

TA Guidance Counselor Explains Local Program

Need for participation by parents in developing a proper course of study for students who desire to further their education after high school was emphasized this week by Tawas Area School administrators.

Speaking at Monday night's meeting of the board of education was Thomas Pinkowski, the school's guidance counselor for students. The program was a continuation of a series started last year in which board members became acquainted with the various departments in school.

In his introduction of Pinkowski, Supt. Reynold Mick said that all guidance counselors were being put in a squeeze because of overcrowded colleges.

Mick said that colleges were becoming highly selective when admitting freshmen—even some B-average high school students are finding certain college doors closed to them—and that it will take even greater cooperation from parents in the future to assure college entrance for students.

In outlining his work with students, along with that of Robert Blood, who combines junior high teaching with guidance counseling, Pinkowski explained the various testing programs given students starting in the eighth grade and continuing through high school.

At present, study courses are pretty well defined for all seventh grade students with only a few alternates. By the time a student reaches the eighth grade, he has several selective courses which aid in developing further study in high school. One of those named was algebra.

The school holds a parents' night for seventh and eighth grade students at which time rules for high school are explained and the study program outlined. Pinkowski emphasized the need for attendance at these sessions.

All ninth graders are interviewed by Blood and a four-year study course prepared, using recommendations of junior high teachers and mental aptitude tests as a basis for each student's program.

A schedule is then prepared and sent home with the student for approval by parents. "Sometimes it is like pulling teeth to get these schedules returned. When the schedule does come back, we know that the course of study is approved by parents," said Pinkowski.

If not approved, personal interviews may follow to develop a schedule. He said that schedules "approved" with forged signatures of parents have been found.

Tests given to ninth grade students include one for educational ability showing capabilities and potential and another is a preference test to show interests of the students.

By the time a student reaches his sophomore year, each is interviewed and an evaluation made of schedules and work. Corrections are made where necessary.

Schedules are re-examined in the 11th grade and each student receives a mental maturity test. Credits are checked over and adjustments or warnings given when a student is found to be lacking in required credits for graduation.

Juniors also are eligible to participate in the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test, at a cost of $1 each upon which many college scholarships are based. Notice of the testing day is sent home to parents and publicized in the local news media and additional means are to be taken in order that all parents are acquainted with the program.

Seniors are given a battery of tests which includes state-wide competitive test for scholarships and a scholastic achievement test. Seven Tawas students received scholarships under the competitive testing program last year, highest in local history.

Pinkowski said that more and more schools of higher learning were requiring that results of various testing programs be made available for college entrance.

He said that his department was now studying the possibility of working more closely with seventh grade students concerning vocational and college preparatory courses for high school scheduling.

Million Dollar Civil Suit Opened Tuesday in Iosco CC

A million dollar civil suit opened Tuesday in Iosco Circuit Court before Judge Allan C. Miller.

Orville Leslie and Sons, Incorporated (Dora Leslie, Benjamin Leslie, Orville R. Leslie and Otto L. Leslie), started the civil action April 29, 1964, against Ford Motor Company.

Plaintiffs in the cause claim that the automotive firm delayed in giving them a franchise to operate at Oscoda. Because of the delay, they say they lost their opportunity to obtain additional capital and proceeded with inadequate funds to purchase a dealership there.

As a result, the plaintiffs maintain that financial pressure arising out of the defendant's conduct caused financial embarrassment and they were forced out of business.

The Leslie firm had operated a dealership in Tawas City for about 40 years.

School Board Names Contract Negotiators

According to a report at Monday night's board of education meeting, the first contract negotiation session with teacher representatives is to be held Thursday night. The two principals and the superintendent are to act as the school's contract negotiators. Trustees Helen Payea and Carl Helmer are to act as observers.

The board, by a four to two vote, approved use of buses for transporting students to Wednesday night's district basketball tournament at Oscoda, if proper chaperones are available. Voting in favor were Pres. Leonard Sarki, Clare Herriman, Helmer and Mrs. Payea. Voting against use of buses were Walter Niles and Clyde Sober.

In the past, the board had a policy of not furnishing student spectator buses to district tournaments. Buses had been used for regionals only.

Receives Jail Term on Larceny Charge

John D. Wilson, who entered a plea of guilty to larceny from a building, was sentenced Tuesday to the county jail for 40 days, fined $75 and ordered to pay costs of $25.

Appearing in circuit court, Wilson, an airman from Wurtsmith, had been convicted of stealing a painting from the Holland Hotel on January 31.

When arrested, police found he had four other paintings by local amateur artists in his possession. They had been stolen earlier from the hotel.

Perchville Festival a Success!

Sun Beams on C of C--Finally

It finally happened—the weatherman and perch cooperated with Tawas Chamber of Commerce officials and the annual Perchville Festival went into record books as the most successful in its three-year history.

As a result, approximately 10,000 outdoor enthusiasts from Eastern Michigan communities enjoyed sunny skies, mild temperatures and caught a ton of perch or more through the ice of Tawas Bay.

"It was about time—we were beginning to wonder if our festival really had a weather jinx," said a beaming Marlin Eaton, Perchville chairman, who probably was the happiest man on the ice Saturday and Sunday.

"The weather just could not have been better and the efforts of the many committee workers were justly rewarded with what probably was the largest crowd ever to attend a winter outdoor activity in the Tawas area," said Eaton.

In past years, rain or extremely cold weather marred the two-day event, thus curtailing most activities.

The festival opened Friday night on the right foot with a stag perch fry at the Holland Hotel attended by more than 100 North-eastern Michigan business leaders and representatives of Wurtsmith Air Force Base. Bob Reynolds, Detroit radio station sports director, was crowned festival king.

Saturday's program opened with flag raising ceremonies at the East Tawas City Park and a fun-filled day followed with sky diving exhibitions, aerobatics, helicopter and snowmobile rides, iceboat and snow plane races and perch fishing contests.

Highlight of the afternoon came when Harry McElyea treated a crowd of several hundred spectators to his swimming antics in a pond cut in the ice near the Michigan Waterways Commission Dock. All but one spectator shivered as they watched McElyea paddle around in the water on a chunk of ice.

The lone exception was David Huse, 26, Bay City, who joined the "polar bear club" and jumped feet first into the pool—with his clothes on—drawing an admiring handshake from the veteran winter swimmer, McElyea.

Saturday evening's program turned to the Barnes Hotel, Tawas City, where Mrs. Sandra Treichel of Jackson was crowned Perchville queen for 1966 by Reynolds.

Her selection was made Saturday afternoon by a special committee which toured the car-jammed ice over fish beds at the light of Tawas Bay.

Principal speaker during the night was Lloyd M. Steward, AC Sparkplug executive of Flint.

Sunday's program was a repeat of the previous day and was witnessed by an even larger crowd of spectators.

Prize Winners Listed for Perchville Festival

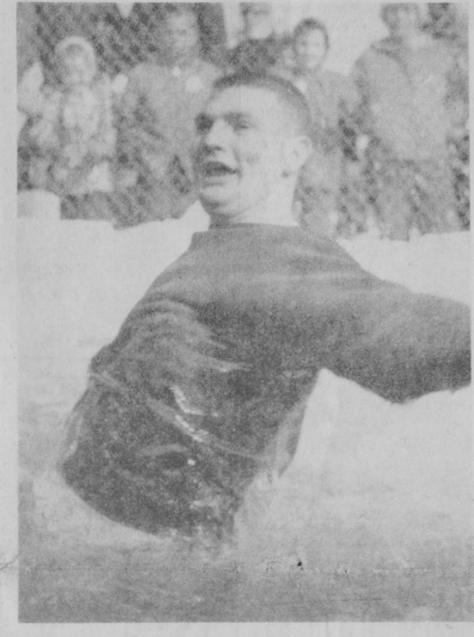

Top prize winner during the Perchville Festival was Doris Riggs, Tawas City, who was the lucky ticket holder for an aluminum shanty and trailer awarded by the Tawas Chamber of Commerce.

Among contest winners were: Pike—Wally Davenport, Saginaw, first; Charles Peterson, Tawas City, second; Beverly Hall, Mt. Morris, third.

Edward Lixey won first place in the perch contest, followed by his son, Thomas, in second; Gerald Russell, East Tawas, and Jerry Miller of Saginaw were in a two-way tie for third.

Richard Bertsch of Tawas City caught 82 perch to be tops with the most fish. Edward Haglund of East Tawas won first prize in the junior division with 32.

Bernie Milnes, age six, East Tawas, was, won the junior fishermen's division for the largest fish.

TA Classroom Contract Goes to O. S. Rose

Contract for constructing a five-room addition at Tawas Area High School has been awarded to O. S. Rose Builders, Tawas City, low bidder at the February 14 meeting of the board of education.

Total bid price for the construction is $119,224, which includes the basic bid of $117,000 and two alternates.

The two alternates were an additional $444 for slate blackboards and $1,800 for folding partitions, which were both accepted by the board.

Supt. Reynold Mick said that the bid had been checked by the school's architect and all was in good order.

Rose was to pick up plans Tuesday morning to begin ordering materials for the construction. The structure is to be completed August 25.

The five-room addition is to be located at the south end of the east wing. It will be used for junior high classrooms.

Tawas Area Band Won First Division Rating at Oscoda

Tawas Area High School Band received a first division rating in Saturday's district band festival at Oscoda.

Besides Tawas Area and Oscoda, schools represented included Hale Area, Whittemore-Prescott Area, Arenac, Fern, Atlanta, Gladwin, Roscommon, Clare, Beaverton, Standish, Sterling, Alpena and West Branch.

The band, under Director Gene Salamony, played "Shield of Freedom" by Azollina, the required selection for class B; "Folk Song Suite" by Williams, and "Pageant" by Persichetti before three qualified adjudicators.

Tawas received two "I" ratings and a "II" for the concert pieces and an "I" in sightreading.

Adjudicators for the event were David Merkel, James B. Hause, Nelson Hauenstein and Raymond Gerkowski.

By receiving a first division rating, the band is eligible to participate in the State Band and Orchestra Festival on April 23 at Flint.

TA Board Asks Earlier Report on Citizens Advisory Study

A citizens advisory committee 1966 cut-off date has been asked to make its final report during March.

This committee, with Paul Bayer as chairman, is currently studying needs for expanding a vocational training program at Tawas Area School.

At Monday night's board of education meeting, it was stated that a decision would have to be reached soon on presenting such a proposal to voters in order to comply with election requirements.

In 1961, district voters approved a three-mill levy for five years which financed construction of a new Tawas City Elementary Unit, an addition at the East Tawas Elementary Unit and five classrooms at the high school. The first two projects have been completed and a contract for the latter was awarded this week.

Under study is the possibility of converting the present shop area into classrooms for a complete junior high wing and then construct a new vocational training building.

Discussion at Monday night's meeting pointed up one problem which may soon face area schools and local branches of government. Two school aid bills are presently in the hopper of the state legislature, one of which may cause concern again when tax allocation time rolls around.

The one bill being pushed by Michigan Association of School Boards, and which seems to have enough support of the legislature to override a threatened veto by the governor, would require that schools receive an allocation of 10 mills this year instead of nine for full state aid participation.

The MASA formula would give $280.50 for each student and has a deductible millage factor of 5.06. Under this bill, Tawas would receive $490,875 for 1,750 students and the district's valuation of $27,389,000 times 5.06 would net another $138,588, if 10 mills are allocated. If only nine mills are allocated to schools, $35,228.70 would be deducted from state aid in Tawas' case.

Under consideration of the board in asking voters to approve extension of the three-mill tax which has been in effect here is a plan whereby two mills would go to debt retirement for the construction project and one mill for operation, to satisfy the requirement for a full 10 mills to qualify for state aid.

"We will have to wait and see how the wind is blowing on this proposed legislation," said Mick. "We did not expect this 10-mill requirement to state aid this year but we are going to have to be ready if the bill is passed."

Tawas Now 'Forestville'; Film to Feature Forest Coop.

Tawas area became known as "Forestville" last week with the arrival here of a photographic crew from the United States Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.

Preliminary footage was filmed Thursday, Friday, Monday and Tuesday for a 25-minute sound-color film to be entitled, "A Working Forest."

This new documentary film which is being produced by USDA's Motion Picture Service, Office of Information, will receive nationwide distribution.

Star of the film will be the AuSable Forest Products Association, which has received state-wide and now national recognition for its cooperative efforts in marketing forest products from the local area.

"This film is being made primarily to inform state and federal employees about the forestry cooperative program," said Peter Drowne, director. "The successful growth and development of the forestry cooperative in the Tawas area is cited as exemplary of further work being done in the important area of assistance."

Drowne, along with Homer Boor, producer, and Orlando Mengarelli, director-photographer, inspected one location for filming Monday morning at the West Tawas Yard of the Detroit and Mackinac Railway Company. Railroad cars of pulpwood were pictured and the crew was to film Monday evening's southbound freight train with a consist of pulpwood cars.

Drowne said the film would be a case-history study of AuSable Forest Products and the community, showing the need of such a cooperative before its organization, how it came to be and the work it is accomplishing today.

Casting will include about 15 people from the local area. The men are now looking for "actors" to play the part of various characters used in the shooting script.

Drowne and Mengarelli are to return in May for a five-week shooting session. They will be working on close cooperation with Tawas District Ranger Loren Woerpel and James Schultz, manager of AuSable Forest Products Association.

When completed, the film is to be available for release through forest service channels.

Drowne has been with the department of agriculture for the past eight months. While working toward his master degree from UCLA, he was employed by CBS Television in preparing documentary films and commercials.

THE BIBLE
SPEAKS
TO YOU

The absolute equality of all men in the sight of God is the theme of this week's lesson-sermon on the subject, "Man," to be read in all Christian Science churches on Sunday. Bible references include Paul's interpretation of this fundamental spiritual premise: "For ye are all the children of God by faith in Christ Jesus... There is neither Jew nor Greek, there is neither bond nor free, there is neither male nor female: for ye are all one in Christ Jesus" (Galatians).

Parallel references from the denomination's textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, include this statement: "Through spiritual sense you can discern the heart of divinity, and thus begin to comprehend in Science the generic term man."

Plan Observance for 100th Anniversary of Christian Science

Plans for a year-long observance of the 100th anniversary of Christian Science have been announced by the Christian Science board of directors of the Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, Boston, Massachusetts. Major events will include a world-wide public speaking tour of Edwin D. Canham, editor in chief of the Christian Science Monitor, who will appear in Detroit May 3.

Centennial activity within the church will come to a focus at the annual meeting at Boston June 6. Land clearance will begin that day for construction of an expanded 15-acre church center, while members gather to consider their movement's progress and spiritual mission.

The centennial stems from events in 1866 which marked the turning point in the life of Mary Baker Eddy, author of the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures."

Defeat Rose City While Posen Upsets Mio for Tie Breaker

Receiving an assist from Posen, Hale Area Eagles won the North Star League Championship for 1965-1966.

The Eagles defeated Rose City, 71-59, Friday night and Posen pulled a 64-62 upset over Mio.

The Eagles and Mio had split in two games during the year and each team had only one defeat during league play.

Earlier in the week, Mio lost to Hale and it appeared as though the two teams would split the championship.

Hale moved ahead of Rose City in the early minutes and stayed on top all the way, with Martin Caverly leading a balanced attack with 19 points. Center George Maas was outstanding on rebounds. Larry and Jerry Whisman set the Rose City pace with 20 and 14 points, respectively.

Mio, playing on home boards, was ahead by as much as 13 points in the third period but Posen kept whittling away and turned the tide in its favor in the last minute of play.

Needlecraft News by Nancy Baxter

ATTENTION TO DETAIL GIVES A TOUCH OF ELEGANCE TO YOUR HOME. As important as the furniture, rugs and draperies in your home are the small things that show pride and continuity in your decorating. An often neglected room, is the bathroom and for that reason, I have picked this ensemble... covers for the waste basket in the corner, the facial tissue box and hair spray tucked away in the cabinet or closet. Now they can take their place with your finest towels.

KNIT ONE, PURL ONE, CROCHET ONE

This ensemble shouldn't be limited to the bathroom... where else do you find waste baskets, tissue boxes and spray net... in your bedroom and in your daughter's. The covers are made with the basic stitches of knit and purl. The trim is crocheted onto the cover. Pick a color of knitting worsted that blends with the dominant color in your room. If your scheme runs to beiges or blues, why not try two shades of green?

CHANGE THE BATH MAT, CHANGE THE COVER

When you change the bath mat, why not change these covers too, make one to go with each towel set and even one for each season. They also make lovely "any-time-of-the-year" presents. Free instructions are available by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to the Needlework Editor of this newspaper along with your request for PK 3252.

"DOWN IN THE VALLEY WHERE THE GREEN GRASS GROWS, sits little Jeanne as sweet as a rose, along comes Brian and kisses her on the nose"... all because you made her irresistible in this classic middy blouse. Don't you want your "little doll" to lead the skip rope set?

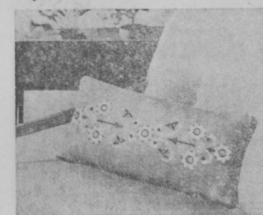

TERRIFIC FOR THE TOM BOY TOO

She'll wear a flag for the maternal institution if you make her middy of red, white and blue speed-crocheted... and you'll love the flag for its practicality. It's cotton and can be worn over a blouse while the weather is still cool. Then, when it gets warmer, just as a blouse. If your little lady is a Tom Boy, relax, this blouse can take all the rough and tumble wear she can give it... but you'll probably want to use darker colors that don't show the dirt.

WARM WEATHER IS JUST AROUND THE CORNER

Don't put off making this blouse... warm weather always comes sooner than you think it will. Free instructions are available by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to the Needlework Editor of this newspaper along with your request for PK 9781.

"PILLOW TALK" is the topic of conversation among decorators with an eye for inexpensive ways to achieve an expensive look. They're great to coordinate and emphasize colors in a room. Crewel embroidery lets you make use of several colors for an elegant accent piece, and the long pillow is currently popular used on either end of a couch. The two make an unbeatable combination in any home.

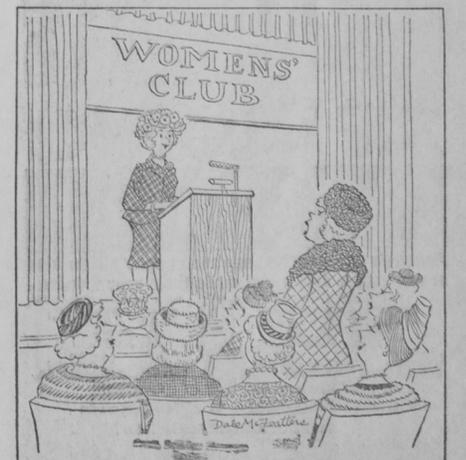

SATIN STITCHED SATIN

This pillow is a light green linen embroidered with white, black and floss "O.N.T." six strand floss. You may want to keep the black and white, traditional to crewel, and substitute the color most prominent in your color scheme. Any kind of material, satin, cotton synthetics and even embossed, can be used. The embroidery pattern is included on the leaflet and can be transferred using carbon and tracing paper onto fabric pieces 13 1/2 x 25 inches.

IN THE SCHEME OF THINGS

It will fit right in the scheme of things... find a home in a nest of throw pillows on the bed, in a chair or on the couch. Let this be a teaching project for your daughter to learn crewel embroidery. She'd love to make one for her room. Free instructions are available by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to the Needlework Editor of this newspaper along with your request for Leaflet PE 2389.

Conclude First Carnegie Course With Banquet

The first local class of the Dale Carnegie Course, sponsored by Tawas Kiwanis Club, was concluded at a February 22 banquet held at the Holland Hotel. The class had met at Tawas Area High School for 14 weeks. Carlton Merschel of East Tawas and E. G. Spica of Tawas City assisted the instructors. The program consisted of each member presenting a short speech and contests of best achievement were won by Stuart White of East Tawas, two prepared speeches, and Ronald Edwards of Harrisville, three impromptu speeches.

Walter Champion of Tawas City, president, and William Lyon of East Tawas, vice president, were masters of ceremony. Class history was presented by Ruth McNichol of Oscoda and class poem by Herbert Hertzler. Janet Ernst was in charge of the attractively decorated tables; Thomas Foster and Martha Pinkerton, programs; Helen Hertzler, secretary-treasurer, tickets and banquet arrangements.

At the conclusion, Michael Handley, director, presented certificates to Stuart Bergama Jr. and Mark John Tetu of West Branch; Mrs. McNichol, Oscoda; Mr. Edwards, Ted Labaza, Harrisville; Carl Bygden, Mr. Champion, J. Richard Ernst, Mrs. Ernst, Clare V. Herriman, Dr. John D. LeClair, Paul J. Sullivan, Tawas City; Charles R. Lemon, Alabaster.

Receiving certificates from East Tawas were Gordon L. Dunham, Mr. Foster, Mrs. Hertzler, Mr. Hertzler, Mr. Lyon, Richard B. Moss, Miss Pinkerton and Mr. White.

Curry, stressed the need for the building program. It was stated that vocational training should be expanded to three sections of general shop, two sections of mechanical drawing, one section of auto mechanics, one section of tool and die work with welding, one section for seventh and eighth grades.

The school now offers two sections each of general shop one and two, one section of shop three, one section of auto mechanics and one section of mechanical drawing.

Tawas presently devotes 2,640 square feet of space to its shop department, far below that of other comparable schools in the area. Stansh-Sterling has a shop area of 6,000 square feet. Gaylord has 13,000 square feet. Essexville has 6,800 square feet. Cost of such a shop building would be approximately $12 per square foot for a steel structure and $16 per square foot for brick veneer.

A, B, C's of Michigan Deer

The basic facts about Michigan deer are: A. Michigan does not have as many deer as it used to have; B. Michigan is going to have fewer deer before it has more; C. There is nothing practical that can be done to produce many more deer right now. As Michigan's deer range goes, so goes the deer herd. And in northern Michigan, the state's major whitetail country, the range is going downhill as forests continue to grow up and produce less winter deer food. This is happening despite the Conservation Department's efforts to carry more deer through the winter. Everything considered, Michigan deer seasons for the foreseeable future must include the taking of some antlerless animals each year. To do otherwise would mean a tragic waste of deer, the rapid deterioration of the winter range, and fewer deer for the future. —Mich. Dept. of Conservation.

Mayor Explains Need of Proposed Sewer Project

(This is the first of a series of five articles presented to the citizens of the City of East Tawas explaining the need for a new sewage treatment plant for the city, together with improvements to the existing sewage collection system. These articles are presented to the citizens of East Tawas by Mayor Clarence McKenzie and they include the explanation of the financing of the project.)

The City of East Tawas for many years has been faced with a basic and fundamental civic need and one which underlies all public and private building or any improvements. It is the need for a new sewage treatment plant and improvements to and the enlargement of the present sewage collection system.

The city council has recognized this need for many years.

The present sewage treatment plant was constructed in 1933 and is therefore over 30 years old. It was designed for a predicted population of 1,645 by 1963. The population of the city is 2,660, plus about 1,000 temporary residents in the summer. The plant is over its operating capacity now. The present plant cannot be expanded, due to the lack of space on the present site. The disposal of treated effluent into Tawas Bay is objectional from a health and recreational standpoint. The city now owns 20 acres of land in the south-west part of the city and this site is recommended by the consulting engineers as the site for the new plant.

The absence of a modern sewage treatment plant tends to restrict the growth and development of the community and has been a matter of much concern to the city council, the board of public works and many residents of the community.

If the city is to grow and prosper, this situation must be corrected.

Because of the serious need for a new sewage plant and improvements to the system, the city has retained the services of Spicer Engineering Company of Saginaw, which has prepared and presented to the council a very comprehensive engineering report on the proposed project. The new plant is designed for the estimated requirements of the city for a period of 30 years in the future. The information about the new plant, as well as the old one, is taken from the engineering report. The city council has retained the services of Julius A. Hanslovsky of East Lansing as the financial consultant for the project. He has prepared a plan for the financing of the project and will also prepare the publicity for the project, covered through the five articles, to be published once a week for the period from March 2 through March 30.

It should be stated that the city has now made application for a federal grant for financial aid in the construction of the project. There is a possibility of a federal grant up to as much as 50 percent of the total cost of the project. The application is filed with the Farmers Home Administration, the federal agency which will handle all of applications of municipalities up to a population of 5,500. The state office of the Farmers Home Administration is located in East Lansing.

Next week, the total cost of the project will be presented, together with information as to how it will be financed. Subsequent articles will deal with every phase of the financing, in order to fully inform the citizens of East Tawas. It is recommended that these articles be clipped from the paper each week and kept, in order to provide a complete story of the project and to serve as a basis for discussion.

125th BIRTHDAY

On March 3, the United States Lake Survey, which publishes navigation charts and forecasts the levels of the Great Lakes, will celebrate its 125th birthday.

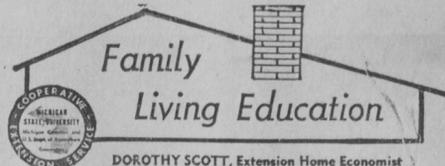

The Lake Survey, a district of the North Central Division, Corps of Engineers, had its beginning in 1841 when the congress appropriated $15,000 for a "survey of the northern and northwestern lakes."

DOROTHY SCOTT, Extension Home Economist

Hello Everyone!

Arrangements are completed for three additional chances to find out "What's New in Household Fabrics" (the Arenac meeting was Monday).

Remember, the only invitation you need to come is your desire to know the facts.

Each program will begin at 1:00 p. m. and conclude at 3:00 p. m. Here are dates and places:

Iosco County—Thursday, March 3, Federal Building, East Tawas; Oscoda County—Tuesday, March 8, Courthouse Annex, Mio; Ogemaw County—Wednesday, March 9, Central Office Building, West Branch.

If you are redecorating this spring, you will find useful the information about fiberglass beta, sunlight resistant acetate, built-in whiteners, fluoridizers, new blends in household linens, built-in linings for draperies, polypropylene and olefin carpeting and other items.

Knowing the facts helps us balance what we want with what is available as we shop, whether it is next month or later on.

In the news right now are the 11 regional conferences being held throughout Michigan to explore ways for strengthening family living.

The idea for holding them was developed by the State Human Resources Council's division of the family. The council was appointed by Gov. George Romney whose concern about families and people is expressed in these words:

"I believe that families need strengthening. I believe that weakened family life threatens not only the strength, but the survival of American society. I believe that our greatest internal threats are the decline of sound family life, coupled with faltering religious convictions and crumbling standards of morally responsible behavior."

I attended one of these conferences last week where an address by the governor was followed by a panel presentation and audience discussion groups comprised of people from all parts of the region.

The governor enlarged upon his reasons for the regional conferences being called and charged us to focus attention on problems, discuss and give specific suggestions on what can be done.

Let me mention a few points made by the panel:

We need to put the family on the American agenda. In the United States, we honor marriage not parenthood and honor economics rather than the family.

The kinds of relationships between family members is all-important. Too often, different value systems are brought together, in marriage, without preparation. Getting married is the easiest thing there is to do (has the least "requirements").

A lack of preparation for marriage and other factors is resulting in an insecurity of parents in their parental role.

Industry gains when families are whole. Industrial personnel problems root in poor family situations.

All families, all persons, must find a challenge and seek success.

You can learn more about the conference by visiting with those of us who attended as representatives of the family living education program in area 15. Accompanying me were chairmen of the county councils: Mrs. Freeman Butler, Arenac; Mrs. Robert Pyne, Iosco; Mrs. Roland Harkey, Ogemaw; Mrs. Clemma Lenehan, extension home economist on leave.

All of us are interested in program opportunities designed to strengthen families and provide young people adequate preparation for marriage and parenthood.

bottles, buildings, etc. Some deer hunters have little respect for the property of others and even have little regard for human life. This is detrimental to all gun owners, as there are those who would disarm everyone but the criminal.

4. If hunting license fees are increased, some money should go to the law enforcement division for recruiting and training additional officers for increased year around patrol. These additional officers could be organized as a task force with swift mobility to cope with "hot spots" of game violations in various parts of the state.

And, finally, the legislature should take a long, hard look at the Horton Trespass Act. The present law should be strengthened to provide stiffer penalties against wilful and wanton trespassing on private property.

The first "break" in the any deer controversy came last week with the announcement of the Michigan Department of Conservation that it would make a county-by-county survey, with assistance of sportsmen and local officials, to determine areas for antlerless deer hunting.

This newspaper applauds the action as a step in the right direction. This major change in attitude will undoubtedly be greeted with increased supports for the department from hunters.

Spring Grads May Check CG Career Now

It has been made clear that the eventual decision would be made by the conservation department concerning local policy on killing doe.

"The conservation commission feels local people should see the situation and will agree with the decision arrived at by department biologists," stated State Rep. Sanford Charron, who said he was dropping his bill for a one-year moratorium on killing antlerless deer.

If the state legislature wishes to consider some points on conservation and hunting, this newspaper offers the following:

The United States Coast Guard invites all high school seniors who are interested to make application now. June high school graduates will find that this is the ideal time to make application so that they can be enlisted this summer.

Young men of the highest caliber are enlisted in the coast guard for four years of duty ashore and afloat throughout the world. After eight weeks of recruit training, a young man is assigned either to a training school or a ship or shore station. Those who have served in the United States Navy or Coast Guard are interested in returning to the service should investigate the opportunities offered by the coast guard.

Ex-petty officers in certain ratings can be enlisted in the same pay grades as held at time of discharge. Opportunities for advancement, world-wide travel and unusual assignments in the nation's smallest armed force are unlimited.

Young men who are interested should contact the nearest coast guard recruiter, Supervisor, USCG Recruiting station, Room 1A, Federal Building, Saginaw, or Officer in Charge, USCG Recruiting Station, Room 238 Lafayette Building, Detroit.

1. Consideration should be given to an effective method of teaching basic gun safety to all hunters—young and old. Such a program should be fostered by the conservation department, promoted by sportsmen's clubs and other groups through assistance from the National Rifle Association.

2. Consideration should be given to opening the deer season in the Upper and Lower Peninsulas on the same week-end; also, that a new deer seal be devised so as to prevent cheating (we are told it is a rather simple matter to open one) and to require that the successful hunter affix his backing to the animal. This should help to reduce the number of "game hogs" in the woods.

3. Perhaps there could be a mandatory requirement that all hunters pass an "eye test"—using scale models to show the difference between whitetail deer and men, cattle, highway signs, beer

Spring Sawmill Clinic March 10

The Cooperative Extension Service of Michigan State University has announced the 1966 spring sawmill clinic is scheduled for Thursday, March 10, 10:30 a. m. to 4:15 p. m., at Thureson Lumber Company, Howell. These meetings are held each year especially for sawmill people. They are set up to show the newest methods and latest ideas that have practical value under Michigan conditions.

Also on the program is a look at how 1965 amendments changed workmen's compensation, unemployment, minimum wage and their effect on sawmill people by John B. Hodge, Michigan State University.

Studded Tires Cause Worry to Highway Men

The prospect of studded tires rumbling over Michigan highways is now a cause of great concern to state highway engineers.

Results of studies indicate studs can create safety hazards and damage pavements. These factors have caused the department to change its previous "wait and see" attitude to one of concern.

First developed in Sweden, the controversial studded tires contain tungsten-carbide studs that protrude one-sixteenth of an inch. They are used in some European countries but are prohibited in others, including West Germany.

Membership Drive Plans Progressing for Tawas IDC

Plans for Tawas Area Industrial Development Corporation's membership are progressing well, according to a report at the recent board of directors meeting.

IDC Membership Drive Chairman Gordon Huck said that the campaign would start May 1 with a goal of $20,000 to be used for development of an industrial site in the Tawas.

"Plans are to canvas the entire area for contributions of $5 or more," said Huck. "A $20 investment would purchase a stock certificate in the corporation."

IDC Pres. Henry Oates said that letters had been sent to "target" industries and one response has been received requesting a copy of the IDC's industrial information booklet.

Continuation of the "target" policy is to be practiced under the direction of Robert Donley and Oates.

Growers Using Migrant Workers to be Licensed

An official of the state health department urges every Michigan grower who will house five or more migrant workers during the 1966 season to apply for a camp inspection and license. An estimated 8,000 growers may be involved.

John Vogt, chief of the division of engineering, said that state law requires growers to make applications to the state director of public health at least 30 days before their agricultural labor camp begins operation.

Local interest concerning state hunting preserves has also been brought to the attention of the IDC and James Campbell has been asked to convey this information to Iosco Sportsmen's Club for further study.

Attorney Alf C. Watson led a discussion on the troubles and pitfalls experienced by other IDCs regarding Small Business Administration loans, zoning and labor. It is his desire that the Tawas Area IDC can profit by preparing and planning for problems of this type.

The following publicity committee was named: Leonard Calabrese (chairman), Mrs. T. M. O'Loughlin, Robert O'Neil, Neal Miller and Neil Thornton.

Gas Company Movie Features Northern Mich.

Northern Michigan is a movie star!

The beauty, vitality and industrial development of the northern part of the Lower Peninsula and the Upper Peninsula are featured in a new motion picture produced by Michigan Consolidated Gas Company which will have its premiere showing March 9. William A. Smith, Tawas area manager for the utility, said civic and business leaders will review the film, "New Horizons North," at a special showing at East Tawas.

"We wanted to make a film which tells the story of the remarkable development that is going on in Northern Michigan," Smith said. "Not only is our recreational and tourist business booming but industry is expanding as never before. We plan to tell everybody about it by showing this film all over the country, as well as Michigan," he added.

The breath-taking color movie covers the new surge of economic growth taking place in Michigan's northland, from lavish ski resorts of the Lower Peninsula to the iron ore pelletizing plants of the Upper Peninsula.

Scenes taken in this area include AuSable River, Lumberman's Monument, Wurtsmith Air Force Base.

"New Horizons North" also tells how Michigan Consolidated and its affiliated pipe line company have expanded their system to bring natural gas to vast new areas of Northern Michigan. Dramatic scenes of natural gas system construction as well as drilling for gas and laying underwater pipelines 60 miles out in the Gulf of Mexico demonstrate the scope of the 50-million dollar program which has seen Michigan Consolidated extend its service to nearly 200 northern communities in the past 10 years.

The film was written and directed by Norman E. Kenyon, manager of public information services, and photographed by William Sweet, chief photographer of the utility. They traveled thousands of miles to capture the northland in its seasonal changes. Group showings for the film can be arranged through the Tawas area office of Michigan Consolidated.

1966 is Critical Year in State Traffic Toll

The year 1966 may well decide whether Michigan's traffic toll will continue to rise or whether it will begin a downturn.

Many feel that this is a crucial year because perhaps never before has the route to greater safety on highways been so clearly marked. And probably never before, they add, have so many citizens been more ready to take drastic action to save lives.

1959 Tawas Graduate—

Helps Ready New Ford Glass Plant

Herbert Cholger Jr., a 1959 graduate of Tawas Area High School and an employee of Ford Motor Company at Dearborn for the past two years, is presently assigned to Nashville, Tennessee, where Ford is opening a new glass manufacturing plant.

After four years of service with the United States Navy, during which time he attended numerous clinics and service schools, Cholger entered the employ of Ford Motor Company at the Dearborn Glass Division.

There, the company manufactures glass using a new method developed in England. Cholger started with Ford shortly after patents were purchased on this "float glass process" and he is now listed among supervisory personnel.

Dearborn technicians and supervisory personnel, along with English technicians, are currently assigned to getting the new Nashville plant into operation.

Cholger's wife, Judy, and daughter, Tami, now living at Taylor, are to fly to Nashville where Cholger is to be assigned until sometime in April or May.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Cholger Sr. of 903 Harris Avenue, Tawas City.

Railroad Retirees Not Automatically Entitled to Medicare

Social security and railroad retirement beneficiaries in Iosco County are cautioned by Paul M. Ellifritz, social security district manager in Bay City, against assuming that they are automatically entitled to both hospitalization and medical benefits under the new medicare program.

Actually all beneficiaries who are 65 or older will be eligible for the basic hospitalization benefits beginning next July without taking any action, Ellifritz said. However, they will not be eligible for the supplemental medical benefits unless they make a written request.

An enrollment application card and instructions have been mailed to all railroad and social security beneficiaries. The enrollment card provides the beneficiary with a simple means of indicating whether he wants or does not want the supplemental benefits. It also permits him to indicate that he is "undecided" and will make his election later.

Beneficiaries who are 65 before 1966 should not overlook the fact that they will have medical insurance protection when it begins only if they sign up no later than March 31, Mr. Ellifritz said.

Requests for further information or assistance in connection with the medicare program should be addressed to the Social Security Administration, 1009 North Madison Avenue, Bay City.

A social security representative will be at the Iosco County Building, Tawas City, Thursday, March 10, 10:30 a. m. until 2:30 p. m.
