Patients and members of the staff shared a birthday cake with Mr. Braddock in the cafeteria. A resident of Tawas City since 1900, he is one of the last survivors of the Spanish-American War. He managed C. H. Prescott and Sons Hardware here for years and operated his own farm machinery business until World War II. Except for minor injuries during several recent falls, he is in good health. He enjoys reading and composes humorous rhymes for the enjoyment of other patients and the facility staff.—Tawas Herald Photo.

Highway Dept. Drops Plan to Relocate M-65 Near Hale

Plans for a 2.39 million dollar remodeling of M-65 north of Hale and Glennie had been stopped due to the lack of money and, also, to information received from the Michigan State Highway Department.

Plans for the proposed reconstruction and relocation of the highway had been announced last November by the State Highway Director Howard E. Hill.

The proposed project would have reduced the distance from Hale to Glennie by six miles, provide a 24-foot-wide pavement between the two towns and furnish access to Huron National Forest.

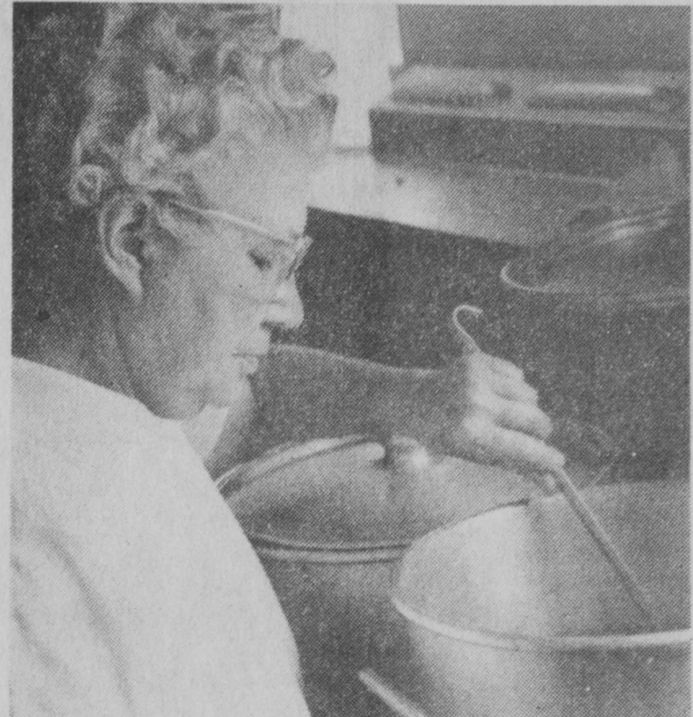

Original plans also called for construction of a bridge over the AuSable River, construction of scenic turnouts, plus extension of curb and gutter approximately 200 feet north of Hale.

Program schedules had called for letting of contracts on this project in June 1969. A highway department survey crew had worked most of the summer preparing details for plans.

Existing M-65 from Wicker Road to Glennie was to be turned back to Iosco and Alcona Counties.

Nunn told the Herald that the Iosco County Road Commission had

3,172 Meals Served Daily in Iosco Hot Lunch Programs

STIRRING the soup at Hale Area School's cafeteria is Mrs. George McClellan, an 18-year member of the staff.

CAFETERIAS of four school districts of Iosco County serve approximately 3,172 hot lunches daily. Costing on the average of 35 cents per meal for students, the hot lunch program is still one of the best bargains around in these days of increasing prices. Federal participation in the school hot lunch program has dropped drastically during the past two years with schools receiving only about $3.75 per child per year in federal surplus food. Payroll of the four schools includes 43 full-time and six part-time employees in the hot lunch program. Students are also employed on the serving line and for washing dishes. Most popular item on the menus, according to one cook, is "any type of meat served on a bun."—Tawas Herald Photos.

Area Schools to Decide on Reorganization Study

A determination on a proposed reorganization study of five area school districts is to be made at a meeting of superintendents and board of education members to be held October 4 at Au Gres.

Reorganization committees of the Iosco Intermediate School District and Bay-Arenac Intermediate School District had included in recommendations to the state a vast reorganization discussion involving school districts of Iosco and Arenac.

Preliminary meetings last March had established an interest in reorganization by the schools but no follow-up meeting has been held.

In a letter to all boards of education this week, William Tracy, Iosco Intermediate School District superintendent, said that the proposed study by Central Michigan University had been left "hanging in the air." The meeting was called to "bring the study back to the ground or bury it."

high school. "We just cannot think of Tawas Area alone," he said.

Supt. Reynold Mick pointed out another reason for studying the proposed reorganization, perhaps of more importance than a central high school. Iosco County is situated on an island with respect to junior college facilities. Surrounding counties have reorganized to provide junior college facilities at Alpena and Delta.

It is predicted that by 1975, Central Michigan University's present enrollment of 9,000 students will have grown to 20,000. Other colleges of the state will have a similar growth in enrollment.

"We have the disturbing problem of what are we going to do about junior college facilities right in this area. We will have to find solutions to our own problems," he said.

Discussed at Monday night's session of Tawas Area Board of Education, Leonard Sarki, president, urged all members to attend the meeting.

Sarki commented that the day is coming—in five years, or perhaps 10—when Tawas Area and other area schools will have to face the problem of providing a central

AUTO SAFETY CHECK TODAY AT TAWAS AREA

An auto safety check is to be conducted at Tawas Area High School today (Wednesday). Under sponsorship of the Key Club, in cooperation with local garages and the Iosco Sheriff's Department, safety check stickers are to be affixed to cars which pass the inspection.

Naming Service Planned Sunday

Generosity of a summer resident of Tawas Beach Road is to be recognized in a special program Sunday afternoon, 3 o'clock, at Christ Episcopal Church, East Tawas.

Mrs. Lynn McNaughton, who spends her summers at Tawas Beach Club, was principal contributor to the church's Christian Education Building. The building is to be named in her honor.

The Rev. Robert Morrison will conduct the service in the parish hall with a reception following.

Mrs. McNaughton has also made generous contributions to Tawas Hospital and other community projects in the Tawas area.

Recognize Leaders

Annual recognition banquet for 4-H Club leaders of Iosco County is to be held Wednesday, October 5, 7:30 p. m., at Whittemore-Prescott Area High School.

Sponsored by Iosco Cooperative Extension Service, this banquet is financed by business and industrial firms of the county.

Service pins are awarded each year to junior and senior leaders and the program provides an incentive for further work of leaders in the local 4-H Club activities.

Public Hearing on School Budget

A public hearing on Tawas Area School's budget for 1966-1967 is to be held October 10. All citizens of the school district interested in this school's finances are invited to attend this meeting.

Tawas Area School District's estimated budget for 1966-1967 is $702,005. All schools of the county were allocated nine mills for operation last spring. Voters of the school district approved an additional mill for operation last summer which makes a total levy of 10 mills and approximately $285,820 in local tax funds for operation.

Total estimated income of the school district will be $683,015. The exact number of students in the school district, upon which state aid is based, will not be known until the fourth Friday count September 30.

The board of education Monday night directed Supt. Reynold Mick to secure estimates on replacing furniture and equipment in the amount of approximately $10,000, which would be added to the $702,005 figure. Expenditures over the budget would be made up from funds on hand.

Only items changed from the June review of the proposed 1966-1967 budget is in transportation and capital outlay, beyond a change in teachers' salaries.

An increase of $1,300 in salaries for bus drivers is reflected in the transportation budget. Allowance for gas, oil, grease and equipment replacement is to make up the difference.

The school is now preparing a list of equipment to be replaced in the shop program.

Court Appoints Attorney for Appeal

Jack R. McKinley, 32, Ithaca, has received a court-appointed attorney on appeal of his recent sentence in Iosco Circuit Court.

Sentenced to serve nine to 20 years at Jackson, he had been convicted of a May 17 armed robbery at Tawas River Trailer Park.

Circuit Judge Allan C. Miller named Alf C. Watson of Tawas City as his attorney.

Auto Agencies Win Point on Sales Tax

Two East Tawas auto dealers won their battle with the Michigan Department of Revenue concerning the validity of sales tax assessments on automobiles sold to non-residents of the state and organized churches.

Receiving checks from the state Monday were Barbier Motor Sales $2,455.56, and William Look and Sons, $1,864.44. This money represented a partial return of sales tax paid to the state.

Thirty-five percent of an assessment levied against the two dealerships was canceled and the two firms signed dismissals on separate suits in Iosco Circuit Court filed against the state.

The department of revenue had claimed a sales tax deficiency in the amount of $8,908 against Barbier and $5,437 against Look. Following a hearing June 22, the department of revenue ordered that the sales tax be assessed against the two local auto agencies.

Michael Freel, attorney for both firms, said Monday that the cases principally concerned sales to servicemen not regularly stationed in Michigan or who were leaving the state. Under the law, a non-resident has 30 days from the time of purchase before being required to pay sales tax.

Freel said that while the law probably had been abused by some purchasers, he felt the burden of proof rested with the state as it would be impossible for an auto agency to keep track of the whereabouts of its customers.

Father of Gypsum Company Manager Killed in Collision

The father of an East Tawas man was killed Saturday evening in a crash with a Greyhound bus on US-41 north of Escanaba.

Dead is Norman Harris of Gladstone, whose son, Richard, is manager of National Gypsum Company installations in Iosco County.

Mrs. Harris is hospitalized and reported in critical condition.

They were passengers in a car with Mr. and Mrs. David E. Willard of Rapid River. Mr. Willard was killed and Mrs. Willard was seriously injured.

Their vehicle crossed the center line and struck the bus headon. The bus driver and his seven passengers were not injured.

Funeral services were conducted Tuesday at Gladstone for Mr. Harris.

Two Minor Crashes Reported by Police

Two accidents in Baldwin Township were investigated last week by state police.

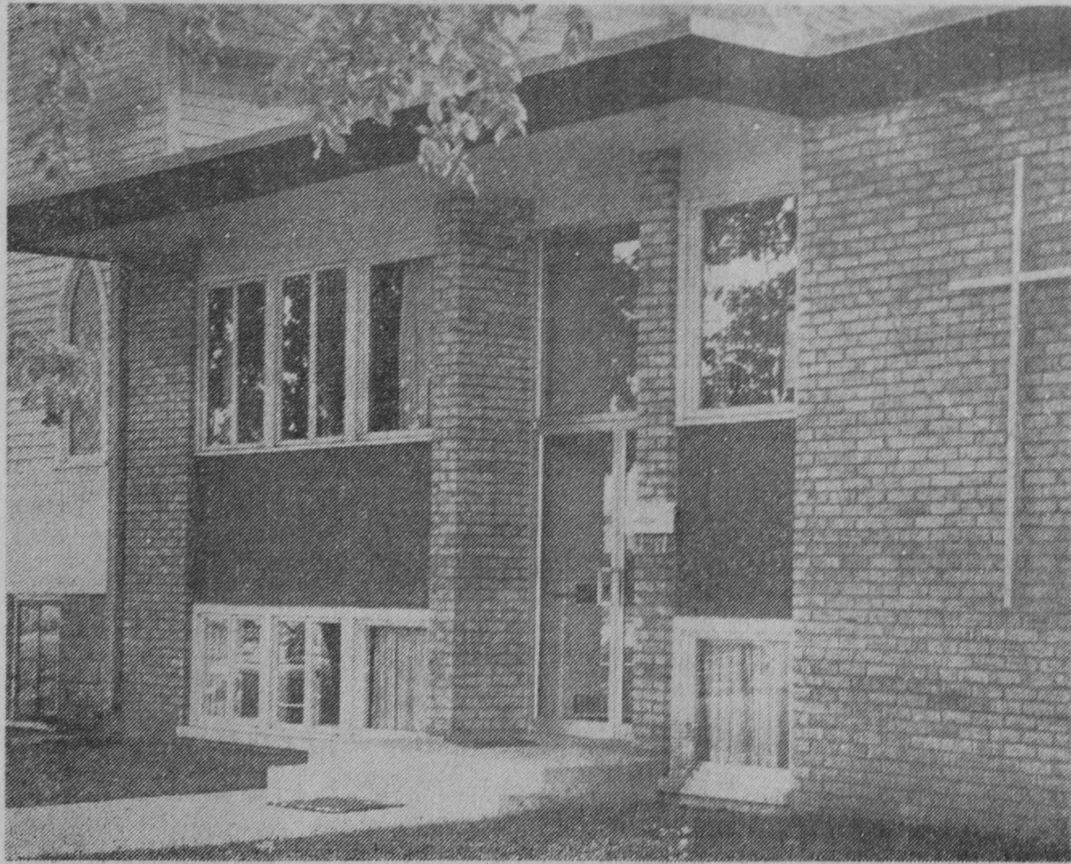

Donald A. Brand, 42, Grand Rapids, was taken to Tawas Hospital last Tuesday after his car rolled over three times on US-23. He lost control on the slippery pavement.

Gregory Moe, 17, 418 Church Street, East Tawas, a passenger in a car driven by Alan R. Lickfelt, 601 East Lincoln, received minor injuries in a crash Wednesday evening on Baldwin Resort Road. The car missed a curve and hit a utility pole.

Name Door Prize Winner at Cabbie's

During the open house and fall sale at Cabbie Hardware, Tawas City, the Rev. C. H. Symons of Tawas City received the door prize, a 30-cup electric coffee maker. His name was drawn Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Schultz, new owners, extend thanks to all who attended the event.

Prescott Raps Policy on Welfare Screening

Contending that a new federal policy concerning welfare payments was promoting mediocrity, County Clerk George A. Prescott this week took issue with new methods of welfare applications.

Prescott, a candidate for 102nd state representative, cited an article in the Nations Business, which stated that effective July 1, "state public assistance officers are on notice to alert investigators not to engage in any practice which might constitute harassment, violate privacy or personal dignity of welfare applicants."

A new federal order forbids state welfare agencies to take any step in the exploration of eligibility to which the applicant does not agree, including contact with collateral sources.

"There should be a little screening of applicants to determine eligibility," said Prescott. "If not, we are starting to coddle spongers and malingers."

In Isoc County's case, Prescott felt that Welfare Director Edward Burgess had done an excellent job in the past in checking the background of welfare applicants. In many cases, he said, jobs had been found for persons willing to work.

"Our local welfare director should be given some leeway to use his own judgment in checking the applicant's background through a means test," said Prescott.

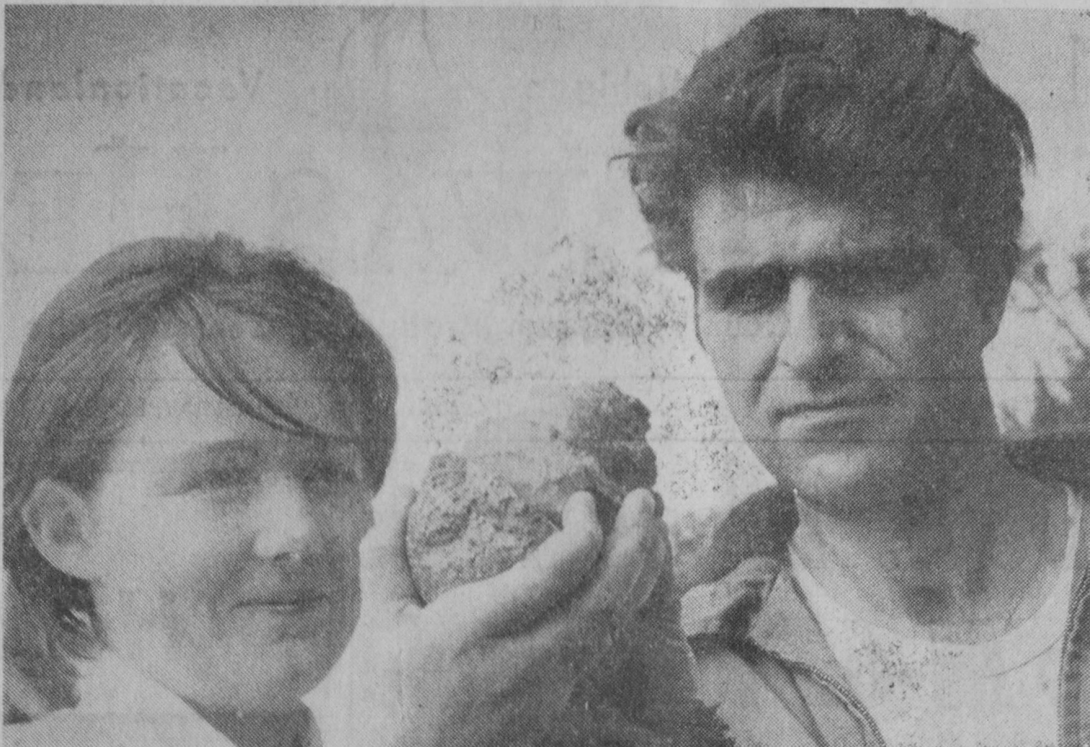

The Nations Business said that while the means test continues to remain in full force, public welfare sleuths all over the country find themselves operating on narrowing channels and under more and more restrictive directions from Washington.

"There should be a willingness to work, more than anything else," said Prescott.

Liberals are pushing hardest for guaranteed income, but there is not unanimity, according to the magazine article. Two of congress' most liberal Democrats—Sen. Paul Douglas of Illinois and Rep. Henry S. Reuss of Wisconsin—backed off sharply when approached on the idea.

"Each recoiled from the thought that the government would never be asked to provide help to anyone and not insist they meet the willingness to work requirement."

Prescott contends that "there should be a little screening of applicants to determine eligibility for assistance."

AN UNUSUAL formation of metal found buried in the yard of Steven Kolias, 810 State Street, East Tawas, first believed to be a part of the meteorite which passed overhead September 17, was later identified as a piece of lead. Kolias and his wife, Sally, found the metal while digging a new foundation for their home. It was found about a foot under the surface. The lead had an unusual artichoke formation, apparently caused when it was in a molten state. It was taken to the Isoc Sheriff's Department for identification.—Tawas Herald Photo.

An enjoyable luncheon was served by the hostesses.

Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, the following correlative passage will be quoted: "Befogged in error (the error of believing that matter can be intelligent for good or evil), we can catch clear glimpses of God only as the mists disperse, or as they melt into such thinness that we perceive the divine image in some word or deed which indicates the true idea, — the supremacy and reality of good, the nothingness and unreality of evil."

The famous French novel "The Devil at Noon" by Paul Bourget, suggests that even at a mature age man may have to face the strong awakening of some form of temptation.

In Second Corinthians, we have the personal testimony of Paul who knew what it is to be harassed by human weakness. Whenever we are tried, the outcome depends much on how we react under the trial. This is a clear fact to me at this stage of my life more than ever before.

As a rule, victory over temptation is not granted once for all. It is provided as needed through abiding with the Lord, who said, "My grace is sufficient for you." Our cries to the Lord for help in times of testing tell that we sincerely want the inward peace and victorious living which He alone can give.

PRAYER

O Lord, who was tempted in every respect as we are, yet without falling, we bless Thy name with thanksgiving. Thou art truly the Savior who offers and gives victorious living. Grant us to remember that none who waits on Thee shall be left unaided. We pray in Thy holy name. Amen.

Mercury Cougar is a true luxury car. With an ice-cool elegance. With a European flair and thrust to its styling. With a roomy, full-width rear seat! With standard features found, until now, only in expensive cars. Examples:

- Sequential rear turn signals are standard! They flash in three steps (at the rate of 70 times a minute) to point the way you're turning.
- Concealed headlamps are standard! They hide by day and, cat-like, open at night.
- Inside, vinyl-covered bucket seats, cushioned with molded foam, are standard! Wall-to-wall deep-loop carpeting, standard! 3-spoke steering wheel, standard!
- And in a car this luxurious, you'd expect a V-8 engine. Cougar has it. A 289 cu. in. V-8. Compression ratio: 9.3:1. And it uses regular fuel.
- When we say Mercury unleashes Cougar, we mean it. Cougar is a superb sports car. It moves on cat feet. Tracks you can indulge yourself in true. Rides smoother, quieter. The price! Less than you'd expect. At previews, people have overgussed by $1,000! We believe Cougar is the best-equipped luxury sports car for the money.
- And at Cougar's price, you can indulge yourself in such better-idea options as: Styled steel wheels, 4-speed stick or "Mr. and Mrs." Select-Shift Merc-O-Matic that lets a man run it through the gears . . . lets his wife leave it in automatic. Also a 4-barrel Marauder 390 GT V-8. Vinyl-covered Oxford Roof. Sports Console.
- Also: Tilt-Away steering wheel. Power disc-brakes up front. A finger-tip speed control mounted on the turn signal lever. But first: See Mercury Cougar. Untamed elegance. At your Mercury Man's, your Mercury dealer's.

90-Day Wonder

Last spring, some 800,000 coho salmon about the size of the little fish shown above this ruler were released in three streams of lakes Michigan and Superior by the Conservation Department. Here, below the smaller coho, is how one of these fish now looks. The big fish, first confirmed coho recovered from Michigan waters, made a 9-11 inch gain in only 90 days. Caught by commercial fishermen about two miles north of Manistee, the 1 1/4-pounder turned out to be a fast-maturing male (jack). This is more good news for Department fisheries men who hope that cohos will successfully reproduce in Michigan streams next fall. Since this first coho was netted, several others have been taken in waters near Leland and Ludington. They averaged about 12 inches, more in line with original expectations. Cohos still have several good-growing weeks left this year, and some of the early-maturing fish may run up a few of Michigan's Great Lakes streams this fall. They are now legal catches under regulations much the same as trout fishing rules. --Mich. Dept. of Conservation

Dog (Training) Days

These are dog days in more ways than one. For hunting dogs, it's a time when their owners start putting them through their paces to get ready for the fall small game seasons. Actually, this is a toning-up period for sportsmen as well as their dogs; both get their "bag limit" of exercise. It's this kind of pre-season practice that makes for perfect teamwork in the fall. Close to the real thing, owners are able to train their animals on game which may be hunted with dogs during the regular shooting seasons. However, only pistols and revolvers with blank cartridges may be used during these off-season "dry runs." -- Mich. Dept. of Conservation

ANNUAL SHOOT

JAMES MEYER, 15, Roseville, was proud of his accomplishment in winning this 12-pound turkey, all ready for the oven.

TURKEY SHOTS are popular events during early fall days as hunters sharpen their eyes for the season ahead. Isco Sportsmen's Club and Tawas Bay Aerie, Fraternal Order of Eagles, held their second annual shoot Sunday at the sportsmen's club range at Tawas Centre.

HOWARD STARK, 15, Tawas City, sights on a target and then squeezes the trigger.

THE FIRING LINE with one-half of the first relay is shown above under the watchful eye of Allen Paulson, right, match official. More than 200 targets were shot during the afternoon.

EVEN THE WOMEN tried their luck at the target range and more than one walked off with a nice turkey for their efforts. Shooters had their choice of luck or skill targets.—Herald Photos.

Hale Defeats Indian River for First Win

Hale Area Eagles chalked up their first victory of the 1966 football season Friday by downing Inland Lakes High School of Indian River, 13-0.

The Eagles struck in the second period when Jim Smith connected with Larry Drengberg on a 42-yard pass play. Mark Brindley kicked the PAT and Hale held a 7-0 lead.

The final touchdown came in the fourth quarter when Charles Kocher carried over from 12 yards out. The placement attempt was blocked.

The Eagles picked up 200 offensive yards on the ground and 110 yards by passing. The Eagles had 10 first downs and completed five out of eight passes. Brindley averaged 31 yards punting.

This week's action will be a feature of Hale Area High School's annual homecoming Saturday afternoon. Rose City will furnish the opposition.

MICHIGAN Resident Archery DEER TAG

1966 A 139002

Immediately after killing a deer the notches designating day and month, sex of deer and antler information (if a buck) must be removed and tag attached to the carcass. It is unlawful to possess a deer without a tag attached.

Deer Killed _____ miles _____ Direction — N, S, E, W, _____ from _____ in _____ County

Nearest City, Village, Town _____

If taken under permit, give Area No. _____

POINTS ON RIGHT ANTLER: 1 2 3 4 5 6 or more

POINTS ON LEFT ANTLER: 1 2 3 4 5 6 or more

This is the Conservation Department's answer to public outcry over the growing problem of illegal kills during Michigan's deer seasons. It is the state's new deer tag which replaces the old, increasingly mis-used metal seal. The more "cheat-proof" tag has this one standard format but bears different colors for different deer licenses (i.e. resident archery, nonresident firearm, etc.). It is designed literally to "cut out" the potential violator's chances of getting away with an illegally-killed deer. Upon downing a deer, the hunter must cut or tear out sections of his tag shown above to specify the date of kill, the sex of his animal and, if a buck, the number of points on its antlers. Conservation officers will enforce this "cut-out" requirement to the "T". In the center space shown above, each successful hunter must also write the location of his kill to help game men pinpoint where whitetails are taken. With the information side facing out, the tag is to be tied around the front leg of the deer before the animal is moved from the point of kill. In doing this, two 12-inch or longer lengths of cord or fine wire—provided by the hunter—are to be run through the holes in the tag. —Mich. Dept. of Conservation

TA Schools Adopt Policies on Motor Driven Vehicles

Following recent passage of school policy relative to motor bikes, Tawas Area School has adopted rules regulating operation of all motor driven vehicles, both on school grounds and going to and from school.

The new policy covers reckless operation of vehicles driven by students. Those refusing to cooperate will not be allowed to park their vehicles on the school grounds.

"Riding in other than school buses is a privilege granted to students who are attending school," explained Supt. Reynold Mick at Monday night's board of education meeting.

At its last meeting, the board of education got the jump on the state by requiring that a crash helmet be worn by all persons riding motor bikes to school.

In its original form, this policy only pertained to entering the school property. The policy has been changed to regulate operation to and from school.

Conservation Dept. Wise to New Ways to Circumvent Laws

Violators hunting on Saginaw Bay during the recent early season on teal went to extreme methods to circumvent the law, according to reports from the Michigan Department of Conservation.

Several duck hunters in the Au Gres area used two-way radios to warn companions when conservation officers were nearby and were shooting mallard ducks instead of teals.

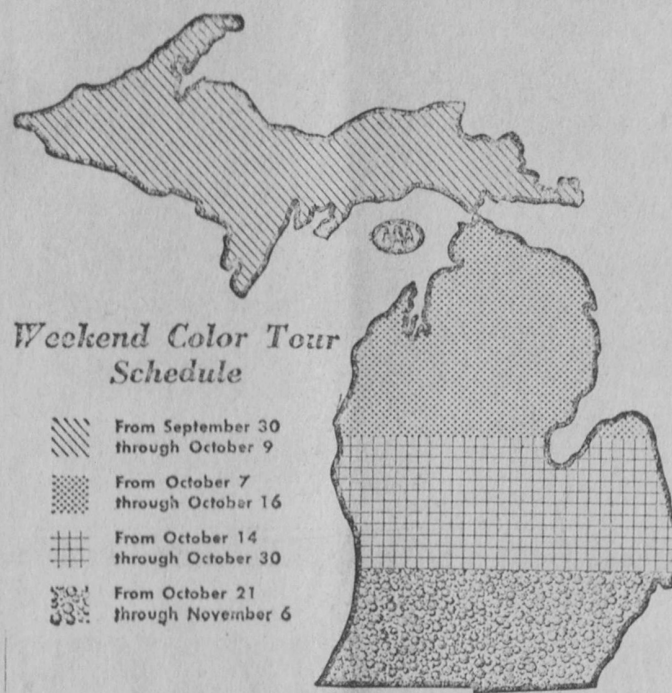

The present proposal to increase the weight and size of packages carried by parcel post would, in effect, change the established transportation policies of the United States.

The argument in support of expanding parcel post rests mainly on the theory that it would reduce parcel post deficits by $40,000,000.

As a railroad spokesman pointed out, "If it were our national policy to discourage self-supporting private enterprise in the transportation field, and our policy is exactly the opposite, Section 3 of H. R. 14904 is precisely the sort of legislation that would be designed to foster such an objective."

The same spokesman pointed out that privately-owned package carriers would be faced with "inherently unfair" competition by extended parcel post service because the Post Office Department pays no taxes, rent or other space charges in post office buildings and no interest on handling facility investments.

The government has already entered into business in competition with private citizens on many fronts. "Just why over-burdened taxpayers should now be expected to underwrite another government commercial venture at the expense of taxing private enterprise has not been satisfactorily explained by public officials," said one business representative.

Polaris Apollo Study in Intermediate Schools

A meeting was held recently at the Westford County Courthouse, Cadillac, by the advisory council for the Polaris Apollo Study. Representatives were in attendance from the six intermediate school districts representative of the 10 counties involved in this study.

Representing Isoco County at the meeting was William Tracy, intermediate school superintendent.

Purpose of the meeting, which is held monthly by the advisory council in various parts of the 10-county area, is to give direction to the study and to coordinate the activities of the project director in working with the various communities to determine those educational needs that are presently not being satisfied.

The structure of this study calls for planning committees to be formed in each of the intermediate school districts, composed of both professional educators and representatives of public agencies, service clubs and cultural interest groups. Since these planning committees are in the process of being formed, by invitation, the advisory council addressed itself in particular to the procedure that the planning committee could follow in realizing their goals and objectives.

The Polaris Apollo Study also calls for the utilization of professional consultants in the field of education that can be contracted through various universities of Michigan and elsewhere in the United States to give guidance and direction in the study as related to their specialties. It was the decision of the advisory committee that the individual planning committee representatives of the various communities should determine the particular areas of need that they wanted to explore and submit these areas to a board of consultants, which would suggest and advise on the proper course of action in determining the seriousness of the need. The advisory committee has the responsibility of approving the consultants and specialists used in the study and has delegated the responsibility of contract and assignment to the project director.

A second portion of this initial advisory council and advisory committee meeting was to determine the organizational structure of responsibility for administration of this study. It was resolved that the advisory committee should be the final policy and decision making body which would make its decisions and policy on the basis of resolutions proposed in the advisory council meeting.

ory council meeting. The advisory council would consist of members of the advisory committee of all six intermediate school districts as well as the representatives of the parochial schools, NORCAP and the community college.

This study is being funded under the 1965 Elementary and Secondary Education Act with its office in the Roscommon County Building. Any questions the public might have should be directed to Calvin Bones, project director, Box 507, Roscommon.

State Schools Built 37,000 Classrooms

Michigan's public and nonpublic schools have built more than 37,000 new classrooms during the last 10 years.

During the same period, Michigan public school districts sold school bonds totaling nearly 1.4 billion dollars. Most of these funds were used to build new schools.

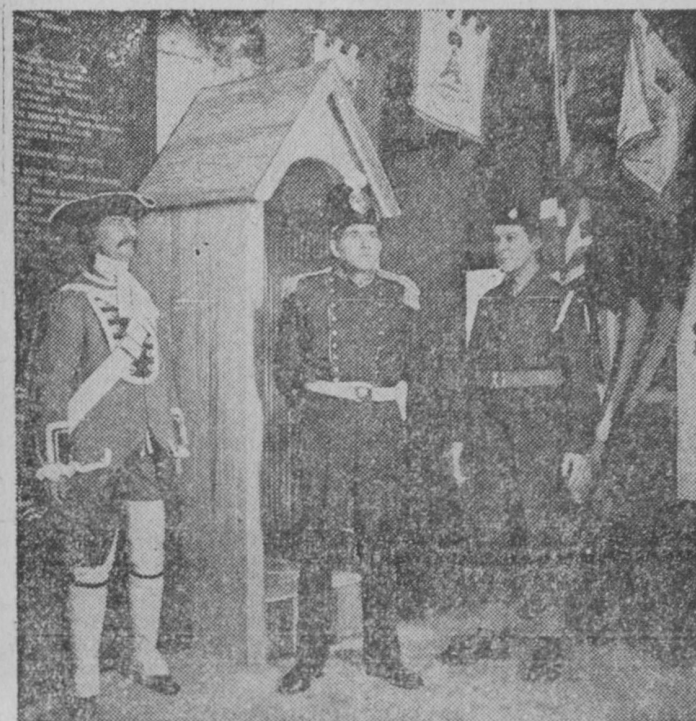

Marilyn Jean Kelly, Ann Arbor, a member of the state board of education, said nearly half of all children attending public schools this fall and 38 percent of those enrolled in nonpublic schools will be housed in facilities 10 years of age or newer.

Miss Kelly said public school districts sold bonds totaling $247,000,000 during the past 12 months—an all-time high for one year—to finance construction of new buildings, additions and remodelings.

"Although Michigan requires about 2,300 new classrooms each year to meet the annual increase in public school enrollments, the construction rate during the past school year indicates that obsolete facilities are being replaced by many school districts," Miss Kelly said. "Additional facilities are being added, too, in order to increase the comprehensiveness of program offerings."

She said the state board of education anticipates this high construction rate will continue and that the proportion of classroom construction at the high school level will materially increase.

Last year, 1,884 new public high school classrooms were built, compared to 1,781 new elementary school classrooms.

Teacher Shortage Causes Schedule Change at Hale

Faced with an increased school enrollment, coupled with a shortage of teachers, Hale Area School went to an eight-period day effective September 19. When students reported to school for the start of the fall term after Labor Day, Hale Area School had been operating on a

HALE AREA HIGH SCHOOL will hold its annual homecoming Saturday, October 1. Candidates for homecoming queen, all seniors, are pictured above. From left are Cindy Webb, Connie Koche, Chris Lyke, Penny Brumfield and Brenda Short. The Eagles will play Rose City in a football game starting at 1:30 p. m. The queen is to be crowned at half-time and a parade of floats is to be featured. Music for dancing, 9:00 p. m. to 1:00 a. m., will be furnished by the "Accents" of Saginaw. five-period day with 70-minute classes.

Short three teachers to start the school year, one teacher resigned two weeks ago which threw the entire school day into disruption. Total school enrollment September 6 was 25 more than last year.

Classes are now operating on a 42-minute schedule with three minutes for classroom changes. This has enabled the school to split overcrowded classes into smaller ones, without an increase in staff.

The high school now has six teachers for 235 children and Prin. Jerry Inman is handling four classes, in addition to his regular administrative work.

"Supt. Paul Southerland and I discussed this change with teachers and, while they were not eager to see classroom time reduced, they realized the problem," said Inman.

The school is now short four teachers and, according to state school people, replacements are scarce, or nonexistent.

"One can see from this schedule and the number of students in school, spare time of teachers is at a minimum," said Inman. "We are just starting to get settled down now with this new schedule," he said last Wednesday.

The school would like to hire teachers for home economics, mathematics, English and band.

Oscoda Education Association Formed as MEA Affiliate

Formation of the Oscoda Education Association as a district of the Michigan Education Association was recently announced by Dr. E. Dale Kennedy, MEA executive secretary.

Harold Sabin, Oscoda elementary teacher, is president of the new district, which is located in MEA region 12. Counties comprising the district are Arenac, Bay, Clare, Gladwin, Iosco, Isabella, Midland, Ogemaw and Roscommon.

Chamber Needs $1,500 to End Year in 'Black'

According to a report by Leonard Calabrese, president of the Tawas Chamber of Commerce, $1,500 is needed for the organization to end the current 1966 year in the black.

Calabrese had the chamber treasurer check last year's expenditures for the last quarter to determine what income is necessary to insure that the chamber will end the current year with a comfortable operating surplus to begin 1967.

The chamber has yet to begin a year in the black, although last year it fell only $400 short.

"We will attempt to obtain this revenue from chamber dues only," said Calabrese. "There will be no special assessment to present members or any special events. Members of the board of directors will each be assigned a number of businesses to contact."

These businesses will be 1965 members not having paid 1966 dues as yet, along with businesses which have never been members in the past.

"Combining dues and revenues from special events, we can be proud of over a $12,000 budget for our organization. This is the first year in some time that we have not had to ask assistance from the Iosco Board of Supervisors," he stated.

Business at the last regular meeting exemplifies what is being done with some of the chamber dues. Board of directors voted to continue advertising with a one-half page ad in the Playtime Country Guide published by EMTA, with new art work to make it more effective.

It was also decided to participate in the Detroit Travel Show in March 1967. Directors are to personally man the Tawas area booth at this show.

Conventions in the Tawas were also discussed, pointing out the recent highway commissioners' meeting, future VHF hamfest in October and contacts by additional groups interested in meeting here.

Calabrese flew to Holland to extend a personal invitation to hold the Michigan Sheriff's Association convention in the Tawas in 1968. Tawas hosted this convention in 1960.

The chamber of commerce marks the 20th anniversary in 1967 and after many ups and downs, it is now stronger than ever.

"The simple reason for this is the support given by local and out-of-community business and industries," said the president.

Membership in 1965 reached an all-time high of 188 with the 1966 goal being 200 members. It is the only year around, fully-staffed chamber in Iosco County and its growth is a necessary part of the growth of the county.

"If any business has not given thought to joining the chamber, then now is the time to consider and join a progressive organization which is attempting to serve you and the welfare of this county," said Calabrese.

What does this symbol mean to you?

More than one and a third million people in Michigan (you may be one of them) now make "CU" their symbol for saving and borrowing. A credit union is in business to help its members. It is owned by its members. And it offers advantages you can find nowhere else.

A credit union pays generous dividends on savings. It provides life insurance to all qualified members as an extra dividend at no extra cost. It lends you money at the same low rates, even in these high rate times... and insures your loan at no extra cost.

Many credit unions even return a part of the interest paid by borrowers at the end of the year — and they are the only ones who do. If you are not a member and would like more information, contact the C.U. where you work — or the one in your parish or neighborhood — or write Michigan Credit Union League, 13235 Woodrow Wilson, Detroit, Michigan 48238.

Tawas Braves Lose to West Branch, 31-0

Halbacks Ron Gillespie and Greg Rivard ran wild Friday night in West Branch's 31-0 victory over the Tawas Area Braves.

Showing good speed and balance, the two West Branch backs each scored two touchdowns as the Braves took the knockout count for the second time this season.

Taking the opening kickoff, Tawas could not get rolling and was forced to punt. The Orioles drove to about six inches short of the goal line, but Tawas made a good stand and took over on fourth down.

The Braves finally had to punt after not being able to move the ball. Gillespie then went 64 yards for a touchdown and West Branch had a 6-0 lead as the try for point after touchdown was stopped.

West Branch's second TD was set up by a blocked punt and the Orioles took over on the five. Gillespie cracked over from that point and West Branch held a 13-0 lead.

Tawas fumbled the kickoff and West Branch recovered on the 34. Seven plays later, Rivard went 28 yards for the TD and Gillespie ran the PAT.

Rivard started the second half by scoring from about one yard out after the Orioles had a sustained downfield drive.

The final TD was pushed over by the Orioles' second unit, Pat Winters going in for the TD. The try from placement was blocked.

Tawas could never get an offense rolling during the night and was able to penetrate only as far as the 29. John Freel caught a pass from Quarterback Gene Kushion, covering about 30 yards, to end the game.

West Branch had 13 first downs to only three for Tawas. The Braves had 75 yards in penalties while West Branch had 35.

Three of the Braves—Halback Ray Powers, Guard Dennis Harten and End Dan Phillips—were injured in last week's game and, in spite of missing practice most of the week, turned in good performances.

Action this Friday finds Tawas traveling to Carrollton.

Junior Braves Top West Branch JV, 34-7

Tawas Area Junior Varsity won its first game of the season last Thursday night by dropping the visiting West Branch JV, 34-7.

Three of Tawas' touchdowns came through aerials as Quarterback Dennis Krish connected with targets consistently.

The first TD came on a four-yard pass to Mark Harris in the first quarter. The try for extra point failed.

Tom Jacques made an over-the-shoulder catch on a second quarter pass and raced 34 yards to score.

The PAT came on a pass to Fred Look.

Jacques broke loose in the third quarter for a 47-yard touchdown run and Look caught a six-yard pass for the second touchdown of that period.

Mike Hearl completed the Tawas scoring with a two-yard sneak into the endzone in the fourth quarter.

West Branch scored its lone TD in the final quarter.

For Educationally Deprived—

Tawas School Receives Grant

Tawas Area School is one of 15 schools in the state which have been approved for programs to aid educationally disadvantaged children, according to a report September 20 from the state board of education.

This district received a grant of $17,805 for reading, psychological and guidance programs for 151 students in grades five through nine.

The new programs bring the number approved since July 1 to 204, totaling $9,100,000 in federal education funds. The 15 programs approved most recently total $431,000.

Supt. Reynold Mick said that Robert Blood would be working three periods in guidance work each day under this program. A second teacher is to work full time in remedial work with fifth and sixth graders.

In addition to the above program, the school has started a remedial program giving extra attention to first graders.

W-P Cards Lost to Roscommon 40-13, Friday

Whittemore-Prescott Cardinals took it on the chin Friday night from a hard-hitting Roscommon Buck squad, 40-13. Both teams are members of the Northeastern C Conference and the Bucks are favored to win the title.

Roscommon lost little time in taking a commanding lead. The Cards took the opening kickoff and Curtis intercepted a pass and ran 30 yards for a Buck TD. Whittemore-Prescott fumbled the next kick and Stockton went 25 yards to hit paydirt.

Roscommon scored its third touchdown in the second quarter after stopping the Cards' running attack. A pass from Curtis to Engleson covering 30 yards went for the TD.

The Cards started a good drive to open the second quarter but were stopped at the 20. Stockton scored his second touchdown for Roscommon and the Bucks held a 26-0 lead at halftime.

Roscommon recovered a punt fumbled by the Cards early in the third quarter and Engleson caught a pass from Curtis for a TD. The fourth quarter found Curtis hitting Stockton for a 30-yard aerial and the final score.

Whittemore-Prescott scored its first touchdown in the fourth quarter on a good sustained drive. Hupcik scored from two yards out, but his services were lost on an injury.

The cards recovered a fumble on the 15 and in two pass plays, Phelps hit Rod and Todd Gillings with aials accounting for about 60 yards. Phelps then found Butch Vallant open in the endzone and hit him with a touchdown aerial.

Phelps and Jerry Osborne were defensive standouts for the Cards while Gary Freel continued his great punting with a 43-yard average.

The Cards play at Harrison Friday night.

TODAY'S TEEN is Terry Grabow, 16, a junior at Tawas Area High School. A B-plus average student, Terry plans to attend college following graduation from high school with an engineering career in mind. His subjects this year include English, algebra, United States History and chemistry. He is a member of the student council and he enjoys hunting. He worked the past summer as a cashier at Tawas Indian Museum. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Carl Grabow.—Tawas Herald Photo.

By CLEMMMA LENEHAN
Extension Home Economist

Yes, I Have!

With a beautiful snowy white, puffball mushroom in her hand last week, Ruth Langdon, Standish, was assured by Jack Post that it was edible. They turned to me for the method of cooking it. Then both asked dubiously, "Have you ever cooked one?" I admitted not; that I had never found one to cook, and Mrs. Langdon offered me one!

What a treat! Just as the books suggest, it was very mild and the texture interesting. With Hubby nibbling and a guest rapidly devouring it, we soon left no trace of the five-inch puffball. We dipped it into crumbs and fried it in butter. How do you prepare them?

Be sure to use the puffball only if it is white all the way through. If a bit yellow in color, it is no longer fresh enough to eat.

Cheese Processed

Have you often wondered what it is in comparison with natural cheese? Process cheese is made by melting one or more varieties of cheeses of the same variety or of two or more varieties, then pasteurizing and blending them with an emulsifying agent. This causes them to blend together smoothly and thoroughly. The best of pasteurization stops the ripening, so the flavor and texture of process cheese are always uniform. The package you purchased yesterday will have the same flavor and texture as the one you choose next week.

Knotty Problems

New developments in fibers, finishes and fabrics leaves the home sewer with problems she never dreamed of a few years ago. If you choose to sew vinyl from yard goods counters, use longer stitches and simple designs. Paper might be placed under the fabric to help ease it through the machine. Pin only in the seam allowance to eliminate marks, use top stitching or welt seams since vinyl cannot be ironed.

Medical Care Facility Has Admitted 39 Patients Since Start

Since opening its doors in August, Iosco Medical Care Facility has admitted 39 patients, according to a report to the Iosco Board of Supervisors Wednesday by C. S. Everett, chairman of the board's welfare committee.

Patients included one out-of-county patient each from Alcona, Oscoda and Arenac; 11 private patients. Three persons received treatment and were discharged. Everett said there were 31 patients in the facility as of Wednesday with 21 vacant beds.

"I feel that Douglas Webb is performing an excellent job as administrator," said Everett. "He has the facility well organized."

According to the report, about 80 percent of the federal money to aid in financing the facility is yet to be received. A final inspection has not been made.

Everett said that expenses for operation had been heavy during the first month as supplies were being stocked. An allocation of $50,000 by the board to cover the first six months of operation is to be repaid gradually over a period of months, although it is not expected that it will ever be returned in one lump sum because of the usual delay in receiving state and federal operational assistance.

To Discuss Milk Marketing Picture For Iosco Farmers

By MARVIN DAVENPORT
County Agent

Consumers are paying about the same price for milk as they did 10 years ago. But Michigan dairy farmers have not received more money for their milk since the Korean War days.

How is the milk priced? What is a fair price? What do these terms like "superpool" mean?

Farmers have many questions on their minds concerning milk pricing. Many of these will be answered October 4 at an area meeting at Whittemore-Prescott High School, 8:00 p. m.

Glynn McBride, extension specialist in agricultural economics from Michigan State University, will be the speaker for the evening to discuss the milk marketing picture for farmers. Doctor McBride is a noted authority on the many facets of milk pricing.

A panel of local farmers from Ogemaw, Iosco and Arenac Counties will discuss milk marketing problems and ask questions of Doctor McBride.

In addition, Donald Huber, state milk inspector for this area, will discuss recent problems he has encountered on dairy farms and how they can be corrected.

All farmers are invited to attend, particularly farmers from Iosco, Arenac, Oscoda and Ogemaw Counties.

JOSEPH CRANE

Funeral services were conducted Wednesday, September 21, at Hale Methodist Church for Joseph Crane of Hale. Burial was in Evergreen Cemetery.

He was born at Hope May 22, 1887, and was a patient at Iosco Medical Care Facility where he passed away September 18.

Mr. Crane, who resided at Hale most of his life, is survived by his widow, Mary; four daughters, Mrs. Nellie White of Saginaw, Mrs. Agnes McComis of Detroit, Mrs. DeLores Matthews of Hale and Mrs. Mary Beach of Prescott; four sons, Otto and Lyle of Flint, Stanley of Utica and Charles, United States Air Force; 13 grandchildren, and two great grandchildren.

FOREST RETURN

Iosco County, with 102,597 acres in Huron National Forest, received $8,053.63 from the United States Forest Service. This amount represents the county's share of gross income from forest service lands within its boundary during the past year.

1967 Chevrolet Impala Sport Coupe

THE 19 CHEVROLET models in five series for 1967 are entirely new in appearance with freshly styled fenders, hood, grille, bumpers and tail-lamps. Bright fender wrap-arounds extend grille styling on all models, while fender lamps are featured in the wrap-around area on Caprice models. A four-way hazard flasher is now standard equipment on all 1967 Chevrolets. McKay Sales Company, Tawas City, will feature the new Chevrolets on September 29.

New Deer Card May Foil Violators

Law enforcement officials of the Michigan Conservation Department have come up with a new deer tag designed literally to "cut out" the chances of potential violators to make illegal kills during this fall's archery and firearm deer seasons.

The more "cheat-proof" tag, a plasticized five by three inch card, was previewed before the conservation commission last week. It will be introduced in response to public complaints that the old metal seal has been increasingly misused to permit multiple deer kills by individual hunters.

Upon getting a deer, each archery or firearm deer hunter will be required to cut or tear out sections of his tag to specify the date of kill, the sex of his animal and, if it is a buck, the number of points on its right and left antlers.

Conservation officers will strictly enforce this "cut-out" requirement which will prevent would-be violators from switching their tags from one deer to another without showing that they have cheated.

Kasischke is to fill the unexpired term of Edward Nelkie, who resigned recently to fill the vacancy of Mrs. Grace Miller, who retired after nearly 31 years as county treasurer. This is Kasischke's second time to serve on the board. He had served as Tawas City's Second Ward supervisor about 30 years ago. Committees on which he will serve include road and bridges, apportionment, conservation, aeronautics, finance, insurance and agriculture.—Tawas Herald Photo.

Looking Backward—

New Mill Under Construction at USG Installation

35 Years Ago—
October 9, 1931—A 40-ton mill is now under construction at United States Gypsum Company's Alabaster installation for the production of terra alba and other white plaster products from gypsum rock. According to J. H. East, plant superintendent, there is a wide market for these products and the manufacturing operation will be of considerable importance to the company. When completed, eight or 10 extra men will be required for its operation, which is a worthwhile thing in this time of unemployment. Manufacture of white plaster products requires a large amount of hand labor, which is necessary to secure high standard rock.

Earl H. Barman, 29, Missouri, was fatally wounded last Friday afternoon when his hunting companion thought Barman's head was a duck and shot. The accident occurred below the Five Channels Dam on the AuSable River. After missing several shots at ducks, the men rowed to shore and one man walked to a place where he thought some ducks had landed. While in a stooped position, he saw what he thought was a duck, but instead it was Barman, who was sitting on the slope of the river bank with only his head in view. At an inquest, a verdict of accidental death was brought in by the jury.

The Chevrolet commercial caravan is visiting Tawas City and East Tawas Friday. The caravan is one of the most interesting and varied groupings of truck chassis equipped with special bodies that has ever been assembled in the state. The display may be seen at McKay Sales Company.

During the past few weeks, the mills, warehouses and office of Barkman Lumber Company have been repaired, repainted and the property improved in many ways. The work required the employment of a number of men, and being done at this time of wide spread unemployment, is very commendable.

The Rev. and Mrs. George Smith of Whittemore were honored at a surprise party last Tuesday evening. They were presented with a 32-piece dinner set as a token of appreciation of their service from friends in the community.

Tawas City School's baseball nine defeated Alabaster, 9-5, Tuesday. Albert (Lefty) Quick pitched his first contest for the high school and, although somewhat wild, turned in a good game. Rescoe was the losing pitcher for Alabaster.

MOVING DAY for this old residential building was last Tuesday at Hale. Forward Oil Company is in the process of clearing the northwest corner of the M-65 intersection for a new super service station and this building was moved to a new location near the Methodist Church. Crews of Michigan Bell Telephone Company and Consumers Power Company were on hand to splice telephone and power cables during the all-day project. The building once served as quarters for the A. E. Greve Drug Store and telephone office and later as a residence. The old township hall, which was converted years ago into a service station, is also to be removed.—Photo by Ira Scofield.

The Iosco County Road Commission went back to work Monday morning under recommendations set up in a report made by the supervisors' committee. The report made by a committee of disinterested citizens, was approved in a seven to 10 vote at a special session of the board of supervisors. John Henry of East Tawas and Victor St. James of Whittemore were named district road foremen by the commission.

Iosco Equalization Total Corrected; Get Gem Progress Report

Iosco County received notification last week that a mistake in its equalization report would result in a loss on the 1967 tax base.

Following adoption of the equalized county value last April of $59,715,540, a $68,000 mistake was discovered in addition. An amended report was adopted in May correcting the error, but the state tax commission would not accept the new figure as it was too late.

Last week, the state tax commission's report indicated that Iosco County has an actual cash value of $119,567,627. The state equalized value used for taxing purposes is $59,783,813, or 50 percent of the true cash value, thus the mistake apparently was corrected.

County officials said this was the first time in recollection that the state tax commission had ever established an actual cash value for the county.

In other matters concerning taxes and property values of Iosco, Glen Mask of Gem Surveys reported to the Iosco Board of Supervisors Wednesday that his firm's precinct-by-precinct appraisal had found nearly again as many tax descriptions as what the supervisors had estimated when hiring Gem a year ago.

Supervisors had estimated that there were approximately 8,850 residential property descriptions in the county. The survey has found that there actually is more than 11,000 residential descriptions.

While supervisors probably underestimated the number of tax descriptions when the St. Clair firm was hired to perform the appraisal work, the survey has revealed that a considerable amount of property has never been on the tax roll.

Chairman L. S. Little appointed Supervisor Charles Smith, finance committee chairman, along with Supervisors Percy Jocks, Aubrey Belson and Henry Oates to attend a tax assessors conference October 2, 3 and 4 at Grand Rapids.

Oates, who becomes the county's tax equalization director October 1, was authorized to attend a short course for tax assessors at the University of Michigan in October.

Six Distinct Car Lines for Chevrolet in 1967

assessment. He felt that the tax should not be delayed any longer "and you should levy the amount with this year's taxes."

J. Richard Ernst, prosecuting attorney, is investigating the matter and is to make a ruling.

Iosco Tax Squabble in Prosecutor's Hands

Disagreement between Whittemore-Prescott Area Schools and three supervisors over .5 of a mill which was not spread on township and city tax rolls last year has landed in the lap of the Iosco County prosecuting attorney for a ruling.

In a letter to Sherman Township Supervisor Edward Gerard, Ray Kesler, superintendent of the school district, called attention to the fact that annual operating millage to be spread in the district last year was to have been based on what was levied in Ogemaw County, the largest geographical area of the school district.

He cited Public Act 340.965 of Michigan School Laws of 1960.

Ogemaw County pegged its millage last year, giving 9.5 mills to schools. Kesler contends that this is what should have been spread for school operation by Sherman, Burleigh and the City of Whittemore.

In its 1965 tax split, the Iosco Allocation Board gave nine mills to all schools of the county.

At the time, it was the contention here that legal time requirements were not met in holding Ogemaw's election pegging the millage and, also, that the Iosco Allocation Board had not received sufficient notice to add the extra .5 of a mill to these three taxing units.

In his letter, Kesler said that the

.5 of a mill had been reported as delinquent because of lack of its

Iosco Ski Ordinance Awaits State Report

Recommendations are being awaited by Iosco County from the state boating control commission regarding a proposed ordinance to control water skiing on inland waters of this county.

A hearing was held September 15 on an ordinance proposed by supervisors which would establish hours for water skiing on inland lakes. After considerable discussion, it was felt that a blanket ordinance for all inland lakes would not be adequate and that each lake should be considered separately.

A second hearing is to be held following receipt of recommendations from the state.

In other business conducted at last Wednesday's session of the board of supervisors, the clerk was served with a warrant directing Sherman Township to spread a special tax for cleaning the Gregory Drain and installation of a tube.

Completed two years ago under supervision of the drain commissioner and paid out of the county's revolving drain fund, Supervisor Edward Gerard of Sherman contended that work was unsatisfactory and the special tax was not spread.

The board's conservation committee sent a letter to the Michigan Conservation Department asking that an engineering study be made on a possible solution to the stagnant, odorous and contaminated water in the East Bayou of the AuSable River surrounding Hull Island in Oscoda Township.

New rates effective January 1 at Old Orchard Park for parking trailers are as follows: $16 per month for five months, river lots; $12 per month, river lots; 65 cents per day, camping.

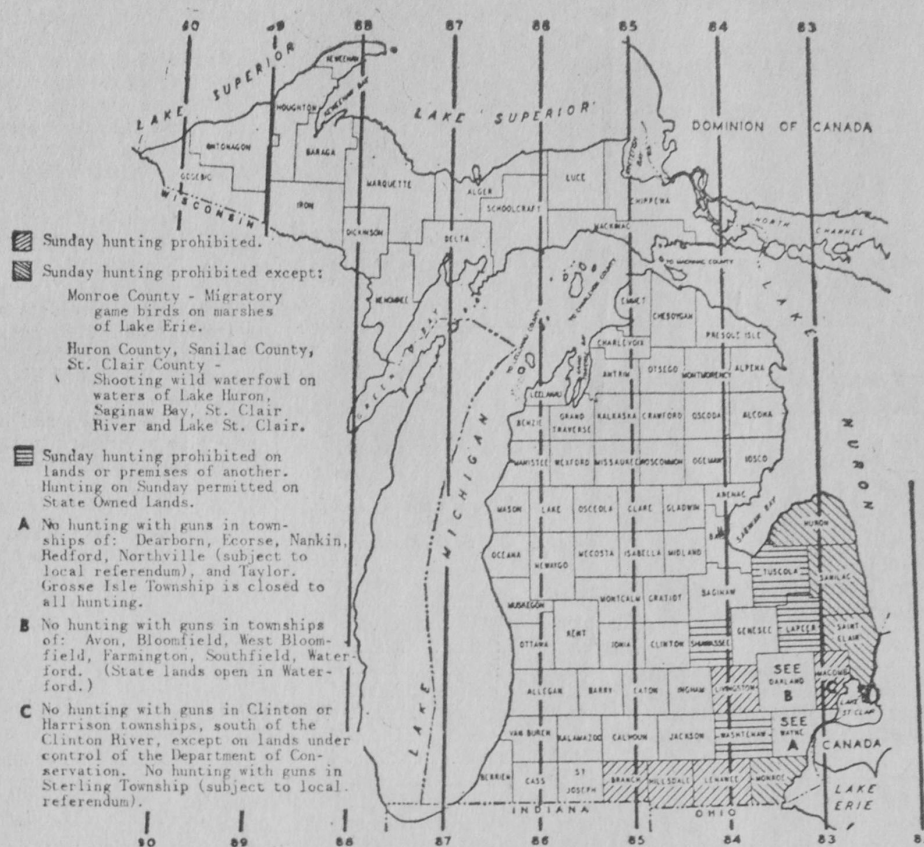

The board rescinded recent action asking townships and cities to share the cost of printing ballots in the recent primary election. Each unit had been billed for one-half the cost of printing ballots for its precinct, but only one payment had been received. A letter from the City of East Tawas pointed out that there were no city candidates listed on the ballot and believed the assessment was unfair. A check received from Reno Township is to be returned.

Next meeting of the board is to be held October 10, according to state statute. Final budgets for 1967 will be adopted at this meeting.

Why two giants of the automobile world choose Shell

—and what their reasons can mean to you

THAT blur at the top of the page is one of the most successful racing cars ever built—the Ferrari.

Below it is the first car ever entered in international championship racing by a major American manufacturer—the Ford GT.

Both Ford and Ferrari have chosen to run on Shell Motor Oil and Super Shell Gasoline in international championship races.

About Shell Motor Oil, master car builder Enzo Ferrari says: "At Ferrari, we find that Shell Motor Oil answers our problems best. And racing does cause problems.

"But in a way, the stop-and-go driving you do makes a worse problem. Wear."

Shell has answered the wear problems caused by stop-and-go driving with Super Shell Motor Oil.

When it comes to gasoline, Ferrari and Ford both demand four things: 1. Good mileage to hold down pit stops for refueling. 2. Instant firing after pit stops to save precious seconds. 3. Power to accelerate at speeds over 100 m.p.h. 4. Resistance to high-speed knock which can cause engine damage.

Both Ferrari and Ford specify Super Shell for their international racing cars. Not a special racing fuel. Straight "pump" gasoline—exactly the way you get it at Shell stations.

Try a tankful of Super Shell next time you fill up, see if your car doesn't run better too.

A lamprey is removed from the side of a lake trout. Arrow indicates area of scarring caused by the parasite.

DETROIT — Sea lamprey, Petromyzon marinus, which have fed on the Great Lakes trout and whitefish for more than 45 years, may be on the way out, according to Wayne State University biologist Prof. Walter Chavin.

The lamprey, which gained entry into the Great Lakes from the Atlantic Ocean about 1921, when the Welland Ship Canal around Niagara Falls was opened, had virtually wiped out the trout and whitefish stock in Lakes Huron, Michigan, and Superior before biologists were able to evolve controls.

The lamprey "hitchhiked" to the Great Lakes by attaching themselves to the hulls of vessels sailing through the canal.

"Recently," Dr. Chavin says, "a material poisonous to lamprey, but not harmful to other fish in small doses, has been developed, and promises to be very effective in controlling the lamprey."

The material is a phenolic derivative and at the proper concentration kills lamprey larvae when diluted in a stream in which the adults have spawned. As larvae may stay buried in the stream bottom for as long as 11 years, treatment of every stream must be on a regular basis in order to be effective. The problem is of considerable magnitude as there are literally thousands of streams leading into the Great Lakes.

Dr. Chavin describes the lamprey as a "very unusual parasite, being a vertebrate, having a horny tooth-rimmed, round sucker-like mouth, one nostril, a scaleless body, with a skeleton of cartilage, not bone, and secreting an anticoagulant which prevents the clotting of the blood of their victims." The adult lamprey grows to about 20 inches in length.

Electric fences were used in the early stages of the war against this eel-like fish, but were found relatively ineffective.

The fences were intended to shock the lamprey and prevent most of them from swimming upstream to lay their eggs. However, as one female may lay a quarter of a million eggs, survival of even a few adult lamprey may not significantly decrease the number of larvae.

"Lamprey spawn in streams over small depressions or 'nests'. Their eggs fall into these 'nests' and become covered with sand and silt. The larvae bury themselves in the sandy stream bottom and remain there for four to six years, or even longer," Dr. Chavin says.

"The young adults then are carried by the current of the stream to the lake or ocean. The free-living adults fasten themselves to other fish (trout, whitefish, carp), sucking their flesh and blood, and eventually killing them," he explains.

As a result of the new poison discovery, conservationists hope to replenish the depleted stocks of edible fish in the lakes with hatchery-grown fish, and even hybrid fishes. Already such fish have been planted in some of the Great Lakes. Because of the fast-growing characteristics of the planted fish, some of these are expected to reach maturity before the decade is over.
