

City Council Happy Over Finance; OK New Budget

City of Tawas City adopted a budget of $109,000 for 1966-1967 operation Monday night. This was $4,715 higher than budgeted disbursements for 1965-1966.

Actual money spent last year amounted to $104,242.43, or $42.57 lower than the budget, according to Supt. of Public Works Reginald Bublitz, who prepares the annual budget.

The city started its new year in March with a cash balance of $11,275. Receipts during 1965-1967 are expected to total $106,500.

Budgeted receipts include $35,000 from taxes, $2,800 from delinquent taxes, $17,400 from sales tax, $19,600 from Act 51, $18,000 from trunkline maintenance, $2,400 from traffic fines, $3,750 from intangible and liquor tax, $3,400 from fire calls, $2,680 from equipment rental and $2,170 from miscellaneous. Ten other receipt categories range from a low of $175 to $750.

Major disbursements include $21,000 for local streets; $8,850 for city hall (garage and equipment); $6,325 for police department; $6,870 for fire department; $6,200 for street lights, $3,100 for parks, $9,100 for new streets, $6,000 for state streets, $7,250 for refuse disposal; $4,100 for employee benefits, $3,400 for insurance, $8,000 for general ledger.

The city council adopted an appropriation ordinance Monday night of 10 mills, one-half mill higher than last year.

Councilmen expressed pleasure over the city's present financial condition and, noting the balanced budget of last year, believed that the extra revenue gained by the one-half mill, along with a valuation increase this year of approximately $200,000, equal to another one-half mill, would provide revenue for improvements deemed necessary.

The appropriation ordinance allocated 6 1/4 mills for contingent, $30,647.50; 1 1/2 mills for streets, $7,355.40; 1 1/4 mills for debt retirement, $8,581.30 and one-half mill for interest, $2,451.80. One-quarter mill was added to interest and one-quarter for contingent.

Operating as close as possible to its budget, the city has never spread the full four mills authorized by taxpayers for the sewer disposal system. Only two mills have been spread in the past as this was deemed sufficient to meet the budget.

Sewer Plan Grants Go to 2 Communities

Two Iosco County communities received notification last Thursday that the Department of Housing and Urban Development had approved public works planning advances.

According to telegrams sent jointly by United States Senators Patric McNamara and Philip A. Hart, $31,000 has been approved as a planning advance for East Tawas and $46,000 for Oscoda's project.

East Tawas has made application for a federal grant to aid in constructing its new sewage treatment plant improvements to its collection system. Two weeks ago, voters approved a general obligation bond issue to finance the city's share of the $750,000 project.

Oscoda's proposed $1,400,000 project is to include a sewage collection system, force mains and water treatment facilities. Construction is to get under way later this year.

May 13 Last Day to File Petitions

May 13 is the deadline for filing nominating petitions to become a candidate for the Tawas Area Board of Education at the annual school election June 13.

One vacancy exists on the board, through expiration of the four-year term of Walter Niles. Nominating petitions are available at the school office.

Clyde Soper, secretary, said that each candidate would be required to have his petition signed by 22 eligible voters—representing four percent of the highest number of votes given any one candidate at last year's election.

"It is a good idea to have a few extra signers in case some are found to be ineligible to sign a petition," said Soper. A person may sign only one petition.

Two Vacancies on Hale Area Board

There will be two vacancies to be filled on Hale Area Board of Education at the June 13 annual election, according to Supt. Paul Southerland.

Anyone interested in running for one of these vacancies can secure necessary forms from the school office.

Anyone interested in setting on the election board June 13 should turn in his name to the school office.

R. A. Rollin Named TC Mayor Pro Tem

Russell A. Rollin Sr., Second Ward alderman, was elected mayor pro tem at Monday night's meeting of the Tawas City Council.

Rollin is serving his second year on the council and has taken an active part in civic affairs since his retirement as Iosco County school superintendent.

Council committee appointments of Mayor George Tuttle were approved by the council as follows:

Finance and audit—Cecil Cable, Rollin, Clark Tanner; street and lighting—Howard Hatton, Clyde Evril, Daniel Ulrich; ordinance and licensing—Tanner, Hatton, Rollin; purchasing—Ulrich, Evril, Cable; building and grounds—Rollin, Cable, Ulrich; fire department—Evril, Hatton, Tanner.

Appointive officers included Reginald Bublitz as superintendent of public works; George Westcott, acting chief of police; James Lansky, fire chief; Clifford Spicer, city engineer; Alf C. Watson, city attorney; Albert Renwick, sanitary inspector.

Carl Schaaf was appointed to fill the vacancy of the late William Mallon on the joint water board. Other members are James Dillon and Hatton.

Continuation of 3-Mill Building Program Has Study Group's Support

Tawas Area School District voters, in all probability, will be asked to continue the three-mill special voted tax adopted for a building program in 1961.

At a special meeting Monday night, the board of education concurred with findings of a finance committee from the parent-teacher association which recommended continuing the millage for a new building program. This is the final year under the old pay-as-you-go plan.

Under consideration is using two mills for constructing and equipping an addition to the high school for vocational training. With an estimated valuation of $27,500,000, this would bring $55,000 annually for the program. The remaining one mill, raising $27,000 annually, would be for operation.

Further details on putting the question before voters June 13 are to be worked out at next Monday night's regular meeting. Duration of the millage was not considered at this week's special session. Also to be determined is the type of construction to be used—brick veneer or steel.

Action of the board of education came on recommendation of a citizens' advisory committee of the parent-teacher association, which finalized its report last week. Through its studies of present shop facilities at Tawas Area, followed by visits to other schools in the area, the citizens' advisory committee came to the conclusion that a definite need for an expanded vocational training program was established.

Under the proposition to be submitted for voters approval at the annual school election, a new concrete and steel structure would be constructed on the south end of the west wing. The building would contain approximately 6,500 square feet of floor space.

By utilizing steel construction, the advisory committee felt that the building could be added by continuing special millage voted for construction in 1961 and no new revenues would be required.

At Monday night's special board of education meeting, Prin. Ernest W. Jordan reported that present shop instruction at Tawas Area High School has an enrollment of 167 students. This includes three years of woodworking with two sections in each of the first two years and one section in the third year. There is one section of auto mechanics in a two-hour class and one section of drafting.

Expanded vocational training to utilize the new building would involve an enrollment of approximately 300 students. This would include expansion of vocational training into the junior high school for one semester.

The proposed shop program includes three sections of first year shop with a projected enrollment of 78. This course would include woodwork with emphasis on hand tools, introduction to sheet metal work, electricity, radial saw and drill press.

There would be two sections of second year shop with 50 students. Instruction would include wood and metal work, introduction to welding, power equipment, small power engine overhaul.

Third year shop with a projected enrollment of 50 would include building trades training, welding, tool and die work.

Auto mechanics would be offered as a two-year course. Projected enrollment of juniors during the first year would be 20 students. Instruction would include arc and gas welding, basic principles of combustion engine, classroom work, body work and welding.

The second year of auto mechanics would be seniors. This would include body work, painting and bumping, major engine overhaul and advanced tune-up.

There would be one course offered in mechanical drawing with an estimated enrollment of 25. An additional course would be offered in architectural drawing.

In addition to shop, the building could also house the art department and some of the commercial (See SHOP, page 6.)

Board Accepts '67 Budgets; Clear Decks for Allocations

Iosco County Allocation Board, Prescott is a nonvoting member of the board.

The board received budgets totaling $1,232,096, including a total of $643,600 from schools and $588,496 from the county board of supervisors. All townships but one, Tawas, requested one mill for operation as authorized by statute and township budgets are not included in the above total.

While all schools submitted budgets to the county allocation board, Whittemore-Prescott Area will be governed by Ogemaw County, which has the largest geographical area in the district.

With a state equalized valuation of $59,715,540, a total of 15 mills would raise $895,732 in taxes in Iosco County. In addition, the four schools cross county lines and last year had fractional state equalized values as follows in adjoining counties: Hale, $9,374,546; Oscoda, $29,086,561; Tawas Area, $27,327,979; Whittemore-Prescott, $11,886,619.

This would bring the four schools approximately $182,753 based on last year's allocation of nine mills. The above figures do not take into consideration the normal annual increase in state equalized valuation.

Iosco Intermediate School District submitted a budget request of $117,000 for operation, $3,800 lower than it requested and received in 1966.

Hale Area School entered a budget of $124,200, as compared to a budget of $121,800 in April 1965. Under last year's allocation, it actually received $81,000. This did not include special operational millage approved by voters.

Oscoda Area School entered a budget of $300,000, as compared to $261,800 last year. After the tax split in May, Oscoda received operational revenue from local taxes of $252,000.

Tawas Area School entered a budget of $287,700, as compared to $245,900 requested in April 1965. At the final allocation meeting, Tawas Area received $243,000 based on an allocation of nine mills.

The county's budget for 1967, as submitted Monday by the board of supervisors, is $448,496. With anticipated fees from offices amounting to $60,000, this would leave $388,496 to be raised by taxes.

Last year, the county submitted a budget of $406,200 and, with anticipated fees of $60,000, had $346,200 to be raised by taxes.

After the smoke cleared during the final allocation board meeting, the county actually received $275,536 based on an allocation of 4.8 mills.

Regional Library Marks Two Events

This week marks a double observance for Iosco-Arenac Regional Library—it is 12 years old this month and the week of April 17-23 has been designated as National Library Week.

"Our annual report may be pre-ty dry reading for the average person, but residents may be interested to know that the regional library's book collection has grown from about 15,000 volumes 12 years ago to total volumes now of 69,019," states Mrs. C. R. McMullen, acting director.

This represents an increase of 2,716 volumes over the preceding year. New books in the collection during 1965 included 1,173 for juveniles, 547 new adult fiction, 693 in the nonfiction category for adults, 209 adult fiction gift books, 84 nonfiction adult gift books and 20 juvenile gift books.

The regional library had a total book circulation of 165,578 at its eight branches, 10 bookmobile stops and 12 schools served.

The regional library receives eight weekly and daily newspapers; 345 periodicals, 74 subscription periodicals, 396 pictures, 304 recordings, 251 subject pamphlets and 635 filmstrips. Filmstrips were viewed by 16,500 children and adults during 1965.

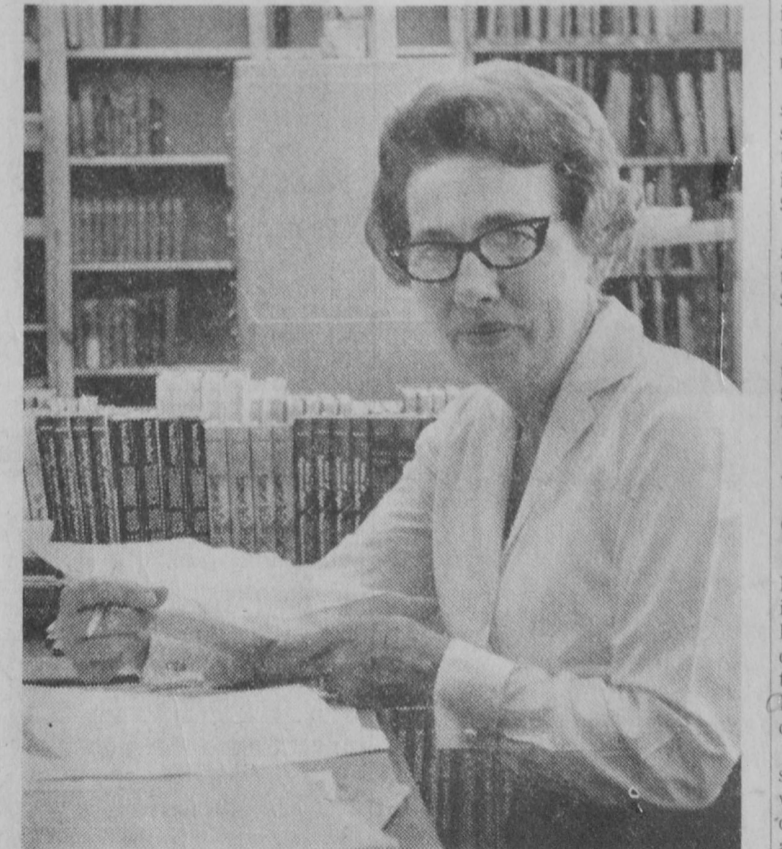

From its headquarters in the former Alabaster school, the regional library serves branches at Oscoda, East Tawas, Tawas City, Whittemore, Hale, AuGres and Standish; community bookmobile stops at AuSable, Maple Ridge, Twining, Singing Bridge, Omer, Brown's Landing, Turner, Sterling, Alabaster, Point Lookout, Alger and Sand Lake. The latter three are summer stops.

The regional library serves the following schools from its branches: East Tawas Elementary, Tawas City Elementary, AuGres-Sims Elementary, Hale Area School, Emanuel Lutheran, Immaculate Heart of Mary, Standish Elementary, Whittemore Elementary, Prescott Elementary, Zion Luther-

Youth Corps Jobs Open at State Park

Six positions are open at Tawas Point State Park to young people interested in joining the Neighborhood Youth Corps. This program is designed to provide employment to high school graduates while looking for full-time employment or for drop-outs.

Park Manager A. Ray Prosch said that year-around positions were available at a starting salary of $1.25 per hour for both boys and girls. They would help park rangers in seeding, cleaning beaches or working in the office.

$2,315,203 Increase Noted Over Last Year

Iosco County's equalized tax base for 1967 is $59,715,540, an increase of $2,315,203 over the preceding year's valuation. This is an increase of approximately four percent and would raise revenues for local government and schools approximating that raised by about one-half mill on the old total.

This report was finalized Monday afternoon by the board of supervisors' equalization committee, which applied state percentage factors against those units not assessing at 100 percent of state equalized valuation.

Total equalized valuation of real estate is $47,086,392 and total equalized personal is $12,629,148.

Total assessed valuation of the county is $36,393,537, as brought in by township and city supervisors. This included $29,735,064 in real property and $6,658,473 in personal.

Real property showed a $647,105 increase over assessed value brought in for 1966 and personal property had a $76,441 increase. Total real estate increase of $934,038 was high enough to offset a $210,492 loss noted for personal. Much of the personal loss was attributed to depreciation of industrial and commercial equipment.

A resume of township and city state equalized valuation figures along with SEV ratio and percentage of county total, is as follows:

Alabaster—Real, $3,068,100; personal, $1,307,400; total equalized, $4,375,500; 100 percent of SEV and 7.32 percent of county total.

To Observe 100th Birthday of S. School

One hundred years ago, April 22, 1866, the East Tawas Methodist Sunday School met for the first time. The meeting was held in a shed belonging to a lumbering firm, Smith, VanValkenburg and Company, located a short distance inside the east end of what is now East Tawas City Park. Organizer of the group was the wife of the director of the lumbering firm, Mrs. Anna Smith.
There was no house of worship of any kind in the vicinity at the time, Mrs. Smith, desiring to provide the opportunity for religious worship and study, organized a group of about a dozen like-minded people and the group eventually grew into the Methodist congregation of East Tawas. They organized and in time, built the present Methodist Church structure. Erected in 1870, it was the first house of worship in the entire county.

Friday, April 22, at 10:00 a. m. the large bell in the tower will be rung 100 times, one stroke for each year of the Sunday school's existence.

Sunday, April 24, the Sunday school will meet at the worship hour, 11 o'clock, in the church proper for an observance of the centennial. At that time, the Rev. Donald Turbin will read an account of the history of the Sunday school and church, written by Miss Edna Otis, county historian and

THE BIBLE SPEAKS TO YOU
The necessity for continuing spiritual growth to realize eternal life is a central theme of this Sunday's service at all Christian Science churches. Subject of the Bible lesson is "Probation After Death." The Golden Text is from James: "Let patience have her perfect work, that ye may be perfect and entire, wanting nothing."
Readings to be presented along with the Bible include these lines from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Individuals are consistent who, watching and praying, can 'run, and not be weary; . . . walk, and not faint,' who gain good rapidly and hold their position, or attain slowly and yield not to discouragement. God requires perfection, but not until the battle between Spirit and flesh is fought and the victory won."

 courses, both of which would be expanded. Two years of art would be offered with two sections the first year and one section of advanced.

Shop, Revnold Mick said that the expanded vocational training program reflects a change in the emphasis of teaching now revolutionizing schools throughout the state. Heretofore, most school programs had been based on preparing students for college entrance. The concept now is to train those students not college-bound in skills and trades which would prove valuable in obtaining higher skilled jobs after graduation.
 "The big hope in this training," said Mick, "is to offer the opportunity for the student to find the field in which he is interested."
 In the operational end of Tawas' proposed new vocational program, Mr. Mick said that one additional shop teacher would be required. Under present enrollment, he said that there probably would be a shifting of teachers into different areas of instruction.

HERALD ADVERTISING DOESN'T COST IT PAYS!

"Don't be caught dead sitting on your seat belt." With those words as a rallying cry, America's 11,000 linen-supply driver salesmen will be helping save lives while they ply their truck routes this Spring.

According to the National Safety Council, you are at least 35% safer when you drive "buckled up" than you are with no seat belt to keep you from slamming into the windshield in an emergency. Although all new cars now are sold with seat belts, many drivers still resist using them.

"It's a fact," says Samuel B. Shapiro, executive director of the Linen Supply Association of America, "that probably five thousand people died last year who didn't have to. The National Safety Council says that's how many lives might have been saved out of the 30,000 who died in automobile accidents."

If seat belts are so vital, why aren't more people using them? "We think people will use them more if they're reminded often enough," said Shapiro. That's where the 11,000 trucks of the 1,381 member companies of the association come in. Many of the Linen Supply trucks, which have helped other public service campaigns in the past, will be seen everywhere with their new safety signs bearing the reminder to millions of automobile drivers: "Safety is a Snap. (Buckle Up)"

In addition, decals bearing the words: "Don't be caught dead sitting on your seat belt" will be distributed free by many member companies.

Tradesmen Caught 'Napping' When Builders License Bill Became Law

Caught unaware by the new Residential Builders License Law, which was passed by the state legislature and signed into law by the governor March 30, individual tradesmen of Northern Michigan have banded together to make their collective voices heard as one at Lansing.

"We small fellows in the building trades—from carpenters to shrimbery men—were caught napping by this bill. Now that it is law, we will have to learn to live with it."

Speaking was John Proctor of East Tawas, following a meeting of 115 building tradesmen last Wednesday night at Oscoda. Proctor is but one of hundreds of small one-man operators in Northern Michigan, who make their living by contracting on a small scale in the building trades.

Under senate bill No. 813, which takes effect September 1, all persons engaged in business as a residential builder, in residential maintenance or as an alteration contractor, are to be licensed by the state. The measure was ordained as a safeguard to protect home owners.

Through cooperation of members of the legislature in amending the original bill, building tradesmen believe they have salvaged the power to regulate their own industry.

The new law fixes standards of qualifications and eligibility for such contractors through a required written examination and creates a state residential builders' and maintenance alteration contractors' board.

This eight-man board, representing the building trades, the building supply industry and building trades unions, will promulgate rules and regulations setting standards of conduct, performance, qualifications and fitness of applicants; examination of applicants; conduct of investigation; settlement of complaints and disciplinary procedures.

The board is also to prescribe the conditions, form and sufficiency of a bond, not less than $2,000 nor more than $10,000, required for each contractor.

"Under its original form, this bill was a very vicious one for the small contractor and I, for one, have seriously considered quitting my own business to seek employment with a large firm," said Proctor.

Under the law, each tradesman is to be licensed to do the specific job for which he has qualified with the state board. The law would not prohibit a specialty contractor from taking and executing a contract involving the use of two or more crafts or trades if performance of the work, other than in which he is licensed, is incidental and supplemental to the craft for which he is licensed.

No application would be refused a licensee without an opportunity for a hearing before the commission. Satisfactory proof of having been engaged in the business of contracting for the erection, construction, alteration, repair of residential and commercial structures for a period of five years would be prima facie proof of the applicant's fitness to carry on the business and would not be required to take the examination.

The matter of bonding may prove to be a stumbling block for the small contractor. Kenneth Conn, Tawas City insurance agent who attended Wednesday night's meeting, told the Herald that he represents three different bonding companies and that none would underwrite the small contractor under the present penalty clause of the law.

He explained that bonding companies, for their own protection, normally require that the contractor have a "net quick" cash available from one to four times the amount to be bonded.

"From the premium and underwriting standpoint, the penalty clause of this law could be a horrible nightmare," said Conn. He could foresee serious complications arising when, on investigation of complaint, payment to contractors for work performed was withheld until the matter was settled by the commission.

Regulating the building trades industry has long been needed, said Proctor, but he was quick to point out that the present law was aimed at controlling construction in the metropolitan areas and gave little consideration to circumstances in the northern part of the state.

The law provides a $1,000 fine and up to six months in jail for the first violation and a stiffer penalty for the second violation.

Affected are any tradesmen in carpentry, concrete work, electrical work, garage building, swimming pools, waterproofing basements, excavation and sewer installation, floor laying, heating and air conditioning installation, insulation work, lathing, masonry work, painting and decorating, plastering, plumbing, roofing and siding, screens and storm sash installation, sheet metal work, tile and marble work, house moving and raising, house wrecking.

'Tips' Count as Wages Under SS Benefits

"Medicare" was not the only change made in social security by the 1965 amendments to the social security law. Paul M. Ellifritz, social security district manager, Bay City, stated that while medicare was a major change, there were other important changes in the 1965 amendments.

Mr. Ellifritz said that one such change of importance to many workers, involved "tips." He stated that tips under certain conditions will be considered wages beginning January 1, 1966, and must be reported for social security purposes from then on. To many people, this will mean higher social security benefits at retirement, in case of disability, or for their survivors if they should die.

To be included as wages, Mr. Ellifritz stated, tips must amount to $20 or more in one month while working for any one employer.

Mr. Ellifritz said that under the new amendments, the individual is required to make a written report of his cash tips to his employer at the end of each month if they total $20 or more. The employer is responsible for reporting regular wages as well as tips to the Internal Revenue Service.

All employees receiving tips as wages are urged to write or visit the Bay City Social Security Office and ask for booklet number six, "A Brief Explanation on Tips and Wages Under Social Security."

A social security representative for this area will be at the Losco County Building, Tawas City, Thursday, April 28, from 10:30 a. m. until 2:30 p. m.

Consumers Power Starts Historical Treasure Hunt

An unusual historical treasure hunt is under way in Michigan. The treasure may be almost anywhere—in attics, in basements in garages—and probably is concealed in rusty tin cans.

It is old film footage, shot in Michigan between 1900 and the 1930s. If it can be found, some of it may wind up in an important new motion picture being produced by Consumers Power Company for use in Michigan schools.

An appeal for help in locating these rare and often unique bits of film is being made by motion picture producer, William Murray of Portafilm, who is researching a half-hour film of Michigan during the first half of the twentieth century.

The new motion picture, commissioned by Consumers Power, will be the third and last in a series of award-winning films about Michigan's history.

Since the movie camera was not invented until 1888 and because motion pictures did not come into general use until early in the twentieth century, the two earlier films utilized drawings, etchings, sketches and paintings of the period. These were brought to life by a process called iconographic animation.

Murray says he is trying to contact as many of Michigan's old-time movie men as can be found, as well as persons who knew the ones who have died. He hopes in this way to discover long-forgotten caches of old film.

Hello Everyone! What's new with fiberglass? What we already know is that glass fabrics have tended to be a bit stiff, to break from rubbing against window sills, to have some seam slippage and sometimes to gray as they age.

Prepare for a new look. The filaments of fiberglass beta are only one-third the diameter of earlier ones. The fabric has a softer hand, drapes better, is easier to sew.

What amazes me is that one of the marbles formed in production of fiberglass (five-eighths inch in diameter) will yield over 100 miles of yarn.

Fiberglass beta yarn is made in fabrics by several companies, thus performance qualities will vary. Curtains, draperies and bedspreads are available. To be entirely satisfactory, anything combined with glass should be pre-shrunk (bindings, padding, thread).

Washing fiberglass fabric is simple if you have a place to drip dry it. Wet washing can be done for you by the dry cleaners and is a recommended method. Do not use any drycleaning fluid. Tell the dry cleaner what your fabric is.

Fabrics can be woven in a variety of ways and weights, even novelty weaves. Ways are being found to dye the glass and it is predicted we will have fabrics for clothing with glass in the blend.

Draperies carrying the rovena label must meet exact specifications for the saran flat monofilament in the lengthwise yarn. This is required by the certification program of Dow Chemical Company, who developed it. The label says: "Flame resistant, washable, dry cleanable, abrasion resistant, fade resistant."

How long should window fabrics last? The National Institute of Dry Cleaners suggests a life of three years for sheer curtains and draperies, four years for unlined draperies and five years for lined ones.

This will vary due to care and sunlight exposure. Longer wear results from frequent cleaning. Sunlight weakens all cellulose fibers, natural and synthetic. Often, we take down a curtain or drapery that is greatly weakened, though we cannot see it. Agitation and weight of fabric when wet brings tears or slits, making it appear that the cleaning or laundering did the damage.

If you want to have the effect created by an acetate fabric, then choose one labelled estron SLR (sunlight resistant) acetate.

Window shades can match your draperies, upholstery or wall covering. It is possible because of two new variations of the shade cloth called "tontine." They have a heat-sensitive adhesive on one side. An iron-on operation laminates the fabric or other material of your choice to the shade, in widths up to 68 inches.

"Miscellany" is the word for what is new in fabrics next week.

College Test Forms Available from SS

Application forms for the new selective service college qualification test are available at all Michigan local board offices, it was announced today by Col. W. J. Myers, deputy state director.

The tests will be given May 14, May 21 and June 3 at 32 examination centers in Michigan. Application forms and information bulletins describing the test may be obtained by selective service registrants at any local board office. Applications must be postmarked no later than April 23.

The qualification test may be taken by any selective service registrant who is presently enrolled in college or is a high school senior or graduate and has not previously taken this test. It is recommended that the test be taken by any registrant who intends to request occupational deferments as a college student. Test results will be reported to the students local board.

The three-hour written examination will provide local boards with evidence of the relative qualifications of registrants for college study or of their aptitude for continued college work. Colleges will also be asked this spring to report on class ranking of male students as a measure of achievement.

Examination centers in Michigan will include colleges located at Adrian, Albion, Ann Arbor, Benton Harbor, Berrien Springs, Big Rapids, Dearborn, Detroit, East Lansing, Flint, Grand Rapids, Highland Park, Hillsdale, Holland, Houghton, Ironwood, Jackson, Kalamazoo, Marquette, Mt. Pleasant, Muskegon, Port Huron, Sault Ste. Marie, Traverse City and Ypsilanti.

Application forms have been sent to all high schools in Iosco County and may also be located there.

IDC Fund Drive Opens May 1

This is the second of two articles dealing with the Tawas Area Industrial Development Corporation. This first article briefly explained the theory and purpose of this corporation while this week's article will deal with the role each and every resident in the Tawas Area plays in this corporation.

By LEONARD CALABRESE
President
Tawas Chamber of Commerce

Beginning May 1, through May 15, Tawas Area IDC will conduct a fund-raising drive with a goal of $20,000. Seven men have already been selected to coordinate the drive in their areas which are East Tawas, Tawas City, Baldwin, Alabaster and Tawas Townships. During this time, residents will be asked to invest in the Tawas Area IDC (details concerning this investment will be explained prior to the drive).

Many may ask just why they are being asked to participate financially in this corporation? Although on a much larger scale, investment in the United States through United States Savings Bonds is identical in theory with investment in the Tawas Area through shares in our IDC. United States Bonds return four dollars for every three invested after 10 years and this return is direct to the investor.

I point out the quality of direct return, because the return of one's investment in shares of the IDC will most likely not be direct. The return will come through the growth of the economy that results from increasing and maintaining industry in our area. Why will all be asked to support the IDC? Because all will benefit from its success.

Many will wisely consider the risk of this investment in a non-profit corporation, and ask why take the risk? Whether we like it or not, investment and risk must always be considered together. Perhaps a better question would be is it worth the risk, this investment of $5, $50 or more? Consider the existing discontent of many of our senior and junior citizens, the migration from our area and you must answer that the risk is worth the investment.

At this point, it is important that we not overlook the existing industry in our area and be justly proud of the contribution it is offering to the economic stability of this area. It is another function of an IDC to maintain existing industry if at all possible. This is accomplished both through conferences and the loaning of money to an industry as the need arises.

Many parents do not like to see their children leave the area solely because of lack of employment so here is an opportunity to do something about this problem. Retail businesses, churches, operations financed by tax collections, service and professional businesses, etc., will obviously get their share of the industrial payroll. Yes, even existing industry benefits from sound industrial growth.

So investment in the Tawas Area IDC is an opportunity to prepare the Tawas for the existing and future economic growth of the nation. Let us not forget that the risk is very small for the rewards available. Do not feel that the geographical location of the area or relative location to interstate highways has put us out of the industrial picture, because we have had the opportunity for industry but we were not prepared. The IDC is the answer to being prepared for industrial stability. You cannot afford not to be a part of this important step forward for our area.

Gasoline Engines Need Spring Care

The life of small engines—like those on lawn mowers—can be "materially shortened" if they are not correctly cared for when being put back into service after storage.

Robert G. White, Michigan State University agricultural engineer, says hours of headache and trouble can be avoided by giving a little more attention to putting the engine into service. Here are his suggestions for lawn mower spring tune-up:

1. Remove the spark plug and pour two tablespoons of half-and-half mixture of gasoline and lubricating oil into the cylinder. Replace spark plug and crank engine slowly once. Do not connect spark plug wire.
2. Again remove spark plug and crank engine rapidly several times to blow excess fuel and oil mixture out the spark plug hole. Be sure to ground spark plug wire so that spark will not start fire.
3. Clean and regap spark plug properly and replace, using a new plug gasket. Tighten spark plug snugly but do not over tighten. Always use a spark plug wrench. With two-stroke cycle engines, be sure a special two-stroke cycle spark plug is used.
4. With four-stroke cycle engine, drain crankcase, flush with flushing oil or light motor oil, drain again and refill to proper level with correct grade and viscosity motor oil.
5. Drain all old fuel from fuel tank and carburetor. Clean fuel filters or screens, refill fuel tank and carburetor. Use of regular grade gasoline is permissible unless the operator's manual specifically calls for a non-leaded or white gasoline.

With two-stroke cycle engines, add lubricating oil to gasoline in proportion called for in operator's manual. Always thoroughly mix fuel and oil for two-stroke cycle engines before filling fuel tank.

6. Check air intake system and clean air filtering elements. If oil-soaked filtering element is used, wash in fuel, swing briskly to throw out fuel, dip in motor oil, shake off surplus oil and replace.

7. Remove air control shields of air-cooled engine and all trash, grass, grease, etc., from cooling fins. Replace air control shields.

8. Start engine and operate slowly for several minutes before putting engine to work. Engine will probably smoke badly for a few minutes.

If gum has formed in fuel tank, lines or carburetor, it may be dissolved with acetone or a half-and-half mixture of alcohol and benzol. Your mower should now be ready to tackle the grass.

Mott Ranch at Hale Admitted to AHA

Mott Ranch, Hale, was recently named to membership in the American Hereford Association, the world's largest purebred registry organization with headquarters in Kansas City, Missouri.

One hundred twenty-two Hereford breeders were placed on the association's official roster during March. The association maintains active accounts for more than 60,000 breeders of registered Herefords over the nation.

The Hereford association, during the last fiscal year, recorded 463,784 purebred calves. The year's total recordings were the 11th highest on record and almost twice the combined registrations of other major beef breeds.

MICHIGAN DEER HUNTERS ASSOCIATION, recently formed with its headquarters at Oscoda, has been showered by more than 3,000 applications for membership in the organization. One of the originators, Paul Harvey Jr., is shown here with a batch of letters received the first week. The organization's prime object is to seek a moratorium on antlerless deer hunting for two years.—Tawas Herald Photo.

Calling to some hunters—who have been loud in protest, but never organized until this month—has been the number of "doe" permits issued in the state. Complaints have ranged from the "unmanageable size" of districts for such hunting by hunters who agree with the theory of balancing the herd with available food supply, to an out-and-out claim by a minority that "game biologists are nitwits."

The thinking of organizers of this new group appears to lie in the middle ground between these two extremes.

"We are tired of being called uneducated, stupid and foolish and of being fed a line of propaganda and distorted truths by the conservation department," states Harvey. "From now on, we want action and we certainly intend to get it. We promise to work with each other—the conservation department, the legislature, any clubs, groups or individuals striving for the common goal—preserving the Michigan deer herd."

The letter mailed to association members urged them to stand up and be counted when it comes time to vote, if the legislature does not measure up to its responsibilities and stop the killing of antlerless deer for at least two years.

Besides Harvey, other officers are Willard Musolf, vice president; John VanPatton, Marvin Milliron and William Colbath, directors.

JAMES STEWART matches his Shenandoah power against the law of the West in "The Rare Breed." Also starring in this thrilling western are Maureen O'Hara and Brian Keith. This Technicolor feature will open Thursday, April 21, at the Family Theatre in East Tawas.

Postal Membership Avalanche Swamps New Hunters' Group

"We have been swamped with mail—more than 3,000 letters during the first week—the response has made us feel that our efforts to form this organization were worthwhile and has given us the incentive to go ahead with our work with added zeal and determination."

Speaking was Paul Harvey Jr., who with a group of fellow Oscodans, organized the Michigan Deer Hunters Association. With its present membership, it is the second largest sportsmen's group in the state and is still growing.

Principal object of this group is to force a two-year moratorium on antlerless deer hunting, claiming that the Michigan Department of Conservation made a tremendous "error" in estimating the state's deer herd last year.

Literature mailed out last week by the Oscoda group charged that the state probably had about 200,000 deer last fall instead of the estimated 800,000.

"Right now, with thousands of acres of land in the soil bank, there is enough feed available in Northern Lower Michigan to support four to five times as many deer as we now have," said Harvey.

Game biologists throughout the country, who during recent years have come to the forefront in deer herd management, say that a deer herd—whether in Michigan or Pennsylvania—must be balanced with available food and space. Admitting that through such controlled antlerless deer hunting seasons there will be less deer to be seen, they maintain that a healthy herd can be more beneficial to all concerned—including the deer.

Oscoda Downed Tawas Area, 6-1, With 1-Hit Pitching

Tawas Area Braves hit the ball solidly Friday but fell before the one-hit pitching of Oscoda's H. Kelly to open the NBC baseball season.

The Oscoda team jumped into a lead by one run in the third inning and then scored five times in the fourth. Tawas Area scored its lone tally in the sixth inning and lost, 6-1.

Kelly was the game's batting star with a bases-loaded triple in the big fourth inning and batted in one run with his single in the third.

Bob Sieloff started on the mound for Tawas. He gave up four walks, three hits and one run in the first three innings and then gave way to Dale Koepke during Oscoda's fourth inning. After the first batter facing him was safe on an infield error to score Kelly, Koepke retired the next two men in order. He blanked Oscoda the rest of the way while giving up two hits.

Fairfield was the lone Tawas player to solve Kelly's slants with a double in the sixth inning. He scored later on two infield outs.

Trooper Robert Huddy Receives Promotion
Trooper Robert S. Huddy, who transferred recently from East Tawas to the Michigan State Police safety and traffic division, East Lansing, has been promoted to detective and assigned to the fire marshal's division at Rockford.

In the event this full slate continues through the next meeting April 21, the league roster will consist of 16 teams to be divided into two divisions for travel, convenience and balance.

In the election of officers, there was only one change. Dr. B. J. Jones of Standish was re-elected as president, Dan Horn of Crump, vice president (the only change) and Floyd E. Perlberg, veteran secretary-treasurer from Standish, who was around at the time of the original organization, was again named to that office.

Most important business after the reorganization was the reading and hopeful acceptance of the various alterations of the league's constitution made by a committee selected at the last meeting of 19-65.

Alterations and additions were presented to directors and after discussion the changes were approved by a 10 to one vote.

TA Senior Won Three 1sts at Track Meet at Oscoda

Senior Dale MacLean, who showed great promise here in track as a sophomore, missed his junior year at Tawas when he ran under the colors of Midland High, returned to action for the Braves last Tuesday and whirled away to three firsts in the quadrangular meet held at Oscoda.

MacLean's leap of 20 feet, eight inches, won first place in the long jump and set a new school record; his time of 23.1 seconds was good for first place in the 220-yard dash and set another school record; his 10.35 in the 100-yard dash was another first place and only one-tenth of the second off the school record.

The Tawas track team of Coach Bob McDonald finished behind Bay City Central and Alpena High, both class A schools, in over-all competition. Host Oscoda was at the bottom of the rung. Bay City counted 83 points, Alpena had 47, Tawas had 38 and Oscoda counted 28.

Dick Grebe helped Tawas' overall effort in the event with a second in high jump, five feet, seven and two-thirds inches. Haglund and Inglis were the only other individual Tawas thinclads to post in the scoring, both registering a fifth place.

Tawas 880-yard relay team won a third, as did the mile relay team.

Up to Parents to Provide Officials for Baseball Program

Are all youngsters living in the Tawas area?

This is the question being asked this week by officials of the junior baseball program, who are now at an absolute loss as to what can be done to keep this popular program operating this summer.

"We have called three meetings during recent weeks in an effort to interest parents in taking over vacancies existing on our list of managers," said Raymond "Pete" Rescoe. "There were only two of us at Friday night's meeting."

While there was a scarcity of managers and umpires last year, the problem has become acute in 1966. Many of the younger men who had participated are now working in metropolitan areas and their places have not been filled.

Of the 18 teams ready to participate in the program after school closes for the term, only five or six have managers. About 400 boys between the ages of nine and 16 are involved in Knothole, Pony and nine-year-old leagues.

"Surely, there must be a few parents interested enough in their own children to help us out with this program—we might as well say it right now, that unless enough parents volunteer their assistance, these baseball leagues of long standing may have to fold or at least curtail the number of participants," said Rescoe.

Parents may learn that this program can be a lot of fun for them, too, said Rescoe. "Can you think of anything better for a father to do than to spend a few hours each week with his own son and his son's friends?"

A meeting is to be held Friday, April 22, 8:00 p. m., at the American Legion Hall, East Tawas. Officers of the junior baseball program say that if 13 or 14 dads do not volunteer their services as managers, this summer's baseball program will be in jeopardy.

"Everyone is always so concerned about juvenile delinquency and many complaints are heard that there are just not enough activities for youngsters in this area, here is one activity that is already organized with good equipment and uniforms. The one ingredient missing is the active support of parents," said Rescoe.

Hale Area Thinclads Split in Practice Meets

Hale Area School thinclads split the decision in two practice meets the past week, losing to Posen, 45-35, and defeating West Branch, 60-49. Next outing will find the Eagles extending the invitational meet April 23 at Traverse City.

Coach Vern Reed has 23 boys on his squad. Returning lettermen include Capt. Duane Gruber, Lyle McKenzie, Ed Wright, Wayland Funk, Larry Drengberg and Dan Maas.

A newcomer to track this spring, although a senior, has been Jim McMurray, who won the half mile at West Branch. The 880-relay team of Funk, Wright, McKenzie and Gruber has looked exceptional during the first two meets.

The Eagles are to participate in the April 29 Chip Relays at Central Michigan University, Mt. Pleasant.

Hale Eagles Lost to AuGres, 14-2, in Season Opener

Hale Area Eagles lost to AuGres, 14-2, in the baseball opener last Tuesday. The game had been scheduled at Hale but was transferred to the winners' home field because of wet grounds. It was the Hale squad's first appearance out of doors this season.

Lyle McKenzie started on the mound, followed by Mike Bielby and Lane Taber. Hale had five hits off D. Pendered, winning pitcher, two by George Maas and one each by Cheney and Morgan.

Other action in North Star League scheduling this spring finds Hale at Mio on April 18, Rose City at Hale on April 25, Hale at AuGres on May 2, Hale at Whittemore on May 5 and Mio at Hale on May 9.

Some habits are hard to break.

Like drying clothes outdoors. But most of the things you hear about fresh air drying are myth. Because a gas dryer dries your clothes softer, cleaner—and just as sweet smelling. Without exposing them to harsh winds or the dust that's in the air.

A gas dryer does the job when fresh air can't. At midnight. Or in a rainstorm. We can't claim that gas, like air, is free. But you can do five loads in a gas dryer for the cost of doing one in the other kind.

See the latest gas dryer models now on display at your dealer or Michigan Consolidated Gas Company showroom. Or call us at 362-4458 in Tawas, and we'll have a Gas Company representative come out to your home and talk with you about the advantages of gas dryers. One of them is free installation. Inside.

MAKE A MAD PLAID!

MAKE IT SIZZLE . . . MAKE IT STRETCH . . . MAKE IT SWING . . . AND, OF COURSE, MAKE IT RIGHT! Bold plaids and colors have never been more important and here are two patterns which lend themselves to a wonderful "anything-that's-fun-and-right-for-you" feeling.

THE SLEEVED PLAID has the interesting "plus" of its pretty patch pockets whose flaps hold the trim belt. Collarless, it makes a smart A-line dress as we've shown it here—if you want to have a figure-skimming jumper, simply keep it sleeveless.

THE ZIPPY JUMPER lends itself to those huge flashing zippers that brighten young sportswear so perkily. This Simplicity pattern 6029 would be perfect in denim, corduroy or homespun but whichever fabric you choose, make it blindingly bright!

OUR BELTED DRESS (6092) is one of Simplicity's special "Personal-Fit" patterns which means—happily—that it has an extra feature included for those who require something in the way of inch-changing; the waist and hip can be made larger (or smaller) than the regular size of the pattern you select.

MORE AND MORE S-T-R-E-T-C-H!

Just about every kind of print, plaid or novelty can now be purchased by the yard in wonderfully "give-able" stretch fabrics. The fabric allows a garment to "give" while it is being worn and return to its original shape after it has been taken off. The fabric can be made to stretch in three different ways: those with cross-wise stretch are usually used to provide "give" at the shoulders and hips; lengthwise stretch is generally required for slacks and shorts and those with two-way stretch, found in bathing suits and foundation garments, are presently available only in ready-to-wear.

TECHNICAL TID-BITS

Stretch is produced in a fabric in any of three ways by special construction of synthetic yarns (twisting), by wrapping a stretchable synthetic filament with staple fibers of any kind (core spun or wrapped spandex), or by chemical treatment (slack mercerization for cotton, plus-X for wool).

A HINT OR TWO

. . . will help you to get the results you should and do keep in mind that actionwear such as we're showing you here is best made of a fabric that will go with you. Here are just a few. Use interfacing to stabilize areas where stretch is not needed or desired . . . when stitching, do it in the direction of the "stretch" and feed the fabric evenly and slowly through the machine . . . pink or overcast edges and make tailor's hems . . . use simple patterns, such as these and use the same size you normally would . . . use TASLAN thread for sewing—it's a textured nylon especially designed for knits and stretch and has the "give" that corresponds to these modern fabrics.

If you would like to have a leaflet which explains working with stretch in greater detail, just send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to the Sewing Editor of this newspaper along with your request.

Grangers Hear Letter on 'Beautification'

At a recent meeting of Whittemore Grange, Master Brian Bellville presided and Mrs. Marguerite Aulerich, community progress chairman, read a letter concerning the "beautification program" endorsed by Mrs. Lyndon Johnson. Grangers decided to do what they could toward making the community a more beautiful place in which to live.

Next Grange card party will be Saturday evening, April 23, 8 o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. Brian Bellville gave an interesting report of the farmers and world affairs conference which they attended recently at Dowling. The conference is sponsored jointly by Michigan State Grange, Michigan Farm Bureau and Michigan Farmers Union to promote an understanding of some of the problems of the world. South American countries were discussed at this year's conference with emphasis on economic and social development, agriculture, United States relationships and responsibilities and the status of women.

Mrs. Mina Bellville, lecturer, reported on the legend of the Easter flower.

Pot-luck lunch completed the evening.
