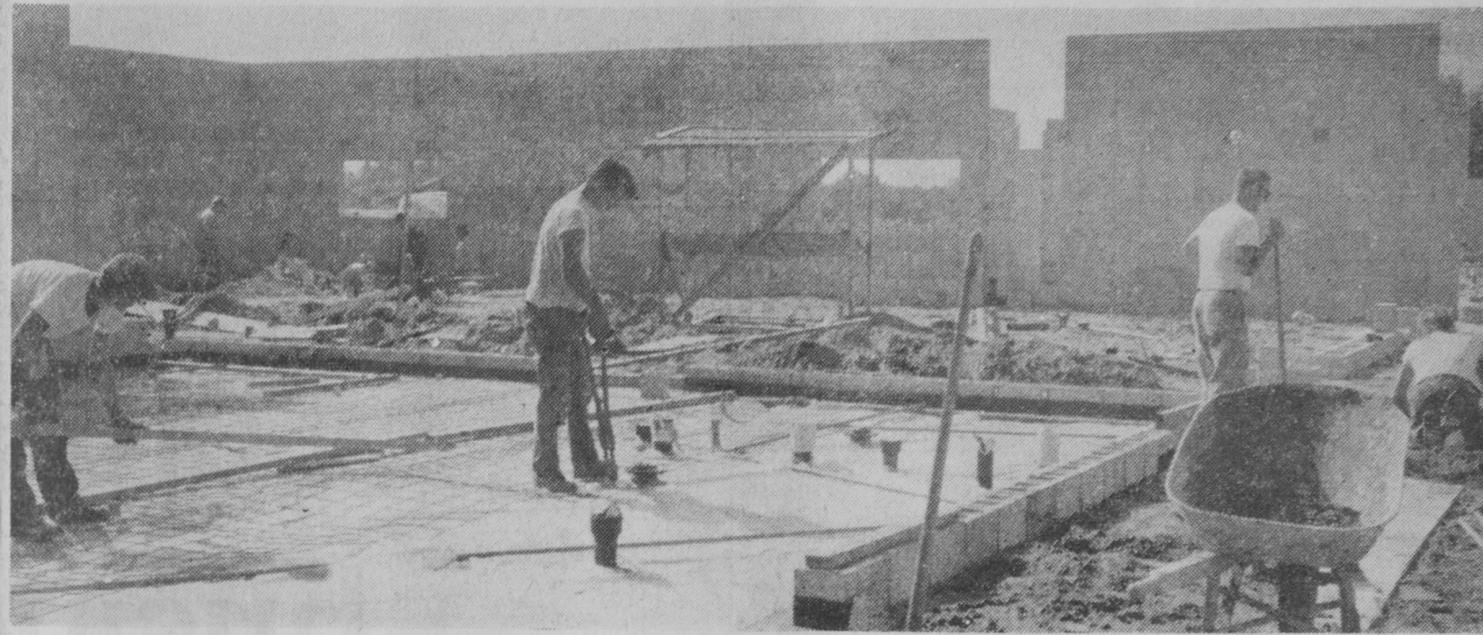

Police said the stream of south-bound traffic flowed smoothly most of Monday. By that evening, the traffic count was down to about normal on US-23 and M-65.

Judge Miller Hears Petoskey Damage Suit

The $100,000 damage suit with $5,000,000 punitive damages sought by Northern Public Service Company against Michigan Consolidated Gas Company was removed from Emmet County Circuit Court Saturday after a hearing before Isosco Circuit Judge Allan C. Miller, who filled the bench at Petoskey.

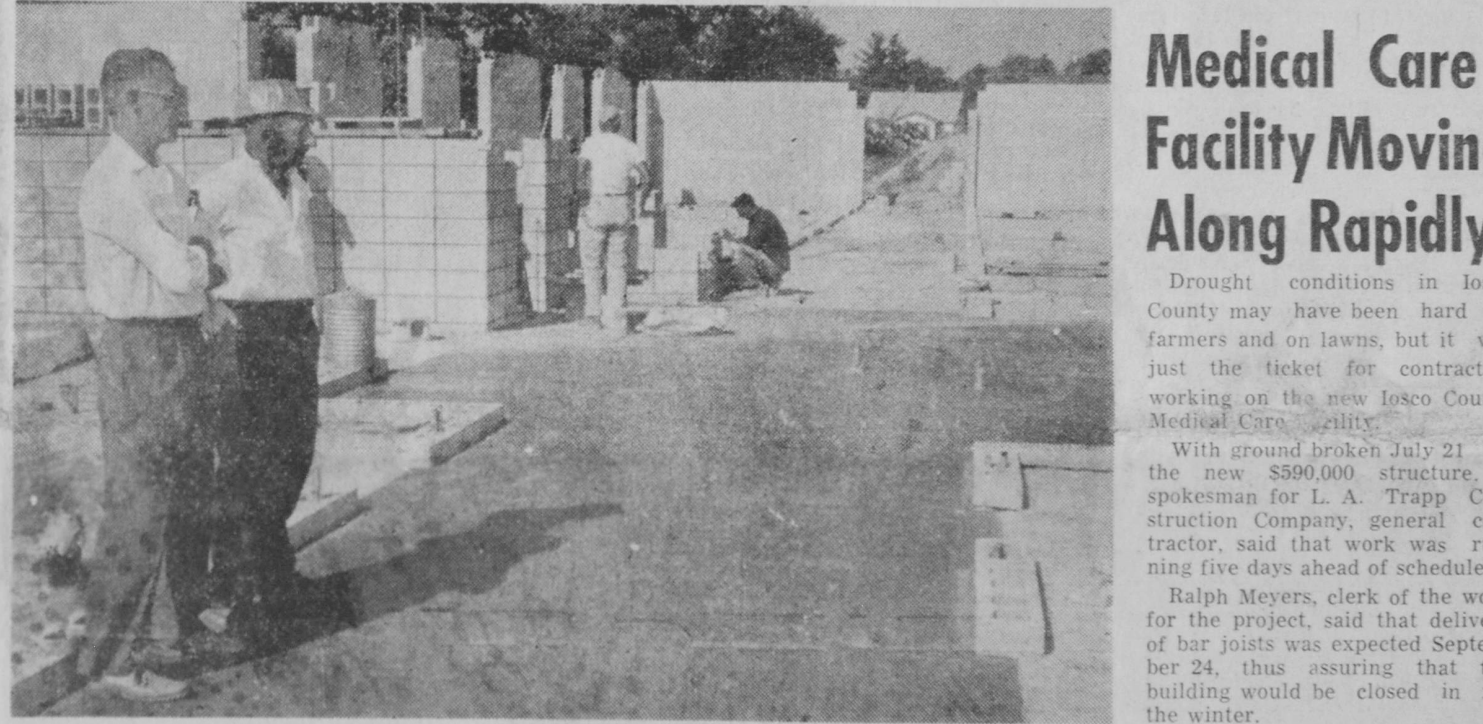

Settlement of the dispute over extension of natural gas mains north of Petoskey means the mains will be extended to Harbor Springs and the area around it by the heating season next fall.

Michigan Consolidated is to purchase facilities of NPSC as it replaces them with natural gas lines.

WORK is progressing rapidly on the new Isosco County Medical Care Facility west of Tawas City. These pictures were snapped Friday afternoon and the one at top shows workmen pouring concrete in the administrative wing.—Tawas Herald Photos.

WATCHING progress on the project are Ralph boneau, superintendent for the general contractor, L. A. Trapp Construction Company.

Medical Care Facility Moving Along Rapidly

Drought conditions in Isosco County may have been hard on farmers and on lawns, but it was just the ticket for contractors working on the new Isosco County Medical Care Facility.

With ground broken July 21 for the new $590,000 structure, a spokesman for L. A. Trapp Construction Company, general contractor, said that work was running five days ahead of schedule.

Ralph Meyers, clerk of the work for the project, said that delivery of bar joists was expected September 24, thus assuring that the building would be closed in for the winter.

John Sharboneau, superintendent for the general contractor, reports that 24 men are employed on the project, with a good number coming from the local area.

About 90 percent of the concrete has been poured for floors and 90 percent of the exterior masonry has been completed.

All in all, this is remarkable progress for a structure of this size in so short a time.

The one-story building is to be built of brick and stone fully equipped to serve the needs of 50 patients.

Barring any unforeseen steel shortage, the building should be completed before the deadline next July.

Two Men Pay Fines Friday for Breaking Auto Windshields

Two men paid fines of $100 and court costs of $15 each Friday after entering guilty pleas to simple assault and malicious destruction.

Kent V. Balliet, 28, Big Rapids, and Clarence R. Wachter Jr., 23, Paris, were arrested Thursday night by Michigan State Police. They were lodged that night in the county jail.

Balliet's car spun its tires in the parking lot at the Tawas City Park and threw gravel on a car owned by Gary Nelkie, 17, Tawas City. Two headlights were broken, the windshield was cracked and paint damaged.

Nelkie was joined by cars driven by Michael Fohey, 18, East Tawas, and Clyde D. Hughes, 16, Tawas City, in an attempt to stop the other car. They followed Balliet and Wachter to Beech Street in back of Inglis Ford Sales, where the two older men stopped their car and used tire irons to break out the windshields of all three cars driven by the youths. No one was injured.

The two men were apprehended later by police using the car's description and license number furnished by the youths.

Building Application Approved by PW Dept.

One building application was approved during the past two weeks by Paul Roper, superintendent of public works at East Tawas.

A permit was issued to the estate of the late Clifford Guyette, Tawas Lake, construct new chimney, $30.

MAKE DONATION

At a meeting last week, the Feather-Lite union voted to give the balance of the flower and coffee fund to the Isosco County Association for Retarded Children.

Collecting Burls is Interesting Hobby

"When I go deer hunting in the fall, I spend more time looking for 'knots' than I do tracking white tails."

Speaking was Wallace Lepard, who makes his summer home here on Camel Road, better known as Indian Lake Road just west of Monument Road.

Lepard's hobby is collecting burls the wartlike excrescence often a flattened hemispherical form, found growing on the trunks of trees, according to Webster's definition.

He removes these accidents of nature, which occur during the healing process of an old injury to a tree trunk, and fashions them into interesting works of art.

The oak burl is an extremely hard substance and was once used for the heads of beetles or heavy mauls employed for driving wedges in the days of hand-split rail fences. Indians often utilized them for bowls.

Lepard turns these growths into lamps, table centerpieces, mantlepieces and wall decorations. By inserting a couple of glass eyes, adding "ears" and old white tail antlers, he has turned several into lifelike heads of animals.

After removing the burls from trees, they must be seasoned from six to eight months in order that the surface does not crack. The bark is then removed, surface sanded and a clear wood preservative added to seal the surface.

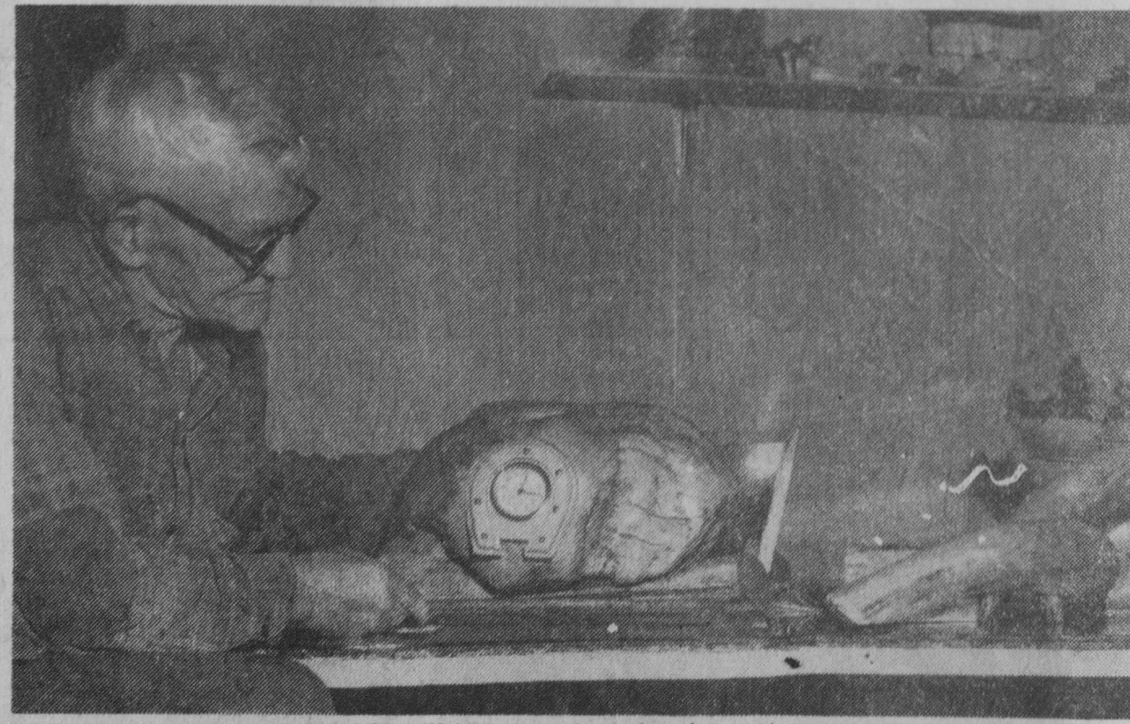

His wife, Bertha, assists Mr. Lepard in the finishing process and many interesting burls decorate their summer home. A lot of work goes into the final finishing process.

Born at Prescott, Lepard retired three years ago from Champion Home Builders, Dryden, where he overhauled electrical tools and worked in general repair. He and his wife built their own cabin here about five years ago.

The Lepards are also avid collectors of antiques, but recently sold most of their collection.

THIS LARGE BURL, after eyes, ears and horns were inserted, appears similar to the head of an animal.—Tawas Herald Photos.

Consolidated Gas Announces New Purchase Plan

Michigan Consolidated Gas Company today announced a new plan by which residential and commercial customers in this area can install gas heating equipment now without any payments on the equipment until July 1, 1966.

The company further offers to purchase any fuel oil or coal the customer may now have on hand at the same price he paid for it and to remove oil tanks without cost to the consumer.

Fred H. McIntire, vice president, sales, said Michigan Consolidated will pay qualified heating contractors for properly installed gas conversion burners in existing furnaces or for new gas furnaces. The only cost to the customer until next July will be for the gas he uses.

He said that customers taking advantage of the offer could pay off the entire cost of the equipment on July 1 without any carrying charges. Those who desire more time can have the cost of the equipment added in equal payments to their monthly gas bill for up to three years at regular carrying charge rates.

McIntire said that for the majority of homeowners, the savings on natural gas, compared to other fuels, would pay the cost of a gas conversion burner within the 45 months before the final payment would have to be made.

He said the unusual financing plan will only be available for a limited time, and suggested that those interested obtain further information by calling their heating contractor or Michigan Consolidated office.

TODAY'S Meditation

from The World's Most Widely Used Devotional Guide

Read I Corinthians 3:5-13
 Comfort your hearts and establish them in every good work and word. (II Thessalonians 2:17, RSV)

Going into St. Paul's in London, one can see the tomb of Sir Christopher Wren, who designed the cathedral. The inscription on the tomb written in Latin by his son means, "If you would see his monument, look around."

This could also be said of those humble medieval craftsmen who built the great Gothic cathedrals. When they were carving underneath the seats of the choir stalls, they knew that very few would ever see their work; still they made their designs with infinite skill and patience. They were not working primarily for profit or reward but to the glory of God.

Brother Lawrence in the monastery kitchen was even able to say that his dishes could be cleaned to God's glory. It was because of this attitude that he could assert God was as near to him in the kitchen as at the blessed sacrament.

Whatever work we do can be well done or badly done. We honor God when we offer Him our work as our very best—in spirit as well as in the manner of doing it. We must pray each day that all our works may be begun, continued and ended in God.

PRAYER
 O God our Father, we pray for grace day by day to seek Thy glory and the good of our fellowmen. May we honor Thee in all we do. Through Christ our Lord we ask. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY
 Work well done as unto God is worship offered in His name. Maldwyn Edwards (Wales).

Convert your home or business to economical Natural Gas heat today and pay nothing until July 1, 1966.

Convert now to Gas heat and Michigan Consolidated Gas Company will buy your unused oil or coal—even remove your oil tank—all at no cost to you. What's more, whether you convert your present furnace, or even install a new Gas furnace, we'll pay the bill. And all you pay us, between now and next July, is for the Gas you'll use to make this your most comfortable winter ever. Here's how this special limited-time offer works:

1. If you're now heating with oil, we'll buy what's left in your storage tank—at the price you paid for it. What's more, we'll remove your tank from your home or business and even haul it away if you want. All at no cost to you.
2. If you're now heating with coal, we'll take what coal you have on hand, off your hands. And pay you whatever it cost you originally.
3. Whether you convert your present furnace, or even install a new Gas furnace, we'll pay for it and its installation by a qualified heating contractor, and it won't cost you a penny until next July. You can pay for the unit and its installation on July 1, 1966 with no carrying charge whatsoever. Or if you prefer you can make equal monthly payments including carrying charges on your Gas bill over a period of up to three years after July 1, 1966. Either way, there are no carrying charges between now and next July, and you need make no payments between now and next July. If you live in the areas we serve in the counties listed below, you're entitled to take advantage of this special limited-time offer. So act now. Call your heating contractor or Michigan Consolidated Gas Company office today for details. Your local Michigan Consolidated office number is 362-4458 in Tawas.

State Parks Growing Pains

Michigan's growing popularity among Midwestern vacationers carries big problems for state parks which are bursting at the seams with recreationists. With the handwriting on the wall, the Conservation Department is asking that dramatic increases be made in park budgets for each of the next 10 years. The program that's needed to meet projected demands by 1975 would cost an average of $13 million per year over the 10-year period. The hard, cold facts behind the hoped-for expansion of state facilities are these: Michigan's state park system as it exists today is totally inadequate. With more people, better roads, and Michigan's good reputation as a leading vacation state signaling that park visitors will grow in numbers as steadily in the future as they have in the past, it's a must that park lands be acquired now before their prices are out of the Department's buying range. At stake are millions of potential new tourist dollars and recreational opportunities which are almost as vital to the people of Michigan as their health, education, homes, and jobs. —Mich. Dept. of Conservation

Needlecraft News

WHAT CAN YOU CROCHET THESE DAYS that is both whimsical and practical? Roses, of course! And where do these roses go when they're in bloom? On top of your crocheted tissue topper! This new fad is sweeping the country and because it's so easy to make and takes so little time, every bathroom in your home just has to have one.

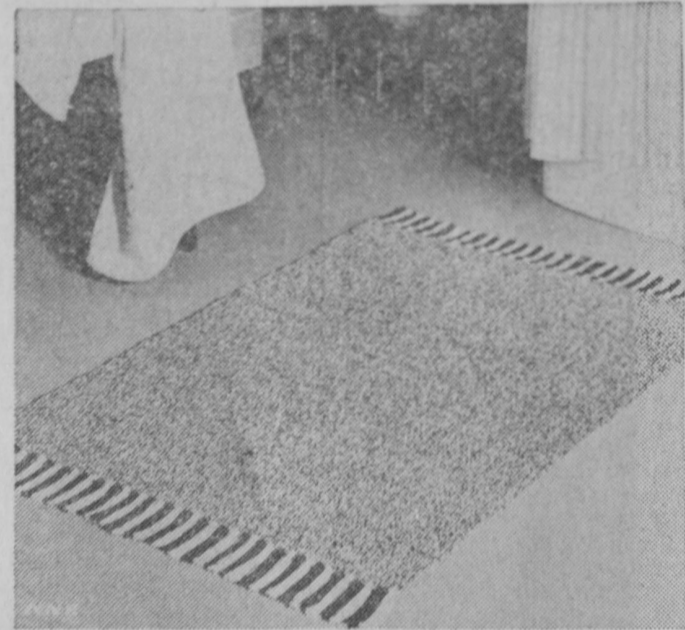

FOR NOOKS AND CRANNIES

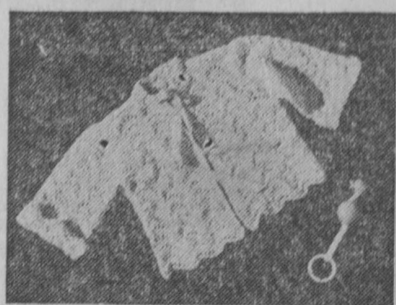

I don't know who originated this fascinating idea, but whoever he was, our hats are off to him. This topper, which is filled with an extra roll of bathroom tissue, can be placed in any convenient nook or cranny in your house—you'll be surprised at how many resting places you'll find. We've chosen yellow, tangerine, scarlet, and Nile green for ours, but one of the beauties of this topper is that you can carry out the color scheme of your towels, curtains or rug so easily—there are so many wonderful shades of yarn to choose from. Worked in a simple shell stitch, this would be a perfect project for someone who's just learning to crochet—your own teenager perhaps.

AS A "TRIFLE"

When you need a last minute "trifle" for a present, it certainly would be very convenient to have an extra topper handy—and can't you just picture a colorful assortment of these in your booth at the church bazaar? Free instructions are available by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope to the Needlework Editor of this newspaper along with your request for Leaflet PC 3028.

IS YOUR BATHROOM RUG beginning to look a little shabby? It's not necessary when you can crochet yourself a new one likky-split. Measuring 2 by 3 feet, excluding the generous fringe, this rug can be made in colors that will coordinate with your bathroom color scheme. Free instructions are available by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to the Needlework Editor of this newspaper along with your request for Leaflet S 431.

IT'S JUST LIKE MAGIC

When your baby's out getting some good fresh air, just think how comfortable he'll be with nothing to confine him. He'll be able to move around and get all the exercise he needs, and still keep nice and warm. Instead of the usual pink for girls and blue for boys, why not try pale lime, or bright yellow, or perhaps white? Three skeins of soft baby wool, a pair of knitting needles, one yard of ribbon, and abra-cadabra, it's just like magic—a lovely year round saque for the best dressed baby in town.

GREAT FOR A GIFT

With all of its tiny peek-a-boo holes, this little saque is so light and airy that you'll want to have an extra one on hand to give as a gift. Free instructions are available by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope to the Needlework Editor of this newspaper along with your request for Leaflet PK 8676.

Marriage Vows Solemnized in Candlelight Ceremony

Mr. and Mrs. Edward John Nagy

In a candlelight ceremony Saturday, August 7, Sally Joanne Burnett of Huntington Woods and Edward John Nagy of Tawas City were united in marriage at St. Paul's EUB Church, Ferndale. The Rev. O. G. Knecht officiated at the double ring ceremony which was followed by a buffet reception in the church parlour.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Burnett of Huntington Woods. Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Nagy of Tawas City are the bridegroom's parents.

The newlyweds are residing at 1718 Webster Road, Ambassador East Mobile Court, Lot 78, Flint.

The former Miss Burnett chose a silk organza gown styled with Sabrina neckline and chapel train trimmed with Alecon lace. A crown of matching lace held her fingertip veil. She carried a cascade of daisies and stephanotis trimmed with ivy and a center corsage of orchids.

Miss Brenda Bentzel of Ann Arbor was maid of honor. Misses Jean and Jane Burnett, sisters of the bride, and Judy Burnett of Royal Oak, cousin of the bride, were bridesmaids. They wore floor length, aqua crepe gowns. Cascades of pink daisies, pink Fuji pompons and ivy were carried by the attendants.

Attending the bridegroom were

Whittemore-Prescott Area to Open 1965 Football Season Against West Branch

When Whittemore-Prescott Area opens its 1965 football schedule September 17 at West Branch, Coach Val Young will be fielding a Cardinal team sprinkled with a good number of sophomores.

"We have had a major rebuilding job after our three and five record of last season," said Young. "We have some good sophomores to go along with our returning letterwinners from last year and we should give some of these North-eastern Michigan League teams some trouble."

The W.P. mentor admitted, however, that his Cards expected to have a tough time in the conference with Roscommon and Houghton Lake listed as the schools to beat.

Rounding out the NEM are Beaverton, Alcona and Harrison, a new member this fall.

Young has three returning starters from last year's squad. They are Co-captains Don Dorey, senior halfback and Harvey Mier, senior guard, along with Doug Thompson, senior tackle.

Other returnees who won letters last year are Dale Bronson, quarterback-end; Al McLean, center; Roger Spencer, 245-pound tackle, and Carl Bowlby, halfback. All but Spencer are seniors.

Assisting Young this year is Jerry Hoffman, well known in the area as a top basketball official during the winter months. While Hoffman was attending Central Michigan University, he refereed a number of games for Tawas Area and other NBC schools. He is a graduate of Otisville High School and played three years of football at CMU as offensive guard and defensive linebacker, which experience should help the Cardinal rebuilding cause in the line.

Arnie Inkster again is handling the junior varsity and he is being assisted by Carl Titus.

OUR CHILDREN'S SAFETY: A JOINT RESPONSIBILITY

PARENTS! DON'T DEPEND ON SCHOOL TRAINING ALONE . . .

Your school, your Traffic Safety Division, and various public spirited institutions sponsor Traffic Safety instructions for your children, yet each year more children are killed in traffic accidents than from all diseases put together! True, the menace of careless drivers is a major cause of these accidents, yet there are many cases where cautious drivers could not avoid hitting a child that ran into the street or swerved suddenly on a bicycle. Safety is a joint responsibility — as parents, do your part, too, to teach your children safety.

City Council Studies Trash Burning Control

Tawas City Council is studying an ordinance which would prohibit the outdoor burning of trash in the fire zone.

The fire zone extends on both sides of US-23 from the river bridge to the east city limits.

A sample ordinance was submitted Tuesday night by City Attorney Alf Watson and action is to be taken at the next council meeting.

Also to be considered at the next meeting is an amendment to an ordinance controlling operations of transient merchants. It is proposed that the daily per person fee be raised from $2 to $10; weekly fee from $10 to $35, and yearly fee from $25 to $150, coinciding with fees charged by East Tawas.

The city superintendent was directed to erect 25-mile-per-hour speed control signs on First Street and First Avenue.

A report from City Treasurer Ruth Albertson indicated that only 50 percent of the city taxes had been paid as of August 31. Deadline before a penalty is added is September 15.

100 Campers Attend Silver Valley Program

Last Saturday night, over 100 campers at Silver Valley Campground in the Huron National Forest "visited" recreation areas on national forests throughout the Midwest via the award winning movie, "Tent Flaps and Flapjacks."

District Ranger Loren Woerpel and Floyd Hall, visitor information officer, presented the program in the packed lodge at Silver Valley. The lodge formally was used as a part of the winter sports area.

According to Woerpel, this is the second program this summer held at the lodge especially for the campers. The programs, part of the new visitor information service effort on the Huron National Forest, were primarily an experiment this season to see if the campers were interested in learning more about the forest they were visiting. Woerpel termed the experiment a complete success.

Following Saturday night's movie and short talk given by Woerpel, Virgil Hendricks of Berkeley called a square dance for interested campers. As many as three squares at a time shook the dust from the old log lodge.

MARTIN J. MURPHY

A retired forester with the Detroit Department of Parks and Recreation, Martin J. Murphy of Hale, died Monday, September 6, at Tawas Hospital. Funeral services will be held at 10:00 a. m. today (Wednesday) at St. Pius Catholic Church, Hale. Burial will be in Mt. Olivet Cemetery, Detroit.

Mr. Murphy was born October 13, 1895, in Ontario, Canada. He lived 18 years in the Hale area and was a member of Glenn Staley Post No. 422, American Legion, and a veteran of World War I.

Surviving are his wife, Celia, several nieces and nephews.

Commercial Fishing Petition Hearing Set For Wednesday

Hearing on a petition asking Isco Circuit Court to restrain the Michigan Department of Conservation from enforcing certain regulations pertaining to commercial fishing on Saginaw Bay is to be held this morning (Wednesday) before Judge Allan C. Miller.

Sam Aikens, Alabaster commercial fisherman, seeks court action to stop the department of conservation from enforcing present regulations concerning the size and weight of perch caught by gill net fishermen.

Aikens was arrested August 10 with approximately 3,500 pounds of undersized perch in his possession. He claims the seizure was illegal.

It is illegal for commercial fishermen to have in possession fish less than 8½ inches in the round and filleted perch of less weight than 1½ ounces.

Building Applications Approved by Publitz

A total of $15,750 in building applications was approved during the past week by Supt. of Public Works Reginald Publitz of Tawas City.

Largest single permit was to Tawas Area Construction Corporation, construct new roof, new tile floor and walls, electrical and plumbing changes at the Tawas City Elementary Unit, $13,000.

Other applications were issued to Carl Peters, 504 Lake Street, new roof, $400; Neil Thornton, 611 Fourth Street, two-car garage, $2,000; Donald Gingerich, 123 First Street, new roof on part of elevator building, $200; Nelson Ulman Sr., 215 Sixth Avenue, new roof, $150.

Collection Service Asks City to Cancel Request

A request from Isco Collection Service canceling its application for a building permit in Ferguson's Addition to Tawas City was accepted Tuesday night by the city council.

Gene Ballinger, manager, said in a letter that although the firm had been at its present location for four years and had no previous complaints, they had no desire to create ill feelings among residential owners of the area.

The collection service had submitted a building application to enlarge its present quarters and parking lot on Lots 1-7. Under the new ordinance, the property had been rezoned to residential from commercial.

“I’ve had my automatic shotgun only fifteen years. What do you mean I need another one!”

We mean we’ve made the Remington Model 1100.

Agreed, you've got a good gun. So why switch? Because the Remington Model 1100 is a better one.

- The 1100 is built to be more rugged, more dependable, more satisfying to shoot than any other automatic.
- It's built to give you less "kick" than any other shotgun made. All the power is there. But a new system of gas operation handles recoil so efficiently you feel it far less.
- It's built to last longer. Parts of - greatest stress are reinforced; others, highly polished to cut friction. Areas of greatest impact are specially cushioned. Receiver is machined from a solid block of steel. The rich American walnut stock is protected by Du Pont-developed RKW finish, toughest ever put on a gun. Even the metal finish is extra rust-resistant.

- It's built for performance. An 1100 holds three to five shots, handles all 2¼-inch loads (even baby magnums) without the slightest adjustment. And the modern, streamlined profile and perfect balance give you superb pointing and swing.

- What we're saying is that the Model 1100 is built for you. In 12, 16 and 20 gauges. All standard chokes and barrels. Also in trap, skeet and magnum models. From just $149.95*.

The covey of quail popped from beneath our feet as we rounded the edge of the fencerow. The birds buzzed safely between our shots and sailed out of sight over a slight rise.

"Will you look at those quail fly off with their hearts shot out," Ralph Downey shouted. "It must be some kind of a miracle."

If there was any miracle about those quail, it was only that they were there for us to shoot at, and not that they were flying off with holes in their hearts. Six years ago we could have stomped Ralph's farm until the cows came home, and not likely seen a single quail. Today, the covey we had just flushed was the third of the morning, and we knew there would be more.

What was behind the great improvement in our hunting? Well, quite a number of things, and all of them started one day a half-dozen years ago when Ralph got to wondering why he wasn't hearing quail as often as he used to. He asked the local game manager about it, and the result was a wildlife plan that was tailored to Ralph's farm.

The game manager, working with agricultural agencies, drew up a plan that included shrub planting along fence rows, cover patches in out-of-the-way corners, and small food areas here and there.

"Some of the things the plan called for," Ralph recalls, "seemed to go against the trend toward big clean-up on the modern farm, but I was told that there would be no loss of production and so I decided to go ahead."

"Now, look at that fencerow here," Ralph said, gesturing at the place where we had flushed the quail. "Six years ago that was nothing but steel posts and barbed wire. There wasn't enough shelter for an ant."

"As you can see it now harbors a great variety of birds, and provides travel lanes for all sorts of wild creatures. Last year my boys and I shot over 25 rabbits out of this fencerow alone."

The fencerow that Ralph spoke about was of multiflora rose, a shrub that is popular as wildlife shelter. The shrubs had been provided at cost by a state nursery, and Ralph had received planting help from the high school agricultural class.

"You know," Ralph said, pushing his hat on to the back of his head and eyeing the fencerow, "that wildlife plan was one of the best things that ever happened to me. Finding out that you can have wildlife around and still farm efficiently was a great discovery."

We've heard Ralph often enough on this pet subject of his to take the liberty of anticipating the points of his "field lecture."

Next he'll tell us about the pheasants that nest in the cover patches, and he'll say, "My 13-year-old son shot two cock pheasants one day last fall, and the look on his face was worth a million dollars."

Then he'll tell about hearing the bobwhite whistle to each other, and he'll say that there isn't a finer sound to calm a man's nerves.

And it is a certainty that he will mention that his wife has burned a pie crust on more than one occasion since she took up bird watching. "She gets so much enjoyment out of watching them," Ralph will say, "that I don't mind a burned crust once in a while."

There isn't much doubt left in your mind after you have heard Ralph's lecture a time or two, that he and his family have enriched their lives by doing a few things to enhance farm wildlife.

That is only part of the story, however. Other people have been affected by Ralph's wildlife plan, particularly those of us who live in the city and have no recreation land of our own.

Of course, we could go to the public hunting grounds, and we often do, but each year these areas become more crowded and the competition reaches ridiculous points on occasion. Despite ambitious land acquisition programs by the Federal government and in some states, the fact is that private landowners control over 80 per cent of the wildlife area available for hunting.

A new awareness of this fact is leading to developments that promise to help both the land owner and the land user. Most recently have been proposed plans of incentive payments to farmers who open their lands to public recreation uses.

Nothing gives you a better chance of stopping disease before complications set in

When your feeders are feverish, breathing fast and running at the nose, is it shipping fever?

Maybe. Maybe not. Could be terminal pneumonia. Or pleurisy. Or rhinitis.

Truth is, symptoms as broad as these can fit any one of several diseases.

Worse yet, each disease may be complicated by the presence of several different organisms.

Only a lab examination can identify the specific germs. But that can take 24 hours or more.

You don't want to sit on your hands all that time. So do this: Shoot your cattle the minute they appear sick with one treatment that gives you the best chance of solving your problems.

That's Terramycin Injectable Solution.

Terramycin delivers the broadest possible bacterial spectrum in farm drugs today.

And the highest possible blood levels.

In the fastest possible time.

And it maintains these blood levels longer than any other broad-spectrum drug.

Terramycin Injectable Solution gives you an excellent chance of being halfway home on a cure even before you get the exact diagnosis.

(And even if Terramycin turns out not to be the drug of choice against the primary disease, it gives you today's strongest protection against secondary complications.)

Speaking in favor of such a plan, an official of the National Wildlife Federation said, "The Federation for many years has supported the basic concept that land held out of agricultural production by Federal programs should be maintained in conservation practices or devoted to uses of public benefit.

"We believe most American taxpayers, including many farmers, find something distasteful in offering cash to keep land idle. Diverting unneeded acres into beneficial uses which do not complicate problems of surplus production are much more acceptable practices."

As a prelude to such a plan, agricultural and conservation agencies have for years been urging and assisting with plans that encourage farm wildlife.

In Wisconsin, J. R. Smith, chief of the game management division, said several years ago,

"The forces threatening wildlife range all over the world are economic in nature, and unless wildlife can be recognized as an economic asset on private lands, it will continue to disappear. In many cases the uncontrolled use of private lands by hunters hastens this disappearance. The long-term question which a sportsman must decide is not really whether he is for or against free hunting, but whether or not he wants wildlife produced on the largest area of land in the United States."

Smith said that development of a stable program that will interest landowners in maintaining and developing wildlife habitat is the only way to provide hunting on millions of acres of land.

The "free hunting" which Smith mentions is, as the term implies, use of private land for hunting without the payment of a fee.

Until such time as this fee is forthcoming from the government in the form of incentive payments, many farmers have successfully worked out a fee program that charges the hunter for use of the land. Ralph is one of them.

"I certainly didn't go in to this to make money," he said, "but when the word got around town about the hunting out here, I simply had to work out some way of controlling hunters on my land."

"I talked to some of the hunters about charging a fee and they were in total agreement with it. They pay willingly, knowing that there is good hunting on the farm and that I won't allow so many people to hunt at one time that there is no elbow room."

"A lot of the fellows have offered to help me if I need a hand with shrubbery planting and such things. I've made some good friends, and I've even made a little money from this thing."

Most of all, however, Ralph appreciates the pleasing character that his farm has taken on since he put his wildlife plan into operation.

"I found that many of the things that the Soil Conservation Service and the state conservation boys recommended were things that were just good land practices," Ralph said. "We worked on stripcropping, field borders, windbreaks, hedges, tree planting and 'odd area' management, and all of these are just good common sense things to do to keep your farm from washing or blowing away."

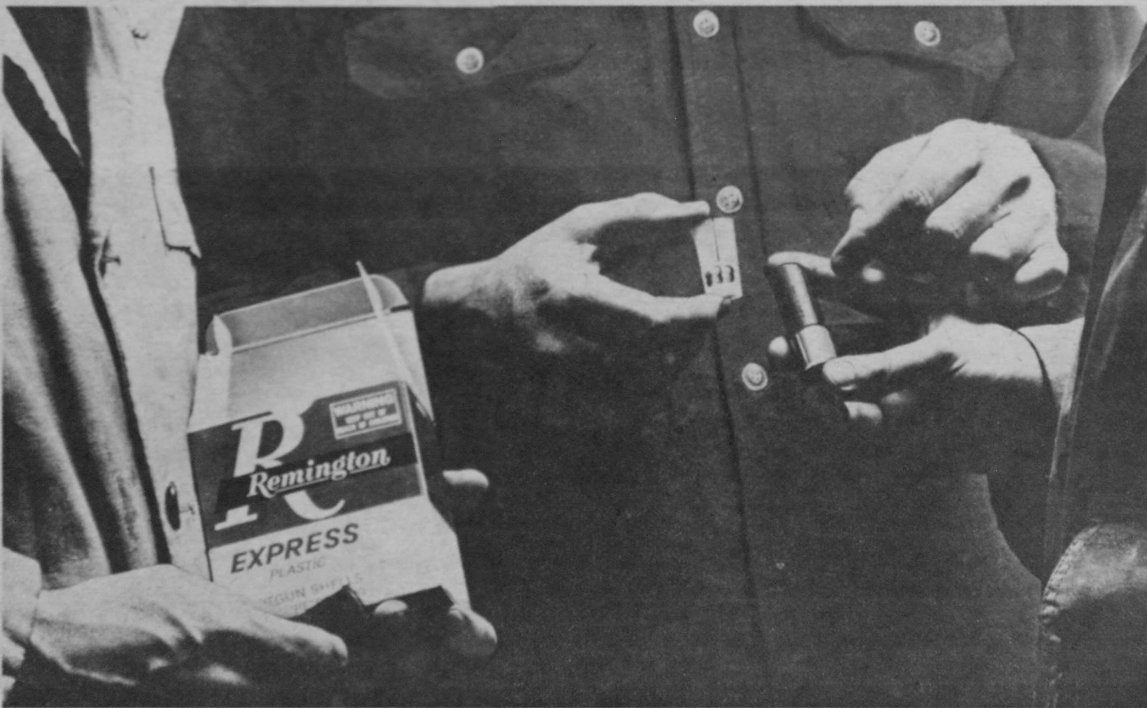

"Watch it," Ralph said suddenly as one of the dogs stiffened on point.

The hunter from the city and the landowner moved slowly up behind the rigid dog. The three of them were approaching the climax of an agreement to help each other. They were excited and pleased with each other, except that the dog was just a little concerned about those dead birds that flew off when the last covey was flushed.

"It'll take a lot of talking to convince me your shells are any better than the ones I'm using now."

We'll take just three words—Remington "Power Piston"

We'd be the first to admit it. Your shells will knock down the birds they reach. But Remington "Express" loads with "Power Piston" reach more birds. With more shot.

□ And the "Power Piston"—Remington's remarkable, new wad column—is what does it.
□ "Power Piston" actually gives you a more effective pattern for any given choke, at any given distance.

□ It starts by eliminating pattern-ruining shot deformation. The shot never touches the barrel. And the "cushion" construction at the base reduces shot-against-shot deformation.

□ The "Power Piston" carries the shot through the barrel, then falls away letting the shot fly straight and true, with no out-of-round flyers.

□ Result: A lot more shot reaches the target. (It's as if you were shooting magnums!)

□ "Power Piston" also gives you another great advantage. The "cushion" at the bottom actually reduces the recoil effect of your gun. Reduces the chance of a bird-missing finch.

□ You can get all this in 12, 16, 20 and 28 gauge Remington "Express" loads. All with famous Remington plastic-shell construction.

Vacation Reflections

Where did your summer travels take you? the Black Hills of South Dakota?—camping in one of our National Parks?—or a visit to the World's Fair? Food often assumes a special place in your travel reflections. No matter where you travel you're bound to find old-fashioned dishes which are the best examples of America's regional cooking—Shoo Fly Pie from Pennsylvania; Shrimp Creole from Louisiana; and Fresh Fruit Tarts from California. Here is a sampling of those same good foods you enjoyed so much on vacation. Now try them at home!

WORLD'S FAIR FESTIVAL 64/65 DIPPING SAUCE

2 cups mayonnaise	2 tablespoons finely chopped green pepper
1 cup chili sauce	1 tablespoon lemon juice
¼ cup sour cream	1½ teaspoons anchovy paste
¼ cup chicken consomme

Combine and blend all ingredients; chill. Serve as dipping sauce for raw vegetables, black olives, cold lobster, crabmeat, salmon or shrimp. Makes about 4 cups.

SHOO FLY PIE

1 cup sifted all-purpose flour	2 tablespoons soft margarine
½ cup firmly packed light brown sugar	½ teaspoon baking soda
½ teaspoon salt	¾ cup hot water
½ teaspoon cinnamon	½ cup light molasses
¼ teaspoon nutmeg	1 unbaked 9 inch pie shell
¼ teaspoon cloves	Vanilla ice cream

In mixing bowl, combine flour, brown sugar, salt, cinnamon, nutmeg and cloves; cut in margarine to form crumbs. In separate small bowl, combine baking soda and hot water; stir in molasses and pour mixture into unbaked pie shell. Sprinkle crumbs over molasses mixture. Bake at 375° F. 30 minutes or until filling is firm to the touch. Serve warm with vanilla ice cream. Makes 9 inch pie.

FRESH BERRY TARTS WITH SHERRIED CREAM

2 cups heavy cream, whipped	2 cups blueberries*
½ cup sifted confectioners' sugar	2 cups raspberries*
2 tablespoons dry sherry	Very fine granulated sugar
12 baked tart shells

Combine whipped cream, confectioners' sugar and sherry; chill. At serving time, heap cream into tart shells; top with either blueberries or raspberries, or let guests mix their own fillings. Sprinkle fruit with sugar, as desired. Makes 12 tarts. *Other favorite seasonal fruit or frozen fruit may be substituted.

| ½ bay leaf | ¾ teaspoon monosodium glutamate |
| 2 tablespoons margarine | 1½ pounds cleaned cooked shrimp |
| 1 tablespoon flour | Saffron Rice Ring |
| 3 cups chopped canned tomatoes | |

Sauté onion, green pepper, celery, and bay leaf in margarine 8 minutes. Add flour and stir and mix smoothly 2 or 3 minutes. Add tomatoes, salt, sugar, cayenne and monosodium glutamate. Mix, and let simmer 15 minutes. Add cooked shrimp. Let simmer only until shrimp are hot. Do not boil. Immediately spoon Creole into center of Saffron Rice Ring. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

*Saffron Rice Ring:

- | | |
|--|-----------------------------|
| 3 cups chicken stock | 1½ cups long grain raw rice |
| ½ teaspoon saffron, crumbled (slightly more, if desired) | Salt to taste |
| | 2½ tablespoons margarine |

Bring stock to a boil; add saffron, rice, salt and margarine. Cover tightly and cook over low heat 20 to 25 minutes until rice is tender and water absorbed. Spoon into 1-quart greased ring mold; pack lightly. Let stand 1 minute; unmold on heated serving platter.

Fall Vegetables

GLAZED SQUASH

1 Acorn or Butternut squash ½ cup orange juice
½ cup sugar 2 tablespoons margarine
½ cup brown sugar

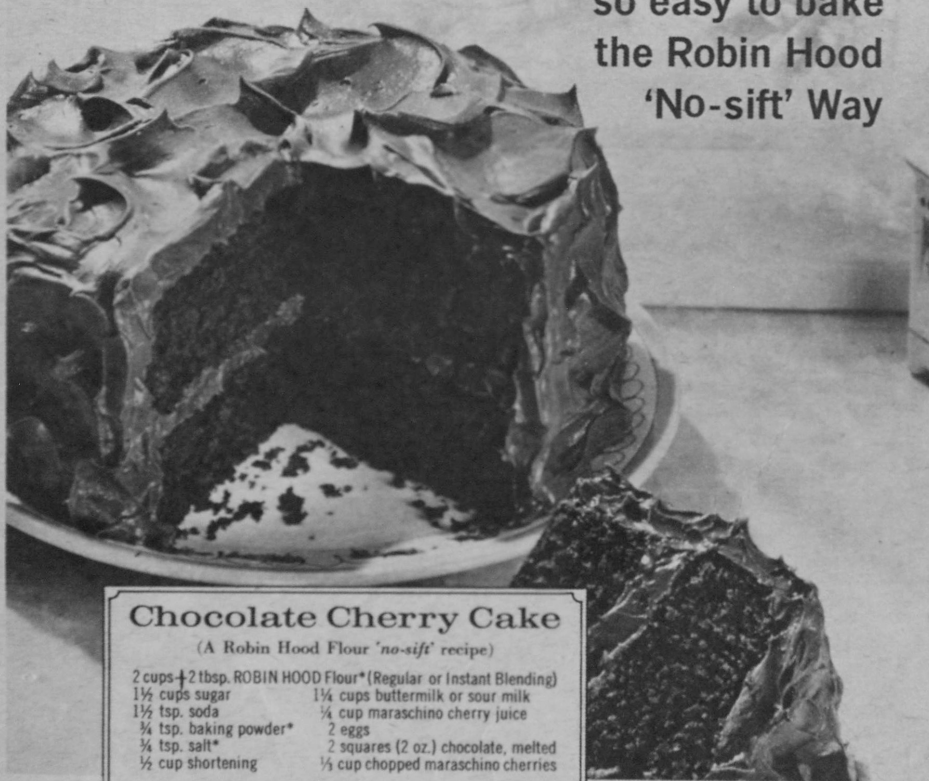

Cut acorn squash into 1-inch rings or cut butternut squash in half lengthwise. Remove seeds. Steam in shallow covered pan until fork tender. Drain. Cover with syrup and bake in 350° F. oven for approximately 30 minutes. Syrup: Heat together sugar, brown sugar, orange juice and margarine. Boil 1 minute before pouring on squash.

Fresh vegetables are worthy of star billing on autumn menus! Garden vines are loaded, so head for the vegetable patch or produce counter and take full advantage of the abundant late harvest season. Here are four fall favorites—eggplant, tomatoes, acorn squash and green peppers. They're economical to use this time of year and provide a rich source of vitamins for the family.

Even particular folks will find something to their liking in one of these recipes. The key to successful vegetable cookery is a minimum of water and cooking time to retain maximum flavor and texture. To help you we offer these recipes—imaginative ways to prepare fall vegetables so they will appeal to everyone at your dinner table.

Everything tastes better, too. Do all your baking the Robin Hood 'no-sift' way as shown on every bag. ROBIN HOOD FLOUR IS A PRODUCT OF INTERNATIONAL MILLING COMPANY INC.

CREAMY FRIED TOMATOES

6 large tomatoes 1½ cups milk
1 tablespoon flour ¼ teaspoon salt
¾ teaspoon salt 1½ teaspoons sugar
¼ teaspoon pepper ¼ teaspoon bottled thick meat sauce
¼ cup margarine 1½ teaspoons prepared mustard
2 tablespoons flour

Cut out stem end from each tomato. Then halve tomatoes crosswise. Combine 1 tablespoon flour, ¾ teaspoon salt and pepper; sprinkle over tomato halves. Sauté tomatoes in margarine in skillet till golden on both sides and just tender. Arrange 10 halves on hot platter. To 2 tomato halves left in skillet add 2 tablespoons flour, milk, ¾ teaspoon salt, sugar, meat sauce and mustard. Cook until creamy. Pour over tomatoes. Serve as is or on toast. Makes 5 servings.

SWEET POTATO PUFF

3 cups mashed, cooked, sweet potatoes 1 egg, beaten
1 teaspoon salt 1 teaspoon salt
¾ cup (6-ounce can) undiluted evaporated milk 1 cup miniature marshmallows (approximately)
¼ cup margarine, melted ½ cup chopped California walnuts
¼ cup brown sugar

Combine sweet potatoes, milk, margarine, brown sugar, egg and salt; mix well. Pour into 1-quart casserole; bake at 350° F. for 35 minutes. Top with marshmallows and walnuts; broil until marshmallows are lightly browned. Makes 8 servings.

VEGETABLE PLATTER

½ pound pasteurized process cheese spread Large tomatoes
½ cup milk Salt and pepper to taste
Cooked broccoli
Melted margarine

Melt the cheese in the top of a double boiler. Gradually add the milk, stirring until the sauce is smooth.

Bake tomatoes in a 350° F. oven for approximately 30 minutes, or until tender. Scoop out a small amount from the stem end of each, and season with salt and pepper. In the center of each put a small floweret of cooked broccoli which has been seasoned with salt, pepper and margarine. Arrange the tomatoes on a round chop plate and between them place seasoned heads of broccoli. Pour the hot cheese sauce over the tomatoes and the broccoli.

WAFFLED FRITTERS

(An Eggplant Delight)

1 medium eggplant, peeled and sliced thin ½ teaspoon salt
1½ cups pancake mix ½ teaspoon vegetable herb blend
1 cup cool water 1 egg white
1 tablespoon salad oil

Drop the slices of eggplant into salted water until the batter is ready. Mix a batter by combining the pancake mix, water, salt, and herb blend. Mix until smooth and then beat the egg white stiff and fold in gently. Last of all fold in the salad oil. Drain the eggplant slices, dry between paper towels, and dip into flour so that they are lightly coated. These may be dipped in batter and then fried in a skillet in ¼ inch of hot fat. An easy and very different way of frying them is to heat the waffle iron as you would for waffles, dip the eggplant slice in the batter until coated, place in the waffle iron, close, and cook as you would a waffle.

SQUASH SQUARES IN SOUR CREAM

4 cups cubed, pared Acorn or Hubbard squash
 1 cup dairy sour cream
 1/2 teaspoon salt
 Dash pepper
 1/2 teaspoon monosodium glutamate
 1 medium onion, sliced
 2 tablespoons margarine
 1/2 teaspoon dill seed

Cook squash in boiling, salted water 15 minutes or till tender; drain well and sprinkle with pepper. Meanwhile cook onion in margarine till tender, but not brown; remove from heat, add sour cream, salt and monosodium glutamate, stirring well. Place hot cooked squash on platter; pour cream mixture over. Sprinkle with dill seed. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

STUFFED GREEN PEPPERS

1 tablespoon chopped onion
 2 tablespoons chopped celery
 2 tablespoons margarine
 2 teaspoons flour
 1/2 cup milk
 1/2 cup whole kernel corn
 1 cup chopped, cooked ham
 4 large or medium green peppers
 1/4 cup bread crumbs
 1 tablespoon margarine

Melt margarine, cook onion and celery in the margarine for about 2 minutes. Blend in the flour, add the milk and stir over medium heat until smooth and thickened. Fold in corn, ham and salt to taste. Cut a slice from top of green pepper and remove seeds and membrane. Fill with hot mixture. Top with buttered crumbs. Bake in greased baking dish for 20 to 25 minutes in 350° F. oven. Serve at once. Makes 4 servings.

PORK AND SWEET POTATO PIE

2 pounds pork shoulder
 3 medium onions
 2 bouillon cubes
 Salt, pepper, brown sugar, nutmeg, cinnamon
 1 can sliced apples
 2 tablespoons cornstarch
 3 cups mashed, cooked sweet potatoes
 Margarine

Trim fat from pork and fry out in a skillet; remove solid pieces. Cut pork into 1-inch cubes and brown with sliced onions in the hot fat. Drain off excess fat. Dissolve bouillon cubes in 1 1/2 cups hot water and add to meat. Sprinkle with 1 1/2 teaspoons salt, 1/2 teaspoon pepper, 1/2 cup brown sugar, 1 teaspoon nutmeg and 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon. Cover and cook over low heat until meat is nearly tender, about 1 1/2 hours. Add undrained apples, reserving 4 wedges for top of casserole. Cover and continue cooking over low heat until meat is tender, about 30 minutes. Spoon off any excess fat and thicken mixture with cornstarch which has been mixed to a paste with 2 tablespoons cold water. Pour into a 2 quart casserole. Season sweet potatoes with 1/2 teaspoon salt, a dash of pepper, 3 tablespoons brown sugar and 2 tablespoons margarine; spoon in ring around edge of casserole. Garnish center of casserole with reserved apple wedges. Bake, uncovered, at 350° F. until potatoes are lightly browned, about 30 minutes. Makes 6 servings.

"After the Game"

Across the countryside brilliant shades of orange, copper and gold herald autumn's arrival. It's the season for casual entertaining—a buffet supper during Homecoming festivities or a "drop in after the football game" party. Both can be fun for guests and hostess alike because they need not require hours of your time in the kitchen. Try the Pep Rally Bar-B-Q for teenage appetites and make the Kickoff Casserole for a buffet entrée. Add one or more of the other recipes in this Farm and Home section to your party menu and you're set for entertaining success!

DOUBLE CHOCOLATE PIE

Crust:
1½ cups crumbled chocolate cookies 3 tablespoons margarine

Filling:
1 6-ounce package (1 cup) semi-sweet chocolate morsels 2 egg whites, stiffly beaten
1 egg ¼ cups cream, whipped
2 egg yolks Whipped cream
2 tablespoons rum (optional) Chopped California walnuts

Line a greased 7-inch pie tin with mixture of crumbled chocolate cookies and margarine. Bake in 375° F. oven for 3 minutes.

To make filling, melt semi-sweet chocolate morsels over hot, not boiling, water. Beat in 1 whole egg and 2 egg yolks, one at a time. Add rum. Beat stiffly beaten egg whites into chocolate mixture and fold in whipped cream. Spoon mixture into shell and chill well. To serve, top with whipped cream and garnish with chopped walnuts.

SPARKLING PARFAIT

1 3-ounce package strawberry flavored gelatin Miniature marshmallows
1 cup boiling water Peach slices
1 cup ginger ale Whipped cream

Dissolve strawberry gelatin in water; add ginger ale. Chill until almost firm. Whip ¾ of gelatin until foamy; chill until firm. Alternate layers of clear gelatin, marshmallows and whipped gelatin in parfait glasses. Top with peach slices and whipped cream. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

FROZEN PARTY SALAD

1 cup salad dressing 2 tablespoons confectioners' sugar
1 8-ounce package cream cheese Few drops red food coloring
1 cup pineapple tidbits 2 cups miniature marshmallows
1 cup chopped canned apricots 1 cup heavy cream, whipped
½ cup chopped maraschino cherries Lettuce

Gradually add salad dressing to softened cream cheese, mixing until well blended. Stir in fruit, sugar and food coloring. Fold in the marshmallows and whipped cream. Pour into a 9 x 5-inch loaf pan; freeze. Unmold on lettuce. Makes 10 to 12 servings.

PEP RALLY BAR-B-Q

Topping:
½ cup chopped onion 2 tablespoons vinegar
½ cup chopped celery 1 tablespoon brown sugar
½ cup chopped green pepper 1½ teaspoons salt
2 tablespoons margarine 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1½ pounds ground beef Dash pepper
1 1-pint-2 fluid ounce can tomato juice Few drops spicy hot sauce
1 6-ounce can tomato paste

Corn Bread:
1 10-ounce package corn bread mix 1 egg, unbeaten
½ cup milk

For topping, lightly brown onion, celery and green pepper in margarine in large frying pan. Add ground beef; cook until brown. Stir in remaining ingredients; simmer slowly about 1 hour.

Mix corn bread with egg and milk according to package directions. Bake at 425° F. about 20 minutes.

To serve, cut corn bread into 6 pieces; split each horizontally. Place on cooky sheet. Broil until golden brown. Top with hot ground beef mixture. Makes 6 servings.

KICKOFF CASSEROLE

1 broiler-fryer chicken, cut in pieces 1 bay leaf
¾ cups water ½ cup diced celery
1½ teaspoons salt 1 10-ounce package frozen peas
1 teaspoon monosodium glutamate 5 tablespoons flour
¼ teaspoon pepper 3 tablespoons water
Strips of pimiento

Cover chicken with water. Add salt, monosodium glutamate, pepper, bay leaf and diced celery. Cover and cook 15 minutes; add vegetables; cook 15 minutes longer. Blend flour and 3 tablespoons water to a smooth paste; blend in small amount of hot broth. Return to broth in kettle. Bring to a boil, stirring constantly. Turn mixture into 2-quart oblong casserole. Top with Football Biscuits*. Bake in a hot oven (425° F.) 20 minutes. Place pimiento on top of "footballs". Yield: 6 servings.

*Football Biscuits

½ cup evaporated milk 2 cups prepared biscuit mix
½ cups water

Combine evaporated milk and water. Add to biscuit mix. Stir with fork; beat 15 strokes. Knead gently on lightly floured board or pastry cloth. Divide dough into 6 parts; shape into ovals. Make "laces" by dipping tip of spoon into evaporated milk and making indentations in each biscuit.

BROWNIES

1 6-ounce package (1 cup) semi-sweet chocolate morsels ½ teaspoon baking powder
½ cup margarine ¼ teaspoon salt
2 eggs 1 teaspoon vanilla
½ cup sugar ½ cup chopped California walnuts
½ cup flour

Melt semi-sweet chocolate morsels and margarine over hot (not boiling) water. Beat eggs with sugar until thick and lemon colored. Sift in flour, baking powder and salt. Stir in chocolate mixture, and vanilla. Turn into a greased 8-inch square pan. Sprinkle chopped walnuts on top of batter and press in lightly. Bake in 375° F. oven for 25 to 30 minutes. Cool, cut into squares and remove from pan. Makes 16 squares.

CHOCOLATE POLKA PUFFS

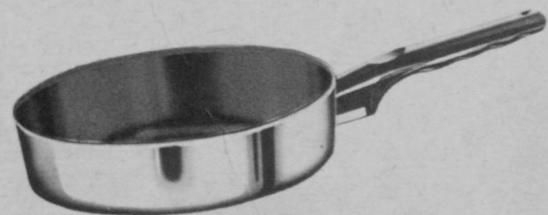

2 egg whites 2 cups corn flakes
¼ teaspoon salt 1 6-ounce package (1 cup) semi-sweet chocolate morsels, divided
1 cup confectioners' sugar, sifted
¼ teaspoon vanilla
1 cup shredded coconut

Beat egg whites and salt until stiff but not dry. Add sugar, about 2 tablespoons at a time, beating until very stiff. Beat in vanilla. Fold in coconut, corn flakes and ¾ package of semi-sweet chocolate morsels. Drop by teaspoonfuls on a well greased cookie sheet. Top each puff with 3 or 4 chocolate morsels. Bake at 300° F. for 20 minutes. Makes 2½ dozen cookies.
