Believe 3 Grass Fires Deliberate Incendiaries

East Tawas authorities are investigating what they believe to be three deliberate incendiaries on Ottawas Beach Road, Baldwin Township, Monday evening. The fire department made three calls to the same area south of the Butterfield Store to fight grass fires. A book of matches was found near one blaze, which led Police Chief Donald Docking and firemen to believe the fires were being set deliberately.

East Tawas firemen battled another blaze late Monday night on the east side of Wilber Road south of Miner's Grove. A strong wind caused a tree to topple on a power line and a grass fire resulted. A heavy shower of rain helped firemen to stop the blaze before it reached homes along the road. Drought condition of the area was lessened somewhat by rain Monday night and early Tuesday morning. Woods and fields have been tinder dry for weeks and the fire situation was becoming serious. The rain and accompanying lower temperature was welcomed by farmers and fire-fighters.

Study Continues on ET Helmet Ordinance

Research into a possible ordinance requiring a helmet to be worn by drivers of motorbikes continues this week by Michael Freil, city attorney for East Tawas.

Freil said Tuesday that a considerable amount of work was involved before any possible action could be taken. A request for "sample ordinances" has been made with the Michigan Municipal League and the city is attempting to obtain one now being drafted at Ann Arbor. Authorization to prepare such an ordinance was given last week by unanimous action of the East Tawas Council.

Art Show Expects Record Entry List

Sixth annual Tawas Bay Outdoor Art Show for artists and craftsmen is expected to exceed all past shows, according to a report Tuesday morning.

To be held at the Tawas City Park Saturday and Sunday, August 6-7, some 45 entries had been received early this week by the Tawas Chamber of Commerce, sponsor of the event.

Mrs. Herbert Hertzler, who is co-chairman with Mrs. Lutie O'Loughlin, said Tuesday that many more entries are expected before the August 1 deadline.

Information and entry blanks may be obtained at the chamber of commerce office.

Heart Attack Fatal July 19 to East Tawas Businessman

Funeral services were held Thursday morning at the Hebrew Benevolence Society, Oak Park, and burial was at Machtelah Cemetery, Royal Oak.

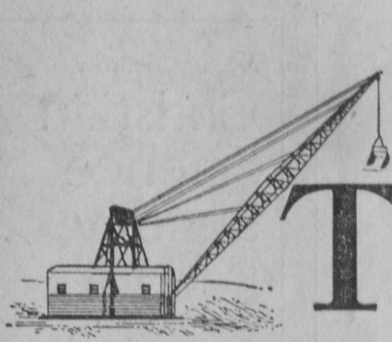

Born February 18, 1906, at Winnipeg, Manitoba, Canada, he was married to the former Sylvia Donin at Detroit in 1946.

Gilfix and his family moved to Oscoda in 1946 where he operated a resort for four years. In 1950, he entered the employ of Barkman Outfitting Company, Tawas City. He later established an apron factory here, worked in Detroit for a year as a window and door salesman and then established Gilfix Aluminum Window Mart, which he operated here for the past eight years.

Important Decisions for Voters—

PRIMARY AND 2 MILLAGE VOTES

A "split" ticket will not count in next Tuesday's primary election, reminds Iosco County election officials, who say that between 30 and 40 ballots were rejected in each precinct of this county during the last state primary.

Registered voters will receive a "two-faced" ballot—that is, one with Republican Party candidates on one side and Democratic Party candidates printed on the opposite side.

If a person votes for candidates on more than one party, the ballot will be rejected during counting. Voters are also reminded that an X in the square is the only legal mark to indicate voter choice.

Outside of local races at the township level, and there are many, the state portion of the primary ballot holds only two races. There is one race at the county level.

Because of local interest, the race between George A. Prescott and Henry B. Smith for Republican representative in the state legislature, 102nd District, is probably the most important.

Prescott, who needs little introduction to Iosco voters, has served as county clerk since 1951. He is currently serving a four-year term. He first entered politics as a supervisor from Tawas Township in 1947.

Prescott, 53, father of five sons and one daughter, is married to the former Margaret Davey of Lansing. He is a graduate of Michigan State University, earning his bachelor of art degree with the class of 1935.

He is a founder of the Iosco County Fair at Hale, Dairy Herd Improvement and Artificial Breeder's Associations and a past president of those groups. He is a Farm Bureau member and one of the original founders of the Northeastern Michigan Hereford Calf Association. In 1961, he served as president of the Michigan Association of County Clerks.

He believes that the Northeastern Michigan area needs and deserves a voice in Lansing and pledges "my best efforts and 20 years experience at the county level to the people of this area."

The district includes Iosco, Ogemaw and Arenac Counties, together with several townships of Bay County.

Smith, 49, attended Bay City Junior College and the University of Michigan. He served five years in the United States Army during World War II and was discharged as a second lieutenant. His business today is investment counseling.

He has taken an active part in health projects in Bay County, is a former scoutmaster and was active in United Fund campaigns.

His basic aims are to maintain strong local government, reduce waste in government, to promote sound management of the state fiscal affairs.

Capturing most of the headlines in the daily press has been the race for Democratic nomination for United States senator between Jerome P. Cavanagh and G. Mennen Williams.

The lone county race is between Robert W. LaVoy of Baldwin Township and D. D. Pearsall of Hale for county road commissioner on the Republican ticket.

Other candidates are as follows:

Republican — George Romney, governor; Robert P. Griffin, United States senator; Elford A. Cedberg, 10th District representative in congress; Robert L. Richardson Jr., state senator.

Democratic—Zolton A. Ferency, governor; Hubert C. Evans, 10th District representative; Leo M. Kenny, 35th District state senator; Sanford E. Charron, 102nd District representative in the state legislature.

Election Information

Two important elections are being held this week and next which should hold much interest to the local area.

A special millage vote will be held in Tawas Area School District Friday, July 29. Please turn to page 2 of the second section for information.

Besides the primary election on August 2, Iosco voters are to decide on a millage proposition to help finance county operation for one year. Please turn to page 5 of the first section for information.

Information on races for township offices in Iosco County may be found on page 6 of this section.

Polls for both election days open at 7:00 a. m. and close at 8:00 p. m.

Board Denies Request to Cancel '66 Contract

In a precedent-making move, Tawas Area Board of Education has denied a release from contract requested by a member of the school faculty.

In unanimous action Monday night, the board ruled that Robert Blood's requested release from his 1966-67 contract with Tawas Area School should have been filed prior to July 1 under terms of the teacher tenure law and contract negotiations which are now completed.

Blood, who teaches algebra, geometry and has two daily guidance periods for junior high and freshmen, requested release from his 1966-1967 contract in order to accept a contract to teach at Essexville Garber High School.

In a letter to the board, Blood said that salary terms were not the prime consideration in his request for release, but that he had completed work on his master degree in counseling during the summer. He felt that the move would allow him the opportunity to devote more future work in this field, although he would not be a full-time counselor at the start.

In recommending that the request be denied, Supt. Reynold Mick said "our responsibility is with the children and there is no possible chance to obtain a replacement at this late date. We want to help him," said Mick, "but we (the board and administration) must live by the tenure contract and must expect the teachers to live by it."

The superintendent felt that if the release was approved, it could open "Pandora's Box" for changes after the contract deadline.

Trustee Waldo Curry said that in the past, the board never had denied a release from contract, under terms of state legislation. Many school systems in the state have not settled contracts as yet.

resulted in practically every school district in the state.

At contract time in prior years, salary schedules would be established early in the year and teachers would indicate by March 1 if they were intending to return for the following year.

After lengthy negotiations this year, it is expected that negotiations for both "sides" will have gained enough experience to eliminate much of the confusion during contract talks.

School Completes Contract Negotiations

According to a report from Supt. Reynold Mick, contract negotiations between teachers and the board of education were settled last week for the 1966-1967 school term. Some 60 teachers are affected by the new contract.

Terms of the master contract call for a starting salary of $5,400 and running to $7,788 for teachers with a bachelor degree, according to the number of years experience. There are no additional fringe benefits.

A teacher with a master degree will receive an additional $400 and teachers working toward this degree are to be paid $10 per semester hour up to 20 hours.

Last year's salary schedule had a base of $4,800 and a top of $6,500 for a teacher with a bachelor degree.

This is the first year that negotiations were held between teachers and the board of education on a master contract, under terms of state legislation. Many school systems in the state have not settled contracts as yet.

"Action on final contract negotiation is independent of the millage election to be held Friday," said Supt. Reynold Mick. "The salary schedule was adopted to insure that this school district would be competitive with other districts in obtaining teachers."

FRANK WALKER, retired state police sergeant, poses on this motorbike. It is a natural place for him as he once held several world's motorcycle speed records and was around "bikes" for most of his 30 years as a state police officer and front line dispatch rider.—Tawas Herald Photo.

Speed a Major Contributor to Accidents, Warns Walker

"You not only have to be a good rider, but you must watch out for the other fellow—too much speed, disobedience of traffic rules by yourself or some other driver and you could be in real trouble."

Offering some excellent words of advice to today's young motorbike enthusiasts was Frank Walker of Tawas City, retired state police sergeant. A motorcycle speed artist of merit in his day, he once held several world's records on quarter-mile board tracks and at one time represented the Indian Motorcycle Company.

Walker probably is best known for his long service in the Michigan State Police, which he joined in 1919—when officers were mounted on horses—and from which he retired in 1949. He first commanded the motorcycle division, later had charge of the United States Border Patrol operating out of Detroit and returned to serve as commander at a half a dozen state police posts in Michigan.

Walker's feats on motorcycles are legendary in state police annals, but he got his start with motorcycles long before joining "Michigan's finest." He began racing on dirt tracks at county fairs grounds in Michigan and Ohio in 1913. The following year at Covington, Kentucky—on a quarter mile board track in a 25-mile race—he broke the world's speed record by averaging 91 miles per hour. This was considered good speed in those days and other newspaper clippings in his scrapbook show he won races at Cleveland, Ohio, and Detroit.

He enlisted in the army in 1917 with the rank of sergeant and spent two years overseas with a motorcycle unit, serving at the front in France as a dispatch rider. Walker was around motorcycles for more than 35 years and he was still riding one the year he retired here. With this kind of background and experience, his advice to youngsters should be valuable.

He believes that speed is the biggest cause of accidents and deaths on today's crowded highways. Particularly so for those riding motorbikes, who must be "defensive drivers" by necessity—if they value life and limb.

for the experts on race tracks, but on highways, the cyclist is at a distinct disadvantage at high speeds."

Cars pulling out of side streets and roads are deadly and the rider must be thinking ahead in order to save himself. Loose gravel on pavement is also treacherous and often undetectable, while wet, slippery pavement is an even greater hazard.

A rider should be familiar with his machine, being absolutely sure that brakes are in proper operating condition and he should wear approved safety equipment. He emphasized that a properly designed helmet was an absolute necessity.

"Bare legs and bare feet are fine for the beach, but not riding a motorbike, unless one wishes to lose some hide on the pavement—spills sometimes cannot be avoided," he said.

Walker said if there was one point he could make that might save some youngster from an accident, it would be this:

"The Michigan State Police discontinued use of motorcycles years ago because we were losing too many good men through accidents. High speed chases by officers on motorcycles were just too hazardous. These men were experts and often risked their lives performing their jobs, yet some of today's young motorbike riders take chances that no trained person would ever hazard—slow down, be alert and live longer."

He also cautioned motorists to give motorbikes plenty of room while passing. He said that highway safety was the responsibility

Inland Lake Matters Concern Supervisors During Session

Matters concerning legal levels of inland lakes and the control of speed boating and water skiing on inland waters were of principal concern to the Iosco Board of Supervisors last Wednesday.

The board directed Prosecuting Attorney J. Richard Ernst to institute court proceedings to establish the normal height and level of water in Long Lake, Plainfield Township.

In addition, supervisors approved hiring of Michael N. Freil, attorney at law, East Tawas, as legal counsel for all proceedings incident to the construction of a dam on Tawas Lake and maintenance of the normal lake level established by the court.

the Tawas Lake special assessment district. All proceedings are to be overseen by the prosecuting attorney for protection of public interest.

A board resolution directed that speed boating and water skiing be confined on inland lakes of Iosco County between the hours of 10:00 a. m. and 6:00 p. m. A copy of the order was directed to the Iosco Sheriff's Department and the Michigan Boating Commission, Michigan Department of Conservation.

In other business, the board authorized the sheriff's department to hire two night deputies in order that the jail has around-the-clock service.

The board approved zoning ordinances of Wilber and Baldwin Townships.

Injured were Donald J. Lear, 20, Sand Lake, driver; Darrell Welch, 19, East Tawas, and William Newhouse, 20.

Earlier in the week, Newhouse escaped injury when the car in which he was a passenger was involved in an accident on US-23, one-half mile south of Johnson Road, Clifford J. Eppert III, 22, East Tawas, driver, made a turn in front of Philip Reed, 53, Oscoda. A passenger in Reed's car, Charles Killingbeck, 40, Oscoda, received injuries. A second passenger in Eppert's car, Douglas Schmidt, 20, East Tawas, escaped injury.

Iosco Voters to Decide Millage Proposal Aug. 2

Iosco County voters will have an important day of decision Tuesday, August 2.

Faced with increasing operational costs of county government, coupled with a reduction in millage received from the allocation board and unanticipated expenditures, Iosco County Board of Supervisors has gone to the people in proposing a special 1½-mill voted tax for one year.

Polled individually by this newspaper Wednesday, members of the board of supervisors unanimously supported passage of the 1½-mill tax—first in the county's history.

Every member contacted during the July session believed that Iosco's current financial plight is only temporary and stressed that additional funds for a one-year duration would put county government "back on its feet."

This same fiscal plight faces other counties in the Northeastern Michigan area—Arenac and Roscommon—where similar millage votes are being proposed. Iosco's condition is believed to be only temporary, which is probably a little different than the other two instances.

Only three years ago, said supervisors, Iosco was rolling along in excellent financial condition. That year, 1964, the county was allocated 5.25 mills to finance its operation—it spread only 5.15 mills to meet its budget.

Then the rosy financial picture began to change. In order for county schools to receive full support of state aid, schools were necessarily allocated nine mills. As a consequence, county operation had to be cut to 4.80 mills.

The county's general fund took a nosedive last year and ended $6,000 in the red. Through a transfer of $20,000 in earmarked funds from social welfare, the general fund had a year-end balance of $14,410.

Coupled with increasing cost of providing county services, which saw its budget to be raised by taxes increase from $275,522 in 1966 to $388,496 in 1967, the board had two important additional expenses during the past two years.

In an effort to better equalize taxation between the various units of the county, which will benefit individual taxpayers as well as schools and all taxing units, the board hired Gem Surveys to conduct a professional appraisal of property in all townships and cities. This service, spread over a period of three years, cost nearly $100,000. The board was also required to transfer $50,000 from its general fund to social welfare to finance the first six months of operation of the new medical care facility.

These two expenses were in addition to regular operation. When the new appraisal figures are used for the first time next year, Iosco's valuation is expected to be increased, although the actual extent of increase has not yet been determined. However, the principal advantage obtained by this appraisal will still be the impartial equalization between all taxing units.

The $50,000 extended to the medical care facility for operation is to be reimbursed by the federal government, although repayment will probably always be about six months behind. Federal and state funds will finance 93 percent of the operational cost.

Added expenses in the 1967 budget include $22,225 for a new equalization department, now required by state law. Other increases came through essential salary boosts to deputies and clerks, added expenses of district health, elections, state institutions, social security, Northeastern Child Guidance, county extension, probate court and circuit court.

Supervisor Charles Smith of Oscoda, chairman of the board's finance committee, estimated Wednesday that the county's general fund would end 1966 with a $21,000 deficit, barring any unforeseen additional expenditures.

"There will be no balance—no surplus," said Smith. "In fact, the welfare department, which has been operating very efficiently, was not allocated a dime this year—it had a balance last year and that money is being expended."

Smith, along with Chairman L. S. Little and Supervisor Henry Oates, told the Herald that there are no services that the county can afford to cut—in fact such services are required by the state. Budgets of all offices have been scrutinized and pared, but not to the extent of curtailment.

Smith was joined by other supervisors in saying that they just did not know where to turn if the 1½-mill increase for one year is not approved by voters. After 1967, they are certain that Iosco's excellent fiscal reputation will return.

The 1½ mills, based on the county's state equalized valuation of $59,783,992, would raise $89,676 for one year. This would still be $8,868 short of the county's 1967 budget to be raised by taxation, but would be close enough to provide enough funds for a balanced budget.

of every driver and that a motorist should always give the motorbike rider a break—"You are protected in a vehicle weighing a ton or more, while the average motorcycle of today weighs from 300 to 500 pounds and the rider is exposed with little protection."

One of the interesting phases of Walker's long police career was with the border patrol. In August 1925, on recommendation of State Police Commissioner Alan G. Straight, he was placed in charge of 35 men and 10 speed boats which patrolled the Canadian border along Lake Huron, Lake Erie, Lake St. Clair and the Detroit River.

Along with liquor smugglers apprehended, a number of aliens were picked up for entering this country illegally. The liquor boats confiscated were sold at public auction and the "bootleggers" would buy them back. It was a tough law to enforce and the repeal of prohibition put an end to the rum-runners along the waterfront.

While with the state police, Walker was post commander at Wayne, Grandville, Mt. Pleasant, Ypsilanti, Flat Rock and East Tawas. He received eight certificates of citations for meritorious service, which included arrests for bank robbery, robbery armed, breaking and entering, car theft and other felonies.

After his retirement, he served four years as justice of the peace in Tawas City. He and his wife have three children and 14 grandchildren and he keeps himself busy by working around their home at 402 Fourth Street.

Continous Sunday from 4:30 P. M.

Iosco County's new $590,000 medical care facility will be formally dedicated at an open house Sunday, July 31.

Former Iosco Circuit Judge Herman Dehuke of Harrisville is to deliver the dedicatory address.

Master of ceremonies for the program, which starts at 2:00 p. m., will be Circuit Judge Allan C. Miller. The invocation is to be delivered by the Rev. Robert Morrison, Christ Episcopal Church, East Tawas.

Lloyd S. Little, chairman of the Iosco County Board of Supervisors, will welcome visitors, followed by introduction of the building committee, introduction of the architect and turning the key over to the chairman of the building committee.

Members of the welfare board are to be introduced, followed by remarks of Clarence Everett, welfare board chairman. Other speakers include John Henry, Edward Burgeson and John Gumbatto, administrative assistant of the State Department of Social Services.

Joseph Homminga, director of the hospital and medical care facilities division, Michigan Department of Health, will deliver his remarks, followed by introduction of guests. The Rev. Fr. John Kolevar, Immaculate Heart of Mary Church, Tawas City, will deliver the invocation.

through the facility following the dedication program.

Completion of the project this month caps nearly six years of study into needs of the Iosco community by the board of supervisors. It was begun originally by action of supervisors in November 1959, when a committee was appointed to study nursing homes.

This committee reported in 1960 that it was unable to interest private capital in constructing a nursing home here and the board appointed a committee to take further proceedings.

Since then, the federal government approved a $290,000 grant for construction of a medical care facility and voters of the county approved a $300,000 general obligation bond issue last summer.

After almost a year of construction, the facility is now completed. This new 50-bed, long-term, extended care facility is located near a group of Norway pine trees. With nearly 24,000 square feet located on one floor, the facility has a well equipped physical therapy department and a diversional therapy department, making available an efficient rehabilitation program to its patients. The services of the physical therapy department will also be made available, under orders of physicians, on an out-patient basis.

Spacious windows enhance the day room and dining room which is furnished with colorful Danish modern furniture. A large central nurses' station enables rapid access to the ward, semi-private and private patient rooms. Included in this modern building is a barber and beauty shop.

The facility also has its own large modern laundry and kitchen.

L. A. Trapp Construction Company, Grand Rapids, was general contractor for the construction. Other contractors were Flint Plumbing and Heating, Flint, mechanical; Normsmith Electric, Cheboygan, electrical; Great Lakes Hotel Supply, Detroit, kitchen equipment.

CLARENCE EVERETT

Supervisor—

EVERETT HONORED BY BOARD

The man who conceived the thought of building a medical care facility and was responsible for promoting the idea throughout the county, is to receive special recognition at Sunday's dedication program.

Clarence Everett, veteran supervisor of Tawas City, was one of those named to the original committee which sought to construct a nursing home here. The committee found that it could not interest private capital in such a project and turned its attention to securing federal assistance.

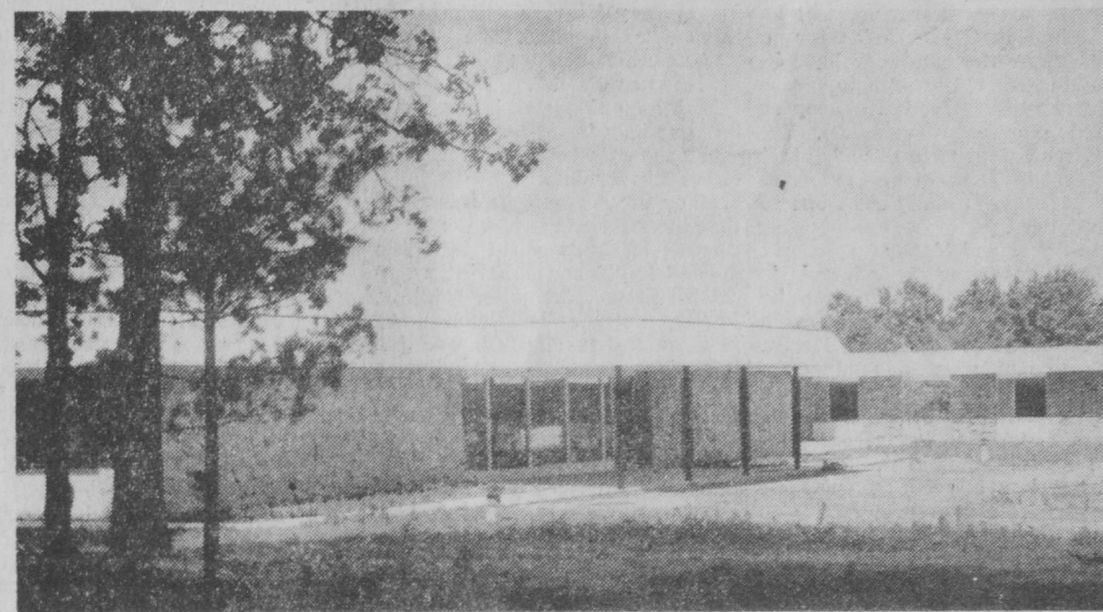

After Hill-Burton funds were made available for this undertaking, the board of supervisors then decided to ask the people of Iosco County to support this project with a $300,000 bond issue.

In its first attempt, the bond issue failed by a considerable margin. Everett then stepped in and started a speaking campaign throughout the county explaining the need for such a project. He appeared before women's clubs, fraternal organizations, service organizations — groups large and small, any place where he could tell the story of the proposed Iosco County Medical Care Facility. Voters reversed their earlier decision through his persuasion and the project was approved.

Everett has been a businessman most of his life, first as a sporting goods and hardware store operator in Detroit, then as a farm machinery dealer.

In 1948, he retired and the Ever-

Iosco Fair Opens Four-Day Run Wednesday at Hale

Exhibits are being readied at Hale today (Wednesday) for what members of the Iosco County Agricultural Society believe will be the biggest and best fair in its history.

The annual event continues through Saturday, July 30, with a complete program of interest for the entire family.

Family interest is what the fair board had in mind during the past several months of preparation for the four-day event, according to Gerald Bellen, president.

Richard M. Samson, Whittemore, secretary-manager, said the board extends an invitation to all Iosco County families to attend this year's event. "This is your fair being held at the ever-expanding fairgrounds at Hale," he stated. "The more support the 1966 program receives, the better the fair will be next year."

With assembling of exhibits today from 9:00 a. m. to 4:00 p. m. the pace moves along rapidly this afternoon with opening of the giant midway and exciting rides at 4 o'clock. Also scheduled for Wednesday is 4-H Club judging at 7:00 p. m. This does not include livestock.

Thursday will be a big day with judging from 9:00 a. m. to 1:00 p. m. The three-day harness racing program starts at 2:00 p. m., with the midway again opening at 4:00 p. m.

Open class livestock judging will be held starting at 9:00 a. m. Friday, followed by horse racing at 2:00 p. m., midway and exhibits at 4:00 p. m.

Saturday is the big day, particularly for the children. Games and contests for all ages will start at 10:00 a. m., followed by a parade at 12:30 p. m. Floats and marching units are to line up at the fair grounds and then proceed south on M-65 through Hale. Final horse racing events will be held at 2:00 p. m., with the midway opening again scheduled for 4:00 p. m. All exhibits are to be released at 9:00 p. m.

All entries for the fair close Wednesday, July 27, 4:00 p. m.

Department heads this year include George Erickson and Robert Robinson, livestock. Four show halters will be awarded, two for cattle and two for horses and grand champion ribbon will be given.

Included in the above department are horses, cattle, swine, sheep, chickens, turkeys, ducks, geese, pigeons and rabbits.

The Cost of the Package

When you bring home food in a package bright, new and shiny, do you ever wonder how much the package costs and if it is worth it? Naturally, the price of a package is part of the price you pay for food.

Usually, when a more expensive form of packaging is used, it is intended to keep the product in good condition until used. The cost of the package is part of the competitive cost of the food and manufacturers try to keep this as low as practical.

Foil packages sometimes cost more than comparable nonfoil packages. Take onion soups, for example. Foil may be used because it keeps out oxygen which hastens staling. Foil retains the volatile onion flavors so the product will be fresher and better when it gets to your dinner table.

When a product leaves the production line nobody can tell how long it will be held in the grocer's warehouse or whether it will be used immediately or held for a while after the consumer buys it. Manufacturers who wish to please usually package foods to keep as well and as long as practical.

Marketing experts estimate that for each $20 spent on groceries the packaging usually costs one to two dollars.

Teen-Agers and Money

If a teen-ager is allowed to spend his money as he pleases, he probably is living at a level much higher than the rest of his family.

Some industries depend upon the teen-ager's dollar for their existence and the business world encourages teens to buy record players, sports equipment, clothing, contact lenses, records, portable typewriters and even cosmetics on time. Charge accounts are available for the asking, what is more, teen-agers seem to meet their financial obligations.

Pocket money of junior and senior high school students has increased almost 300 percent since 1945. Today, American teen-agers have an average yearly income of $485. In 1970, they are expected to spend nearly twice that much. This, then, means that teenagers need some schooling in financial management. Not enough teen-agers recognize the true cost of credit. Some teen-agers see money as a source of prestige and power, a tool with which to buy friends and security. And if teen-agers are permitted to spend their money at will, they get an unrealistic picture of the money world.

The family plays a major role in determining a youngster's attitude toward money. What happens at home can determine a teen's feelings about money. Money may be given to reward achievement, withheld to serve as punishment or lavished freely to represent love and affection.

Helping teen-agers to understand the source of their feelings about money and to acquire a realization of what dollars may represent to those around them is an important step toward developing their ability to manage money effectively.

Calling All Artists

If you are interested in exhibiting at any of several shows, keep these dates in mind. The Tawas Bay Arts and Crafts Show will be held August 6 and 7.

Eighth annual Charlevoix Waterfront Fair is set for August 13. Write the chamber of commerce in either city for details.

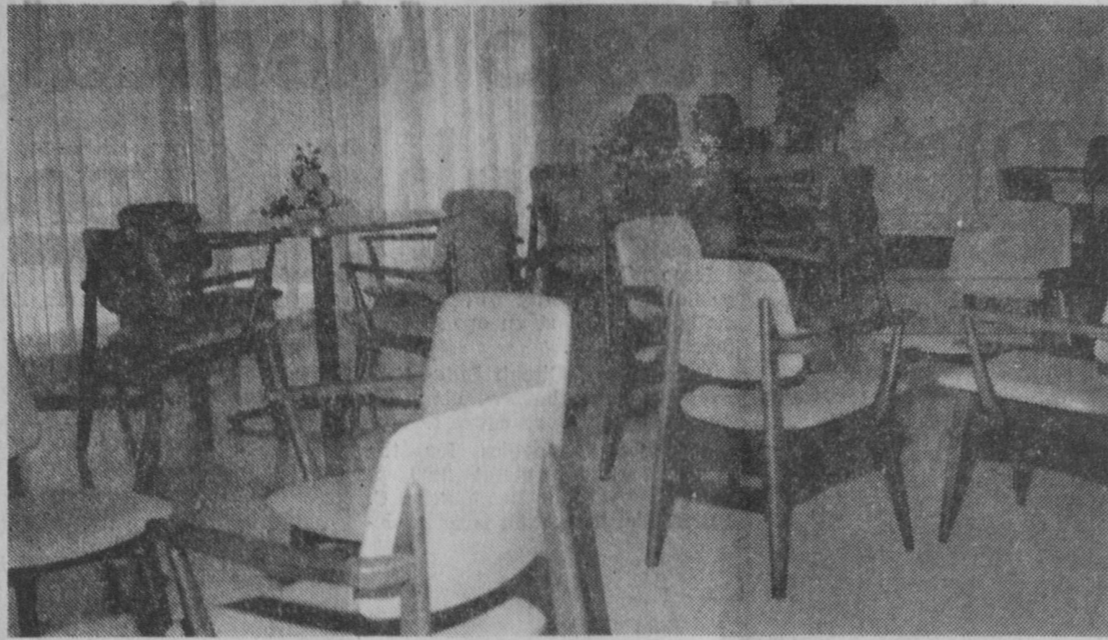

Many of you will be interested that the Arts and Crafts Center in Comins on M-33 north of Mio opened May 4 and is having a successful season. Ceramics, painting, jewelry, antiques and items using local natural materials in addition to needlework items are on display for sale. It is open everyday except Sunday.

OSCODA ART WORKSHOP

Art 460, Special Problems in Art Education, two-hour undergraduate or graduate credit, will be offered at the Oscoda High School on River Road August 1-12. Registration will be made at the August 1 session, 9:00 a. m.

This course also applies to anyone needing art 330 for undergraduate credit.

This workshop type of course in which teachers can transfer their projects for use in their respective classrooms will be taught by Raymond Kihne.

Tawas School Board Resubmits Millage for Vocational Education

"For far too long a time, vocational education has been the scullery maid of American education," stressed State Supt. of Public Instruction Ira Polley recently.

He called on Michigan educators to place greater emphasis on programs aimed at preparing youth in skills needed to get a job when they graduate from high school.

This is exactly what the board of education had in mind—emphasis on vocational education—when it asked Tawas Area School voters to approve continuance of a three-mill tax levy for education last month and why this proposition, defeated by less than 25 votes, will again be submitted for voter approval on Friday, July 29.

Voters are being asked to continue a three-mill tax levy which was originally approved in 1961 to finance a pay-as-you-go school construction program.

This special tax for two years would provide additional space and equipment for a proposed expansion of vocational training, plus funds for operating this program.

The three mills will provide approximately $82,000 annually, based on the district's valuation of $27,327,979. Two-thirds of the levy would go to a sinking fund for construction of new facilities and one-third would go for operation.

In addition, five percent of the state aid payment received by the school, or about $17,400, would be transferred to the sinking fund, as provided by law.

Under consideration by the board for the past two years has been a plan to construct a new shop building which would provide 6,960 square feet of floor space. This building would be attached to the south end of the high school building's west wing.

It has been estimated that a steel and concrete block building would cost approximately $80,000.

Present shop rooms would then be converted into classrooms for the junior high wing. Five classrooms are now under construction for junior high use and are to be completed by this fall. If approval is received on continuing millage for another two years, conversion of the present shop area would provide three additional classrooms.

The present art room and high school mathematics room would be turned over to junior high use, giving that department a cluster of 10 classrooms and would provide complete segregation from the high school.

This arrangement would still allow complete utilization of cafeteria facilities, the band room and auditorium by the junior high. The present junior high wing at the west end of the building would be taken over by high school classes.

The proposed new shop would provide an area 60 by 100 feet for vocational training. In addition, there would be a 30 by 32-foot art room. Restroom facilities would be provided in the new shop building and would be located so as to serve spectators attending events at the athletic field.

The present 2,700 feet of floor space in the shop area is entirely inadequate for instructional purposes. The board plans to expand instruction in auto mechanics, metal and woodworking, mechanical drawing and drafting. This instruction is to start in junior high, which at present receives no shop training.

Proposed expansion of vocational training would allow students to further explore fields not otherwise available at Tawas in order to determine future careers for which the individual is best suited.

While vocational training has for years been an important field of training in larger metropolitan schools, necessary funds have been lacking in the smaller schools to provide this instruction. The local school hopes to follow patterns of vocational training now being provided by other schools in the area.

Through a shifting of emphasis on regular academic classroom teaching, other teachers presently in the system can be utilized in the expanded vocational instruction. This shift in emphasis will tend to alleviate overcrowded conditions in high school classrooms.

Receipt of the additional mill for school operation is most important. The state aid bill adopted by the Michigan Legislature requires that 10 mills of local taxes be levied in order for schools to receive full benefit of the state program. If the millage vote is defeated July 29, the school would be penalized one-tenth of its total state aid—or $34,000.

Are you paying more than 11½¢ a gallon for your residential heating oil?

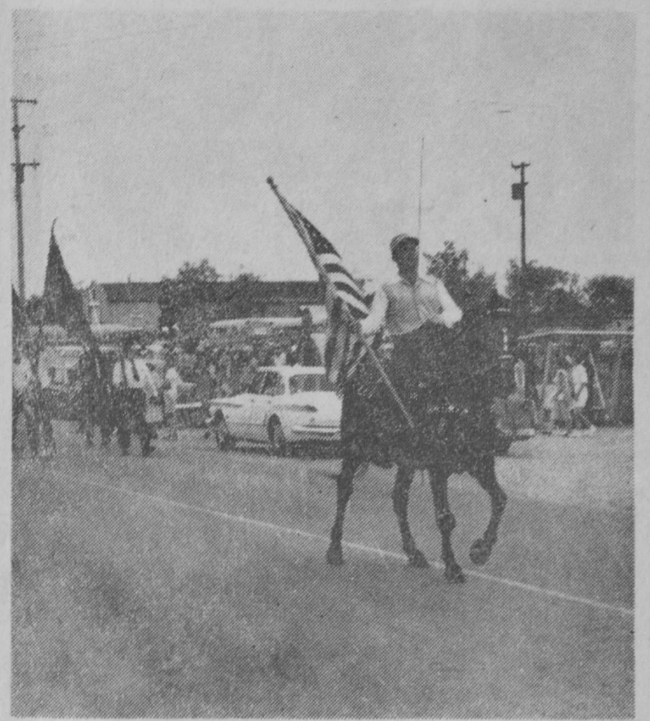

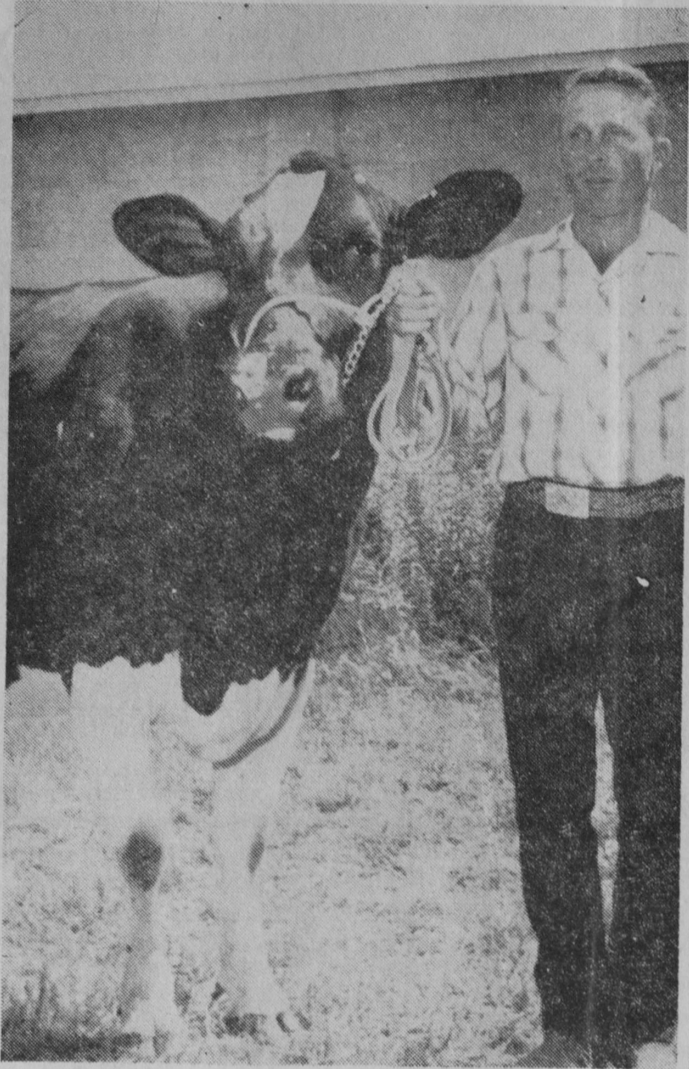

If you are, you're paying too much to heat your home.

If you are now using natural Gas (or plan to) for cooking, water heating, clothes drying or Gaslights, and your use is equal to that of our average residential customer, you can get your Gas for heating under our special service rate at a cost equivalent to fuel oil priced at just 11½¢ a gallon. And the nice thing about our Gas rates is that the more you use, the less it costs per unit. That's a bargain in anybody's book. (Can't pay for the cost of conversion right now? Here's good news: whether you convert your present furnace, or even install a new Gas furnace, we will pay for it and its installation by a Gas Company approved heating contractor. And except for the Gas you use, it won't cost you a penny until October 1, 1966!) So make your present oil furnace more economical this winter. Convert to economical natural Gas. Then you can start putting your money in the bank. Call us today for the name of a Gas Company approved heating contractor and full details.

LOOKING BACKWARD—

Court Appoints Commissioners for US-23 Appraisal

35 Years Ago—

August 7, 1931—Three commissioners have been appointed by Isosco Circuit Judge Herman Dehnke to appraise damages and determine compensation to owners in the condemnation of land in Tawas City, Alabaster and Tawas Townships for US-23 highway purposes. Named were H. Eugene Hanson, East Tawas; Edward O. Putnam, Plainfield Township, and John McMullen, Wilber Township.

The 57th annual fair of the Isosco County Agricultural Society is rapidly approaching—September 9-12—and the work of putting the exhibition grounds in shape is now under way. The grandstand has been rebuilt and the buildings have been arranged to improve their value to spectators. A large amount of work has gone into the race track.

Bruce Myles returned Wednesday from the Soo, where he attended training camp at Fort Brady. The four young men from Tawas City and East Tawas, Myles, Carl Babcock, George Lomas and Lloyd McKay Jr., won first prize in the sharpshooting contest.

Miss Joy McMurray of Detroit, formerly of East Tawas, will appear on the Helen Broader Blues programs, broadcast Monday afternoons at 1:45 o'clock over WMBC-Detroit.

Ordination services will be held Sunday morning at Emanuel Lutheran Church for Emil E. Kasichke, a graduate of the Lutheran Theological Seminary, Thiensville, Wisconsin. The Rev. W. C. Voss, pastor of the local church, will officiate. He will be assisted by the Rev. Henry Wajahn of Waukesha, Wisconsin.

Isosco Board of Supervisors has gone on record as opposing establishment of a drainage district known as the Flood Control Drain proposed by Arenac County. It would be located in Alabaster, Sherman, Burleigh, Reno, Grant and Plainfield Townships of Isosco County, and Au Gres, Sims, Turner and Whitney Townships in Arenac County. Supervisors believed that the proposed drain would be a burden on taxpayers of those townships, inasmuch as a large portion of the lands affected are presently being offered for sale because of nonpayment of taxes.

Buildings on the famous Sera-

della Farm near Oscoda will be dismantled, according to a statement made by the management. This will end one of the most colorful farm projects in Michigan. The Seradella Farm created by the late Carl E. Schmidt of Detroit from cut-over plains land proved his contention that these poor lands could be successfully farmed. He purchased large tracts, imported clover seed and dairy cattle from Europe and hired specially-trained workmen to develop the farm. Fine buildings were constructed and the project was placed on a paying basis. It became famous all over the nation.

A severe lightning storm Tuesday afternoon brought welcome rain, but did considerable damage to the county. The farm residence of Henry Durant on the Hemlock Road was burned to the ground, the steeple on the Emanuel Lutheran Church was completely shattered by lightning, a new chimney on the East Tawas Community Building was struck by a bolt of lightning and knocked down. Telephone and power lines in some sections of the county were damaged and a barn belonging to Arthur Freel in Tawas Township was destroyed when struck by lightning.

Earl Slosser, Turner's portside pitcher, was in rare form Sunday and set Tawas City down with three well scattered hits, while his teammates found the tosses of Bob McPherson and "Ham" Kusaro for 12 hits and four runs.

Miss Dorothy Scott of Michigan State College's Home Extension Service will present a canning demonstration Monday at the Tawas City Auditorium.

A fresh breeze and beautiful weather greeted yachtsmen Thursday at the opening of the Tawas Bay Yacht Club's annual regatta. Skippers from as far south as Detroit have entered boats in this important Northeastern Michigan event.

T. George Sternberg, East Tawas attorney, received his appointment last week as government appeal agent from President Roosevelt. Sternberg succeeds John A.

Stewart, who had resigned.

John H. McCready of Twining was crushed to death at the McCormick and Weaver rock crushing plant near Turner. The plant had opened just two weeks ago.

Ninth annual reunion of Hale School was held Sunday at the new township hall and community building.

Reminiscent of the "Fourteen Points" of the last war settlement, Undersecretary of State Welles has issued the most definite statement so far promulgated intending to give America's post-war objectives. He prefaced his remarks with the assertion that there could be no peace until Hitler had finally and surely been destroyed.

Bankard Service Offered

Peoples State Bank is now participating in the Michigan Bankard charge plan according to an announcement by L. G. McKay Jr., board chairman. Participation in the Michigan Bankard program means that Peoples State Bank will enroll merchant members and accept applications for charge cards from individuals throughout the bank's service area, McKay pointed out.

More than 300,000 Michigan residents are cardholders and some 8,000 establishments are already members of the charge plan, according to McKay. Although some merchants in the Peoples State Bank service area are already members of the charge plan, it is anticipated that merchant participation in the Isosco County area will increase rapidly in the next few months, he said.

Persons applying for Michigan Bankard credit privileges will receive a merchant directory in addition to their charge cards. The directory serves as a "shopper's guide" for charge card users.

The listings cover almost the full range of consumer needs, including purchases for the home and car, apparel, hobbies, recreation, travel, beauty care, TV and appliance sales and service, motels, hotels, restaurants and a host of other services.

There are no membership fees or dues and no service charge when the cardholder pays his bill within 25 days of the statement date. If the cardholder prefers, he can budget his payments by paying as little as 10 percent each month plus a small service charge on the unpaid balance. Cardholders do not have to have an account in any of the more than 40 Michigan banks participating in the plan and the cards are honored all over the state.

For the merchant, the Michigan Bankard plan offers several benefits, McKay explained. By receiving immediate cash credit for every Michigan Bankard sale, the merchant has access to working capital that would otherwise be tied up in accounts receivable.

Record keeping, credit checking, charge card issuance, billing and collecting are all handled by the Michigan Bankard Center, relieving the merchant of these burdens and protecting him against credit risks.

"Our charge plan will cost the merchant less than if he set up his own credit operation and less than any comparable type of national credit card system," McKay said.

CITES VOTER APATHY

George A. Prescott, candidate for state representative, 102nd district, stepped up his campaign pace this week speaking to Farm Bureau groups in Monitor and Gibson Townships, Bay County, and others in Ogemaw and Iosco Counties.

Prescott continued calling attention to voter apathy in the judicial ballot. "We are having a philosophy crammed down our throats today of no restraint on anybody or on any spending," Prescott said. "Court decisions," he said, "are split decisions that have given the criminal element a pretty free hand and at the same time practically handcuffed our law enforcement officers."

"These court decisions are so controversial in the division that we read about flushed faces and table pounding by our justices that respect for that body is fast disappearing."

Prescott said that the taxpayers' burden is mounting for court-appointed attorneys and transcripts for lawbreakers protection and that the latest decision as to confessions may well mean that crime will go unpunished unless actually witnessed.

"Voters ought to mark their judicial ballots first. It is that important if they care about electing men whose thinking changes our very way of life."

Prescott cited figures recently released by the Michigan State Chamber of Commerce which show how deeply federal government has its hand into the pockets of the American taxpayer.

"Michigan taxpayers will pay approximately 5.2 billion dollars as their share of the federal budget which started July 1," Prescott said. "Think what our state could do with just one year's share. This amount is over four times the total amount collected last year to run our state government."

Prescott said that one year's share of our federal tax if retained in Michigan could, for example, eliminate the state sales tax for 9½ years.

"An image has been created," Prescott said, "that states are poor and that the federal government is rich and that all we need to do is ask this benevolent octopus for assistance and it is given. We are given back our own money but find that a pretty healthy slice has been removed in the round trip."

"Worst of all," Prescott concluded, "the great society money is now being channeled directly to local units of state government, by-passing our state capitols."

LETTERS to the EDITOR

July 23, 1966

The Editor

As the end of the season approaches for the Nine-Year-Old, Little and Pony League programs, a word of appreciation would be appropriate to those who made it possible for the area to have the leagues. Fortunately for us, we have people in the area who understand children and realize the enrichment this type of healthful competition adds to the life of a youngster when it is sensibly utilized.

What with family vacations, minor illnesses and conflicting activities, it has been known to happen that not enough boys appeared for a particular game, but the coaches were there regardless. What a catastrophe if that situation were reversed and the boys appeared but not the coaches.

Most of the present day humorists have written at least one chapter on Little League and its amusing incidents, and no doubt about it—it does have its lighter moments. For instance, where else would you ever go to see nine errors in a single inning? The truth is, however, that in the majority of cases the rapport and respect these boys learn for the other individual's personality and ability could be an example for all. The opportunities for teaching the arts of winning with humility and losing with grace are numerous. The latter is so extremely difficult for us all.

That the area offers varied and excellent planned physical programs for the youngsters is verified further when we consider the girls recreational activities and the swimming instructions which are available to any and all who are interested. It is well that we are not indifferent concerning these advantages because even some neighboring communities can not have these summer programs for their youthful citizens due to lack of facilities, funds or personnel.

It is fundamental logic that the happy, productive and well-adjusted child is the one whose mind is occupied with constructive thinking and whose energies are directed into those channels which he, himself, enjoys and are at the same time acceptable to society and to his own conscience. Certainly these summer activities fit into these categories and are much appreciated by the parents of those children who participate.

The Indians continued on top of Knothole League play during the past week by taking one victory, while the Dodgers posted one win to continue to lead the Pony League.

Defending its undefeated record, the Indians scored single runs in the first, third and sixth innings to overcome a two-run sixth inning uprising by the Dodgers. Tom Kasischke started for the Indians and pitched a strong game until the last inning. Two doubles and a walk produced two runs for the Dodgers to tie the game. In the bottom of the inning, Dillon led off with a triple to right field. Cross struck out, Anderson walked and Kasischke won his own game with a double to left field. Crisberry and Brainard had doubles to top Dodger batters.

The Jets scored one run in the third inning and Gary Daugherty shut out the Dusters with his one-hit pitching performance. The Jets collected five hits off Bryan Unkel, who struck out 11 batters.

The Jets won their second game of the week by defeating the Little Trailers, 9-5. Gary Scales, winning pitcher, struck out 10, walked six and allowed three hits. Minard was nicked for nine hits, struck out seven and walked three in a losing cause. Jordan had a three-run double for the winners.
