

Rollin New TC Mayor; St. James is Alderman

Second Ward Ald. Russell A. Rollin Sr., long-time Iosco County superintendent of schools, was named Monday night as Tawas City's new mayor.

Rollin, appointed without opposition by the city council, succeeds George Tuttle, who announced his retirement at the last meeting to accept a promotion with Michigan Consolidated Gas Company.

In addition to appointing a new mayor, the council accepted his recommendation of naming John St. James as the new Second Ward alderman to fill Rollin's unexpired two-year term.

Following administration of the oath of office by City Atty. Alf C. Watson, Rollin said that the job of operating a city was not just the mayor's responsibility—"It is the entire council's job." He asked that he be kept informed of any problems that might arise and requested assistance from all city officials in his endeavor to fill out the unexpired term in the mayor's chair.

Rollin was elected in 1939 as Iosco County school commissioner and served in that capacity for 23 years, retiring in 1962.

St. James, who takes his seat on the council May 15, has served on the Tawas City Planning Commission. A successor is to be recommended by the commission.

Rollin will officially represent the city May 22 during the Michigan Week exchange of mayors with DeWitt.

IHM Proposes Land Switch

Discussion on a possible exchange of property between Immaculate Heart of Mary Church and the City of Tawas City is to take place in the near future.

In a letter to the council Monday night, representatives of the church board asked that the council consider exchanging city property on the north side of the railroad tracks near IHM School for church-owned property on Ninth Avenue, formerly owned by the Grise family.

The matter was turned over to the council's building and grounds committee for study.

The department of public works was authorized to install marking flags in the channel at Tawas River mouth. This action came on recommendation of Ald. Howard Hatton, who reported that use of a power boat had been donated by Robert N. Rollin.

City Supt. Reginald Bublitz and Ald. Cecil Cabbie have been appointed as a committee for the observance of Michigan Week.

Attending the May 18 meeting of the Michigan Municipal League at Mackinac City will be Mayor Rollin, Clerk Walter Nelson and Bublitz.

Building applications approved during the past two weeks include: Walter Zaleski, 1005 Bay Drive, replace three windows and install new siding, $500; David L. Blair, 205 Third Avenue, new roof, $220; First Baptist Church, 405 Second Avenue, replace shingles on church and parsonage, $1,200.

Investigate B&E of Radiator Shop

East Tawas Police Department investigated a breaking and entering April 25 at the East Tawas Radiator Service, 1320 East U.S. 23, owned by Frank Kubiac. A window had been broken out of the front door. Five or six dollars in cash, plus several cigarette lighters, were stolen.

Second Major Loss in 1 1/2 Years—

Burglars Get $37,275 at Whittemore Bank

Burglars escaped with $37,275.18 in loot after cleaning out a safe at the Whittemore Branch of Farmers and Merchants State Bank sometime last Thursday night or early Friday morning.

This was the figure reported Friday afternoon by Arnold Beyrelein, bank vice president, Rose City, and Mrs. Irene Jordan, assistant cashier and branch manager, after an audit was conducted at the bank.

State police fingerprint and crime laboratory personnel from Lansing, along with state police from East Tawas and the Iosco Sheriff's Department, were joined in the investigation Friday by the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

No new leads were reported this week in the case and it is not known how many persons were involved in the entry, although it is believed to be the work of more than one.

Iosco Sheriff's Department was called to Whittemore early Friday morning to investigate a breaking and entering at the Graham Oil Company service station. A forced entry has been made and two tanks for acetylene welding equipment had been stolen.

Minutes later, Mrs. Jordan opened the bank office and discovered the burglary. She said that the room was still filled with smoke from cutting torches used by the burglars.

Entry was made into the bank building by removing a storm window on the south side of the building. The window was then pried open, breaking a lock.

The burglars cut their way into a six-foot safe after knocking off the combination dial lock. Doors on the safe were opened and a smaller safe, measuring 14 inches wide by 16 inches long and 14 inches deep, was cracked.

The burglars cut a hole in the top of the safe and then reached in to remove the cash.

Police said that bills were in denominations from $1 to $20. Bank authorities said it was the largest amount of cash on hand at the branch office in six months.

During investigation Friday, police learned that a neighbor's dog had barked between 1:30 and 3:30 a. m. There was no burglar alarm at the bank and the thieves apparently were not disturbed during their work.

One source estimated that it would have required approximately 45 minutes for the burglars to cut their way into the safe, but it is believed that a much longer time was required to remove the money from the smaller safe.

On entering the building Friday morning, Mrs. Jordan found the bank office floor scattered with papers removed from the safe. The burglars had also left the two tanks stolen from Graham Oil Company.

This is the second large loss the branch has sustained in slightly more than 1 1/2 years. On October 6, 1965, a lone gunman walked in to the bank just before closing time and took more than $7,500 in cash.

The bandit was later captured during another bank robbery and sentenced to prison.

Things Happen During Meeting

Mrs. Irene Jordan, assistant cashier and branch manager of the Whittemore office of Farmers and Merchants State Bank, said Friday morning that history may have repeated itself when presidents of area women's clubs held a district meeting Thursday night at Whittemore.

On October 6, 1965, a gunman walked into the Whittemore branch office and walked out with more than $7,500 in cash. That same afternoon, Whittemore had been host to the District Federated Women's Clubs and Mrs. Jordan had attended the meeting while the robbery was in progress.

To add to the coincidence, Mrs. Jordan said she had mentioned to several ladies Thursday night that the last time district officers were here the bank was robbed. Burglars may have been in the bank office while these words were being spoken, as the exact time of the entry is not known.

THIS WAS THE WAY the bank office looked Friday morning after burglars cut their way into the large safe at center. It contained a smaller safe which held $37,275.18. The burglars took the money and left the mess on the floor.—Tawas Herald Photo.

City Police Departments Plan Tawas Youth Safety Program

A safety program to be conducted in public and parochial schools of the Tawas was announced this week by Police Chief George Westcott of Tawas City and Police Chief Donald Docking of East Tawas.

Sponsored by area businesses, the Tawas City Council Monday night authorized an expenditure of $52 as its share of the project. Westcott told councilmen that a number of different safety manuals, posters and pamphlets had been ordered and were to be distributed in grades kindergarten through nine in the schools.

Materials cover such subjects as pedestrian safety, safeguards against child molestation, narcotics and school bus safety.

Sewer Costs Go Up ET Accepts Low Bid on Plant; Rejects Others

East Tawas Council has accepted the low bid on constructing a new sewage treatment plant and rejected all bids on constructing sanitary sewer mains.

As the result of council action Monday night, a contract was authorized for Hill and Thomas Contractors, Lansing, whose $320,050 bid was low at the April 17 opening.

In rejecting bids for construction of sewer mains, the council noted that proposed costs were approximately $110,000 higher than engineering estimates.

Spicer Engineering Company of Saginaw has been asked to make some revisions in specifications in order to reduce the cost. The project would then be submitted for new construction bids.

It was reported at Monday night's meeting that one contractor had stated his bid would be $60,000 lower should certain minor revisions be made.

Submitting the low bid on sanitary sewer construction had been Fraser Brothers, St. Charles, $541,452.

Julius Hanslovsky, Lansing, the city's financial consultant, was authorized to make application to the water resources commission for additional financial aid in the project.

East Tawas received a federal grant of $120,000 for this project and voters approved a $300,000 general obligation bond issue. Remaining cost of the project would be borne by a revenue bond issue.

The council also authorized Hanslovsky to file for another federal grant on or before May 15, in case the city would be eligible for funds during the new fiscal year.

In other business, purchase of a pickup truck from Ottawa Equipment Company, low bidder, was approved by the council. The action had been recommended by the board of public works.

East Tawas Volunteer Fire Department named William Look Jr. as chief; Joseph Badalucco, assistant chief; Robert Marx, secretary-treasurer.

Supt. of Public Works Paul Roper reported that state health department representatives were to meet in the very near future with representatives of East Tawas, Tawas City and adjoining townships to discuss a plan of operation for a proposed new sanitary disposal area.

Mayor James Campbell recommended that a committee be appointed to study adoption of a new city charter. He also asked

Watson Says His Client Waives Exam.

Alf C. Watson, defense counsel for Jonathan L. Putnam, said Monday he intends to waive the usual preliminary examination in favor of a petition to Iosco Circuit Court for the examination of Putnam by qualified psychiatrists.

A justice court examination, postponed two weeks, had been scheduled for Friday morning before Justice of the Peace Harry Rapson.

Putnam is being held without bond at the Iosco County Jail on a charge of first degree murder. He is accused of the April 14 strangulation-killing of Mrs. Viola Stern, 32, 993 Plank Road.

The accused had voluntarily appeared at the Pontiac State Police Post on April 14, reportedly stating that he had stabbed a woman to death near Tawas. The victim's body was discovered in a ditch about eight miles west of US-23 on Townline Road and later identified as that of Mrs. Stern.

Appointed by the court to represent Putnam, Watson had demanded examination April 14 when his client was arraigned in justice court.

Watson said he had decided on this course of action following the interview of numerous persons.

Inspection of New Equipment Invited—

Tawas Hospital Awaits Your Visit During Hospital Week Observance

"Your hospital—city of care" is theme for the observance of National Hospital Week, May 7-13.

A week-long open house observance is being planned at Tawas Hospital to mark the event, according to Sister Rose Helene, SSI, hospital administrator.

"We extend a sincere invitation to all residents of the area to visit this medical facility during Hospital Week. During the past year, $25,000 has been expended in capital outlay for the purchase of new equipment and we would like to show visitors the extent of this modernization."

Included in the purchase has been an NCR bookkeeping machine, costing $12,192; a fluoricon compact image intensifier in the X-ray department, costing $8,000; plus purchase of a number of smaller items.

A program planned by the personnel advisory committee includes an employee awards day Tuesday, May 9; flower day for patients on May 10, each patient to receive a flower from the Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary; a public open house on Thursday, at which time punch and cookies are to be served in the afternoon; school activity day Friday, at which time all schools of the county have been invited to send students who are interested in hospital careers.

The past year has seen numerous improvements incorporated into the daily operating schedule of various departments at Tawas Hospital.

During the year, the hospital administered to the needs of 2,410 emergency patients, 95 major surgery patients, 299 minor surgery patients, 231 pediatric patients. There were 288 babies born at the hospital. Total patient days numbered 13,085.

The hospital served 46,293 meals, processed 169,822 pounds of laundry, made 25,830 laboratory tests and had 3,225 X-ray examinations.

The hospital used 51,125 gallons of fuel oil, 3,222,200 gallons of water and 254,240 kilowatt hours of electricity.

"These facts and figures only demonstrate the tremendous amount of labor and material which go toward operation of a hospital," said Sister Rose Helene.

She said, however, that the patient is the most important person at Tawas Hospital and that "here, everyone serves a common purpose—quality patient care."

"On behalf of the Sisters of St. Joseph of Nazareth, I would like to thank the advisory board, medical staff, auxiliary, employees, grey ladies, candy strippers and our many friends and benefactors for whatever you have done and are doing to help us and our patients," said Sister Rose Helene.

"Your loyalty and assistance has a definite effect on us. Without your support, we could never have come as far as we are today, nor have the desire or hope to begin the new endeavors that continue to unfold before us as progress is made."

Tawas Hospital was first opened to the public in 1953 and one of its first acts was to administer to the needs of victims of a tornado which struck the area.

Tawas Senior Band Wins First Division Award at State Festival

Both Tawas Area Cadet and Senior Bands participated in state festivals sponsored by the Michigan School Band and Orchestra Association. The cadet band played at Mt. Pleasant April 22 and received a III rating. The senior band performed at Ferndale April 29 and was awarded a first division rating on its performance.

This marks the second appearance of the cadet band at a state festival in the past three years, although it was qualified to attend each time. The band played well but showed a definite lack of experience in participation at state festivals, said Gene Salamony, director.

Adjudicators at the junior high festival were Keith Stein of Michigan State University; Daniel Kovats, Grand Valley State College; Leonard Falcone, Michigan State University, and William Root, Grand Rapids Junior College.

Some of their comments were "Congratulations on fine job with an unusually large organization . . ." "Good display of close ensemble playing." "Fundamentals of playing are in order and being employed with good musical taste."

The cadet band received two II and two III ratings for a final rating of III. Out of a total of 516 junior high school bands and orchestras, only 130 participated in the state festivals.

The senior band was awarded two first and two second ratings for a final I rating. Adjudicators at the Ferndale site were Nelson Hauenstein, University of Michigan; Clifford Lillya, University of Michigan; John Farinacci, music coordinator, Cleveland Heights, and Maurice Riley, Eastern Michigan University.

Their comments included: "A fine exhibition of technical excellence." "The band shows many signs of fine musicianship with quite a bit of technique." "It is a real pleasure to see and hear a band with such excellent instrumentation and a group that is so spirited and enthusiastic. This is obviously a well-trained group that has had the advantage of excellent teaching." This is the third time in the last four years the band has received a I rating at state level. Both bands will present a spring concert at Tawas Area High School May 20.

Leslie of Essexville scattered six hits to the Braves and struck out seven batters. Passed balls and errors helped to defeat the visitors.

Except for an eight-run fourth inning, the two teams played on even terms.

Tawas Area Junior varsity defeated the Oscoda JV, 3-0, in action Thursday. Steve Crisenbery pitched a one-hitter. Mike Glancy led his mates with two hits in four times at bat.

NEM Baseball Season Opens This Sunday

Northeastern Michigan Baseball League will open its 51st season May 7 with 18 clubs enrolled.

Only Hale of last year's group failed to come through with a team for the 1967 season at last Thursday evening's meeting at Standish. It asked for a year's leave of absence because of a lack of players, hoping to be able to gather more for 1968.

In last Thursday's meeting, a Northern, Central and Southern Division were created to care for the 18 clubs. In the Northern Division will be Barton City, Mio, East Tawas, Mikado, Tawas City and Roscommon.

The Central Division will consist of Au Gres, Melita, Prescott, Meredith, Pinconning and Worth. The Southern area will be made up of clubs from Bentlev, Crump, Standish, Pine River, Mt. Forest and Auburn.

Pinconning, Mio and Auburn are new teams in the league since the 1966 season closed.

The schedule for the Northern Division for Sunday, May 7, is as follows:

Tawas City at Mikado, Mio at East Tawas and Barton City at Roscommon.

TODAY'S TEEN is William Deckett, a junior at Tawas Area High School. His subjects this year include United States History, English III, trigonometry, chemistry. He plays a cornet in the senior band. He is president of the Key Club, a member of the Future Teachers Club and Varsity Club. Track and cross-country are his favorite sports and he enjoys water and snow skiing, along with scuba diving. He plans a career as a teacher. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Deckett.—Tawas Herald Photo.

Doctors Seek Birth Defects' Cause In Research At WSU

DETROIT—Prenatal disease menaces to the unborn baby are being examined at Wayne State University in the most systematic and long-term study of birth defects and their causes ever undertaken.

In progress since 1959 but not announced until this year, the research follows a method called "paired sera," in which blood serum samples are taken from the mother early in pregnancy and again after delivery.

Through these samples, the doctors can learn what virus diseases, if any, mothers have suffered before and during pregnancy. Then they group the results from many mothers statistically and relate them to birth defects in their newborns.

Causal relationships between mothers' virus ailments and birth defects appear to be striking, and the researchers plan to continue their work indefinitely.

Stored in frozen state in Wayne laboratories, the thousands of serum samples may be examined again and again as the doctors seek to match different defects with different virus diseases.

The researchers are Dr. Tommy N. Evans, chairman of Obstetrics and Gynecology at Wayne State University, and Dr. Gordon C. Brown, professor of Epidemiology at the University of Michigan.

One of the clearest indications to date is a relationship between congenital heart defects in the baby and the infection of the mother during the first three months of pregnancy by a family of viruses known as "Coxsackie B."

There is twice the normal risk that the baby will have a damaged heart if this virus ailment was suffered by the mother, the research shows. The mother's symptoms may be non-existent or only slight, and the determination of whether or not she was infected is made by comparing the composition of her blood in early pregnancy and after delivery.

Laboratory Technician Karen Wardlaw puts samples of whole blood into a centrifuge which separates out the serum.

The only other virus shown to be a major cause of birth defects is German measles, incriminated at an earlier date. The relationship between this disease in mothers during early pregnancy and the appearance of mental deficiency or other defects in her child was established at the time of an epidemic in 1941.

"We are now searching for viruses that may cause some of the less common defects, such as water on the brain or malformation of the spinal column," says Dr. Evans.

"But if we're going to incriminate a virus as causing these less common defects, we need huge numbers of samples."

The doctors are continuing their research with the samples from 10,000 mothers which they now have while bringing thousands more samples into the study.

Army Engineers Report on Proposed Improvements to Tawas Bay Harbor

The Board of Engineers for Rivers and Harbors has considered the interim report of the district engineer, United States Army Engineer District, Detroit, and the division engineer, United States Army Engineer Division, North Central, Chicago, Illinois, for improvement of Tawas Bay Harbor.

The Board of Engineers for Rivers and Harbors concurs in general in the views and recommendations of the reporting officers. The board notes that a definite need exists for parking facilities to accommodate breakwater fishermen at Tawas Bay harbor and that federal participation in the cost of such facilities would be appropriate.

The provision for additional parking facilities assigned to recreational fishing would increase the project first cost $7,000, which would be shared equally by federal and nonfederal interests. This revision to the plan of improvement would increase the federal first cost to $469,100 and the nonfederal first cost to $465,500. Maintenance of the parking facility would be provided by the local interests and is considered to be self-liquidating.

Consequently, total project cost would be $934,600, and the benefit-cost ratio would remain as shown in the report. The board notes that there has been a decrease in the average size of the vessels comprising the fleet on Lake Huron, resulting in a need for small boat harbors spaced at closer intervals. The proposed improvements are needed and economically justified and the requirements of local cooperation, as modified by the board, are appropriate.

Accordingly, the board recommends the improvement of Tawas Bay harbor to provide for a breakwater having four interconnected sections with an aggregate length of 1,750 feet, extending southerly and easterly into Tawas Bay from the existing state pier, with facilities for recreational fishing from the breakwater; and with depths of 12 feet in the entrance and 10 feet in the anchorage area; generally in accordance with the plan of the district engineer and with such modifications thereof as in the discretion of the chief of engineers may be advisable; all at an estimated cost of $931,000 for construction and $2,000 annually for maintenance, both exclusive of aids to navigation; Provided that prior to construction, local interests agree to:

a. Contribute in cash 50 percent of that portion of the first cost of federal construction allocated to recreational navigation, exclusive of aids to navigation, a contribution presently estimated at $462,000, less 50 percent of that portion of the first cost of parking facilities associated with breakwater fishing to be provided locally, the amount involved currently being estimated at $3,500, the estimated net contribution of $458,500 to be paid in a lump sum prior to initiation of construction, or in installments over the construction period at a rate proportionate to the proposed or scheduled expenditure of federal funds as required by the chief of engineers, the final apportionment of cost to be made after actual costs have been determined;

b. Provide without cost to the United States all lands, easements and rights-of-way required for construction and subsequent maintenance of the project and for aids to navigation upon the request of the chief of engineers, including suitable areas determined by the chief of engineers to be required in the general public interest for initial and subsequent disposal of spoil and any necessary retaining dikes, bulkheads and embankments therefor, or the cost of such retaining works;

c. Hold and save the United States free from all claims for damages incident to the construction, operation and maintenance of the improvement;

d. Establish a competent and properly constituted public body empowered to regulate the use, growth and development of the harbor and related facilities with the understanding that said facilities will be open to all on equal terms;

e. Provide and maintain without cost to the United States necessary mooring facilities and service area, including a public landing with suitable provisions for the sale of motor fuel, lubricants and potable water, sanitary facilities, a launching ramp, reservation of space for transient craft, parking areas and access roads, open to all on equal terms; the dredging of berthing areas to be commensurate with the depth of the federal channel improvements, and in addition maintain the existing state pier;

f. Establish regulations prohibiting discharge of untreated sewage, garbage and other pollutants in the waters of the harbor by users thereof, which regulations shall be in accordance with applicable laws or regulations of federal, state and local authorities responsible for pollution prevention and control; and

g. Bear all costs of maintenance, operation and replacement of access facilities, parking areas and sanitary facilities for recreational fishing.

Provided that the improvement for navigation may be undertaken independently of the public recreational facilities for breakwater fishing whenever the required local cooperation for navigation has been furnished.

STAN FESSLER, 16, Caro, landed this nice 23-inch-long steelhead trout Saturday morning on the East Branch of the AuGres River. It weighed 3½ pounds. Good success was reported in the East Branch for the annual opener.—Tawas Herald Photo.

Here's how our special limited-time-only offer works. If you're heating with oil now, we'll buy what's left in your storage tank and pay you what it cost you originally. And pay you what it cost originally.

Whether you convert your present furnace or install a new Gas furnace, we'll pay for it and its installation by a Gas Company approved heating contractor. It won't cost you a penny until next November. If you pay for the unit and its installation by November 1, 1967, there'll be no carrying charge. Or, you can make equal monthly payments, including carrying charges, on your Gas bill over a period of up to three years starting November 1, 1967. Either way, there's no carrying charge until November. You don't need to make any payments except for the Gas you use. Take advantage of this special limited-time offer. ### Editorial—

A thankless job

Iosco Allocation Board will soon have another thankless job. In a few weeks, the board reviews 1967-1968 budgets of schools, townships and the county and then will try to figure out ways and means to stretch 15 mills into more than 20.

Between now and then, allocation members will be subjected to "sweet talk" and pressure as representatives of various interests—schools and county—attempt to show justification for individual needs of tax money to meet rising operational budgets.

With full realization that the 15-mill limitation just will not allow them to meet all budgets, allocation board members will have to make their own decision as to the tax split. Someone is going to be disappointed in the end.

Since adoption of the 15-mill limitation, it seems that allocation time has been a signal to see just how high proposed operational budgets may go. While anyone in business knows that operational costs have skyrocketed, each "side" seems to be outbidding the other—and neither will receive full satisfaction in the end.

It might help the job of a tax allocation board if those who prepare budgets would be a little more realistic in their requests.

State fiscal reform does not seem to be in the offing and a state aid formula for schools probably will not be forthcoming until tax allocation time, but as we see it, local schools can forget about any provision of a local 11-mill participation to receive full benefit of state aid. Local government would be bankrupt if this were to happen. In all probability, the county's financial need may be met when new valuation figures are adopted, but any benefit will be two years away. It had been hoped that an interim appraisal schedule developed by the county equalization director would have helped next year, but a reluctance on the part of some assessors to follow recommendations and high loss of personal property nearly wiped out any gain.

The Herald believes it is long past time to stop the "back biting" between representatives of schools and the county—and we have witnessed this at various meetings. We believe each should try to understand the other's problems. After all, they are working for the best interests of the general public—and that includes both county government and schools on an equal footing.

TODAY'S Meditation

from The World's Most Widely Used Devotional Guide

Read John 14:1-13
He that hath seen me hath seen the Father. (John 14:9)

These words of Jesus may have been a source of inspiration to the disciples on the day of His ascension. They convey a legacy uniquely theirs but ours, also. In times of disappointment and sorrow, how we have longed for the answers to life's mysteries! We have sought beyond the visible for the certainty of God's care and love.

The words of our text from the lips of the Master reassure us that in Him God has revealed His love. The greatest work of Christ on earth was to reveal to man the heart of God. What no philosopher or probing scientist could ever do, Christ did. He revealed that God was interested in His crowning creation, man, and man's eternal destiny.

Whenever I read these words of Jesus, "He that hath seen me hath seen the Father," I find new strength and vigor for the tasks of life. He makes it plain that life is more than a trek from the cradle to the grave. Life is a pilgrimage.

PRAYER
Father, how grateful we are that Thou art ready to reveal Thyself through Christ! We yearn that all men would search for Him. May our moments of private devotions be blessed with a keen awareness of Thy presence and may we recognize Thee in Christ, in whose name we pray. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY
The questing soul knows God by finding Christ. Lansing B. Harmon Jr. (Virginia)

LETTERS to the EDITOR

April 29, 1967

The Editor
The Tawas Herald
Tawas City, Michigan
Dear Editor:

I clipped a news item from the Herald of April 26, 1967, and have sent it on to Mayor Cavanagh of Detroit. The news item was about the Tawas Area Senior Class being afraid to visit Detroit and Cobo Hall this year for their class trip. This is a very unfortunate situation which the mayor is doing everything that he can to correct.

The clipping has me wondering just where the senior class might have a safe trip. Even Tawas is not safe. It was just two or three weeks ago when the Herald covered so completely the brutal murder of the young woman in Tawas. I couldn't suggest a place where they would be safe. Can you?

We have lived in Detroit for over 50 years and are still most fond of our adopted town. It saddens me to have it criticized, but will you tell me what place is safe? May I suggest that the senior class communicate directly with Mayor Cavanaugh about their trip? From the Detroit papers, you have learned by now that something is being done to make Detroit safer.

Respectfully,
H. W. BABCOCK

M. Jerry Norwood, new administrator at Tawas Hospital

Name M. Jerry Norwood Administrator at Hospital

M. Jerry Norwood, 46, who retires this month after more than 25 years in the United States Air Force, has been appointed as the new administrator of Tawas Hospital.

This appointment effective June 1, was announced April 19 by Sister Verence, president of the hospital's board of trustees. Norwood replaces Sister Rose Helene, SSJ, who had served in that capacity for the past two years and 10 months. She leaves June 17 for a new assignment at Nasca, Peru, for a five-year term in public health work.

The new administrator spent 23½ years of his service career in hospital administration. After teaching at the aviation school of medicine for 8½ years at Randolph Air Force Base, Texas, he served as administrator at hospitals located at Goose Bay, Labrador, 1955-1959; Whiteland AFB, Missouri, 1959-1962; Westover AFB, Massachusetts, 1962-1965.

He has served as administrator at the 25-bed hospital at Wurtsmith Air Force Base for the past 27 months and has had charge of all enlisted personnel.

As a research specialist at the school of aviation medicine, Norwood received national recognition for development of a portable iron lung utilized in transporting polio patients from various parts of the world to hospitals in the United States. In recognition of this research and development of the portable iron lung, he was named the air force's outstanding noncommissioned officer in 1955, at the close of the project.

A native of Alabama, Norwood joined the army air corps in 1942, serving in aircraft engineering with the Eighth Air Force in England from late 1943 until the end of hostilities.

On his return from overseas in 1945, he transferred to the medical service and was trained at Maxwell Air Force Base, Alabama. He later transferred to the faculty of the school of aviation medicine at Randolph Field.

Norwood has supervised military and civilian personnel at various air force hospitals, the largest being at Maxwell Air Force Base, when it had a 500-bed unit. He had charge of a 90-bed unit at Westover.

He has planned disaster preparedness programs for many bases and was included in the group which was sent to the Texas City disaster of 1947.

In 1954, he accompanied the longest mercy flight in history—52 hours duration—when his portable iron lung was used in bringing a polio victim to the United States from Saudi Arabia.

He and his wife, Jane, are the parents of four children: Karen, 18, who graduates this year at Osceola Area High School; Randi, 15;

Lisa Beth, 10, and Gary, seven years of age. The Norwoods will move to the Tawas in June.

"I like Michigan very much and I hope to carry on in the same manner as past administrators of Tawas Hospital," said Norwood. "I look forward to the opportunity to serve this community and to work with hospital personnel here."

Active on many air force committees, commander's councils and president of the board of governors at NCO clubs at Wurtsmith and other bases, Norwood said he hoped to take an active part in local civic organizations.

Safeguard Tips are Offered by Police

With recent Michigan experience stressing the dangers of child molestation, Sgt. George Briggs of the East Tawas post of the Michigan State Police, in an annual reminder, advises parents and guardians to caution their youngsters against going for walks or rides with strangers.

A number of molesting cases already have been reported in the state this spring, one tragically involving a slaying.

State police records show that there are many hundreds of child ted each year and they are most frequent in the spring and summer months when youngsters are outdoors.

Sergeant Briggs said any incidents of molesting children or circumstances indicating possibility of this danger should be promptly reported to police for investigation. State police stress that reluctance to report offenses gives molesters the opportunity to continue their criminal activities. Names of minors and parents in molesting incidents are not made public unless abduction or murder is involved.

Sergeant Briggs offers these guidelines to parents:

Instruct youngsters to flatly reject any stranger's offer of candy, money or gifts as a lure to go for walks or rides.

Insist that youngsters be in company at all times with other children where there is no adult supervision. A child alone on a playground, exploring a vacant building or loitering in an alley may too easily become a molester's victim.

Use protective discretion when having children run errands in the daytime. Never send a child alone on an errand at night.

Be concerned as much for the safety of all children as you are for your own. Cooperate with other parents in your neighborhood in safeguarding the welfare of youngsters.

Demand that your children keep you informed of their whereabouts when at play. See that they have your permission first for any unusual trips.

Urge your youngsters to report any questions regarding their safety to you, their teachers or the police.

Residents of the Hale area Sunday honored two couples who observed their 60th wedding anniversaries.

Guests of honor at an open house held at the Masonic Temple were Mr. and Mrs. Ross Webb of Curtis Road and Mr. and Mrs. Thurman Scofield of Putnam Road.

Smoky Broiled Fish

The smelt run may be over but this recipe would be good for any small fish. This recipe for smoky broiled smelt is in a book of recipes for Great Lakes fish, published by the department of interior.

Clean, wash and dry the smelt or other small fish and brush the inside with sauce. Let the fish stand with this sauce brushed inside for 15 minutes then place on a greased broiler pan. Brush with the same sauce, broil about three minutes, three or four inches from the heat source, then turn them carefully and brush again with the sauce. Broil three or four minutes on this side or until the fish flakes easily. For six servings, prepare about two pounds of fish. Make sauce with these ingredients: Use about one-half cup melted fat or oil, two tablespoons lemon juice, one tablespoon each grated onion, liquid smoke, salt and a bit of pepper.

Liquid smoke is available in some grocery stores. Hickory smoked barbecue sauce could be substituted for the sauce recipe above or smoky salt could be used in place of the salt and liquid make.

That Smoke-Stained Fireplace

It is spring and another job you may have to do is clean the fireplace brick or stone. To clean smoke-stained stone fireplaces, the following method is suggested: Add one-half cup of detergent to a quart of hot water to make a soft soap. Stir in one-half pound powdered pumice stone and one-half cup household ammonia. Mix thoroughly. Remove as much smoky deposit as possible with a stiff brush. Then apply the soap mixture and let it remain 15 or 30 minutes. Scrub off and rinse with plenty of warm water to prevent streaking. Scrub brick fireplaces with strong washing soda or trisodium phosphate solution and rinse well.

More Man-Made Fibers

Will this help or complicate our purchasing and use of new fibers? We need to know what to expect of them when buying textiles for the home or clothing. Polyester fibers will be the glamor fiber this year. Specialists give us varying opinions on the different percentages of blends ranging from 35-85 percent.

Olefin will be more popular in use, too. It is suggested that a dyeable olefin used with wool or acrylates in blends will provide abrasion resistance in clothing.
