TA School Promotes Two Faculty Members

Appointment of John Alexander as Tawas Area School's new curriculum coordinator and Bill McIntosh as the new assistant high school principal, recommended by school administrators following interviews, was approved Monday night by the board of education.

These two new positions were created last month by the board of education and administrators immediately began taking applications.

The new curriculum coordinator, to be hired 11 months a year, is to work in close cooperation with the high school and elementary principals. He is to follow up on preliminary work of a curriculum study committee which made recommendations earlier this year.

"You have taken on a big job for Tawas Area," said Leonard Sarki, board chairman, following Alexander's appointment. Responsibility of the coordinator will be content of instruction and to assure continuity of content, said Supt. Reynold Mick. Through improvement of the curriculum from kindergarten through grade 12, "I know you are going to be doing a lot for the children of the Tawas area," said Mr. Mick.

The new assistant principal will relieve much of the load on the high school principal, whose primary responsibility will be teacher improvement, by handling all disciplinary problems with students. The assistant principal will also handle two study halls.

Alexander received his bachelor of art degree from Michigan State University in 1958. A former air force officer, he taught one year at Oscoda and came to Tawas Area in September 1959. Alexander has taught elementary, junior high and high school classes, has served two years as federal coordinator and has directed the school's summer remedial program for the past two years.

He returns to Michigan State University this week to complete his work on a master degree.

McIntosh has been a member of the Tawas Area School faculty since September 1956. He is a 1956 graduate of Alma College and is to continue work toward his master degree. He has taught social science classes.

The senior coach of the Northern B Conference, McIntosh will be in his last year as head basketball coach at Tawas Area. During his 11 years here, his basketball

Detroit Riot Causes Romney Cancellation

Rioting at Detroit this week has caused cancellation of the Party on the Green event to have been sponsored Saturday afternoon, July 29, at Tawas Bay Yacht Club.

A spokesman for the Iosco Republican Committee announced Tuesday morning that the affair had been canceled after notification that Gov. George Romney would be unable to attend.

The governor has been at the heart of Detroit's riot scene since Sunday and the Michigan National Guard troops are under his control.

The Iosco POG, one of three events scheduled during 1967 in Michigan, are for the benefit of county and state Republican committees. Local sponsors were officers of the county Republican committee.

Invitations had been mailed out two weeks ago to more than 600 Northeastern Michigan Republicans.

At Detroit

Six officers from the Michigan State Police Post, East Tawas, were among officers from throughout the state rushed to Detroit Sunday to aid Detroit police in their attempts to quell massive rioting in the city.

The Michigan National Guard was mobilized Sunday night by Gov. George Romney and federal troops were rushed into the beleaguered city Monday as rioting, burning and looting continued.

Franson Dead; Former Tawas Dist. Ranger

John E. "Swede" Franson, well-known as a United States Forest Service officer here, died Sunday at his home in Clinton, Mississippi.

Franson, 58, worked at East Tawas with the forest service from 1933 until 1942 before joining the armed forces for three years during World War II. He had taken an active part in development of the Silver Valley winter sports area prior to his entry in the armed forces.

He returned to his northern post after discharge from the air force. Later, he was reassigned to forestry work in Illinois, Massachusetts and Pennsylvania forests. At the time of his death, he was supervisor of the national forest in Mississippi.

Funeral services are to be held Friday in his hometown, Lynn, Massachusetts.

He is survived by his wife, Anita; his mother and a sister, who reside at Chicago, Illinois.

Burglars Crack Safe Containing $310 at Hale

Burglars made off with $310 in loot after prying open a safe sometime Friday night or early Saturday morning at the Ammond Oil Company warehouse, Hale.

Joseph S. Sestak told investigating state police that he opened the building around 8:10 a. m. and found the front door had been pried open.

Sestak told officers that his wife had been in the building around 7:30 p. m. Friday.

Attempts had been made the previous Monday night to pry open the front door at nearby Hale Hardware.

Four Teachers Still Needed by TA School

Tawas Area School is still looking for four teachers to fill vacancies in its faculty for the 1967-1968 term, according to a report to the board of education Monday night by Supt. Reynold Mick, Billy Wilder, high school principal, and Miss Clara Bolen, elementary principal.

The school needs a vocal music teacher, two second grade teachers and a combination second and third grade teacher.

The board of education had received a letter of intent from one candidate to fill the vacancy in vocal music, but has since received word that he has accepted a position in industry at double the salary that Tawas Area was offering.

No teachers have applied for the elementary positions. Miss Bolen secured the names of several from Michigan State University and has called them. To date, no response has been received.

Kathleen Honan has signed a letter of intent to teach French. She is a graduate of Michigan State University.

Gary Bedard, an August graduate of Eastern Michigan University, has signed a letter of intent to handle the physical education position being vacated by Bill McIntosh. He is a resident of Alpena.

Mrs. Susan Bitell has signed a letter of intent to teach art and two junior high English classes. She is a graduate of Central Michigan University and taught at Davison last year. Her husband is a Michigan State Police trooper stationed at East Tawas.

In other business, a report on the hot lunch program indicated that the three cafeterias served 141,760 hot lunches during 1966-1967, as compared to 155,045 during 1965-1966. Rising costs of food used in the program caused a necessary increase for student lunches last year and it was felt that this had something to do with

Mardi Gras Style Carnival Under Way

Tawas Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring a Mardi Gras style carnival at Newman and West Lincoln Streets, East Tawas, through July 29. Prizes are to be given away Thursday, Friday and Saturday at the carnival.

Scheduling of this event resulted when the chamber of commerce was unable to secure a carnival for the recent tourist festival. This week was the only date for the carnival and directors decided to go ahead with the event as proceeds go toward paying expenses for the tourist festival.

John Austin, co-chairman of the tourist festival, is to present trophies to runners-up in the MTF bathing contest Saturday during the festivities.

Merchants are cooperating in the festival with sidewalk sales and many special sales bargains.

Plan Hearings Soon on New Appraisals

Tentative dates have been set during the months of September and October for public hearings on property appraisals prepared by Gem Surveys for Iosco County's tax department.

Edward Dusenbery, who has had charge of the St. Clair firm's appraisal in this county, told the Iosco Board of Supervisors Monday that work on reviewing figures was now being completed in Oscoda Township.

Gem Survey was first hired by Tawas City to make a complete reappraisal of property land values for tax purposes after the state tax commission ruled that the city must be appraised as one unit rather than by wards. Each ward had a different "penalty" ratio according to the state equalized values.

The county board of supervisors then hired Gem Surveys to make a complete reappraisal of Iosco. Public hearings have been held in Tawas City. Property owners of other units of the county will have the opportunity to view appraisals in September and October.

Henry Oates, Iosco's tax equalization director, said that final dates for the hearings are to be announced well in advance of dates in order to give all property owners the opportunity to appear.

In other business conducted during the July meeting of the board of supervisors, Sup. James P. Mielock of Reno Township reported on the June 28 meeting at Delta College where discussion was held on a multi-county eco-

TODAY'S Meditation

from The World's Most Widely Used Devotional Guide

Read Mark 4:35-41

Jesus said to them, "Why are you afraid? Have you no faith?" (Mark 4:40, RSV)

A sudden squall on Lake Minnetonka in Minnesota made our outdoor motor useless. We had to ride the waves to shore. Our situation reminded us of the disciples during the storm of the Sea of Galilee.

It seems the disciples felt that Jesus should suspend natural laws—for their safety. However, Jesus gave them a greater miracle than they expected. He did still the troubled waters, but He also gave peace and calmness to His fearful companions. He gave them the peace and faith which not only saw them through that storm on Galilee, but through numerous later storms as His apostles.

Christ still gives this kind of peace. Often we pray only to get through the immediate crisis. Our Lord strengthens us for the present. He will also give strength for the unknown crises in all our tomorrows.

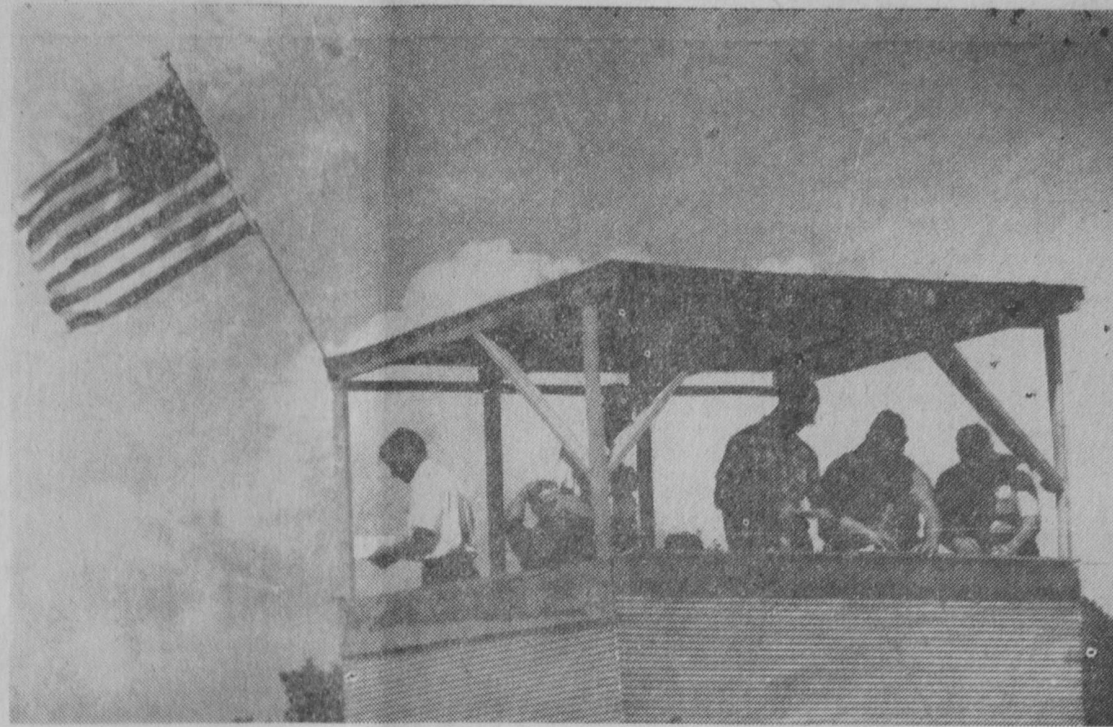

PRAYER

Heavenly Father, forgive our small faith by which we reduce Thee to our size. Forbid that waves of difficult circumstances should blind us to Thy presence with us. When we have done what we can, grant us the wisdom to leave the outcome in Thy hands. Through Christ, our Lord and Master, we pray, Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY

Whatever the storm, the peace Christ gives exceeds our expectations. Kenneth E. Nelson, Arizona.

School Board

the nearly 14,000 decrease in lunches served. Daily average served was 815 last year, as compared to 886 in 1965-1966.

At the same time, receipts from ala carte lunches increased from $1,736.85 to $3,054.08, which indicated that students were more selective in hot lunch purchases. Ice cream sales jumped from $2,816.35 in 1965-1966 to $3,318.82 in 1966-1967, while milk sales also showed a slight increase.

Total receipts during 1966-1967 were $52,616.72, as compared to $47,810.73 the previous year. Reimbursements from federal money on lunches and milk during the past year amounted to $7,829.49, or $87.05 higher than the previous year.

The school's hot lunch program operated at a loss of $2,937.63 last year, compared to a loss of $4, 538.87 during 1965-1966. Cost per lunch last year included .13 for food, .17 for labor, .058 for milk and .007 for miscellaneous, giving a total cost of .365 cents. Income per lunch was .30 in cash and .04 in reimbursement for a total of .34.

Board members were satisfied that, regardless of the loss to the school, the hot lunch program furnished a necessary and worthwhile service to students. It is believed that the daily average of lunches will increase in 1967-1968 after one year on the slightly higher cost per student.

In other business, the board authorized Principal Wilder to secure bids on painting the high school auditorium at a cost not to exceed $2,000. The auditorium was damaged by fire earlier in the year.

The board of education asked administrators to work out details with Band Director Gene Salamony in an effort to have the high school marching band participate in the Michigan Tourist Festival next year.

A report to the board indicated that Mr. Salamony was interested in making alterations in the program that would be of benefit to the community during the summer. At the same time, he is interested that quality performances be offered so that the school could be proud of its band.

Many new members who have no previous marching experience are entering the band this year. Other reasons which made it difficult to recruit the band this summer included that instruments are being repaired and not available, uniforms had not been made available to new students, children are working and many parents do not wish to release them for practice or for the event, children are on vacations for extended time or are working away from Tawas.

nomie development district. Iosco's share of financing the district is to be $315. Mielock said he was to attend a meeting of the bylaws committee and an attempt is to be made where each county is to have representation in the organization.

The board accepted the resignation of Orie Hodge as veteran's counselor and appointed Carl Eckman as his successor.

The board authorized Marvin Davenport, county agent, and Sup. Dennis Chrvia of Plainfield Township to attend the National Association of Counties convention to be held at Detroit July 30-August 2.

Oates reported on his recent attendance at the Michigan Association of Equalization Directors meeting.

TA Bands to Begin Practice; Prepare for Grid Programs

With halftime performances scheduled in three home games during early September, Tawas Area Bands have dispensed with the usual summer concerts and are to start practice July 31 through August 25.

Gene Salamony, director, said Monday that the senior band is to meet every Tuesday and Thursday evening, 7 to 9 o'clock. Marching band instruments will be used throughout the summer season.

The schedule for cadet band members is as follows: Monday, Wednesday and Friday—9:00 a. m., changing instruments; 10:00 a. m., clarinets; 11:00 a. m., lower woodwind; 1:00 p. m., percussion; 2:00 p. m., lower brass.

Tuesday and Thursday—9:00 a. m., flutes and oboes; 10:00 a. m., cornets; 11:00 a. m., French horns; 1:00 p. m., string basses; 2:00 p. m., string basses.

TA School Attendance Report for Year Given

Average attendance at Tawas Area School for the past four years indicates that 95 percent of the student body was in attendance on any given school day, according to an interesting report revealed at Monday night's board of education meeting.

While state averages on the above were not available at the meeting, judging from other state averages included in the report it was believed that the school's attendance record exceeded Michigan's average.

Attendance information was included in a report on dropout rates and students continuing into higher education after high school graduation, compiled by John A. Alexander, director of federal activities for the school.

Alexander's report indicated that the eighth grade complies the best attendance average with 96.3 percent of the students in daily classes, followed by the ninth grade with 96.2. The upper three grades had an attendance average of 95 percent for the 10th grade, 94.8 percent for the 11th grade and 94.3 percent for the 12th grade. The percentage ranged down to 92.7 for the first grade, where winter illness takes its toll of youngsters.

The report indicated that Tawas

Area has a dropout rate of 3.55 out of every 100 students. This was far below the 5.2 county rate in 1963-1964 or 4.3 for 1964-1965 and 6.6 for 1963-1964 and 6.7 during 1964-1965 as the state average. Figures for the next two years were not available for the state or county.

Tawas Area's worst dropout rate occurred in the 10th grade in 1963-1964, 6.9, followed by 6.3 for the 12th grade in 1964-1965 and 6.0 for the 11th grade in 1965-1966. Average dropout rate during 1966-1967 was 0.7 for the ninth grade, 4.4 for the 10th grade, 5.3 for the 11th grade and 4.6 for the 12th grade.

An even more impressive figure was given in the report on students continuing into higher education. The school has a four-year average of 116 students graduating in the spring. Of this number, an average of 40.6 percent go on to attend college and 11.8 percent enroll in business and trade schools. Total percentage of students attending advanced schools was 52.4 percent as a four-year average.

The school lists graduates from service academics, physicians, lawyers, pharmacists, teachers, electrical engineers and many other professional fields, according to Alexander.

Nine 4-H Clubs in Iosco County During Past Year

Information taken from the 1966-67 4-H project enrollments in Iosco County showed that there are presently nine 4-H Clubs in the county. Members are enrolled in Burleigh Stardusters; Hale Happy Hustlers; Grant Friendship 4-H and Arroyo Riders; Little Rascals, East Tawas; Ottawa Club, East Tawas; Sewing Bees, East Tawas; The Pinking Girls, Tawas City; Busy Bees, East Tawas; Oscoda Fir Friends.

One hundred sixty-five members completed a total of 205 projects with many 4Hers completing more than one project. Thirty-two leaders in Iosco make the 4-H program possible.

Following is a listing of the projects and the number of members in each project: Foods and nutrition, 37; knitting, 34; woodworking, 16; beginning electrical, seven; beef, three; baby sitting, one; flower gardens, one; vegetable gardens, 10; forestry, four; photography, five; sewing, 25; arts and crafts, 11; personal improvement, eight; horse and pony, 32; junior leadership, 15.

Many of the 4Hers will be exhibiting projects at the Iosco County Fair July 26-29 at Hale. Iosco County 4-H Leaders Council will sponsor a fudge booth in the Plainfield Township Hall during the fair.

Discuss New State Fish Regulations

Seven commercial fishermen from the Lake Huron side of Michigan attended a public hearing July 20 at East Tawas concerning proposed new commercial fishing regulations.

Conducted by Bernard Morgan, Mio, district law enforcement supervisor for the Michigan Department of Conservation, the meeting was held at East Tawas Elementary Unit.

The conservation department proposes to close Lake Huron to commercial fishing for lake trout, chinook and coho salmon, which have been introduced into the Great Lakes by the conservation department.

Discussion between department officials and area commercial fishermen is to be taken under advisement for presentation to the conservation commission before final action is taken.

There were two fishermen in attendance from Alpena, two from the Tawas, one from Deckerville and two from Bay City. Similar meetings were held at Traverse City and in the Upper Peninsula.

The man who discovered the telegraph in 1847, Samuel Finley Breeze Morse, was a world famous painter.

Common Capsizing Miscues

Capsizing last year accounted for 46 percent of Michigan's boating fatalities and what you see here are the common miscues that made it the leading cause of these drownings. Besides pointing out these pitfalls, the Conservation Department's boat and water safety section urges all boaters to heed these 1966 statistics for a safer and safer season this year: 60 percent of the boaters who drowned were fishing; 34 percent of last year's drownings involved people in row boats and canoes. Something else to think about: It is likely that the use of life-saving gear would have saved 54 of the 83 boaters who drowned in 1966.

Harness Racing Offers Excitement

THREE DAYS of harness racing, with a total purse of $10,000, is one of the principal features of the 1967 Iosco County Fair at Hale. This picture shows a field of pacers rounding the south curve at the Hale track during the 1966 racing events. Crowds attending programs at the nation's more than 400 county fair harness tracks are furnishing ample proof that the long-time lure of good horses can compete successfully with modern motors in the affections of America's public. From coast to coast, harness racing is called America's fastest growing sport and the fairs continue to be the backbone of the sulky sport. Willingness to accept new ideas, including appearance of the mobile starting gate, has keyed the progress of county fair racing and post-war years have seen many changes which have met the fan's approval. Plan to attend racing events this Thursday, Friday and Saturday and see for yourself.—Tawas Herald Photo.

Annual Iosco County Fair Opens Program Wednesday

Fun for everyone is again the theme of the Iosco County Fair which opens today with assembling of exhibits at Plainfield Township Hall, Hale.

The annual event continues through Saturday, July 29, and a program has been arranged by the Iosco County Agricultural Society which offers a wide variety of activities for all ages.

Starting this morning, exhibits were arranged in livestock, poultry, farm produce, flowers and plants, domestic arts, home economics, antiques, arts, crafts, hobbies, conservation and 4-H Club work. These exhibits are located at the township hall and at various livestock buildings on the grounds.

The pace moves rapidly this afternoon with opening of the big midway and rides furnished by Skerbeck Amusement Company. Judging of 4-H Club exhibits, excluding livestock, is to start at 7:00 p. m.

Judging of other departments, as shown in the printed premium list, is to start Thursday morning and will continue until 1:00 p. m. The midway opens at 4:00 p. m.

Thursday also starts the three-day harness racing program, one of the traditional features of any county fair. A total of $10,000 in prize money is to be awarded winners during the three days of racing. A grandstand is provided for comfort of spectators and a mobile starting gate for horses adds to the excitement.

Friday's activities, besides horse racing and the midway, includes judging of open class livestock.

Games and contests for all ages starting at 10:00 a. m. headline a full day of activities on Saturday. The annual parade is to start at 12:30 p. m. and units are to line up at the fairgrounds, move onto M-65 and proceed through Hale. A big harness racing program starts at 2:00 p. m., followed by opening of the midway at 4:00 p. m. All exhibits are to be released at 9:00 p. m.

Some of the added attractions to this year's program includes an exhibit of quarter horses from the Circle S Quarter Horse Farms on Friday. O. B. Loyd, Circle S manager, will have several horses there in non-competitive exhibition. This farm was recently featured in a Tawas Herald feature story and should prove to be an interesting sidelight for fairgoers.

Participating during intermission at Saturday's harness racing events and in the parade will be Jack Baird's Bagpipe Band of Bay City. This unit proved to be a popular attraction during the July 15 Michigan Tourist Festival parade in the Tawas.

Department superintendents for the 1967 event includes George Erickson and Robert Robinson, livestock; Perry Shellenbarger, assisted by Glenwood Streeter, in the poultry department; John Dooley heads the farm produce department; Agnes Bodenhorn, superintendent for flowers and plants; Dorothy Mielock, home economics; Mrs. Gerald Ruckle, domestic arts; Gladys Goodrow, art, hobbies and handicraft; Elwood Ruckle, games and contests; Lyle Bielby, assisted by Jack Lake, conservation; Norman Sibley, 4-H Club division; Bruce Goupil is superintendent of speed for harness racing.

Department heads and their assistant committeemen, along with Gerald Bellen, president of the Iosco County Agricultural Society, and Richard M. Samson, secretary-manager, have spent many hours in preparing the program for fair week.

"We have the program ready for you, all we need now is support by Iosco families to make this a truly successful event," said Samson. "Family entertainment is high on our list of 'musts' for the Iosco County Fair and this is why our program is devoted to persons of all ages."

Blacksmith Shop Goes on Display

Neil Erickson of Midland, a former resident of Burleigh Township, will have a display of blacksmith tools in the antique building at the Iosco County Fairgrounds. Erickson is noted as a collector of antique farm tools and guns.

Davison and Son Win Cheboygan Co. Courthouse Job

Davison and Son Builders, Incorporated, Tawas City, received a contract last week to construct the new Cheboygan County courthouse and jail. Work is to start about August 1.

The Tawas City firm submitted the low bid of $884,700. This is to be financed by a $950,000 bond issue, which was sold for an interest rate of slightly below 4 1/2 percent.

The brick building is to be constructed on an eight-acre tract purchased for $45,000. Living quarters for the sheriff and his family will be included in the building and will have a separate entrance.

Golden Eagles are being spotted all over the Tawas District. Whoa, don't grab your field glasses and head for the woods just yet. This is a different type of eagle than what you have in mind.

These eagles are on the wallet size plastic golden eagle passports now being sold in our office and at three of the camping areas on the district.

This program was launched two years ago by the natural resources agencies of the federal government. The annual $7 Golden Eagle Passport helps support the Land and Water Conservation Fund which provides money for needed federal, state and local recreation lands and waters. This fund is also supported by other federal recreation area entrance and user fees, proceeds from the sale of federal surplus, real property and United States motorboat fuels tax.

Your annual Golden Passport identifies you as an important contributor to the conservation of our outdoor heritage—but this is not all. It opens 7,000 federal recreation areas for you and any passengers in your automobile. In the Tawas area, the passport covers the entrance fees required at Round Lake, Rollways and Lumbermen's Monument Campgrounds.

Every dollar paid for the Golden Eagle Passport goes into the Land and Water Conservation Fund. Since the fund was established in 1965, 158 million dollars have gone to states and territories to help them acquire and develop some 900 local and state recreation areas. In addition, approximately 85 million dollars have been appropriated from the fund to acquire new lands for national parks, forests, sea shores and wildlife refuges.

More and more each summer, Tawas area residents personally feel the pressure of the vital battle for recreation space. Practically every week-end, hordes of campers seeking the solitude of a camping experience cram our campgrounds to the bursting point. There will certainly be even more people in the future, but we have only so much land.

Eagles have always been a symbol for Americans to rally to when in battle and the battle lines are already around our shrinking outdoor lands. Please support the program and keep the Golden Eagle soaring in the Tawas District—and all across the nation.

Michael Gross Describes Visit to Philmont Boy Scout Ranch

"It was a great experience and the excellent adult leadership was a better part of the trip."

This was the way Michael Gross, 15, described his recent two-week trip to the Philmont Scout Ranch in New Mexico.

Gross was among nine area boy scouts from this area who camped in the rugged mountains of the Southwest. J. L. Lee of Wurt-smith Air Force Base was adult leader accompanying the group.

Other boy scouts taking part were Bruce Wilson, Allen Maas, Leslie Perkins and James Rollin.

all of Hale; James French and William Coleman, East Tawas; David Mann and Robert Benjamin, Rose City.

The Tawas City scout, who will be a sophomore this year, said that one of the first things to take place after arrival at the scout ranch was an inspection of camping gear. "All unnecessary items were eliminated from our packs—like the extra socks and underclothing that mothers insisted be taken."

After drawing shelter halves, dehydrated food and special camping gear which would last them for the next 11 days, the boys attended an orientation period and then slept the first night at tent city.

"The next morning, we were up at 5:30 o'clock, had a good breakfast and were dropped off at our starting point for the long hike up the mountains," said Gross. "During our stay at Philmont, we hiked 75 miles and climbed nearly 7,000 feet up the rugged face of mountains or along winding trails. Our seventh camp was at an altitude of 12,000 feet.

During the climb, the boys caught brook and brown trout in mountain streams. Water was no problem, but had to be purified in nearly every case.

"We saw mule deer along the trail but did not see any bear. We did hear them at night, however, and that was enough for us," said Gross.

One of the boys found an old Indian arrow head along the trail. Highlight of the trip was the inspection of an old gold mining camp. The boys panned for gold in a stream and all brought home a small amount of gold flakes.

During their hiking trip they met patrols from Virginia, Texas and a number of other states. As is the custom, they traded patches and learned of the terrain ahead.

The last day on the trail found a flash flood nearly wiping out their camping equipment. Three inches of rain fell in a matter of minutes.

The boys earned their 50-mile hiking patches and brought a quantity of souvenirs and rock back with them from New Mexico.

The trip to and from Philmont was an exciting feature as the boys traveled over the Burlington Railroad. Stops were made at Chicago, Illinois, and Denver, Colorado, where they were able to go sightseeing.

Michael is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Gross. He is a junior assistant scoutmaster of Troop 74. His brother, Larry, plans to make the same trip next year.

Old Scrapbook Reveals Interesting Story of 'Michigan Cyclone'—Henry Shellenbarger

"A Challenge—I, Henry Shellenbarger, residing in Ashley, Gratiot County, challenge any Livingston County man to one all-around wrestling match for from $100 to $500. Now trot out your good men, Henry Shellenbarger."

Yellowed newspaper clippings like the above are providing some interesting reading for Jess Shellenbarger of Londo Lake west of Hale. The Henry Shellenbarger mentioned above was Jess' uncle and, in 1887, was crowned mixed wrestling champion of the world.

Henry Shellenbarger will be remembered by many of the older residents of Plainfield Township. Born in Fulton County, Ohio, September 14, 1858, he did not visit Hale until well along in years. His exploits as a wrestler and outstanding hunter preceded him there, however.

Recently, Jess was loaned a scrapbook containing hundreds of news clippings telling of his uncle's exploits as a professional athlete during the 1880s and 1890s. Donald Gardner of St. Louis, a great grandson of Henry, purchased a lot north of Hale and during a visit to town, discovered he had a relative, Perry Shellenbarger, operating the Hale Bakery.

A yellowed clipping from the National Police Gazette of 1887 revealed how the then world champion became a wrestler. As a green farm boy near Owosso, Henry was walking through the woods near home and came upon an old she-bear with two cubs. The article said that the boy met the bear so suddenly that there was no escape. He made up his mind he was going to carry off the cubs so he joined battle with the bear, getting a strangle hold and finally killing the animal. This exploit spread to area fame and a Detroit sportsman took him under wing. He bore the scars from this first bout all his life.

Wrestling before the turn of the century was a far cry from that on today's television shows. There were five styles of wrestling: Collar and elbow, catch-as-catch-can, Greco-Roman, side hold and back hold. Wrestling became a science and attracted huge crowds of spectators. The "Michigan Cyclone," as Henry came to be known, weighed 220 pounds and was six feet, two inches in height. He challenged all comers with side bets ranging from $1,000 to $5,000.

One of his victims was Evan "Strangler" Lewis, noted wrestler of the 1880s. According to articles in the scrapbook, he defeated S. Muller, champion Swiss wrestler, in March 1889.

Henry Shellenbarger served as city marshal at Owosso after retirement from the ring. He was also a noted taxidermist and his nephew at Hale has a deer head which he mounted for him nearly 60 years ago—still in fairly good condition.

Jess has had copies made of several old clippings from National Police Gazette showing his uncle in fighting trim. "They should prove to be interesting souvenirs for the grandchildren," he said.

Speech Correction Program Conducted in Two Iosco Schools

In September 1966, a speech screening program was initiated for all children in grades one through six in Tawas Area, Hale Area, Whittemore-Prescott Area Schools by Iosco Intermediate School District.

This first screening revealed approximately 180 children were in need of speech correction services. Since it was not possible for one therapist to effectively serve 180 children, a schedule was selected that included those children identified in the Hale and Whittemore - Prescott Area Schools.

During the 1966-67 school year, 86 children were enrolled in speech correction classes and, of these students, 32 were dismissed as a result of their speech errors being corrected.

Individual reports have been completed for each of the children enrolled in the speech correction program. These reports indicate the nature of the problem, particular sounds that were defective, the amounts of progress made and recommendations or suggestions for the next school year.

Speech correction record cards have been completed for each child who has received therapy for speech. These cards will permit followup evaluations to determine the effectiveness of previous or current therapy.

Prescott Elementary Unit had 23 children enrolled and seven were dismissed as corrected. Whittemore Elementary Unit had 38 children enrolled and 14 were dismissed as corrected. Hale Area's elementary unit had 25 students enrolled and 11 were dismissed as corrected.

The above figures indicate that approximately 39 percent of the students enrolled in the speech correction classes were dismissed. In addition to those who have been dismissed at the end of the school year, several more can possibly be taken from the rolls after re-evaluation in the fall of 1967 if it is ascertained that additional therapy is not needed.

"With addition to the speech correction staff for the fall of 1967, it is hoped that services can be extended to meet the needs of the speech handicapped in grades seven through 12 and the kindergartens in all schools within the jurisdiction of the school district," said Ernest W. Jordan, intermediate school superintendent.

At present, speech correction service is being provided to approximately one-third of those who are handicapped in speech and none of those children who have hearing losses.

Report Reveals

U of M Consultant Has Praise for W-P School

"High school youth of your area are fortunate in that the citizens of Whittemore and Prescott wisely pooled their resources to provide a reasonably adequate high school facility and thus house again a reasonably adequate instructional program," stated George E. Mills, general consultant, University of Michigan Bureau of School Services, in a recent letter to Whittemore-Prescott Area Board of Education.

"By so doing, area youth have a demonstrably better educational opportunity at a more reasonable cost than either community by itself could have provided—at even a tremendously higher cost. This decision and the tangible evidence of its wisdom is highly commended," said Mr. Mills.

During his recent visit to the school, Mills said the planned expansion of the industrial arts facility and relocation of space within the present structure, with its consequent improvement in the instructional program, is highly commended.

"Throughout the visit, discussions with the professional staff indicate a high order of knowledgeability, insight and dedication to the total educational welfare of youth of your school community. These ingredients are not only precious, but essential," he said.

The U of M consultant commended the school for formation of a curriculum improvement study activity. "Such activity based upon an accurate definition of multiple problems, together with the focusing of experience, research and practice upon those problems, produces the most viable solutions for a given school."

He also commended improvements, some minor and some more significant, in class size, the instructional material center, counseling and guidance program, instructional materials and equipment, the out-of-door educational facilities.

"It would be unforgivable not to commend the students, the faculty, the administration and the board of education for the fine appearance of the school building. More specifically, the custodial staff, with the help of the above groups, has done and is doing a fine job," said Mills.

He strongly recommended that the administration and board of education support substantially the curriculum improvement activity under way. "Presently, you have a number of unusual curriculum arrangements. It would appear that a more effective total instructional program could be developed by the utilization of staff resources and other available resources in terms of your school facilities, your staff and the number of students in your sixth grade high school.

"It is recommended that you continue to improve the instructional materials center, the counseling and evaluation activity, the size of classes and the instructional materials and equipment," said Mills.

The U of M consultant said that the challenge to "fully utilize the opportunity for increased educational productivity which exists in the Whittemore-Prescott complex is most stimulating."

Program, Classes Start Soon

Jesse H. Besser Museum, Alpena, Dedicated to Serve Total NEM

The Jesse H. Besser Museum, Alpena, is "a living museum," dedicated to serving a total Northeastern Michigan community. Since it is a museum of natural science, regional history, arts and crafts, fields of study and areas of display are being investigated in these three areas.

Programs and classes will soon be started which will offer opportunities for study to adults, school children and college students of the immediate area, the region and eventually it is hoped to all of the northern portion of the state.

The museum contains the Besser Planetarium. The planetarium is presented by the Alpena community as a living tribute to Jesse H. Besser. Here, one can experience the vast reaches of space. The planetarium instrument, the Spitz A-3-P projector, is designed to show a star field comparable to the night sky.

The Besser Planetarium and Museum are part of Alpena Community College. The purpose of the planetarium is to bring the latest information on space programs to the community and to present topics of general interest to the community and visitors. The museum, itself, will eventually include exhibits of a semipermanent nature on local regional history, changing historical exhibits and changing science and art exhibits.

Nancy Boyer-Feindt, director of art education, points out that the museum has, at present, two types of art and craft exhibits, local artist and national-state artists. These change every three to four weeks. Exhibitors during the past year have been Sister Mary Corita of California, four University of Michigan professors, Cranbrook Academy students and faculty members, Interlochen Arts Academy students, Jean Parsons and Pete Ramsey.

In connection with Alpena Community College, Mrs. Feindt now has a two-year art major course of study set up, including design and art slides on an adult art appreciation program are shown on Sundays.

This month, the museum has a special feature. The Michigan Council on Arts has sent a resident-visiting artist of international repute, Zobel Kachadorian. He is a painter from Detroit and will be in Alpena from July 17-28 to conduct seminars, classes and demonstrations. Some of his work will also be displayed.

The Besser Museum is located at 491 Johnson Street. It is open to visitors Monday through Friday from 8:00 a. m.-4:00 p. m. and on Sunday, 1:00-4:00 p. m.

Two East Tawas Women Exhibit at Besser Museum

One-woman shows are being presented for Miss Edna (Sammy) Luce and Mrs. Marlene Pellerito of East Tawas by the Jesse Besser Museum, Alpena, from July 2 to August 5.

Mrs. Pellerito studied stage design at the technical school for textile and fashion in Berlin, Germany, for three years and four years at the Academy of Fine Arts, Berlin. She has been living in Michigan and has exhibited regionally for the past five years.

Miss Luce studied with Hilton Leech, AWS, and Jerry Farnsworth of Sarasota, Florida. Her work has been represented at the University of Michigan, Detroit Institute of Arts, Florida Federation of Art, Miami and New York.

In 1966, she won an award for a water color entitled "Elegy," Florida Federation of Art, which was selected for tour. In 1967, another water color was selected for tour. She is a member of the Sarasota Art Association and the Florida Federation of Art.

Miss Luce also has a painting on exhibition at the 15th annual regional art exhibition at the University of Michigan. She was awarded first prize for her water colors at the 1966 Tawas Bay Waterfront Art Show.

DHIA Supervisor Gives Report on 15 Herds in June Testing Program

There are 15 dairy herds in Iosco County on the dairy testing program. Two of them use the official testing program that provides more detailed information than the owner-sampler program. In the owner-sampler program, the farmer collects his own samples. In the official DHIA program, the dairy tester is paid an additional fee for collecting the samples.

In the official DHIA program, the farmer also receives a feed cost figure that tells him how much it costs to produce 100 pounds of milk. Average is based on cows in herd, milking and dry.

Supervisor for the program is Duane Reinke.

Visit to Social Security Office Helps MC Payment

If you are about to send in your first medicare claim for repayment of doctor bills you have paid, a visit to the Bay City Social Security Office may help to prevent delay in payment, according to Paul M. Ellifritz, Social Security district manager in Bay City.

Ellifritz says that in the past some medicare payments for doctor bills have been delayed because some simple but important bit of information did not go to the medicare carrier with the request for payment.

"To make sure payment will not have to be delayed while the carrier writes back for missing information," Ellifritz said, "we invite beneficiaries to bring their first claim to the social security office before they send it to the carrier."

Ellifritz stressed that the Bay City office will be glad to answer questions about any claim, but that the first claim an individual beneficiary makes is the one on which he is likely to need some help.

A social security representative for this area will be at the Iosco County Building, Tawas City, Thursday, July 27, from 10:30 a. m. to 2:30 p. m.

July 22, 1932—In the presence of a crowd of 5,000 people, gathered Saturday afternoon at the end of the Thompson Trail on the bank of the AuSable River, William B. Mershon of Saginaw unveiled the Lumberman's Memorial and presented it to the United States Forest Service.

Tawas was the Mecca of North-eastern Michigan Legionnaires when delegates from nearly every American Legion post in the 10th district met here Sunday in convention. Dinner was served cafeteria style at the fairgrounds. A band concert, athletic events for the children and a tug of war furnished entertainment on the scorching day. BOAT SPARKLE
After washing, fiberglass boats may be waxed with an automobile wax, except where this might result in treacherous footing. Waxing the bottom makes the boat move faster and also discourages marine growth and fresh water slime.

DIPPY LOBSTER
Boil lobster tails in shell according to directions. Chill. Scoop out meat, leaving the shell intact. Cut meat into chunks and spear each with a toothpick. Fill a lobster shell with sauce or dip. Line an attractive plate with lettuce and other greens. Place filled lobster shell in center and surround with lobster chunks.

PARTY PRETTY
Hole in a dainty party dress? A tragedy—but here is an idea. Woven daisy edging can be purchased by the yard. Buy enough to trim the skirt, collar or sleeves (without overdoing it) plus five or six extra daisies. Scatter individual daisies in a random pattern, one of them, of course, over the carefully mended hole.

SKEPTICS may not believe this but Frank Holzheuer, an employee of James Mann Trenching Service, Hale, is using two pieces of wire to find a septic tank at Hale Creek Lakes. "Witching" for the most likely spot to find water has long been a debatable subject, but it actually works. Both Holzheuer and Mann demonstrated to the photographer how they use the wires to find septic tank and drain tile. The men grasp the two wires at the end and hold them out parallel in front. When the wires suddenly cross (as above), they start digging and usually find what they are looking for. For some reason, this method does not work for everyone. Straighten out two clothes hangers (or use some copper wire) and have some fun with the neighbors.—Tawas Herald Photo.

Farm Pond Safety Stressed by Jack Lake

"Drownings are the outstanding non-motor-vehicle cause of accidental deaths among people in the active age groups." This is why the Iosco County Soil Conservation Service is stressing farm pond safety during National Farm Safety Week, according to Jack Lake, local soil conservationist.

Iosco County has nearly 200 man-made lakes and ponds which serve many purposes including water for livestock and irrigation, recreation, fire protection and for wildlife. The unfortunate feature of these ponds is that they are also bodies of water in which drownings can occur.

The SCS incorporates safety features into its recommended design of a pond. These features include grading pond slopes below water to avoid sudden drop-offs and holes, and removing snags, rocks or other trash that could be a hazard to swimmers.

Mr. Lake stresses these additional safety recommendations:
 Life saving equipment should be placed near the pond where it can be easily seen. A life saving ring and-or a long pole or rope on a rack or pole at the edge of the pond may help someone pull out a helpless swimmer.

Warning signs telling the danger of a deep portion of the pond and what depth exists there. Also, the sign could give the location of the nearest phone or who to call in case of an emergency.

Provide life preservers when in a boat or to small children when playing near the pond.

Do not go swimming alone. Pond owners should know how to swim and to give artificial respiration.

In addition, every pond owner should know his liability in case of serious accident or death at his pond and the legal requirements for safety at ponds. Mr. Lake warns pond owners that just posting the pond against trespassers does not relieve the owner of responsibility. He has a moral obligation to his friends and neighbors to make his pond safe.

The youth was taken to Tawas Hospital for treatment and then transferred to a Saginaw hospital. He is the son of Circuit Judge and Mrs. Allan C. Miller.

Make Final Program Plans Today

Waterfront Art Show Aug. 5-6 at City Park

Final plans for this Saturday and Sunday's Tawas Bay Waterfront Art Festival, to be held at the Tawas City Park and Iosco County Building, are to be completed today (Wednesday) at a meeting of Tawas Bay Artists.

Mrs. Herbert Hertzler, chairman, said that all entries should be registered by then if they are to be included in the printed program.

As in other years, free coffee is to be served to exhibitors by local hostesses. Chairmen of the serving committee are Mrs. Ivan O'Farrell and Mrs. Joseph Allen. Guides with programs and information will be on hand in the park and county building with Mrs. Herbert Blust as chairman.

More than 70 exhibitors are expected, featuring oil paintings, water colors, sculpture, jewelry and pottery. One entry has been received from North Carolina and another from Cincinnati, Ohio.

Alan Finnerson, assistant to Michael Church, who heads special projects of the University of Michigan Extension Department, will act as consultant and judge for the exhibitors.

Gar Bassett represents the Tawas Chamber of Commerce art show committee and is assisting Donald Darr, co-chairman of the show, and Mrs. Hertzler in final arrangements. Mrs. T. M. O'Loughlin has charge of early registrations at the chamber of commerce office and reports more than 60 entrants to date.

Final registrations are to be received at the county building on Saturday and Sunday by Mrs. Harold Peterson, Mrs. Martin Fiedler, Mrs. Leslie Lambert, Mrs. James Thomas, Mrs. Gordon Huck and Mrs. B. N. Sargent of West Branch.

Door prizes are to be awarded Saturday night, 8 o'clock. These have been contributed by exhibiting artists.

Prizes are to be awarded Sunday afternoon, 4 o'clock, in each branch of the art exhibit. This includes a popular prize voted by the public.

Sponsors donating prizes include the Tawas City Businessmen's Association, Peoples State Bank, Ziehl's Nursery, Keiser's Drug Store, Detroit and Mackinac Railway and Jerry's Resort. The latter is offering $225 in prizes for paintings of the resort.

Admission is free and the public is urged to attend and patronize exhibitors.

"In fact," said Mrs. Hertzler, "this show has been continued because of the enthusiastic cooperation of area artists, residents and resorters."

Hostile Fire Hits Tanner's Helicopter

Capt. Warren M. Tanner, Tawas City commander of an army helicopter, was slightly wounded in Vietnam July 24 as the result of hostile action.

In a telegram received last Friday by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clark Tanner, the secretary of the army said that Tanner sustained a fractured leg. His helicopter was supporting a ground unit when it was hit by enemy fire and crashed.

The captain was treated at Second Surgical Hospital, APO San Francisco, California 96374, his present address, and is being held there for further treatment.

This was the second time that Tanner's helicopter had been downed by enemy fire in Vietnam. The adjutant general's office at Washington, D. C., stressed that he was not seriously wounded.

He is a June 1966 graduate of rotor wing flight at Fort Benning, Georgia, where his unit, the 176th Aviation Company, was formed and deployed to Vietnam last February.

Captain Tanner's wife and children are residing in Tawas City during his overseas tour. He is to return home in February.

Next Tuesday is Natural Resources Day in Iosco Co.

A natural resources day in Iosco County will be conducted Tuesday, August 8. Objective of the day will be for local United States Department of Agriculture administrators to demonstrate how improvement of natural resources in the county can help improve development of rural areas.

The tour will demonstrate how and when to control weeds in ponds, how to develop a pond site and how a forest or woods can work by the development of timber, recreation and wildlife.

P. H. (Pat) Mulholland Ends Long Service With Railroad

Spending his last day Monday in the general office of the Detroit and Mackinac Railway was P. H. Mulholland, 66, a veteran of 39 years service with the railroad.

As assistant to the auditor-revenues, a title which he has held since 1952, Mulholland had been a member of the general office staff since March 10, 1936. He joined the company April 24, 1928, serving eight years as a rate clerk in the Alpena freight office before moving to Tawas.

Mulholland's railroad career actually goes back to 1917, when he joined the Boyne City, Gaylord and Alpena Railroad. He served nine years as the Alpena agent.

A native of Birch Run, Mulholland graduated from high school at Marlette and then moved to Atlanta where his parents operated a hotel.

"The B. C. and A's station agent at Atlanta quit work and they asked me if I wanted a job—I've been in railroad ever since then," recalled the retiree Monday morning.

In those days, there was no such thing as a highway M-32 or M-33 and stage lines were still operating between Atlanta, Hillman and Lewiston, carrying both mail and passengers across the sand plains. "The railroad was originally constructed by a lumbering firm to reach its holdings in Montmorency County and there were still about 700 men in lumber camps along the railroad's 35-mile route," said Mulholland.

Mulholland has seen many changes in accounting methods during his 31 years in the D&M's general office. At retirement, he was third highest on the railroad's seniority list.

The retiree was honored at a luncheon last Thursday noon at the Barnes Hotel. C. R. McMullen, secretary-treasurer of the D&M, presented Mulholland a watch on behalf of the railroad. Attending were C. A. Pinkerton Jr., chairman of the board; Edward Goodman, vice president and general manager; Paul Sullivan, vice president and comptroller, and Colin Garry, who succeeds Mulholland.

Residing at 307 Bridge Street with his wife, Cora, Mulholland said that his lawn and garden would give him plenty to do for the remainder of the summer. Although future plans are indefinite, they may vacation in Arizona this winter.

The couple's two children are Albert Mulholland, Kansas City, Kansas, and Mrs. Harvey (Maxine) Ellerhorst, Dearborn Heights. They have three grandchildren.

Net Lake Trout

Richter Lixey, East Tawas commercial fisherman, reports that a lake trout was caught by Lixey Fish Company when nets were lifted Tuesday. This was the first lake trout taken by the firm in 19 years—the last one being netted in 1948. "We are not overly enthusiastic about the prospects for improved fishing," said Lixey. The two-pound trout had three sea lampreys attached to it. Because of its rarity, the fish was turned over to Conservation Officer A. G. Leitz for examination by the fish division. Lake trout once served as the basis for a multi-million dollar fishing industry on Lake Huron.

34 Teams Prepare for AuSable Canoe Race

Twenty-first annual AuSable River canoe race is to be held this Saturday and Sunday with preliminaries for the expected 34 teams to be held Friday at Grayling.

This year's event returns to the two-day race—stopping at Mio Saturday afternoon—which was tried three years ago. Paddlers are scheduled to leave Grayling at 1:30 p. m. Saturday and estimated time of arrival at Mio is 5:00 p. m.

Mio has gone all out to entertain contestants and spectators Saturday evening. The program features a paddlers' parade, with a race queen and court, orchestra, displays by merchants, horses and decorated bicycles.

There will be a "grand old opera" stage show starting at 8:00 p. m., followed by square and round dancing at Mio-AuSable High School Auditorium.

Contestants will probably miss most of the above festivities, choosing to get a little extra sleep for the 6:30 a. m. return to racing on Sunday.

Finish line will be at the Osoda Yacht Club where prize money, trophies and patches are to be awarded Sunday afternoon. First team is expected to cross the finish line between 5:00 and 5:30 o'clock.

In order to make the race more interesting, Sunday morning's start from Mio will be in reverse order of Saturday's finish that is, the first team across will start last Sunday morning.

Bublitz Oil Moves to New Building

Bublitz Oil Company has moved into its modern new quarters at the corner of Mathews Street and US-23, Tawas City, following completion of construction by S. G. Sterling Construction Company, general contractor, Osoda.

Plans for the 28 by 78-foot masonry building, costing an estimated $36,000, were announced last November by R. M. DuShane, construction superintendent for the Midwest Marketing Division of Pure Oil Company.

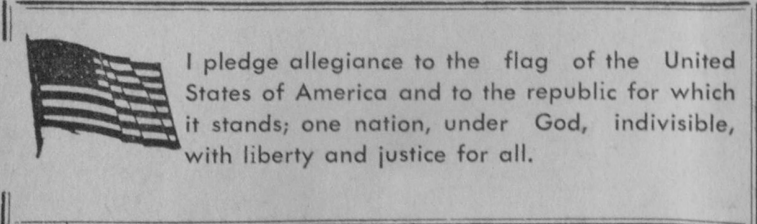

Work commenced immediately on demolishing two old structures, the original structures housing Bublitz Oil Company and the former Slaven Building as the site for the new building.

The new structure is set back 41 feet from US-23 on the front and 58 feet from Mathews Street on the east side.

In addition to a service station, the new building houses the office of Bublitz Oil Company.

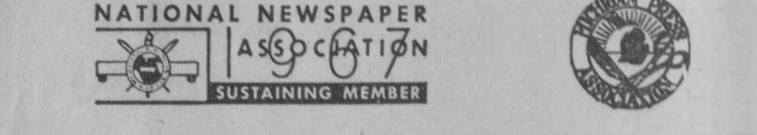

HORSE JUDGING was a highlight of the Iosco County Fair and for good reason. According to Jerry Malosh, 4-H Club advisor, there are probably more horses in the county today than there were 50 years ago—at the height of "Old Dobbin."—Tawas Herald Photo.

TODAYS Meditation from The World's Most Widely Used Devotional Guide

Read Psalm 8; Philippians 4:4-9. Whatever things are true, whatsoever things are honest, whatsoever things are just, whatsoever things are pure, whatsoever things are lovely, whatsoever things are of good report; if there be any virtue, and if there be any praise, think on these things. (Philippians 4:8)

About a year ago, Mrs. Ward and I spent an afternoon in the home of Bishop and Mrs. Frederick Wunderlich in Frankfurt, Germany. Though the day was rainy and cold, we found an abundance of warmth and comfort inside this friendly home.

We talked of many matters—issues of the day, concerns of the church, family interests. I noticed in one corner a telescope, though it did not get into the conversation.

The next day when the bishop's name was mentioned, a pastor said, "Oh, yes, our bishop, he is a friend of the stars." I remembered the telescope and understood the unique compliment.

God has made each of us a little lower than the angels and endowed us the capacity for the upward look. It is in our destiny to be friends with noble thoughts, captives of exalted experiences, persons rooted in worship and prayer, disciples of the living Christ.

PRAYER Father, we ask that our minds and hearts may be filled with thoughts of Thee and things holy and divine as we walk the common way. We pray in the Master's name. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY "Be ye therefore perfect, even as your father which is in heaven is perfect." W. Ralph Ward (New York)

Rep. G. A. Prescott First to Testify at Lansing Hearing

State Rep. George A. Prescott, Tawas City, was first to testify Monday before a house committee's public hearing at Lansing on reorganization of the state election laws.

Prescott was among three representatives appointed to a six member house-senate study committee by House Speaker Robert E. Waldron.

During the recent legislative session, Prescott voted against a bill which permits all incumbent candidates to have their names placed first on the ballot for office with the remaining candidates following in alphabetical order.

Prescott believes that the bill, which became law without the governor's signature, gives an unfair advantage to incumbents.

He has been particularly critical of the state's judiciary system

Barton City Edges Indies; Holds Lead

Barton City topped the Tawas City Indies Sunday, 3-0, to retain its top rung in the Northern Division of the Northeastern Michigan Baseball League.

While holding the BC nine in a well-played game, the Tawas City team could muster only four hits off the southpaw slants of Yokom, who struck out 18 batters and was never in serious trouble.

Bob Sieloff limited the winners to only six hits, but a double and two singles in the third inning to score two runs proved to be damaging. Barton City scored its final run in the seventh on a walk, an infield out and a single.

Sieloff also waved the big stick

Show Doctor Medicare Card Advises SS

"Show your medicare card to your doctor where you go for treatments," advises Paul M. Ellifritz, Social Security district manager.

Persons 65 or over who are insured under medicare receive an identification card with red, white and blue stripes across the top. The card shows their name, claim number and the date that protection begins under hospital or medical insurance or both.

"Most doctors have a supply of the forms which are used to claim benefits under the medical insurance part of medicare," Ellifritz says. "The patient arranges for the payment of the first $50 of doctor bills in a year. Medicare pays 80 percent of the reasonable charges of the rest of the covered medical services."

Payment of doctors' bills is handled in either of two ways. The patient and his physician decide which method will be used. Payment may be made directly to the doctor if he agrees to send in the claim or to the patient who pays the doctor and gets an itemized receipt to claim repayment himself.

If hospitalization is necessary, the physician arranges for the admission of his patient. The beneficiary accepts responsibility for payment of the first $40 of hospital costs in each spell of illness and the hospital claims payment of the remainder of the reasonable cost.

Anyone can get additional information about the health insurance from his social security office. For this area, the address is Social Security Administration, 1009 North Madison, Bay City, Michigan 48706.

A social security representative will be at the Isosco County Building, Tawas City, Thursday, August 10, from 10:30 a. m. to 2:00 p. m.

Canning Beans

Some of you who have canned for years have used the boiling water bath method for string beans and have had good luck. Others, of course, have used the pressure canner and have been confident of safe canned foods for beans and other low acid foods.

It comes as a surprise to those of you, then, who use the boiling water bath method to find that this method is not recommended for low acid foods. They will not find time-tables for boiling water bath processing in our extension bulletins nor in some of the commercial canning recipe bulletins.

The question I often get reads: "I have been processing my home-canned green beans in a water bath and still have not experienced any spoilage and my mother used this method all her life. Is this really a dangerous practice?"

Our specialists response to this question is that outdated practices, such as oven canning and the hot water bath method of processing low acid vegetables, meat, poultry and fish (including soups, stews, sauces and mixtures containing these foods) are dangerous because they do not destroy the bacterial spores and toxin accumulates as the organism grows during storage. In addition, oven canning may result in dangerous explosions.

The pressure canner is recommended for all low acid vegetables. A 10-pound pressure for 20 minutes for pints and 25 minutes for quarts is recommended for both raw pack and hot pack beans.

Keeping Children Busy

Here is a fun-day idea to entertain the children and at the same time, very economical. Use ordinary soda straws and a bowl of liquid detergent for blowing soap bubbles. For children who insist on getting into water, this is a good idea for kitchen, bathroom or out-of-doors.

Buy new toys for the children? You probably have some gadgets that you have been wanting to discard. Children, especially, like gadgets that move or turn and would think it quite a treat to have an old light switch, an old-fashioned lock with keys, a clock that winds up, a faucet or a flour sifter for play.

Are You in the Know?

Harmful bacteria enjoy your food as much as you do. Food poisoning bacteria thrive and develop in food temperature between 40 degrees and 140 degrees Fahrenheit. It is extremely important to know, too, that food can be hazardous without giving any off-odors or off-flavors to warn you. Beware and play it safe. Know the rules for safe eating.

Food illness-causing bacteria grow faster in the temperature range of warm, 70 degrees to 90 degrees F. This is the usual kitchen and outdoor warm-day temperature.

These bacteria usually cannot multiply at coldness below usual refrigerator temperature about 42 degrees F.

Dairymen Win Price Increase With MMPA

Keith McLean of Whittemore, a member of the Michigan Milk Producers Association market committee, took part in recent discussions which led to a price increase for Michigan dairy farmers.

A dairy farmer himself, McLean was elected to serve on the market committee representing the MMPA 10th district.

The 60-member market committee recommended the 30 cents per hundredweight increase in class 1 prices. This recommendation was followed by the board of directors of the Great Lakes Milk Marketing Federation, pricing cooperative for the MMPA.

The market and sales committees of MMPA have been a major policy group on milk prices for dairy farmers throughout the 50-year history of MMPA.

stands should be sold in logical operating units according to size and kind of products. The different products that are harvested on the district are pulpwood, saw-timber, bolt stock for railroad ties and pallet stock, fuelwood, posts and pilings.

We will put the stands up for sale during the year. And if the market is good, they will be purchased by local operators. But this is not all that comes from this field examination. For instance, we also determine the following needs of the land examined: Reforestation, timber stand improvement, fire control, recreation, wildlife and fish habitat. The information concerning all the resource needs is used in making plans to fulfill these needs. The plans are then submitted up the organizational ladder to Washington where congress does or does not appropriate enough money to have them completed. Understanding, they are not all approved; those that are not will be resubmitted another year.

Ask Reinstatement of Lamprey Funds

The Michigan House of Representatives has approved a resolution calling on the Congress of the United States to reinstate $100,000 in the appropriations for the lamprey control program in Lake Huron.

The resolution was introduced by Republican Joseph P. Swallow, Alpena, and co-sponsored by George A. Prescott, Republican, Tawas City. Both representatives expressed concern over the cut-back citing the fact that if this act is approved, it would preclude any possibility of carrying out the planned program on Lake Huron.

"It is absolutely necessary that this program should be kept operating at a high level," Prescott said, "because of the increase of whitefish and introduction of salmon in the lakes and because of the re-establishment of lake trout in Lake Superior. We are just now realizing gains in our sport and commercial fishing because of this program and I certainly think it would be a grave error to jeopardize this progress by not properly controlling the lamprey."

Prescott said he believed a cut-back now would be most discouraging to Canadian colleagues who have been contributing to the control of this menace to Great Lakes fishing.

TC Cemetery Board Reports on Activities

During the past year, the Tawas City Cemetery Board has been endeavoring to improve and beautify the city cemetery and further improvements are anticipated.

The unusual amount of rainfall this spring and summer has made difficult the desired maintenance of the cemetery. The grass has grown very rapidly and on many days the rain has made mowing impossible; also, the mowing equipment has required constant repair. Old equipment has now been replaced.

The new service building has been completed, providing ample storage space for equipment and including suitable toilet facilities for both men and women. Facilities are available whenever the sexton or other employees are at the cemetery and also during all burials.

Several new sections have been laid out and seeded, adding approximately 150 available graves.

The water system has been completely overhauled and water is available at approximately 30 faucets strategically located throughout the cemetery. Since the water is pumped from Dead Creek, warning signs have been attached to each faucet to prevent the public from drinking the water.

The price of graves is now $125 each which includes $50 for the perpetual care fund. All perpetual care money is invested in interest bearing bonds. Only the interest from these bonds may be used for maintenance expenses. All future purchases of graves must include perpetual care. No burials are permitted until satisfactory arrangements for the purchase of a grave have been made by authorized personnel at the city hall.

In past years, numerous grave owners have been making small annual payments for annual care of graves. The cemetery board suggests that grave owners desiring perpetual care for the future may either pay a lump sum of $50 now or make suitable annual payments toward the fund until such time as a total of $50 has been paid. This will assure proper care of the graves for all time and also make possible uniform care throughout the entire cemetery.

Some questions have arisen regarding the planting of trees, shrubs, etc., on graves by the owners. The cemetery board desires to cooperate fully with all grave owners in such matters but there are occasions when the board deems necessary the removal of unsightly or objectional plantings. Such action by the board is authorized by the following legal opinion of the city attorney:

"Under the laws of the State of Michigan and in accordance with the powers conferred and duties imposed by the City Council of Tawas City by Ordinance No. 116, the cemetery board has the power and the duty to care for, manage and regulate all matters pertaining to the Tawas City Cemetery, including the grounds, lots, avenues, walks and the individual graves," said City Atty. Alf C. Watson.

"Owners of lots or graves in said cemetery do not have legal title; same resides in and remains with the City of Tawas City. Said owners have only the right of burial in their lots or graves; same being at all times subject to and limited by regulations of the cemetery board."
