

Vocational Education Center is Explained

Members of a citizens' advisory committee comprising Bay-Arden and Iosco area are now studying the feasibility of an area vocational center.

"What is a regional vocational center? First, it is not a vocational high school—it would not issue diplomas," states Elwyn J. Bodley, superintendent of Bay City Public Schools.

"Such a center would provide facilities for occupational training for students enrolled in any public or parochial high school in the intermediate school districts involved. In short, a regional vocational center is a vocational department of the high school, not a substitute for high schools," said the Bay City superintendent.

A regional center would concentrate instruction in vocational subjects for grades 11 and 12, as contrasted with the industrial arts and general shop offerings commonly offered in ninth and 10th grade pupils one hour per day.

Vocational subjects, often referred to as trade and industry (T&I) courses, are designed to provide a marketable skill or to provide preapprenticeship instruction.

Usually, classes meet for three consecutive hours, five days per week. All students enrolled in a regional vocational center would also be enrolled in and attend a regular high school for all other classes. The center would certify the student's records and grades to his high school. The student would be graduated from a high school rather than from the center.

"A regional vocational center could also provide the facilities for adult classes, retraining programs and manpower training projects," states Bodley. "It should be used all day and all evening."

A regional center might also provide some facilities of a pre-vocational nature, including general shop, for students enrolled in the smaller school where offering such subjects is impractical.

A feasibility study of a proposed regional center or centers to service both the Bay-Arden and Iosco intermediate districts was developed by a committee composed of all superintendents in the area.

Some Senior Citizens Not Aware of Tax Exemption Program

State Rep. Sanford Charron, Pinconning, reports that inquiries he has made in his 102nd district indicate that many senior citizens are not aware of the procedure which must be followed to qualify for homestead tax exemptions.

Charron said, "I invite all senior citizens who have taken no action to qualify for this benefit to send me their names and addresses and I will be pleased to mail a copy of the folder prepared by the house of representatives giving full information on this new act."

"Homesteaders at least 65 years old are eligible but when more than one person owns the home, only one needs to be over 65. The allowable $2,500 deduction from the state equalized value of the homestead will provide an average tax relief of about $93. Combined gross income cannot exceed $5,000 and the state equalized value of the home cannot exceed $10,000."

"Applications can be made now with the local tax assessor and must be filed before the final adjournment of local boards of review which is about March 8."

Inquiries may be sent to Rep. Sanford Charron, House of Representatives, Lansing, Michigan.

Quarry Blaster Ends 45-Year Career With USG

Quarry Blaster Ends 45-Year Career With USG

Tuesday, February 8, was the last work day for Walter Deering, a 45-year employee of United States Gypsum Company. He has served the past five years as head blaster at the Alabaster quarry. His retirement will commence the end of the month.

Deering, a native of Illinois, started with USG on April 3, 1921, as a rock loader at the Fort Dodge, Iowa, plant. He transferred to Alabaster on February 17, 1929. He worked on railroad tracks in the Alabaster quarry for 25 years and served four years as midnight foreman before moving to the blasting department.

Between 60 and 90 holes are drilled in the second and third stratas of gypsum rock every eight-hour shift. The holes are then filled with ammonium nitrate (commonly used as fertilizer) and are exploded with one shot. The broken shell of gypsum rock is then transported by rail to the plant for crushing.

Deering and his family were interested in the truck gardening business as a sideline from 1936 to 1944 and he operated fruit markets at Tawas City and Oscoda.

He was a long-time member of the board of directors of Iosco Sportsmen's Club and still is an enthusiastic deer hunter.

He and his wife, Hazel, were married in the famous Little Brown Church in the Vale, Nashville, Iowa, in 1926. Their eldest son, Donald, is mill foreman and has charge of quality control at Alabaster. Their two daughters are Mrs. Darlene McArdle of Oscoda and Mrs. Delores Stewart of California. Their youngest son, Ronald, is in the air force and stationed at Selfridge Air Force Base.

Deering was honored on his retirement at a coffee hour following the regular Sunday morning services at First Methodist Church, Tawas City, of which he is a member.

He has no definite plans for the future but expects that working around the house and outdoor hunting-fishing activities will keep him busy.

Legislators Study Deer Habitat Improvement Methods in Area

A group of 21 persons interested in deer herd management were guests Monday of the Mansfield Rod and Gun Club west of Whittemore. Included were businessmen, hunting club owners, members of the Michigan Department of Conservation and newspaper representatives. Called together by State Rep. Sanford Charron, Pinconning, a member of the house conservation committee, the group studied controlled tree cutting practiced at the club.

Hosts for the day were Arden

Charters and William Fuerst, Whittemore businessmen, who are members of the hunting club.

Guiding the group on a tour of the area was John Byelich, Roscommon, regional game biologist for the Michigan Department of Conservation.

Following last fall's deer hunting season, which saw a drastic reduction in the number of deer harvested, there has been a statewide movement by hunters to force a return to the "buck only" policy by next fall.

Charron and State Rep. Warren Goemaere, Roseville, were particularly interested in learning more about tree harvesting practices used in Northern Michigan to determine if the area could support as large a deer herd as desired.

Mansfield Rod and Gun Club consists of two sections of land and is harvesting approximately 40 acres of poplar and other tree species this winter for pulpwood. The club is a member of the American Tree Farm System and over a period of about eight years has harvested approximately 500 acres of trees.

Byelich explained that through planned cutting of wildland, better food producing areas for deer are provided within two or three years. In addition, branches remaining from the cutting operation provides deer feed to relieve immediate food shortages.

One of the problems of such a program is the low price paid for pulpwood, as compared to man-hours and equipment required to harvest it. Mentioned was the possibility of subsidizing pulpwood cutting operations.

Byelich pointed out that with fewer forest fires in recent years, much of the territory which was formerly good for deer hunting has become overgrown with poor browse for the deer. Much of this land would be unprofitable for cutting from a pulpwood standpoint.

Charters told the group that members of the Mansfield club were very concerned with the declining deer population. He said that a considerable amount of money had been invested in the property for recreational purposes and a 75 percent decrease had been noted last fall in the number of deer harvested.

Because of the large amount of natural food, improved through planned cutting programs, he believed the property could sustain a much larger herd.

A one-year moratorium on taking antlerless deer was suggested during discussions.

Iosco County Receives $114,105 in Gas Taxes

Iosco County's share of fourth quarter motor vehicle highway fund collections amounted to $114,105. All state gasoline diesel fuel taxes and license plate fees go to the motor vehicle highway fund.

East Tawas' share of the fund was $7,603. Tawas City received $3,209 and Whittemore received $1,492.

Total amount collected was $62,124,339, an increase of $3,594,979 compared to the same period in 1964.

Window Service Increased by Order of Postmaster Gen.

Postmaster Gen. Lawrence F. O'Brien has been directed to take steps to increase window service where needed in some 15,000 post offices and to resume six-day-a-week parcel post-delivery in 6,091 cities.

"A good, stable, dependable postal system is vital to the well-being of the nation's economy," President Johnson said, in granting the postmaster general authority to seek service improvement funds from congress. "I want you to explore all the techniques available to modernize our postal service and make certain that they are being used to provide the American people with the best postal system in the world at the lowest possible cost to the taxpayer." The postmaster general said that the service improvements will be made as soon as the congress provides the funds—hopefully within the next months.

Authority to make the postal service improvements was contained in a letter to the postmaster general, replying to a proposal by Mr. O'Brien that such action be taken.

Under the postmaster general's proposal, six-day parcel post delivery would be restored in 6,091 cities where delivery routes from

The World's Most Widely Used
Devotional Guide

Read Psalm 91

We know that all things work together for good to them that love God. (Romans 8:20)

One day, Charles H. Spurgeon, noted English preacher of the past century, was riding in the country. On a farmer's weather vane atop a barn he noticed the words, "God is love." He turned in at the gate and asked the farmer, "What do you mean by that? Do you think God's love is changeable; that it veers about as that arrow turns in the wind?"

"Oh, no!" cried the farmer. "I mean that whichever way the wind blows God is still love." How true it is that in spite of the storms and testings of life, sometimes coming with hurricane force, God never forsakes those who put their trust in him! He has not promised us a life of ease or security from storms and temptations. But thanks be to God, His love and His presence will be with us, "whichever way the wind blows."

PRAYER

Eternal and loving God, may we ever be conscious of Thine all-embracing and everpresent love. Strengthen our faith in Thee, through all the experiences of life this day and all our days. In the name of Jesus, who taught us the perfect prayer, "Our Father who art in heaven . . . Amen."

Hear Annual Reports at Meeting of Grace Lutheran Church

Grace Lutheran Church of East Tawas voted to accept a gift of property and purchase some additional land on the adjacent Main and Lincoln Street corner for possible off street parking at its annual meeting held Monday night, February 1.

The Rev. William C. Lindholm in his annual report thanked members for their spiritual and financial support of the church whose membership was reported as 387 baptized members. In spite of the fact that the church had purchased additional property and built a new parsonage, the total indebtedness at the year's end was only $32,000, the pastor stated. Six thousand dollars was contributed by the congregation during the last year to the mission program of the Lutheran Church in America. An additional $1,800 was contributed to the Michigan Synod for a new old folk's home in Saginaw, Camp Michi-Lu-Ca at Fairview and a new theological school in Chicago, Illinois. Members gave $25,400 to the general fund during 1965.

Mrs. Edna Nunn reported that the Sunday church school and the released time school teachers spoke highly of the church's new parish education curriculum recently developed at a cost of $10,000,000. Mrs. Lillian Higgins, president of Church Women, reported that the ladies had made dresses, shirts and trousers, as well as rolling bandages and making baby sets for the local and overseas social service program.

Church council members elected for three-year terms were Donald Hester, Fred Kaiser, Richard Haglund, J. Richard Ernst, William Stonehouse Jr. and James E. Hanson. Charles Nash and Leonard Sarki, district delegates; Edward Westphal and Mr. Ernst, represent the church at the synod meeting in Grand Rapids. Ernest Mousseau and Albert Keskimaki were selected as church auditors and Mrs. Edwin Anderson, Clair Nash and Ralph White were elected to the nominating committee.

The Rev. Fr. Arthur Mulka officiated at the 12 o'clock ceremony, which was followed by a reception for 700 guests at the East Tawas Community Building.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore a white velvet Empire-style dress. The floor length skirt featured a Watteau train. A bead and pearl crown secured a bouffant veil and she carried an arrangement of orchids and stephanotis. The bride's dress was designed and made by her mother.

Wearing identically-styled red velvet and vanilla crepe dresses were Mary Cain of Lansing, maid of honor, and Kaye Betch of Saginaw, bridesmaid. White fur pill-box hats completed their ensembles. Their white fur muffs were complemented with red roses.

Bridget Tarnosky of Saginaw, cousin of the bridegroom, served as flower girl. Mark Lenczewski of National City carried the rings on a white pillow.

Attending the bridegroom as best man was his brother, Kenneth Tarnosky of East Tawas, with Howard Blust of Lansing, groomsmen. Guests were seated by Mark Urynowicz of Saginaw and Raymond Lenczewski of National City.

For the occasion, Mrs. Skrocki selected a cranberry three-piece knit suit. A blue two-piece dress was Mrs. Tarnosky's choice. Their corsages were red roses and white chrysanthemums.

Following a trip to Nassau, the newlyweds will reside at 1209 1/2 Randolph Street, Saginaw.

School Survey Reveals Teen-Agers' Opinions Concerning War in Vietnam

United States involvement in the Vietnam war was the subject of a recent survey conducted by United States Government students at Tawas Area High School, according to Robert Erickson, instructor.

Questions asked both boys and girls in grades eight through 12 were as follows:

1. Should the United States be involved in Vietnam? Of the total number surveyed, 81 percent replied yes and 19 percent said no. Of the boys polled, 74 percent said yes and 90 percent of the girls said no.
2. Should Russia be able to interfere in the war by sending arms and other help to Vietnam? Of the total, 39 percent said yes and 61 percent no. Boys and girls were about equally divided.
3. Could the war in Vietnam cause a world war? Eighty-three percent of the total replied yes.
4. Should the United States withdraw from Vietnam? Of the total, 18 percent said yes and 82 percent replied no.

5. Should men have the right to burn draft cards and demonstrate against our policy in Vietnam? Eight percent of the total said yes and 92 percent said no.

6. Do you approve of the bombing in North Vietnam? Seventy-seven percent said yes and 23 percent said no.

7. Should we resume bombing in North Vietnam? Seventy-three percent said yes and 27 percent said no.

Three other questions were listed.

"We were interested in obtaining a teen-age opinion on the war and crisis in Vietnam, since we have heard much from the administration in Washington, other adults and college-age students," said Erickson. "The high school age student does not face immediate involvement in the war, but he has had exposure to opinions and facts as we know them through classes and discussions at school.

"Through the survey, some interesting facts concerning the attitudes of boys and girls come to light. The girls tend to be more concerned with the moral aspect of the war than the boys, whereas the boys are more concerned with the possibility of their own involvement in the war if it should continue over a period of years.

"Twice as many girls than boys believe the United States has a commitment in Vietnam and should not withdraw, 12 percent as compared with 24 percent. What is interesting to note is the fact eight out of 10 students believe the Vietnam fighting could lead to a world conflict, but still feel we should stay in Vietnam.

"Also interesting to note is the students' opinion on the part the Soviet Union can play in Vietnam. The students indicated since the United States has become involved in Vietnam to support the free world side, it is only logical and expected that the Soviet Union will become more involved in Vietnam. More than that, the students feel the Soviets have the right to become more involved to support the communist view in Vietnam.

"The recent lull in bombing of North Vietnam was viewed by the girls in a much different light than the boys. The maternal instinct took over as the girls took a closer look at the US policy of bombing. About one-third of the girls indicated they were opposed to the bombings in the first place and almost that number were against resuming the bombings. Girls at this age are concerned with the idea of women and children being exposed to death in the bombings. The boys heavily supported our previous bombings but indicated some reluctance to the resuming of them. Again, we have the indication of the apprehension in the boys about the possibility of expansion of the war beyond its present size and their possible future involvement.

"The boys are not as certain as the girls that peace will come in Vietnam. Almost one-fourth of the boys did not think it would as compared with one-fifth of the girls.

"At a future date, another survey is to be given, covering the same questions, to indicate any shift of opinions," said Erickson.

Braves Fall to Pinny Spartans Despite Fourth Quarter Rally

Tawas Area Braves made a valiant comeback effort Friday night but lost to the Pinconning Spartans, 61-60, in a return match at the losers' home floor. Tawas won the first encounter earlier in the season.

The Braves, turning in a cold first half performance, learned the game is comprised of four quarters and that a 12-point deficit at intermission is a tough margin to overcome.

Both teams had trouble hitting the baskets in the first half and Tawas fell behind when it could muster but five field goals in the first two quarters. Pinny took over the lead shortly after the opening whistle and held a 15-7 advantage at the end of the quarter.

The Spartans continued as the front-runner in the second quarter by outscoring Tawas, 14-10.

Forward Dick Lapeer scored four of Tawas' field goals in the first half and Howard Rollin added the fifth.

Second half action found the Braves being outscored, 15-12, in the third quarter. This set the stage a fourth quarter rush which saw the Tawas team nearly overtake the visitors after trailing, 41-32, at the end of the third stanza.

Action in the final quarter saw Tawas meshing 28 points but Pinny was close on the trail with 20. Sixteen of the latter's total came from the foul line as Tawas players were pressing hard to gain possession of the ball as minutes ticked away.

Ray Powers came off the bench to hit four field goals and a foul shot in the fourth quarter. His final shot came just as the game ended.

Other scoring saw Dale Koepe mesh three field goals and two foul shots. Lapeer had two field goals and three foul shots and Rollin had two field goals.

Big Steve Anderson, who had 28 points for the Spartans during the night, had two field goals and seven foul shots to lead his mates in the last ditch effort. The Pinconning squad converted 14 foul shots out of 16 attempts in the final quarter to stave off the Tawas threat.

Lapeer was the high scorer for Tawas with 19 points, followed by 11 each for Powers and Koepe.

The Junior Braves racked up their 12th straight win of the season by taking the measure of Pinconning JV, 64-33. The two teams played on even terms in the first quarter, Tawas holding a 16-14 lead, but the Junior Braves widened the margin and won going away.

Haglund was top scorer of the game with 24 points and he pulled in 22 rebounds. Lickfelt was second in line with nine points, followed by Schirmer's six and Kushion's four. Straley had three points, Smith and Lixey each had two and Rieger had a foul shot.

Action this week found the Braves playing host to Bangor Tuesday night and on Friday night the Gladwin Flying Gs will play here.

COUNTY'S OLDEST?—Pictured above is the home of Mrs. R. W. Tuttle of Fifth Avenue, Tawas City. This cottage-type structure, believed to have been built in 1869, is said to be the oldest "permanent" dwelling in Tawas City and probably all of Iosco County. The property was first purchased by Henry K. Sanger from the United States in June 1855. Later owned by Gideon O. Whittemore, founder of Iosco, it was sold to James O. Whittemore in 1860. Frank Stickney, register of deeds, owned the home originally. The house was later owned by Supley Brabant and wife, the former Mary Stickney. The building once served as a hotel and saloon and when Mrs. Tuttle and her late husband, Raymond, remodeled the building they found walls of one room had been painted in a gaudy red, complete with drawings of dancing girls—this had been the bar. The chimney in the center of the roof measures 16 by 24 inches. Mrs. Tuttle has resided there 46 years. (Anything unusual about your home—unique fireplace, landscaping, novel planning, historical? A minute used now may mean years of carefree heating comfort for you and your family.

And if you have had the impression that electric heating costs exceeded your budget, you'll be surprised to learn that the cost is comparable to other fuels when recommended installation practices are followed.

The trend in electric house-heating rates is downward. Consumers Power Company's electric home heating rates have been reduced twice during the last two years. The last reduction amounted to a 19% savings.

DOROTHY SCOTT, Extension Home Economist

Hello Everyone!

This is the week for "Shop Talk on Shoes" programs. Sessions are being held at the Cooperative Extension Service offices in Iosco, Ogemaw and Oscoda Counties at 1:00 p. m. as follows: East Tawas, Wednesday, February 9; West Branch, Thursday, February 10; Mio, Friday, February 11.

You are invited to share shoe selection and care tips offered by Mrs. Judy Stam, Michigan State University clothing specialist. She will discuss shoes for Mom, Dad and children.

It is time to choose doors and windows for that house we have been discussing for several weeks with the help of Carlton Edwards, Michigan State University engineer.

The way to shop is by comparing specifications as well as prices. Remember these tips as you look.

Aluminum can be a satisfactory window and door framing material if the frame is two separate pieces or has a plastic breaker strip to prevent the metal from carrying heat to the outside. Without this protection, condensation and icing result.

Sliding style doors and windows need to be a heavy gauge to prevent give and shut tight.

Aluminum storm sash comes three-track, providing for self storage and bringing windows inside for cleaning.

Aluminum doors should be heavy gauge to avoid twisting at the top when the bottom is held.

Think long and hard before choosing sliding glass doors. In bad weather country, they can cause a variety of problems, such as, frost on frame, freezing shut, soaking wood - delaminating plywood, loosening tile, staining draperies.

Double welded glass should be double frame, too. Changes in dimension from temperature and moisture fluctuation make wood sash a somewhat questionable choice when compared with other material.

We have a variety of materials from which to choose on exterior finish, from wood shingles to plastic.

Asbestos shingles or sheets tend to become brittle, stain from water streams and have the nails rust out.

Wood clapboards can be satisfactory. Best ones have a primed back and painted front.

A newer product is hard board with a plastic or painted surface.

Aluminum siding comes in three forms: No backing, strip backing and full backing bonded with adhesive.

Without backing, this siding is noisy due to metal contraction and expansion caused by the sun and wind.

Heavier gauge aluminum with bonded full backing has many advantages over the other forms.

Newcomer is color impregnated plastic in sheet and clapboard styles. Since the color is built in,

HINTS FOR TEENAGERS

... From your Sewing Editor

- SLEEK AND SMOOTH .....CHECK!
- BRIGHT AND BLAZING .....CHECK!
- A GEM OF A JUMPER .....CHECK!
- EASY ELEGANCE .....CHECK!
- SIMPLE TO SEW .....CHECK!

This houndstooth jumper will be high on your fashion CHECK-list and perfect for school, play or even dates, depending upon the fabric you use. It's as great in a soft, plushy wide wale corduroy worn with your highest, bulkiest turtleneck or, in a smooth, sleek double knit in an elegant deep shade.

DOUBLY DELIGHTFUL

... are the qualities of the so-popular double knits! Although they make wonderfully professional looking styles, they are easy to handle and stitch. They combine flexibility with firmness and are ideal for the long, slim lines of today's pattern (Simplicity 6121). Most come in 54 or 60 inch widths and the color range lends itself to all your needs and to beautiful combinations; many of the new knits are brightly printed and even striped. Double knits are available in wool, cotton, synthetics and blends ... the choice is yours and depends on the season and your mood.

TRICKY TECHNIQUES

When preparing to cut, if you have purchased your fabric in tubular form, simply cut it along one end. Press out the other lengthwise fold and if you have a great deal of difficulty in doing so, just be sure to avoid it when laying out your pattern.

You need no special rules for cutting and marking but do be sure to use a long, flat surface when working so that the fabric cannot hang down and stretch out of shape.

Of course, you'll need a thread that has the necessary "give" when sewing knits; TASLAN and DUAL DUTY have both been developed particularly for this purpose. With this specialized thread, your machine needles should be from fine to medium and the stitch length, 12 stitches per inch. However, in any areas of great strain, use 15 stitches per inch.

If you want strips for a binding, cut them on the crosswise grain—a knit fabric has more "give" there than on the bias.

USE YOUR IMAGINATION

You will enjoy doing a jumper as we have done it in great, giant checks and wear it with your favorite blouses and sweaters ... but can you see this pattern done in a jewel-toned velvet or velveteen worn with a flowing-sleeved silk or satin evening blouse. (Think about such combinations as wine with pale pink, deep green with ice blue or, a smashing gold with off-white—an elegant way to appear at that next party!)

MORE HINTS

... are available to you. Double knits are lined or backed as any fabric of comparable weight so if you send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to the Sewing Editor of this newspaper along with your request for THE SHAPE OF THINGS—LININGS, I'd be delighted to send a copy along to you. It will tell you all the necessary do's and don'ts as well give you a chart explaining which linings are available and when to use them. I look forward to hearing from you.

Huge Expansion of Consumers Power Bay City Division

Consumers Power Company will invest more than $5,400,000 in its Bay City division during 1966 on projects to expand and improve the company's electric and natural gas services, Louis A. Vaupre, division manager, announced.

Mr. Vaupre said electric department projects will involve an investment of more than $3,000,000, and gas department projects $1,400,000 with the remainder of the investment going for additions to office buildings owned by the company and for additions to the fleet of trucks and cars which help maintain service to customers.

At Pinconning, Mr. Vaupre said, a major transmission line substation will be built, connecting with power plants at both the Karn-Weadock complex near Bay City and those along the AuSable River. This new station, which will receive power at 138,000 volts, will greatly increase the bulk power supply available in the Pinconning-Twining areas and will augment existing bulk power facilities serving the division generally. Mr. Vaupre said construction of the Pinconning transmission line substation project will begin about May 1 with completion slated for late fall.

Highlights of the program listed by him also include the rebuilding of the substation at Edenville Dam and the installation of new equipment there, strengthening the power supply to the Edenville-Warren area.

In addition substations serving Midland, the Mio area, Pinconning and the Whitestone Point area will be expanded, increasing their capacity.

Other electric distribution system improvements and extensions will be completed during the year

ONE OF THE LARGEST nuclear power plants in the United States is to be built by Consumers Power Company on the shore of Lake Michigan, about 35 miles west of Kalamazoo. It will be completed in 1970. Announcement of the new plant was made jointly by A. H. Aymond, chairman of the board, and James H. Campbell, president. The huge new plant will have an initial generating capacity of more than 700,000 kilowatts. It will be 10 times larger than the company's first nuclear generating plant at Big Rock Point, near Charlevoix, and will exceed the generating capacity of any other plant in the Consumers Power system. Work on the projected plant is scheduled to begin next summer on a site known as Palisades, in Covert Township, VanBuren County, about five miles south of South Haven. By the time it is completed, construction costs and the investment in the plant's nuclear fuel inventory are expected to approximate $100,000,000. This will be in addition to more than $480,000,000 which is to be invested by Consumers Power during the next five years in all other projects for expansion and extension of its electric and natural gas systems.
