

Frozen Main Gave Headache to DPW

"It was 13 hours of constant trouble," was the way Reginald Bublitz, Tawas City superintendent of public works, described efforts of the city crew in repairing a water line break last week.

The five-man crew and Bublitz worked from 4:00 p. m. Thursday to 5:00 a. m. Friday to restore water service in the Bay Drive area caused by a break in a six-inch cast iron main.

The men had to use an airhammer to chip through three feet of frozen earth above the pipe. Frost was the real villain of the day as it caused vibrations in the clay subsoil and ruptured a weak spot in the main.

Seven hours of work were required to break through the three feet of frost. The temperature dropped to 10 degrees below zero during the night and men were constantly shifted on and off the airhammer because of the cold.

A gas line on a generator became frozen disrupting emergency lights, pumps would not operate properly because of the cold weather and the hydraulic system of the city's back hoe would not operate properly because of the cold weather. Front wheel of a tractor snapped off, dump boxes on trucks would not operate and truck engines stalled and failed to start after operating for a long period of time.

After breaking through the frost and reaching the water main, a pump stopped operating and the hole quickly filled up with quicksand.

"It was a real ordeal," said Bublitz. "Although the area was without water, we did not hear one complaint. Everyone understood the problems we were having and we are thankful for the hot coffee furnished during the night."

After the break was repaired and the men returned home, several found they could not get out of their frozen clothes. Boots and overalls were thawed with hot water.

"We are just thankful that it did not snow during the night—that would have been all we needed," said the superintendent.

New State Trooper Assigned to ET Post

John W. Simer, one of 56 new Michigan State Police recruits, has been assigned to the East Tawas post.

A native of Blue Earth, Minnesota, Simer graduated Friday afternoon in the largest class of new troopers since June 1957. The department's enlisted strength is now 1,300, highest it has ever been.

Three more recruit schools are scheduled to start January 31, March 28 and May 23 to attain the department's authorized strength of 1,459.

Trooper Simer, his wife, Mildred, and three children have been residing at Ludington. He is the son of Mrs. Blanche B. Simer of Blue Earth.

Not Guilty Pled Entered by Davis

William J. Davis, 35, East Detroit, entered a plea of not guilty to a charge of negligent use of firearms when arraigned Monday before Judge Allan C. Miller.

Davis is charged with firing the shot on opening day of deer season November 20 which fatally wounded William Nash, 13, East Tawas.

The shooting took place in Baldwin Township. Nash died in Tawas Hospital while undergoing emergency surgery.

Maximum sentence if found guilty of the charge is two years in prison, $2,000 fine or one year in the county jail.

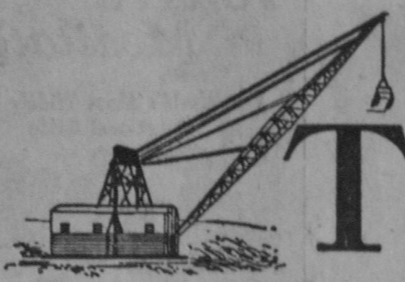

Judge Miller set April 5 at the trial by jury date. Bond was continued at $300.

Silver Valley Host to Lutheran Caravan

Five busloads of youngsters representing the East Detroit Lutheran group participated in skiing activities Saturday and Sunday as Silver Valley opened on a temporary basis.

Although only the ski area was open to the public, an East Detroit girl received a fractured leg when the privately-owned toboggan which she and her companions were using crashed into a tree.

An adult counselor fell and fractured his leg while skiing and six persons sustained minor injuries in falls.

Annual C of C Banquet Had Record Attendance

"Let's keep the welcome mat out," was the theme emphasized at Saturday night's annual banquet of the Tawas Chamber of Commerce by 1966 Pres. Leonard Calabrese.

With 287 persons attending the event at the Holland Hotel, it was the largest gathering in the 19-year history of the organization.

"Development of the Tawas area is my job and your job," Calabrese told his listeners. "By pulling together, we can have an effective team by which the Tawas area can grow with a strong foundation."

He emphasized the need of long-range planning to handle the needs of Michigan's urban population which, he said, was expected to double by 1985.

"We have a bountiful supply of a priceless commodity—wide open space—we have it and cannot take it for granted," he said.

With more and more leisure time as work weeks are shortened, this area must be ready to handle the rush to these wide open spaces, said the president.

He also stressed the need for "dressing up" the local communities to boost moral of the area, a survey of natural resources to make use of what is available, provide modern educational and cultural facilities, as well as improvement of water-sewer facilities.

"The chamber is restless for its share of tourism and industry. We must take advantage of all opportunities and not wait for outside help," said the president.

Turning in an excellent job as toastmaster for the night was Bill McIntosh, a member of Tawas Area High School faculty and the school athletic director.

Among guests introduced were Brig. Gen. John A. Roberts, commander of the 40th Air Division, Wurtsmith; Col. William Calhoun, commander of the 379th Bomb Wing, and Col. Frederick Kish, base commander, and their wives.

Besides introducing chamber officers and members of the board of directors, McIntosh paid special tribute to Mr. and Mrs. L. G. McKay Sr. of East Tawas.

Vernon Pugh, budget and finance chairman, reported that 58 members had now paid $2,693 in the current campaign. There was a total membership of 188 last year and the organization hopes to reach 200 this year.

Pugh also announced a booster membership program for persons in a nonbusiness capacity. He suggested a slogan of "Smooth sailing in 1966" for this year's theme.

Norman Smith, chief of recreation resources planning for the Michigan Department of Conservation, principal speaker of the night, outlined public recreation plans which are being coordinated at the state and federal level.

Smith reported that 2.8 million dollars in federal funds had been made available to Michigan this year for recreational projects and applications are being accepted from local communities on a fund matching basis for development of outdoor activities.

Employed for 28 years by the conservation department, he said that his life had not been the same since taking over his new job last November. "Our office is very busy coordinating plans with federal, state and local units of government covering all phases of outdoor recreation."

He emphasized that since World War II, the nature scene in Michigan has been consumed at a prodigious rate—through development of shopping centers and other urban needs—and that land uses were being fixed permanently near urban areas.

He stressed state and local responsibility for meeting needs of recreation because of increased leisure time in the future.

High point of the banquet came with the naming of Ralph Western, former president of the chamber of commerce, as recipient of Tawas man of the year award.

A resident of the Tawas area since 1959, Western played an active role in formation of the Tawas Area Development Corporation and the Tawas-Whittemore Area Community Chest. He is a member of Christ Episcopal Church and East Tawas Lions Club. He had also served as one of "Santa's helpers" for a number of years.

Among the top five considered for the award were Mrs. Gertrude Clements, Mrs. Clarice Davenport, Clarence Everett and the Rev. Robert Morrison.

The award is to be an annual event at the chamber of commerce banquet.

Calabrese also paid tribute to N. J. Crocker, veteran real estate dealer and land developer in this area. Mr. and Mrs. Crocker are now vacationing in North Carolina and an honorary life membership certificate was accepted by their daughter, Mrs. Stuart White.

Teen Refuses Probation; Gets 2-10 Sentence

Daniel Gibson, 17, was sentenced to a term of from two to 10 years with the Michigan Department of Corrections after refusing probation in Iosco Circuit Court.

Gibson had entered a plea of guilty to breaking and entering, being implicated with Donovan Osborne Jr. in the December 11 burglary of Cliff's News Agency, M-55, Tawas City.

When appearing before Judge Allan C. Miller Thursday, he refused to comply with terms of a three-year probation sentence. Terms of probation include his compliance with a curfew and partial restitution of $1,187 stolen in the burglary.

The court had appointed an attorney and Gibson had been examined by a state psychiatrist prior to sentencing.

Judge Miller recommended that he be sent to the Michigan Training Unit or Cassiday Lake Training School.

Osborne is serving an 18-month to 10-year sentence. Two other men, Dennis Goddard and Ronald Hall, both 18, are being sought for receiving part of the stolen money.

D&M Credit Union Had Annual Banquet

One hundred eighty members and guests from towns extending from Bay City to Cheboygan attended the January 29 annual meeting of the D and M Credit Union held at the Masonic Temple, Tawas City. Al Sieger, treasurer-manager of Besser Employees Federal Credit Union, Alpena, was guest speaker.

P. J. Sullivan served as toastmaster for the dinner; P. J. Beyer Jr. gave the invocation. Mrs. Rosemary Klenow awarded roses to those who signed the charter application for the credit union in 1955. First 10 members also received roses. Dinner music was provided by the LeSabres.

Marvin Mallon, president, conducted the business meeting. William Mallon, nominating committee chairman, read the following slate of officers to be nominated for election: Rupert Charters and Mr. Beyer, board of directors; Clarence Oates, supervisory committee; Frank Anderson and Orrie Freeman, credit committee. Officers were then voted into office.

Reports revealed the amount of dividends paid on savings accounts and rebate issued on interest paid on loans. Membership now totals 272.

Table prizes were credit union banks and key chain favors with member's name imprinted. Door prizes were won by Jerry Kendall, Terry Bean, Clinton Tanner, Henry Etherington, Mr. Beyer, Arnold Zierow and Kay Earl.

Special guests introduced by Marvin Mallon were retired members and former railroad employees, Walter Shorey, Walter Moeller, William Rapp, Iva Mallon; Mrs. Louis Defrain, wife of the late Mr. Defrain, former railroad roadmaster, and Mrs. Milo Bolen, whose late husband was a railroad crane operator.

Committee Starts Study of Tawas Classrooms

A twofold study of proposed expansion of vocational education and classroom requirements is now being undertaken by a 12-member study committee recently appointed by Tawas Area Parent-Teacher Association.

At last Wednesday night's organization meeting, Paul Beyer was named chairman and Donald Deering as vice chairman of the new group.

In an outline of the three-million pay-as-you-go tax program which was approved by voters in 1961 and is to end this year, Supt. Reynold Mick said that $385,728 had been provided the building program in taxes. A total of $459,168 was provided the five-year program through transfers, sale of property and interest received.

This money provided construction at the Tawas City Elementary Unit, $215,320; East Tawas Elementary Unit, $115,774, and approximately $130,000 for construction of classrooms at the high school, to be let for bids later this month.

Under consideration for the past two or three years has been a plan to convert present rooms at the high school used by the shop department into classrooms for the junior high school. With the addition of five new classrooms to be constructed this year, along with conversion of the present art room into a junior high classroom, it was thought that the seventh and eighth grades could be completely isolated from the high school grades. Through this arrangement, the cafeteria, auditorium and band facilities could still be used by the junior high.

Vocational technical training has been coming into the forefront of local educational thinking and the new committee is to study possible construction of a new building to house this department. In the past, the board of education has been considering construction of a metal building which would adequately house the shop at less expense than a brick and block construction.

It has been estimated that approximately $110,000 would be required to construct a new shop building and convert the present shop department into classrooms.

The committee is also to study possibility of a program for training the mentally handicapped.

On all questions, the committee would be acting in an advisory capacity for the board of education.

Herd Vaccination Called Necessary

Iosco beefmen and dairymen should be concerned that the number of brucellosis vaccinations for calves fell off sharply during 1965.

Much of the decline can be attributed to a drop in cow numbers but there are indications that many additional heifers should have been vaccinated.

A little arithmetic will quickly indicate those counties that are falling short of the number of calves they should have vaccinated for normal herd replacements. Iosco County is one of those falling behind. About 25 percent of the milking herd is culled each year for various reasons. Iosco County has 21,000 milk cows and 5,000 beef cows. One thousand seven hundred heifers would be needed for herd replacements. Iosco County with only 450 heifers vaccinated in 1965 is falling short of normal needs.

An individual beef or dairyman should vaccinate all his heifer calves unless he knows they will be sold for slaughter. This would assure him a supply of vaccinated heifers for his own herd replacement or additions and would give him the opportunity of selling the surplus animals for beef, dairy or breeding purposes.

The school is to continue its required payment for paper used in nonschool activities.

Purchase of a Thermofax reproduction machine for use in the superintendent's office was tabled. Cost of the machine, which has been used on trial for the past 30 days, was $378.

With the board divided evenly with three "yes" votes and three "no" votes, Leonard Sarki, president, cast the deciding vote which tabled the measure. Voting in favor of purchasing the machine were Niles, Waldo Curry and Clyde Soper, trustees. Voting against the measure were Mrs. Helen Payea, Carl Helmer and Clare Herriman.

NAMED CHAIRMAN

A. J. Aulerich of Whittemore has been re-elected as chairman of the Iosco County Road Commission. Aulerich was first appointed in April 1958 and has served as chairman since January 1962.

Clarence Curry of Tawas City was re-elected as vice chairman and Robert LaVoy of East Tawas is the third member of the commission.

WINNERS of the "Mad Mad Y'hirl" sweepstakes contest at Sis's Dress Shop, East Tawas, were Mrs. Kaye Phelps of East Tawas and Donna M. Nelkie of Tawas City. Drawing the winning entries Tuesday morning was Mary McCormick, left, of Mary's Fashions, WIOS. At right is store owner, Mrs. Stanley Estak. There were 200 entries in the contest and local winners each won a dress and are eligible to compete in a national contest for a 10-day trip to Paris and London.—Tawas Herald Photo.

School Bus Bids Opened by TA Board

Inglis Ford Sales was low bidder on furnishing a new bus to Tawas Area School District. Bids were accepted for four local dealers Monday night by the board of education and a contract is to be awarded at the February 14 meeting.

Bids on truck chassis were as follows: Inglis, Ford, $3,112; William Look and sons, GMC, $3,290; Ottawa Equipment Company, Dodge, $3,658; International, $3,767; McKay Sales, Chevrolet, $3,667.

Identical bids were received from the four local dealers on bus bodies: Superior, $4,055, with additional $210 for gas heater; Wayne, $4,076, with additional $200 for gas heater.

It was reported that six contractors had received bid applications for constructing a five-room addition at the high school building. Included were Tawas Area Construction Corporation, Edward Davison and Son, O. S. Rose, S. G. Sterling of Osoda, Donald Reed of Lincoln and Consolidated Construction of Bay City. Bids are to be opened February 14.

In other matters, the board gave its permission for the student council to place a rock on school premises for students to paint colors they might wish. The rock is to be obtained from United States Gypsum Company and is to be placed on the grounds at no cost to the school. Alhion College has such a rock and appears to have eliminated much vandalism.

A decision is to be made at the February 14 meeting on a Saturday recreation program which was considered earlier in the school year. The board had delayed any action until information was received on school liability under the program. The Michigan Department of Public Instruction reported that schools had not been held liable under governmental immunity.

The board authorized an increased expenditure next year for duplicator paper used in the high school. Additional paper has been used this year by teachers in preparing study outlines for students and tests. It was felt this should be a regular school expenditure rather than to pass the cost on to students as a consumable item.

The school is to continue its required payment for paper used in nonschool activities.

Purchase of a Thermofax reproduction machine for use in the superintendent's office was tabled. Cost of the machine, which has been used on trial for the past 30 days, was $378.

With the board divided evenly with three "yes" votes and three "no" votes, Leonard Sarki, president, cast the deciding vote which tabled the measure. Voting in favor of purchasing the machine were Niles, Waldo Curry and Clyde Soper, trustees. Voting against the measure were Mrs. Helen Payea, Carl Helmer and Clare Herriman.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS TO YOU

"Can Deity be known through the material senses? Can the material senses, which receive no direct evidence of Spirit, give correct testimony as to spiritual life, truth, and love?" This thought-provoking question is part of the lesson-sermon on "Spirit" to be read from the denomination's textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, the discoverer and founder of Christian Science.

Bible passages will include Jesus' declaration: "It is the spirit that quickeneth; the flesh profiteth nothing" (John 6).

The service on "Spirit" is one of a series through which Christian Scientists seek a deeper understanding of the nature of God through the study of certain terms. Others to come include services on "Soul" and "Mind."

Read II Corinthians 1:1-7

Although he was a Son, he learned obedience through what he suffered. (Hebrews 5:8, RSV)

Though suffering is the lot of everyone along the pathway of life, the experience may be used to strengthen faith and character. Edward Trudeau decided to become a medical doctor. In preparing himself for his profession, he made a good record in school and seemed destined for a promising career. But he was struck down with tuberculosis. He was forced to give up his plan to practice medicine and in weakness and pain he went to the Adirondack Mountains.

Instead of giving up in despair, Trudeau made friends and became interested in others who sufferred as he did. He regained his health and organized a laboratory for the study of tuberculosis. We, too, may learn through suffering. By the endurance of pain we may become more aware of our need for God; for often "man's extremity is God's opportunity." As we have time to think on the spiritual things, we may find deeper meaning and purpose in life and come to a closer walk with the Lord.

PRAYER
Teach us to be grateful, O Lord, for life, health and the higher happiness. Grant strength sufficient for every circumstance, in joy or pain. In Christ's name. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY
Wise is the person who uses suffering to bring him closer to God. D. W. Charlton (North Carolina)

HOLDING a sample of the gypsum rock through which he has drilled holes for blasting purposes at United States Gypsum Company's quarry is Richard K. Roemer, who retired last week.—Tawas Herald Photo.

USG Quarry Driller Retires After Boring 2,250,000 Feet

Richard Roemer, 68, who has drilled more than 2 1/2 million feet of holes in the "floor" of the Alabaster quarry, retired last week after 21 years of employment with United States Gypsum Company.

Since January 1, 1945, Roemer operated a rotary drill used to bore holes in gypsum for blasting purposes. He had a no-accident record during his service, which started with USG June 11, 1943.

Roemer first started on one of the portable drill racks and later became one of the first operators on the rotary drill, "Big Boy," which was designed locally and revolutionized quarry operations starting in 1956.

Born in Saxony April 29, 1897, Roemer came to this country when 14 years of age, settling on a farm outside of Chicago, Illinois, with his parents. When he reached 16 years of age, he obtained a job in a Chicago department store and began delivering goods with horse and wagon.

He always enjoyed working with a good team of horses and he delivered for Sears, Roebuck and Company from 1914 through 1917.

He purchased a farm in Tawas Township in 1920 and moved here four years later.

"I farmed, raised some cattle and had five horses until it just did not pay any more," said Roemer. He sold out his equipment and went to work for the gypsum company.

He still owns one team of horses, but the animals rarely work any more. Roemer and his team coming to town was once a familiar scene in the Tawas on Saturday morning, but he says that today's traffic is just too dangerous for a team of horses and a wagon.

"I will keep my horses until I can't hold the lines any more," he commented.

During retirement, Roemer plans to "do a little farming and cut some wood." He said his wife could always find something for him to do around the house.

Michigan Initiates 1st Traffic Training Study With $27,000 Grant

Michigan will be the first state in the nation to initiate a comprehensive study of its traffic training needs.

Michigan's leadership was emphasized in the announcement of a grant of $27,000 to Michigan

State University to start a study of training needed for professional traffic workers in Michigan. The grant will be made by the Insurance Institute for Highway Safety (IIHS), Washington, D. C.

The study was proposed to IIHS by MSU's Highway Traffic Safety Center and the grant was presented to the MSU Board of Trustees at its January meeting for official acceptance by the university.

"Michigan and its traffic accident prevention activities will benefit greatly from this grant and the study of traffic training needs it makes possible," commented Gordon H. Sheehee, director of the MSU Highway Traffic Safety Center. "While badly needed, no such study of training needs has ever been conducted in any state."

"This grant will enable Michigan to take the leadership among all the states in documenting needs as the basis for sound decisions concerning actual training programs."

"For example, no one really knows how many people are engaged in traffic accident prevention and related activities in Michigan," Sheehee continued. "We do know that many have received no training at all to prepare them for their responsibilities. Others may have received some preparation, yet we do not know how much or how little training they have actually been given."

"Providing adequate training for the thousands who are undoubtedly involved is a tremendous undertaking. Yet, more and better training is absolutely necessary if Michigan's accident prevention measures are to be made more effective."

The proposed highway traffic safety center study will be conducted in three major phases:

Phase One: An inventory of traffic workers, including the numbers in each category and the extent and kind of training received.

Phase Two: Job analysis to determine the responsibilities of each type of worker, what each must know to be able to perform them well. Following this, there will be a determination of the types of training courses needed.

Phase Three: Development of a plan for needed traffic training, including costs, facilities materials, responsibility for organizing and administering the program.

The initial IIHS grant to Michigan State will make possible the work necessary to complete phases one and two of the complete study plan.

Medical Care Insurance Info. is Available

Everyone 65 or older who gets social security or railroad retirement benefits has received an enrollment card for the medical insurance part of health insurance, popularly known as medicare, according to Paul M. Ellifritz, social security district manager in Bay City.

Many people have marked the card, signed their names and returned it. Others may have put the card aside, intending to make their decision later. Ellifritz suggested that these people get in touch with their social security offices if they would like more information about health insurance.

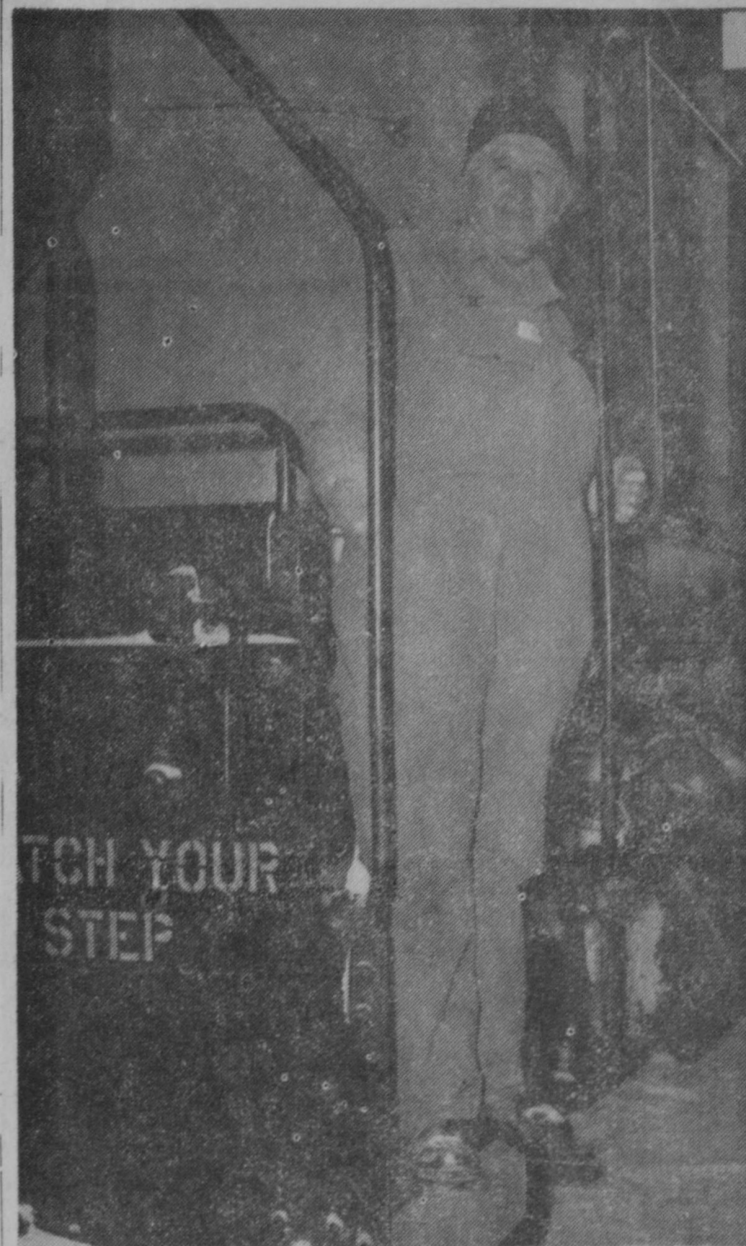

If the enrollment card has been misplaced or lost, the social security office at 1009 North Madison Avenue, Bay City, can provide another. It is very important that you make a decision, Ellifritz added. If you were 65 or over January 1, 1966, you will have medical insurance when the program starts only if you sign up by March 31.

A social security representative for this area will be at the Isoco County Building, Tawas City, Thursday, February 10, from 10:30 a. m. until 2:30 p. m.

Orioles Hand Tawas Area 56-52 Loss

West Branch Orioles gained revenge Friday night for a defeat at the hands of Tawas Area Braves earlier in the season. The Orioles downed the Braves, 56-52.

Despite the loss, the game could still be called somewhat of a moral victory for the Braves. Tawas held a one-point lead at intermission in this low-scoring contest and the final outcome could have gone either way.

Both teams were cold on their shooting and made many mistakes but the height advantage held by the Branchers, which was not fully utilized in the first meeting this season, finally paid off in the long run.

Except for the "right" bounce now and then in Tawas' favor, the Orioles controlled the backboards and this was most important to the winners' cause in the late stages of the game.

The two teams traded basket-for-basket throughout most of the game. Tawas held a one-point margin, 11-10, at the end of the first quarter and managed to hold on to the same lead, 22-21, at intermission.

The Orioles knotted the score at 37-37 at the end of the third quarter. Foul line accuracy late in the game paid off for West Branch and with three minutes to go, held a six-point lead, the widest score-ing spread between the two teams during the night. Tawas sliced two points off the lead via the foul route, but was unable to gain possession of the ball during West Branch's stalling tactics.

Dick Lapeer, high scoring Tawas forward, led both teams with 22 points on seven field goals and eight foul shots.

Tawas Junior Braves started the night off with their 11th straight win, defeating the West Branch JV, 63-48. This was the best overall team effort of the year for Tawas with good hustle, rebounding and defense.

Scoring for Tawas was as follows: Kushion, Haglund and Straley each had 12 points; Doak and Liefkelt, nine points each; Schirmer, five points; Beyers, four points. Guard Dennis Krish missed action Friday night because of an injury during practice the previous night.

The two teams were knotted at 11-11 going into the second quarter but the Tawas sharpshooters meshed 27 points in that quarter compared to 10 for the losers; West Branch outscored Tawas by one point in the third and fourth quarters.

The Braves play host to Pinconning this Friday night.

Hale Wins Ninth Straight; Still Tied For League Lead

Hale Area Eagles won their ninth straight conference game Friday night and remain in a tie with Mio for first place. The two teams meet Monday night at Mio.

The Eagles downed Fairview, 63-39, with ease. Hale took a 14-4 margin at the first quarter, outscored Fairview, 12-9, in the second and piled up a 20-8 lead in the third. Fairview held its own in the final quarter, 18-17.

Jim McMurray was top scorer of the night with 17 points, followed by George Maas' 15. Others in the boxscore were D. Maas, eight; McKenzie and Morgan, six points each; Drengberg, four; Caverly, four; Bielby, two. Mast led Fairview with 10.

W-P Cards Split in Tilt with Beaverton Friday Night, 66-46

Whittemore-Prescott Cards split two games with Beaverton Friday night. The varsity lost, 53-46, but the JV squad came from behind to win, 66-46.

The Card Varsity had trouble in getting started, failing to hit a bucket in the first five minutes while Beaverton scored 12 straight points before Ron Dorsey scored on a charity toss. The Cards then scored seven straight points to trail at the end of the first quarter, 12-7.

With Al McLean out with an injured foot, the short-handed Cards just could not match the taller Beavers on the boards and fell behind by intermission, 31-17.

Williams and Free led the Cards with 12 and 10 points. Coach Val Young's JV squad, trailing 13-7 at the end of the first quarter, caught up as the last half started and went on to win by a lopsided 20-point margin. Dean Cole for the Cards and Jillman for the Beavers each scored 22 points.

The Cards play at Houghton Lake Friday night and are still looking for their first victory.

W-P Area Girls Win Second in Overtime

Whittemore-Prescott Area girls basketball continued in its winning ways with a 24-23 overtime win over West Branch Wednesday night. It was the second straight victory for the Card girls.

The W-P team won it the hard way. The Orioles started off to a quick lead with the Cards having trouble in hitting the bucket. West Branch scored eight straight points in the first quarter while the Cards collected but one. W-P Area turned the tables on the Orioles in the second quarter with five points while holding the Orioles scoreless but the visitors still held a two-point lead at intermission.

The third quarter was all West Branch as the girls hit four field goals while Chris Gilbert hit a fielder and Jeanne Lucas had a charity toss for the Cards.

The Cards started to click in the final quarter as Edna Mullenix and Sheryl DeShano held the Orioles to only one field goal. With seven seconds left and two points behind, Lucas meshed a 25-footer just as the final whistle sounded and the score was tied. Chris Gilbert collected two charity tosses for the winning margin in three minutes of overtime.

zurBurg started working in the East Tawas State Park in 1960. Since, he has worked in the Bay City, Muskegon, Wilson and Grand Haven State Parks. Family Living Education

DOROTHY SCOTT, Extension Home Economist

Hello there!

Coming on February 9, 10 and 11 is "Shop Talk on Shoes."

Mrs. Judy Stam, Michigan State University clothing specialist, will discuss and illustrate pointers on the selection and buying of shoes for grown-ups and for children. Included will be information about "What's New in Footwear Materials" — construction materials and guides for better care.

You are invited to come to the Cooperative Extension Service conference room at 1:00 p. m. in Mio, Friday, February 11; West Branch, Thursday, February 10; East Tawas, Wednesday, February 9.

Would you like some tips about interior walls and electrical installation in that new or remodeled home you are planning or maybe already constructing?

First, the walls. It is difficult to find people who do rock lath and wet wall installations well and labor costs are high. If this is your choice, do avoid a rough plaster or swirl job. There are several reasons. One is because they are difficult to clean.

Plywood panels of 3-16 inch thickness are satisfactory. They can be raw native wood, prefinished panels or the printed type.

This latter one is probably done on Philippine mahogany. The printing is now permanent and duplicates most any wood grain. This permits us great variety of choice, including usually expensive wood print patterns, at moderate cost.

Plywood panels can be installed with adhesive and a few nails. Matching putty stick covers nail-heads and later can repair any accidental damaging.

Dry wall, too, can be put up with adhesive, not nails. Screws at corners hold sheets while the adhesive dries (dry wall to studing). This way there are no nails to "pop" and pop they do because of wood shrinkage. Joints are strip covered as usual.

Choices have to be made, though. You will discover you can not use polyethylene as moisture-vapor-barrier and glue dry wall to studs.

Electrical installations are pretty well controlled. Where there is a choice, better go in for more than you think you will need. We keep adding and adding appliances and equipment that use electricity. Overloaded circuits are wasteful and dangerous.

Major appliances should be on separate circuits—items like the washer, furnace, water heater, refrigerator.

It is wise to install circuits that accommodate 20 AMP fuses (12 gauge wire) throughout the house. We do use appliances in rooms other than the kitchen. Fusetron delayed action fuses are better than regular ones because they permit momentary overloads for starting motors. Circuit breakers are a better choice than fuses.

Be sure to identify all the circuits so anyone can locate trouble spots easily. All too often this is neglected.

No point on a useable wall area should be more than six feet from a receptacle area. New appliances are coming with a ground prong on the plug. We will be ready for them by installing all circuits with a noncurrent carrying ground.

A granite ceiling 1,400 feet thick protects a Tawas City sergeant in his United States Air Force space-age job deep underground.

The Cheyenne Mountain complex includes three miles of tunnels and chambers under the granite roof. Requiring more than four years to build, it consists of 11 steel buildings mounted on huge steel springs to stabilize sensitive equipment against nuclear blasts.

Approximately 22,000 troops participated in Silver Talon, including other units of the seventh army and the German army.

The exercise was part of a year-round training program the third armored division conducts to insure maximum combat readiness.

Hobart, a mechanic with headquarters company, third battalion of the division's 33rd armor, near Kirch Gons, entered the army in May 1964, received basic training at Fort Leonard Wood, Missouri, and was last stationed at Fort Sill, Oklahoma.

The 19-year-old soldier attended Tawas Area High School.

Wilson (Continued from page 1.) not produce ukuleles? This was a few weeks ago. Now the class is in the midst of mass producing an initial run of 50 ukuleles.

Students planned the entire project under Wilson's guidance. The class was divided among the various individual jobs and group assignments used in industry for doing the same work.

There is a plant superintendent, a production manager, design and layout department, quality control department, complete with inspectors. Students rotate between the different jobs so they gain some experience in each.

Student planners estimated that materials drawn from the industrial arts department stock would cost approximately nine dollars for each instrument. They have set a retail price of $15 and have sold a number.

Asked what the class proposed to do with the profits of its six-week industrial venture, Wilson replied: "We hope there are some. It is up to the class—they may want to put it back into the program—to buy a piece of equipment or something, or they may just declare themselves a dividend."

Wilson is the son of Mrs. Claud Wilson of Lansing and the late Mr. Wilson. He is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Goodale of Tawas City.
