Motorcycle Topples on 2-Year-Old Boy

A two-year-old Baldwin Township boy was critically injured Monday morning when his father's motorcycle tipped over and pinned him to the ground.

Rushed to Saginaw General Hospital was Kevin Soultis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Soultis, 415 Wilber Road. The right side of Kevin's head was punctured by the motorcycle's emergency brake handle.

Investigating state police said the accident was not observed by his parents. He apparently was playing near the motorcycle parked next to the family trailer home.

Hearing the boy's screams, the Soultis found Kevin pinned to the ground. He was rushed by ambulance to Saginaw.

County Seeks Millage to Finance Operations

Deeming its slice of tax money received under the preliminary order of the county allocation board as inadequate to finance operation of the county in 1967, Isco County Board of Supervisors plans to go to voters in August and ask for an additional 1 1/2 mills for one year.

This action came during last week's May session. It was suggested by the finance committee, Henry Oates, Clarence Everett, James Campbell and Edward Nelkie, and met unanimous approval of supervisors.

Appearing before the board during the afternoon session were Arden Charters, allocation board chairman, and William Tracy, intermediate school superintendent and a member by statute of the tax allocation board.

Charters said that he and the board were strictly at a loss to provide the money being requested under budgets submitted by the county and schools.

According to a diagram he submitted, 18 mills or more would have been necessary to meet the necessary budgets and, under the state limitation, only 15 mills may be allocated.

The county's proposed budget of $388,966 would have required 6.58 mills from the allocation board—it received 4.85 mills; all schools submitted budgets which would have required more millage than that actually allocated.

Viewing increasing costs of operating local government, Chairman L. S. Little doubted if a 10 percent increase in county valuation expected to be brought in by Gem Surveys in 1967 would be sufficient to meet requirements.

Supervisor Charles Smith, the board of supervisors' representative on the allocation board, believed that people of the county should have the opportunity to vote on the extra 1 1/2 mills being proposed. He said that if services had to be curtailed, the people would figure in the decision through this vote.

Action on the millage vote was necessary during the May term to meet election requirements.

The board turned down a $2,500 salary increase requested by Probate Judge William McCready. Present salary of all county officers is $6,000 and the probate judge asked that his salary be hiked to $8,500, as provided by the population formula furnished by the state.

A request from Circuit Judge Allan C. Miller to provide the sheriff's department and other law enforcement officers with stenographic help in preparing investigation reports was tabled until the June session.

Because of the large number of justice court and circuit court cases being appealed throughout the state, the judge believes that more complete investigation is necessary.

Trail Riders Again Make Tawas Starting Point for Long Trip

Michigan State Trail Riders Association will again ride the 220 miles of state trails June 20-28, traveling west from the Tawas to Empire on Lake Michigan.

This will be the second ride to actually cross the state from coast-to-coast on the Michigan Riding-Hiking Trail. The same feat was achieved by this group a year ago.

Instead of starting at the Tawas City Park, as was the case last year, this year's ride commences at the Gordon Creek campground off Monument Road.

From that point, riders move to Stewart Creek and then make nightly stops at McKinley campground, Lost Creek Sky Ranch, La-Barge Farm near Grayling, Goose Creek campground south of Fredric, Kalkaska campsite, Sheeks Bridge Horse Camp in Grand Traverse County, Mud Lake campground near Interlochen and finally to Empire.

Some riders cook their meals along the trail, but food may be purchased from a catering service.

The state trail is open to all the year around. It is enjoyed by nature lovers—whether on horseback, hiked in couples or a group.

Anyone desiring information on the above trip may write Michigan Trail Riders, Box 312A, Traverse City.

A school calendar with 184 membership days has been adopted for the year 1966-1967 by Tawas Area Board of Education.

School is scheduled to open next fall on September 6, the day after Labor Day. Teachers' institute of the Michigan Education Association is set for October 27-28.

Two days will be given off for the opening of deer hunting. November 15-16, should the opening be changed from a Saturday; Thanksgiving holiday will be November 24-25; Christmas vacation will run from December 22 to January 3.

A tentative Easter vacation has been set from March 24 to March 31, depending upon the number of days school is closed due to bad weather; Memorial Day on May 30 is a legal holiday and school will be closed.

School is scheduled to close June 9, one week later than during the current year. The state requires 180 membership days.

Veteran D&M Employee Ends Career as Traveling Auditor

A retirement party was held Saturday night at the Barnes Hotel for Henry Etherington, 65, who ends a 45-year career June 1 with the Detroit and Mackinac Railway.

A native of England, Etherington moved to Canada after his father was killed in a railroad accident. He served in the Canadian army during World War I.

After his discharge from service, he entered the employment of a Canadian railroad where he served as a clerk and telegrapher. He studied accounting at business college and then entered the employment of the Michigan Central Railroad and served at Detroit and Cheboygan.

While at the latter assignment, Etherington joined the D&M. He served as station agent at Twining from December 1920 until February 1933. He then moved back to Cheboygan for six years and then to National City in 1939, where he served as agent until 1946.

Etherington became traveling auditor for the railroad that year, working out of the general offices in Tawas City, a position which he holds at retirement.

He and his wife, Mary, who was employed by the Twining Bean and Grain Company when he was station agent in that community, make their home two miles east of Omer.

Although no definite plans have been made as yet, the Etheringtons hope to go to England this year to visit his brother and sister.

MICHIGAN'S newest state park located on Tawas Point held open house last Friday evening during the observance of Michigan Week. The day marked the official opening of new camping facilities there and some six camper trailers were registered. Built at a cost of $170,000, the park consists of 202 camp sites. Work has been completed on the park's sewer system and two camp toilet buildings which contain showers and a utility room. The state's master plans call for construction of a workshop and garage in 1967-68, to be followed by a beach house concession and another parking lot. During the summer peak season, a staff of 12 people will be employed there under Park Ranger A. Ray Prosch. The picture above shows several of the "early bird" campers taking advantage of the new facilities.—Tawas Herald Photo.

Trio Awaits Examination on Robbery Count

Justice court examination for two men and a woman charged with armed robbery and kidnaping will be held this afternoon (Wednesday) before Justice of the Peace J. Harry Rapson.

Held at Isco County under $7,500 bond each are Jack R. McKinley, 32, Ithaca; his brother, Louis F., 29, Pinconning; and Ona Lee Roberts, 29, Alma.

They were apprehended at Pinconning last Wednesday after warrants were issued here by Prosecuting Attorney J. Richard Ernst.

The trio is charged with robbing and then kidnaping Zigmont Davis, 60, manager of Tawas River Trailer Park, at about 1:30 a. m. May 17.

Davis told officers that he heard a noise outside his trailer and went outside to investigate. He was confronted by a man and woman, who forced him back inside. Following a struggle in which Davis was hit over the head by a beer bottle, the two began to ransack the place looking for money.

About this time, a second man entered the trailer and Davis later told officers he recognized him as being a former resident of the trailer park.

Davis was forced into the trio's car and taken to Pinconning. He was beaten about the head by a beer bottle but did not require hospitalization. He was released along a side road and reported the robbery to authorities in Bay County.

TA School Board Prepares for Annual Election June 13

Four trustees were appointed from the Tawas Area Board of Education to open polls for the annual June 13 school election. Voters will receive four different ballots, including two for continuing the present voted millage.

Named to open the four different precinct polling places were Waldo Curry, Tawas Township Hall; Clare Herriman, Alabaster; Mrs. Norman Payea, East Tawas; and Walter Niles, Tawas City.

At stake during the election will be the board's proposed expansion of vocational training in junior and senior high school.

Voters will be asked to continue the present three-mill special voted tax which was approved for school construction in 1961 and expires this year.

Two mills would be used to finance construction and equipping a new shop building and one mill would be used for operation.

Two ballots will be required on the above proposition.

Two other ballots will be handed school voters. One will name a board of education trustee for four years. Walter Niles, incumbent, is being opposed by Robert W. Elliott.

The other ballot is the special education proposition being proposed by the Isco - Intermediate School District and described elsewhere on this page.

Election canvassers named by the board of education Monday night included Mrs. Lutie O'Loughlin and Henry Gage, whose four-year terms expired. The other two members are Mrs. Edward Sieloff and Joseph Barkman.

In other business conducted at Monday night's meeting, the board approved purchase of a water pickup for the East Tawas Unit at a cost of $258.

A $300 expenditure was approved as the school's share of the Tawas summer recreation program.

Seek Special Ed. Finances for Isco's Handicapped

Isco County school voters on June 13 will be asked to approve three-quarters of one mill annual levy for a special education program being planned by the intermediate school district.

Special education is a comparatively new program for Michigan schools. It deals with special assistance, through the schools, to handicapped children.

Programs are now operating in at least 40 Michigan counties. Several more are voting this year.

The program would aid children with speech defects, children who are mentally handicapped but capable of achieving an education, children who are blind or have sight difficulty, children who are deaf or have hearing problems, children who are homebound, or because of physical handicaps find it difficult to attend school due to illness, crippling disease or accident.

If the program is approved, specially trained teachers would be employed to serve handicapped children and to consult with their parents and regular teachers.

Among them would be visiting teachers, speech correctionists and staff people to aid those with hearing or sight defects and children who are mentally handicapped or emotionally disturbed.

Funds would be used to provide and equip special rooms for those "slow learners" who are capable of being educated and trained.

Similar rooms could be provided for the deaf and hard of hearing; the blind and those who have seeing difficulties.

"Later on, as the program progresses," states Intermediate Supt. William Tracy, "it is possible that special rooms would be available for crippled children, with therapists to aid them and proper equipment for treatment."

The special rooms would eventually be scattered about the county to serve the entire area. They would be erected in conjunction with existing school centers and would be administered by local school officials.

Children served by the special education program would not necessarily be separated from their other friends and classmates in the same age group. Many would continue in the same classrooms. They would be helped by the special

LITTLE APPOINTED

L. S. Little, chairman of the Isco Board of Supervisors, has been appointed to serve on the water and air pollution control committee of the National Association of Counties.

Similar programs are being held throughout the state through urging of circuit court judges.

Former Editor of Base Paper Returns from Vietnam Tour

TSGt. John Rollins, former editor of the Wurtsmith Aerie, returned to the United States April 30 after serving a year in Vietnam.

Rollins, his wife, Betty, and their four children, Nancy, John, Mark and Jess, are visiting this week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fairfield, East Tawas. Rollins is a native of Portsmouth, Ohio.

During his nine-year assignment at Wurtsmith, Rollins and his family resided at East Tawas and were members of the Assembly of God Church.

Rollins was chief of the combat reporting branch for Seventh Air Force while in Vietnam and was assigned to Tan Son Nhat Air Base on the outskirts of Saigon.

About 15 days before his departure for home, the air base was attacked by Viet Cong guerrillas. "The only thing I could think about was that these guys were trying to foul up my fishing trip in Michigan," commented Rollins during a visit to the Herald office Tuesday.

Rollins left Wurtsmith in 1961 and served in Turkey. He later was assigned to Wright Patterson Air Force Base in Ohio. He now moves to K. I. Sawyer Air Force Base, Marquette, where he becomes information officer.

State Police Troopers Assigned to Special Holiday Traffic Patrol

Michigan State Police will be on special holiday traffic patrol beginning at noon Friday, May 27, for the Memorial Day week-end, according to Col. Frederick E. Davids, director.

Twenty-seven persons were killed in 22 fatal accidents over the 78-hour period in 1965 in Michigan, one of the state's highest Memorial holiday tolls.

Colonel Davids pointed out that highway department studies showed that travel mileage on the Memorial Day week-end in 1965 in Michigan was up about 25 percent compared with the preceding and following week-ends. This was based on selected samplings of rural areas at 13 points in the state.

Pass days for uniformed post personnel have been canceled Friday through Monday of the holiday week-end and detectives, where available, will be used on desk assignments to relieve uniform men for patrols.

The state police will be assisted on the four days, May 27 through May 30, by 120 members of the Michigan National Guard who will serve as second men on two-man patrols or on point control.

In addition to the baseball program, Mousseau is now signing up boys interested in playing organized soccer this summer. Soccer is an international sport but has never been caught on in the United States to any great extent.

Mousseau said a modified set of rules would be utilized for league competition. Boys interested in participating in the program should contact the director.

Crump Hands ET Second Loss in NEM League Action

East Tawas Bears unleashed an 11-hit barrage Sunday but still lost to Crump, 6-4. The Bears' record in the NEM's American Division now stands at two losses and one win.

The big difference in scoring proved to be two early inning homers by Crump batters. Waite cracked a two-run blast in the opening inning and Rivard smashed a three-run homer in the second.

Bob Erickson started on the mound for the losers and it was just not his day. He gave up three hits and five walks before Sanders took over in the second inning.

East Tawas had trouble with Chapin, starting pitcher for Crump, until finally routing him in the fifth inning with two runs. Fagan then shut out East Tawas until the ninth inning.

The losers came close to pulling the game out of the fire in the final round when John Erickson belted a home run after one man was out. Grack followed with a double and then scored on Sanders' double. Vick followed with a single and Sanders stopped at third. Bob Erickson struck out and Vick was thrown out trying to steal second.

Top hitters of the day were Graek and Sanders, each with three hits.

Sen. Hart Suggests Use of Great Lakes' Trash Fish as Food

Sen. Philip A. Hart suggested on May 18 that the Great Lakes' overabundance of noncommercial fish could be used as a source of protein for underfed parts of the world.

In a letter to Senator Bartlett, chairman of a senate subcommittee on merchant marine and fisheries, Hart said that the lakes area would be an excellent site for a federal experiment factory to produce a fish protein concentrate, sometimes known as "fish flour."

Hart said that the lakes now hosts a great many fish for which there is currently no commercial use. Principal among these is the alewife, an invader from the sea which is steadily crowding out desirable fish like the trout and perch.

The Michigan senator submitted a report he had requested from the Ann Arbor laboratories of the bureau of commercial fisheries which strongly urged a fish concentrate plant for the lakes.

Special Ed.

"Most Isoco people seem to agree that, so far as possible, education should be a local responsibility," said Tracy. "It is generally less expensive, more responsive to local needs and local control. For handicapped children and their families, local assistance in local facilities provides a healthier, happier situation for all concerned."

In most cases, 75 percent of operating costs is returned from state money. Isoco citizens are already paying into this, points out Tracy, but derive no benefits from it. Twenty-five percent must be raised locally.

Administration of the special education program, if adopted, would be in the hands of the county board of education, a five-member board elected by the vote of all school districts in the county.

This board hires the county school superintendent and would be responsible for employing the teaching staff for special education.

TA School Board Hears Report on Family Life Ed.

Action on a proposed family life education program in the Tawas Area School curriculum is slated for discussion at the June 27 meeting of the board of education.

Board members heard a discussion Monday night on a recent sex education institute held at Flint and attended by Thomas Pinkowski, guidance counselor for the high school.

Sponsored by the Flint City Schools and Mott Foundation, the institute on family life education drew school representatives from many sections of Lower Michigan. Tawas was the only school represented north of Saginaw.

Pinkowski said that the program was conducted in Flint at three different grade levels—fifth, eighth or ninth, 11th or 12th—and he emphasized that this was not a daily or weekly program. Fifth graders have three sessions a year, junior high has four sessions and senior high grades eight or more sessions.

The guidance counselor presented a series of letters to parents which were used by Flint schools, a list of films and booklets available on the subject and explained objectives of the program.

He said that hiring teachers trained in family living education was just about out of the question as no courses were presently offered in colleges of this state. He said, however, that representatives of Flint schools could conduct a workshop here for teachers.

With assistance from physicians and registered nurses, Pinkowski believed that present members of the school faculty could be trained to conduct such classes. Other schools are contemplating utilization of home economics, science and physical education teachers in this area of instruction.

A poll conducted recently by the board of education revealed that parents were favorable to family life education in the school system.

LATEST equipment received in the Detroit and Mackinac Railroad's complete modernization of its track construction department is this tie bed scarifier, shown being inspected by Arnold Zierow, track supervisor, in the lower picture. The railroad, contemplating an extensive track-rebuilding program over the next two years, will use this along with other equipment to install 25,000 ties this summer. The scarifier, which digs a trench under the tracks and installs a tie in one operation, increases the efficiency of the tie gang. Delivered in April, the new equipment was demonstrated recently at the Mathews Street crossing, Tawas City.—Tawas Herald Photo.

Bees Are Useful, but Sometimes Annoying

Bees are one of the most valuable and useful of man's insect friends but no matter how much regard we may have for the work the bee does, one is often annoyed when it uses a home as a hive. Michigan State University department of entomology says that if one intends to remove bees from a building, the sooner it is done the better. It is often best to have the job done by a professional exterminator company, since persistent effort with dangerous poisons is necessary for success. In some cases, one can get help from a local beekeeper.

If an individual decides to do the job himself, here are some tips: The nest is often found far from the place where the bees enter. Tap on the wall until you hear the bees buzzing in answer. Then, in the evening when all the bees are in the nest, drill a hole above the spot and apply poison directly on the nest.

Carbon tetrachloride can be used. Your house should be vacated during use and aired afterwards. It is advisable to dust with DDT after this operation to get stragglers.

Another possibility is chlordane dust. This should be at least five percent strength and should be applied several times, at intervals of a few days.

After the bees are killed, the holes should be patched and the nest removed and buried. Paint the area if possible to keep other bees from smelling the old nest and trying to move in.

Home Safety Check-up

While you are doing that seasonal bit of cleaning, painting or checking of appliances at your house, it is a real good time to think seriously of the safety of your family in your home. Facts show that twice as many people need a physician's care from home accidents as from highway accidents. You are a wise homemaker if you recognize hazards and unsafe practices and correct them before injuries and fire happens. Home is the foundation, too, where young people learn consideration for others. If they learn safety at home, they will show this attitude on the highway as well as on their jobs.

A checklist has been devised to help us homemakers and our family safety practices. It is "Be Safe At Home" and is available free from your Cooperative Extension Office.

Some of the safety suggestions are: Having a pressure relief valve on your hot water supply system; an insulated or plastic link in pull chain of electric light fixtures.

White paint on low hanging pipes or other bumping obstructions in your basements will call attention to them. To prevent unnecessary falls, keep scatter rugs away from the head or foot of the stairs.

Mealtime And Little Folks

Mealtime with little folks need not be a time for fuss and stress for parents. A little thought to their food likes and dislikes can make mealtime pleasant for all. Pretty colored foods and ones that can be held in tiny hands, such as rolled lettuce and pieces of carrot and crunchy foods are popular with children and help to keep them happy at the table.

Since a youngster's taste is keener than an adult's, it is best to avoid foods which "bite" the tongue. Vegetables with strings in them, "gummy" foods which often stick to their mouths, foods that are too soft and runny, are also best avoided.

Children's food should be warm—not real hot or real cold. Only a little bit should be put on their plates at one time. They like to ask for more when the first serving is finished.

Remember, too, that small fry like their own plate, cup and silverware. Smaller scale utensils are easier for them to manipulate. A compliment for the child that eats neatly or tries a new food can bring pleasant results.

Children like to help. Setting the table often makes them hungrier for the meal. Vegetables grown in their own gardens may taste better to them. Helping to choose the groceries at the market increases their interest in the food they eat.

Do not always save your pretty table settings for company. Children tend to eat much better with pretty placements on the table. This might also be a good time to try out new foods, a little bit at a time, at the beginning of a meal. And do not forget that children love surprises! A bright cherry, maybe hidden in the custard?

Children are almost always hungry after school. A snack at this time can keep them smiling right up to dinner time. Let us hope the neighbors do not give them candy for this snack.

Youngsters should not be bribed with dessert to eat their vegetables. This makes the dessert too important.

Lastly, be sure to give children their chance to talk at the table.

Iosco Savings Bond Chm. Urges Buyers to Check New Limits

John E. Hosbach, chairman of the United States savings bonds volunteer committee for Iosco County, is urging bond buyers to take advantage of the new higher annual limitations on holding of E and H bonds which have been announced by the treasury department. The new regulations provide that eligible purchasers may own up to $20,000 maturity value in series E bonds bought in any one calendar year and $30,000 face value in H bonds. Previous limits were $10,000 and $20,000, respectively.

Calling attention to the fact that the interest rate on savings bonds recently was increased to 4.15 percent, Hosbach called the new purchase limit "an unusual opportunity" for both individual and institutional investors to become "larger shareholders in their country."

Under treasury regulations, any resident of the United States or citizen temporarily residing abroad, may own savings bonds in a choice of registrations: Single owner, co-owner or beneficiary. Where bonds are purchased in the names of two individuals as co-owners, each may hold the maximum amount of either E or H bonds, or both. Bonds also may be owned by corporations, associations, public or private organizations, fiduciaries and other investors except commercial banks.

A Place to Grow Christian Science Sunday School

For children up to 20 years of age
11:00 Sunday Morning
Christian Science Society
919 E. Bay, East Tawas

Christian Science churches this Sunday will present a Bible lesson- sermon on the fallacies of hypnotism and other forms of mental control and servitude. Responsive reading will include these verses from Ephesians: "Have no fellowship with the unfruitful works of darkness, but rather reprove them... Wherefore be ye not unwise, but understanding what the will of the Lord is." The theme is explained in detail in selections to be read from the Christian Science textbook, including these: "In a world of sin and sensuality hastening to a greater development of power, it is wise earnestly to consider whether it is the human mind or the divine Mind which is influencing one... No person is benefited by yielding his mentality to any mental despotism or malpractice... The truths of immortal Mind sustain man, and they annihilate the fables of mortal mind, whose flimsy and gaudy pretensions, like silly moths, singe their own wings and fall into dust" ("Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy). Subject of the lesson-sermon is "Ancient and Modern Necromancy, alias Mesmerism and Hypnotism, Denounced."
