Doug. Eaton Seeks Fed. School Funds

Douglas Eaton, 45, who served AuGres-Sims School District for 13 years, six of them as superintendent, has returned to area schools as federal program coordinator for Bay-Arenac and Iosco intermediate school districts.

Eaton's present job will be to become knowledgeable on federal legislation concerning aid to education, prepare applications and advise school boards on federal programs available under the Elementary and Secondary Education Act.

He will continue to make his home at Saginaw, working out of the Bay-Arenac office at Essexville and the Iosco Intermediate School District office, which this week moved to East State Street, East Tawas.

Eaton will be working primarily with the 10 smaller school districts in the three-county area concerning applications under three different federal titles: 1. Educationally and culturally deprived; 2. Libraries; 3. Instructional material centers.

Two schools of Iosco, Oscoda and Whittemore-Prescott Area, took advantage of the first named program in Operation Headstart last summer. Tawas is making application this year.

Eaton will be spending most of his time with Title II applications concerning libraries. This is a subject of particular interest as he once considered a library career.

Under this title, Bay-Arenac and Iosco have made application for a regional instructional material center. Recently, the Michigan Department of Public Instruction had the state library make a survey of school textbooks, library books and visual aid materials and programs in effect to maintain and improve these areas.

Of the $4,600,000 federal grant to Michigan under the Elementary and Secondary Education Act, five percent is being retained for administrative costs of the department of public instruction and 10 percent for establishment of 10 regional instructional material centers. The balance is to be distributed to schools on a basis of 40 percent per pupil allotment and 60 percent on need.

Eaton graduated from Wayne State University and received his master degree in education from the University of Michigan.

Time to Think About Spring Tree Planting

"Now is the time for landowners to start thinking about planting trees in the spring," advises Jack Lake, soil conservationist with the Soil Conservation Service, East Tawas.

Mr. Lake states there are about 24,000 acres of private land in Iosco County that could be planted to trees for future timber use in order to make the wisest use of that land.

He said that many farms have odd fields or wooded areas that cannot be farmed or pastured easily. Many areas are not suitable for cropping or not needed for that purpose any longer, but would grow a fine stand of pines or spruce for future timber production. Also many people have bought and are continuing to buy land for hunting, fishing and other recreational activities. These lands can be improved where soils permit by planting trees.

Mr. Lake adds, "Many people ask why should they plant trees for timber production when they most likely will not be around to see them reach maturity." Although it does take at least 25-35 years for an owner to realize any income from the first thinning of a red pine plantation, for example, there are other benefits to be gained from planting trees. For one thing, Mr. Lake continues, "There is the joy of watching the young seedlings grow. For another, in five-10 years there will be increased cover for wildlife. Also the beauty and value of the land is increased."

A few people think that planting trees is hard work and the cost is high. "However," Mr. Lake notes, "there are tree planters for hire in the county. Also, there is cost sharing available through the Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation Service office. This program will pay the landowner approximately 80 percent of the cost of the trees and the planting." Mr. Lake stated that information on tree planting regarding kinds of trees to plant, spacing, time of planting, cost or ordering procedures can be obtained from the Soil Conservation Service, Federal Building, East Tawas, or Elmer Anschuetz, 4051 West M-55, Tawas City. For details of how to apply for cost sharing contact the Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation Service office.

O. S. Rose Low Bidder on TA's New Addition

Bids on constructing a five-classroom junior high addition at Tawas Area High School saw a difference of $16,330 between the highest and lowest price at Monday night's opening.

Lowest basic bid, $117,000, was submitted by O. S. Rose Builders, Tawas City. Highest bid of $133,330 was entered by Don Read Construction of Lincoln.

Sandwiched between the high and low were three bids which were separated by slightly more than $600. Consolidated Construction Company, Bay City, entered a bid of $129,862; Davison and Son Builders, Tawas City, bid $129,900, and S. G. Sterling Company, Oscoda, entered a bid of $129,262.32. Three alternates were offered on the bidding; Substitution of natural slate for metal chalkboards, folding partitions between two rooms and use of acoustical tile in lieu of acoustical plaster. All prices submitted by the contractors ranged within a few dollars of each other. Rose's bid was an additional $444 on alternate No.1, additional $1,800 on No. 2 and a deduction of $2,324 on No. 3.

The board of education accepted all bids after being read by Gene Starke, representing the school's architect, Brysselbout, Starke, Hacker and Simons, Bay City, and formal action is to be taken at the February 28 meeting. Leonard Sarki, president, expressed the board's pleasure over receipt of the very competitive bids and said that a complete study would be made before the final contract is awarded.

In preliminary study, the board had estimated that construction cost probably would be about $25,000 per classroom (which includes construction of corridors and restrooms) or a total of $125,000.

Rose was contractor for constructing the Tawas City Elementary Unit, first project to be considered under a three-mill pay-as-you-go program approved by voters in 1961.

Construction of the five-classroom junior high wing is the final phase of the above program.

A special citizens' advisory committee is now studying the possibility of asking voters to continue the three-mill building fund for an additional year or so to finance remodeling the high school's present shop area into junior high classrooms and construction of a new vocational training building.

Food Costs Up but TA Board to Hold Line

Tawas Area Board of Education went on record Monday night as underwriting increases in the school's hot lunch program, rather than to pass along a 25-cent weekly increase to each student.

While cost of the hot lunch program has remained about the same for the past 13 years and the school has actually shown a profit enabling it to purchase equipment from hot lunch proceeds, the present school year has been different.

A survey of the lunch program to February 1 reveals that the district has gone into the red by $2,595.28 on 85,260 lunches for an average loss of 3.04 cents per lunch.

The only increase in cost this year, as compared to last year, is in food which is up .0628 cents per meal. Federal receipts, however, are down 2.17 cents per meal. Labor costs are .032 cents less per meal and other items are down .0167 cents.

Meat and fruits in federal surplus are in low supply and prices are rapidly increasing. Board members were of the opinion that hot lunches were very important to the students and rather than increase cost to them, the school should absorb the increase—at least until the end of the school year.

Present cost to students is $1.25 per week when a ticket is purchased or 30 cents per individual meal.

Residents to Study Road Problems

Concerned about the inadequacy of area roads and streets in meeting rapidly growing traffic demands, a group of Iosco County residents has organized to study possible ways of coping with roadway problems.

Although no formal organization has been set up, early discussions have indicated a considerable amount of interest in seeking solutions for the county's roadway problems, according to Wallace D. Nunn of East Tawas, spokesman for the group.

County and municipal officials have expressed concern over the ability of area roads and streets to handle the mounting traffic loads the roadways are expected to bear, Nunn said.

"It is our intention to investigate possible remedies for our problems of inadequate roads and streets. Then we will try to develop support for whatever programs are needed to provide safe and sufficient roadways for the people of this county," Nunn commented.

He said that the group will welcome the support of persons interested in obtaining better roads for the county and asked them to contact him at 110 West Lincoln, East Tawas.

Cederberg Supported Vietnam 'GI Bill'

Cong. Elford A. Cederberg of Michigan's 10th congressional district, this week advised relatives of servicemen that he expects to support the Vietnam "G. I. Bill" which was reported a few days ago by the house committee on veterans affairs.

The administration was criticized by Cederberg for attempting to restrict the benefits to combat veterans only. "Servicemen do not have the privilege of selecting the areas to which they are sent," Cederberg said. "A young man called to duty and sent to Iceland, Alaska, the Dominican Republic or Europe has had his civilian pursuits—education, training and

HOLDING a nice perch which weighed more than one pound is Milton Unkel, Meadow Road, Tawas City. He was one of hundreds of fishermen who enjoyed outstanding perch fishing Saturday on Tawas Bay. His fishing spot was directly off shore from the East Tawas water tank and on a line with the lighthouse and Tawas City water tank. Many fishermen reported success at that point.

Final Plans in Making for Perchville Festival

Final plans are being arranged for the third annual Tawas Perchville Festival to be held February 25, 26 and 27.

Marlin Eaton, Perchville chairman, said Tuesday afternoon that two meetings were to be held this week to finalize the program and that everything would be in readiness for the big week-end.

"All we need now is the complete cooperation of the weatherman," commented Eaton, who recalled that the two previous festivals had been marred by weather extremes—either too warm or too cold.

Most activities, outside of actual fishing, will be centered this year at the Michigan Waterways Commission Dock, East Tawas, in the hope that more people will participate.

There will be contests for all ages, sky diving and aerobic exhibitions, snowmobile races and it is hoped that ice boat and sport car races will be featured.

One of the highlights will be awarding a fully equipped fish shanty manufactured by Ander-

Et, Incorporated. The lucky winner will also receive a trailer, ice auger, spear and shanty heater in his outfit.

Annual stag fish fry is to be held Friday night at the Holland Hotel. Bob Reynolds, WJR-Radio sports director, is to be crowned perch king.

A perch queen is to be selected on the ice Saturday afternoon and crowned that evening at a banquet to be held at the Holland. Lloyd M. Stewart, director of reliability for AC Sparkplug Division, General Motors Corporation, will be guest speaker.

Eaton is being assisted by John Alexander, John Austin, Gar Bassett, Joseph Branham, Anthony DeFilippi, James DeWyse, Gordon Dunham, John Pinter, William Smith, Arthur Ziehl and Arthur Wuggazer.

Homestead Exemption Forms are Available

Senior citizens of Tawas City may obtain homestead exemption forms every Thursday at the city hall from Mrs. Ruth Albertson, city treasurer. All are urged to file as soon as possible.

Announce Increase in Cost of PO Services

Proposed increases in money orders, insurance, registry, certified mail and COD rates to be effective March 26 were announced today by the post office department.

The cost of operating these five special services now exceeds revenues by 60 million dollars annually. The proposed fee increases would narrow the cost-revenue gap by 36 million dollars, based on business handled in fiscal year 1965.

The new fees are the first changes since 1961.

The proposed fee changes appeared in the federal register Tuesday, January 11, and can be put into effect under existing administrative authority. No legislation is needed.

The increases include: Money order fees: Domestic and international money order fees would be increased by five cents.

Insurance fees: Minimum fee bracket would be increased from $10 to $15 and the minimum fee would be 20 cents instead of 10 cents. Most other fees would be increased 10 cents. The maximum fee, now 40 cents, would be increased to 60 cents for values above $150 to $200.

Registry fees: The present 60-cent and 75-cent fees would be combined into a single fee at 75 cents for values up to $100. Registry fees for articles valued in excess of $100 would remain unchanged.

COD fees: The present 40-cent and 50-cent fee brackets would be combined into one fee bracket at 60 cents for amounts up to $10. There will be no change in the fees covering items valued above $10.

Certified mail: Fee would be increased 10 cents from the present 20 cents per item to 30 cents. (See RATE INCREASE, page 4.)

Fourth Session of Loggers' Workshops Starts February 21

The fourth session in the successful series of Loggers' Workshops is scheduled to start Monday, February 21, states Marvin Davenport, county extension agent.

"These workshops are a new kind of training," he explains. There are no tests or grades. The teachers are specialists of many kinds. Most of the subjects are presented in the shop and the field. The emphasis is on presenting sound ideas and help aimed straight at the problems of the logger.

Details of the program are listed as follows: The workshop is four weeks long. A logger can receive up to $78 per week while attending. Course fees are paid from funds under the Economic Development Act and subsistence and travel allowances are paid through the MESOC. Periods usually start at 10:00 a. m. and are over at 5:40 p. m. Monday through Friday. They are held in the agriculture shop in the Gaylord Community School.

Anyone who is interested in woods work or any unemployed woods worker is eligible to apply. He should report as soon as possible to his nearest local office of the Michigan Employment Security Commission to sign up for the workshop.

All interested people are requested to tell the MESOC Office in West Branch immediately. The phone number is 675.

Saws Singing in Huge Iosco Lumbering Project

The largest lumbering operation in the Whittemore area in modern times is well under way in the Johnson Creek valley south of Whittemore and west of M-65.

Area farmers and residents are busy cutting logs, pulp wood, cedar and stove wood in an area over 2 1/2 miles long that will be covered by James A. Cole's proposed new lake.

Chain saws by the dozen can be heard up and down the valley as workers take advantage of the ideal winter weather.

"There is quite a difference in the way lumbering is done today and the way it was done back in the 1890s when this area was first cut over," states Dornace Bellville, Herald correspondent. "Chain saws have replaced the axe and crosscut saw. Tractors and bulldozers have replaced the horses and sleighs."

Cole also has a crew in the area with bulldozers and equipment cleaning and clearing the swamp as the marketable timber is removed. The equipment operators have their problems as they occasionally get stuck in the deep muck cedar swamp and have to call for help.

Robby Robinson, sales manager for the lake builders, states, "It is tough work—we actually did only 2 1/2 days of work last week. The rest of the time was spent rescuing equipment."

A drilling crew has finished checking soil conditions and depth at the dam site while another crew has been busy surveying the lake shore lines. The next step will be the laying out of a road which will completely encircle the lake.

Whittemore Marks Scout Anniversary

Whittemore Boy Scout Troop No. 96 celebrated the 50th birthday of scouting with an open house at the Whittemore Elementary School last Monday night. The meeting was opened by the pledge of allegiance to the flag led by Mark LaForge, senior patrol leader. William Armstrong, scoutmaster, welcomed over 65 parents and guests and gave a short explanation of scouting and its aims.

ent, Howard Bronson, Jim Bellville, Larry Siegrist, Jim O'Farrell, Gene Near and David Leslie; first-class awards, Schultz, LaForge, Bill Koehn, David Siegrist, David Lehman, Bruce Hoffman and Jay O'Farrell.

Mrs. Richard Dumas was escorted to the stage by LaForge to join Richard Dumas, who was presented with Whittemore's first star scout award.

Dan Miller of West Branch, district scout executive, gave a talk on summer camping. A. J. Galligan, school principal, presented a scout jamboree movie at Valley Forge attended by over 15,000 scouts.

A display of the troop's new tents and equipment and the boy's hobbies were enjoyed by everyone.

The evening program was closed with a talk by Arthur Aulrich, institutional representative of the Whittemore Grange, sponsor of the local scout troop.

The scouts and their guests enjoyed birthday cake, soft drinks and coffee after the close of the ceremonies.

Editorial—

Stunted Perch?

Efforts of the Iosco Sportsmen's Club, area bait dealers, pleasure boat operators, Tawas Chamber of Commerce, trap net fishermen, local branches of government and others interested in preserving good perch fishing in Lake Huron have apparently achieved little results.

Size limits on gill net caught perch were expected to be eliminated at last Thursday's session of the Michigan Conservation Commission, on recommendation of the fish division.

While one point has been recognized by the commission—that gill nets set too close to shore are detrimental to use of pleasure boats during the summer season (commercial perch fishing in water less than 18 feet is to be banned in Lake Huron from Harrisville to Point AuGres from June 10 to September 10)—no consideration has been given to the major argument of the above named groups.

That argument is this: Perch are not a "trash" fish in any sense of the word. They provide good eating to the thousands of persons who fish for them all year around—through the ice in winter, from piers and along banks of spawning streams during the spring and from boats of all sizes during the summer and fall.

The principal argument of the Michigan Department of Conservation's fish division is this: Perch of the Great Lakes are stunted and the water is overpopulated with them. By removing these "stunted" fish, it will provide more feed for others. We hope they are right, as there will be no closed season or restriction on mesh sizes after commission action.

This newspaper wishes that Dr. Howard Tanner, chief of the fish division, could have been on the ice of Tawas Bay during the past several weeks. He would have seen with his own eyes that these perch are not stunted—and it does not take a trained biologist to tell that perch weighing up to 1 1/2 pounds are not stunted! Many fat and sassy fish of this size were taken by hook and line fishermen and very few were taken under eight inches long.

(What happened to these fish during the spring, fall and summer? In former years, they were caught in Tawas Bay, but are these migratory fish actually blocked off from entering shallow waters by miles of nets, as some claim?)

As was stated last November, local sport fishermen do not believe that Lake Huron is overpopulated with perch. Granted, there has been better fishing here than in Lakes Michigan or Erie during recent years—that is the reason for the deluge of "gypsy" netters coming into this area from other points at times of peak production.

But why lift all restrictions? Fishermen saw what happened last fall when the market was flooded with illegal perch—the price dropped to a point where it was just unprofitable to fish for them.

We have yet to see a report published on findings of a one-week survey conducted by the department on Saginaw Bay late last summer—only theories of fish division biologists. We still believe that more study should have been made before any liberalization of present restrictions.

Perhaps the fish division has "salmon on the brain," as some say—if these plantings of exotic fish are successful, it could provide some great sport for a minority of really dedicated sport fishermen. But why not put some study, too, into the fish we already have? Perch provide enjoyment to more fishermen than any other species—the little guy, who is interested in a few hours of relaxation; and it must be admitted that conservationists really know very little about the rainbow trout after it returns to the Great Lakes.

If the state is really interested in commercial fishermen, as it should be, a study should be made on the possibility of re-planting or even assisting natural spawning of white fish, herring and pickerel, as was the policy years ago. These native fish have all but disappeared through over-fishing and pollution. If salmon or striped bass can be planted, these fresh water native fish should certainly be able to thrive in their natural habitat.

But, that is it—we have had our say. We are not trained biologists and few words a sport fisherman might say will carry any weight. Everyone can still enjoy those nice "stunted" jumbo perch being caught in Tawas Bay this winter.

Weeds and Waste

QUACKGRASS CONTROL THIS SPRING

Reports from the University of Wisconsin indicate that while quackgrass is tougher to eliminate than most other weeds, the answer to its control lies in a split application of a herbicide this Spring.

The careful selection and application of the proper herbicide is all important to the success of this program. Dr. K. P. Buchholz of the University's Agronomy staff states that while many weed killers check growth in quackgrass, they do not fully destroy the root reserves which support new growth and thus do not really eliminate the problem.

In states where persistent quackgrass is a problem—Wisconsin, Minnesota, Michigan, northern Indiana and northern Illinois—it can be effectively controlled with Atrazine. He recommends a split application of the herbicide during the early spring months, first as a pre-plow application and followed by a planting-time treatment.

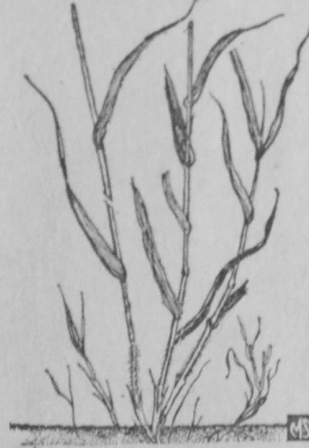

A three-step program should be followed:

1. As early as it's possible to get on the land this Spring, apply a broadcast spray of 2 1/2 pounds of Atrazine 80W in 20 gallons of water per acre. Dr. Buchholz recommends that application be made prior to April 1 if possible.
2. Wait about a month after the application before plowing. Then plow and prepare the seedbed in the normal manner.
3. At corn planting time (or after planting until weeds are 1 1/2" high) apply another broadcast spray of 2 1/2 pounds of Atrazine 80W. Dr. Buchholz likes to aim for no later than a May 10 planting date in his area.

This split application not only gives top-notch control of the quack but also gives control of most annual broadleaf weeds and grasses through the growing season.

Dr. Buchholz points out that it's important to get plenty of water on per acre. He says that it has been his experience that between 20 and 30 gallons per acre have given the most consistent results. It is also important to remember that on corn land that has received this split application totaling 5 pounds of Atrazine 80W, the land should again go into corn the following year. If the farmer is going onto land that has not been cropped for several years—soil bank land, for instance—the agronomist stated that a heavy litter may have accumulated. Under these conditions, it is especially important that there be sufficient rainfall to carry the herbicide down through the trash to the weed germinating zone. The same conditions exist when the soil contains a high concentration of organic matter or has a heavy manure cover.

Young Quackgrass Plant

Some farmers, particularly those who fall plow, have had excellent results with applying the first Atrazine spray before the fall plowing and the rest at planting time the following spring. Dr. Buchholz says, however, that the two spring applications of Atrazine provide just as good quackgrass control. "You can't see any difference at all," he stated. "For most effective control, the first application of the Atrazine should be made about a month in advance of plowing to weaken and kill the quack before planting time."

Braves Clip Gladwin; Play S-S Central Friday

Tawas Area Braves, playing their best game of the season Friday night, clipped the wings of Gladwin's Flying Gs, 87-58.

It was a great night for Coach Bill McIntosh, who has said all year that he has never had a group of boys in his 10 years here who have put forth as much effort as this year's team.

After squandering a 12-point lead to lose Tuesday night, the Braves roared back to avenge a loss to Gladwin earlier in the season. The Braves held an 8-4 lead with five minutes to go in the first quarter and they were not to be denied.

Granted, Gladwin's attack was hampered by loss of the slick work of Forward Jim Redman who saw limited action because of a leg injury, there was just no stopping the Braves in this game.

Tawas had four players in double figures and the one regular player not scoring was a whiz on the backboards. The second string played the entire fourth quarter and outscored the visitors.

The two teams played on fairly even terms in the first stanza. Tawas holding an 18-12 margin in the first quarter. The Braves roared back with a 21-10 margin in the second quarter, which set fans to rubbing their eyes.

The Braves made mistakes in the game, but what could one say about a 26-17 margin in the third quarter. The reserves came on to hold a 22-19 fourth quarter margin.

Forward Dick Lapeer, who continues to amaze fans with a variety of shots from all positions, led his mates with 17 points. Wayne Fairfield was close behind with 16, his second good scoring night in a row. A pair of talented sophomores provided the remaining scoring punch, Guard Dale Koepke driving in for 14 points and Center Ron Doak showing steady improvement with 13. Bob Sieloff was the game's top rebounder.

The entire second string was "on" and scoring leaders were Ray Powers and Mike Phillips with eight points each.

McIntosh would like to see his charges as hot this coming Friday night when they travel to Standish-Sterling to take on the NBC champions.

After a close scoring first quarter, Tawas Area Junior Braves rolled to their 14th straight win, defeating the Gladwin JV, 63-40.

Tawas held a 14-12 lead at the end of the first stanza and then moved out in front with a 15-9 second quarter margin. The Junior Braves continued to set the pace with a 19-12 third quarter edge and won going away with a 15-7 fourth quarter margin.

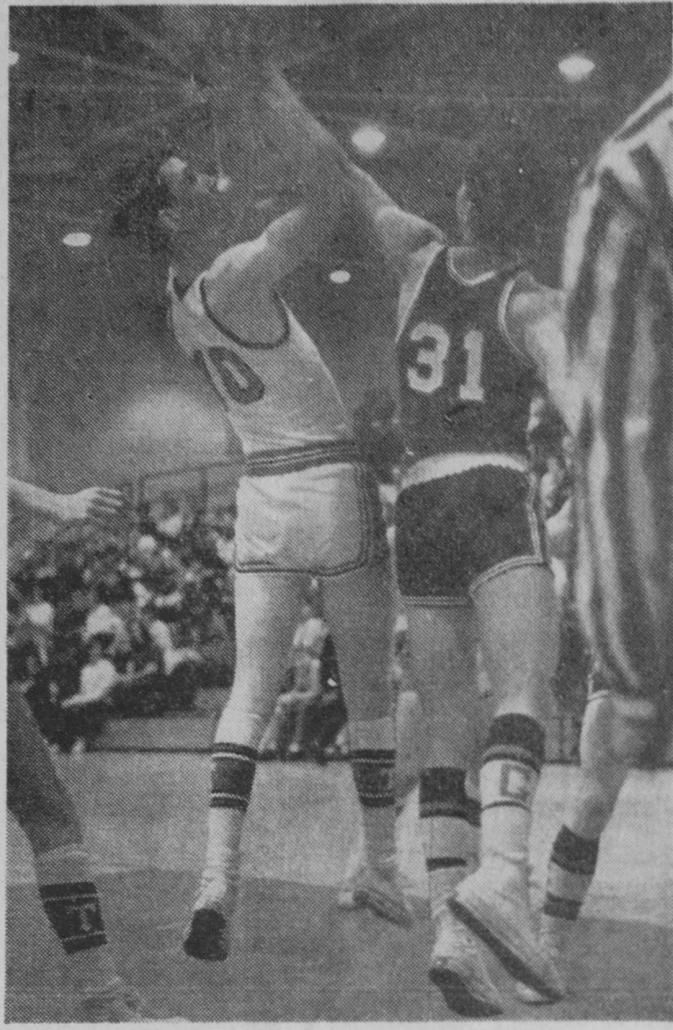

Haglund was the scoring leader with 22 points and 22 rebounds during the night. He has averaged more than 20 rebounds in each of the last three games. Little Denny Krish was second in line with 14 points, 10 coming on five long shots in the third quarter.

W-P Cards Lose Pair of Games At Harrison

Whittemore-Prescott Cards dropped both games at Harrison Friday night, the varsity made a game bid for its first victory of the year for three quarters but ran out of gas in the last quarter to lose 70-48. The JV squad trailed all the way to a 64-47 defeat.

The varsity game was a tight one for the first half. Big Gary Marston sank the first fielder of the game for the Hornets. Mike Smith evened this up with two charity tosses. Gary Freeel put the Cards ahead with his free shot. The Hornets went out in front by four points but the Cards came back with two quick buckets by Al McLean to tie it at seven. The Hornets edged ahead again to lead 17-12 at the end of the quarter.

Midway in the second quarter, the Cards came within two points, 26-24, but just could not get the extra basket to catch up. They were still very much in the game as the half ended trailing by only four points, 31-27.

The Hornets backboard control started paying off in the third quarter as they started widening the gap to 45-36 at the three-quarter mark. The Hornets added six more points to their lead in the first three minutes of the last quarter. Freeel fouled out with 4½ minutes left and any chance the Cards had of catching up was gone as both teams substituted freely the rest of the game.

Smith of the Cards showed a big improvement in this game, holding his own against more experienced opponents to top the Cards in scoring with 14 points.

Hale Dropped to Second Place with Loss to 1st Place Mio

Hale Area Eagles had an off night Friday but Iosco's two other high schools saw basketball action. Oscoda lost to Alpena High 77-45, and Whittemore-Prescott Area lost to Harrison, 70-48.

Hale slipped into second place in the Northern Star League last Monday by losing to front-running Mio. The Thunderbolts won Friday night and now have a 13-0 record while Hale has a 12-1 count for the season.

Oscoda held the short end of a 21-7 score in the first frame and Alpena's Wildcats continued to roll.

The Owls were hampered by the fact that John Campbell, ace guard, was out of action due to taking a scholarship examination.

Arenac Eastern Girls Drop W-P High After 3-Win Skein

Whittemore-Prescott girls were riding the crest of a three-game winning streak as they took on the league-leading Arenac Eastern girls last Wednesday night. The Cards made the first two baskets but Arenac Eastern came back with five straight points to take the lead. It was Eastern all the rest of the way with the Cards making a game try to stop the taller, sharpshooting Eagles.

Chris Gilbert turned in another good scoring effort for the Cards with 15 points but just did not have enough scoring help to push the Eagles. Gail Grabow was next with four points. Rahl led the NEM champs with 19 points.

Grange Members Attend Open House

Members of Whittemore Grange attended the boy scout open house Monday evening preceding their regular business session. Grangers met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Bellen for a short business session. Final plans were made for the February 12 card party.

Peter and Orilla Trudell were reinstated into membership at the meeting.

DOROTHY SCOTT, Extension Home Economist

Hello Everyone!
Some of the weather we have had called for heat—it can be a forced air, hot water, steam or radiant heat.
Hot water may give a more even temperature, although today's hot air systems should maintain an even temperature. Steam is not often used in homes these days.
Most questions are about radiant electric heat—and there is much yet to be learned about it. Radiant heat warms resistance objects including people; thus, it puts the heat where we are.
Zone heat (different temperature in each room) is possible with electricity. To be economical, the cost should be 1 1/2 cents or less per kilowatt hour.
Remember, more insulation is needed for electric heating—four to six inches in the floor, four inches in the walls, up to 12 inches in the ceiling.
Portable electric heaters make a good heat booster but are expensive for long use. Such a heater draws an amount of electricity similar to an electric iron.
Ventilator fans (in kitchen and bathroom) are needed when a house has been properly protected with a moisture-vapor barrier and insulation.
A good subfloor can be laid with underlayment grade plywood (free of "voids"), particle board or masonite laid rough side up.
Methods for finishing a floor include three-quarter inch hardwood in random or regular lengths laid to stagger joint positions; floor blocks set with adhesive, like tile; tile of linoleum, vinyl or vinyl asbestos set with regular or waterproof adhesive as required or carpeting. The latter is available in a great range of quality and price, in natural, synthetic or blend fabrics.
Kitchen cupboards today can be built in to your individual wants, needs and space. Prefinished paneling is available. However, in most cases it is no more expensive to select and install readymade cabinets. They come refinished or unfinished in standard sizes. Combinations will fit standard room measurements.

The choice can be from inexpensive, lightweight cabinets to those that are very well built, with adjustable shelves, well fitted doors and drawers featuring guides and rollers.

INSPECTING federal surplus corn being unloaded at Gingerich Feed and Implements, Tawas City, are members of the Isoco committee of the Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation Service. This county was declared a disaster area for farmers last fall following severe drought during the summer and heavy rain in the fall which resulted in a poor crop of corn. The first of five carloads of corn was unloaded at the Gingerich rail siding for distribution to eligible farmers. In the group from left to right are Grant Bessey, John Newberry, Chairman James Mielock and Mrs. June Scott, office manager. "Last year's corn crop produced only about half the normal food value for cattle and this emergency feed grain is being sold to farmers to alleviate a serious problem," said Mielock. Standing on the ladder at left is Donald Gingerich.—Tawas Herald Photo.

WARNS Oldsters Not To Cancel Insurance Plans Too Early

"Any person eligible for medicare should not drop or cancel any private health insurance he now has simply because of the new medicare law," Paul M. Ellifritz, social security district manager, Bay City, cautioned recently.

"Health insurance for people 65 and over does not go into effect until July 1. Neither the hospital nor the medical insurance plan in this program will start before that date," Ellifritz stressed.

He pointed out that premature cancellation of private insurance could leave a person without any health insurance protection at all until the July 1 date. Only hospital and medical expenses incurred after that date will be covered under medicare.

Mr. Ellifritz added that those covered under the medical insurance plan will begin their $3 monthly payments in July, the same time their protection begins. Hospital insurance will cost nothing after a person retires.

"For more information on medicare, ask your social security office for leaflet number two. If you have any questions, the district office personnel will be glad to answer them," Mr. Ellifritz concluded.

A social security representative for this area will be at the Isoco County Building, Tawas City, Thursday, February 24, from 10:30 a. m. until 2:30 p. m.

Whittemore Man Died in Service Station Fire Feb. 8

Only the blackened shell of a building which once was Hall's service station stands today at Whittemore. Within its walls a 21-year-old resident met a tragic death Tuesday night, February 8. Dennis Bronson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Bronson, was enveloped in flames after a freak accident ruptured the gasoline tank of his car. Apparently hysterical after his clothing caught fire, he frantically warded off the efforts of a companion to save him. His body was recovered about two hours later. Receiving minor injuries in the fire were three teen-agers, Carl Bowlsby, 16, was burned slightly as he attempted to aid Bronson. Miss Roi Ann Phelps, 17, suffered minor cuts as she made her exit from the burning building. James Gawne, 18, sustained minor cuts as he helped both Bowlsby and Miss Phelps through a broken window.

The four had been riding around in Bronson's car when mechanical difficulties developed. Bronson, a part-time employee at the station operated by Roger Hall, took the car there to make repairs. It was located on M-65 near the entrance of Whittemore Speedway. The car was driven on a hoist to make repairs and after lowering it, Bronson did not notice that the hoist had not dropped completely to the floor. As he backed off, two prongs which are used to hold the car in place ripped into the gasoline tank. Bronson started to sweep the leaking gasoline into a floor drain and Gawne left to get his car parked about two blocks away. Bronson was suddenly enveloped in flames when an explosion rocked the building. Bowlsby attempted to get Bronson out of the building but was beaten off. He then turned his attention to aiding Miss Phelps, who was in the office portion of the building. Two attempts were made to get back into the building but both failed. Gawne and a passing truck driver tried to enter through the service bays but both were locked. George Grabow and his son, Ronald, entered the station through an attached radiator shop but both were driven back by the flames. They could hear the victim but could not reach him. Members of the Whittemore Fire Department were at the burning building within minutes. Fire Chief Donald Armstead said the structure was a mass of flames and that it was impossible to get near the structure at the height of the fire. Several explosions occurred during the night and Whittemore firemen were assisted by volunteer departments from Hale and Turner. "We were very grateful for the help as our department had nearly exhausted its supply of water and adjoining buildings were endangered," said Armstead during clean-up operations the next day. Firemen expected to find Bronson's body near his car, but it was around midnight before they found it in the charred restroom. Investigation was conducted by Isco Sheriff's Department and Coroner E. John Moffatt. Bronson had a run of bad luck. Only two years ago, he severed several fingers off his hand while working in a sawmill. Besides his parents, he is survived by four brothers, Garwood of California, Earl, Dale and Howard at home; one sister, Mrs. Leona Reid, Oregon. Funeral services were held Saturday at Forshee Funeral Home, Twining. Burial was in Latter Day Saints Cemetery.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS TO YOU

"Be ye transformed by the renewing of your mind, that ye may prove what is that good, and acceptable, and perfect, will of God," is one of the Bible passages included in this week's service on "Mind" to be read in all Christian Science churches this Sunday. Also included are these related lines from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The expression mortal mind is really a solecism, for Mind is immortal, and Truth pierces the error of mortality as a sunbeam penetrates the cloud." This lesson is the last in a series exploring the nature of Deity through a group of special terms, Life, Truth, Love, Spirit, Soul and Mind.

Read James 2: 14-26

That Christ may dwell in your hearts by faith; that ye, being rooted and grounded in love, may be able to comprehend with all saints what is the breadth, and length, and height; and to know the love of Christ, which passeth knowledge. (Ephesians 3:17-19)

There are millions of people throughout the world who, like the apostle, Paul, express their faith in words—a powerful, God-given medium.

An elderly lady who taught a class of boys lead to walk a couple of miles to her Sunday school. One Sunday was a hard winter's day, but she got there.

"How ever did you manage to get here?" asked one of the boys.

"Oh," she replied, "God gave me two good legs, and a strong will, and warm clothes. But more than that, He has put in my heart a great love for you boys. If I can help you to learn to love Him, I shall be happy. The cold weather will pass."

These words made a deep impression on the boys. She expressed her faith in words—in deeds, too.

PRAYER

Gracious Father, who hast given knowledge of Thy way and purpose, we thank Thee for giving us many reasons why we should maintain our faith in Thee. Help us by Thy grace to find ways for expressing our faith which will be means of help to others. In the Savior's name. Amen.

Chocolate

What's your favorite flavor? "Chocolate!" That's the answer most Americans — young and old — would give. How often have you heard your grade schooler say, "Aw Mom, chocolate milk, please?" or the forever hungry teenage son holler, "Where are the brownies?" Maybe the women in your neighborhood group have raved about Chocolate Bavarian Cream.

In each case chocolate is the key to taste delight. Because youngsters and oldsters alike feel this way, it's safe to say that Chocolate is the King of Flavors. And so, in this issue of Farm and Home we're bringing you a collection of recipes — some old, some new — ALL CHOCOLATEY!

HASTY CHOCOLATE SAUCE SUPREME

1 6-ounce package (1 cup) semi-sweet chocolate morsels
2 cups light corn syrup

1 cup coarsely chopped California walnuts

Put chocolate morsels into small mixing bowl. If cold, let come to room temperature. Bring corn syrup to boil in saucepan. Stir gradually into chocolate morsels. Stir until chocolate is melted and sauce is smooth. Add walnuts. Use hot or cold. When cooled, sauce thickens. To thin, add small amount warm water or cream, or thin over hot water.

CHOCO-WALNUT WHIRLICIGS

1 6-ounce package (1 cup) semi-sweet chocolate morsels
1/2 cup commercial sour cream
1 1/2 cups chopped California walnuts, divided
1/4 teaspoon salt, divided
1/4 cup finely crushed vanilla wafers

1/4 cup sifted confectioners' sugar
1 tablespoon softened butter
1 tablespoon quick chocolate-flavored mix
1 teaspoon rum flavoring
1 teaspoon water

Melt semi-sweet chocolate morsels over hot (not boiling) water. Remove from water; stir in sour cream, 1/2 cup of the walnuts and 1/4 teaspoon of the salt. Chill until firm. Combine remaining 1 cup chopped walnuts, 1/4 teaspoon salt and remaining ingredients. Mix until crumbly. Form chilled semi-sweet mixture into 1-inch balls. Roll balls in crumb mixture twice. Chill. YIELD: 2 dozen candies. NOTE: Candies may be stored in refrigerator.

CHOCOLATE BAVARIAN CREAM

1 envelope unflavored gelatin
1/2 cup sugar, divided
1/4 teaspoon salt
2 eggs, separated
1 cup milk

1 6-ounce package (1 cup) semi-sweet chocolate morsels
1/2 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup heavy cream, whipped

Mix gelatin, 1/2 cup of the sugar and salt thoroughly in a saucepan. Beat egg yolks and milk together. Add to gelatin mixture. Add chocolate and cook over medium heat, stirring constantly until gelatin is dissolved and chocolate melted. Remove from heat and beat with a rotary beater until chocolate is blended. Stir in vanilla. Chill to unbeaten egg white consistency. Beat egg whites until stiff. Beat in remaining 1/2 cup sugar. Fold in chocolate-gelatin mixture. Fold in whipped cream. Turn into a 4-cup mold and chill until firm. Unmold on serving platter and garnish with additional whipped cream. Makes 6 servings.

Cherries

The brightest of all February flavor treats is the cherry. This tart little red fruit is a favorite with youngsters and oldsters alike who eat with their eyes as well as their tummies. And cherries are the answer for the cook who needs color accent for dull winter meals.

Today's supermarkets yield cherries in many forms for year 'round use. Canned and frozen pitted unsweetened cherries are but two of the grocer's delights—to say nothing of the numerous prepared mixes.

In this issue of FARM AND HOME you'll find cherry recipes for muffins, cheesecake, salad, desserts and, of course, cherry pie. And for something extra special try Inga's German Cherry Torte.

CHERRY NUT TARTS

1 package or cake yeast, active
1/4 cup warm water (105° to 115°F.)
3 1/2 cups flour
1/4 cup sugar
1 teaspoon salt

1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
1 cup margarine
1 cup milk, scalded and cooled to lukewarm
2 eggs, beaten
1 can (1 pound) cherry pie filling
1/2 cup chopped California walnuts

Measure warm water into small warm bowl. Sprinkle or crumble in yeast; stir until dissolved. Soak yeast in water for 5 minutes. Meanwhile, sift together, flour, sugar and salt into a large bowl. Add lemon rind and combine. Cut margarine into flour mixture. Add yeast mixture, lukewarm milk and beaten eggs. Mix well. Cover bowl and refrigerate dough for at least 2 hours or up to 2 days. Turn half of batter onto well-floured board. (Batter will be soft and sticky.) Roll to 1/4-inch thickness. Using a 3-inch cookie cutter, cut circles and place on greased baking sheet. Combine pie filling and walnuts. Spoon mixture on center of each circle. Brush circle edges with milk. From remaining dough cut the same number of circles using a 3-inch doughnut cutter. Place over the filling and press edges together. Bake in 400°F. oven for 10 to 15 minutes. Makes about 2 dozen.

MIRACLE CHERRY PIE

1 1/2 cups (17-ounce can) pitted canned unsweetened red cherries, drained
1 1/4 cups water and cherry juice combined
1 package vanilla pudding and pie filling mix

1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 cup sugar
2 teaspoons lemon juice
1 tablespoon margarine
Few drops red food coloring
1 baked 8-inch pie shell, cooled

Combine cherries and 1/2 cup of the combined water and cherry juice in a saucepan. Bring to a boil. Meanwhile, combine pudding mix, salt, sugar, lemon juice, and remaining 1/2 cup liquid. Stir to form a smooth paste. Add to boiling fruit, stirring to blend. Then cook and stir until mixture comes to a full boil.

Remove from heat. Add margarine and food coloring. Cool 5 minutes. Pour into pie shell. Let stand about 3 hours, or until firm. Serve with sweetened whipped cream, if desired.

LEMON CHERRY CHEESECAKE

20 chocolate chip cookies, finely rolled (2 cups crumbs)
2 tablespoons margarine, melted
2 tablespoons sugar
2 8-ounce packages cream cheese, softened
1/4 cup sugar
2 tablespoons flour

1 teaspoon vanilla
1/4 cup lemon juice
3 tablespoons grated lemon rind
4 eggs, separated
1 cup light cream
1 can (1-pound 6-ounce) cherry pie filling

Combine chocolate chip cookie crumbs, melted margarine and 2 tablespoons sugar; mix well. Press against bottom and sides of 9-inch spring form pan. Combine cream cheese, 1/2 cup sugar, flour, vanilla, lemon juice and lemon rind; beat until smooth. Add egg yolks, one at a time, beating well after each addition. Stir in cream. Beat egg whites until stiff, but not dry. Fold cheese mixture into egg whites. Pour into crumb crust. Bake in 325°F. oven for 1 hour or until center is set. Cool. Just before serving spoon some of the cherry pie filling on top of the cheese cake to make a circle. Serve remaining cherries as a sauce. Makes 8 to 10 servings.

CHERRY BRAN MUFFINS

3/4 cup milk
1 cup bran
1 cup flour
1/4 cup sugar
1 tablespoon baking powder
1/4 teaspoon salt

1 teaspoon cinnamon
1 egg
3 tablespoons salad oil
1 cup pitted sour cherries (those packed in syrup are best)

Pour milk over bran and let soak 5 minutes. Sift together dry ingredients. Beat egg and oil into bran mixture. Add cherries. Stir in dry ingredients just enough to dampen. Fill greased corn stick pans 3/4 full. Bake in 400°F. oven for 20 minutes. Makes 18 muffins.

If made in muffin pans, bake in 400°F. oven for 30 minutes. Makes 9 large muffins.

INGA'S GERMAN CHERRY TORTE

1 1/2 cup flour
6 tablespoons sugar
1 teaspoon baking powder
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 egg
6 tablespoons margarine

1 large can frozen cherries, thawed and drained
1 cup cultured sour cream
2 egg yolks OR 1 egg
1 1/2 tablespoons sugar
1 teaspoon flour

Sift flour, sugar, baking powder and salt together onto a board or table. Make a well and put egg in center. Using knife or fork carefully blend egg and small amount of the flour mixture. Add margarine chunks the size of a tablespoon. Knead from the center out until batter is smooth and shiny and forms a ball. Pat into a 9 or 10-inch spring form pan bringing the dough up about 1 inch on sides. Bake in 350°F. oven for 12 minutes. Spread thawed and drained cherries over crust. Return torte to oven and continue baking for an additional 10 minutes.

Meanwhile, beat sour cream, egg yolks (or whole egg), sugar, and flour together well—mixture should be fluffy. Pour 1/2 of this custard mixture over baked cherry filling. Return to oven for 3 minutes. Pour remainder of custard mixture over torte and return to oven. Immediately turn off oven heat and allow torte to remain in oven until custard mixture in center of pan is set. (Watch carefully as this should take less than 10 minutes.)

BUTTERMILK CHERRY HEARTS

1 can (1 lb.) frozen cherries, thawed
1/4 cup cherry juice
1/2 cup orange juice
1 package cherry flavored gelatin
1/2 cup sugar

1 tablespoon lemon juice
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 1/2 cups buttermilk
1 cup finely chopped celery
1/2 cup chopped California walnuts

Drain cherries. Heat 1/2 cup cherry juice with the orange juice and dissolve cherry gelatin in it. Add sugar, lemon juice, salt and buttermilk. Blend. Allow to chill until partially set. Add drained cherries, celery and walnuts, and fill molds. Refrigerate until set and serve with Fluffy Orange Salad Dressing. Makes 10 individual heart-shaped molds.

Fluffy Orange Salad Dressing

2 tablespoons flour
1/4 cup sugar
1/2 cup orange juice
1 egg yolk, beaten

1 1/2 tablespoons lemon juice
3/4 cup evaporated milk, chilled icy cold

Mix flour and sugar together in saucepan. Add orange juice and blend. Cook over low heat, stirring constantly until mixture is thick and clear. Add part of cooked mixture to egg yolk; then slowly combine both in saucepan. Return to heat for a minute. Stir in lemon juice. Chill thoroughly. When ready to serve, whip chilled milk stiff, using well-chilled bowl and beater, and fold into dressing. Makes 1 1/2 cups.

Untreated, weed-infested soybean fields like this rob you of yield and profits just as surely as if you left open the end-gate of your wagon or truck as you hauled the beans home from the field.

WEEDS

CAN COST MORE THAN TAXES

Real estate taxes take a mighty big bite out of farm income — but a few weeds in your crops can cost you a lot more than the assessor charges.

Average farm taxes are about $4.00 per acre in Illinois, while Iowa taxes average a little over $3.00 per acre. Taxes on the best farm land, of course, may be more than double the state average. Even so, your tax bill can be small potatoes compared to what weeds take out of your pocket every year.

A recent study showed that one pigweed releases 200,000 seeds when it matures, and almost all of these weed seeds are ready to grow and rob you the next year if not controlled. In view of this, it doesn't make much sense to use the best seed, best fertilizer, best equipment, and best practices, then let weeds rob the crop's potential. Such a procedure is about as practical as taking long steps to save your shoes!

It doesn't take many weeds to cut yields $10 per acre. Weeds collect their taxes by robbing crops of nutrients, moisture and light.

AMIBEN

WEED CONTROL

If you follow good soybean management practices, Amiben weed control can pay for itself many times over. Here are the 7 easy steps to higher bean yields and profits.

- 1. ADAPTED SEED VARIETY
for your day length or latitude, with proper seed inoculation.
- 2. SOIL TESTING
pH adjustment; addition of correct amount of N, K and P if called for after test.
- 3. PROPER PLANTING DEPTH for your soil—and correct plant population to obtain good stand.
- 4. PROPER EQUIPMENT
well maintained and adjusted for planting and harvesting. Clean out sprayers carefully—check nozzles—calibrate.
- 5. CORRECT TIMING
early planting—care in harvesting before beans shatter.

THESE 2 BIG STEPS MAKE THE OTHER 5 PAY OFF

- 6. GOOD SEED BED PREPARATION
No clods, crop trash or foreign materials. Preparing a smooth seed bed is especially necessary. If seed bed is not smooth, skips can occur when using any pesticide, liquid or granular.
- 7. AMIBEN
for control of both broadleaf weeds and grasses.

Based upon an average price of $2.47 per bushel to the grower, Amiben banded at the 2 lb. rate recommended for most soils, returns to many farmers enough to pay for the herbicide about 2 to 6 times over. And that's real profit for any grower whose management practices are good enough so that superb weed control can make the big difference.

See your dealer today for Amiben—No. 1 in soybeans by a wide margin—because it controls most annual broadleaf weeds and grasses with one pre-emergence application at planting—leaves no soil residue to affect rotational crops. Available as liquid concentrate or in granular form.

An acre of land can support just so much plant growth at once, says University of Illinois agronomist Ellery Knake. "A cornfield free of weeds may produce 8,000 lbs. of grain and stalks. The same field with 2,000 lbs. of weeds will produce only 6,000 lbs. of corn," he explains. His studies show just one pigweed over 10 inches of row can cut corn yields 17 bushels per acre and soybean yields 15 bushels per acre — losses costing you $20 to $35 per acre.

Cultivators are not obsolete, but on many Cornbelt farms they're not getting the workout they once did. That's because progressive farmers have found that herbicide applications are more effective and less costly than two or three trips over the field with a large tractor and cultivator. Many herbicide users are now getting by with only one cultivation, and others have stored away their cultivators right along side the old hay loader.

Willard Henderson, Fowler, Indiana wanted to check the effectiveness of Amiben on his bean field. He purposely skipped the strip at left with his sprayer. "I'm convinced," says Henderson.

Clean, weed-free beans like this Amiben-treated field of Herbert Kelley, Brookston, Indiana put more beans in your bin and more profit in your pocket. Fields like these will average 5 to 10 bushels more per acre than weed-infested fields like the one shown.

Weeds weren't too great a problem when the cross-check wire was still popular. But when "checked" corn was cast aside in favor of higher plant populations about a decade ago, effective weed control became a bigger problem. Each year more and more farmers have turned to chemicals for the answer.

The vast majority are highly satisfied with the results. Many non-believers have become believers after seeing chemicals perform in a neighbor's field. Side-by-side comparisons, such as that shown in the photo included with this story, provide plenty of convincing evidence.

Basically, weeds cause losses four ways:

- 1—Growing in the crop row, they absorb light, and they consume nitrogen, phosphorous, potash, moisture and trace minerals necessary for good crop growth.
- 2—Broadleaf weeds and grasses offer shelter to mites, insects and disease organisms. Even growing along fence lines and ditch banks, weeds have been known to cause the infestation of entire fields.
- 3—The third way weeds reduce yields is at harvest. Since the cutter bar cannot be adjusted to harvest the lowest pods on the plant, many bushels are left in the field.
- 4—Dockage losses for soybeans that contain weed seeds are the fourth penalty growers pay for raising weeds along with their soybeans. The charges at the elevator for cleaning and reprocessing such beans is deducted from the price paid to the farmer.

These four losses from weeds aren't immediately obvious. Soil nutrients, moisture, harvest losses and dockages are the hidden costs of raising soybeans—they don't show up until the yield is weighed, measured, analyzed and examined for weed seed. By controlling weeds and grasses, these losses can be reduced, yields can be increased and profits can be raised $7.50 to $22.50 per acre!

*P.S. You can afford it . . . 22 days for under $800!

Farm & Home readers who have taken advantage of our tours in the past have told us how thoroughly they have enjoyed these tours with us, so we are now taking the BIG STEP and are announcing here and now the Granddaddy of all Farm & Home tours to date—Farm & Home's 1966 European Jet Holiday.

Departure dates for the 1966 Jet Holiday are fairly well set. It is our intention to give every one of our midwestern readers a choice of four departure dates as follows: June 2, June 30, August 4, or October 6. Farm & Home Section also considers itself most fortunate in being able to secure the carrier services of Pan American World Airways for the tour.

But, of course, the best news of all is that this 1966 European Jet Holiday will be a 22-day vacation from the time you leave New York City until the time you return to New York City . . . and the price of this tour covering all costs from New York City and back will be under $800 per person!

For our midwestern readers, Farm & Home's 1966 European Jet Holiday promises to be the most painless, most inexpensive, most memorable vacation ever taken! We have the world's most experienced airline as our carrier! We have chosen the best places in Europe to visit and most important of all, you will be traveling with the greatest people in the world—fellow midwesterners just like yourself.

You undoubtedly know a great deal about Europe already, but to refresh your memory, let's do a quick rundown on the Europe you will see on Farm & Home's 1966 European Jet Holiday:

PARIS—Anyone weary of marching from monument to monument with a weighty guidebook and aching feet will find consolation in Paris. The French capital has come up with many ways to eliminate the drudgery of sightseeing.

You can take the Champagne Shopping Tour of Paris and climb aboard a limousine equipped with chauffeur, guide, and a bottle of champagne and, in a few hours, return to your hotel laden with treasures and completely relaxed; or

You can take a Flea Market Tour of Paris via the subway or taxi. Here, there is no champagne to bolster the courage, but you will find bargains galore in Paris shops; or

You can turn Paris sightseeing into an air-conditioned dream on a "full vision, double decker bus" covering Paris from the broad boulevards to the top of Montmartre. These buses provide guides, bar service and stereophonic music.

Of course, in Paris we must visit the bistros, which are really collector's items. A bistro, as you know, is a small cafe where the food is "haute cuisine" and the prices are rock bottom. Many American tourists in Paris

London—Piccadilly Square

Italy—Tirolean Countryside

Europe This Summer...*

prefer the enthusiasm of the Parisian bistros to the outdated sport of learning the can-can.

LONDON — Anyone who can tear himself away from the temptations of world-reknown London will find hearty sight-seeing fare in the countryside around the capital. Typical of this is a two-day trip covering Oxford, Shakespeareland, Warwick Castle, the Cotswold villages and Sulgrave Manor. This includes 240 miles of travel, lodging at a historic inn, tickets to the Royal Shakespeare Theater in Stratford, and incidentals.

All sorts of literary and historical ties make London an ideal stop-off for Americans. The familiar culture and language allows everyone to fully enjoy the adventures in this tradition-laden land.

ROME — This beautiful city of Italy of late has developed a fashionable riviera stretching north and south for sixteen miles from the capital. Of course, those of you who are cafe-sitters will always fondly refer to the Via Veneto which winds through the heart of Rome.

Near Rome, you can visit the aristocratic settlement of Santa Marinella — once the hideaway for Ingrid Bergman and Roberto Rossellini. Then, of course, you can visit Anzio, made famous during World War II, with its circular harbor built by Nero. Then, beyond a few miles is Monte Circeo where, according to Homer, Circe lured the sailors of Ulysses.

AMSTERDAM — Anyone who wants to see the picture postcard Holland of windmills and wooden shoes, baggy pants and billowing skirts had better hurry. When the diligent Dutch get down to work, things change fast. Someday the Zuider Zee may even disappear right off the map. The Dutch, who are always a bit pressed for land, have drained much of the famous Zee to add another million acres to their realm.

Amsterdam today has more waterways than Venice. One canal, incidentally, is broader than the Panama Canal, and another is longer than the Suez! The city, built on 90 islands, is tied together by no fewer than 636 bridges. The runways at Amsterdam's airport — once a lake — are 13 feet below sea level.

These are some of the sights we will see on our 1966 European Jet Holiday. If you would like more information and are seriously considering a European vacation, clip the coupon appearing with this story and send to Farm & Home Tours, 20 North Carroll Street, Madison, Wisconsin. Ask any questions you may have. We will answer them all and send you a brochure. You are under no obligation, of course.
