

Schoolman Tells of District Aims

Reynold Mick, dean of Isosco's school superintendents, said Friday that Tawas Area School's construction program of many years probably had solved the need of local facilities for a number of years in the foreseeable future. Residents of the entire Isosco area must now turn their attention to providing a junior college program.

REYNOLD MICK

What such a program would be at this point would be a matter of speculation. Isosco has been described as an "island" surrounded by junior college districts and one answer may be to pay tuition to existing colleges in order to provide JC facilities for local youngsters.

Whatever the solution, Mr. Mick, along with other schoolmen of the county, have turned their attention to this perplexing problem.

Such problems are not new to Mick, who has spent 27 years as a high school superintendent in Michigan. A specialist in school finances, during his long career he has worked with three school district reorganizations and last summer's successful bond issue saw culmination of a $1,465,000 school building project in this school district.

Mick said that a lot of furrows had been plowed toward reorganization of Tawas Area School District when he was first hired in February 1953. He finished out the balance of that year at Ithaca and moved here full time that summer.

There was little precedent in Michigan at the time for reorganizing many school districts into one. The board of education, citizens' committees and the superintendent worked "from scratch" to create one. Since then, this district has been a model for reorganizing several other districts in the state.

"It was a real challenge to everyone and I have enjoyed working with the people of the various communities in this extensive program," he said.

Problems were many during those first years. One of the biggest tasks to face the district was construction of a new high school building. From 1953 until 1957, high school classes were held in Tawas City and East Tawas buildings, while some elementary grades were located in rural schools and the junior high was located at Alabaster. The matter of transporting students proved to be a hectic matter.

In February 1957, the move was finally made into the new building but the district soon had to cope with another problem—advancing enrollment.

In 1952, at the time of reorganization, the district had a total of 1,070 students. Today, this enrollment has grown to 1,710 and, while the student total has remained rather constant in recent years, large increases in the late 1950s caused real concern.

The school staff has grown from 37 teachers in 1952 to 66 teachers at present. Office secretarial help has also increased.

The school district voted in 1960 to develop a five-year program of school construction. A new elementary unit was constructed at Tawas City, a new addition was constructed at East Tawas and a junior high wing was added only recently to the high school building.

"Growth of the district has been remarkable up to this time and any building problems we may have over the next few years should be of a minor nature," said Mr. Mick. "I think we have caught up with the need for facilities."

The school district took its first step last summer toward meeting new concepts in education. Voters approved a two-mill tax levy for

County Planners Meet With Isosco Leaders Dec. 8

Isosco Planning Commission members are to meet with city officials and members of the board of supervisors December 8 to discuss a comprehensive plan for this county.

Frank Suggitt, professional planner, Grand Rapids, is to outline procedures and possible costs.

Marvin Davenport, county extension natural resource agent for Isosco, said that Suggitt had considerable experience in the field. He completely surveyed Northern Michigan and made a land use study for this county.

Because of the board of supervisors established a county planning commission, organizational channels are available for cities, villages and townships to qualify for FHA grants as well as participation in other federal programs.

Before any federal grant or loan can be made available to municipalities for sewer and water projects or for recreational, industrial and small business development, a county plan must be initiated.

Master plans completed for Tawas City, East Tawas, AuSable and Oscoda are to be incorporated into the total county comprehensive plan.

Trail of Bare Feet in Snow Leads Police to Lost Father-Son

A 31-year-old Southgate man and his six-year-old son were found early Sunday morning following a full-scale search in Section 7, Wilber Township, near Gordon Creek.

A state police tracking dog discovered a trail of bare foot prints made by the boy in deep snow and quickly led officers to the boy and his father, who had curled up on the front porch of an unoccupied cabin and went to sleep.

Ronald Wroblewski and son, Stephen, had gone rabbit hunting with their two dogs Saturday morning. They were to return to their camp at Gordon Creek to meet Walter Wroblewski, father of Ronald, around noon. The elder Wroblewski notified the Isosco Sheriff's Department around 6:30 p. m. when his son and grandson had not returned.

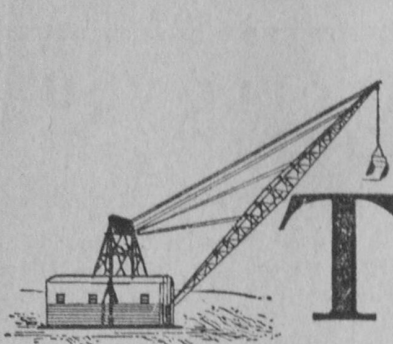

Deputy Sheriffs Jerry Kruse and Andrew Dolak started an immediate search of the area using public address equipment on the patrol car. They later called for assistance from state police and a trooper and tracking dog from Houghton Lake arrived on the scene around 12:30 a. m.

In the meantime, other officers from East Tawas and volunteers joined the sheriff's department in the search.

The father and son were located less than an hour after the search started with the dog. Officers said the boy was lightly clad in blue jeans, had no hat or gloves and had lost both of his galoshes and shoes while walking through the deep snow.

Police said they tracked the bare foot prints of the boy and his father for several hundred yards. At several points, the man had lain down to sleep in the snow. Wroblewski had lost his shotgun and the boy lost his BB gun.

Deputy Kruse said he was to confer with Isosco Probate Judge William McCready and Prosecuting Attorney J. Richard Ernst on possible prosecution of the father.

Prescott Wins Over Charron

Big Turnout of Voters Despite Poor Weather

Michigan Republicans made tremendous strides in Tuesday's general election, watched around the country as a test of the drawing strength of Gov. George Romney.

Governor Romney and his running mate, Lt. Gov. William C. Milliken, handily defeated Democratic opponents, Zolton A. Ferency and John B. Bruff. In a surprising landslide, Robert P. Griffin, Republican, defeated former Democratic governor, G. Mennen Williams, for the United States Senate.

Locally, principal attention centered on the race for the 102nd District House of Representatives where Isosco County Clerk

George A. Prescott, Republican, held a commanding lead, 11,620 to 8,673 over Democratic incumbent, Sanford E. Charron, of Pinconning. A total of 75 out of 82 precincts had reported.

According to totals at 3 o'clock Wednesday morning, with only a few precincts still to report, Prescott had won over his opponent in all three counties of the district. Isosco gave Prescott a commanding 3,643 to 1,793 margin. He showed surprising strength in Bay County. Charron's home grounds, where he was leading 4,752 to 4,511 with 18 of 20 precincts reporting.

Going into Tuesday's election, Republicans held 36 seats in the state house of representatives and Prescott's win of a "swing" district, along with other GOP victories around the state, assured Republicans of at least 52 seats and probably an even split with Democrats in makeup of the house.

Robert L. Richardson Jr., seeking re-election as Republican state senator in the 35th District, defeated Leo M. Kenney, Democrat. Late reports had Thomas Brennan defeating Otis M. Smith for justice of the supreme court. Democrats James M. Hare, secretary of state, and Attorney General Frank J. Kelly were both re-elected.

There were a number of races for township supervisor in this county. Results early this morning saw Republican John H. Weible defeating Democrat Robert Oates for the Alabaster Township seat, 75-74.

Veteran supervisor and chairman of the board, L. S. Little, defeated his Democratic opponent, Kirby L. Millier, 143-107, in Grant Township. Henry Ray Mead, who won the Republican nomination for Wilber Township supervisor in the August primary, defeated Alton Abbott, 77-61. Abbott, who was the incumbent, ran on stickers.

City Would Pay Partial Cost of Sanitary Sewer

A recommendation that the city at large pay 10 percent of the total cost of constructing the proposed Mathews Street sewer project was adopted Monday night by the Tawas City Council.

This action came following presentation of a tax roll for the special assessment district. The city's cost of $3,400 would pay for two sanitary sewer crossings under US-23.

The board of special assessors also recommended that the remainder of the estimated $34,000 project be paid as follows, according to benefit derived: Residential dwellings, $1,009; vacant lots, $250; restaurants, $1,350; motels, $1,500, which includes extra lot. The project is to serve both sides of US-23 from Mathews Street to a point near the river bridge. There are 36 parcels of land within the district.

A public hearing is to be held December 19, 7:30 p. m., for review of the special assessment roll by property owners. Complaints, if any, are to be heard at that time.

Acting on the board of special assessors were Clarence Everett, Third Ward supervisor; Carl Schaaf, water board member; Reginald Bublitz, city superintendent.

Some Enjoyed First Snowfall

Tawas Area High School seniors defeated the junior class in a snowball fight Thursday evening at East Tawas Athletic Field. About 60 youngsters took part in the impromptu battle. All retired to a local restaurant for refreshments following the battle, which was called a draw.

G. Duff Completes Examiner's Class

George Duff, recently appointed as a deputy in the Isosco County Sheriff's Department, passed second highest in his class in a two-week school for driver's license examiners at Lansing. There were 38 students in the class.

"We here in the sheriff's office feel very proud of Duff's accomplishment at this school and are sure that he will treat the people of this county in a fair and impartial manner when they come into this office for license renewals," said Sheriff Ivan O'Farrell.

Duff applied for the position on resignation of Mrs. Barbara Burch September 25. He received appointment to the $3,600 a year position and worked 10 days on his own time to learn the job.

Tawas City Man Hurt in Car-Train Crash

A 20-year-old Tawas City man was seriously injured Monday morning when his car crashed into a Detroit and Mackinac Railway train at McIvor.

Injured and rushed to Tawas Hospital was James W. Katterman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd H. Katterman, 1345 M-55. He was transferred by ambulance to Saginaw General Hospital with a double fracture of the right leg, fractured nose, severe laceration above the left eye and other cuts.

Headed north of McIvor Road, Katterman's car struck the middle of the first hopper car behind the diesel locomotive of the Tawas extra. The intersection is located just south of Parent's store building.

Engineer Alvin Kendall told investigating state police officers that the train was traveling at about 30 miles per hour and had begun to slow down for the White Rock Junction of National Gypsum Company. He had sounded the engine's air horn and saw the car approaching.

The train, composed of 21 hopper cars, a way car and the engine, hauled the car about 50 feet before it dislodged on the south side of the road. The train stopped 703 feet from the intersection.

Mrs. Betty Steinhurst, a bus driver for Tawas Area School District, told investigating state police officers that Katterman had passed her bus about one-quarter of a mile south of the intersection.

After checking the road behind in her rear view mirror, the driver glanced back and saw the collision.

Supt. Ropert Outlines Year's Street Program

Annual report of City Supt. Paul Ropert indicated that total street expenditures amounted to $55,392.06 during the period October 1, 1965, to September 30, 1966. This was $2,592.06 higher than budgeted.

Total receipts during the period, including a balance of a year ago of $5,988.15, amounted to $55,336.95.

Included in expenditures was $17,412.29 for surface construction, $6,539.28 for surface maintenance, $5,831.50 for drains and ditches, $2,514.15 for patching blacktop. Remainder of the expenditure was for street maintenance, snow removal, operational expenses and equipment maintenance.

A total of 1,350 feet of storm drain construction was begun during the year.

Dedication Held Sunday for Oscoda Township Hall

Oscoda Township's new $150,000 hall was formally dedicated Sunday afternoon. About 200 persons attended.

Principal speaker at the ceremony was Circuit Judge Allan C. Miller. Howard Brubaker was master of ceremonies. Oscoda Area High School Band furnished music for the program.

Turning over the keys to Supervisor Charles Smith to officially open the brick and concrete block building was Stanley Sterling, general contractor.

Police Chief Robert Foster and Fire Chief Howard Hofacer were among speakers.

The building provides quarters for township board meetings, houses the fire department, police department and the Isosco-Arenac Regional Library Branch.

The new structure occupies the former township hall site on US-23.

Immaculate Heart Church Scene of Hosbach-Smithgall Wedding

Mrs. Dennis John Hosbach

White chrysanthemums decorated the altar of Immaculate Heart of Mary Catholic Church, Tawas City, Saturday, November 5, for the double ring ceremony in which Dennis John Hosbach of Tawas City claimed Joan Linda Smithgall of Owosso as his bride. The Rev. Fr. John Kolevar read the 11 o'clock rites.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Smithgall of Owosso. Mr. and Mrs. John Hosbach of Tawas City are parents of the bridegroom.

The bride appeared in a white velvet, Empire styled sheath gown fashioned with rolled collar, three-quarter length sleeves and white rayon chiffon train attached under the collar. A floor length, French illusion veil was secured to a chiffon crown. She carried an arrangement of white chrysanthemums.

Approaching the altar in floor length, royal blue velvet gowns were Miss Marilyn Hosbach, sister of the bridegroom, Mrs. James Hulett and Miss Kathy Hosbach, sister of the bridegroom. Their gowns featured an Empire waistline trimmed with emerald green. Matching pillbox hats completed their ensembles. They carried matching muffs with ivy and white chrysanthemums.

Attending the bridegroom as best man was his brother, Theodore Hosbach, with Richard Sermon and George Sermon Jr. attendants. Guests were seated by James Hulett and Michael Halstead.

For a buffet luncheon and reception at Tawas Golf and Country Club, room decorations were carried out in green and white.

For the occasion, Mrs. Smithgall wore a blue knit, three-piece suit with white accessories and white rose corsage. Mrs. Hosbach carried a green lace sheath with corresponding accessories and red rose corsage.

The newlyweds are residing at 2721 North US-23, East Tawas. Out-of-town guests attended from Flint, Owosso, Bay City, Essexville and Mt. Clemens.

Given in marriage by Robert deFlippis, the bride wore an Empire waltz length gown with A-line, acetate peau skirt, Chantilly lace bodice and elbow length sleeves. Her silk illusion veil was held in place by a handmade crown of Swiss braid rosettes. Her flowers were white carnations and stephanotis.

The bride's attendant, Mrs. Ronald Komarek, selected a turquoise chiffon, waltz length gown accented with tiny ruffles. She carried an arrangement of turquoise carnations and stephanotis.

Denny Pieper of Chicago, Illinois, served as best man. Guests were seated by Ronald Komarek. For the wedding and reception following at Smatec's Club, Mrs. Vance chose a navy blue suit with corresponding accessories. A pink rosebud corsage completed her ensemble.

The newlyweds are residing at 2659 South Austin Boulevard, Cicero.

Christmas Cooking Demo. Tonight by Consumers Power

MARGE MIELOCK

A Christmas cooking demonstration is scheduled for this evening, Wednesday, 7 to 9 o'clock, at East Tawas Community Building, Consumers Power Company will sponsor the event.

Miss Marge Mielock, Consumers Power home economist, will have charge of the demonstration and will comment on laundering of Duro-Press clothing.

At the close of the evening, refreshments will be served.

FRANCES SMITH
The Rev. Fr. Arthur Mulka officiated at funeral services for Frances Smith of Alabaster Township Tuesday, November 8, at St. Joseph Catholic Church, East Tawas. Burial was in the church cemetery. Mrs. Smith died November 5 at Tawas Hospital as the result of a stroke.

Born October 29, 1913, in Tawas Township, she married Edward Smith April 24, 1934, at St. Joseph Catholic Church. She was a member of the church.

Surviving are her husband; one daughter, Mrs. Barbara Aubry of Union Lake; three sons, Dale and James of Holly and Melvin at home; six grandchildren; three brothers, Charles and Albert Friedrichsen of Tawas City and John Friedrichsen of Flint; four sisters, Mrs. Martha Atkins and Mrs. Eva Finna of Detroit, Mrs. Anna Brown and Mrs. Augusta Piggott of Flint.

two years to finance construction of an addition at the high school to house vocational training classes. Plans are now being developed by the school architect for this program and work is to commence next spring.

While all of this construction has been taking place, the superintendent and board of education have had to keep abreast of new advances in education and now have the opportunity to devote even more time to enriching the school program.

"It is a matter of constantly weighing the means whereby we can give a more effective educational program not only to students in school but to the entire community," said Mick.

One of the present areas now being discussed is in special education. A big assist was offered last summer by voters of the Iosco Intermediate District when facilities were provided for speech correction and other fields, but local schools will also have to offer some solutions.

Superintendents also have a completely new field of study in labor relations and contract negotiations. This required considerable time last year on the part of administrators and teacher representatives in a new and unfamiliar field.

Mick feels that growing opportunities are on the horizon for students through development of new concepts in vocational education. He and other area schoolmen are now discussing the possibility of area vocational centers, or the possibility of using existing facilities in a cooperative basis.

Mick began his teaching career in a rural school of Benzie County in 1932-1933, after attending county normal. He "retired" to attend Central Michigan University and received his bachelor of art degree in 1935, then taught one year at Fairview. He moved to Farwell as a teacher-coach for four years, spent one year as superintendent at Trufant, and returned to Farwell as superintendent for five years. Mick then moved to Ithaca as superintendent for seven years.

There were building or reorganizational programs in every one of those districts.

DISCUSSING plans for the proposed new county park at the mouth of the AuSable River are Percy Jocks, AuSable Township supervisor, right, and William Krause, park designer.

New AuSable Park Under County Study

In an effort to improve and increase recreational facilities in this county, the Iosco County Board of Supervisors has taken an option on a 10-acre site at the mouth of the AuSable River.

William Krause, park designer, was here recently to inspect the property and discuss preliminary plans for development of a new park.

Charles Smith, chairman of the board's conservation committee, said the board wishes to provide the vacationing public with the site for camping, parking of trailers, swimming launching of boats, fishing and play grounds.

"This site was selected," said Smith, "because we think it is easily accessible and offers the greatest potential for such development."

Marvin Davenport, cooperative extension natural resource agent, has filed an application on behalf of the board of supervisors for federal and state financial participation in the development of this area.

It is hoped that acquisition of the site will be completed sometime in early 1967.

Funds for making payment on the option were obtained from Old Orchard Park revenue.

ET Firemen Granted Increase in Pay
Pay increases for the East Tawas Fire Department were approved Monday night by the city council.

Volunteer firemen are to receive $6 per fire, an increase of $2; the fire chief is to receive $12 per fire, an increase of $2; assistant fire chief's pay was hiked to $6, an increase of $4.

Firemen are to receive $4 per meeting attended instead of the old $2 rate.

A report from the Department of Housing and Urban Development acknowledged receipt of planning documents for new sanitary sewer facilities prepared by Spicer Engineering Company.

The federal department is to initiate full review of the planning as soon as possible and, if satisfactory, payment of the $34,000 planning grant would be made without further action on the part of the city.

Building applications approved at East Tawas during the past three weeks are as follows:

Truman Barber Jr., 610 East Bay Street, wren redwood fence, $290; E. W. Bellen, 1110 East Bay Street, 12 by 12-foot addition, $1,800; Donald Penman, 820 West Bay Street, 28 by 40-foot car wash building, $3,500; F. Gary Greenwood, 715 Newman Street, remodel home, $1,850.

Sherman News
Mr. and Mrs. Frank Smith, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. William Groulx of East Tawas and Mrs. Victor St. James of Whittemore, spent Tuesday in Pigeon where they spent the afternoon with the Rev. Fr. Glenn Cronkite.

Mr. and Mrs. John Elmers, Mrs. Dorothy Koehn and Mrs. Gerald Koehn attended the funeral of Dennis McKellar at Rose City Monday. Dennis was killed in Vietnam.

Mrs. Shirley Cottrell and the Joseph Petri family attended the wedding reception of Mr. and Mrs. John Guzik at the Alabaster Church Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. George Smith spent a few days with their daughter and family in Flint.

Dale Brown of Pontiac spent the week-end with his parents, the Floyd Browns.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Magalski and girls spent a few days last week in Detroit visiting relatives and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell White and children of Whittemore were Monday evening callers of Theodore Lichota.

Expect Fewer Hunters for 1966 Deer Season

First legions of an army of half a million or more hunters will hit the woods Saturday, November 12, for the opening of the Upper Peninsula deer season. The following Saturday, November 19, will be opening day for the rest of the state.

Again this year, Michigan will have a split deer season with 16 days of hunting in each peninsula. Dates are November 12-27 in the Upper Peninsula, November 19-December 4 in the lower.

Although precise estimates are impossible because of the many unpredictable factors in deer hunting, conservation department game men think there likely will be a drop both in hunter numbers and in the total kill.

Hunter numbers are not expected to equal last year's all-time record total of 605,000, who shot an estimated 113,500 deer. The harvest is expected to be lower because antlerless deer kill quotas have been trimmed about 30 percent state-wide and more than that in the northern two-thirds of the state where most deer hunting is done.

It all adds up to a probable success rate of one deer for every five or six hunters, comparable to last year.

As always, the final figures will be influenced by such variables as weather, what hunters do and what deer do.

Weather is the biggest "if." Its whims, particularly during the first few days of the season when the bulk of the harvest is accounted for, will go a long way toward determining whether the season is good, poor or average and whether hunters will go home smiling or grumbling.

It is anybody's guess, too, how hunters will react toward the split season. Last year, separate Saturday opening dates in the two peninsulas led to ganging up and overcrowding in some areas and encouraged many hunters to venture into unfamiliar territory.

Carl Babcock appeared before the council and said that he had applied a year ago for cable television at his home and that he had not received it, in spite of several promises that it would be made within two weeks.

The home owner said that he had disposed of a tower and rotor antenna upon purchase of a new color set, with the understanding that he would be served by cable. He said that other residents in his neighborhood had also applied for such service, but had never received it.

He asked the city to enforce provisions of the franchise with the cable firm.

In other business, City Treasurer Ruth Albertson reported that $45,186 in city taxes had been collected as of the end of October. This represents 92 percent of the city property tax. She said that all personal property had been collected.

Action on a salary increase for city employees is to await recommendation of the council's finance committee at the next meeting. Members of the committee are Cecil Cabbie, Russell A. Rollin Sr. and Clark Tanner.

Discussed at the meeting was a 15-cent-an-hour increase for hourly employees. Present salary paid is $2.10 for two laborers, $2.15 for one experienced laborer, $2.20 for two truck drivers and $2.40 for one equipment operator.

Reginald Bulbitz, superintendent of public works, recommended that employees be paid for six legal holidays a year.

Also discussed was a $400 increase for the city foreman, now receiving $5,040; $200 increase for the city hall office clerk, now receiving $2,700; $400 for the city superintendent, now receiving $7,020.

Students in the two grades are to receive small pox revaccination, plus diphtheria-tetanus booster shots. In addition, tuberculosis skin tests are to be conducted.

Immunization at Whittemore-Prescott Area and Hale Area Schools have been completed. The district health staff is to be at Oscoda Area School November 14 and at Tawas Area School November 21.

Immunization against measles is offered to children between the ages of nine months and seven years. Preschool children are immunized at the district health office at the county building.

Dr. Lambert said that it appeared as though there would not be an epidemic of red measles this year because of the massive immunization program. The office has plenty of vaccine on hand and may be obtained on request of physicians or the immunization may be received at the district health office.

Mrs. Sandra Lange, Whittemore, who formerly served on a part-time basis in the district health office, has been rehired in that capacity. The department is still looking for another full-time nurse for Iosco County.

Summer Stock Coming to Tawas for 1967 Season

Summer stock is coming to East Tawas next summer, according to action of the city council Monday night.

Norman Persing, a Jackson school administrator, made application for use of the west end of the city park for summer stock shows. A tent is to be erected there during the months of July and August with a capacity of 400 persons.

Persing told councilmen that talent was being recruited from the University of Michigan, Western Michigan University and Michigan State University.

The stock show, which performed at the Irish Hills last summer, would have a weekly run of five nights.

Babcock Complains of One-Year Delay on TV Cable Hook-Up

On complaint of a Third Ward home owner, Tawas City Council Monday night directed City Attorney Alf C. Watson to take steps to require General Cable Television to comply with provisions of its franchise in this community.

Carl Babcock appeared before the council and said that he had applied a year ago for cable television at his home and that he had not received it, in spite of several promises that it would be made within two weeks.

The home owner said that he had disposed of a tower and rotor antenna upon purchase of a new color set, with the understanding that he would be served by cable. He said that other residents in his neighborhood had also applied for such service, but had never received it.

CO-CAPTAINS of the Whittemore-Prescott Area Cardinals, Jerry Osborne, 60, and Vernon Arndt, 70, accept the new traveling trophy on behalf of the Whittemore-Prescott Cardinals from

Cards Win 13-6 Over Eagles for New Traveling Trophy

Whittemore-Prescott Cardinals walked off a snow-covered field last Friday night with a new trophy. The Cards downed Hale Area Eagles, 13-6, to end the 1966 season for both teams.

A new principal's trophy, sponsored by the two schools, was awarded to Coach Jerry Hoffman and the Cards following the game. The trophy is to go to the winner of this game each year.

Despite extremely cold weather and poor footing, both teams turned in an excellent performance. The only exception was in the fourth quarter when cold fingers contributed to six fumbles.

Three fumbles were costly to the Eagles, who had been driving toward the endzone with a possible tying touchdown.

Hard tackling by both defensive units kept the ball at midfield most of the first quarter, but the Cards broke the ice in the second quarter when they scored two touchdowns and a PAT to hang up their straight win.

Early in the second period, following a good drive late in the initial quarter, Quarterback Pat Phelps scored the first touchdown from about one yard out. The PAT was missed and W-P held a 6-0 lead.

After being unable to get a drive going, Hale was forced to punt and Whittemore-Prescott began to roll. After two short running plays, Quarterback Tim Arndt hit Halfback Phil Hupek with a pass, good for a 53-yard touchdown. Phelps carried the PAT and the Cards led, 13-0.

In the third quarter, Hale put together some good runs along with penalties against the Cards. An inspired Eagle team of Coach Vern Reed then drove toward the goal where Chuck Kocher scored from one yard out. The PAT at tempt from placement was missed.

The passing of Quarterback Elite Shellenbarger to Ends Larry Dregberg and Ed Wright was Hale's major offensive threat of the night. Despite cold fingers, Dregberg made a sensational one-handed catch of one pass.

The Eagles recovered a Card fumble and appeared to be on their way toward the goal. Three fumbles by Hale and two by Whittemore-Prescott saw the ball changing hands on nearly every play at one point in the final quarter and the Eagle drive was stopped.

Senior Jerry Osborne led the Cards with 11 tackles, while Todd Gillings played an outstanding game as linebacker. Gary Freel maintained his 41-yard punting average for the season and kept the Cards out of trouble on two occasions.

Phelps was the big ground gainer for the Cards with 107 yards. Hupek had a 111-yard total in the air and on the ground. Tim Arndt completed seven out of 14 passes for 123 yards, while the Cards had a total of 238 yards on the ground.

Braves Drop Dukes; Meet Top-Ranked Buena Vista

Tawas Area Braves evened their season's record at four-four Friday night by winning one of those "anybody's ball game" which all football coaches dread.

Playing on an ice and snow-covered field at Essexville, the Braves downed Garber, 7-2. The Braves wore insulated underwear to protect themselves against the cold and most players were wearing gloves.

It was the fourth straight win for Tawas and sets the scene for the final game of the season this Friday night when the Braves play host to Saginaw Buena Vista, an undefeated team rated at the top of class B high schools in the state.

Friday night's game at Essexville was pure misery for both teams. The host school was unable to completely scrape its field following Thursday's storm and one side was covered with six inches of snow. A layer of ice added to the poor footing.

Tawas' power running game was shot by the poor playing conditions. The Braves had the ball for 49 plays and racked up 123 yards rushing. Subtract 115 yards in penalties marched off and Tawas had eight offensive yards to its credit.

Essexville on the other hand, was hurt by fumbles. The Bay County team lost four fumbles to Tawas while two fumbles by the Braves were lost.

Playing to a scoreless tie in the first half, during which time the ball exchanged hands at midfield, the Braves put together their best drive of the night in the third quarter. Dennis Harten scampered 22 yards on one play and Gene Kushion scored on a quarterback sneak. The Tawas quarterback then broke through for the PAT and Tawas held a 7-0 lead.

Tawas had one touchdown called back on an offsides penalty just before this score when Ray Powers went 35 yards and into the endzone.

The Essexville Garber team roared back in the third quarter and penetrated to the Tawas two-yard line. On fourth down, the Braves held to stop the drive.

This set the stage for Essexville's only score of the night. On the first play from scrimmage, Kushion was caught in the endzone and Essexville had a safety.

It was one of those games where a break one way or the other meant the difference. Tawas had six first downs and Essexville had but one. While 115 yards were marched off against Tawas in penalties, Essexville lost 30 yards in penalties. The Braves had three 15-yarders, two five-yard infractions and a pass interference play during Essexville's lone drive toward the goal.

The Braves pulled off one upset this year against Oscoda which was rated fifth in the state at one time. Buena Vista will be coming to Tawas with a team possessing good size, good speed and an excellent passing attack.

Names Five Soloists For Up-coming Christmas Concert

Lt. Wayne Hostetter, director of the Tawas Community Chorus, has named five soloists for the annual Christmas concert which will be presented December 11 at 3:00 p. m. in Tawas Area High School auditorium.

Mrs. Lee Cater will be one of the two soprano soloists. Mrs. Cater is well-known for her solo work throughout the local area. At present, she is vocalist for the Christian Science congregation in East Tawas and is choir director at the East Tawas Methodist Church.

Mrs. Carol Copeland of Wurtsmith Air Force Base will be the other soprano soloist. Mrs. Copeland is the mother of five children and still finds time to direct the Catholic choir at the Base Chapel and sing with the Officers' Wives choral group.

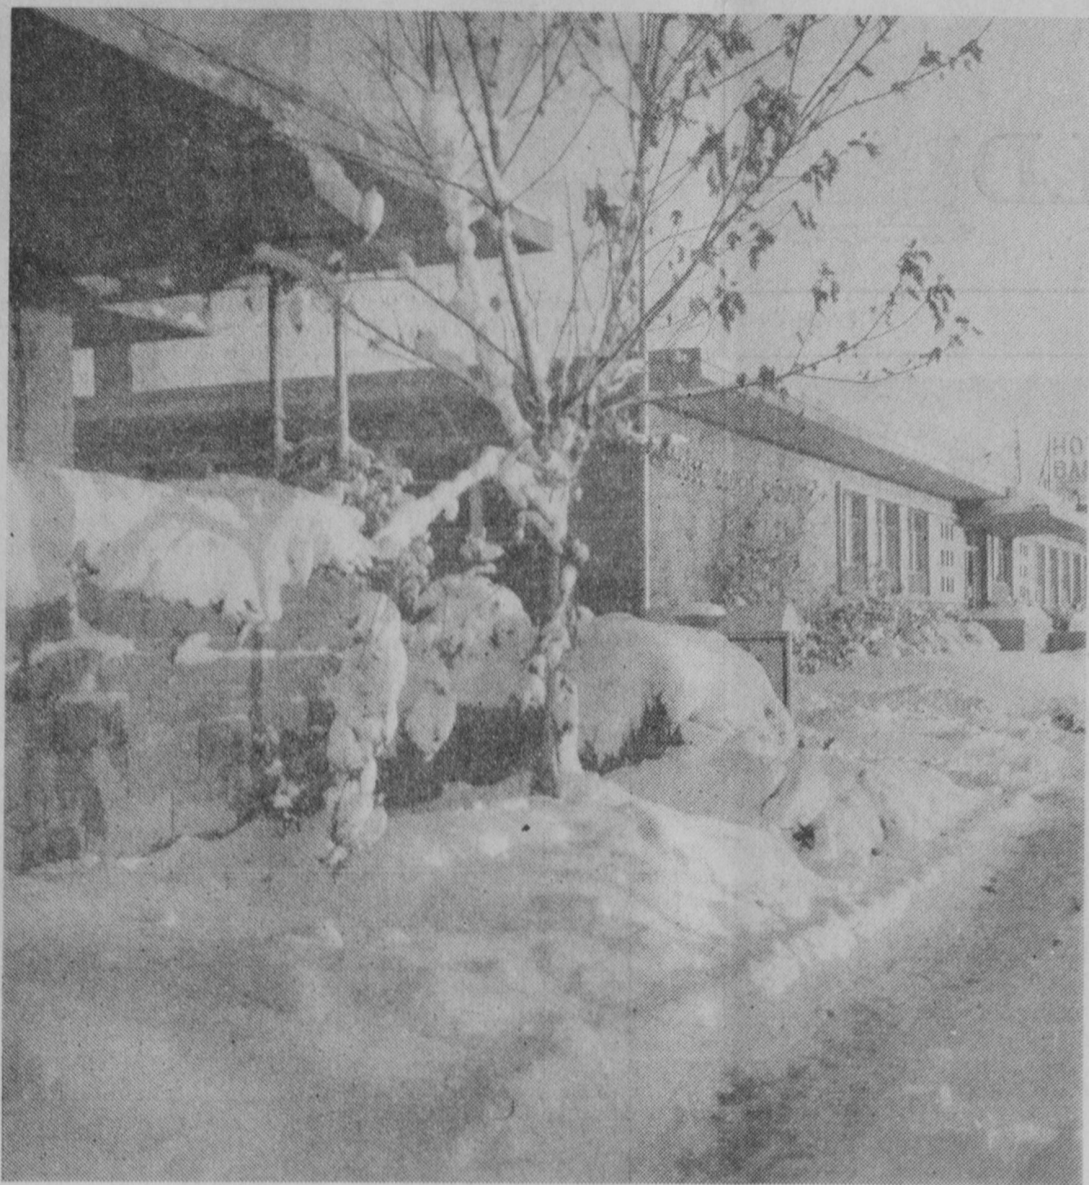

Mrs. Ann Miller, alto soloist, is serving as assistant director of the chorus. She is director of the Officers' Wives choral group and directs both the junior and senior Protestant choirs at the Base Chapel.

The Rev. William Lindholm, pastor of Grace Lutheran Church, East Tawas, will do the bass solo work. He has sung with the chorus for the past several Christmas seasons and has done solo work for a number of the concerts.

Sgt. Lowell Thomas, tenor soloist, was featured in the chorus' 1966 spring concert. He has been stationed at Wurtsmith Air Force Base for the past three years and is active in the Protestant choir at the Base Chapel.

The program includes Bach's "For Us a Child is Born," selections from Handel's "Messiah" and a Fred Waring presentation, "The Song of Christmas," the story of the Nativity as told in Christmas songs, carols and Biblical verses. John Alexander, Tawas Area faculty member, will be narrator for this presentation.

People wishing patron memberships are urged to return their letters as soon as possible to Mrs. Cater to insure inclusion on the program listing.

WINTER WONDERLAND—This was the scene Friday morning at the Isco County Jail as the heavy snow fall covered the yard and sidewalk. By Monday, the snow had nearly disappeared in light fog and drizzle. This was the earliest snow storm on record and, if last week's weather was an indicator, this should be an "old-fashioned" winter.—Tawas Herald Photo.

Lists Admission Policy in Regard to Color and Race

It is the policy of the Isco Medical Care Facility to admit and to treat all patients without regard to race, color or national origin. The same requirements for admission are applied to all patients and are assigned within the home without regard to race, color or national origin. There is no distinction in eligibility for, or in the manner of providing, any patient service provided by or through the nursing home.

All facilities of the nursing home are available without distinction to all patients and visitors regardless of race, color or national origin. All persons and organizations having occasion either to refer patients for admission or to recommend the Isco Medical Care Facility are advised to do so without regard to the patient's race, color or national origin.

'Call to be a Christian' To Present Movies On World Tour of Missions Nov. 10

The Rev. Benjamin Whaley of Midland will present a world tour of missions film Thursday, November 10, at East Tawas Methodist Church. A planned dinner will be served at 6:15 p. m. and the program will commence at 7:30 o'clock. The project is sponsored by the Tawas City and East Tawas joint commission on missions.

Mrs. Reynold Mick is chairman and Mrs. Joseph Dibley, vice chairman.

Congregation of Wilber Methodist Church and interested individuals are invited to attend.

The menu consists of chicken, vegetables or salads, scalloped potatoes and pie. Biscuits for the entire group will be furnished, as well as coffee and tea. People attending are asked to choose from this menu. Everyone is to bring table service.

The film was compiled by Mr. and Mrs. Whaley, who traveled around the world making visits to missions. Mr. Whaley states that his main object in showing the film is to promote missionaries and is not just a world travelogue.

Mr. Whaley is a former area Methodist minister.

Other program features will be group singing and a solo by Mrs. Robert Erickson.

A freewill offering will be taken.

'Viet Nam Profile,' Color-Sound Movie Here Sunday, Nov. 13

"Viet Nam Profile," just completed film production by Dr. Robert Pierce for World Vision, Incorporated, will be presented in a special showing at First Baptist Church, 402 Second Street, Tawas City, Sunday evening, November 13, 7:00 p. m.

The sound-color documentary film takes the viewer throughout war-torn Viet Nam, portraying "the drama of God at work in the midst of war."

"Viet Nam Profile" portrays the people of the war-torn little country, including colorful aboriginal mountain tribespeople as well as the Vietnamese people themselves. It takes the viewer into scenes of actual combat, follows missionaries and Vietnamese Christians in their faithful and often heroic labors for Christ and depicts the ministries of a typical United States chaplain.

World Vision, with its international headquarters in Monrovia, California, cares for over 20,000 orphans in 20 countries. It has launched an all-out aid program in Viet Nam, building refugee centers, providing hundreds of crutches and wheelchairs for war amputees, distributing countless thousands of relief packets and supporting war widows as well as blind students, orphans and other needy children.

The Rev. Ernest Ferguson, pastor of the local church, extends an invitation to the public to view this film presentation.

The Apostle Paul's declaration, "Ye are not in the flesh, but in the Spirit, if so be that the Spirit of God dwell in you," is the Golden Text of this week's Christian Science lesson-sermon titled "Mortals and Immortals." The lesson will be read at all Christian Science services this Sunday.

Related readings from the denominational textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following:

"The manifestation of God through mortals is as light passing through the window-pane. The light and the glass never mingle, but as matter, the glass is less opaque than the walls. The mortal mind through which Truth appears most vividly is that one which has lost much materiality—much error—in order to become a better transparency for Truth. Then, like a cloud melting into thin vapor, it no longer hides the sun."

Trapped Burglars Escape From Whittemore Store

"They looked like wild men when they came at me—I just could not get the gun around in time."

Speaking was William Fuerst, Whittemore hardware owner, following a brush with two burglars at his store last Tuesday night.

While admitting it was fortunate for him his two assailants were not armed, Fuerst said the two men were lucky—they could have been killed or at least seriously wounded had they failed to knock the shotgun out of his hands.

Fuerst had been working in the back room of his store and decided to quit for the night around 11:30 o'clock. He left his pickup truck parked in the alley, walked down the street to Sportsman's Bar for a bowl of soup and a cup of coffee before going home.

About one-half hour later, Leila Charters, wife of Arden Charters, who operates a grocery store next to the hardware, called the Fuerst residence to say she had received a report that someone was in the store. Mr. Charters was spending the night at their hunting camp.

Knowing that her husband had been in the store earlier, Lois Fuerst drove down to the store to investigate. Fuerst was just getting in his truck when his wife drove up.

He opened the front door, turned on the lights and walked to the rear of the store to investigate. He found a set of burglar tools on the checkout counter and realized that someone had either just left the building or was trapped inside.

Fuerst told his wife he was going to load his shotgun and for her to run next door for help. She waited for a moment and said she thought they both should wait outside for assistance.

Standing at the rear of the store near the office, Fuerst loaded one shell into his 16-gauge shotgun and was in the process of inserting another shell.

Two men burst out of the office door simultaneously, knocking the shotgun out of Fuerst's hands. The hardware man, also knocked to the floor, jumped up to grapple with one of the men while the other ran around the counter.

After an exchange of blows, one burglar broke free and escaped through the rear door. The other man came at Fuerst with a stool, but the Whittemore businessman wrestled it out of his hands. This burglar, too, made his escape through the rear entrance.

Mrs. Fuerst, who witnessed her husband's tussle with the burglars, returned with help from the bar but the two men had cut cross lots to their car parked about a block away.

A car was seen moments later speeding north on M-65 and three patrons of the bar gave chase in their panel truck. The car easily outdistanced the pursuers and they made their escape.

State police and Iosco Sheriff Ivan O'Farrell arrived on the scene about 15 minutes later and began a search of the area. It is believed that the first burglar to make his escape from the building had raced to the car and left his partner stranded in Whittemore. Both men had vanished, however, by the time the search was started.

Investigation inside the building disclosed that the men had removed the contents of an unlocked safe. Ammunition and other merchandise had been piled on a counter, to be taken when the burglars made their exit. They were prevented from taking the loot by the hardware owner's return.

The burglars did make off with six or seven watches from a display case, money from the sale of hunting licenses and about $40 from an unidentified person's billfold which had been left in the store the previous week.

The hardware and grocery store have been the scenes of numerous break-ins in recent years. Burglars struck the store on three occasions one year, damaging locks on both safes in the process. The building is directly across the street from the Whittemore branch of Farmers and Merchants State Bank, which was held up by an armed bandit a little over a year ago.

"I'm coming in shooting the next time," was Fuerst's comment, as he attempted to assess his loss.

Mrs. Fuerst was thankful that her husband was not injured. "I guess I screamed pretty loudly when I ran for help, but I expected to find Bill with a knife in him when I got back to the store—we were lucky."

Consumer's Week
Though it is being emphasized this week, the consumer is a year 'round object of the Cooperative Extension Service. Frankly, this week, with its publicity helps consumers know the type of help and information available all year.

What is a consumer? Well, everyone is a consumer, but not everyone takes the opportunity to become a competent consumer. A consumer uses goods and services to satisfy needs and wants; he makes the best and full use of all resources—time, energy, knowledge, skills and money.

Applying knowledge in the use of these resources comes through education. This kind of education is the extension service's responsibility.

The Family Living Education of the Cooperative Extension Service includes information in the areas of food and nutrition, clothing and textiles, family life and child development, housing and furnishings, managements and equipment. It also includes other kinds of information of interest to the homemaker and her family—landscaping, safety, health, family recreation and education.

For instance: A mother is concerned about the health and diet of her child. Information that may help her with her problem might be the following: A child will be more willing to eat a good breakfast if he is hurried in the morning. Getting a good night's sleep will help. Varied menus are more enticing, too, than an unimaginative one. A child's breakfast will seem more important if he does not have to eat alone. Interesting conversation at the breakfast table means a pleasant and happy emotional climate.

Education of Cooperative Extension Service may be in housing, furnishings and equipment. An example: Information based on research provides answers to questions such as on insulation. You may get the best return for your money invested in home insulation by putting it only in the ceiling and installing storm windows and doors. Since hot air rises, the ceiling needs more insulation than walls. Of course, no home should be built today without adequate insulation. Adding it to an older home presents problems. House plans and working drawings are available at cost.

Education for someone else might be in clothing selection. For instance, a homemaker or the teen-ager asks "What caused that T shirt to go all out of shape?" Usually, the structure of the knit fabric is at fault when cotton knit garments lose their shape in laundering. The tiny knit loops in the fabric, normally plump and round, may be stretched and pulled long and thin as they are manufactured. Only after this fabric has been made into a garment, and the garment has been laundered, does a problem arise. Then, the tiny loops relax, return to their normal round shape and the garment becomes shorter and wider.

Some cotton knit fabrics are not stretched as they are finished. The tiny knit loops in these fabrics are completed and remain round. Garments made of these knit fabrics do not lose shape, because the knit loops are already relaxed.

Traverse Hospital Gets Early Start

Once again Traverse City State Hospital is getting an early start on its very important Christmas program.

Many patients in the institution have no friends or relatives who care, and were it not for the generosity and thoughtfulness of many individuals, church groups, clubs, civic organizations, schools, etc., they would not have the enjoyable Christmas which they, too, deserve.

For several years now, the generosity of interested people in the Traverse City State Hospital's 39-county committing area has provided a joyous holiday season for the patients being cared for at Traverse City. Again this year, the hospital invites participation in this very important aspect of its program, and individuals and groups are urged to assist by sending gifts for patients.

To make the program run as smoothly as possible with the utmost in effectiveness, the following points should be observed: All Christmas gifts should be new. They need not be expensive but they should be new. Christmas gifts should not be wrapped and this year it is not necessary to send wrapping paper. Tying material, however, is still needed.

Donors are requested to carefully pack their gifts, making sure that all breakable items are sufficiently padded and that liquid materials have sufficient packing to absorb the contents of the bottles. In this respect, also, senders should be very sure the package carries sufficient postage. Packages should be addressed to Community Relations Department,

Box C, Traverse City, Michigan, and should always carry the sender's return address. Any packages containing perishables, such as fruit, cakes, candies and other food items should be plainly marked.

Inasmuch as the tremendous task of sorting, selecting and wrapping gifts according to patients' wishes will have to begin early, packages should be received as close to December 1 as possible.

If you send money to buy gifts for patients, checks or money orders should be made out to Traverse City State Hospital Patients Benefit Fund and plainly marked "For Christmas Gifts." The hospital cannot shop for individual patients but will do Christmas gift buying on a general basis.

Individual groups should keep in mind that patients can use any kind of Christmas gift which would be enjoyed by any boy or girl, man or woman in the family. Any group or persons interested in taking part in Traverse City State Hospital's 1966 Christmas emphasis and needing further information should write as quickly as possible to the community relations department. Mailing stickers, printed Christmas gift suggestion lists and shipping instructions will be sent immediately.

Looking Backward—

Deer Plentiful in 1931; Area Hunters Get Report Cards

35 Years Ago— November 20, 1931—Deer are plentiful this year, if the number of cars carrying bucks which passed through the city is any criterion. Many local men have been fortunate in filling their licenses. William Rhodes of Sherman and Joseph Dimmick of East Tawas were the first in the county to report killing deer. Hunters of Michigan this year have an opportunity to express their opinions and to report observations to the department of conservation through a report card now being sent to each conservation officer for general distribution among the hunters.

Michigan State Highway Department is asking for bids on construction of approaches to the new Five Channels bridge in Oscoda Township. Hand labor will be required on this project wherever practical and men in the county will receive preference.

Mr. and Mrs. John Ristow, who were married November 12, 1881, in Tawas City, observed their 50th wedding anniversary at Emanuel Lutheran Church.

Officers of the Iosco County Young Peoples Society elected last week included Olive Davison, leader; Stephan Barr and Levi Ulman, assistant leaders; Mabel Ulman, secretary.

Otto W. Rahl, superintendent of Prescott High School, announces that the school has been placed on the accredited list of the University of Michigan.

An alumni aggregation featuring "Sam" Sigim defeated East Tawas High School basketball team, 26-22. The high school girls team, playing without the services of three regulars, Vera Carter, Beatrice Brooks and Helen Neilson, lost to the East Tawas Independents, 21-6.

25 Years Ago— November 14, 1941—Dr. H. R. Hess, chairman of the Iosco Red Cross Roll Call Committee, reports that growing responsibilities of national defense has caused the local unit to seek an expansion of membership this year. Last year, the quota was $787.

With an increasing demand of "Food For Defense," Iosco County farmers are being asked to do their part in increasing the milk production of their dairy cows by approximately eight percent. It is also hoped that the number of cows will be increased by approximately four percent, states W. L. Finley, county agent.

Pincooning debaters defeated Tawas City High School by a narrow margin Friday. Local debaters were Ruth Herriman, Philip Ross and Helen Krumm.

The Japan Times and Advertiser, organ of that country's foreign office, has declared that the Pacific is "on the brink of war." A list of most terms for the United States to abide by or get into trouble with Japan has been laid down, chief among which was the immediate stoppage of economic and military aid to China. Washington sources said that Japan feels that America's aid to China was simply evidence that this country was afraid to fight Japan directly.

Members of Jesse C. Hodder Post, American Legion, and their wives, held their annual autumn party in the shelter house at Silver Valley Monday evening. A supper of army "slum," baked beans and pumpkin pie, was served by Leonard Bouchard, post cook, and his KPs.

A new "Secret Club" has been organized by third and fourth grades of Tawas City. Officers are Bruce Myles, president; Francis Yanna, vice president; Gerald Grackl, secretary. The children marched with the band in a Halloween parade to the Ward School last Friday.

15 Years Ago— November 16, 1951—At the point of a gun Wednesday night, Mrs. George Leslie at the Campbell Grocery was ordered to turn over all the money in the store's cash register. The bandit directed Mrs. Leslie to "stay where you are" and drove off with about $139.

Iosco Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, presented awards to two area citizens for distinguished community service. Presented by Robert Roach, commander, awards went to Dr. John D. LeClair, for his work on the Tawas Hospital project, and to Harold Gould, for originating Perchville.

A parade of floats picturing the Nativity will feature pre-Christmas activities in the Tawas, according to an announcement made by Mrs. W. A. Evans, committee chairman.

Lead roles in the senior class play at Tawas City High School are held by Shirley Anschuetz, Edward Wells, Nancy Rollin, Shirley Allen, John Rescoe and Joanne Musolf.

WINTER came early in Michigan last week. Residents awoke Thursday morning to find six inches of snow covering the ground. Automobiles parked outside were covered with a thick layer of the white stuff and one motorist recorded the date on a side window, the earliest storm in the history of the weather bureau. Most schools were closed Thursday.—Tawas Herald Photo.

Traffic Violations to Bring Vehicle Inspection Report

If you are stopped for a traffic violation in Michigan during the next four months, expect an inspection and report on the condition of your vehicle. It is all part of a safety enforcement emphasis program being conducted as a united effort by most of the state's enforcement agencies—an outgrowth of the growing concern over Michigan's worsening traffic accident trends. Patrol officers of cooperating departments will check the following major safety items (and motorists are urged to get their vehicles in proper condition now to avoid embarrassment):
Steering: The steering wheel should have no more than three inches of free play and steering should not be exceptionally hard.
Brakes: Brakes should catch and hold evenly before the pedal is within one inch of the floor.

Pedal should hold firm, should not sink slowly when pressure is applied and should not require pumping. The parking brake should offer firm resistance when forward motion of the vehicle is attempted.
Horn: Must be operating and sufficiently loud to be heard at the legally required distance of 200 feet.
Mirrors: Inside and outside mirrors should be clear and properly adjusted.
Windshield and windows: Must be clear and free of cracks and discoloration. No unauthorized stickers and dangling objects should obscure vision.
Visibility equipment: Defrosters, windshield wipers and washers should operate effectively.
Headlights: Intensity and need for alignment correction will be checked.

Other lights: Must be working properly—especially that over the rear license plate.
Tires: To be checked for amount of wear and whether uneven wear indicates poor wheel alignment or cupping indicates faulty balance. Presence of studded tires will be noted since use of these is presently illegal in Michigan.
Exhaust system: An exhaust system emitting smoke or undue noise from beneath the car will be listed as defective or improper equipment.
Officers will also indicate the status of the driver's operator's license in their report.
The special enforcement program is being initiated by the Michigan Association of Chiefs of Police (MACP) and will run from November 11 of this year through February 10.

Postmaster General Has Christmas Mail Advice

Postmaster Gen. Lawrence F. O'Brien has announced that a manual for winning the battle with the annual avalanche of Christmas mail has been sent to his field commanders, the nation's postmasters.

Mr. O'Brien also reminded mailers today that the best way to assist the postal service during the Christmas "rush" is to shop early, mail early and use ZIP codes.

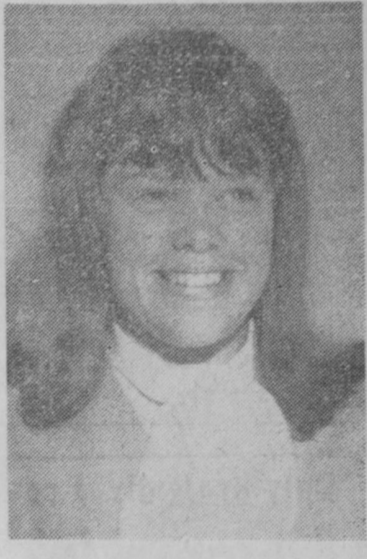

"It definitely is not too early to start putting your mailing lists in order," he said. "By organizing your Christmas mailing early, you help yourself to a happier and more relaxed holiday season."

The 60-page booklet gives postal employees guidance on everything from obtaining additional vehicles to window service hours. The mobilization manual lists suggested mailing dates to assure on-time delivery of Christmas mail.

Domestic surface mail—Gift parcels for distant states by December 5, for nearby areas by December 14. Greeting cards for distant states by December 10, for nearby areas by December 15.

Overseas surface mail—Should be sent no later than November 10. Overseas air mail should be sent by December 10. Domestic air mail is suggested for the tail end of the mailing rush.

The postmaster general reminded those mailing to servicemen in the Pacific area and Southeast Asia that small parcels weighing five pounds or less may be mailed at the domestic surface rate between the point of deposit and San Francisco. The packages will be sent by surface to the West Coast and by air on a space available basis to their final destination.

Supervisors Rescind Vaccination Order For County's Dogs

Iosco County has rescinded action of last spring which called for all dogs to be vaccinated for rabies before the owner made application for a 1967 dog license.

On motion by Harvey Odell, Reno Township, seconded by Earl McElheron, East Tawas, the previous resolution was dropped by the board of supervisors.

Such a vaccination requirement for dogs has been a state law for years, but local implementation has been at the discretion of the board of supervisors.

Undersheriff Leon Putnam said Monday that the restriction was lifted in time to commence sale of dog licenses November 1.

He said that many dog owners had complied with the March resolution and provided proper papers showing vaccination of dogs when application for license was made.

Returns to US After Deployment with Navy 6th Fleet

Fireman Apprentice Edward R. Proudfoot, United States Navy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Randolph Proudfoot, Tawas City, has returned to Mayport, Florida, as a crewmember of attack aircraft carrier, Saratoga, after a six-month deployment with the United States Sixth Fleet.

The Saratoga was in the Mediterranean participating with a task group which was responsible for the military defense of the area and the discouragement of aggressive disorders. During this time, the men and material aboard the carrier were constantly being tested. Many exercises were held with other ships of the United States Navy and navies of the NATO countries in the area as a part of a commitment to allies since the end of World War II.

Also during the cruise, the ship visited foreign ports whose names sounded back into history, promoting a civic action program and the People-to-People program.

A3C David W. Bowsby arrived home Friday night from Amarillo Air Force Base, Texas, to spend a 15-day leave with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Karl Bowsby, and brother of Whittemore. Upon his return, Airman Bowsby will be stationed at K. I. Sawyer Air Base, Marquette.

IN MEMORIAM
In loving memory of my father, Frank L. Peters, who passed away three years ago November 2, 1963.

Death is such a terrible blow no one will ever know. When it takes one you love away to thee home above. Thou God has you in his keeping and we are far apart; You are never out of my mind and always in my heart. You are gone but not forgotten Nor will you ever be Only God alone in heaven knows How much I miss thee.

Sadly missed by daughter, Mrs. Katherine Weaver 45-1b

DEMONSTRATING pruning methods to Earl Daugharty and members of the Ottawas 4-H Club is Dave Olson, cooperative extension agent from Oscoda County. He outlined basic fundamentals necessary to prune Daugharty's red pine plantation. The 4-H Club is now available to prune local woodlots.—Photo by Marvin Davenport.

4-H Club Crew Ready To Prune Red Pine Stand at Low Cost

Interested in pruning your 10 to 15-year-old stand of red pine? A crew of Isosco 4-H Club boys has been trained to do the job and is now available.

Dave Olson, cooperative extension agent from Oscoda County, worked with the Isosco 4-H members to give them the basic fundamentals necessary to prune Earl Daugharty's red pine plantation.

Jerry Stitt, Bruce and Grant Davenport were the "trainees." They are now looking for work and the plantation owner may be able to have his trees pruned for a few cents each.

Contact the Isosco ASCS office in the Federal Building, East Tawas. Make application for the ACP practice concerned with pruning the woodlot. If the owner receives approval after inspection by the Michigan Conservation Department forester, Allen Philbrick, call the Ottawas 4-H Club boys and they will tell you how to spend your ACP payment.

Pruning improves the stand and provides a potential yield of high quality saw logs. Contact County Agent Marvin Davenport when ready for the "pruning force."

"A FOX"

The countryside is still and white beneath the blanket of winter. A bright, Saturday-morning sun glistens down on the field where the team of horses blow clouds of vapor at their hooves as they haul the bobsled loaded with manure.

The farm youth at the reins pulls back on them suddenly, and stops the team and sled to gaze at a line of small tracks in the fresh snow. He follows the tracks with his eyes in a zig-zag route across the field and into the weeds and brush along the line fence. As he watches, a small, dog-like animal with a great bushy tail trots from the far end of the field.

The youth spots the animal, and sudden excitement boils over in him in an involuntary shout that startles the horses.

"A fox!"

In a frenzy that bathes him in sweat, the young man unloads the manure, and puts the horses into a spirited trot on the way back to the barn. He hurtles through the rest of his morning chores in a manner that amazes his father. And then he stuffs a sandwich into his pocket, grabs an ancient .22 rifle and hikes off to gather friends and cousins for an afternoon of fox hunting.

And though the youth may grow to become the most sophisticated of fox chasers with the finest equipment available, no hunts will be so exciting as those afternoons of long ago. It was on these wintry Saturdays that the sport of fox hunting really began to course through the veins of midwest hunters. It was a minor emotional beginning that has grown into a major winter sport.

Fox hunting is done now with four-wheel drive vehicles, specially bred hounds, high velocity rifles with telescopic sights, walkie-talkie radios, electrically heated socks, and even airplanes. A hunt may involve dozens of men, and may spill across the length and breadth of a county.

But despite this refinement and enlargement of the hunt, Mr. Fox continues to hold his own. And in many instances, he has done so with a price on his red head. Fox bounties were once standard annual budget items for state and local governments. They still exist in some areas, but are coming more and more to be recognized as a useless tool in the manipulation of small game populations. While the fox may dine with pleasure on the cottontail rabbit or the ringneck pheasant, the dietary habits of Reynard is only one of many factors that determine the fall bunny and pheasant numbers. Of much greater importance are habitat changes and weather during the winter or at critical periods in the reproduction cycle.

Since the days of Aesop, however, the fox has been branded a villain. He is blamed for every chicken theft, for missing turkeys, and is even accused of snitching an occasional lamb.

Most of this is myth. The fox lives primarily on small rodents and spends the great majority of his time hunting mice. He does this hunting at night, cruising back and forth across woodlots and fields using his keen sense of smell to locate his quarry.

During the day, the fox curls up to sleep, usually on a knoll or hill that gives him a commanding view of the countryside.

An annual litter of four-to-seven kits is produced in an underground den. They are born in the late winter, and by Easter time they are sticking their black button noses out to see the world. Both the vixen and the adult male bring food back to the den for the young. When the family is half grown, the youngsters start to accompany their mother on short hunting trips. Before they are very old they also learn that they are destined to go through life as the hunted as well as the hunter.

The "zing" of a rifle bullet, the baying of a hound or the shout of a hunter may be the first sign to the young animal that a fox's cunning is not an accessory, but a necessity of survival.

Fox hunting takes many forms. One group of Wisconsin hunters uses an airplane to spot fox. The location is radioed to companions on the ground who surround the area, and then move in to flush the animal out.

The "old pros" of fox chasing use hounds. The dogs are turned loose in a likely fox area, and the hunters station themselves at vantage points where they think the fox will pass by. A fox may lead hounds on incredibly long chases. The want-ad page of many a rural newspaper commonly carries a winter message from a fox hunter that begins, "Lost, fox hound, black and . . . ."

The houndless hunter plays the role of dog himself, taking a fresh track and keeping on it to drive the fox past hunting companions.

A fox that cannot shake off pursuit—and most of them can by one device or another—will sometimes end the hunt by diving into a den.

The sport of fox hunting is in great measure responsible for the popularity of high velocity varmit rifles. A shot at a fox must frequently be made at extreme long range, and hunters like a weapon that spits a small bullet at very high speed. The rifles are, of course, equipped with telescopic sights.

And many are the hunters who stand on snowy hillsides now with such a weapon and recall the days when they hunted with a battered old .22. They remember how the fox crossed the Yellow river at the "dead - waters" one afternoon and how ice cold the water was when the young hunters crossed too.

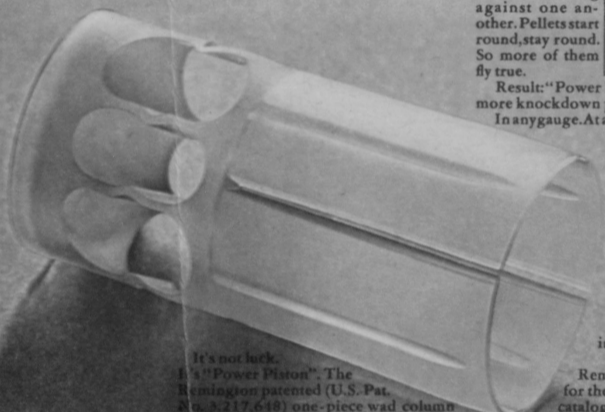

Then there was the afternoon that the fox came up over a hill just a few yards away, but ran off unscathed because there was snow in the rifle sights. Or was there a buck-fever factor involved?

They'll remember other days and other hunts, and chances are the memory-drugged hunted will get so involved that he'll let the fox of today's hunt slip safely away behind him.

That's OK, though, because just over the hill may be a farm youth with a battered old .22 and just a few hours between the morning and evening chores.

Why "Power Piston" shooters seem to have all the luck.

from deforming against one another. Pellets start round, stay round. So more of them fly true.

Result: "Power Piston" puts up to 10% more knockdown power in every pattern. In any gauge. At any range. With any gun.

Now you can get all the advantages of "Power Piston" in 12, 16, 20 and 28 gauge Remington "Express" loads. And in 12, 16 and 20 gauge Remington "Shur Shot" field loads. All with famous Remington plastic-shell construction. All at your Remington dealer's.

Interested? See your Remington dealer or send for the free 1966 Remington catalog. (Address below.)

It's not luck. It's "Power Piston". The Remington patented (U.S. Pat. No. 3,217,648) one-piece wad column and shot protector.

"Power Piston" puts up to 10% more knockdown power in the pattern of every Remington shotgun shell.

Some Remington shooters consider "Power Piston" a sort of secret weapon. But there's no secret in why "Power Piston" does what it does: The rounder the shot's kept, the more effective the pattern. Round shot travels straighter, travels farther, hits harder.

"Power Piston" helps keep the shot round . . . all the way to the target.

It's that simple. "Power Piston" helps prevent pellets from flattening against the inside of the barrel. Prevents them

"Power Piston", "Express" and "Shur Shot" are Reg. U.S. Pat. Off. by Remington Arms Company, Inc., Bridgeport, Conn. 06602. In Canada: Remington Arms of Canada Limited.

MANY FARMERS ARE TURNING TO CHEMICALS TO PROTECT THEIR ACRES FROM THE PERENNIAL PROFIT POACHERS... WEEDS!

WIN THE WEED WAR NEXT YEAR

DEKALB®
BRAND

XL

The King of Corn!

Compare height of XL-45 with variety at right.

Real Shorties that are tough and take thick planting in narrow rows

Modern corn farming demands varieties that will take higher populations, narrow rows, higher fertilization, and specialized mechanical harvesting.

DeKalb's XL Single and Three-Way Crosses meet this demand. They're tougher, shorter. They stand, combine easily and yield BIG!

In 1967, go all the way with DEKALB XL Corn—the greatest improvement in corn since hybrids.

"DEKALB" is a Registered Brand Name. "XL" is a Variety Designation.

MORE FARMERS PLANT THAN ANY OTHER BRAND

The cultivator seems headed for the same fate as check-wires, hay loaders and oat binders. Now that chemicals have made their mark in effectively killing weeds, the old "cut 'em off at the roots" weed controller is already going into semi-retirement . . . and perhaps on its way to oblivion.

The chief reason given by many farmers for keeping the cultivator around is for stirring the soil. "On its own, the cultivator is a lousy perennial weed controller," says one Illinois farmer who has converted to chemicals. "All you can count on it to do is loosen the soil, rip or shear off a plant, then pull it along the ground, spreading weed seed as it goes. And covering weeds is about as effective as sweeping dirt under a carpet."

One Wisconsin farmer who wishes he had used weed spray years ago is Earl Warnecke of Colgate. Warnecke, like many other farmers, has discovered that herbicides have to be experimented with to find out which ones are adapted to a particular soil type and an individual weed problem.

It is generally agreed that pre-emergence treatment should be the foundation of your weed control program. This protects the young plants when they need it most. Post-emergence applications of the right herbicide can take care of any problems remaining.

Recent studies have shown that one pigweed releases as many as 200,000 seeds when it matures, and almost all of these weed seeds come ready to grow. In view of this, it doesn't seem to make much sense to use the best seeds, best fertilizer, best equipment, and best practices and then let the weeds steal your crop's potential.

You won't put up with a self-feeder that lets pigs spill grain and protein all over the feeding floor . . . nor will you put up with a loose end-gate in the back of your wagon that lets corn and beans spill on the ground as you haul them back from the field. So, why put up with weeds?

Here are three ways weeds rob your profits, just as surely as if you have a hole in the bottom of your change pocket:

1. Weeds growing in the row absorb light, consume nitrogen, phosphorous, potash, moisture and trace minerals necessary for crop growth.

In soybeans, studies have shown that one foxtail plant growing every four inches in the row will consume enough of these elements to produce an extra 2.3 bushels per acre. In corn, a pigweed every 10 inches in a row can cut the corn yield by 17 bushels per acre. These losses can cost you up to $35 per acre.

2. Weeds, whether in the row or just along a ditch or fence line, can cause infestation of a crop by allowing mites, insects, or disease organisms to hide in them.

3. Weeds cause trash that can plug up a picker or combine, allowing beans or corn kernels to be left in the field.

Not only can weeds rob you by the methods listed above, but they can rob you of the time it takes to deal with them. Using a cultivator to deal with weeds takes much more time than chemicals, and is less effective than most herbicides.

This fact was one of the reasons that another Wisconsin farmer, Dan Tetzlaff of Sussex, went to chemical weed controls. "Cultivating takes so much more time, and its effectiveness isn't worth the time it demands," he says.

"After cultivating for years, I was never convinced I was getting good weed control, even with several cultivations. But one application of herbicide last year was so effective that it just wiped out my thistle problem . . . and my doubts."

One application is not always the answer on all farms, since conditions vary and some weeds have more tolerance than others. But you can be pretty well assured that one application with a herbicide will do a lot more damage to weeds than one or even two trips with a cultivator.

Or you might do what Harold Gardner of Cameron, Illinois does. He makes one herbicide application and goes over the field once with a cultivator.

"I still like to loosen the soil once with my cultivator," Gardner says. "As for the weeds, the cultivation's hardly necessary. Those weeds are usually dead before I get there."

It might be a good time for you to try this new road to profits if you haven't done so already. Check around to find the best chemicals for your particular weed problems. Read the label. Follow the directions carefully. And, grow the best weed-free crop your land ever produced.

Even without the sign, the location of this check-plot would be pretty obvious. The weed-free area around the untreated patch illustrates the effective use of chemicals.

LOOK AT WHAT THESE FARMERS SAY

Earl Warnecke, Colgate, Wisconsin, wishes he had herbicides a few years ago. "I now save both time and money. Chemicals are a lot faster than a cultivator."

Dan Tetzlaff found this giant weed behind the disk on his farm near Sussex, Wisconsin. "Weeds like this were stealing moisture and minerals from my crops until I started using herbicides," says Tetzlaff.

HOLIDAY RECIPES

CRANBERRIES

Since the days when Indians used it to heal arrow wounds, the tangy cranberry, native only to the United States, has been the star of a history as colorful as its own red color.

Up to the early 1800's cranberries were considered such a precious commodity that in 1789, New Jersey fined people caught picking them out of season.

The sparkling berry was first picked by hand by the Indians of what are now the states of Massachusetts, New Jersey, Wisconsin, Oregon, and Washington—still the major cranberry growing areas.

Today mechanical pickers lift the berries from the vines, but the hand scoop method is still in use in hard-to-reach areas.

To make sure there will be a crop to harvest, growers constantly must be on the alert for signs of approaching cold weather. A temperature dip below 27 degrees means the bogs must be flooded to protect against frost, a most destructive enemy. The protective water blanket, warmer than the air, incubates vines from the cold. If properly planted and cared for, cranberry vines will flourish indefinitely; some have been reported to bear fruit for over 100 years.

So with the thought that cranberries are here to stay, try some of these recipes as a delightful addition to any meal.

CRANBERRY COFFEE CAKE

- 1½ cups flour
- 2 teaspoons baking powder
- ¼ teaspoon salt
- 3 tablespoons sugar
- ¼ cup shortening
- 1 egg, beaten
- ½ cup milk
- ½ cup canned whole cranberry sauce

Sift together flour, baking powder, salt and sugar. Cut or rub in shortening. Combine egg and milk. Add to flour mixture, stirring until mixture is smooth. Spread into greased 8-inch square pan. With floured spoon or finger make grooves in dough, diagonally across pan about 1½ inches apart, to form lattice. Fill grooves with cranberry sauce. Bake at 400° for 20 to 30 minutes. Serve hot. Makes 1 coffee cake, 8 inches square.

BAKED CRANBERRY PUDDING

(Can be baked ahead and frozen, it reheats easily)

- |                                  |                           |
|----------------------------------|---------------------------|
| 3 cups fresh cranberries, washed | 1 cup California walnuts  |
| ¼ cup seedless raisins           | 2 cups sugar              |
| ¼ cup light molasses             | ½ cup (¼ pound) margarine |
| ½ cup boiling water              | 1 cup light cream         |
| 2¼ cups flour                    | 2 teaspoons vanilla       |
| 3 teaspoons soda                 |                           |

Put the cranberries and raisins into a bowl. Add the molasses and boiling water. Sift flour, measure and sift again with the soda into the fruit mixture. Add the nuts and stir until well blended. Pour into a greased and sugared 9x13-inch baking pan. Cover the top of the pan lightly with foil. Bake at 325° for one hour. For the sauce combine the sugar, margarine, and cream in a pan; bring to a boil, stirring, and boil 3 minutes. Stir in the vanilla. Cut the pudding in squares and serve with hot sauce. Makes 12-15 servings. To reheat (defrost if frozen), cover pan tightly with foil, heat in a 350° oven about 30 minutes, and reheat sauce.

CRANBERRY WHIP CREAM SALAD

- |   |                             |
|---|-----------------------------|
| 1 can (1 pound, 4 ½-ounces) crushed pineapple drained | 1 pound cranberries, ground |
| 1 pound miniature marshmallows                        | 2 cups sugar                |
|   | 2 cups heavy cream, whipped |

Combine pineapple and marshmallows; chill for several hours. Combine cranberries and sugar; chill for several hours. Fold pineapple mixture and whipped cream into cranberry mixture. Store in covered container in refrigerator for several days or spread in shallow pan and freeze until ready to serve. If frozen cut into squares to serve.

BAKED CRANBERRY WALNUT RELISH

- |                                     |   |
|-------------------------------------|---|
| 1 quart (1 pound fresh cranberries) | 1 cup coarsely broken California walnuts, toasted |
| 2½ cups sugar                       | 1 cup orange marmalade                            |
|                                     | juice of one lime or lemon                        |

Wash cranberries and drain. In shallow pan stir cranberries with sugar. Cover tightly with aluminum foil. Bake in 350° oven for one hour. Spread walnuts in separate shallow pan, toast in oven til light golden brown, about 12 minutes. Stir together baked cranberries, walnuts, marmalade and lime or lemon juice until well mixed. Chill.

CRANBERRY REFRIGERATOR CAKE

- |                                   |                                   |
|-----------------------------------|-----------------------------------|
| 2 cups fresh cranberries, chopped | ½ cup margarine                   |
| 1 large banana, diced             | 1 cup confectioners' sugar        |
| ½ cup granulated sugar            | 2 eggs                            |
| 2 cups crushed vanilla wafers     | ½ cup California walnuts, chopped |
|                                   | 1 cup whipping cream              |

Mix together chopped cranberries, banana, and granulated sugar. Set aside while you prepare rest of recipe. Place one-half of the crushed vanilla wafers in bottom of 8x8-inch pan. Cream margarine and confectioners' sugar together, add eggs and beat well. Spread this mixture over the crumbs. Now top with a layer of the cranberry-banana mixture and sprinkle with the chopped walnuts. Whip the cream until it peaks and spread over the cranberries and nuts. Cover all with remaining crushed wafers and chill at least 4 hours before serving. The best flavor results if chilled overnight. Serves 9-12 depending on size of piece.

CRANBERRY-APPLE PIE

- |                                     |                                     |
|-------------------------------------|-------------------------------------|
| 2 tablespoons quick-cooking tapioca | 2½ cups diced, peeled, fresh apples |
| 1½ cups sugar                       | Pastry for 2-crust 9-inch pie       |
| ¼ teaspoon salt                     | 1 tablespoon margarine              |
| 1½ cups cranberries, ground         |                                     |

Combine tapioca, sugar, salt and fruits. Line a 9-inch pie pan with half of the pastry rolled ¼-inch thick. Trim pastry, allowing it to extend ½-inch over rim, and flute. Roll remaining pastry ¼-inch thick, and starting at center, cut with knife or pastry wheel into a continuous circular strip about ½-inch wide. Fill pie shell with fruit mixture and dot with margarine. Arrange swirl of pastry on top of filling. Bake at 425° for 45 minutes, or until syrup boils with heavy bubbles that do not burst.

CRANBERRY BUNS

- |                                 |   |
|---------------------------------|---|
| ½ cup milk                      | 2 packages or cakes yeast, active dry or compressed |
| ½ cup sugar                     | 2 eggs, beaten                                      |
| 1½ teaspoons salt               | 4¼ cups flour (about)                               |
| ¼ cup margarine                 | Cranberry Filling (below)                           |
| ¼ cup warm water (105°-115° F.) | Confectioners' sugar frosting.                      |

Scald milk; stir in sugar, salt and margarine. Cool to lukewarm. Measure warm water into large warm bowl. Sprinkle or crumble in yeast; stir until dissolved. Stir in lukewarm milk mixture, eggs and 3 cups flour. Beat until smooth. Add enough additional flour to form a soft dough. Turn out on lightly floured board and knead until smooth and elastic, about 8-10 minutes. Place in greased bowl, turning to grease top.

Cover; let rise in warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk, about 1 hour. Punch dough down. Divide in half. On a lightly floured board, roll one half of dough into an oblong 14x9-inches. Spread with half of Cranberry Filling. Roll up as for jelly roll to make roll 9 inches long. Seal edges firmly. Cut into 9 equal pieces. Place cut side up in greased 9-inch layer cake pan. Repeat with remaining half of dough and filling. Cover. Let rise in warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk, about 1 hour. Bake at 350° about 25 minutes or until done. When slightly cool, top with confectioners' sugar frosting.

Cranberry Filling: Combine 2 cups ground cranberries, ¾ cup sugar, and 2 teaspoons cinnamon in saucepan. Over medium heat, bring to a boil and simmer for 5 minutes, stirring frequently. Stir in ½ cup chopped California walnuts. Cool.

NOVEL GIFTS

MAGIC COCONUT FUDGE

2 tablespoons milk
1 tablespoon light corn syrup
¼ cup margarine
1 teaspoon vanilla

Dash of salt
1 package (13 oz.) frosting sugar
or 4½ cups sifted confectioners sugar
1½ cups flaked coconut

Combine milk, syrup, and margarine in small saucepan; heat over hot water or very low heat just until margarine melts. Remove from heat; add vanilla and salt. Pour frosting sugar into mixing bowl. Add margarine mixture; stir until all sugar is moistened. Then, form stiff mixture into a ball and work with hands until smooth. Knead in coconut. Press into greased pan. Chill until set.

MAGIC CHOCOLATE FUDGE

1 cup (6-oz. pkg.) semi-sweet chocolate morsels
¼ cup margarine
1 package (13 oz.) frosting sugar or 4½ cups confectioners sugar
¼ teaspoon salt

1 teaspoon vanilla plus undiluted evaporated milk (at room temperature) to measure ½ cup
1 cup coarsely chopped California walnuts

Combine chocolate pieces and margarine in small saucepan; melt over hot water. Pour frosting sugar into a mixing bowl. Add salt and vanilla-milk mixture; stir until smooth. Blend in melted chocolate-margarine mixture. Stir in nuts, then spread quickly in greased pan. Chill until set.

CANDY FUDGE TREE IN A PAN

To shape the tree in a 9-inch square pan, cut 3 strips of heavy cardboard 9-inches long and 2 inches wide. Cover strips with foil, then stand them on edge in the well-greased pan in the form of a triangular tree, as shown.

Make a batch of Magic Coconut Fudge first, for the background. Divide the soft candy and press it into spaces between cardboard strips and sides of pan. (You'll need a little less than one-fourth of the candy to fill the space below the tree. The rest, divided evenly, fills upper corners.) Pack it firmly and evenly. Chill in refrigerator.

When it is set, gently loosen and lift out the foil-covered dividers. Cut out an inch square of white candy from center of bottom to make space for "trunk" of tree.

Next, make the Magic Chocolate Fudge. At once pour it into the empty spaces, spreading it quickly and neatly into all the corners. Chill until firm. Cover with clear plastic wrap, then wrap and tie as you please.

CREAMY CHRISTMAS PRALINES

3 cups light brown sugar, firmly packed
1 cup heavy cream

¼ cup margarine
½ teaspoon cinnamon
1½ cups broken California walnuts

Combine sugar, cream, and margarine in a medium-sized pan. Bring to a boil, and cook until the mixture reaches 235° (soft ball stage), stirring occasionally. Remove the mixture from the heat, and stir in cinnamon and walnuts. Beat the candy until it begins to thicken. Then drop by level teaspoonfuls onto waxed paper, and let the pralines stand in a cool place until firm. Makes about 3 dozen 2-inch pralines. Make ahead and store for Christmas.

Put two kinds of wonderfully good uncooked fudge together to make a highly edible picture. A stylized tree of Magic Chocolate Fudge stands out against a snowy-looking background of Magic Coconut Fudge. A new baking pan is the frame.

If after making that masterpiece, you're still in an artistic mood, paint some miniature fruit fondants with food coloring. The oh's and ah's you receive when presenting this gift will let you know what a successful candy maker you are.

And don't forget the members of your own family—after sampling these recipes below, they may not let you give them away.

MINIATURE FRUIT FONDANT

2 tablespoons evaporated milk
1 tablespoon corn syrup

1 package (13 oz.) frosting sugar
or 4½ cups sifted confectioners sugar
½ teaspoon almond extract

Heat milk with corn syrup in double boiler over hot (not boiling) water. Add frosting sugar, about 1 cup at a time, stirring well after each addition. When mixture becomes too stiff to mix with a spoon, remove from heat and turn out onto a smooth surface; add flavoring and gradually knead in as much of the remaining frosting sugar necessary to make the consistency of very stiff pie dough. Work until smooth. Pinch off small pieces and use to stuff dried fruits or to mold into interesting fruit shapes. Makes 2 to 2½ dozen pieces.

Directions for Shaping Fruit Fondants

Starting with a small ball of the dough-like fondant, pinch or press into shape. Brush strawberries with slightly diluted light corn syrup, then roll them in red sugar crystals. For peaches, press a toothpick lightly into one side making a characteristic indentation.

After shaping, use a clove for blossom end where needed. Cut leaves from flattened, green gumdrops and attach with a short length of toothpick.

Before "painting" peaches and other fruits, let them dry about two hours. Then using an artist's fine brush and ordinary food colors, paint each piece. Custard cups make good paint pots for this kitchen art work. Let your own originality be your guide.

ROCKY ROADS

1 cup evaporated milk
2 cups sugar
1 12-ounce package or 2 6-ounce packages (2 cups) semi-sweet chocolate morsels

1 teaspoon vanilla
1½ cups miniature marshmallows

Combine evaporated milk and sugar in saucepan. Place over medium heat and bring to a full boil, stirring constantly. Continue to boil 2 minutes, stirring constantly. Remove from heat; add semi-sweet chocolate morsels and vanilla, stir until smooth. Turn approximately ½ of the chocolate mixture into waxed paper-lined 8-inch square pan. Cover with miniature marshmallows, pressing marshmallows gently into the chocolate. Top with remaining chocolate mixture. Chill. Cut into squares. Yield: approximately 2 pounds.

SEMI-SWEET SUGAR BALLS

1 6-ounce package semi-sweet chocolate morsels
½ cup sugar
3 tablespoons light corn syrup
½ cup orange juice

2½ cups (approximately 5 dozen) finely crushed vanilla wafers
1 cup finely chopped California walnuts
Red, yellow, green, white sugar

Melt semi-sweet chocolate morsels over hot (not boiling) water. Remove from water. Stir in sugar and corn syrup. Gradually blend in orange juice. Add crushed vanilla wafers and nuts; mix well. Chill until firm. Form into 1-inch balls. Roll in colored sugar. Let balls ripen in covered container to several days. Candy will keep 3 to 4 weeks in covered container.

Yield: 4 dozen.

TURKEY AND ALL THE TRIMMINGS

by Betty Stern

When the whole family gathers at home for the holidays, favorite family foods are always on the menu. Turkey with all the trimmings is sure to be served at least once during the holiday meals.

Much of the work involved in preparing the traditional turkey dinner can be done days ahead by the homemaker.

The Star Salad and Frozen Pumpkin Pie can be made several days before and the convenient Refrigerator Roll dough can be stored for three to four days in the refrigerator.

So comes the big day and you'll be all ready to welcome the crowd with Holiday Punch and a toast to a joyous season.

MENU

- Holiday Punch
- Hot Tomato Starter
- Turkey with Apple Corn Bread Stuffing
- Celestial Sweet Potatoes
- String Beans Supreme
- Cranberry Star Salad
- Refrigerator Rolls
- Frozen Pumpkin Pie
- Premium Saltines
- Giblet Gravy

HOLIDAY PUNCH

- 1½ quarts boiling water
- 1 cup orange juice
- 1 6-ounce can frozen limeade concentrate, thawed
- 4 teaspoons instant tea
- 1 2-inch stick cinnamon
- ½ teaspoon whole cloves
- 1 cup pineapple juice

Combine boiling water, orange juice, limeade, instant tea, cinnamon and cloves in large pan. Cover and steep for 5 minutes. Strain into large heat-resistant bowl. Add pineapple juice. Garnish with lemon slices. Serve hot or cold. Makes 16 servings.

TURKEY

THAWING: Thaw turkey in refrigerator. Allow 1 to 2 days for 8 to 11 pound turkey, 2 to 3 days for an 11 to 18 pound turkey and 3 to 4 days for an 18 to 24 pound turkey. For quicker thawing, place under running cold water. Keep thawed turkey in refrigerator. Do not refreeze.

PREPARATION FOR ROASTING: Free legs and tail from tucked position. Remove neck from main cavity and giblets from neck cavity. Rinse turkey inside and out with cold water. Season body and neck cavities with salt or garlic salt. Fill lightly with stuffing, allowing about ¾ cup stuffing per pound purchased weight. To shape bird, return legs and tail to tucked position. Fold neck skin to the back.

HOW TO ROAST IN AN UNCOVERED PAN: Place turkey breast side up on a rack in an open pan. Use no water or cover. Spoon melted margarine over turkey. Cover turkey lightly with aluminum foil or several thicknesses of cheesecloth. Roast in 325° oven.

Weight as Purchased	Approximate Roasting Time
8 to 11 pounds	4¾ to 5¾ hours
11 to 14 pounds	5¾ to 6½ hours
14 to 18 pounds	6½ to 7¼ hours

HOW TO ROAST IN COVERED PAN—VARIATION TO COLONIAL METHOD: Place turkey breast side up in roaster. Add 2 cups chicken bouillon, 1 large onion sliced. Cover with top of roaster. Roast in 350° oven. After about 2 hours, add 1 4-ounce can stems and pieces mushrooms and liquid.

Weight as Purchased	Approximate Roasting Time
8 to 11 pounds	2¾ to 3¾ hours
11 to 14 pounds	3¾ to 3¾ hours
14 to 18 pounds	3¾ to 4½ hours

When bird is finished thicken liquid around turkey for gravy. May add chopped giblets, if desired.

TO COOK NECK AND GIBLETS: Simmer neck and giblets in salted water, celery leaves, about ½ hour for the liver and 2 to 2½ hours for the neck, heart and gizzard.

REFRIGERATOR ROLLS

- 2 packages yeast, compressed or dry
- 1/2 cup water (lukewarm for compressed yeast, warm for dry)
- 1 1/2 cups milk
- 1/4 cup shortening
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 2 teaspoons salt
- 5 1/2 cups flour
- 1 egg (for richer rolls use 2 eggs)
- Melted margarine

Soften yeast in water. Heat milk and shortening until melted. (Do not boil) Measure sugar and salt into large bowl. Add hot milk mixture and stir until dissolved. Cool to lukewarm. Sift flour. Add about 2 cups flour to mixture and beat well. Add softened yeast and eggs. Beat well. Add enough more flour to make a soft dough. Turn out on lightly floured board or pastry cloth and knead until smooth and satiny, about 5 to 8 minutes. Place in lightly greased bowl, grease surface lightly, cover and place in refrigerator. If dough rises in refrigerator, punch down. When ready to shape rolls, remove dough from refrigerator and punch down. Mold into any desired shape. Place rolls in greased pans and let rise in warm place (80 to 85° F.) until doubled (about 1 hour). Bake in hot oven (400° F.) 15 to 20 minutes. Brush with melted margarine. Makes about 2 1/2 dozen rolls.

FROZEN PUMPKIN PIE

- 9-inch baked walnut nut crust
- 1 cup cooked or canned pumpkin
- 1 1/4 cups sugar
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 teaspoon ginger
- 1/4 teaspoon nutmeg
- 1 cup whipping cream, whipped
- 1 pint vanilla ice cream

Mix pumpkin, sugar, salt, spices. Fold into whipped cream. Spoon ice cream into baked walnut nut crust. Top with pumpkin-cream mixture. Freeze at least 2 hours. Serve immediately.

Nut Crust

Make pie shell as usual but add 1/4 cup finely chopped California walnuts to the flour and increase baking time about 5 minutes.

STRING BEANS SUPREME

- 1/2 cup sliced onion
- 2 tablespoons margarine
- 2 tablespoons flour
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 teaspoon pepper
- 1/2 teaspoon grated lemon peel
- 1 tablespoon snipped parsley
- 5 cups drained, cooked, or canned green beans
- 1 cup dairy sour cream
- 1/2 cup shredded sharp process cheese
- 2 tablespoons margarine, melted
- 1/2 cup dried bread crumbs

Cook onion in 2 tablespoons margarine till tender but not brown. Add flour, salt, pepper, lemon peel, and parsley; cook and stir till mixture bubbles. Blend in sour cream. Add beans; heat through, stirring. Turn into 10x6x1 1/2 inch baking dish. Top with cheese. Combine melted margarine and bread crumbs; sprinkle over beans. Broil just till cheese melts. Serves 8.

APPLE CORN BREAD STUFFING

- 1 15-ounce package corn bread mix
- 1 pound sausage meat
- 3 cups chopped apples
- 1 cup apple juice
- 1/2 teaspoon salt

Prepare corn bread mix according to package directions. Cool. Crumble coarsely (makes about 6 cups crumbs). Cook sausage meat in skillet over low heat. Drain. Mix sausage meat and corn bread. Add chopped apples, apple juice, and salt. Toss together lightly. Pack into neck and body cavities of a 7 or 8 pound turkey. Roast turkey, basting occasionally.

HOT TOMATO STARTER

- 1 can condensed tomato soup
- 1 can condensed beef broth
- 1 can water
- 1/4 teaspoon marjoram
- 1/4 teaspoon thyme

Combine ingredients. Top each cupful with premium saltine cracker spread with a little margarine and parsley on top.

CRANBERRY STAR SALAD

- 1 package strawberry flavored gelatin
- 1 cup hot water
- 2 cups fresh cranberries, ground
- 1/4 cup sugar
- 1 cup crushed pineapple (including juice)
- 1 package lemon flavored gelatin
- 1 1/4 cups hot water
- 1 1/4 cups miniature marshmallows
- 1 (3-ounce) package cream cheese, softened
- 1/2 cup mayonnaise or salad dressing
- 1/2 cup whipping cream
- Few drops of pink food coloring

Dissolve strawberry gelatin in 1 cup hot water. Grind cranberries and add sugar. Stir into gelatin. Pour into a 2 quart mold (star shaped) that's been lightly oiled. Chill until firm. Meanwhile, drain pineapple and reserve juice. Dissolve lemon gelatin in 1 1/4 cups hot water in saucepan. Add marshmallows and stir until melted, using very low heat. Add reserved pineapple juice. Chill until syrupy. Beat softened cream cheese and mayonnaise together until smooth. Add with crushed pineapple to marshmallow mixture. Whip cream till thick but not stiff and fold in. Tint pink. Pour over cranberry layer. Chill until firm. Unmold on favorite greens. Makes 8 servings.

CELESTIAL SWEET POTATOES

- 3 cups sliced cooked sweet potatoes
- 1 unpeeled orange, sliced, quartered
- Apple jelly or currant jelly
- Margarine
- 1 cup miniature marshmallows

Arrange sweet potatoes and orange quarters in a casserole. Top with jelly; dot with margarine. Bake in 350° oven for 20 minutes. Sprinkle with miniature marshmallows; bake until lightly browned. Makes 6 servings.

MACAROON CREAM SLICES

½ cup margarine, softened
 2 cups confectioners sugar, sifted
 ½ cup cocoa
 1 egg
 ¼ teaspoon almond extract, if desired
 1 cup chopped California walnuts
 2 tablespoons margarine
 12-14 coconut macaroons

Sift confectioners sugar and cocoa together and add gradually to the ½ cup margarine. Add egg and almond extract if desired and beat until smooth and creamy. Brown walnuts in 2 tablespoons margarine. Cool and add to cocoa mixture. Grease a small loaf pan, line it with waxed paper, and grease over the paper. Split the coconut macaroons and place a layer of them in the bottom of the pan. Spread with ¼ of the cocoa mixture. Repeat this process, making four layers of each, chocolate and macaroons, ending with a layer of chocolate. Chill for several hours in the refrigerator. To serve remove from pan and cut in small slices for this is a rich dessert. Yield—8 to 10 servings.

ROCKY ROAD PIE

¼ cups honey graham cracker crumbs
 ½ cup sugar
 ¼ cup margarine, softened
 1 cup California walnuts, chopped
 1 (6-ounce) package semi-sweet chocolate morsels
 1 whole egg
 2 eggs, separated
 ½ teaspoon rum extract (if desired)
 1 cup heavy cream, whipped
 1 cup miniature marshmallows, cut in half grated chocolate for garnish

Blend together honey graham cracker crumbs, ¼ cup sugar, margarine, and ½ cup nuts. Press firmly against bottom and sides of a 9-inch pie plate. (The easy way is to press an 8-inch pie plate into the mixture of the 9-inch pie plate) Bake in a preheated moderate oven (375° F.) 8 minutes. Cool. Melt chocolate morsels over hot water; remove from heat. Beat whole egg and egg yolks until foamy. Then, beat into melted chocolate. If desired, stir in rum extract. Cool to room temperature. Beat egg whites until foamy. Gradually add remaining ¼ cup sugar, beating until stiff peaks form. Fold whipped cream and beaten egg whites into chocolate mixture. Chill 30 minutes or until mixture mounds when dropped from a spoon. Gently fold in marshmallow pieces and remaining nuts. Mound mixture into pie crust and garnish with grated chocolate. Chill 1½ hours or until firm. Makes 1 9-inch pie.

Beat egg yolks, vanilla, and salt until thick and lemon-colored. Beat in sugar gradually. Sift flour, baking powder, and cocoa together and add all at once with the hot water. Beat well. Pour into well-greased and floured 10x15 inch jelly roll pan. Bake at 400° for 12-15 minutes. Turn out onto waxed paper sprinkled with confectioners' sugar. Roll up and cool. Unroll for filling. Spread whipped cream with 1 cup miniature marshmallows over surface; roll up and chill in refrigerator. Serve sliced with a chocolate sauce. Yield—12 to 14 servings.

Made in WEST BEND, Wisconsin
...where Craftsmen still care

Top: all the pieces you'd expect, plus an egg poacher!
Below: Dutch oven; unique "brown, bake 'n serve" square and round casseroles; 3 piece combination cooker; "big family" 12" skillet.
(Covers also available in polished aluminum.)

You could get starry-eyed over the Craftsman Collection

West Bend's beautiful new slant on Teflon*

What a heady change from "early Teflon" pieces! This is West Bend's '400' line: luxurious heavy-gauge aluminum, elegantly double coated with dark chocolate-tone Teflon.

Here's a brilliant new "slant" styling (with its bonus of easier stirring and scooping) . . . oven-safe handles . . . double-duty pieces. Lustrous covers in rich antique coppertone.

You could settle for one perfect pan. Or get swept off your feet, by the whole heart-stopping set.

And listen: there's even new '400' line bakeware. From cakes and cookies to roasts and meat loaves, you'll enjoy no-stick baking and no-scour cleanups!

TO HAWAII THIS WINTER

Last winter those midwesterners going with Farm and Home to Hawaii had such a good time that we have decided to take groups of midwesterners there again.

It will be a fun-packed 14-day dream trip touring the islands of the Hawaiian Chain, staying at the best hotels and soaking up the sun on those island beaches. The 14 days will cost just $699.00 per person from Chicago. Farm and Home feels fortunate to have as its official airline again—Pan American.

Four departure dates have been arranged to ease the choice of when to go. The first group will leave January 28; other groups will depart February 4, 11 and 18. In a matter of weeks, hotel bookings on the island will be at a premium so if you are thinking of Hawaii this winter, clip the coupon appearing on this page and mail it to Farm and Home Tours today. You will be sent a tour folder completely outlining the trip. And remember, Farm and Home can handle all arrangements from the time you leave your front door until you return. You won't have a worry in the world.

Now, we found out last time that a few people would "rather go it alone." So we can take care of you, too. Simply check the appropriate box on the coupon, tell the approximate time you want to leave and we will send you the proper folder and information.

Going to Hawaii has never been simpler or less expensive! This is the winter for you to go! Send for your folder today.

Summer's spending the winter in Hawaii.

Spend a week yourself.

You'll love making like a real islander. Sporting a loud muumuu. Swinging the hula. Playing hooky from winter.

It's easy to swing a trip to Hawaii with us.

We'll arrange easy connections from wherever you are to one of our Jet Clippers® on the West Coast. We've got scores of flights from there to Hawaii every week. And you can even stop over in Los Angeles or San Francisco at no extra fare. One Pan Am ticket covers it all.

Choose from three classes of service, too. Go big-time with our First-Class President Special and you'll feel like king of the islands. Or choose Rainbow

Economy. Or our low-cost, no-frills Thrift class.

No matter how you fly, you'll enjoy Theatre-in-the-Air on most flights—a movie plus 9 channels for private listening.

If this sounds like the trip you've been promising yourself, call your Pan Am Travel Agent for the details. Or call us.

Ask about Pan Am Holiday 560. Jets, hotels, sightseeing trips, luaus, beaches, boat rides—the whole works packed neatly into a week's vacation.

Then head out to Hawaii with us. You'll have a good feeling flying the very best there is.

Is there a better reason to choose an airline?

World's most experienced airline

FIRST ON THE PACIFIC
FIRST ON THE ATLANTIC

FIRST IN LATIN AMERICA
