Grant Centennial Had Good Weather-Crowd

Blessed with near perfect weather throughout most of the week, it appeared as though Grant Township's centennial parade would be a washout Saturday morning. Fifteen minutes before starting time a light sprinkle of rain stopped and there was not a blemish on the scheduled program.

Several thousand persons lined the two-mile parade route of Eagle Park to Sand Lake and the parade was one of the best in recent area history. From horse-drawn vehicles and riders to antique automobiles and decorated floats, there was fun for everyone.

Winners included: Ruth's School of Dance, best decorated; Tawas City Businessmen's Association, prettiest float; Basil Duncan, most original, with a theme of "Any Old Time"; Grant Township Volunteer Fire Department; St. Paul's Lutheran Church; Hale, "Noah's Ark"; Stieb float, Sand Lake, "Parade Our Dust"; Max Emry, Bay City, oldest car, a Model T Ford; Ed Hickey, Bill St. John and Frank Marshall, boys in stroller.

Saturday afternoon's program included helicopter rides and a 4-H Club horse show at Chapel Lake parking lot sponsored by Arroyo Riders. The centennial museum at the township hall had several hundreds of visitors during the week-end.

While a sprinkle of rain cut short Saturday evening's dance at the Sand Lake YMCA, rain did not cancel dancing or the costume and beard judging contests.

Carl "Butch" Babcock, Tawas Township, dressed as Gen. U. S. Grant, walked off with several ribbons in the men's division. He won first place for the best man's costume and first place for best beard with costume. Other winners included Fred Barnes, Tawas Township, best moustache; Thomas Jarvis, Grant Township, fullest beard; Larry Finley, Grant Township, longest beard.

Mr. and Mrs. James Kendall, Grant Township, won a trophy for the best dressed couple while Mrs. Frank Paddock, Tawas City, won first place in judging for women's costume.

A fireworks display Saturday evening, directed by Walter Champion of Tawas City, was a program highlight. All events during the week were well attended.

Winners in Sunday afternoon's canoe race were Gary and Ron Whitford, first place; Jerry and Leo Kindell, second place; Larry Whitford and Arnold Drumm, third place.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Smith were honored as the oldest couple residing in Grant Township, receiving a trophy at Saturday night's dance.

Top winners in Sunday's drawing conducted by the Grant Township Volunteer Fire Department were William Fuerst, Whittemore, television set; Mrs. Maude Westcott, East Tawas, pony; Enos Emry, rifle.

School Millage Vote Slated Next Monday

Electors of Tawas Area Schools will have the opportunity to vote Monday, August 23, on increasing the tax limitation by 1½ mills for one year. If successful, this levy on 1967 taxes would yield about $44,000.

This money, added to the allocated 8½ mills and one mill voted in 1966 for operation, would allow a total of 11 mills for operation.

Any elector registered in his township or city is eligible to vote on the question. This will be the last chance to vote on a millage increase this year in order to receive 1967 taxes.

If the measure is unsuccessful, the district would forfeit about $17,000 of state aid, as only 95 percent of the eligible state aid would be allocated if 9.5 mills is levied. This would necessitate an added millage in 1968 in excess of one-half mill to make up for lost state aid.

The amount of operating funds will be reduced to a very small balance by June 30, 1968, and in 1968-1969, if the proposed millage is defeated.

Supt. Reynold Mick said this week that the school district would have to resort to deficit financing regardless of the amount of taxes levied in 1968-1969 as income for the first half of the year is about $190,000, along with a payroll of $250,000.

The board of education has stated that this levy of 1½ mills this year will help to keep the financial status of Tawas Area Schools in condition to meet its obligation in 1968-1969 in an orderly manner.

Feeling that the cost to the taxpayer can be kept at the overall minimum by its proposal, the board has said that present proposed action and a followup in 1968-1969 would insure vast improvements in the educational (See VOTE, page 4.)

Flint Trio Pleads Guilty to B&Es

A Flint trio entered guilty pleas when arraigned last Tuesday before Judge Allan C. Miller on charges of breaking and entering an unoccupied building.

Awaiting a presentence report from the department of corrections are Linda Beyer, 24; Jerry Nykamp, 25, and James Fugitt, 30. All are being held at the Isosco County Jail.

The three were arrested by the Flint Police Department two weeks ago following investigation on a series of break-ins in that area. They confessed to five burglaries in the Sand Lake area of Isosco County and were turned over to Isosco authorities for prosecution.

Deputy Sheriff Jerry Kruse, who worked on the case with Flint police, said that $2,000 worth of loot from area cabins had been recovered. Included in the 56 different items were television sets, a stereo tape recorder, fishing equipment and other sporting equipment.

Exchange Students

Scandinavian Youths Here for a Year

Two Scandinavian exchange students arrived in Tawas City Saturday to spend the next year as seniors at Tawas Area High School and as members of their adopted American families.

One said his favorite American food was corn-on-the-cob. The other said he was most impressed with the big American cars.

Esben Pedersen, 17, of Lyngby,

Denmark, will be spending the year with Mr. and Mrs. Robert Erickson and family, while Goran (pronounced Yoran) Lindblad, 17, Stockholm, Sweden, is living with the H. R. (Jim) Hilbert family.

Both of the Tawas City families have a Scandinavian ancestry, which should help to make the boys feel right at home. Mrs. Hilbert was born in Denmark while

Mr. Erickson's father lived at one time in Norway.

The two boys flew to Detroit Saturday with 165 other exchange students and leaders.

Esben, whose family hosted an American exchange student for two months last year, said he desired to see how Americans live, to perfect his understanding of the English language, to try and stand on his own two legs among strangers, to learn what Americans think about world problems.

"I want to tell you about Denmark, of course," he said.

Goran is most interested in learning about the differences between his native Sweden and the United States. He hopes to study medicine when he returns home, but he is also greatly interested in politics and is a member of the Swedish Young Conservatives.

Esben will work toward a commercial education and hopes to become a foreign language translator. He has studied English for five years, German for four years and has had one year of French.

Besides Danish, his other high school subjects have included mathematics, physics, geography, world history and gymnastics.

His favorite sport, naturally, is soccer and school officials are now checking with the state athletic department to determine if he would be eligible to compete in football.

During his stay here, he hopes to appear before various groups and tell them of his homeland. He lives about six miles north of Copenhagen, which is world famous for its beautiful towers, Tivoli Gardens, flowers, amusement parks, lakes and the largest harbor in Scandinavia.

Goran has concentrated on a scientific course of study, which has included mathematics, chemistry, physics, English, German, French, Swedish, literature, history, government and art. He was chairman of his student council last year.

He enjoys sailing and skiing, although he said he sustained a fractured leg at the latter sport last year. His father is a member of the Swedish Royal Board of Education, while Esben's father is general agent for a carpet firm.

The two boys, who live about 300 miles apart in Europe and about six blocks apart in Tawas City, will have an active year in their adopted homes.

This is the second exchange student for the Erickson family, while it will be the first experience for the Hilberts. Mr. and Mrs. Erickson are members of Tawas Area School faculty. Mr. and Mrs. Hilbert operate Tawas Lanes.

West German Bicyclist Captures Fifth Annual Tawas Race Crown

Siegfried Koch, 31, West German bicyclist riding out of Chicago, Illinois, roared to a first place win in last week-end's fifth annual running of the Tour of Lumbermen's Monument Bike Races.

Koch won the 50-kilometer time trial race Saturday afternoon, took third in the 20-mile sprint races that evening and then nailed down top honors by taking first place in the 62½-mile Tour of Lumbermen's Monument race Sunday afternoon.

A field of 21 starters in the senior division competed in Sunday afternoon's race and Koch had a three-minute edge in point total going into the event.

Several attempts were made by competing riders to get ahead of Koch during the 25 laps run on the streets of East Tawas before heading for Lumbermen's Monument on the last 50-mile run. Koch paced himself well in town and took the lead as the field left town, thus winning a two-minute bonus.

The lead changed hands several times before riders reached the monument. The field began to spread after that as front-runners attempted to get in front of Koch. The West German and Larry Carmichael, Oxford, Ohio, battled for the lead starting at a point about nine miles out of town on old US-23. When the two men reached the five-mile point, Koch sprinted ahead of everyone, finishing with a time of two hours, 33 minutes and 55 seconds.

Race officials said that Koch's legs were pumping at 180 strokes per minute when he sprinted ahead of the field and was traveling at an estimated 35 miles per hour.

Carmichael fell back with the other front runners and crossed the finish line in a time of two hours, 36 minutes and three seconds. Others in the pack were Paul Gach, Dearborn; Steve Sav-ageau, Grand Rapids, and Herman Kron, Chicago.

While senior racers were competing in the Olympiastyle race, younger racers held trophy matches on the half-mile course at East Tawas. Junior division winners were Bill Pratt, Utica; George Barber, Columbus, Ohio; Don VanLaeken, Detroit.

Debbie Wezalis, Detroit, won the senior women's division. Intermediate boys event was taken by John VanLaeken, Detroit, followed by Roger Young, Detroit, and Paul Barber, Columbus; intermediate girls event went to Linda Box, Port Huron, followed by Eileen Brennan of Berkeley and Melissa Brooks, Huntington Woods. Erick Olsen of Warren won in midget boys, while Carol Brennan of Berkeley won in midget girls.

Visitors had high praise for Leonard Calabrese and his committee for handling of the race. Particular thanks went to the East Tawas Police Department and Isosco Sheriff's Department for protection of riders and to members of the citizens band radio group, which furnished communications during Sunday's race.

Jonathan Putnam—

Competent to Stand Trial Rules Judge

Following recommendations of a state psychiatrist, Judge Allan C. Miller ruled Monday that Jonathan L. Putnam was competent to stand trial on charges of first degree murder in the April 14 slaying of Mrs. Viola Stern.

Dr. Nasit Tanel, director of the Center for Forensic Psychiatry, Ionia State Hospital, testified that Putnam was afflicted with a paranoid personality disorder.

He said, however, that the 20-year-old man was competent to stand trial. Doctor Tanel testified that Putnam could understand proceedings in court, that he could understand testimony of witnesses and could furnish his counsel with reasonable information in his defense.

Alf C. Watson, Putnam's court-appointed counsel, pointed out in court that Doctor Tanel's testimony dealt primarily with the matter of standing trial, not Putnam's legal competency at the time of the murder.

On April 14, Putnam voluntarily appeared at the Pontiac State Police Post and reported he had stabbed a woman to death near Tawas. Mrs. Stern's nude body was discovered in a ditch about eight miles west of US-23 on Townline Road. She had died of strangulation and stab wounds.

Putnam had lived at 512 Tawas Street, East Tawas, and had been employed here as a truck driver.

Judge Miller set the case down for trial and Watson asked a preliminary examination for his client. He indicated that he would petition the court for a psychiatric examination of Putnam. Judge Miller ruled that Doctor Tanel's report would not be opened unless ordered by the court.

Testimony was also heard from Doctor Tanel concerning the competency of Patrick Finnerty to stand trial on an assault charge. Further testimony is to be heard from arresting officers and other witnesses.

MEETING their new brother are the five children of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Bergeron of Tawas City. Mrs. Bergeron holds David Dean, who will be three months old August 24. David was born three months prematurely, weighing only two pounds, 10 ounces, on May 24. He weighed 5½ pounds last Friday and was able to go home with his family. Red Tape Continues to Delay Tawas City Sewer Application

Red tape apparently continues to delay Tawas City's Mathews Street south special assessment sewer district, according to a report Monday night to the Tawas City Council.

Alf C. Watson, city attorney, and Reginald Bublitz, superintendent of public works, said they were very concerned over the delay in submitting an application to the Municipal Finance Commission for sale of $34,000 in revenue bonds.

The delay apparently is in the office of Miller, Canfield, Paddock and Stone, a Detroit law firm which handles about 80 percent of the bonding propositions in this state.

"We thought we gave them everything they requested for our application last May," said Watson, "but we keep getting requests for further resolutions."

On three different occasions, representatives of the Detroit law firm told the city attorney that the application would be ready for filing within a day or two. Last Thursday, Bublitz filled out information concerning equipment, plans and specifications, land right-of-way and engineering. The council passed a nine-page resolution concerning the proposal, requested by the law firm, which is to be promptly forwarded to Detroit. It is hoped the project will be filed shortly with the state in order that work might commence on this necessary sanitation project.

In other business, Stanley Woolen, local cable television representative, appeared before the council and explained reasons for delay in serving several areas of the community. He also reported that he had located the person whose citizen band radio was causing interference on television sets. If the situation is not corrected, the Federal Communication Commission will be notified.

Mayor Russell A. Rollin reported he had contacted the Tawas City post office in an effort to determine availability of door-to-door mail service. The first step, he said, would be for the council to pass a resolution requesting such service. The post office would then conduct an investigation to determine eligibility, based on population and such factors as availability of sidewalks. The council adopted a resolution requesting door-to-door mail service.

According to a letter from Carlton G. Golin, supervisor of the builders and real estate licensing bureau for the state, it is unlawful for a public officer or for a political subdivision to issue a building permit without requiring the applicant to show his residential builder's or residential maintenance and alteration contractor's license number on the application for the building permit. Or, in the absence of a license number, requiring the applicant to make an affidavit that he is exempt from provisions of the act.

Hellenberg Rites to be Held Today

Funeral services for Walter J. Hellenberg, 77, of Tawas City will be conducted today (Wednesday), 11:00 a. m., at Eppens-VanDeWeghe Funeral Home, 6150 Cadillac Road, Detroit. Burial will be in Forest Lawn Cemetery. He died Sunday, August 20, at Ford Hospital where he had been a patient for the past month.

Some Strange Vegetables?

What fun to find a new variety of vegetables in the roadside stands, market or even in your vegetable garden. I know some people who plant new seeds to puzzle other members of the family. Meet the challenge of a new friend in the vegetable bin or garden and prepare it for fun and menu variety.

The lemon cucumber I found at a local vegetable stand can be eaten like an apple and with a milder flavor are a surprise on the relish tray.

Too many people select large eggplants or summer squash, not realizing that these are often too mature to be tender. The crook-neck, straightneck and zucchini squash are more desirable when five or six inches long and so tender that the skin can be punctured with a thumbnail. Eggplant should be about six inches long, deep purple, with no white streaks.

Broccoli is a vegetable flower that we eat, but we must use it while the flower is still in bud and green. Once the flower opens to a yellow color, it is too old to be tender.

Eat okra while the pods are small, green, straight and tender enough to puncture with a thumbnail. If these get too large, leave them on the stalk to mature and harden and use in winter bouquets or bowls of gourds.

Kohlrabi may be new to you. Cut it when it is no more than 2½ to 3½ inches in diameter.

Dig out the recipe books and have fun.

Common Causes of Pickle Failure

Hollow pickles—Hollowness in pickles usually results from poorly developed cucumbers, holding cucumbers too long before pickling, too rapid fermentation, too strong or too weak a brine during fermentation.

Soft or slippery pickles—These generally result from microbial action which causes spoilage. Once a pickle becomes soft it cannot be made firm. Microbial activity may be caused by too little salt or acid, cucumbers not covered with brine during fermentation, scum scattered throughout the brine during fermentation period, insufficient heat treatment, a seal that is not airtight, moldy garlic or spices, blossoms, if not entirely removed from the cucumbers before fermentation, may contain fungi or yeasts responsible for enzymatic softening of pickles.

Open Bids Thursday on Sewer Bonds

East Tawas Council is to open bids Thursday night on the sale of bonds to finance construction of its new sanitary disposal system.

Monday night's regular meeting of the council was adjourned until Thursday night in order to meet with Julius Hanslovsky, the city's financial consultant, at which time bond bids are to be opened.

In other business Monday night, Joseph Badalucco, city park manager, said that his report on receipts filed with the council for June and July had been in error. While camper fees received in

The park manager also noted that camper fees during July indicated an increase over the previous year, $11,488 as compared to $10,740.

TA Football Candidates Get Equipment for Fall Season

Football candidates at Tawas Area High School are to report this week for equipment, according to an announcement Monday by Head Coach Steven Sventko. Varsity players are to report Wednesday, 7:00 p. m., while junior varsity players are to receive equipment Thursday, 7:00 p. m.

First practices are scheduled August 28, the varsity and junior varsity both practicing from 8:30 to 10:30 a. m. and from 6:30 to 8:30 p. m.

A total of 41 candidates have signed up for the two squads thus far and all boys are invited to participate. If enough interest is shown, a freshman team would be organized with a six-game schedule.

Sventko and Roger Spencer will be handling the varsity while Richard Fairless, Donald Humphrey and Herman Rollin will coach the junior varsity.

Townships Lose Court Appeal on Lost Allocation

Township appeals on refusal of Arenac County Tax Allocation Board to grant a full mill for township operation was denied recently by the Michigan State Tax Commission. It is believed that this was the first time in history that a portion of the "automatic" one mill was taken from townships in Michigan.

Reasons for the denial were lack of contracts, failure to present budgets to the tax allocation board and lack of need for the one mill of operational money. Six townships had claimed that the tax allocation board had acted illegally when it allocated only a half-mill last May.

Funeral Held for Mrs. Ann Simmons

The Rev. Fr. Arthur Mulka officiated at funeral services for Mrs. Ann Simmons of East Tawas Monday, August 21, in St. Joseph Catholic Church, East Tawas. Burial was in Mt. Olivet Cemetery, Detroit, Tuesday, August 22, with services conducted by the Ted Sullivan Funeral Home. Mrs. Simmons died August 17 at Tawas Hospital.

Mrs. Simmons, who was born at Emmett, was a member of St. Joseph Church and its altar society. Mr. and Mrs. Simmons moved to East Tawas 10 years ago.

Survivors include her husband, Harold J.; three sisters, Miss Mary Reid, Mrs. Vera Simmons and Mrs. Charlotte Caraher, all of Detroit; two brothers, Edwin and Andrew Reid of Detroit.

Dr. Staley Died Monday in Collision

Dr. Hugh O. Staley, 61, of Omer, former medical director of Josco Medical Care Facility, was killed instantly Monday, August 21, when he was struck by a south-bound car while crossing US-23 on foot 1 1/2 miles south of Standish at 12:05 a. m.

David Goretcki, 18, Standish, told sheriff's officers he did not see the victim until he hit him. Goretcki was not held.

Pronounced dead at the scene by Richard Weishuhn, Arenac County coroner, who attributed death to a fractured skull, the body was taken to the R. O. Savage Funeral Home, Standish, where services will be held at 2:00 p. m. Thursday. Burial will be in Woodmere Cemetery.

He was born April 24, 1906, in Burl Retreat, Virginia, and moved to Omer in 1939 after completing his education at William and Mary College, the University of Virginia School of Medicine and completed surgical residency in Charleston, West Virginia.

Survivors include two daughters, Mrs. Patricia DuFort, Ann Arbor, and Mrs. Emily J. DeSimone, Bay City; one son, Charles, at home, and one grandchild.

Doctor Staley purchased the Standish Hospital and Omer Hospital shortly after his move to Michigan. He ran the two units in conjunction until 1962.

DO YOU WANT A SMALL TAX INCREASE THIS YEAR THAT WILL: Provide increased quality education for your schools? Keep our system operating on a sound, sensible basis? OR DO YOU WANT TO: Wipe out a small surplus carefully built up over past years for emergency use? Curtailment of present educational, athletic and musical programs? Cancellation of plans for increased educational opportunities for students? Forcing of future, much higher increase in taxes to repay deficit spending on mediocre education.

"The board of education feels that it has been showing excellent stewardship of funds entrusted to them in the past and intend to continue to try to furnish opportunities for choices for the electorate to aid them in continuation of this effort," said Mr. Mick.

"It has made every effort to secure the best use of funds provided by the taxpayers to give the very best educational program," he said. "The board wishes that students of Tawas Area will have educational opportunities equal to those of neighboring schools."

Urge Different Route for I-75

Iosco Supervisors Join Judge in Objection

Iosco Board of Supervisors has joined Circuit Judge Allan C. Miller in raising objection to the proposed route of I-75 expressway. A formal resolution adopted last Wednesday has been sent to the Michigan Department of State Highways.

Said the resolution: "We, the Iosco Board of Supervisors, wish to raise our objection to the proposed route of Expressway I-75. The center of the state has adequate highways at present for traffic needs for some time in the future, while the eastern portion of the state has, because of traffic density, a high accident rate. A route closer to the eastern shoreline will greatly facilitate the economic expansion of this area. It appears that highway department planners mistakenly believe that all traffic is directly headed for the Mackinac Bridge, thereby neglecting an area which is in dire need of additional highways."

The board of supervisors requested that the highway department reconsider the route location, "to the end that the funds expended will bring in the greatest benefits for all the people." The resolution also noted that the proposed route relocation would better serve Wurtsmith Air Force Base.

Judge Miller started a letter-writing campaign several weeks ago concerning the proposed route of I-75. He was joined last week by W. R. Blodgett of Blodgett Oil Company, Mt. Pleasant.

In a letter to Judge Miller, Blodgett pointed out that the present proposed route parallels within a very short distance the existing four-lane divided highway, US-10 and US-27, from Bay City to Grayling.

"The traffic count on the above has not reached a volume to warrant a parallel highway, nor are projected traffic counts high enough for another parallel freeway."

In other business during the August session, representatives of the Alpena Area Community Mental Health Center explained services of that organization to Iosco County and other Northeastern Michigan counties. Principal speaker was Dr. Al Guner, medical director.

The board accepted a new 10-year contract with Consumers Power Company for county operation of Old Orchard Park.

The board appropriated $10,000 from the county's general fund as its share in the purchase of property on the south side of the AuSable River mouth for a public recreation facility. Cost of the property is $45,000, being shared by federal and state funds amounting to $22,000, along with $12,500 from the Old Orchard Park fund and the general fund allocation.

Authorization was given to sign an agreement with Spence and Smith, Saginaw architects, to prepare plans for a 12-bed addition to the medical care facility. The county received a $51,000 grant from the federal government to construct the addition.

Tawas City OK's Two Applications

Building applications approved during the past two weeks included Robert Roach, 404 Court Street, Tawas City, new steps, $20; Lawrence Ayotte, 1000 Fourth Street, 12 by 24-foot porch and 12 by 24-foot utility room, $800.

Editorial—

School Asks for Millage

Pick the most controversial subject in the history of man and it probably would be taxes. Benjamin Franklin put it this way in 1789: "In this world, nothing is certain but death and taxes."

The largest share of taxes today coming from the American citizens' pocket is in the form of a national tax on income. Michigan, too, will have an income tax starting in October. Other taxes paid "automatically" by citizens include a federal excise tax, a state sales tax, plus special taxes on gasoline, cigarettes and alcoholic beverages, to name a few.

All of the above mentioned taxes are levied by legislative action, either at the state or national level. The individual citizen has little voice on establishment of such taxes, other than to inform his representative in the national congress or state legislature as to his wishes.

On Monday, August 28, electors of the Tawas Area School District will have the opportunity to decide whether or not a special tax will be levied. This local referendum is one of the few times an average citizen gets the opportunity to decide a tax question—he should use that opportunity wisely as, through the years, when needs were not met at the local level, the function was assumed by state or federal governments.

In this case, Tawas Area School voters are being asked to raise the tax limitation 1½ mills for additional operational funds for the 1967-1968 school year in order that 11 mills may be levied.

Tawas Area School has had a long history of excellent financial standing; in fact, of the 533 kindergarten through grade 12 schools in the state, 466 spent more for general operation than Tawas and this school district ranked 442nd according to instructional cost per pupil. Tawas was one of only 29 schools in the state which has an operational millage less than 11 mills. The state average is 18½ mills.

Now all of the above may be just plain gobbledegook as far as the average taxpayer is concerned. Most citizens are aware that the board of education is trying very hard to give Tawas Area youngsters a good education at a reasonable cost.

This past year has been no exception, as evidenced by the board's action on incorporating recommended curriculum improvements in its 1967-1968 program, following months of study. This includes hiring seven extra teachers to cut class sizes to 30, adding five subjects instead of four to improve educational advantages for the children and expansion of the vocational educational program.

Administration costs in this school system have been well below state average. Hiring a curriculum coordinator and assistant principal will probably bring it in line with other comparable schools, but board members have long felt that both of these positions were necessary improvements to school operations.

All of the above mentioned improvements, along with others on the list of recommended curriculum changes will cost money—an additional $140,000, to spell it out for you. It must come out of the pocket of local taxpayers—not "Uncle Sugar" and it is no secret that schools came out on the short end of Michigan's tax reform during the recent legislature.

It boils down to this: Tawas Area School is operating in the black at present with an operating fund of about $171,000. This will decrease to about $80,000 on January 1. If the 1½-mill levy is not approved August 28, the school's operating fund would be cut to about $15,000 by July 1, 1968, far below the minimum balance that would allow payment of current bills on time.

There is one year remaining on the school's present special three-mill voted levy (one for operation and two for building the vocational addition.) Approval of the August 28 proposal would mean a total of 4½ mills special voted taxes, of which 2½ would be for operation, for only one year. In 1968, the school's financial status can again be reviewed and a new program formulated.

Tawas Area Schools cannot stand still in its educational program and we agree with Supt. Reynold Mick, who said the curriculum must improve, refine and progress, or fall behind its function. Every member of the electorate has the right and responsibility to express his wishes and the children need his or her favorable endorsement.

TODAY'S Meditation

from The World's Most Widely Used Devotional Guide

The Upper Room

Read I Corinthians 4:1-5

This is how one should regard us, as servants of Christ and stewards of the mysteries of God. (I Corinthians 4:1, RSV)

In Spanish, we have a saying "Quien quiera celeste, que le cueste." Loosely translated, it means, "He who wants the best must pay the price." We associate quality with price.

One can see the relationship between the quality of faith and its cost. It has been an expensive business even from the outset. It cost Jesus His life on a cross. It cost His disciples hardship, persecution, imprisonment, martyrdom. The price of keeping the faith and proclaiming it to others was no less costly for the Apostle Paul and other heroes of the faith across the centuries.

In a time of conflicting and demanding ideologies, our faith as Christians is put to the test day after day. We who would follow the Christ must remember that real stewardship comes high.

PRAYER
Eternal God, grant us an awareness of the value of our faith, of what it has cost others in devotion and sacrifice through the years. May we through our stewardship share this rich heritage. We pray in Jesus' name and for His sake. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY
Good stewards never begrudge the cost of their discipleship. Ivan H. Nothdurft (Argentina).

Otto Kobs Receives Certificate for 30 Years in Forest Service

Otto Kobs, veteran employee of the United States Forest Service at East Tawas, received a certificate from the United States Department of Agriculture last week for 30 years of service.

Maintenance and operation foreman in the Tawas Ranger District, Kobs has spent his entire service in the Huron National Forest.

He first started work as a seasonal employee in 1927 while operating a farm on a part-time basis. He later bossed a crew constructing fire lines and was then transferred to a fire protection crew.

Kobs estimates that he personally planted nearly one-half million trees in the Huron National Forest. During the late 1920s, tree when he became maintenance and operations foreman. This work included roads and campground construction, placement and construction of signs in the Tawas, Harrisville and Mio districts comprising five counties.

Now 57 years of age and eligible for retirement, he plans to continue on the job "for I don't know how long."

In 1935, Kobs was transferred to the Civilian Conservation Corps. Two years later, he became a forest guard for fire protection. He operated and maintained equipment from 1937 until 1956.

Tax Changes Aimed at Fair Equalization

By HENRY OATES
Iosco Tax Equalization Director

The years 1966 through 1968 will see many changes in property tax assessments, especially in Iosco County. The real estate appraisals made by Gem Survey during 1965 through 1967 are to be used to make 1968 assessments. Personal property assessments were equalized throughout the county in 1967, by adoption of a uniform system, by all supervisors and assessors.

Senior citizens were granted certain exemptions in 1966 and farmers were given a personal property exemption in 1967. Act 275 of 1964 requires each county to have a full-time equalization director not later than January of 1968. It also required that the actual state equalized value of each parcel of property be shown on tax statements beginning in 1967.

Public hearings on appraisals made by Gem Surveys are to be held soon, probably during September. In January, assessors and supervisors are to make the assessment rolls, using figures at or near 50 percent of the Gem appraisals. Those persons owning taxable personal property are to be required to file statements in January showing the cost of inventories, cost of machinery, etc., as well as the date purchased.

Depreciation percentages are to be applied to costs of machinery according to tables furnished by the state tax commission. This system will result in uniformity and equalization of personal property appraisals. Assessments will then be made on the basis of 50 percent of cash value, less any exceptions which might apply; such as, mechanics' tools or householder exemption.

During the period January 1 to April 1, the county tax equalization director will be working closely with the 14 assessors and township supervisors in the county. He will assist with appraisals, property descriptions, exemptions, as well as make recommendations in regard to property values and assist with completion of reports to the state tax commission.

Many taxpayers fear that the words, Gem Surveys, state equalized value and tax equalization, automatically mean higher taxes. In many cases, this will be true. However, the fact that previous assessments were unequal, means that some were too high in relation to others. Some taxpayers will, therefore, get a reduction in taxes.

The size of budgets (county, school, township) determines the amount of taxes to be levied. Tax rates are limited to .15 mills, or $15 per $1,000 of assessed valuation. Anything over that amount must be approved by a special vote of those affected. Unless future budgets are greatly increased, the general tax burden will not change much. Usually, the yearly increases in construction will approximately equal the increase in budgets. However, 19-68 may see a greater than usual increase in some budgets, due to the deficits which accumulated in 1966 and 1967.

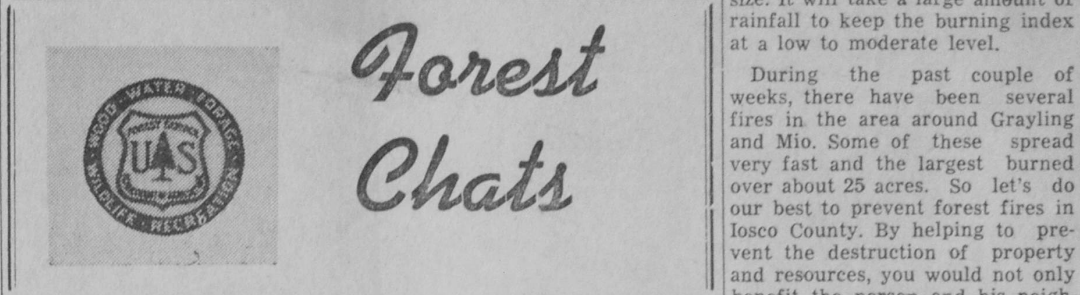

The state tax commission is presently making a study of property sales made during the last three years. The last previous study or "spot check" of Iosco County was made in 1952. Results of this study may affect the 1968 state equalized value. It is quite probable that comparisons will be made between the state study, the Gem appraisals and the 1967 assessments.

After the boards of review, meeting in March 1968, have considered all the available information, the final result should be a 1968 tax roll which is fair and equitable to every property owner in Iosco County.

The wedding shower held at the Sherman Township Hall for Mrs. Alvin Travis Tuesday evening was well attended. The bride received many lovely and useful gifts. Refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. David Parent, Mrs. George Strauer and Mrs. Kenneth Pringle.

Mrs. Audith Winchell of Flint visited her sons, David, Arthur and Elmer, for a few days last week.

Forest Chats

By Stuart Bailey, Forester

"Tawas, this is Patrol Seven. I have a smoke in the NE 1/4 NW 1/4, Section 26, T24N, R5E." And so, fire season is here again. Fortunately, the smoke reported by our air patrol was a summer resident burning leaves and grass and not a wildfire. Now, I believe, is an appropriate time for all of us to review the laws and regulations pertaining to burning. Also, we should look at our everyday actions to insure that we could not accidentally start a forest fire.

The State of Michigan has passed a law which makes it illegal to burn without a burning permit unless burning is done in an approved container. I am sure that it is apparent why this law was enacted. On the district, there have been some close calls in summer home groups when people decided to burn trash and the fire escaped. Let's keep this in mind this fall and take it upon ourselves to mention to people who are burning, that they should contact their nearest fire warden, either the Michigan State Conservation fire officer or the United States Forest Service in East Tawas and obtain a burning permit.

The air patrol is quick to spot any smokes on the district, but the conditions in the woods are reaching a point to where a fire will spread rapidly. The grass is beginning to ripen and this will bring the fuel to a flash point. By the time equipment from one of the local fire departments or from our headquarters could be there, the fire could burn a few acres and even reach an uncontrollable size. It will take a large amount of rainfall to keep the burning index at a low to moderate level.

During the past couple of weeks, there have been several fires in the area around Grayling and Mio. Some of these spread very fast and the largest burned over about 25 acres. So let's do our best to prevent forest fires in Iosco County. By helping to prevent the destruction of property and resources, you would not only benefit the person and his neighbors but the whole county.

Nancy L. Simon New Home Service Representative

Appointment of Nancy L. Simon as home service representative for Michigan Consolidated Gas Company in Northern Michigan was announced today by Robert G. Grice, manager, sales division of the utility's northern district.

Miss Simon, a home economics graduate of Ohio State University, will assist Alice Richmond, home service director, at district headquarters in Mt. Pleasant and will travel throughout the 210 communities served by the utility in the northern half of the Lower Peninsula. She will conduct demonstrations before churches, clubs, school groups and gas appliance dealers, Grice said.

Miss Simon, who now makes her home in Mt. Pleasant, is from Shelby, Ohio, and majored in household equipment. In addition to cooking, she is interested in research and testing of appliances and counts hiking, boating, swimming and horseback riding among her outdoor interests.

"We are pleased to have Miss Simon on our staff," Grice said, "to help us fulfill the many requests we have for cooking and appliance demonstrations. Our tremendous expansion in Northern Michigan means we are constantly reaching women who are unfamiliar with the convenience and economy of natural gas. I know of no better way to acquaint every homemaker with our product than through talented home economists like Miss Simon."

Now is Best Time to Seed Lawns

By seeding new lawns and spot seeding bare spots in present lawns from mid-August to mid-September, homeowners can take advantage of the best normal growing period for grass.

Marvin Davenport, Iosco County extension agricultural agent, says seeding after that date does not allow young grass to get mature before cold, freezing weather.

The county extension office in the Federal Building, East Tawas, has publications on lawn growing that are available without charge or will be mailed on request.

Publications are "F-211 Making a New Lawn," "F-212 Care of Established Lawns," "F-261 Lawn Weed Control."

Carnival Would Aid
Muscular Dystrophy

A neighborhood carnival for the benefit of muscular dystrophy victims will be held Thursday, August 24, at 140 Roberta Drive (off First Avenue), Tawas City. Mary Beth Sullivan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Sullivan, will serve as chairman, assisted by Amy and Lori Savage, Teresa Sullivan, Donna and Marcia Brugger, Vicki and Linda Leitz.

The carnival, which begins at 10:00 a. m., will feature such games as penny pitch, pot ball, penny sale and many others. A hot dog and Kool-Aid lunch, as well as cookies, popcorn and candy, will be sold. All proceeds will go to aid the fight against dystrophy and related diseases afflicting millions.

The children got the idea from staging their event while watching TV personality Jerry Lewis, along with Rae Deane, who are promoting carnivals on "The Rae Dean and Friends" children's show seen on Channel 12 TV. Flint.

Last year, in cooperation with Muscular Dystrophy Associations of America, more than 16,970 carnivals were held by children across the country and over $275,822 was raised for MDA's research and patient service programs.
