Tawas Area Cadet Band received the highest possible rating—four "T" ratings and a final rating of "T" in the Michigan School Band and Orchestra Association's District IX festival at Oscoda Saturday, March 11.

An "T" rating makes the band eligible to participate in the state festival which will be held April 22 at Mt. Pleasant.

The band played an Italian march, "LaBanda Nascente," the class C required selection, "Festival Day Overture" and the "Russian Choral and Overture."

Adjudicators for the festival were Max Smith, Petoskey High School; Ron Smith, Cheboygan High School; Gary Waldo, Gaylord High School, and Rod Cumberworth, Traverse City High School.

Bay City Men Jailed Following Tawas City Spree

Three Bay City men received jail sentences here last week on a charge of drunk and disorderly and face prosecution on a charge of larceny from an automobile.

Receiving 30-day jail sentences and $100 fine each were Frederick C. Hill, 25, and Edward Schmidt, 19. Fined $50 and given 15 days in jail was Raymond Schmidt.

They were arrested the night of March 8 at East Tawas by Sheriff Ivan O'Farrell and East Tawas Patrolman Charles Vlar.

The men were refused service at Young's Tawas Bar. Before leaving, they broke a salt shaker on the floor of the restroom and stole an ash tray. They were also refused service at the Alibi Inn and Losco Hotel.

A warrant is being sought against the men alleging theft of articles from a car parked near the Losco Hotel.

Soper's Resolution Would Give Contract Negotiations to State

A resolution proposed by a member of the Tawas Area Board of Education would ask the state to set up some type of civil service for teachers and eliminate the need for annual contract negotiations by individual schools.

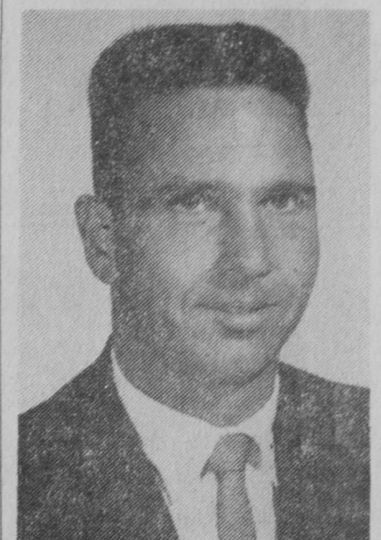

Trustee Clyde Soper, who proposed the measure, said Monday night that boards of education were not geared to handle lengthy contract negotiations with teachers and still have time to spend on matters of running the school.

No immediate action was taken by the board and the plan would be discussed further at the next meeting. If adopted, it would be forwarded to the state association of boards of education.

Soper told board members he believed it would be best to establish salaries on a state-wide basis for teachers and administrators, with the same salaries paid in all districts—wealthy or poor. He said this would give boards of education some idea what salaries would be in planning budgets.

He also felt that the plan would avoid hiring school personnel on salary alone, promote teacher-school unity, avoid political pressures and eliminate public resentment in communities where salaries are low.

Soper's plan ran into some opposition from two members in the

ROBERT REASNER

Ready Curriculum Study Summary Soon for Tawas Area Board of Education Action

A summary of proposed curriculum changes at Tawas Area School are to be presented to the board of education March 27, according to Robert Reasner, chairman of the curriculum study committee.

"We are now evaluating reports from the various departments and the next step is to determine the cost of implementing these suggested changes in the program," said Reasner.

This curriculum study has taken the better part of the past two months and has enjoyed an enthusiastic reception from members of the faculty as well as representatives of the board of education.

Proposed changes have been formulated for the junior and senior high school and committees are presently at work at studying the course of study and proposed changes for elementary grades.

Some of the proposed changes in the high school curriculum would only be a matter of a change of textbooks, while other proposals would involve the hiring of some additional teachers and expansion of equipment.

As an example of textbook changes, it has been recommended that the science program include biological science for seventh graders, earth science for eighth graders and physical science for ninth graders during the year 1967-1968. The ninth grade offering would require one additional

Financial Picture in Flux TA Has $103,387 Deficit in Preliminary Budget

A preliminary budget of $799,972 for 1967-68 school operation was presented at Monday night's meeting of the Tawas Area Board of Education.

This was $88,077 higher than the budgeted amount for the preceding year.

Supt. Reynold Mick told board members that school financial matters were still in a state of flux—that valuation of the school district would not be known until after the April meeting of the Iosco Board of Supervisors and that he could make no prediction as to what the state aid program would be this year.

Mick also told members that the estimated budget was based on salaries received by teachers last year. Negotiations on a new contract have not started as yet.

A recapitulation of the budget indicates that the grand total of expenses, $799,972, as it now stands, would be $103,388 in short of total anticipated revenue of $696,585.

The school will have a carry over of approximately $160,000 in its treasury, built up over past years by the annual transfer of five percent of state aid received by the district.

Without knowing the district's new valuation, revenue from local taxes was placed at $290,000, about $4,000 higher than last year. State aid payment, based on approximately 1,720 children, would bring $333,785, figuring on last year's program.

The preliminary budget of the elementary department shows an estimated expense of $255,858. This is $27,611 higher than last year and added expenses includes $24,258 for added teachers (34), $2,878 for salary increments for

Keep Dogs Tied, Warns A. G. Leitz

Conservation Officer Arthur G. Leitz has added his voice to that of the Iosco Sheriff's Department in warning area residents to have their dogs under control at all times.

During the past week, dogs have killed three deer in Wilber Township and have been running deer in the south half of the county, Leitz reported Monday.

"The deer break through the heavy crust of deep snow while the dogs simply run on top of the snow," said Leitz.

Dog owners allowing their animals to run and kill deer are to be prosecuted under Act 236, Public Acts of 1929 (conservation law) by the Michigan Department of Conservation.

Leitz said Monday that the food shortage for deer was becoming very critical in the area due to the deep snow in the woods.

Notification has been received here that the Mio district has released 400 bushels of shelled corn for supplementary feeding to deer. Notification to landowners sending in requisitions has been received.

Natural feed cutting projects of the Iosco Sportsmen's Club and the Michigan Deer Hunters Association continued last Saturday.

Further assistance will be needed at these work bees in order to prevent serious food problems for the area's wintering deer herd.

Engineers Recommend Approval of Tawas Harbor Construction

Another stepping stone in a 25-year dream of the Tawas—expansion and modernization of port facilities of Tawas Bay—was reached last week with an announcement from the Army Corps of Engineers.

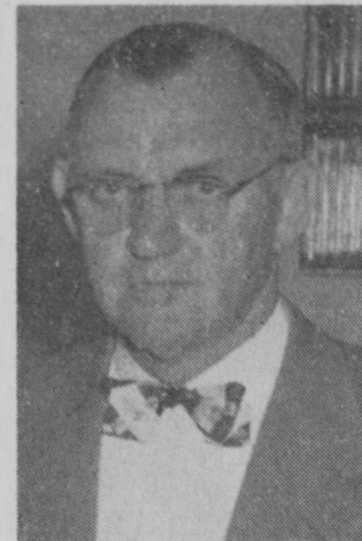

The department has recommended approval of the federal government's share of a $900,000 construction program at the Michigan Waterways Commission Dock, East Tawas, which includes a 1,700-foot breakwater with recreational fishing facilities.

But even if approved, do not expect to anchor your boat in a new harbor here until at least another five years.

Approval was contained in a report by the engineers' North Central Division, Chicago, and the report was sent to Washington where a final decision is to be made after an April 10 deadline for objections.

This report is the result of a public hearing held by the Detroit District engineer at East Tawas on August 28, 1963. Carl Babcock of Tawas City, who has served the past 16 years as chairman of the Tawas Harbor Committee, said last Friday that the report is actually the outgrowth of steps first taken here 25 years ago.

Financial assistance from the federal government in establishing a harbor of refuge on Tawas Bay was first sought in 1947, when representatives of the Army Corps of Engineers attended a meeting at the Tawas City City Hall.

According to Babcock, the Tawas River mouth was first considered as a possible site but was dropped due to the lack of public property along the waterfront. Another formal meeting with the Army Corps of Engineers was not forthcoming until 16 years later, although local representatives met with the district engineer in 1950 to "keep possible establishment of a harbor of refuge alive."

During the interim, further progress was made toward developing a harbor of refuge at the East Tawas dock. The Michigan Waterways Commission was established about 1950 and obtained title to the dock from the Michigan Department of Conservation. This action followed a meeting attended by Babcock and a committee composed of the late Nathan Barkman and W. D. (Mike) Nunn.

"Considerable improvements were made to the dock about this time by the waterways commission but we were told that Tawas Bay was one of the best harbors of refuge on the Great Lakes and would have to wait its turn as money would be spent elsewhere in improving port facilities," said Babcock.

Harbors of refuge have been constructed at 20-mile intervals along Michigan's shoreline. Plans are now returning to some of the original harbors to make improvements.

Charles Lattimer, assistant to Keith Wilson, director of Michigan Waterways Commission, said in a telephone conversation Friday that the next step in the Tawas Harbor project was to receive a federal appropriation for engineering.

Lattimer told Babcock that the report from Chicago is to be returned to the Department of the Army for approval at Washington and it will then go to congress for authorization of construction. Congress had originally authorized the study to be made on Tawas Bay.

Babcock said that the project might reach realization within the next five years. Cong. Elford A. Cederberg was notified Friday of the report and has been requested to watch for further developments.

"We have asked him to introduce a bill into congress authorizing construction as soon as this final approval has been received," said Babcock. A request for appropriation would be made the following year.

"It has taken a good many years for a dream to reach this stage. It is not the beginning, but perhaps the end of the beginning and, judging from the interest shown by the Michigan Waterways Commission, the project may become a reality by 1971," said Babcock.

Participation of the waterways commission is essential to the huge project. All indications are that money will be made available for participation with the federal government from funds derived from state gasoline tax collections belonging to the boating public. One-half of one percent of the gas

Schoolmen in State Aid Talk With Prescott

Annual debate over state aid to schools has not come to a head as yet in the state legislature, but representatives of the area schools met with State Rep. George Prescott last week to discuss several proposed bills.

Held at East Tawas, the meeting was attended by superintendents of Standish-Sterling High School, Pinconning, Au Gres-Sims, Whittemore-Prescott Area, Oscoda Area and Tawas.

Reason for the meeting was to allow Prescott, freshman representative of the 102nd district, to become acquainted with the thinking of area superintendents in regard to school legislation and also to discuss proposed state fiscal reform.

It was the consensus of superintendents present that they favored one piece of legislation, known as the Roy Smith bill, over proposals of Gov. George Romney. The Smith bill proposes a 4 1/2 percent state income tax to replace local property tax for school operation and would also offer some relief for business.

Supt. Reynold Mick of Tawas Area School said that a number of factors contained in the bill would probably have to be worked out to take care of the needs of schools.

Several bills being proposed in the state legislature for this year call for 11 mills of school operation for full state aid. During the current school year, the state required a 10-mill allocation to schools and during the preceding year required nine mills.

County allocation boards must operate within the 15-mill limitation, dividing available money between schools, the county and townships.

Also discussed were ways to best implement negotiations with teachers.

Adopt Policy on Absentees

A formal policy in regard to students leaving school without permission was adopted Monday night by Tawas Area Board of Education. This action followed an incident last week in which two girls left school without permission to attend a funeral.

The two girls were expelled from school for three days and not allowed to make up work. Other students, who had written excuses from parents to attend the funeral, were allowed to leave school.

As a result of the incident, the board ruled that all students leaving school without permission would receive a three-day suspension and not allowed to make up work.

Miss Clara Bolen, acting high school principal, discussed the advisability of allowing future funerals that no students be excused except when parents call in and request that their child be excused or call and pick up the student.

In other business, the board approved an allocation of $354 as its share of the Tawas area recreation program next summer.

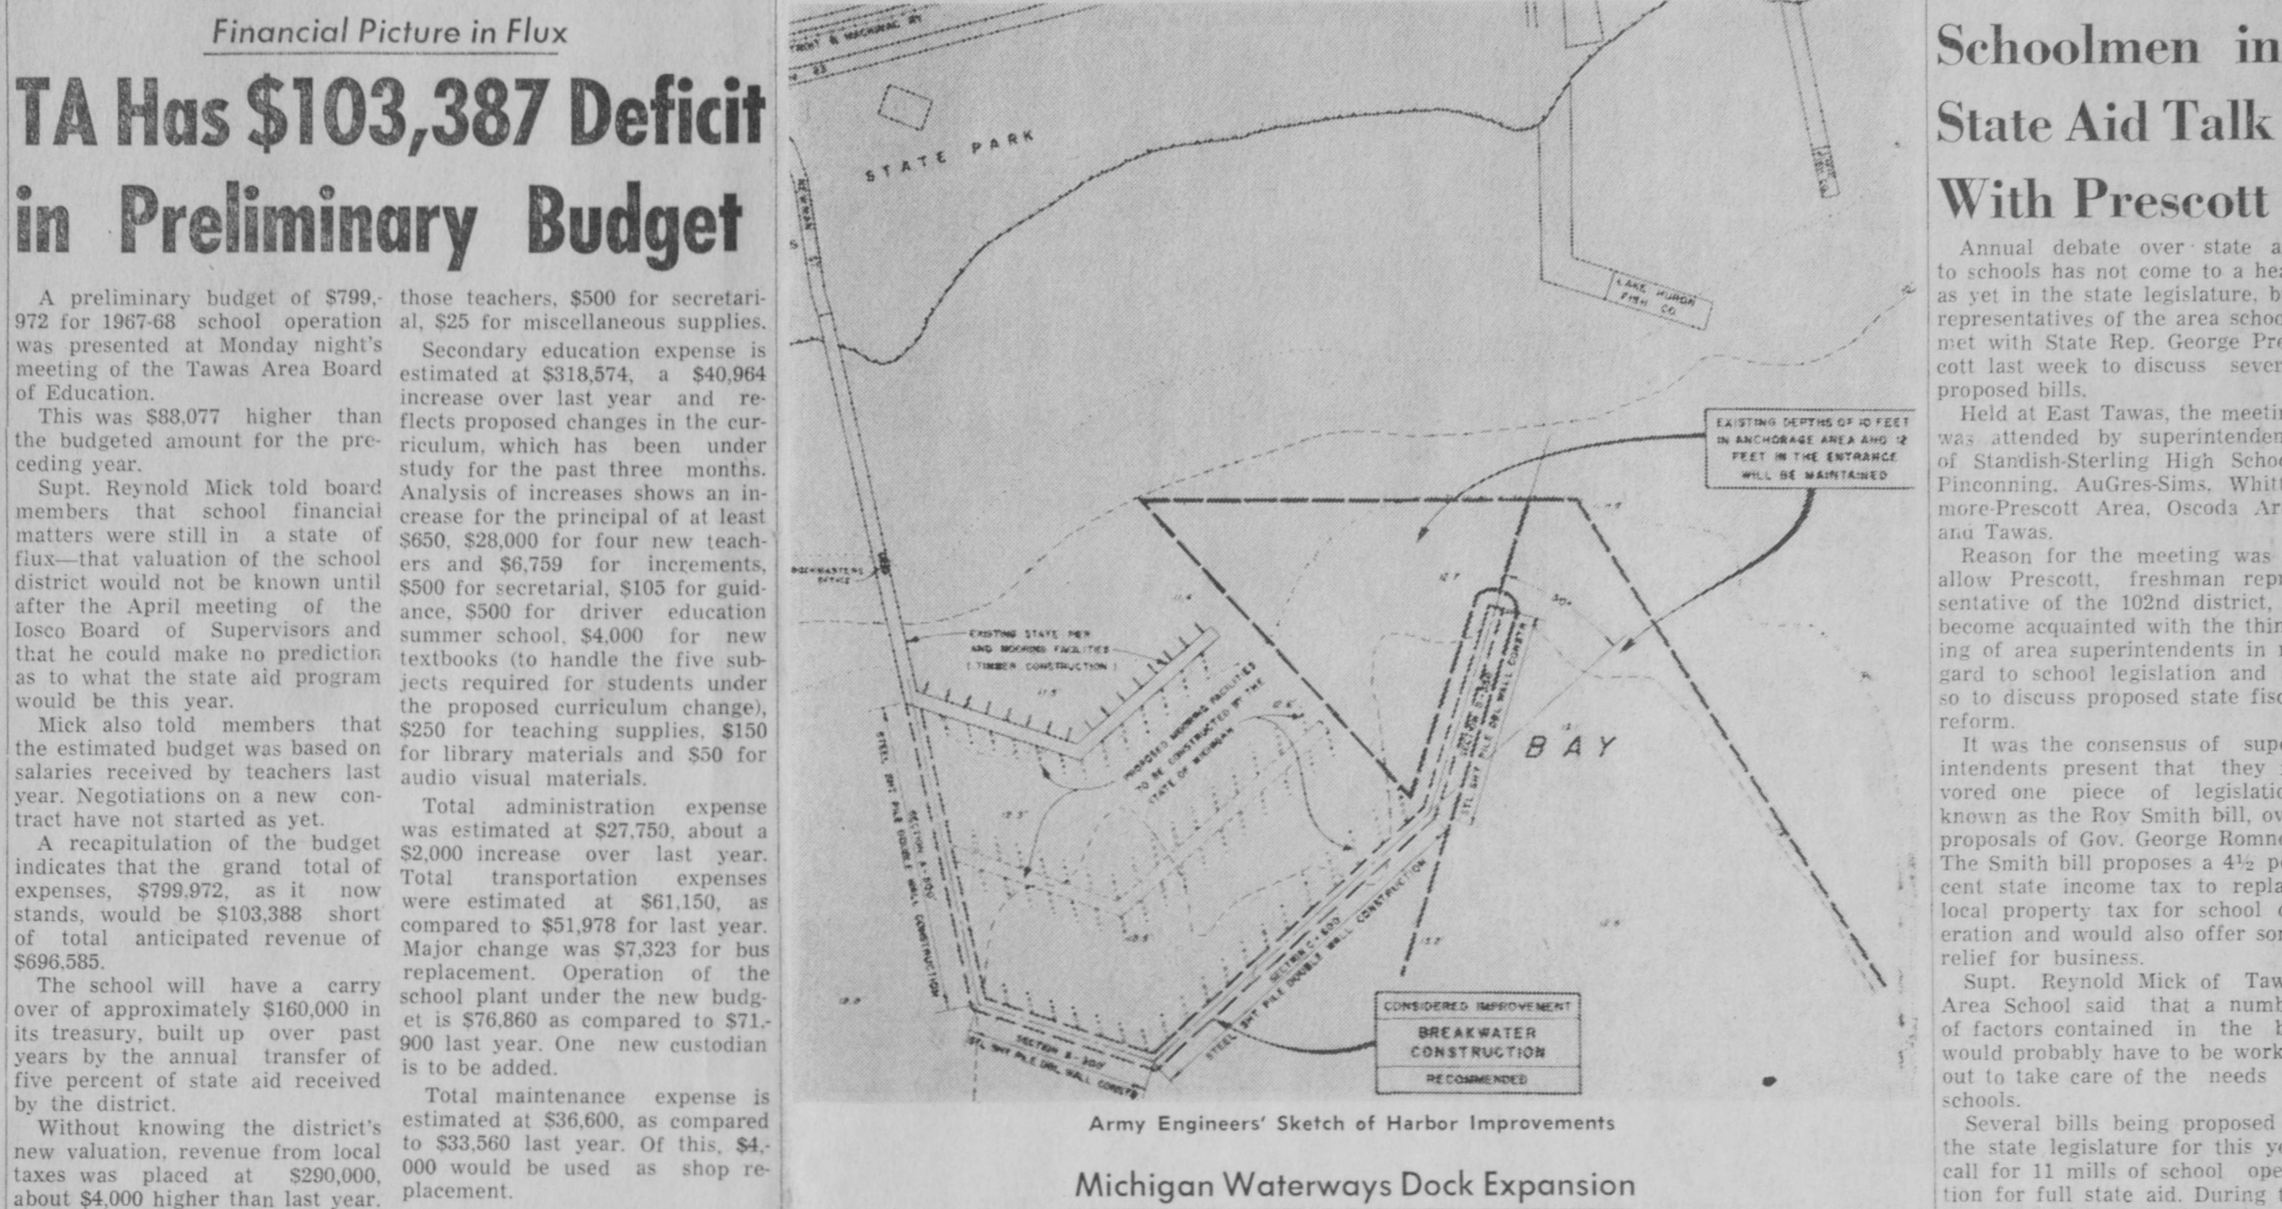

Reports were given by Robert W. Elliott and Mrs. Helen Payea concerning the curriculum study being undertaken in the elementary grades. Both stressed that classrooms were overcrowded.

Panthers in State Quarter Final

Standish-Sterling Central's Panthers carried the colors of the NBC into the quarter finals of the state high school basketball tournament Saturday night by defeating Belding, 68-56, at Mt. Pleasant.

The Panthers now go against Menominee tonight, Wednesday. It was anybody's ball game in the first half and the Belding team moved out front, 15-7, in the first quarter. The Panthers started their surge and pulled within one point, 25-24, at intermission.

The Panthers wrapped up the game in the third quarter with a 21-12 margin and then finished strong with a 23-19 edge.

Right to Assemble

Alarming instances of anti-Vietnam, anti-draft and anti-almost everything protesters causing harassment to prevent others from peacefully using their rights of free speech and assembly was brought to public attention in Michigan only recently.

In a conversation last week with Circuit Judge Allan C. Miller, who attended a two-day symposium on world affairs at Ann Arbor, the Herald learned that four protesters had caused so much trouble by harassment of speakers that very little was accomplished by anyone.

The ironic part of the entire affair was that the speaker's list contained nationally known figures, some of the outstanding thinkers of our times... liberals, conservatives and those following the middle of the road. Speakers, even those whose opinions were the same or similar to the demonstrators, were interrupted by cat calls, jeers and near violence by four individuals.

The time has come when all had better begin to think this thing through more clearly and not to be trapped into condoning the use of harassment against free speech and assembly in the guise of exercising free speech.

As Roscoe Drummond said recently in the Christian Science Monitor, "We need to see how dangerously the right of free speech and assembly is being undermined by the protesters and demonstrators, who try to break up speeches they don't want to hear by resorting to picket lines and violence to keep people from attending."

In a free society where free speech, assembly, a free press and the ballot are open to everyone, anyone who tries to hinder others from using these rights is undermining everyone's freedom—including his own.

The Right to Know

Implementation of a new state police policy on the dissemination of public information which went into effect March 9 has been suspended by Col. Frederick E. Davids, department director, following a conference with Governor Romney and State Attorney General Frank Kelley.

To this, the Herald adds a hearty three cheers! Had that policy taken effect, the public's right to know would have been seriously infringed.

A statement issued by the participants in the conference Friday stated that Colonel Davids, the attorney general and the governor have all recognized in their discussion the important part played by the communications media in achieving workable relationships and public understanding and support of law enforcement procedures. "Our common objective is to secure effective law enforcement and procedures that will give every citizen a fair trial in court."

In announcing the policy that is now temporarily suspended, Davids said that "because of United States Supreme Court decisions, the state police have established new guidelines concerning public information to prevent overstepping limitations in pretrial publicity that might nullify prosecutions."

Only essential facts of a crime were to be released under the order; such as, the name and address of the victim and the degree of injury or loss. There was to be no speculation on the part of the officers as to how a crime was committed, who may have committed it, or why it was committed.

A long list followed as to what could or could not be released to the public. Other departments are also following these policies and many prosecutors are now ordering police to make no disclosures except those which the prosecutors approve.

It is hoped that a rational approach to pretrial publicity may be developed at a conference to be called by the attorney general at which representatives of his staff, the executive office, law enforcement and the press will discuss the policy.

The world grew accustomed to the suppression of news in Germany during the rise of Nazism. While we are opposed to sensationalism in the handling of crime, it must be pointed out that people have the right to know and all information concerning crime and the courts should not be censored by the public prosecutor and law enforcement officers.

Hemlock Rd. Church Welcomes New Pastor

Saturday evening, members and friends of Hemlock Road Baptist Church held a reception dinner at the church for their new pastor, the Rev. Walter Buck. Mr. Buck began his ministry at Hemlock January 15.

Dr. Howard Keithley of Grand Rapids, state missionary for the Michigan Association of Regular Baptist Churches, was the main speaker. His message was one of challenge to the congregation.

During the past year, Dr. Keithley gave much needed counsel and direction to the church as the first pastor and a new fellowship were sought. The church is now in the process of affiliating with the General Association of Regular Baptist Churches, as well as the Michigan and Northland Associations of Regular Baptist Churches.

Charles Johnson, a layman from Bay City who filled the pulpit many times while the church was seeking a pastor, also gave a word of testimony.

The new pastor was also welcomed by the various church boards and organizations, including the deacons board, Ladies Missionary Society and young people's group.

Mr. Buck has been in the ministry 25 years. He came to Petoskey in 1944 as a missionary for the American Sunday School Union, organizing and maintaining Sunday schools in the rural areas of five counties. In 1951, he became pastor of the First Baptist Church, Onaway, remaining there for 15½ years and seeing a new church built to which an educational unit was later added. During this time, the church sponsored a radio broadcast for eight years.

Mr. Buck has been active in both the Michigan and Northland Associations of Regular Baptist Churches. Presently, he is serving on the state youth camp board and is camp director of the Northland Regular Baptist Youth Camp, a position which he has held for the past eight years.

To Hold 2nd Hearing on Water Quality

The second public hearing in Michigan's program of establishing water quality standards for its interstate lakes and streams will be held at the Ramada Inn, Saginaw, March 28, it was announced today by Loring F. Oeming, executive secretary of the Michigan Water Resources Commission.

This hearing will be concerned with Lake Huron waters. A similar hearing was held in February regarding the St. Joseph River system and Lake Michigan. Subsequent meetings at other locations will deal with the state's other interstate waters, Oeming said.

Information on present and prospective future uses of the waters involved will be presented at the hearing and the commission will then designate the uses to be protected in the various portions of Lake Huron.

Under the provisions of the Federal Water Quality Act of 1965, water quality standards must be established on all interstate watercourses, together with a plan for their implementation and enforcement, by June 30 or Michigan will yield this function to federal authorities.

At Monday night's meeting of the board of education, this proposition was presented following a recent incident involving the maintenance of brakes on one of the school buses.

Appearing before the board were William Look Sr. and William Look Jr. Both stressed the fact that there is a tremendous difference between stopping a bus loaded with children and applying the brakes on a private automobile.

They maintained that they had replaced the brakes on one bus, requested by a driver, and that they were now and had been in proper operating order. They said they would reinspect the bus

Veteran Custodian Honored by Church

Fred A. Rempert, who has served the past 20 years as custodian at Emanuel Lutheran Church, Tawas City, was honored Friday evening at a pot-luck dinner given by members of the congregation. The occasion was in honor of his 80th birthday anniversary.

Mr. Rempert served as an elder of the church for a number of years before becoming custodian. As far as he can recall, he missed Sunday church services only two times in his life since becoming a member of Emanuel Lutheran Church—once when he was rushed to the hospital with an attack of appendicitis and another time when he and Mrs. Rempert visited their son in California.

Born March 10, 1887, at Chicago, Illinois, he came here with his parents when nine years old. Their farm was located one mile north of the Tawas Township Hall on Cold Creek. He attended the Laidlawville School.

Rempert spent 10 years working at Detroit and then returned in 1920 to operate an automobile garage in the old Grise blacksmith shop. He was later associated with the late Frank Dease in operation of a garage on US-23 near the present McKay Sales Company and retired in 1943 after more than 20 years as an auto mechanic.

The Rev. James Rockhoff, pastor of Emanuel Lutheran Church, said that Mr. Rempert is most meticulous in his care and maintaining the church. "Every pew is lined up perfectly and there never is a spot of dust around," he said. "He still mows the lawn in the summer and shovels the walks in the winter."

Following the pot-luck dinner Friday evening, Mr. and Mrs. Rempert were entertained at a program given by the congregation. Their granddaughter, Karen Ulman, played several selections on the piano and the church choir presented a number of selections.

Their four children are Harvey Rempert of San Francisco, California; Frederick Rempert of Detroit; Mrs. Joseph Fox and Mrs. Marvin Ulman, both of Tawas City.

"The good Lord has taken care of me all of my life. Without his help, I never would have gotten this far," said Mr. Rempert.

16 Isoco Herds Participate in DHIA Feb. Testing Program

There were 16 dairy herds in Isoco County on the dairy testing program for the month of February. Three of them used the official testing program that provides more detailed information than the owner-sampler program. In the owner-sampler program, the farmer collects his own milk samples. In the official DHIA program, the dairy tester is paid an additional fee for collecting the milk samples.

In the official DHIA program, the farmer also receives a feed cost figure that tells him how much it costs to produce 100 pounds of milk. Average is based on cows in herd, milking and dry.

 prove the program. Social studies are comprised basically of lecture courses and, if two or three teachers are teamed up, could teach government, history and the like to as many as 130 or 140 students at the same time. These classes could be well organized and planned with two or three teachers preparing them together.
 Recommendations for the industrial arts program includes a course for junior high students, in addition to the three classes now being taught. A fourth year class would be added for students who have shown an aptitude for the building trades, including laying out of foundations, laying concrete blocks, wiring, plumbing, etc. It has been recommended that an additional teacher be added to this department in order that shop areas may be utilized all day. Course offerings would be enlarged in the mechanics program for 10th, 11th and 12th grades, plus adult classes and continued enlargement of courses in power mechanics and electronics. It was recommended that advanced courses be offered in drafting. Enlargement of the mechanics program would provide badly needed vocational courses for those students not planning further education beyond high school, plus providing a background for students desiring college training in courses of mathematics and engineering. The program would also reduce overcrowding in other areas as well as reducing the number in study halls.

Reasner said the above recommendations were only part of the report to be presented soon to the board of education for its study.
 "Board of education members have had an active part in this study and I believe they have shown just as much enthusiasm as the teachers over possible improvement of our teaching program," said Reasner.

Harbor

tax collected by Michigan goes to the waterways commission.
 Report of the engineers said that Tawas Bay is well situated for a recreational boat harbor. The reporting officers determined that improvements here are economically justified in the interest of serving needs for recreational boating for locally-based and visiting craft. Additional benefits would also accrue as a result of recreational fishing at the proposed harbor structure.
 The harbor would be improved by building a breakwater having four interconnected sections with an aggregate length of 1,750 feet, extending southerly and easterly into the bay from the existing state pier, with facilities for recreational fishing from the breakwater. There would be depths of 12 feet in the entrance and 10 feet in the anchorage area.
 Included in the estimated cost of $924,000 for construction was an amount of $2,000 to be expended annually for maintenance, both exclusive of aids to navigation.
 Estimated cost to the federal government would be $462,000, plus the $2,000 tab for annual maintenance. The other 50 percent of the total cost would be paid by the state. Final apportionment would be made after actual costs are determined.

Would Remove AuGres Bridge

Arenac County Circuit Court will hear a petition from eight AuGres citizens to remove the Michigan Avenue bridge in order to make way for a state-financed marina south of the US-23 bridge. Several persons have petitioned for a vote of the people to decide the matter, under discussion for several months.

No other site was available within the city limits for the proposed marina. Unless the bridge is removed, state financing would probably not be forthcoming. The city is prohibited from financing its share of the construction outside of the city limits.

Forest Chats

By LOREN WOERPEL
 District Ranger

Last summer's drought not only made the forest susceptible to destructive forest fires but it also fostered a build-up of damaging insects.

Prolonged lack of moisture means that each tree is making food slower, growing slower and is generally weaker. Like us, when forced to live in a hostile environment, we are a little weaker and our system has a hard time fighting off sickness.

In our area, two insects seem to cause most of the damage.

The jack pine budworm, which eats jack pine and some red pine needles, was a problem, as it has been periodically for about six years. You may have noticed that the jack pine along the Monument Road or up near Oscoda turned brown looking about mid-summer. If you had looked close, you would have noticed that the needles and the brown flowers on the end of the branchlets.

When the needles are eaten off, the tree loses much of its food-making ability. When you have a drought, too, the trees get very weak. This year, it appears that many jack pine in the heaviest infested areas could not survive both the loss of needles and lack of moisture.

The other insect causing problems last summer was an unusual one. Called the Ips Beetle or Pine Bark Beetle, it burrows underneath the bark of red and jack pine, finally eating up all of the fibers that carry foods up and down the tree. When this happens, the tree dies. A give away that the insect is in the trees is a mass of little holes in the bark about as big around as a pencil point. The insects make these holes entering and leaving the tree. You will find these holes all over the trunk of the tree.

Usually, this tiny insect contents itself with fresh cut wood, tops from harvested trees and an occasional dying tree but because of the drought they were able to burrow into living trees and do their damage. Normally, a healthy tree can exude enough pitch and drown the beetle out of its hole. This summer they could not.

As a result, you may have noticed groups of red pine trees throughout the northern part of the county that suddenly turned red-brown late in the summer. A number of people had this happen to their trees and called us about them. We estimate that we lost up to 200 cords of commercial red pine because of the beetle.

If next summer provides the normal amount of moisture, this beetle should subside to its usual level and will not cause the damage we saw last summer.

Interestingly enough, while timber loses from fires were held very low, these two insects caused thousands of dollars of damage last summer on the Tawas District.

Need printing supplies for this spring? Why not order now, save precious minutes of your time later when you have so many things to do.

Hints Offered by SS on Filing Medical Claims

The Bay City Social Security Office has offered some helpful hints to persons filing medicare "doctor bill" claims:

1. Make sure your name and claim number are shown on the "Request for Payment" form exactly as they appear on your health insurance card.
2. Fill in the answers to the four questions in part one.
3. Sign and date the form.
4. Write your claim number on each of the bills you attach to the claims form.
5. Be sure the bills contain the necessary information as listed on the back of the request for payment form.
6. Mail the claim to the proper claims office as shown on pages 23, 24 or 25 of your green "Medicare Handbook."

Following these steps will result in faster processing of your claim. If you are filing a claim for the first time, a visit to the social security office to review the claim before mailing is suggested. Anyone needing assistance in completing the form is invited to call at the social security office at 1009 North Madison. The hours are Mondays, 8:45 a. m. to 7:45 p. m., and Tuesday through Friday, 8:45 a. m. to 4:45 p. m. (Added hint: Many find they can review their claims over the telephone. The number to call is TW 3-9579.)

A social security representative for this area will be at Tawas City in the Iosco County Building Thursday, March 23, from 10:30 a. m. to 2:30 p. m.

"From Chateau Thierry . . . to the Mekong Delta" is the theme for the American Legion's observance of its 48th anniversary March 15-17. The phrase is symbolic of the span of Legion membership which includes war veterans of four major conflicts. Currently swelling the Legion's ranks in growing numbers is the new generation of war veterans of the Vietnam struggle. A staunch supporter of United States government policy in Vietnam, The American Legion opened up eligibility to Vietnam veterans at its national convention last year in Washington, D. C.

Gov. George Romney is expected to issue a proclamation momentarily naming March 12-18 as "American Legion Birthday Week."

New Mental Health Clinic

A new all-purpose mental health clinic opened its doors last Wednesday to residents of a seven-county area in Northeastern Michigan.

Known as the Alpena Community Mental Health Center, it replaces the Northeast Michigan Child Guidance Clinic. It will provide a comprehensive mental health program, including inpatient care through an agreement with an Alpena hospital.

Among members of the board of directors are Iosco Supervisors L. S. Little, Grant Township, and Charles Smith, Oscoda Township.

No matter what price car you are planning to buy, you owe it to yourself to consider Cadillac. First, there is the great new 1967 Cadillac. Noticeably more agile in its handling, smoother and quieter in its operation, more luxurious in its appointments . . . it is by far the finest Cadillac in history. However, if a new Cadillac is presently not feasible, your authorized dealer now has a wide selection of previously owned Cadillacs at just about any price you wish to pay. And that price will buy more luxury, distinction and motoring pleasure than a similarly priced car of lesser stature. For example, both the 1965 and 1964 models shown provide you with a big 340-horsepower V-8 engine . . . Turbo Hydra-Matic transmission . . . power brakes and steering . . . cornering lights . . . and many other conveniences. So when you think of your next car—think of Cadillac. New or previously owned, in whatever price range you choose, Cadillac is sure to reward you with unsurpassed motoring enjoyment.

Ideas For Easy Housekeeping—
Some ideas for easy housekeeping are so obvious we often overlook them.

Provide storage near the entrance for outdoor clothing and boots.

Keep walks, steps and porches clean and provide door mats and foot scrapers.

Reduce the number of decorative articles that you must handle, dust and clean.

Close off any rooms you do not use.

Plan storage for the personal belongings of each member of the family. Ila Katterman of Hale uses an antique desk in her breezeway where the children keep school books and mitts during the school year. Where do your children drop their school supplies?

Locate your cleaning supplies in one area so they are easy to get and as centrally located to all the house as possible.

Plan the job of weekly or daily cleaning by listing all the details as you now do the job. Question each step, perhaps work out a better way and try it.

Make the best use of your body. I have learned that each part of the body weighs more than I had thought. Save energy by moving each part as little as possible.

Use leg muscles instead of back muscles (if picking up objects from the floor, bend your knees instead of bending at the waist).

Wear comfortable and suitable clothes. Shoes should be comfortable and give support.

Finally, rest before you get tired. Rest five-10 minutes every hour, if possible.

Avoid Kitchen Accidents

Falls, cuts, burns, shocks in the kitchen—careful planning and good work habits help avoid such accidents.

Avoid falls from slipping by wiping up all fat splatters and spills immediately. Put only a thin coat of wax on kitchen floors so that it will dry thoroughly. Waxes needing polishing, should be buffed well.

Use a sturdy stool to reach high objects. Do not use that rickety one or the handiest chair. They could collapse under you. Often rickety stools need only to have screws and bolts tightened.

Prevent burns by keeping lifting tongs close to the cooking center. Well padded mitts are good pot lifters and should be kept close to the oven. Turn utensil handles and tea kettle spouts toward the back of the stove. Keep them away from all traffic lanes where upsets might occur. Tighten all utensil handles regularly; loose handles cause burns.

Store sharp knives separately. Perhaps a divider in a drawer with slashes cut into it. Lay the cutting edge in the slash.

Check electrical cords, plugs and outlets regularly. Replace bare or frayed wires or faulty fixtures.

Allow yourself plenty of time to do each task. Too much haste makes people more accident prone.

Lincoln Man Acquitted by Jury on Negligent Homicide Charge

An Iosco Circuit Court jury acquitted Nelson N. Schlicker, 27, Lincoln, on a charge of negligent homicide last Wednesday.

Deliberating for about one hour, the jury returned its not guilty verdict at 4:30 p. m.

Schlicker was driver of a car which was involved in a collision July 18 at Fifth Avenue and First Street, Tawas City, which resulted in the death of William A. Smith Jr., 16, East Tawas.

Smith was traveling south on Fifth Avenue and Schlicker was headed west on First Street. On impact, Smith was thrown from his rented motorbike and his head struck the pavement. He died two days later.

Schlicker's attorney contended that branches of a tree growing along First Street some 90 feet from the intersection obscured the driver's view of a stop sign.

A $360,000 damage suit over this crash is pending a jury trial in Iosco Circuit Court.

William A. Smith Sr., father of the boy, named Schlicker, the City of Tawas City, John Gutek and Gary Young of Suzuki Rental Systems, Incorporated, as defendants.

By reason of the boy's death, his family asks damages of $300,000 for being deprived of the love, affection, companionship, society, comfort, support and maintenance which they would have received from the boy; also, $60,000 for his suffering and pain while in the hospital.

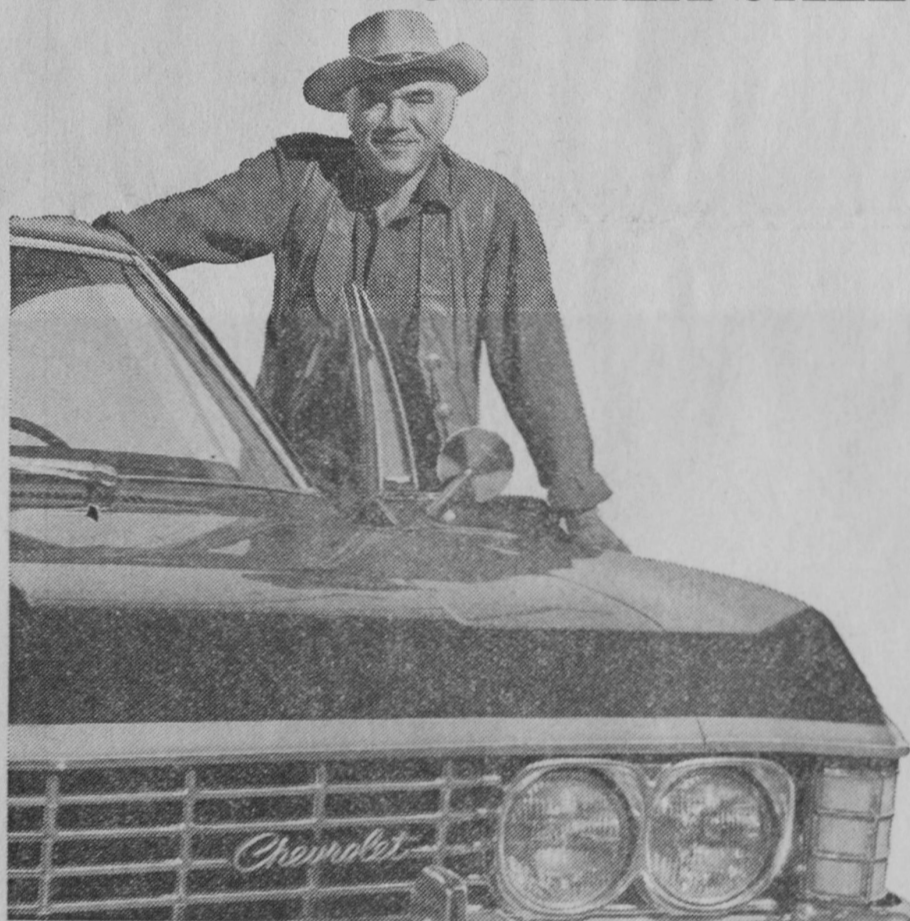

To comfort you in your bereavement. We strive to lighten the burden for the bereaved in every way possible . . . through beautiful surroundings that bring tranquility.

100 New Box Cars Received By Railroad

15 Years Ago—

March 21, 1952—Detroit and Mackinac Railway Company received delivery last week on 100 new steel box cars. Costing over $800,000, the 100 new 50-ton capacity cars boosted the D&M ownership of revenue freight cars to 380, 5½ times above the 1946 total. The new cars will aid the road to serve new industries which it is attempting to woo into the region through its industrial department that works closely with the newly-organized Northeastern Michigan Industrial Council.

An emergency meeting of the Michigan State Waterways Commission will be at East Tawas next week to discuss serious shoreline erosion problems which will hit the area next summer. Members of the commission have forecast that the coming summer will witness the highest recorded levels ever experienced in the Great Lakes region. It is anticipated that over a billion dollars of damage will be done to public and private property.

Theron Partlo was elected temporary secretary and the Rev. Wesley Dafoe as temporary chairman of the newly-organized Whittemore Chamber of Commerce.

The National City-Whittemore Road is closed because the county is making a large fill in the road near National City.

By sending the administration-backed universal military training bill back to committee, the house virtually wiped out any change of the measure getting through congress this year. The measure would have made able bodied youths liable to six months military training as soon as they reached 18. In addition, it would have kept them in the reserves and subject to recall for 7½ years after their training was finished.

25 Years Ago—

Attending from here were Sheriff John Moran; Harry Kollin, deputy sheriff; George Myles, Tawas City police chief; Arthur Dillon, East Tawas police chief; Donald Hoadley, Michigan State Police, East Tawas.

Mrs. Byron Brooks of Tawas City was appointed to make a survey of used and junk cars in Iscoco County. This will be part of a state-wide survey which will be made to facilitate the movement of used metal to war production.

East Tawas High School basketball team under Coach Nichols won the class D regional tournament at Mt. Pleasant last week, defeating St. Michael of Pinconning in the final, 15-14.

road commission reports that under the new state law, funds have only been provided for maintaining township roads taken over by the county. Funds provided come from the state gas tax, which is to replace the township property tax that townships now spend on maintenance. There will be no money available from this fund for traveling any of the roads taken over this year.

Entry list for the Tawas Auction Bridge Tournament will close March 26. Entries may be made in East Tawas with Carl Siglin at the post office and in Tawas City with H. J. Keiser. James Ruckman is chairman and Robert McKay is referee. The tournament will be conducted on a match play elimination basis.

Sheriff Charles Miller captured a Plainfield Township moonshiner Wednesday, who was arraigned before Justice of the Peace W. C. Davidson and is to be tried in circuit court. He was charged with possession and selling of moonshine.

Walter Whitehouse and Elwood Bronson attended the auto show at Bay City Tuesday.

There were 148 votes cast in Sherman Township's caucus Monday afternoon. 'Wearing of the Green' Marked by Sr. Citizens

Tawas Area Senior Citizens celebrated St. Patrick's Day at the March 8 meeting which was staged at the East Tawas Community Building. Table decorations were carried out with green shamrocks and white candles. Eighty-six members and guests, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Coy of Tawas Lake, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Decker, Mrs. Emma LaLonde and Franklin Emery of Sand Lake, attended the affair.

It was decided to hold a movie and discussion on Medicare March 29, 1:00 p. m., at the community building. No admission will be charged and anyone interested is invited to attend.

The next meeting date was set for March 22 and all ladies are requested to wear their Easter bonnets. An Easter parade is planned. Plans are in progress for an Easter dinner to be held during the first week in April.

Anyone 50 years of age or older is invited to join the senior citizens group.

National Wildlife Week is Observed

Soil conservation districts in Michigan, the United States Soil Conservation Service and other agencies assisting them are joining other organizations in the observance of National Wildlife Week, March 19-25. Theme for this year's promotion is "This is Your Land."

"Every citizen is part-owner in local, county, state and federal lands, and should be interested in their conservation use and treatment," said Verne M. Bathurst, state conservationist of the Soil Conservation Service. This year's National Wildlife Week program is designed to call the citizen's attention to the benefits from the development of these tax-free lands.

"As the demand for space for recreation, hunting and other activities continues to grow, we must plan carefully for the conservation management of our lands, both public and private, to meet these needs," said Harry Krueger, chairman of the Iosco Soil Conservation District. Nearly one-fourth of the land in the United States is publicly owned.

Soil conservation service technicians assisting the Iosco County Soil Conservation District have helped Tawas and Whittmore-Preseott schools in making better use of their school grounds. Help is also available to county, township or towns in developing areas which would include wildlife and recreation benefits, according to Jack Lake, work unit conservationist assisting the Iosco County Soil Conservation District.

The 1967 National Wildlife Week observance in Michigan is being sponsored by the Michigan United Conservation Clubs and is under the direction of James L. Goudreau, chairman.

Window Treatment Ideas Discussed

"New Ideas For Window Treatments" was the lesson given by Mrs. Jack Lake at an extension study group meeting Tuesday, March 7. Mrs. Lake discussed "Types of Windows," which are classified according to the ways they operate to allow for passage of air into a room. Methods of treatment for these types were shown on posters. Pamphlets were given to each member for closer study. The Pin Cushion Fabric Shop provided fabric samples for examination.

The group members decided on "Thinkers and Doers" for their name.

April 4, the meeting will be held at the East Tawas home of Mrs. Loren Woerpel, 690 Woodlawn Avenue. Mrs. Stuart Bailey will be co-hostess. Furniture styles and selection will be presented.

Music and English Depts. to Present P-TA Program

The music department will present four ensemble instrumental groups from the district winners while the English department will present the forensic winners.

This is an excellent opportunity to see and hear the talents of young people at Tawas Area High School.
